

HITCHMOUGH'S BLACK COUNTRY PUBS

WEDNESBURY

(INC. KINGS HILL, MESTY CROFT, WOOD GREEN)

4th. Edition - © 2025 Longpull. All Rights Reserved www.longpull.co.uk

INTRODUCTION

It is with regret that we report the death, in September 2023, aged 73, of Tony Hitchmough, local pub historian. Tony believed that the pub had always been the heart of the community; pubs were places where people met and talked, played games and sports, held meetings, took trips, and the buildings themselves also had a story to tell.

About fifty years ago, realising that things were changing, pubs being demolished and altered, Tony started to collect information from any sources available. Around that time the Black Country Bugle first appeared; he found the contents and letters engaging.

He visited the archives of the Black Country boroughs. Trade directories were an invaluable source for licensees' names, enabling him to build up lists. Censuses, church registers and licensing registers, also were consulted, where available. Newspaper articles provided many items of human interest (eg. inquests, crimes, civic matters, industrial relations), which would be of value not only to a pub historian, but to local and social historians and genealogists alike.

Technology has enabled the entire archive to be released digitally, rather than sections as magazine articles or as a book. The files contain information about every pub that has been found to exist in each of the districts within the Black Country (new pubs are being discovered even now). All files are available for free download by anyone interested.

Thanks go to the people such as Keith Hodgkins, Denis Harper and Robert Walker, and the many others, who have allowed their own photographs to be used and provided additional information. In 2010 Tony was asked by the relatives of the late John V. Richards to sort through his own archive of material, in order to redistribute it to appropriate groups. This was very useful in confirming, and providing new, information. He was also asked to disseminate information gathered by Jim Laws, Wolverhampton CAMRA's pub preservation officer/pub historian.

Tony felt proud in 2020 when the British Library decided that Hitchmough's Black Country Pubs should be saved for the future, and started to archive the website. So Tony's legacy is preserved.

I hope you find these files useful. Please, if you can, show your appreciation by contributing information or photographs.

With the assistance of Gavin, the work continues.

Janet Parker (Mrs.Hitchmough)
January 2024

hbcpinfo@yahoo.com

Hitchmough

DISTRICTS

The districts covered by the CDs were generally based on the modern places created in the 1970s, ie, Sandwell, Dudley, Walsall and Wolverhampton.

These are then subdivided into the old townships which had existed for many years previous, and are as follows.

SANDWELL

Oldbury (inc. Causeway Green, Langley, Oakham, Rounds Green, Tividale)

Rowley Regis (inc. Blackheath, Cradley Heath, Old Hill, Whiteheath)

Smethwick (inc. Bearwood, Londonderry, Warley)

Tipton (inc. Burnt Tree, Dudley Port, Great Bridge, Horseley Heath, Ocker Hill, Princes End, Toll End)

Wednesbury (inc. Kings Hill, Mesty Croft, Wood Green)

West Bromwich (inc. Golds Green, Greets Green, Hill Top, Lyndon)

DUDLEY

Brierley Hill (inc. Brockmoor, Pensnett, Quarry Bank, Round Oak)

Dudley (inc. Harts Hill, Kates Hill, Priory, Woodside)

Halesowen (inc. Cockshed, Colley Gate, Cradley, Hasbury, Lapal)

Kingswinford (inc. Himley, Wall Heath)

Netherton (inc. Darby End, Dudley Wood, Saltwells, Windmill End)

Sedgley (inc. Coseley, The Gornals, Woodsetton)

Stourbridge (inc. Amblecote, Lye, Oldswinford, Pedmore, Wollaston, Wollescote, Wordsley)

WALSALL & WOLVERHAMPTON

Bilston (inc. Bradley, Ettingshall, Millfield, Parkfield, Priestfield)

Darlaston (inc. Bentley, Cock Heath, Moxley, Wood's Bank)

Walsall (inc. Bloxwich, Leamore, Palfrey, Pelsall, Rushall, Shelfield, Walsall Wood)

Wednesfield (inc. Ashmore Park, Fallings Park, Heath Town, Moseley Village, Park Village, Wood End)

Willenhall (inc. Little London, New Invention, Portobello, Short Heath, Spring Bank)

Wolverhampton (inc. Blakenhall, Codsall, Oxley, Penn, Tettenhall, Whitmore Reans)

UPDATES

We are currently working on Edition 4 of the files. Our website states which file will be coming next. Due to the information we now have available, each file takes months to produce, so please be patient. The Edition 4 files are a big advance and much more thorough, so hopefully worth waiting for.

If you have an interest in a particular pub or licensee, we may be able to supply additional information as we regularly come across collateral.

If anyone is able to provide extra, relevant information and / or pictures, about any of the pubs and people contained within this work, we would be grateful to hear from you, initially by e-mail at

hbcinfo@yahoo.com

BOOKMARKS

Clicking on the Bookmarks in the panel on the left will take you to the chosen location.

If your computer uses Windows, Bookmarks with a + (a plus sign) on the left hand side have submenus and clicking on the plus sign (which will change to a minus sign) will reveal the contents. Clicking on the minus sign will hide the contents of the submenu.

If your computer uses Apple, clicking on the right pointing arrow to the left of the Bookmark will display the submenu; it will turn to a downward pointing arrow which when clicked will hide the submenu.

For more information please consult the Adobe Acrobat Reader help system.

INTRODUCTION

It is with regret that we report the death, in September 2023, aged 73, of Tony Hitchmough, local pub historian. Tony believed that the pub had always been the heart of the community; pubs were places where people met and talked, played games and sports, held meetings, took trips, and the buildings themselves also had a story to tell.

About fifty years ago, realising that things were changing, pubs being demolished and altered, Tony started to collect information from any sources available. Around that time the Black Country Bugle first appeared; he found the contents and letters engaging.

He visited the archives of the Black Country boroughs. Trade directories were an invaluable source for licensees' names, enabling him to build up lists. Censuses, church registers and licensing registers, also were consulted, where available. Newspaper articles provided many items of human interest (eg. inquests, crimes, civic matters, industrial relations), which would be of value not only to a pub historian, but to local and social historians and genealogists alike.

Technology has enabled the entire archive to be released digitally, rather than sections as magazine articles or as a book. The files contain information about every pub that has been found to exist in each of the districts within the Black Country (new pubs are being discovered even now). All files are available for free download by anyone interested.

Thanks go to the people such as Keith Hodgkins, Denis Harper and Robert Walker, and the many others, who have allowed their own photographs to be used and provided additional information. In 2010 Tony was asked by the relatives of the late John V. Richards to sort through his own archive of material, in order to redistribute it to appropriate groups. This was very useful in confirming, and providing new, information. He was also asked to disseminate information gathered by Jim Laws, Wolverhampton CAMRA's pub preservation officer/pub historian.

Tony felt proud in 2020 when the British Library decided that Hitchmough's Black Country Pubs should be saved for the future, and started to archive the website. So Tony's legacy is preserved.

I hope you find these files useful. Please, if you can, show your appreciation by contributing information or photographs.

With the assistance of Gavin, the work continues.

Janet Parker (Mrs.Hitchmough)
January 2024

hbcpinfo@yahoo.com

Hitchmough

DISTRICTS

The districts covered by the CDs were generally based on the modern places created in the 1970s, ie, Sandwell, Dudley, Walsall and Wolverhampton.

These are then subdivided into the old townships which had existed for many years previous, and are as follows.

SANDWELL

Oldbury (inc. Causeway Green, Langley, Oakham, Rounds Green, Tividale)

Rowley Regis (inc. Blackheath, Cradley Heath, Old Hill, Whiteheath)

Smethwick (inc. Bearwood, Londonderry, Warley)

Tipton (inc. Burnt Tree, Dudley Port, Great Bridge, Horseley Heath, Ocker Hill, Princes End, Toll End)

Wednesbury (inc. Kings Hill, Mesty Croft, Wood Green)

West Bromwich (inc. Golds Green, Greets Green, Hill Top, Lyndon)

DUDLEY

Brierley Hill (inc. Brockmoor, Pensnett, Quarry Bank, Round Oak)

Dudley (inc. Harts Hill, Kates Hill, Priory, Woodside)

Halesowen (inc. Cockshed, Colley Gate, Cradley, Hasbury, Lapal)

Kingswinford (inc. Himley, Wall Heath)

Netherton (inc. Darby End, Dudley Wood, Saltwells, Windmill End)

Sedgley (inc. Coseley, The Gornals, Woodsetton)

Stourbridge (inc. Amblecote, Lye, Oldswinford, Pedmore, Wollaston, Wollescote, Wordsley)

WALSALL & WOLVERHAMPTON

Bilston (inc. Bradley, Ettingshall, Millfield, Parkfield, Priestfield)

Darlaston (inc. Bentley, Cock Heath, Moxley, Wood's Bank)

Walsall (inc. Bloxwich, Leamore, Palfrey, Pelsall, Rushall, Shelfield, Walsall Wood)

Wednesfield (inc. Ashmore Park, Fallings Park, Heath Town, Moseley Village, Park Village, Wood End)

Willenhall (inc. Little London, New Invention, Portobello, Short Heath, Spring Bank)

Wolverhampton (inc. Blakenhall, Codsall, Oxley, Penn, Tettenhall, Whitmore Reans)

UPDATES

We are currently working on Edition 4 of the files. Our website states which file will be coming next. Due to the information we now have available, each file takes months to produce, so please be patient. The Edition 4 files are a big advance and much more thorough, so hopefully worth waiting for.

If you have an interest in a particular pub or licensee, we may be able to supply additional information as we regularly come across collateral.

If anyone is able to provide extra, relevant information and / or pictures, about any of the pubs and people contained within this work, we would be grateful to hear from you, initially by e-mail at

hbcinfo@yahoo.com

BOOKMARKS

Clicking on the Bookmarks in the panel on the left will take you to the chosen location.

If your computer uses Windows, Bookmarks with a + (a plus sign) on the left hand side have submenus and clicking on the plus sign (which will change to a minus sign) will reveal the contents. Clicking on the minus sign will hide the contents of the submenu.

If your computer uses Apple, clicking on the right pointing arrow to the left of the Bookmark will display the submenu; it will turn to a downward pointing arrow which when clicked will hide the submenu.

For more information please consult the Adobe Acrobat Reader help system.

INTRODUCTION

It is with regret that we report the death, in September 2023, aged 73, of Tony Hitchmough, local pub historian. Tony believed that the pub had always been the heart of the community; pubs were places where people met and talked, played games and sports, held meetings, took trips, and the buildings themselves also had a story to tell.

About fifty years ago, realising that things were changing, pubs being demolished and altered, Tony started to collect information from any sources available. Around that time the Black Country Bugle first appeared; he found the contents and letters engaging.

He visited the archives of the Black Country boroughs. Trade directories were an invaluable source for licensees' names, enabling him to build up lists. Censuses, church registers and licensing registers, also were consulted, where available. Newspaper articles provided many items of human interest (eg. inquests, crimes, civic matters, industrial relations), which would be of value not only to a pub historian, but to local and social historians and genealogists alike.

Technology has enabled the entire archive to be released digitally, rather than sections as magazine articles or as a book. The files contain information about every pub that has been found to exist in each of the districts within the Black Country (new pubs are being discovered even now). All files are available for free download by anyone interested.

Thanks go to the people such as Keith Hodgkins, Denis Harper and Robert Walker, and the many others, who have allowed their own photographs to be used and provided additional information. In 2010 Tony was asked by the relatives of the late John V. Richards to sort through his own archive of material, in order to redistribute it to appropriate groups. This was very useful in confirming, and providing new, information. He was also asked to disseminate information gathered by Jim Laws, Wolverhampton CAMRA's pub preservation officer/pub historian.

Tony felt proud in 2020 when the British Library decided that Hitchmough's Black Country Pubs should be saved for the future, and started to archive the website. So Tony's legacy is preserved.

I hope you find these files useful. Please, if you can, show your appreciation by contributing information or photographs.

With the assistance of Gavin, the work continues.

Janet Parker (Mrs.Hitchmough)

January 2024

hbcpinfo@yahoo.com

Hitchmough

DISTRICTS

The districts covered by the CDs were generally based on the modern places created in the 1970s, ie, Sandwell, Dudley, Walsall and Wolverhampton.

These are then subdivided into the old townships which had existed for many years previous, and are as follows.

SANDWELL

Oldbury (inc. Causeway Green, Langley, Oakham, Rounds Green, Tividale)

Rowley Regis (inc. Blackheath, Cradley Heath, Old Hill, Whiteheath)

Smethwick (inc. Bearwood, Londonderry, Warley)

Tipton (inc. Burnt Tree, Dudley Port, Great Bridge, Horseley Heath, Ocker Hill, Princes End, Toll End)

Wednesbury (inc. Kings Hill, Mesty Croft, Wood Green)

West Bromwich (inc. Golds Green, Greets Green, Hill Top, Lyndon)

DUDLEY

Brierley Hill (inc. Brockmoor, Pensnett, Quarry Bank, Round Oak)

Dudley (inc. Harts Hill, Kates Hill, Priory, Woodside)

Halesowen (inc. Cockshed, Colley Gate, Cradley, Hasbury, Lapal)

Kingswinford (inc. Himley, Wall Heath)

Netherton (inc. Darby End, Dudley Wood, Saltwells, Windmill End)

Sedgley (inc. Coseley, The Gornals, Woodsetton)

Stourbridge (inc. Amblecote, Lye, Oldswinford, Pedmore, Wollaston, Wollescote, Wordsley)

WALSALL & WOLVERHAMPTON

Bilston (inc. Bradley, Ettingshall, Millfield, Parkfield, Priestfield)

Darlaston (inc. Bentley, Cock Heath, Moxley, Wood's Bank)

Walsall (inc. Bloxwich, Leamore, Palfrey, Pelsall, Rushall, Shelfield, Walsall Wood)

Wednesfield (inc. Ashmore Park, Fallings Park, Heath Town, Moseley Village, Park Village, Wood End)

Willenhall (inc. Little London, New Invention, Portobello, Short Heath, Spring Bank)

Wolverhampton (inc. Blakenhall, Codsall, Oxley, Penn, Tettenhall, Whitmore Reans)

UPDATES

We are currently working on Edition 4 of the files. Our website states which file will be coming next. Due to the information we now have available, each file takes months to produce, so please be patient. The Edition 4 files are a big advance and much more thorough, so hopefully worth waiting for.

If you have an interest in a particular pub or licensee, we may be able to supply additional information as we regularly come across collateral.

If anyone is able to provide extra, relevant information and / or pictures, about any of the pubs and people contained within this work, we would be grateful to hear from you, initially by e-mail at

hbcinfo@yahoo.com

BOOKMARKS

Clicking on the Bookmarks in the panel on the left will take you to the chosen location.

If your computer uses Windows, Bookmarks with a + (a plus sign) on the left hand side have submenus and clicking on the plus sign (which will change to a minus sign) will reveal the contents. Clicking on the minus sign will hide the contents of the submenu.

If your computer uses Apple, clicking on the right pointing arrow to the left of the Bookmark will display the submenu; it will turn to a downward pointing arrow which when clicked will hide the submenu.

For more information please consult the Adobe Acrobat Reader help system.

INTRODUCTION

Tony Hitchmough believed that the pub has always been the heart of the community; pubs were places where people met and talked, played games and sports, held meetings, took trips, and the buildings themselves also had a story to tell.

About fifty years ago, realising that things were changing, pubs being demolished and altered, he started to collect information from any sources available. Around that time the Black Country Bugle first appeared; he found the contents and letters engaging. He visited the archives of the Black Country boroughs. Directories were an invaluable source for licensees' names, enabling him to build up lists. Censuses, church registers and licensing registers, also were consulted, where available. Newspaper articles provided many items of human interest (eg. inquests, crimes, civic matters, industrial relations), which would be of value not only to a pub historian, but to local and social historians and genealogists alike.

Technology has enabled the entire archive to be released digitally, rather than sections as magazine articles or as a book. The files contain information about every pub that has been found to exist in each of the districts within the Black Country (new pubs are being discovered even now). All files are available for free download by anyone interested.

Thanks go to the people such as Keith Hodgkins, Denis Harper and Robert Walker, and the many others, who have allowed their own photographs to be used and provided additional information. In 2010 Tony was asked by the relatives of the late John V. Richards to sort through his own archive of material, in order to redistribute it to appropriate groups. This was very useful in confirming, and providing new, information. He was also asked to disseminate information gathered by Jim Laws, Wolverhampton CAMRA's pub preservation officer/pub historian.

Tony himself, unfortunately, due to health problems, can no longer participate in the project, but felt proud when the British Library decided that Hitchmough's Black Country Pubs should be saved for the future, and started to archive our website.

I hope you find these files useful. Please, if you can, show your appreciation by contributing information or photographs.

The work, as ever, continues.

Janet Parker (Mrs. Hitchmough)
June 2025

hbcinfo@yahoo.com

Hitchmough

DISTRICTS

The districts covered are as follows:

Bilston (inc. Bradley, Hallfields)

Brierley Hill (inc. Pensnett, Quarry Bank, Round Oak)

Darlaston (inc. Bentley, Cock Heath, Moxley, Wood's Bank)

Dudley (inc. Harts Hill, Kates Hill, Priory, Woodside)

Halesowen (inc. Colley Gate, Cradley, Hasbury, Lapal)

Kingswinford (inc. Himley, Wall Heath)

Netherton (inc. Darby End, Dudley Wood, Saltwells, Windmill End)

Oldbury (inc. Causeway Green, Langley, Rounds Green, Tividale)

Rowley Regis (inc. Blackheath, Cradley Heath, Old Hill, Whiteheath)

Sedgley (inc. Coseley, The Gornals, Woodsetton)

Smethwick (inc. Bearwood, Londonderry, Warley)

Stourbridge (inc. Amblecote, Lye, Wollaston, Wollescote, Wordsley)

Tipton (inc. Burnt Tree, Dudley Port, Great Bridge, Princes End, Toll End)

Walsall (inc. Bloxwich, Leamore, Palfrey, Pelsall, Rushall, Shelfield, Walsall Wood)

Wednesbury (inc. Kings Hill, Mesty Croft)

Wednesfield (inc. Ashmore Park, Fallings Park, Heath Town, Moseley Village, Wood End)

West Bromwich (inc. Golds Green, Greets Green, Hill Top, Lyndon)

Willenhall (inc. Little London, New Invention, Portobello, Short Heath)

Wolverhampton (inc. Blakenhall, Codsall, Oxley, Penn, Tettenhall, Whitmore Reans)

BOOKMARKS

Clicking on the Bookmarks in the panel on the left will take you to the chosen location.

If your computer uses Windows, Bookmarks with a + (a plus sign) on the left hand side have submenus and clicking on the plus sign (which will change to a minus sign) will reveal the contents. Clicking on the minus sign will hide the contents of the submenu.

If your computer uses Apple, clicking on the right pointing arrow to the left of the Bookmark will display the submenu; it will turn to a downward pointing arrow which when clicked will hide the submenu.

For more information please consult the Adobe Acrobat Reader help system.

ACORN

52, (68), Birmingham Street, (68, Back Street), Kings Hill Field, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

James Pritchards Brewery [1921]
William Butler and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Hammonds [1871] – [1881]
John Burford [1885]
William Woodhall [1891] – [1896]
George Plimley [1901]
Harry Plimley [1904]
Frederick Charles William Martin [1911]
William Smith [1912]
Sam Horton [1921]
Stephen Horton [1921]
John Thomas Corns [1939] – [1940]
Clara Corns [1952] – [1957]

NOTES

68, Back Street [1871]
68, Birmingham Street [1881], [1891], [1901], [1921]
52, Birmingham Street [1940]

John Hammonds = John Hammond

1871 Census

Kings Hill Field, 68, Back Street – ACORN

- [1] John Hammonds (46), licensed victualler and bricklayer, born Dalbury, Shropshire;
- [2] Emma Hammonds (41), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Hannah Hammonds (17), daughter, born Darlaston;
- [4] Richard Hammonds (14), son, born Darlaston;
- [5] William Hammonds (12), son, scholar, born Darlaston;
- [6] Samuel Hammonds (9), son, scholar, born Darlaston;
- [7] William Simcox (67), step-father, bricklayer, born Dalbury, Shropshire;
- [8] Elizabeth Simcox (67), step-mother, born Holdgate, Shropshire:

Birmingham Daily Post 5/2/1878 - Advert

“Found, on Friday, liver-and-white Pointer Dog. Will be sold in three days if not owned.
Apply, ACORN, Kings Hill, Wednesbury.”

FOUND, on Friday, liver-and-white Pointer Dog. Will be sold in three days if not owned.—Apply, Acorn, King's Hill, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 20/12/1880 - Advert

“Important Freehold Property, the ACORN INN, Old Park Road, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, near the Road leading from Darlaston to Walsall.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. E. B. Scholefield, at the CASTLE HOTEL, Darlaston, Tomorrow (Tuesday), the 21st of December, at 6 for 7 o’clock in the evening.....

All that Valuable Freehold Beerhouse, known by the Sign of the ACORN INN, situate in the Old Park Road, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, and near to the Road leading from Darlaston to Walsall, comprising Attic, two Bed Rooms, Smoke Room, Tap Room, Kitchen, two Cellars, Brewhouse, Workshop, Stable, Shed, Garden, Yard, and Draw-in Gateroad, and Out-buildings belonging thereto, now in the occupation of Mr. John Hammond.

Possession will be given on completion of the purchase.

For further particulars, apply to the Auctioneer, Church Street, Wednesbury; or to Messrs. Smith and Howl, Solicitors, Lower High Street, Wednesbury.”

1881 Census

68, Birmingham Street

[1] John Hammonds (57), widower, bricklayer, born Ludlow, Shropshire;

[2] Samuel Hammonds (19), son, bricklayer, born Darlaston;

[3] Arthur Hammonds (9), son, scholar, born Darlaston;

[4] Hannah Hammonds (27), daughter, born Darlaston;

[5] Martha Simcox (15), relative, born Darlaston:

Birmingham Daily Post 26/9/1881 - Advert

“Beerhouse. To be Let or Sold, a good substantial Beerhouse.

For particulars, apply John Hammond, the ACORN, Kings Hill, near Wednesbury.”

John Hammonds – see also ACORN, Darlaston.

BEERHOUSE.—To be Let or Sold, a good substantial Beerhouse.
—For particulars, apply John Hammond, The Acorn, King's Hill, near Wednesbury.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 13/1/1885

“At the Wednesbury Police Court, today (Tuesday), John Evans, Chapel Street, Kings Hill; Pheneas Bullock, Walsall Road; and William Walters, of Darlaston, were charged with being on licensed premises during prohibited hours.

Police-constable Beech said that on the 17th [sic] January, about 1am, he visited the ACORN INN, Birmingham Street, Wednesbury, in company with Police-constable Rowbottom. While outside he heard a rattling as if someone was playing at dominoes, and also heard someone say, ‘Who won the last game?’ He rapped the door, and the noise ceased, but shortly after the rattling again took place, as if someone was clearing dominoes away. When admitted they found four men inside. The landlord said they were lodgers. Witness waited outside, and saw all three defendants leave. Mr. Rose, for the defence, admitted that the men were in the house, but contended that there was no case, there being no evidence of the sale of beer. He called the landlord, who said they had not had any beer there, and all the men were sober. There being a doubt about the case, it was dismissed.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 14/1/1885

“At the Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, John Evans, Phineas Bullock, and William Walters, tramcar-drivers, were charged with being on the premises of John Burford, the ACORN INN, Darlaston, during illegal hours. Mr. Rose appeared for the defence.

Police-constables Beech and Rowbotham deposed to going to the back of the ACORN INN at one o’clock in the morning, and to hearing persons in conversation inside, and a rattling as if a game of dominoes was being played. They went back at two o’clock, and knocked and waited about five minutes before they were admitted. Then they found the three defendants and a fourth man, who was said to be a lodger. Some of them were the worse for liquor. For the defence it was stated that the defendants, with the fourth man and the landlord of the house, went into the ACORN before eleven o’clock, and sat talking till nearly two, but had no drink. One of them was said to be ‘courting the daughter,’ but on being closely pressed it appeared that he had only ‘talked to her.’

Mr. H. Williams, one of the magistrates, said, after consultation with his colleagues, the weight of evidence, such as it was, was on the side of the defendants; but for four or five persons to be in a public house from eleven till after two, without having anything to drink, one of them being rather beery when he went in, was such a state of things as had never happened before. The evidence threw some very shadowy doubt upon the matter, and the case would be dismissed.”

1891 Census

68, Birmingham Street – ACORN INN

- [1] William Woodhall (31), fitting maker, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Alice Woodhall (31), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Lilian F. Woodhall (9), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Mary P. Woodhall (7), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Edwin J. Woodhall (5), son, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Anne Bloucher (14), domestic servant, born Ocker Hill:

Wednesbury Herald 9/3/1895

“On Tuesday night a meeting of the Prince of Wales Lodge of the Staffordshire Conservative League was held at the ACORN INN, Birmingham Street. There was a large attendance.....”

William Woodhall, beer retailer, 68, Birmingham Street. [1896]

1901 Census

68, Birmingham Street – ACORN

- [1] George Plimley (25), fitter and publican, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Florence Plimley (23), wife, born Darlaston:

Harry Plimley, beer retailer, 68, Birmingham Street, Kings Hill. [1904]

1911 Census

Birmingham Street

- [1] Frederick Charles William Martin (49), beerhouse manager, born Spain, British Subject;
- [2] Rachel Martin (42), wife, married 22 years, born Brownhills;
- [3] Donal Martin (15), son, labourer, ironworks, born Walsall;
- [4] Harold Martin (8), son, born Walsall:

William Smith, beer retailer, 68, Birmingham Street, Kings Hill. [1912]

1921 Census

Birmingham Street – ACORN INN

- [1] Stephen Horton (64), publican, born Willenhall;
- [2] Amelia Horton (50), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Percy Horton (18), son, stump moulder, born Willenhall;
- [4] Fanny Horton (26), daughter, born Willenhall;
- [5] Emily Horton (15), daughter, packer, casting foundry warehouse, born Willenhall;
- [6] Elihu Horton (12), son, school, born Willenhall:

Rugeley Times 20/8/1938

“Wednesbury and District Darts League.....

There will be a meeting of the league on Thursday, August 25th, at the ACORN INN, Birmingham Street, and the league matches will commence on September 7th.”

1939 Register

Birmingham Street – ACORN INN (3 of 4)

- [1] John T. Corns, date of birth 20/11/1896, foreman, nuts and bolts, married;
- [2] Clara Corns, dob 30/9/1894, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Alma D. (Corns) Hampton, dob 17/10/1930, at school, single;

Lichfield Mercury 19/12/1952

“The engagement is announced between Ben, second son of Mrs. C. Corns, ACORN INN, Darlaston, and Ena, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stevens, 9, Beech Crescent, Chasetown. Congratulations from both families.”

Lichfield Mercury 29/3/1957

"The union of Chasetown and Darlaston families took place on Thursday last week when at St. Annes Church, Chasetown, the Rev. J. A. Turner married Miss Ena Marion Stevens, the youngest daughter of Mr. C. W. Stevens of 9 Birch Crescent to Mr. Benjamin James Corns, the eldest son of Mrs. Clara and the late Mr. J. T. Corns of the ACORN INN, Darlaston.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a beige suit with kingfisher blue accessories with a buttonhole of lilies of the valley and carried a white bible. Her bridesmaids were Miss Alma Corns, a sister of the bridegroom, who was dressed in a beige suit and Miss Dorothy Smith, a cousin of the bride, who wore a grey suit. Both had pink accessories and a spray of lilies of the valley. The best man was Mr. T. Corns, a brother of the groom. The bride is self employed as a draper at Chasetown.

At the reception held at the Park Gate Inn, Cannock Wood, there were 40 guests present."

Closed

It was delicensed in the 1960s.

Important FREEHOLD PROPERTY. "THE ACORN INN," Old Park Road, King's Hill, Wednesbury, near the Road leading from Darlaston to Walsall. - To be Sold by Auction.
BY Mr. E. B. SCHOLEFIELD, at the Castle Hotel, Darlaston, TO-MORROW (Tuesday), the 21st of December, at 6 for 7 o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions which incorporate the common form conditions of the Birmingham Law Society
- all that Valuable FREEHOLD BEERHOUSE, known by the Sign of "THE ACORN INN," situate in the Old Park Road, King's Hill, Wednesbury, and near to the Road leading from Darlaston to Walsall, comprising Acre, two Bed Rooms, Smoke Room, Tap
Room, Kitchen, two Cellars, Brewhouse, Workshop, Stable, Shed, Garden, Yard, and Draw-in Gateroad, and Out-buildings belonging thereto, now in the occupation of Mr. John Hammond.
Possession will be given on completion of the purchase.
For further particulars, apply to the Auctioneer, Church Street,
Wednesbury; or to Messrs. Smith and Howl, Solicitors, Lower
High Street, Wednesbury.

ALBERT

Albert Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Gester [1875]

NOTES

Midland Examiner 17/4/1875

“On Monday afternoon and evening the half-yearly district meeting of the Greets Green and Wednesbury districts of the Ancient Order of Foresters was held at the ALBERT INN, Albert Street, Wednesbury. The following delegates representing 2,300 members were present.....

At the close of the business the brethren sat down to an excellent dinner, provided by Host Brother Gester, and a very agreeable evening was spent.”

ANCHOR HOTEL

26, Holyhead Road, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

William Watson

Messrs. Marston, Thompson, and Evershed, Burton-on-Trent [1913]

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1923) [1987]

LICENSEES

William Watson [1868] – [1881]

Joseph Watson [1870]

Henry Watson [1871]

Thomas Staley (1882 – [1884]

Henry Staley (1885 – [1892]

R Minett []

Robert Flint [1894] – [1895]

George William Chamberlin [1896]

E and H Clarke [1900]

Miss Charlotte S Mundy [1901]

William Goshawk Bartlett [1905] – [1907]

Mrs. Gertrude Annie Bartlett [1908] – [1912]

W J Wall [1913]

Major George Cox [1915] – [1916]

Thomas Atkiss [1921] – [1921]

Edwin A E Oman [1925]

Douglas George Young [1927] – [1929]

G F L Noot [] – 1933;

Harold Osmond Jones (1933 – [1939]

Roy Taylor [1953]

Clifford Harvey Dale [1954] – [1966]

Ken Burrows [1975] – 1976)

Kathleen Jeavons [1985] – [1987]

NOTES

Commercial hotel and posting house [1892], [1896]

Commercial hotel [1911]

The Court Leet met here every November.

Auctions were frequently held here.

TUBE TRADE LOCK-OUT AT WEDNESBURY AND WALSALL

Upwards of 1,000 HANDS are NOW LOCKED OUT in consequence of refusing to forego the Nine Hours' and return to the Ten Hours' system of working. SUBSCRIPTIONS in aid of their support to be sent to WILLIAM DODSWORTH, Treasurer; and all communications to be sent to JOHN HOLBERRY, Secretary, Committee Rooms, Anchor Hotel, Holyhead-road, Wednesbury, Staffordshire

TUBE TRADE OF WEDNESBURY AND WALSALL, STAFFORDSHIRE.

FELLOW-WORKMEN.—Notices have been issued by two of the largest Firms in the above trade for a return from the Nine Hours to the Ten Hours system of working. The notices expired on Saturday, January 30, 1875, and we beg to state that upwards of One Thousand Men and Boys have turned out, and are determined not to go in again on the old system of working ten hours per day.

As we have no union at present in existence in the Tube Trade, we have to enlist the sympathies and support of ALL who are interested in the present system of working nine hours per day.

Feeling assured that this is only the thin end of the wedge, we hope it will be taken up by the whole working community of Great Britain.

Signed on behalf of the Committee.

GEORGE BULMAN, President.

WM. DODSWORTH, Treasurer.

JOHN HOLBERRY, Secretary.

All communications to be addressed to Mr. John Holberry, Secretary, and all Post Office Orders to be made payable to Mr. William Dodsworth, Treasurer, Committee Rooms, the Anchor Hotel, Holyhead-road, Wednesbury, Staffordshire.

Birmingham Daily Post 12/9/1868

“On Tuesday and Wednesday last, a couple of treats of unusual liberality and excellence were given by Mr. W. Watson, of the Station Refreshment Rooms and the ANCHOR INN and Stores, Holyhead Road, to his workmen and a few of his personal friends, in celebration of the completion and opening of the last-named house. The first took place at the ANCHOR INN, where, on Tuesday evening, about forty persons sat down to a sumptuous repast, under the presidency of Mr. Jellyman. After the usual loyal toasts, the health of the founder of the feast (Mr. Watson) and his family was given in highly complimentary terms and enthusiastically drunk; and subsequently Mr. Harris, in the name of the workpeople, presented Mr. Watson with a costly and beautiful timepiece, bearing the following inscription on a gold plate, ‘Presented to Mr. Watson, of the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury, by his employés, as a token of respect. September 8, 1868.’ Mr. Watson, who was evidently deeply moved, feelingly acknowledged the gift, and other toasts were afterwards given, interspersed with vocal performances by a party of glee singers, consisting of Messrs. Harris, Smith, Riley, and Abbotts, the party at last breaking up at about eleven o’clock.

On the following day about thirty-five of the guests were taken by Mr. Watson to Burton, and after being conducted over the principal breweries, were entertained at dinner by him at the Trafalgar Hotel; S. Evershed, Esq, presiding. Here Mr. Watson was again enthusiastically toasted, and the health of the Chairman was also heartily drunk. Dinner over, the party went in procession to the Chairman’s residence, at Stapnell, and roamed at will through his beautiful grounds and flower gardens, the glee party still attending, and by their vocal efforts, at frequent intervals, contributing to the pleasure of the excursionists. Fruit and refreshments, of a recherche character, were generously served out, and after more complimentary toasts, the procession reformed, and, headed by S. Evershed, Esq, and Mr. Watson, walked to the station, the entire party thoroughly delighted with the day’s proceedings, and warmly acknowledging the kindness of their entertainers.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 18/2/1869 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction.....

Lot 2. All that most valuable and eligible Plot of Freehold Building Land, situate between the Aenon Chapel, and Mr. Watson’s Ale and Porter Stores, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, and having a frontage of 8 yards to the said Holyhead Road, and also a frontage of 12 yards 2 feet 6 inches to Albert Street, and containing in the whole 505 square yards, or thereabouts.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/9/1869

“The annual Sessions for the hearing of applications for new licenses to sell spirits, was held at West Bromwich Police Court, yesterday Mr. Sharpe intimated to the solicitors that the houses of all the applicants had been visited by some of the Magistrates, who had reported to the Bench on them, and it would, therefore, be advisable for all speeches to be as brief as possible. The following applications were then made.....

William Watson, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, applied through Mr. Hooper. House own property, rated at £58; 80 yards from nearest licensed house. No opposition. Application refused.”

1871 Census

26, Holyhead Road – ANCHOR INN

[1] William Watson (40), innkeeper, born Stapenhill, Derbyshire;

[2] Eliza Watson (45), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] Eliza Walker (21), domestic servant, born Chester;

[4] Mary Parker (20), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 6/9/1871

“Henry Tibbitts, an elderly man, was charged with robbing the till of Mr. William Watson, of the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury. Miriam Maybury, the barmaid to prosecutor, stated that on Monday morning, while she was from the bar a few moments, she heard the clink of money, and on going to the till found that there was 6d missing. She noticed at the same time the prisoner had a 6d piece in his mouth. She immediately sent for the police, and the prisoner was taken into custody by Police-sergeant Langdon. Committed to the Sessions for trial.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/8/1872

“Edge-tool, Hoe, and Spade and Shovel Makers.

The delegates of the above trades who were appointed to wait on their employers met, on Saturday evening last, at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury; and, after hearing the reports of the various delegates, it was resolved to carry out the resolution passed at the general meeting, to give fourteen days’ notice for a rise of 20 per cent on every article made, which notice has been duly given. Several small works, which were not represented at the general meeting, sent delegates to the meeting on Saturday.”

William Watson was also described as a wine and spirit merchant and HOPE AND ANCHOR, 136, Darlaston Road, Kings Hill. [1873]

Birmingham Daily Post 10/4/1874

“A meeting of miners on strike was held on Wednesday evening, at the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury.

Mr. Amos, who presided, regretted that the men had been dragged into the present conflict; took credit to the miners for adopting a quieter and more intelligent course of action than on the occasion of the strike in 1864; and congratulated his hearers that the public were on their side. Their ability to resist the demands of the masters he attributed to the power of the Amalgamation, and said the gauntlet having been thrown down they must press the battle forward to victory.....”

South Staffordshire Examiner 10/10/1874

“Thomas Lyons, 24, Bridge Street, Wednesbury, was charged with stealing a ring from the person of William Watson, landlord of the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury.

Prosecutor stated that prisoner and his two brothers were creating a disturbance, and he ordered them out of the house. As they refused to go, he took hold of prisoner, and after a ‘scuffle’ got him into the street. He then missed his ring, and fetched prisoner back again. Sergeant Curtis was sent for, and he apprehended the prisoner, who said he knew where the ring was, and, upon his brother visiting him at the police station, told him to fetch it.

The Bench sent prisoner to gaol for one month.”

Midland Counties Evening Express 3/11/1874

“The Strike at the Wednesbury Globe Tube Works and the Great Bridge Victoria Tube Works.

At a mass meeting of the men on strike at the above works, held at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, an offer was made from the Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Globe Tube Works Company to forego the question of hours, and to allow the men still to work on at the 9 hours so long as other firms in the same district continued the same practice. The question of 10 per cent reduction in welders’ and scalp turners’ wages, he also offered to modify – the future basis to be calculated upon the price list of one of the oldest and largest firms in the town. The men, after considering these amended terms, unanimously adopted a resolution pledging themselves to accept the average price of twelve firms, six to be named by the directors and six by the men; the average to be deduced by a practical accountant. These terms were forwarded to the chair, and the meeting was adjourned for the purpose of receiving the directors’ reply. At present the strike effects between 200 and 300 men, both works belonging to the company being closed.”

Midland Counties Evening Express 15/1/1875

“The Threatened Strike in the Wednesbury Tube Trade. Yesterday evening a large meeting of the tubemakers of Wednesbury was held at the ANCHOR INN, in that town, to consider a notice which has been posted in the works of Messrs. Russell and Company, the Crown Tubeworks, Wednesbury, for a discontinuance of the nine hours system on the 1st of February and a return to the ten hours system.....”

Midland Counties Evening Express 2/2/1875

“Yesterday afternoon a meeting of the tube makers on strike against the notice for the reintroduction of the ten hours system at the Crown Tubeworks and the Church Hill Tubeworks and the Alma Tubeworks, Walsall, was held in the Assembly room at the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury, which was crowded to excess. Mr. Bullman presided, and said that the men must either fight or run, and the question for them to decide was would they go in and work ten hours? (Shouts of No.).....”

[A motion to continue the strike was unanimously carried.]

Sheffield Daily Telegraph 4/2/1875 - Advert

“Tube Trade Lock-Out at Wednesbury and Walsall.

Upwards of 1,000 Hands are Now Locked Out in consequence of refusing to forego the Nine Hours and return to the Ten Hours system of working. Subscriptions in aid of their support to be sent to William Dodsworth, Treasurer; and all communications to be sent to John Holberry, Secretary, Committee Rooms ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, Staffordshire.”

Forest of Dean Examiner 19/2/1875 - Advert

“Tube Trade of Wednesbury and Walsall, Staffordshire.

Fellow-Workmen,

Notices have been issued by two of the largest Firms in the above trade for a return from the Nine Hours to the Ten Hours system of working. The notices expired on Saturday, January 30, 1875, and we beg to state that upwards of One Thousand Men and Boys have turned out, and are determined not to go in again on the old system of working ten hours per day.

As we have no union at present in existence in the Tube Trade, we have to enlist the sympathies and support of All who are interested in the present system of working nine hours per day.

Feeling assured that this is only the thin end of the wedge, we hope it will be taken up by the whole working community of Great Britain.

Signed on behalf of the Committee,

George Bulman, President; William Dodsworth, Treasurer; John Holberry, Secretary.

All communications to be addressed to Mr. John Holberry, Secretary, and all Post Office Orders to be made payable to Mr. William Dodsworth, Treasurer, Committee Rooms, ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, Staffordshire.”

Dudley Guardian 27/2/1875

“The Strike in the Wednesbury Tube Trade.

On Tuesday more than five hundred tube operators, including boys, received their strike pay, at the back of the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury. The amount, more than £200, was distributed 11s to married men, 7s to single men, and 4s to boys. The contributions from friendly societies have been coming in pretty freely. The Amalgamated Society of Engineers has sent during the week £35; the Newcastle Union Maintenance League, £15; the Gateshead Relief Committee, £10; and the miners of the district, £10. In addition to these sums, the trades organisations of the district have subscribed more than £80.....”

Midland Counties Evening Express 10/3/1875

“A large meeting of representatives of trade societies was held on Monday evening, at the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury, to consider the desirability of forming a Trades Council for the borough of Wednesbury and district Eventually the following resolution was unanimously agreed to.

That this meeting, recognising the increasing need for unity among the various trade organisations in the district, considers that a Trade Council for the borough of Wednesbury and district should at once be formed, and that steps should be taken to bring the matter before the various trade societies, with a view to their co-operation.”

Midland Counties Evening Express 12/3/1875

“A meeting of the tubemakers on strike at Wednesbury was held yesterday afternoon at the ANCHOR INN in that town, under the presidency of Mr. G. Bullman. In the course of the proceedings it was stated that several of those who came out on strike had got work elsewhere, at a higher rate of wages in every instance than they had received at the Crown Tube Works. The old cry of ‘No surrender’ was as enthusiastically given as at the outset of the dispute.”

Midland Examiner 3/4/1875

“The inaugural dinner of the Wednesbury Coach Ironworkers Association was given on Saturday last, at the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury. The society, which was formed about a month ago, numbers nearly 130 members.....”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 8/4/1875

“The strike in the Wednesbury tube trade, which has now lasted nine weeks, was terminated yesterday, to the satisfaction of both masters and men.....

Yesterday afternoon a deputation of sixteen of the workmen (headed by Mr. Bullman) waited upon Mr. Smith, the general manager of the Crown Tube Works, and after a long conversation that gentleman proposed the following terms, which were agreed to. That nine hours a day should constitute a day's work pure and simple; that overtime should be abolished as a standing regulation; but that if, owing to a pressure of work, it should be needed, then a separate arrangement should be made between the man and the foreman, each to use his own discretion as to the terms. If the man refused to work overtime it would not jeopardise his situation. Mr. Smith was thanked for the kind and courteous manner in which he had received the deputation.

A portion of the men will go in today, and the remainder as soon as it is convenient for them to do so.

During the continuance of the strike something like £2,000 has been distributed to the men.”

Birmingham Mail 7/5/1875

“The first annual meeting of the Wednesbury Trades Council took place at the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury, on Wednesday night. There was a large number of delegates present, and it was stated that since the last meeting over 1,000 members had joined.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/9/1875

“The first half-yearly meeting of the Amalgamated Association of Wrought-iron Gas and Boiler Tubemakers was held yesterday evening, at the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury. Mr. G. Bullman, the president, occupied the chair; and in the course of the proceedings regretted that the Wednesbury branch of the society could not boast more than 130 members, his conviction being that, considering the number of men in the trade, there should be, at least, 1,500 members. He was satisfied, however, that the time would come when the men generally would recognise the necessity and importance of being combined.....”

Post Office Directory 1876 - Advert

“William Watson, ANCHOR Commercial Hotel, and Inland Revenue Office, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/4/1876

“On Saturday evening the gas fitting makers of Wednesbury presented Mr. Watson, landlord of the ANCHOR INN, Holyhead Road, with a gold signet ring, as a token of their gratitude to him for having placed a room at their disposal for holding their meetings.”

Midland Examiner 30/12/1876

“On Tuesday night the annual meeting of the No.7 Lodge of the Miners Pride Lodge of the National Union of Miners was held at the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury, under the presidency of Mr. T. Amos.....

The proceedings ended with votes of thanks to the speakers, to Mr. Watson, the keeper of the house, for the gratuitous use of the room; and to the trustees of the Camp Street and Ridding Lane Chapels, for the use of various articles.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 5/4/1877

“On Monday, the members of the Midland Counties Branch of the Polishers and Grinders Society held their annual dinner at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 2/11/1877

“An inquest was held yesterday afternoon, at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, touching the death of George Henry Conroys (52), timekeeper, who died suddenly at Russell and Sons Crown Tube Works, on the 31st ult. The deceased, when in the act of stooping to feed some kittens, broke a main artery, which caused him to lose a large quantity of blood, from the effects of which he died. The jury returned a verdict of Died from Natural Causes.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 8/12/1877

“On Thursday night the 34th Staffordshire Rifle Volunteers celebrated their annual dinner at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, when the distribution of prizes also took place.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/5/1878

“The fourth annual dinner of the Wednesbury Conservative Association took place on Monday evening, at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, under the presidency of Mr. Wilson Lloyd. The principal speaker was the Rev. W. Randall, whose observations for the most part had reference to Mr. Gladstone, whom he described as belonging to ‘the political party of the imbeciles,’ and as belonging to the ‘Church of the Imbeciles,’ if he belonged to any church at all.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 12/7/1879

“Henry Clark, a cabman, formerly in the employ of Mr. William Watson, ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, has been apprehended in Manchester on a charge of embezzling moneys belonging to Mr. Watson, which he had received as cab fares. He absconded on the 26th of May last. Police-constable Noble brought him from Manchester yesterday, and during the afternoon the prisoner was taken before a magistrate and remanded till Tuesday.”

AND

Wolverhampton Express and Star 16/7/1879

“Henry Clarke was charged with embezzling the sum of 20s, from Mr. William Watson, landlord of the ANCHOR HOTEL, and cab and car proprietor, Wednesbury.

Joseph Callaway, publican, of Ocker Hill, stated that he had arranged with the prisoner, who was in the employ of the prosecutor, to drive him and others to Kidderminster on the 21st of May, and agreed to give him a sovereign for the fare. In returning he paid the prisoner the money, and asked him if he was satisfied, and he replied in the affirmative. He gave him 1s 6d for himself.

The prosecutor stated that the prisoner received 10s a week, in addition to his board and lodging, and he was provided with a book to make all entries, but on this occasion he said Mr. Callaway had not settled with him.

As there were several other charges against the prisoner, he was remanded until Monday.”

AND

Dudley Herald 26/7/1879

“.....Mr. Job Calloway paid the prisoner 20s for a wagonette to Kidderminster. The next day prisoner left his horse and cab on the Great Western stand and absconded, He pleaded guilty to the charge of embezzlement and was sentenced to two months’ imprisonment, with hard labour.”

Wednesbury Herald 6/12/1879

“The members of the Wednesbury Town Swimming Club, with friends, held their annual dinner at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, on Monday night. In the absence of Mr. Richard Williams, the President of the Club, Mr. W. H. Bytheway presided, and Mr. T. H. Walton occupied the vice chair.....”

Wednesbury Football Charity Association was founded here on 13th February 1880.

Wednesbury Herald 14/2/1880 - Advert

“William Watson, ANCHOR, Commercial and Family Hotel, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.

Wines and Spirits of the Choicest Quality.

An Ordinary at 1.15 Daily.

Every Convenience for Commercial Gentlemen.

Funerals Economically Conducted. Neat Hearse, and Morning Coaches, &c.

Wedding Carriages. Cabs, Cars, Breaks, and Waggonettes, for Pleasure Parties, &c.”

Wednesbury Herald 14/2/1880

“Through the kindness of the members of the Wednesbury Local Board and a number of other gentlemen, the members of the Wednesbury Fire Brigade were entertained on Saturday night at dinner at the ANCHOR HOTEL, the catering of which reflected great credit upon the host, Mr. Watson.

After the removal of the cloth Captain Lever, of Walsall, occupied the chair, and Captain Friend, of West Bromwich, the vice chair.....”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 28/4/1880

“On Monday night, Mr. James Taylor, auctioneer, who is about to go to New Zealand, was entertained by a number of the tradesmen of Wednesbury to an excellent dinner at the ANCHOR HOTEL.....”

Wednesbury Herald 28/7/1880

“On Tuesday evening last, the 20th inst, a meeting of the Committee of the Wednesbury Football Charity Association, was held at the ANCHOR HOTEL, when the sub-committee brought up the splendid challenge cup, for the inspection of the full committee. It was then stated by the president that the original design for the cup did not meet with the approval of the sub-committee, who set about to procure some fresh, and more appropriate design, which delayed the completion of the cup for some considerable time. If in consequence of the lapse of time being taken up in procuring fresh designs and of the urgent requests by the Stafford Road club [Wolverhampton], the winners, to have the cup in time for their annual dinner on Monday next, it was resolved to forego for the present, a formal presentation in Wednesbury, and endeavour to arrange for the attendance of a deputation of the president and vice-president of the association, and the presidents of the three leading football clubs in the town to attend the dinner of the Stafford Road club on Monday next. It was decided to present the cup and medals, and in the event of the deputation being unable to attend the dinner the cup will be handed to the Stafford Road club, and arrangements made for a formal presentation afterwards.

A cordial vote of thanks was accorded to the sub-committee for their labours in so beautiful a cup, which was supported by the representatives of the Stafford Road club. We understand that at the next meeting the committee will consider the various local charities, amongst which the balance of the proceeds of the matches is to be distributed.”

Dudley and District News 27/11/1880

“The annual supper of the Wednesbury Rifle Volunteers (F Company, 3rd Staffordshire Battalion) took place at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Monday evening, when upwards of 100 members of the corps and a few friends sat down, under the presidency of Captain Nayler.....”

Wednesbury Herald 15/1/1881

“A large meeting of brewers, wine and spirit merchants and licensed victuallers was held on Monday, at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, to protest against the oppressive extra charges for retail spirit licenses and to condemn the introduction of Local Option and Sunday closing into the licensing system. The chair was occupied by Mr. W. Dicken (the Chairman of the Wednesbury Licensed Victuallers Association). There were also present Messrs. R. Rooke, Mason, and H. Bailey (Birmingham), S. Burghope, W. Dawes, J. Taylor, Plant, Wood, Stevenson, G. Lloyd, Sheldon, Birch, Whick, Tyler, Candelet, and Ellis.

The Chairman said it was highly important that licensed victuallers, and in fact, all who were engaged in the beer trade, should enter a strong protest against the oppressive charges imposed by Mr. Gladstone upon them as tradesmen. (Hear, hear.) He regretted to say that he had received letters of apology for non-attendance from Mr. Wadhams and Mr. H. C. Edwards of Birmingham, and Mr. Foster of Derby.

Mr. S. Burghope, of Wednesbury, moved, ‘That this meeting is of opinion that the Act of last Session, in greatly increasing the charges on licenses, is very unjust and oppressive to the trade, and should be repealed or amended. We further complain (as traders here assembled, engaged in a legitimate calling, supplying public wants and ministering to public comfort and enjoyment) of the constant worry to which we are subjected through Parliament lending too ready an ear to, and adopting theories leading to all kinds of experimental legislation, and while sternly protesting against the treatment we have received, and are still further threatened with, we call on Parliament to desist, and not force us against our wills into party combination, by which the safe and sensible solution of an intricate social problem will be much complicated and hindered.’ The speaker said the licensed victuallers were not desirous of being harsh or vindictive, but they wished to protest in a proper manner against the action of the Government in increasing the license charges, and also the restrictions. They were also not wishful of introducing politics into their discussion, but, as a matter of right, they were compelled to speak out most strongly against the action taken by the present government against the licensing trade. (Hear, hear.) With reference to the Customs and Inland Revenue Act, 1880, the speaker said several members of Parliament had been consulted, and in reply had openly stated that they were obliged to vote in favour of it in consequence of being passionate followers of Mr. Gladstone. (Shame.) Everyone was at a loss to know why the duty should have been taken off the raw malt and put on the fermented malt. It had been said that Mr. Gladstone had imposed the additional duty in consequence of the publicans doing their best to oust the Liberal Government in 1874. (Laughter.) It appeared to him most singular that Mr. Gladstone should have singled out the licensing trade for additional taxes. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. Mason, of Birmingham, seconded the resolution, which was carried unanimously.

Mr. H. Bailey moved in forcible language a resolution condemning Local Option.

Mr. E. Ellis in seconding the resolution, said the increase in the Excise during the past nine months amounted to £470,000, and through the action taken of the Government taking the duty off raw malt, and putting it on fermented malt, and the extra charges imposed, caused the Excise to be raised during the past nine months to £1,570,000. Who had to pay the extra money? Why the publicans. This was indeed class legislation of the most diabolical kind, and should not be tolerated. (Applause.) The increased money had been paid by the publicans on their increased licenses and beer tax. He was at a loss to know why coffee shops, and the Liberal and Conservative clubs should not be taxed. It was also necessary that the coffee shops be inspected by the police, for he verily believed that more gambling took place in the coffee shops than anywhere else. (Hear, hear.) He also contended that grocers who sold spirits should also be taxed. The speaker afterwards referred to other heavy taxes that were imposed upon publicans, which he characterised as being very unjust, and concluded by urging the persons interested in the licensing trade to band together and demand justice and equality from the Government.

The resolution was carried.

Mr. Reuben Rooke moved, and Mr. R. S. Taylor seconded, a resolution protesting against Sunday closing.

It was also decided that the resolutions be forwarded to the Prime Minister and the members of Parliament for the borough and county.

A vote of thanks to the Chairman terminated the proceedings. The visitors and members of the association were afterwards entertained to dinner.”

1881 Census

26, Holyhead Road – ANCHOR HOTEL

[1] William Watson (51), married, hotel keeper, born Stapenhill, Derbyshire;

[2] William Watson (17), son, inn servant, born Wednesbury;

[3] Jane Stevens (37), housekeeper, born Wednesbury;

[4] Eliza Fletcher (29), barmaid, born Sutton, Warwickshire;

[5] Phoebe Wood (21), domestic servant, born Whiteheath;

[6] Joseph Spittal (22), servant, cabman, born Wednesbury;

[7] Martha Gill (5), grand-daughter, born Wednesbury:

Wednesbury Herald 30/4/1881

“The annual dinner in connection with the Wednesbury Cricket Club was held at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Wednesday night.....”

Tamworth Herald 18/6/1881

“On Monday night, at the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury, a complimentary dinner was given to Mr. W. Perry, on his resignation of the office of president of the Wednesbury Liberal Association. The room had been very tastefully decorated for the occasion, the walls being hung with a rich maroon cloth, surmounted by a handsome lace vallance, whilst shields, inscriptions, and other ornamentation lent additional attraction to the scene.....

The President presented Mr. Perry with a handsome illuminated address and a fine timepiece with an inscription, and two handsome bronzes, dwelling on Mr. Perry’s great service to the Liberal party and to the public institutions of Wednesbury. Mr. Perry’s health was drunk with musical honours, and Mr. Perry responded with feeling.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1881

“At the annual dinner of the Strollers Football Club, held at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, on Saturday night, Mr. Richard Williams, who had occupied the position of president of the club during the past ten years, was presented by the members with a beautifully-carved oak fruit dish and an illuminated address. The presentation was made by Mr. F. Hackwood, and Mr. Williams suitably responded.”

Birmingham Daily Post 28/10/1881

“A meeting of the creditors of William Watson, hotel keeper Wednesbury, was held yesterday, and all the creditors present or represented voted for liquidation by arrangement, but the resolution was vetoed by the principal creditor (Mr. Evershed), and consequently no resolution was passed. In the course of the day a petition in bankruptcy was filed in the Walsall Bankruptcy Court.”

AND

“A meeting of the creditors of William Watson, ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, and HOPE AND ANCHOR INN, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, licensed victualler, was held at the first-named house yesterday, when there was large attendance of creditors. Mr. Drewry was voted to the chair as the representative of the largest creditor, Mr. Evershed, brewer, Burton-on-Trent. Mr. Williams read the statement of affairs. This showed that there were creditors to the amount of £7,912 10s 5d entitled to rank for dividend The assets were £1,581 17s 3d.

Mr. Evershed had a mortgage of £3,500 upon the premises in which they were assembled, which the debtor estimated had cost him £7,000, but which Messrs. Roderick in July valued at £3,000, the premises in their opinion being too large for the place; and Mr. Evershed also had a mortgage for £1,000 upon the HOPE AND ANCHOR premises, which were valued at £900.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 5/12/1881 - Advert

“Wednesbury, Staffordshire. Valuable Freehold Property, Old-Licensed Houses, Beerhouse, Posting and Livery Stables, Ale Stores, &c.

To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Leedam & Harrison, at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Thursday, the 22nd day of December, 1881, at 6 for 7 o'clock in the evening precisely (by order of the Trustee of the Estate of William Watson, Bankrupt), the following very eligible Freehold Properties.....

Lot 1. All that Old-established Full-licensed Public House and Commercial Hotel, known as the ANCHOR HOTEL, situate on the Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, with the Spirit Vaults, Office, extensive Warehouses, Cellarage, large Coach-house, Stores, Livery Stables, and Premises attached thereto, as late in the occupation of the said William Watson.

The House has an important frontage to the Holyhead Road, and contains on the ground floor large Vaults and private Bar, with fittings thereto; Smoke Room, fitted with leather seating; back Parlour, Commercial Room, and Kitchen. Upstairs, large Sitting Rooms, seven Bed Rooms, w.c., and Bath Room, with hot and cold water supply.

There is also an Office and Wine Store at the rear.

The Premises fronting Albert Street comprise on the basement very extensive Cellarage, 148 feet long, with Cart Entrance from the street; Stabling for fourteen horses, three Coach-houses. On the ground floor there is a large Room, used as a Drill Hall; and Carriage House, Stable, Bottling Store, and Brewhouse.

On the first floor a large Club Room, 55 feet long by 23 feet wide, with movable partition communicating internally by a verandah with the front portion of the House. There is also a detached Coach-house, part of which is occupied by the Fire Brigade, a large covered Shed, and a good Yard.

The whole comprises an area of 1,168 square yards, or thereabouts, has a frontage of 66ft 6in to Holyhead Road, and a frontage of 80ft 6in to Albert Street. It occupies a first-rate situation, within a few minutes' walk of the London and North Western and Great Western Railway Stations, and is admirably adapted for the carrying on of a large Wine and Spirit Business, all of which have been carried on there for some years. It offers, on the whole, one of the best opportunities that has recently been placed before the public, the arrangements being most complete in every respect. The whole of the Trade Fixtures and Fittings will be Sold with the Property, and included in the purchase.

The Purchaser will also have the opportunity, if he wishes, of taking to the Furniture and Stock-in-Trade at a valuation.”

Birmingham Daily Post 19/1/1882

“At the Walsall County Court yesterday William Watson, licensed victualler and car and carriage proprietor, the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, applied for his public examination, supported by Mr. J. E. Sheldon, and passed unopposed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 7/2/1882 - Advert

"Re William Watson, Bankrupt. ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury.

Messrs. Leedam & Harrison have received instructions from the Trustee of this Estate to Sell by Auction, This Day (Tuesday) and Tomorrow (Wednesday), February 7 and 8.

The whole of the useful Household Furniture of the above important Commercial Hotel; together with the Stock-in-Trade of Wines and Spirits, including several consignments of Brandy, Rum, Whisky, Port, and Sherry, in bond; a quantity of sparkling Wines and Claret, in bottle; also, a valuable Mourning Coach, and the whole of the Trade Utensils, of Glass, China, Crockery, and Effects.

Order of Sale.

First Day. Furniture, Glass, China, Silver, &c.

Second Day. Stock-in-Trade, Wines, Spirits, Dock Warrants, Mourning Coach, &c.

Sale to commence each day at 11 o'clock.

Particulars in catalogues, which may be had at the Place of Sale; and from the Auctioneers, 179, Horninglow Street, Burton-on-Trent."

Birmingham Daily Post 14/7/1882 - Advert

"General Servant Wanted, immediately; one from the country preferred.

Apply, or address, ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury."

GENERAL Servant Wanted, immediately; one from the country preferred.—Apply, or address, Anchor Hotel, Wednesbury

Thomas Staley = Thomas Stayley = Thomas Stanley = Thomas Staylor

Wednesbury Herald 14/10/1882

"On Wednesday night, Mr. Thomas Staylor, late director of the Imperial Gardens, of the Shah of Persia, and who has lately taken to the ANCHOR HOTEL, and the HOPE AND ANCHOR INN, Kings Hill....."

Darlaston Weekly Times 4/11/1882

"A well-attended meeting was held at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, on Wednesday evening, under the presidency of Mr. E. Smith, jun. Considerable discussion took place as to the action of the Wednesbury Local Board in reference to the gas and sewer question and also in reference to the apathy shown in the treatment of small pox cases. It was unanimously agreed to form a Ratepayers Protection Society for the town, Mr. E. Smith, jun, was chosen president; Mr. J. Oldbury, hon sec; and Mr. Thomas Stayley, hon treasurer. A committee was appointed."

Wednesbury Herald 11/11/1882

"On Saturday evening the members of the Strollers Football Club held their annual dinner at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road The dinner was served up in excellent style, and reflected great credit upon the host, Mr. Staley."

Wednesbury Herald 18/11/1882

"The first annual dinner held under the auspices of the Wednesbury Bicycle Club, took place at the ANCHOR HOTEL....."

Wednesbury Herald 2/12/1882

"A meeting of District No.7 of the Licensed Victuallers National Defence League was held yesterday at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, under the presidency of Mr. Henry Mason, of Birmingham. A long discussion took place respecting the Sunday closing question, and ultimately it was resolved to request the whole of the licensed victuallers to petition to the House of Commons not to pass the Bill."

Wednesbury Herald 16/12/1882 - Advert

"Wednesbury Ratepayers Protection Association.

This is to give notice that the Committee of the above Association meet at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, every Wednesday evening at eight o'clock for the purposes of enrolling Members and other Business.

John Holloway, secretary."

Wednesbury Herald 30/12/1882

“On Tuesday Mr. T. Staley, the landlord of the ANCHOR HOTEL, and also of the HOPE AND ANCHOR INN, Kings Hill, entertained about 200 persons to a substantial dinner consisting of roast beef, suckling pigs, cheese and salad, and ale. The recipients were highly pleased with Mr. Staley, and in response to a vote of thanks Mr. Staley said it was customary at many of the hotels in Persia, and he might say Burton on Trent, for the landlord of the hotels to entertain a number of persons at Christmas time. It was an old custom and he was pleased to revive it at Wednesbury.”

Wednesbury Herald 20/1/1883

“On Tuesday night, Dr. Collins entertained the secretaries of the various friendly societies and other friends at dinner, at the ANCHOR HOTEL. The health of Dr. Collins was drunk amidst cheers. Upwards of fifty persons partook of dinner.”

Wednesbury Herald 27/1/1883

“The members of the Wednesbury Fire Brigade held their annual dinner at the ANCHOR HOTEL, on Saturday night. The chair was occupied by Captain Corral.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/12/1883

“Volunteer Dinner at Wednesbury.

The annual dinner and meeting for the distribution of prizes to members of the F Company of the 2nd Battalion South Staffordshire Regiment took place at the ANCHOR HOTEL, on Saturday.....”

Darlaston Weekly Times 23/2/1884

“On Wednesday, a dinner was held at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, when the employees of Messrs. Edward Pugh and Co, Hall Green, Wednesbury (numbering 200), were invited by their employer, Mr. Berners B. Lee, for the purpose of celebrating his marriage with Miss Gertrude Tegner, of Stoke Newington, London. Mr. Albert Smith (the representative of the firm) presided. Mr. W. Hawkins occupied the vice chair. After the removal of the cloth, the chairman in an interesting address, spoke very highly of their employer, and hoped that the good feeling would continue as it had in the past. The vice chairman proposed a toast to the ‘Bride and Bridegroom,’ to which Mr. Smith responded on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Lee. ‘Success to Hall Green Foundry’ was proposed by Mr. O. Banks, and responded to by Mr. Hawkins. ‘The Host and Hostess’ was proposed by Mr. A. Smith, and was responded to by Mr. Stanley. A concert by the workpeople was given, which was thoroughly appreciated, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Mr. A. Smith officiated as accompanist at the pianoforte.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 30/4/1885 - Advert

“Under an Execution from the Sheriff.

ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.

On Friday, May 1st, 1885, Mr. William Potts will Sell by Auction, upon the premises as above.

The whole of the Furniture, Fixtures, Stock-in-Trade, and contents of Spirit Vaults, comprising Mahogany-top Counter, Eight-pull Patent Beer Machine, Copper Hot Water Apparatus, Spirit Machine, 12 Taps, Two-pull Porter Machine, Glass Shelving, with plate-glass back partition; Half-glazed Door, Copper Measures, Spirit and Ale Measures, Two China Spirit Barrels, Wine and Ale Glasses, Decanters, Stock of Wines, Spirits, &c, &c.

Sale to commence at 11 o’clock prompt.

Auctioneer’s Offices, Athenaeum, Queen Street, Wolverhampton.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 13/11/1886

“On Tuesday night the Mayor of Wednesbury (Mr. R. Williams) entertained the Corporation officials and workmen, numbering between fifty and sixty, to dinner at the ANCHOR HOTEL.”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/12/1888

“The annual dinner to the members of the G and H Companies of the 2nd Battalion of the South Staffordshire Regiment took place at the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury, on Saturday night.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 7/6/1889

“Last night, on the occasion of the presentation of the cup and shield belonging to the Wednesbury Football Charity Association, a smoking concert and social gathering took place at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury The Committee had, after full consideration, decided to have a smoking concert instead of a dinner, that they might have a larger sum of money to divide among the charities of the district.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 7/12/1889 - Advert

“Housemaid-Waitress Wanted, immediately.
Apply, ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

HOUSEMAID-WAITRESS Wanted, immediately. — Apply,
Anchor Hotel, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 10/1/1890

“At West Bromwich, yesterday, Henry Staley, landlord of the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, was charged with selling intoxicating liquors by retail, on the 27th December, without a license. Mr. J. S. Sharpe defended. Inspector Bishop said he visited the West Bromwich Town Hall on the 27th ult, at 2.10. A ball was being held, at which about 300 people were present. He saw one of Mr. Staley’s waiters supply a man with two glasses of ale, for which he paid. Behind the counter he saw the defendant, and asked him how long his license was for, and defendant replied till eleven o’clock. Witness informed defendant of what had occurred, and added that he would have the place cleared. He left the hall, and returned at three o’clock, when the place was cleared. Mr. Sharpe, for the defence, pleaded guilty, but contended that the beer was supplied without the knowledge of the defendant. He was fined £1 0s 6d, including costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/6/1890

“The annual meeting of Wednesbury Old Athletic Club took place at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, last night It was a matter of congratulation that the club should be one of the few in the country to run out as winners in two charity competitions, open to the football world.....”

Wednesbury Herald 3/1/1891 - Advert

“Henry Staley, Wholesale Wine and Spirit Merchant, ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.
Ordinary Daily, 1.15 pm.
Families supplied with Evershed’s Ales and Porter in Cask, all sizes, at Brewery Prices.
Dinners, Suppers, &c, supplied to Clubs and Societies on Economical Terms, or by Special Contract.”

Wednesbury Herald 117/1/1891

“On Thursday night the engine drivers, conductors, and others in the employment of the South Staffordshire and Birmingham District Tramway Company, numbering about 200, were entertained at dinner at the ANCHOR HOTEL. Traffic was suspended on all routes at nine o’clock, and the men were able to sit down for dinner half an hour later. The proceedings did not conclude until one o’clock the next morning, the magistrates having conceded an extension. Mr. W. J. Carruthers-Wain presided.....”

1891 Census

Holyhead Road – ANCHOR HOTEL

- [1] Henry Staley (30), unmarried, hotel proprietor, born Burton-on-Trent;
- [2] Jennie Staley (27), sister, born Burton-on-Trent;
- [3] Leslie Webster (14), nephew, born Burton-on-Trent;
- [4] Clara Hawthorne (20), domestic servant, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Beatrice Hester (26), domestic servant, born Wolverhampton:

Birmingham Daily Post 21/12/1891

“The H Company of the Wednesbury Volunteers held their annual dinner at the ANCHOR HOTEL on Saturday night The Chairman, Captain E. H. Smith, gave the usual loyal toasts, after which he said it was with pleasure that he met the men at their annual dinner once again. Their conduct both in and out of camp during the past year had been most exemplary. Their numbers he was glad to note were now 100, having increased from 76 last year..... The Mayor, Councillor Thursfield, congratulated the men upon the satisfactory report, and believed, if they were ever called upon for active service, they would prove themselves worthy of standing alongside the regulars. He then distributed the prizes to the successful competitors for shooting, attendance, and drill.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 28/5/1892

"A meeting of the Wednesbury Football Charity Association was held at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Thursday The committee voted the following money to charities: Wednesbury School Board Clothing Fund, £8 8s; Wednesbury Indigens Sick Society, £3 3s; West Bromwich Hospital, £2 2s; Walsall Cottage Hospital, £1 1s; Birmingham Eye Infirmary, £1 1s."

Midland Sun 15/4/1893

"Edward Turner, butcher, of Bridge Street, Wednesbury, was charged at the instance of Police-sergeant Maguire with being drunk on the premises of the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, on the 29th ult. He was ordered out of the house by the landlord.

Defendant: I don't know that I was drunk. I could walk and talk.

The magistrates, in inflicting a fine of 5s and costs, or seven days, hoped it would be the last time defendant would appear in that Court.

Defendant: I hope it will, sir."

Walsall Advertiser 3/3/1894

"Bankruptcy. Amongst the Gazette notices there appears the following.....

Henry Staley, WOOLPACK HOTEL, High Street, Walsall, lately Wednesbury, hotel manager, late hotel proprietor."

Walsall Advertiser 17/3/1894

"Re Henry Staley, late of the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, hotel proprietor.

The public examination of this debtor took place on Thursday, at the Walsall Bankruptcy Court, before Mr. Registrar Clarke. Mr. Plant appeared for debtor.

The statement showed liabilities £382 5s 4d, assets £20 18s 10d, deficiency £361 6s 6d.

The bankrupt was a wine merchant's traveller until August 1885, when he took to the ANCHOR INN, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, for Messrs. Evershed and Co., brewers, agreeing to pay £300 for fixtures, stock, &c. He attributed his failure to bad trade and bad debts, and loss upon sale of stock and fixtures.

The examination was adjourned till the 22nd inst."

R. Minett was also a cab and car proprietor.

Birmingham Daily Post 7/8/1894

"The second annual two-days' flower show of the young and enterprising Wednesbury Floral and Horticultural Society was opened yesterday in the Town Cricket Ground, Wood Green The Mayor spoke of the contents of the tents as forming a very creditable exhibition, showing what Wednesbury could do in the way of the cultivation of flowers and vegetables.....

Luncheon was served in an adjacent marquee by Mr. R. Flint, of the ANCHOR HOTEL....."

Wednesbury Herald 19/1/1895

"A very enjoyable smoking concert, in connection with the Wednesbury Cricket Club, took place at the ANCHOR HOTEL on Monday evening....."

Wednesbury Herald 2/3/1895

"The annual dinner in association with the Wednesbury Fire Brigade took place at the ANCHOR HOTEL on Monday evening; a very satisfactory menu being provided by the host, Mr. R. Flint. Captain Scott presided....."

Wednesbury Herald 6/4/1895

"The first annual dinner in connection with the Wednesbury Swimming Club took place at the ANCHOR HOTEL, on Tuesday evening, when an excellent repast was provided by the host, Mr. R. Flint. Alderman Walton, Chairman of the Baths and Parks Committee presided....."

Robert Flint moved to the Lorne Hotel, Rhyl, where he was examined in bankruptcy in 1909, stating that he paid £536 ingoing to the ANCHOR, leaving with £500, but owing £600.

Wednesbury Herald 2/11/1895

“At a meeting of the Grocers Association on Wednesday at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Mr. Richard Grainger presiding, reference was made to the increased rates for the carriage of goods enforced by the Railway Companies since 1892. It was stated that statistics had been furnished to the Board of Trade showing that several charges were excessive, and the members of the Board had expressed their willingness to receive a deputation from the association with a view to the rates being further revised.

It was unanimously decided that Mr. Chilwell, a former president of the association, should be the delegate to confer with the Board of Trade.

It was stated that if the association succeeded in getting the rearrangement, the railway companies would have to refund the overcharges made since 1892.”

Wednesbury Herald 25/12/1895

“The annual Copyhold Court in connection with the Manor of Wednesbury was held last Friday evening at the ANCHOR HOTEL. Mr. Young (steward) presided.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 23/6/1898 - Advert

“To Let, Michaelmas next, ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury.
Apply Mr. Sanders, Evershed’s Brewery, Burton-on-Trent.”

TO Let, Michaelmas next, Anchor Hotel, Wednesbury.—Apply
Mr. Sanders, Evershed’s Brewery, Burton-on-Trent.

The Wednesbury Fire Engine was kept here until 1899.

George William Chamberlin = George William Chamberlain

Walsall Observer 20/10/1900

“On Monday night, Mr. H. A. Pearson (coroner), held an inquest at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, concerning the death of Samuel Morgan (50), formerly residing at Piersey Street, Wednesbury.

It transpired that about 9.30 on Sunday last deceased left home to see a cousin on the tram at Wood Green. Whilst they were waiting in the street for the arrival of the car, deceased fell down and expired.

Dr. Garman, who had made a post mortem examination of the body, attributed death to syncope, and a verdict of Natural Causes was returned.”

1901 Census

26, Holyhead Road

[1] Charlotte S. Mundy (27), unmarried, hotel manageress, born Highgate, Middlesex;

[2] George Thomas Morgan (24), accountant, hotel, born Burton-on-Trent;

[3] Nellie Southall (24), waitress, born Wolverhampton;

[4] Benjamin Knights (19), boots, hotel, born Burton-on-Trent;

[5] Polly Fido (18), domestic servant, born Stafford:

Wednesbury Leader 12/10/1901

“On Tuesday afternoon the members of St. Bartholomew Lodge of Staffordshire Freemasons held their annual festival and installation by dispensation from the Right Worshipful Provincial Grand Master (the Earl of Dartmouth), in the Town Hall, Wednesbury At the conclusion of the business the brethren adjourned to banquet at the ANCHOR HOTEL.”

Wednesbury Leader 2/11/1901

“On Tuesday evening last Court Foresters Retreat held their usual smoking concert in the Masonic Hall, ANCHOR HOTEL, in aid of the Widows and Orphans Fund. The room was crowded. Alderman J. Oldbury presided.....”

Walsall Observer 17/1/1903

“The ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, was the scene of a fire on Tuesday morning, discovery of the outbreak being made at about 7.30. In response to the alarm, the Borough Fire Brigade promptly turned out under Captain Scott, and on their arrival found that the floor of the Masonic Room was ablaze. It is stated that the outbreak was due to improper construction of the flooring. Mastery of the flames was obtained after an hour and a half’s work, a good portion of the flooring having to be cut away to get at the smouldering joists. It is supposed that the fire had its origin near the fire-place, and a mahogany table and chair near there were burned. Twenty pounds is the amount at which the damage is estimated, and it is understood to be covered by insurance. But for the smart attendance of the Brigade the consequences must have been more serious, as upon the arrival of the firemen the flames had already reached the roof, and some of the timbers had caught.”

Freemasons (St. Bartholomew Lodge, Wednesbury, No.696) (G. Wilson, secretary), ANCHOR HOTEL. [1904], [1912]

Birmingham Mail 15/9/1905

“Mr. Betham held an inquest at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, today, touching the death of Elizabeth Ann Archard, aged 53, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury. The evidence showed that on the night of September 12 deceased was retiring to rest, and turned at the top of the stairs to wish a visitor ‘Good-night’ when she was apparently attacked with giddiness and fell downstairs, sustaining fatal injuries to her head. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”
[Elizabeth Ann Archard – see ROYAL EXCHANGE, High Street.]

Wednesbury Leader 17/8/1906

“On Tuesday, a well-known Wednesbury tradesman named George Lowe (64) was found dead in the bedroom of his residence in Russell Street, under somewhat mysterious circumstances. It appears that Mr. Lowe, who has carried on the business of a photographer for over twenty years, came downstairs early on Tuesday morning and in and about the place as usual. About five minutes to eight he went upstairs, and at eight o’clock was found lying on the bed partly dressed and quite dead. By the side of the bed on a dressing table was found a bottle containing a small quantity of cyanide of potassium, and marked ‘poison.’ It is supposed that he drank some of this, which he used in his business, and which is a very poisonous liquid. Dr. A. H. Montford, assistant to Dr. Dingley, was called in after death. It is stated that deceased had been troubled a great deal of late owing to bad trade. He leaves a widow and family.

On Thursday, Mr. G. C. Lewis (coroner) held an inquest at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, concerning the case. The widow, Harriet Lowe, identified the body, and said her husband had been very despondent lately about having no work. Witness had heard him complain of this, and he had said that if he could not get work he should have to put an end to it. Deceased retired to bed on the 13th inst in his usual health about eleven o’clock. The next morning witness rose about 6.30 and took deceased a cup of tea up to bed. Her husband went downstairs shortly before eight o’clock, but went back to bed again. At eight o’clock witness called her husband five or six times, but as he did not answer she went upstairs to see what was the matter. Witness found him lying on the bed, and she thought he was in a fit. She called her son, and also a neighbour, and they all went upstairs, but they then found that death had taken place.

George Henry Lowe, the son, who lives with his parents, said he assisted his father in the business. On the 13th inst deceased said he had nothing to do, so he would walk round and see his daughter at Tipton. He returned late at night, and witness was then in bed. When witness was called the next morning he noticed a bottle marked ‘poison’ on the dressing table near deceased’s bed, and he thought it contained a strong solution of ammonia.

Dr. Montford deposed to being called to see deceased between eight and nine o’clock on the 14th inst. He attributed death to poisoning by means of cyanide of potassium, a very deadly poison.

The Coroner said it seemed that it was a constant source of worry to deceased to be without work.

The jury returned a verdict of Suicide whilst Temporarily Insane.”

[George Lowe’s suicide was covered nationally.]

Fleetwood Chronicle 20/8/1907

“For three weeks, a Blackpool visitor, named William Goshawk Bartlett, a well-known Wednesbury hotel keeper, has been missing, and his strange disappearance is an inexplicable mystery. Neither the Blackpool nor Wednesbury police know what to make of the affair, and all efforts to trace the missing gentleman’s whereabouts have met with baffling failure. Mrs. Bartlett is equally unable to find the least clue as to what has become of her husband, both she and her children being in a state of terrible suspense.

Mr. Bartlett, who is the licensee of the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, and is 34 years of age, left home in cheerful mood on July 29th, taking a six days’ excursion ticket for Blackpool. He took with him a portmanteau and a mackintosh, and on arriving at Blackpool booked a bedroom at the County and Lane Ends Hotel. Here his portmanteau and mackintosh are still awaiting his return. It was his intention to return home on Saturday, August 3rd.

On August 1st, Mrs. Bartlett received a picture postcard from her husband, bearing the postmark ‘Blackpool, July 31st, noon.’ The message ran, ‘Thanks very much for yours, weather is fine today, awfully rough at sea. Am going to Douglas via Fleetwood today, may stop one night there, shall see. Tell boys I have got their watches. Hope all well. My cold bad. Had turkish bath yesterday. Saw Arthur here. Shall stop till Saturday.’ This was the last communication of any kind that was received from Mr. Bartlett. The Arthur he refers to was on the missing man’s staff when he was manager of the Queens Palace at Rhyl, which position he occupied for two years prior to going to Wednesbury. In view of the postcard she received from her husband from Blackpool and when he did not return home when he should have done, Mrs. Bartlett at once put herself in communication with the hotel where he was in the habit of staying at Douglas, but there they have seen nothing of him. It is, in fact, according to latest developments, very doubtful whether Mr. Bartlett crossed to the Isle of Man, and, according to the Midland Advertiser, the theory that he is still at Blackpool is very strongly supported by additional information that has now been gleaned.

On Tuesday, July 30th, the day before he wrote the postcard to his wife, Mr. Bartlett, it appears, met a former Wednesbury publican named Mr. William Hatfield. They had a talk together, and Mr. Bartlett then complained to Mr. Hatfield that he had had a bad cold, and inquired the way to the Turkish Baths. Mr. Hatfield directed him to the baths, and then he arranged to go with the missing man on the next day to Douglas from Fleetwood. The two agreed to meet in the Blackpool Tower, and Mr. Hatfield kept his appointment, but he saw nothing further of Mr. Bartlett. Thinking there had been some misunderstanding, Mr. Hatfield went to Fleetwood, and searched the boat on which they had agreed to travel to the Isle of Man, but he could not find any trace, or hear anything of Mr. Bartlett, and he has not seen him or heard of him since they parted on the Tuesday.

Apparently, it was Mr. Bartlett’s intention to go over to Douglas, for he left word at the hotel at Blackpool, when he went out on Wednesday, that this was his destination. Mr. Bartlett had not much money with him, for he only took £6, and he left his cheque book at home. Inquiries made by the bank officials at Wednesbury show that Mr. Bartlett has not drawn on his account during his absence from home. When he left Wednesbury Mr. Bartlett was wearing a gold chain worth about £10, and also a valuable diamond and signet ring. Attached to the chain was a four-fold locket, containing photographs of his wife and his two boys. His watch and cuff links have his stamp upon them, and he also had in his possession a silver tobacco box. Mr. Bartlett is tall and of very striking personality.

The Wednesbury police are continuing their inquiries into the affair, and they have forwarded a photograph of the missing man to the Blackpool police with the object of tracing him. He has been licensee of the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, for nearly two years.

Relatives of the missing man were making anxious inquiries in Blackpool yesterday, and paid a visit to the police station. The police have been supplied with a full description of the missing gentleman, as well as with his photograph, but up to last evening no clue as to his whereabouts had been discovered.”

Birmingham Daily Post 14/8/1908

“At West Bromwich yesterday William John Fisher Hodgkins (39), pattern maker, of Birmingham Road, West Bromwich, was charged on remand with obtaining by means of false pretences £4 10s from Harry Stockley, tobacconist, of High Street, and £6, the money of William Herbert Cooke, licensee of the MALT SHOVEL INN, Dove Street.....

The prisoner obtained the £4 10s from Mr. Stockley by means of a bogus cheque The cheque which prisoner utilised was obtained from a Mrs. Bartlett, licensee of the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, by means of a false statement. The same methods were employed in the other case.....

The magistrates decided to deal with the prisoner under the Probation of Offenders Act, and bound him over to come up for judgement in three months.”

Walsall Advertiser 24/7/1909

“A meeting of the Wednesbury Football Charity Association was held on Saturday, the Mayor (Councillor I. Griffiths) in the chair. The hon. secretary, Mr. S. Tranter, reported that the total amount of money for distribution to the various charitable institutions was £46, this being an increase of £11 on the previous season. The Mayor said the committee could congratulate themselves on a very successful season.....”

1911 Census

Holyhead Road – ANCHOR HOTEL

- [1] Gertrude Annie Bartlett (33), married, hotel keeper, born Lyston, Leicestershire;
- [2] Hannah Mary Cotton (54), mother, widow, domestic housekeeper, born Birstall, Leicestershire;
- [3] Holly Cotton (16), sister, born Leicester;
- [4] John Barratt (19), hotel barman, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Matilda Jane Hinett (26), hotel kitchen maid, born Horseley Heath;
- [6] Elizabeth Bayley (19), hotel housemaid, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Alice Elizabeth Cowell (33), visitor, domestic cook, born Wolverhampton;
- [8] Samuel Ortzen (36), visitor, widower, jeweller's clerk, born Bermondsey, London:

Wednesbury Herald 21/10/1911

“In the Divorce Court on Tuesday, before Mr. Justice Bargrave Dean, Mrs. Gertrude Annie Bartlett, of the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, petitioned for the dissolution of her marriage on the ground of the desertion and misconduct of her husband, Mr. William G. Bartlett. There was no defence.

Mr. R. J. Willis, counsel for the petitioner, said the marriage took place on October 25th 1899, the parties afterwards living in Grantham, and then at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury. In July 1907, the husband went to Blackpool and never returned home. It was alleged that he went off to America with a barmaid, Mary Sophia Davies, with whom he lived in America.

Petitioner, giving evidence, said she received a written statement from her husband in America, admitting his relations with the girl Davies, and she afterwards discovered their previous relations while at the hotel.

Arthur B. Knight, barman of the SANDWELL HOTEL, West Bromwich, said he was formerly employed at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury. Davies was also there, and he noticed acts of familiarity between her and Mr. Bartlett. In August 1906, when Mrs. Bartlett was away on a holiday, witness saw Miss Davies visit Mr. Bartlett's room at night, and remain there.

A decree nisi was granted with costs and custody of the two children.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/3/1912

“The fourth annual dinner of the Staffordshire Metallurgical Old Boys Association was held at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, on Saturday evening.....

During the evening, the Chairman presented, on behalf of the members, a large framed photograph of Mr. W. Macfarlane, who for 16 years has been principal of the County Metallurgical Classes, which have their centre at Wednesbury, to the latter gentleman, and also a similar photograph to the County Education Committee, to be hung in the school. Mr. Macfarlane expressed his deepest thanks to the members, who, he said, by their long labours, had brought lustre to the name of the classes. He looked forward to the time when they would have the new County Metallurgy and Engineering School in Wednesbury.”

Walsall Observer 8/2/1913

“The members of the Wednesbury Fire Brigade held their annual dinner on Saturday evening, when about thirty sat down at the ANCHOR HOTEL. The captain of the brigade, Mr. E. M. Scott, was in the chair, and in response to the toast of the Corporation Fire Brigade he stated that the brigade were not troubled much during the past year, having been called to only seven fires, the damage being estimated at £500, while property valued at £10,000 was involved. Other toasts were honoured, and during the evening musical items were rendered by Messrs. White, Butler, Scott, and Oakley.”

Birmingham Mail 28/3/1913

“Mr. A. J. Glover applied to the Wednesbury magistrates today for a temporary transfer of the license of the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road. He stated that he did so on behalf of the owners, Messrs. Marston, Thompson, and Evershed, of Burton, and the incoming tenant, Mr. M. G. Cox. Only that morning he had heard that the present tenant, Mr. W. J. Wall, did not propose to appear. The position was that Mr. Wall had given notice to terminate his agreement with the company, and the notice expired on the 25th inst. Valuers were called in and an arrangement as to financial matters come to. On the 26th Mr. Cox took possession, but Mr. Wall suddenly changed his attitude and declined to leave unless he was paid a certain sum of money. He (Mr. Glover) submitted that if Mr. Wall had any claim against the company it was a matter for a civil court, and that in refusing to allow Mr. Cox to remain on the premises the present tenant had broken his agreement with the company. The Bench intimated that as the present license holder did not consent to the proposal, they must refuse the application.”

Walsall Observer 6/3/1915

“At Wednesbury Police Court, on Tuesday, William Thomas Hayes, of Baker’s Lodging House, was charged with disorderly behaviour and refusing to quit licensed premises, also with assaulting George Cox. Complainant stated that owing to prisoner’s behaviour on Monday he was obliged to put him outside his licensed premises, the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road. There was a severe struggle, in which prisoner punched and struck him about the head and face, inflicting wounds. Sidney Smith, who was passing at the time, stated that prisoner and Mr. Cox were struggling on the floor in a pool of blood. He thought it advisable to send for the police. A fine of 10s and costs, in each case, or fourteen days, was imposed.”

The Stage 22/7/1915

“Wanted, Smart Juvenile Lead for Revue. Open immediately. Also Smart, Tall Chorus Ladies, good voices. Ismay, ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, Smart Juvenile Lead for Revue. Open immediately. Also Smart, Tall Chorus Ladies, good voices.—ISMAY, Anchor Hotel, Wednesbury.

South Staffordshire Times 28/2/1920 - Advert

“A Highly Important Sale by Auction of Seven Licensed Properties finely situated in the heart of the Black Country. All Freehold. By Order of Major G. Cox. Esq, with Possession on Completion..... The well-known and popular old-established Fully Licensed Hotel, the ANCHOR COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

Thomas Atkiss = Thomas Atkins

Thomas Atkins, ANCHOR HOTEL, 26, Holyhead Road. [1921]

1921 Census

26, Holyhead Road

- [1] Thomas Atkiss (63), hotel manager, born Little London;
- [2] Maria Atkiss (59), wife, hotel manageress, born Deepfields;
- [3] Annie Richards (25), barmaid, born West Bromwich;
- [4] William H. Hearn (28), boarder, motor car engineer, born Ironbridge:

Thomas Atkiss – see also NEW MARKET, Cleveland Road, Wolverhampton.

South Staffordshire Times 3/12/1921

“Wednesbury Police Court Mr. A. J. Glover made an application for the extension of one hour in respect to the Masonic Hall attached to the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road.

Mr. Glover, as representing the licensee, explained that dancing classes were held in the Masonic Hall, which really only commenced about eight o’clock, though timed for 7.30, and by leaving off at 10pm they found the time was too limited. The application was for one hour’s extension, till 11pm, but no refreshment of any kind, not even tea, would be served after 10pm, and no possible access to the licensed premises would be available. The police would have free access at any time. The Masonic Hall was attached to the ANCHOR HOTEL, but had distinct separate entrance, and the communicating door would be closed and locked after 10pm.

After retiring, the magistrates, through the chairman, said a full bench had lately fixed the hour of closing at 10pm, and they could not make the extension.”

South Staffordshire Times 18/2/1922

“After a lapse of about 40 years Buffaloinism at Wednesbury under the Grand Surrey Banner has been honoured by the raising of a member of the Royal Oak Lodge to the Third Degree KOM. Primo H. W. Davies, who was the brother selected for the honour, has been associated with the order for 29 years. The ceremony took place at the Masonic Lodge room at the ANCHOR HOTEL, which was consecrated for the occasion.....”

South Staffordshire Times 10/3/1923

“A meeting of the licensed trade of Wednesbury, Tipton and Darlaston was held at the Masonic Hall, ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury on Tuesday, when there was a good attendance, which included a number of ladies.....”

South Staffordshire Times 2/2/1924

“.....Mr. A. J. Glover made an application for certain alterations at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, of a sanitary nature and put in a plan. Granted.”

Edwin A. E. Oman died in the 3rd quarter of 1925.

Dudley Chronicle 30/7/1925 - Thanks

“Mrs. Oman and daughter, ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, wish to express sincere thanks to the many friends and customers who sent expressions of sympathy and floral tributes on the occasion of their recent bereavement.”

Bilston & Willenhall Times 12/12/1925

“A smoking concert was held by the members of Messrs. John Spencer’s Sports Club, at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Saturday evening, for the purpose of making a presentation to Mr. C.W. J. Purnell, the works manager, who is shortly leaving the town to take up an appointment under the British Indian Corporation in Northern India. Mr. J. Willis Pearson, who made the presentation, which took the form of a silver cigarette case, said the present was a token of their appreciation of Mr. Purnell’s efforts in helping to build up the sports club. Other eulogistic remarks were made, and in expressing his thanks Mr. Purnell said he had only tried to make matters happier and better for everyone. During the evening a musical programme was contributed to by Messrs. H. Sims, R. Jenkins, C. Spencer, J. E. Brown, E. Morris, W. Onions and J. Stanley.”

Bilston & Willenhall Times 19/12/1925

“When the licensee of the ANCHOR HOTEL made four applications for extensions to music, dancing and drinking licenses to one o’clock in the morning on the occasion of private dances, Superintendent Sault asked the magistrates if they did not think that midnight was plenty late enough for such occasions, and added, ‘We shall have public houses open all night the way we are going on.’

The Chairman: It is for the police to take care in proper supervision of the houses. He added that the magistrates were of the opinion that midnight was late enough, and granted licenses until that hour upon the understanding that only those parties should partake of the privilege.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 25/1/1927 - Advert

“Wanted, experienced General; good references.
Apply, Mrs. Young, ANCHOR, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, experienced General; good references.—Apply, Mrs. Young, Anchor, Holyhead-rd., Wednesbury.

Dudley Chronicle 28/4/1927

“A social event of some importance took place at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Saturday week, when the Brunswick Steel Smelters, Branch No.2 of the Iron and Steel Trades Confederation met at a dinner, which was followed by a presentation.

The chief event of the evening was the presentation to Bro. A. Hoggins on his retirement from the secretarial position after 15 years service The presentation was a gold watch, suitably inscribed.....”

Bilston and Willenhall Times 7/1/1928

“The annual dinner of the Wednesbury Cricket Club was held at the ANCHOR HOTEL on Thursday evening when the president (Alderman Mr. Albert Pritchard) was in the chair, being supported by the Mayor (Councillor W. H. Wesson).....”

Dudley Chronicle 27/6/1929

“Serious charges were preferred at Wednesbury Police Court on Friday against George Anderson, 67, Well Lane, North Walsall. They were (1) being in possession of counterfeit coin with intent to utter the same, (2) uttering a counterfeit two shilling piece, and (3) having in custody and possession moulds for the manufacture of counterfeit coins.

Mr. B. G. Saywell (of London) appeared for the Director of Public Prosecutions, and outlined the facts of the cases. On June 4th, at 1.30pm, accused went to the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, and tendered half-a-crown for half a pint of ale. In consequence of something said by the customers, the landlord spoke to prisoner, who made some excuse, and asked for the coin back, then leaving the bar. The next heard of him was on June 11th, when he went to the WHITE HORSE and tendered a two shilling piece, receiving change. Something was said to the daughter of the licensee. She looked at the coin again, and subsequently handed it to the police. Prisoner the same day went to the BELL INN and the MIDLAND VAULTS, where he tendered two shilling pieces, and afterwards went to the GRAPES INN, where he was spoken to by PC Taylor. He asked him to go to the Police Station, and this the prisoner willingly did. When there he handed PS Nixon four counterfeit coins, also giving him a key, and telling him he would find all he wanted in a drawer at his home. A search was made and moulds and other articles necessary for the making of counterfeit coins were found.....

Joseph Glaze, jeweller and silversmith, High Bullen, Wednesbury, said he was shown the coins produced by PS Nixon and tested them with aqua fortis. He also weighted them and found them deficient. The whole of the coins were counterfeit.

Miss Edna King, daughter of the licensee of the WHITE HORSE HOTEL, said that on June 11th, she served a man with half a pint of mild and bitter, for which he tendered a two shilling piece (produced). She could not recognise the man. After he left something was said to her by another customer, and she looked in the till. She took out the two shilling piece, and testing it with another coin found that the edge rubbed soft.

Mrs. Higgins, wife of the licensee of the MIDLAND VAULTS, said she remembered prisoner calling for half a pint of ale on June 11th, for which he tendered a two shilling piece. She picked accused out the following day at an identification parade at the Police Station.

Archibald Cross, licensee of the BELL INN, Walsall Street, also stated that he served prisoner with beer and cigarettes, which he paid for with a two shilling piece. Subsequently, from something which was said to him, he took it out of the till, and upon testing it found it to be a bad one.

Douglas George Young, licensee of the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, identified two half-crowns (produced), one dated 1923, and the other 1924, which were found in his takings on May 20th and June 4th respectively. He knew prisoner and saw him in the bar on both the dates mentioned Joseph Glaze said that the two half-crowns which Mr. Young found in his takings were counterfeit and light in weight.....

Prisoner was committed to take his trial at the Staffordshire Assizes. He intimated that it was his intention to plead guilty.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 6/7/1929

“Pleading guilty to uttering counterfeit coins at Wednesbury, and to having in his possession moulds for making counterfeit coins, George Anderson, aged 38, a french polisher, committed from Wednesbury, was sentenced to three years penal servitude at the Staffordshire Assizes yesterday.

It was stated for the prosecution that prisoner also admitted charges relating to embezzlement and the uttering of counterfeit coins five years ago.”

Midland Advertiser 22/2/1930

“The staff of the Great Western Railway goods department, Wednesbury, held their annual dinner at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Saturday last. The chair was taken by Councillor W. H. Wesson.....”

Walsall Observer 15/3/1930

“The Wednesbury Motor Cycle and Car Club are holding a half-day reliability trial for Walsall Observer Cup on Sunday, March 30. The route will be approximately 50 miles of country lanes, etc, at an average speed of 20 miles per hour. The start will be from the club’s headquarters, the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, in one minute intervals after 2pm and the finish at the YEW TREE INN, Wall Heath.....”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/2/1936

“At a meeting of Wednesbury teachers at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, last night, a silver tea service was presented to Mr. G. A. Robinson, former secretary of the Wednesbury Education Committee as a token of appreciation and regard.....”

Rugeley Times 17/4/1937

“The second annual dinner and dance in connection with the Staffordshire Iron and Steel Institute (Associate Section) took place in the Masonic Hall of the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, last night.....”

1939 Register

26, Holyhead Road

[1] Harold Osmond Jones, date of birth 12/12/1892, licensee, public house, married;

[2] Emily Violet (Jones) Austin, dob 28/7/1895, unpaid domestic duties married;

[3] Emily Anne Barlow, dob 20/7/1865, incapacitated, widowed;

[4] Gwendoline Riley, dob 9/8/1915, bar general, single;

[5] Mary Elizabeth Osbourne, dob 23/12/1920, domestic servant, single:

Birmingham Mail 27/5/1942 - Advert

“Tricycle Wanted for Boy 5.

The ANCHOR, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.”

TRICYCLE Wtd. for Boy 5—The Anchor
Holyhead Rd. Wednesbury

Birmingham Mail 27/5/1942 - Advert

“Bar-Generals 2 Required, also Domestic Help.

The ANCHOR, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury. Under new management.”

BAR-GENERALS 2 Reqd. also Domestic Help—The Anchor Holyhead Rd. Wednesbury Under new management

Birmingham Mail 11/6/1942 - Advert

“Barman week-ends.

The ANCHOR, Wednesbury.”

BARMAN week-ends—The Anchor Wednesbury

Birmingham Mail 1/12/1945 - Advert

“Dolls House complete with furniture best offer over £5 also Dolls Furniture 30/-.

The ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

DOLL'S House complete with furniture best offer over £5 also Doll's Furniture 30/-
—The Anchor Hotel Wednesbury

Rugeley Times 2/3/1946

“On Saturday evening a supper and concert was held at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, when the returning employees of the Gas Department were welcomed back to their peace-time calling, and the ladies who had filled the gap during the war period were thanked for their services and their farewell taken.”

Rugeley Times 3/12/1949

“There was an attractive array of cups and prizes at the annual dinner of the Wednesbury Angling Society held at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Saturday. Mr. W. Ellis received the Harville Cup, the chief award at the prize-giving.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 27/11/1951

“Midland butchers were asked last night to stop being polite with the Government and to demand the right to run the meat trade in their own wayMr. S. E. Clews, secretary of the Wednesbury Meat Traders Association, demanded that private enterprise meat traders, the men who know the trade inside out, be allowed again to go overseas and buy the meat for import. He was speaking at the annual dinner of the association at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, and he was supported by the past president of their National Federation, Ald. H. W. Rymill, who said that while Argentinian supplies might help the present ration, next April would be the testing time. He added that whatever Government was in power no real change in the present meat supplies could be expected in the next 18 months.”

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League. [1950/51]

The assembly room (known as the Ski Room) was popular with works functions in the 1950s.

The 1952 Friar Park Allotments and Tenants Society held their annual dinner here in October 1952.

A team from here competed in the Shropshire, Staffordshire and Derby division of The People National Darts Teams Championship of England and Wales in 1952/3.

Evening Despatch 10/4/1953

“Wednesbury magistrates today refused the Licensed Victuallers Association a midnight drinking concession for their annual banquet. The application, by Mr. Roy Taylor, of the ANCHOR HOTEL, was supported by Mr. S. W. Smith, solicitor, who said it was the only time in the year when licensees had an opportunity of getting together. Mr. Taylor said they expected between 100 and 120 people at the banquet, and all the guests would be licensees, civic chiefs and trade representatives.

Police Supt. H. J. Brookes did not oppose the application, but the chairman, Mr. A. Bowker, said the extension would be granted until 11pm.

The Mayor, Coun. J. F. Postins, who has accepted an invitation to attend the function, was sitting on the bench.”

Birmingham Weekly Mercury 5/12/1954

“For 12 years silver-haired Mrs. Ethel Sheldon has waited on thousands of mid-day diners at Wednesbury’s only catering hotel. Yesterday she herself was the chief diner, and her colleagues waited on her. For Mrs. Sheldon became a bride a second time when she was married at the little Ridding Lane Methodist Church to Mr. Thomas Coles of Marshbrook Road, Pye Hayes, Birmingham. She had been a widow for eight years, and her married son and daughter, with her colleagues and the host and hostess of the ANCHOR HOTEL, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dale, and former hostess, Mrs. Roy Taylor, were among the 40 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Coles will live at her home, 13, Ridding Lane, Wednesbury.”

Evening Despatch 17/3/1955 - Advert

“Bar Staff required. Mornings, evenings and week-ends. Experience not essential.

ANCHOR, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.”

BAR STAFF required. Mornings, evenings and week-ends. Experience not essential. —“Anchor,” Holyhead Road, Wednesbury

Birmingham Daily Gazette 5/5/1955

“What’s on in the women’s organisations Today, May 5.....

Cookery demonstration to Wednesbury Ladies Circle at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, 7.30pm.”

Tipton Herald 5/11/1955

“Former marathon runner Jack Holden was welcomed by the Mayor (Ald. Arthur Bissell) at the annual dinner of Wednesbury Division of the Police Sports Club at the ANCHOR HOTEL last week.”

Birmingham Weekly Mercury 26/2/1961

“Twelve months ago St. Bartholemew’s Church, Wednesbury, was down to five bellringers, so an appeal was made to the church youth club. Five boys and four girls volunteered to help out temporarily, but they stayed, and last night, during a dinner at the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury, they all received certificates of membership of Staffordshire Change Ringing Society.”

Walsall Observer 15/11/1974

“Wednesbury Rugger Club’s annual dinner will take place at the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury, this evening, 7.30pm.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 9/10/1975 - Advert

“The ANCHOR, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, requires attractive Barmaids to work in Ski room lounge, 3/4 nights per week. Good rates of pay and working conditions. Apply Manager.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 24/12/1975 - Advert

“Ken and Sally of the ANCHOR INN, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, wish all their customers a Very Happy Christmas and a Prosperous New Year.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 23/12/1976 - Advert

“Bob and Sue of the ANCHOR INN, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, wish all their customers a Very Happy Christmas and a Prosperous New Year.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 3/12/1979

“A well-known West Bromwich pub has changed its name and image with a multi-thousand pound facelift. The FLASH HARRY at Hill Top has become the HILLCREST The change of style coincides with the third anniversary of landlord Ken Burrows and his wife Sally’s move to the pub from the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 17/2/1980 - Advert

“The ANCHOR INN, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.
Hot meals and home-made pies and a cold table Tuesday to Friday.
Also Disco Monday, Friday and Saturday.”

Walsall Observer 22/2/1980

“Wednesbury Football Charity Association held their Centenary dinner at the place where it all started 100 years ago, the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, last week. Probably the oldest charity soccer organisation in Britain, the association organise three local competitions.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 20/5/1980 - Advert

“The ANCHOR INN, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.
Appearing in Cabaret, Wednesday, May 21, Paul Trevelion and Sadie Nine, special comedy duo, plus music by Skipper. Admission 80p (open until 10.30pm).
Friday, May 23, Pete Duffy, top comedy entertainer, plus The Dave Laine Duo. Admission 80p before 8.30pm (£1 after 8.30pm). Doors open 7.15pm, tables can be booked (open till 11pm).
Sorry no denim or leathers.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 11/11/1980

“Sandwell rock and roll fans pay tribute to Elvis Presley with a special memorial disco at the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury, tomorrow.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 27/8/1981

“An appeal has gone out from the Sandwell Roadcraft Club for more members. The club, who are helping to organise the Sandwell Mail’s Driver of the Year contest, meets monthly. Learner and qualified drivers are welcome to the meetings, every second Thursday in the month at 8pm, at the ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 23/10/1987

“Rock musicians and regulars at a Black Country pub have sent a petition to brewers complaining about plans to close it on Monday. Mr. Ian Hough, aged 25, leader of the Cybernauts band, said everyone was upset about plans to close the ANCHOR in Holyhead Road, Wednesbury. He said, ‘We have always enjoyed playing there and six Black Country bands will miss the facility we have had there and I’m sure the punters will miss the pop music.’ Mr. Hough, of Russell Street, Dudley, said his five-piece band had regularly met at the ANCHOR for nearly twelve months. ‘The rotten thing about it is that we were only given a week’s notice and Mitchells & Butlers are closing the place down on Monday,’ he said. Tenant at the ANCHOR for more than five years, Mrs. Kathleen Jeavons, said the pub was badly in need of repairs and general maintenance.
An M&B spokesman said the ANCHOR was being sold off and had just been placed in the hands of the estate agents. She said it was closing on October 26 and would probably be sold for some other purpose than a public house. ‘The brewery acquired the premises in 1923, but it had been a pub since the turn of the century,’ she added.”

It was used as a dance academy. [2004]

WILLIAM WATSON,
ANCHOR COMMERCIAL HOTEL,
 AND
Inland Revenue Office,
HOLYHEAD ROAD, WEDNESBURY.

1876

WILLIAM WATSON,
ANCHOR,
COMMERCIAL & FAMILY HOTEL
HOLYHEAD ROAD,
WEDNESBURY.

WINES & SPIRITS of the CHOICEST QUALITY.

An Ordinary at 1.15 Daily.

EVERY CONVENIENCE FOR COMMERCIAL GENTLEMEN.

Funerals Economically Conducted. Next Hours, and Morning Coaches, &c.

WEDDING CARRIAGES.

CABS, CARS, BREAKS, AND WAGGONETTES, for Pleasure Parties, &c.

1880

Lot 1.—All that old-established Full-licensed PUBLIC-HOUSE and COMMERCIAL HOTEL, known as the "ANCHOR HOTEL," situate on the Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, with the Spirit Vaults, Office, extensive Warehouses, Cellarage, large Coach-house, Stores, Livery Stables, and Premises attached thereto, as late in the occupation of the said William Watson.

The House has an important frontage to the Holyhead Road, and contains on the ground floor large Vaults and private Bar, with fittings thereto; Smoke Room, fitted with leather seating; back Parlour, Commercial Room, and Kitchen. Upstairs, large Sitting Rooms, seven Bed Rooms, w.c., and Bath Room, with hot and cold water supply.

There is also an Office and Wine Store at the rear.

The Premises fronting Albert Street comprise on the basement very extensive Cellarage, 148 feet long, with Cart Entrance from the street; Stabling for fourteen horses, three Coach-houses. On the ground floor there is a large Room, used as a Drill Hall; and Carriage House, Stable, Bottling Store, and Brewhouse.

On the first floor a large Club Room, 55 feet long by 25 feet wide, with movable partition communicating internally by a verandah with the front portion of the House. There is also a detached Coach-house, part of which is occupied by the Fire Brigade, a large covered Shed, and a good Yard.

The whole comprises an area of 1,163 square yards, or thereabouts, has a frontage of 66ft. 6in. to Holyhead Road, and a frontage of 83ft. 6in. to Albert Street. It occupies a first-rate situation, within a few minutes' walk of the London and North-Western and Great Western Railway Stations, and is admirably adapted for the carrying on of a large Wine and Spirit Business and Wholesale Ale Trade, or for an extensive Posting Business, all of which have been carried on there for some years. It offers, on the whole, one of the best opportunities that has recently been placed before the public, the arrangements being most complete in every respect. The whole of the TRADE FIXTURES and FITTINGS will be sold with the Property, and included in the purchase.

The Purchaser will also have the opportunity, if he wishes, of taking to the FURNITURE and STOCK-IN-TRADE at a valuation.

1881

By William Watson, Bankrupt.—Anchor Hotel, Wednesbury.
MESSRS. LEEDAM & HARRISON have received instructions from the Trustee of this Estate to Sell by Auction, THIS DAY (Tuesday) and TO-MORROW (Wednesday), February 7 and 8—the whole of the useful HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE of the above important Commercial Hotel; together with the STOCK-IN-TRADE of WINES and SPIRITS, including several consignments of Brandy, Rum, Whisky, Port, and Sherry, in bond; a quantity of sparkling Wines and Claret, in bottle; also, a valuable MOURNING COACH, and the whole of the Trade Utensils, of Glass, China, Crockery, and Effects.

ORDER OF SALE.

FIRST DAY.—Furniture, Glass, China, Silver, &c.

SECOND DAY.—Stock-in-Trade, Wines, Spirits, Dock Warrants, Mourning Coach, &c.

Sale to commence each day at 11 o'clock.

Particulars in catalogues, which may be had at the Place of Sale; and from the Auctioneers, 179, Horninglow Street, Burton-on-Trent.

1882

UNDER AN EXECUTION FROM THE SHERIFF.
ANCHOR HOTEL, HOLYHEAD-ROAD,
WEDNESBURY.

ON FRIDAY, MAY 1st, 1885.

MR. WILLIAM POTTS will SELL by AUCTION, upon the premises as above, the whole of the FURNITURE, Fixtures, Stock-in-Trade, and contents of Spirit Vaults, comprising Mahogany-top Counter, Eight-pull Patent Beer Machine, Copper Hot Water Apparatus, Spirit Machine, 12 Taps, Two-pull Porter Machine, Glass Shelving, with plate-glass back partition; Half-glazed Door, Copper Measures, Spirit and Ale Measures, Two China Spirit Barrels, Wine and Ale Glasses, Decanters, Stock of Wines, Spirits, &c., &c.

Sale to commence at 11 o'clock prompt.

Auctioneer's Offices: Athenæum, Queen-street, Wolverhampton.

1885

HENRY STALEY,
WHOLESALE
WINE AND SPIRIT MERCHANT
ANCHOR HOTEL,
HOLYHEAD ROAD, WEDNESBURY
(Ordinary Daily, 1.15 p.m.)

Families supplied with Evershed's Ales and Porter in Cask, all sizes, at Brewery Prices.

Dinners, Suppers, &c. supplied to Clubs and Societies on Economical Terms, or by Special Contract.

1891

THE ANCHOR, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury. Requires attractive Barnaids to work in Ski room lounge, 3/4 nights per week. Good rates of pay and working conditions. — Apply Manager or Tel 021-556 0314.

KEN AND SALLY
of

THE ANCHOR INN,
Holyhead Road,
Wednesbury,

wish all their customers a Very Happy Christmas and a Prosperous New Year.

1975

BOB AND SUE
of

THE ANCHOR INN,
Holyhead Road,
Wednesbury,

wish all their customers a Very Happy Christmas and a Prosperous New Year.

1976

THE ANCHOR INN

HOLYHEAD ROAD,
WEDNESBURY.

Hot meals and home-made pies and a cold table
Tuesday to Friday. Also Disco Monday, Friday and Saturday.

Tel. 556 0314.

THE ANCHOR INN

HOLYHEAD ROAD, WEDNESBURY

Tel: 556 0314

Appearing in Cabaret,

WEDNESDAY, MAY 21

PAUL TREVELION AND SADIE NINE

SPECIAL COMEDY DUO

Plus Music by Skipper

Admission 80p (open until 10.30 p.m.).

FRIDAY, MAY 23

PETE DUFFY

TOP COMEDY ENTERTAINER

Plus The Dave Laine Duo

Admission 80p before 8.30 p.m. (£1 after 8.30 p.m.).

Doors open 7.15 p.m., tables can be booked (open till 11 p.m.).

SORRY NO DENIMS OR LEATHERS!

1980

ANCIENT BRITON

6, Potters Lane, (6, Potters Street), (Portway Road), WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Noah Collins [1841] – 1864);
Thomas Cawood (1864 – 1865);
Joseph Smith (1865 – [1875]
Mary Smith [1881]

NOTES

6, Potter Street [1871]
6, Potters Lane

ANCIENT BRITONS [1868]

Noah Collins, beer retailer, Potters Lane. [1841]

1841 Census

Potters Lane

- [1] Noah Collins (53), coach bolt maker, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Mary Collins (53), wife, born Staffordshire;
- [3] Joseph Collins (21), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Tamar Collins (18), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Ann Collins (16), born Staffordshire;
- [6] Noah Collins (12), born Staffordshire;
- [7] Aaron Collins (10), born Staffordshire;
- [8] Samuel Collins (9), born Staffordshire;

Noah Collins, retailer of beer, Potters Lane. [1842]

Noah Collins was also a coach bolt maker. [1845], [1849], [1850]

Birmingham Journal 17/10/1846

“Fever of a malignant character is very prevalent in the neighbourhood of Wednesbury. On Thursday morning an inquest was held before G. Hinchliffe, Esq, at the house of Noah Collins, ANCIENT BRITON, Wednesbury, upon the body of a child 2½ years old, who died from typhus fever. It appeared that on Tuesday last it was apparently well and went to school, but on Wednesday morning it was found dead in its bed. A surgeon was called in, and he made a post mortem examination of the body, and gave it as his opinion that the child died from malignant typhus fever.”

Birmingham Journal 31/8/1850

“On Saturday evening, an inquest was held at the ANCIENT BRITON, Potters Lane, Wednesbury, before George Hinchliffe, Esq, Coroner, on the body of a little girl named Ann Spooner, about eighteen months old, whose parents reside in the locality, and who had been drowned on the previous evening by falling into a pan of water which stood on the kitchen floor. Both father and mother were absent at the time, and an alarm was first raised by a brother of deceased. The Jury returned a verdict of Found Dead.”

TO-MORROW (THURSDAY), APRIL 18TH.
UNRESERVED SALE OF PUBLIC HOUSE FITTINGS AND FIXTURES.

Five-pull Beer Machine, new; Seating, in leather;
Screens, Tables, 12ft BAGATILLE BOARD, slate bed; BREWING PLANT, 180-gallon Copper Boiler, with tap; refrigerator, sweet and sound ale casks, coolers, gathering tubs, mash tub, LARGE WOOD
SHED, 40ft by 20ft, with wood floor and gas fittings; useful Slide Lathe, 4ft dia. bed, 8in centre; Slide
Lathe, 13ft. bed and overhead gear; half-pocket
Worcester Hops, and numerous Effects.

ANCIENT BRITON INN, POTTERS-LANE,
WEDNESBURY.

J. MORRELL and SONS are instructed by J. Mr. B. Smith, who is leaving (the premises being about to be converted into private houses), to SELL by AUCTION, at the above Inn, TO-MORROW (THURSDAY), April 18th.

Sale at 11 a.m. prompt.
Auction Offices, Swan Bank, Bilston.

1889

1851 Census

Potters Lane

- [1] Noah Collins (63), coach bolt maker and victualler, born Sedgley;
- [2] Mary Collins (63), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Joseph Collins (32), son, coach bolt maker, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Aaron Collins (21), son, coach bolt maker, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Samuel Collins (19), son, coach bolt maker, born Wednesbury;

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/4/1851

“An inquest was held on Tuesday last at the ANCIENT BRITON, Wednesbury, before G. Hinchliffe, Esq, on the body of William Morton, aged thirty-five, a miner, who was killed by a fall of coal in a pit belonging to Mr. Joseph Hinckley. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

1861 Census

Potters Lane

- [1] Noah Collins (73), widower, coach bolt manufacturer and victualler, born Sedgley;
- [2] Aron Collins (30), son, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Sarah Collins (15), grand-daughter, housemaid, born Wednesbury;

Birmingham Daily Post 26/4/1870

“Mr. E. Hooper, District Coroner, yesterday held an inquest at the ANCIENT BRITON INN, Potters Lane, Wednesbury, on the body of John Williams, aged 2 years and 9 months, son of parents living in New Street.

It was shown that the child left home at half-past two o'clock on Friday, and although a strict search was made, nothing was heard or seen of him until about half-past six o'clock on Saturday morning, when his brother and a young man, named Thomas Wordle, found the poor little fellow's lifeless body in a cellar, containing about 4 feet of water, beneath the office, at the works of Mr. Smith, Potters Lane. It is supposed the child was making his way to the works, to see his brother, who worked there, when he fell into the cellar, and was drowned.

The Jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, and at the same time blamed the parents for not having taken better care of the child.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 20/1/1871

“On Christmas Eve last a man named Richard Sant called at the ANCIENT BRITON public house, Potters Lane, Wednesbury, and remained there for a considerable time drinking. He left about nine o'clock, as was supposed, for the purpose of going home, as he was far advanced in liquor. Nothing further was seen or heard of him till Tuesday afternoon, when his body was found in the stream which runs near to Hatton's flour mill, in the West Bromwich Road. The body could be seen from the bridge which crosses the road near the mill. It was first discovered by James Dewitt, a boatman, and William Wheatley, who is employed at the Globe Tube Works close by. The body was at once got out and removed to the WHITE LION INN, Bridge Street. It is believed that deceased missed his way on the night in question and walked into the water. He had been in the employ of the Patent Shaft and Axle Company, as a labourer, and was noted for his intemperate habits. He was about 57 years of age, and unmarried.”

1871 Census

6, Potters Street

- [1] Joseph Smith (59), landlord, licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Mary Smith (61), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Benjamin Smith (20), son, traveller, born Smethwick;
- [4] Thomas Smith (22), son, warehouse man, born Darlaston;
- [5] Mary Smith (19), daughter, barmaid, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Eliza Smith (37), daughter, assistant to landlord, born Stearchley, Shropshire;
- [7] William Smith (10), nephew, scholar, born Wednesbury;

Midland Examiner 21/8/1875

“Albert Holroyd and James Hayes were fined 10s 6d each, with the option of fourteen days' imprisonment, with hard labour, for having refused to leave the house of Joseph Smith, the ANCIENT BRITON, IN Potters Lane, Wednesbury.”

1881 Census

6, Potters Lane – ANCIENT BRITON

[1] Mary Smith (71), widow, licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Eliza Smith (48), daughter-in-law, assistant, born Sturckley, Shropshire;

[3] William Smith (20), grand-son, coach iron finisher, born Wednesbury;

[4] John Parker (52), lodger, widower, carter, born Broughton, Lancashire:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 17/4/1889 - Advert

“Tomorrow (Thursday), April 18th.

Unreserved Sale of Public House Fittings and Fixtures.

Five-pull Beer Machine, new; Seating, in leather; Screens, Tables, 12ft Bagatelle Board, slate bed; Brewing Plant, 180-gallon Copper Boiler, with tap; refrigerator, sweet and sound ale casks, coolers, gathering tubs, mash tub, Large Wood Shed, 40ft by 20ft, with wood floor and gas fittings; useful Slide Lathe, 4ft 9in bed, 8in centre; Slide Lathe 13ft bed and overhead gear; half-pocket Worcester Hops, and numerous Effects.

ANCIENT BRITON INN, Potters Lane, Wednesbury.

J. Morrell and Sons are instructed by Mr. B. Smith, who is leaving (the premises being about to be converted into private houses), to Sell by Auction, at the above Inn, Tomorrow (Thursday), April 18th.

Sale at 11am prompt.

Auction Offices, Swan Bank, Bilston.”

Closed

ANGEL

Bilston Road, (Old Road), Monway Field, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Glover [1834] – [1845]
Mrs. Joice Glover [1848] – [1851]
Isaac White [1860] – [1862]
Mrs. Elizabeth White [1862] – [1863]

NOTES

1841 Census

Bilston Road

- [1] John Glover (60), victualler;
- [2] Joice Glover (60);
- [3] Samuel Glover (25), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Phebe Taverner (15), f.s., born Staffordshire:

TO be LET, and may be entered upon at Christmas next, that old established PUBLIC-HOUSE, known as the sign of the "ANGEL INN," situate at Wednesbury, on the main road leading to Bilston, surrounded by coal and iron works; the tenant may take to any part of the fixtures and brewing utensils or not, to suit his convenience.—Apply to Mr. JOSEPH LOWE, near the Duke of York Inn, Darlaston.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 16/10/1844 - Advert

"To be Let, and may be entered upon at Christmas next, that old established Public House, known as the sign of the ANGEL INN, situate at Wednesbury, on the main road leading to Bilston, surrounded by coal and iron works; the tenant may take to any part of the fixtures and brewing utensils or not, to suit his convenience.
Apply to Mr. Joseph Lowe, near the DUKE OF YORK INN, Darlaston."

Joice Glover = Joyce Glover

Birmingham Journal 2/9/1848

"On Wednesday last a Special Sessions was held The principal business consisted of the annual renewal of licenses, and the whole were granted, with the following exceptions, without remark.....
John Glover (now Joyce, his wife), Wednesbury, admonished."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/2/1849

"Henry Jackson was charged with passing a counterfeit half-crown to Mrs. Joice Glover, of the ANGEL INN, on the Bilston Road, in the parish of Wednesbury, on Friday, the 2nd instant. The prisoner came to the house and asked if a man he described had been there. He was told he had not. Afterwards he came again and had a pint of ale and some bread and cheese. No man came to him, and he offered in payment for what he had had a counterfeit half-crown. After it had been examined it was refused, and he gave Mrs. Glover a good one. He then went away. Thomas Antony Ellis, licensed victualler, living at the BLUE BALL INN, Church Hill, Wednesbury, said that subsequently on the same day, the prisoner, with another man, who said his name was Clancey, came to his house, and he showed them into the back kitchen; one of them called for a pint of ale, which was served by his wife. The prisoner Jackson offered in payment a counterfeit half-crown, which he took from among others in his breeches pocket. The half-crown being refused, the man in company with the prisoner said, 'If that's bad, give another; you know where you had it from.' Jackson then gave another half-crown, and received 2s 3d in change. The prisoner then said to the man in his company, 'Let's have another pint.' The man said, 'No, let us go and take that half-crown where you had it from.' They then went out, and Harrison, a constable, and Mr. Ellis, followed them, and saw Jackson putting money into Clancey's hand. They afterwards pursued them on the Darlaston road, and saw Jackson leave his companion in the road and go up a yard. He came out of it as Mr. Ellis and Harrison got opposite to it.

Harrison then apprehended the prisoner soon after he came out of the entry. In his mouth was found a bad half-crown, and in the yard, under some dirt, three other half-crowns of the same date and dye as that offered at Mr. Ellis's were found. The prisoner was committed."

[At the Staffordshire Adjourned Sessions Jackson was found guilty and sentenced to be imprisoned 12 calendar months with hard labour.]

1851 Census

Bilston Road

[1] Joice Glover (71), widow, innkeeper, born Broseley, Shropshire;

[2] Hepzibah Glover (16), grand-daughter, servant, born Ashton under Lyne, Lancashire;

[3] Betsy Glover (39), daughter-in-law, married, born Bury, Lancashire:

Joice Glover died on 13th November 1852.

1861 Census

Bilston Road

[1] Isaac White (54), victualler, born Bilston;

[2] Betsy White (56), wife, born Billingsley, Shropshire;

[3] Ann Golcher (14), niece, born Darlaston;

[4] Ellen Norton (20), servant, born Belbroughton, Worcestershire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 16/4/1862 - Deaths

"On the 3rd instant, Mr. Isaac White, ANGEL INN, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, aged 55 years."

Birmingham Daily Post 25/9/1862

"On Tuesday, at Wednesbury Police Court, a woman named Mary Price, was charged with having broken a pane of glass at the house of Mrs. Elizabeth White, the ANGEL INN, Bilston Old Road, on Monday afternoon. The evidence showed that the woman entered the house drunk, and behaved in a disorderly manner. She was ejected from the premises, and she then broke the window. Ordered to pay the damage, 1s and costs, together with a fine of 1s, or in default one month's imprisonment."

Birmingham Journal 5/12/1863 - Advert

"Clearance Sale at the ANGEL INN, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, in consequence of damage done to the Property by mining operations.

To be Sold by Auction by Mr. Hawkins, on Monday, December 14, 1863, upon the Premises, as above.

The whole of the Public House Fixtures, Screens, Drinking Tables, 4-pull Beer Machine, Buffet, Oven, and other grates, Brewing Vessels, Mashing Tubs, Boilers, Wood Vats, Lead and Iron Piping, well-seasoned Casks, Household Furniture, Chairs, Tables, four-post Bedsteads, Feather Bed, Washing Stand, and Dressing Tables, and other Effects, belonging to Mrs. Betsy White.

Catalogues may be had from the Auctioneer, Brierley Hill.

Sale to commence at Eleven o'clock."

CLEARANCE SALE
At the ANGEL INN, BILSTON ROAD, WEDNESBURY,
In consequence of damage done to the Property by mining operations.
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION
BY Mr. HAWKINS, on MONDAY, December
14, 1863, upon the Premises, as above, the whole of the PUBLIC-HOUSE FIXTURES, Screens, Drinking Tables, 4-pull
Beer Machine, Buffet, Oven, and other grates, BREWING
VESSELS, Mashing Tubs, Boilers, Wood Vats, Lead and Iron
Piping, well-seasoned Casks, HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, Chairs, Tables, four-post Bedsteads, Feather Bed, Washing Stand, and Dressing Tables, and other Effects, belonging to Mrs. Betsy White.
Catalogues may be had from the Auctioneer, Brierley Hill.
Sale to commence at Eleven o'clock.

ANGEL

Lowe's Buildings, Wednesbury Field, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Eccles [1820] – [1830]

NOTES

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 22/5/1820 - Died

"On Saturday se'nnight, in the 9th year of his age, John, son of Mr. J. Eccles, of the ANGEL INN, Wednesbury Field."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/5/1827 - Notice

"Whereas a Commission of Bankrupt is awarded and issued forth against John Eccles, of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Victualler, dealer and chapman, and he being declared a bankrupt, is hereby required to surrender himself to the commissioners in the said commission named, or the major part of them, on the eighteenth and nineteenth days of May instant, and on the twenty-second day of June next, at seven o'clock in the evening of the first-mentioned day, and at ten of the clock in the forenoon of each of the last-mentioned days, at the Littletons Arms Inn, Penkridge, in the county of Stafford, and make a full discovery and disclosure of his estate and effects; when and where the creditors are to come prepared to prove their debts, and at the second sitting to choose Assignees, and at the last sitting the said bankrupt is required to finish his examination, and the creditors are to assent to or dissent from the allowance of his certificate. All persons indebted to the said bankrupt, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to whom the commissioners shall appoint, but give notice to Messrs. Wheeler and Bennett, Solicitors, John Street, Bedford Row, London; or to Mr. Smith, Solicitor, Walsall, Staffordshire."

WHEREAS a Commission of Bankrupt is awarded and issued forth against JOHN ECCLES, of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Victualler, dealer and chapman, and he being declared a bankrupt, is hereby required to surrender himself to the commissioners in the said commission named, or the major part of them, on the eighteenth and nineteenth days of May instant, and on the twenty-second day of June next, at seven o'clock in the evening of the first-mentioned day, and at ten of the clock in the forenoon of each of the last-mentioned days, at the Littleton's Arms Inn, at Penkridge, in the county of Stafford, and make a full discovery and disclosure of his estate and effects; when and where the creditors are to come prepared to prove their debts, and at the second sitting to choose Assignees, and at the last sitting the said bankrupt is required to finish his examination, and the creditors are to assent to or dissent from the allowance of his certificate. All persons indebted to the said bankrupt, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to whom the commissioners shall appoint, but give notice to Messrs. Wheeler and Bennett, Solicitors, John-street, Bedford-row, London; or to
Mr. SMITH, Solicitor,
Walsall, Staffordshire.

BACHELORS ARMS

Kings Hill Field, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Peter Lee [1845] – [1851]

NOTES

Peter Lee = Peter Lees

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/8/1845

“Wednesbury Petty Sessions.....

Messrs. Sharp, Madley, and Peter Lees, were charged by Major M’Knight with having their beer-shops, in Wednesbury, open at hours prohibited by the Act of Parliament. The defendant Sharp was fined 10s and costs; and Madley and Lees 2s 6d and costs.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 18/10/1846

“Thomas Taylor of Kings Hill Field, Wednesbury, is prepared to fight any man of his weight, within four miles of Darlaston, from £5 to £10 a side. His money will be ready any time next week at Peter Lee’s BACHELORS ARMS, Kings Hill Field, Wednesbury.”

BARLEY MOW

Bridge Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Mansfield [1851] – 1857)

William Wesley (1857 – []

NOTES

1851 Census

Bridge Street.

[1] Thomas Mansfield (44), publican, born Somerset;

[2] Sarah Mansfield (42), wife, born Lincolnshire;

[3] William Newton (12), lodger, born Yorkshire

[4] Ann Reeves (20), servant, born Bilston;

[5] Joseph Webb (22), lodger, labourer, born Walton, Warwickshire:

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 5/7/1852 - Advert

"Wednesbury. Freehold Houses, Manufactory, and Premises, opposite the RED LION, INN, Wednesbury.

Messrs. Hammond and Oldfield, will Submit to Competition by Auction, at the house of Mr. J. B. Palmer, the QUEENS ARMS INN, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, on Monday next, the 12th day of July, at six o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions to be then read, in the following lots, or such other lots as shall be agreed upon.

Thomas Mansfield, Tenant. The Retail Public House, called the BARLEY MOW; consisting of front room, parlour, bar, back kitchen, or smoke room; Grocer's and Butcher's Shop, Brewhouse, six bed-rooms, two Stables, and Yard.

William Cope, Tenant. Front and back Sitting-Room, three bed-rooms, cellar, &c.

William Griffiths, Tenant. Retail Grocer's Shop, back-sitting room, cellar, two chambers, Stable, and Yard.

One House void.

Edwin Richards, Tenant. Consisting of three-story Manufactory, Stack, with Yard, room, &c.

The Property is in the most improving part of the town, within a few doors of the Post Office, at the junction of the Wolverhampton Turnpike Road, only a short distance from the South Staffordshire Railway Station, and having a frontage of 27 yards 10 inches to the main street, may with advantage be converted into Retail Shops; containing in the whole 1261 square yards.

NB. This Property will comprise the Mines underneath, which are ungotten.

For further particulars apply to Mr. S. Danks, No.3, Waterloo Street; or to the Auctioneers, 21, Waterloo Street, all of Birmingham."

Thomas Mansfield (46), widower, railway contractor, Wednesbury, married Sarah Flintham (51), widow, Birmingham, on 15th December 1853.

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/9/1855

"On Tuesday last, Thomas Mansfield, who keeps a public house in Bridgman Street, Wednesbury, was summoned for allowing drunkenness and disorderly conduct in his house on the 1st instant. The police proved that a number of navvies were in the house and were very disorderly and drunken. The defendant is a sub-contractor. Mr. Sill, for the defence, called several witnesses to speak to the good and orderly character of the house, one of whom, Mr. Fruer, saddler, spoke very emphatically of the remarkable care taken by the defendant and his wife to preserve order in the house. The defendant was fined 10s and costs, Mr. Bagnall remarking that, from his own knowledge, he was able to say the house was conducted in anything but a respectable manner."

Birmingham Journal 12/1/1856 - Advert

"To Contractors, Farmers, Carriers, & Others.

Great Western Railway. Important Sale of Horses.

Mr. G. B. Nichols begs most respectfully to announce that he is favoured with instructions from Mr. Thomas Mansfield, Contractor, to Offer for Sale by Auction, at the RED LION INN, Wednesbury, on Monday Next, January 14, at Eleven o'clock punctually.

Eighteen young powerful Draught Horses and Gearing, in excellent condition.....

The Auctioneer begs to call the attention of Parties to this Sale of Horses, as they are really well-known good workers, and sold solely on account of Mr. Mansfield having finished his Contract on the above line of Railway, and having no further use for them."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/8/1859

"At Walsall Guildhall, on Wednesday, Mr. Beaton applied, on behalf of Mrs. Sarah Mansfield, for an order of protection under the Act of Parliament providing that the property of married women, accumulated subsequently to desertion by their husbands, shall be protected from such husbands in case of their return.

The appellant stated that she was married to Thomas Mansfield, at St. Martin's Church, Birmingham, in 1853, that they went to Wednesbury, and kept a public house till 1857, when he left her, and went to Australia, leaving a number of debts owing, which she paid, so far as the property he left enabled her to do. Since then she had maintained herself by her own industry, and had not heard from her husband for twelve months. He had never sent her any money, and she now desired that what goods she had got together might be protected.

The order was granted."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 8/11/1857

"Richard Longmore of Wednesbury will fight Alf Newton of the Staffordshire Potteries, at 9st weight, for £25 or £50 a side; or Martin Hopkins or Jacob Cotterbath of Birmingham on the same terms; first come first served. Man and money ready next Wednesday, at Mr. William Wesley's, BARLEY MOW, Bridge Street, Wednesbury."

WEDNESBURY. FREEHOLD HOUSES, MANUFACTORY, AND PREMISES,

Opposite the Red Lion Inn, Wednesbury,

MESSRS. HAMMOND and OLDFIELD will SUBMIT to COMPETITION by AUCTION, at the house of Mr. J. B. Palmer, the Queen's Arms Inn, Holyhead-road, Wednesbury, on Monday next the 12th day of July, at six o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions to be then read, in the following lots, or such other lots as shall be agreed upon:—

Thomas Mansfield, Tenant.—The RETAIL PUBLIC HOUSE, called "THE BARLEY MOW;" consisting of front room, parlour, bar, back kitchen, or smoke-room; Grocer's and Butcher's Shop, Brewhouse, six bed-rooms, two Stables, and Yard.

William Cope, Tenant.—Front and back SITTING-ROOM, three bed-rooms, cellar, &c.

William Griffiths, Tenant.—RETAIL GROCER'S SHOP, back sitting-room, cellar, two chambers, Stable, and Yard.

One HOUSE void.

Edwin Richards, Tenant.—Consisting of three-story Manufactory, Stack, with Yard, room, &c.

The Property is in the most improving part of the town, within a few doors of the Post Office, at the junction of the Wolverhampton Turnpike Road, only a short distance from the South Staffordshire Railway Station, and having a frontage of 27 yards 10 inches to the main street, may with advantage be converted into Retail Shops; containing in the whole 1261 square yards.

N.B.—This Property will comprise the Mines underneath, which are ungotten.

For further particulars apply to Mr. Samuel Danks, No. 3, Waterloo-street; or to the Auctioneers, 21, Waterloo-street, all of Birmingham.

BEEHIVE

Dale Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Charles Whitehouse [1881]

NOTES

Wednesbury Herald 30/4/1881

“Charles Whitehouse, landlord of the BEE HIVE INN, Dale Street, was charged with being drunk on his own licensed premises.

Police-constable Watson stated that upon visiting the defendant’s house on one of the evenings in the previous week, he found the defendant very drunk.

Mr. Superintendent Holland and Police-constable Lightfoot stated that on the evening the defendant was alleged to be drunk, he came to the police station to make a complaint, and he was then very drunk.

The Bench said they considered the case proved, and fined defendant 10s and costs, or, in default 14 days imprisonment.”

BEEHIVE

2, Trowse Lane, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

George Gee [1862]
Samuel Yates [1866]
Walter William Bright [1868] – 1871;
George Horton Moon (1871 – []
William Wall [1871]
George Morris [1872]
Edward Jay [1879] – [1881]

Token

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Birmingham Daily Post 17/12/1862

“Yesterday, at Wednesbury Police Court, George Gee, of the BEEHIVE beerhouse, was charged, upon two informations, with having opened his house for the sale of ale during prohibited hours, on Sunday, the 2nd of November. Mr. Travis, of West Bromwich, supported the information, and Mr. Slater appeared for the defence. One summons was dismissed, and in the other case a fine of 20s and costs was imposed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/11/1862

“On Tuesday, at Wednesbury Police Court.....

George Gee, beerhouse keeper, of Walsall Street, was charged with having his house open during prohibited hours on the 2nd inst. Mr. Slater, who appeared for the defendant, urged that two separate offences being named in the summons it was contrary to law. The case was therefore dismissed, and the police were instructed to take out fresh summonses.”

Birmingham Daily Post 2/8/1866

“At Walsall County Court, yesterday, Joseph Sims, miner, Hill Top, brought an action to recover the sum of £25, for damages done to him on the 22nd of June last, by the defendant, Samuel Yates, who keeps the BEEHIVE beerhouse, at Wednesbury.

From the evidence of the plaintiff, his brother, and a woman named Elizabeth Jones, it appeared the plaintiff and defendant were playing at dominoes in defendant’s house, when defendant, suspecting plaintiff of ‘palming’ one of the cards, knocked him down and broke his leg.

The Jury, after a short consultation, returned a verdict for the plaintiff for £17 and costs, and his Honour made an order for the payment to be made at three times.”

Walter William Bright, beer retailer, Trowse Lane. [1868], [1870]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 30/5/1870

“John Shenton, a gunlock filer, of Wednesbury, was charged with obtaining ale under false pretences. The evidence showed that on the 28th December last, the prisoner went to the BEE HIVE INN, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury, and obtained one gallon and a half of ale from the agent, William Wall, on the pretence that it was for a man named John Francis, at the Gas Works. Prisoner has since been out of the way, and was apprehended on Thursday at Darlaston by Police-constable Stanton. The prisoner acknowledged his guilt, as was committed for trial.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/7/1870

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions Pleaded Guilty.....

John Shenton, 39, gunlock filer, to obtaining, by false pretences, six quarts of ale and 1½ ounces of tobacco, from William Wall, at Wednesbury, on the 28th December. The prisoner had been a considerable time in prison, and he was accordingly sentenced to seven days’ imprisonment.”

1871 Census

Trouse Lane – BEEHIVE INN

[1] William Wall (41), publican, born Redmerly, Worcestershire;

[2] Eliza Wall (37), wife, born Ireland:

TO be Let, that well-known good business Public House, THE BEE HIVE, situate in the High Bullen, Wednesbury, in a densely populated place, and close to extensive manufactories. —Apply on the Premises, or to Mr. Hawkins, Auctioneer, Brierley Hill.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 14/6/1871 - Advert

“To be Let, that well-known good business Public House, the BEE HIVE, situate in the High Bullen, Wednesbury, in a densely populated place, and close to extensive manufactories.

Apply on the Premises, or to Mr. Hawkins, Auctioneer, Brierley Hill.”

George Morris, beer retailer, 2, Trowse Lane. [1872]

Birmingham Daily Post 28/3/1874 - Advert

BEERHOUSE for Disposal, in consequence of other engagements. 1st First-class situation.—Apply, Beehive, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury.

“Beerhouse for Disposal, in consequence of other engagements. First-class situation.

Apply, BEEHIVE, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury.”

Wednesbury Herald 19/4/1879

“At the Walsall County Court, on Thursday, a petition in liquidation was filed on behalf of Edward Jay, the landlord of the BEE HIVE INN, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury. The liabilities are £420 and the assets are estimated to about £70. Mr. Travis, of Tipton, is the solicitor for the debtor.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 5/11/1879

“Mary Hill (29), a married woman, residing in Cleveland Street, Dudley, was charged with stealing a quantity of bedclothes, the property of Edward Jay, landlord of the BEEHIVE INN, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury.

On Thursday the prisoner went to the prosecutor’s house and obtained furnished lodgings at the rate of 3s 6d a week, promising that her husband would pay the lodging money on Saturday night. On Saturday afternoon prisoner, after locking the door of her room, left the house, and as she did not return on Sunday morning the door was forced open, when it was discovered that the whole of the bedclothing and other articles were missing. The prisoner was subsequently apprehended by the police at Dudley.

A married woman named Ann Bray, residing in Holyhead Road, said that on Saturday afternoon the prisoner came to her house and offered a blanket for sale for 1s 9d. She cried bitterly, and said that she had five children starving, and hoped witness would purchase the blanket. Witness consented to lend her 1s 9d on the blanket, and gave her some food for the children. Sarah Lewis, Dudley Street, said she gave the prisoner 1s for a pillow, the prisoner having told her that she wanted money to make up her rent.

When apprehended the prisoner said, ‘I took the goods as my children were starving.’

She was committed for trial at the next Staffordshire sessions.”

AND

Staffordshire Sentinel 10/1/1880

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions Pleaded Guilty.....

Mary Hill, 29, no occupation, seven days’ imprisonment (on account of ill health, and this being her first conviction), for stealing, on November 1st, 1879, at Wednesbury, one blanket, one counterpane, and other articles, the property of Edward Jay.”

1881 Census

2, Trowse Lane – BEE HIVE

[1] Edward Jay (48), railway wheel turner, born Dudley Port;

[2] Rose H. Jay (57), wife, born Tividale;

[3] Charlotte Jay (19), daughter, born Toll End;

[4] William Jay (17), railway wheel turner, born Toll End:

BELL AND CASTLE

21, Union Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Moses Howl Lowe [1919]

LICENSEES

Philip Cowle [1854] – [1891]

George Cooke [1901]

Thomas Colclough [1903]

Samuel Griffiths [1911]

George Green [1919]

UNION STREET, WEDNESBURY.
Lot 4.—An Important and Valuable, Large and Commodious, FREEHOLD BUSINESS Premises, formerly the “ Bell and Castle ” Inn, now de-licensed. UNION STREET, WEDNESBURY aforesaid, with IMMEDIATE POSSESSION of the Business part of the premises.

These Premises are electrically lighted throughout, occupies a capital business position, has a long frontage to the street, particularly good living accommodation and premises at the rear suitable for the carrying on of a light trade, or stores.

1920

NOTES

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

Philip Cowle = Philip Cowles = Philip Cole

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/7/1854

“On Tuesday, at Wednesbury, Thomas Madeley was charged, before J. Leigh, Esq, with stealing a valuable gig whip, the property of Mr. W. K. Gibbs, grocer, of Dudley. The whip, which was a very handsome one, bore the following inscription on an ivory handle, ‘Stolen from William Kinton Gibbs, Wellington Park, Bristol.’

Mr. Gibbs had called, in the way of business, at the house of Mr. Philip Cowles, beerhouse keeper and grocer, on the evening of the 31 instant; he left the whip in his trap at the door, and on his return, found it had vanished. He gave information to Inspector Blayney, by whose directions Police-constable Whittaker proceeded to Mr. Cowles’s, and having ascertained that the prisoner had been seen to take the whip down an entry, apprehended him, and discovered the missing article behind the door of the cabinet d’aisance. The prisoner, who said he knew nothing about it, was committed for trial.

A charge of assaulting a police-officer was then heard. It appeared that in consequence of the Police Station being under repair, the prisoners are, pro tempore, conveyed to the lock-up at West Bromwich. Mr. Blayney, knowing that Madeley was a violent character, took the precaution of sending two men with him. On the road to West Bromwich, the fellow wanted the police to permit him to enter a public house, for the purpose of begging some tobacco; on receiving a refusal to his request, he kicked one of the constables most brutally on the legs, lay down in the road, and swore he would not walk any further. The officers had great difficulty in conveying him to his destination.

Mr. Leigh, in default of his paying a penalty of 10s and the expenses, committed the prisoner for fourteen days to hard labour.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/7/1854

“Staffordshire Adjourned Sessions Pleaded Guilty.....

Thomas Madeley, 31, was found guilty of stealing a whip from a gig, the property of William Kinton Gibbs, at Wednesbury, and was sentenced to one month’s imprisonment.”

1861 Census

Union Street

[1] Phillip Cowle (43) beerhouse keeper and grocer, born Radley, Berkshire;

[2] Elizabeth Cowle (41), wife, born Dursley, Gloucestershire;

[3] Selina Holmes (16), house servant, born Oakengates, Shropshire:

Birmingham Daily Post 18/9/1861

“Ann Tierny was charged before the sitting Magistrates, yesterday, with having stolen a copper kettle, the property of Philip Cole, of the BELL AND CASTLE, Union Street, Wednesbury. The wife of the prosecutor deposed that on Thursday last, at eleven at night, she missed the kettle produced, and that it was subsequently found concealed behind a shutter. It was left in the concealed place, and the prisoner was watched, and in half an hour she was seen to take the kettle away. She was followed and given into custody. She said she had been drinking and had only picked the kettle up. She had been previously convicted, and was sentenced to two months’ imprisonment, with hard labour.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/2/1863

“William Brothers, a carpenter, living in Union Street, Wednesbury, was charged with cutting and wounding Elizabeth Cowle, landlady of the BELL AND CASTLE INN, mother-in-law of the prisoner. Mr. Slater, who was retained for the defence, applied that the charge might be dismissed on the recommendation of the prosecutrix; but to this the learned magistrate, W. Partridge, Esq, would not consent until he had heard the evidence.

Mrs. Cowle then proved that on Saturday night, about twelve o’clock, she went to the prisoner’s house, and saw him quarrelling with his wife (her daughter). She did not see him strike her, but he was very violent. Witness remonstrated with him, but no sooner had she spoken than he came up and struck her on the arm. Witness then ran out into the street, and the prisoner followed her, cutting her over the eye. She bled profusely, and Mr. Proctor, surgeon, was sent for.

Mr. Proctor stated that the prosecutrix had a severe cut over her left eye, and bruises on her arm.

Sergeant Walter Gasson gave evidence of the prisoner’s apprehension, and of finding in his hand a poker and under the table a knife.

Mr. Partridge treated the case as one of common assault, and fined the prisoner 40s and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/2/1863

“On Tuesday, at Wednesbury Petty Sessions, Marina Yates was charged with obtaining a dress under false pretences, from Mrs. Jane Bishop, second-hand clothes dealer, High Bullen.

Mrs. Bishop deposed that on Friday last the prisoner entered her shop and said that Mrs. Cowle, her mistress had sent her for a dress. The prosecutrix, believing the story, selected a dress, and entrusted it to the prisoner; but later in the evening, finding the girl did not return, prosecutrix made enquiries, and found she had left Mrs. Cowle’s service. Information was given to the police, and the prisoner was subsequently apprehended by Police-constable Brakewell.

Mrs. Cowle deposed that she had not authorised the prisoner to obtain the dress in question.

The prisoner was also charged with stealing a piece of ribbon, value 5s 6d, the property of her mistress, Mrs. Cowle, of the BELL AND CASTLE INN. The prosecutrix stated that on Wednesday evening, as she was looking out of the window of her house, she saw the prisoner hand something to her brother. Prosecutrix waited until the prisoner re-entered the house, and then followed the lad, upon whom she found the piece of ribbon, produced, her property. She dismissed the girl the same night, and upon hearing of the charge of obtaining goods under false pretences, gave information to the police.

The prisoner, who had nothing to say in her defence, was committed on both charges to take her trial at the ensuing Quarter Sessions.”

AND

Staffordshire Sentinel 7/3/1863

“Staffordshire Adjourned Sessions Pleaded Guilty.....

Mary Ann Yates, 18, servant, to stealing four and a half yards of ribbon, the property of Philip Cowle, at Wednesbury; twelve months’ imprisonment with hard labour.”

Birmingham Daily Post 21/5/1863

“On Tuesday, at Wednesbury Petty Sessions, Delia Langdon, a woman who last week was charged with larceny, but against whom the charge was withdrawn, on account of her family, appeared to answer a charge of having used threatening language to Mrs. Elizabeth Cowle, of the BELL AND CASTLE public house, Union Street. It seemed that the defendant suspected Mrs. Cowle of having given information to the police in the case of larceny referred to, and, accordingly, took every opportunity of annoying her. On Tuesday, the 12th inst, the defendant threatened to take the complainant’s life, and said she would burn the house down, in order to have her revenge. The complainant now said she went in bodily fear of the defendant, and applied for sureties of the peace against her. Sergeant Gasson having proved that the defendant was a short time ago bound over for six months upon a charge of cutting and wounding, the Bench ordered her to find another surety in £20, for her good behaviour for six months, or, in default, to be imprisoned for two months.”

Birmingham Daily Post 2/1/1865 - Advert

“Wanted, a Piano-Forte Player. One who can Sing preferred.
P. Cowle, BELL AND CASTLE, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, a PIANO-FORTE PLAYER. One who can Sing preferred.—P. Cowle, Bell and Castle, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 16/11/1865

“At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, George Eldershaw was charged with having stolen a great-coat, value 10s, the property of Philip Cowle, beerhouse keeper, Union Street. On the night of Thursday last the prisoner and some other men were at the prosecutor’s house, and soon after they had left the coat was missed. The prosecutor communicated with the police, and Sergeant Langdon went after the prisoner at once, and apprehended him in the High Bullen, with the coat on his back. Sentenced to two months’ imprisonment, with hard labour.”

Birmingham Daily Post 13/2/1869 - Advert

“To be Let, with immediate possession, a First-class Home-brewing and Refreshment House, in the centre of Wednesbury, where a thriving Business has been carried on by the present Tenant for sixteen years. Apply at the BELL AND CASTLE INN, Union Street, Wednesbury.”

TO be LET, with immediate possession, a First-class Home-brewing and REFRESHMENT HOUSE, in the centre of Wednesbury, where a thriving Business has been carried on by the present Tenant for sixteen years.—Apply at the Bell and Castle Inn, Union Street, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 4/5/1870

“At the Wednesbury Police Court yesterday, before Mr. Spooner, Stipendiary.....

Philip Cowle, of the BELL AND CASTLE, Union Street, was fined 1s and costs (total 11s), for allowing drunkenness on his premises, on the 23rd ult.”

1871 Census

21, Union Street

- [1] Phillip Cowle (54), carpenter and publican, born Farringdon, Berkshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Cowle (52), wife, assists in public house, born Dursley, Gloucestershire;
- [3] Emily Brothers (32), daughter, married, dressmaker and milliner, born Dursley, Gloucestershire;
- [4] Emily Brothers (14), grand-daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Elizabeth Brothers (12), grand-daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Annie Brothers (10), grand-daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [7] William Neile (60), boarder, widower, waiting clerk, born Salisbury;
- [8] James Neile (39), boarder, tailor, born Cheltenham;

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/6/1872

“John Yardley, filer, Union Street, Wednesbury, was charged at the instance of Philip Cowle, carpenter, grocer, and publican, of the same street, with having, on the 6th of May, committed perjury while giving evidence in a case heard in the County Court. Mr. Underhill (instructed by Mr. Ebsworth) appeared in support of the charge, and Mr. Young (instructed by Mr. Sheldon for the defence.

The perjury was alleged to have been committed in a case in which the present prosecutor was plaintiff and Yardley defendant, and the words giving rise to the charge were deposed to by Thomas Edward Walker, County Court clerk. He proved the entry of the plaint and the hearing of the case, during which the Judge directed him to take down certain statements made by the parties. What Mrs. Cowle stated was, ‘On the 22nd February, 1870, my husband, Philip Cowle, lent the defendant, in my presence, 1s 6d. On March 29, I lent him 2s. I also lent him 6d at the same time. In the following week I lent the defendant 1s to get two tickets for a theatrical benefit. My daughter and grand-daughter were present at the time.’ What the defendant stated was, ‘It is not true. There is not a particle of truth in it. No part of it is true.’ This was read over to the defendant, and the case was then adjourned sine die.

Mrs. Cowle, her husband, her daughter, her grand-daughter, and another witness, all gave evidence bearing out Mrs. Cowle’s statement given above; but in cross-examination the prosecutor admitted that before the end of 1870 differences arose between his family and the defendant’s. His attention was also called to the fact of the entry of February 22 coming between two entries in May, and he said he could not account for it, but he was sure the entry was made at the time the money was lent.

For the defence, Mr. Young attributed the prosecution to vindictive feelings arising out of the quarrel between the two families, and quoted various discrepancies in the evidence to show that the case for the prosecution was not worthy of credence.

The Magistrates deliberated in private for some time, and on their return into Court, Mr. Newman said they had carefully considered the case in all its bearings, and with all the surrounding circumstances, and their opinion being that, if they sent it before a Jury, the evidence would not justify a conviction, they determined to dismiss it. Dismissed accordingly. The case lasted between three and four hours.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/2/1878 - Married

“On the 18th inst, at St. Paul’s Church, Wood Green, Wednesbury, by the Rev. Toothill, William Slater to Emily, eldest daughter of Mr. William Brothers, of this town, and grand-daughter of Mr. Philip Cowle, of the BELL AND CASTLE INN, Union Street, Wednesbury.”

1881 Census

20+21, Union Street, east side – Beer and Tobacco Shop, also Lodging House

- [1] Phillip Cowle (64), publican and carpenter, born Berkshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Cowle (61), wife, housekeeper, born Dursley, Gloucestershire;
- [3] William Slater (24), grand-son, striker, smith, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Emily Slater (24), grand-daughter, striker’s wife, born Wednesbury;
- [5] W. P. Slater (2), great-grand-son, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Harriet Slater (1 month), great-grand-daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [7] William Taylor (54), boarder, solicitor’s clerk, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Jane Taylor (34), boarder, solicitor’s wife, born Bedgelly, Pembroke;
- [9] William Neile (70), boarder, widower, commercial clerk, born Spain;
- [10] Sarah Hunstone (47), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;
- [11] James Owen (42), boarder, widower, tailor, born Hereford;
- [12] Joseph Longworth (47), boarder, musician, born Manchester;
- [13] Isaiah Field (74), boarder, stone breaker and labourer, born Wednesbury;
- [14] Sarah Field (64), boarder, stone breaker’s wife, born Wednesbury;

Evening Express 7/4/1881

“A petition has been filed in the Walsall County Court on behalf of Philip Cowle, of the BELL AND CASTLE INN, 21, Union Street, Wednesbury, publican and carpenter. The liabilities are stated to be £220; assets not yet defined. Mr. J. E. Sheldon, Wednesbury, is solicitor to the bankrupt, at whose offices the first meeting of creditors will be held.”

Wednesbury Herald 7/5/1881

“A meeting of the creditors of Philip Cowle, landlord of the BELL AND CASTLE INN, Union Street, Wednesbury, at the offices of Mr. J. E. Sheldon, solicitor, High Street, Wednesbury. The liabilities were reported to amount to £198 13s 10d, and the assets to £10 10s. It was decided to accept a composition of 1s in the pound.”

Wednesbury Herald 14/1/1882

“On Friday evening a number of the friends and supporters of Mr. Philip Cowle, the landlord of the BELL AND CASTLE INN, Union Street, sat down to an excellent dinner, which was held in commemoration of the opening of the house Mr. Cowle had kept the house for a number of years.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/8/1889

“At the West Bromwich County Police Court, yesterday, Harriet Shaw (22), of no fixed abode, was charged with stealing a watch, valued at 7s, the property of Tillie Hammond, of Dale End, Tipton.

Prosecutrix said that she had known the prisoner for some time. On the 27th of July witness placed the watch in the cupboard at her residence. Prisoner was there at the time, and when she left witness missed the watch. Police-constable Heatherley arrested the prisoner, who, in reply to the charge, said she was very sorry, and thought of sending it back. She then pulled the watch out of her pocket. Prisoner pleaded guilty. She was further charged with stealing a suit of clothes belonging to Philip Cowle, of the BELL AND CASTLE INN, Union Street, Wednesbury. Emily Slater deposed to having given the clothes to a little girl named Price to take to her father's, at Holyhead Road, Handsworth. Prisoner obtained the clothes from Price, and was afterwards missing. Matilda Bull said that prisoner gave her the clothes to pawn. Witness had 1s 3d in her hand, which prisoner asked her to give her to hold while she pledged the articles. The pawnbroker would not accept the clothes, and when she returned prisoner was missing. The Bench sentenced prisoner to two months' hard labour, the sentence to run concurrently. Superintendent Whitehurst said there were other charges against prisoner, and she was also wanted by the police at Wednesbury, Smethwick, and Dudley.”

1891 Census

21, Union Street

- [1] Philip Cowle (74), publican, born Bisley, Berkshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Cowle (72), wife, born Dursley, Gloucestershire;
- [3] William Hater (35), son-in-law, coil fitter, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Emily Hater (35), daughter-in-law, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Philip Hater (12), grand-son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] George Tallboys (57), lodger, rope maker, born Cheltenham;
- [7] Enoch Mint (47), lodger, baker, born Stourbridge;
- [8] David Shepherd (39), lodger, tailor, born Canton, Glamorganshire:

Philip Cowle died in the 1st quarter of 1893.

1901 Census

Union Street – BELL AND CASTLE

- [1] George Cooke (30), silver plater, born Walsall;
- [2] Edith Cooke (25), wife, born Cradley Heath;
- [3] George Cooke (3), son, born Darlaston;
- [4] Lydia Tonks (15), domestic servant, born Darlaston:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 7/3/1903

“Yesterday at the Wednesbury Police Court, Thomas Colclough, landlord of the BELL AND CASTLE INN, Union Street, was summoned for permitting drunkenness and also for selling ale to a drunken person.

Mr. J. S. Sharpe, who prosecuted on behalf of the police, called evidence showing that three men from Walsall went on to the defendant's premises on the night of the 16th ult, one of whom, named McCrunden, was drunk. Defendant refused to supply him, but he permitted him to remain, and he drank out of a jug supplied to the other men. Mr. Sharpe contended that defendant, in neglecting to get rid of the drunken man more expeditiously, had contravened the new Licensing Act.

Mr. Glover, who defended, said the case was of one of considerable importance to the trade, because he submitted that the defendant had taken all reasonable steps to comply with the law. He refused to supply the man with drink, and ordered him to leave, and when the police arrived he was in the act of turning him out of the house.

The Bench held that the defendant had not exercised reasonable care, and fined him £3 13s 6d, including costs.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 5/3/1904

“Wednesbury adjourned licensing sessions.....

Eight licenses were objected to by the police.....

BELL AND CASTLE, Union Street.

In each instance a conviction was recorded against the house. License renewed.”

1911 Census

21, Union Street – BELL AND CASTLE

- [1] Samuel Griffiths (63), beerhouse keeper, born Sedgley;
- [2] Mary Griffiths (60), wife, married 40 years, born Sedgley;
- [3] Alfred Griffiths (34), son, plate layer, railway, born Sedgley;
- [4] John Thomas Randle (43), son-in-law, bricklayer, born Tipton;
- [5] Eliza Randle (39), daughter, married 20 years, tailoress, born Sedgley;
- [6] William Thomas Randle (19), grand-son, edge tool grinder, born Tipton;
- [7] Rebekah Thorpe (78), boarder, widow, born Leebotwood, Shropshire:

Samuel Griffiths – see also GLADSTONE.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 8/2/1919

“Wednesbury Borough Licensing Justices, yesterday.....

The following licenses were to be served with opposition notices on the ground of redundancy.....

BELL AND CASTLE beerhouse, Union Street.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/7/1919

“The Principal Meeting of the Licensing Compensation Authority for the county was held at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Thursday.....

In the Wednesbury division The Committee referred two ante-’69 beerhouses on in Wednesbury borough, the CROSS KEYS, Earps Lane, and the BELL AND CASTLE, Union Street.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/11/1919

“The following amounts have been settled by the Licensing Compensation Authority for Staffordshire to be paid in respect of licenses the renewal of which was refused by them at the principal meeting on July 24 last. The sums mentioned will be apportioned amongst the parties interested.....

BELL AND CASTLE, Union Street, Wednesbury, beerhouse ‘on,’ ante 1869, licensee George Green, registered owner Moses Howl Lowe, £1,200.”

South Staffordshire Times 7/2/1920

“Wednesbury Police Court.....

The reduction in the numbers had been brought about by the license of the BELL AND CASTLE beerhouse having been referred for compensation and extinction at the Adjourned Licensing Sessions last year. The house was closed on 27th December 1919.”

Smethwick Telephone 20/3/1920 - Advert

“Tuesday Next, March 23rd.

Important Sale by Auction of Freehold Shop and Dwelling House Properties, situate at West Bromwich, Wednesbury, Tipton, and Horseley Heath, near Great Bridge.

Jones, Sons & Vernon, FAI, at the SANDWELL HOTEL, West Bromwich, on the date as above, at 7pm sharp..... Union Street, Wednesbury.

Lot 4. An Important and Valuable, Large and Commodious, Freehold Business Premises, formerly the BELL AND CASTLE INN, now de-licensed. Union Street, Wednesbury aforesaid, with Immediate Possession of the Business part of the premises.

These Premises are electrically lighted throughout, occupies a capital business position, has a long frontage to the street, particularly good living accommodation, and premises at the rear suitable for the carrying on of a light trade, or stores.”

BELLWETHER

3+4, (3), Walsall Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Atkinsons Ltd.

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. [1961]

Philip Paras Ram Pawar and Ravi Sarup Mahay [1986], [1987]

J. D. Wetherspoon

LICENSEES

Mary Hyde [1818]

Richard Parkes [1822]

Joseph Sheldon [1828] – 1865;

Thomas Shorthouse (1865 – [1873])

Thomas Field [1874]

Henry Field [1875] – [1876]

Timothy Riley [1879] – [1881]

Isaac Riley [1881] – [1882]

David Gorton [1883] – [1885]

Walter Perry [1889]

William Perry [1891] – [1909]

William Richards [1904]

John Brown [1911] – 1922;

Mrs. Emily Selfe (1922 – [])

Archibald Cross [1929] – [1932]

Benjamin Higgs [1930s]

Vincent W Fletcher [1939] – [1940]

Henry Stokes [] – 1961;

George Henry Stevenson (1961 – 1963);

George Thomas Huckerby (1963 – [1966])

M S Bratch [1983]

Peter Lythuda and Nicky Hutorka [2001]

Kirsty Hopkins [2011]

2008

NOTES

BLUE BELL [1818], [1822], [1828], [1830], [1834]

OLD BELL [1855]

1841 Census

Walsall Street

[1] Joseph Sheldon (42), victualler, born Staffordshire;

[2] Harriot Sheldon (43), born Staffordshire;

[3] Joseph Sheldon (8), born Staffordshire;

[4] Mary Sheldon (10), born Staffordshire;

[5] Caroline Brown (17), f.s., born Staffordshire;

[6] Samuel Bagott (22), labourer, born Staffordshire;

[7] Sarah Bagott (23), born Staffordshire;

[8] John Yeomans (41), agricultural labourer, born Staffordshire:

2025

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/1/1850

“On Thursday last, William Mills, market gardener, of Lichfield, was charged with furiously driving along the road between Wednesbury and Walsall, and thereby seriously, if not fatally, injuring Job Taylor, a man in the employ of Mr. Sheldon, BELL INN, Wednesbury. It appears that Taylor was leading a pony towards Wednesbury, and met the prisoner, Mills, in his cart, driving at a furious rate. He called out to the prisoner, but before he could get out of the way of Mills’s horse and cart knocked him down and went over him, the prisoner’s horse falling at the same time. Taylor was carried home insensible and continued so for several days, the surgeon in attendance (Mr. Palin) pronouncing him in a very precarious state, the accident having caused contusion of the brain. The prisoner was admitted to bail till Taylor is sufficiently recovered to appear against him.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/4/1850

“Wednesbury Public Office.....

Mr. Mills, gardener, from Lichfield, was fined 5s and costs for furious driving in January last, whereby James Taylor was seriously injured, and for whose recovery the case was adjourned to allow him to give evidence.”

1851 Census

Walsall Street

- [1] Joseph Sheldon (50), victualler, born Barr, Staffordshire;
- [2] Harriett Sheldon (56), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Harriett Sheldon (21), daughter, barmaid, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Mary Sheldon (20), daughter, servant, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Joseph E. Sheldon (19), son, solicitor’s articled clerk, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Sarah Dooley (19), general servant, born Ireland;
- [7] John Clark (50), brewer, born Hampshire;
- [8] Joseph Perry (24), lodger, tailor, journeyman, born Lichfield;
- [9] Robert Debner (33), lodger, tailor, journeyman, born Shrewsbury;
- [10] Dennis Moloney (19), lodger, tailor, journeyman, born Ireland;
- [11] Thomas Downes (50), lodger, tailor, journeyman, born Ireland;
- [12] Charles Francis (22), lodger, tailor on tramp, journeyman, born Welshpool, Montgomeryshire;
- [13] Sarah Francis (24), lodger, born Newtown, Montgomeryshire;
- [14] Charles Francis (3), lodger, born Wednesbury;

Birmingham Journal 30/8/1851

“On Wednesday, the annual special sessions for renewal of licenses was held.....

The renewal of the old licenses, 219 in number, were granted, with the following exceptions, without remark.....

Joseph Sheldon, Wednesbury, cautioned.....

Those cautioned had that remark written on the back of their license.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/6/1852

“At Wednesbury Town Hall, on Tuesday.....

Joseph Williams, a waggoner, was ordered to pay 3s 6d for allowing his waggon and three horses to remain in the road, near the BELL INN, while he was drinking in the house. John Aldridge was fined 6d and costs, for a similar offence at the same time and place.”

Birmingham Journal 27/8/1853

“Annual Licensing Day.....

The whole of the renewals were duly granted, with the following exceptions of parties convicted and fined.

The following were cautioned, and the same entered on the back of their respective licenses.....

Joseph Sheldon, BALL [sic] INN, Wednesbury.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/1/1855

“At the petty sessions, on Tuesday, Joseph Sheldon, of the BELL INN, Wednesbury, was charged with keeping his house open after the proper hour for closing.

The evidence of the police-officer who appeared to prove the case was to the effect that he found five men in one room, who, however, were not drinking, and two gentlemen in another who were drinking gin and water.

Mr. Duignan, who appeared for the defendant, called evidence to show that the five men belonged to a trade society, and slept at the house that night; and also called Mr. Batch, one of the gentlemen referred to by the officer, who stated that he and a friend called at the defendant's on the night in question to leave a message for a person who was to call there, when Mr. Sheldon, who was an old acquaintance, pressed them to take a glass of something as it was Christmas time. They did not pay for anything, and were never expected to do so.

The magistrates, on hearing the evidence, dismissed the case.”

Birmingham Journal 17/11/1855 - Advert

“To Maltsters, Brewers, Publicans, &c.

Improved Malt Mills, Double Geared, to gain either Speed or Power, and constructed to meet the requirements of the Excise Commissioners, are now being manufactured by Dixon, Bell, and Co.

These Mills may be seen in operation at the following places.....

Wednesbury, at Mr. Sheldon's, OLD BELL.....

Agent. Mr. Edmund W. Otway, Meyers Green, West Bromwich.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/2/1860

“Yesterday, at Wednesbury Police Court, six persons, named William Corbett, Mary Corbett, George Robinson, Ann Robinson, John Gibbons, and William Robinson, were severally charged by Evan Butler, lock filer, of Darlaston, with highway robbery. They were also charged with committing an assault upon George Butler, brother of the former complainant. Evan Butler had been so frightfully injured that he had to be carried into Court, and was accommodated with a seat during the examination.

It appeared that early on the morning of the 14th inst they were at the BELL INN, where they met with the prisoners. A disturbance arose over a wager, and George Butler was knocked down and kicked. The landlord then turned the prisoners out of the house, and soon after George Butler left to go home. Evan Roberts [sic] shortly afterwards followed him, and in Bilston Street he saw his brother upon the ground, and all the prisoners except the Robinsons, who were standing by, were kicking him. On going up he himself was knocked down, his pockets were searched, and a half-crown was stolen from his waistcoat pocket. They jumped upon him and kicked him in a brutal manner, and he had been spitting blood and had been unable to stand or walk ever since.

The surgeon's evidence went to show that Evan Butler had been very dangerously hurt and was suffering from rupture caused by recent violence. George Butler was no so badly injured although much bruised.

A number of witnesses were called on either side, and the result was that the charge of highway robbery was not established, and four of the prisoners were fined 40s each and the expenses, or in default two months' imprisonment. Two of the Robinsons were discharged, the evidence against them being somewhat slight.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/2/1860

“Samuel Hackwood, who occupies the offices of town crier, beadle of the parish church, royal mail carrier, and parish constable, brought up a man named Solomon Lees in custody before the Wednesbury magistrates for having violently assaulted him. Mr. Hackwood appeared to bring the dignity of all his offices into the witness box with him, and stated that in his capacity of town crier he had occasion to cry a child that was lost, and which child it appeared the defendant had found crying in another part of the town, and had very good naturedly taken charge of, and brought to the house of Mr. Sheldon, of the BELL INN. On Mr. Hackwood becoming aware of this fact he proceeded, bell in hand, to the BELL INN, and rather unceremoniously demanded the child, which being refused, he made Lees aware that he was bellman by making the bell sound on his cranium, whereupon Lees knocked down with one blow the town crier, the beadle, the royal mail carrier, and the parish constable. Mr. Hackwood then called himself in his latter capacity to his aid, and conveyed Lees to the police station; but the bench informed him, however, that he had not right to take the defendant into custody, but should have proceeded in the regular way by a summons. Lees was accordingly discharged.”

1861 Census

Walsall Street

- [1] Joseph Sheldon (63), publican, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Harriett Sheldon (65), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Mary Sheldon (28), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Timothy M. Carty (40), boarder, private soldier, born Ireland;
- [5] Ann Potts (16), servant, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Benjamin Winterbottam (36), servant, born Saddleworth Warwickshire;
- [7] a stranger (40), unknown:

Birmingham Journal 14/2/1863

"The General Hospital. At the weekly board, held yesterday, the following new annual subscriptions were announced Mr. Joseph Sheldon, BELL INN, Wednesbury, £1 1s."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/11/1863

"Joseph Sheldon, of the BELL INN, Wednesbury, was fined 2s 6d and costs for selling in prohibited hours on the 1st inst."

Birmingham Daily Post 28/12/1863

"On Saturday an inquest was held at the house of Mr. Sheldon, the BELL INN, Wednesbury, before Mr. E. Hooper, district coroner, on the body of Phoebe Massey, eighteen months old, the child of parents residing in Walsall Street. The evidence went to show that the child was left alone in the house for a few moments on Tuesday afternoon, and that having approached the grate, her clothes caught fire, and the poor little creature was so severely burned that, although proper professional assistance was obtained, she expired on the following day. The Jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, and the Coroner censured the mother of the deceased for not having placed a fire-guard in front of the grate, and strongly advised her to get one at once."

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/3/1864

"Alexander Meakin, a young man, was charged with assaulting Rebecca Rillet, a dancer, of Walsall. The woman had been amusing the company at the BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, on the previous evening, and when she was about leaving she stopped to pick up her pattens from under the table. The prisoner was in the corner, and had one on his foot, which he refused to give up. She then threw the other towards him, telling him to keep them both if he had most right to them. Upon which he struck her under the eye with one of the pattens, inflicting a wound an inch long, and threw the other at her head, which also inflicted a wound. Mr. Spooner sent the fellow to gaol for four months with hard labour."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 26/8/1864

"Renewal of Licenses.....

From the Superintendent's statement it appeared that there were but thirteen publicans who had been convicted since last licensing day, and but few of those who had been fined more than once. The list of convictions was as follows..... Joseph Sheldon, BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, open on Sunday, fined 2s 6d and costs, November 1863..... After the licenses of those persons who had not been convicted had been renewed, those landlords whose names appeared on the black list were called in, all of whom were severely censured and cautioned by the Bench."

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 26/8/1864

"The annual Petty Session for the renewal of publican's licenses in the Walsall, Wednesbury, and West Bromwich district was held yesterday, at the Scott Arms, Great Barr.....

The undermentioned persons were reported by the police to have been fined during the year for offences against their licenses. The fines, however, appeared to have exercised a salutary effect, as they had, with the exception of two innkeepers stated below, whose licenses were suspended, all conducted their houses since the several convictions in a very orderly manner.....

Joseph Sheldon, BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury license renewed."

Birmingham Daily Post 24/9/1864

"Yesterday morning, Mr. E. Hooper, District Coroner, held an inquest at the house of Mr. J. Sheldon, the BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, on the body of Thomas Ellis, a lad thirteen years of age, who lost his life at a Patent Shaft and Axletree Works, on Wednesday. The evidence went to show that, on the morning of the day named, the deceased, with some other boys, who, like himself, were employed at the works, was playing in the yard attached to the establishment. In attempting to climb upon a stack of timber he dislodged a log, weighing about 16cwt, and, falling backwards, the piece of wood rolled over upon his head and chest, and caused such injuries that when he was raised from the ground death was found to have taken place. Mr. J. C. Garman, surgeon, was called in, but his services were, of course, of no avail. Verdict, Accidental Death."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/1/1865

"On Saturday, the following licenses were temporarily transferred by the West Bromwich Magistrates..... BELL INN, Walsall Street, from Joseph Sheldon to Thomas Shorthouse."

Birmingham Daily Post 31/1/1865 - Advert

"For Sale, cheap, Two Cobs, about 14 hands high, standing at the BELL INN, Wednesbury; also, Silver-plated Harness."

FOR SALE, cheap, Two COBS, about 14 hands high, standing at the Bell Inn, Wednesbury; also, Silver-plated HARNESS.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 25/11/1865

"Westley's, HALL GREEN TAVERN, Westbromwich Hall, near Wednesbury, New Pedestrian Grounds. Wilcox of Hill Top and Dudley of Wednesbury are matched to run 100 yards, for £10 a side, Dudley receiving two yards start, to come off at the above grounds, on Tuesday, December 26. £2 10s a side is down in the hands of Mr. Shorthouse, of the BELL INN, Wednesbury, who is final stakeholder, to be made into £4 a side, this (Saturday) evening at Dudley's, CROWN TUBE WORKS INN, Wednesbury."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 6/11/1866

"Yesterday afternoon an inquest was held before Mr. E. Hooper, District Coroner, at the BELL INN, Wednesbury, on the body of Samuel Hawkins, 15, who met his death under the following circumstances.

George Hollyhead, miner, stated that he was engaged at the Burrs Colliery, belonging to Messrs. Lloyd, Foster, and Co, and on Friday last he was working in the mine. The deceased had been engaged for the last three weeks in keeping the powder magazine. The magazine was stationed at about thirty yards from the bottom of the shaft, and the powder was sent down in a barrel containing about half-a-cwt. On Friday, at four o'clock, witness was working at about 60 yards from the magazine, when an explosion occurred, and he was knocked down. After recovering himself he got a light, and went towards the magazine, when he found a man named Thomas Eagles lying on the ground severely injured. He then went nearer to the magazine, where he found the deceased with his clothes on fire, and quite dead. The door of the magazine had been blown out. He saw no candles lying about the magazine, nor could he say what had caused the explosion.

The Coroner: Were you aware that the powder was sent down in barrels? Don't you know that by the rules the powder should have been sent down in 5lb canisters?

The witness: I did, but it was not my business to interfere. None of the men ever complained about the practice. About half of the half-cwt of powder had been used out of the barrel which exploded.

Thomas Mullinder corroborated Hollyhead's evidence, and after the body had been identified, the case was adjourned until the 3rd of December for the attendance of the man Eagles, who was at present in a precarious condition from the effects of injuries sustained at the explosion."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/4/1867

"The excitement occasioned in Wednesbury by the lectures of Mr. Murphy reached its climax on Friday evening last The lecture was intended to be delivered, like the previous ones, in the United Methodist Free Church, Ridding Lane. This building was found to be much too small for the large number of persons who thronged to hear Mr. Murphy, and the accommodation was endeavoured to be increased by the erection of a temporary gallery over the rear of the chapel.....

About half-past six an accident of a most alarming nature occurred. There was first a slight crash, followed by a slight sinking of one end of the gallery, which did not at first appear to occasion much alarm Presently the whole erection, with its living load, came to the ground with a frightful crash. The occupants of the gallery were pitched topsy-turvy over the heads of each other on to those in the body of the chapel below.....

Amongst the persons who are most seriously injured by the catastrophe in the chapel, are.....

Thomas Shorthouse, licensed victualler, who keeps the BELL INN, Walsall Street, has been badly bruised about his legs.”

Walsall Advertiser 15/2/1868

“At the County Court, on Wednesday, Frederick Ball, confectioner, The Butts, sought to recover £6 3s from Thomas Shorthouse, publican, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, for the loss of a pony through the defendant’s negligence. Mr. Glover appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Sheldon for the defendant.

The plaintiff’s case was that on the 27th December last, he sent his son to the defendant’s house to put up his pony. On the lad going to fetch the pony in the afternoon he found that one of its legs was broken; the ostler told him that the mischief had been done by a big horse, which stood by the pony, and which was known to be a ‘kicker,’ it having more than once smashed the stable door. Plaintiff had to kill the pony which about two years previously cost him £4 15s, and he put in a claim for its value, and for £1 8s, which he had to pay for hire of another. He said he had received 18s from his friends, who had raised a subscription for him, but he had refused moneys which the defendant, the owner of the ‘big horse,’ and others had collected for him.

For the defence it was alleged that the pony was put into the stable by the plaintiff’s son, without the knowledge of the ostler or the defendant, and that after the discovery of the accident nothing was said about the big horse being a ‘kicker,’ it having been known as a very quiet animal, although more than once it had fallen down in the stable from a disease under which it laboured, and broken the door. It was also sought to be shown that the pony was not worth more than 50s.

His Honour thought there would be a good defence if it could be shown that the pony had provoked the kick, but that had not been shown, and, therefore, he looked upon the case as a misfortune. It would be hard upon the plaintiff to lose his pony, and it would be hard upon the defendant to pay its value; but he thought he ought to give judgement for the plaintiff for £5 5s to be paid in six weeks, and perhaps the defendant’s friends would aid him to pay it. Judgement accordingly.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/4/1868

“At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, the following publicans were summoned for offences against the tenour of their licenses.....

Thomas Shorthouse, BELL INN, Walsall Street, for selling ale during prohibited hours on Good Friday, 1s and costs.”

Bells London Life and Sporting Chronicle 26/6/1869

“T. Shorthouse, of the BELL INN, Wednesbury, will match his dog Bob at 17¼lb or 17½lb weight against any other dog in the world at the like weight, at once or twice their weight, for £25 or £50 a side. Money ready as above.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/9/1869

“At the Wednesbury Police Court, a young man named Edward Perry, who was formerly employed at the BELL INN, Walsall Street, kept by Mr. Thomas Shorthouse, was charged with attempting to commit suicide.

Joseph Morris said a week that day he was working with the prisoner, who behaved in a strange manner, amongst other things, shaking hands with him twice, bidding him ‘good bye,’ and telling him he would not see him much longer. The mistress of the house told him to watch the prisoner, and shortly afterwards he saw him with a rope inside the apron that he wore. He saw the prisoner go up the yard and put the rope over the door, as if he was going to commit suicide. He informed the persons in the house, and on going to the spot afterwards, they found the man hid amongst the hay.

The prisoner said this was the first time he had attempted to do anything of the kind, and he was discharged with a caution.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/12/1870 - Correspondence

"T. H., Walsall, writes, 'A meeting of the journeymen wheelwrights and smiths of Wednesbury, Walsall, Wolverhampton, Dudley, Bilston, and the surrounding districts, was held at the BELL INN, Wednesbury, on the 6th instant, to devise means whereby the sixty hours a week system may be established in the place of the sixty-two hours, and to regulate the hours of labour so as to have only seven and a half hours on a Saturday. It was suggested that the working hours should be 10½ for five days a week, and 7½ on Saturday, instead of 10½ for five days a week and 9½ on Saturday, leaving work on that day at 2pm, instead of 5pm. After some conversation, it was unanimously resolved that the short time movement should commence on Saturday, the 7th of January next, and that after that date all wheelwrights and their blacksmiths should work only sixty hours a week, unless paid overtime at the rate of one quarter every two hours extra.'"

1871 Census

3, Walsall Street

- [1] Thomas Shorthouse (42), licensed victualler, born Tipton;
- [2] Mary Shorthouse (40), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Ann Winchurch (19), general servant, born Dudley;
- [4] Samuel Smith (26), ostler, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Henry Spittle (39), boarder, gunlock maker, born Wednesbury;
- [6] William Johnson (42), boarder, bricklayer, born Leamington:

Birmingham Daily Post 26/8/1871 - Advert

"To Coal Dealers. To be Sold or Let, a Coal Wharf, at Darlaston Green; contains Cottage, Stabling, Machine and House.

Apply, Thomas Shorthouse, BELL INN, Wednesbury."

TO Coal Dealers.—To be SOLD or Let, a COAL WHARF, at Darlaston Green; contains Cottage, Stabling, Machine and House.—Apply, Thomas Shorthouse, Bell Inn, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 13/12/1871

"At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, before Mr. I. Spooner (Stipendiary).....

Thomas Shorthouse, of the BELL INN, Walsall Street, was summoned for having his house open during prohibited hours on Sunday week last. Mr. Ebsworth defended.

At about half-past nine o'clock on the day named, a policeman visited the house, and found four men and three women there. It was attempted to be shown for the defence that the parties who were found in the place were not there for the purpose of drinking. The Stipendiary, disbelieving this, fined defendant 40s and costs."

Thomas Shorthouse was also a breeze dealer. [1873]

Birmingham Daily Post 25/7/1874 - Died

"On the 20th inst, after a long illness, aged 70 years, Mr. Thomas Field, of the BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury; deeply lamented by his family and friends."

Midland Examiner 21/8/1875

"Bridget Dodd, a woman whose distinguishing characteristic was a most voluble tongue, was fined 10s and costs or 14 days' imprisonment, for having refused to leave the house of Henry Field, the BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury."

Dudley Herald 2/9/1876

"On Wednesday the Annual Licensing Sessions for the parishes of West Bromwich, Wednesbury, Tipton, &c, was held at the Public Office, West Bromwich.....

Mr. Superintendent Woollaston presented the following 'black' list of offences against publicans and beersellers which had been committed during the year ending 30th August last.....

Henry Field, licensed victualler, BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, prohibited hours, 40s and costs The offending publicans were ordered to appear at the adjourned licensing meeting before their licenses could be renewed."

AND

Dudley Herald 30/9/1876

“West Bromwich Adjourned Licensing Sessions.....

The magistrates granted the renewal of the licenses of ten public houses and twenty beerhouses that had been adjourned from the general licensing day in consequence of the non-appearance of the applicants, or from convictions.”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/6/1878 - Advert

“Man (steady and sober) Wanted; one well used to Drive a Pair or Four.

Apply, BELL INN, Wednesbury.”

MAN (steady and sober) Wanted; one well used to Drive a Pair or Four.—Apply, Bell Inn, Wednesbury.

Wednesbury Herald 3/5/1879 - Advert

“Timothy Riley, BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, embraces this opportunity of thanking his numerous customers for the patronage he has received during the past, also to inform them that he has remodeled the above premises, in order to meet the requirements of his increasing business. He has added to his stock of conveyances several Hansom Cabs, and also purchased a large portion of the Stock lately disposed of by Mr. Birch, of the Boro’ Mews.

Breaks for Pleasure Parties, Pic-Nics &c.

Wedding Equipages &c.

Neat Hearse and Mourning Coaches.

Goods Carefully Removed.

Wines, Spirits, and Ales of the Choicest Quality.”

Birmingham Daily Post 18/1/1881 - Advert

“Wednesbury Staffordshire. Important Unreserved Sale.

Four Valuable Hearses and Mourning Coaches, Twelve Valuable Horses, Four handsome Well-built Brakes (nearly new) to carry from sixteen to thirty persons, Wagonettes, Cars, Cabs, Broughams, Barouche, Gigs, Dogcarts, Carts, twenty sets of Double and Single Harness, &c, &c.

Mr. E. B. Scholefield has received instructions from Mr. Timothy Riley, of the BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury (who is retiring from business and leaving the neighbourhood), to Sell by Auction, on Tuesday Next, the 25th day of January.

The whole of his Valuable Stock, comprising four Valuable Hearses, with Ostrich Feather Plumes, four C Spring Mourning Coaches, one entire and eleven other Valuable Horses, twenty sets of Double and Single Harness, four Handsome Breaks, to carry from sixteen to thirty persons; Four Wagonettes, Two Broughams, Barouche, Four Cabs, Cars, Three Gigs, Dogcarts, Goods Vans, Plumes, Sidecloths, Black Rugs, Coloured Rugs, Bridles, Saddles, Chaff Machine, Brushes, Forks, and numerous other valuable Effects.

Sale to commence at 11 o’clock punctually.

Catalogues may be obtained at the Office of the Birmingham Daily Post, Chronicle Office, Wolverhampton, and at the Auctioneer’s Offices, Church Street, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/2/1881 - Advert

“BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury.

Sale of Two Ponies, Mourning Coach, Wagonette, Dogcarts, Gigs, Traps, Harness, Plumes, Brushes, Chaff Machines, &c, &c.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. E. B. Scholefield, on Tuesday Next, February 15.

Two Useful Ponies, Mourning Coach, Wagonette, Traps, Dogcarts, valuable Harness, white and black Plumes, Rugs, Whips, Brushes, Hames, Collars, Chaff Machines, and other valuable Effects (remaining unsold from the last sale, on January 25 last); the property of Mr. Timothy Riley, who is leaving Wednesbury.

Sale to commence at 11 o’clock punctually.

Catalogues may be obtained at the Offices of the Auctioneer, Church Street, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Post 14/3/1881 - Advert

“Mourning-Coach (grand C-spring); equal to new; a bargain.

Apply, T. Riley, BELL HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

MOURNING-COACH (grand C-spring); equal to new; a bargain
—Apply, T. Riley, Bell Hotel, Wednesbury.

1881 Census

3, Walsall Street – BELL INN

- [1] Eliza Riley (33), innkeeper's wife, born Moxley;
- [2] Anne Riley (2), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [3] William Riley (10), son, scholar, born Bilston;
- [4] John T. Riley (5), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Alice E. Riley (8), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Jane Wood (16), general servant, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Hannah Waghorn (15), general servant, born West Bromwich:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 23/12/1881

"James Roberts, puddler, residing in a common lodging house, at High Bullen, Wednesbury, pleaded guilty to stealing two pairs of boots and one pair of clogs, belonging to Isaac Riley, of the BELL INN, Wednesbury. He was sentenced to three months' imprisonment."

The Commercial Gazette 27/4/1882

"Extracts from the Register of County Court Judgements.....

Isaac Riley, BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, cab proprietor, 15 March 1882, £22 9s 1d."

Wednesbury Herald 6/1/1883 - Death

"On the 21st ult, of congestion of the lungs, Maria, oldest daughter of David and Emma Gorton, of the BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, aged 17 years. Beloved to those who knew her."

Darlaston Weekly Times 1/9/1883 - Advert

"Great Western Railway Company.

The Committee of the Wolverhampton and District Licensed Victuallers Incorporated Society have made arrangements with the above Company to run a Special Express Train to London (International Fisheries Exhibition).....

Tickets may be had from any of the undermentioned.....

D. Gorton, BELL INN, Wednesbury."

Birmingham Daily Post 1/12/1883

"Last night a meeting of miners of Wednesbury and neighbourhood was held at the BELL INN, Walsall Street, and as the result of some deliberation, a resolution was passed to the effect that, seeing that the notice for an advance had been suspended by the District Committee for the present, the meeting left the matter entirely in the hands of the committee, at the same time pledging themselves to use every legitimate means to secure a better and more united effort to obtain the advance asked for."

The Commercial Gazette 24/9/1885

"Extracts from the Register of County Court Judgements.....

Daniel Gorton, BELL INN, Wednesbury, publican, 20 August 1885, £17 19s 4d."

Birmingham Mail 25/2/1889

"Yesterday morning Henry Hammond (65), moulder, in the employ of the Patent Shaft Company, was found dead in the yard of the BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury. It seems that he was drinking on Saturday night, and it is supposed he made his way into the yard before the house closed, lay down, and fell asleep, and was killed by the cold, which was intense."

Birmingham Daily Mail 8/4/1889

“At West Bromwich Police Court this afternoon Mr. Loxton, of Walsall, appeared on behalf of Walter Perry, the occupant and manager of the BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, to appeal against the ratable value of the house named, as fixed by the Assessment Committee of the West Bromwich Union. Mr. H. Ward represented the Assessment Committee of the Board of Guardians

Mr. Wattis rate collector and assistant overseer for Wednesbury, explained that the gross ratable value of the BELL INN, upon which the last rate was made, was gross £85, and net to the poor £68.

In reply to Mr. Loxton, witness said the last rate was paid on that, but Mr. Loxton pointed out that it was paid under protest. The premises were rated previously gross £60, and rateable £48. Mr. Loxton said that the present ratable value was an increase on the gross of £25, or nearly 50 per cent. He added that the increase of the ratable value was made without any notice whatever, even to the occupants of the premises or Messrs. Fletcher and Sons, the lessees. The first intimation Messrs. Fletcher had of the increased ratable value was the demand note. The matter had been before the Assessment Committee, who had decided against the appellants, but it was only right to point out that the full particulars were not laid before that committee. They considered the former ratable value excessive, and one that ought not to have been allowed. The increased ratable value seemed to be on the supposition that the premises had been improved by cementing the front, and making certain alterations inside the house. So far as trade purposes were concerned, the house was not a bit better, and there was no more accommodation than before. In fact, there was considerably less public accommodation than before, because a club room had been converted into bedrooms, and a place formerly used for brewing had been taken into the house. They were paying a gross rental of £70 per annum under a lease for seven years, and there was a covenant to spend £300 within the tenure of the lease in improving the property. As a matter of fact they had spent £325. He contended that the gross estimated rental should not come to more than between £60 and £70.

The Bench confirmed the decision of the Assessment Committee with costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 6/1/1891

“Yesterday, Mr. E. Hooper, coroner, held two inquests at the BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury; one being on the body of Ada Emily Mosely, aged nine weeks child of parents living in 5 Court, Union Street, and whose death took place suddenly on Friday, and the other being on the body of Ellen Susannah Thickett, aged five months, whose death took place at her parents house, 10, Church Street, on Saturday. The intense cold seemed to have been the predisposing cause of death in each instance. Death from Natural Causes was returned in each case.”

1891 Census

3, Walsall Street – BELL HOTEL

- [1] William Perry (35), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Elizabeth Perry (43), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Thomas Perry (16), son, railway porter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Job Perry (14), son, iron works labourer, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Elizabeth Perry (12), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Eliza Hinkinson (19), domestic servant, born West Bromwich;
- [7] Charles Clayton (17), boarder, iron works labourer, born Birmingham:

Walsall Advertiser 31/7/1897

“On Saturday night John Stanyard, aged 71 years, a bricklayer’s labourer, of Pleck Road, Walsall, died at the Walsall Hospital from the effects of injuries received by falling from a ladder at Wednesbury on the previous day. Deceased had been engaged in gas-tarring a shed at the BELL INN, Walsall Road, Wednesbury, and fell from the ladder, breaking an arm and his collar-bone, and afterwards succumbed to his injuries. An inquest was held at the hospital on Monday before Mr. T. H. Stanley, when a verdict of Accidentally Killed was returned.”

1901 Census

3, Walsall Street

- [1] William Perry (43), licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Teresa Perry (44), wife, born Erdington, Warwickshire;
- [3] Robert Perry (29), brother, barman, born Bloxwich;
- [4] Samuel Williams (54), boarder, commercial clerk, born Tipton;
- [5] Florence Dyke (19), domestic servant, born Tipton:

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/10/1909

“Staffordshire Michaelmas Quarter Sessions.....

Thomas Edward Morris, 27, turner, on bail, was indicted for unlawfully uttering a false and counterfeit coin at Wednesbury, on July 27. Mr. Cranston prosecuted, and Mr. R. J. Lawrence defended.

Theresa Lewis, a barmaid, employed at the TALBOT HOTEL, Wednesbury, stated that at 8.15pm on July 27 she was serving in the bar when the prisoner came in and asked to be supplied with half a pint of ale. Subsequently, he produced a coin resembling a half-crown from his waistcoat pocket, and tendered it in payment for the ale. Witness thought the coin was a bad one, so she took it to the manager.

Frank Jones, manager of the hotel, said when he told the prisoner that the half-crown was a ‘dead wrong one,’ the prisoner said, ‘No, it isn’t; I have plenty more like it.’ Later witness communicated with the police.

William Perry, licensee of the BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, stated that at about 7.30pm on July 27 the prisoner came into the bar and asked for a glass of beer. Witness served the prisoner, who tendered him a half-crown, which he found to be a bad one. On his telling the prisoner that the coin was a false one, the prisoner said, ‘I know where I had it from.’ Witness recommended the prisoner to take it back, and get it changed while it was new, remarking that if he tried to ‘plant’ it he would get ‘pinched.’

Harry Odhams, a cycle-maker, of Wednesbury, gave corroborative evidence.

Charles Albert Westley, silversmith, of Wednesbury, stated the coin in question was counterfeit and valueless.

Police evidence having been given, the prisoner, on oath, said he honestly believed the coin to be a good one.

The jury found the prisoner guilty and recommended him to mercy on account of his previous good character.

Sentence of one month in the second division was passed.”

Birmingham Daily Mail 26/8/1910

“John O’Connell, hawker, of no fixed abode, was at Wednesbury today, committed for trial to the Quarter Sessions on a charge of stealing three hampers, value 5s, belonging to Sidney Jowett, fruiterer, Market Place, on the 20th inst. It was stated that the hampers were taken from the yard at the BELL INN, Walsall Street, where they had been stored by prosecutor. Prisoner afterwards sold two of them in another public house.”

[At Staffordshire Quarter Sessions, O’Connell was sentenced to 9 months for another theft, and was not sentenced on this indictment.]

1911 Census

Walsall Street – BELL INN

[1] John Brown (56), public house manager, born Wednesbury;

[2] Charlotte Brown (56), wife, married 28 years, assisting in business, born Stourbridge;

[3] May Brown (26), daughter, waitress in the business, born Wednesbury;

[4] Ethel Brown (20), daughter, dressmaker, born Wednesbury;

[5] Leonard Brown (17), son, invoice clerk, born West Bromwich;

[6] George Brown (13), son, school, born West Bromwich:

Walsall Observer 6/7/1912

“Mr. Glover applied for sanction to various alterations to be made at the BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury. These consisted of improved domestic accommodation, the re-opening of a door in Church Street for out-door trade, and the provision of a club-room over the domestic rooms. The Mayor said they would not allow the Church Street entrance asked for, or the club-room over the domestic rooms. They were in favour of increased domestic accommodation, and they thought a roof garden might well be made where they proposed to put the club-room. Mr. Glover said they would fall in with the suggestions of the justices, and the application was granted.”

1921 Census

3, Walsall Street – BELL INN

[1] John Brown (66), public house manager, born Wednesbury;

[2] Charlotte Brown (66), wife, home duties, born Stourbridge;

[3] Ethel Brown (30), daughter, barmaid, born Wednesbury;

[4] Marjory Crisp (15), grand-daughter, home duties, born Wednesbury;

[5] Harold Brown (6), grand-son, school, born Handsworth:

Emily Selfe – see also GEORGE AND DRAGON, Lower High Street.

Dudley Chronicle 27/6/1929

“Serious charges were preferred at Wednesbury Police Court on Friday against George Anderson, 67, Well Lane, North Walsall. They were (1) being in possession of counterfeit coin with intent to utter the same, (2) uttering a counterfeit two shilling piece, and (3) having in custody and possession moulds for the manufacture of counterfeit coins.

Mr. B. G. Saywell (of London) appeared for the Director of Public Prosecutions, and outlined the facts of the cases. On June 4th, at 1.30pm, accused went to the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, and tendered half-a-crown for half a pint of ale. In consequence of something said by the customers, the landlord spoke to prisoner, who made some excuse, and asked for the coin back, then leaving the bar. The next heard of him was on June 11th, when he went to the WHITE HORSE and tendered a two shilling piece, receiving change. Something was said to the daughter of the licensee. She looked at the coin again, and subsequently handed it to the police. Prisoner the same day went to the BELL INN and the MIDLAND VAULTS, where he tendered two shilling pieces, and afterwards went to the GRAPES INN, where he was spoken to by PC Taylor. He asked him to go to the Police Station, and this the prisoner willingly did. When there he handed PS Nixon four counterfeit coins, also giving him a key, and telling him he would find all he wanted in a drawer at his home. A search was made and moulds and other articles necessary for the making of counterfeit coins were found.....

Joseph Glaze, jeweller and silversmith, High Bullen, Wednesbury, said he was shown the coins produced by PS Nixon and tested them with aqua fortis. He also weighted them and found them deficient. The whole of the coins were counterfeit.

Miss Edna King, daughter of the licensee of the WHITE HORSE HOTEL, said that on June 11th, she served a man with half a pint of mild and bitter, for which he tendered a two shilling piece (produced). She could not recognise the man. After he left something was said to her by another customer, and she looked in the till. She took out the two shilling piece, and testing it with another coin found that the edge rubbed soft.

Mrs. Higgins, wife of the licensee of the MIDLAND VAULTS, said she remembered prisoner calling for half a pint of ale on June 11th, for which he tendered a two shilling piece. She picked accused out the following day at an identification parade at the Police Station.

Archibald Cross, licensee of the BELL INN, Walsall Street, also stated that he served prisoner with beer and cigarettes, which he paid for with a two shilling piece. Subsequently, from something which was said to him, he took it out of the till, and upon testing it found it to be a bad one.

Douglas George Young, licensee of the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, identified two half-crowns (produced), one dated 1923, and the other 1924, which were found in his takings on May 20th and June 4th respectively. He knew prisoner and saw him in the bar on both the dates mentioned Joseph Glaze said that the two half-crowns which Mr. Young found in his takings were counterfeit and light in weight.....

Prisoner was committed to take his trial at the Staffordshire Assizes. He intimated that it was his intention to plead guilty.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 6/7/1929

“Pleading guilty to uttering counterfeit coins at Wednesbury, and to having in his possession moulds for making counterfeit coins, George Anderson, aged 38, a french polisher, committed from Wednesbury, was sentenced to three years penal servitude at the Staffordshire Assizes yesterday.

It was stated for the prosecution that prisoner also admitted charges relating to embezzlement and the uttering of counterfeit coins five years ago.”

Benjamin Higgs – see also SIR TATTON SYKES, Wolverhampton, BUSHBURY ARMS, Wolverhampton, and MYVOD, Wednesbury.

He was born in 1881.

He died in 1970.

Evening Despatch 1/4/1938 - Advert.

“Bar-General Wanted. References. Good home, liberal outings. BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury.”

BAR-GENERAL Wanted. References. Good home, liberal outings.—Bell Inn, Walsall-street, Wednesbury.

Walsall Observer 19/8/1939 - Advert

“Wanted, Bar-General, live in, domesticated; good home. BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury.”

WANTED. Bar-General, live in, domesticated; good home.—Bell Inn, Walsall Street, Wednesbury.

1939 Register

3, Walsall Street (2 of 3)

[1] Vincent W. Fletcher, date of birth 29/1/1904, publican, manager, married, AFS;

[2] Iris P. Fletcher, dob 18/6/1904, unpaid domestic duties, married;

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League. [1950/51]

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Victory Darts League. [1948], [1962]

George Thomas Huckerby – see also OLD BARREL.

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Town Darts League. [1970]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 24/12/1975 - Advert

“Don and Rita of the BELL INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, wish all their customers a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 3/11/1978

“Sandwell Mail sponsored women’s 301 individual darts championship.....

Former Staffordshire county player, Sharon Shinton, from Wednesbury Labour Club will be on foreign territory, away to Jessie Smith, of BELL INN, Wednesbury.”

[Sharon Shinton won the competition.]

Sandwell Evening Mail 22/11/1982

“A Wednesbury youth facing two charges of malicious wounding with intent appeared before West Bromwich magistrates. Paul Charles Hunt, 17, of Freeman Road, was charged in connection with an alleged incident at the BELL pub, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, on Friday. Hunt was remanded on bail until December 6 on condition that he stay away from the BELL pub.”

[Hunt pleaded guilty to unlawfully and maliciously wounding, this plea was accepted by the prosecution, and he was sent for Borstal training.]

Closed

It was sold to Philip Pawar for £27,500 to be converted into the New Carousel Club.

The license was refused on 20th December 1984.

Sandwell Evening Mail 14/11/1986 - Notice

“Licensing Act 1964.

To the Clerk to the Licensing Justices for the Licensing District of West Bromwich.

To the Chief Officer of Police. To all others whom it may concern.

I, John Wilkins, now residing at TOP CATS, Hall Street, Bilston, in the County of West Midlands, having during the past six months carried on the trade or calling of a licensed victualler, and being a person interested in the premises described below, do hereby give notice that it is my intention to apply at the Transfer Sessions for the said District to be held at the Magistrates Court, West Bromwich, on the 4th day of December next, for the provisional grant to me of a Justices License authorising me to sell by retail intoxicating liquor of all descriptions for consumption either on or off the premises about to be altered situate at and known as the NEW CAROUSEL, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, in the County of West Midlands, of which premises Philip Paras Ram Pawar and Ravi Sarup Mahay are the owners. Given under my hand this 10th day of November 1986.

Underhills, 7 Waterloo Road, Wolverhampton, West Midlands. WV1 4DW.

Solicitors for and on behalf of John Wilkins.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 6/7/1987

"A Wednesbury pub which has been empty for years could get a new lease of life. A plan to turn the BELL INN in Walsall Street into a private snooker club is to be considered by Sandwell councillors. The applicants, Messrs. P. Pawar and R. S. Mahay, of the THREE TUNS pub, Queen Street, Bilston, said eight snooker tables would be provided."

Sandwell Chronicle 13/8/1999

"An £800,000 restoration of a dilapidated Wednesbury pub will create 20 new jobs, pub chain Wetherspoon has revealed. The renovation of the former BELL INN, at the corner of Walsall Street and High Bullen, was given the go-ahead last week when magistrates granted the licence. A large, single storey extension will be built to provide a larger bar area, bottle store, and office, and a beer garden to the rear is also planned. The site is currently in a dilapidated state with the yard area being used by a taxi firm, which will vacate the premises....."

It reopened as the BELLWETHER. [2000]

[2025]

TO COAL AND IRONMASTERS, CONTRACTORS, AND OTHERS.
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,

BY J. WHITEHOUSE, on TUESDAY NEXT,
November the 8th, (under a Bill of Sale)—the EFFECTS of
Mr. Edwin Griffiths, and removed to the Bell Inn, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, for the convenience of sale; consisting of Three powerful WAGON HORSES, two useful Cart Colts, three half-bred Horses, handsome Yearling; Seven 4-inch-wheel CARTS, four
2-inch ditto, one 3-inch ditto, one 4-inch ditto, 21-inch-wheel Wagon,
Three Spring TRAPS, 8-inch-wheel BOILER CARRIAGE, to carry 50 tons; Two PHAETONS, Two GIGS, eleven Sets of Thiller Tackle, two Sets of Gig Harness, two Side Saddles, and other Effects, according to catalogue.

Sale to commence at Eleven o'clock, with the usual conditions.

Catalogues can be had at the Bell Inn; or at the Auctioneer's Office, Turk's Head, Wednesbury.

1859

TIMOTHY RILEY

BELL INN,

WALSALL STREET, WEDNESBURY

EMBRACES this opportunity of thanking his numerous customers for the patronage he has received during the past, also to inform them that he has remodelled the above premises, in order to meet the requirements of his increasing business. He has added to his stock of conveyances several Hancock Cabs, and also purchased a large portion of the Stock lately disposed of by Mr. Birch, of the Boro' Mews.

BREAKS FOR PLEASURE PARTIES FIO-NICE &c.

WEDDING EQUIPAGE, &c.

NEAT HEARSE AND MOURNING COACHES

GOODS CAREFULLY REMOVED.

WINES, SPIRITS, AND ALES OF THE CHOICEST QUALITY.

1879

WEDNESBURY, STAFFORDSHIRE.

IMPORTANT UNRESERVED SALE.

FOUR VALUABLE HEARSES AND MOURNING COACHES.

TWELVE VALUABLE HORSES,

Four handsome Well-built BRAKES (nearly new) to carry from sixteen to thirty persons, WAGONETTES, CABS, CABS, BROUGHAMS, BAROUCHE, GIGS, DOGCARTS, CARTS, twenty sets of Double and Single HARNESS, &c., &c.

MR. E. B. SCHOLEFIELD has received instructions from Mr. Timothy Riley, of the Bell Inn, Walsall Street, Wednesbury (who is retiring from business and leaving the neighbourhood) to Sell by Auction, on TUESDAY NEXT, the 25th day of January—the whole of his VALUABLE STOCK, comprising four Valuable HEARSES, with Ostrich Feather Plumes, four C
Spring MOURNING COACHES, one entire and eleven other Valuable HORSES, twenty sets of Double and Single HARNESS, four Handsome BREAKS, to carry from sixteen to thirty persons;
Four WAGONETTES, Two BROUGHAMS, BAROUCHE, Four CABS, CABS, Three GIGS, DOGCARTS, GOODSVANS, Plumes,
Sidecloths, Black Rugs, Coloured Rugs, Tridies, Saddles, Chaff
Machine, Brushes, Forks and numerous other valuable Effects.

Sale to commence at 11 o'clock punctually.
Catalogues may be obtained at the Office of the Birmingham
Daily Post Chronicle Office, Wolverhampton, and at the Auctioneer's Office, Church Street, Wednesbury.

Bell Inn, Walsall Street, Wednesbury.—Sale of TWO PONIES, MOURNING COACH, WAGONETTE, Dogcarts, Gigs, Traps, Harness, Plumes, Brushes, Chaff Machines, &c., &c.—To be Sold by Auction

BY Mr. E. B. SCHOLEFIELD, on TUESDAY NEXT,
February 15, two Useful PONIES, MOURNING COACH,
WAGONETTE, Traps, Dogcarts, Gigs, Carts, valuable Harness,
white and black Plumes, Rugs, Whips, Brushes, Hames, Collars, Chaff Machines, and other valuable Effects (remaining unsold from the last sale, on January 25 last); the property of Mr. Timothy Riley, who is leaving Wednesbury.

Sale to commence at 11 o'clock punctually.
Catalogues may be obtained at the Offices of the Auctioneer, Church Street, Wednesbury.

1881

DON AND RITA
of
THE BELL INN,
Walsall Street,
Wednesbury

wish all their customers a
Merry Christmas and a Happy
New Year.

1975

BIRD IN HAND

Camp Hill Lane, (Campo Lane), WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Corfield [1834] – [1842]

NOTES

Campo Lane [1834]

Camp Hill Lane [1835], [1841], [1842]

It had a beerhouse license.

William Corfield, retailer of beer, Camp Hill Lane. [1835], [1842]

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/9/1839

“An inquisition was held at Wednesbury, on Wednesday last, before Henry Smith, Esq, on the body of John Shore, a miner, aged 33 years.

William Corfield deposed that he is the landlord of the BIRD IN HAND beer-shop, at Wednesbury. On Monday last, being Wednesbury wake, deceased and James Wardle were at his house the greater part of the day, drinking with other persons. About half-past five in the afternoon, witness heard the deceased and Wardle having some words, and presently saw them strip to fight in the yard. Witness ran to them, and said they should not fight, and persuaded them to put on their shirts. Witness then turned away from them, on which they jumped over the yard wall into the adjoining field, and the rest of the company followed. Witness also went into the field, where deceased and Wardle were again both stripped, and he caught hold of the deceased and would not let him fight, until some of the persons present wrested him out of his hands. They then commenced fighting, and witness went into the house and saw no more of them until someone said the deceased was dead. Witness returned to the field, and saw some persons rubbing the deceased's head and body, and Mr. Reynolds, the surgeon, was applied to, and tried to bleed him, but without effect. Not more than five minutes elapsed from the time of their getting over the wall to the death of the deceased, who had received a bad bruise on the right side of his neck, a little under the ear. Wardle has absconded. William Bourn, of Wednesbury, and Mr. Jabez Rubery, of Darlaston, deposed to the fight taking place as mentioned by the last witness. The former stated that the dispute originated about a wager of 3d, and that the deceased said if Wardle did not pay it he would punch it out of him. Mr. Rubery was returning from Westbromwich at the time of the fight, and, knowing the combatants, stopped his horse and was a witness to the fatal occurrence. The Jury returned a verdict of Manslaughter against James Wardle, who absconded immediately after he had killed the deceased.”

[James Wardle appeared at Staffordshire Lent Assizes in March 1840, was found guilty of manslaughter, and sentenced to two months' imprisonment.]

1841 Census

Camphill Lane

[1] William Corfield (45), miner, born Staffordshire;

[2] Sarah Corfield (45), born Staffordshire;

[3] Selina Corfield (15), born Staffordshire;

[4] Caroline Corfield (15), born Staffordshire;

[5] John Barfoot (15), apprentice;

[6] Thomas Jenkins (15), apprentice;

[7] William Parker (15), apprentice;

BIRD IN HAND

Portway Road (Lane), WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Mrs. Farley [1852]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Mrs. Farley = Mrs. Fairley

Birmingham Journal 15/5/1852 - Advert

“Wednesbury. BIRD IN HAND, Portway Lane.

By George Allin. To be Disposed of by Private Treaty, the Goodwill and Possession of the above well-frequented Beerhouse, doing a good Business, and is situated at the entrance of Messrs. Bagnall and Marshall's Works, where several Hundred Men are employed. Coming-in about £100.

For particulars, and to treat, apply to George Allin, Auctioneer and Surveyor, Bridge Street, Walsall; or to Mrs. Fairley, on the Premises.”

Birmingham Journal 12/6/1852 - Advert

“To Publicans and Others.

Sale at the BIRD IN HAND, Portway Road, Wednesbury.

George Allin will Sell by Auction, on Monday Next, the 14th day of June instant, at Ten o'clock in the morning, on the Premises as above.

All the clean and useful Household Furniture, Brewing Utensils, quantity of Ale and Porter, capital Ale Casks, and other Effects, comprising four-post and other Bedsteads, three prime feather Beds, handsome mahogany Chests of Drawers, Washstands and Dressing Tables, six excellent Clocks, mahogany and other Tables, Sofa in mahogany frame, capital four-pull Beer Machine, two excellent Mash Tubs, sixteen capital Ale Casks, from 9 to 160 gallons, superior bred Sow in pig, four couples of Fowls, &c, &c, belonging to Mrs. Farley, who is leaving.

Catalogues, and further particulars, may be had at the Auctioneer's Office, Bridge Street, Walsall.

NB. The House and Premises to be Let, and any portion of the Fixtures may be taken to at a valuation, prior to the sale.”

WEDNESBURY.
“BIRD-IN-HAND,” PORTWAY LANE.
BY GEORGE ALLIN.—To be DISPOSED OF by PRIVATE TREATY, the GOODWILL and POSSESSION of the above well-frequented BEERHOUSE, doing a good Business, and is situated at the entrance of Messrs. Bagnall and Marshall's Works, where several Hundred Men are employed. Coming-in about £100.
For particulars, and to treat, apply to George Allin, Auctioneer and Surveyor, Bridge Street, Walsall; or to Mrs. Fairley, on the Premises.

TO PUBLICANS AND OTHERS.
SALE AT THE BIRD-IN-HAND, PORTWAY ROAD,
WEDNESBURY.
GEORGE ALLIN will SELL by AUCTION, on MONDAY NEXT, the 14th day of June instant, at Ten o'clock in the morning, on Premises as above—all the clean and useful
HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, BREWING UTENSILS, quantity of ALE and PORTER, capital ALE CASKS, and other Effects, comprising four-post and other Bedsteads, three prime feather Beds, handsome mahogany Chests of Drawers, Washstands and Dressing Tables, six excellent Clocks, mahogany and other Tables, Sofa in mahogany frame, capital four-pull Beer Machine, two excellent Mash
Tubs, sixteen capital Ale Casks, from 9 to 160 gallons, superior bred Sow in pig, four couples of Fowls, &c., &c., belonging to Mrs. Farley, who is leaving.
Catalogues, and further particulars, may be had at the Auctioneer's
Office, Bridge Street, Walsall.
N.B.—The HOUSE and PREMISES to be LET, and any portion of the Fixtures may be taken to at a valuation, prior to the sale.

BLACK BOY

High Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Parkes [1791]
James Goodman [1834]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/3/1791 - Advert

“Reversion.

To be Sold by Auction, by Farror and Goode, on Monday the 11th of April, 1791, at Four o’Clock in the Afternoon, at Mr. Thomas Parkes, the BLACK BOY, Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford (subject to such Conditions as will be then produced) a Messuage, Dwelling House, or Tenement, together with a Brewhouse, Stable, Pigstye, and Garden, now in the Tenure of the above Mr. Thomas Parkes, being a desirable Situation, lying nearly opposite the Market House. The Premises (except the Garden and Pigstye, which are Freehold) are Copyhold of Inheritance, but little inferior to Freehold, paying neither Fine or Heriot, and are subject to the Estate for Life of a Lady who is now upwards of 70 Years of Age. The Tenant will shew the Premises, and for further Particulars, apply to the Auctioneers, in the Bull Ring, and New Street, Birmingham.”

R E V E R S I O N.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by FARROR and GOODE, on Monday the 11th of April, 1791, at Four o’Clock in the Afternoon, at Mr. Thomas Parkes, the Black Boy, Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford (subject to such Conditions as will be then produced) a Messuage, Dwelling House, or Tenement, together, with a Brewhouse, Stable, Pigstye, and Garden, now in the Tenure of the above Mr. Thomas Parkes, being a desirable Situation, lying nearly opposite the Market House. The Premises (except the Garden and Pigstye, which are Freehold) are Copyhold of Inheritance, but little inferior to Freehold, paying neither Fine or Heriot, and are subject to the Estate for Life of a Lady who is now upwards of 70 Years of Age. The Tenant will shew the Premises, and for further Particulars, apply to the Auctioneers, in the Bull Ring, and New-street, Birmingham.

BLACK HORSE

1, Old Park Road / Kings Hill Field, Kings Hill, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Highgate (Walsall) Brewery Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1939)
Daniel Thwaites and Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

James Dabbs [1850] – 1852);
Joseph Benton (1852 – 1856);
John Hampton (1856 – [1857])
James Yates [1859] – 1865);
Isaiah Yates (1865 – [1873])
Thomas Whormby [1881]
Mrs. Emma Whormby [1884] – [1909]
Harry Howard Wilkes [1911] – 1924);
Archibald 'Archie' Constable (1924 – [])
James H Godwin [1932]
Ernest Kendrick [1939] – [1940]
Leslie Allen Astbury [1961] – 1966);
Robert Joseph Mahon (1966 – 1967);
Everett William Lord (1967 – [])
Sam Lucas [1971] – [1978]
John 'Buster' Lucas [1980] – [1981]
Christine Ann Edwards []
John Hughes (1997 – [1998])

NOTES

1851 Census

Kings Hill

- [1] James Dabbs (42), ironstone miner and farmer of 20 acres, employing 3 labourers and 20 men as miners, born Upton Cressett, Shropshire;
[2] Rosannah Dabbs (35), wife, born Wednesbury;
[3] Emma Dabbs (13), daughter, born Bilston;
[4] Samuel Dabbs (11), son, scholar, born Bilston;
[5] Elizabeth Shepherd (6), niece, orphan, scholar, born Bilston;
[6] Emma Webb (2), visitor, born Brierley Hill;
[7] Joseph Dickenson (45), brother-in-law, unmarried, born Wednesbury:
[Dinah Dabbs (64), widow, who was born in Upton Cressett, is the next entry.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/9/1851

“An inquest was held on Saturday, the 20th inst, at the BLACK HORSE, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, before G. Hinchliffe, Esq, coroner, on the body of Joseph Baker, 11 years of age. It appeared that the deceased was at play with some other lads on a pit bank, when a boy named Joseph Davies pushed him; he lost his balance and fell down the pit. He was taken up shortly afterwards quite dead. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

1999

Joseph Benton = Joseph Burton = John Benton

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1852

“On Wednesday, the annual petty sessions for the Hundred of Offlow South was held.....

The following publicans were cautioned only.....

Joseph Burton, BLACK HORSE, Wednesbury, open on Sunday.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/10/1853

“In accordance with recent regulations, a Special Petty Sessions was held at the Scott Arms, Barr, on Wednesday last.....

Cases, in which the re-granting of old licenses in this district had been suspended, were gone into, with the following results.....

John Benton, BLACK HORSE INN, Wednesbury, who had once been fined, did not attend the last meeting; he came today, and after a serious caution had his license restored.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 12/3/1856 - Advert

“To Publicans and Others.

To be Disposed Of, with immediate possession, the Licenses and Goodwill of that well-known Old Licensed Public House, known as the BLACK HORSE, Kings Hill, in the parish of Wednesbury. The above-named house is now doing a good business, and satisfactory reasons will be given for the present occupiers leaving. Coming-in will be low.

To treat, apply on the premises, or to Mr. Benton Dawes, Surveyor and Architect, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Journal 1/11/1856 - Advert

“To be Let, an Old-licensed Public House, known by the name of the BLACK HORSE, situate at Kings Hill, near Darlaston, in the parish of Wednesbury. Good Stabling; rent low. Coming-in moderate, and business excellent.

Apply to the present tenant, Mr. Benton; or to Mr. Dickenson, SEVEN STARS, High Street, Bilston.”

John Hampton = James Hampton = John Hampson

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/5/1857

“Mr. James Hampton, landlord of the BLACK HORSE, Kingshill, Wednesbury, was summoned for allowing gambling in his house on the night of the 20th ult. The police have for some time been suspicious of the house, but its isolated situation and convenient outlet at the back, had, as the police supposed, hitherto enabled the proprietor to conceal anything which might render him amenable to legal proceedings. On the night in question, however, Police-constable Wooley, attired as a soldier, went to the house, and pretending to have been in the chief engagements in the Crimea, succeeded in lulling suspicion so far as to be a witness to gambling with dice for money, although some of the company remained doubtful as the truth of his pretensions to service on the ground that he had no medal. The landlord, who has not long been at the house, was fined 40s and costs, and warned that another detection would endanger his license.”

Birmingham Journal 29/8/1857

“Annual Licensing Day.....

List of licensed victuallers who had been fined for breaches of the law during the past year.....

John Hampton, BLACK HORSE, Wednesbury, cautioned.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/8/1857

“Wednesbury Annual Licensing Meeting.....

John Hampson, of the BLACK HORSE, Kings Hill, was reprimanded and cautioned. He had been previously convicted in a fine of 40s for permitting gambling in his house, and the police complained that generally his house was badly conducted.”

Birmingham Daily Post 13/7/1859

“At the Wednesbury Petty Sessions, yesterday, James Yates, of the BLACK HORSE public house, was charged with having on Sunday, the 3rd instant, kept open his house until past eleven o’clock, contrary to the statute. Defendant said that he had his house open, but not for the sale of liquor. The fact was it rained heavily, and his customers would not go out till the storm had abated. A witness was called in support of this statement, but the Bench ordered a fine of 7s 6d, including costs.”

1861 Census

Kingshill – BLACK HORSE INN

- [1] Isiah Yates (50), publican, born Walsall Wood;
- [2] Manian Yates (49), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Sarah A. Yates (20), daughter, born Birmingham;
- [4] L. Yates (20), daughter, born Birmingham;
- [5] Jane Yates (18), daughter, born Birmingham;
- [6] Enoch Yates (14), son, born Birmingham;
- [7] Isiah Yates (15), son, born Birmingham;
- [8] William Garrington (65), visitor, widower, born Darlaston:

Birmingham Daily Post 5/11/1863

“James Yates, of the BLACK HORSE, Kings Hill, was charged with having, on the morning of Sunday, the 25th October, kept his house open during prohibited hours. Police-constables Evans and Johnson deposed to having found a man in the defendant’s house on the morning named, drinking a glass of rum, but it was proved that this person was connected with the establishment, and that the rum was given to him, and the summons was therefore dismissed.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 30/8/1867

“The annual licensing meeting for the West Bromwich district was held in the Public Office, West Bromwich.... The following publicans, against whom convictions were recorded, were reprimanded, but had their licenses renewed.....

Isaiah Yates, BLACK HORSE, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, obstructing the police.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 18/1/1869 - Marriage

“On the 28th of October last, at All Saints Church, by the Rev. J. B. Gabriel, Isaiah Yates, licensed victualler, Wednesbury, to Emma Price, late of the Orange Tree, Rushton Street North, in this town.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 8/3/1870 - Marriage

“On the 22nd ult, at West Bromwich Old Church, by the Rev. F. Willett, Henry Walker to Lydia, eldest daughter of Isaiah Yates, of Kings Hill. No cards.”

1871 Census

1, Old Park Road – BLACK HORSE INN

- [1] Isaiah Yates (60), widower, licensed victualler, born Darlaston;
- [2] Arabella Price (28), daughter, housekeeper, born Birmingham;
- [3] James Price (7), grand-son, scholar, born Birmingham;
- [4] Rebecca Slater (19), domestic servant, born Darlaston:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 1/10/1877

“A painful occurrence took place at the OLD PARK HOTEL, Darlaston Road, Wednesbury, on Saturday morning. At about half-past six o’clock Henry Lane (50), of Kings Hill, who was engaged as a carpenter at the Patent Shaft and Axle Tree Works, was seized with violent pains in his stomach, and left his work for the purpose of obtaining a stimulant which would have a tendency to remove the pain. On arriving at the OLD PARK HOTEL Lane asked for fourpennyworth of brandy, and having been supplied he took the glass, and was about to drink, when he fell down, and died before medical assistance could be obtained. The deceased was greatly respected by his fellow-workmen.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/10/1877

“Yesterday morning Mr. Edwin Hooper, District Coroner, held an inquest at the BLACK HORSE INN, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, touching the death of Henry Lane (56), who died under circumstances already recorded in the Daily Gazette. Mr. W. C. Garman, surgeon, said, after examining the deceased, he was of opinion the death had been caused by heart disease. A verdict of Died from Natural Causes was returned.”

Birmingham Daily Post 25/7/1878

“On Tuesday, at the BLACK HORSE INN, Wednesbury, Mr. Hooper, coroner, held an enquiry touching the death of Mrs. Mary Ann Bruerton, age 36, the wife of Mr. Edwin Bruerton, Old Park Road, Kings Hill, who cut her throat with a penknife on Saturday morning, and died from the effects of the injury on the same night.

The general evidence showed that she had been living apart from her husband on account of her dislike to living at Darlaston, and that she had been in a low depressed condition for some years.

Mr. Partridge, surgeon, confirmed this evidence, stating that he had attended her professionally for seven or eight years, his attendance having been almost constant of late. She had been suffering from depression of spirits and melancholia, and by his advice she had been to Rhyl for a fortnight, but on her return the depression continued.

Verdict, Temporary Insanity.”

Wednesbury Herald 13/9/1879

“On Thursday, Edwin Hooper, Esq, District Coroner, held an inquiry at the BLACK HORSE INN, Kings Hill, relative to the death of a child named Lizzy Bond, aged six months, who was found dead in bed on Tuesday morning. The evidence showed that the deceased was a healthy child, and on Monday night it was put to bed in an apparently healthy condition. On Tuesday she was found dead by her mother. Death was supposed to have been caused by suffocation, but as there was no evidence to show how death was really caused the jury returned an Open Verdict.”

1881 Census

1, Old Park Road

[1] Thomas Whormby (45), pattern maker, born Tunstall, Staffordshire;

[2] Emma Whormby (43), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Kate Wilkes (12), wife's daughter, born Smethwick;

[4] Arthur Wilkes (10), wife's son, born Smethwick;

[5] Florence Wilkes (9), wife's daughter, born Smethwick;

[6] Harry Wilkes (5), wife's son, born Smethwick;

[7] Eliza Webb (19), servant, born New York:

Thomas Whormby died on 23rd July 1889.

1891 Census

1, Old Park Road

[1] Emma Whormby (53), widow, licensed victualler, born Bilston;

[2] Clara E. C. Wilkes (22), daughter, born Smethwick;

[3] George A. Wilkes (20), son, medical student, born Smethwick;

[4] Ann F. Wilkes (19), daughter, born Smethwick;

[5] Harry H. Wilkes (15), son, clerk, born Smethwick:

Wednesbury Herald 2/11/1895

“On Monday, Mr. E. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest at the BLACK HORSE INN, Walsall Road, on the body of Ann Ridding (65), School Street, Kings Hill.

The deceased had been in failing health for eight or ten weeks, and took to her bed on the 21st. On Friday she attempted to go downstairs, and, falling, sustained a severe scalp wound from the effects of which she died later in the day.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned, the jury also desiring that a representation as to the condition of the stairs should be made to the owner of the house.”

Mrs. Emma Whormby was described as Miss Emma Whormby. [1896]

It was rebuilt c.1900.

1901 Census

1, Old Park Road – BLACK HORSE INN

[1] Emma Whormby (63), widow, licensed victualler, born Bilston;

[2] Emily Wilkes (30), daughter, born Smethwick;

[3] Harry Wilkes (25), son, born Smethwick:

Midland Evening News 15/6/ 1909

“Emma Whormby, licensee of the BLACK HORSE INN, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, was summoned at the instance of Mr. Van Tromp (Inspector under the Food and Drugs Act) for selling whisky, which was diluted with water 9% beyond the statutory limit. Mr. R. A. Willcock (Wolverhampton) defended.

The offence was admitted, and it was urged in defence, that the defendant had kept the house for thirty years without a complaint. The excessive dilution had been brought about by the defendant failing to use the proper instrument provided for the purpose.

The Bench said that in view of the excellent way the house had been conducted in the past, a fine of only 10s and costs would be inflicted.”

Emma Whormby died in the 4th quarter of 1910.

1911 Census

1, Old Park Road

[1] Harry Howard Wilkes (37), publican, born Smethwick;

[2] Marian Wilkes (37), wife, married 12 years, born Wednesbury;

[3] Fred Wilkes (11), son, school, born Bilston;

[4] Bert Wilkes (6), son, born Wednesbury;

[5] Florence Baines (18), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

[6] Dolly Wilkes (4), daughter, born Wolverhampton;

[7] Florence Wilkes (3), daughter, born Bilston:

Walsall Observer 14/6/1919

“A fatal motor-car accident in Wolverhampton Road, Darlaston, was described to the Walsall Deputy Coroner (Mr. Frank Cooper), at the General Hospital on Wednesday afternoon, when an inquest was held on the body of Joseph Hadley (6), son of an ironworks labourer, and his wife, living at Hewitt’s Buildings, Foundry Street, Darlaston.

Evidence of identification having been given by the mother, Harry Howard Wilkes, licensee of the BLACK HORSE INN, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, stated that on the previous Friday afternoon he was travelling along Wolverhampton Street in his motor car, which was being driven by his step-son, Frederick McKay. When the car was opposite a passage leading from Dorset Road Schools a little boy ran out, and darted into the road. He was struck and knocked down by the near side mudguard, but the wheels of the car, which was travelling at only eight miles an hour, did not go over his body. Witness’s step-son was a careful driver, but could not possibly have avoided the accident. The injured boy was taken to his home and then to Walsall Hospital in the motor car.

McKay, who has held a driver’s license for only two months, gave evidence bearing out Mr. Wilkes’s version of the accident. He also put the speed of the car at eight miles an hour.

The Deputy Coroner: That is rather a slow speed, is it not? – Witness: It is a bad road.

Sergeant Shepard (Coroner’s Officer) reported that neither he nor the Darlaston police had been able to trace any independent person who witnessed the accident, but people who saw the car before it reached the scene of the accident agreed that it was travelling slowly.

Dr. Ivy Keiss (house surgeon) informed the Court that the child died on the day of admission on account of a fractured skull, and the Deputy Coroner returned a verdict of Accidental Death, exonerating the driver of the car.”

1921 Census

1, Old Park Road

[1] Harry Howard Wilkes (48), licensed victualler;

[2] Marian Wilkes (48), wife, home duties;

[3] Dorothy Gwendolen Wilkes (14), daughter, school, born Wolverhampton;

[4] George Dickenson Wilkes (10), son, school, born Wednesbury:

South Staffordshire Times 29/3/1924

“Wednesbury Police Court.....

Mr. C. L. Hodgkinson appeared for Archibald Constable, who asked for a temporary transfer of the license of the BLACK HORSE INN, Old Park Road, from Harry Howard Wilkes, for whom Mr. Brown appeared. The magistrates granted the application.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/2/1935

“The Wednesbury Licensing Bench yesterday.....

All licenses were renewed except BLACK HORSE, Old Park Road.....

Application for renewal of these, it was stated would be heard at the adjourned sessions.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/3/1935

“Wednesbury justices renewed the license of the BLACK HORSE, Old Park Road, subject to an undertaking that plans were submitted for reconstruction.”

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

Highgate houses.....

BLACK HORSE, Kings Hill.”

1939 Register

Old Park Road – BLACK HORSE INN (3 of 4)

[1] Ernest Kendrick, date of birth 7/11/1899, public house manager, married;

[2] Kate Kendrick, dob 21/11/1897, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[4] John Kendrick, dob 27/5/1935, school, single:

Rugeley Times 8/2/1941

“The monthly report of the West Bromwich and District General Hospital, just issued, shows that the patients report for the month of December was in-patients admitted, 55; out-patients admitted to the several special departments, 284; to the casualty department, 905; attendance in all departments, 3,485.

Donations acknowledged for the month of December, 1940, were.....

BLACK HORSE, Wednesbury, 2s 6d.”

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League, Division One. [1946]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 22/10/1962 - Advert

“Barmaid and Pianist required.

Apply, the BLACK HORSE, Old Park Road, Kings Hill, Wednesbury.”

BARMAID and Pianist required. Apply—
The Black Horse, Old Park-road, Kings
Hill Wednesbury.

Robert Joseph Mahon – see also BUSH, Wallbrook Street, Coseley

Wednesbury and Darlaston District Licensed Victuallers Association held their annual meeting here in 1969.

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Social Dominoes League. [1970]

Birmingham Mail 24/7/1970 - Advert

"Barmaid Required, evenings only, good rate of pay.
BLACK HORSE, Old Park Road, Wednesbury."

BARMAID Required, evenings only, good rate of pay. — Black Horse, Old
Park Road, Wednesbury. Phone 526
2119.

Birmingham Mail 24/12/1971 - Advert

"Flo and Sam of the BLACK HORSE, Old Park Road, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, wish all their customers a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 31/8/1973 - Advert

"Cleaner Required, 5 mornings.
Apply, BLACK HORSE, Old Park Road, Wednesbury."

CLEANER REQUIRED, 5 mornings.
Apply — Black Horse, Old Park
Road, Wednesbury. 021 526 2119.

A team from here qualified for the Sunday People's Great Pub Sports Quiz (128 teams). [1973]

A team from here took part in the Sports Argus Inn Quiz competition. [1973/74], [1974/75]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 3/12/1976 - Deaths

"Flo Lucas. Beloved wife of Sam and dearly loved mother of Bobby, John, Mavis and Alan, passed away peacefully on Wednesday, December 1.

Funeral from the BLACK HORSE, Old Park Road, Wednesbury, at 10.35am, Wednesday, December 8, for 11.00am service at Newton Road Crematorium, West Bromwich. Flowers to the BLACK HORSE."

Sandwell Evening Mail 26/9/1978

"They call him Sandwell Sam Lucas, the Black Country grafter of the BLACK HORSE in Wednesbury. That's because he's 65 next birthday, and due to retire in March after 17 years as a licensee, 10 of them in Wednesbury. An ex-Bull Ring barrow boy, and an unashamed brummie, Sam had no reservations about becoming a 'guvner' of a Black Country Pub. 'They thought I was a bit funny at first, but we soon got to know one another, and I never want to leave this place.' But Wednesbury's locals just can't help liking a bloke like Sam, who's just as much their side of the bar as he is behind it. A tall, stocky figure with an admitted beer belly, he has the bar in stitches when he gets up on the stage to do his song and joke act dressed in a cowboy hat and scarf. He still thinks he's a Desert Rat, and sings all the old time songs like 'Pack Up Your Troubles.'

All the local people rallied round Sam when his wife Florrie died about two years ago. It was then that his son and daughter-in-law John and Yvonne Lucas stepped in to help. They have been saving to buy the tenancy and hope to take over when Sam retires. Although Sam will become eligible for a council flat it looks as though he will stay on with the family at the BLACK HORSE, as soon as he's been on his retirement world cruise....."

Walsall Observer 30/5/1980

"Mac Chambers became the star of the BLACK HORSE fancy dress pub crawl when he even went to the lengths of shaving his head to play the part of Kojak Over 90 people joined Mac on a crawl of 10 Darlaston pubs. And between them they managed to raise over £600 for Cystic Fibrosis.

'Mac shaved his head a couple of days before the fancy dress pub crawl,' said Mrs. Yvonne Lucas, wife of landlord Buster Lucas at the pub in Old Park Road. 'It was only when he arrived fully dressed up that we realised why he had done it.'

The annual event was organised by the pub football team and they will be handing over the money at a special presentation evening to be held at the Overstrand Restaurant in Walsall."

Sandwell Evening Mail 11/3/1981

"Families in a Wednesbury road are complaining about 'beer and bother' nights involving pub customers. People in Old Park Road say they are being troubled by the noise of customers leaving the nearby BLACK HORSE INN, and by occasional street fights.....

Mr. John Lucas, licensee of the BLACK HORSE, said he appealed every night to his customers to leave the pub in a quiet manner."

Sandwell Evening Mail 31/12/1981 - Advert

"The BLACK HORSE, Old Park Road, Wednesbury, wish all their customers a Prosperous New Year and Thank You for the last.

Best Wishes, Buster and Yvonne."

Sandwell Evening Mail 11/6/1993

"A Wednesbury licensee permitted late drinking at his pub and allowed another to be run without a license, a court heard. Police found several late night drinkers at Noel Sadlier's pub on two successive days, Mr. John Charnock, prosecuting, told magistrates at West Bromwich.

Sadlier (43), of the FORGE TAVERN, Franchise Street, pleaded guilty to nine charges of aiding and abetting the consumption of alcohol outside permitted hours and three offences under the 1964 Licensing Act. He was fined a total of £604 with £30 costs.

Michael Duffy (40), of the GREEN DRAGON, Church Street, Darlaston, who was employed by Sadlier to run the KINGS HILL TAVERN in Darlaston Road, admitted three charges under the 1964 Licensing Act. He was fined a total of £200 with £20 costs.

Mr. Charnock said police investigating a burglary found the KINGS HILL TAVERN was being managed by another person instead of Duffy, who held the license. Duffy had put him in charge after being told by Sadlier to manage the BLACK HORSE HOTEL, in Old Park Road, Wednesbury, for which he did not have a license.

The officers visited the FORGE TAVERN where, on two days running, they found Sadlier blatantly allowing the consumption of alcohol after hours.

Sadlier told the court there was a total mix-up over the license transfers and that late drinking at the FORGE occurred during St. Valentine celebrations when the pub was packed.

Dorothy Thomas, defending Duffy, said he was out of work when Sadlier came into his wife's pub and offered him the job at the KINGS HILL TAVERN. He was granted the license, but was then moved by Sadlier to the BLACK HORSE."

Sandwell Chronicle 1/11/1996 - Advert

"BLACK HORSE, Old Park Road, Wednesbury.

Tuesday 5th November, Firework Display. Food available, Karaoke, everybody welcome.

Your Weekend Starts Here!

Friday, Karaoke, 8.30pm-11pm.

Saturday and Sunday, Free 'n' Easy with Play Your Cards Right. Daily cash prizes. Starting approx. 10pm.

Open Mon-Fri 7pm-11pm, Saturday all day, Sunday 12-4pm; 7pm-10.30pm."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 12/1/1998 - Advert

"Auction Tuesdays 7.30pm, the BLACK HORSE, Old Park Road, Wednesbury.

No commission, lots wanted."

AUCTION Tuesdays 7 30pm, The Black Horse, Old Park Road,
Wednesbury No commission.
lots wanted — 0121 526 3282

Wolverhampton Express and Star 26/2/1998 - Live Entertainment

"60s, 70s Sing A Long with Alan. Fridays, 8pm start.

The BLACK HORSE, Old Park Road, Wednesbury."

The Gazette 20/7/1998

"Christine Ann Edwards, 8 Malkit Close, Bentley, Walsall WS2 0LY, and formerly carrying on business as the BLACK HORSE, Public House, Old Park Road, Wednesbury, West Midlands WS10 9JE.

Court - Walsall.

Date of Filing Petition - 1st July 1998.

Date of Bankruptcy Order - 1st July 1998.

Whether Debtor's or Creditor's Petition - Debtor's.

[2025]

TO PUBLICANS AND OTHERS.
TO be DISPOSED OF, with immediate possession, the LICENSES and GOODWILL of that well-known Old Licensed PUBLIC HOUSE, known as the Black Horse, King's Hill, in the parish of Wednesbury. The abovenamed house is now doing a good business, and satisfactory reasons will be given for the present occupiers leaving. Coming-in will be low.—To treat, apply on the premises, or to Mr. BENTON DAWES, Surveyor and Architect, Wednesbury.

TO be LET, an Old-licensed PUBLIC HOUSE, known by the name of the "BLACK HORSE," situate at King's Hill, near Darlaston, in the parish of Wednesbury. Good stabling; rent low. Coming-in moderate, and business excellent. Apply to the present tenant, Mr. Benton; or to Mr. Dickenson, Seven Stars, High Street, Bilton.

1856

FLO AND SAM of
 THE BLACK HORSE
 OLD PARK ROAD, KINGS HILL,
 WEDNESBURY
 wish all their customers a very Merry Christmas and a Happy
 New Year.

1971

THE BLACK HORSE

Old Park Road
 Wednesbury

wish all their customers

a Prosperous New Year and Thank You for the last

BEST WISHES Buster and Yvonne

1981

BLACK HORSE
 Old Park Road, Wednesbury TEL: 0121-526 2149
TUESDAY 5th NOVEMBER - FIREWORK DISPLAY
 Food available, Karaoke, everybody welcome
YOUR WEEKEND STARTS HERE!
 Friday - Karaoke - 8.30 pm-11 pm
 Saturday and Sunday - "FREE 'N' EASY" with 'Play Your Cards Right'
 Daily cash prizes - Starting approx 10 pm
 Open Mon-Fri 7 pm-11 pm
 Saturday - All day, Sunday 12-4 pm; 7 pm-10.30 pm

1996

Live Entertainment

60'S, 70'S SING A LONG with Alan Friday's. 8pm start The Black Horse, Old Park Road,
 Wednesbury 0121 526 3282

1998

2011

2014

BLUE BALL

13, Earps Lane / Church Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Henry Spittle
William Bird [1895]
Charles William Exley
Darby's Brewery Ltd. [1921], [1936]

LICENSEES

William Spittle [1846] – [1851]
Henry Spittle [1857] – 1881;
Jesse Wilkes (1881 – [1882])
Henry Whitehall [1883] – [1886]
William Bird [1888] – [1892]
Charles William Exley [1895]
William Bird [1895] – [1896]
John A Evans [1899] – [1901]
Benjamin J Ludlow [1904] – [1908]
Alfred Richard Lowe [1909]
Henry Asbury [1911] – [1912]
William Samuel McGill [1916] – [1921]
John William Knowles [1929]
David Fletcher [1932]

NOTES

Birmingham Journal 17/10/1846 - Advert

“Freehold Premises in Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by J. Dawes, at the dwelling house of William Spittle, known by the sign of the BLUE BALL, in Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, on Tuesday, the 20th October, at Five o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then to be read.

All those Five Messuages, with the Out-buildings and Appurtenances, situate in and fronting to Church Street, Wednesbury.....”

1851 Census

Church Street

- [1] William Spittle (61), unmarried, victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Joseph Spittle (59), brother, unmarried, victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Mary A. Thursfield (22), general servant, born Birmingham:

Henry Spittle = Henry Spittal = Henry Spittell

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 1/7/1855

“George Dangerfield will run Buck Barlow of Birmingham 160 yards, for from £10 to £15 a side, at Lichfield. Money ready at the BLUE BALL, Church Street, Wednesbury, any night next week.”

FREEHOLD PREMISES

IN WEDNESBURY.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by J. DAWES, at the dwelling house of William Spittle, known by the sign of the “Blue Ball,” in Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, on TUESDAY, the 20th October, at Five o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then to be read—all those Five MESSUAGES, with the Out-buildings and Appurtenances, situate in and fronting to Church Street, in Wednesbury aforesaid, and in the respective occupations of William Wheatley, William Miller, James Matthews, Richard Pugh, and the Widow Onions.

For further particulars, apply to Messrs. Adams and Son, Solicitors, Darlaston; or to the Auctioneer, in Wednesbury.

1846

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION.

BY JOSEPH DAWES, on THURSDAY NEXT, the 20th day of January, 1859, at the house of Mr. John Dudley, known as the Royal Exchange Inn, in Wednesbury, at Seven o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions then to be read:—

Lot 1.—Six undivided SEVENTH SHARES of and in all that FREEHOLD MESSUAGE or DWELLING HOUSE, for many years occupied as a Retail Beer House, and known by the sign of “THE BLUE BALL,” with the Yard, Brewhouse, Malt Room over the same, two Workshop, and other Out-buildings, and Premises thereto belonging, situate in Church Street, in Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, and late in the occupation of Mr. Henry Spittle.

The House is eligibly situated in a central part of the town, and is very commodious and convenient, and is particularly well arranged for a Retail Beer-house, having the Brewhouse supplied from a cistern on the top of house.

Lot 2.—Six undivided SEVENTH SHARES of and in all that FREEHOLD MESSUAGE or DWELLING HOUSE, with the Premises thereto belonging, situate in Meeting Street, in Wednesbury aforesaid, and occupied by Edward Humpage.

For further particulars, apply to Mr. John F. Adams, Solicitor, Darlaston; or to the Auctioneer, Wednesbury.

1859

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 12/4/1857

“George Dangerfield of Wednesbury will run Buck Barlow of Birmingham, 120 yards, if Barlow will give him four yards start, for £25 a side, to come off in six weeks from the first deposit. Money ready at the BLUE BALL, Wednesbury, any time next week.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 19/4/1857

“On Tuesday last, the Wednesbury Campanalogian Society of Ringers and Friends held their second anniversary at Mr. Henry Spittle’s, BLUE BALL, Church Street, and partook of an excellent dinner. After the cloth was drawn, E. Blackmore, Esq, was called to the chair, and in a neat speech expressed his pleasure at the great progress this society had made. The usual loyal toasts were drunk. During the evening the Society of Ringers enlivened the proceedings by playing a choice selection of popular airs and waltzes upon their new peal of 57 handbells.”

Birmingham Journal 15/1/1859 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, by Joseph Dawes, on Thursday Next, the 20th day of January, 1859, at the house of Mr. John Dudley, known as the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, in Wednesbury.....

Lot 1. Six undivided Seventh Shares of and in all that Freehold Messuage or Dwelling House, for many years occupied as a Retail Beer House, and known by the sign of the BLUE BALL, with the Yard, Brewhouse, Malt Room over the same, two Workshop, and other Out-buildings, and Premises thereto belonging, situate in Church Street, in Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, and late in the occupation of Mr. Henry Spittle.

The House is eligibly situated in a central part of the town, and is very commodious and convenient, and is particularly well arranged for a Retail Beer House, having the Brewhouse supplied from a cistern on the top of the house.”

Birmingham Journal 30/4/1859

“On Monday last 120 members of the St. Patrick Friendly Society met at the house of Mr. Henry Spittle, BLUE BALL, Earps Lane, formed in procession, headed by a brass band, to join the Darlaston branch of the society, and then proceeded to chapel, where an address was delivered by the Rev. G. Montgomery. After their return to the club-house, an excellent dinner was provided. The Rev. George Montgomery, of Wednesbury, was called to the chair, and made a lengthy speech on the rapid progress of the society since its establishment. Addresses had also been delivered by the Revs. J. Davis and Father Terry, of Bilston.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/10/1859

“A special licensing sessions was held on Wednesday, at the Scott Arms Inn, Great Barr.....

The number of applications [for spirit licenses] was 33 which were disposed of as follows.....

Henry Spittle, Earps Lane, Wednesbury, supported by Mr. Bailey Refused.”

1861 Census

Earps Lane – BLUE BALL

[1] Henry Spittle (37), gas burner maker and retail brewer, born Wednesbury;

[2] Rebecca Spittle (36), wife, born Sedgley;

[3] Ellen Spittle (14), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;

[4] Sarah Whitton (15), niece, general servant, born Wednesbury;

[5] May A. Goodwin (20), housemaid, born Tipton:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/10/1861

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Thursday last.....

The following is a list of applicants for wine and spirit licenses.....

H. Spittle, Earps Lane Refused.”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/8/1862

“Annual Licensing Day The following is a list of the applicants for spirit licenses.....

Henry Spittle, Earps Lane.

These will be taken into consideration by the Magistrates on the 28th of September at a special Sessions.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/10/1862

“On Thursday the following applications for spirit licenses were heard.....

Henry Spittal, Earps Lane, Wednesbury, granted.”

Birmingham Daily Post 16/7/1863

“Wednesbury Mutual Friendly Society Festival.

The annual festival of this old-established society took place on Monday last. The members mustered at the Old Church Schoolroom, and from thence proceeded in procession to the Parish Church where an excellent sermon was preached by the Vicar, the Rev. J. Lyons. The members afterwards separated into three sections, and partook of dinner at the houses of Mr. Henry Spittell, the BLUE BALL, Earps Lane; Mr. Joseph Brittain, the OLD BLUE BALL, Church Hill; and Mr. William Brittain, the ROYAL OAK. The annual balance sheet shows that the society numbers 372 members, and possesses a balance in hand of £3,498 13s 3d.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 19/8/1863

“The anniversary dinner of the Wednesbury Lodges of the Operative Bricklayers took place on Tuesday. The members mustered at a comparatively early hour in the morning, and, headed by the Rifle Corps Band, proceeded in procession, through Darlaston, Walsall, Willenhall, and Bilston, returning to Wednesbury in the afternoon, where, after perambulating the principal streets in the town, and having been joined by friends from the surrounding towns, they sat down to dinner at the house of Mr. Henry Spittle, the BLUE BALL, Earps Lane. Mr. John Sanson presided over a company numbering about 150, and dinner having been disposed of, toast, song, and sentiment followed each other in rapid succession, and contributed to make the evening a very enjoyable one to all present.”

Henry Spittle was also a gas burner and gas cock manufacturer. [1864], [1865]

Bee-Hive 6/2/1864

“Operative Bricklayers Society. The following are the Lodge Houses of this Society.....

37 BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, Wednesbury, Staffordshire.”

Birmingham Daily Post 14/7/1864

“The anniversary of the Wednesbury Mutual Friendly Society, better known, perhaps, as the Old Church Club, was celebrated on Monday, when the members mustered at the Old Church School Room, and marched thence to the Church, where a sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Maurice. About 100 of the members subsequently sat down to dinner at the NEW BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, and the OLD BLUE BALL INN, Church Hill. The annual statement of accounts shows the affairs of the society to be in a prosperous state, there being a balance of £3,519 15s 4d standing to the credit of the society, and 371 members belonging to it. The income during the past year, from all sources, has amounted to £552 19s.”

St. Giles' Rowley Regis Parish Register - Marriages

10th April 1865. Albert Eland Barnsley (22), bachelor, clerk, West Bromwich, father Benjamin Barnsley, manager. Ellen Spittle (18), spinster, Wednesbury, father Henry Spittle, publican.

Sporting Life 14/11/1866

“Mr. Harding's New Shooting and Pedestrian Grounds, Wednesbury.

On Monday last, the announcement that Joe Spittle, a local shot, and Jem Dickens, of Hill Top, would come together for the fifth time, brought out an extraordinary concourse of people. The match was to shoot at thirteen pigeons each, subject to ordinary conditions, for £15 a side.....

[Joe Spittle won 8-4.]

Hearing that Mr. Boothroyd, of Sheffield, wishes to match Mr. G. Clayton, of Birmingham, to shoot a match with J. Spittle, he will accommodate him, for £25 a side, at twenty-five-pigeons, to shoot at the Beacon Barr, near Birmingham. Money ready any time at Mr. Hartwell's LAMP TAVERN, Wednesbury, or at Henry Spittle's, BLUE BALL, Wednesbury.”

Henry Spittle was also a gas cock maker. [1868], [1870], [1872]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 18/6/1868

“United Order of Free Gardeners.

At a district meeting held at Brother Spittle’s BLUE BALL, Wednesbury, after the general business of the quarterly meeting, it was resolved to present, as a mark of respect to Mr. Thomas Sturmey, brass lock manufacturer, of Temple Bar, Willenhall, a massive gold watch guard, and address, in acknowledgement of his perseverance and unremitting attention to the duty of district secretary for the past eleven years.”

Birmingham Daily Post 5/1/1870

“At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, Henry Spittle, the BLUE BALL INN, and Elizabeth Griffiths, Fallings Heath, were charged with having had their respective houses open during prohibited hours on Christmas Day. There being some extenuating circumstances in the cases, the defendants were merely ordered to pay costs. Thomas Mills, the RED LION INN, was charged with a like offence, but the evidence being incomplete, the case was dismissed.”

1871 Census

13, Earps Lane

[1] Henry Spittle (48), innkeeper, born Wednesbury;

[2] Rebecca Spittle (47), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] Mary Whitton (17), niece, born Wednesbury;

[4] William T. Barnsley (5), grand-son, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 12/7/1872

“The Wednesbury Mutual Friendly Society.

The annual festival of this old-established and flourishing society took place on Monday. After attending Divine service in the Parish Church, the members repaired to the BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, and sat down to an excellent repast. The statement of account showed that the income for the year had amounted to £692 7s 2d, and the disbursements to £640 4s 8d, and the society possesses a revenue fund of £4,116 13s 6d.”

Cannock Chase Examiner 26/9/1874 - Advert

“Henry Spittle, BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, Wednesbury.

Begs to return his best thanks for past favours, and respectfully solicits a continuance of the same.

Superior Wines and Spirits, Bottled Ales and Stout.

A large Club-room adopted for Public and other Meetings, Dinners, &c.”

Cannock Chase Examiner 31/10/1874

“On Monday evening a very strong muster of the members of Good Samaritan Lodge, No.2888, Manchester Unity of Odd Fellows, took place at the BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, Wednesbury, on which occasion Host Spittle invited the members to dinner with the view of inaugurating the removal of the lodge to his house. After full justice had been done to a very excellent spread, Brother Burghope was called to the chair, and PG Brother Richard Tillison, secretary, to the vice-chair. The Chairman gave the usual loyal and patriotic toasts, which were well received.....”

Midland Examiner 30/1/1875

“On Monday evening the annual dinner of the members of Foresters Court, No.2873, Court Empire, took place at the BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane. An excellent spread was provided by Host Spittle, and a good attendance of members were present.....”

Forest of Dean Examiner 19/2/1875

“Henry Spittle, landlord of the BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, Wednesbury, was summoned for having his house open during illegal hours. Mr. Sheldon defended.

Police-constable Green deposed that on Friday morning, the 29th ult, about one o’clock in the morning, he was on duty in High Street, and saw a man come out of the BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane. He went to the door and rapped. Defendant said, ‘Who’s there?’ Witness said, ‘Police.’ He opened the door, and he asked if he had anyone in. Defendant said, ‘No.’ Witness walked into the back room and saw three men there. They asked him to drink, but there was nothing in the jug before them. There was something in the glasses. They said they would have another pot, and in reply to inquiries defendant said he thought he had some more eggs. He waited to see if there would be any more brought and a jug was brought in a few minutes. He was asked to drink and he did to see what it was. He told the men that they had better come out. Defendant said the men were friends of his, they had been to the pantomime. Two of the men were Wednesbury people. He did not see anyone pay for anything.

Cross-examined: He was perfectly sober. He was in the house about ten minutes. He told him that the man he first saw come out had been looking after his horse. He believed it was raining. He did not know who said 'We will have another jug.' He had had some drink at the RISING SUN about ten o'clock. He did not stay to see the house closed. He did not know if he was in three other public houses that night. He did say at defendant's that it was good and they had better have some more. He was told that they were friends defendant had in the house. He did not report the case until the afternoon of the next day. He had been reported himself for being in another house that morning. He was at Eadburr's Lane. He did not say in defence that he should not have been there if he had not been drinking at defendant's. It was five o'clock the next day when he reported. Defendant did not tell him that his friends had been out in his own vehicle.

Superintendent Holland: Did not you go the next morning to Bilston with a prisoner, which accounts for you not having made the report? Witness: Yes, I had forgotten that.

Mr. Sheldon addressed the bench for the defence at great length. His defence was that the persons in the defendant's house were private friends, and that he was not amenable to the information, under the exemption clauses of the Licensing Act of last year. He called the defendant, who said he was asked on the day in question to provide a horse and trap and two others to take three friends to Wolverhampton. It was ten minutes to twelve o'clock when they got back to his house from Wolverhampton. It was a very rough night, and when they arrived at his house he told them that he had a nice piece of supper, if they would partake of it, they were as welcome as himself. He never charged, and never intended to charge anything for what they had. They were all personal friends of his, and he entertained them at his own expense.

The magistrates said they would take Mr. Spittle's word, and the summons would be dismissed."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 13/9/1880

"A petition has been filed in the Walsall Bankruptcy Court, on behalf of Henry Spittle, of the BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, Wednesbury, licensed victualler and gas fitting manufacturer."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 25/9/1880

"Yesterday afternoon a meeting of the creditors of Henry Spittle, landlord of the BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane and gas fittings manufacturer, 13, Earps Lane, Wednesbury, was held at the offices of Messrs. Thursfield and Messiter, solicitors, High Street, Wednesbury. Mr. Edwin Proctor, of West Smethwick, was elected chairman.

The statement of accounts showed unsecured creditors £1,057 9s 11d; secured £734 18s 5d; total £1,792 8s 4d. The available assets for unsecured creditors were estimated at £659 9s 7d. Mr. Messiter, on behalf of the debtor, offered a composition of 5s in the pound, and after some discussion the creditors rejected the offer, and decided to wind up the estate in liquidation."

Birmingham Daily Post 13/11/1880 - Notice

"Re Henry Spittle. In Liquidation. Wednesbury, Staffordshire.

Valuable Freehold Property, including a well-known Old-Licensed Public House.

To be Sold by Auction by Mr. E. B. Scholefield, at the GREEN DRAGON INN, Market Place, Wednesbury, on Monday Next, the 15th day of November, at 6 for 7 o'clock in the evening.....

Lot 2. A very valuable Freehold Old-Licensed House, known by the sign of the BLUE BALL INN, in Earps Lane, Wednesbury, comprising three Attics, two Bed Rooms, two Closets, large Club Room, Liquor Vault, Smoke Room, Bar, Tap Room, China Closet, three Cellars, Wine Cellar, Scullery, Brewhouse, Malt and Hop Room. Attached to the premises and belonging thereto are valuable Manufacturing and Business Premises, comprising Casting Shop, Turning Shop, Engine Shed, Forging Shed, Stable and Cowhouse, with Loft over, and large Yard, with draw-in gate road.

This Lot will also comprise the Freehold Messuage adjoining the said Licensed Public House, containing two Bed Rooms, Parlour, Kitchen, Cellar, Brewhouse, Yard, and Out-buildings, such Messuage being lately in the occupation of Alfred Barnsley, but being now void."

1881 Census

13, Earps Lane – BLUE BALL INN

[1] Jesse Wilkes (25), publican, born West Bromwich;

[2] Maria Wilkes (24), wife, born West Bromwich;

[3] George Wilkes (1), son, born West Bromwich;

[4] Jane Lucas (18), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Wednesbury Herald 18/6/1881

“James Wilkes, landlord of the BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, was summoned for keeping his house open during prohibited hours on the 8th inst. Mr. Sheldon defended.

Police-sergeant Curtis stated that on the night in question at 11.40 he visited the defendant’s house in company with Police-constable Noble and heard some persons laughing in one of the rooms. He rapped once at the door, and the wife of the defendant opened it, but on seeing witness she shut the door again. It was afterwards opened and in the tap room found John Hughes, Rosannah Hughes, and Thomas Stanley. On the table was a jug containing ale which the landlady said belonged to the servant. Stanley said he had come to the house for some eggs.

By Mr. Sheldon: He did not know that Hughes was in the employ of the defendant, there was only one pint of ale in the tap room The stipendiary said he thought the police acted properly in bringing the case before the Court, however, he did not think the evidence would warrant him in convicting defendant, and he should therefore be discharged.”

London Gazette 10/2/1882

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Oldbury.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Jesse Wilkes, residing at the BREWERS ARMS, Spon-lane, West Bromwich, in the county of Stafford, and carrying on business there as a Retail Brewer, and also carrying on business as a Licensed Victualler at the BLUE BALL INN, Earps-lane, Wednesbury, in the said county.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Mr. William Shakespeare, 51, Church-street, Oldbury, in the county of Worcester, on the 24th day of February, 1882, at eleven o’clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 7th day of February, 1882.

Wm. Shakespeare, 51, Church-street, Oldbury, near Birmingham, Solicitor for the said Debtor.”

Wednesbury Herald 17/2/1883

“Ancient Order of Foresters, Court Empire, 2873. The members of this Court met on Tuesday evening last, at the BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, Wednesbury, being the 20th anniversary of the Court, when 40 members sat down to a very substantial supper, provided by the host, Mr. Whitehall. After ample justice was done, and the cloth was drawn, the chair was taken by C. Smith PDCR, and the vice chair by W. Keen PCR. During the evening Brother John Rogers, secretary, was presented with a large oil painting of himself, executed by Mr. G. Lowe, the free gift of the members, for valuable services rendered to the Court.....”

Lichfield Mercury 26/2/1886

“Cases of swine fever were reported to the Chief Constable last week as having occurred on the premises of Joseph Hyden, Boney Hay, Burntwood, and Henry Whitehall, publican, Wednesbury. One pig died in each case.”

Birmingham Daily Post 18/7/1888

“At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, William Bird, BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, was summoned for having assaulted Police-constable Williams.

The officer’s evidence was to the effect that at about half-past twelve on the night of the 28th ult, whilst on duty in the Vicarage Road, his attention was called to a fight in a yard there rented by the defendant, and on going in he found perhaps twenty men there, several of whom were stripped, and some of whom had evidently been fighting. He asked what was the matter, and someone replied that it was all over; they had settled it. The defendant also said, ‘What is that to you? Get out of my yard; you have no right here,’ and pushed him across the yard, afterwards pushing him roughly into the street, and using threats. Police-constable Parton afterwards came, and was also threatened by the defendant.

The defence was that the defendant was giving a birthday party to about forty of his friends and customers, and that when Williams entered he annoyed some of the men, who threatened him, but that he was not threatened by the defendant himself. Ultimately, to save him from being molested, the defendant put him out into the road. Two of the men did come to blows, but they were soon separated.

The Stipendiary said the birthday festivities were no doubt too freely indulged in, and the policeman was fully justified in going in, but perhaps he would have shown more wisdom if he had gone out sooner. Under the circumstances the justice of the case would be met by the defendant being ordered to pay the costs, 18s 6d. Order made accordingly."

1891 Census

13, Earps Lane – BLUE BALL INN

[1] William Bird (36), brewer, born Wednesbury;

[2] Hannah M. Bird (39), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] Joseph Owen (43), boarder, bricklayer, born Wellington, Shropshire;

[4] Emily A. Garratt (17), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/10/1891

"William Bird of the BLUE BALL INN, Wednesbury, was summoned at the instance of Mr. Morris (inspector under the Food and Drugs Act) for supplying whisky that was not of the quality required. Mr. W. S. Smith appeared for the defence.

Evidence was given of the purchase on August 28 of half a pint of whisky, which on analysis was found to be 34 degrees under proof. Mr. Smith said he relied on the case of 'Sandys v Small.' He should prove that there was, in 'Sandys v Small,' a notice posted, though, as in the other case, the purchaser did not see it. He produced the notice, which was, 'All spirits sold at this establishment are diluted according to price.'

The Stipendiary said he did not know what that meant; and in the course of a discussion that followed he pointed out that the notice in the case of 'Sandys v Small' was all 'liquors sold here are mixed – 28 and 29 Vic. 8 and 9.' Mr. Smith, for the defence, read the decision of Chief Justice Cockburn in that case, and said the 8th clause did not apply.

The defendant said the notice had been in the bar for three and a half years, and it was impossible for anyone to stand in front of the bar window without seeing it. The barmaid was also called.

The Stipendiary said the case did not come under either 'Sandys v Small' or 'Morris v Johnson.' In the first place, the notice did not convey to the purchaser the idea that the article he got was not whisky. The price was named by the barmaid without a word to indicate that it was of low quality, and the liquor was not of such a low price as that the notice would apply. Then the notice, worded as it was, would not protect a man under Clause 8. It was uncertain, but the one in 'Sandys v Small' was certain. He imposed a fine of 20s and costs."

Birmingham Daily Post 23/8/1893

"At Wednesbury Police Court yesterday, William Bird, the BLUE BALL, Earps Lane, was summoned for having permitted gaming in his house on the 22nd and 29th ult. Mr. A. Whitehouse defended.

The evidence of Police-constables Farrell and Burton was to the effect that on the first-named day 'drawing' for walking-sticks, which a hawker had brought in, took place; and that on the second day three games at bagatelle were played for beer, bets being also made by some of the men present, and money being handed over whilst the landlord was in the room. Whilst he was out fetching a quart of ale which had been played for, the two losers arranged to play which should pay for it; and on his return he was asked to wait for the money, as they were playing which should pay.

In cross-examination they said there was a placard in the room prohibiting gambling and swearing.

Mr. Whitehouse said his client admitted the offence with regard to the sticks, but denied that he had any knowledge on the second day that any irregularities were going on. He had kept different public houses for twenty-four years without any complaint having been made against.

The Stipendiary dismissed the summons with regard to the 22nd on payment of costs, and imposed a fine of 5s and costs in the other, holding that it was proved that the defendant knew that the third match was being played for beer."

Birmingham Daily Post 26/8/1893

“The first sitting of the Borough Bench for licensing purposes for the parish of Wednesbury took place yesterday.... Notice of opposition to renewal had been served upon the occupier of each of the premises where there had been a conviction for offence against license, except in the case of William Bird, of the BLUE BALL, Earps Lane, who was fined at the last court day for permitting gaming.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 30/9/1893

“The adjourned licensing session for Wednesbury borough took place yesterday....

There were ten adjourned cases, the police objecting to the renewals on the grounds of convictions; but all the licenses were renewed, with suitable admonitions and cautions.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 12/1/189 - Advert

“To Brewers, Publicans, and Others.

Important Sale of Freehold Fully-Licensed House, with Model Brewery, BLUE BALL, Earps Lane, Wednesbury, and Freehold Cottage Property.

Bill and Son have been favoured with instructions from Mr. William Bird to Sell By Auction, on the Premises, on Tuesday, January 22, 1895, at Seven o'clock in the evening precisely....

Lot 1. All that Freehold Fully-Licensed Public House, known as the BLUE BALL INN, with Cottage adjoining, situate in Earps Lane, Wednesbury, together with the Model Steam Brewery, Stabling, and Storehouses at the rear. The Public House is well fitted, and contains Bar, Smoke Room, Tap Room, Sitting Room, Kitchen, Club Room, five Bed Rooms, Spirit Store, excellent Cellarage with private Yard, and every business and domestic convenience. The Brewery, which has a four-quarter Steam Plant, is built on the Tower principle, and is fitted up in most modern style. There is an excellent supply of well water. The whole of the premises are well and substantially built, and are in a good state of repair.

The Cottage produces a rental of £13 per annum, and the Public House (which is at present in the occupation of the owner) is well worth a rental of £55 per annum. It has only changed hands once in thirty years, and has been in the occupation of the present owner for the past seven years, and he is now selling in consequence of ill health. Immediate possession would be given to a purchaser, who would be required to purchase at a valuation in the usual way the whole of the fixed and loose Brewery Plant, Casks, Horses, Carts, &c, the Public House Fixtures, Fittings, Furniture, Utensils, and the Stock-in-trade, both in the Brewery and Public House.

It is probable that arrangements could be made for the purchaser to secure the tied trade of two other Public Houses in Wednesbury belonging to the vendor. At the present time there is no ale and stout bottling business carried on in Wednesbury, and these premises are eminently suitable for the establishment of such a business.”

Wednesbury Herald 8/6/1895

“Richard Bridgwood, of Vale Street, Ruiton, was charged with stealing 1s from a till, the property of William Bird, BLUE BALL, Earps Lane, Wednesbury, on Saturday afternoon. It is alleged that prisoner first took the money and then hid it in a wall in a closet at the rear of the house, where it was found by Police-constable Woolley. Prisoner was remanded until Friday.”

Wednesbury Herald 29/6/1895 - Advert

“BLUE BALL, Earps Lane, Wednesbury.

Unreserved Clearing-out Sale of the Surplus Brewing Utensils, Household Furniture, also a substantial Set of Double Harness (silver-mounted), One Set of Gig Harness, Driving Reins, Collars, Bridles, and sundry Harness, and a number of Well-Built Vehicles, comprising nearly new Landau Phaeton, by eminent Builder; capital Pony Phaeton, upholstered; Greengrocer's Cart, strong Spring Cart, a useful Dog Cart, Spring Hand Cart, Maltster's Cart, Cushion-tyred Bicycle, and other Effects.

Mr. L. C. Price has been favoured with instructions to Sell by Auction, on the premises above, on Monday, July 1st, 1895.

Sale to Commence at 11 o'clock, Usual conditions.

Auctioneer's Offices, 32, Union Street, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 31/8/1895

“At Wednesbury Borough Police Court yesterday, William Bird, a proprietor of public houses, residing at Dudley Port, was charged with refusing to quit the BLUE BALL HOTEL, Earps Lane.

Mr. Sharpe, who appeared to prosecute, stated that the defendant was formerly the owner of the licensed premises, and disposed of them to Mr. Charles William Exley, a short time ago. On several occasions recently the defendant had visited the place, and on the night of the 23rd inst he visited the house, accompanied by a pugilistic individual, known as ‘Joey.’ The defendant described in the smoke room ‘Joey’ as a light weight, who was prepared to fight any man his own weight. He backed ‘Joey’ and went so far as to place a sovereign in ‘Joey’s’ hand in order to make a match. Mr. Rollinson, the prosecutor’s manager, hearing the conversation, directed ‘Joey’ to leave, and as he refused to do so he was speedily ejected. Defendant entered into conversation with customers, and as he became abusive, and challenged several persons, he was requested to leave, but he refused.

Witnesses having been called in support of Mr. Sharpe’s statement, defendant denied that he refused to quit, but admitted that something took place respecting a challenge to fight. His reason for visiting the hotel was to have a settlement respecting financial matters.

The Chairman (Mr. W. H. Lloyd) said the magistrates regarded it as a serious offence, and fined defendant £2 and costs.”

William Bird was also the licensee of the JUNCTION, Trowse Lane. [1896]

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/2/1897

“On Saturday night a meeting of engineers, stokers, &c, was held at the BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, Wednesbury, under the auspices of the Engine Drivers, Crane Drivers, Hydraulic and Boiler Tenders Amalgamated Protection Union for the purpose of furthering the agitation in favour of discountenancing Sunday labour and late hours on Saturday.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/7/1899

“Mr. J. A. Evans has at considerable expense had a new quoiting pitch laid at the rear of the BLUE BALL HOTEL headquarters of the Wednesbury and District Quoit League.”

J. A. Evans, Wednesbury Brewery, Earps Lane. [1900]

Birmingham Daily Post 21/3/1900 - Advert

“Wanted, Man, to Assist in Brewing and make himself useful.
BLUE BALL, Earps Lane, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, Man, to Assist in Brewing and make himself useful.—Blue Ball, Earps Lane, Wednesbury.

1901 Census

13, Earps Lane

[1] John A. Evans (46), publican, born Openshaw, Lancashire;

[2] Elizabeth Evans (41), wife, born Manchester;

[3] Florence B. Evans (21), daughter, born Manchester;

[4] Amy B. Evans (9), daughter, born Manchester;

[5] Annie Porris (34), domestic servant, born Worcester:

Blackcountryman (Summer 2014)

‘Colliery Fatality at Wednesbury’ from a newspaper of June 1906.

“On Friday an inquest was held at the BLUE BALL INN, Wednesbury, on the body of John David Cooper (45), pikeman, formerly residing in Earps Lane, Wednesbury, who was killed whilst following his employment at the Barebone Colliery, Leabrook, Wednesbury, on Tuesday, 29th ult. Mr. W. N. Atkinson (chief inspector of mines) attended.

Laura Maud Cooper, the widow, formally identified the body.

The son of deceased, Samuel Cooper, horse driver at the colliery, said he went down the pit at six o’clock. Deceased went down into the workings half an hour before witness. At the time of the accident witness and deceased were engaged in shifting dirt, and witness was working about three yards away from his father. Witness heard a noise, and upon turning round he noticed that there had been a fall of coal, and deceased, who was behind him, had been buried. Between five and six tons of coal came down. When got out deceased was lying on his face, and was quite dead. Witness did not see the place tested that morning, but deceased and a man named Samuel Beddows usually went down first in the morning for this purpose.

By Mr. Atkinson: Deceased was knocking out a tree when the fall occurred, and he was using a hammer with a handle 2ft 6in in length. Before deceased could knock the tree out the weight of the coal forced it out, and the fall came without any warning, and there was no cracking, bumping, or any sound whatever. The coal was very hard at the spot, and they had got a hole in ready to fire it when the tree was removed.

Thomas Corfield, one of the proprietors of the colliery, said he was responsible for the underground workings. He tested the roof several times prior to the accident. Witness was facing deceased at the time the coal came down and buried him, and a portion of the coal struck witness on the back, and knocked him out of the way. Deceased was in the act of cutting at the top of the tree, with the object of loosening it, when the crash came, and the weight crushed a part of the tree into shreds. Deceased was an experienced man.

Mr. Atkinson said he had seen the place and it was well-timbered, and he saw nothing to complain about. He, however, thought the place was so crushed that it was difficult to work with safety. He believed the pit was worked as safely as circumstances permitted.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Tipton Herald 10/4/1909

“At a special Court at Wednesbury, on Saturday, Charles Bullock (25), Longmore Street; William Yates (23), Meeting Street; and George Harvey (19), Church Street, all of Wednesbury, were charged with stealing a bottle of whisky, the property of Mary Ann Lowe, licensee of the BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, Wednesbury.

It was alleged that prisoners went into the inn and had some beer. The servant who was in the bar had occasion to leave it. When the prisoners left the house a bottle of whisky was missing, and it was stated that the jug in which they had been served with beer only was found to contain beer and whisky. An empty whisky bottle was found on a rubbish heap at the rear of the premises.

The accused men were remanded.”

Tipton Herald 17/4/1909

“At Wednesbury Police Court, three men named William Yates, Meeting Street; Charles Bullock, Little Hill; and George Harvey, Church Street, all of Wednesbury, were charged with stealing a bottle of whiskey, the property of Alfred Richard Lowe, of the BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, Wednesbury. Mr. A. J. Glover defended.

It was alleged that during the absence of the servant from the bar the prisoners went round the counter and took a bottle of whiskey, which they emptied into some beer and drank in the house. Mr. Glover urged that the men were so drunk that they were not responsible for their actions. One of them could not walk when he got out of the house, and had to be carried home.

Prisoners were each fined 20s and costs or 14 days.”

1911 Census

13, Earps Lane – BLUE BALL INN

- [1] Henry Astbury (49), foreman gas producer and publican, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Eliza Jane Astbury (47), wife, married 28 years, assisting in business, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Florence Hannah Astbury (26), daughter, assisting in business, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Henry Astbury (22), son, gas stoker, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Gertrude Maud Astbury (14), daughter, assisting in business, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Bert Alfred George Astbury (11), son, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Neville Astbury (6), son, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Ivy Irene Astbury (3), daughter, born Wednesbury;

Wolverhampton Express and Star 5/11/1912

“At Wednesbury Police Court this (Tuesday) morning, before the Stipendiary, Henry Astbury, licensee of the BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, Wednesbury, was summoned for selling intoxicating liquors during prohibited hours on September 22nd. Further summons for being on licensed premises during prohibited hours were heard against Titus John and Florence Fellows, Church Hill; Thomas Price, Dale Street; Joseph Longmore, Oakeswell Street; and Harry Evans, Old Union Street, all of Wednesbury. Mr. J. S. Sharpe prosecuted on behalf of the Chief Constable, and Mr. A. J. Glover defended.

Mr. Sharpe said that 11.30pm Sergeant Harris's attention was drawn to the BLUE BALL INN by seeing the electric light flash up in the front bar. Harris went to the window to see what was going on. Miss Astbury, aged 17, the daughter of the licensee, went into the bar, drew several drinks of beer and whiskey, which were carefully measured, and then carried them into the back room. Sergeant Harris saw the defendant Longmore put his hand into his pocket and pull out either a two-shilling-piece or half-a-crown, which he gave to Miss Astbury. She then went back to the bar, and did something with the money, afterwards switching of the light. If that was a genuine entertaining of friend, said Mr. Sharpe, it was rather strange that the drinks should have been so carefully measured, and that there should be a suggestion of paying.

Two other officers were with Sergeant Harris, and one was left at the front while Harris and another constable scaled the wall at the back. The front door was knocked, but there was some hesitation in opening it. Meanwhile the two officers had opened a door at the back, and walked into the room. Mrs. Astbury said those present were her friends, and that they were celebrating her birthday, which was on the following day. A suspicious circumstance was that when Sergeant Harris asked Mrs. Astbury whether those were all the men that were in the house she replied, 'Yes.' After Sergeant Harris told her he should search the house he saw one of the men give Mrs. Astbury a signal. She then said there were two more men upstairs, and as Harris proceeded to go upstairs Mrs. Astbury shouted, 'The police are here. You have come to have some supper, haven't you?' Longmore was deaf, however, and did not hear the warning, while the other man, John Fellows, answered glibly enough, 'I have come to sit up all night with Mr. Astbury' (who was ill), afterwards saying he had come to supper. Between one and two o'clock some of the men were seen to leave, which showed it was a 'cock and bull story' that they were going to sit up all night.

Sergeant Harris gave corroborative evidence of the forgoing statement.

Cross-examined, the sergeant said he was certain Longmore paid for the drinks, but he denied that Mrs. Fellows said she had helped the landlady to prepare the supper. Neither was he aware that Price was the man who killed the duck which the party had for supper (laughter).

Corroboration of Sergeant Harris's evidence was given by Police-constables Day and Bate.

Mr. A. J. Glover outlined the defence, which was supported by Astbury and the others. It was to the effect that a party was being held in honour of Mrs. Astbury's birthday, which was the next day. As several of the men would be employed on the night shift, it was decided to hold the party on the Sunday. Further, if drink was being supplied illegally, it was hardly likely that the light would be flashed on in the manner described by the police.

Florence Fellows said that they had cold duck and pork for supper, and drinks were supplied, but no money whatever was paid. Witness cleared the table and washed up the crocks, afterwards putting them away. She should think they had been washed up nearly an hour when the police came.

The defendant Longmore absolutely denied paying for any drinks, stating that he only had a few coppers in his pocket. He had no silver or gold coins. He also denied that there was any whisky or port wine served. All those present were drinking ale.

Thomas Price spoke to killing the duck and feathering it for Mr. Astbury a few days before, as the landlord told him he was giving it away at his wife's birthday supper.

Miss Astbury, daughter of the licensee, said she served all the drinks that were supplied, but denied taking any whisky or port into the room. Her mother forbade her taking any money for drinks that were supplied after closing time.

The Stipendiary said he did not doubt that it was a bona fide supper party. The case would be dismissed."

The Stage 15/6/1916 - Advert

"Tom Kuner, Manager. At Liberty at once.
Late Manager, Hippo., and Kings Hall, Wednesbury.
Exp. Drama, Var., and Pic. (inelig.).
Address, BLUE BALL, Earps Lane, Wednesbury."

T O M K U N E R,
Manager. At Liberty at once. Late
Manager, Hippo., and King's Hall, Wednesbury.
Exp. Drama, Var., and Pic. (inelig.). Address,
Blue Ball, Earps Lane, Wednesbury.

South Staffordshire Times 25/10/1919 - Advert

"Clarke's Home Brewed Ales, BLUE BALL Brewery, Earps Lane, Wednesbury.
In 36, 18, 9, and 4½ gallon casks.
Also Guinness, Bass and Worthington in bottles."

South Staffordshire Times 15/11/1919

"The BLUE BALL HOTEL, Earps Lane, Wednesbury, was the scene of an accident on Tuesday. Frederick Sant, of 47, Church Street, Wednesbury, a window cleaner, was engaged cleaning the hotel windows of the second storey, when his ladder snapped into three pieces. He fell to the ground. The ambulance conveyed him to the West Bromwich Hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the leg just below the knee and to insert eight stitches in the right leg, which was terribly gashed. He was only demobilized a month ago, after serving since August 1912. He has a wife and children, the youngest being nine weeks only. It is unfortunate for him, as he was not insured against accidents and has nothing to fall back on whatever. He still lies in hospital in a very serious condition. The accident happened on the second day of his working."

1921 Census

Earps Lane – BLUE BALL INN

[1] William McGill (44), married, licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Vera McGill (18), niece, born Walsall;

[3] Robert Ruff (36), boarder, barman, born Wednesbury;

[4] William Perry (63), boarder, widower, retired licensed victualler, born Bloxwich;

[5] Mary Kerry (50), boarder, born Wednesbury:

William Samuel McGill – see also THREE FURNACES, Brierley Hill; BELL, High Street, Brierley Hill; STAR, Brierley Hill; OLD LEATHERN BOTTLE, Wednesbury; and GEORGE AND DRAGON, Lower High Street, Wednesbury.

Bilston & Willenhall Times 11/4/1925

"The monthly meeting of the Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers Association was held on Wednesday afternoon, at the BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, Wednesbury, when alderman J. H. Sheldon presided....."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/10/1926

"Harriers Runs.....

Wednesbury Harriers meet at the BLUE BALL, Earps Lane, at 3.15pm."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/11/1927

"Cross Country.....

Wednesbury Harriers receive Sunbeam A.C. for a social run at their headquarters, the BLUE BALL, Earps Lane, Wednesbury. Run to commence at 3.30pm."

Rugeley Times 5/10/1929

"New Headquarters for Wednesbury Harriers.

About 30 members of this Club reported at the HORSE AND JOCKEY HOTEL, Wood Green, to participate in a social run of about five miles. The youths, however, only covered a distance of about three miles.....

The above address is the new headquarters of this Club.....

Walsall members of this Club will greatly benefit by the change as they will be a mile nearer their residences. The open country is readily reached, it being only necessary to cover 220 yards of road before the meadowland is reached.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Knowles are to be presented with a hall stand in recognition of their wonderful services to the Club during their tenancy of the Club's previous headquarters."

Tipton Herald 16/1/1937

"Wednesbury lost a well-known townsman, when on Monday Mr. John W. Knowles passed away after a short illness. A native of the town, he was 59 years of age.

Mr. Knowles was best known to hundreds, even thousands, of Wednesbury and Midland people as a sportsman and licensed victualler. In his younger days he was a professional footballer, and the clubs with which he was connected included Cannock Town, Wednesbury Old Athletic, Darlaston, Dudley Town, and West Bromwich Albion. He was known as a nippy inside-forward, and occupied each of the three positions in the centre of the attack.

He became a licensee when he took over the UNION INN, Union Street, Wednesbury, and he remained there for a period of nine years, before moving to the OLD BUSH INN, Great Bridge. He returned to Wednesbury to take over the license of the BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, which he retained for five years, and during the past four years he has held the position of steward at the Charlemont Social Club and Institute, Stone Cross, where he took a keen interest in all sports, and was extremely popular with the whole of the membership. He was previously a member of the Wednesbury, Darlaston and District Licensed Victuallers Association, and when he was at the BLUE BALL INN he was prominently associated with the Wednesbury Harriers, being a vice-president. His son was a member of the Harriers.

Mr. Knowles leaves a widow and two sons.....”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 7/2/1936

“‘There is no opposition as far as the Churches are concerned, and one might almost say my application has their blessing,’ stated Mr. S. W. Smith at Wednesbury annual Licensing Sessions, yesterday, when he made application on behalf of Messrs. Darbys Brewery Co., for a provisional order sanctioning the removal of the license of the BLUE BALL INN, Earps Lane, to a site at the junction of Rydding Lane and Hall Green Road.

Mr. R. H. Norris, for J. Hanson and Sons Ltd., Dudley, owners of the GOUGH ARMS, nearly half a mile from the new site, opposed the application on the grounds that there was no necessity for another licensed house in the area. Mr. Smith said that the opposing parties’ house was in the borough of West Bromwich, and Mr. Smith alleged they were trying to seize trade from Wednesbury. ‘Is the Bench at West Bromwich coming to rule this Bench?’ he asked. ‘They are in another borough, and we want provision for our own people,’ he said.

The applicants intimated that they would surrender the license of the OLD PACK HORSE, Dudley Street, if the application was granted. ‘We are giving up two houses worth thousands of pounds and are doing excellent trade,’ added Mr. Smith. They would also give the land on which the BLUE BALL INN stood as a gift to the Corporation. The Justices made a provisional order subject to the surrender of the license of the OLD PACK HORSE, and the free conveyance of the other site to the Corporation.”

Walsall Observer 26/6/1937

“At Wednesbury special licensing sessions, yesterday week.....

The justices made a final order sanctioning the removal of the license of the BLUE BALL, Earps Lane, to premises to be erected in Rydding Lane, to be known as the MILLFIELD.”

Closed

The building was used as a laundry.

HENRY SPITTLE,
BLUE BALL INN, EARP'S LANE,
WEDNESBURY,
Begs to return his best thanks for past favours, and respectfully solicits a continuance of the same.

Superior WINES & SPIRITS, BOTTLED ALES AND STOUT.

A large Club-room adopted for Public and other Meetings, Dinners, &c.

1874

Re Henry Spittle.—In Liquidation.—Wednesbury, Staffordshire.—
Valuable FREEHOLD PROPERTY, including a well known
OLD-LICENSED PUBLIC HOUSE.—To be Sold by Auction
BY Mr. E. B. SCHOLEFIELD, at the Green Dragon Inn, Market Place, Wednesbury, on MONDAY NEXT, the 15th day of November, at 6 for 7 o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions which will incorporate the common form conditions of the Birmingham Law Society.

Lot 1.—All those Two FREEHOLD DWELLING HOUSES, being Nos. 15 and 16, in Earp's Lane, Wednesbury, with the Yard, Brew-house, and Outbuildings belonging thereto, the Premises being in the occupation of John Lealan and John Hill, at rents amounting to £20. 16s. a year.

Lot 2.—A very valuable FREEHOLD OLD-LICENSED HOUSE, known by the sign of "THE BLUE BALL INN," in Earp's Lane, Wednesbury, comprising three Attics, two Bed Rooms, two Closets, large Club Room, Liquor Vault, Smoke Room, Bar, Tap Room, China Closet, three Cellars, Wine Cellar, Scullery, Brew-house, Valt and Hop Room. Attached to the Premises and belonging thereto are valuable Manufacturing and Business Premises, comprising Casting Shop, Turning Shop, Engine Shed, Forging Shed, Stable and Cowhouse, with Loft over, and large Yard, with draw-in gate road.

This Lot will also comprise the FREEHOLD MESSAGE adjoining the said Licensed Public-house, containing two Bed Rooms, Parlour, Kitchen, Cellar, Brew-house, Yard, and Out-buildings, such Message being lately in the occupation of Alfred Barnsley, but being now void.

Lot 3.—A desirable Piece of FREEHOLD BUILDING LAND, situate at Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, having a frontage of 9 yards to the main road leading from Darlaston to Walsall, and containing 459 square yards, or thereabouts.

For further particulars, apply to Messrs. Thursfield and Messiter,
Solicitors, Lower High Street, Wednesbury; W. Shakespeare, Esq., Solicitor, Oldbury; or to the Auctioneer, Church Street, Wednesbury.

1880

TO BREWERS, PUBLICANS, AND OTHERS.
IMPORTANT SALE OF
FREEHOLD FULLY-LICENSED HOUSE,
With MODEL BREWERY, "BLUE BALL," Earp's Lane,
Wednesbury, and
FREEHOLD COTTAGE PROPERTY.

BILL and SON have been favoured with instructions from Mr. Wm. Bird, to SELL by AUCTION, on the Premises, on TUESDAY, January 22, 1895, at Seven o'clock in the evening precisely, subject to conditions then to be produced—

Lot 1.—All that FREEHOLD FULLY-LICENSED PUBLIC-HOUSE, known as "THE BLUE BALL INN," with COTTAGE adjoining, situate in Earp's Lane, Wednesbury, together with the MODEL STEAM BREWERY, Stabling, and Storehouses at the rear. The Public-house is well fitted, and contains Bar, Smoke Room, Tap Room, Sitting Room, Kitchen, Club Room, five Bed Rooms, Spirit Store, excellent Cellarage, with private Yard, and every business and domestic convenience. The Brewery, which has a four-quarter Steam Plant, is built on the Tower principle, and is fitted up in most modern style. There is an excellent supply of well water. The whole of the premises are well and substantially built, and are in a good state of repair.

The Cottage produces a rental of £13 per annum, and the Public-house (which is at present in the occupation of the owner) is well worth a rental of £55 per annum. It has only changed hands once in thirty years, and has been in the occupation of the present owner for the past seven years, and he is now selling in consequence of ill-health. Immediate possession would be given to a purchaser, who would be required to purchase at a valuation in the usual way the whole of the fixed and loose Brewery Plant, Casks, Horses, Carts, &c., the Public House Fixtures, Fittings, Furniture, Utensils, and the Stock-in-trade, both in the Brewery and Public House.

It is probable that arrangements could be made for the purchaser to secure the tied trade of two other Public Houses in Wednesbury belonging to the vendor. At the present time there is no ale and stout bottling business carried on in Wednesbury, and these premises are eminently suitable for the establishment of such a business.

BLUE BALL, EARP'S LANE, WEDNESBURY.

UNRESERVED Clearing-out Sale of the Surplus BREWING UTENSILS, HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, also a substantial Set of Double Harness (silver-mounted), One Set of Gig Harness, Driving Reins, Collars, Bridles, and sundry Harness, and a number of WELL-BUILT VEHICLES, comprising nearly new Landau Phaeton, by eminent Builder; capital Pony Phaeton, upholstered; Green-grocer's Cart, strong Spring Cart, a useful Dog Cart, Spring Hand Cart, Maltster's Cart, Cushion-tyred Bicycle, and other Effects.

MR. L. C. PRICE has been favoured with instructions to Sell by Auction, on the premises as above, ON MONDAY, JULY 1st, 1895.

Sale to Commence at 11 o'clock. Usual conditions. Auctioneer's Office, 32, Union Street, Wednesbury

BOARD

High Bullen, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Mary Sutton [1828] – [1835]

John Parish [1841] – [1843]

James Parrish [1841] – [1847]

NOTES

1841 Census

High Bullen

[1] James Parish (25), publican, born Staffordshire;

[2] William Bailey (50), butcher, born Staffordshire;

[3] Michael Wiggin (25), butcher, born Staffordshire;

[4] Catharine Wiggin (20), born Staffordshire;

[5] Mary Hughes (20), f.s., born Staffordshire:

James Parrish was also a horse dealer. [1845]

Birmingham Journal 21/11/1846

“On the night of Friday, Mr. William Plows unfortunately sustained injuries from a fall, which terminated his existence in a very short time. He had been going up stairs to bed with his wife, when a weakness suddenly came upon him, and he fell backwards to the bottom of the stairs; he immediately complained of his neck and back, and expressed his fear that he was a dead man. He was taken up and attended to with all speed, but nothing could save him; and on the ensuing night death terminated his sufferings. On Monday an inquest was held at the BOARD TAVERN, Wednesbury, before G. Hinchliffe, Esq, when a verdict of Accidental Death was recorded.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 14/7/1847

“On Friday evening, an inquest was held at the house of James Parish, the BOARDS INN, Wednesbury, before George Hinchliffe, Esq, coroner, on the bodies of two men named William Twall and John Boys, who were killed on Thursday morning by a fall of coal, while at work in a pit of the Messrs. Davis, Wittons Lane, West Bromwich. Evidence was given to show that the pit was properly worked, and that no blame attached to any person, and the jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

BOARD

Market Place, (High Street), WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Charles Adshead Loxton [1850] – [1864]

NOTES

HIGH STREET, WEDNESBURY.
TO WINE AND SPIRIT MERCHANTS AND OTHERS.
TO be SOLD, by PRIVATE CONTRACT, the House, Shop, Warehouses, Stables, Cart-house, Garden, Fixtures, Goodwill, and Stock in Trade of the late Charles Adshead Loxton, by his executors.—Apply to Mr. Jno. Loxton, Architect, Wednesbury.

1865

Charles Adshead Loxton = Charles Ashted Loxton

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/3/1851

“Wednesbury. Proposed Application of the Public Health Act.

At the Public Office, on Wednesday last, Thomas Webster Rammell, Esq, one of the Government Inspectors appointed under the Public Health Act, entered upon an enquiry relative to the sanitary condition of the town. Most of the influential inhabitants of the town and neighbourhood were in attendance.....

Mr. Seaman, solicitor, read a memorial signed by 2,298 persons, which set forth that the inhabitants were badly supplied with water, and that there was a total want of drainage. The memorial then referred to the frightful devastation caused by the cholera, which was mainly attributable to the filthy state of the town, thereby shewing the imperative necessity of an improved system of sanitary measures to secure the health and well-being of the inhabitants.....

Mr. Charles Ashted Loxton, brewer and spirit merchant, also spoke of the inadequate supply of water, and the expense the inhabitants were put to in obtaining fresh water.”

1851 Census

Market Place

- [1] Charles Adshead Loxton (60), maltster, brewer, and retailer of wines and spirits, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Sarah Loxton (55), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Joshua Loxton (22), son, servant in the trade, born Wednesbury;
- [4] John Loxton (18), son, engineer's apprentice, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Mary Loxton (15), daughter, waiter in the shop, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Samuel Loxton (71), brother, widower, retired japanner, born Wolverhampton;
- [7] Esther Loxton (73), sister, partner, maltster, born Wolverhampton;
- [8] Lois Harrison (67), boarder, widow, annuitant, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Elizabeth Newman (61), wife's sister, unmarried, servant to Lois Harrison, born Wolverhampton;
- [10] William Mear (36), widower, brewer, hostler, &c, born Stapenhill, Derbyshire;
- [11] Ann Gutteridge (19), waiter in the shop, born Wednesbury;
- [12] Elizabeth Vaughan (20), house servant, born Leominster, Herefordshire;

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/12/1852 - Marriages

“On the 14th instant, at the parish church of Wednesbury, by the Rev. Isaac Clarkson, vicar, Mr. Joshua Loxton, second son of Mr. Charles Adshead Loxton, wine and spirit merchant, of Wednesbury, to Miss. Hannah Jeavons, eldest daughter of Mr. Jeavons, of the WHITE LION INN, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Journal 12/5/1855

“At Wednesbury Police Court Abraham Mole, a fitter, was on Tuesday charged, before J. Leigh, Esq, with an assault on the police, under the following circumstances.

It seemed that on Saturday night the defendant entered the liquor vaults of Mr. Loxton, of the Market Place, and asked for drink. Miss Loxton, seeing that he was intoxicated, refused to supply him. He afterwards returned, when the landlord, who is particularly scrupulous in such matters, was in the shop, and told him to leave. The defendant refused, whereupon Constable Bowen was called in. The officer endeavoured by mild means to remove him, and was grossly assaulted. Mr. Sale appeared on the part of the defendant, and a gentleman from the office of Mr. Wilkinson, of Walsall, conducted the prosecution.

Mr. Leigh inflicted a penalty of 40s and expenses.”

Birmingham Journal 22/9/1855

“Rejoicing at the Fall of Sebastopol. The demonstration of loyal and patriotic feeling which the news of the capture of the Russian stronghold evoked, has nowhere exceeded, if it has equalled, the popular ebullition of feeling at the town of Wednesbury on Monday last. Mr. Allin and Mr. Charles Loxton, wine and spirit merchants, set the example, and in a short space of time the subscriptions amounted to a handsome sum.....

The churches, railway stations, manufactories, workshops, and most of the private houses were profusely dressed with brilliantly emblazoned flags and banners. The following were among the most striking.....

Mr. Loxton, wine and spirit merchant, Market Place.

At night the town was brilliantly illuminated. Some of the devices were admirable, among which we particularly noticed those at Mr. Loxton’s.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 11/7/1860

“At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, Joshua Loxton, son of Mr. C. Loxton, innkeeper, appeared to answer a charge of having participated in an affray. The case excited some interest from the fact that the two parties most prominent therein are a publican’s son and a temperance lecturer, the latter being John Kemp, of Bilston. It appeared that on Wednesday last the zealous advocate of total abstinence was lecturing in the market place, when suddenly his platform was upset, and he was ignominiously precipitated to the ground. Mr. Kemp, in making a statement to this effect, said he was assaulted by Mr. Loxton, the defendant, but he did not wish to press the charge, his simple object there being to testify to the fact that the police did their duty.

Mr. Leigh thought it well not to go no further into the case, but reminded all concerned that lecturers in the public thoroughfares were just the same in the eyes of the law as street ballad singers. He advised the advocates of temperance, as well as the believers in malt and hops, to conduct their future proceedings in such a manner as would not give offence.”

1861 Census

Market Place

[1] Charles A. Loxton (70), wine and spirit merchant, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Sarrah Loxton (66), wife, born Wolverhampton;

[3] Sarrah Dufan (24), waitress in shop;

[4] Sarrah Harrison (18), house girl, born Dudley:

Charles Adshead Loxton died in the 4th quarter of 1864.

Birmingham Daily Post 24/2/1865 - Advert

“High Street, Wednesbury.

To Wine and Spirit Merchants and Others.

To be Sold, by Private Contract, the House, Shop, Warehouses, Stables, Cart-house, Garden, Fixtures, Goodwill, and Stock in Trade of the late Charles Adshead Loxton, by his executors.

Apply to Mr. Jno. Loxton, Architect, Wednesbury.”

BOAT

Crankhall Lane, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Chilton [1881]

NOTES

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 14/11/1863

“At the BOAT INN, Crank Hall Lane, Wednesbury, Staffordshire, on Wednesday, November 11, the lovers of the trigger mustered in good force to witness a match between Messrs. White and Spittle, for £10 a side, to shoot at 7 birds each, on the usual conditions, which was won by Mr. Spittle killing his 5 birds, Mr. White 4. A second match was shot between the same gentlemen, at 3 birds each, for £5 a side, which was won by Mr. White killing his 3 birds, Mr. Spittle 2. After which a case of stuffed birds was shot for by 20 members, 5s each, which, after a well-contested match, was won by Messrs. White, Armstrong and Haseldine tying, killing 5 birds each in succession.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 3/10/1881

“On Saturday evening Mr. F. W. Topham, Deputy Coroner, held an inquiry at the BOAT INN, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury, as to the death of George Bates (34), of Oakeswell End, and Catherine Grainger (10), of Wednesbury Bridge, who were drowned under sad circumstances on Thursday night.

The evidence showed that on Thursday evening, at about half-past five o'clock, the girl Grainger, while laying on the side of the Birmingham Canal, in Crankhall Lane, suddenly slipped into the water. The deceased Bates observing what had taken place ran to the spot, and, although unable to swim, courageously jumped into the water after the girl. The canal is of considerable depth at this point, and as neither person came to the surface a few minutes afterwards a man named Farr plunged into the water and brought to the surface the body of Bates, but life was found to be extinct. The girl's lifeless body was found some time afterwards. The bodies were afterwards removed to the malt room adjoining the BOAT INN, and between Thursday night and Saturday morning rats or mice attacked Bates's body and disfigured his face beyond recognition, large portions of the flesh being removed from the bones. Several of the jurymen spoke highly of the gallantry displayed by Bates in endeavouring to save the girl's life.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned in each case.

For a number of years Bates has been a sergeant in the local Volunteers, and his remains will be followed to the Cemetery today by his late comrades headed by their band. Much sympathy is expressed for the deceased's widow and four children, for whom a subscription has been started.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 27/1/1888

“During the present week a granite obelisk has been erected in the Wednesbury Cemetery to the memory of Sergeant Bates, who lost his life while trying to save a girl from being drowned. The obelisk bears the following inscription. ‘This monument is erected in memory of Sergeant George Bates by the officers, non-commissioned officers, privates, and other friends of the F company (Wednesbury) 2nd V.B.S.S. Regiment, who was drowned while gallantly attempting to save the life of Catherine Grainger, 29th September, 1881. Aged 34 years.’”

BOAT

38, Lea Brook Road, (38, Dudley Street), Lea Brook, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Ann Woolley

Messrs. J. A. and A. Thompson, maltsters [1921]

Thomas Oliver Ltd.

Darby's Brewery Ltd.

William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1968]

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Henry Pitt [1834] – [1855]

Thomas Small [1858] – [1865]

James Harding [1866] – [1896]

Francis Joseph 'Frank' Lloyd [1898] – 1905);

Thomas Arthur Reynolds (1905 – []

Joseph Arnold 'Joe' Large [1908] – [1911]

Charles Taylor Snr. [1912] – [1916]

Mrs. Martha Taylor [1921]

Charles Taylor [1921] – [1940]

Martha Taylor [1961] – 1964);

Charles Joseph 'Charlie' Taylor (1964 – 1966);

Peter John Wellings (1966 – [1967]

S Gobey [1973]

Marie Smith [1977]

c1965

1968

NOTES

Dudley Street [1865]

38, Dudley Street [1891]

38, Lea Brook Road [1871], [1881], [1911], [1921], [1939]

Lea Brook Shooting grounds were here. [1870]

BOAT INN and recreation grounds. [1896]

It had recreation grounds. [1872], [1892], [1928]

Rabbit coursing and trotting took place here.

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/5/1836 - Married

“On Wednesday, the 4th instant, Mr. Richard Oldacre, eldest son of Mr. William Oldacre, hat-manufacturer, Wednesbury, to Miss Mary Pitt, eldest daughter of Mr. Henry Pitt, of Lea Brook, near Wednesbury, coal-master.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 16/9/1839 - Advert

“To be Sold, a twenty-horse High-pressure Winding Engine, new Winding Apparatus if required, or without. For particulars apply to Mr. Henry Pitt, BOAT INN, Lea Brook, Wednesbury.”

TO be SOLD, a twenty-horse High-pressure WINDING ENGINE, new Winding Apparatus if required, or without.—For particulars apply to Mr. Henry Pitt, Boat Inn, Lea Brook, Wednesbury.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 6/7/1840 - Advert

"Adelaide Lodge, BOAT INN, Wednesbury.

Mr. Henry Pitt begs to inform the Gentlemen of Wednesbury and its vicinity, that the First Anniversary of the above Lodge will take place on Monday the 13th of July inst, when the company of any friend will be esteemed a favour. Dinner on the table at two o'clock."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 13/1/1841

"Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

John Lawton was indicted for stealing a malt mill, the property of Henry Pitt, at Wednesbury.

The prosecutor stated that on the 16th of December the prisoner went to his house and asked him to allow him to cut his malt mill. After some hesitation, he consented to allow the prisoner to take it home, under pretence of cutting it more conveniently. The prisoner never brought the mill back; and he afterwards found it in the possession of W. Middlemore, a publican, at Walsall, who had bought it of the prisoner for 24s.

The prisoner confessed to Palmer, the constable, that he took the wheel, but that the mill was placed in his hands by Mr. Pitt, to be repaired.

To be imprisoned six months."

1841 Census

Lea Brook

- [1] Henry Pitt (46), coal master;
- [2] Ann Pitt (45), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Ann Pitt (17), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Mary Cottrell (50), servant, born Staffordshire;
- [5] Mariah Salt (14), servant, born Staffordshire;
- [6] John Jevon (28), born Staffordshire;
- [7] Hannah Jevon (21), born Staffordshire;
- [8] Hannah Jevon (4 months), born Staffordshire:

Henry Pitt was also a coalmaster. [1845], [1849], [1850]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/9/1845

"South Staffordshire Junction Railway.

Two lines of Railway having been submitted to the public, connecting the Mineral Districts of South Staffordshire and East Worcestershire with the Midland Railway at or near Alrewas, we the undersigned Merchants, Coal and Iron Masters, Manufacturers, Traders, Agriculturists, and other inhabitants, residing at the boroughs of Wolverhampton, Walsall, and Dudley, at the towns of Wednesbury, Darlaston Bilston, Willenhall, Tipton, West Bromwich, and other places in these districts, also at the city of Lichfield, and its neighbourhood, do hereby express our opinion that the projected South Staffordshire Junction Railway, which will communicate with the Oxford, Worcester, and Wolverhampton Railways, at Dudley, and at Wolverhampton, and with the Grand Junction Railway, and also with the intended Shrewsbury, Wolverhampton, and South Staffordshire Junction Railway, at one Grand Central Station in the town of Wolverhampton, where all the Railways will meet, is the line best calculated to serve the important Mining, Manufacturing, Trading, and Agricultural Interests of the districts and places enumerated, and we promise to it our strenuous support.....

Henry Pitt, coalmaster, Lea Brook, Wednesbury."

Birmingham Journal 27/12/1845

"On Tuesday last one of those sudden and fearful accidents, to which, notwithstanding the greatest care, miners are constantly subjected, occurred in a pit at Lee Brook, Wednesbury, belonging to Mr. Henry Pitt, and by which a young man named Samuel Easthope lost his life.

It appeared from the account given by John Green, a fellow workman, that on Saturday week while they were engaged in one of the workings a quantity of foul air suddenly exploded, by which poor Easthope was so dreadfully burnt that after lingering for a week death put an end to his sufferings. Green had a very narrow escape, and was also burnt, but not dangerously, at the time of the explosion; he was only a few yards from the place where his companion was at work.

The part of the pit where the explosion took place had been examined by the 'doggy,' or overlooker, in the morning with the safety lamp, but he could discover the presence of no foul air, which must have subsequently accumulated, as the men were in the pit three hours before the accident occurred. As it appeared that every care had been taken by the owner of the pit to guard against occurrences of this kind, the Jury, at the conclusion of the inquiry subsequently held before Mr. Hinchliffe, the Coroner, returned a verdict of Accidental Death."

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/2/1851

"We briefly stated in our last paper the particulars of an outrage committed by several Irishmen upon an unfortunate countryman of theirs, named Welch, and which resulted in the death of Welch.

An inquest was held before George Hinchliffe, Esq, coroner, on Friday last, at the house of Henry Pitts, Lea Brook, Wednesbury, on the body of the deceased, who was thirty-nine years of age.

It was proved by the evidence of Peter King, Mark Sarrs, and Michael Welch, that on Sunday night, the 9th of February, Patrick M'Farling, William Morram, Francis Cosgrave, and Patrick Morram, with other Irishmen, were in the road at Lea Brook, after they had left a beershop there, and M'Farling said, 'We will kill the Welchs as soon as we can lay hold of them.' There were several Welchs of the same family living at Lea Brook. The deceased, John Welch, soon after was going along the road, and both Patrick M'Farling and William Morram said the moment they saw him, 'We have one of the birds, now let us be at him,' and Patrick M'Farling, who had a long stick like the handle of a broom in his hand, began beating the deceased violently about the head with it, and William Morram picked up a brick and a large stone, and struck the deceased a terrific blow on the forehead with it, and he fell instantly to the ground, where they continued beating him and kicking him, assisted by Patrick Morram, who kicked him, and Thomas Cosgrave, who jumped violently upon him. They then left him lying in the road apparently dead, and he lay there for a quarter of an hour before any one dare go and remove him to his house.

The party who had attacked him then went to the house of Mark Sarrs, where Micheal Welch, a nephew of the deceased, lodged; they called to him to come out, and said they would serve him the same as the deceased. Patrick M'Farling said, 'I want you out, Welch, I have one of your — killed, and I should serve you the same.' They tried to force the door; but luckily there were several men and women in the house, who secured it. They then broke in the roof of the pantry, but something disturbed them and they went away.

John Welch, the deceased, was afterwards taken to his house, and became sufficiently sensible to say who had struck and kicked him, but shortly afterwards he became insensible, and remained so until his death on the Tuesday following. His skull was dreadfully fractured in the front.

It was proved by Michael Welch, nephew of the deceased, that the prisoners entertained an ill feeling against the deceased, in consequence of the deceased, about four months ago, having summoned M'Farling and William Morram before the magistrates for an assault.

The parties who committed the violence absconded, but sub-inspector William Mills and police-constable George Whittaker succeeded in finding and apprehending Patrick M'Farling and William Morram in Birmingham, and the jury returned a verdict of Wilful Murder against them, and also against Francis Cosgrave and Patrick Morram. The coroner committed the former two to Stafford goal, and issued his warrant for the apprehension of the latter two.

On Tuesday, at the Public Office, before John Leigh, Esq, three men of the party, named Thomas Varley, John Moran, and John Murphy, were charged by Inspector Mills with being accessories to the murder of John Welch, and were committed to take their trial at the next assizes. The evidence was precisely similar to that given at the inquest."

AND

Birmingham Journal 22/3/1851

"Staffordshire Assizes.....

Patrick M'Farling, William Morram, John Morran, Thomas Varley, and John Murphy were indicted for the wilful murder of John Welch, on Sunday, the 9th of February last, at the parish of Wednesbury.....

After a most patient and protracted inquiry, the Jury found the prisoners guilty of manslaughter. M'Farling and William Morram were sentenced to eight months' hard labour; and the others to half the term of punishment."

1851 Census

Lea Brook

- [1] Henry Pitt (55), publican, born Dudley;
- [2] Ann Pitt (54), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Hannah Javons (30), daughter, widow, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Mary Oldacre (13), grand-daughter, born Oldbury, Shropshire;
- [5] Hannah Javons (10), grand-daughter, born Bilston;
- [6] Sarah Robinson (18), house servant, born West Bromwich:

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/1/1852

“An inquest was held at the house of Mr. Pitt, BOAT INN, Lea Brook, Wednesbury, on the body of Catherine Griffiths, aged nine years and nine months, who had been lost from Monday, the 22nd till the 26th. The body was ultimately found by a man named Timothy Stanton in the canal. Verdict, Found Drowned.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1852

“On Wednesday, the annual petty sessions for the Hundred of Offlow South was held.....

The following publicans were cautioned only.....

Henry Pitt, BOAT INN, Wednesbury, open on Sunday.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 1/5/1853

“BOAT INN, Lee Brook, near Wednesbury.

At this new ground, on Whit Monday will be run for the following handicap races.

A mile and a half, £4 to first, and entrance money (2s 6d each) to second; a mile, for a silver watch, or £3 in money, entrance money (2s each) to second; a hurdle race, quarter of a mile, £2 for the first prize, entrance (2s 6d each) to second; open to all comers. The proprietor has spared no expense to make this ground (which is near the Wednesbury station on the South Staffordshire Railway) second to none in the Midland Counties, and intends giving further prizes throughout the year. Entries to be made at the BOAT, as above, or at Mr. Hewson's, Thatched House, Duddeston Row, Birmingham.”

AND

“Handicap Race open to all. Mr. Pitt of the BOAT INN, Wednesbury, will give a silver cup to be run for in a 10 mile handicap race, on Tuesday the 10th inst. Entrances 5s each; the second man to have the entrance money, and the third to save his stakes; entrance to be made on or before 12 o'clock on the day of the race, to Mr. Pitt as above. Wyatt of the Lye Waste, Rhodes of Wolverhampton, and Stepfine of Oldbury have already entered.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 29/5/1853

“At the BOAT INN, Lee Brook, Wednesbury, tomorrow, a silver cup is to be shot for, value £10, at Mr. Pitt's new shooting ground (which is 100 yards square and walled in), by 20 members, at 10s each, 7 birds each, 21 yards rise, 2oz of shot, guns $\frac{3}{4}$ bore, the gun to be held below the elbow till the bird is on the wing; the first best shot to take the cup or the money, and the proprietor will present the second with £2. On the same day a sweepstakes of £10, by 20 members, 10s each, three prizes. Conditions as above. To commence at two. The best blue rocks will be supplied.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/4/1854

“On Monday, Eliza English was committed for stealing two shawls, the property respectively of Mr. Pitt, the landlord of the BOAT INN, Lea Brook, and of Mary Oldacres, his grand-daughter. From the 11th to the 17th instant the prisoner lived as domestic servant in Mr. Pitt's family.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/7/1854

“Walsall Quarter Sessions.....

Eliza English, for stealing, on the 4th April, a silk dress worth £10, the property of Henry Pitt, her master, and a scarf shawl worth 30s, the property of Mary Oldacre, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to four months' imprisonment.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/12/1854

“At the Wednesbury Petty Sessions, held on Tuesday last.....

Henry Pitt, licensed victualler, at Lee Brook, was fined 50s and costs for having kept open his house after the hours allowed by law.”

Birmingham Journal 11/8/1855 - Advert

“To Persons about to Enter the Public Business.

To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, the valuable Old-licensed Public House, known by the sign of the BOAT INN, Lea Brook, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford.

The House is surrounded by the extensive Iron Works of Messrs. Bagnall, the Patent Shaft Company's Works, and Messrs. Solley's, &c. &c. The neighbourhood is densely populated.

The Premises consist of front and back Parlours, Tap Room, Bar, and a private Sitting Room adjoining the Bar, large Club Room, excellent Cellaring, two Brewhouses, Malt Room, lock-up Coach-house, Stabling, Piggeries, and a well stocked Garden.

There is also attached to this excellent House, the Victoria Pedestrian Running Grounds.

A highly respectable Odd Fellows Lodge, consisting of about one hundred members, belongs to the Premises.

The sole reason of the present Proprietor retiring is in consequence of his being advanced in life, and having realised an independent income upon the Premises.

For particulars, apply to Mr. Henry Pitt, upon the Premises.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/8/1855 - Advert

“To Publicans and Others requiring a First-Rate Public House.

Mr. Altree has been favoured with instructions to Dispose of that highly respectable House of Business, the BOAT INN, Lea Brook, Wednesbury, where a new Railway Station is being built opposite; brewing twenty-four bushels per week the year through, and over £400 a year in spirits (proof).

The premises are in first-rate condition, have a commanding appearance, with every convenience, Coach-house, Stabling for ten horses, five Piggeries, large Kitchen Garden, with Fish Pond, half an acre of Land for Pleasure or Racing Ground, where many matches have been run, also large Tea Gardens, the whole of which is walled ten feet high. The present proprietor having been in thirty-nine years, is now retiring.

Apply to Mr. Altree, Auctioneer, Bilston.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/10/1858

“Mr. Thomas Small, landlord of the BOAT INN, Lea Brook, Wednesbury, appeared to prefer charges against Henry Davis, puddler, of Tipton, and William Taylor, also a puddler, of Westbromwich, a charge of having assaulted him and his wife on the night of the 28th ult. Both the prosecutor and his wife were persons advanced in life, and both bore distinct marks of violence on their faces. Mr. Bayley, who appeared to support the complaints, stated that Davis had absconded; Mr. Burbury appeared for Taylor, who had answered to his summons.

The two men were drinking at the BOAT INN, Lea Brook, kept by the prosecutor, on the night in question, and on being refused some ale and spirits at twelve o'clock became very violent, Taylor striking the landlord and Davis the landlady, who went to his assistance. Jugs and glasses were thrown about, and Mr. Small was knocked down and most shamefully used.

The magistrates fined the defendants £5 each, in default to be imprisoned for three months, Mr. Leigh remarking that offences of the kind were becoming very frequent, and that the magistrates had inflicted a severe punishment because they felt that landlords ought to be protected in preserving order in their houses.”

Birmingham Journal 29/10/1859 - Advert

“To Butchers.

To be Let, an old-established Butcher's Shop and House, and Appurtenances thereto, situated at Lea Brook, parish of Tipton. The above is well situated, with good Stabling, Slaughter-house, Coach-house, Piggeries, &c.

Apply to Mr. Thomas Small, BOAT INN, Lea Brook, Wednesbury.”

TO BUTCHERS.
TO be LET, an old-established BUTCHER'S SHOP and HOUSE, and Appurtenances thereto, situated at Lea Brook, parish of Tipton. The above is well situated, with good Stabling, Slaughter-house, Coach-house, Piggeries, &c.—Apply to Mr. Thomas Small, Boat Inn, Lea Brook, Wednesbury.

1861 Census

Lea Brook

- [1] Thomas Small (56), victualler, born Darlaston;
- [2] Jane Small (55), wife, born Tipton;
- [3] John Small (28), son, victualler's agent, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Ann Small (23), daughter, general servant, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Mary Small (22), daughter, general servant, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Joseph Small (19), son, labourer in iron works, born Rugeley;
- [7] Albert Small (17), son, moulder, born Rugeley;
- [8] William Small (15), son, scholar, born Rugeley;
- [9] Richard Small (12), son, scholar, born Tipton:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/8/1862

"At the Wednesbury Police Court, on Tuesday, Nicholas Sheppy and Thomas Barker were charged with committing a burglary upon the premises of Mr. Thomas Small, the BOAT INN, Lee Brook. Prosecutor was called up about five o'clock on Sunday morning by a man named Harris, who informed him that his house had been broken open. On going downstairs he found that the sitting room shutters had been forced, the window broken, and a quantity of wearing apparel, together with a shoulder of mutton, stolen therefrom.

Edward Harris, watchman at Mr. Russell's factory, said that at about half-past four o'clock he was on his way home, when he saw two men, one standing outside the prosecutor's house, and the other getting through the window. The man outside had a bundle of clothes in his arms. The man inside was the prisoner Sheppy, but the other he could not swear to, although, to the best of his belief, Barker was the man who stood outside.

Inspector Gasson deposed to taking Sheppy into custody at his own house on Saturday morning, and to finding the clothes produced on the floor, together with a poker, which corresponded with marks on the shutters of prosecutor's premises.

Police-constable Ashbury said he apprehended Barker on Monday morning, and found a couple of skeleton keys in his possession.

The Bench, after a careful hearing, committed both prisoners for trial at the Assizes, but admitted Barker to bail."

[At Staffordshire Winter Assizes Nicholas Thomas Shippey was found guilty and was sentenced to fifteen months' imprisonment with hard labour. William Barker was acquitted.]

Birmingham Daily Post 18/4/1864

"Mr. E. Hooper, District Coroner, on Saturday afternoon, opened an enquiry at the house of Mr. Thomas Small, the BOAT INN, Lea Brook, Wednesbury, respecting the death of Thomas Chalk, a miner, aged thirty-eight years, who had been killed on the 12th inst, at the colliery of Messrs. Grazebrook and Aston, at Gospel Oak.

Patrick Mack said that the deceased and himself were 'loaders,' in the employment of the firm, and that on the previous Tuesday they were both in the 'dip,' near a gate road, which was behind a pillar where the workings had been 'spragged.' They were engaged in 'holeing,' when a rail came off the side, and a large quantity of coal fell upon the deceased. The deceased was knocked down, and much injured, his back being severely hurt, and one of his thighs and wrist badly fractured. The deceased was taken to his home, where Mr. Thomas Underhill, surgeon, of Toll End, was promptly in attendance, but all that medical skill could do was fruitless.

In reply to the Coroner, the witness stated that in the morning in question, the pit had been examined by Thomas Woolley, the doggy, but he could not say that that portion where the deceased had been at work was thoroughly looked after. The witness had been employed at the colliery for a month, but had not seen, and did not know anything of, the colliery rules; but he had heard that the doggy was bound to examine the workings before the men commenced their employment.

The Coroner here observed that the efforts of the Government would be perfectly futile unless the workmen could be induced to look after their own safety. Another fact, of which the men appeared to be ignorant, was that any neglect of the colliery rules rendered them criminally responsible. According to the evidence of Mack, the men were accustomed to descend the shaft with naked candles; there was no proper means of communication from the pit to the bank.

Mr. Wallis, one of the doggies, stated that he had made an examination of the pit on the morning in question, and of the particular spot where the fall had occurred. He had never read over the rules to the last witness when he employed him.

In reply to further questions by the learned Coroner, the witness evinced sad ignorance of the colliery rules, and was informed by Mr. Hooper that he had rendered himself liable to a penalty of 40s, or three months' imprisonment. The Coroner added that he would communicate with the Government Inspector on the subject.

The general tenour of the evidence went to prove that a slip had occurred in the seam of coal. The Coroner, in sending the case to the Jury, observed that he considered it most disrespectful to the Jury and himself that no person had been deputed to attend the enquiry on the part of the owners of the colliery. He had no doubt, in this case, that the rules had been infringed, and he was equally positive that, if they had been carried out in their integrity, such accidents would be avoided. So far as he was concerned, he was fully determined to see that the colliery rules were strictly adhered to, and he desired that this should be distinctly understood by colliery owners. The inquest was then adjourned until Wednesday, for the attendance of Mr. J. P. Baker, Government Inspector of mines."

Birmingham Daily Post 21/4/1864

"Mr. E. Hooper, yesterday, held an inquest at the house of Mr. Thomas Small, the BOAT INN, Wednesbury, on the body of Thomas Chalk, aged thirty-eight, a miner.

Mr. Joseph Woodley, the ground bailiff for Messrs. Grazebrook and Company, said he was not at all aware that the Coroner was about to hold an inquiry in the course of the past week, or he should most certainly have attended. The Coroner remarked that the explanation was satisfactory. He fully believed that the firm were most anxious to bring into operation any suggestions for the protection of their workmen, but he desired that the butties and doggies of the pit should distinctly understand that it was his intention to see that the Colliery Rules were carried out in their full integrity.

Mr. Baker, after having closely questioned the witnesses observed that he had examined the spot where the occurrence had taken place, and that he found that a piece of coal had fallen from above where the 'sprags' had been put in. He considered that the 'sprags' should be of greater length, in addition to the shorter pieces of timber. He must state that there was an ample supply of timber in the pit, and that the men were personally culpable for not having used it.

The Jury found a verdict of Accidental Death, with a recommendation that the suggestion of the Coroner and Government Inspector should be carried out at the works."

Birmingham Journal 14/10/1865 - Advert

"Old-Licensed House, the BOAT, Lea Brook, Wednesbury.

To be Disposed Of, the Lease, Licenses, and Possession of the above well-known Old-licensed House, near Wednesbury. Very roomy convenient Premises, held upon fourteen years lease. No Goodwill required. In-coming £200.

Apply to John Gray, 35½ Cannon Street, Birmingham; or to R. L. Courtney and Son, West Bromwich."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 7/7/1866

"J. Harding, Licensed Victualler, the BOAT INN, Lea Brook, Wednesbury.

J. H. respectfully informs his friends and the public that he has taken the above house, with the spacious running and shooting grounds, and hopes by strict attention to business, and keeping wines, spirits, ales, stouts, &c, of the best quality, to meet with a liberal share of their kind patronage and support. First-class American cork bagatelle table. American bowling saloon, &c."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 21/7/1866

"J. Harding of the BOAT INN, Lea Brook, Wednesbury (late of the COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Station Street, Walsall), is open to shoot any man in the world, for £25 or £50 a side, at 50 starlings each, 1oz of shot, 21 yards rise, the ground the boundary, H and T traps, one man to supply the birds, the trapper and referee to be chosen on the ground, ¾in bore guns, the gun to be held below the elbow until the bird is on the wing. To shoot at Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury, and Harding to allow £5 for expenses. Bells Life to be stakeholder. J. H. has sent us £5."

Birmingham Daily Post 2/8/1866 - Advert

“Assembly Room, BOAT INN, Lea Brook. Sale by R. L. Courtney and Son.

About 150 Lots of Modern Household Furniture, large Ale Casks and other Effects, without reserve, on Monday Next, August 6. To commence at Eleven o'clock.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/8/1866

“Shooting Match for Fifty Pounds. BOAT INN, Lea Brook, Wednesbury.

A match which attracted all the shooting fraternity of the locality for miles round came off yesterday at Mr. Harding’s grounds, the competitors being the host, one of the crack shots of the Midlands, and Mr. Warrall, of Portsmouth, a well-known hand. To shoot at 50 starlings each, for £25 a side, 1¼oz shot, 19 yards rise, 60 yards boundary; hand T traps. As the match progressed the greatest interest was evinced. At 12 birds they were on level terms, having killed 8 each. From this point, however, Mr. Harding, who was slightly the favourite in the betting, gradually drew away, and eventually won by four birds, dropping 35 out of his quantum, Mr. Warrall killing 31 only.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 18/8/1866

“Harding v Rowson.

This was an action tried in the Sheriff’s Court at Newtown, on Saturday last, before the Under-Sheriff, A. Howell, Esq, and a respectable jury, and was brought under the following circumstances.

The plaintiff is Mr. J. Harding, of the SEA [sic] BOAT INN, Wednesbury, and the defendant, Mr. H. Rowson, of the Cambrian Vaults, Newtown, and it appears that in January last the defendant had a pigeon match for a mare, and among other conditions was ‘double guns, 19 yards rise use of one barrel, or 24 yards rise use of both barrels.’ Amongst the competitors was the plaintiff Harding, and at the conclusion of the match for the mare Harding put up a double-barrelled gun by 12 subscribers at 20s each, conditions same as for the mare. The plaintiff Harding took up two chances himself, and the other competitors deposited their £10 with the defendant as stakeholder until the match should be fairly concluded. About the middle of the match it was discovered that Harding, although only professing to use one barrel, and standing at 19 yards rise, was in reality using both barrels each time, and on his gun being taken from him and examined it was found that there was an internal communication at the breech, and both barrels would go off from one nipple. Upon this the referee declared Harding disqualified, and the match at an end, the other competitors having decided to have nothing to do with Harding or his gun, and to shoot for the £10 staked with the defendant. The money was duly won, and paid over to the winners, Messrs. Brookes and Dunn, and the plaintiff’s gun was offered to him, but he refused to take it, and said he would have £10 instead, and hence the action.

The fraud of the plaintiff Harding was most distinctly proved, and the defendant’s attorney characterised the action as one of the most dishonest that ever was brought into a court of justice. The plaintiff’s attorney, whilst admitting the fraud on the part of his client (which, as he said, nothing could justify or excuse), relied upon the point of law that the money was received by Rowson for Harding, and that no fresh arrangements could be made without Harding’s consent.

The Under-Sheriff, in summing up, said the jury had to consider first, was the gun given up to the plaintiff, and accepted in discharge of claim; second, was it an understanding that the money should only be handed over to the plaintiff in the event of all the proceedings being fairly carried out; third, whether the referee had power to stop the whole proceedings; lastly, whether the fraud on the part of the plaintiff was distinctly proved, and if so did it invalidate the proceedings and justify a fresh arrangement.

The jury found for the defendant on all the pleas. The verdict was received with applause, which was quickly suppressed.”

[Henry Rowson was at the Cambrian Vaults, Newtown, Montgomeryshire.]

Sporting Life 3/4/1867

“BOAT INN, Lea Brook, Wednesbury.

Mr Harding’s excellent enclosure, which is daily increasing in popularity, was extensively patronised on Monday, when the preliminary heats of the 130 yards handicap were run.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 13/5/1868

“Meeting of the Local Board of Health.....

The Inspector of Nuisances reported that one of the water-cart drivers, in the employ of the Board, had been caught in the act of taking water to the running ground of Mr. Hardy [sic], the BOAT INN, Lea Brook, instead of distributing it on the public roads. It was resolved to mulct the man in the sum of 5s, and it was stated that in all probability the South Staffordshire Waterworks Company would take notice of the case.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 17/8/1869

“BOAT INN, Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury.

A monstre gathering took place at Mr. Harding’s enclosure yesterday, the programme embracing a sprint race, a mile race, and Mr. Harding’s great velocipede handicap, an event that completely crammed the grounds, the meeting being by far the largest witnessed yet.....

The grounds were then cleared for the great event of the day, Mr. Harding, the enterprising proprietor, ever ready to appreciate and put in practice any novelty in sport, having offered several money prizes for a Mile Bicycle Handicap Contest, which drew all the principal performers in the district. The first prize offered was £8 and a splendid silver cup; second, £1 10s; third, 10s. No less than a level score entered at a crown to contend, and some capital running was witnessed, competitors being handicapped in accordance with diameter of wheel and merits of performers.....”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 16/9/1869

“On Saturday night, between eight and ten o’clock, during the temporary absence of the occupants, who had gone to market, there was stolen from the house of Mr. Thomas Griffith, gas tube manufacturer, of 27, Piercy Street, New Town, Wednesbury, articles, value about £30. The property stolen incudes one gold patent lever watch, a gold chain, a gold locket (containing a portrait of a gentleman), a gold ring, with locket; one suit of black cloth clothes, a Paisley shawl, several flannel petticoats, pocket book, containing marriage certificate, a bottle of brandy, and about £4 in gold and silver. It is supposed that entrance was effected by means of skeleton keys. The above couple are newly married.

Between 8.15 and 9.20 on the evening of Tuesday, the following property was stolen from the house of Mr. Joseph Bennett, of 26, Leabrook, Wednesbury: five £5 Bank of England notes (the numbers of which are unknown), £40 in gold, a five-shilling piece, one pair of coral earrings, two odd earrings, gold-washed; one old-fashioned verge watch (maker’s name and number unknown), two silver guard chains, one gold-plated lady’s guard chain, one gold-plated brooch, a gold seal value about 30s, a gold wedding ring, a marriage certificate, and a small box, of the total value of about £70. The father had gone to his lodge at the CROSS KEYS, and he ordered his son and daughter to stay in the house to take care of it, but they went out, the daughter going to a friend’s house in Albert Street, and the boy with some of his companions. On the lad coming home he found the door and back window opened, and saw some drawers and boxes strewn about the place. He gave the alarm, and Mr. Harding, of the BOAT INN, took a double-barrelled gun and went through the house, but found no one. The youth then went to the police-station and informed Sergeant Steele, who, accompanied by Sergeant Langdon, went to the house. The daughter informed them that when she left the house she fastened the doors and windows. The officers were of opinion that the house could not have been entered by opening the back window, unless it had been left unfastened; but they inclined to the belief that it had been entered by skeleton keys. Fortunately the thief or thieves missed a cheque for about £300. The police are making inquiry into the affair.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 6/11/1869

“Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury.

Mr. James Harding respectfully announces to his friends and lovers of the deadly tube that he intends giving a splendid central fire breech-loading double gun to be shot for in a handicap on Monday, November 15. Tickets 10s each, 3 pigeons each, 1¼oz of shot, handicapped from 17 to 21 yards rise, first bird in the trap at one o’clock precisely.

The above handicap is to assist the widow and children of the late Mr. J. Wedge, of the MARKET HALL TAVERN, Willenhall, who so unfortunately met with his death by being thrown out of a trap. The gun will be put up for £6, the cost price; all the overplus and the whole of the gate money will be handed over to Mrs. Wedge. J. H. sincerely hopes that the old proverb may not be forgotten, ‘A friend in need is a friend indeed,’ as Mr. Wedge was a thorough sportsman in every sense of the word.”

James Harding was the patentee of a central fire breech-loading gun. [1870]

Birmingham Daily Post 19/1/1870

“On Monday, at Mr. W. Dearn’s, the PLOUGH INN, Bristnal Fields, Worcestershire, there was a pretty good sprinkling of lovers of the trigger present, in anticipation of witnessing the shooting for a fat pig, but, the list not filling, three crown sweepstakes were shot off.....

Messrs. Hockland, Dearn, and Knock divided the first, Messrs. Dearn and Hockland divided the second, and Mr. Dearn, who shot with a centre fire breech-loader, made by G. [sic] Harding, of Lee Brook Ground, Wednesbury, carried off the third prize by killing five birds out of six. Between thirty and forty persons afterwards sat down to a well served up dinner, in Mr. Dearn’s usual good style.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 16/11/1870

“An inquest was held yesterday, at the BOAT INN, Lea Brook, Wednesbury, by Mr. E. Hooper, Coroner, touching the death of William Wright (8), who had lived with his parents at Lea Brook. On Friday last the deceased went to Messrs. Bagnall’s works to take his father’s dinner, and as he was returning, he fell into a large ‘bosh’ (an iron vessel full of water, in which the men cool their irons), and before he could be got out he was badly scalded, nearly over the whole surface of his body. He was taken home, and Mr. Garman, surgeon, was called in to dress his injuries. Deceased lingered till Saturday morning, when death put an end to his sufferings. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 14/2/1871

“There was a large muster of spectators at Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury, yesterday, to witness a match between C. Thrasher, of Birmingham, and J. Harding, proprietor of the BOAT, they having to shoot at 25 pigeons each, for a stake of £100. 1oz shot, 21 yards rise, the field boundary, and to find and trap against each other, Thrasher to receive one dead bird. Harding was the first to face the trap, and betting immediately become brisk, at 5 to 4 on Thrasher, which odds, however, varied as the match proceeded. Harding’s first two birds went away with flying colours which put Thrasher’s friends in high glee, but as the match proceeded Harding improved in position, and at the fourteenth bird they were on even terms, but from this point he fell off, and was eventually defeated by two birds. Score, Mr. Thrasher (1 given) 18; Mr. Harding 15.”

1871 Census

38, Lea Brook Road – BOAT INN

[1] James Harding (31), publican, born Weston, Cheshire;

[2] Martha S. Harding (30), wife, born Bromley, Staffordshire;

[3] Mary W. Harding (5), daughter, born Walsall;

[4] Mettie U. Harding (2), daughter, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 4/3/1872

“We have received the following donations for the Eye Hospital.....

Mr. J. Harding, Lea Brook, 10s 6d.”

Birmingham Daily Post 19/8/1872

“At West Bromwich Police Court, on Saturday, Mr. J. T. Bayley applied to the Sitting Magistrates – Major Williams and Mr. J. A. Kenrick – on behalf of a publican named Harding, of Lea Brook, for permission to keep open his house on Monday till twelve o’clock. Mr. Bayley said he was aware that the new Licensing Act was very stringent in its provisions for earlier closing, but the present was an exceptional case, as a fête had been arranged to take place at a considerable outlay, on the day named.

Mr. Hebbert (Magistrates’ Clerk) said the tendency of the Licensing Bill, as Mr. Bayley knew, was to cut down the hours as much as possible.

Mr. Bayley said his client had no idea that the Act would come into operation before the date of his fête, and he (Mr. Bayley) thought it was not too much to ask for an extra hour on the two fête days.

Mr. Kenrick: But you don’t know how much mischief may be done in those extra hours; and I, for one, shall not give my sanction to the granting of the application. The Legislature having decided to close public houses at eleven o’clock, it is our duty to carry out the provisions of the Act.

Mr. Bayley pointed out that the Act also gave discretionary power to the Magistrates to grant an extra hour. Mr. Kenrick, whilst admitting that, thought the power applied only to exceptional cases – to certain servants, bakers, market gardeners, and printers.

Mr. Bayley again referred to the loss which his client would sustain if the application was not granted. Mr. Kenrick said that whilst it might injure Mr. Harding to have to close at eleven o'clock, to keep open till twelve might do a great deal more injury to the persons visiting the house.

Mr. Hebbert was of opinion that the case before the Magistrates and the cases which the Act legislated upon as exceptional were not at all parallel. He said the Bench had no discretionary power in the case. The application was refused."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 9/11/1872

"Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury. Saturday, November 2.

The above enclosure was attended by upwards of 600 spectators, to witness the running of Mr. Harding's fortnightly 130 Yards Handicap, for which he offered £7 for the first, £2 the second, and £1 for the third prize, and for which one of the largest entries of pedestrians ever known in the midland districts entered to contend for the money, 214, who were divided into 43 heats, most of which were closely contested....."

AND

"Lea Brook Recreation Grounds, Wednesbury, Proprietor, Mr. J. Harding.

Mr. J. Harding begs most respectfully to inform his friends and lovers of the sport that he will give £15 for a Rabbit Coursing Leger, on Monday and Saturday, November 11 and 16. Entrance: large dogs, over 30lb, 5s; dogs over 24lb, 4s; dogs under 24lb, 3s.....

All entries to be made to Mr. Harding, BOAT INN, on or before 1 o'clock on the day of running. A good supply of rabbits will be provided. The grounds and house are two minutes' walk from the Great Western Railway Station, and five minutes' walk from the London and North Western Station."

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/3/1873

"On Saturday an inquest was held at the BOAT INN, Leabrook, on the body of Thomas Joyce, aged 50, who on Wednesday, while at work at Messrs. Bagnall's Forge, Leabrook, fell down and instantly expired. He had been unwell for some days previously. Verdict, Accidental Death."

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/11/1873

"James Harding, landlord of the BOAT INN, Wednesbury, was summoned for having, on the 20th of October, unlawfully kept an enclosed place, called the Leabrook Grounds, for the purpose of baiting rabbits with dogs. Mr. Ebsworth prosecuted, and Mr. Young, barrister, defended.

Mr. Ebsworth said he appeared for Mr. Theodore George Woodhouse, the hon. sec. to the Smethwick and District Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and the defendant was summoned under the 3rd section of the 12th and 13th Victoria, chap. 29, for keeping a place for the purpose of baiting rabbits. The defendant had been summoned under this section because it enacted 'that any person who shall keep, or use, or act in the management of any place for the purpose of fighting or baiting any bull, bear, badger, dog, or other kind of animal, whether of domestic or wild nature, or shall permit or suffer any place to be so used, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding £5.'

It appeared to be the practice of the defendant to superintend what the evidence would disclose, that rabbits were taken there – he did not care whether they were wild or domestic – in hampers, and then taken out and placed 20, or 30, or 40 yards from the dogs, which were kept in a leash, and then allowed to run after the rabbits, which were generally killed after running about 20 yards by one of the dogs, and sometimes both dogs would get hold of a rabbit at the same time. The grounds were enclosed with high palings, so that the rabbit when pursued by the dogs had no chance of escape. This, he pointed out, involved an amount of cruelty to the rabbits which would make the defendant liable under the Act of Parliament for keeping the grounds for this purpose.

Evidence having been called in support of Mr. Ebsworth's statement, Mr. Young addressed the Court for the defence. He argued that the Act, which was designed for the suppression of certain cruel sports which were in vogue at the time it was passed, could never have been meant to apply to the grounds such as his client's, which were some 70 yards wide, and from 150 to 200 yards long, with a means of escape at the far end under the railings, which were raised from six to twelve inches from the ground. Had the place enclosed so that the rabbits had no chance of escape, he could not have contended that it did not come within the meaning of the Act, but, as it was, the sports carried on there differed in no essential respect from what was often seen at coursing matches and at fox-hunts.....

Several witnesses were then examined with a view to show that the rabbits had a chance of escape, upon which the learned Stipendiary decided to go and inspect the locus in quo. On his return he said the fencing was raised at the top of the railway bank, and in many cases the slope was cut down perpendicularly. There were certain holes at the bottom of the palings, but in other respects there was no chance for the rabbits to escape. The question he had to decide was whether the place came within the meaning of the Act, and, which was one and the same thing, whether it had been used as alleged for baiting rabbits; and as there could be no doubt that the place had been used for baiting rabbits, he should decide against the defendant, and inflict a nominal fine.

At Mr. Young's request a case was granted, the points of which were that coursing is not baiting, that a wild rabbit does not come within the meaning of the 3rd section of the Act, and that the defendant's grounds are not 'a place' within the meaning of the Act.

Subsequently, at Wolverhampton, Mr. Spooner intimated that the fine would be 5s and costs; and the notice of appeal was withdrawn."

Birmingham Daily Post 18/2/1874

"Yesterday, at the Wednesbury Police Court, the Stipendiary (Mr. I. Spooner) dealt with a number of persons charged with rioting at the recent Wednesbury election.....

John Lalley, James Lavelle, John Miller, William Rose, Daniel Taylor (13), and Thomas Taylor were charged with having done wilful and malicious damage to the property of Mr. J. Harding, the BOAT INN, Leabrook. Lavelle and Miller did not appear. Mr. Ebsworth appeared to prosecute.

The evidence of Thomas Price, the prosecutor's assistant, Mrs. Harding, and John Grimes, was to the effect that at about four o'clock on the day in question, a crowd of about 200 youths and men, many of whom were armed with bludgeons, marched down to the house, and demanded beer, but before the witness could leave the door-step to get them some, they began smashing the windows, knocked Price down, and forced their way into the house, where they broke the beer machine and did other damage. In addition to this damage, sixty-four panes of glass, some of the window sashes, and the panel of the door were broken.

The younger Taylor was dismissed, the Stipendiary telling Superintendent Holland he had better whip him. An attempt to prove an alibi on the part of Thomas Taylor having failed, he and Lalley were sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment with hard labour. Warrants were ordered to be issued against Lavelle and Miller. Rose, getting the benefit of a doubt as to whether he was not at work at the time of the attack, was dismissed."

[The cases occupied from eleven till nearly five o'clock.]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 16/11/1877

"At the Walsall County Court yesterday, before the Judge (Mr. W. D. Griffiths), James Harding, of Lea Brook Grounds, sued James Birch, cab proprietor, and keeper of the LONDON AND NORTH WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, for £9 5s 6d, the value of a gun and satchel. Mr. Ebsworth appeared for plaintiff, and Mr. J. Smith for defendant.

From the evidence it appeared that in May plaintiff lent defendant the gun for a few days rook shooting, on the understanding, plaintiff alleged, that it could be either returned or paid for.

Defendant denied that he had undertaken to pay for it. Defendant never complained about the gun not suiting him, and never saw the plaintiff again until they met in the street at the end of August. Plaintiff had then begun his action, after sending several letters, but the defendant then told him that he would try the gun again for one day. After this he returned it as unsuitable.

Mr. Smith maintained that his client could not try the gun until September, and that no unreasonable time had elapsed; but Mr. Ebsworth maintained that the time was unreasonable.

Ultimately verdict was given for plaintiff, payment to be made in a month."

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/11/1877

"Mr. James Harding, of Lea Brook Grounds, sued Mr. James Birch, of the LONDON AND NORTH WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, for the sum of £9 5s 6d, being the value of a gun and satchel. Mr. Ebsworth appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. J. Smith for the defendant.

The evidence was to the effect that in May last the defendant had a gun from the plaintiff for a day's rook shooting, with the understanding that if it suited him he would buy it, or otherwise he would return it in two or three days. No complaint of the gun was made, and the parties did not meet till the end of August, by which time plaintiff, after having written some letters, had commenced the proceedings in the court. The defendant then said he would try the gun for two or three days more, and early in September he returned it, objecting that the catch was too small and the stock too short. Mr. Ebsworth urged that the time the defendant had taken to ascertain this was unreasonable, and his Honour came to the same conclusion, and found for the plaintiff, payment to be made in a month."

Wednesbury Herald 5/7/1879

"Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Edwin Hooper, district coroner, held an inquest at the BOAT INN, Lea Brook, relative to the death of John Whitehouse (36), labourer, who died suddenly at his residence on Thursday. The deceased was taken ill with violent pains in the back at half past six o'clock in the morning and died at eight. The jury returned a verdict of Died from Natural Causes."

1881 Census

38, Lea Brook Road – BOAT INN

- [1] James Harding (40), licensed victualler, born Weston, Cheshire;
- [2] Martha Saville Harding (40), wife, domestic, born Abbots Bromley, Staffordshire;
- [3] Mary White Harding (15), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] Metty Una Harding (12), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Walter White Harding (9), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Hugh Joseph Harding (7), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [7] James White Harding (3), son, born Wednesbury;

Wolverhampton Express and Star 5/12/1881

"At the West Bromwich Police Court, today.....

James Harding, of the BOAT INN, also keeper of the Lea Brook Grounds, was charged with having in his possession an unstamped measure, and also with fraudulently using the same. The latter charge was dismissed, and for the former he was fined 2s 6d and costs."

Darlaston Weekly Times 19/8/1882

"The final heat in the £8 dog handicap at the grounds of Mr. Harding, Lea Brook, was run on Saturday evening. Baylis's Jenny came in first, Mason's Spot second, and Cotton's Luce third. Mr. J. Dudley was starter, and Mr. J. Sims acted as referee."

Darlaston Weekly Times 3/7/1886

"The Election Rioting at Wednesbury.

The political excitement in the borough of Wednesbury culminated last night and early this morning in considerable damage to property and several persons being injured. It appears that at the termination of the Gladstonian meeting at Dudley Port last night in favour of the Hon. Philip Stanhope, a procession was formed, and the candidate was escorted to Wednesbury. On arrival at the BUSH INN, Leabrook, stones were thrown at the windows by the crowd, who also subjected the windows of Mr. Harding, the BOAT INN, a well-known Conservative, to similar treatment. The mob then proceeded to smash the windows of a number of other Conservative tradesmen, and finally the Conservative Club was visited, and the whole of the windows more or less damaged. This greatly exasperated the Constitutionalists, and a large body retaliated by leaving the club and smashing the windows of the Liberal Central Committee Room, also the Liberal Club, and other properties. More disturbances followed, in the course of which several persons were injured, and the police were unable to clear the streets until an early hour this morning."

Birmingham Daily Post 21/1/1890 - Died

"On the 17th inst, aged 52, Martha Saville, the beloved and affectionate wife of James Harding, Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury; beloved and respected, now deeply lamented, by all who knew her."

Birmingham Daily Post 15/2/1890 - Advert

"At the Sale Rooms, No.1, Newhall Street, Birmingham. By direction of the Trustees of the late Ann Woolley. Freehold Properties, including a Full-Licensed Inn, in the town of Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Grimley & Son, on Wednesday, March 5, 1890.....

Lot 1. A Highly-important Freehold Full Licensed Public House, known as the BOAT INN, Lea Brook Road, with the extensive Grounds in the rear, called the Lea Brook Running Grounds, and a Plot of Building Land, having a frontage of 68 yards to the road. The Premises contain every accommodation for conducting a large business, with Brewery, Malt Room, Stabling, Yard, and Out-buildings; also Five Cottages, Nos.39, 40, 41, and 42, Lea Brook Road, and No.6 Pitt Square adjoining. This desirable Freehold Property is in the tenure of Mr. James Harding, who holds the premises under a repairing lease, which expires on the 25th of March next, at the inadequate rent of £90 4s 4d per annum; the landlord paying rates on four of the Cottages. Total area of land, 10,196 square yards."

Birmingham Daily Post 6/3/1890

“Last night Messrs. Grimley and Son offered for sale, at the Estate Sale Rooms, Newhall Street, several important properties.....

The freehold property known as the BOAT INN, Lea Brook Road, Wednesbury, realised £1,350.”

1891 Census

38, Dudley Street

- [1] James Harding (51), widower, licensed victualler, born Weston, Cheshire;
- [2] William Savile Harding (26), son, MRCVS vet, born Barton, Staffordshire;
- [3] Mary White Harding (25), daughter, born Walsall;
- [4] Mettie Una Harding (22), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [5] James White Harding (13), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Joseph Martin (22), general servant, born Abbots Bromley, Staffordshire;
- [7] Hannah Rhodes (23), domestic servant, born Princes End:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 28/6/1892

“The leaders of the Unionist party in Wednesbury were much gratified to receive yesterday morning a letter from the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, in which he definitely promised to attend a meeting at nine o’clock on Monday evening next, in support of the candidature of Mr. Wilson Lloyd. Mr. James Harding, of the Lea Brook Recreation Grounds, has offered the use of his very extensive grounds to the Unionist party, and the offer has been accepted. Arrangements have been made for the erection of a large marquee, capable of accommodating at least 4,000 persons. The Gladstonians are very much chagrined at the proposed visit of the right hon. gentleman to the town, and annoyance to the speakers is threatened. Arrangements will, however, be made to prevent organised opposition, such as that experienced at Coventry last week.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/6/1893

“John Rawlings, Tipton Green, was sent to gaol for two months for unlawfully wounding John [sic] Harding, landlord of the BOAT INN, Lea Brook. The prisoner went to the house begging, and seeing that he was the worse for beer the prosecutor ordered him out. He would not go, became abusive, struck the landlord in the eye, and then tore down the chandelier and hit Harding a heavy blow on the head with it. The room was in total darkness, and for some time there was great consternation. Harding had to be attended by a doctor.”

James Harding – see also RAILWAY, Station Street, Walsall.

Sporting Life 12/2/1898

“Mr. George Sheldon (of the ROSE AND CROWN INN, Great Bridge, Tipton), Mr. John Russell (proprietor of the Victoria Grounds, Rough Hills, Wolverhampton), and Mr. Frank Lloyd (proprietor of the Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury) run fifty yards on Monday next, for £15; Mr. Russell and Mr. Sheldon to receive 2 yards 22½ inches start. This meeting between these well-known sportsmen and knights of the bung is creating a keen lot of interest amongst the sporting schools of the Black Country. Mr. F. Lloyd has been a ped of first-class merit, Mr. Sheldon, too, has in bygone days performed in many sprint handicaps in the Midlands, whilst nothing is known of the sprinting abilities of Mr. Russell. He is, however, the 18 yards champion quoit player of England, and is considered one who knows what he is doing. A close race, however, is sure to be witnessed between these veterans. The Sporting Life is stakeholder, and appoints pistol firer and referee. To be on their marks at 11am prompt.”

Sporting Life 16/2/1898

“Lea Brook Grounds Wednesbury.....

Mr. George Sheldon, of the ROSE AND CROWN INN, Great Bridge, Tipton; Mr. John Russell, proprietor of the Victoria Grounds, Rough Hills, Wolverhampton; and Mr. F. Lloyd, proprietor of the Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury, were matched to run fifty yards, for £5 each, the winner to take the £15, Mr. Lloyd to concede Mr. Sheldon and Mr. Russell two yards 22½in start. Mr. Lloyd highly fancied his chance. Unfortunately, however, for him and his friends, whilst having a trial with a well-known Midland pedestrian, Mr. Lloyd’s leg suddenly gave way. This breakdown of Mr. Lloyd’s was more serious than thought, for consequently he had no other alternative than forfeit his money down.....

In the match between two licensed victuallers, odds of 5 to 2 were freely laid on Mr. Russell. Mr. Sheldon being too anxious to get away, got over, and was, to the chagrin of his followers, penalised one yard. At the second attempt both got well away. Russell, however, soon showed that he could run as well as play at quoits, he finally winning by three yards."

Dudley Herald 17/3/1900

"On Tuesday at the Police Court, Francis Joseph Lloyd, landlord of the BOAT INN, Lea Brook, was charged with permitting drunkenness on the 20th ult, and James McKenzie was charged with being drunk on licensed premises. There was great excitement in Wednesbury in consequence of Cronje's surrender. McKenzie and two other men named Cresswell and Morgan went to the BOAT INN to celebrate the victory, and imbibed between them four quarts of ale. Two bottles of whiskey were afterwards ordered, and McKenzie drank a portion of one bottle and the whole of the second bottle at one gulp. Naturally became very drunk and excited, and declared his intention of 'killing a large number of Boers.' He was removed from the house, and was subsequently found by PC Maddox in a scrap yard in an unconscious state, foaming at the mouth, and apparently dying. The officer removed him to the police station, where he was attended by Dr. Garman for three hours. The stomach pump was used, and restoratives were applied, but McKenzie did not get better, and he was taken to the Workhouse Infirmary. He did not, however, regain consciousness until half past five on the following day, and he had to remain in the infirmary for a week.

McKenzie admitted that he had acted very foolishly in the hour of victory, and was thankful his life had been saved. Mr. Sharpe, who defended Lloyd, urged that his client had no idea that McKenzie intended to drink the whiskey in the way he did, there being at the time over 30 people in the room.

The Stipendiary said in periods of national rejoicing it was necessary people should be discreet and cool headed. Lloyd was fined £3 4s 6d and McKenzie 10s and costs."

[Pieter Arnoldus Cronjé was a Boer general who played a prominent part in the early stages of the South African War.]

Sporting Life 10/9/1904

"Leabrook Grounds, Wednesbury.

Before a good gate, the second and concluding rounds of Mr. F. Lloyd's £9 Rabbit Coursing Sweepstakes were concluded on Tuesday, the final heat resulting in a win for Mr. Noah Corbett's Mary Ann....."

Walsall Observer 11/3/1905

"Wednesbury Adjourned Licensing Sessions.....

An application was made by Mr. Thursfield for the transfer of the license of the BOAT INN, Leabrook, from Frank Lloyd to Thomas Arthur Reynolds.

The Mayor reminded Mr. Thursfield that the grounds, known as the Leabrook Running Grounds, which were connected with the premises, had not yet been done away with. He pointed out that last year, when the renewal of the license was applied for, the Bench understood that the owners then gave a promise to close the grounds. There was a feeling amongst the justices that this should now be done. The transfer was granted, and Mr. Thursfield promised to convey to the owners of the premises the wishes of the Bench."

1911 Census

38, Lea Brook Road – BOAT INN

- [1] Joseph Large (55), hotel manager, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Harriet Large (52), wife, married 34 years, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Martha Large (27), daughter, barmaid, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Mary Large (26), daughter, barmaid, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] James Large (21), son, edge tool worker, born Wolverhampton;
- [6] William Large (17), son, born Wolverhampton;
- [7] Henry Large (15), son, born Wolverhampton;
- [8] Fanny Large (12), daughter, school, born Wolverhampton:

Martha Large married Charles Taylor in the 3rd quarter of 1911.

1921 Census

38, Leabrook Road

[1] Charles Taylor (37), licensed victualler, born Tipton;

[2] Martha Taylor (37), wife, born Wolverhampton;

[3] Charles Joseph Taylor (7), son, school, born Wednesbury;

[4] Harry Large (25), brother-in-law, furnaceman's helper, out of work, born Wolverhampton:

London Gazette 10/4/1925

"Re Joseph Arnold Large, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given, that all creditors and other persons having any debts, claims or demands against the estate of Joseph Arnold Large, late of the BOAT INN, Leabrook, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Retired Licensed Victualler, deceased (who died on the 24th day of December, 1924, and whose will was proved in the Lichfield District Registry of the Probate Division of His Majesty's High Court of Justice on the 31st day of March, 1925, by Harriett Large, Widow, and Aubrey Cupiss, of 19, Prince's-avenue, Walsall, the executors therein named), are hereby required to send in the particulars of their debts, claims or demands to us, the undersigned, the Solicitors for the said executors, on or before the 18th day of May, 1925, after which date the said executors will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased amongst the persons entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims and demands of which they shall then have had notice; and they will not be liable for the assets of the said deceased, or any part thereof, so distributed, to any person or persons of whose debts, claims or demands they shall not then have had notice.

Dated this 9th day of April, 1925.

Manby and Steward, 100, Darlington-street, Wolverhampton, Solicitors for the said Executors."

Tipton Herald 24/12/1927

"The staff of the goods department of the Great Western Railway, Wednesbury, had a dinner at the BOAT INN on Saturday last, some of all grades being present. The guest of the evening was the Mayor of Wednesbury (Councillor W. H. Wesson).

After an excellent repast, served under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, the Mayor proposed the toast of the 'King.' Following this, his Worship delivered a very instructive and interesting speech. He thanked the staff most heartily for the honour they had bestowed on him in asking him to this, their first annual function, and said he had accepted the invitation with great happiness and pleasure. Co-operation was a great ideal among employees, and he was pleased to see the good and friendly spirit which existed between the agent, clerks and staff at the Wednesbury goods department....."

1939 Register

38, Lea Brook Road – Public House

[1] Charles Taylor, date of birth 13/4/1884, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Martha Taylor, dob 6/3/1883, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Charles Joseph Taylor, dob 28/8/1913, electrical wireman, married;

[4] Annie Taylor, dob 5/6/1914, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[5] Harriett Large, dob 17/9/1859, retired, pensioner, widowed:

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League, Division One. [1946]

Tipton Herald 9/1/1960

"The night after being caught buying intoxicating liquor when under the age of 18, two Tipton youths went to a Wednesbury cinema and stole soft drinks. At the Wednesbury Juvenile Court on Thursday the youths, both 16, admitted the two offences. It was stated that they were discovered by a police officer in the BOAT INN, Leabrook, Wednesbury. One was drinking shandy and the other beer. The following night police were called to the Rialto Cinema, Wednesbury, where they learnt that the youths had taken two cartons of orange squash worth 1s from a refrigerator.

Percy William Jones, of 2, Clarence Road, Bilston, a projectionist at the cinema, said he saw the youths talking near the refrigerator in the lounge balcony. As he was walking down the stairs he heard the click of one of the refrigerator clamps. He went back to the balcony and saw one of the youths with two drinks in his left hand. He told the manager, Mr. N. W. Wright, who called the police.

In statements, the youths admitted the offences. One of them said, 'We went to the pictures at the Rialto and just before the interval we felt thirsty so we took the drinks out of the 'fridge.'

Mr. Norman Tasker, probation officer, said one of the youths had a record of several previous convictions. He was of low intelligence and 'he has drifted into trouble through lack of outside interests, although recently he took up pigeon breeding at which, I understand, he had been quite successful.' The other youth was said to have a clean record. Mr. Ernest Brown, the Clerk, told him, 'You have opened a record that will live with you for life – all for the sake of 6d which you had got in your pocket anyway.'

Each of the youths was fined £1 on the drinking charges and for stealing the squash one youth was given a conditional discharge on payment of 21s costs and the other was fined £3 with 6s 2d costs."

Martha Taylor died in the 4th quarter of 1963.

BARMAN and Barmaids wanted, evenings, for new patchbox, Willis Pearson avenue, Bradley, opening shortly; apply at present or write to—Manager, Boat Inn, Leabrook, Wednesbury.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 26/10/1965 - Advert

"Barman and Barmaids wanted, evenings, for new PATCHBOX, Willis Pearson Avenue, Bradley, opening shortly; apply at present or write to Manager, BOAT INN, Leabrook, Wednesbury."

Charles Joseph Taylor – see also PATCH BOX, Bradley, Bilston.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 30/6/1967

"Eight representatives of West Midland pubs have been awarded a licensed trade catering diploma after passing an exhaustive 'beer and victuals' examination. The examination, arranged by the National Trade Development Association, followed a part-time course which licensees' wives attended in 16 centres throughout the country....

Passes were gained by....

Mrs. Rita Wellings, BOAT INN, Leabrook Road, Wednesbury."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 23/12/1967 - Advert

"Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and Family, of the PATCHBOX INN, Bradley, would like to wish all customers and friends of the PATCHBOX and old customers and friends of the BOAT INN, Wednesbury, a very happy Christmas and a prosperous New Year."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 6/5/1971

"In a closely fought women's darts match at the BOAT INN, Wednesbury, the home team beat the QUEENS ARMS 5-4."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 27/1/1973

"Mark the Ball. This week's winners Consolation Prizes, £5 each to....

Mr. S. Gobey, BOAT INN, Leabrook, Wednesbury."

JUMBLE SALE at Boat Inn, Leabrook Road, Wednesbury, tonight (Friday) at 7 pm.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 13/4/1973 - Advert

"Jumble Sale at BOAT INN, Leabrook Road, Wednesbury, tonight (Friday) at 7pm."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 16/5/1977 - Notice

"The Licensing Act, 1964. West Midlands Metropolitan County.

Notice is Hereby Given that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1910, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held at the Council Chambers, Council House, Smethwick, Warley, on the 24th day of June, 1977, at 3pm.

And notice is hereby also given that the Compensation Authority will at the meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the renewal of the licenses of the several premises specified in the subjoined list, all those persons to whom, under the Licensing Act, 1964, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard....

BOAT INN, Leabrook Road, Wednesbury. Intoxicating liquor of all descriptions. Licensee, Marie Smith."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 6/7/1977 - Notice

"The Licensing Act, 1964. West Midlands Metropolitan County.

Notice as to sending in Claims to be treated as Persons interested in Licensed Premises.

Notice is Hereby Given that, the compensation authority for the above area having decided at their Principal Meeting held on the 24th day of June, 1977, to refuse the renewal of the licenses specified below, all persons claiming to be interested in the said premises for the purpose of the payment of compensation under the said Act (other than the licensee and the registered owners of the said premises) are required to send to the compensation authority notice of their claims before the 2nd day of August, 1977.....

BOAT INN, Leabrook Road, Wednesbury. Intoxicating liquor of all descriptions. Licensee, Marie Smith."

It was demolished to make way for redevelopment of the Patent Shaft and Black Country spine road.

ADELAIDE LODGE, BOAT INN, WEDNESBURY.

MR. HENRY PITT begs to inform the Gentlemen of Wednesbury and its vicinity, that the First Anniversary of the above Lodge will take place on Monday the 13th of July inst. when the company of any friend will be esteemed a favour.

Dinner on the table at two o'clock.

1840

TO PERSONS ABOUT TO ENTER THE PUBLIC BUSINESS.

TO be LET, and may be entered upon immediately, the valuable Old-licensed PUBLIC HOUSE, known by the sign of "THE BOAT INN," Lea Brook, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford.

The House is surrounded by the extensive Iron Works of Messrs. Bagnall, the Patent Shaft Company's Works, and Messrs. Salley's, &c., &c. The neighbourhood is densely populated.

The Premises consist of front and back Parlours, Tap Room, Bar, and a private Sitting Room adjoining the Bar, large Club Room, excellent Cellaring, two Brew-houses, Malt Room, look-up Coach-house, Stabling, Piggeries, and a well stocked Garden.

There is also attached to this excellent House, the "Victoria Pedestrian Running Grounds."

A highly respectable Odd Fellows' Lodge, consisting of about one hundred members, belongs to the Premises.

The sole reason of the present Proprietor retiring is in consequence of his being advanced in life, and having realised an independent income upon the Premises.

For particulars, apply to Mr. Henry Pitt, upon the Premises.

TO PUBLICANS AND OTHERS, REQUIRING A FIRST-RATE PUBLIC HOUSE.

MR. ALTREE has been favoured with instructions to DISPOSE of that highly respectable House of Business, the "BOAT INN," Lea Brook, Wednesbury, where a new Railway Station is being built opposite; brewing twenty-four bushels per week the year through, and over £400 a year in spirits (proof.)

The premises are in first-rate condition, have a commanding appearance, with every convenience, Coach-house, Stabling for ten horses, five Piggeries, large Kitchen Garden, with Fish Pond, half an acre of Land for Pleasure or Racing Ground, where many matches have been run, also large Tea Gardens, the whole of which is walled in ten feet high. The present proprietor having been in thirty-nine years, is now retiring.—Apply to Mr. ALTREE, Auctioneer, Bilston.

1855

OLD-LICENSED HOUSE, "THE BOAT," LEA BROOK, WEDNESBURY.

TO be DISPOSED OF, the LEASE, LICENSES, and POSSESSION of the above well-known Old-licensed HOUSE, near Wednesbury. Very room convenient Premises, held upon fourteen years' lease. No Goodwill required. In-coming £200. Apply to John Gray, 35½, Cannon Street, Birmingham; or to R. L. Courtney and Son, West Bromwich.

1865

AT THE SALE ROOMS, No. 1, NEWHALL STREET, BIRMINGHAM.

BY DIRECTION OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE LATE ANN WOOLLEY.)

FREEHOLD PROPERTIES,

Including a FULL-LICENSED INN, in the town of Wednesbury.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION.

By Messrs. GRIMLEY & SON, on WEDNESDAY, March 5, 1890, at the Estate Sale Rooms, No. 1, Newhall Street, Birmingham, at Seven o'clock to the minute:—

WEDNESBURY.

"THE BOAT INN,"

With extensive Grounds, comprising a total area of 10,196 square yards.

Lot 1.—A Highly important FREEHOLD FULL LICENSED PUBLIC-HOUSE, known as the "BOAT INN," Lea Brook Road, with the extensive Grounds in the rear, called "The Lea Brook Running Grounds," and a Plot of BUILDING LAND, having a frontage of 68 yards to the road. The Premises contain every accommodation for conducting a large business, with Brewery, Malt Room, Stabling, Yard, and Out-buildings; also Five COTTAGES, Nos. 33, 40, 41 and 42, Lea Brook Road, and No. 6, Pitt Square adjoining. This desirable Freehold Property is in tenure of Mr. Jas. Harding, who holds the premises under a repairing lease, which expires on the 25th of March next, at the inadequate rent of £30. 4s. 4d. per annum; the landlord paying rates on four of the Cottages. Total area of land, 10,196 square yards.

1890

MR. AND MRS. TAYLOR AND FAMILY

of

THE PATCHBOX INN, BRADLEY

would like to wish all customers and friends of the Patchbox and old customers and friends of the

BOAT INN,

WEDNESBURY

A very happy Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

1967

BOILERMAKERS ARMS

31, Camp Hill Lane, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Richards [1865] – 1871);
William Hughes (1871 – []
John William Smith [1872]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Joseph Richards, coachfitter and beer retailer, Camp Street. [1865]

Joseph Richards, beer retailer, Camp Hill Lane. [1868], [1870]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 27/10/1869

“Joseph Richards, of the BOILERMAKERS ARMS, Camp Hill, was charged with having a bagatelle board and using it without a license. Police-constable Stanton was called to prove the case, but as the defendant pleaded guilty the magistrates said they should allow the proceedings to be settled on his paying the costs.”

1871 Census

31, Camp Hill Lane – Beerhouse

[1] Joseph Richards (51), beerhouse keeper, born Wednesbury;

[2] Mary Ann Richards (50), wife, born West Bromwich;

[3] Harriet Richards (20), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[4] Edwin Richards (12), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;

[5] Joseph Richards (10), son, scholar, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 12/4/1871

“Joseph Richards, BOILER MAKERS ARMS beerhouse, Camp Hill Lane, Wednesbury, was summoned for permitting disorderly conduct in his house. Mr. Superintendent Holland went to the house on the 7th inst and heard the defendant himself and his wife and daughter using bad language and conducting themselves disorderly. A fine of 40s and costs was inflicted, and the license to be endorsed.”

John William Smith, beer retailer, 31, Camp Hill Lane. [1872]

BOROUGH ARMS

114, (100), (100+101), Cobden Street, Fallings Heath, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1911]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

Benjamin Kendrick [1871] – [1891]
John Whitehouse [1901]
John Hassall [1911] – [1912]
Frederick Arthur Wood [1917] – [1924]
Mrs. Alice E Wyer [1939] – [1941]
Mrs. Robinson [early 1950s]
Jack Causer [1950s]
Ernest Aston (1955 – 1959)
John Wallace [] – 1961;
Albert Harry Parkes (1961 – [1966])

NOTES

100, Cobden Street [1871], [1891]
100+101, Cobden Street [1881]
114, Cobden Street [1911], [1921], [1939], [1940], [1941]

It had a beerhouse license.

It was known locally as “Blue Eyed Kelly’s”.

1871 Census

100, Cobden Street – BOROUGH ARMS

- [1] Benjamin Kendrick (34), unmarried, beerhouse keeper, born Wednesbury;
[2] Maria Kendrick (21), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Benjamin Kendrick, beer retailer, Cobden Street, Fallings Heath. [1872]

1881 Census

100+101, Cobden Street – BOROUGH ARMS

- [1] Benjamin Kendrick (44), unmarried, publican, born Wednesbury;
[2] Harriett Ethell (16), niece, general servant, born Shifnal, Shropshire;
[3] William Lucas (35), lodger, rag and bone merchant, born Bedworth, Warwickshire;
[4] Sarah Lucas (34), wife, born Darlaston:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 15/9/1885

“Thomas Beck and George Greenhouse, of Fallings Heath, were charged with doing wilful damage to shutters and a window to the house of Benjamin Kendrick, publican, of Fallings Heath; and Greenhouse was also charged with assaulting Kendrick. Each was fined 1s and the costs, including 2s 6d each for the damage done. Greenhouse, for the assault, was further fined 2s 6d and costs.”

1891 Census

100, Cobden Street

[1] Benjamin Kendrick (49), unmarried, beerhouse keeper, born Wednesbury;

[2] Mary Ethall (24), niece, born Wednesbury:

Wednesbury Herald 16/3/1895

“On Tuesday evening a meeting of the members of the Fallings Lodge of the Staffordshire Conservative League was held at the BOROUGH ARMS INN, Darlaston. There was a large number of members present. After the ordinary business of the lodge was gone through a smoking concert was held, and a capital programme was given....”

William Pymm, beer retailer, 8, Lower Dudley Street. [1896]

1901 Census

Cobden Street – BOROUGH ARMS

[1] John Whitehouse (35), publican, born Bloxwich;

[2] M. Whitehouse (35), wife, born Darlaston;

[3] Fred Whitehouse (9), son, born Darlaston:

1911 Census

114, Cobden Street – BOROUGH ARMS

[1] John Hassall (55), widower, license holder, born Wolverhampton;

[2] William Gittings (30), nephew, married, boot maker and repairer, born Bury, Lancashire;

[3] Kate Gittings (26), niece, married 1 year, born Darlaston;

[4] Charlotte Mace (22), domestic servant, born Kingswinford;

[5] Jack Gittings (1), grand-nephew, born Darlaston:

John Hassall, beer retailer, 100, Cobden Street. [1912]

Walsall Observer 26/5/1917 - Roll of Honour

“Gunner Dennis Wood, only son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Wood, of the BOROUGH ARMS, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, is in hospital at Camberwell London, suffering from severe burns of the hands and face received while in action in France with the Royal Garrison Artillery on April 26. Before joining the Colours on February 28, 1916, he was a clerk employed by Messrs. J and R. Rose, Ltd., Darlaston. In his school days he attended All Saints School, Kings Hill. He is 20 years of age.”

1921 Census

114, Cobden Street

[1] Frederick Arthur Wood (51), publican, born Harts Hill, Dudley;

[2] Emma Wood (49), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] Dennis Wood (25), son, wages clerk, bolts and nuts, born Darlaston;

[4] Maud Wood (25), daughter-in-law, born Smethwick;

[5] Kathleen Wood (18), daughter, wages clerk, foundry, born Wednesbury:

South Staffordshire Times 5/1/1924

“Wednesbury Police Court.....

Mr. A. Slater (Darlaston) applied on behalf of Messrs. Butler and Co., who desired to introduce alterations at the BOROUGH ARMS, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, and the plans put in.

The application was granted.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/5/1924

“The following is a list of payments made during the last few days to registered readers of the Gazette who have met with accidents which entitled them to benefit under our free insurance scheme.....

Payments of £5..... Mrs. E. Wood, BOROUGH ARMS, Cobden Street, Wednesbury, broken leg.

Newsagent: Mr. Smith, Walsall Road, Wednesbury.”

Walsall Observer 28/2/1925

“The presentation of the cup and medals in connection with the Walsall and District Bowling League, which were won last season by Wilkes Bowling Club, Bloxwich, was made by the Mayor (Councillor H. Hucker) at the league’s annual smoking concert, held at the TALBOT HOTEL, Digbeth, on Monday. Mr. J. Wilson, on behalf of the club, suitably responded. At a short meeting prior to the concert the SPREAD EAGLE BC, Bloxwich, and the BOROUGH ARMS BC, Fallings Heath, were elected members of the league.....”

It had a sports pavilion, at the rear, which was used as a boxing gym.
Eric Skidmore, Midland area welterweight champion, trained here.

BOROUGH ARMS Athletic Club was based here. [1938]

1939 Register

114, Cobden Street (5 of 6)

- [1] Alice E. Wyer, date of birth 17/6/1891, publican, widowed;
- [2] George E. Wyer, dob 26/5/1916, engineer, shaper, single;
- [3] Harold F. Wyer, dob 27/1/1918, aluminium moulder, single;
- [4] Arthur Wyer, dob 29/11/1905, barman, married;
- [5] Elsie A. (Wyer) Gutteridge, dob 9/12/1912, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Walsall Observer 20/9/1941

“A violent collision between two cars at the Bridle Lane and Aldridge Road crossroads at Streetly, on the afternoon of August 24, had a sequel when James Thomas Hunt (38), 37, Harden Crescent, Coalpool, Walsall, and George Ernest Wyer (25), 114, Cobden Street, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, appeared before the Aldridge magistrates on Monday, for driving without due care and attention. As a result of the collision Hunt and his daughter (aged 6) were injured, as also were Wyer and four passengers, one of whom was detained in hospital.

Hunt, in a statement to the police, said he was driving along the Aldridge Road, Streetly, at about 25 miles per hour, and slowed down as he approached the crossroads to 20 miles per hour. He was actually on the crossroads when he was struck by the other car. He could not see the other vehicle because of a hedge which obscured his view.

Wyer said he was travelling along Bridle Lane at about 18 miles per hour, and slowed down, sounded his horn, and was almost over the crossroads when another car shot across in front of him. There was a collision and both cars turned over. Mr. E. E. Brown (prosecuting) alleged that if both drivers had taken ordinary care there would not have been an accident. Hunt (represented by Mr. C. L. Hodgkinson) and Wyer (represented by Mr. H. A. Tucker) were each fined £2 with £2 each costs.”

A team from here took part in the Fallings Heath Cribbage League. [1946], [1958]

A spirit license was granted in the 1950s.

It was remodelled inside in the 1950s.

Ernest Aston was born in Bilston.

Birmingham Daily Post 18/7/1964

“When police raided the BOROUGH ARMS in Cobden Street, Wednesbury, just before 11pm, six people in the bars had drinks in front of them, Mr. J. W. Woodward, prosecuting, said at Wednesbury yesterday. Four customers, Bhajai Mockerjee (29), of The Green, Darlaston, Clara Ghosh (33) and her husband Neroid Ghosh (36), of Cobden Street, and Colin Read (19), of Walsall Road, Darlaston, were found guilty of drinking liquor after hours and fined £5 each. The licensee, Albert Harry Parkes (57) was found guilty of four offences of aiding and abetting them and was fined a total of £28. All were ordered to pay £2 2s costs. Two other customers, Hilde Cooper (43), of Edward Street, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, and Raymond Challenor (29), of Cobden Street, were found not guilty and the licensee was acquitted of two offences of aiding and abetting them. Only Read pleaded guilty.

Mr. Peter Woolley, defending, said that as both Challenor and Cooper worked voluntarily for Parkes they were ‘entitled to drink round the clock.’ Before the police arrived, he said, there had been more than 60 people in the bars and these had been cleared out, apart from the defendants and one or two others.”

A team from here took part in the Fallings Heath Cribbage League. [1965], [1966], [1967], [1968]

Wolverhampton Express & Star 10/5/1968

“A Wolverhampton man who embezzled £506 19s from his former employers was fined a total of £250 and ordered to pay £400 compensation by West Bromwich magistrates today. Kenneth Webb (46), of Lynton Avenue, Tettenhall, pleaded guilty to fraudulently embezzling the money from Whit Products (Direct Supplies) Ltd. He also admitted false entry of sales of £26 6s 6d inferring that the MINERVA public house had received credit. He admitted two further charges of falsification concerning £54 8s on the account of the BOROUGH ARMS, Wednesbury, and £36 14s 9d at the OLD TROUPER public house. He was fined £100 on the embezzling charge and £50 on the other three.

Mr. Michael Chance, prosecuting said the defendant had failed to make invoices in 18 transactions and made out false invoices later. The 18 cases were all included in the omnibus charge totalling £506 19s. Webb asked for 15 cases to be taken into consideration. The company's accountant had become suspicious, and when visiting 18 customers found that none had been given invoices. Mr. Chance said the defendant would give the customers who bought small quantities a slip of paper with the details on. Later he would get the number of transactions together and make out an omnibus fictitious invoice.

In a statement to the police, Webb said he had to entertain a lot of people in the course of his job. He found this very expensive, and used the money he embezzled only for the promotion of the firm's business.

Mr. Richard Wood, defending said, ‘It was absolutely obvious that the falsifications were going to come to light very soon. My instructions are that the money was used for the promotion of Whit Products business and none of it for personal gain.’”

BOROUGH ARMS

8, (Lower) Dudley Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

J. and J. Yardley and Co. Ltd. [1906]

LICENSEES

Isaac Whick [1871] – [1888]
Daniel Garbett [1891]
William Pymm [1896]
William George France [1901]
James Denton [1904]
Edwin Beesley [1906]

THE NOTED HOUSE FOR FINE HOME-BREWED AND OTHER SPARKLING ALES AND PORTER, ETC., IS AT THE BOROUGH ARMS, DUDLEY STREET,
WEDNESBURY.
Proprietor, ISAAC WHICK.
Choice Cigars, &c. N.B.—Quoit Grounds FREE.

1874

NOTES

8, Lower Dudley Street [1871], [1872], [1880], [1896], [1901], [1904]
8, Dudley Street [1881], [1891]

It had a beerhouse license.

Isaac Whick = Isaac White

1871 Census

8, Lower Dudley Street – BOROUGH ARMS
[1] Isaac Whick (38), innkeeper, born Sedgley;
[2] Keziah Whick (38), wife, born Sedgley;
[3] Frances L. Whick (17), daughter, barmaid, born Coseley;
[4] Elijah Whick (16), son, hatter, born Coseley;
[5] Mary L. Whick (15), daughter, barmaid, born Coseley;
[6] Martha M. Whick (13), daughter, scholar, born Coseley;
[7] Carmi R. Whick (12), son, scholar, born Coseley;
[8] Sarah E. Whick (10), daughter, scholar, born Coseley;
[9] Kezia Whick (7), daughter, scholar, born Coseley;
[10] Victoria A. Whick (5), daughter, scholar, born Coseley;
[11] Isaac R. Whick (3), son, born Coseley:

Isaac Whick, beer retailer, 8, Lower Dudley Street [1872], [1880]

Birmingham Daily Post 18/2/1874

“Yesterday, at the Wednesbury Police Court, the Stipendiary (Mr. I. Spooner) dealt with a number of persons charged with rioting at the recent Wednesbury election.....

Thirteen youths and young men were charged with having done wilful and malicious damage to the property of Isaac White, the BOROUGH ARMS beerhouse, Dudley Street. Only five of the accused put in an appearance. Mr. Slater appeared to prosecute, and Mr. J. T. Bayley for Thomas Ashmore.

The complainant stated that at about five o’clock, on the 15th instant, some forty or fifty boys, armed with sticks and bludgeons, forced their way into his beershop, and violently hammering the counter with their sticks demanded ale. He told them he would give them some if they would go away and do no mischief, but they smashed all the jugs and glasses they could reach – about a dozen – wrenched off the end of the counter, and jumping upon the counter, smashed the glass shades over the gas. Ashmore also attempted to get at some cigars stored on a shelf, but they were put out of his way. The police were fetched, and while they were clearing the crowd away, a pebble was thrown through a large plate of glass in the shop front.

Several other witnesses were called, but their evidence was weak, to say the least of it, and in the end the Stipendiary sentenced Timothy Lavelle to six weeks' imprisonment, and dismissed the other defendants.

Mr. Slater said that as his witnesses had not made the statements in Court which they made to him in private, he could not rely upon them, and, therefore, would not apply for warrants against those of the defendants who did not appear."

[The cases occupied from eleven till nearly five o'clock.]

Midland Examiner 28/11/1874 - Advert

"The Noted House for Fine Home-Brewed and other Sparkling Ales and Porter, etc, is at the BOROUGH ARMS, Dudley Street, Wednesbury.

Proprietor, Isaac Whick.

Choice Cigars, &c. NB. Quoits Grounds Free."

1881 Census

8, Dudley Street – BOROUGH ARMS

- [1] Isaac Whick (48), agent, innkeeper, brewer, born Sedgley;
- [2] Kezia Whick (49), wife, born Sedgley;
- [3] Louisa Whick (27), daughter, barmaid, born Sedgley;
- [4] Mary Whick (24), daughter, dressmaker, born Sedgley;
- [5] Martha Whick (22), daughter, teacher of music, born Sedgley;
- [6] Carnie Whick (20), son, labourer, born Sedgley;
- [7] Eugine Whick (19), daughter, no occupation, born Sedgley;
- [8] Kate Whick (16), daughter, pupil teacher, born Sedgley;
- [9] Roland Whick (12), son, scholar, born Sedgley;

BOROUGH BREWERY,
DUDLEY STREET, WEDNESBURY.

ISAAC WHICK

BECS to tender his best thanks to the inhabitants of Wednesbury and district, for the kind patronage bestowed upon him for the past 13 years, and hopes by strict attention to the quality of his noted Ales to merit a further portion of their favours. I. W. would remind Private Families and others that he is now supplying his noted Home Brewed Ales in Casks of 9 and 18 gallons, at Wholesale Prices.

N.B. — Terms, &c., upon application to the Brewery, as above.

1881 - Advert

"BOROUGH BREWERY, Dudley Street, Wednesbury.

Isaac Whick begs to tender his best thanks to the inhabitants of Wednesbury and district, for the kind patronage bestowed upon him for the past 13 years, and hopes by strict attention to the quality of his noted Ales to merit a further portion of their favours. I. W. would remind Private Families and others that he is now supplying his noted Home Brewed Ales in Casks of 9 and 18 gallons, at Wholesale Prices.

NB. Terms, &c, upon application to the Brewery, as above."

Walsall Observer 28/10/1882 - Marriages

"On the 26th inst, at St. John's Church, Wednesbury, by the Rev. Mr. Vaux (by license), Horatio Samuel Fellows, youngest son of the late William Fellows, of Oakland Terrace, Tettenhall Road, Wolverhampton, to Frances Louisa Whick, eldest daughter of Isaac Whick, of the BOROUGH ARMS, BREWERY, Wednesbury."

Shepton Mallet Journal 15/6/1888 -Advert

"(From the Wednesbury Herald.) We have recently noticed in the columns of our exchanges an article from a well-known citizen of this place which was so unusual in its nature, and so remarkable withal, that a reporter of this paper was commissioned to investigate its details and verify its facts. The article referred to was a statement made by Mr. Isaac Whick, of the BOROUGH ARMS, secretary of the Retail Brewers Protection Association.

Mr. Whick was visited by our reporter, and upon being questioned, said, 'Well, sir, logically I have been dead, but really I am as you can see me. Six years ago I was taken ill with pains in the small of my back which gradually grew in intensity, until I was obliged to call in my medical adviser. He diagnosed my case, and stated that I was suffering from disease of the kidneys. He gave me the usual remedies, treated me for three years, but I gradually grew worse. In the summer of 1885, after years of suffering and wasting away, an old physician to our family was, upon my request, called from a neighbouring city to consult with my regular medical attendant. A difference of opinion rose between them as to whether my complaint was kidney trouble or stone in the bladder. The result was that a surgical examination was decided upon, and I was carried to Birmingham that I might have the benefit of the most eminent surgeon in that city. That examination resulted in my being informed that no medicine could cure me; and my medical man was told that I could not possibly live three months. Returning home I was naturally very despondent, when a little book was placed in my hand, in which the symptoms of my disease were clearly put and the name of the remedy given which would cure it. In sheer desperation I purchased a bottle, and after taking it, experienced some benefit. I bought more, and with each bottle could see and feel an improvement. My friends also noticed my changed appearance, and congratulated me upon my recovery. I have taken none of the medicine since last autumn, and am today a perfectly well man. I weigh half-a-stone more than I ever did in my life, and have no sign of the disease about me. I consider that I owe my life to Warner's Safe Cure....."

[This was covered nationally.]

1891 Census

8, Dudley Street

[1] Daniel Garbett (41), beerhouse keeper, born Shropshire;

[2] Emily Garbett (27), wife, born Dudley;

[3] George Garbett (6), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;

[4] James Washington (23), brother-in-law, coal miner, born Staffordshire;

[5] Annie Washington (24), sister-in-law, born Wednesbury;

[6] Eliza Bridge (16), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

County Express 25/7/1891 - Advert

"Important Sale of Freehold Public House Property.

To Brewers, Trustees, Capitalists, and Others.

Messrs. Bill, Son, and Gamble have received instructions from Messrs. J Marston and Co, Brewers, Burton-on-Trent, to Sell by Public Auction, at the TALBOT HOTEL, Stourbridge, on Friday, the 7th day of August, 1891, at Five for Six o'clock in the evening.....

Lot 2. That Capital Freehold Beerhouse, known as the BOROUGH ARMS, and situate in Dudley Street, Wednesbury, together with the Dwelling House adjoining; the Public House being let to Mr. Daniel Garbett on a tenancy terminable by three months' notice from any quarter-day, at the totally inadequate rent of £24 per annum. Area 577 square yards or thereabouts.....

The Auctioneers beg to call the special attention of Trustees and small Capitalists to this Sale, as the properties are all let to substantial tenants, and there is therefore no trouble in the collection of the rents nor management of the Properties, which the Auctioneers recommend as being thoroughly sound investments.

For further particulars, apply to Messrs. J. and W. J. Drewry, Solicitors, Burton-on-Trent; or the Auctioneers, Grenville Buildings, Cherry Street, Birmingham."

William Pymm, beer retailer, 8 Lower Dudley Street. [1896]

1901 Census

8, Lower Dudley Street

[1] William G. France (34), publican and brewer, born Wednesbury;

[2] Miriam France (34), wife, born Darlaston;

[3] William George France (9), son, born Wednesbury;

[4] Phoebe France (11), daughter, born Darlaston;

William George France – see also SCOTT ARMS, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, and WAGGON AND HORSES, King Street, Darlaston.

James Denton, beer retailer, 8, Lower Dudley Street. [1904]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/3/1906

"The adjourned licensing sessions at Wednesbury were held yesterday.....

Superintendent Salt opposed the licenses of BOROUGH ARMS, Dudley Street.

The magistrates after private deliberation sent all the cases to the quarter sessions for compensation."

Lichfield Mercury 29/6/1906

"The members of the Staffordshire Licensing Committee resumed the hearing of the cases referred to them by the justices of the licensing districts, at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Monday.....

The Wednesbury borough justices referred the BOROUGH ARMS, Dudley Street, Wednesbury, for consideration. Mr. Disturnal was for the justices, and Mr. Willcock, Wolverhampton, was for the owners.

Supt. Salt gave evidence as to the structural character of the house, and he mentioned the fact that there had been five transfers within a few years. Within an area of 500 yards there were 45 licensed houses, and he thought that there were too many. In regard to the BOROUGH ARMS, he said that the facilities for police supervision were not good, and if the license were refused in his opinion there would be ample accommodation in the district. In cross-examination, the witness gave reasons why in his opinion this house differed from others in the locality.

In addressing the committee, Mr. Willcock said he could not for the life of him see on what ground this house had been selected for consideration, pointing out that there were worse houses on either side of it, and that the BOROUGH ARMS, unlike neighbouring houses, was not situated near to a fully-licensed house.

Mr. Tomlins, surveyor, Wolverhampton, stated that the house did a trade of an average of 155 barrels a year, and he gave it as his opinion that the BOROUGH ARMS were not inferior to the other houses.

William Henry Adams, the tenant of the house, said it belonged to Yardleys, and that he was satisfied with the trade that was being done at the house.

Mr. Disturnal said the fact that there had been four transfers in four years did not bear out the statement that a good trade was done at the house.

The license was refused by the committee."

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/7/1906 - Notice

"The Licensing Act, 1904. County of Stafford.

Notice is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 11th day of June, 1906, and by several Adjournments thereof on the 18th, 25th, and 30th of June, 1906, to Refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below, all Persons Claiming to be Interested in the said Premises for the purpose of the Payment of Compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensee and the Registered Owner of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority Notice of their Claims before the 30th day of July, 1906, for the purpose of enabling the Compensation Authority to ascertain in manner provided by the Licensing Rules, 1904, the Persons entitled to Compensation under the said Act in respect of the said Premises.....

BOROUGH ARMS, Dudley Street, Wednesbury. Beerhouse 'on' (ante 1869). Licensee, Edwin Beesley. Registered Owners, J. and J. Yardley Limited."

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/8/1906

"Staffordshire Licensing Committee. Compensation Awards.....

Upon consideration of the case of the BOROUGH ARMS, Dudley Street, Wednesbury, owned by Messrs. J. and J. Yardley Limited, Mr. Darby stated it was the subject of Chancery proceedings by the various sets of debenture-holders. The amount claimed as compensation was £1,080, and the committee offered £800. Mr. Darby said the lowest figure his clients were prepared to accept was £900, out of which they proposed to pay £75 to the tenant. He asked the committee if they could see their way to allow £850; otherwise the case must be referred to the Inland Revenue Commissioners. The Chairman, after consultation with his colleagues, said the committee, to save further expense to the parties, were willing to offer £850, but the decision must not be regarded as a precedent. The sum was apportioned £45 to the tenant (William Henry Adams) and £5 to the licensee (Edwin Beesley), the remainder to be dealt with by the Court of Chancery.

The Chairman announced that the committee had fixed September 12 as the date for payment of compensation in all the cases which had been agreed upon."

THE SECRETARY SPEAKS.

The following circumstances, drawn from the personal experience of Mr. Isaac Whick, of the "Borough Arms," Dudley Street, Wednesbury, are so important and really remarkable that they cannot help but be of interest and value to all readers:—

TO THE EDITOR.

Sir,—My motives for the publication of the most unusual statements which follow are, first, gratitude that I have been saved from a most horrible death, and secondly, a desire to warn all who read this statement against some of the most deceptive influences by which they have ever been surrounded. It is a fact that to-day thousands of people are within a foot of the grave, and they do not know it. To tell how I was caught away from just this position, and to warn others against nearing it, are my objects in this communication.

During 1882 I felt pains in the small of my back, gradually growing in intensity until I was forced to call in my medical adviser. He diagnosed my case, and confirmed my own ideas by stating that I was suffering from disease of the kidneys. He gave many of the usual remedies, put me on a strict diet, and for nearly three years I was under his treatment, but constantly grew worse. I was forced to pass water every few minutes during the day and night, and always with the greatest pain and burning sensation. If allowed to stand for a short time, a heavy white sediment would form in the bottom of the vessel. Several times my urine was analysed by the most competent men. I was frequently confined to my bed for several weeks at a time, could not attend to my business, and had wasted away in flesh until I was a mere shadow of my former self. My appetite left me, and I began to consider my case a hopeless one, as my friends showed by their actions that they did. In the early summer of 1885, after five years of suffering and wasting away, an old physician to our family from a neighbouring city was, at my request, called in consultation with my regular medical attendant. A difference of opinion arose between them as to whether my complaint was kidney trouble or stone in the bladder, and a surgical examination was decided upon, but could not then be made, owing to my reduced condition and the inflamed state of my bladder. In the meantime, though confined to my bed, it was decided to consult the most eminent medical man of Birmingham as soon as my condition would allow, in company with my medical men, all of whom reported large quantities of albumen as passing from me, and all agreed that I was in a dangerous condition. I went to Birmingham, suffering greatly from the effects of the journey, and after a full examination and consultation, was told by the physician no medicine would cure me. When I asked what was the matter with me, he stated that the acids passing through my bladder from the kidneys had entirely eaten away the inner lining of the bladder, and that this was true had been before proved by the analysis of my urine, in which particles of this lining had been found. I then asked regarding my chances of recovery, but he said to me that my own medical man would tell me when we got home; but this the latter refused to do, always putting me off with one excuse or another whenever I would ask him what Sir ——— had said about me. In September, 1885, I read a book left at my house, in which the symptoms of my disease were clearly put, and also some letters from people suffering as I was, and statements from them that Warner's SAFE Cure had effected cures in their cases. I argued that all these people certainly could not lie, and that, as I could get no benefit from my medical men, I would try Warner's SAFE Cure. I bought one bottle, and after taking it experienced some benefit, my appetite improved, and I was just a little better. I bought more, and with each bottle I could see and feel an improvement, until, in January, 1887, I was so much improved that all my friends were amazed, and were congratulating me on my recovery. During part of this time my regular attendant gave me medicine, which I put untasted in the cupboard, and continued taking only the Warner's SAFE Cure, and constantly improving under its use. It was now that my medical man told me that in the August previous Sir ———, of Birmingham, had said I could not live three months, and at most not until Christmas (1885). In all, I have taken only twelve bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure, the last some months ago, and during the time I took no other medicine of any kind; and to-day I am a perfectly well man, and weigh seven pounds more than I ever did in my life, my weight now being thirteen stone and eleven pounds; my appetite is as good as it ever was, and I have no sign or symptoms of any disease or disorder of any nature; and I consider that I owe my health, if not, indeed, my life, to Warner's SAFE Cure.

(Signed) ISAAC WHICK,

Secretary of Retail Brewers' Protection Association.

A statement like the above needs no comment. Those who are suffering should profit by the experience of Mr. Whick before it is too late. The remedy he used can be had of all chemists, at 4s. 6d. per bottle, or of H. H. WARNER AND CO., 56, Clerkenwell Road, London, E.C.

LOT 2—That Capital FREEHOLD BEERHOUSE, known as the "BOROUGH ARMS," and situate in Dudley Street, Wednesbury, together with the DWELLING HOUSE adjoining the Public House being let to Mr. Daniel Garbett on a tenancy terminable by three months' notice from any quarter-day, at the totally inadequate rent of £24 per annum. Area 577 square yards or thereabouts.

1891

BRICKLAYERS ARMS

Portway Road, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Isaiah Nash [1860]
Edward Millington [1861] – [1862]
Thomas Hayes [1862]

NOTES

[1853]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 3/6/1860

“Booth of Wednesbury will run either Baylis or Jinks of Westbromwich from 100 to 120 yards, for £5 to £25 a side. Money ready at J. [sic] Nash’s, BRICKLAYERS ARMS, Wednesbury, at any time.”

1861 Census

Portway Road – BRICKLAYERS ARMS

- [1] Edward Millington (49), blacksmith and beer retailer, born Sedgley;
- [2] Dinah Millington (52), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Ann E. Millington (19), daughter, general servant, born Walsall;
- [4] Thomas Millington (17), son, blacksmith, born Bilston;
- [5] Richard Millington (15), son, blacksmith, born Bilston;
- [6] Diana Millington (12), daughter, scholar, born Bilston:

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/7/1861

“Staffordshire Summer Assizes.....

Barnet Solomon and Henry Solomon, on bail, were indicted for having feloniously forged a certain promissory note for £5, at Wednesbury, on the 29th of May, 1860, with intent to defraud. The prosecution was conducted by Mr. Kenealy and Mr. Pritchard; Mr. Huddleston, QC, and Mr. Henry James were engaged on behalf of the prisoner. Mr. Kenealy, in opening the case, said that in May, 1860, prosecutor kept an inn called the BRICKLAYERS ARMS, at Wednesbury, and the prisoners were travelling jewellers, hawking and selling watches to any person who could be induced to deal with them. On the 29th of May, 1860, they went to the house of the prosecutor, whom they persuaded to take a watch for £6 6s. The prosecutor paid a £1 and was to pay the remainder at the rate of 4s a fortnight. Henry Solomon then asked for a piece of paper and wrote something on it. He requested the prosecutor to sign it, telling him that it was merely an acknowledgement that he had had the watch, and promised to pay the balance of the money by instalments. Prosecutor being an illiterate man, his housekeeper signed on his behalf what the prisoner Henry Solomon wrote on a piece of ruled paper taken from a book in a drawer and given to him. A fortnight afterwards they called upon the prosecutor’s housekeeper and obtained the first instalment of 4s. About 4 months afterwards an attorney applied for £5, and in December last the prosecutor was proceeded against in the Under Sheriff’s Court upon a promissory note drawn in these terms. ‘Birmingham, May 29th, 1860. Three months after date I promise to pay Henry Solomon and Barnet Solomon, or order the sum of £5 for value received. Signed Isaiah Nash, BRICKLAYERS ARMS, Portway Road, Wednesbury.’ It was that document which the prosecutor alleged was a forged one.

Mr. J. Nevitt, clerk to Mr. Hand, Under Sheriff, produced the note, stated that at the trial of Stone v Nash, in December last, the prisoners were witnesses for Stone, and declared that the note was a genuine one, and that they had received it from Nash.

Isaiah Nash, gas tube inspector at Wednesbury, said that in May, 1860, he kept a public house. On the 29th of May he saw the prisoners at his house in reference to a watch about which he had previously spoken. His daughter, his housekeeper, and Thomas Booth were present. He bargained with them for a watch for £6 6s, to pay £1 down, and he was to have it valued, and if it was not worth the money he was to return it. If it suited he was to pay 4s a week. A sovereign was paid by his housekeeper at his request. Henry Solomon then asked for a piece of paper, and the housekeeper took a piece of paper from a book and gave it to him. He asked for a pen and some ink, and then he wrote something on the piece of paper that was taken out of the book. He (prosecutor) saw the paper, which was ruled like a leaf from an account book. Henry wrote something on it, and requested him to sign it, saying it was only an acknowledgement that the watch had been sold for six guineas. He requested his daughter to sign his name, but she referred to the housekeeper, who then signed it. He saw her write something. She made a big blot on the paper. He (witness) never wrote anything nor did he make a mark. The piece of paper was not more than half the size of the note produced, and was ruled. The piece of paper which his housekeeper signed was written across the paper, and had no stamp on. After it was signed Henry Solomon put it in his pocket. He next saw the prisoner about a month after, at his house. He never gave authority to the prisoners to get 4s from the housekeeper on account of the watch. He found the watch was not worth the money.

Cross-examined. £1 4s was all that had been paid for the watch. He (witness) was married, but did not live with his wife. The trial was postponed at the last assizes in consequence of the absence of his daughter. He cohabited with his housekeeper, who was confined at the last assizes. That was not the real reason why the application was made for the postponement of the trial. His daughter did not tell him she left home because she would not take care of his illegitimate child. About four months after he had the watch the prisoner's attorney made an application for the money.

Susanna Nichols, housekeeper to Isaiah Nash, corroborated his evidence, and added that a fortnight after the sale of the watch the prisoners made an application for 4s, and she refused to pay it because Nash had told her he had had the watch valued, and it was not worth the money. They went away and returned, stating that Nash had authorised them to apply to her for 4s, and she, therefore, paid 4s. Further applications were made for the instalments, but she and Nash refused, and both offered the watch back again.

Witness was cross-examined relative to several bills which were receipted, and she stated that she was not able to say whether they were receipted by her or not. She had not brought the book from which the piece of paper was taken.

Martha Nash, daughter of the prosecutor, a little girl thirteen years of age, corroborated the evidence of the last witness, excepting as to the nature of the writing of the piece of paper taken from the book.

Thomas Booth, fitter and turner, gave similar evidence to that of Isaiah Nash.

Mr. Nevitt, on being recalled, said that the note was produce at the trial of Stone against Nash, by the attorney for the plaintiff. The prisoners were examined as witnesses, and he remembered Henry said that he received the note for the watch from Nash.

Mr. Henry Jackson deposed that he acted as attorney for Charles Stone on the occasion referred to by Mr. Nevitt. He received the promissory note from Charles Stone, and the prisoners were examined as witnesses; he put the note into their hands. They both swore that it was signed by Nash's housekeeper for him, and that it was a genuine note.

Cross-examined. He believed the body of the note was in the handwriting of the wife of one of the prisoners. He was convinced that the prisoners could not have imitated the handwriting.

Re-examined. He never saw the prisoners write anything.

This being the case for the prosecution, Mr. Huddleston addressed the jury for the defence, and contended that the prosecution of the prisoners was a cruel one, and was an attempt to convict them of a serious offence for the purpose of avoiding payment of £5.

Mr. J. Phillips, member of the Town Council; Mr. J. Lazarus, manufacturer, Birmingham; Mrs. Marks, jeweller, Birmingham; and Mr. G. Rose, Birmingham, gave the prisoners a good character.

His Lordship, in summing up, explained that there were two counts in the indictment – one for forging the note, and one for uttering it, knowing it to have been forged. He thought they might dismiss the first from their minds, as there was no evidence that the note or the signature was in the handwriting of either of the prisoners. They must consider whether the note was a forged one, and then whether the prisoners uttered it, knowing it to have been forged.

The jury retired for a short time, and found a verdict of not guilty."

Edward Millington was also a blacksmith. [1862]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 19/11/1862 - Advert

“Wednesbury. BRICKLAYERS ARMS INN, Portway Road.

Clearing-Out Unreserved Sale by Auction, by R. L. Courtney, on Monday, the 24th day of November; comprising the whole of the capital Brewing Plant, with fourteen iron-bound Ale Casks, Ale Machine, Malt Crusher, Screws, Benches, wood Partitions, with doors and cases; wood Sheds and Stables, excellent Force Pump, Lifting Screws, Swage Block, 1¾-inch Pit Rope. 150 yards long (new); three sets of strong Cart Harness, three sets of Chain Tackle, Dog Cart; all the Wood Spouting round the Premises; Household Furniture, and other Effects, belonging to Mr. Thomas Hayes, who is declining the Public Business.

Sale to commence at eleven o'clock.”

WEDNESBURY.

“BRICKLAYERS’ ARMS INN,”

PORTWAY ROAD.

CLEARING-OUT UNRESEVED

SALE BY AUCTION.

BY R. L. COURTNEY, on Monday, the 24th day of November; comprising the whole of the capital
BREWING PLANT, with fourteen iron-bound Ale Casks, ALE MACHINE, Malt Crusher, Screws, Benches, wood Partitions, with doors and cases; wood Sheds and Stables, excellent Force Pump, Lifting Screws, Swage Block, 1¾-inch Pit Rope, 150 yards long
(new); three sets of strong Cart Harness, three sets of Chain
Tackle, DOG CART; all the Wood Spouting round the Premises;
HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, and other Effects, belonging to Mr.
Thomas Hayes, who is declining the Public Business.
Sale to commence at eleven o'clock.

BRITANNIA

Darlaston Road, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Drew [1834] – [1846]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Birmingham Journal 12/9/1846

“A man named Davidson was brought before the Magistrates, at Wednesbury, on Tuesday, charged with having been found in the pigsty of Mr. Drew, a publican, with a felonious intent. The prisoner was endeavouring to get the pig out of its domicile, and was taken into custody. The Rev. I. Clarkson, the Magistrate, reprimanded the prisoner, but as he said he only made use of the sty as a temporary lodging, he was fined 10s and costs.”

BRITANNIA

100, Holyhead Road / Chapel Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

James Henshaw

LICENSEES

James Henshaw [1868] – [1872]
Joseph Holmes [1876] – [1891]
Mrs. Ann Holmes [1896] – [1904]
John Ricketts [1912] – 1922;
Mrs. Mary Ann Ricketts (1922 – 1924);
Harry Pitcock (1924 – [])
Charles Albert Taylor [1939] – [1940]
Frederick Noakes (1946 – 1953)

NOTES

OLD HOUSE AT HOME [1881]

It had a beerhouse license.

James Henshaw, beer retailer, Holyhead Road. [1868], [1870]

1871 Census

100, Holyhead Road – BRITANNIA ARMS

- [1] James Henshaw (50), beerhouse keeper, born Sedgley;
- [2] Mary Henshaw (44), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Sarah Cartwright (13), domestic servant, born West Bromwich:

James Henshaw, beer retailer, 100, Holyhead Road. [1872]

Dudley Herald 5/8/1876 - Advert

“Freehold Property at Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Jabez Bywater, at Mr. Francis Dicken’s, PLOUGH AND HARROW INN, Leabrook Road, Wednesbury, on Tuesday Evening, August 22nd, 1876, at Six o’clock in the Evening, subject to conditions then to be read.

All that Public House and Premises known by the sign of the BRITANNIA INN, situated and being No.100, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, together with the Greengrocer’s Shop adjoining, being No.101, Holyhead Road aforesaid, and five Houses in Chapel Street, being Nos.1, 2, 3, 4, and one at the back of No.4, in the respective occupations of Joseph Holmes, Samuel Fisher, J. Jones, and others, and producing an annual rental of £87 8s 4d.

This Property is pleasantly situated and substantially built, and in a prominent position, and will always command first-class tenants.

For further particulars apply to Joseph Stokes, Esq, Solicitor, 1, Priory Street, Dudley, or to the Auctioneer, 64, High Street, Princes End.”

FREEHOLD PROPERTY AT WEDNESBURY.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, BY
MR. JABEZ BYWATER, at Mr. Francis Dicken’s, Plough and Harrow Inn, Leabrook Road, Wednesbury, on TUESDAY EVENING, August 22nd, 1876, at Six o’clock in the Evening, subject to conditions then to be read :—

All that PUBLIC-HOUSE and Premises known by the sign of the Britannia Inn, situated and being No. 100, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, together with the Greengrocer’s Shop adjoining, being No. 101, Holyhead Road aforesaid, and five HOUSES in Chapel Street, being Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, and one at the back of No. 4, in the respective occupations of Joseph Holmes, Samuel Fisher, J. Jones, and others, and producing an annual rental of £87 8s. 4d.

This Property is pleasantly situated and substantially built, and in a prominent position, and will always command first-class tenants.

For further particulars apply to Joseph Stokes, Esq., Solicitor, 1, Priory Street, Dudley, or to the Auctioneer, 64, High Street, Princes End.

1881 Census

100, Holyhead Road – OLD HOUSE AT HOME

- [1] Joseph Holmes (45), publican, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Ann Holmes (39), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Eliza Holmes (16), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Joseph Holmes (14), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Hannah Holmes (12), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Sarah J. Holmes (10), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Agnes Holmes (8), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Samuel Holmes (5), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Ann Holmes (9 months), daughter, born Wednesbury;

Wednesbury Herald 15/7/1882 - Advert

“Mr. E. B. Scholefield has received instructions from the Trustee of the late James Henshaw to submit by Auction, at the house of Mr. Francis Dicken, the PLOUGH AND HARROW INN, Lea Brook, Wednesbury, on Thursday, the 20th day of July, 1882.....

Lot 1. All that Valuable Freehold Beerhouse, known by the sign of the BRITANNIA INN, situate in the Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, and containing Three Bedrooms, Parlour, Tap Room, Kitchen, Cellar, Brewhouse, Malt Room, Stable, Pigsty, with joint use of the Yard, Outbuildings, and a road from Chapel Street, now in the occupation of Joseph Holmes; also the Two Freehold Messuages adjoining, one used as a Retail Shop, No.101, in Holyhead Road, in the occupation of Thomas Skeldon, and the other situate in and being No.1, Chapel Street, in the occupation of Thomas Bishop, the whole producing a rental of £50 12s 4d per annum.”

1891 Census

100, Holyhead Road

- [1] Joseph Holmes (53), publican, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Ann Holmes (48), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Joseph Holmes (24), son, steel worker, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Hannah Holmes (22), daughter, school teacher, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Sarah Jane Holmes (20), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Agnes Holmes (18), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Samuel Holmes (15), son, clerk, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Annie Holmes (9), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Alice Holmes (8), daughter, born Wednesbury;

Mrs. Annie Holmes, beer retailer, 100, Holyhead Road. [1896]

1901 Census

100, Holyhead Road

- [1] Ann Holmes (58), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Annie Holmes (19), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Alice Holmes (17), daughter, born Wednesbury;

Mrs. Ann Holmes, beer retailer, 100, Holyhead Road. [1904]

Evening Despatch 3/3/1911

“Wednesbury adjourned licensing sessions.....

It was decided, on the application of Mr. A. J. Glover, to sanction alterations to the BRITANNIA INN, Holyhead Road, Mr. Scott, architect, putting in plans showing that it was proposed to put a 7ft wall at the back.”

1911 Census

100, Holyhead Road

- [1] Mary Ann Ricketts (49), married 30 years, beerhouse keeper, born Coventry;
- [2] Edith Small (17), general servant, born Wednesbury;

John Ricketts, beer retailer, 100, Holyhead Road. [1912]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 18/11/1912 - Letters to the Editor

“Sir. Will you kindly state through your widely-read paper that the BRITANNIA INN, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, was not the same BRITANNIA INN, mentioned at the adjourned inquest held at the Law Courts, West Bromwich, on the 15th inst, on the man Benjamin Knowles, who met his death from burning. By making this public I shall be greatly obliged.

Yours, John Ricketts, proprietor.”

1921 Census

100, Holyhead Road

[1] John Ricketts (57), home-brewed beerhouse keeper, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Mary Ricketts (58), wife, home duties, born Coventry:

South Staffordshire Times 7/1/1922

“Mr. John Ricketts, of the BRITANNIA INN, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, passed away on Wednesday last, at the age of 59 years. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Mary Ricketts, towards whom local sympathy has been extended.”

South Staffordshire Times 14/1/1922

“Wednesbury Police Court.....

The temporary transfer of the BRITANNIA beerhouse, Holyhead Road, was granted to the widow of the late Mr. Ricketts.

Evening Despatch 7/2/1936

“Presiding at Wednesbury Police Court today, Coun. Paul Griffiths expressed the disapproval of the Bench towards brewery companies who turned tenants out on the streets without first learning whether they found alternative accommodation. ‘I do not think it is fair that any brewery company should think they have the right to put publicans and their families on the street,’ he said. There should be some accommodation found for them before they were turned out.

The remarks were made when application was made for the temporary transfer of the license of the BRITANNIA INN, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury. Coun. Griffiths said the Bench visited that particular house yesterday and regarded it as one of the worst in Wednesbury as far as accommodation was concerned. Supt. J. H. Hall agreed and Mr. Griffiths asked the solicitor representing the brewery company to see that they took an early opportunity of remedying the defects. The living conditions were deplorable, he said. Mr. S. W. Smith, for the brewery company, intimated that plans for alteration were at the moment being prepared.”

1939 Register

100, Holyhead Road (3 of 4)

[1] Charles A. Taylor, date of birth 19/8/1890, public inn manager, married;

[2] Elsie M. Taylor, dob 28/10/1894, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Charles A. Taylor, dob 4/8/1922, brewery bottler, single;

Rugeley Times 8/2/1941

“The monthly report of the West Bromwich and District General Hospital, just issued, shows that the patients report for the month of December was in-patients admitted, 55; out-patients admitted to the several special departments, 284; to the casualty department, 905; attendance in all departments, 3,485.

Donations acknowledged for the month of December, 1940, were.....

BRITANNIA INN, Wednesbury, 2s 6d.”

Rugeley Times 19/6/1948

“Wednesbury, Darlaston and District Licensed Victuallers Association have enrolled 12 more new members, which makes 26 within a month. They are.....

F. Noakes, BRITANNIA, Wednesbury.”

Frederick Noakes was married to Ria.

A crib team from here won the Wednesbury District Cup c.1950.

‘Wednesbury Revisited’ by Ian M. Bott

“When T. Marshall and Company, grocers of Holyhead Road, was demolished in August 1963 family members undertook the removal themselves, to temporary premises at the delicensed BRITANNIA INN across the road.”

All that Valuable FREEHOLD BEERHOUSE, known by the sign of "The Britannia Inn," situate in the Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, and containing Three Bedrooms, Parlour, Tap Room, Kitchen, Cellar, Brewhouse, Malt Room, Stable, Pigsty, with joint use of the Yard, Outbuildings, and a road from Chapel Street, now in the occupation of Joseph Holmes, also the Two FREEHOLD MESSUAGES adjoining, one used as a Retail Shop, No. 101, in Holyhead Road, in the occupation of Thomas Skeldon and the other situate in and being No. 1 Chapel Street, in the occupation of Thomas Bishop, the whole producing a rental of £50 12s. 4d. per annum.

BRITANNIA

31, Trowse Lane, (Dale Street), (Bilston Road), WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Edward Wilding Phillips

LICENSEES

Thomas Finch [1861] – [1865]
Mrs. Elizabeth Finch [1865] – [1871]
Elizabeth Barrett [] – 1881;
Samuel Barrett (1881 – []
Arthur Waldron []
Moses Mills [1891]
Edward W Phillips [1901]
Harold Lyeach [1911]

NOTES

Bilston Road [1861]
Dale Street [1861], [1864], [1865]

It had a beerhouse license.

Thomas Finch, beer retailer, Dale Street. [1861], [1864], [1865]

1861 Census

Bilston Road

- [1] Thomas Finch (50), moulder, born Dawley, Shropshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Finch (46), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Martha Finch (17), daughter, born Shifnal, Shropshire;
- [4] Henry Finch (10), son, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Charlotte Finch (8), daughter, born Wednesbury;

Birmingham Daily Post 28/12/1861

“Yesterday an inquest was held before Edwin Hooper, Esq, Coroner, on the body of a newly-born male child, which had been concealed in a store-room at the house of Mr. Thomas Finch, beerhouse keeper, Dale Street, Wednesbury. The evidence went to show that, suspecting from certain circumstances what had occurred, Mrs. Finch taxed her niece with having given birth to a child, and that this led to the discovery of the body. Mr. Garman, surgeon, who was called as a witness, gave it as his opinion that the infant had not breathed, and after a careful enquiry, the Jury, under the direction of the Coroner, returned as their verdict that the infant was still-born. The Coroner then made out his warrant of committal on the charge of concealment of birth, and Elizabeth Brown, the mother, will be brought before the West Bromwich Magistrates today.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/1/1862

“On Friday an inquest was held on the body of a new-born child, which had been found dead in a storeroom in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Finch, beerhouse keeper, of Dale Street, Wednesbury. Mr. Garman, surgeon, gave it as his opinion that the child was still-born, and the jury returned a verdict accordingly. The next day Elizabeth Brown, a niece of Mr. Finch, was charged before the sitting magistrates at Westbromwich with concealing the birth of the child, and was committed for trial.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/3/1862

“Staffordshire Lent Assizes.....

Elizabeth Brown, 22, no occupation, was indicted for concealing the birth of her illegitimate male child, at Wednesbury. Mr. M‘Mahon appeared to prosecute.

Elizabeth Finch, the aunt of the prisoner, with whom she lived, said that on the 22nd of December she heard her niece moaning upstairs, and on going up found her apparently in great pain. She thought she had an attack of spasms, and told her she would send her up some kind of remedy. Next day, the prisoner went about her work as usual; but witness having suspicions as to the nature of her illness, asked her whether she had been confined. She admitted that she had, and said that she had put the body of the child in the malt-house, so that it might be seen. The body was afterwards found there in a sack.

Mr. Proctor, a surgeon, who had examined the child, gave evidence of its having been still-born.

The jury did not think the evidence supported a charge of concealment, and accordingly returned a verdict of not guilty.”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/5/1864 - Died

“On the 27th ult, of bronchitis, in his 53rd year, Thomas Finch, of Dale Street, Wednesbury; deeply regretted. Also, on the 30th ult, aged 75 years, Jane Finch, of Church Lane, Tipton, mother of the above.”

Birmingham Daily Post 2/8/1865 - Advert

“Lost, on July 15, in Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury, a Brown English Terrier Dog, weighs about 5lbs, name ‘Vixen.’ Whoever will restore the same to Mrs. Finch, BRITANNIA, Dale Street, Wednesbury, shall receive 10s Reward.”

LOST, on July 15, in Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury, a Brown English TERRIER DOG, weighs about 5 lbs, name “Vixen.” Whoever will restore the same to Mrs. Finch, Britannia, Dale Street, Wednesbury, shall receive 10s. Reward.

1871 Census

31, Trowse Lane

- [1] Elizabeth Finch (52), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Charlotte Finch (19), daughter, governess, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Juliatte Hill Sivener (5), grand-daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Eliza Plant (14), general servant, born Wednesbury:

1881 Census

31, Trowse Lane – BRITANNIA INN

- [1] Samuel Barnett (35), beerhouse keeper, born Warminster, Wiltshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Barnett (32), wife, born Stone, Staffordshire;
- [3] Charlotte Harrington (16), general servant, born Oldbury:

Birmingham 4/3/25 15/10/1890

“At Wednesbury Police court, yesterday, Arthur Waldron applied for the transfer of the GLADSTONE INN, Portway Road, to him from Martha Harvey. Mr. W. S. Smith appeared in support of the application, and Superintendent Holland opposed.

The applicant, in answer to questions, said he had kept the BRITANNIA INN, Wednesbury, for some time without complaint, and that afterwards he became manager of the TALBOT INN, Queen Street, West Bromwich. Whilst there, about two months ago, he was proceeded against for allowing gaming on the premises, and was fined in two cases. Since then he had faithfully carried out the promise which he made to the Bench that he would not have anything more to do with betting. He was fined £5 in one case and 40s in the other.

Inspector Ainsworth deposed to the convictions, and to the defendant having previously been warned with respect to card playing on his premises.

The Bench refused the application.”

1891 Census

31, Trowse Lane – BRITANNIA INN

- [1] Moses Mills (51), wheel slotter, coachbuilder, born Bentley;
- [2] Isabella Mills (52), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Thomas Aldridge (27), nephew, metal refiner, born Bilston:

1901 Census

31, Trowse Lane – Tavern – BRITANNIA

- [1] Edward W. Phillips (44), coach builder, born Breulth, Breconshire;
- [2] Annie Phillips (40), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] John E. Phillips (19), son, labourer, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Frederick S. Phillips (17), son, blacksmith, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Bertie H. Phillips (15), son, apprentice to coach builder, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Sybil A. Phillips (14), daughter, apprentice to dressmaker, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Bernard R. Phillips (13), son, school, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Edith W. Phillips (10), daughter, school, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Gertrude M. Phillips (8), daughter, school, born Wednesbury;
- [10] Alice May Phillips (6), daughter, school, born Wednesbury;
- [11] Amy Dorothy Phillips (5), daughter, school, born Wednesbury;

Wednesbury Leader 12/10/1901

“At Wednesbury Police Court on Friday, before Aldermen R. Williams, I. Oldbury, and Mr. F. W. Hackwood, a man named Edwin Hudson (50), of no fixed abode, but who has been living in apartments at Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, was charged with obtaining various sums of money by false pretences, and with intent to defraud, between the 17th September and 3rd October.

The evidence showed that prisoner represented himself to be in the employ of the Midland Advertising Company, Wolverhampton, and canvassed for advertisements for the Wolverhampton Wanderers Fixture Card. He secured 2s 6d from Frank Turbot, manager of the South Staffordshire Coffee House, Market Place; 4s 6d from Benjamin E. Pewtriss, tobacconist, Market Place; 5s from Herbert E. Kent, of the CROWN AND CUSHION INN; 5s from William H. Hadley, GREEN DRAGON INN, Market Place; 2s 6d from James Faulkner, BULLS HEAD INN; 2s from William Macdonald, THREE SWANS INN; 5s from Frank Bateman, licensed victualler, High Street; 2s 6d from Edward Phillips, BRITANNIA INN, Trowse Lane; 2s 6d from John Jones, FORRESTERS ARMS, Portway Road; and 2s 6d from Albert Newbould, OLD PACK HORSE, Dudley Street.

Frederick L. Hodgetts, of the Penn Road, Wolverhampton, said he was a partner in the Midland Advertising Company. Prisoner had been in their employ, but left on the 27th April. He had not been connected with the company since, and was not authorised to canvass for advertisements.

Detective Truswell deposed to effecting the arrest of prisoner.

Alderman Oldbury (to prisoner): Didn't you consider you had a lot of 'flats' to deal with in Wednesbury? I am surprised that tradesmen should give their money away without even asking for a receipt. They must be very confiding.

Prisoner was committed to take his trial at the Sessions, which commence on Tuesday next.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/10/1901

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Edwin Hudson, 50, traveller, pleaded guilty to having obtained various sums of money by false pretences at Wednesbury, on September 17. There were previous convictions against the prisoner, who was sentenced to three years' penal servitude.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/2/1910

“The licensing sessions for Wednesbury borough were held yesterday.....

All the licenses would be renewed except where transfers were pending, and that of the BRITANNIA INN, Trowse Lane, to which notice of opposition had been given.”

Birmingham Mail 3/3/1911

“Wednesbury adjourned annual Licensing Sessions.....

Mr. C. H. Darby applied for the renewal of the license of the BRITANNIA INN, Trowse Lane, which was objected to on the ground of redundancy.

The Bench referred this license for compensation.”

AND

Evening Despatch 3/3/1911

“Wednesbury adjourned licensing sessions.....

The BRITANNIA INN, Trowse Lane, was referred to the compensation authority, Superintendent Salt remarking that there had been six transfers of this license in ten years, and one conviction during the last year.

Mr. C. H. Darby, representing the tenant, said the latter desired to maintain the license, but he could not controvert the statement which had been made.”

1911 Census

31, Trowse Lane

[1] Harold Lyeach (34), publican, born Yorkshire;

[2] Annie Lyeach (28), wife, married 1 year, born Bromyard, Herefordshire;

[3] Grace Lyeach (6), daughter, born Bromyard, Herefordshire;

[4] Gladys Lyeach (4 months), daughter, born Wednesbury:

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/7/1911 - Notice

“The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County Of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 6th day of July, 1911, to Refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below, all Persons Claiming to be Interested in the said Premises for the purpose of the Payment of Compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensee and the Registered Owner of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority Notice of their Claims before the 21st day of August, 1911, for the purpose of enabling the Compensation Authority to ascertain in manner provided by the Licensing Rules, 1910, the Persons entitled to Compensation under the said Act, in respect of the said Premises.....

BRITANNIA INN, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury. Beerhouse, ante 1869, Cider and Wine. Licensee, Harold Lyeach. Registered Owner, Edward Wilding Phillips.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/10/1911

“At a recent meeting of the Staffordshire County Licensing Compensation Authority, held at Stafford, the claims for the total amount of compensation to be paid in respect of licenses refused at the principal meeting in July last were dealt with. The following are the decisions arrived at in the various cases.....

BRITANNIA, Wednesbury, referred to Inland Revenue.”

Lichfield Mercury 5/1/1912

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

The County Licensing Committee presented their annual report.....

The Committee at the supplemental meeting went in great detail into all the figures submitted to them upon which the persons interested claimed compensation, and heard upon oath evidence put forward by the claimants.....

Cases referred to the Commissioners of Inland Revenue, the committee being unable to approve the amounts submitted.....

BRITANNIA, Wednesbury.”

Lichfield Mercury 3/1/1913

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

The County Licensing Committee presented the following report.....

The Commissioners of the Inland Revenue gave their decisions in the eight cases referred to them last year, and the total amount awarded was £5,277.....

BRITANNIA INN, Wednesbury, £410.....

The compensation money has been divided amongst the interested parties and will be paid on the 21st December.”

BRITISH QUEEN

40+41, (41), Trowse Lane, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Thomas Stone
Showell's Brewery Co. Ltd. [1895]

LICENSEES

Thomas Stone [1830] – [1831]
Adam Fairburn [1834] – [1837]
Joseph Hall [1841] – [1842]
Samuel Cook [1844] – [1846]
Thomas Hyde [1848] – [1850]
Samuel Smith [1851] – 1854);
Samuel Cook (1854 – [1855]
Mrs. Sarah Cook [1860] – [1870]
Patrick Flynn [1869] – [1888]
Harry Paxton Nash [1890] – 1891);
James Patten (1891 – [1896]

NOTES

41, Trowse Lane [1871], [1873], [1896]
40+41, Trowse Lane [1881], [1888]

It was originally the KING AND CONSTITUTION.

QUEENS HEAD [1861]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 15/2/1830 - Advert

“Whereas a Commission of Bankrupt is awarded and issued forth against Thomas Stone, of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Inn-keeper, dealer and chapman, and he being declared a bankrupt, is hereby required to surrender himself to the Commissioners in the said commission named, or the major part of them, on the fifteenth day of February inst, at four o'clock on the afternoon, on the sixteenth day of the same month, and on the 9th of March next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, at the Whiston Cross Inn, in the parish of Albrighton, in the county of Salop, and make a full discovery and disclosure of his estate and effects; when and where the creditors are to come prepared to prove their debts, and at the second sitting to choose Assignees, and the last sitting the said bankrupt is required to finish his examination, and the creditors to assent to or dissent from the allowance of his certificate. All persons indebted to the said bankrupt or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to whom the Commissioners shall appoint, but to give notice to Mr. Hunt, Solicitor, Craven Street, Strand, London, or to Mr. Caddick, Solicitor, West Bromwich.”

Token

WHEREAS a Commission of Bankrupt is awarded and issued forth against THOMAS STONE, of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Inn-keeper, dealer and chapman, and he being declared a bankrupt, is hereby required to surrender himself to the Commissioners in the said commission named, or the major part of them, on the fifteenth day of February inst. at four o'clock in the afternoon, on the sixteenth day of the same month, and on the 9th of March next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, at the Whiston Cross Inn, in the parish of Albrighton, in the county of Salop, and make a full discovery and disclosure of his estate and effects; when and where the creditors are to come prepared to prove their debts, and at the second sitting to choose Assignees, and at the last sitting the said bankrupt is required to finish his examination, and the creditors are to assent to or dissent from the allowance of his certificate. All persons indebted to the said bankrupt or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to whom the Commissioners shall appoint, but to give notice to Mr. Hunt, Solicitor, Craven-street, Strand, London, or to Mr. CADDICK, Solicitor, West Bromwich.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 19/4/1830 - Advert

"Freehold Inn and other Dwelling Houses, in Wednesbury, Staffordshire; also a Life Annuity and Growing Crops. To be Sold by Auction, by J. W. Perks, at the KING AND CONSTITUTION INN, Wednesbury (by order of the Assignees of Thomas Stone, a bankrupt) on Friday next, the 23rd of April, at four o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then and there to be produced.

Lot I. All that above-mentioned Inn or Public House, situate in Trowse Lane, in Wednesbury aforesaid, together with the Licenses and Good-will, Stable, Garden, Brewhouse, and Outbuildings; and also two other Dwelling Houses adjoining thereto, now in the respective occupations of the said Thomas Stone, John Lawton, and Henry James.

The above premises, which have lately been erected, are freehold, and have an excellent pump of water at the back.

Lot II. Five Freehold Dwelling House, in Old Meeting Street, in Wednesbury.....

Lot III. Five other Dwelling Houses, in Old Meeting Street.....

Lot IV. The Interest and Annual Produce during the Life of the said Thomas Stone (who is now in his 60th year) of and in the principal sum of £1,000, and of and in a Piece of Land in Shrewsbury, in the county of Salop, now used as a Timber Yard, in the occupation of Messrs. Chune and Son, at an annual rental of £20.

Lot V. About Five Acres of Growing Wheat in a Field in the parish of Wednesbury aforesaid, called Whitehead's Piece, and One Acre and a Quarter of Growing Wheat in Darlaston Field.

For further particulars apply to Mr. Caddick, Solicitor, West Bromwich."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 31/5/1830 - Advert

"The Creditors who have proved their debts under a Commission of Bankrupt awarded and issued forth against Thomas Stone, of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Innkeeper, dealer and chapman, are requested to meet the Assignees of the said bankrupt's estate and effects on Monday the 7th day of June next, at three o'clock in the afternoon precisely, at the KING AND CONSTITUTION INN, in Wednesbury aforesaid, in order to assent to or dissent from the said Assignees selling and disposing of by private contract, or in such other manner, at such price or prices and upon such terms and conditions as the said Assignees may consider most beneficial, the whole or any part of the freehold, leasehold, and personal estates and effects of the said bankrupt in and to any property, goods, chattels, debts, or effects to any person or persons whomsoever; and in case of a sale or sales, to execute all necessary conveyances, assignments, and assurances, and to do all and every necessary act to carry the same into effect; and also to the said Assignees making any arrangement or compromise with any person or persons having or claiming to have any mortgage, lien, or other securities on any of the said bankrupt's estate and effects, or to their resisting the same; and also to the said Assignees compounding with any debtor or debtors to the said bankrupt's estate, and taking any reasonable part of the debts or debts in discharge of the whole, or giving time or taking security for the payment of such debt or debts, or submitting any dispute between such Assignees and any persons concerning any matter relating to such bankrupt's estate to arbitration; and also to the said Assignees commencing, prosecuting, compromising, or defending any actions at law or suits in equity for the recovering, protection, or defence of the estate and effects of the said bankrupt, and generally to authorise and empower the said Assignees to take such measures and make such arrangements in and about selling, disposing, and settling the said estate of the said bankrupt as to the said Assignees may seem expedient; and on other special affairs.

E. Caddick, Solicitor of the Commission."

London Gazette 28/9/1830

"The Commissioners in a Commission of Bankrupt, bearing date the 7th day of January 1830, awarded and issued forth against Thomas Stone, of Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, Inn-keeper, Dealer and Chapman, intend to meet on the 25th day of October next, at Eleven in the Forenoon, at the Winston-Cross Inn, situate in the Parish of Albrighton, in the County of Salop, in order to Audit the Accounts of the Assignees of the estate and effects of the said Bankrupt under the said Commission; and the said Commissioners also intend to meet on the same day, at One o'clock in the Afternoon, at the same place, to make a Final Dividend of the estate and effects of the said Bankrupt; when and where the Creditors, who have not already proved their debts, are to come prepared to prove the same, or they will be excluded the benefit of the said Dividend. And all claims not then proved will be disallowed."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 18/7/1831 - Died

"On the 2nd inst, of apoplexy, Mr. Thomas Stone, of the KING AND CONSTITUTION, Wednesbury."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 29/8/1831 - Advert

"To be Sold by private Contract, the Licenses, Good-will, and immediate Possession of the KING AND CONSTITUTION INN, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, late in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Stone, deceased.

The premises are well situate (and particularly adapted to the public business) in a populous neighbourhood, and contiguous to extensive Collieries and Iron Works.

The purchaser to take to the brewing vessels, barrels, household furniture, stock (which is very limited), &c, at a fair valuation.

For particulars apply (if by letter post paid,) to Daniel Taylor, Auctioneer, &c, Wednesbury."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 5/3/1832 - Advert

"Freehold Inn and Other Dwelling Houses, in Wednesbury, Staffordshire.

To be Sold by Auction, by Daniel Taylor, at the HARE AND HOUNDS INN, Wednesbury (by order of the Assignees of Thomas Stone, a bankrupt) on Friday the 9th day of March, 1832.....

Lot I. All that the above-mentioned Inn or Public House, called the KING AND CONSTITUTION, situate in Trowse Lane, in Wednesbury aforesaid; together with the Stable, Garden, Brewhouse, and Outbuildings. Also two other Dwelling Houses adjoining thereto."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 19/3/1832 - Advert

"A most eligible opportunity for an industrious Person.

Public House to be Let, with immediate possession, the KING AND CONSTITUTION INN, Wednesbury, fitted up in the most complete manner, with large tap-room, two parlours, bar, &c, six lodging-rooms, detached cooking kitchen, brewhouse, stable, piggeries, large garden, and abundant supply of water, late in the occupation of Mr. T. Stone, deceased.

Apply to Mr. Hobbins, GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury.

NB. No Good-will, Stock, or Fixtures to be taken to."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/3/1832 - Advert

"A Desirable Public House.

To Let, with immediate possession, the KING AND CONSTITUTION INN, in Wednesbury; consisting of Bar, two Parlours, large Tap Room, and six Sleeping Rooms, with detached Cooking Kitchen, Stable, and Piggeries, a large Garden, and an excellent supply of Water, with every requisite convenience for carrying on the public business to advantage, late in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Stone, deceased.

For further particulars, apply to Mr. J. Hobbins, GREEN DRAGON INN, Wednesbury.

NB. No good will or stock to take to."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 1/8/1836 - Advert

"Freehold Inn, Dwelling Houses, Building Ground, &c, in Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Daniel Taylor, at the KING AND CONSTITUTION INN, Wednesbury, on Monday the 15th of August inst, at five o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions to be then and there produced.

Lot I. All that valuable Inn called the KING AND CONSTITUTION, situate in Wednesbury aforesaid, with the Stable, Brewhouse, and other outbuildings, Garden, Yard, &c, now in the occupation of Mr. Adam Fairburn, as tenant from year to year; also two Dwelling Houses adjoining thereto, now or late in the holding of James Ray and Mrs. Haughton.

Lot II. Two Freehold Dwelling Houses, situate in Workhouse Lane, in Wednesbury, in the respective holdings of William Harper and John Jones, and an undivided third part or other share (which will be specified at the sale) of and in a Dwelling House and other premises adjoining, now or late in the holding of Thomas Biddle.

Apply (if by letter, post paid) to Mr. Adams, Solicitor, Darlaston; Mr. Holland, Solicitor, West Bromwich; Mr. C. R. Wace, Solicitor, Ellesmere, Salop; or at the Auctioneer, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury."

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/2/1837 - Advert

“Freehold Inn, Dwelling Houses, and Building Ground, at Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Private Contract, all that valuable Inn, called the KING AND CONSTITUTION, in Wednesbury, with the stabling, brewhouse, outbuildings, garden, yard, &c, in the occupation of Mr. Fairburn, as tenant from year to year, and two Freehold Dwelling Houses adjoining. These premises have been erected within a few years, and are substantially built.

To view the above, apply to Mr. Richard Tibbitts, Butcher, Wednesbury; and for further particulars, to Mr. Adams, Solicitor, Darlaston; Mr. Holland, Solicitor, Westbromwich; or to Mr. C. R. Wace, Solicitor, Ellesmere, Salop.”

[Queen Victoria acceded to the throne following the death of William IV on 20th June 1837.]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/7/1839 - Advert

“.....To be Sold by Auction on Tuesday, the 16th day of July, 1839.....

Lot II. Two recently erected and substantial Freehold Dwelling Houses, situate near the BRITISH QUEEN public house, in Wednesbury, and fronting the turnpike road there.....”

1841 Census

Trouse Lane

[1] Joseph Hall (45), publican, born Staffordshire;

[2] Sarah Hall (19), born Staffordshire;

[3] Henry Hall (17), born Staffordshire;

[4] Roger Hall (11), born Staffordshire;

[5] Jane Smith (18), f.s., born Staffordshire:

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 27/9/1841 - Advert

“BRITISH QUEEN, Wednesbury.

To be Let, with immediate possession, on unusually favourable terms, all that old and well established Public House, situate on the road side leading from Wednesbury to Bilston and Darlaston, and near to the Collieries and Iron Works belonging to Messrs. Lloyds, Foster, and Co.

The Proprietor is leaving in consequence of other engagements.

The Stock, Fixtures, &c, to be taken to at a fair valuation. Rent moderate, and coming-in unusually low.

For detailed particulars and to treat apply to Messrs. Taylor and Bills, Auctioneers, Land and Building Agents, Wednesbury.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 30/10/1844

“A correspondent states that there is in the possession of Mr. Samuel Cook, BRITISH QUEEN INN, Wednesbury, an extremely beautiful hog pig of the Berkshire breed. It is perfectly white, twenty-two months old, and from the snout to the end of the tail measures eight feet, and it stands three feet two inches high. This pig is considered by excellent judges not to be excelled in England.”

Samuel Cook was also a builder. [1845]

Birmingham Journal 8/11/1845

“Birmingham, West Bromwich, Wednesbury, and Walsall Junction Railway.

We, the Undersigned, Landowners, Merchants, Coal and Ironmasters, Manufacturers, Traders, Agriculturists, and other Inhabitants residing in the boroughs of Birmingham and Walsall, and the towns of Wednesbury, West Bromwich, Handsworth, and other places in those Districts, do hereby express our opinion that the projected Birmingham, West Bromwich, Wednesbury, and Walsall Junction Railway is calculated to serve the important Mining, Manufacturing, Trading, and Agricultural Interests of the places and districts above mentioned, and we promise it our strenuous support.....

Samuel Cook, Victualler, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Journal 28/11/1846

“On Tuesday last, at Wednesbury, Samuel Cook was charged with detaining a box, value 12s, and three books, value 4s, belonging to a club of Odd Women. Mr. Hall appeared for the complainant, and Mr. Dalby for the defence. It appeared that the defendant keeps the BRITISH QUEEN, at Wednesbury, and formerly the complainants held their lodge at his house. In July last the lodge was removed in consequence of some dissatisfaction, but Mr. Cook refused to give up the books. He had been repeatedly asked for the property, but always refused to give it up. After a consultation by the Bench, it was thought advisable that the matter should be settled by arbitration of the Court, and the parties retired for that purpose.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/11/1846

“Mr. Samuel Cook, publican, Wednesbury, at whose house a female benefit society was held, was charged with stealing the cash box and books belonging to the club. Defendant had a lien on the property, and the magistrates dismissed the case.”

Birmingham Journal 19/2/1848 - Advert

“Freehold Dwelling Houses, in Monway Field, Portway Road, Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Jos. Dawes, on Monday, February 28, at the House of Mr. T. Hyde, BRITISH QUEEN, Wednesbury aforesaid, at Seven o'clock in the Evening.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/1/1851

“An inquest has been held before G. H. Hinchliffe, Esq, coroner, at the BRITISH QUEEN, Wednesbury, on the body of Elizabeth Small, who, from the fact of her living with a man not her husband, and other suspicious causes, was supposed to have poisoned herself; but, upon the evidence of E. Russell, Esq, surgeon, it appeared that she died of apoplexy. Verdict accordingly.”

Birmingham Journal 25/1/1851 - Advert

“The BRITISH QUEEN, Wednesbury.

To be Let, with immediate possession, the above-named Old-Licensed Public House, now doing a good Business, and is well-situated. Valuation about £180.

For particulars, and to treat, apply to Joseph Dawes, Auctioneer, Wednesbury.”

1851 Census

Trouse Lane

[1] Samuel Smith (23), gun lock filer and victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Martha Smith (23), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Ann Pew (17), general servant, born Wednesbury:

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/7/1852

“Thomas Stokes was charged with breaking four panes of glass by throwing a stone through the window of the BRITISH QUEEN INN, at Wednesbury, and was ordered to pay the damage 4s, and costs 9s 6d, in default 14 days' imprisonment.”

Samuel Cook = Samuel Cooke

Birmingham Journal 1/7/1854 - Advert

“Mr. Samuel Cook, late of the LAMP TAVERN, Wednesbury, begs to inform his Friends and the Public generally, that he has Removed to his former residence, the BRITISH QUEEN, situate in Trowse Lane, and in tendering his thanks to his Friends, the Gentry, and Public, begs to assure them that every possible attention shall be paid to the accommodation and comfort of all his customers.

Fine Ale and Porter. British and Foreign Wines and Spirits of every description, and of the best quality. Good Stabling.”

Birmingham Journal 15/7/1854

“On Tuesday Michael Flanagan and Anthony Conolly were brought up at Wednesbury Public Office, to answer the following charge.

Police-constable Clarke said that on Saturday night he was sent for to the BRITISH QUEEN, to take Flanagan into custody for smashing a window, when he was knocked down, kicked, and bitten by him. A mob of Irish assembled and rescued the prisoner, who was, however, retaken when assistance arrived. The clothes of the constable were produced; they were actually clogged with blood, and completely spoiled. Police-constable Gettings confirmed the testimony of his brother officer, and stated that he himself was severely beaten.

Mr. Samuel Cooke, landlord of the house, said Flanagan went to his house drunk, and was refused to be served. He then challenged every one there to fight. He (the witness), in ejecting him, was nearly strangled, and when at length expelled, the prisoner flung a large stone through the window, and the police were called in.

The other prisoner (Conolly) was shown to have taken a prominent part in the assault on the police and the rescue of Flanagan, and the Bench fined them both £10 each, or two months to hard labour.

Mr. Bagnall made some forcible remarks on the prevalence of such affrays, and thought that they would never be done away with till the publicans, in the absence of any legislative enactment on the subject, came to an agreement amongst themselves to close their houses on the Sunday. Mr. Cooke said he, for one, would gladly do so if the other persons in the trade would consent to adopt a similar course.”

Birmingham Journal 22/9/1855

“Rejoicing at the Fall of Sebastopol. The demonstration of loyal and patriotic feeling which the news of the capture of the Russian stronghold evoked, has nowhere exceeded, if it has equalled, the popular ebullition of feeling at the town of Wednesbury on Monday last.....

The churches, railway stations, manufactories, workshops, and most of the private houses were profusely dressed with brilliantly emblazoned flags and banners. The following were among the most striking.....

Mr. S. Cooke, BRITISH QUEEN, Trowse Lane.”

Samuel Cook – see also LAMP.

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/12/1858

“The only meeting yet held in South Staffordshire in connection with the present movement in favour of a reform of the representation took place on Tuesday evening at the BRITISH QUEEN, Wednesbury. Mr. Benjamin Danks presided, and urged the extension of the suffrage and the direct representation of the district about Wednesbury. Mr. John Arnott, the secretary pro tem, read the following as the principles on which the association should be based. Registered manhood suffrage, vote by ballot, shortening the duration of parliaments, and more equal electoral districts. After an animated discussion, in which Messrs. William Perry, William Taylor, Thomas Wood, John Jackson, and others took part, this basis of principle was unanimously adopted.”

Reynolds Newspaper 6/2/1859

“A Reform Meeting was lately held at Wednesbury. An address to the Reformers of South Staffordshire was resolved upon, advocating the enfranchisement of the district, registered manhood suffrage, the ballot, and a re-distribution of seats. The secretary of the association is Mr. John Arnott, and the address of the committee-room the BRITISH QUEEN, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury.”

1861 Census

Trowse Lane – BRITISH QUEEN

- [1] Sarah Cook (52), widow, licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Thomas Danks (45), lodger, married, gun lock smith, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Sarah Danks (18), daughter, barmaid, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Thomas Danks (14), son, gun lock smith, born Wednesbury;
- [5] David Danks (9), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Frances Danks (5), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Joseph Parry (55), lodger, married, bricklayer, born Churchill, Staffordshire;
- [8] Andrew Parry (35), lodger, bricklayer, born Churchill, Staffordshire;
- [9] Edward Mathen (23), lodger, bricklayer, born Churchill, Staffordshire;

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 19/3/1864

“Spect and Whittaker. These district novices run at Ash Tree Grounds, Tividale, on Monday the 28th, a six-score yards match, for £5 a side. A further deposit for the same must be made to Mr. T. Danks, BRITISH QUEEN INN, Frouse [sic] Lane, Wednesbury, on Monday, March 21.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 12/11/1864

“E. Cattle of Wood Green, Wednesbury, will shoot a match with Mr. Nuttall of Wednesbury at pigeons or sparrows, or Mr. W. Edwards can have a match on. Cattle will be at Mr. Dank’s, BRITISH QUEEN INN, Wednesbury, this evening, or any other during the week to make a match, for their own sum.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 26/5/1866

“125 Yards Handicap (All England). Mr. Tranter (the proprietor of the Britannia Grounds, Tipton) will give £5 as a first prize, £2 as second, and 10s as third prize, distance 125 yards in an All England Handicap, to come off on Monday, June 11. Entrance 1s each, no acceptance, to be made on or before Tuesday, June 5, at the grounds, or to T. Rogers, CROSS KEYS, Bilston; Tim Thomas, RAILWAY INN, Dudley Port; Danks, BRITISH QUEEN, Wednesbury; Wedge, ALBION INN, Willenhall; or Thompson, ROEBUCK, Brettell Lane. Any one entering falsely will be disqualified. The above is for the benefit of T. Watkinson (better known as Darby Tom), who has been lamed in the coal mines. The proceeds of the above benefit will go towards defraying his expenses to a watering place for the recovery of his strength. We hope he will receive a bumper on this occasion, as he is well deserving of the same, he having hitherto acted as master of the ceremonies of the above grounds, although suffering from lameness in the feet, &c.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 20/4/1867

“E. Whittaker of Wednesbury will give F. Stadham of Darlaston two yards start in six score yards, for £10 a side; or will give Dudley of Wednesbury one yard in the like distance, for £10 a side; or will take a yard start of T. Tonks or Wareing in six score yards, for £10 a side. Money ready at T. Danks’s, BRITISH QUEEN, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 31/8/1868

“An inquest was held on Saturday afternoon last before Mr. Edwin Hooper, coroner for South Staffordshire, at the BRITISH QUEEN INN, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury, concerning the death of John Fallin, a child three months old, whose parents lived in Blakemores Square, Trowse Lane. The deceased had been a weakly child ever since his birth, and his mother dying a fortnight afterwards, he lingered and wasted away until his death on Thursday last, when he was a mere skeleton. Notwithstanding the child’s weak condition his father never sought the attendance of a doctor for him, and for such conduct he was severely reprimanded and cautioned by the coroner. The jury returned a verdict of Died from Natural Causes.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 7/11/1868 - Advert

“Wednesbury.

To Let, all that excellent Old-Licensed House, the BRITISH QUEEN, Trowse Lane, comprising Bar, Smoke Room, Kitchen, Tap Room, Club Room, Chambers, good Cellaring, Stables, Yard, and Garden.

The above is suitable for a Spirit Vault, and it is near to Lloyds Foster’s, and other Ironworks.

Apply, Joseph Whitehouse, Auctioneer, Wednesbury.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 21/11/1868 - Advert

“Unreserved Sale at the BRITISH QUEEN, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Joseph Whitehouse, on Tuesday Nex, November 24th, 1868 (under a distress for rent).

All the Household Furniture, Brewing Plant, &c, belonging to Mrs. Sarah Cook, comprising Mahogany and other Tables, Chairs, Sofa, Oak Wardrobe, Tent Bedsteads, Feather Beds, 4-pull Beer Machine, Copper and Iron Boilers, Mash Tub, Ale Coolers, 17 Ale Casks, and other Effects.

Sale to commence at Eleven o’clock am.

The House and Premises to Let.

The Licenses and Goodwill and Possession will be sold the first Lot.

Catalogues can be had at the place of Sale, or the Auctioneer’s Office, Russell Street, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/11/1869

“At the Wednesbury Police Court yesterday, before Mr. Spooner, Stipendiary, Patrick Flynn, keeper of the BRITISH QUEEN, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury, was charged with permitting disorderly conduct on his premises, by suffering persons to remain fighting and drinking and making a great disturbance, at nine o'clock on the 25th October.

Mr. Spooner asked the defendant if he had brought his license, when he said he had not. Mr. Spooner said that if the defendant did not bring his license on another occasion he would fine him £5.

Police-constable Farnell stated that on the day in question he was on duty in the High Bullen, and there was a crowd around the defendant's house. He went in to ascertain the cause of the disturbance, and on going inside he found two men fighting. A third man was standing near covered with blood. The men continued fighting whilst he was there; and the tables and benches had been removed from the centre of the room. There were a great many persons standing round witnessing the fight, and betting upon the issue. He went to the landlord, who was in another room, and spoke to him of what was taking place, when he said he could not help it.

Mr. Ebsworth represented the defendant, who was fined £5.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 18/1/1870

“About six o'clock last night Mr. Flynn, landlord of the BRITISH QUEEN, Trowse Lane, near the High Bullen, Wednesbury, went to the police station, in that town, and stated that he wanted assistance to get a man named Stephen McFarlane out of his house. Police-constable John Stanton and Police-constable Thomas Henbery went, and found the man outside the house. On them requesting him to leave, he went away. He, however, returned, and the officers again asked him to go, which he did. When he had got out of sight, a roller, named Robert Savage, of Dale Street, came to the officers, and said McFarlane had assaulted him. They went towards the spot where the alleged assault took place, and saw McFarlane coming towards them. They decided to take him into custody for being drunk and disorderly, as they could not prove the assault, as it had not taken place in their sight. The prisoner came along very quietly until he got to the High Bullen, when he began to desist. When he got into Camp Street he pulled out a knife, and stabbed Police-constable Stanton under the left eye, and in the left hip. Prisoner stabbed Police-constable Henbery, and the knife went through his clothing into his side, just above his heart. Police-constable Reeley, who was not on duty, happened to be passing at the time, and he rushed to the assistance of the officers. He took the knife out of the prisoner's hand, but, in doing so, he was cut across the right wrist. Superintendent Holland at once sent for Mr. Iliffe, surgeon, and he ordered that Police-constable Stanton should go to bed. The surgeon is of opinion that Stanton will not be fit for duty for some weeks; but the other officer has escaped with such a comparatively slight wound, that he will commence his ordinary duties in a few days. Stanton has had a very narrow escape of losing his left eye; and but for the thick materials of which the police have their clothing made, the other officer would inevitably have been killed.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 14/3/1870

“Staffordshire Lent Assizes.....

Stephen McFarlane (21), striker, was indicted for maliciously wounding John Stanton on the 17th of January at Wednesbury, with intent to do him some grievous bodily harm.....

The wound over Stanton's eye was considered a very dangerous one, and he was incapable of performing his duties for a month.

The prisoner said he could not remember anything about the matter, as he was drunk at the time. He was very sorry for what he had done. The jury found him guilty.

The learned judge remarked that the offence was a very serious one, and he could not do otherwise than pass a severe sentence upon the prisoner. Prisoner was sentenced to five years' penal servitude.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/9/1870

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions at West Bromwich.....

At the previous Sessions several applications for renewals of spirit licenses were adjourned in consequence of the applicants having infringed the terms of their licenses in various ways.....

Patrick Flynn, BRITISH QUEEN, Wednesbury, for permitting drunkenness in his house....

The magistrates retired to consult together, and on their return the Chairman announced that they had decided to grant renewals to Patrick Flynn.”

1871 Census

41, Trowse Lane

[1] Patrick Flynn (60), licensed victualler, born Ireland;

[2] Mary Flynn (50), wife, born Ireland;

[3] Ellen Fitzgerald (40), niece, born Ireland:

Birmingham Daily Post 6/4/1872

“Mr. E. Hooper, District Coroner, held an inquest, on Thursday, at the BRITISH QUEEN INN, House [sic] Lane, Wednesbury, on the body of Hannah Monaghan, aged five years, the daughter of parents living in that locality. On Monday evening deceased was running across the road near her parents’ house, when she was knocked down by a horse and trap belonging to Mr. Clews, of James Bridge, and driven by a man named Shaw, the wheel of the vehicle passing over her head. She was taken home and attended by Mr. J. C. Garman, but death ended her sufferings early on the following morning. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Patrick Flynn issued tokens from here, made by C. Dipple, Wolverhampton Street.

1881 Census

40+41, Trowse Lane – BRITISH QUEEN

[1] Patrick Flynn (67), licensed victualler, born Ireland;

[2] Mary Flynn (52), wife, born Ireland;

[3] Ellen Fitzgerald (48), niece, born Ireland;

[4] Margaret Moruhon (19), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Wednesbury Herald 16/12/1882

“Mr. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest at the BRITISH QUEEN INN, Trowse Lane, on the body of Ann Morris (40), wife of a miner living in that locality.

It appeared that the deceased was prematurely confined on the 8th, and died somewhat suddenly on the following day, before which time a midwife named Elizabeth Jordan, who had been in attendance upon her, had taken the child to the parish sexton and had it buried, handing in a kind of certificate which she had got her husband to write for her, and to which she had affixed her mark. A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned.

The Coroner severely censured Mrs. Jordan in respect of the preparation of the certificate, and burial of the body, and said he should report her conduct to the public prosecutor, with a view to a prosecution being instituted against her. He also directed Sergeant Lightfoot, the officer in charge of the case, to make enquiries as to the burial.

Mrs. Jordan said she was under the impression that she had a legal right to give a certificate of still born children. She had for years given certificates. The Coroner said she had acted illegally.”

In 1884, during the investigation of the Dynamite Society, a group of Irish nationalists (Fenians), planning a bombing campaign against English cities, Patrick Flynn voluntarily attended a police interview. He stated that at one time he had clubs meeting at his house, but that he got rid of them when he found that they were of an illegal or questionable character. It was stated that when the news of the assassination of Lord F. Cavendish and Mr. Burke was received, he publicly expressed his abhorrence of the crime, and, further, that he lent the police valuable assistance in discovering the whereabouts of a man who was accused of complicity in the murder of Lord Mountmorris.

[See the ROYAL OAK, King Street, for further details.]

Birmingham Daily Post 21/5/1884

“A Partisan of the Dynamitards.

At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, Kate Molloy, and elderly Irishwoman, was charged with having been drunk and disorderly at the house of Patrick Flynn, the BRITISH QUEEN, High Bullen, on the 6th instant, and with having refused to leave the house. The evidence of Ellen Fitzgerald, assistant at the house, and Flynn, was to the effect that she went to the house very drunk, and abused Mr. Flynn with the grossest language, accusing him of having ‘rounded’ on some of the Irish brotherhood. The abuse was continued until a constable was sent for, and then she went away. It will be remembered that Flynn’s name and address were found written on a piece of paper in Daley’s possession at the time of his apprehension in Liverpool. The defendant said she only repeated what she had seen in the papers. She was fined 5s and cost, or fourteen days’ imprisonment in default.”

Wednesbury Herald 21/2/1891

“Mr. Edwin Hooper (District Coroner) held an inquest at the BRITISH QUEEN INN, Trowse Lane, on Tuesday, respecting the death of the illegitimate child of a girl named Elizabeth Shady. It was stated that the mother of the child was 14 years of age, and employed on a pit bank. On the 13th inst she gave birth to the child, and on the 14th it was seized with a fit and died before assistance could be obtained. There was no suspicious circumstances, and the jury returned verdict of Died from Natural Causes.”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/3/1891

“Yesterday Mr. E. Hooper, district coroner, held an inquest, at the BRITISH QUEEN INN, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury, on the body of William Cooper (22), nut and bolt forger, who took his life on Saturday, under the circumstances stated in yesterday’s Post.

Jane Cooper, widow of the deceased, identified the body, and said she was married to the deceased on the 16th of December last, but she lived at her mother’s for a month afterwards, and they had been living in Trowse Lane between two and three weeks. Her husband had been very funny in his ways ever since they were married, saying one thing and meaning another. Usually he came home from work to dinner at one o’clock, but on Saturday he did not return until three o’clock. He then fetched her from her mother’s, and when they had entered their own home he told her to sit by his side. She sat down, and in a short time she saw him take a pistol from his pocket. He told her to turn towards him, and then he pointed the pistol straight at her face and let it off, but she turned her head at the moment and fell into his arms. She tried to shout, but he put his hand over her mouth and told her to be quiet. She did not shout, however, and then he gave her the key of the door. He had locked the door and put the key into his pocket when they entered the house, and told her to go upstairs and when she came down she would find him dead. When she had got the key she unlocked the door and ran down the yard, and when she came back in two or three minutes he was lying on the ground outside the house dead. He had never tried to shoot himself before, but he had wished for a pistol. When she saw him take it from his pocket she asked him where he got it from, but he would not tell her. She did not know any of his family had been insane, but his father had told her that when at home he was a big trouble. He had never complained to her about her being intimate with any young man, but he had complained about his head. He was very jealous of her, and used to take notice of the time she was away on an errand, and find fault with her if she was away more than a few minutes. He brought her only 4s 11d on Saturday, and said he was vexed he had not been able to get more; but she told him not to mind, and gave him some tea, which was all she had for dinner.

In answer to jurors, she said it was true that she was away from home one night; that was on Tuesday. She stayed at her mother’s, because she was afraid of her husband. When he gave her the money on Saturday he said he had paid for the coal, which was 5d. He appeared to have been drinking, but he said he had only a pint. On the Monday night he came home drunk, and picked up a lamp to her. He had walked about the room more than once with a knife or razor in his hand. She had, however, got possession of the razor, and had given it to his father, who advised her, so recently as Friday, to get a situation if she could not do anything with her husband.

Thomas William Nicholls deposed that hearing the report of a pistol at about a quarter to four o’clock on Saturday, and hearing from the neighbours that the deceased had a revolver, he went to the house, and, finding the door fastened, looked through the window. The deceased had his wife across his knees on the chair, but he released her on hearing witness’s raps at the window. He seized her again, and put a pistol on the table. The wife then unlocked the door, and sought refuge in the next house, the people unlocking the door to let her in. Her husband followed, and after saying something to her went back into his own house; but in a minute or two came out again and fired the pistol into the air. He then re-entered the house, but quickly reappeared, and putting the pistol to his right temple, cried out, ‘Here goes; I told you what she would bring me to.’ From what witness had known of him he was steady, and without any peculiarities. Witness knew nothing against the wife.

Police-sergeant Betts deposed to finding the pistol by the side of the deceased on the ground, and caps, powder, and shot on the table in the house. There was also a bit of paper, on which was written in pencil, ‘William Cooper, I have come to shoot myself.’ He could not find that there was any ground for the deceased’s jealousy of his wife, nor could he hear that the deceased’s fellow workmen at Mr. Richards’s had been chaffing him.

John Hardwick, ironmonger, Trowse Lane, deposed to selling the deceased the pistol produced on Saturday afternoon for 1s 6d, and also caps, powder, and shot, a pennyworth of each.

The Coroner summed up briefly, and the jury returned a verdict of Suicide during Temporary Insanity.”

1891 Census

41, Trowse Lane – BRITISH QUEEN

- [1] Harry P. Nash (39), publican, born Droitwich;
- [2] Amelia Nash (31), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Wallace Nash (11), son, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Harry Nash (4), son, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] May Nash (2), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [6] Bertie H. Nash (1), son, born Wolverhampton;
- [7] Florence Nash (9), daughter, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [8] Lois Jones (18), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1891

“The adjourned licensing meeting for the Wednesbury petty sessional division was held yesterday.....

The renewal of the license of Harry Paxton Nash, the BRITISH QUEEN, Trowse Lane, had been opposed on several grounds, the principal being that last year he was convicted of permitting drunkenness. Mr. W. S. Smith appeared for the applicant, and stated that the license had been transferred to James Patten. Superintendent Walters withdrew the objection Granted, subject to transfer being made to James Patten.”

Harry Paxton Nash – see also PRINCE OF WALES, Wood Street, Wolverhampton.

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/11/1892

“Patrick Gastley, labourer, Trowse Croft, Wednesbury, was charged with being drunk and disorderly and doing wilful damage. On Tuesday night he was drunk, when he threw some bricks through the plate-glass window of the BRITISH QUEEN INN, Trowse Lane, doing damage to the extent of £3. He was fined 10s and costs for the drunkenness, and 1s and costs, together with £3 damage, for breaking the window; or, in default, six weeks’ hard labour altogether.”

James Patten was convicted of permitting drunkenness in November 1894. He was fined £5 and costs.

Birmingham Daily Post 28/9/1895

“The adjourned licensing meeting for the borough of Wednesbury took place yesterday.....

Superintendent Salt opposed the renewal of the licenses in respect of.....

BRITISH QUEEN, Trowse Lane, kept by James Patten, on the ground of the disorderly character of the house, the premises being so arranged as to be difficult of police supervision, two convictions for breaches of the Licensing Acts, that the house was not required in the locality, and that Patten had failed to produce satisfactory evidence of good character.....

The magistrates refused to renew the license for the BRITISH QUEEN.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 5/10/1895

“Messrs. Showell and Sons, the owners of the BRITISH QUEEN INN, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury, the renewal of the license of which was refused by the Licensing Justices, have decided to appeal against the decision at the Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.”

Birmingham Daily Post 31/10/1895

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

James Patten, landlord of the BRITISH QUEEN public house, Wednesbury, and Showell’s Brewery Company, the owners, appealed against a decision of the Wednesbury borough magistrates not to renew the license, Mr. A. Young and Mr. Jesse Herbert for Patten, and Mr. Plumptre for the company.

The BRITISH QUEEN was a fully-licensed house, and the police objected to the renewal on the usual grounds, viz, the disorderly character of the house, inability to properly supervise it, the convictions against tenants, that the house was not required, and that Patten had failed to produce satisfactory evidence as to character. In November, 1890, Nash, a former tenant, was fined 40s and costs for permitting drunkenness, and in October last year Patten was fined £5 and costs for a like offence.

It was contended that the house was situated in a low neighbourhood, and that there was no necessity for increasing the facilities for obtaining drink, there being a number of other licensed houses near.

An argument ensued as to the production of evidence, and in the end the Court decided to hear it. Police-constable Eden said the house during the last three years had been badly conducted, and evidence of a corroborative character was given by Police-constable Golby, while Police-sergeant Williams stated that for about four years prior to April of the present year the house had been of a very disorderly character. Superintendent Shaw spoke as to the inability of the police owing to the construction of the house to give it proper supervision. Mr. Plumptre, in the course of his address, mentioned that his clients gave £1,800 for the house, and he contended that they were in no way to blame for the management of the house. When they assumed possession of the house they took the precaution of having a very stringent agreement by which they could discharge the tenant immediately upon any serious misconduct. As to the conviction against Patten, he submitted that it would be a very harsh proceeding to deprive a man of his license because of one conviction against him. With regard to the difficulties complained of by the police as to supervision, the owners were prepared to make such alterations as the Court might consider desirable. Several witnesses were called to speak to the good character of Patten and as to the general good conduct of the house, and afterwards counsel addressed the Court. The appeal was dismissed with costs. Lord Hatherton stated that the feeling with respect to the hardship to the owners of public houses had been in the mind of the magistrates, and no doubt was the reason why some appeals had been successful. He thought the law on the point required alteration."

FREEHOLD INN AND OTHER DWELLING HOUSES,
In Wednesbury, Staffordshire;

Also a LIFE ANNUITY and GROWING CROPS.
TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by J. W. PERKS, at the King and Constitution Inn, Wednesbury (by order of the Assignees of Thomas Stone, a bankrupt) on Friday next, the 23d of April, at four o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then and there to be produced;—

LOT I. All that above-mentioned Inn or Public House, called the KING and CONSTITUTION, situate in Trowse-lane, in Wednesbury aforesaid, together with the Licences and Good-will, Stable, Garden, Brewhouse, and Outbuildings; and also two other Dwelling Houses adjoining thereto, now in the respective occupations of the said Thomas Stone, John Lawton, and Henry James.

The above premises, which have lately been erected, are freehold, and have an excellent pump of water at the back.

LOT II. Five Freehold Dwelling Houses in Old Meeting-street, in Wednesbury aforesaid, in the respective occupations of Thomas Barnett, Thomas Glover, Wm. Harper, Elizabeth Holland, and ———.

LOT III. Five other Dwelling Houses, in Old Meeting-street, in the respective occupations of Elizabeth Price, Thomas Wright, Thomas Smith, Amuel Griffiths, and ———.

LOT IV. The Interest and Annual Produce during the Life of the said Thomas Stone (who is now in his 60th year) of and in the principal sum of £1000, and of and in a Piece of Land in Shrewsbury, in the county of Salop, now used as a Timber Yard, in the occupation of Messrs. Chune and Son, at an annual rental of £20.

LOT V. About Five Acres of Growing Wheat in a Field in the parish of Wednesbury aforesaid, called Whitehead's Piece, and One Acre and a Quarter of Growing Wheat in Darlaston Field.

For further particulars apply to Mr. Caddick, Solicitor, West Bromwich.

THE Creditors who have proved their debts under a Commission of Bankrupt awarded and issued forth against THOMAS STONE, of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Innkeeper, dealer and chapman, are requested to meet the Assignees of the said bankrupt's estate and effects on Monday the 7th day of June next, at three o'clock in the afternoon precisely, at the King and Constitution Inn, in Wednesbury aforesaid, in order to assent to or dissent from the said Assignees selling and disposing of by private contract, or in such other manner, at such price or prices and upon such terms and conditions as the said Assignees may consider most beneficial, the whole or any part of the freehold, leasehold, and personal estates and effects of the said bankrupt, and of all the estate and interest of the said bankrupt in and to any property, goods, chattels, debts, or effects to any person or persons whomsoever; and in case of a sale or sales, to execute all necessary conveyances, assignments, and assurances, and to do all and every necessary act to carry the same into effect; and also to the said Assignees making any arrangement or compromise with any person or persons having or claiming to have any mortgage, lien, or other securities on any of the said bankrupt's estate and effects, or to their resisting the same; and also to the said Assignees compounding with any debtor or debtors to the said bankrupt's estate, and taking any reasonable part of the debt or debts in discharge of the whole, or giving time or taking security for the payment of such debt or debts, or submitting any dispute between such Assignees and any persons concerning any matter relating to such bankrupt's estate to arbitration; and also to the said Assignees commencing, prosecuting, compromising, or defending any actions at law or suits in equity for the recovering, protection, or defence of the estate and effects of the said bankrupt, and generally to authorise and empower the said Assignees to take such measures and make such arrangements in and about selling, disposing, and settling the said estate of the said bankrupt as to the said Assignees may seem expedient; and on other special affairs.

E. CADDICK,
Solicitor to the Commission.

TO be SOLD by private Contract, the Licences, Good-will, and immediate Possession of the KING and CONSTITUTION INN, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, late in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Stone, deceased.

The premises are well situate (and particularly adapted to the public business) in a populous neighbourhood, and contiguous to extensive Collieries and Iron Works.

The purchaser to take to the brewing vessels, barrels, household furniture, stock (which is very limited) &c. at a fair valuation.

For particulars apply (if by letter, post paid) to Daniel Taylor, Auctioneer, &c. Wednesbury.

1831

FREEHOLD INN
AND OTHER DWELLING HOUSES,
IN WEDNESBURY, STAFFORDSHIRE.

TO be SOLD by Auction, by DANIEL TAYLOR, at the Hare and Hounds Inn, Wednesbury (by order of the Assignees of Thomas Stone, a bankrupt) on Friday the 9th day of March, 1832, at four o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then and there to be produced:—

LOT I. All that the above-mentioned Inn or Public House, called the KING and CONSTITUTION, situate in Trowse-lane, in Wednesbury aforesaid; together with the Stable, Garden, Brewhouse, and Outbuildings. Also two other Dwelling Houses adjoining thereto, now or late in the respective occupations of John Lawton and Henry James.

A most eligible opportunity for an industrious Person.
PUBLIC HOUSE.

TO be LET, with immediate possession, the KING and CONSTITUTION INN, Wednesbury, fitted up in the most complete manner, with large tap-room, two parlours, bar, &c. six lodging-rooms, detached cooking kitchen, brewhouse, stable, piggeries, large garden, and an abundant supply of water, late in the occupation of Mr. T. Stone, deceased.

Apply to Mr. Hobbins, Green Dragon, Wednesbury.

N.B. No Good-will, Stock, or Fixtures to be taken to.

A DESIRABLE PUBLIC HOUSE.

TO LET,

With immediate possession,

THE KING AND CONSTITUTION INN, in WEDNESBURY; consisting of Bar, two Parlours, large Tap Room, and six Sleeping Rooms, with detached Cooking Kitchen, Stable, and Piggeries, a large Garden, and an excellent supply of Water, with every requisite convenience for carrying on the public business to advantage, late in the occupation of Mr. THOMAS STONE, deceased.

For further particulars, apply to Mr. J. HOBBS, Green Dragon Inn, Wednesbury.

N.B.—No good will or stock to take to.

1832

FREEHOLD INN,
DWELLING HOUSES, BUILDING GROUND, &c.
IN WEDNESBURY.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by DANIEL TAYLOR, at the King and Constitution Inn, Wednesbury, on Monday the 15th of August inst. at five o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions to be then and there produced—

LOT I. All that valuable Inn, called the KING AND CONSTITUTION, situate in Wednesbury aforesaid, with the Stable, Brewhouse, and other outbuildings, Garden, Yard, &c. now in the occupation of Mr. Adam Fairburn, as tenant from year to year; also two Dwelling Houses adjoining thereto, now or late in the holding of James Ray and Mrs. Haughton.

LOT II. Two Freehold Dwelling Houses, situate in Workhouse-lane, in Wednesbury, in the respective holdings of William Harper and John Jones, and an undivided third part or other share (which will be specified at the sale) of and in a Dwelling House and other premises adjoining, now or late in the holding of Thomas Biddle.

Apply (if by letter, post paid) to Mr. Adams, Solicitor, Darlaston; Mr. Holland, Solicitor, West Bromwich; Mr. C. R. Wace, Solicitor, Ellesmere, Salop; or to the Auctioneer, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.

1836

FREEHOLD INN, DWELLING-HOUSES, AND BUILDING GROUND, AT WEDNESBURY.

TO BE SOLD BY PRIVATE CONTRACT,

ALL that valuable INN, called the King and Constitution, in Wednesbury, with the stabling, brewhouse, outbuildings, garden, yard, &c. in the occupation of Mr. Fairburn, as tenant from year to year, and two Freehold Dwelling-Houses adjoining. These premises have been erected within a few years, and are substantially built.

To view the above, apply to Mr. RICHARD TIBBITTS, Butcher, Wednesbury; and for further particulars, to Mr. ADAMS, Solicitor, Darlaston; Mr. HOLLAND, Solicitor, Westbromwich; or to Mr. C. R. WACE, Solicitor, Ellesmere, Salop.

1837

BRITISH QUEEN, WEDNESBURY.

TO be LET, with immediate possession, on unusually favourable terms, all that old and well established PUBLIC HOUSE, situate on the road side leading from Wednesbury to Bilston and Darlaston, and near to the Collieries and Iron Works belonging to Messrs. Lloyds, Foster, and Co.

The Proprietor is leaving in consequence of other engagements.

The Stock, Fixtures, &c. to be taken to at a fair valuation. Rent moderate, and coming-in unusually low.

For detailed particulars and to treat apply to Messrs. Taylor and Bills, Auctioneers, Land and Building Agents, Wednesbury.

1841

THE BRITISH QUEEN, WEDNESBURY.

TO be LET, with immediate possession, the above-named OLD-LICENSED PUBLIC HOUSE, now doing a good Business, and is well-situated. Valuation about £180. For particulars, and to treat, apply to Joseph Dawes, Auctioneer, Wednesbury.

1851

MR. SAMUEL COOK, late of the Lamp Tavern, Wednesbury, begs to inform his Friends and the Public generally, that he has REMOVED to his former residence, the BRITISH QUEEN, situate in Trowse Lane, and in tendering his thanks to his Friends, the Gentry, and Public, begs to assure them that every possible attention shall be paid to the accommodation and comfort of all his customers.

Fine Ale and Porter, British and Foreign Wines and Spirits of every description, and of the best quality. Good Stabling.

1854

WEDNESBURY.

TO LET, all that excellent OLD-LICENSED HOUSE, the "BRITISH QUEEN," Trowse Lane, comprising Bar, Smoke Room, Kitchen, Tap Room, Club Room, Chambers, good Cellaring, Stables, Yard, and Garden. The above is suitable for a Spirit Vault, and is near to Lloyds Foster's, and other Ironworks.

Apply, Joseph Whitehouse, Auctioneer, Wednesbury.

UNRESERVED SALE

At the "BRITISH QUEEN," TROUSE LANE, WEDNESBURY.
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,

BY JOSEPH WHITEHOUSE, on TUESDAY NEXT, November 24th, 1868 (under a distress for rent) all the HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, BREWING PLANT, &c., belonging to Mrs. Sarah Cook, comprising Mahogany and other Tables, Chairs, Sofa, Oak Wardrobe, Tent Bedsteads, Feather Beds, 4-pul Beer Machine, Copper and Iron Boilers, Mash Tub, Ale Coolers, 17 Ale Casks, and other Effects.

Sale to commence at Eleven o'clock a.m.

The House and Premises to Let.

The Licenses and Goodwill and Possession will be sold the first Lot.

Catalogues can be had at the place of Sale, or the Auctioneer's Office, Russell Street, Wednesbury.

1868

BRITISH WORKMAN

Walsall Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

Dudley Herald 8/2/1873

“Since the opening of the BRITISH WORKMAN public house, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, the attendance has been quite equal to the expectations of its promoters. On Saturday evenings it is much frequented, and those patronising this institution appear to fully appreciate the advantages and facilities that are offered to them.”

[Was this a temperance house?]

BROUGHAMS ARMS

Kings Hill Field, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Webb [1834] – [1842]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

William Webb, beer retailer, Kings Hill Field. [1841]

William Webb, retailer of beer, Kings Hill Field. [1842]

BROWN LION

Kings Hill Field, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Holroyd [1834] – [1835]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

BRUNSWICK

301, Crankhall Lane / Woden Road East, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Thomas William Crockford Smith
Grigg and Brettell Ltd. (acquired on 11th June 1937)
Holt Brewery Co. Ltd.
Ansells Ltd.
Punch Taverns [2006]

LICENSEES

Stanley Southall [1961] – 1964);
Derrick Graham Burston (1964);
Norman John Betts (1964 – [1966]
Eric Selvey [1960s]
John Brookes (1968 – 1976)
Frank Pritchard [1982] – [1983]
Brian Styzaker (1984 – [1993]
Elle Thomas [1995]
John Bagley (2002 – 2006)

2008

NOTES

Rugeley Times 23/7/1938

“Wednesbury Darts News.....

In the semi-final of the darts competition for the Rubin Cup, in aid of the funds of the Mesty Croft Carnival and Children's Peace Treat, the MAZEPPA INN defeated the BRUNSWICK INN by six games to four. There was a large attendance present at the match, which was played at the MAZEPPA and the home side gained an early lead, BRUNSWICK being unable to get on level terms with them. The winners now meet VINE INN in the final match.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 15/2/1940

“Comforts Fund for men at the front.....

Wednesbury. Previously acknowledged, £297 11s 4½d.

Proceeds of boxes.....

BRUNSWICK INN, 8s 4d.”

Rugeley Times 21/9/1940 - Advert

“Bar-General (experienced); wages 35s; live out.

The BRUNSWICK, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury.”

BAR-GENERAL (experienced); wages
35s.; live out.—The Brunswick, Crank-hall Lane, Wednesbury.

Rugeley Times 8/2/1941

“The monthly report of the West Bromwich and District General Hospital, just issued, shows that the patients report for the month of December was in-patients admitted, 55; out-patients admitted to the several special departments, 284; to the casualty department, 905; attendance in all departments, 3,485.

Donations acknowledged for the month of December, 1940, were.....

BRUNSWICK INN, Wednesbury, £1 4s.”

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League, Division One. [1946]

Walsall Observer 21/6/1947 - Advert

"S.S. Jaguar, in showroom condition, only wants seeing; going cheap. Before 1pm.
BRUNSWICK, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury."

S.S. Jaguar, in showroom condition, only wants seeing; going cheap. Before 1 p.m.—
"Brunswick," Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury.

Walsall Observer 12/7/1947 - Advert

"Car Trailer, ex-W.D., new all round, including tyres. Apply Sunday morning.
BRUNSWICK, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury."

CAR Trailer, ex-W.D., new all round, including tyres. Apply Sunday morning.—
"Brunswick," Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury.

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Victory Darts League. [1948]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 11/1/1962

"Last night was party night for 72 elderly people who are either customers at or live near to the BRUNSWICK INN, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury. For the inn's social club provided the old people with a dinner and concert from money raised by customers of the BRUNSWICK. This was the second such event organised by the social club, of which the licensee of the inn, Mr. Stanley Southall, is president. In addition to providing the dinner, which it is hoped to make an annual event, the social club also donates money to Wednesbury's old people's welfare committee and look after the aged and needy people living in the Crankhall Lane area."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 31/8/1962

"More than 300 children of customers of the BRUNSWICK INN, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury, were taken on a half-day outing at Drayton Park yesterday. The trip, costing about £100, was financed by the BRUNSWICK INN Social Club, which also, at Christmas, looks after the needs of old people of the area. Six coaches were hired for the trip and the children, accompanied by a number of adults, were provided with a packed meal and 2s each to spend."

Stanley Southall was convicted at Wednesbury Borough Magistrates Court for permitting Clarence Henderson to use licensed premises for the purpose of betting transactions. He was fined £20 and special costs of £13 17s.

A Christmas savings club was held here. [1964]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 24/6/1965

"The first application from a licensee for permission to instal a one-arm bandit at his public house was turned down by Wednesbury's general purposes committee last night. The application was from Mr. Norman Betts, licensee of the BRUNSWICK INN, Crankhall Lane. The committee heard from Mr. Betts and a representative of a firm which installs machines. The machine would be operated by threepenny pieces and the maximum coinage return was a shilling. A jackpot was 5s which was given in the form of a voucher exchangeable for goods behind the bar...."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 10/7/1967 - Advert

"Young Lady required as barmaid at BRUNSWICK, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury, experience not essential."

Eric Selvey – see also HAWTHORN, Dial Lane, West Bromwich, and FORRESTERS, Bramley Road, Walsall."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 2/11/1968 - Advert

"Opening This Tuesday!
The Double Diamond Saloon at the BRUNSWICK INN, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 27/2/1970 - Advert

"The BRUNSWICK, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury.
Double Diamond Saloon Entertainment.
Every Friday from 8.0pm. Admission 2/6."

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Social Dominoes League. [1970]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 30/11/1973 - Advert

“The BRUNSWICK, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury.

Make a change see a good group ‘The Truth’ Tonight!

Coming Tuesday, December 4th, Special!! ‘The Californians.’”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 30/4/1975

“High noon at the Diamond Bar as Cyril Squire guns down Ian Shepherd. The ‘cowboys’ are members of the British Westerners Association, who meet weekly at the BRUNSWICK INN, Wednesbury, to play cards and listen to Western music. All are clad in expensive outfits and tote six-shooters. Cyril is a TV rental district manager from Burntwood and Ian a fireman from Brownhills.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 21/1/1978 - Advert

“Staff required, lunch or evenings.

Apply, the BRUNSWICK, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury.”

STAFF required, lunch or evenings.
– Apply The Brunswick, Crankhall
Lane, Wednesbury

Wolverhampton Express and Star 16/9/1978 - Advert

“Ansells Mild. Spot the Mystery Mild Man.

Watch out for this man! He is the Ansells Mild Man! His is currently appearing on posters in local Ansells pubs. If you spot him, you could win £5 cash – just like that. So pop into your local, have a pint of Genuine and Familiar Ansells Mild and maybe win a fiver too!

He will be visiting the following Ansells pubs in this area next week....

BRUNSWICK, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 25/5/1979 - Advert

“Win a Pint of Beer a Day for a Year.

What goes into the making a good pub? Place the list below in your order of priority when deciding.

Choice of Beers, Clean Loos, Availability of Food, Cheerful Staff, Good Beer, Pleasant Publican, Hygienic Service, Interesting Bar Display, Bar Games, Separate Bars, Atmosphere, Comfort.

Entry forms from the following houses.....

BRUNSWICK, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 19/8/1980 - Advert

“Lunchtime and Evening Bar Staff required.

Apply, Manager, BRUNSWICK, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury.”

LUNCHTIME and Evening Bar Staff required.
Apply Manager, Brunswick,
Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury 021
556 2240.

Sandwell Evening Mail 23/12/1982

“Sandwell licensees have given a mild and bitter response to a survey which shows Britons lagging behind their European counterparts in the beer-drinking stakes. Most pubs blame the recession and, with less money about, drinkers are staying at home during the week, saving their money for a weekend tippie. Many Sandwell pubs find they are losing trade because of ‘stay at home’ drinkers, the emergence of wine-bars and the advent of home video systems. Britain lies ninth in the European beer-drinking league, a recent survey has revealed, and Sandwell people are going out to pubs later at night and many settle for just one pint.....

Mr. Frank Pritchard, licensee at the BRUNSWICK, Friar Park, Wednesbury, said that Britain’s position in the table reflected the standards of living.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 18/2/1985

“Glamorous girls in the Sandwell and Dudley Evening Mails darts team will be aiming to score another bullseye at their second charity Wheels Appeal challenge. The five-strong girls A and B teams are travelling to the MIDLAND VAULTS pub, known locally as the LAMP, in Upper High Street, Wednesbury. The head-to-head match against locals tomorrow night is sponsored by Birmingham-based computer firm Software World. The lovely lasses have already notched up a victory against the BRUNSWICK pub at Wednesbury. They raised £85 towards a target of £25,000 needed to buy a special minibus each for the Albert Bradford Special School, Smethwick, and Old Park School, Dudley. Team member Leigh Churchill said, ‘The darts match is sure to be a good laugh for a good cause but we will be aiming to give the men a run for their money.’”

[The match was drawn. A further £62.71 was raised.]

Sandwell Evening Mail 27/2/1993

“Top Poppy Day collectors in Wednesbury have been rewarded for increasing their efforts. Shields were presented to businesses that had increased their appeal totals by the greatest percentage at a presentation hosted by licensee Brian Styzaker of the BRUNSWICK pub in Woden Road East, who received an award for increasing his total by 45 per cent.....”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 27/1/1995 - Family Announcements

“Brian Styzaker sadly passed away, on January 24, 1995.

Much loved partner of Elle and beloved Son of Cis.

Will be sadly missed by all Family and Friends and Customers of the BRUNSWICK.”

Birmingham Mail 22/6/1995

“A charity which gives holidays to handicapped and terminally ill children is £1,000 better off thanks to customers at a Wednesbury pub. Regulars at the BRUNSWICK, in Crankhall Lane, raised the money in just nine weeks by supporting raffles for the charity Mascot. Landlady Elle Thomas said the charity had been a favourite of her late partner, Mr. Brian Styzaker, who died suddenly in January, aged 53. ‘They know it is a very worthwhile charity and that Brian always supported it. We are delighted with the money raised.’ The cheque was presented to a Mascot representative on Saturday.”

Birmingham Mail 28/6/1995 - Advert

“The BRUNSWICK.

Homemade Food at reasonable prices.

We cater for small functions, any occasions, including children’s parties.

Conservatorie, extended beer garden with children’s play area including Tree House.

Regular Entertainment. Karaoke Wednesday, Friday and Sundays. Every Saturday, Barbeques.

For a warm friendly atmosphere call in at 301, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 21/8/1995

“.....A sponsored vehicle pull and events including a donkey wash will be held at the BRUNSWICK public house in Crankhall Lane on September 9 to raise £300 to send 100 Friar Park youngsters to the Sandwell Musical Theatre Company’s production of Snow White pantomime in October.....”

Birmingham Weekly Mercury 12/11/1995 - Advert

“Local Comedian Matt Silvester as appeared on New Faces and Gary Wilmot Show.

Live and Fat! Appearing Tuesday 14th November, BRUNSWICK INN, Wednesbury.

No Admission Tel. 0121 556 2240.”

Sandwell Chronicle 1/11/1996 - Advert

“The BRUNSWICK, 301 Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury. Tel. 0121-556 2240.

Karaoke Wednesday and Friday. Live Entertainment Sunday Evenings.

Ladies Night Tuesday 12th November. Phone for details.

Tuesday 5th November Firework Display. BBQ, Face Painting, Everybody Welcome.

Bar Meals 12-2pm, 6pm-9.30pm Mon-Sat, Sunday lunch 12-2pm.

3 Course £4.99 Adult, £2.99 Children.

Home Cooked Food, Friendly, Warm Atmosphere.”

Birmingham Mail 3/4/1998 - Advert

“Come to the BRUNSWICK.

Charity Raffle of a ‘C reg’ Ford Fiesta on Easter Monday.

Tickets £1.00. Draw takes place 6.00pm.

301 Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury.”

COME TO THE BRUNSWICK

Charity Raffle of a ‘C reg’ Ford Fiesta on Easter Monday.
Tickets £1.00.
Draw takes place 6.00pm

301 Crankhall Lane,
Wednesbury WS10
0121 556 2240

Sandwell Evening Mail 31/10/1998 - Advert

"The BRUNSWICK.

Homemade food at reasonable prices.

We cater for small functions, any occasions, including children's parties

Regular Entertainment. Karaoke Wednesday, Friday. Live Entertainment on Sunday.

Christmas Lunch £9.99. Sunday Lunch 12-2.

For a warm friendly atmosphere call in at 301 Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury."

London Gazette 1/4/2012

"C & M Pubs Limited (Company Number 07053479).

Registered office: Station House, Midland Drive, Sutton Coldfield, West Midlands B72 1TU.

Principal trading address BRUNSWICK INN, 301 Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury WS10 0QQ.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Insolvency Act 1986, that Final Meetings of Members and Creditors of the above-named Company will be held at the office of Irwin & Company, Station House, Midland Drive, Sutton Coldfield, West Midlands B72 1TU, on 18 May 2012, at 10.00am and 10.15am respectively, for the purpose of having an account laid before them showing the manner in which the winding-up has been conducted and the property of the Company disposed of, and of hearing any explanations that may be given by the Liquidator."

[12 pubs in Birmingham and the Black Country were named in the principal trading address.]

[2025]

1968

1973

1970

THE BRUNSWICK
Homemade Food
at reasonable prices
 We cater for small functions, any occasions, including childrens parties
 Conservatorie - extended beer garden with childrens play area including Tree House
Karaoke
Wednesday, Friday and Sundays
Every Saturday, Barbeques
 For a warm friendly atmosphere call in at
 301, CRANKHALL LANE, WEDNESBURY, WS10
0121 556 2240

REGULAR ENTERTAINMENT

THE BRUNSWICK
Homemade food at reasonable prices
 We cater for small functions, any occasions including children's parties
KARAOKES
 Wednesday, Friday+ Live Entertainment on Sunday
CHRISTMAS LUNCH £9.99.
 Sunday Lunch 12-2
 For a warm friendly atmosphere call in at
 301 Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury, WS10
0121 556 2240

REGULAR ENTERTAINMENT

1998

Leased pub opportunities in your local area.

Local Comedian
MATT SILVESTER
 As appeared on NEW FACES and GARY WILMOT SHOW
Live & Fat!
Appearing Tuesday 14th November
Brunswick Inn, Wednesbury
 <NO ADMISSION>
Tel. 0121 556 2240

1995

Punch are currently looking for people with the skills, passion and business acumen to take on pub lease and tenancy opportunities in the West Midlands and across the UK.

(N.B. the above image is an example and may not be true to what the exterior will look like post refurbishment)

One pub currently available is

The Brunswick:

- Prominent main road location, near to local amenities
- Capacity and scope to cater for all sections of the local community
- Garden area with children's play equipment
- Punch funded investment to be considered for the right partner

Find out more about running this pub or similar pubs in the area by contacting Polly Vickery on 0844 848 3264 or polly.vickery@punchtaverns.com

PUNCH TAVERNS IPHONE APP (Powered by Find My Pub) is now on ITUNES and FREE to download

PASSIONATE ABOUT OUR PUBS

2012

THE BRUNSWICK
 301 Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury
 Tel: 0121-556 2240

KARAOKE WEDNESDAY AND FRIDAY
LIVE ENTERTAINMENT SUNDAY EVENINGS
LADIES NIGHT
 Tuesday 12th November
 Phone for details
 Tuesday 5th November
FIREWORK DISPLAY
 BBQ, Face Painting, Everybody Welcome
 Bar Meals 12-2 pm, 6 pm-9.30 pm Mon-Sat, Sunday lunch 12-2 pm
3 COURSE
£4.99 Adult, £2.99 Children
 Home Cooked Food, Friendly, Warm Atmosphere

1996

BRUNSWICK

49, Great Western Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Julian Hanson & Sons Ltd.

LICENSEES

Arthur Evans [1861]
Mrs. Sarah Holroyd [1868] – 1870;
John Male* (1870 – [1877])
John Bale* [1873]
Joseph Harper [1878]
George Oldham [1880] – [1881]
John Price [1891]
William Henry Davies [1896] – [1912]
Parker [1912]
William James Thomas Bayliss (1916 – [1921])
Thomas Atkiss [1928]

NOTES

It was named after the Patent Shaft and Axletree Company's Brunswick Ironworks.

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/6/1861

"A wine license was granted under the recent Act of Parliament to Mr. Arthur Evans, of the BRUNSWICK TAVERN, Great Western Street, Wednesbury."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/10/1861

"Adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Thursday last.....
The following is a list of applicants for wine and spirit licenses.....
Mr. A. Evans, Great Western Street Refused."

Birmingham Journal 19/4/1862 - Advert

"Clearing Out Sale, at the BRUNSWICK INN, Wednesbury, near the Great Western Station.
By Edward Cox, on Monday Next, April the 21st.
The Surplus Stock of Wines and Cordials, Spirit Barrels and Show Bottles, Barrels, large Lamp, Furniture, Chimney Glass, iron Bedsteads, and other Effects.
Sale to commence at Twelve o'clock.
Auctioneer's Office, Michael Street, West Bromwich."

Birmingham Journal 17/5/1862 - Advert

"BRUNSWICK INN. To be Let, with immediate possession, near the Great Western Station, a compact neatly fitted-up Public House. Rent Moderate.
Apply to Mr. Thomas Jones, KINGS ARMS, High Bullen, Wednesbury."

Mrs. Sarah Holroyd, beer retailer, and wine and refreshment rooms, Great Western Street. [1868], [1870]

* possibly the same person

1871 Census

49, Great Western Street – Beerhouse

- [1] John Male (44), furnaceman, born London;
- [2] Harriet Male (36), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] John Male (14), son, iron worker, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Mary Jane Male (11), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [5] William Male (9), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] George Male (3), son, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Ann E. Male (1), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Harwin Farley (15), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Benjamin Butler (37), boarder, forge roller, born Wednesbury:

John Male, beer retailer, 49, Great Western Street. [1872]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 8/12/1875

“John Male, living with his father at the BRUNSWICK INN, Great Western Street, Wednesbury, was summoned for firing a gun near the highway. Police-sergeant Curtis, in company with another constable, was, on the 29th ult, walking down the street, when the defendant fired a gun within three feet of where persons were standing; and Curtis himself had a narrow escape of being shot. The defendant, who said that he did not know the ‘rules,’ was fined 40s and costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/3/1877

“Harriet Male, of the BRUNSWICK INN, Great Western Street, Wednesbury, and Mary Male, her daughter, were charged with assaulting Maria Hall. The complainant stated that on the 20th ult she went to look for her husband, and found him drunk at the defendant’s house. Upon her asking him to go home, the elder defendant seized her and nearly strangled her, using most abusive language. Her husband had been on too friendly terms with the elder defendant for the past two years. The charge against Mary Male, the daughter, was that she had assisted her mother in committing the assault. Mr. Spooner ordered both of the defendants to find one surety each, in the sum of £5, to keep the peace.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/4/1877

“John Male, formerly landlord of the BRUNSWICK ARMS beerhouse, Great Western Street, Wednesbury, applied for the transfer of the license from John Wright to himself of a public house known as the JENNY LIND, Hill Top, West Bromwich. Mr. Sheldon appeared for the applicant. He said he believed that Mr. Superintendent Holland intended to oppose the application on the ground of Mrs. Male’s misconduct in connection with a man named Hall, with whom she had eloped some eighteen months since. Her husband had forgiven her, and since her return she had conducted herself in every way most exemplary. He therefore contended that this unfortunate circumstance should not induce the Bench to deal harshly with applicant. Mr. Superintendent Holland said he had a simple duty to perform. He did so without the slightest prejudice in any way. He then gave several reasons why the transfer should not be granted, which he submitted should be brought to the knowledge of the Bench. The magistrates decided to refuse the application.”

John Male – see also PRINCE REGENT.

Midland Advertiser 9/3/1878

“Joseph Harper, landlord of the BRUNSWICK INN, Great Western Street, was summoned for being drunk. Police constable Brown said he saw the defendant drunk in Great Western Street, and creating a disturbance on the 26th ult. Defendant was fined 10s and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/12/1878 - Advert

"Inn (Wednesbury). The BRUNSWICK INN, opposite Great Western Railway Station, close to large ironworks; excellent vaults, smoke room, club room, &c. Wine licenses may be had. Immediate possession. Apply, E. B. Scholefield, Hotel and Public House Valuer, Church Street, Wednesbury."

1881 Census

49, Great Western Street – BRUNSWICK INN

- [1] George Oldham (50), beerhouse keeper, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Esther Oldham (50), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] William Oldham (20), son, tinman, unemployed, born West Bromwich;
- [4] Frederick Oldham (18), son, puddler, unemployed, born West Bromwich;
- [5] Samuel Oldham (10), son, scholar, born West Bromwich;
- [6] Herbert Oldham (8), son, scholar, born West Bromwich;
- [7] Albert Oldham (6), son, scholar, born West Bromwich;
- [8] Jane Smith (60), sister, widow, born Kinver:

1891 Census

49, Great Western Street

- [1] John Price (56), beerhouse keeper, born Tipton;
- [2] Mary Ann Price (55), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Richard Price (71), father-in-law, born Shropshire;
- [4] Ann Price (81), mother, born Whitchurch, Shropshire;
- [5] Clara Price Williams (21), niece, dressmaker, born Wednesbury:

William H. Davies, beer retailer, 49, Great Western Street. [1896], [1904], [1912]

Birmingham Daily Post 13/6/1900

At the West Bromwich County Court, yesterday, before Mr. R. C. E. Plumptre (deputy judge), Samuel Woodhall, brewer and wine and spirit merchant, of High Street, West Bromwich, sued William Henry Davies, of the BRUNSWICK INN, Victoria Street, Wednesbury, to recover 15s claimed by the plaintiff for his attendance as a witness on a subpoena in a case of Davies v Osborne, in which the present defendant appeared as the plaintiff. Mr. J. Clark appeared for plaintiff, and Mr. Peace defended.

Mr. Peace raised the point that under the decisions in certain cases which he quoted the plaintiff was not entitled to any allowance for loss of time.

The Judge, who said it was a most important point, and one not easily decided owing to the numerous rules, held that, according to a decision in a recent case, and by inference from certain rules in bankruptcy, the plaintiff, in addition to travelling expenses, was entitled to remuneration for his loss of time. He, therefore, gave judgement for the plaintiff for the full amount claimed and costs. He also allowed the solicitor's fee, remarking that it was a difficult point to settle, and certainly needed professional assistance."

1901 Census

49, Great Western Street

- [1] William H. Davies (53), publican, born Studley, Warwickshire;
- [2] Rosannah Davies (60), wife, born Dudley;
- [3] Percy H. Davies (17), son, coal dealer, born Princes End;
- [4] Fanny Hodson (19), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Wednesbury Leader 19/10/1906

"Samuel Davis, of Baker's Lodging House, West Bromwich; and Percy Davis, son of the licensee of the BRUNSWICK INN, Wednesbury, were summoned at the instance of the S.P.C.A., the former with working a horse, and the latter with causing the animal to be worked, in an unfit state on the 9th inst.

Police-constable Savery spoke to seeing the animal being worked by the defendant Samuel Davis in the Holyhead Road, Moxley, on the date in question. He stopped the horse, and upon examining it found a raw sore on its crest which was being pressed by the saddle. When witness saw Percy Davis in regard to the matter he said it was the defendant Samuel Davis's own fault, as he put the wrong saddle on the horse.

For the defence Mr. Frankham urged that the defendant Percy Davis was ignorant that the horse was being worked in an unfit condition.

The Stipendiary considered the case proved. Each of the defendants had been fined before, and Percy Davis would have to pay £2 and costs, in all £3 11s 6d; and Samuel Davis 7s 6d and costs, or suffer fourteen days' imprisonment, altogether £1 0s 6d."

1911 Census

49, Great Western Street

[1] William Henry Davies (64), beerhouse keeper, born Studley, Warwickshire;

[2] Rosehannah Davies (70), wife, married 43 years, born Dudley;

[3] Florence Staite (24), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 19/11/1912 - Advert

"Respectable Girl Wanted, for public house work; one to play piano preferred.

Mrs. Parker, BRUNSWICK INN, Wednesbury."

RESPECTABLE Girl Wanted, for public house work; one to play piano preferred.
- Mrs. Parker, Brunswick Inn, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 5/2/1921

"Wednesbury annual Licensing Sessions.....

The justices intimated that opposition would be offered to the renewal of the licenses of the MARKET HOUSE TAVERN, Church Street; BRUNSWICK INN, Great Western Street; and the COACH AND HORSES, Lower High Street, on the grounds of redundancy."

South Staffordshire Times 5/3/1921

"Wednesbury Licensing Sessions.....

BRUNSWICK INN. Mr. Shepard (Tipton) represented Mr. J. T. Bayliss, license holder.

Superintendent Salt said the license was opposed on the grounds of redundancy. The license had been held since 1916, and no complaints and no convictions. It was a beerhouse and there were several and sufficient houses nearby. Mr. Shepard considered the superintendent's report satisfactory, as the house was in good condition, and the nearest house was 78 yards away.

The chairman said the BRUNSWICK INN license would be renewed."

1921 Census

49, Great Western Street – BRUNSWICK INN

[1] William James Thomas Bayliss (61), teemer of steel ingots, born Bilston;

[2] Fanny Bayliss (62), wife, home duties, born Bilston;

[3] William Francis Bayliss (24), son, invalid, born Wednesbury;

[4] Nelly Bayliss (21), daughter, milliner, born Wednesbury;

[5] Caroline Bayliss (18), daughter, barmaid, born Wednesbury;

[6] Arthur Silvester (28), boarder, shunter, L.N.W.R. Bescot, born Gnosall, Staffordshire:

Walsall Observer 3/3/1928

"The BRUNSWICK beerhouse, Great Western Street, objected to on the ground of redundancy, was at the Wednesbury Adjourned Brewster Sessions yesterday, referred for compensation.....

Recalling that the magistrates refused to close the BRUNSWICK in 1921, Mr. E. Brown, for the owners, asked Police-sergeant Gillman if circumstances in the district had changed since. The sergeant replied that various works had been closed and other works had their own canteens. When he called at the BRUNSWICK at 11am recently there was no customer, and the licensee had said he sold two barrels and three dozen bottles per week.

Applying for the renewal of the license, Mr. Brown pointed out that there were two houses in close proximity owned by W. Butler & Co. Ltd., of Wolverhampton, and asked why one of these had not been selected as redundant instead of the BRUNSWICK, which is opposite the railway station."

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/7/1928

"The principal meeting of the Licensing Compensation Authority for the county was held at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Monday, when 14 licences which had been scheduled by the licensing justices, mostly from the South Staffordshire area, came under consideration. Of these three were renewed and the remainder were referred for compensation..... In the following cases no opposition was offered to the referring of the licences for compensation and the action of the justices in each case was confirmed.....

BRUNSWICK INN, Wednesbury (Thomas Atkiss), ante-'69 beerhouse."

Dudley Chronicle 26/7/1928

"Staffordshire Licensing Compensation Authority.....

In the case of the BRUNSWICK INN, Wednesbury, an ante-69 beerhouse, there was no opposition to the justices decision, and the license was referred for compensation."

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/8/1928 - Notice

"The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County Of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 16th day of July, 1928, to Refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below, all persons claiming to be interested in the said premises for the purpose of the payment of Compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensee, and the Registered Owner of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority notice of their claims before the 14th day of September, 1928, for the purpose of enabling the Compensation Authority to ascertain in manner provided by the Licensing Rules, 1910, the persons entitled to Compensation under the said Premises.....

BRUNSWICK INN, Great Western Street, Wednesbury. Beerhouse ante 1869. Licensee, Thomas Atkiss. Owners, J. Hanson & Sons Ltd."

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/1/1929

"Staffordshire Quarter Sessions. Licensing Compensation Awards.

At the Supplemental meeting the committee awarded a total sum of £15,230 in compensation, and considered that the amounts agreed upon were satisfactory both from the point of view of the parties interested and the Compensation Fund. The amounts approved were as follow.....

BRUNSWICK INN, Wednesbury, beerhouse, ante 1869, £900.

The amounts awarded had been apportioned between the interested parties and paid."

Closed

Walsall Observer 13/4/1929

"Wednesbury Town Council meeting Plans approved include.....

Conversion of the BRUNSWICK INN, Great Western Street, now de-licensed, into two dwelling houses by Mr. Jacob Perry."

CLEARING OUT SALE.
At the BRUNSWICK INN, WEDNESBURY, near the Great Western Station.
BY EDWARD COX, on MONDAY NEXT, April the 21st.—the Surplus STOCK of WINES and COEDIALS, Spirit Barrels and Show Bottles, Barrels, large Lamp, FURNITURE, Chimney Glass, iron Bedsteads, and other Effects.
Sale to commence at Twelve o'clock.
Auctioneer's Office, Michael Street, West Bromwich.

INN (Wednesbury).—The Brunswick Inn, opposite Great Western Railway Station, close to large ironworks; excellent vaults, smoke room, club room, &c. Wine licenses may be had. Immediate possession.—Apply, E. B. Scholefield, Hotel and Public-house Valuer, Church Street, Wednesbury.

1878

BRUNSWICK INN.—To be LET, with immediate possession, near the Great Western Station, a compact neatly fitted-up PUBLIC HOUSE. Rent moderate.—Apply to Mr. Thos. Jones, King's Arms, High Bullen, Wednesbury.

1862

BUILDERS ARMS

Portway Lane, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

Birmingham Journal 3/3/1855 - Advert

“BUILDERS ARMS, Portway Lane, Wednesbury.

To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, the above Public House, now doing a steady Business, which may be considerably improved, being situated in the midst of extensive Iron Works. The Premises are convenient, consisting of Stable, Piggeries, Brewhouse, and enclosed Yard, all well adapted for a Retail Beerhouse.

For particulars, and to treat for the same, apply upon the Premises; or to Mr. Lewis, 14, Oxford Street, Bilston.”

BUILDER'S ARMS, PORTWAY LANE, WEDNESBURY.
TO be LET, and may be entered upon immediately, the above PUBLIC HOUSE, now doing a steady Business, which may be considerably improved, being situated in the midst of extensive Iron Works. The Premises are convenient, consisting of Stable, Piggeries, Brewhouse, and enclosed Yard, all well adapted for a Retail Beerhouse.—For particulars, and to treat for the same, apply upon the Premises; or to Mr. Lewis, 14, Oxford Street, Bilston.

BULLS HEAD

29, (28), (28+29), Camp Hill Lane, (Campo Lane), High Bullen, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Thomas Espley
Walter Showell and Co. Ltd. [1896], [1921]
Ansells Ltd. [1961]

LICENSEES

Thomas Espley [1822] – [1830]
Joseph Edwards [1834] – [1835]
Mrs. Ann Edwards [1841] – 1858);
James Edwards (1858 – []
Joseph Edwards [] – 1859);
Henry Thorp (1859 – []
James Thorp [1860]
Henry Thorp [1861] – [1883]
Thomas Price [1891]
James Faulkner [1901]
Joseph Causer [1904]
George Henry Wearing [1908] – [1921]
C A Reynolds [] – 1924)
Edward Freer [1932] – [1935]
John Enoch Gore [1939] – [1940]
William Fellows Knight [1943]
Tom Braine [1955]
Clarence Joseph Pearson Bagnall []
Daniel Charles Boden [] – 1961);
Joseph James Roden Sisson (1961 – 1964);
Frederick Davies (1964);
Stanley Southall (1964 – 1965);
John Thomas Davidson (1965);
Henry Leonard Gulliver (1965 – 1966);
John Vincent Harrison (1966 – []

NOTES

Campo Lane [1834]
Camphill Lane [1822], [1828], [1830], [1841], [1842], [1845], [1849], [1850], [1851], [1860], [1865], [1874]
29, Camp Hill Lane [1873], [1904], [1908], [1912], [1916], [1940]
28+29, Camphill Lane [1871], [1881]
28, Camp Hill Lane [1901], [1921]

Thomas Espley = Thomas Espeley

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 13/1/1823 - Advert

"Whereas Mary, wife of Thomas Espley, of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, has left him without provocation; this is to give notice, that he, the said Thomas Espley, will not hereafter be accountable for any debt or debts she may contract.

Thos. Espley. Wednesbury, Jan. 9, 1823."

Thomas Espley died in 1832, aged 62.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 18/2/1833 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction, by Sept. Davis, on Friday next, Feb. 22, at three o'clock in the afternoon, at the BULLS HEAD INN, in Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford.....

Also the above-named Copyhold Public House, with three Copyhold Tenements adjoining, with Gardens, &c, now let to Joseph Edwards, Harling, Rogers, and Aston, belonging to the late Thomas Espley, in such lots as may be agreed upon at the time of sale.

Particulars may be had by application at the office of Mr. Heeley, Solicitor, in Walsall, or at the Auctioneer's, West Bromwich."

1841 Census

Camphill Lane

- [1] Ann Edwards (40), publican;
- [2] George Edwards (6), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Richard Edwards (5), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Sarah Needham (13), f.s.;
- [5] Jane Adams (25), f.s.:

Birmingham Journal 12/2/1848

"On Monday last, an inquest was held at the BULLS HEAD INN, Wednesbury, before G. Hinchliffe, Esq, Coroner, upon the body of Edward Cornwall, aged 20 years. It appeared that on Thursday night last, between eleven and twelve, the deceased was at work in Mr. Baylis's colliery, where also two other men and a boy were employed; and that whilst the deceased was cutting into an old hollow, excavated some years ago, a quantity of dirt fell upon him, and before he could be extricated from his perilous position, he was suffocated by the foul air. Verdict, Accidental Death."

1851 Census

Camphill Lane

- [1] Ann Edwards (53), widow, licensed victualler, born Coalport, Shropshire;
- [2] George Edwards (15), son, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Richard Edwards (13), son, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Ellen Madeley (20), servant, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Richard Jones (47), lodger, iron forgerman, born Coalport, Shropshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/2/1855

"On Saturday last three men and a boy, in the employ of Mr. Foley, boiler-maker, of Bilston, were engaged in repairing one of two balloon boilers, at Darlaston Green Colliery, of which Messrs. Mills are proprietors. The other boiler was used to keep the engine at work, when about half-past seven in the morning it suddenly exploded, the upper part being torn completely away from the lower, and carried to a great height, alighting at the distance of about eighty yards from the spot. The brickwork in which the boiler rested was scattered about the place, and the hot water contained in the boiler drenched those near. Some of the poor men who stood near were carried to a distance of twenty yards. Two were taken up dead, two others died shortly afterwards, and a fifth was so fearfully scalded that his recovery is very uncertain. A minute before the explosion the boy, whose name is Joseph Rock, and who is fourteen years old, was sent for a hammer which was underneath the boiler that was being repaired, and while getting it the explosion took place, and thus his life was saved.

Joseph Wood and Henry Gough are the two boiler-makers killed; two colliers, named John Harrison and Michael Nicholls, were also killed, and George Ford, a boiler-maker, is dreadfully scalded.

On Thursday, an inquest was opened on the body of Joseph Wood, at the BULLS HEAD, Wednesbury, before G. H. Hinchliffe, Esq, coroner. A number of witnesses were examined. They were closely questioned as to the state of the boiler, which, though it had been in use some years, appeared to have been in good condition. No cause could be assigned for the accident, some of the witnesses ascribing it to want of water, others to excessive steam, and another to the steam clutch being frozen. The inquiry was adjourned till Thursday next."

[At the adjourned inquest a verdict of Accidental Death was returned.]

Henry Thorp = Henry Thorpe

Birmingham Daily Post 18/5/1859

"Henry Thorpe, of the BULLS HEAD INN, Camphill Lane, Wednesbury, was summoned by the police on a charge of harbouring drunken and disorderly characters in his house. Sergeant M'Crea stated that on the 23rd April he went to the house of defendant at about half-past eleven o'clock, and there saw several men drinking, and in a state of intoxication. They were most disorderly in their behaviour. Police-constable Quincey and another constable gave confirmatory testimony. Defendant said that the charge was brought against him out of spite, as the police had a grudge against him. He denied that the men were disorderly, and called as witnesses his brewer and housemaid. The learned Magistrate, considering the charge full proved, ordered a fine of 40s and costs."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/10/1859

"A special licensing sessions was held on Wednesday, at the Scott Arms Inn, Great Barr.....

At the general annual licensing day, in August last, Mr. G. [sic] Thorp, landlord of the BULLS HEAD INN, Wednesbury, had his license suspended, he having been twice fined for suffering disorderly conduct in his house. The Bench now said that Thorp had had a narrow escape in not losing his license; but the Magistrates had decided to give him one more trial, and he really must look carefully to his conduct in future."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 9/1/1861

"At Wednesbury Petty Sessions, yesterday, before Mr. Partridge and Mr. Jesson, Charles Paget was charged with uttering base coin. Mr. Bayley appeared for the defence.

It appeared that on Monday night the prisoner went to the house of Mrs. Thorpe, the BULLS HEAD INN, Camp Street, had some ale, and gave a bad florin in payment. Police-constable Woolley was in the house at the time, and the prisoner was given into custody. He said he was not aware that the coin was a bad one; but, as he was being taken to the station, he admitted that he had another bad coin in his possession, and, on being searched, a bad sixpence was found in his pocket. Mr. Bayley objected to the evidence as to what the prisoner told the police, on the ground that Baron Wilde had, at the last assizes, held that statements made by prisoners to the police should not be admitted unless the police had previously cautioned such prisoners. Mr. Partridge did not think the objection valid in this instance, as it appeared to him that it did not apply to statements voluntarily made. Such statements might at times be favourable to prisoners, and, therefore, it would be unjust to exclude them. A good character was given to the prisoner, and he was, on the application of Mr. Blayney, remanded to West Bromwich on Saturday next, his own recognizances in £20 being accepted for his appearance.

Abraham Walters, charged with attempting to rescue the prisoner Paget from the custody of police-constable Woolley, was fined 5s and costs, or 21 days' imprisonment."

1861 Census

Camphill Lane – BULLS HEAD

- [1] Henry Thorp (34), licensed victualler and huckster, born Whitchurch, Buckinghamshire;
- [2] Ellen Thorp (45), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Charles Thorp (5), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Ellen Thorp (10), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Mary Ann Thorp (8), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Thomas Keeling (21), step-son, engine fitter, born Scotland;
- [7] Mary Burke (16), general servant, born Ireland:

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/1/1862

“John and Mary Slater, of Bilston, both Irish, were charged with begging and committing a violent assault upon police-constable Birch. The officer stated that on Saturday night last he saw the defendants enter the BULLS HEAD public house in Wednesbury, and the male prisoner commenced to beg from the company in the house. Witness told him he must desist, but he refused to do so, and the officer attempted to take him into custody. As soon as he did so the male prisoner became very outrageous, kicked witness violently about his legs, knocked him down, and jumped on him, and ill-used him in such a brutal manner that he had since been attended by a doctor. The female prisoner also incited her husband in his ruffianly attack upon the officer by exclaiming, ‘Don’t go; we kill such — as them in Bilston.’ She also seized the complainant by the hair of his head, struck him several times, and by calling on a number of Irishmen, who were also in the house, not to ‘see a fellow countryman taken,’ she ultimately rescued her husband out of complainant’s custody.

The male prisoner was sent to prison for a month for begging, and fined £6, or three months’ imprisonment, for the assault. The woman was discharged with a caution.”

Birmingham Daily Post 1/4/1863

“Yesterday, at Wednesbury Police Court, Mary and James White, husband and wife, were brought up in custody, the former charged with stealing and the latter with receiving, twelve packages of tea, several pieces of bacon, and various other grocery goods, the property of Henry Thorpe, licensed victualler and grocer, Camp Street, Wednesbury. The wife of the prosecutor identified the various articles produced, and stated that she weighed up several of the packages of tea on Thursday night last, and missed them, together with a piece of bacon, on the following morning. The other packages of tea and pieces of bacon she had missed at various times previously.

Thomas Keeling, son of the previous witness, stated that early on Friday morning the female prisoner entered the prosecutor’s house, and passed through the shop, remarking that she was going to call the servant girl. She returned in about ten minutes’ time, and left the house.

Sergeant Gasson deposed that he searched the prisoner’s house on Friday, and in the chimney of one of the bed rooms found a parcel containing 10¼lbs of tea and 1lb of sugar, while in various other parts of the house he discovered large quantities of tea, sugar, soap, and other groceries, made up in half-pound, quarter-pound, and one-ounce packages.

The prisoners were further charged – the female with stealing and her husband with receiving, knowing them to have been stolen – three sheets and a blanket, the property of the county.

Police-constable Asbury deposed that he searched the prisoner’s house in company with Sergeant Gasson, and found the three sheets produced between two mattresses in the bed room, and the blanket on the bed. The sheets bore the county mark, and had been stolen from a store-room at the Wednesbury Police Station, where the female prisoner had been employed as charwoman. The blanket had been stolen from one of the constable’s beds at the police station, and was identified by Sergeant Gasson, who corroborated the previous witness’s evidence.

Mr. Salter addressed the Bench for the defence, but the Magistrates decided to commit the prisoners for trial, the female on a charge of obtaining and the male on a charge of receiving. The Bench, however, consented to accept bail.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 8/4/1863

“Staffordshire Easter Sessions.....

Mary White and James White surrendered to their bail, to answer a charge of stealing some bacon and other provisions, the property of Henry Thorpe, at Wednesbury, on the 20th of March last. Mr. M’Mahon prosecuted; the prisoners were defended by Mr. Kenealy.

The female prisoner, who was washerwoman to the prosecutor, was seen on the day in question to enter the premises of Mr. Thorpe at an unseasonable hour. On the following morning the articles which the prisoners were alleged to have stolen, were missing. The prisoners’ house was searched, and the articles were found concealed in the chimney, and under the sink.

The Chairman decided that there was no evidence against the male prisoner; the female prisoner was found guilty. A second indictment against the prisoners, the female prisoner with stealing three sheets and one blanket, from the Police Station, at Wednesbury, on the 30th of March last, and the latter with feloniously receiving the same. No evidence was offered against the male prisoner. The female prisoner was occasionally employed at the Wednesbury Police Station, and she took advantage of her position to steal the articles mentioned in the indictment. She was found guilty, and sentenced to six months’ hard labour.”

Henry Thorp was also a provision dealer [1864], [1865]

Birmingham Daily Post 10/4/1865 - Advert

“Important Unreserved Sale, at the BULLS HEAD INN, Camp Hill Lane, Wednesbury.

To Publicans, Shopkeepers, Parties Furnishing, Brokers, and Others.

To be Sold by Auction, by E. B. Scholefield, This Day (Monday), April 10, under distress for rent and Gas, and instructions from Mr. Henry Thorpe.

The Stock-in-Trade, comprising Brandies, Whiskey, Rum, Gin, Port and Sherry; 600 gallons of Ale, well-made English oak Ale Casks, from 36 gallons to 450 gallons; thirteen bushes of Malt, Pocket of prime Kent Hops, Malt Crusher, Ale Coolers, 120-gallon Copper Boiler, 18-bushel Mash Tub, mahogany Shop Counter, with ornamental front; superior 7-pull stop-tap Ale Machine, Copper Boiler, for Counter; Liquor Casks, painted Liquor Bottles, metal-top Tables, a very useful Gilt, in pig, a superior 10ft 6in Slate-bottomed Bagatelle Board, with Pockets, &c, complete. The Household Furniture comprises five prime feather Beds, four-post, tent, and French Bedsteads, Flock Mattresses, mahogany and painted Chests of Drawers, handsome mahogany-framed Sofa, mahogany Cheffioniere, a very fine-toned 6½-octave Cottage Piano-Forte, in mahogany case, by C. Scotcher; mahogany Centre Table, six Chairs, with loose horse-hair seats; eight-day Clock, Chimney Glass, Ornaments, oak Dresser, Couch, Pembroke Tables, together with the contents of a Grocer's Shop, &c, belonging to Mr. Henry Thorpe.

Sale to commence punctually at Ten o'clock am.

Auctioneer's Office, Church Street, Wednesbury.”

1871 Census

28, Camp Hill Lane

[1] Henry Thorpe (44), licensed victualler, born Whitchurch, Buckinghamshire;

[2] Ellen Thorpe (55), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] Ellen Thorpe (20), daughter, barmaid, born Wednesbury;

[4] Mary Ann Thorpe (18), daughter, barmaid, born Wednesbury;

[5] Charles Thorpe (15), son, bricklayer, born Wednesbury;

[6] Jane Shaw (13), visitor, born Birmingham;

[7] Ruth Nicholls (13), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

AND

29, Camp Hill Lane – BULLS HEAD

[1] John Peel (67), lodger, bricklayer, born Market Drayton, Shropshire;

[2] Not Known (55), carpenter, birthplace not known:

Wednesbury Herald 22/3/1873

“At a special meeting of the members of the Operative Bricklayers Society, held at the BULLS HEAD INN, the following resolution was unanimously adopted ‘That an increase of one halfpenny per hour in summer (7½d) and one penny per hour for twelve weeks in winter (8d) for red brick work; also one penny upon furnace work at 1s 6d per hour to be requested.....”

Cannock Chase Examiner 12/12/1874

“Mr. E. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest on Saturday, at the BULLS HEAD INN, Wednesbury, on the body of John Holland, aged 15, of Union Street, Wednesbury, who was employed at Messrs. James Russell's Crown Tube Works, as a drawer out for tube welding.

George Talbot, tube welder, said: I was with the deceased about 10.15am on the morning of the accident. He was drawing out a tube, and one end broke off and caught in the chain which worked by machinery, and the other end caught the deceased on the chest, throwing him over the wheel and fencing, which is four feet high. The lad fell head foremost amongst the wheels and was terribly injured. Dr. Kerr was sent for, and attended to his injuries. There was a large hole in his head; his thigh, arm and wrist were broken, and he died the same night at 10pm.

Mr. Johnson, manager, said: If the deceased had loosed his hold of the tube at once the accident would not have occurred.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Birmingham Mail 10/2/1880 - Died

"On the 4th inst, aged 64 years, Ellen, the beloved wife of Henry Thorp, of the BULLS HEAD INN, Camp Hill Lane, Wednesbury; respected by her family and friends."

Birmingham Daily Post 8/6/1880 - Advert

"General Servant Wanted, clean, active, and good character.
BULLS HEAD INN, Camphill Lane, Wednesbury."

 GENERAL Servant Wanted, clean, active, and good character.—
Bull's Head Inn, Camphill Lane, Wednesbury.

1881 Census

28+29, Camphill Lane – BULLS HEAD

- [1] Henry Thorp (54), widower, innkeeper, born Whitchurch, Buckinghamshire;
- [2] Mary A. Perry (28), daughter, housekeeper, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Mary A. Perry (3), grand-daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Julia Willmore (21), domestic servant, born Worcester:

Wednesbury Herald 31/3/1883

"Henry Thorpe, landlord of the BULLS HEAD INN, Camp Hill Lane, was summoned for selling ale during prohibited hours on the 25th inst.

Police-constable Watson stated that he saw a man leave the defendant's house on the morning in question at half past nine o'clock with a quart bottle of ale in his possession.

Defendant said the ale was supplied by a visitor during his absence. He was very sorry that an offence had been committed in his house.

Mr. Superintendent Holland said defendant had kept the house 21 years, during which period not a single complaint had been made about him. The Bench said they believed it was by accident that the ale was supplied. A fine of 5s and costs was imposed."

Darlaston Weekly Times 1/9/1883 - Advert

"Great Western Railway Company.

The Committee of the Wolverhampton and District Licensed Victuallers Incorporated Society have made arrangements with the above Company to run a Special Express Train to London (International Fisheries Exhibition).....

Tickets may be had from any of the undermentioned.....

Henry Thorpe, BULLS HEAD, Wednesbury."

Birmingham Daily Post 3/1/1889

"Yesterday, Mr. Hooper (coroner) held an inquest at the BULLS HEAD INN, Camp Hill, Wednesbury, on the body of John Wilson (45), travelling draper, 57, High Bullen.

Edward Wilson, Tettenhall, brother of the deceased, said that he and his brother met in Wednesbury on Friday evening, and it was arranged the latter should visit Tettenhall on Sunday. The arrangement was not carried out, and on Monday morning witness came to Wednesbury, and reached his brother's lodgings before half-past nine. His brother was in bed, and he declined to get up and come out with witness, stating that he was not well; and after they had had some conversation about business matters, witness went to see their sister and brother-in-law in Holyhead Road. He returned about a quarter to eleven o'clock, and told his brother that their relatives said he could pull himself together and pay certain debts which he owed; but the deceased said he should not do anything of the sort, and witness had told him that it was all nonsense to say that, and endeavoured to induce him to get up and come out. The deceased refused, and told witness to go his rounds and return in the evening, and by that time he would decide what he would do with regard to the money. Witness went downstairs, and was taking up his samples, when he heard a noise which induced him to go upstairs again. He then saw his brother lying on his back in bed, with a wound in his forehead, and a revolver in his hand; and he was so terrified and excited that he ran off and fetched his brother-in-law, never thinking about sending for a doctor. When the brother-in-law came a doctor was sent for. Deceased had for some time given way to drink, and had spent much of his time at the BELL AND CASTLE INN, in Union Street. He had also been in the habit of taking laudanum to induce sleep. The night when witness slept with him he was apparently suffering from delirium tremens. When they met on Friday night the deceased produced a letter, dated 27th December, which he had received from Mr. J. E. Barton, 37, Union Passage, Birmingham, and handed it to witness. In it the writer stated that he was surprised and disappointed that the deceased had not called on the previous Saturday, as he always kept his payments before, and advised him to leave off the miserable drink and pull himself together, otherwise his life would only end in misery, adding, 'I shall depend on your coming on Saturday.' The deceased, when he handed witness this letter, said he believed he owed Mr. Barton about £17. At the same time he showed the revolver produced, which he brought with him from America, on his return from that country about four years ago, and said he did not know what he should do with himself; but witness told him not to talk such nonsense about a bit of money, and that he could soon make himself right. A memorandum from Mr. W. Morris, Freeman Street, Birmingham, giving notice of a call for payment of account of £5 12s 1d, was found on the bed. John Ingram, a boy, who was at work in the shop below the room in which the deceased committed suicide, gave corroborative evidence, though in a confused way; and Police-constable Parton produced the revolver, one chamber of which was still loaded. A verdict of Temporary Insanity was returned."

Birmingham Daily Post 30/12/1890

"Yesterday, at the BULLS HEAD INN, Camp Hill, Wednesbury, Mr. E. Hooper held two inquests.

The first was on the body of George Challinor, one month old, child of parents living in 5 Court, Meeting Street. The mother took the child to bed with her on the night of the 26th inst, when it was apparently in good health; and in the morning she awoke and found that it was dead on her arm. She said her husband was a labourer, earning 3s 4d a day, and she had four children. A witness named Jones and Police-constable Platt gave him a good character for sobriety and steadiness A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned.

The second enquiry was touching the death of John Hutchinson (61), blacksmith's striker, 24, Camp Hill Lane. The deceased went to bed on the night of Christmas Day with his reputed son, Arthur Turton, and for some time he lay awake talking to the boy, and advising him as to his future life. In the morning the boy noticed that he was cold, and covered him with more clothes, but after a time discovered that he was dead. Verdict, Death from Natural Causes."

1891 Census

Camphill Lane – BULLS HEAD

- [1] Thomas Price (51), publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Elizabeth Price (52), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Jessie Price (4), daughter, born Bilston;
- [4] Susan Smith (19), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

1901 Census

28, Camp Hill Lane –BULLS HEAD TAVERN

- [1] James Faulkner (47), publican, born Burford, Oxfordshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Faulkner (46), wife, born Burford, Oxfordshire;
- [3] Edith Faulkner (18), daughter, barmaid, born Cheltenham;
- [4] John Faulkner (17), son, labourer in ironworks, born Cheltenham;
- [5] Eliza Faulkner (10), daughter, school, born Cheltenham:

Wednesbury Leader 12/10/1901

"At Wednesbury Police Court on Friday, before Aldermen R. Williams, I. Oldbury, and Mr. F. W. Hackwood, a man named Edwin Hudson (50), of no fixed abode, but who has been living in apartments at Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, was charged with obtaining various sums of money by false pretences, and with intent to defraud, between the 17th September and 3rd October.

The evidence showed that prisoner represented himself to be in the employ of the Midland Advertising Company, Wolverhampton, and canvassed for advertisements for the Wolverhampton Wanderers Fixture Card. He secured 2s 6d from Frank Turbot, manager of the South Staffordshire Coffee House, Market Place; 4s 6d from Benjamin E. Pewtriss, tobacconist, Market Place; 5s from Herbert E. Kent, of the CROWN AND CUSHION INN; 5s from William H. Hadley, GREEN DRAGON INN, Market Place; 2s 6d from James Faulkner, BULLS HEAD INN; 2s from William Macdonald, THREE SWANS INN; 5s from Frank Bateman, licensed victualler, High Street; 2s 6d from Edward Phillips, BRITANNIA INN, Trowse Lane; 2s 6d from John Jones, FORRESTERS ARMS, Portway Road; and 2s 6d from Albert Newbould, OLD PACK HORSE, Dudley Street.

Frederick L. Hodgetts, of the Penn Road, Wolverhampton, said he was a partner in the Midland Advertising Company. Prisoner had been in their employ, but left on the 27th April. He had not been connected with the company since, and was not authorised to canvass for advertisements.

Detective Truswell deposed to effecting the arrest of prisoner.

Alderman Oldbury (to prisoner): Didn't you consider you had a lot of 'flats' to deal with in Wednesbury? I am surprised that tradesmen should give their money away without even asking for a receipt. They must be very confiding.

Prisoner was committed to take his trial at the Sessions, which commence on Tuesday next."

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/10/1901

"Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Edwin Hudson, 50, traveller, pleaded guilty to having obtained various sums of money by false pretences at Wednesbury, on September 17. There were previous convictions against the prisoner, who was sentenced to three years' penal servitude."

1911 Census

28+29, Camp Hill Lane

- [1] George Henry Wearing (54), manager of hotel, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Georgina Wearing (52), wife, married 34 years, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Rose Wearing (21), daughter, assistant, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Jon Wearing (15), son, assistant, born Wednesbury:

Rose Wearing married Frederick Charles Poulton in the 3rd quarter of 1920.

1921 Census

28, Camp Hill Lane

- [1] George Henry Wearing (64), hotel manager, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Georgina Wearing (63), wife, home duties, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Rose Poulton (33), daughter, boarder, home duties, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Frederick Charles Poulton (34), son-in-law, boarder, turner, out of work, born Wednesbury:

South Staffordshire Times 5/7/1924

"An interesting ceremony took place at the BULLS HEAD, Camphill Lane, Wednesbury, on Tuesday night, when, at a meeting of the Victory Lodge (G.L.E.) of the Royal Antediluvian Order of Buffaloes, Bros. J. E. Hunt and Sidney Hill were raised to the second degree. The room had been tastefully decorated for the occasion by the hostess Mrs. Reynolds, and Br. J. Dain, K.O.M, Provincial Grand Primo of the Walsall and South Staffs Province, presided over a large attendance....."

South Staffordshire Times 30/8/1924

"An interesting ceremony took place at the BULLS HEAD INN, Camphill Lane, Wednesbury, on Thursday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Reynolds, who have been the tenants of that house for some time were made a presentation by the many customers frequenting their establishment, on the occasion of their leaving the town. Mr. Reynolds received from the gentlemen a lovely case of razors, and Mrs. Reynolds was presented by the ladies with a handsome clock. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds both thanked the donors for their kindness. They expressed the hope that although they were leaving the town, their friendship would continue. The evening was spent in harmony."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 18/5/1935

"Edward Freer, aged 67, licensee of the BULLS HEAD, Camphill Lane, Wednesbury, was today found hanging from the banister. He was dead. It is stated that his wife went downstairs to prepare his breakfast, and returning to his room, found him hanging from the banister. Freer had been ill for about two years, and underwent an operation shortly before Christmas. He has been in the licensed trade for 14 years, and previously held a license at Willenhall."

Walsall Observer 7/1/1939

“Established at Wednesbury twelve months ago and now, with a membership of 163, covering also the neighbouring areas of Walsall, Bloxwich, Darlaston, Wednesfield, Willenhall and Wolverhampton, the Wednesbury and district branch of the Old Contemptibles Association held its first annual meeting at the BULLS HEAD, Wednesbury, on Wednesday evening.....”

1939 Register

Camp Hill Lane – BULLS HEAD

[1] John E. Gore, date of birth 12/5/1894, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Elizabeth Mary Gore, dob 11/1/1896, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 10/7/1943

“Failing to perform fire prevention duties, three defendants – William Fellows Knight, licensee of the BULLS HEAD INN, Camp Hill Lane, Wednesbury; Dorthy Jacques, of 271, Tat Bank Road, Oldbury; and John Edwin Legge, of 13, Meeting Street, Wednesbury – appeared before the Stipendiary (Mr. B. G. Grimley) at Wednesbury Police Court on Tuesday.

It was stated that Knight went to live in Wednesbury after the registration had taken place. He was told to register and did so, but it was found that he did not report for duty and no explanation was given for his absence. Knight, giving evidence, said he went to hospital on March 18 suffering from appendicitis, and was discharged on April 6. He served in the last war for four years and nine months, and was discharged suffering from gas and shell shock. He was a 100 per cent disability man and he still received a disability pension.

Alfred Ernest Allen, fire guard officer for Wednesbury, said that he interviewed defendant last November about his absence. Defendant told him he was ill and could not carry out his duties. After the interview he wrote two letters, and after receiving them defendant did his duty for a time. He had not known that defendant was a 100 per cent disability man. He had advised him to go before the hardship committee, but he had not done so. Defendant said it had slipped his memory.

This case was adjourned for 14 days, so that defendant might go before the hardship committee.....”

Walsall Observer 4/3/1944

“Two Wednesbury vicars and a Roman Catholic priest were among a number of Wednesbury people who were ordered by the Stipendiary (Mr. B. G. Grimley) at Wednesbury on Tuesday to pay fines for obtaining more coal than they were entitled to. Defending Mr. Walter Randle, trading as F. C. Randle and Co., coal merchants, of Wednesbury, summoned for supplying the coal, Mr. O. L. Bergendorf said their stocks of coal were so plentiful that they requested the colliery company not to send any more supplies for the time being; but the colliery company replied that they could not suspend the supplies and that his clients must have the coal. Those summoned for unlawfully obtaining coal they were not entitled to were.....

William Fellows Knight, BULLS HEAD INN.....

Randle was fined £5 for each of the twelve offence, 4s costs on two delivery note offences, and £16 5s 6d costs, making a total of £76 9s 6d.....”

[William Fellows Knight was fined 30s.]

Bromyard News 24/3/1955

“Licensing business took up most of the Bromyard Justices; time at the Magistrates Court on Tuesday. Temporary orders were issued to.....

Mr. Tom Braine, BULLS HEAD, Wednesbury, for the Hop Pole Hotel, Bromyard.”

Birmingham Daily Post 3/11/1960

“Bankruptcy. Receiving Orders.....

Clarence Joseph Pearson Bagnall, 235, Washwood Heath Road, Saltley, tool-setter, lately carrying on business at the BULLS HEAD, Wednesbury. Order dated October 24.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 28/7/1962 - Notice

"Notice is Hereby Given that the Minister of Housing and Local Government, in pursuance of the powers vested in him by the Housing Act, 1957, on the 18th day of July, 1962, confirmed with modifications the 'Borough of Wednesbury (Russell Street Clearance Areas Nos.1-4) Compulsory Purchase Order, 1961,' submitted to him by the Wednesbury Borough Council authorising them to purchase compulsorily under Section 43 of the said Act the lands described in the Schedule to this notice, which lands are lands in areas declared to be Clearance Areas by a resolution of the Council, dated the 25th day of July, 1960, and also lands surrounded by or lands adjoining the said clearance areas.....

Lands outside the clearance areas.....

BULLS HEAD INN, Camphill Lane."

WHEREAS MARY, wife of Thomas Espley, of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, has left him without provocation;—this is to give notice, that he, the said Thomas Espley, will not hereafter be accountable for any debt or debts she may contract.

THOS. ESPLEY.

Wednesbury, Jan. 9, 1823.

1823

TWO be SOLD by AUCTION, by SEPT. DAVIS, on Friday next, Feb. 22, at three o'clock in the afternoon, at the Bull's Head Inn, in Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, all those SIX FREEHOLD HOUSES, with their Appurtenances, situate in Union-street, in Wednesbury aforesaid, and now occupied by Jos. Hackwood, — Oldbury, Earp, Smith, and B. Hackwood.

Also the above-named Copyhold Public House, with three Copyhold Tenements adjoining, with Gardens, &c. now let to Joseph Edwards, Harling, Rogers, and Aston, belonging to the late Thomas Espley, in such lots as may be agreed upon at the time of sale.

Particulars may be had by application at the office of Mr. Heeley, Solicitor, in Walsall, or at the Auctioneer's, West Bromwich.

1833

IMPORTANT UNRESERVED SALE,
At the BULL'S HEAD INN, CAMP HILL LANE,
WEDNESBURY.
TO PUBLICANS, SHOPKEEPERS, PARTIES FURNISHING, BROKERS, AND OTHERS.
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION.

BY E. B. SCHOLEFIELD, THIS DAY (Monday), April 10, under distress for rent and Gas, and instructions from Mr. Henry Thorpe: the STOCK-IN-TRADE, comprising Brandies, Whiskey, Rum, Gin, Port and Sherry; 600 gallons of Ale, well-made English oak Ale Casks, from 36 gallons to 450 gallons; thirteen bushels of Malt, Pocket of prime Kent HOPS, Malt Crusher, Ale Coolers, 120-gallon Copper Boiler, 18-bushel Mash Tub, mahogany Shop Counter, with ornamental front; superior 7-pull stop-tap Ale Machine, Copper Boiler, for Counter; Liquor Casks, painted Liquor Bottles, metal-top Tables, a very useful Gilt, in pig; a superior 10ft. 6in. Slate-bottomed BAGATELLE BOARD, with Pockets, &c., complete. The HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE comprises five prime feather Beds, four-post, tent, and French Bedsteads, Flock Mattresses, mahogany and painted Chests of Drawers, handsome mahogany-framed Sofa, mahogany Cheffonere, a very fine-toned 61-octave Cottage PIANO-FORTE, in mahogany case, by C. Scotcher; mahogany Centre Table, six Chairs, with loose horse-hair seats; eight-day Clock, Chimney Glass, Ornaments, oak Dresser, Couch, Pembroke Tables, together with the contents of Grocer's Shop, &c., belonging to Mr. Henry Thorpe.

Sale to commence punctually at Ten o'clock a.m.
Auctioneer's Office, Church Street, Wednesbury.

1865

BULLS HEAD

West Bromwich Road, Tame Bridge, The Delves, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Holt Brewery Co. Ltd. [1927]
Ansells Ltd.

LICENSEES

James Adams [1840] – [1851]
Henry Russell [1860] – 1862;
Samuel Wilkes (1862 – 1867);
Leonard Dursley (1867 – [])
James Wilkes [1868] – [1870]
Leonard Dursley [1871] – [1872]
James Dursley [1871] – [1892]
Joseph Parker (1893);
Mrs. Sarah Ann Parker (1893 – 1896)
Miss Catherine Conlan [1900] – [1912]
John Taylor [1901] – [1904]
Joseph Humphries [1908]
Thomas Joseph Johnson [1916] – [1921]
Edward Toon [1920] – 1924);
Mrs. Kate Toon (1924 – [])
Isaiah Thompson [] – 1927);
Arthur Wesson (1927 – [])
Daniel 'Dan' Smith [1928] – [1932]
Mrs. Lily Frances Sandford [1947] – [1953]
Mrs. Lilian Jones (1955 – 1961);
Edward Goodwin (1961 – 1963);
Albert Frederick Hutton Clewer (1963 – 1965);
George Horace Seaman (1965 – 1966);
Frederick Hutton Clewer (1966 – 1967);

NOTES

RED COW [1861]

PURSUANT to the Act to further Amend the Law of Property, and to relieve Trustees,
22 and 23 Vict., c. 35.

IN THE MATTER OF JOB WILKES, DECEASED.

THE Creditors and Others having Claims upon the Estate of JOB WILKES, late of the Old Still Inn, Digbeth, Walsall, in the County of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, deceased, who died in the month of September, 1865, and whose Will was proved in the Lichfield District Registry on the 10th day of October, 1865, by SAMUEL WILKES, of Tame Bridge, in the parish of Wednesbury, in the said County, Licensed Victualler, and JAMES GRAY, late of Hednesford, but now of Wolverhampton, respectively in the County of Stafford, Farmer, the Executors of the said Will, are on or before the 24th day of June, 1866, to send in the particulars of their Debts or Claims to the said Executors at the Office of their Solicitor, MR. SAMUEL
WILKINSON, jun., No. 7, BRIDGE STREET, WAL-SALL, or in default thereof the said Executors will after the said 24th day of June, 1866, proceed to distribute the Assets of the deceased, amongst the persons entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which they shall then have notice.

Dated this 8th day of March, 1866.

SAML. WILKINSON, JUNR.,
Walsall,
Solicitor to the Executors.

1866

BULL'S HEAD INN, TAME BRIDGE

MR. J. DURSLEY

Wishes to thank his Customers for their kind support, and begs to inform them that he has engaged

PIANO AND HARP

For every MONDAY during the Summer. Every accommodation.

—
SPIRITS DIRECT FROM BOND.
FINE HOME-BREWED ALES.

1886

DANCING! DANCING! DANCING!

JAMES DURSLEY,
BULL'S HEAD INN,

WEST BROMWICH ROAD, TAME BRIDGE,

Begs to inform the Public that he has OPENED his large Room for

DANCING ON MONDAY EVENINGS.

—
The Room can be secured for Private Parties on other Evenings.

—
A choice selection of ALES, WINES, and SPIRITS, &c.

1888

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/2/1833

“On Tuesday last, John Barber, aged twenty-five, and Thomas Startin, aged twenty-one, residents of Walsall, repaired to a field in the vicinity of that town, accompanied by their seconds, &c, to decide a pugilistic engagement previously entered into between the parties. At the end of the 42nd round both the combatants fell, and Startin being undermost, was severely hurt by the elbow of Barber coming in contact with the side of his neck; the 43rd round was, however, fought, but, on preparing for the 44th, the unfortunate Startin suddenly sunk his head upon the shoulder of his second (his brother), and never spoke afterwards. He was conveyed to the nearest public house, the BULLS HEAD, at Tame Bridge, where he expired almost immediately. Several persons are implicated as accessories in this melancholy affair, some of whom, with Barber, are in custody. Barber is much bruised about the head. No money was depending upon the issue of this combat. An inquest, we understand, will be held this day (Saturday).”
[At the inquest a verdict of Manslaughter was returned against John Barber and Thomas Bedworth, who were committed to jail, and against the four sidemen who had absconded.

At the Staffordshire Assizes, in March 1833, Barber was charged with killing and slaying Startin, and the others as accessories. The jury found them not guilty.]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 19/7/1837 - Advert

“Sale of young and useful Waggon Horses, at the BULLS HEAD, Tame Bridge, near Walsall.
To be Sold by Auction, by Farrington and Son, without reserve, on Tuesday, the 25th of July instant, at the BULLS HEAD, Tame Bridge, eleven valuable Waggon Horses, the property of Mr. W. Riddles.
The above horses have lately been worked on the Grand Junction Railway, and are known to be capital workers, and in consequence of the railway being completed, the proprietor has no further use for them.
The sale to commence at three precisely.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 29/1/1840 - Advert

“Sale of Valuable Timber, at the Delves Green Farm, in the parish of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford.
To be Sold by Auction, by Farrington and Son, at the house of Mr. James Adams, the BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge, near Walsall, on Tuesday, the 4th day of February next, a five o’clock in the afternoon.....”

1841 Census

Tame Bridge

- [1] James Adams (50), publican, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Elizabeth Adams (50), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Sarah Adams (20), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Matilda Salisbury (15), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Mary Stevenson (55), born Staffordshire;

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/12/1841

“In our last we had the painful task of recording that a burglary and murder had been committed very early in the morning of the 1st instant, at Delves Green, in the vicinity of Walsall, on the road leading to West Bromwich, and that the victim was a respectable old man, named Matthew Adams, 74 years of age, who was the only inmate of the dwelling burglariously broken into.....

An inquest was summoned to meet at the BULLS HEAD, at Tame Bridge, which is kept by Mr. James Adams, the son of the deceased.....

Mr. Thomas Pitt, surgeon, Walsall, visited Mr. Adams. He found him in a state of insensibility, accompanied with great exhaustion, and directed his attention to Mr. Adams’s head, upon the left side of which he discovered two contused wounds, both attended with extensive fracture of the skull. The deceased lingered throughout the day in a dying condition, and expired about seven o’clock the same evening. On the Friday morning following, witness, by order of the coroner, made a post mortem examination of the body Witness considered the fractures the cause of death, and they were such as would be produced by some blunt instrument.....

The Jury returned a verdict of Wilful Murder against Joseph Wilkes, as principal in the first degree, and against James Wilkes, Thomas Boswell, and George Giles, as principals in the second degree; and the prisoners were forthwith committed upon the coroner’s warrant to take their trial at the ensuing assizes.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/3/1842

“Staffordshire Lent Assizes.....

Joseph Wilkes (stated in the calendar to be 17, but who appeared to be under that age), James Wilkes, his brother, aged 25, Thomas Boswell, aged 21, and George Giles, aged 21, were indicted for the wilful murder of Matthew Adams, on the 1st December last, at the parish of Wednesbury.....

Matthew Adams, the deceased, an old man between seventy and eighty years of age, had by his labour and frugality obtained a comfortable independence. He had erected four houses at a place called Delves Bank, in the parish of Wednesbury, in one of which he resided, and the others were occupied by tenants. On 30th November the deceased had been to a place called Bell Green, and on his return retired to rest about half-past ten o'clock. A person named Brown lived in one of the four cottages built by the deceased, and which adjoined each other. During the night he was awakened by a cry of murder, on which he immediately got up, and went to the back part of the house which was occupied by the deceased, and there found that the tiles had been removed from the roof of a low pantry, and a hole made sufficiently large to admit the body of a man; he went through the hole into the pantry into the house, and found the deceased desperately wounded standing near the front door, which was closed. It would be shown in evidence that the prisoner Joseph Wilkes had inflicted the deadly injury with a hammer which he found on the premises of the deceased, and a concert on the part of the prisoners. The grand-daughter of the deceased was about to be married, and the old man was to have given her £100 as a marriage portion, and it was understood by the prisoners that the money so to be given was in the house of the deceased.....

The Jury consulted for about ten minutes, and then found Joseph Wilkes guilty of the murder, and acquitted the other three prisoners.

His Lordship, after putting on the fatal coif, addressed the prisoner, ‘Joseph Wilkes, You have been convicted upon evidence, which could leave no doubt upon the minds of either judge or jury, that you are guilty of the heinous crime, for which you have been tried, and for which you will have to forfeit your life Your earthly trial is over. Prepare for a more fearful tribunal beyond the grave. It only remains for me to pass upon you the awful sentence of the law, which is that you be taken to the place from whence you came; and from thence to the place of execution; and that you be there hanged by the neck until you are dead; that your body be buried within the precincts of the prison; and may Almighty God have mercy on your soul!’”

AND

Morning Advertiser 4/4/1842

“Execution of Joseph Wilkes at Stafford.

Saturday morning, at eight o'clock, this wretched young man, who was indicted, with others, for the wilful murder of Matthew Adams, at Delves Bank, near Wednesbury, paid the forfeiture of his crime on the drop in front of the county gaol. His associates, James Wilkes (his brother), Thomas Boswell, and George Giles, were acquitted of the murder, the Jury taking a very merciful view of the case with reference to them. They were afterwards convicted of burglary. James Wilkes and Boswell were sentenced to transportation for life, and Giles for 15 years.”

1851 Census

Tame Bridge – BULLS HEAD

[1] James Adams (63), victualler and farmer of 14 acres, born Wednesfield;

[2] Elizabeth Adams (63), wife, born Rushall;

[3] Elizabeth A. Wilkes (8), grand-daughter, visitor, scholar, born Darlaston;

[4] Matilda Haycock (30), victualler's general servant, born Willenhall;

[5] John Haddick (17), lodger, iron moulder, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 31/8/1861

“District Annual Licensing Day.....

The list of parties fined for various breaches of the law it appeared was rather less than that of preceding years, and comprised of the following persons.....

Henry Russell, RED COW, Wednesbury, open on a Sunday, fined 10s and costs; decision on renewal of the license adjourned to the 26th September.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/10/1861

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Thursday last.....

The following licensed victuallers, fined for various infringements of the law, and whose cases had been ordered to stand over from the former licensing meeting in August last, were called before the Magistrates, and after their respective cases had been referred to they were admonished and warned that a second offence would be of serious consequence.....

Mr. H. Russell, BULLS HEAD, Wednesbury.”

Walsall Free Press 10/3/1866 - Advert

“In the matter of Job Wilkes, Deceased,

The Creditors and Others having Claims upon the Estate of Job Wilkes, late of the OLD STILL INN, Digbeth, Walsall, in the County of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, deceased, who died in the month of September, 1865, and whose Will was proved in the Lichfield District Registry on the 10th day of October, 1865, by Samuel Wilkes, of Tame Bridge, in the parish of Wednesbury, in the said County, Licensed Victualler, and James Gray, late of Hednesford, but now of Wolverhampton, respectively in the County of Stafford, Farmer, the Executors of the said Will, are on or before the 24th day of June, 1866, to send in the particulars of their Debts or Claims to the said Executors at the Office of their Solicitor, Mr. Samuel Wilkinson, junior, 7, Bridge Street, Walsall, or in default thereof the said Executors will after the said 24th day of June, 1866, proceed to distribute the Assets of the deceased, amongst the persons entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which they shall then have notice.

Dated this 8th day of March 1866. Samuel Wilkinson, junior, Walsall, Solicitor to the Executors.”

Leonard Dursley – see also COTTAGE, Wood Green.

1871 Census

Delves – BULLS HEAD

[1] James Dursley (28), hoe maker, born Wednesbury;

[2] Betsey Dursley (33), wife, born Birmingham;

[3] Harriet Dursley (18), sister, born Wednesbury;

[4] Leonard Dursley (1), son, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 26/4/1871

“At the Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday.....

Leonard Dursley, of the BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge, was charged with allowing ale to be consumed on his premises during prohibited hours. Police-constable Hill deposed that on Sunday, the 16th inst, he went to the defendant’s house at five minutes past twelve o’clock, and in the bar found five men sitting, with three glasses full of ale before them, and several empty ones. He asked for an explanation, and the defendant’s brother told him that the men asked him for a drop of ale, and he thought it better to supply it. He also asked Hill if he would have a glass himself, but the officer was proof against the temptation, and gave such information as led to the present charge. The plea for the defence was that the men were bona fide travellers; but the Bench thought otherwise, and imposed a fine of 40s and costs.”

Wednesbury Herald 20/9/1879

“On Thursday morning Mr. E. Hooper, Coroner, held an inquest at the BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge, on the body of a male child, which was discovered in a drain at the Tame Bridge. A boy named Benjamin Bayley stated that as he was walking through some fields he noticed a satchel in the drain by the side of the footpath. He opened it, and found that it contained the dead body of a child wrapped in a handkerchief.

The jury found a verdict of Found Dead, but there was no evidence to show whether the child was born alive or not.”

1881 Census

Tame Bridge

[1] James Dursley (38), publican, born Wednesbury;

[2] Betsey Dursley (43), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] Leonard Dursley (11), son, born Wednesbury;

[4] Annie Dursley (5), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[5] Harriet Dursley (28), sister, domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

West Bromwich Weekly News 12/11/1881

“Mr. E. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest on Wednesday, at the STONE CROSS INN, touching the death of Joseph Martin (28), platelayer, of Birmingham, whose body was found on the London and North Western Railway near Bescott Junction, on Friday night. It appeared that deceased was working the earlier part of Friday with an extra gang, but owing to the wretched weather the men left work and went to the BULLS HEAD INN, Wednesbury. Deceased left to catch a train to Birmingham, and was not seen alive again. His head was completely smashed. The jury returned an Open Verdict.”

West Bromwich Weekly News 17/12/1881

“On Wednesday, an inquest was held before Mr. E. Hooper, at the STONE CROSS INN, relative to the death of James Green (39), living at Newton Road, who met with his death on Saturday, near Bescot Station. The evidence went to show that the deceased had been at work all day on Friday, and on Friday night he was on duty as a fog-signal man. He continued at work all day on Saturday. Shortly before four o’clock in the afternoon he called at the BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge, and had two pints of ale. When there, he complained that he felt ill and giddy. He shortly afterwards left, and was not seen again alive. The body was found the following morning lying in the four foot, horribly mutilated.

The jury returned a verdict that deceased had been Accidentally Killed on the railway, but by what train there was no evidence to show.”

Walsall Observer 8/3/1884

“Walsall Town Council.....

The following resolutions, recommended by the Sewage Farm Committee, were unanimously agreed to.....

‘That a new footpath be made through the sewage farm from the West Bromwich Road to the BULLS HEAD at Tame Bridge, in substitution for the existing footpath, and that the lower part of such footpath and the road at the end of the osier beds be fenced off with unclimbable hurdles, at an estimated cost of £154 5s 0d.’

Councillor Newman explained that the greater part of the cost would be for fencing, but that the alteration was made in consequence of the agreement come to with the Wednesbury Local Board.”

Walsall Observer 26/6/1886 - Advert

“BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge.

Mr. J. Dursley wishes to thank his Customers for their kind support, and begs to inform them that he has engaged Piano and Harp for every Monday during the Summer. Every accommodation.

Spirits Direct from Bond. Fine Home-Brewed Ales.”

Walsall Advertiser 2/6/1888 - Advert

“Dancing! Dancing! Dancing!

James Dursley, BULLS HEAD INN, West Bromwich Road, Tame Bridge, begs to inform the Public that he has Opened his large Room for Dancing on Monday Evenings.

The Room can be secured for Private Parties on other Evenings.

A choice selection of Ales, Wines, and Spirits, &c.”

Walsall Advertiser 21/6/1890 - Death

“On the 20th inst, aged 21 years, Leonard, only son of James and Elizabeth Dursley, of Tame Bridge.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1891

“James Dursley, landlord of the BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge, near Wednesbury, was charged with two summonses with selling ale during prohibited hours, and also for opening his premises. Mr. W. S. Smith prosecuted and Mr. J. G. Thursfield defended.

The evidence of two police-officers named Eden and Carter showed that on Sunday morning, the 15th ult, they went in disguise on to a footpath near the defendant’s house at about ten o’clock, and when near a fence which separated the defendant’s garden from the road Carter asked a man named Poole, who was employed by the defendant as a waiter, for a pint of ale, and he was supplied without being questioned as to where he came from. Upon the other officer asking for a pint of ale, Poole told them to have a walk round and come again. Upon returning in the course of ten minutes they again asked for more drink, and Poole advised them to be careful, at the same time remarking that the ‘coppers’ were about. When they asked for beer a third time they were asked where they came from, and they replied Wednesbury, and Poole then told them that they would not be supplied with more drink as the ‘coppers’ were about. Shortly afterwards Police-constable Parton and Detective Platt put in an appearance. In reply to the Stipendiary the officers stated that from 50 to 60 persons were supplied with drink, the majority of whom were not asked if they were bona fide travellers.

The Stipendiary said this was one of the worst cases of illicit trading he had ever had before him. As the defendant had hitherto borne a good character, he should only convict in one case, and the defendant would be fined £10, including costs.”

1891 Census

The Delves – BULLS HEAD

[1] James Dursley (48), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Betsey Dursley (53), wife, born Birmingham;

[3] Anne Dursley (15), daughter, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1891

“The adjourned licensing meeting for the Wednesbury petty sessional division was held yesterday.....

Mr. W. S. Smith applied for the renewal of the license of James Dursley, of the BULLS HEAD, Tame Bridge. The ground of opposition was that the applicant was convicted in March last of selling in prohibited hours. Mr. Smith said the applicant had kept the house for twenty years without complaint, except in the one instance, and that was due to a waiter. He would make every effort to conduct the house properly in future Granted, with a caution.”

James Dursley – see also UNION, Union Street.

Joseph Parker married Mrs. Sarah Ann Clark, widow, on 5th July 1893.

He died on 17th December 1893.

Joseph Parker – see also RAILWAY, Oldbury Road, Smethwick, and SANDWELL, High Street, West Bromwich.

Black Country Bugle 6/5/2020

Article by Ken Ford

“I have looked after All Saints Church clock for the past 19 years. The clock was donated on 5th March 1905 by the wife of Joseph Parker, in his memory, twelve years after his death.....

The clock was made by J. Smith and Sons of Derby Smith of Derby (the same firm) have informed me that in their ledger is an entry dated 4th March 1905 for ‘a new clock with an old, restored dial, cost £81 2s 6d’.....

Joseph Parker was born in 1839 in Smethwick and started to work as an errand boy at Henry Mitchell’s Crown brewery in Oldbury Road, Smethwick. He later became a publican at the RAILWAY TAVERN in Galton Street, and was recorded at the BIRMINGHAM HOUSE INN on High Street, West Bromwich, in 1871. His first wife Emma died in 1892, and there is no evidence of any children. A year later Joseph married Sarah Ann Clark at Christ Church, West Bromwich. She was 47 and he was 54. They moved to the BULLS HEAD INN at Tame Bridge, but sadly Joseph died later that year, aged 55. Joseph was buried at Christ Church with his first wife Emma, at the same church where he had married Sarah less than six months before. Joseph left a staggering £9,422 18s 1d to John Edwin Mitchell, brewer; John Edward Cambers, accountant; to his widow Sarah, and Ada Edwards, his niece. Sarah Parker continued to run the BULLS HEAD INN until 1896.

Ada Edwards married brewer Charles Darby in 1893, and her legacy enabled Charles to purchase the BUSH INN from his father George. He was soon expanding his business and building his own brewery at Greets Green which became the most successful brewery in West Bromwich.

The BULLS HEAD INN was in a rural setting, situated on the road to Walsall near to the River Tame, and was then in the borough of Wednesbury. It later became part of West Bromwich when the boundary was moved to just past the Yew Tree Estate.....

Christ Church was decommissioned on 31st May 1978 due to a falling congregation In 1987 the remains were all removed and brought to All Saints Church and reinterred near to the Jubilee extension graveyard. Mrs. Parker or anyone else would not have known that after 82 years any remains of Joseph and his first wife Emma would move to the same site as the clock donated in his name!”

Walsall Observer 27/4/1895

"A Concert and Entertainment was given in the school-room, The Delves, on Monday evening, in aid of the children's trip which is proposed to be given to them during the summer. There was a very good attendance, although the bad state of the weather prevented a great many from attending.....

The following programme was rendered in a very pleasing manner, several of the lady performers being encored..... The Chairman proposed a vote of thanks to the ladies, who had been so kind to give their services; and also to Mrs. Parker, of the BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge, who had generously lent them the pianoforte for the evening, which had saved them several shillings. This was carried amidst loud applause, and the singing of the National Anthem closed the proceedings."

Sarah Ann Parker died on 30th July 1930 and was buried at Heath Lane Cemetery, West Bromwich, in the same plot as her first husband Christopher Clark. She left £4,587 8s 7d to Harry Rosco Laban, solicitor's clerk, and Charles Darby, brewer.

Walsall Advertiser 11/11/1899

"On Thursday evening a dinner was given at the BULLS HEAD HOTEL, West Bromwich Road, to a number of friends, in all about fifty. The catering, which was in the hands of the hostess, Miss Conlan, was everything that could be desired, and after justice had been done to the good things provided, Mr. Smith, of The Delves, was voted to the chair, whilst the vice-chair was occupied by Mr. Inshaw, manager for P. Collins Limited. The following were the principal items from the programme rendered. Song, 'Soldiers of the Queen,' Mr. Thornley; song, 'As you hair grows whiter,' Mr. Poole, junior; recitation, 'Dream of Eugene Aram,' B. Ross; pianoforte solo, Mr. Breeze; song, 'Sailing,' Mr. Smith; song, 'Our Lodger,' Mr. Mellor; piano solo, Mr. Cooper; song, 'Got a long way to go,' Mr. Thornley; song, 'Blue Eyed Nellie,' Mr. W. Poole; recitation, Mr. B. Ross; song, 'The Welsh Fusiliers,' Mr. Poole, junior. Toasts were also given, that of the hostess, Miss Conlan, being received with great enthusiasm. 'Our Soldiers in South Africa,' 'The Chairman and Vice-Chairman' were also toasted, and a very pleasant evening was spent."

Walsall Advertiser 11/8/1900

"Private Joe Pattison, of the 2nd Manchester regiment, whose residence was with his aunt, Miss Conlan, BULLS HEAD INN, the Delves, writes home from Hammonia, Orange River Colony, under date July 8th.

Our voyage out here was a very good one, the first three days only being anything like rough. It was, however, very lonely, as we only touched land twice before reaching Port Elizabeth, once at Las Palmas, where we arrived at 12 midnight, when most of the men were asleep, and once at Cape Town, where we waited about eight hours for orders which sent us to Port Elizabeth. There we disembarked. Our food on board was very good; we had bread three or four times a week, butter or jam daily for breakfast and tea, fresh meat, salt meat, pork and tinned meat in turn for dinner. Beer we could buy three times a week for 3d per pint, but were only allowed one pint each issue. There was also a free issue of rum twice a week, on Sunday and Wednesday. Concerts were numerous as we had good talent on board, and there was also band playing every evening. Although we had a splendid voyage it was marred by five deaths, three of the Royal West Kent and two of ours. We got a good reception on landing at Port Elizabeth and were just in time to see the Guards leave for the front. We stopped for two days, leaving for the front by train. After travelling with little stoppage we arrived at Edinburgh on Good Friday. On the way up we saw hundreds of ostriches. From Edinburgh we marched, with our horses, to a place called Reddersburg, reaching there about 7am. It was a very rough march, about 18 miles over a bad country, crossing rivers waist-deep, and the troops were half asleep, as we had had no proper rest for 48 hours.....

We are still in Hammonia, and the hills round about are full of Boers. We amuse ourselves by sniping the enemy, and they do the same to us when they get the chance. I do not think they will last long, as we expect a large force down here shortly, and I hope that it will be soon, as it is about time the war was over."

1901 Census

Delves – BULLS HEAD INN

[1] John Taylor (43), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Frances Ellen Taylor (40), wife, born Gloucestershire;

[3] Lilian Taylor (15), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[4] Phoebe Taylor (5), daughter, born Walsall;

Walsall Observer 4/6/1904

“At Wednesbury Borough Police Court, on Friday, John Taylor, landlord of the BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge, was summoned for selling intoxicating liquor during prohibited hours. Mr. J. S. Sharpe prosecuted, and Mr. Willcock defended.

The evidence of police-constable Yeomans showed that on Sunday, the 1st inst, at 8 o'clock in the morning, he, in company with police-constable Walkeden, were watching defendant's house. They saw the servant supply a man named John Griffiths and a young woman, she fetching the ale out of the house and handing it to them over the garden wall. After these people had been supplied the officers appeared on the scene, and the servant then informed them that they had stated they came from Dartmouth Park, West Bromwich, and she thought she was doing right in serving them. The landlord was down the cellar at the time, but it transpired that he was also under the impression the people supplied were bona fide travellers, and that they had walked over three miles. The officers had measured the distance from Dartmouth Park, and found it to be two miles 1,297 yards 2 feet, whilst the addresses given by the persons who were supplied were also under the three miles limit.

Mr. Willcock, for the defence, submitted that the servant when she supplied the ale was under the impression that these people had come the required distance, and he pointed out that there was no concealment whatever in the case, and the ale was drunk in the highway and in an open a manner as possible. He urged that it was merely a mistake in judgement on the part of the servant in the absence of her employer, and on behalf of the management he stated that no bona fide traveller would be supplied at the house in the future.

The Bench took a lenient view of the matter, and allowed the case to be withdrawn on the payment of the costs, amounting to £2 9s.”

Walsall Observer 21/10/1905

“On Thursday afternoon, Mr. A. A. Beetham (acting coroner) held an inquiry at the BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge, Wednesbury, into the circumstances attending the death of Lilian Pymm (16), whose parents reside at Delves Cottages, Wednesbury, and whose dead body was found in the water at an old disused marl hole at Fulbrook, on Monday morning.

Julia Pymm said the deceased was her daughter, who was a very generally quiet and reserved girl. She was employed as a tailoress at Messrs. Shannons, clothiers, George Street, Walsall. About three weeks ago she remained away from work to look after the home whilst witness was ill. On Sunday last she went out as she said to attend service at the Baptist Chapel, Walsall, and she then appeared to be in good health. As she did not return, search was made, and her dead body taken home by the police on Monday morning. Last Sunday deceased remarked in a jocular manner to her uncle, ‘You don't know we are going to drown ourselves?’ referring to herself and her sister. She knew of no motive that was likely to induce her to take her life. Some three weeks ago she (witness) had a baby girl, and previous to that time several other children had died, always leaving her with three boys and three girls. On Sunday deceased remarked, ‘Well, we have got four girls now; I don't think we ought to have but three boys and three girls. I wonder who will be the next.’ Witness replied that there was not much fear that she would be next, as she was the healthiest in the family. She had been in the habit of attending the revival meetings at the Baptist Chapel, Walsall, and she appeared to be very much impressed by the services. The previous week, however, she did not go to the mission.

William Pymm, bricklayer, said he last saw his daughter alive on Saturday evening. On the Sunday night he should have met her as he was going home if she had gone to Walsall, but he did not do so. She had no business near the marl hole, which was about a hundred yards from the main road. When she did not return he reported the matter to the police. They had always led a happy life at home.

Florence Pymm, sister, said she did not think deceased cared much about going to work, but she never complained, and no pressure was brought to bear upon her by her parents to keep her at her employment. On Sunday her sister said to her uncle, ‘You don't know I am going to drown myself do you?’ adding afterwards, ‘It's not them that talk about it that generally do it.’ When she went out on the Sunday night she said that she was going with another girl to the Baptist Chapel at Walsall. She asked her who the girl was, but she replied that witness did not know her. She talked a great deal about the mission, and she often sang the hymns that were used at the chapel. Deceased told her that ‘When the Missioner was singing he seemed as though he wanted to go to heaven.’

Joseph Goodwin, uncle, said he did not recollect hearing deceased make the statement spoken of by the mother and sister, but he remembered Florrie saying, ‘That's the girl that's talking of drowning herself.’ He could ascribe no motive that would lead to deceased taking her life, but his opinion was that she had been discontented at having to remain at home whilst her mother was ill.

Sergeant Sims said that on receiving information at 8.30am on Monday morning that deceased was missing, he proceeded with two other constables to the marl hole, which they dragged, and at 9.30 they recovered the body. The depth of the water at that particular spot would be about twelve feet. He found no traces of a struggle in the vicinity of the hole, and there were no marks of violence on the body when he examined it afterwards at the home of the parents. There was no footway near the hole. He had made enquiries, but was unable to trace deceased's movements after she left home.

Dr. Garman said that death was due to drowning.

The Coroner, in summing up, said that it was possible that the girl had been impressed a great deal by what she had heard about another world, and that she was discontented with this, but that was for the jury to decide upon.

An open verdict of Found Drowned was returned."

Walsall Observer 3/11/1906 - Advert

"BULLS HEAD HOTEL, Tame Bridge, West Bromwich Road.

Pigeons and Sparrow Shooting every Saturday at 2 o'clock. Pigeons in stock for practice any week day."

BULL'S Head Hotel, Tame Bridge, West Bromwich Road.—Pigeons and Sparrow Shooting every Saturday at 2 o'clock. Pigeons in stock for practice any week day.

1911 Census

Tame Bridge – BULLS HEAD INN

[1] Catherine Conlan (56), unmarried, publican, born Monaghan, Ireland;

[2] Joseph Pattison (40), nephew, unmarried, barman, born Manchester;

[3] Mary Southall (20), domestic servant, born Sedgley:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 10/9/1912 - Advert

"Wanted, a good General Servant, age about 20; good reference.

BULLS HEAD, Tame Bridge, Wednesbury."

WANTED, a good General Servant, age about 20; good reference.—Bull's Head, Tame Bridge, Wednesbury.

Walsall Observer 19/10/1912

"The marl hole which lies some hundred yards from the West Bromwich Road near the Fullbrook pool and just outside the borough boundary, was on Wednesday night the scene of a distressing tragedy. A sixteen-year-old girl jumped into the water in the presence of her sister-in-law, and was drowned. The girl, whose name is Evelyn Elsie Pymm, lived with her parents, William and Julia Pymm, at 132, West Bromwich Road, and has lately been employed as a learner in the costume department of Messrs. John Shannon & Sons.

The case presents many remarkable features. It appears from the evidence given at the inquest that the deceased girl had of late been receiving a number of filthy anonymous letters, which were immediately handed over to the police, who have been investigating the matter. Then again, it is of somewhat sordid interest to note that Wednesday was the seventh anniversary of the deceased's sister's death, her body, too, being recovered from this same marl hole when she had reached the age of 16 years.

The inquest concerning the case was held yesterday afternoon by the Deputy County Coroner, Mr. W. C. Checkley, at the BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge.

The father of the deceased girl, William Pymm, a bricklayer, stated that he last saw his daughter alive on Tuesday night, when she was in her usual cheerful spirits. He had never heard her threaten to do herself harm. Asked if he had noticed any change in her demeanour of late, witness replied that beyond being very quick and hasty-tempered, he had not observed anything unusual in her manner.

The Deputy Coroner: Had she been in receipt of some very disgusting anonymous letters?

Witness: Yes. They were handed over to the police, who made enquiries in order to find the writer.

Your daughter had no idea who the sender of these letters was? – Not the slightest.

Do you think the receipt of these letters had some effect on her mind; had they worried her? – Yes; they had not improved the state of her mind.

A number of the letters mentioned were produced, and Mr. Checkley said they were all of a most disgusting character.

Florence Pymm, sister of the girl, said deceased had been working next to her since she commenced at Messrs. Shannon's. On Wednesday afternoon deceased was called to see the foreman of the department, who made a complaint about the bad felling she had done on a coat. Deceased, when she returned to her place in the workroom, remarked, 'The foreman hasn't given me another coat.' There did not seem to be anything the matter with her then, and apparently she was quite content. Later she again went to see the foreman, and when she returned she was upset and excited. Witness advised her not to cry, and at 5.30 she left work to go home.

Florence Frances Pymm, wife of Frederick William Pymm, of Fullbrook Cottages, and sister-in-law of the deceased, told the story of the tragedy itself. She said that at 6pm on Wednesday deceased came to her house and asked witness if she would walk across with her to the stable in the brickyard at the rear of the house, and bring a lamp with her. This was not an unusual request, and witness went with her. It was then quite dark, and while they were going along the pathway across the field to the brickyard, deceased remarked upon the road being a nasty one, and added that she did not like to go along it alone. She seemed as if she was glad of witness's company. The marl hole was near to the stable, and when they were nearing it, deceased called attention to the rubbish which was being tipped into the water, and said, 'They are putting a lot of stuff in here.' She then almost ran towards the pool, and witness said, 'Are you going to look?' 'Like a lightning flash,' continued witness, 'she took off her coat and plunged into the water.' She shouted something which sounded like, 'Tell mother I am saved.' She then disappeared beneath the water, and witness shouted for help, afterwards fetching two men. However, when they arrived on the scene there was no trace of the girl's body.

William Henry Allen, foreman of the costumes and juvenile department at Messrs. Shannon's, said that at 3.30 on Wednesday afternoon his attention was drawn to a coat made by deceased, which was very badly felled, and he pointed out to the girl in a kindly way that she would have to improve greatly. He also told her that if she did not do better work, it would be as well for her to get something more suitable. He saw the girl was very excited, and he told her to go and sit down. She went to him later on and asked if she could have any more work, and when he told her that he did not think she could do any good, she said, 'Well, I suppose I can go home.'

Police-constable Hall deposed to receiving information of the affair at 8.30. He went, in company with Superintendent Salt, to the marl hole, and said he found the hat and coat produced on the bank. They commenced dragging operations, but did not recover the body until about 10.15.

Detective-Sergeant Burrell, of Walsall, said that about 30 anonymous letters and postcards of a most filthy nature had been handed to him by the deceased and her mother. He had been unable to trace the writer of them. He had had conversations with the girl about the letters, and they seemed to greatly upset her. There had also been some window-smashing going on at her parents' house. Deceased was a witness in one case of window-smashing, that came up at the Walsall Court, and this had also seemed to affect her. In answer to Superintendent Salt, witness said that with the exception of two or three, all the letters had been received since she gave evidence at the police court. She had received quite a volley of these letters, sometimes at the rate of two a day. Most of them had come through the post, but some had been put through the letter-box.

Dr. Garman, of Wednesbury, said he had made an external examination of the body. There was no reason to doubt that the girl came to her death by drowning. From further examination, it was conclusively proved that any reports which had been circulated as to the girl's condition were without foundation.

A verdict of Suicide during Temporary Insanity was returned. The foreman of the jury remarked that he thought the letters had upset her. The Coroner said he hoped that the writer of the letters would be found and severely dealt with."

Birmingham Mail 7/7/1913

"Joseph Capewell (29), metal worker, The Delves, was charged on remand at Wednesbury today with wounding the Rev. John Howl, curate of St. Paul's Church, Wood Green, on Sunday, the 29th ult. Complainant's evidence, already given, was repeated, and showed that he was shot from behind, and wounded in the head, whilst on the way to conduct a service at a mission church at The Delves.

Frank Baker, brass-caster, Cobden Street, Walsall, related an extraordinary story with regard to the pistol with which it is alleged complainant was shot. He stated that he found the weapon and also a box of pellets whilst walking across the Walsall sewage farm on the same Sunday morning. Subsequently he met Capewell and other men in the BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge. When they left there, about 2.30, they started off towards Walsall, and Mr. Howl passed them. Whilst in the public house witness had shown the pistol to Capewell, who, when in the road, said, 'Lend us that pistol.' Witness handed it to him, and prisoner fired it off. At that time Mr. Howl was thirty or forty yards in front. The weapon was only discharged once, and Capewell then returned it to witness. All of them then turned round and walked towards West Bromwich. At Stone Cross they got to the canal side, and witness threw the pistol into the canal.

Frank William Farmer, polisher, Weston Street, Walsall, another of the prisoner's companions, said that Capewell, when borrowing the pistol, remarked, 'Let me have a try.' After firing it he exclaimed, 'It's hit the parson.' After this they cleared straight away.

John Samuel Johnson, Alexadra Terrace, Palfrey, Walsall, another member of the party, described the pistol as about a foot long. He also stated that the clergyman ducked his head after the pistol was fired, but afterwards walked on. Police-sergeant Harris said that Capewell, when arrested, said, 'I discharged the pistol into the air as I thought.' Later he added, 'I am sorry it occurred. I don't think it would have happened if I had not had drink. I had no wish to injure Mr. Howl.'

Prisoner was committed for trial at the Quarter Sessions, bail being allowed."

[In October, at the Staffordshire Quarter Sessions, the jury found Capewell guilty of firing a pistol recklessly, but with no intention of hitting anyone. The Court interpreted this verdict as one of unlawful wounding. He was ordered to pay the costs of the prosecution, or 14 days' imprisonment.]

Birmingham Daily Post 14/2/1914

"The Wednesbury Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

Superintendent Salt reported Since the last annual sessions three licensees had been proceeded against, and one convicted. Opposition was taken to the renewal of the license of the BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge.....

The Bench renewed all the licenses with the exception of the BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge; the SHAKESPEARE INN, Dudley Street; and the HEN AND CHICKENS INN, Foster Street. The two latter were opposed on the ground of redundancy. Consideration of these objections were deferred until the adjourned meeting."

Birmingham Daily Post 14/3/1914

"At Wednesbury adjourned licensing sessions yesterday.....

The renewal of the license of the BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge, was objected to on the ground that the premises had been ill-conducted.

Mr. H. H. Jackson (Walsall) in applying for renewal said a conviction was recorded against a former licensee for allowing Sunday trading, but the present licensee had given an undertaking to open only during the hours prescribed by law. Mr. J. S. Sharpe (West Bromwich) supported the application on behalf of the owners, and the license was renewed."

1921 Census

Wednesbury – BULLS HEAD HOTEL

- [1] Edward Toon (39), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Kate Toon (42), wife, licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [3] Kate Toon (16), daughter, clerk, born Walsall;
- [4] Jennie Toon (15), daughter, cashier, born Walsall;
- [5] Annie Toon (14), daughter, born Walsall;
- [6] Edward Toon (13) son, school, born Walsall;
- [7] Phillip Toon (9), son, school, born Walsall;
- [8] Arthur Toon (6), son, born Walsall;
- [9] Florence Cooper (27), domestic servant, born Walsall;
- [10] Lily Cooper (18), domestic servant, born Walsall;

Lichfield Mercury 16/3/1923

"The ceremony of Beating the Bounds of Wednesbury was observed. At Tame Bridge, where the three parishes of Wednesbury, Walsall, and West Bromwich come together, a number of boys were thrown into the River Tame – not an uncommon part of the ancient custom as observed in many parishes – a practice which was supposed to impress on their youthful memories both the situation and the substance of the parish boundary at that point. The boys were never unwilling to submit themselves to the ordeal, as this participation in the day's proceedings entitled them to a due share of the refreshment – generally in the form of bread and cheese and beer – served out at the adjacent hostelry, the BULLS HEAD at the Delves."

South Staffordshire Times 12/1/1924

"Mr. E. Toon, licensee of the BULLS HEAD, Tame Bridge, Wednesbury, died somewhat suddenly on Wednesday. He was engaged at work in the cellar and met with an accident, being promptly removed to the Walsall Hospital, where he passed away. Deceased who was much respected, was only 42 years of age, and leaves a widow and family to mourn his loss."

South Staffordshire Times 19/4/1924

"Mr. Edward Toon, of the BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge, Wednesbury, formerly of the ROYAL OAK INN, Lord Street, Palfrey, Walsall, who died on January 9th last, left estate of the gross value of £3,507, with net personality nil. Probate on the will has been granted to his widow, Mrs. Kate Toon, of the same place."

Edward Toon – see also SEVEN STARS, Stafford Street, Walsall, and ROYAL OAK, Lord Street, Walsall.

Bilston & Willenhall Times 11/10/1924

"The monthly meeting of the Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers Association was held at the BULLS HEAD, Tame Bridge, Wednesbury, on Tuesday when Alderman J. H. Sheldon presided....."

Birmingham Mail 28/7/1925 - Advert

"Good Reliable Girl (20 to 24), references essential.

GOOD reliable Girl (20 to 24), references essential.—E. Toon, Bull's Head Hotel, Tame Bridge, near Wednesbury.

E. Toon, BULLS HEAD HOTEL, Tame Bridge, near Wednesbury."

Walsall Observer 23/4/1927

"When Mr. J. S. Sharpe applied for the transfer of the license of the BULLS HEAD, Tame Bridge, from Isaiah Thompson to Arthur Wesson, Thompson stated that he had not been able to secure other accommodation for his wife and family. He added that he gave up employment in Walsall which he had had for 30 years to take the BULLS HEAD, and he thought he would be there permanently as long as he did the right thing, which he had tried to do. He had, moreover, no work to go to, and he understood that Wesson had other employment besides the public house. Mr. Sharpe pointed out that the question of alternative accommodation did not arise in connection with licensed premises, but under the circumstances arrangements could be made for Thomson and his family to remain at the BULLS HEAD for the time being, provided the new licensee was given sufficient accommodation. The transfer was granted."

Walsall Observer 9/7/1927

"Monday's meeting of the Wednesbury Town Council Plans approved include.....

Structural alterations at the BULLS HEAD HOTEL, Delves Road, for the Holt Brewery Ltd."

Birmingham Daily Post 27/12/1928

"The defence of 'joy riding' was unsuccessfully pleaded at Walsall in cases in which two owners had been deprived of the use of their motor-cars. In the first instance Edgar Stokes (24), motor-driver, 57, Whitehall Road, and Thomas Harber (22), slater, 359, Pleck Road, were jointly charged with stealing on December 18 a motor-car, value £125, the property of Daniel Smith, licensee of the BULLS HEAD INN, West Bromwich Road, Tame Bridge; also with stealing four gallons of petrol, value 6s 1d, at the same time.

In the second case Stokes was charged with the theft of a motor-car, value £190, and six gallons of petrol, value 8s 7d, the property of Eleanor Josephine Yardley, 7, Sutton Crescent, on November 22.

It transpired that Mr. Smith's car disappeared after it had been 'parked' in Bradford Place. Information was at once circulated to the various police forces throughout the country, and later the same day Police-constable James Smith, of the Birmingham City Police, whilst on point duty at the junction of Hockley Hill and Great King Street, noticed the car pass. He at once obtained the use of a motor-car and gave chase, eventually getting level with accused, but when called upon to stop they accelerated. The officer again caught them up, and accused then jumped out of the car, leaving the engine running, and bolted, but Smith followed and captured them. Stokes then admitted having taken the car from Walsall 'to visit some friends,' and added, 'I suppose we are unlucky.'

Detective Lee (Walsall) said that when received in custody by him Stokes said, 'We only went for a joy ride.' Harber said, 'He asked me to go, and I went with him.'

Prisoners now denied any intention to steal the car, but pleaded guilty to the theft of the petrol which they used. Stokes read a long statement, in which he asserted that he and Harber contemplated going to Coventry in search of work, and that their 'confirmed intention' was to 'take the motor-car back to the place from which they had purloined it.' The statement concluded, 'We are extremely repentant for the trouble our misdeeds have caused, and we undertake never again to be guilty of so base an act.'

In the second case the motor-car was taken from outside Walsall Post Office. Miss Yardley saw it being driven away, and, running after it, managed to jump on the footboard, but Stokes put on speed and she had to dismount. Next morning the car was found abandoned in Sutton Road.

Chief Constable Ballance remarked that in this case also every police force was notified of the disappearance of the car, adding, 'It costs money to do it apart from the trouble.'

Stokes denied any intention to steal the car, and said he went to Coventry to look for a job.

Harber, who was said to have a wife and child, was put on probation for twelve months, with a warning as to the consequences if he got into trouble again. Stokes was sentenced to six months' imprisonment for stealing the cars, the other charges being merged."

Walsall Observer 9/2/1935

"At the coming-of-age party of Miss Lily Smith, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Smith, of the BULLS HEAD, The Delves, on Monday evening, it was announced that Miss Smith had become engaged to 'Ted' Sandford, the well-known West Bromwich Albion forward. There were about fifty guest to congratulate Miss Smith on the 'double event,' and a happy evening e spent in games and dancing."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 18/5/1937

"The marriage took place at St. James' Church, Handsworth, yesterday of Mr. 'Ted' Sandford, the popular captain of West Bromwich Albion, who is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sandford, of 367, Holyhead Road, Handsworth, and Miss Lily Frances Smith, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Smith, of the BULLS HEAD HOTEL, West Bromwich Road, Walsall.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in a dress of Duchesse satin trimmed with seed pearls and a girdle, a lover's knot of pearls being worked in the train. She wore orange blossoms at the neck and had a tulle veil with a head-dress of lilies and carried a bouquet of arum lilies and lilies of the valley.....

There was a large attendance at the ceremony, including several of Mr. Sandford's Albion colleagues, and subsequently a reception was held at the Friar Park Hall, West Bromwich, at which there were nearly 70 guests."

Walsall Observer 1/2/1947 - Personal

"The Women of the Bar at BULLS HEAD, Delves, wish to thank Mrs. Sandford, Mr. Gosling, and Mrs. Henley for Pantomime and tea, January 27."

Walsall Observer 28/8/1953 - Acknowledgments

"The Wife and Family of the late Charles Gosling wish to thank neighbours and friends, Doctor, Mr. and Mrs. Sandford and Customers of the BULLS HEAD and Delves for kindness and floral tributes in their sad bereavement."

It closed on 30th January 1967.

BUSH

High Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Jones [1822] – [1830]
Samuel Willis [1834]

NOTES

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 12/7/1819 - Advert

"Leasehold Building, Wednesbury.

To be Sold by private Contract, three Dwelling Houses, with their Appurtenances; one of which is used as a Public House, and known by the Name of the OLD BUSH; the other two adjoin the same, and are situate in the High Street, Wednesbury.

For further Particulars, and to treat, apply to Mrs. Mary Smith, Shoe Warehouse, High Street, Wednesbury."

Leasehold Building, Wednesbury.
TO be SOLD by private Contract, three Dwelling Houses, with their Appurtenances; one of which is used as a Public House, and known by the Name of the OLD BUSH; the other two adjoin the same, and are situate in the High Street, Wednesbury.
For further Particulars, and to treat, apply to Mrs. Mary Smith, Shoe Warehouse, High Street, Wednesbury.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 14/5/1832 - Advert

"To be Let, with the Licenses, Good-will, and Possession, all that well accustomed and old established Public House called the OLD BUSH, situate in High Street, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford.

The present occupier is leaving on account of other peculiar engagements.

The Stock, &c, to be taken to at a fair valuation.

For particulars apply (if by letter, post paid) to Daniel Taylor, Auctioneer, &c, Wednesbury."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 30/10/1837 - Advert

"An Excellent Opportunity of taking an Old Established Public House, the OLD BUSH INN, Wednesbury.

By I. Allen and Son. To be disposed of by private Treaty, the valuable Licenses, Good-will, and Possession of the above well-accustomed Public House, in the principal street in Wednesbury, possessing every convenience for the business in all its branches, and might at a trifling expense be converted into a very excellent Spirit Vaults.

The Fixtures, Brewing Utensils, part of the Furniture, Stock, and effects to be taken at a fair appraisement.

For other particulars apply at the offices, West Bromwich; at I. Allen's offices, Smithfield, Birmingham; or of the Proprietor, on the premises."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 1/1/1838 - Advert

"Multum In Parvo. OLD BUSH INN, Wednesbury.

Commercial Sale Room, West Bromwich, and Smithfield, Birmingham.

By Allen and Son. To be Sold by Auction, this day (Monday), the valuable Good-will, Licenses, and Possession, Brewing Utensils, Stock in Trade, Fixtures, and splendid Household Furniture and effects of the BUSH INN as above.

On Wednesday next, at their Sale Room as above, a variety of miscellaneous Effects, comprising elegant Household Furniture, a quantity of Welsh butter, strong black tea, druggist's fixtures, blue, French pickles, brushes, mangle, brewing utensils, &c, &c, described in catalogues to be had at either of the above places, where may be had the largest list of Public Houses, Grocers' Shops, Building and other property on sale and wanted in Birmingham and the Mining districts."

TO be LET, with the Licences, Good-will, and Possession, all that well accustomed and old established Public House called the OLD BUSH, situate in High-street, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford.—The present occupier is leaving on account of other peculiar engagements.

The Stock, &c. to be taken to at a fair valuation.

For particulars apply (if by letter, post paid) to Daniel Taylor, Auctioneer, &c. Wednesbury.

1832

AN EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITY OF TAKING
AN OLD ESTABLISHED PUBLIC HOUSE,
THE OLD BUSH INN, WEDNESBURY.

BY I. ALLEN and SON.—To be disposed of by private Treaty, the valuable Licences, Good-will, and Possession of the above well-accustomed Public House, in the principal street in Wednesbury, possessing every convenience for the business in all its branches, and might at a trifling expence be converted into a very excellent Spirit Vaults.

The Fixtures, Brewing Utensils, part of the Furniture, Stock, and effects to be taken at a fair appraisement.

For other particulars apply at the offices, West Bromwich; at I. Allen's offices, Smithfield, Birmingham; or of the Proprietor, on the premises.

1837

MULTUM IN PARVO.
OLD BUSH INN, WEDNESBURY.

Commercial Sale-room, West Bromwich, and Smithfield, Birmingham.

BY ALLEN and SON.—To be SOLD by AUCTION this day (Monday), the valuable Good-will, Licences, and Possession, Brewing Utensils, Stock in Trade, Fixtures, and splendid Household Furniture and effects of the Bush Inn as above.

On Wednesday next, at their Sale-room as above, a variety of miscellaneous Effects, comprising elegant Household Furniture, a quantity of Welsh butter, strong black tea, druggist's fixtures, blue, French pickles, brushes, mangle, brewing utensils, &c. &c. described in catalogues to be had at either of the above places, where may be had the largest list of Public Houses, Grocers' Shops, Building and other property on sale and wanted in Birmingham and the Mining districts.

1838

BUTCHERS ARMS

34, Union Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Benjamin Bissell [1868] – [1872]

NOTES

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 9/5/1868

“Lee Brook Grounds, Wednesbury.

Mr. Bissell of the BUTCHERS ARMS, Wednesbury, will give £6 10s to be run for in a 130 Yards All England Handicap, to come off on Mondays, May 18 and 25. Entries 1s each (no acceptances), to be made on or before Wednesday, May 13, at the grounds; T. Fleming’s, RING OF BELLS, Walsall; T. Chidloe, OLD QUEENS HEAD, Hill Street, Walsall; or to Mr. Bissell, as above. Any one entering falsely will be disqualified.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/2/1870

“ROYAL OAK, Burnt Tree, Dudley Port.

Mr. Nuttall had a capital attendance yesterday, when a trio of events were down for decision.....

80 yards spin, for £5 a side, between F. Lloyd and T. Plant, two Wednesbury representatives of the minimum size, neither topping four feet, and the elder ‘going in thirteen.’ They got off quickly, Lloyd, the younger and smaller lad, winning by a yard and a half. Betting: 6 and 7 to 4 on the winner. Mr. B. Bissell, BUTCHERS ARMS, Wednesbury, stakeholder and referee.”

1871 Census

34, Union Street – Beerhouse

[1] Benjamin Bissell (32), beerhouse keeper, born Wednesbury;

[2] Sarah Bissell (31), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] Benjamin Bissell (8), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;

[4] William Bissell (6), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;

[5] Annie Bissell (4), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[6] Jane Cliff (12), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 27/4/1872

“W. Rose of Wednesbury (alias Billy Piggy) will run any man in England 40 years of age, from four to ten miles (he, W. Rose, being above 40 years old), for £15 or £20 a side, and will give £1 to run at the BOAT INN, Lea Brook, Wednesbury, or he will run B. Spooner of Wednesbury one mile level, for £5 a side, by calling or sending to B. Bissell, BUTCHERS ARMS, Union Street, Wednesbury, a match can be made at any time.”

Benjamin Bissell – see also JOLLY BREWER and LAMP.

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE

High Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Colbeck [1841] – [1842]

NOTES

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 3/5/1841 - Advert

“CAPE OF GOOD HOPE INN, High Street, Wednesbury.

To be Let, the above old licensed Public House.

Apply to J. Gilbert, Estate Agent, 4, Cherry Street, Birmingham.”

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE INN,
High-street, Wednesbury.
TO be LET, the above old licenced PUBLIC HOUSE.
Apply to J. Gilbert, Estate Agent, 4, Cherry-street, Birmingham.

CASTLE

37, (31), Walsall Street (31, Walsall Road), (New Street) / Windmill Street, (31, Oakeswell End), WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Atkinsons Ltd.

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. [1961]

LICENSEES

William Hampson [1841] – 1852;

Mrs. Ellen Hampson (1852)

William Tolley (1852 – [])

James Proffitt [1857] – 1858;

Mrs. Ellen Hampson (1858 – 1861);

John Burroughs Powell (1861 – 1863);

Samuel Poulton (1863 – [1872])

James Edwards [1873]

John Baddley Jones (1880 – [1885])

John Knowles [1881]

Richard Sillitoe [1891]

James Archer [1891] – [1892]

Thomas Henry Neale [1894]

Henry Deighton Millner [1896] – [1908]

Albert Jeffs [1911] – [1912]

Charles Meakin [1916]

Charles Burrows [1921]

Joseph Burrows [1921]

Annie Burns [] – 1925;

Alfred James Merrick (1925 – [1932])

Mrs. Ellen Merrick [1939] – [1940]

Geoff Fletcher [] – 1961;

Ben Wood (1961 – 1962);

Sidney Jones (1962 – 1964);

Raymond Richard Matthouse (1964);

Alan Simcox (1964 – 1965);

Dennis Schofield (1965 – [1966])

William Johnson [1978]

c1968

NOTES

New Street [1841]

Oakeswell End [1850], [1860]

31, Walsall Road [1881], [1891]

37, Walsall Street [1911], [1921], [1932], [1939], [1940]

CASTLE TAVERN [1850]

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE [1871]

"THE CASTLE," WALSALL STREET, WEDNESBURY.
TO be DISPOSED OF by PRIVATE TREATY,
the LICENSES, GOODWILL, and POSSESSION of the above-named and well-known PUBLIC HOUSE, situate in a populous and thriving part of Wednesbury, in the occupation of Mrs. Hampson, who is leaving in consequence of the death of her husband. The House is roomy and well arranged, and is now doing a very good Business. Rent and coming in low.
For further particulars, apply to Mrs. Hampson, on the Premises; or to Joseph Dawes, Auctioneer and Appraiser, Wednesbury.

1852

William Hampson, beer retailer, Walsall Street. [1841]

1841 Census

New Street

- [1] William Hampson (45), coach smith, born Staffordshire;
- [2] William Hampson (11), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Thomas Hampson (20), coach smith, born Staffordshire;
- [4] David Hampson (8), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Samuel Hampson (6), born Staffordshire;
- [6] Ellen Hampson (45), born Staffordshire;
- [7] Ellen Hampson (4), born Staffordshire;
- [8] Ellen Hampson (5 months), born Staffordshire;
- [9] Elizabeth Hampson (15), born Staffordshire;
- [10] Ann Day (22), born Staffordshire;
- [11] Aaron Evans (21), coach smith, born Staffordshire;

William Hampson, retailer of beer, Walsall Street. [1842]

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/9/1850

“Sarah Skeldon, a girl about 17 years of age, who had been servant at the CASTLE INN, Wednesbury, was charged with stealing a necklace, a quantity of ribbon, and about 9s 6d in cash, from the house of her master, William Hampson. It appears that they had suspected her, and charged her with the offence, which she denied, but almost immediately after left the house and went home to her aunt’s, at Westbromwich. Information was given to the police, and she was apprehended. A quantity of ribbon was found in her possession, and she stated to police-constable Boughey, who arrested her, that she had bought a pair of shoes with the money; and a waistcoat, which was among the articles stolen, she had burnt. She was committed for trial at the sessions.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/9/1850

“Committed to the County Prison, at Stafford, for Trial.....

Sarah Sheldon, charged with stealing a quantity of ribbon and beads at Wednesbury.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/10/1850

Staffordshire Michaelmas Sessions To be Imprisoned Three Calendar Months.....

Sarah Sheldon (pleaded guilty), for stealing several articles or wearing apparel from her mistress, Mrs. Hampson, of Wednesbury.”

1851 Census

Walsall Street

- [1] William Hampson (54), coach smith and victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Ellen Hampson (54), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] William Hampson (21), son, coach smith journeyman, born Wednesbury;
- [4] David Hampson (18), son, gunlock forger journeyman, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Samuel Hampson (16), son, gunlock forger journeyman, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Ellen Hampson (13), daughter, barmaid, born Wednesbury;
- [7] John Disturnal (32), son-in-law, gunlock forger journeyman, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Jane Disturnal (27), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [9] William Disturnal (9), nephew, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [10] John Disturnal (7), nephew, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [11] Samuel Disturnal (4), nephew, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [12] Jane Disturnal (2), niece, born Wednesbury;
- [13] Thomas Fisher (24), lodger, cattle dealer, born Wednesbury;
- [14] Mary Wright (21), visitor, general servant, born Wednesbury;

William Hampson died on 2nd April 1852.

Birmingham Journal 21/8/1852 - Advert

“The CASTLE, Walsall Street, Wednesbury.

To be Disposed Of by Private Treaty, the Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the above-named and well-known Public House, situate in a populous and thriving part of Wednesbury, in the occupation of Mrs. Hampson, who is leaving in consequence of the death of her husband. The House is roomy and well arranged, and is now doing a very good Business. Rent and coming in low.

For further particulars, apply to Mrs. Hampson, on the Premises; or to Joseph Dawes, Auctioneer and Appraiser, Wednesbury.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/10/1852 - Advert

“Genteel Family Residence at Wednesbury.

To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately.....

For further particulars, and to view the same, apply to Mr. William Tolley, CASTLE INN, Walsall Road; or to Mr. William Fairburn, News Agent, both of Wednesbury.”

James Proffitt = James Proffit

Birmingham Journal 5/9/1857 - Advert

“The CASTLE INN, Wednesbury.

To be Disposed Of, the Licenses and Possession of the above-named Old-licensed Public House, situated in an improving part of Wednesbury. Coming-in about £120.

The Premises are compact, with good Stabling, Yard, Piggeries, and other Conveniences.

For particulars and to treat, apply to Joseph Dawes, Auctioneer, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Journal 26/9/1857 - Advert

“To Publicans, Spirit Merchants, Brokers, and Others.

Sale at the CASTLE INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Joseph Dawes, on Monday Next, September 28th, on the Premises above-named.

Part of the clean and useful Household Furniture, the whole of the Brewing Utensils, Ale Casks, two Iron Boilers, Gas Fittings, and Six Store Pigs, together with a quantity of fine old French Brandy, London Gin, Peppermint, Malt Vinegar, and other Effects, belonging to Mr. James Proffitt, who is changing his Residence.

Sale to commence at Eleven o'clock in the forenoon, with the usual conditions.”

James Proffitt – see also SCOTT ARMS.

1861 Census

Walsall Street

[1] Ellen Hampson (65), widow, licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] William Disturnal (19), grand-son, coach smith, born Wednesbury;

[3] Sarah Wheeler (29), niece, milliner, born Wednesbury;

[4] Thomas Hughes (27), boarder, coach smith, born Birmingham;

[5] Catherine Brinnen (19), servant:

Birmingham Journal 12/10/1861

“At the Public Office, West Bromwich, on Saturday, the following transfers of victuallers licenses were made.....

CASTLE, Wednesbury, from Ellen Hampson, deceased, to John Burrows Powell.”

John Burroughs Powell = John Burrows Powell

London Evening Standard 17/12/1862

“Bankrupts.....

John Burroughs Powell, Wednesbury, licensed victualler.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/1/1863

“Bankrupts.....

John Burrows Powell, licensed victualler, Wednesbury, final examination, supported by Mr. Brevitt, of Darlaston. The meeting was adjourned to allow the bankrupt time to file his accounts.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/2/1863

“At Walsall County Court, on Wednesday, the following bankrupts came up for examination.....

John Burroughs Powell, licensed victualler, Wednesbury, applied for his order of discharge, supported by Mr. Brevitt; Mr. Slater attending for the assignees. No opposition was offered, and the order was granted.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 7/3/1863 - Notice

“In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall.

In the Matter of John Burroughs Powell, now of the Walsall Road, Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, Dealer in Tobacco, and Manager of a Brickyard at Hady Moor, Wednesbury aforesaid, previously of the same place, Licensed Victualler, Dealer in Tobacco, Cowkeeper, Selling Milk, Carter, and Manager of the Brickyard aforesaid, a Bankrupt.

Whereas at a Public Sitting of the Court, held this day, the Court granted an Order of Discharge to the said Bankrupt, Notice is hereby given, that an Order of Discharge will be drawn up and delivered to the Bankrupt after the expiration of thirty days from this date, unless, in the meantime an Appeal be duly entered against the Judgment of the said Court.

Dated this 18th day of February, 1863.

C. G. Megevan, High Bailiff.”

Walsall Free Press 25/4/1863 - Notice

“Notice is Hereby Given that a Meeting of the Creditors of John Burroughs Powell, now of the Walsall Road, Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, Dealer in Tobacco, and Manager of a Brickyard at Hady Moor, Wednesbury, aforesaid, previously of the same place, Licensed Victualler, Dealer in Tobacco, Cowkeeper selling milk, Carter, and Manager of the Brickyard aforesaid, who was adjudicated bankrupt on the 12th day of December, 1862, will be held before Frederic F. Clarke, Esquire, Registrar of the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 8th day of May next, at Twelve o'clock at noon precisely, at the County Court Office, Walsall, when the Creditors Assignee will submit a statement of the whole estate of the bankrupt as then ascertained, of the property received and of the property outstanding, specifying the cause of its being so outstanding, and of all the receipts and all the payments thereout made; and any creditor who has proved may attend and examine such statement and compare the receipts with the payments, and the meeting will declare by resolution whether any and what part of the said produce of the estate (after making a reasonable deduction for future contingencies) shall be divided amongst the creditors, and at the same time the majority in value of the creditors will determine whether any and what allowance shall be made to the bankrupt out of the estate; and creditors who have not already proved their debts are to come prepared to prove the same, or they will be excluded the benefit of the said dividend, and all claims not then proved will be disallowed.”

John Burroughs Powell – see also ROSE HILL TAVERN, Wednesbury, and OLD BRITANNIA, Moxley, Darlaston.

1871 Census

31, Oakeswell End – ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

[1] Samuel Poulton (38), timekeeper at colliery, born West Bromwich;

[2] Elizabeth Poulton (38), wife, born Ribbesford, Worcestershire;

[3] Frances Harriet Poulton (11), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;

[4] William H. Poulton (2), son, born Wednesbury;

[5] Lucy Augusta Poulton (1), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[6] Anney Bricknell (18), general servant, born Abberley, Worcestershire;

[7] Ellen Davis (15), general servant, born Wednesbury;

[8] Joseph Brotherton (52), boarder, widower, file cutter, born Wednesbury;

Wednesbury Herald 11/1/1879

“On Saturday afternoon, Mr. Edwin Hooper, district coroner, held an inquest at the CASTLE INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, on view of the body of Thomas Micklewright, 84 years of age, who, since the death of his wife some months ago, resided with himself at the house number 36, Walsall Road.

Margaret Cresswell, deceased's daughter-in-law, was the first witness called, and she stated that when she last saw the deceased alive, about a month ago, he did not complain of illness. In answer to the coroner, witness stated that she had often seen the deceased the worst for drink.

One of the jurymen called attention to the fact, that on passing through the house he noticed an empty bottle marked ‘poison,’ and he wished to know if witness knew what the contents had been used for. Witness said she did not know. Elizabeth Johnson, a neighbour, stated that on Wednesday morning between twelve and one o'clock, she and another woman saw the deceased in his house, afterwards they went upstairs and found him lying on a bed. They asked him if he was ill, then he said he had pains in his abdomen. They inquired if they might send for a doctor, and asked him other questions, but the only answer they could obtain was ‘Not tonight.’ Witness thinking the case an urgent one went to summon the relieving officer. She told this individual the circumstances of the case but he refused to leave his home, assigning as a reason that he was suffering from neuralgia. Answering a question from the coroner, the witness said that the embrocation in the bottle produced was used for a peculiar disease in consequence of which witness declined to attend further to the wants of the man. Before this one of the neighbours provided him with food. William Till, a labourer, said that in consequence of what was said to him by the last witness and others on Thursday morning he procured a ladder for the purpose of looking into the bedroom, the doors of the house being fast. He saw deceased laid on the bed.

Police-constable Reynolds stated that he obtained entrance to the house through the bedroom window. Deceased was in a very dirty condition.

Several of the jurymen had known the deceased personally, and they concurred that he was greatly addicted to drink. After a short conversation they returned a verdict of Found Dead in bed, death being accelerated by excessive drinking.”

Wednesbury Herald 2/8/1879

“On Monday afternoon, Edwin Hooper, Esq, district coroner, held an inquiry at the CASTLE INN, Walsall Road, Wednesbury, relative to the death of Roland Clarke, aged one year and seven months (the son of Mr. Charles Clarke, shipping clerk, Walsall Road), who had died from the effects of injuries on the 24th ultimo.

Frances Clarke, aged eight years, said that deceased was her brother. On the 24th inst, at about half past eleven o'clock she saw the deceased crossing the Walsall Road, with the intention, she supposed, of meeting her.

The Coroner: Did he run? – Witness: He could not run; he walked.

The Coroner: Was he deaf? – Witness: No sir; not in the least.

Witness, continuing, said the horse and cart was going in the direction of Wood Green. She believed it was one of Mr. Trowe's carts. When in the centre of the road she saw the deceased go round the horse's head, and saw the horse knock him down and the wheel on the left hand side go over his head. She shouted at the top of her voice and told the driver to stop, but he went on. He was sitting down, but she could not say as to whether he was asleep. Neither could she say as to whether he had any reins. Witness picked the deceased up, and carried him into the house. She afterwards went for a doctor. The driver of the horse went past her house before he stopped.

Mary Ann Clarke, the mother of the deceased, said that on the day in question the deceased ran out of the house, and within a minute the last witness carried him into the house. Both sides of his head were seriously injured, and Dr. Blackwood was sent for, and on his arrival he said the boy could not live. She did not see the boy go out, neither did she miss him until she heard her eldest child scream out. A few minutes after the driver of the cart came into the house and said, ‘I have done it; but I did not see the child. I am sure I did not.’

The Coroner: Have you any reason to blame any person? – Witness: Well the driver did not stop when he was shouted at.

William Lind, said he was a carter in the employment of Mr. Trow, builder, and he held the position for about 26 years, during which period he had not run over anyone until the present time. On the day in question he had a light spring trap, and started from the Talbot with 150 bricks to Wood Green. When on the Walsall Road his horse was travelling at the rate of two miles an hour, and when at the works belonging to Mr. Knowles he saw some boys damaging the crops in the field, and he supposed whilst shouting to them the deceased got under the wheels, he did not hear any one shout, neither did he see the deceased.

The Coroner: Now is it true that you were asleep? – Witness: I never sleep in my business. I am very sorry the accident has happened.

The Coroner said if the statement of the last witness was to be relied upon, the occurrence was a pure accident. If further evidence could, however, be obtained he should be most happy to adjourn the meeting. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1881 Census

31, Walsall Road – CASTLE INN

[1] John Baddley Jones (46), licensed victualler, born Darlaston;

[2] Elizabeth Jones (42), wife, born Byfleet, Surrey;

[3] John Jones (21), son, born Wednesbury;

[4] William Henry Jones (17), son, born Wednesbury;

[5] Alfred Jones (8), son, born Wednesbury;

[6] Martha Barns (18), servant, born Wednesbury;

Wednesbury Herald 16/4/1881

“On Saturday, Mr. Edwin Hooper, District Coroner, held an inquest at the CASTLE INN, Walsall Road, as to the death of Joseph Herbert Wright, aged nine months, the son of Henry and Nancy Wright, of Foley Street, who died suddenly on the 6th inst.

The evidence showed that the deceased was suddenly seized with a fit and died before medical aid could be procured. The Coroner remarked that the parents had evidently taken great care of the child, but he was compelled to hold an inquest owing to no surgeon seeing the deceased previous to death.

A verdict of Died from Natural Causes was returned.”

Wednesbury Herald 15/10/1881

“James Harvey and his wife Mary, residing in the Darlaston Road, were charged with refusing to quit the licensed premises of the CASTLE INN, Walsall Road, on the 1st inst, when required to do so.

The landlord, John Knowles, stated that upon returning from the funeral of Sergeant Bates, on the day in question, he found the defendants creating a disturbance and upon requesting them to leave the house, they refused to do so. The defendants were desirous of fighting with a man in the tap room, and he was compelled to remove them. After a lapse of some time the defendants re-entered the house.

Mr. Stokes: Were they drunk? – Witness: No.

The male defendant: You trusted my wife and another woman with ale amounting to 8s 4d.

Witness: Nothing of the kind. My wife was not likely to trust strangers with ale.

In answer to the Magistrates Clerk witness stated that on the 4th inst, Mrs. Harvey came to the house and charged him with breaking her arm and he informed her that when she left his house there was nothing the matter with her arm.

Other witnesses proved to seeing the defendants create a great disturbance.

The Bench fined the woman 10s and costs, and the man 5s and costs. The woman had been previously convicted.”

Wednesbury Herald 12/1/1884

“Mr. Edwin Hooper, District Coroner, held an inquest at the CASTLE INN, Walsall Road, respecting the death of Eliza Wood (69), who was found dead in bed at her son’s residence in Hide’s Lane, Oakeswell End. On Sunday night deceased went to bed in apparently good health, and on the following morning she was found dead. It was stated that the deceased had been subject to heart disease, and the jury being of opinion that death was due to the weak action of the heart, they returned a verdict of Died from Natural Causes.”

Wednesbury Herald 9/2/1884

“The Ancient Order of Foresters. The 23rd annual report of Court Parkville, No.3424, held at the CASTLE INN, Walsall Road, Wednesbury, has just been issued, from which we gather that during the past year the finances have realised a net profit of £52 15s 1d, and the amount paid to sick members £67 3s 0d against £95 3s 0d in 1883.....”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 4/11/1885

“A petition was filed in the Walsall County Court today (Wednesday), on behalf of John Jones, of the CASTLE INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, licensed victualler. Messrs. Warmington and Thompson, of Dudley, are the solicitors acting in the case. The 23rd of November is the day fixed for the public examination.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/11/1885

"Yesterday, at the Walsall Bankruptcy Court, before Mr. Registrar Clarke, John Jones, licensed victualler, the CASTLE INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, came up for his public examination.

Mr. W. M. Evans, deputy receiver, conducted the examination on behalf of the official receiver, Mr. Pritchard, and elicited that the debtor, until October, 1880, was a carpenter and joiner at Wednesbury. He then took to the CASTLE INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, paying £180 for goodwill, stock, and fixtures, which money, he said, his father gave him. His father had also guaranteed £50 12s 6d, part of the debt of one of the creditors, and was included in the debtor's statement as a creditor for £185. The debtor, at a meeting of his creditors in October last, offered a composition of 5s in the pound, but the largest creditor would not accept it.

The statement of affairs showed liabilities to the amount of £413 1s 8d, and a deficiency of £320 16s 8d.

The examination was adjourned to December 9."

Birmingham Daily Post 26/11/1885 - Correspondence

"Re John Jones, Wednesbury.

To the Editor of the Daily Post.

Sir, In your report in today's Post of the examination of the above debtor, you state that the examination was adjourned until December 9. This is incorrect, as the debtor was allowed to pass, and the examination closed.

We shall feel obliged by your correcting same.

Warmington and Thompson, Debtors Solicitors. Dudley, November 24."

1891 Census

31, Walsall Road – CASTLE INN

[1] James Archer (42), publican, born Staffordshire;

[2] Annie Archer (37), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Thomas Archer (15), son, tool maker, born Ladywood, Staffordshire;

[4] Alfred Archer (13), son, scholar, born Handsworth;

[5] Charles Archer (11), son, scholar, born Handsworth;

[6] William Archer (9), son, scholar, born Handsworth;

[7] Joseph Archer (7), son, scholar, born Staffordshire;

[8] Richard Archer (5), son, born Wednesbury;

[9] James Archer (13 weeks), son, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1891

"The adjourned licensing meeting for the Wednesbury petty sessional division was held yesterday.....

Mr. A. Young mentioned two cases in which he was concerned objected to on the ground that the licensee was non-resident. He pointed out that under the Acts of Parliament residence was not necessary in the case of holders of alehouse licenses, though necessary in the case of beerhouse licenses. Mr. Elwell said the magistrates had given every consideration to this question, and had decided to renew all licenses where the holders were bona-fide owners or tenants. This decision affected the following cases.....

Richard Sillitoe, CASTLE, Walsall Road, Wednesbury."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/11/1894 - Advert

"Valuable Freehold Properties, Wednesbury.

By Roderick and Son. To be Sold by Auction (by direction of the Trustees of the late Mr. Henry Wood), at the Property Mart, 6, Temple Row West, Birmingham, on Tuesday, November 27, 1894.....

Lot 3. A Valuable Freehold Full-Licensed Public House, known as the CASTLE INN, in Walsall Street, at its junction with Windmill Street, Wednesbury, with spacious Cellars, Brewhouse, Stable, and large Yard, now in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Henry Neale, and let at £50 a year on a tenancy which will expire at Christmas next.

This Public-house occupies a very prominent corner position on a main thoroughfare, and it is in close proximity to important works. It is free from any tie, and well deserves the attention of brewers, more particularly as possession can be had at Christmas next."

Henry Deighton Millner was also of the DARTMOUTH and GEORGE. [1896], [1900], [1904], [1908]

1911 Census

37, Walsall Street – CASTLE HOTEL

[1] Albert Jeffs (38), publican, manager, born Kidderminster;

[2] Harriet Jeffs (45), wife, married 19 years, assisting in business, born Pattingham, Shropshire;

[3] Edith Jeffs (18), daughter, milliner's assistant, born Birmingham;

[4] Kate Jordan (21), domestic servant, born Wellington, Shropshire:

Wednesbury Herald 22/7/1911

"On Thursday, Mr. W. L. Lewis (Deputy Coroner) held an inquest at the CASTLE INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury, on the body of William Victor Griffiths (14), son of Mr. W. Griffiths, florist, Hydes Road, who was drowned under tragic circumstances in the Wednesbury Corporation Baths on Tuesday evening. The Town Clerk (Mr. T. Jones) and Councillor Sheldon (Chairman of the Baths Committee) were present at the enquiry.

Evidence of identification having been given by the father, William Thomas Griffiths, Dr. Crew said he received a message to go to the Corporation Baths at 6.25 on Tuesday evening. He was there in two minutes, and the deceased was then out of the water, and the Baths Superintendent and Mr. Vasey were using artificial means of respiration. This was continued by witness for half an hour, without success. Witness had no doubt but that drowning was the cause of the lad's death, and he did not think a post mortem was necessary. There would have been a better chance of recovery if something else had been the cause of the accident, and if the lad had fainted, and had gone into the water insensible. Witness believed deceased had a very hearty meal before entering the bath, and that all made against the efforts to resuscitate him. His opinion was that probably deceased was sitting on the side of the bath, paddling his feet in the water, when his hand slipped and he went in, otherwise he could not understand why the deceased should get into the deep water when he could not swim. Deceased's heart had ceased beating when witness arrived, and it was very rarely people came round under such circumstances.

Harold Bayliss, son of the Baths Superintendent, spoke to hearing the danger bell ring, and to fetching the body up from the bottom, after he had taken his clothes and boots off, which only occupied a few seconds. He assisted his father to use artificial means of respiration.

The Baths Superintendent, William Bayliss, said he was talking to a gentleman near the baths at the time of the accident. He was fetched, and upon rushing into the first-class swimming bath he found that his son had lifted deceased on to the side. Witness had been superintendent at the baths for over twenty years, and this was the first case of drowning there had been there in thirty-three years. There was always someone in attendance on the premises, and when there was a non-swimmer in the baths someone was constantly looking in. If a small boy came into the bath they would not leave him alone, but they considered a lad of fourteen was capable of recognising the danger.

Enoch Reid, attendant at the baths, said he saw the deceased about six o'clock, and he was then all right, in the shallow end. Witness said to him, 'My lad, if you can't swim, stop in the same place and you will be all right,' and deceased made no answer. He again looked into the bath about five minutes later, and deceased was all right; but subsequently, whilst in the second-class swimming bath, he heard the alarm bell ring.

Replying to the deputy coroner, witness said the lad was in the bath about fifteen minutes, and during that time he visited him twice.

James Alfred Seedhouse, of the SEVEN STARS INN, Tipton, deposed to discovering the body and to raising an alarm. It was wonderful how quickly the boy was got out, and scarcely a minute elapsed from the time he gave the alarm before the youth Bayliss had the lad.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, and they expressed the opinion that there was no blame attached to anyone. The Deputy Coroner concurred, and the Town Clerk and Councillor Sheldon expressed regret at the accident, and their sympathy with the parents in their trouble."

1921 Census

37, Walsall Street – CASTLE

[1] Joseph Burrows (52), fitting maker, born Wednesbury;

[2] Annie Burrows (47), wife, home duties, born Wednesbury;

[3] William Burrows (23), son, improver, tube bender, born Wednesbury;

[4] E. Lester (22), servant, born Bilston:

Alfred James Merrick – see also LEABROOK TAVERN.

1939 Register

37, Walsall Street – CASTLE INN

[1] Ellen Merrick, date of birth 25/2/1884, manageress, licensed house, widowed;

[2] Nellie Merrick, dob 21/10/1910, bar general, single;

[3] Alice (Merrick) Pennings, dob 16/1/1915, wages clerk, ammunition works, single:

Alfred James and Ellen Merrick – see also CROWN AND CUSHION.

Ellen Merrick was the daughter of Thomas and Mary Gorton.

Thomas Gorton – see PARK and MARKET HOUSE.

Mary Gorton – see CROSS KEYS.

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League. [1962], [1963]

Birmingham Mail 11/5/1978 - Notice

“The Licensing Act, 1964. West Midlands Metropolitan County.

Notice is Hereby Given that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1910, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held at the Council Chambers, Council House, Smethwick, Warley, on the 7th day of July, 1978, at 3pm.

And notice is hereby also given that the Compensation Authority will at the meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the renewal of the licenses of the several premises specified in the subjoined list, all those persons to whom, under the Licensing Act, 1964, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard.....

CASTLE INN, Walsall Street, Wednesbury. Intoxicating liquor of all descriptions. Licensee, William Johnson.”

Closed

It was demolished c.1978.

“THE CASTLE INN,” WEDNESBURY.
TO be DISPOSED OF, the LICENSES and
POSSESSION of the above-named Old-licensed PUBLIC HOUSE, situated in an improving part of Wednesbury. Coming-in about £120.
The Premises are compact, with good Stabling, Yard, Piggeries, and other Conveniences.
For particulars and to treat, apply to Joseph Dawes, Auctioneer,
Wednesbury.

TO PUBLICANS, SPIRIT MERCHANTS, BROKERS, AND OTHERS.
SALE AT THE CASTLE INN,
WALSALL STREET, WEDNESBURY.
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,
BY JOSEPH DAWES, on MONDAY NEXT,
September 28th, on the Premises above-named—part of the clean and useful HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, the whole of the BREWING UTENSILS, Ale Casks, two Iron Boilers, Gas Fittings, and Six Store PIGS, together with a quantity of fine old French Brandy, London Gin, Peppermint, Malt Vinegar, and other Effects, belonging to Mr. James Proffit, who is changing his Residence.
Sale to commence at Eleven o'clock in the forenoon, with the usual conditions.

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF STAFFORDSHIRE,
HOLDEN AT WALSALL.

IN the Matter of JOHN BURROUGHS POWELL, now of the Walsall Road, Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, Dealer in Tobacco, and Manager of a Brickyard at Hady Moor, Wednesbury aforesaid, previously of the same place, Licensed Victualler, Dealer in Tobacco, Cowkeeper, Selling Milk, Carter, and Manager of the Brickyard aforesaid, a Bankrupt.—Whereas, at a Public Sitting of the Court, held this day, the Court granted an Order of Discharge to the said Bankrupt, Notice is hereby given, that an ORDER of DISCHARGE will be drawn up and delivered to the Bankrupt after the expiration of thirty days from this date, unless in the meantime an Appeal be duly entered against the Judgment of the said Court.—Dated this 18th day of February, 1863.

C. G. MEDEVAN, High Bailiff.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a Meeting of the Creditors of JOHN BURROUGHS POWELL, now of the Walsall-road, Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, Dealer in Tobacco, and Manager of a Brickyard at Hady Moor, Wednesbury, aforesaid, previously of the same place, Licensed Victualler, Dealer in Tobacco, Cowkeeper selling milk, Carter, and Manager of the Brickyard aforesaid, who was adjudicated bankrupt on the 12th day of December, 1862, will be held before Frederic F. Clarke, Esquire, Registrar of the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall, on the 8th day of May next, at Twelve o'clock at noon precisely, at the County Court Office, Walsall, when the Creditors' Assignee will submit a statement of the whole estate of the bankrupt as then ascertained, of the property received and of the property outstanding, specifying the cause of its being so outstanding, and of all the receipts and all the payments thereout made; and any creditor who has proved may attend and examine such statement and compare the receipts with the payments, and the meeting will declare by resolution whether any and what part of the said produce of the estate (after making a reasonable deduction for future contingencies) shall be divided amongst the creditors, and at the same time the majority in value of the creditors will determine whether any and what allowance shall be made to the bankrupt out of the estate; and creditors who have not already proved their debts are to come prepared to prove the same, or they will be excluded the benefit of the said dividend, and all claims not then proved will be disallowed.

1863

Lot 5.—A Valuable FREEHOLD FULL-LICENSED CORNER PUBLIC-HOUSE, known as

"THE CASTLE INN,"

in Walsall Street, at its junction with Windmill Street, Wednesbury, with spacious Cellars, Brewhouse, Stable, and large Yard, now in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Henry Neale, and let at £50 a year on a tenancy which will expire at Christmas next.

This Public-house occupies a very prominent corner position on a main thoroughfare, and it is in close proximity to important works. It is free from any tie, and well deserves the attention of brewers—more particularly as possession can be had at Christmas next.

1894

CHESHIRE CHEESE

Russell Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thompson [1850]

NOTES

TO LET, the CHESHIRE CHEESE RETAIL
BEER-HOUSE, situate in Russell Street, WEDNESBURY, occupied by Mr. Thompson. Rent, £25. per annum ; Goodwill, License, Coming-in, &c., about £45.
Apply on the Premises.

Birmingham Journal 7/9/1850 - Advert

“To Let, the CHESHIRE CHEESE Retail Beerhouse, situate in Russell Street, Wednesbury, occupied by Mr. Thompson. Rent, £25 per annum; Goodwill, License, Coming-in, &c, about £45.
Apply on the Premises.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/5/1854

“An Irishman, named Patrick M‘Farlane, who, when out of prison, is a terror to the town of Wednesbury, was charged at the last Petty Sessions with a series of assaults committed on Saturday night last. Mr. Blaney, the superintendent of the Wednesbury police force, stated that he never either knew or read of a man of a more ferocious disposition than the prisoner; since September last M‘Farlane had absented himself from the town to evade apprehension under a warrant; on Saturday night, however, he re-appeared, and entering the CHESHIRE CHEESE public house, commenced, without the slightest provocation, an indiscriminate and fierce assault upon the customers. When policeman Clarke arrived, he clutched the constable up in his arms and then dashed him to the ground. Four charges were preferred against him, and he was fined altogether £10 12s; and, in default, was ordered to be imprisoned for four months, two with hard labour.

At the same time, another Irishman, of the same name, was ordered to be imprisoned for 21 days, in default of payment of a fine, for attempting to rescue M‘Farlane from the custody of the police.”

CHESTNUT TREE

Axeltree Way, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Marstons plc

LICENSEES

Mark and Jodie Hickman (2012 – [] managers

NOTES

It was built on the site of J. H. Lloyd

It opened in 2012.

[2025]

2013

2025

CHURCH HILL TAVERN

27, Church Street, Church Hill, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Duce [1834] – [1835]
William Barratt [1841] – [1851]
Mrs. Ann (Lingard) Knight [] – 1859);
William Henry Knight (1859 – 1870);
Thomas Lingard (1870 – 1871);
John Taylor Duce (1871 – [1873])
John Marsh [1874] – [1876]
William Bird [1879] – [1881]
Charles Jackson [1890] – 1891)
Richard Crimes (1891 – [])
Thomas Vincent [1896]
Henry Ellis [1898]

Token

NOTES

Church Hill [1861]

CHURCH [1834]
CHURCH HILL TAVERN [1841], [1842], [1849], [1850], [1882], [1896]
CHURCH TAVERN [1851], [1861]
CHURCH HILL INN [1860], [1881]

It had a beerhouse license.

John Duce, beer retailer, Church Street. [1835]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/1/1840 - Advert

“The Licenses and Possession of that old established House, CHURCH HILL TAVERN, pleasantly situated in Church Street, Wednesbury.

To be Disposed of, the early Possession and Licenses of the above respectable Tavern, in one of the greatest thoroughfares in Wednesbury, deriving an excellent retail business from the surrounding collieries and manufactories. The only reason the present occupier is leaving, is on account of his embarking on a larger scale of business. Rent and payments moderate.

The usual effects to be taken to at a fair valuation.

For particulars apply to Taylor and Bill, Auctioneers. Offices, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

1841 Census

Church Street

- [1] William Barratt (40), publican, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Rebecca Barratt (30), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Charles Emberton (2);
- [4] Joseph Atkins (45), hatter;

1851 Census

Church Street

- [1] William Barratt (50), victualler, born Forton, Staffordshire;
- [2] Rebecca Barratt (45), wife, born Forton, Staffordshire;
- [3] Charles E. Brooks (12), nephew, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [4] John Sillitoe (60), brother-in-law, retired blacksmith, born Forton, Staffordshire:

William Barratt – see also WHITE HORSE HOTEL.

Ann Lingard married William Henry Knight in the 1st quarter of 1859.

Birmingham Daily Post 4/4/1859

“At the Public Office, on Saturday last, the Sessions were special for the following transfers of licenses.....
CHURCH HILL TAVERN, Wednesbury, to Mr. W. H. Wright [sic] from his present wife, Mrs. Ann Wright [sic], recently a widow.”

1861 Census

Church Street

- [1] William H. Knight (31), commercial clerk and publican, born London;
- [2] Ann Knight (36), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Thomas Lingard (14), son-in-law, gun lock filer, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Sarah A. Lingard (11), step-daughter, scholar, born Darlaston;
- [5] Arthur J. Lingard (6), step-son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] William H. Knight (2), son, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Sarah Mason (26), visitor, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Katherine Garraty (24), servant, born Galway, Ireland:

Birmingham Daily Post 17/6/1862

“An inquest was held on Thursday last, by Mr. Edwin Hooper, Coroner, at the CHURCH HILL TAVERN, Wednesbury, on the body of a woman named Elizabeth James, aged 35, the wife of a miner. On Tuesday last the deceased went to Mr. Germain’s surgery for a certificate of death for a neighbour, and on her return home, as soon as she reached the house, she suddenly fell down dead, although she had hitherto enjoyed good health. A post mortem examination having been made by Mr. Proctor, surgeon, at the Coroner’s request, his evidence showed that death was caused by a fatty degeneration of the heart. The Jury returned a verdict to that effect.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/1/1864

“On Friday (yesterday), an inquest was held before Mr. E. Hooper, Esq, coroner, at Mr. Knight’s, CHURCH HILL TAVERN, on the body of Sarah Thursfield, aged 52 years, who was found dead in bed on Tuesday morning last. The deceased, with her husband, Joseph Thursfield, who is a sergeant armourer of the 45th Regiment, now at Curragh Camp, Ireland, but ordered for India, came to pay a visit to their friends in Wednesbury before their departure. After the engagement of the evening, she retired to rest with her husband in her usual health, but early in the morning she was found dead by his side. The jury returned a verdict of Found Dead.”

London Gazette 18/1/1867

“William Henry Knight (sued and detained as W. H. Knight), late of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler and Merchant’s Clerk, a Prisoner for Debt in the Gaol at Stafford, in the county of Stafford, having been adjudged bankrupt by a Registrar of the County Court of Stafford, attending at the Gaol at Stafford, on the 10th day of December, 1866, and the adjudication being directed to be prosecuted in Her Majesty’s Court of Bankruptcy for the Birmingham District, a public sitting, for the said bankrupt to pass his Last Examination, and make application for his Discharge, will be held before George Williams Saunders, Esq, a Commissioner of the said last-mentioned Court, on the 18th day of February next, at the said Court, at Birmingham, at eleven of the clock in the forenoon precisely, the day last aforesaid being the day limited for the said bankrupt to surrender. Mr. George Kinnear, of No.17, Waterloo-street, Birmingham, is the Official Assignee, and Messrs. James and Griffin, of Birmingham, are the Solicitors acting in the bankruptcy.”

Birmingham Journal 19/1/1867

“Birmingham Bankruptcy Court.....

In re W. H. Knight, Wednesbury, licensed victualler.

First Meeting. This matter was left to the official assignee.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/2/1867

“Birmingham Bankruptcy Court.....

In re William Henry Knight, Wednesbury, licensed victualler.

Meeting for last examination and discharge, attended by Mr. Griffin on behalf of the official assignee. It appeared that the bankrupt had been in gaol five weeks, and there being no opposition, an order of discharge was granted.”

1871 Census

27, Church Street

[1] Thomas Lingard (24), publican, born Wednesbury;

[2] Martha Lingard (20), wife, born Windsor, Lancashire;

[3] Thomas H. Lingard (3), son, born Wednesbury;

[4] Polly E. Lingard (1), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[5] William H. Knight (41), step-father, clerk, born London;

[6] Ann Knight (46), wife, born Wednesbury;

[7] Sarah Ann Lingard (21), sister, born Darlaston;

[8] Arthur J. Lingard (16), brother, boiler tube finisher, born Wednesbury;

[9] William H. Knight (12), step-brother, scholar, born Wednesbury;

John Taylor Duce was also a wine and spirit merchant of 23, Bridge Street and Market Place, and a gun lock, sight and pistol manufacturer. [1873]

Birmingham Daily Post 26/6/1873 - Advert

“Wine and Spirit Trade.

Wanted, a Porter, to Deliver Goods. Must understand the management of horses. Good character indispensable. Apply, personally, to John T. Duce, Wednesbury.”

WINE and Spirit Trade.—Wanted, a Porter, to Deliver Goods. Must understand the management of horses. Good character indispensable.—Apply, personally, to John T. Duce, Wednesbury.

Midland Examiner 28/11/1874 - Advert

“CHURCH HILL INN, Church Street, Wednesbury. John Marsh, Proprietor.

J. M. respectfully announces that he has recently entered upon the above old-established Inn and premises, which are situated only a few yards distant from the Theatre Royal, Wednesbury, where may be had Bass and Co.’s Noted Old, East India Pale, and other Burton Ales, and Porter in splendid condition. Genuine Wines and Spirits, Prime Cider, Havannah Cigars.”

[This advert continues into 1876.]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 7/4/1879

“To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. E. B. Scholefield on Tuesday, the 8th day of April.....

Lot 6. A very valuable Freehold Old-Licensed Inn, known by the sign of the CHURCH HILL INN, situate in Church Street, Wednesbury, comprising Liquor Vault, Smoke Room, Kitchen, Malt Room, good Cellar, Club Room, Spirit Room, three Bed Rooms, and Outbuildings, now in the occupation of Mr. William Bird at the low annual rent of £40.”

William Bird issued tokens from here.

Lot 6 —A very valuable FREEHOLD OLD-LICENSED INN, known by the sign of the “CHURCH HILL INN,” situate in Church Street, Wednesbury, comprising Liquor Vault, Smoke Room, Kitchen, Malt Room, good Cellar, Club Room, Spirit Room, three Bed Rooms, and Outbuildings, now in the occupation of Mr. William Bird at the low annual rent of £40.

1881 Census

27, Church Street – CHURCH HILL INN

[1] William Bird (25), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Hannah M. Bird (27), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] Sarah A. Gibbs (20), domestic servant, born Oxford:

Walsall Observer 23/4/1881 - Advert

“To be Let, at Church Hill, Wednesbury, good 7-roomed House, with excellent Cellaring and well-lighted Shopping, suitable for any light trade; accommodation for 50 men. Rent £25.

William Bird, CHURCH HILL INN, Wednesbury.”

Wednesbury Herald 28/1/1882

“On Tuesday Mr. E. Hooper, district coroner, held an inquest at the CHURCH HILL TAVERN INN, Wednesbury, touching the death of Harriet Austin, aged five years, and whose parents reside at Church Hill, Wednesbury. It appears from the evidence that the deceased, with two other children, who had the measles were left alone in the house by their mother on Saturday, during which time she got to the fire and her clothes became ignited, the result being death.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death. The Coroner ordered the mother to provide a fire preventative in a fortnight, otherwise she would be summonsed.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 23/1/1885 - Advert

“Plate-Glass Bar Fittings for Sale, cheap.

CHURCH HILL INN, Wednesbury.”

PLATE-GLASS Bar Fittings for Sale, cheap.—Church Hill Inn, Wednesbury.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/8/1885

“On Friday afternoon Mr. F. W. Topham, deputy coroner, held an inquest at the CHURCH HILL TAVERN, Church Street, Wednesbury, touching the death of Thomas Crump Highway (49), of independent means, Church Street, Wednesbury. Deceased was unmarried and of no occupation. He went to bed on Wednesday evening apparently in good health and was found dead the following morning, a fit being the apparent cause of death. The jury returned a verdict of Died from Natural Causes.”

Birmingham Daily Post 31/7/1890 - Advert

“Sale of Properties at Aston and Wednesbury, by Roderick & Son.

To be Sold by Auction (by order of the Mortgagees), at the Property Mart, 6, Temple Row West, Birmingham, on Tuesday, August 12, 1890, at Six o'clock in the evening.....

Lot 2. A Freehold Full-Licensed Public House, known as the CHURCH HILL TAVERN, in Church Hill, Wednesbury, with handsome modern Bar, good domestic Accommodation, Cellars, Yard, and Outbuildings, in occupation of Mr. Charles Jackson, and let to Messrs. Needham and Crick on annual tenancy at a rent of £38.

This Lot is worth the attention of Brewers, as it is the only licensed victualler's house in the street, and commands the trade of a populous neighbourhood.”

1891 Census

27, Church Street – CHURCH HILL INN

[1] Charles Jackson (39), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Julia Jackson (32), wife, born Worcester;

[3] Martha Jackson (3), daughter, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 16/12/1891

“At the Police Court, yesterday, before Mr. Neville (stipendiary), Richard Crimes, CHURCH HILL TAVERN, Wednesbury, was summoned for selling intoxicating liquors during prohibited hours on the 28th ult. Mr. Clulow, Birmingham, defended.

Police-sergeant Leadbetter deposed to seeing a little girl fetch a bottle of beer from the house at ten minutes past eleven, and said the landlord, when spoken to, said he thought it was not closing time. The time by his clock was twenty-two minutes past eleven, but he thought his clock was more than those minutes fast.

Mr. Clulow submitted that there had been a bona fide mistake on the part of his client.

The Stipendiary dismissed the case on payment of costs, advising the defendant to look a little better after his clock in future.”

Wednesbury Herald 21/9/1895

"Benjamin Knowles, of Earps Lane, was summoned for assaulting David McGill (62), of Church Street, but did not appear.

Complainant stated that he went to the CHURCH HILL TAVERN on Saturday evening for a glass of beer. Knowles was there, and he sang a song. When he had finished singing he came up to witness and, without any provocation, struck him in the mouth, knocking out three teeth. Defendant said it was for mocking him, but he denied that he had done so. Next day defendant wanted to make it up, but he said he should make an example of him. He was a terror to the neighbourhood. A warrant was issued."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 26/8/1898

"The annual licensing meeting for the borough of Wednesbury took place this morning at the Police Court.... Superintendent Salt, in his report, stated....

He had received a notice from Mr. Henry Ellis, CHURCH HILL TAVERN, of his intention to apply for the removal of the license he now held in respect of these premises to a house now in the course of erection at the corner of Earps Lane and Church Hill, proposed to be known by the sign of the WODEN INN."

The Licenses and Possession of that old established House, "Church Hill Tavern," pleasantly situated in Church-street, Wednesbury.

TO be Disposed of, the early Possession and Licenses of the above respectable TAVERN, in one of the greatest thoroughfares in Wednesbury, deriving an excellent retail business from the surrounding collieries and manufactories.

The only reason the present occupier is leaving, is on account of his embarking on a larger scale of business. Rent and payments moderate.

The usual effects to be taken to at a fair valuation. For particulars apply to

TAYLOR and BILL,
Auctioneers.

Offices, Market-place, Wednesbury.

1840

TO be Let, at Church Hill, Wednesbury, good 7-roomed House, with excellent Cellaring and well-lighted Shopping, suitable for any light trade; accommodation for 50 men. Rent £25.—Wm. Bird, Church Hill Inn, Wednesbury.

1881

WEDNESBURY, STAFFORDSHIRE.

Lot 2.—A FREEHOLD FULL-LICENSED PUBLIC-HOUSE, known as

"THE CHURCH HILL TAVERN," in Church Hill, Wednesbury, with handsome modern Bar, good domestic Accommodation, Cellars, Yard, and Outbuildings, in occupation of Mr. Charles Jackson, and let to Messrs. Needham and Crick on annual tenancy at a rent of £33.

This Lot is worth the attention of Brewers, as it is the only licensed victualler's house in the street, and commands the trade of a populous neighbourhood.

1890

CHURCH HILL INN, CHURCH STREET,
WEDNESBURY.

JOHN MARSH PROPRIETOR.

J. M. respectfully announces that he has recently entered upon the above old-established Inn and premises, which are situated only a few yards distant from the Theatre Royal, Wednesbury, where may be had

BASS AND CO.' NOTED OLD,
EAST INDIA PALE, and other BURTON ALES, and PORTER in splendid condition.

Geraine Wines and Spirits, Prime Cider, Havannah Cigars.

1876

COACH AND HORSES

60, (Lower) High Street, (Bridge Street), WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Wheeler [1834] – [1843]
Joseph Wheeler [1851]
John Woodward [1851] – [1865]
Jemima Woodward [] – 1871;
William Hopwood (1871 – []
George Hopwood [1872]
Samuel Bennett [1881] – [1883]
Samuel Dicken [1891]
Walter Russell [1896]
Mrs. Louisa Millsum [1901]
James Bailey [1904]
Leonard Watkins [1911] – [1921]

WANTED, a middle-aged FEMALE, to take charge of a Beer House, and to superintend the domestic affairs of the same.—Also is WANTED, a stout SERVANT GIRL, about eighteen years of age.—Apply to Mr. J. Woodward, Coach and Horses, Wednesbury.

1851

NOTES

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

Joseph Wheeler, beer retailer, Bridge Street. [1835]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 13/12/1837 - Deaths

“On the 22nd ult aged 58 years, after a long and painful affliction, Sarah, wife of Mr. Joseph Wheeler, coach smith, of Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Journal 29/6/1839 - Deaths

“On the 19th inst, Hannah, youngest daughter of Mr. Joseph Wheeler, coach smith, of Wednesbury, aged 24 years.”

1841 Census

Bridge Street

- [1] Joseph Wheeler (65), coach smith, born Staffordshire;
- [2] James Wheeler (24), butcher, born Staffordshire;
- [3] Henry Wheeler (19), coach smith, born Staffordshire;
- [4] Mary Wheeler (9), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Harriet Lees (15), f.s., born Staffordshire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 18/8/1841 - Died

“On the 15th instant, of consumption, aged 23, James Wheeler, butcher, fifth son of Mr. Joseph Wheeler, coach smith, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Journal 3/6/1843 - Deaths

“On Tuesday, Mr. Joseph Wheeler, coach ironmonger, of Wednesbury, aged 67 years. A man universally respected.”

1851 Census

High Street

- [1] John Woodward (33), widower, coal dealer and beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Pheobe Davis (25), sister, widow, housekeeper, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Benjamin Davis (1), nephew, born Stourbridge;
- [4] William Barnes (17), general servant, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Willam Stocks Booth (54), commercial traveller, born Sheffield:

Birmingham Journal 8/11/1851 – Advert

“Wanted, a middle-aged Female, to take charge of a Beer House, and to superintend the domestic affairs of the same. Also is Wanted, a stout Servant Girl, about eighteen years of age. Apply to Mr. J. Woodward, COACH AND HORSES, Wednesbury

John Woodward (33), widower, marine store dealer, Wednesbury, married Jemima Parkes (21), spinster, Walsall, father Joseph Parkes, victualler, on 31 st August 1852.

Birmingham Journal 22/9/1855

“Rejoicing at the Fall of Sebastopol. The demonstration of loyal and patriotic feeling which the news of the capture of the Russian stronghold evoked, has nowhere exceeded, if it has equalled, the popular ebullition of feeling at the town of Wednesbury on Monday last.....

The churches, railway stations, manufactories, workshops, and most of the private houses were profusely dressed with brilliantly emblazoned flags and banners. The following were among the most striking.....

Mr. J. Woodward, COACH AND HORSES, Bridge Street.”

Birmingham Daily Post 7/12/1859

“Stafford Winter Assizes.....

Joseph Hill, 28 was charged with throwing boiling water over John Malone, on the 24th of October, at Wednesbury. Mr. Motteram appeared for the prosecution, the prisoner was undefended.

The prosecutor stated that on going to his home on the day in question he found the prisoner, his (prosecutor’s) wife, and another female there. A quarrel took place about some family matters, and the prisoner struck him (prosecutor). Following up the attack the prisoner drove him up to the fire place, and then, pressing his head into the fender, tried to rake fire on him. Not succeeding in this, the prisoner took a kettle-full of water which was boiling on the fire, and poured it over his (prosecutor’s) head. Elizabeth Lloyd corroborated.

Mr. Proctor, surgeon, described the nature of the injuries received by the prosecutor, and said they were of a dangerous character. He had attended the prosecutor up to within a fortnight.

The prisoner stated that the prosecutor and he had been drinking together at the COACH AND HORSES, Wednesbury, during the whole of the day in question, and that they were very drunk. With respect to the offence itself, he asserted that the turning over of the kettle of water was purely an accident, and also that Malone attacked him first.

His Lordship, in summing up, said the indictment was laid under the statute against maliciously throwing corrosive and noxious substances. In his opinion boiling water was a destructive fluid within the meaning of the statute, and therefore, if the Jury deemed the evidence strong enough, they would find the prisoner guilty. After a short deliberation the Jury found the prisoner guilty, and as he had been previously transported for fifteen years for violence, the learned Judge sentenced him to ten years’ penal servitude.”

1861 Census

High Street

- [1] John Woodward (48), beerhouse keeper and carter, born Walsall;
- [2] Jemima Woodward (29), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Caroline Woodward (14), niece, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Elizabeth Withers (17), house servant, born Penkridge;
- [5] Benjamin Randell (44), lodger, carter, drawing coals etc, born Shropshire;
- [6] John Symonds (40), lodger, carter, drawing coals etc, born Oxfordshire;
- [7] Thomas Smith (40), lodger, carter, drawing coals etc, born Staffordshire;
- [8] John Sharp (35), lodger, carter, drawing coals etc, born Knowle, Warwickshire;
- [9] William Hill (21), lodger, carter, drawing coals etc, born Staffordshire;
- [10] Richard Morton (30), lodger, carter, drawing coals etc, born Kings Bromley, Staffordshire;
- [11] John Young (40), lodger, carter, drawing coals etc, born Cheshire;
- [12] William Ward (35), lodger, carter, drawing coals etc, born Warwickshire;

John Woodward, retailer of beer, High Street. [1862]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 14/3/1863

“Staffordshire Spring Assizes.....

John Smith, a labourer, was charged with setting fire to two stacks of corn, the property of John Woodward, a publican, of Wednesbury, on the 27th of December last. Mr. Mathews appeared for the prosecution. It appeared that the prisoner had been a servant in the employ of Mr. Woodward; and the latter having discharged him, he maliciously set fire to the corn. The jury having found a verdict of guilty, the prisoner was sentenced to six years' penal servitude.”

1871 Census

Lower High Street

- [1] Jemima Woodward (39), widow, beerhouse keeper and carter, born Walsall;
- [2] Thomas Smith (50), boarder, labourer, carter, born Newtown, Staffordshire;
- [3] Thomas Mellor (24), boarder, labourer, carter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] George Philips (32), boarder, labourer, carter, born Yardley, Worcestershire;
- [5] John Brockley (23), boarder, labourer, carter, born Dadington, Cheshire;
- [6] Sarah Brockley (21), boarder, born Aston, Staffordshire;
- [7] Fanny Oldacre (25), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

George Hopwood, beer retailer, 60, Lower High Street. [1872]

1881 Census

60, Lower High Street – COACH AND HORSES Beershop

- [1] Samuel Bennett (49), licensed victualler, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Emma Bennett (43), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Annie Bennett (19), daughter, born West Bromwich;
- [4] Frederick Bennett (18), son, carpenter and joiner, born West Bromwich;
- [5] Charles Bennett (14), son, born West Bromwich;
- [6] Emma Bennett (12), daughter, scholar, born West Bromwich;

Birmingham Daily Post 6/5/1882

“Smith v Bennett.

This case came before Vice-Chancellor Hall, on Thursday, in the Chancery Court, Lincolns Inn, by way of a motion on behalf of the plaintiffs for an interim injunction to restrain the defendant, Mr. John [sic] Bennett, from working any coals or other minerals under the COACH AND HORSES INN, situated at Wednesbury.

Mr. W. Pearson, QC, said the plaintiff, Maria Smith, was the tenant for life, under the will of her late husband, Richard Bradley Smith, of one undivided moiety of the property in question, and the other plaintiffs were Mrs. Smith's children, who were entitled in remainder to the other moiety, with the exception of one share, to which the wife of the defendant was entitled. The defendant, Mr. Bennett, was entitled to the other undivided moiety. Richard Bradley Smith, the testator, shortly before his death, sank a pit on the property, and after his death the defendant sank another pit, and was now working the coal and committing waste. He submitted that the defendant was not entitled to work the coal, upon the ground that he was a tenant in common in occupation; and he further contended that plaintiffs had a right to restrain the defendant from working the minerals, upon the ground that the defendant was committing destructive waste – that was to say, that the working of the mines would let down the buildings, which would be destructive waste. The learned counsel read the affidavits in support of the motion, which set out that the defendant had commenced working the mines, and had refused to cease working, or to render any account of the profits of the coal raised by him; that the working of the mines would seriously decrease the value of the moiety of the property in which the plaintiffs were interested, and would also seriously imperil the safety of the COACH AND HORSES INN and the adjoining house, and also the buildings belonging to adjoining owners. The defendant did not contradict the evidence of the two mining engineers, who had sworn most positively that if the ribs and pillars of coal left in the mine were taken the buildings on the surface would be endangered.

Mr. Mulligan, on behalf of the defendant, submitted that no case had been made out for the interference of the Court by interlocutory injunction. The defendant and his wife also swore most positively that Mrs. Smith, the tenant for life, had agreed to allow the defendant to work the mines. It was also uncontradicted by the plaintiffs' evidence that the defendant had been working the coal for the last eighteen months. There was not a particle of evidence to show that the defendant was working negligently or improperly, and he therefore asked the Court to refuse the motion. The Vice-Chancellor, in giving judgement, said he considered the case made on the affidavits was that if the defendant was allowed to go on working the coal under the house property there would be great danger of the house tumbling down. Under those circumstances he felt bound to grant an injunction restraining the defendant from working the coal under the houses until the trial of the action."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 17/6/1882

"Smith v Bennett."

This case came before Mr. Justice Kay, in the Chancery Division, on Thursday, and was a motion made by Mr. Pearson, QC, for an injunction to restrain the defendant from working a coal-pit sunk in the yard of the COACH AND HORSES INN, Wednesbury, to the danger of the premises, in contravention of an order made upon him by Vice-Chancellor Hall.

Mr. Pearson read various affidavits to show that the pit had been worked on a considerable number of days since the injunction had been granted. These affidavits included one by Wells, a man in the service of the defendant. On the other side a second affidavit by Wells was read, in which he stated that he was unable to read or write, and that there were many things put down in his first affidavit which he was not aware of, and which he had no intention of swearing; that he did not tell the solicitor a great many things which were in that affidavit; and that though the affidavit was read over to him before he swore it, he did not understand what he was swearing.

The learned Judge thereupon stopped the case, saying that the evidence was very unsatisfactory, and that he must see the plaintiff and this witness that they might be cross-examined, and he therefore ordered the defendant Bennett and the witness Wells to attend on next motion day. That was to be understood to be an order of the Court, and that their absence would be at the peril of the defendant."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 23/6/1882

"Smith v Bennett."

In the High Court of Justice, Chancery Division, before Mr. Justice Kay, this was a motion on behalf of the plaintiff to commit the defendant, Mr. Bennett, landlord of the COACH AND HORSES public house, at Wednesbury, to prison for a breach of an injunction granted on the 4th May last by Vice Chancellor Sir C. Hall restraining him, his servants, workmen, or agents from working a small coal pit under the COACH AND HORSES public house at Wednesbury.....

[Bennett agreed that there had been work at the pit since the injunction, but that no fresh coal had been mined. They only brought up what coal they could find. Wells mentioned that the pit had been shut up.]

.....Mr. Justice Kay said when the case was before him on a former occasion the evidence was in a very unsatisfactory condition, and therefore he ordered it to stand over, in order that the witnesses might attend and be cross-examined. Those witnesses had now been examined, and he could not say that any case of breach of the injunction had been established. The plaintiff, no doubt, seeing winding going on, and the same number of men employed, had a very strong case of suspicion that the injunction was being infringed, but before a man could be sent to prison it must be shown to the satisfaction of the Court that the terms of the injunction had been violated. That had not been done in this case, and therefore he must refuse the motion with costs."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 18/7/1882

“Thomas Welch, Addison Street, Wednesbury, was fined 1s and costs and 2d damages for trespassing on land belonging to Samuel Bennett, landlord of the COACH AND HORSES, High Street, Wednesbury. The prosecutor stated that hundreds of people trespassed on the land, and when he requested them not to do so they used obscene and abusive language towards him.”

Birmingham Daily Post 25/1/1887

“Birmingham County Court.....

An interpleader action, sent down from the High Court, was tried in order to decide who had the right to certain goods seized by the sheriff of Staffordshire under an execution issued from the High Court, in an action in which the Lichfield City Brewery Company were the plaintiffs, and Samuel Bennett, late of the COACH AND HORSES INN, High Street, Wednesbury, was the defendant. The claimant, Frederick Bennett, is the son of the defendant. Mr. Vachell (instructed by Slater and Marshall, Darlington) was for the claimant, and Mr. Hugo Young (instructed by Lane and Clutterbuck, Birmingham) represented the execution creditor.

The elder Bennett for the nine years preceding June 1883, carried on the COACH AND HORSES in his own name. In that month he found himself in difficulties in connection with a bill of sale, and his son, the present claimant, purchased the whole of the stock-in-trade for the sum of £164 7s 9d, thus enabling him to pay off the bill of sale, which was for £120. On November 27, 1885, the business was sold to Walter Russell, of West Bromwich, and the claimant, who had been living with his father, went to reside at 61, Lower High Street, and the defendant lodged with him. In taking to these premises the claimant purchased the whole of the previous tenant's furniture, stock of sweetmeats, joiners' tools, and other things that were in the place. These goods were afterwards seized under the execution in question, the judgement being against the defendant, and they were the goods claimed by the younger Bennett in the present action.

The claimant, who is still a very young man, stated that he had been at work since he was nine years of age, and the money with which he paid the bill of sale off he had been saving ever since that age. He put his sister to manage the sweetmeat business. She was then seventeen years old.

The elder Bennett gave evidence. In cross-examination he asserted he had told the traveller the business had been transferred to his son. The traveller, however, replied that he knew nothing of the son, and should have nothing to do with him. Witness did not say that he had put the business in his son's name to suit his own purposes.

Without calling on Mr. Young for his defence, his Honour said he did not believe a word of the evidence that had been given in support of the claimant's case. Judgement was given for the execution creditor for £30, and for the claimant for £3, the value of the tools seized.”

1891 Census

60, Lower High Street – COACH AND HORSES

[1] Samuel Dicken (29), widower, beer retailer, born Tipton;

[2] Eliza Edwards (23), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Samuel Dicken was the son of Francis Dicken of the PLOUGH AND HARROW, Wednesbury.

Walter Russell, beer retailer, 60, Lower High Street. [1896]

1901 Census

60, Lower High Street – COACH AND HORSES INN

[1] Samuel T. Millsum (34), gas socket maker, born Wednesbury;

[2] Louisa Millsum (30), wife, innkeeper, born Wednesbury;

[3] Doris Mabel Millsum (9), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[4] Grace Millsum (8), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[5] Carlyon Howard Millsum (7), son, born Wednesbury;

[6] Harry Percival Millsum (4), son, born Wednesbury;

[7] Gwendoline Louise Millsum (2), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[8] Samuel Douglas Millsum (1), son, born Wednesbury;

[9] Arthur Leslie Millsum (3 months), son, born Wednesbury;

[10] Ellen Mitchell (14), domestic servant, born West Bromwich:

James Bailey, beer retailer, 60, Lower High Street. [1904]

1911 Census

60, Lower High Street – COACH AND HORSES

- [1] Leonard Watkins (46), baker, born Walsall;
- [2] Harriett Watkins (47), wife, married 26 years, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Leonard Watkins (24), son, baker, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] W. H. Watkins (23), son, fitter, born Heath Town;
- [5] Clara Watkins (19), daughter, shop assistant, born Heath Town;
- [6] Polly Shilton (16), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Leonard Watkins, baker, 7, High Street and 36, Trowse Lane, and beer retailer, 60, Lower High Street. [1912]

1921 Census

60, Lower High Street

- [1] Leonard Watkins (56), beerhouse keeper, born Walsall;
- [2] Harriett Watkins (57), wife, assistant in house, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] William Henry Watkins (33), son, tool maker, born Heath Town;
- [4] Pheboe Watkins (27), daughter-in-law, house duties, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Dorothy Annie Barnett (23), confectioner's assistant, born Leicester;
- [6] Edward Albany Seed (18), bake house assistant, born Liverpool:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 5/2/1921

“Wednesbury annual Licensing Sessions.....

The justices intimated that opposition would be offered to the renewal of the licenses of the MARKET HOUSE TAVERN, Church Street; BRUNSWICK INN, Great Western Street; and the COACH AND HORSES, Lower High Street, on the grounds of redundancy.”

South Staffordshire Times 5/3/1921

“Wednesbury Licensing Sessions.....

COACH AND HORSES, Lower High Street. Mr. Sharpe represented the owners, and this house was opposed on the grounds of redundancy.

Superintendent Salt explained that the house was a beerhouse on the main street. The licensee was Leonard Watkins. There had been no convictions. Particulars were given on accommodation, which was, in his opinion, satisfactory, but there were no bedrooms for visitors. There were several licensed houses nearby.

Mr. Sharpe: The tenant had been there 13 years and no complaints.

It was stated that the takings were about £25 per week.

Mr. Sharpe said it was an old fashioned country kind of house, and a class of respectable men assembled there. They were prepared to do anything necessary, and the owners desired to retain the house and license.

Mr. Watkins (tenant) said he did not want to be disturbed, and he was satisfied with the business done. The business of the bakery did not interfere with his attention to the licensing business.

The owners were Woodhall's, West Bromwich.

The chairman said the COACH AND HORSES would be referred for compensation.”

Leonard Watkins – see also COACHMAKERS ARMS.

South Staffordshire Times 23/7/1921

“At a meeting of the County Licensing Compensation Authority at Stafford, on Thursday, there was no opposition to the closing of the MARKET HOUSE, Wednesbury, the COACH AND HORSES, Wednesbury, and the WOODMAN INN, Tipton, and the licenses were refused.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/1/1922

“The Principal Meeting of the Compensation Authority was held on July 21, when the committee, after careful consideration of each case referred, refused to renew seven licences.....

The Supplemental Meeting was held on November 12 and by adjournment on December 10. The committee went in great detail into all the figures submitted to them upon which the persons interested claimed compensation, and heard evidence put forward by the claimants. The committee consider that the amounts of compensation agreed upon are satisfactory, both from the point of view of the parties interested and the Compensation Fund.

In the following five cases the committee fixed the compensation.....

COACH AND HORSES, Wednesbury, beerhouse on (ante 1869). £775.

The money has been apportioned amongst the interested parties, and was paid on the 24th ult.”

COACHMAKERS ARMS

56, (55), Bridge Street / Mounts Road, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Samuel Woodhall Ltd. [1921]
Julia Hanson and Son Ltd.
Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.
Refresh

LICENSEES

John Jinks [1867] – [1896]
Mrs. Mary Jinks [1901]
Samuel 'Sam' Stevenson [1911] – [1921]
Leonard Watkins [1925]
Albert 'Bert' E Ross (1935 – [1946]
Gertrude Lavender Ross* [1961] – [1969]
Fergie Ross* [pre 1960s] – [1968]
Mollie Dickens [1971] – [1975]
Robert and Lynn [1976]
George Carpenter [1993]
Surjit Kumar Jhim [2008]

NOTES

55, Bridge Street [1871]
56, Bridge Street [1878], [1879], [1881], [1891], [1901], [1911], [1921], [1939], [1925], [1940], [1946]

It had a beerhouse license.

It was known locally as "The Pretty Bricks".

John Jinks = John Jenks

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 23/11/1867

"J. Collins of Wednesbury will fly his pigeon Dally from the Nelson Monument, Birmingham, to Wednesbury against any of the following. He will give J. Dudley's silver hen or E. Coley's pigeon half a minute start, or F. Adams's pigeon. Either match to be for £5 or £10 a side. Money ready at J. Jinks's, COACH MAKERS ARMS, Bridge Street, Wednesbury."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 7/12/1867

"N. Knowles of Wednesbury will run S. Swinbourne of Walsall 120 yards if he will give two yards start, for £5 or £10 a side. Money ready at Mr. J. Jinks's, COACH MAKERS ARMS, Wednesbury."

John Jinks, beer retailer, Bridge Street. [1868], [1870]

1871 Census

55, Bridge Street

- [1] John Jinks (29), turner, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Mary Ann Jinks (28), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Sarah J. Jinks (8), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] William Jinks (6), son, born Wednesbury;
- [5] George Powell (24), cowman, born Hereford:

John Jenks, beer retailer, 56, Bridge Street. [1872]

Birmingham Daily Post 9/1/1878

"From last night's London Gazette Liquidations by Arrangement.....
J. Jinks, Wednesbury, beerhouse keeper and gas fittings manufacturer."

Birmingham Daily Post 18/2/1878 - Advert

"In Liquidation. Re John Jinks, COACHMAKERS ARMS INN, Bridge Street, Wednesbury.

By E. B. Scholefield, Tomorrow (Tuesday), at 11 o'clock.

The Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the above-named Inn; Household Furniture, Brewing Vessels, Gasfittings-maker's Tools, Steam Engine, Boiler, Lathes, Anvils, Swages, Oliver Hammers, Tools, &c, &c."

Birmingham Daily Post 2/3/1878 - Advert

"The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall.

In the Matter of a Special Resolution for Liquidation by Arrangement of the affairs of John Jinks, of 56, Bridge Street, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Beerhouse Keeper and Gasfitting Manufacturer. Edward Broadhouse Scholefield, of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Auctioneer, has been appointed Trustee of the Property of the Debtor. All Persons having in their possession any of the Effects of the Debtor must deliver them to the Trustee, and all Debts due to the Debtor must be paid to the Trustee. Creditors who have not yet Proved their Debts must forward their Proofs of Debts to the Trustee.

Dated this 28th day of February, 1878. Frederick Bill, Walsall, Solicitor to the Trustee."

Wednesbury Herald 20/12/1879

"To be Sold by Auction by Mr. E. B. Scholefield early in the month of January 1880.....

Lot 2. A freehold Public House numbered 56 in Bridge Street, Wednesbury, with the Cottage in the rear thereof, known as the COACH MAKERS ARMS, now in the occupation of Mr. John Jinks, or of his sub-tenant Mr. Henry Partridge.

This Property is held for the residue of the term of a lease which expires on the 11th day of January 1880. The present rental amounts to £36 10s per annum."

1881 Census

56, Bridge Street – COACH MAKERS ARMS Beershop

- [1] John Jinks (39), gas fitting maker, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Mary Jinks (37), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Sarah Jane Jinks (18), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] William Jinks (16), son, cripple, born Wednesbury;
- [5] William Wood (4), nephew, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Henry Partridge (30), boarder, ironworker, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Joseph Taylor (38), boarder, labourer, born Atherstone, Staffordshire:

Birmingham Mail 27/8/1890

"At Wednesbury yesterday, Henry Smith, of Glover Street, Birmingham, was charged with stealing a silver watch, the property of John Jinks, Bridge Street Wednesbury. On Monday evening the prosecutor went to Darlaston Wake, and on attempting to get into a steam tram-car about ten o'clock for Wednesbury he missed his watch, and saw the prisoner attempting to get away. He raised an alarm, and prisoner was arrested by Police-constables Davidson and Parsons, and on being taken to the police station the watch was found under his collar. Superintendent Holland said he had reason to believe that the prisoner had given a false name, and the man was remanded."

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 15/10/1890

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions Pled Guilty.....

Frederick Bassett, stealing at Darlaston, on August 25, a silver watch belonging to John Jinks, five years’ penal servitude.”

1891 Census

56, Bridge Street – COACH MAKERS ARMS

[1] John Jinks (49), publican and gas fitting maker, born Wednesbury;

[2] Mary Jinks (47), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] William Jinks (26), son, gas fitting screwer, born Wednesbury;

[4] Jane Dean (25), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

John Jinks, manufacturer of gas fittings and beer retailer, 56, Bridge Street. [1896]

John Jinks died on 3rd April 1899.

1901 Census

56, Bridge Street

[1] Mary Jinks (58), fittings maker and landlady of tavern, born Wednesbury;

[2] William Jinks (36), son, fittings maker, born Wednesbury;

[3] Jane Jinks (35), daughter-in-law, barmaid, born Walsall;

[4] Mary Jane Wilson (9), grand-daughter, born Wednesbury:

Mary Jinks died on 30th March 1902.

1911 Census

56, Bridge Street – COACH MAKERS ARMS

[1] Samuel Stevenson (52), beerhouse keeper, born Wednesbury;

[2] Alice Stevenson (52), wife, married 27 years, born Walsall;

[3] Norman Stevenson (21), son, coach smith, born Wednesbury;

[4] Harry Stevenson (19), son, blacksmith’s striker, born Wincobank, Yorkshire;

[5] Lily Stevenson (15), daughter, born Warrington, Lancashire;

[6] May Stevenson (13), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[7] Leslie Stevenson (10), son, born Wincobank, Yorkshire:

Samuel Stevenson, beer retailer, 56, Bridge Street. [1912]

1921 Census

56, Bridge Street – COACHMAKERS ARMS

[1] Samuel Stevenson (63), public house manager, born Wednesbury;

[2] Alice Stevenson (63), wife, home duties, born Walsall;

[3] Alice May Stevenson (23), daughter, home duties, born Wednesbury;

[4] Leslie Stuart Stevenson (20), son, tube turner and fitter, born Sheffield:

Bilston & Willenhall Times 24/10/1925

“Deed of Arrangement. Leonard Watkins, COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridge Street, and 7 and 26, High Street, Wednesbury, baker and confectioner and beerhouse keeper. Trustee, J. Gough, Castle Street, Dudley. Dated October 13th, filed October 19th. Unsecured liabilities, £1,046; estimated net assets, £46.”

Bilston & Willenhall Times 14/11/1925

“The following appeared in the London Gazette this week, under the notices of Deeds Void.....

Leonard Watkins, COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridge Street, and 7 and 26, High Street, Wednesbury, baker, confectioner and beerhouse keeper. Notice filed by the trustee November 3rd, the deed of arrangement filed October 19th 1925, is void.”

London Gazette 18/12/1925

“Leonard Watkins, now residing and carrying on business as a Beerhouse Keeper, at the COACHMAKERS ARMS, 56, Bridge Street and lately carrying on business at High Street, Wednesbury aforesaid, as a Baker and Confectioner bankrupt.”

Leonard Watkins – see also COACH AND HORSES.

Lichfield Mercury 16/7/1937

“Brownhills Petty Sessions.....

For failing to conform to traffic signs the following penalties were inflicted.....

Albert V. G. Ross, Bridge Street, Wednesbury, 10s.”

1939 Register

56, Bridge Street

[1] Albert E. Ross, date of birth 3/11/1885, wood pattern maker, married;

[2] Gertrude Lavender Ross, dob 16/5/1895, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Frederick J. Ross, dob 9/4/1915, butcher's assistant, single;

[4] Albert V. G. Ross, dob 27/9/1918, grocery assistant, single;

[5] Christine Joyce (Ross), Southall, dob 4/10/1924, shop assistant, single;

[6] Mollie/Molly (Ross) Dickens, dob 20/4/1928, school, single:

Bilston and Willenhall Times 16/3/1946

“The wedding took place at St. John's Church, Wednesbury, last week of Mr. Albert Victor Gordon Ross, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ross, of the COACHMAKERS ARMS, 56, Bridge Street, Wednesbury, and Miss Pauline Evans, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Evans, of 9, Margaret Street, West Bromwich.....”

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League, Division One. [1946]

* possibly the same person

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Victory Darts League. [1962]

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League. [1962], [1963], [1965]
[COACHMAKERS won the league in 1962.]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 14/9/1962

“The COACHMAKERS team last night won the Presidents Cup in the final of the competition organised by the Wednesbury Central Darts League. They beat MIDLAND VAULTS 8-1 and received the cup from the league president, Councillor Tom Berry.”

Gertrude Lavender Ross died in the 2nd quarter of 1969.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 30/5/1969 - Deaths

“Gertrude Ross of COACHMAKERS ARMS. Our dear mom.

What she suffered, she told few,

She never deserved what she went through,

She left us suddenly, her thoughts unknown,

But she left us with memories we are proud to own.

From loving family and grand-children.”

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Town Darts League. [1970]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 29/4/1970 - Advert

“Carpet Sale of misfit and reject Carpets, at the COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridge Street, Wednesbury, Thursday, April 30, from 5.30pm-7.30pm. This is a private sale, not by auction, these carpets are in beautiful colours and designs, not in correct pattern, but the quality is there; such as 3 x 2½, 3 x 3, 3½ x 3, 4 x 4, 5 x 4 and 6 x 4; we are making a special offer of 20 of these carpets having been made in wrong sizes in rich designs; they are suitable for dining rooms, sitting rooms, bedrooms, kitchens, etc, 6 x4 yards and 5 x 4 yards, carpets, 4 x 3 yards, £9 10/-; 3 yards x 2½ yards, £6 10/-; a free hearth rug with every large carpet.

B. Finney, 43, Samson Road, Birmingham 11.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 21/10/1971 - Deaths

“Bert Middlebrook. Deepest sympathy from Molly of the COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridge Street, Wednesbury.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 24/12/1975 - Advert

“Mollie, of COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridge Street, Wednesbury, wishes all her customers and friends a Very Happy Christmas and all the best for the New Year.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 23/12/1976 - Advert

“Robert and Lynn of COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridge Street, Wednesbury, wish all their customers and friends a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 24/2/1986

“Another 50 Sandwell publicans are campaigning for rate cuts after complaining that beer sales are sinking. The latest applications come after 300 Sandwell pubs last year applied for rate cuts because of dwindling trade. The BARREL in Pound Road, Oldbury, is objecting against a rateable value of £2,284 and the ROWLEY RAG at Throne Road, Rowley Regis, is contesting a rateable value of £3,513 in the latest applications.

The COACH AND HORSES at High Street, Princes End, Tipton, the PARK TAVERN at Dudley Road, Smethwick, the COACH MAKERS ARMS at Bridge Street, Wednesbury and the FLOWER POT at Spon Lane, West Bromwich, are also seeking rate cuts.

The applications are due to be heard in March at the West Midlands Valuation Panel offices at Dudley. A Panel spokesman said, ‘Rates on pubs are based on sales.’

Some Sandwell publicans have already warned that they will not be able to carry on if rents and rates are increased.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 17/7/1993

“Landlord George Carpenter has built a marvellous mini-garden on the only space he has available for flowers – the roof of his pub’s toilet block. Enterprising George got fed up with life without flowers at his pub in Wednesbury and set about bringing a bit of colour into his yard. He built a little flower border around the side of the toilet roof and put in lots of bedding plants, hanging baskets and plant-packed containers. Now passers-by stop and admire the floral displays at the COACHMAKERS ARMS in Bridge Street – known as the ‘Pretty Bricks’ and perhaps from now on as the ‘Pretty Flowers.’ And his wife Joyce finds the flower displays a much better view from the kitchen sink.....”

It was renamed COACHMAKERS. [2005]

[2014]

Closed [2016]

It was converted into housing and the exterior was rendered.

In Liquidation.—Re John Jinks, Coachmakers' Arms Inn, Bridge Street, Wednesbury.

BY E. B. SCHOLEFIELD, TO-MORROW (Tuesday), at 11 o'clock—the LICENSES, GOODWILL, and POSSESSION of the above-named Inn; HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, Brewing Vessels, Gasfitter-maker's Tools, Steam Engine, Boiler, Lathes, Anvils, Swages, Oliver Hammers, Tools, &c., &c.

THE BANKRUPTCY ACT, 1869.—In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall.—In the Matter of a Special Resolution for Liquidation by Arrangement of the affairs of JOHN JINKS, of 56, Bridge Street, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Beerhouse Keeper and Gasfitter Manufacturer. EDWARD BROADHOUSE SCHOLEFIELD, of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Auctioneer, has been appointed TRUSTEE of the Property of the Debtor. All Persons having in their possession any of the Effects of the Debtor must deliver them to the Trustee, and all Debts due to the Debtor must be paid to the Trustee. Creditors who have not yet Proved their Debts must forward their Proofs of Debts to the Trustee.—Dated this 23rd day of February, 1878.

FREDRIC BILL, Walsall. Solicitor to the Trustee.

1878

MOLLIE,
of COACHMAKERS ARMS,

Bridge Street,
Wednesbury.

Wishes all her customers and friends a Very Happy Christmas and all the best for the New Year.

1975

ROBERT AND LYNN
of
COACHMAKERS ARMS,
Bridge Street,
Wednesbury,

wish all their customers and friends a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

1976

1996

2008

COMMERCIAL

High Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Simeon Constable [1841] – [1842]

NOTES

1841 Census

High Street and Market Place

[1] Simeon Constable (45), innkeeper, born Staffordshire;

[2] S. C. Constable (29), wife;

[3] Martha Constable (16), born Staffordshire;

[4] Elizabeth Constable (3), born Staffordshire;

[5] Philip Constable (20), born Staffordshire;

[6] Mary Nickolds (20) f.s., born Staffordshire;

[7] Betsey Nickolds (25), f.s., born Staffordshire;

[8] Eliza Wilcox (22), f.s., born Staffordshire;

[9] Emma Wilcox (14), f.s., born Staffordshire:

Simeon Constable – see also GEORGE.

CORONATION

2, Friar Park Road / Crankhall Lane, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd.

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. [1972], [1977]

Ansells Ltd.

Pubmaster Breweries [1995]

LICENSEES

Ralph David Johnson [1939]

Ron Ward []

Cyril Ernest Hughes [1961] – [1966]

Eric Chapman (1976 – [1977])

Alec Strange [1979]

Stephen Smith [] – 1982)

Kenneth 'Ken' Horobin (1982 – [1984])

Angela Jayne Everitt []

Brian Beebee [] – 1994)

c1986

NOTES

It opened in 1937.

1939 Register

2, Friar Park Road – CORONATION INN

[1] Ralph D. Johnson, date of birth 12/5/1881, public house manager, married;

[2] Ethel L. Johnson, dob 6/8/1889, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Arthur E. Johnson, dob 2/5/1879, barman, single;

[4] William Henry Johnson, dob 13/11/1916, fitter's mate, single;

[5] Arthur E. Johnson, dob 7/3/1920, electricity test room assistant, single;

[6] Peggy L. Johnson, dob 22/10/1922, barmaid, single:

Ralph David Johnson – see also WOODMAN, Dale Street, and OLD PARK.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 15/2/1940

“Comforts Fund for men at the front.....

Wednesbury. Previously acknowledged, £297 11s 4½d.

Proceeds of boxes.....

CORONATION INN, £1 3s 7d.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 29/2/1940

“Latest donations to the West Midlands and Express and Star Comforts Fund.....

Wednesbury. Previously acknowledged, £344 1s 3½d.

Proceeds of Boxes.....

CORONATION HOTEL, £1 1s 7d.”

Rugeley Times 8/2/1941

"The monthly report of the West Bromwich and District General Hospital, just issued, shows that the patients report for the month of December was in-patients admitted, 55; out-patients admitted to the several special departments, 284; to the casualty department, 905; attendance in all departments, 3,485. Donations acknowledged for the month of December, 1940, were..... CORONATION INN, Wednesbury, £1 6s."

A team from here took part in the Stone Cross and District Dominoes League. [1951]

Sports Argus 14/3/1959

"Next Friday the Sports Argus darts team renew rivalry with Wednesbury Victory League. Proceeds of the match, which will be played at CORONATION INN, Friar Park, will go to aid the Park Corner Children's Home."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 13/4/1962

"Wednesbury magistrates court today.....

The court granted an application made by Mr. W. G. Thornton, on behalf of Jim Partridge (Wednesbury) Ltd., who applied for a betting office license on a site at the CORONATION INN, Friar Park."

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Victory Darts League. [1962]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 10/4/1965 - Advert

"Pianist. Thursday, Friday, Saturday evenings.
CORONATION INN, Friar Park, Wednesbury."

PIANIST. Thursday, Friday, Saturday evenings.—Coronation Inn, Friar Park,
Wednesbury.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 27/11/1968 - Advert

"Pianist or Accordionist to play with drummer.
CORONATION INN, Friar Park, Wednesbury."

PIANIST or Accordionist to play with drummer. — Coronation Inn, Friar Park, Wednesbury.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 15/12/1972

"Grorty pudding, gray paise and other Black Country gourmet delicacies will be a speciality of the new Black Country theatre, launched by Mitchells and Butlers, the brewery firm, at Wednesbury, last night. The theatre, named 'Whackett' in honour of Black Country poet and wit, the late Mr. Walter Hackett, president of Accles and Pollock, Oldbury, who wrote under the name 'Khanyer Whackett.' It is planned to give the theatre, which is part of the CORONATION public house at Friar Park, an old time Black Country entertainment and Black Country dishes. Brewery district supervisor, Mr. Malcolm Powell, said, 'We hope the new venture will become a centre for local arts. To start with, a lot of the entertainment will be provided by professionals, but we hope that amateur talent will come along and provide real Black Country entertainment. Anything from playing spoons to telling Enoch and Eli stories would be acceptable.' The first pint was pulled by Mr. George Hackett, a son of the late Mr. Hackett."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 29/12/1972 - Advert

"CORONATION INN, Friar Park Road ('Whacketts') Wednesbury.

Friday, Dec. 29th: Catweazle. Saturday, Dec. 30th: Sweet Sounds. Sunday, Dec 31st: Lunchtime, Lee Wilson; Evening, Touch."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 20/1/1973 - Advert

"CORONATION INN, Friar Park Road (Whacketts) Wednesbury.

Saturday, Jan. 20th; Sunday, Jan. 21st: Ted McDermott, Our Resident Entertainer.

Also Monday, Jan. 22nd: Free and Easy Concert. Wednesday 24th: Amateur Talent Competition."

Lichfield Mercury 9/11/1973

"Industry and the arts are getting together. Mitchells and Butlers, the brewers, and the West Midlands Arts Association are planning to organise celebrity music and poetry events throughout the region's five counties. The first of a series of monthly concerts at the CORONATION INN, Friar Park Road, Wednesbury, is to be held on Monday next week, November 12, and the W.M.A.A. hopes it will attract people from well outside the Black Country. The concert starts at 8.30 and food is included in the admission charge of 35p."

Birmingham Mail 28/3/1974

“The CORONATION INN at Friar Park, Wednesbury, is to receive the K. Russell Cup for winning the annual charity open knock-out dominoes competition organised by the Wednesbury St. John Ambulance Brigade and the Wednesbury Fellowship of the Disabled. The team and runners-up, the QUEENS HEAD at Wood Green, Wednesbury, who have won the Wednesbury Shield, will receive the prizes from the Mayor of Sandwell, Councillor Stan Harris, on May 9.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 20/9/1974 - Advert

“CORONATION INN, Friar Park, Wednesbury.

Tonight and every Friday: New Disco Scene with the Midlands Top DJs.

This Week: Raymond John.

8.00 till late.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 6/2/1975 - Advert

“Urgently required, Club Secretary for Friar Park Central Flying Club. Approximate members 40 to 45. £2 per head. Replies to The Chairman, Mr. A. Sayce, the CORONATION INN, Friar Park, West Bromwich.”

Birmingham Daily Post 7/9/1977

“Thousands of Midland drinkers will be forced to change their drinking habits next year – because of a Government report. Three major breweries are to swop 437 pubs – leaving drinkers to choose between their favourite public house or their favourite beer. The deal was announced yesterday by Ansells, owned by Allied Breweries, Mitchells and Butlers, owned by Bass Charrington, and Courage. The move, involving public houses valued at £11,000,000, was prompted by a Monopolies Commission report seven years ago which claimed that breweries had too much of a stranglehold in certain towns and cities Tenants and managers are being given the opportunity to stay on new terms or change to another establishment. Managers can also opt for voluntary redundancy.....

M&B tenanted houses transferred to Ansells.....

CORONATION, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 8/9/1977

“A Wednesbury M&B licensee involved in the big brewery swap-a-pub plan says he would move out rather than sell Ansells beer. And other licensees also gave the idea a cold reception. Regulars at eight Sandwell pubs owned by Bass Charrington, the Mitchells & Butlers Group, have been told their locals will serve Courage beers instead of Brew XI from next January. Two more Sandwell M&B pubs will go over to Ansells at the same time. The scheme aims to boost competition and give drinkers more choice, but landlords fear the sudden change might drive customers away.....

Mr. Eric Chapman, of the CORONATION, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury, an M&B pub going to Ansells, said, ‘I’ll move to another place rather than go over to Ansells. People around here have been drinking M&B for 20 years and they could leave the pub rather than change their drink. I think some of them won’t be pleased about this at all. M&B have always been fair and I’d rather have the devil I know, so I’ve asked them to move me to another of their pubs.’ Mr. Chapman took over the CORONATION, his first house, 18 months ago.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 19/9/1979

“A West Bromwich licensee has hit out at claims that his two Alsatian guard dogs are ‘vicious’ after they attacked three children in the street. The children, who were with a group going to school when the dogs escaped from the public house, needed hospital treatment after the attack. But Mr. Alec Strange, licensee of the CORONATION INN, Friar Park, said, ‘They are just playful pets who got over excited. I will not have them put to sleep just because of this.’ The dogs, 19 months’ old Nickie and Goldie, dashed out when cleaners left a door open and ran towards a crowd of youngsters. As other children scattered, the dogs bit Samantha Cockbill, aged nine, and Mark Dams on the leg and scratched 11-year-old Sharon Welings. The children went back to school the same day after hospital treatment.

Mr. Strange runs the pub with his wife Linda and his parents, Mr. Sid Strange and his wife Beatrice.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 7/12/1979

“Once again a darts player has come to the aid of charity. The player in question is Tommy Weigh, who staged an exhibition match to raise funds for Wednesbury widow Josie Price, whose eight-year-old son died recently of a brain tumour. The match took place at the CORONATION, Friar Park, and throughout the evening Tommy played 36 games of 701, and won them all. The effort raised £118, so thanks, Tommy, for a fine gesture.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 26/6/1981

“A 22-year-old West Bromwich man, suspected of burgling a Wednesbury public house, ‘rashly’ invited police to search his home, Mr. David Seconde, prosecuting, told Wolverhampton Crown Court yesterday. For the officers found a breakfast cereal box full of gaming tokens and small change taken from machines at the CORONATION public house. Alan Bowen broke into the public house with a number of other men, the court heard. He lived in fear of his safety if he mentioned their names to the police.

Detective Constable Leslie Farmer agreed others were involved in the burglary.

Bowen, unemployed, of Marshall House, Charlemont Farm, admitted entering the CORONATION pub and stealing bottles of spirits and £50 in cash.

Mr. Seconde said that Bowen told police he hid in the pub’s poolroom after the relief manager had locked up and then stole the money and spirits. It was a substantial burglary, added Mr. Seconde, and a large number of cigarettes were also taken but Bowen said he was not involved with their theft. In a statement to police Bowen said, ‘I did not break in. I hid in the poolroom until the management left. I had nothing to do with the fags.’

Judge Chetwynd-Talbot told Bowen that his real problem was drink and it was obvious that when he was drinking he got into trouble. He ordered Bowen to do 200 hours community service.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 23/3/1982

“Four middle-aged Wednesbury pub regulars staged a sit-in at their local last night in a bid to keep their landlord in his job. Police were called to move the men on from the CORONATION pub in Coronation Road at quarter to midnight. They had refused to leave because Mr. Stephen Smith, who had hoped to become tenant had his application to take over the CORONATION turned down by licensing justices. Police objected to him taking over at West Bromwich magistrates court. Ansells Brewery had hoped to put him in to run the pub. Ansells had moved in a relief tenant for the night, Mr. John Austin, of the ROYAL OAK pub in Pleck, and that sparked the sit-in. The men moved on peacefully after police arrived and Mr. Smith asked them to leave.

Today, Mr. Smith, for whom Ansells are seeking a replacement to meet with police approval, said, ‘I am grateful for the regulars’ support. I don’t even know them well.’ Ansells tied-trade director Mr. John Renshaw, said, ‘Police have decided they do not think Mr. Smith is appropriate to be tenant, and we are not going to argue it in court. We are seeking another tenant.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 9/12/1982 - Advert

“The CORONATION, Friar Park, Wednesbury.

December 24th (Christmas Eve), Carols with Dave Williams at the Organ.

December 27th (Boxing Night), Party Time.

New Year’s Eve, Top Comedian Brian Day. Tickets £1.50 each.

Monday Nights Video Show. Friday Nights Free & Easy.

Bookings now being taken for special functions in 1983, buffet or sit down menu.

Video film of occasion available.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 9/12/1982

“Black Country newly-weds can have their reception immortalised on film – thanks to a Wednesbury landlord who has latched on to the video craze in a big way. For the price of a video tape, landlord of the CORONATION pub in Friar Park Road, Mr. Ken Horobin, will capture the wedding breakfast on film of all couples who have receptions at his pub. And the boon of video does not stop there. Pigeon club members based there will see their birds being judged – usually the judging sessions are held in private, away from the eyes of prospective prize winners. Darts and football teams can have an ‘Action replay.’ The gimmick is all part of the new image for the CORONATION. Ken and his wife, Val, leased the pub from Ansells in August.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 21/1/1983

“A Wednesbury licensee is to revive the swinging sixties, with shows featuring pop stars like Marty Wilde and Helen Shapiro. The Marty Wilde concert on February 19 had only just been advertised and already the tickets are selling well, said Mrs. Valerie Horobin, wife of the licensee of the CORONATION, Mr. Kenneth Horobin. ‘A lot of people are still keen to see the top artists of the sixties and if the first two shows go well we shall make it a regular feature,’ she said. ‘We’re thinking about people like Helen Shapiros and the Searchers for future bookings.’

The couple only took over the Friar Park pub in August and hope the live show will help boost business. Before taking over the CORONATION the couple ran a transport cafe. Now they are hoping the sixties music will mean their first venture into the licensing trade starts on a high note.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 8/9/1983

“Wednesbury’s CORONATION pub lived up to its name when it crowned its very own beauty queen. Tracey-Ann Smith, aged 21, of Bentley, Walsall, received £100, a free holiday and free health and hair care after winning the final of the competition on Tuesday night. ‘I was very surprised and pleased to have won,’ said Tracey. The competition at the Friar Park Road pub is believed to be the first time such a contest has been held by a pub. Ten girls took part in the final after six weeks of heats.

‘Tracey will represent the pub at our cabaret shows and other functions,’ said Mrs. Val Horobin, wife of CORONATION licensee Mr. Ken Horobin. ‘She has a super personality and we’re thrilled that she won.’

Second place was taken by 18-year-old Shani Stanton, of Tipton, while third place went to Diana Lowe, also 18, of Wednesfield.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 24/9/1983 - Advert

“The CORONATION, Friar Park, Wednesbury.

Calling All Junior Talent, ages 9-18 years, for our Junior Talent Contest.

£300 Prize Money. Also a Prize for Every Act.”

Birmingham Mail 11/8/1984 - Advert

“Jesters, the CORONATION, Friar Park, Wednesbury.

Grand Talent Contest 1984. £500 Prize Money.

There are still a few places left for entrants. Running every Tuesday night. Free Admission.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 26/11/1984 - Advert

“Jesters at the CORONATION, Friar Park, Wednesbury.

Don’t forget tonight Monday 26 November ‘Flashback’ Heavy Rock Disco.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 20/12/1984 - Advert

“Ken and Val would like to wish all their Customers old and new a Very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Jesters, Coronation Road, Wednesbury.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 29/1/1985

“A 29-year-old Black Country man has been jailed for two months and banned from a pub for two years after breaking the landlord’s jaw. Stephen Harrison returned to the CORONATION INN in Friar Park, Wednesbury, and attacked Kenneth Horobin after he had been thrown out of a private party, West Bromwich magistrates were told. Harrison, of Willenhall Street, Darlaston, was jailed and banned from the pub after pleading guilty to inflicting grievous bodily harm on Mr. Horobin. The magistrates also ordered him to pay £50 compensation to the landlord. Mr. Timothy Palmer, prosecuting, said Harrison had gone without an invitation to a ticket-only party on Christmas Eve. Mr. Horobin asked him to leave and an argument developed between the two men.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 15/12/1986 - Advert

“Auction, every Tuesday, 7.30pm CORONATION Pub, Coronation Road, Wednesbury. Viewing 6-7pm. Vendors required.”

AUCTION, every Tuesday, 7.30 pm.
Coronation Pub, Coronation Road,
Wednesbury. Viewing 6 - 7 pm.
Vendors required. — 021 556 5189.

Sandwell Evening Mail 15/4/1987

“Terrified customers tried to barricade themselves in a pub as six young people, including two girls, bombarded it with scrap metal, it was alleged in court. Mr. Gerald Challinor, prosecuting, at West Bromwich Magistrates Court, said that as the metal was handed from a lorry the youths and girls threw it at the CORONATION pub in Friar Park Road in revenge for not being admitted to a disco.

Craig Nicholls (18), of Chiltern House, Lion Farm Estate, Tracey Denise Burrows (19), of Meadow Avenue, Ronald Stephen Wise (27), of Hinckley Court, Kingsway, all of Oldbury; Marie Joanne Arnold (26), of Walton Road, Friar Park Estate, Wednesbury; Anthony Mark Janes (21), of St. Marks Road, Tipton, and a 15-year-old youth were all charged with using threatening, abusive words or behaviour with intent to provoke a breach of the peace. Nicholls and Wise were further charged with having an offensive weapon, a wooden post; and the 15-year-old was further charged with assaulting PC Stephen Wall with intent to prevent the lawful apprehension of Craig Nicholls. All six pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Challinor said a disco was taking place at the CORONATION pub, Friar Park Road, and when two doormen opened the doors late at night to let people out, the six young people in court wanted to get in. They were told they could not enter the premises and in revenge they carried out a violent physical attack on the pub and its customers. ‘Scrap metal was handed down from a nearby parked lorry and the defendants began smashing windows in the pub and carried out such a violent attack that reinforced wire to protect windows was smashed’ he alleged.

(Proceeding)”

[All were found guilty and sentenced: Joanne Marie Arnold, six weeks in jail; Tracey Denise Burrows, six weeks youth custody; Stephen Ronald Wise, six weeks in jail; Mark Anthony Janes, six weeks in jail; Craig Ian Nicholls, one month at a detention centre.]

Sandwell Evening Mail 24/8/1988

“A Wednesbury amateur boxer beat up a man whose family had waged a vendetta against his, a court heard. Steven Cowley finally snapped and lashed out with a pool cue and punched and kicked his victim, magistrates at West Bromwich heard. The attack left Darren Lake with cuts, swelling and bruising to the head, left eye and cheek, nose, forehead and lips and sore ribs, said Mr. David Griffith, prosecuting. Cowley (18), a trainee plumber, of Sandy Lane, Friar Park, pleaded guilty to unlawfully and maliciously inflicting grievous bodily harm on Mr. Lake. He was fined £200, with £20 costs, and bound over in the sum of £200 to be of good behaviour for two years.

Mr. Griffith said the attack occurred in the pool room of the CORONATION public house in Friar Park. Cowley was a keen boxer, and, in normal circumstances, kept his temper under control.

Mr. Malcolm Turner, defending, said Cowley and his family had been the victims of a five or six-year vendetta by Mr. Lake and his family. Cowley was enjoying a game of pool at the pub with friends when Mr. Lake, also with friends, began staring, pointing and sniggering at him. Eventually Cowley snapped and hit him on the chin. He fell to the floor where Cowley followed up the attack but was pulled off by others in the pub.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 25/5/1993

“Black Country friends celebrated with a well-earned pint after putting their best feet forward to raise cash for local charities. The five set off from the CORONATION pub in Friar Park, Wednesbury, for a 348-mile relay walk to Lands End in Cornwall. With the help of back-up driver, Grant Hill, the team made the journey in double-quick time, covering the distance in just 13 days. Walker Gary Wilks, of Dorset Road, Friar Park, who thought up the idea of the walk, said they hoped to have raised around £3,000 in sponsorship. The money would be split between the Rainbow House Hospice in Walsall and the Seventh Wednesbury Cub Scouts minibus appeal. Mr. Wilkes, a leader with the scout group, said, ‘Initially just me and Benny Dangerfield were going to do it. But when the others heard about it, they volunteered to come along as well.’ Les Roper, Brian Harford, and Phil Ward joined Mr. Wilks and Mr. Dangerfield for the walk.”

London Gazette 26/4/1993

“Angela Jayne Everitt, unemployed, the CORONATION Public House, Friar Park Road, Wednesbury, West Midlands, and lately carrying on business as a Publican, at the CORONATION Public House, Friar Park Road, Wednesbury, West Midlands, and the ROYAL TIGER, High Street, Wednesfield.

Court - West Bromwich.

Date of Filing Petition - 24th March 1993.

Date of Bankruptcy Order - 24th March 1993.

Whether Debtor’s or Creditor’s Petition or Petition after Criminal Bankruptcy Order – Debtor’s.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 16/2/1994

“A pub manager driven out by teenage thugs spoke today of the nightmare he and his family endured at the hands of the mob. Mr. Brian Beebee, from Wolverhampton, said that the youngsters, many high on drink and drugs, had waged a vendetta against him at the CORONATION in Friar Park Road, Wednesbury. He said that over a seven-week period the thugs beat him up, stole his car and burned it out and terrorised him and his wife Doreen. He finally threw in the towel last weekend and said that shortly after he left the pub was broken into and wrecked. He said the trouble really began when he tried to stop under-age drinkers sneaking into the CORONATION and gathering in a pool room at the back of the pub. He said that after he was beaten up by three teenagers outside the pub five minutes into New Year’s Day he closed the pool room down. The 58-year-old said, ‘I think everything since then has been a vendetta against me because I closed down their meeting place.’

Mr. Beebee, who lives in Wolverhampton but refused to have his address disclosed for fear of further reprisals, branded the teenagers ‘hardened criminals.’ He said, ‘I have been in the pub business for 15 years and run quite a few pubs but have never come across anything like this. I’m 6ft tall, 13 stone and don’t scare easily but it was scary going to bed at night there.’”

It closed in 1994.

Sandwell Evening Mail 24/4/1995

“Children breaking into a disused Wednesbury pub are thought to be responsible for the third fire at the premises in a week. Firefighters were called to the former CORONATION pub, in Friar Park, at about 1.30pm yesterday after residents spotted smoke pouring from the building. Station officer Paul Dixon, of Wednesbury fire station, said that in the last seven days most of the fixed seating left in the bar area had been destroyed. He said the fire service was trying to contact the pub’s owners to improve safety. Mr. Dixon added, ‘The windows were boarded up, but most of them have been ripped off and burned by kids.’”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 26/6/1995

“Around 20 firefighters tackled a blaze at a derelict Wednesbury pub. The fire at the CORONATION pub, Coronation Road, Friars Park, took hold just after 6pm on Saturday. It is believed the fire was started deliberately. Crews from Wednesbury, West Bromwich, Bilston and Walsall attended. Wednesbury station officer Bob George said, ‘It was quite a major fire. There have been a series of them at the pub since it was closed a few months ago.’ The blaze destroyed about half of the ground and first floors and burnt away part of the roof.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 16/10/1995

“Controversial plans to build a new supermarket on the site of a former Black Country pub look set to be approved, despite fierce opposition from more than 100 residents. Netto Foodstores wants to build the store on the plot of the CORONATION pub, in Friar Park Road, Wednesbury. The disused pub was recently demolished after more than a year of vandal and arson attacks.....”

Birmingham Mail 24/1/1996

“Notice of Application for Planning Permission.

The Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995.

Proposed development at former CORONATION Public House, Friar Park, Wednesbury.

I give notice that Netto Foodstores Limited is applying to the Sandwell Metropolitan Borough Council for planning permission for Retail supermarket with associated car park. Amended application to that previously approved to include land of former shops at 4 and 6 Friar Park Road for extra parking, access alteration and increase to floorspace of supermarket.....”

A supermarket was built on the site.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 19/10/2002

“Publication in the Express & Star of a picture of the old Friar Park garage, in Wednesbury, prompted a nostalgic trip down memory lane for nearby resident William Baker.....

‘Ron Ward lived opposite me for a good few years. Ron later moved to the CORONATION Public House, which has since been destroyed and is now the site of a supermarket.’”

Coronation Inn

FRIAR PARK ROAD (1 WHACKETTS) WEDNESBURY.

Friday, Dec. 29th : CATWEAZLE. Saturday, Dec. 30th : SWEET SOUNDS. Sunday, Dec. 31st : Lunch-time, LEE WILSON; Evening, TOUCH.

1972

Coronation Inn

FRIAR PARK ROAD (WHACKETTS) WEDNESBURY

Saturday, Jan. 20th; Sunday, Jan. 21st :

TED McDERMOTT Our Resident Entertainer.

Also Monday, Jan. 22nd: Free and Easy Concert
Wednesday 24th: Amateur Talent Competition

1973

Coronation Inn

FRIAR PARK, WEDNESBURY

Tonight and every Friday :

NEW DISCO SCENE

with the Midlands Top DJ's

THIS WEEK :

RAYMOND JOHN

8.00 till late

1974

URGENTLY required, Club Secretary for Friar Park Central Flying Club. Approximate members 40 to 45. £2 per head

Replies to The Chairman, Mr A Sayce, The Coronation Inn, Friar Park, West Bromwich

1975

THE CORONATION FRIAR PARK, WEDNESBURY

DECEMBER 24th (Christmas Eve)
CAROLS WITH DAVE WILLIAMS AT THE ORGAN

DECEMBER 27th (Boxing Night)
PARTY TIME

NEW YEAR'S EVE TOP COMEDIAN BRIAN DAY

Tickets $1.50 each

MONDAY NIGHTS VIDEO SHOW — FRIDAY NIGHTS
FREE & EASY

Bookings now being taken for special functions in 1983, buffet or sit down menu.

VIDEO FILM OF OCCASION AVAILABLE

Tel: 021-556 6819

1982

THE CORONATION FRIAR PARK, WEDNESBURY CALLING ALL JUNIOR TALENT Ages 9-18 Years for our JUNIOR TALENT CONTEST

£300 PRIZE MONEY

Also a Prize for Every Act
Telephone 021 556 6819

1983

JESTERS

THE CORONATION
FRIAR PARK, WEDNESBURY

Grand Talent Contest 1984.
£500 Prize Money

There are still a few places left for entrants. Running every Tuesday night. Free Admission.

RING 021-556 6819

JESTERS AT THE CORONATION

Friar Park,
Wednesbury

Don't forget tonight Monday
26 November

"FLASHBACK"

Heavy rock disco

1984

COTTAGE

32, (33), Wood Green Road, (91, Woodgreen), (91, Walsall Road) / Hobs Road, Wood Green, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.
Punch Taverns

LICENSEES

James Turner [1834] – [1851]
Mrs. Margaret Turner [1860] – [1862]
Leonard Dursley [1865] – [1866]
John Willis [1871]
Charles Priddin [1880] – [1881]
Mrs. Nancy Priddin [1891]
William King Townend [1900] – [1901]
David Townend [1903] – [1904]
William King Townend [1908] – [1916]
James Bagby [1921]
Mrs. Beatrice Aston [1920s] – [1934]
Ronald James Harper Aston [1939] – [1940]
Mary Ellen Murray [1961] – 1964;
Edith Maud Ellen Millington (1964 – [1966]
Albert Ray [1969]
John Holden (1974 – 1996)
Gordon Richard Higgs and Georgina Karen 'Gina' Roberts (1998 – [1999]
Wayne Wilkinson []

1986

NOTES

91, Walsall Road [1871]
91, Woodgreen [1881]
33, Wood Green Road [1911], [1921]
32, Woodgreen Road [1940], [1999]

It was originally Wood Green Farm.

WOOD GREEN COTTAGE. [1834], [1900], [1904], [1908], [1912], [1916], [1921]

It had a beerhouse license.

1841 Census

Wood Green

- [1] James Turner (50), gun barrel welder, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Margaret Turner (50), born Staffordshire;
- [3] George Dodds (25), gardener;
- [4] William Gateley (30), sawyer, born Staffordshire:

James Turner, beer retailer and gun barrel forger, Wood Green. [1849]

Birmingham Journal 23/3/1850 - Advert

"To be Shot For, at Mr. Turner's, WOOD GREEN COTTAGE, Wednesbury, on Easter Tuesday, April the 2nd, 1850, a Fat Pig; Twenty Subscribers, £1 each. Conditions, Three Pigeons each; Shot limited to 2oz; Guns not to exceed $\frac{3}{4}$ inch bore, and to be below the elbow till the bird is on the wing. Putter up to spend £3, and the Winner £2. First Bird to be trapped at Twelve o'clock. Dinner at Six o'clock."

1851 Census

Wood Green

- [1] James Turner (62), gun barrel welder, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Margaret Turner (62), wife, born Madeley, Shropshire;
- [3] Leonard Dursley (12), visitor, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Elizabeth Billingsley (27), house servant, born Wednesbury;

1861 Census

Wood Green

- [1] Margaret Turner (72), widow, innkeeper, born Madeley, Shropshire;
- [2] Leonard Dursley (22), boarder, unmarried, edge tool maker, born Woodgreen;
- [3] Elizabeth Dursley (20), unmarried, house servant, born Woodgreen;
- [4] David Richards (36), boarder, gas tube welder, born Woodgreen;
- [5] Emma Richards (36), boarder, born Birmingham;

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1866

"Licensing Day applications for new [spirit] licenses.....

Mr. Hooper applied on behalf of Leonard Dursley, WOOD GREEN COTTAGE, Wood Green, Wednesbury. House situated 104 yards from the nearest licensed house. No opposition Refused."

Leonard Dursley – see also BULLS HEAD, Tame Bridge.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 26/11/1869 - Advert

"Wood Green, Wednesbury.

WOOD GREEN COTTAGE INN (Half-mile from the above Town).

By E. B. Scholefield.

To be Sold, the Licenses and Possession of the above well-frequented Beerhouse, now doing a lucrative and regular trade, with large Gardens, Stabling, Cow-house, Workshop, and most convenient Premises. Satisfactory reasons given for leaving. Coming-in low.

Apply to the Auctioneer. Offices, 28, Church Street, Wednesbury."

1871 Census

91, Walsall Road

- [1] John Willis (28), publican and waggoner, born Dodford, Worcestershire;
- [2] Sarah A. Willis (25), wife, born Tipton;
- [3] James A. Willis (3), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Elizabeth Harvey (18), general servant, born Wednesbury;

Bromsgrove & Droitwich Messenger 22/3/1879

"William Sharman applied for the transfer of the license of the Horn and Trumpet Inn, on the Kidderminster Road, to John Willis, Wood Green, Wednesbury. The Bench granted the application."

Wednesbury Herald 18/10/1879

"Two young men, named John Farrell and Joseph Jewkes, were charged with being drunk and refusing to quit the COTTAGE INN, Wood Green, when requested to do so.

On the 4th inst the defendants went into the house when in a drunken state and commenced to fight, and on being requested to leave the house they refused to do so.

The Bench fined each of the defendants 10s and costs, or in default 21 days' imprisonment."

1881 Census

91, Woodgreen – WOODGREEN COTTAGE

- [1] Charles Priddin (27), beerhouse keeper and baker, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Nancy Priddin (24), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Florence Priddin (1), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Maria Yardley (55), mother-in-law, born Birmingham;
- [5] Bartley Yardley (16), brother-in-law, coach axle maker, born Wednesbury:

1891 Census

Wood Green – COTTAGE INN

- [1] Nancy Priddin (33), married, beerhouse keeper, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Florance Priddin (11), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Archibald Priddin (9), son, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Bertie Priddin (7), son, born Wednesbury:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 31/10/1898

“On Saturday evening, the second annual supper in connection with Wednesbury Wood Green Cycling Club was held at the Headquarters, WOOD GREEN COTTAGE. Nearly fifty members and friends sat down.....

The Secretary read the report, which showed that the club is in a prosperous state, considering that it had only been in existence two years, and that there was a balance to go to next year’s account.”

William K. Townsend, beerhouse keeper, WOOD GREEN COTTAGE. [1900]

1901 Census

Wood Green Road – COTTAGE INN

- [1] William K. Townend (34), blacksmith, tubes, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Louisa Townend (31), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Louie Townend (7), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Florence S. Townend (4), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Sebia L. Townend (3), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [6] William K. Townend (9 months), son, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Lois Townend (22), sister, born Wednesbury;
- [8] David Townend (20), brother, carpenter, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Advertiser 5/12/1903

“Walsall County Court. Wednesday.

Joseph George Proffitt, saddle-tree maker, Queen Street, sued David Townsend, innkeeper, Wood Green, for £2 10s, value of work done. For the plaintiff Mr. J. Armstrong appeared, and for the defence Mr. J. Wylie.

The plaintiff’s case was that it was defendant who gave the order for the repair of the bureau, which defendant also stated was his.

For the defence, it was urged that the bureau belonged to William Townsend, defendant’s brother, that William Townsend died without leaving any estate, and it was only when plaintiff found himself unable to recover the money that he brought the present proceedings.

In cross-examination it was stated by defendant that the bureau belonged to his brother’s widow.

His Honour, in giving judgement, after commenting upon the conflicting nature of the evidence, held that the bureau at the time plaintiff was asked to do the repairs, was the property of William Townsend, and His Honour further remarked that the probabilities were that the instructions were given by the deceased man. It was to be regretted that it had been stated in a letter that the deceased had no asset, inasmuch as there were assets. He gave a verdict for the defendant with costs.”

It was the headquarters of Wednesbury Wood Green Cycling Club (f.1897). [1904], [1905]

1911 Census

33, Wood Green Road – COTTAGE

[1] William King Townend (66), widower, publican, born Newsam Green, Yorkshire;

[2] Keziah Townend (34), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[3] Lois Townend (32), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[4] Edith Townend (25), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[5] Sebra Townend (13), grand-daughter, born Wednesbury:

William King Townend – see also QUEENS HEAD, Queen Street.

Evening Despatch 29/9/1934

“Search for bodies was still going on today underneath the torn and twisted coaches of a Blackpool-London express which was telescoped on the rear of a local train at Winwick Junction, near Warrington last night. Four bodies out of ten remained to be identified today, and the first of these proved to be that of Mrs. Beatrice Aston, aged 62, of COTTAGE INN, Wood Green, Wednesbury.....

Mrs. Aston was a widow with one son and had been licensee of the COTTAGE INN for about 12 years.”

AND

Evening Despatch 2/10/1934

“The only evidence called at the Warrington inquest today on the ten victims of the Winwick Junction train crash was that of a signalman named Bluer.

Bluer, signalman at Winwick junction-box, admitted in evidence that he omitted to signal the 8.55 Warrington train forward and take off the signal. Bluer said he had been most anxious to get a cattle train on to the side lines. ‘But somehow,’ he continued, ‘I seemed glued on the Wigan side. Then the signal bell rang and I knew the train from Euston was coming. I went to the instrument board and gave the ‘all clear’’. Passing his hand across his forehead Bluer said, ‘I completely forgot about the 8.55pm Warrington.’

The Coroner remarked that 160,000,000 people had passed through the junction in Bluer’s 21½ years in the box. He had never had an accident.

The jury, in reply to the Coroner, said they wished to say nothing about the conduct of signalman Bluer.

A verdict of Death by Misadventure was recorded.”

Evening Despatch 28/5/1935

“For the first time for some years a profit was reported on the year’s working at the 13th annual meeting of Wednesbury Rugby FC at the COTTAGE INN Wood Green, when Mr. D. C. Jackson presided. The treasurer (Mr. H. M. Armstrong) said that although they commenced the year with a deficit, this had been changed into a credit balance of £43 3s 9d. This was chiefly due to a profit of £81 8s 2d on social events. With the taking over of the new ground at Bescot the club would save about £40 each year.”

1939 Register

Wood Green Road – COTTAGE INN

[1] Ronald J. H. Aston, date of birth 30/3/1905, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Doris Aston, dob 28/8/1894, domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 2/11/1940 - Advert

“By Order of the Inland Revenue.

The COTTAGE INN, Wood Green, Wednesbury.

Messrs. Joseph Potts & Sons will Sell by Auction, on the above premises, on Tuesday Next, the 5th November, 1940, Ford 10-HP Saloon Car (1939), excellent Pianoforte (by Rodgers, London), Sideboard, Oak Cabinet, Extending Table, Fireside Chair, etc.

Bar Fittings, Tables Stools, Garden Furniture, etc, unless previously redeemed, in Lots without reserve.

Sale to Commence at 11-30am.

Auctioneer’s Office: 29a, Queen Street Wolverhampton.”

Birmingham Weekly Mercury 18/11/1956

“The ‘Dull Midlands Blues’ is not a jazz tune. But the young people of Birmingham and the Black Country know it as a feeling. Now eight of them, all jazz music enthusiasts, are doing something about it. They wanted somewhere to play, sing and laugh. So they rented a cottage in the grounds of the COTTAGE INN, Wood Green, Wednesbury. And every Friday night they travel from homes in Birmingham, West Bromwich, Oldbury and Wednesbury to paint and polish, scrub and clean – and play. In six weeks’ time, at a cost of about £50, they will have their own club.....”

Walsall Observer 24/8/1962 - Advert

“Attention! all Mild drinkers.

Highgate Mild is now available in the following Butlers and Atkinsons houses.....
COTTAGE, Wood Green, Wednesbury.”

Permission for a small alteration to the off license was granted on 5th February 1965.

Edith Maud Ellen Millington – see also STAR MUSIC HALL, Darlaston.

Birmingham Mail 29/1/1969

“Two Dudley men who enacted a charade to rob an 84 year-old woman – the aunt of one of them – were a pair of worthless scoundrels, said Mr. Justice Ashworth at Staffordshire Assizes. He sent them to prison for three years, with a further year for two offences of shop and office breaking involving the theft of £14 10s and 4,000 cigarettes. They are Frederick Jones (26), a barman, of Malvern Crescent, Holly Hall, Dudley, and James Baggott (29), lorry driver, of Kinver Terrace, Holly Hall. They pleaded guilty to the robbery with aggravation of Jones’s aunt, Mrs. Edith Jones, and admitted the two breaking and entering offences. Albert Ray (54), licensee of the COTTAGE INN, Wood Green Road, Wednesbury, admitted receiving 1,200 cigarettes from them, knowing they were stolen. He was fined £25.....”

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Social Dominoes League. [1970]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 18/10/1974 - Advert

“Part-Time Bar Staff required, mornings and evenings, also cleaner, Friday, Saturday, Sunday mornings.
COTTAGE INN, Wood Green.”

PART-TIME BAR STAFF required, mornings and evenings, also cleaner. Friday, Saturday, Sunday mornings – Cottage Inn, Wood
Green. Telephone 556 2253.

A team from here took part in the Wolverhampton Air Rifle League. [1977]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 24/4/1980 - Advert

“Part-Time Bar Staff required, mornings and evenings.
COTTAGE INN, Wood Green Road, Wednesbury.”

PART-TIME BAR STAFF required
mornings and evenings
Cottage Inn, Wood Green Road
Wednesbury. 021 556 2253

Wolverhampton Express and Star 14/7/1980

“A tug-of-war contest at a Wednesbury fete was abandoned after it developed into a war of words. Arguments arose during a quarter-final tug between the ROBIN HOOD, Collis Street, Amblecote, and the WINDMILL, Coronation Road, Wednesbury. And after a conference between the two referees and captains from all eight teams competing it was decided to abandon the rest of the contest. ‘There were a few pointed fingers and some hard words, but no actual violence,’ said Mr. Martin Law of Wednesbury Round Table, the organisers of Saturday’s Brunswick Park fete. ‘To prevent an explosive situation developing it was felt best to abandon the lot.’

Trouble started when the ROBIN HOOD lads were accused of putting two fresh men in their team. But licensee Mr. George Wright said, ‘We could not believe our ears. We could not possibly have changed two men because it was our first pull, nor would we have. We were there for the sport. There was no bad conduct on our team’s part.’

But the man who admits to being ‘the main one’ in the argument – Mr. Keith Hemming, of 68 Barlow Road, Wednesbury, who captained a team from the COTTAGE INN, Wood Green Road – maintains there was a swop. He said the Amblecote men were too professional for the contest – a claim dismissed by Mr. Wright – and should not have been allowed to compete when other Wednesbury teams were unable to. Fete organiser Mr. Law said two teams from the Stourbridge area were accepted three weeks ago when it looked as if the contest would not have enough entrants.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 20/10/1980 - Advert

"Sea Angling Club. Members wanted.
The COTTAGE INN, Wood Green Road, Wednesbury."

SEA ANGLING CLUB. Members
wanted. — The Cottage Inn, Wood
Green Road, Wednesbury. 021 556
2253.

Sandwell Evening Mail 18/6/1982

"Fourteen Wednesbury pubs have failed in a bid to cash in on the Bank Holiday beer trade by applying for license extensions. West Bromwich magistrates refused to allow an extra hour's drinking time on August Bank Holiday
The 14 pubs which have been denied the extra hour's drinking are.....
COTTAGE INN, Wood Green, Wednesbury."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 14/7/1982 - Advert

"Part Time Bar Staff required.
Apply, the COTTAGE INN, Wood Green Road, Wednesbury."

PART TIME BAR STAFF required.
Apply — The Cottage Inn, Wood
Green Road, Wednesbury.
Telephone 021 556 2253.

Black Country Bugle 19/11/1998 - Advert

"A Warm Welcome awaits you at the COTTAGE INN, 32 Woodgreen Road, Wednesbury.
Now under the new management of Gina and Gordon.
Relax in a friendly atmosphere and sit back in front of a real open fire and enjoy a pint from our wide selection of draught beers. Also bottled beers available.
Lunchtime Bar Snacks Available. Try our Steak Sandwiches or Pork and Stuffing.
Darts. Crib. Dominoes."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 24/11/1998 - Advert

"Application for Entertainments License to Sandwell Metropolitan Borough Council.
The COTTAGE INN, Wood Green Road, Wednesbury WS10 9QL.
Notice is hereby given that I Gina Roberts intend to apply for an Public Entertainments License for the premises known as the COTTAGE INN for the following hours, Mon-Sat 8pm-11pm.
If anyone objects, they must contact Sandwell MBC Licensing Office within 28 days.
Licensing Office Consumer Services Section, Coneygre Road, Tipton, West Midlands DY4 8XR."

Black Country Bugle 29/7/1999 - Advert

"Gina and Gordon welcome you to the COTTAGE INN, 32 Woodgreen Road, Wednesbury.
Relax in a friendly atmosphere and sit back and enjoy a pint from our wide selection of draught beers. Also bottled beers available.
Regular Beer Promotions. Beer Garden. BBQ every Saturday night weather permitting.
Large Function Room available for Weddings, Birthdays, Parties, etc."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/8/2000

"Insolvency Act 1986. In Bankruptcy Walsall County Court.....
Re Gordon Richard Higgs, 166 Coronation Road, Wednesbury, West Midlands, Publican, lately residing at the COTTAGE, 32 Woodgreen Road, Wednesbury, and carrying on business as the COTTAGE (with another) at 32 Woodgreen Road, Wednesbury, West Midlands, WS10 9QL."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 24/10/2000

"Insolvency Act 1986. In Bankruptcy Walsall County Court.....
Re Georgina Karen Roberts, 166 Coronation Road, Wednesbury, West Midlands, Publican, lately residing at the COTTAGE, 32 Woodgreen Road, Wednesbury, and carrying on business as the COTTAGE (with another) at 32 Woodgreen Road, Wednesbury, West Midlands, WS10 9QL."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/6/2002 - Advert

"The COTTAGE, Woodgreen Road, Wednesbury.
Car Boot sale, Monday June 3, 10am. £5 per car."

THE COTTAGE. Woodgreen
Road, Wednesbury, Car Boot sale, Monday June 3, 10am. £5 per car. 07796 110291

Wolverhampton Express and Star 15/8/2003

“Walsall County Court proceedings.....

Wayne Wilkinson of and trading with another at the ROSEHILL TAVERN, Church Hill, Wednesbury, as publicans, latterly of 14 John Fletch Close, Wednesbury, and formerly of and trading at the COTTAGE INN, Wood Green Road, Wednesbury, as a publican.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 28/8/2003 - Advert

“Jack Russell puppies for sale. Telephone 0121 556 0850. The COTTAGE INN, Woodgreen Road, Wednesbury.”

JACK RUSSELL puppies for sale.
Telephone 0121 556 0850 The
Cottage Inn, Woodgreen Road,
Wednesbury.

[2008]

Closed [2009], [2017]

Express & Star 12/7/2017

“The former COTTAGE INN located in Hobs Road, Wednesbury, was once considered a ‘garden pub’ but fell into disrepair and has stood empty for 10 years. But now new owners have taken over the property and there are plans to turn the site into apartments. The move has been welcomed by ward councillors, who led a campaign calling for the site to be cleared up.

Wednesbury North councillor Peter Hughes, said, ‘I think the sooner they put the spade in the ground and get it off the ground, the better. It has been such a detriment to the local community.’

A planning application has been submitted to Sandwell Council to demolish the current property and build apartments in its place, said Councillor Hughes. A Sandwell Council report said ownership of the property has ‘very recently changed hands.’

The new owners will carry out work to tidy up the premises while they await the outcome of their application, the report said. ‘The new owners have given an undertaking to carry out some remedial works while they await approval of their planning application. The proposed works include securing both the site boundary and the former pub itself at ground floor level.’

The former pub currently lies in a state of disrepair. Its windows and doors are missing and rubbish has been left lying strewn across the premises. Residents living nearby complained that youths regularly break onto the site and start fires, prompting fears for their safety and the need for firefighters to be called out to the scene. As part of the campaign launched by councillors, a petition was launched calling on action to be taken which saw more than 80 people give their signature. The plans will be a welcome development for the community living nearby, said fellow Wednesbury North councillor Tony Meehan. ‘It needs something desperate,’ he said. ‘It will be welcome development for the community.’”

Demolished

Housing was built on the site. [2020]

Beermat

TO be SHOT FOR, at Mr. TURNER'S, Wood Green Cottage, Wednesbury, on EASTER TUESDAY, April the 2nd, 1850, a FAT PIG; Twenty Subscribers, £1. each. Conditions, Three Pigeons each; Shot limited to 2 oz.; Guns not to exceed 3-inch bore, and to be below the elbow till the bird is on the wing. Putter up to spend £3., and the Winner £2. First Bird to be trapped at Twelve o'clock. Dinner at Six o'clock.

1850

WOOD GREEN, WEDNESBURY.

WOOD GREEN COTTAGE INN
(Half-mile from the above Town).

BY E. B. SCHOLEFIELD.—To be SOLD, the BEERHOUSE, now doing a lucrative and regular trade, with large Gardens, Stabling, Cow-house, Workshop, and most convenient Premises. Satisfactory reasons given for leaving. Coming-in low. —Apply to the Auctioneer. Offices, 28, Church Street, Wednesbury.

1869

By Order of the Inland Revenue.

THE COTTAGE INN,
WOOD GREEN, WEDNESBURY.

MESSRS. JOSEPH POTTS & SONS will SELL by AUCTION, on the above premises, on TUESDAY NEXT, the 5th
NOVEMBER, 1940, FORD 10-H.P. SALOON
CAR (1939), excellent PIANOFORTE (by Rodgers, London), Sideboard, Oak Cabinet,
Extending Table, Fireside Chair, etc.

Bar Fittings, Tables, Stools, Garden Furniture, etc., unless previously redeemed, in Lots without reserve.

Sale to Commence at 11.30 a.m.

Auctioneer's Office: 29a, QUEEN STREET,
WOLVERHAMPTON.

1940

ATTENTION! all MILD drinkers

HIGHGATE MILD is now available in the following BUTLERS and ATKINSONS houses:—

BRIDGE HOUSE, Bloxwich Road, Walsall.	RAILWAY TAVERN, James Bridge,
NEW NAVIGATION, Birchills, Walsall.	Darlaston.
WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, Walsall.	RISING SUN, Piercy Street, Newtown,
FALCON, Lichfield Street, Walsall.	Wednesbury.
FITTERS ARMS, Hatherton St., Walsall.	FORESTERS ARMS, Oxford Street,
FORGE HAMMER, Rolling Mill Street,	Wednesbury.
Ploek, Walsall.	OLD BLUE BALL, Hall End, Wednesbury.
FOUNTAIN, Lower Forster Street, Walsall.	PRINCE REGENT, Victoria Street,
NEW INN, Green Lane, Walsall.	Wednesbury.
PRINCE OF WALES, Queen St., Walsall.	COTTAGE, Wood Green, Wednesbury.
BEAR & RAGGED STAFF, High Street,	SPRING COTTAGE, The Paddock,
Walsall.	Walsall.
COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridgeman St.,	HARDEN, Coalpool Lane, Walsall.
Walsall.	NEWPORT ARMS, Ploek Road, Walsall.
TANNERS ARMS, Day Street, Walsall.	VINE, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall.
DUKE OF YORK, Moxley Rd., Darlaston.	KINGS ARMS, High Street, Bloxwich.
BLACK HORSE, Pinfold St., Darlaston.	FOUNTAIN, Portland Street, Walsall.
NELSON, Catherine's Cross, Darlaston.	STAFFORDSHIRE KNOT, Catherine's
WHITE LION, King Street, Darlaston.	Cross, Darlaston.
KINGS HILL TAVERN, Darlaston Road,	BIRD IN HAND, Pinfold Street, Darlaston.
Wednesbury.	HORSE & JOCKEY, High Bullen,
DARTMOUTH INN, High St., Darlaston.	Wednesbury.
HASS HEAD, The Green, Darlaston.	GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place, Wed-
OLD BUSH, The Green, Darlaston.	nesbury.
STAR MUSIC HALL, James Bridge,
Darlaston.

Pride of the Midlands

1962

A Warm Welcome Awaits You At

THE COTTAGE INN

32 WOODGREEN ROAD,
WEDNESBURY

TEL: 0121 556 2253

NOW UNDER THE NEW MANAGEMENT OF GINA AND GORDON

Relax in a friendly atmosphere and sit back in front of a real open fire and enjoy a pint from our wide selection of draught beers. Also bottled beers available

Lunchtime Bar Snacks Available
Try our Steak Sandwiches or Pork & Stuffing

DARTS • CRIB • DOMINOES

1998

Gina & Gordon welcome you to

THE COTTAGE INN
32 WOODGREEN ROAD, WEDNESBURY
TEL: 0121 556 2253

*Relax in a friendly atmosphere and sit back and enjoy a pint from our wide selection of draught beers.
Also bottled beers available.*

REGULAR BEER PROMOTIONS BEER GARDEN

BBO EVERY SATURDAY NIGHT
WEATHER PERMITTING

Large Function Room available for Weddings,
Birthdays, Parties, etc.

1999

2008

COTTAGE OF CONTENT

New Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Wilson [1834]

COTTAGE SPRING

27, (Old) Bilston Road / Darlaston Road, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Thomas Oliver Ltd.
William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1961]

LICENSEES

Benjamin Owen [1859]
John Lucas [1861]
William Cox [1864] – [1867]
John Evans [1871]
William Jackson [1881] – [1893]
Henry Beesley [1900] – [1901]
Thomas Fowell [1903]
William Beddow [1911] – [1921]
William Handley [1926]
James Henry Smith [1960] – 1961):

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Birmingham Daily Post 8/6/1859

“Benjamin Owen, beerhouse keeper, Wednesbury, was charged by the police with having allowed cock-fighting in his house. The case was remanded from last week. The evidence of Police-constable 171 (Thorley) was to the effect that on Monday fortnight he went to defendant’s house, and saw a room with a carpet down, on which was some blood, and a dead cock. There were a number of persons in the house. Mr. Inspector Blaney deposed that he went to the house on the day in question, when he found two live cocks in boxes, trimmed ready for fighting, and a cloth with marks of blood upon it. There were also about 150 persons in the house and yard. The case was dismissed by the Bench, as there was no proof of an actual cock-fight on defendant’s premises, nor was there any proof of disorderly conduct being allowed.”

Chester Chronicle 22/10/1859

“A shocking tragedy occurred at Wednesbury, South Staffordshire, on Tuesday evening. On the night in question a beerhouse keeper, named Benjamin Owen, aged about 40, residing in Bilston Road, Wednesbury, reached home, when he found his wife, with several other females, including her sister, drinking in the bar. It seems that he had an objection to his wife keeping company with some of the women assembled, and seeing that she was a little the worse for liquor, he immediately ordered her to bed. She refused to go, and he then struck her and knocked her down, and attempted to kick her whilst down, but was prevented by the persons in the bar. Mrs. Owen then ran out of the house, and secreted herself in the pantry of a house tenanted by a man named Cresswell. She entreated Cresswell’s wife to hide her and to keep the door locked. Her husband, however, followed her, and upon the door being opened he looked up stairs and all around until he found her. He then pulled her out, struck her, and knocked her down. She cried, ‘Oh, Ben, don’t,’ but he kicked her under the ear. She at once fell upon the floor of Cresswell’s house and expired. Owen then said, ‘I have done it, and shan’t run away.’ Upon being told that she was dead, he returned and kissed her, but made no remark. The deceased had a dreadful contused wound under the left ear, and blood had oozed from the ear, showing the violence of the blow which caused death. Owen, when arrested, showed not the slightest concern.”

Chester Chronicle 10/12/1859

“Staffordshire Winter Assizes.....

Benjamin Owen, gasfitter, was arraigned for the wilful murder of his wife, on the 18th of October last, at Wednesbury. The counsel for the prosecution stated that in this case the prisoner had been committed by the coroner on the charge of manslaughter, but by the magistrates on the charge of murder; and the grand jury having returned a bill for the major offence, the prisoner now stood before them on that charge.

The prisoner was the keeper of the COTTAGE SPRING beerhouse, at Wednesbury, and his wife having lately become addicted to intemperate habits, had occasioned a very ill feeling against her by her husband. In addition, she had some relatives whose company he prohibited her from keeping. Returning home on the day of the offence, he found the deceased intoxicated, and learned that the prohibited relatives had been at his house. He then commenced an attack upon her. He drove her to take refuge in a neighbour's house, wither he followed her, and either by a blow or a kick inflicted injuries of which she died. A number of witnesses were called to prove the facts of the case.

For the defence, it was contended that the prisoner was not even guilty of manslaughter, and that death was occasioned by apoplexy.

His Lordship summed up the case as one of manslaughter, and the jury, after a very brief consultation, found the prisoner guilty of that offence; and he was sentenced to six years' penal servitude.”

1861 Census

Bilston Road – COTTAGE SPRING

- [1] John Lucas (47), publican, birthplace not known;
- [2] Hannah Lucas (45), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Benjamin Lucas (19), son, puddler, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Eliza Lucas (14), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Emily Ford (3), visitor, scholar, born Wednesbury;

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/2/1862

“At Wednesbury Petty Sessions yesterday, John Lucas, beerhouse keeper, Bilston Road, was summoned on a charge of having on the afternoon of Sunday, the 8th inst, kept his house open for the sale of beer during hours prohibited by the statute. Police-sergeant Gasson deposed that on the afternoon in question he visited defendant's house, and there found a number of men in an upstairs room with a quantity of liquor before them. Defendant's wife admitted the offence. Defendant had been fined £3 and costs twelve months ago, for refusing to admit the police. Fined 40s and costs.”

John Lucas – see also LAMP.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 13/8/1864

“E. Humpage of Wednesbury will fight Sulphur of Dudley at catch weight, for £20 or £25 a side. An answer through Bells Life will be immediately attended to, or a letter to Humpage, at Mr. W. Cox's, COTTAGE SPRING, Wednesbury, will ensure a match.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 8/10/1864

“J. Watkiss of Wednesbury will run any lad of his weight (60lb) five score yards, for £5 a side, at Aston Cross Grounds. Money ready at Cox's, COTTAGE SPRING, Bilston Road, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/11/1865

“William Cox, beerhouse keeper, yesterday appeared at Wednesbury Petty Sessions in answer to a summons charging him with assaulting Mrs. Mary Bettaney. On Saturday night the complainant was in the market, when she met the defendant and his wife. On her asking the defendant to pay her some money which he owed her for articles he had had from her shop, the defendant used very abusive language towards the complainant, and said he would not pay. He then gave her a severe kick on the thigh. He afterwards attempted to strike her, but was prevented by a man who interfered on behalf of the complainant. The complainant had given him no provocation. The defendant was fined 20s and costs for the assault, and also 5s and costs for creating a breach of the peace on the same night.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/11/1865

“William Cox, of the COTTAGE SPRING, Darlaston Road, Wednesbury, was charged with having assaulted Maria Bettaney, of Ladburys Lane.

The prosecutrix is a married woman, and sells earthenware in the market. Last Saturday night, between eleven and twelve o'clock, Mrs. Bettaney was returning from market, with some groceries, when she saw Cox and his wife in High Bullen, near Ladburys Lane. She thought it an opportunity to speak to him about a little debt, and accordingly ventured to stop him. Defendant said, ‘What is it you want, to meet me in the street and ask me for what I owe you,’ and then kicked her in a way which excited the greatest indignation amongst the bystanders, and which to the woman herself, who was pregnant, was highly dangerous. A puddler, named Swift, coming up at the time, prevented defendant from repeating his kick by bestowing a good full blow upon him. Defendant then turned round, and a fight between the two men ensued. Mrs. Bettaney deposed to these facts, and Swift corroborated her evidence.

Upon an examination by Mr. Ebsworth, Swift admitted that he was on unfriendly terms with the defendant, and that he struck him behind and then ran away. Mr. Ebsworth commented upon the conduct of Swift, who was put forward as the ‘hero’ of the case; the protector of female helplessness. His version of the affair was that Mrs. Bettaney most improperly stopped defendant in the street at nearly midnight, and troubled him for an account which he had always disputed; that she used disgraceful language both to him and his wife, and at length positively struck him in the face, but that he never kicked her.

Two witnesses were then called for the defence. The first acknowledged that he saw defendant lift his foot to the woman; but the second, named Cooley, denied that defendant either kicked or attempted to kick her.

Police-constable Evans arrived at the spot when the defendant was fighting with Swift. At that time all the bystanders were crying out against Cox for his brutal conduct to the woman.

The Bench imposed a fine of 20s and costs upon Cox for his assault upon the woman; and 5s and costs for a breach of the peace, proved by the police.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 23/12/1865

“T. Booth of Wednesbury will run Kendrick or Bayliss of the same place 100 yards, for £5 or £10 a side; or will take three yards in 100, for the like amount, of Waring of Wednesbury. Either match can be made any night next week at W. Cox's, COTTAGE SPRING, Bilston Road, Wednesbury.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 28/7/1866

“E. Dudley of Stourbridge and Young Willcox of Hill Top are matched to run 100 yards, for £10 a side, Dudley giving Willcox two yards start, at Aston Cross Grounds, on Monday, August 13. Mr. B. Hawkins of Wednesbury final stakeholder and referee, and a further deposit has to be made this evening at Cox's, COTTAGE SPRING TAVERN, Wednesbury.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 9/3/1867

“T. Booth of London (late of Wednesbury) will run Fletcher of Wednesbury 100 yards, for £5 up to £20 a side, on Easter Monday, at Mr. Harding's Grounds, Lea Brook, Wednesbury; or Vernon of Wednesbury can be on at the same terms. If either will send articles to W. Cox, the COTTAGE SPRING, they will be signed, and a match made.”

1871 Census

Bilston Road – COTTAGE SPRING

[1] John Evans (43), publican, beer shop, born Wednesbury;

[2] Prudence Evans (40), wife, born Wednesbury:

1881 Census

27, Old Bilston Road – COTTAGE SPRING

[1] William Jackson (48), furnace man, born Burton, Staffordshire;

[2] Mary Anne Jackson (45), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] Charlotte Dunkoffe (20), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

[4] Joseph Taylor (70), grand-father, miner, unemployed, born Wednesbury;

[5] Harry Reynolds (12), nephew, born Wednesbury:

1891 Census

27, Bilston Road – COTTAGE SPRING INN

[1] William Jackson (57), widower, publican, born Branston, Staffordshire;

[2] Hannah Wright (18), niece, barmaid, born Wednesbury;

[3] Sarah J. Wright (16), niece, domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

[4] William Wright (14), nephew, errand boy, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1891

“The adjourned licensing meeting for the Wednesbury petty sessional division was held yesterday.....

The Superintendent withdrew the objection to the renewal of the license to Mr. William Jackson, the COTTAGE SPRING beerhouse, Bilston Road, certain desired structural alterations having been made Renewed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/8/1893

“The first sitting of the Borough Bench for licensing purposes for the parish of Wednesbury took place yesterday..... Notice of opposition to renewal had been served upon the occupier of each of the premises where there had been a conviction for offence against license, except in the case of William Bird, of the BLUE BALL, Earps Lane, who was fined at the last court day for permitting gaming.

The renewals to be opposed were....

William Jackson, the COTTAGE SPRING, Old Bilston Road.

The Mayor commented with regret upon the increase in the numbers of offences and convictions shown by the returns; and the contentious business was adjourned till the adjourned licensing day, the 29th inst.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 30/9/1893

“The adjourned licensing session for Wednesbury borough took place yesterday.....

There were ten adjourned cases, the police objecting to the renewals on the grounds of convictions; but all the licenses were renewed, with suitable admonitions and cautions.”

Henry Beesley = Henry Beasley

Birmingham Daily Post 5/7/1900

“At Walsall County Court, yesterday, an interpleader case was heard in which Samuel Hughes, furniture dealer, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury, claimed certain furniture which had been seized by Henry Beesley, beerhouse keeper, SPRING COTTAGE INN, Wednesbury, on the premises of Dr. Farquhar Matherson, of Hall End, Wednesbury. Mr. J. H. Stockdale (Wednesbury) was for the claimant, and Mr. S. E. Loxton (Walsall) for the execution creditor.

Claimant’s case was that he supplied the goods to Dr. Matherson under a hiring agreement. The Deputy Judge (Mr. S. Dorsett) gave a verdict in his favour, but declined to allow costs, on the ground that the claimant would not furnish a list of the goods which belonged to him when asked to do so, and that in consequence Beesley was justified in seizing them to make Hughes prove his title.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 12/1/1901

“On Friday afternoon the Wednesbury magistrates were occupied for a considerable time in the investigation of a rather bad case of assault brought by a grocer’s manager, named Herbert Collins Moore, of Dale Street, Wednesbury, against Henry Beasley, landlord of the COTTAGE SPRING INN, Bilston Road, and his wife Elizabeth Beasley, the offence having been committed on the 29th ult.

It transpired that for some time the prosecutor had managed a business for the defendant, Beasley. He alleged that on the date in question Beasley came into the shop, and after questioning him upon financial matters accused him of being a thief. This the prosecutor strongly repudiated, whereupon defendant rushed at him and struck him a violent blow in the left ribs. The prosecutor then picked up a weight off the counter which he threatened to throw at defendant if he repeated the assault. Defendant, without a moment’s hesitation, however, rushed at the complainant and again beat him in a savage manner, and he was very badly knocked about. The complainant admitted throwing the weight at the prosecutor when he rushed at him the second time, but said it went over his head and dropped on the floor.

The defence was that Moore assaulted Henry Beasley, who took out a cross-summons.

The Bench regarded the case as a serious one, and fined Henry Beasley £2 and costs, in all £3 19s, and his wife 5s and costs. The summons against Moore was dismissed.”

AND

Walsall Advertiser 19/1/1901

“Henry Beasley, licensed victualler and grocer, at Wednesbury, has been fined £3 or a month for assaulting an assistant in his employ.”

1901 Census

27, Bilston Road

- [1] Henry Beesley (36), licensed victualler, born Bearley, Worcestershire;
- [2] Elizabeth Beesley (32), wife, born Wilmcote, Worcestershire;
- [3] Thomas Beesley (7), son, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Reginald Beesley (4), son, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Fenara Beesley (2), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Harriet Tranter (19), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;
- [7] John Kendrick (23), groom, born Brierley Hill;
- [8] Ethel Beesley (10), daughter, born Wednesbury;

Walsall Observer 17/1/1903

“At West Bromwich County Court, on Tuesday, before Judge Howland Roberts and a jury, Eliza Harvey, tailoress, of Oak Road, West Bromwich, brought an action to recover £100 from Thomas Fowell, of the COTTAGE SPRING INN, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, damages alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiff by reason of the defendant’s breach of promise to marry her in October last. Mr. C. H. Darby appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. J. Clark defended. The case for the plaintiff was that she became acquainted with the defendant whilst he was employed as a brewer for his aunt. They had been acquainted for about two years, but this was broken off towards the latter end of last year. Defendant, it was alleged, met the plaintiff as she was leaving her employment at Oldbury, and walked with her to West Bromwich, and in the course of the journey he made a promise of marriage to her, and told her he wanted a short courtship, as he was anxious to go into a public house. Plaintiff, as usual, asked for time to consider the offer, but ultimately accepted it, and they were regarded by their friends as an engaged couple. Defendant, it was stated, took the plaintiff to look at the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Great Bridge, with the view of making it their home, and then he introduced the plaintiff as his intended wife. Miss Harvey purchased articles in view of the marriage, and the sisters of the parties were asked to act as bridesmaids, and she gave up her situation. Suddenly the defendant ceased his visits to plaintiff, and took to the COTTAGE SPRING INN, at Wednesbury. Plaintiff said that when she asked for an explanation defendant admitted the promise to marry, but said she had nothing in black and white. Plaintiff, a good-looking young woman, admitted that defendant did not purchase her an engagement ring, neither had any presents been given on either side.

For the defence the promise was denied, and Mr. Clark said the plaintiff had not lost anything except the chance of marrying an impecunious publican. The acquaintance, he said, was only a casual one, and the courtship only lasted one month.

A verdict was given for the plaintiff for £10 damages.”

1911 Census

Bilston Road – COTTAGE SPRING

- [1] William Beddow (28), publican, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Bertha Beddow (28), wife, married 6 years, assisting in business, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Bertha Beddow (4), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] William Beddow (2), son, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Elsie May Beddow (10 months), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Louie Chillington (15), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

Evening Despatch 11/8/1911

“At Wednesbury today John Gordon of Hydes Road, Wednesbury, was fined 10s and costs for refusing to quit the COTTAGE SPRING INN, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, on August 2, Alderman Handley remarking that the offence was regarded as somewhat serious because the defendant had used threats towards William Beddow, the landlord of the house.”

Birmingham Mail 5/9/1913

“Thomas Connell (30), and his wife, Ellen Connell (28), of Holyhead Road, were summoned at Wednesbury today for being disorderly at and refusing to quit the COTTAGE SPRING INN, Darlaston Road, on the 23rd ult. Mrs. Connell was also charged with doing wilful damage at the public house.

Mr. A. J. Glover, who prosecuted, stated that defendants went to the public house under the influence of drink, and were very troublesome when asked to leave. Mrs. Connell smashed several glasses and jugs, and the licensee, William Beddow, eventually had to extinguish the lights and send for the police.

Defendants, who pleaded guilty, were fined 5s and costs each.”

1921 Census

Bilston Road – COTTAGE SPRING INN

[1] William Beddow (38), beerhouse keeper, born Aldridge, Staffordshire;

[2] Bertha Beddow (38), wife, home duties, born Bromley, Staffordshire;

[3] Bertha Beddow (14), daughter, school, born Walsall;

[4] William Willis Beddow (12), son, school, born Wednesbury;

[5] Elsie May Beddow (11), daughter, school, born Wednesbury;

[6] Phyllis Maud Beddow (8), daughter, school, born Wednesbury;

[7] Gladys Lilian Beddow (6), daughter, school, born Wednesbury;

William Beddow – see also KINGS ARMS, High Bullen, Wednesbury.

Midland Advertiser 8/3/1930

“The Street Improvement and Building Committee stated in its report that the owners of the COTTAGE SPRING INN were prepared to dedicate an area of 30¼ square yards for highway purposes, free of charge, in connection with their alterations to the inn.”

Walsall Observer 14/2/1931

“Wednesbury Brewster Sessions yesterday.....

Plans had been approved and alterations carried out at the.....

COTTAGE SPRING, Old Bilston Road.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/4/1938

“Charged at Wednesbury yesterday with stealing a billiards table and accessories, value £12 10s belonging to George Hill and Sons, of 102, Oak Road, West Bromwich, from the COTTAGE SPRING INN, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, Frederick Lloyd, of 231, Carisbrooke Road, Friar Park, West Bromwich was bound over for six months in £5 and ordered to pay £1 12s 6d costs.”

Tipton Herald 16/1/1960

“Learner driver Thomas James William Smith (20), of COTTAGE SPRING, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, said, ‘Oh blimey, I didn’t know!’ when told he would be reported for driving a motor car while not accompanied by a competent driver. This was stated at West Bromwich Magistrates Court on Monday, when Smith was fined £5 for the offence which he committed in Dudley Street, West Bromwich, on November 7th. He told the officer who stopped him, ‘I didn’t know I had to have a competent driver.’ His car was displaying ‘L’ plates.”

The license was referred to the Compensation Authority on 10th March 1961.

Staffordshire Sentinel 3/6/1961 - Notice

"The Licensing Act, 1953. Notice of Principal Meeting County of Stafford.

Notice is Hereby Given that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1910, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held in the Shire Hall, Stafford, on Wednesday the 21st day of June, 1961, at 11 o'clock am.

And Notice is Hereby Also Given, that the Compensation Authority will at the Meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the renewal of the licenses of the premises specified in the subjoined list, all those persons to whom under the Licensing Act, 1953, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard; that is to say, the persons interested in any licensed premises in question and, unless it appears to the Compensation Authority unnecessary, any other persons appearing to them to be interested in the question of the renewal of the license of those premises (including the Justices of the Licensing District). List of Licensed Premises.....

COTTAGE SPRING INN, Bilston Road, Wednesbury. Beerhouse (Ante 1869). Licensee, James Henry Smith."

Staffordshire Sentinel 1/7/1961 - Notice

"The Licensing Act, 1953. County of Stafford.

Notice is Hereby Given that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 21st day of June, 1961, to refuse the Renew of the Licenses of the premises specified below, all persons claiming to be interested in the said premises for the purpose of payment of the compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensees and the Registered Owners of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority notice of their claims before the 22nd day of July, 1961, for the purpose of enabling the Compensation Authority to ascertain in the manner provided by the Licensing Rules, 1910, the persons entitled to compensation under the said Act in respect of the said premises.....

COTTAGE SPRING INN, 2, Bilston Road, Wednesbury. Beerhouse (ante 1869). Licensee, James Henry Smith. Registered Owners, W. Butler & Co. Ltd."

It closed on 31st December 1961.

Demolished

COTTAGE SPRING

106, (142), (50), Franchise Street, Fallings Heath, Kings Hill, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Henry Beesley, brewer (acquired on 15th November 1902)

Mrs. Ada Blakemore, widow (she was later Ada Challinor) (acquired on 29th January 1903 for £500)

Marston, Thompson and Evershed (acquired in 1905 for £1200)

J. & J. Yardley (acquired in 1909 for £950)

Highgate Brewery Ltd. (acquired in 1919 for £1025)

Atkinsons Ltd. (acquired in 1940)

Robert and Leslie Howard Whitehall (exors. of William Whitehall) [1961]

Robert and Leslie Howard Whitehall

Holdens Brewery (leased 1964 to 1966) (acquired on 24th March 1966) [2022]

LICENSEES

Thomas Smith [1877] – [1891]

Job Smith [1896] – [1904]

Adah Blackmore [1904]

Charles Henry Lansdale [1906] – [1907]

William Whitehouse [1907]

William Whitehall [1909] – [1921]

Robert Whitehall [1939]

William Whitehall [1940]

Harry Turner [1961] – 1965;

James Kempson (1965 – [1968])

Mrs. Fran Banks [1982]

John Banks [1983]

Leslie 'Les' Barrows (1986 – 1988)

John Myatt [1991] – [1992]

Archie Woodcock [1995]

Raymond Edward 'Ray' Johnson (1997 – [2007])

Mrs. Baker [2012] – [2017]

1999

2011

NOTES

50, Franchise Street [1881], [1896], [1904]

49+50 Franchise Street [1891], [1901]

142, Franchise Street [1911], [1921]

106, Franchise Street [1939], [1940], [1986], [2002]

It was a home brew house.

It had a beerhouse license.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 17/1/1877

“At Wednesbury Police Court yesterday, before Mr. I. Spooner (Stipendiary), Thomas Smith, landlord of the COTTAGE SPRING beerhouse, was summoned for having kept his house open during prohibited hours on the night of Sunday, the 7th inst. Mr. Ebsworth defended.

Police-constable Worsley stated that he visited the house at 11.30 in the morning named, and found two men in the back brewhouse, one of whom was drinking out of a pint jug. The landlord was standing in the doorway.

Corroborative evidence was given, and in defence it was contended that one of the men was a friend of the defendant, and that the beer was given to them.

A fine of 10s and the costs was imposed.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 30/8/1877

“West Bromwich Annual Licensing Sessions.....

The following reports as to the convictions of publicans during last year was made by Superintendents Woollaston and Holland, for the police divisions of West Bromwich and Wednesbury.....

Thomas Smith, COTTAGE SPRING, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, keeping open, fined 10s and costs.....

All the old licenses were then renewed with the exception of those whose holders had been convicted in a penalty of 20s and upwards. The latter were adjourned until the 26th September.”

1881 Census

50, Franchise Street – COTTAGE SPRING

[1] Thomas Smith (58), publican, born Tipton;

[2] Catharine Smith (55), wife, born Darlaston;

[3] Job Smith (20), son, iron moulder, born Wednesbury:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 22/9/1885

“Thomas Smith, landlord of the COTTAGE SPRING INN, Franchise Street, Wednesbury, was fined 20s and costs for keeping his house open and selling ale during prohibited hours.

Police-constables Noble and Dixon visited defendant’s premises about eleven o’clock on Sunday morning, the 13th instant, found the back door open, and the defendant’s wife by the beer machine taking a bottle containing ale out of the tundish. There was also sixpence near by. A man named William Asberry said a man had asked him to get a quart of ale and he told him he would try and do so.

Mr. Topham, who defended, admitted the offence, and said the landlord was away at the time, and it occurred more by accident than anything else.

The man Asberry was fined 5s and costs for being unlawfully on the premises.”

1891 Census

49+50, Franchise Street

[1] Thomas Smith (68), widower, lock filer and publican, born Tipton;

[2] Job Smith (29), moulder, born Wednesbury;

[3] Emma Smith (28), wife, born Darlaston;

[4] Mary A. Smith (1), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[5] Thomas Smith (6 months), son, born Wednesbury:

Job Smith, beer retailer, 50, Franchise Street, Kings Hill. [1896]

1901 Census

49+50, Franchise Street – COTTAGE SPRING

[1] Job Smith (39), iron moulder and publican, born Wednesbury;

[2] Agnes Smith (31), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] Thomas Smith (10), son, born Wednesbury;

[4] Eva Smith (6 months), daughter, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/11/1902

“The quarterly licensing sessions for the borough of Wednesbury were held yesterday.....

Mr. Stockdale applied for the transfer of the license of the COTTAGE SPRING INN, Franchise Street, Kings Hill, to a married woman named Elizabeth Beasley. He explained that the applicant had been granted a temporary transfer, and was now the owner of the freehold.

Superintendent Salt pointed out to the magistrates that the applicant's husband, who was residing on the licensed premises, had been convicted of several offences, and the applicant had also been fined 2s 6d and costs for assault. The magistrates decided not to grant the transfer.”

Job Smith, beer retailer, 50, Franchise Street, Kings Hill. [1904]

Adah Blackmore, beer retailer, 50, Franchise Street. [1904]

[Both appear in the same directory.]

Birmingham Mail 28/6/1906

“At Walsall County Court, today, before Judge Smith and a jury, Samuel Ernest Collett, coach axle smith, Cobden Street, Wednesbury, sued Charles Moses, ironworker, Fallings Heath, for £26 13s 4d damages for assault. Mr. A. Sergent was for the plaintiff, and Mr. C. H. Darby for the defence.

Plaintiff's case was that on February 10th last he was at the COTTAGE SPRING INN, where there had been a pigeon-flying match, with the result that the house was full of people. Defendant, who was amongst them, followed him from the house down the street, and without the least provocation kicked him and knocked him down. His leg was broken by the kick, and he was away from work in consequence for fourteen weeks.

In cross-examination plaintiff denied that he was quarrelsome in the public house and threatened to ‘pull defendant's heart out.’

Judge Smith: How do you do that; does it mean a threat to murder?

Mr. Darby: It is only a figurative expression. It has never actually been done. I have no doubt the jury have often heard the expression used. It's the same as threatening to wipe the floor with a man. (Laughter.)

Judge Smith: It struck me it must be a most difficult operation. (Laughter.)

Judgement was given for defendant.”

Birmingham Mail 10/1/1907

“At Walsall County Court today Richard Samuel Grange, machinist, Wolverhampton Road, Darlaston, was plaintiff in an action heard by Judge Smith and a jury, the claim being for £30 damages against Charles Henry Lansdale, of the COTTAGE SPRING INN, Franchise Street, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, in respect of alleged trespass by defendant and his pigs and poultry. Mr. R. J. Lawrence (instructed by Messrs. Slater and Co., Darlaston) appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. R. A. Tench (Wednesbury) was for the defence.

Plaintiff's case was that he became tenant under defendant of a cottage and garden adjoining the public house. In due course plaintiff and his sons cultivated the garden and planted it with, amongst other things, currant trees. Defendant subsequently removed the fence, and allowed his livestock, which comprised a pony, pigs, fowl, and geese, to run at random over the place, the result being that the garden and fruit trees were ruined. The actual loss sustained was £3 4s 6d, but Mr. Lawrence urged that plaintiff had been put to so much inconvenience and annoyance that he was entitled to very substantial general damages.

Plaintiff, in his evidence, said he went on comfortably from February to July, when he missed some currants from the trees in the garden.

The Judge: Were there any birds about? – Plaintiff: Two-legged ones. (Laughter.)

The Judge: Do you know any birds which have more than two legs? (Laughter.) – Plaintiff: No.

The Judge: I only wanted to know. (Laughter.)

Plaintiff described the depredations committed, and mentioned that defendant's pony ate his chrysanthemums. He had a wire fence erected, but defendant pulled it down, and things became so intolerable that he could not sleep at night.

In cross-examination, plaintiff denied that he was told defendant reserved the garden to himself and let him the house only.

After a prolonged hearing, a verdict was given for plaintiff for £3, with costs.”

Birmingham Mail 12/1/1909

“At Walsall County Court today, Ernest Charles Paskell, Stafford Street, Walsall, sued William Whitehall, of the COTTAGE SPRING INN, Franchise Street, Wednesbury, for £5 7s balance of the price of a zonophone purchased by him. Mr. F. Cooper appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. R. A. Tench defended.

Plaintiff's case was that the instrument was supplied twelve months ago, and was in perfect order, being tested for about an hour in a public house. Defendant then signed an order for it, and also attached his signature to a promissory note for the amount due. Some weeks later he returned it in a damaged condition. Mr. Cooper said plaintiff contended the damage was due to carelessness, and the machine having been repaired, they had brought it into court so that his Honour could test it for himself if necessary.

Judge Smith enquired what airs the instrument would play, and if there were any songs by artistes like Madame Melba, Signor Caruso, or Madame Tetrazzini. Mr. Cooper replied that he thought they could give him some selections by Signor Caruso. His Honour expressed the desire to hear the instrument, but added, ‘Don't have a common song; play something nice.’ The machine was accordingly set to work, and played the ‘Queen of the Earth,’ His Honour listening attentively to the music.

For the defence it was contended that the instrument was supplied on approval, and that defendant signed the promissory note under the impression that it was a receipt for the delivery of the instrument.

Judgement was given for the plaintiff with costs.”

Walsall Observer 10/9/1910

“Bowling Wednesbury St. Paul's Institute v COTTAGE SPRING, Fallings Heath.

This return fixture was decided at Wood Green, on Saturday, before a large attendance of spectators. The green was in splendid condition and bowled fast. The game was very interesting throughout, and at the close the home club gained the verdict by 27 points.....”

[St. Paul's Institute 155, COTTAGE SPRING 128.]

1911 Census

Franchise Street – COTTAGE SPRING

- [1] William Whitehall (53), publican, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Jane Whitehall (56), wife, married 33 years, business assistant, born Liverpool;
- [3] Thomas Brooks (26), son-in-law, gas fitting maker, tube works, born West Bromwich;
- [4] Sarah Martha Brooks (25), daughter, barmaid, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Leopold Whitehall (22), son, brewer, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Robert Whitehall (20), son, engineer's fitter, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Sidney Whitehall (17), son, engineer's fitter, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Kenneth R. Whitehall (14), son, driller, nut and bolt works, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Susannah Whitehall (13), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [10] Gladys Brooks (2), grand-child, born Wednesbury; “Wednesbury Revision Court.....

Walsall Observer 23/9/1911

An important discussion took place relative to the lodger vote of Leopold Whitehall and Richard John Whitehall, of 142, Franchise Street, Wednesbury. These two brothers lodged at a public house rated at £21 per annum, and the question was whether, after deducting the value of the license, which would be at least £10, the house would be of sufficient value to stand two lodgers votes The Revising Barrister said he was now of opinion that the value of the license should come off, and he should only allow one of the lodger votes. The vote of Leopold Whitehall was allowed and the other vote was struck off.”

1921 Census

142, Franchise Street

- [1] William Whitehall (62), widower, innkeeper, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Robert Whitehall (30), son, fitter, tube works, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Susannah Whitehall (21) daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Lenard Whitehall (7), son, school part time, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Leslie Howard Whitehall (6), son, school part time, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Olive Irene Whitehall (4) daughter, born Wednesbury;

Bilston & Willenhall Times 25/10/1924

“The annual gathering of the members of the Franchise Street Wednesbury Allotment Association was held at the COTTAGE SPRING on Saturday. The proceedings opened with a dinner provided by Host Whitehall, at which there were about forty members present.....”

Walsall Observer 6/3/1926

“A new bowling league, the Darlaston Central, has been formed in the Darlaston and Wednesbury district, and the following ten clubs have affiliated COTTAGE SPRING, Franchise Street.”

Rugeley Times 22/7/1927

“Bowling Darlaston Central v COTTAGE SPRING, Wednesbury.

On Monday night, on the WHITE LION bowling green, Darlaston, an interesting match was played between Darlaston Central and the COTTAGE SPRING Club, of Franchise Street, Wednesbury. The home side won by 93 points.....”

[Darlaston Central 213, COTTAGE SPRING 120.]

1939 Register

106, Franchise Street

[1] Robert Whitehall, date of birth 21/3/1891, fitter and machinist, single;

[2] Leslie H. Whitehall, dob 2/3/1915, general fitter, single;

[3] Susan Whitehall, dob 8/1/1900, domestic duties, single;

[4] Olive I. (Whitehall) Parton, dob 13/7/1916, domestic duties, single:

A team from here took part in the Darlaston Cribbage League. [1967]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 26/10/1968

“Licensee of the COTTAGE SPRING, Franchise Street, Wednesbury, James Kempson, and his wife, gave a supper to the pub’s darts team, who play in the Fallings Heath League.

There was a presentation by captain, Barry Masters, of a pair of cut diamond cuff links, given by Mrs. Kempson, to Les Ward, who had the most wins. Mrs. Kempson also received a gift from the team.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 24/12/1968 - Advert

“Mr. and Mrs. Kempson of the COTTAGE SPRING, 106, Franchise Street, Wednesbury, wish all their customers, especially the old-age pensioners, warmest greetings for Christmas and the New Year.”

Birmingham Weekly Mercury 10/6/1979 - Advert

“Holden’s ‘The Black Country Brewery’

Black Country Bitter, Special Bitter and Mild Traditional Draught Ales available at these houses.....

COTTAGE SPRING INN, Franchise Street, Wednesbury.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 9/1/1982

“Guard dog Nellie has one big problem – she keeps falling asleep. And if she managed to stay awake long enough to catch raiders she’d probably lick them to death! Nellie must be the friendliest guard dog in Wednesbury as owner Mrs. Fran Banks, licensee of the COTTAGE SPRING in Franchise Street, found out. She bought the great dane puppy 15 weeks ago to guard the pub. ‘We are trying to train her to be a bit more lively, but it does not seem to be having much effect,’ said Mrs. Banks.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 17/12/1986 - Advert

“Our very best wishes to all our customers, old and new, for Christmas and the New Year from Les, Sylvia and Family, COTTAGE SPRINGS, 106 Franchise Street, Wednesbury.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 1/4/1988

“The COTTAGE SPRING pub in Franchise Street, Wednesbury, has applied to provide a beer garden at the rear of its premises.”

License renewal to Leslie Barrows was refused in 1988, after police found him serving after hours, three times. There was an appeal in June 1988.

Sandwell Evening Mail 25/1/1989 - Notice

"The Insolvency Act, 1986. In Bankruptcy in the Walsall County Court.

Re Leslie Barrows of 1 Bell Close, The Green, Darlaston, West Midlands, lately residing at the COTTAGE SPRING, Franchise Street, Wednesbury, and lately carrying on business as Publican of the COTTAGE SPRING Public House, Franchise Street, Wednesbury.

On 11 January 1989 the above named Court made a Bankruptcy Order against the above named debtor.

Note: All debts due to the estate should be paid to me.

Date 19 January, 1989.

A. T. R. Stretton, Official Receiver, Commercial Union House, 22 Martineau Square, Birmingham."

Birmingham Mail 30/12/1991 - Advert

"John and Chris Myatt warmly welcome all customers to the COTTAGE SPRING, Franchise Street, Wednesbury. Food Tues-Sat Evening 7-9, Mon-Sat lunch 12-2.30.

Thursday Quiz Night. Open Fires."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 27/7/1992 - Advert

"For a Lovely Atmosphere visit the COTTAGE SPRING, Franchise Street, Wednesbury.

A warm welcome from John and Chris Myatt awaits you.

Hot and cold food served lunchtimes and evenings Tuesday to Saturday. Monday night special dishes.

Darts, Dominoes, Crib, Fishing, Quiz Nights."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 21/5/1993

"Pub Grub COTTAGE SPRING, Franchise Street, Wednesbury.

Basic but good value meals are the mainstay of this small but friendly hostelry. Most customers go for pie and chips (£1.50) with a choice of steak and kidney, beef and onion, and chicken and mushroom. Home-made food includes curry (£2.95) and chilli (£2.95) with rice and chips or jacket potatoes. Alternatively, choose a chip butty (65p) or steak sandwich (£1.50)."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 24/2/1995 - Advert

"Wining and Dining.....

The COTTAGE SPRING, Franchise Street, Wednesbury, evening meals now available, orders taken from 7pm till 9pm, Tuesday to Saturday."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 23/6/1995

"People from across the Black Country are pulling out all the stops to help the Express & Star Macmillan appeal. Generous readers have organised everything from raffles to pub crawls in a bid to boost funds.....

Regulars at the COTTAGE SPRING in Franchise Street, Wednesbury, donned fancy dress and visited ten pubs to collect cash. Landlord Archie Woodcock said, 'Thirty five of us went on the pub crawl and raised £550 between us. We were very surprised at the response. Everyone joined in the spirit of things and thoroughly enjoyed it. I went as a court jester.'"

Raymond Edward Johnson was married to Janet Rose.

Walsall Observer 28/8/1998 - Advert

"The COTTAGE SPRING Lorry Pulling Challenge. Bank Holiday Monday 31st August.

Ray and Jan have 10 teams of 6 people taking part in this Big Charity Event and family day out.

All proceeds and donations from this challenge will be going to the Air Ambulance Appeal.

Starts 11am, First Pull 12 Noon. Come and see the teams pulling an 8 ton lorry up Franchise Street.

Barbeque. Bouncy Castle. Face Painting. DJ with Music All Day. A Great Family Day Out.

The COTTAGE SPRING, Franchise Street, Wednesbury.

St. John's Ambulance Present on the Day."

Sandwell Evening Mail 19/10/1998

"I Raymond Edward Johnson do hereby announce that I have applied to Sandwell M.B.C. for the grant of an entertainments license to be used at the premises known as the COTTAGE SPRING."

Black Country Bugle 3/6/1999 - Advert

"The COTTAGE SPRING.

The Cottage Kitchen offers a varied menu from good old English food. Top oriental cuisine.

Happy Hour 1-7pm Mon-Fri. Entertainment 6 nights a week. So come and join us!

Ray and Jan, the COTTAGE SPRING, Franchise Street, Wednesbury."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 19/8/2000

"A 38-year-old man, affectionately known as the Wednesbury Viking, will attempt to eat his way into the record books when he tucks into 200 ounces of steak. John Osborne, a car seat maker, who lives in Elm Avenue, Wednesbury, will attempt to get into the Guinness Book of Records on Tuesday lunchtime at the COTTAGE SPRING pub, Franchise Street....."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 19/12/2003

"Millions of people across Britain saw the strength of Black County support for Pop Idol Mark Rhodes when GMTV broadcast live from a local pub. The COTTAGE SPRING, Franchise Street, on the Darlaston-Wednesbury border was the venue for GMTV's Pop Idol special. The boozer, which was the first place Mark Rhodes performed, was packed with people by 7am. GMTV cut live to the pub three times during the show, and viewers saw screaming fans showing how much 22-year-old Mark means to the region Pub landlord Ray Johnson said in his seven years in the pub trade he never thought national TV would broadcast from his bar. 'The support has been massive; it's overwhelming. I'll be in London tomorrow watching him win, and he will win.'"

[Mark Rhodes was runner-up.]

Express & Star 13/2/2017

"A busy Wednesbury road has been closed for almost two weeks after a four-metre deep sinkhole appeared. Half of Franchise Street has been closed since the sinkhole appeared, with buses diverted and footpath closures outside houses.

Pub owners Jed and Richard Baker, from the COTTAGE SPRING, in Franchise Street, say the hole has led to fewer customers coming through the door. They believe the hole is the result of a collapsed storm drain and plunges to around four metres in depth. They say the wait to get it sorted has been 'ridiculous' as confusion has surrounded who is responsible for it. The hole appeared the end of January just outside the pub car park.

Mrs. Baker, aged 63, who has been landlady for just over five years, said, 'We didn't have a clue how it got there. The day it happened the council came out and thought it was a pit so they sent the coal board out. But then they discovered it was nothing to do with them but it was the drains instead. There's been so much confusion about what service deals with it.' Mrs. Baker added, 'It has affected us badly. It killed trade the first week because we had to close the car park completely. Even our deliveries are having to be rolled from the other side of the road. It is just ridiculous.'

A spokesperson from Walsall Council said, 'Further camera surveys are being undertaken. We will continue to work with Severn Trent Water to identify the cause.'"

Express & Star 28/10/2022

"A Wednesbury pub is closing while its owners try to find suitable new management to take it on. The COTTAGE SPRING in Franchise Street, Falling Heath, is part of the Woodsetton-based Holden's Brewery's chain. Managing director Jonothan Holden said the pub, which dates back to the 18th Century, would be shutting next week. He put it partly down to rising energy costs and reduced sales. 'It is not making any money for us currently. With the right tenants it could do something,' he explained. Mr. Holden said it was the only one of Holden's pubs that was shutting, but warned that the rising costs of energy were starting to bite hard. 'We are considering options for the COTTAGE SPRING. If anyone is interested in becoming the tenant they should contact us,' he added.

Holden's, which has a tied estate of 19 pubs, has owned the two-bar pub – one of its smaller pubs – since the 1950s."

[2022]

Express & Star 4/5/2024

"A disused Black Country pub is up for sale. The COTTAGE SPRING on Franchise Street, Wednesbury, is on the market for a minimum of £265,000 with Matthew Phillips Surveyors Ltd. Located in a residential area, the two-storey pub features a pair of trading rooms and former kitchen, as well as a two-bedroom living area upstairs. The agents say, 'The public house comprises a two storey brick building with pitched pan tiled roof with single storey flat roof extensions to the rear. The property also benefits from a surfaced and white lined car park providing 15 spaces together with a substantial smoking shelter adjoining the entrance to the trading area from the car park. The beer garden is located to the rear of the site with a timber pergola....."

Express & Star 4/2/2025

"The COTTAGE SPRINGS in Franchise Street, Wednesbury, closed in 2022 and a plan to convert the empty building into offices has been put forward by Phillip Boden. The former Holden's pub, which dates back to the 18th century, was put on the market for £265,000 last year after rising costs and falling trade forced the Black Country brewery to close its doors. A new side and rear extension would also be built to make way for the new office space according to the application....."

MR. AND MRS. KEMPSON
of
THE COTTAGE SPRING,
106, FRANCHISE-STREET,
WEDNESBURY, wish all their customers, especially the old-age pensioners, warmest greetings for Christmas and The New Year

1968

1986

Holden's
"The Black Country Brewery"

BLACK COUNTRY BITTER
SPECIAL BITTER & MILD
Traditional Draught Ales available at these houses:

Rose & Crown	Royal Exchange
Bank Street	High Street
Brierley Hill	Bilston
Old Mill	New Inn
Windmill Street	Ward Street
Upper Gornal	Coseley
Wheatshaf Inn	Park Inn
High Street	George Street
West Bromwich	Woodsetton
Old Bush Inn	Miners Arms
Daisy Bank	Ruiton Street
Coseley	Lower Gornal
Painters Arms	Cottage Spring Inn
Avenue Road	Franchise Street
Coseley	Wednesbury

The Royal
Bloomfield Road
Tipton

1979

THE INSOLVENCY ACT.
1986

IN BANKRUPTCY IN THE WALSALL COUNTY COURT
NO 5 OF 1989

RE: LESLIE BARROWS of 1
Bell Close, The Green, Darlaston,
West Midlands, lately residing at The Cottage Spring,
Franchise Street, Wednesbury
and lately carrying on business as PUBLICAN of The Cottage
Spring Public House, Franchise
Street, Wednesbury on 11 January 1989 the above named Court made a Bankruptcy Order against the above named debtor

Note: All debts due to the estate should be paid to me.

Date 19 January 1989

A T R STRETTON
OFFICIAL RECEIVER
Commercial Union House,
22 Martineau Square,
Birmingham B2 4UP

1989

Why bother with guests?
We already sell the best.

Cottage Spring

Franchise Street, Wednesbury

Holden's Black Country
Mild - Bitter - Special Bitter
XB Bitter - Stout

Hot and cold food
Monday - Saturday lunchtimes
Tuesday - Saturday evenings

JOHN AND CHRIS MYATT

Warmly welcome all customers to the

COTTAGE SPRING
FRANCHISE STREET
WEDNESBURY

Food Tues - Sat Evening 7-9
Mon - Sat lunch 12-2.30
Thurs Quiz Night
Open Fires.

1991

FOR A LOVELY ATMOSPHERE VISIT THE COTTAGE SPRING

Franchise Street, Wednesbury

Tel: 021-526 6354

A warm welcome from John and Chris Myatt awaits you

Hot and cold food served lunchtimes and evenings Tuesday to Saturday.
Monday night special dishes. Darts,
Dominocs, Crib, Fishing, Quiz Nights

1992

Cottage Spring

Franchise Street, Wednesbury

Take a ride out of Walsall and come to see us - we're only 300 yards from Ikea.

The furniture is not so flash but the Holden's is better!

Holden's at its best

Meals Tuesday to Saturday evenings,
Monday to Saturday lunchtime.

Discount for card-carrying CAMRA members

1994

THE COTTAGE SPRING, Franchise Street, Wednesbury, evening meals now available, orders taken from 7 pm till 9 pm, Tuesday to Saturday. -
Details 021 526 6354.

1995

The Cottage Spring LORRY PULLING CHALLENGE

Bank Holiday Monday 31st August

Ray and Jan have 10 teams of 6 people taking part in this big Charity Event and family day out. All proceeds and donations from this challenge will be going to the Air Ambulance Appeal.

Starts 11am First Pull 12 Noon Come and see the teams pulling an 8 ton lorry up Franchise Street.

BOUNCY FACE DJ with MUSIC & GREAT PRIZES ALL DAY LONG

The Cottage Spring, Franchise St, Wednesbury WS10 9RG • Tel: 0121 526 6354

1998

The Cottage Spring

The Cottage Kitchen offers a varied menu from good old English food. Top oriental cuisine.

Happy Hour 1 - 7pm Mon - Fri

Entertainment

6 nights a week

So come & join us!

Ray & Jan

*The Cottage Spring
Franchise Street*

Wednesbury WS10 9RG

0121 526 6354

1999

COTTAGE SPRING

Trouse Lane, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Elizabeth Hyde [1834] – [1835]

NOTES

Elizabeth Hyde, beer retailer, Trowse Lane. [1835]

CRICKETERS ARMS

Holyhead Road, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Samuel Griffiths [1864]

NOTES

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 27/8/1864 - Advert

“Wednesbury, Staffordshire.

Valuable Freehold Properties, on the Holyhead Road and Albert Street, Wednesbury.

J. Whitehouse has been favoured with instructions to Sell by Public Auction, at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Wednesday Next, August 31, at Six for Seven o'clock in the evening.....

Lot 1. All that substantial and well-built Beerhouse, with the Outbuildings and Yard attached thereto, situate in the Holyhead Road, and known by the sign of the CRICKETERS ARMS, in the occupation of Samuel Griffiths, at the low annual rental of £30.

Lot 2. All those four Messuages or Tenements, at the back of Lot 1, situate in Albert Street.....

The above Properties are recently built, and are replete with every convenience.

For further particulars, and to view the premises, apply to Messrs. Woodward and Son, Solicitors; or to Joseph Whitehouse, Auctioneer, all of Wednesbury.”

WEDNESBURY, STAFFORDSHIRE.
VALUABLE FREEHOLD PROPERTIES,
ON THE
HOLYHEAD ROAD AND ALBERT STREET,
Wednesbury.

J. WHITEHOUSE has been favoured with instructions to SELL by PUBLIC AUCTION, at the Dartmouth Hotel, Wednesbury, on WEDNESDAY NEXT, August 31, at Six for Seven o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions then to be produced (by order of the Mortgagee under a power of sale)—

LOT 1.—All that substantial and well-built BEER-HOUSE, with the Outbuildings and Yard attached thereto, situate in the Holyhead road, and known by the sign of the “Cricketers' Arms,” in the occupation of Samuel Griffiths, at the low annual rental of £30.

LOT 2.—All those four MESSUAGES or TENEMENTS, at the back of Lot 1, situate in Albert Street, in the respective occupations of Joseph Chamberlain, Norton, Ellis, and Skelton, producing a rental of £48. 2s. per annum.

The above Properties are recently built, and are replete with every convenience.

For further particulars, and to view the premises, apply to Messrs. Woodward and Son, Solicitors; or to Joseph Whitehouse, Auctioneer, all of Wednesbury.

CROFT

Hydes Road / Chestnut Road, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

Everards Brewery Ltd. (acquired in 2003) [2012]

LICENSEES

Alice Dolman [1961] – 1962);

John Moseley (1962 – [1968]

Tom Forrester [1971] – [1972]

Christopher 'Chris' Clift [1981] – [1982]

Keith and Ann [1984]

2014

NOTES

Birmingham Daily Post 9/3/1940

“An application at Wednesbury adjourned Licensing Sessions yesterday by Atkinson’s Brewery Company Limited, for the removal of the full license, FORTUNE OF WAR, Trowse Lane, to new premises proposed to be built on the golf course estate in Hydes Road, was refused.”

Evening Despatch 11/3/1955

“Because they had found that the smaller type of public house was more popular today than the pre-war trend to build ‘gin palaces,’ Mr. A. W. D. Stackhouse, for Atkinsons Brewery Co. Ltd., applied to Wednesbury magistrates today for a provisional order to remove the license of the FORTUNE OF WAR, Trowse Lane, to premise proposed to be built on the Golf Course estate, at the junction of Hydes Road and Chestnut Road. The application was granted.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 3/5/1962

“A party of Aston Villa footballers left it till dusk last night before entering the heart of the ‘enemy’ camp – Wednesbury. Unknown to the many Wolves, Albion, and Walsall supporters who reside in the town, they came to say ‘thank you’ to the 200-strong band of people in Wednesbury who are members of the Aston Villa Supporters Club. It was the local branch’s second annual dinner, held at the CROFT HOTEL.....”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 9/5/1962 - Advert

“Smart Young Barmaid required, full time, good class trade, recent references required. Learner to trade welcome; also Barman, evenings.

Apply, the CROFT HOTEL, Hydes Road, Wednesbury.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 25/3/1965

“Mr. William Hood, of the BIRD IN HAND, Darlaston, was elected chairman of the managers section of Wednesbury, Darlaston and District Licensed Victuallers Association at their annual meeting, held yesterday at the CROFT INN, Wednesbury.....”

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League. [1965]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 15/4/1970 - Advert

“Barman and Barmaid required, evenings and weekends. Learners considered.

Apply, the CROFT, Hydes Road, Wednesbury.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 6/12/1971

"A meeting of Wednesbury and District Motor Cycle and Car Club will be held at the CROFT HOTEL, Hydes Road, Wednesbury, on Tuesday, December 7, 8.30 pm. Will all old members please attend."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 24/12/1971 - Advert

"Tom and Viv, of the CROFT, Hydes Road, Wednesbury, Would like to wish all their Customers and Friends a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 20/10/1972 - Advert

"The CROFT HOTEL, Hydes Road, Wednesbury.
Viv and Tom Forrester welcome Old and New Customers to the opening of their new Cottage Lounge.
Friday, November 20th."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 14/6/1973 - Advert

"Cleaner required, mornings 8.30 to 11.30 approximately. Good pay and conditions.
Apply, Manager, the CROFT, Hydes Road, Wednesbury."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 30/10/1974 - Advert

"The CROFT, Hydes Road, Wednesbury, requires the following staff.
Full-Time Bar Cellarman. Learners considered. Anyone with keen interest in the licensed trade will be fully trained in all aspects of bar and cellar work.
Attractive Girls to work evenings in busy lounge bar (only reliable girls required).
Apply, the Manager."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 9/5/1975 - Advert

"Cook required, 11am to 3pm Monday to Friday. Some experience necessary.
Apply, the CROFT, Hydes Road, Wednesbury."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 18/1/1979 - Advert

"More Bar Staff required at the CROFT, Hydes Road, Wednesbury, mornings and evenings.
He/she telephone the Manager, 021 556 1674."

Sandwell Evening Mail 29/3/1979

"The Pubs Good for Grub.
Fourteen pubs in Sandwell and Bilston have won a place in a brewery's good grub guide published this month. The guide lists more than 400 pubs in England, Scotland, and Wales chosen by Bass Ltd., for high standards of food preparation, service and hygiene, good quality, and value for money. The pubs won their entries through the group's 'Welcome Food Award' scheme. Local pubs include.....
CROFT, Hydes Road, Wednesbury."

Sandwell Evening Mail 8/4/1981

"A motley band of gangsters and their molls burst into a Wednesbury pub to demand money from the customers – for charity. The Robin Hood-style raid was carried out by five students from the West Bromwich College of Commerce and Technology as part of their Rag Week activities The five 'gangsters' staged their stunt at the CROFT in Hydes Road with the approval of the landlord, Mr. Chris Clift."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 9/1/1982 - Advert

"The CROFT, Hydes Road, Wednesbury.
Live entertainment starts this Tuesday with Sassy and introducing Miss Lindsey Carroll."

THE CROFT, Hydes Road, Wednesbury. Live Entertainment starts this Tuesday with Sassy and introducing Miss Lindsey Carroll

Wolverhampton Express and Star 2/8/1982 - Advert

"The West Midlands County Council Act 1980.

To the Chief Officer of Police of the area in which the Licensed Premises hereinafter mentioned are situated, to the Chief Fire Officer, West Midlands Fire Service, and to all whom it may concern.

I, Christopher Clift, of the CROFT, Hydes Road, Wednesbury, in the Metropolitan County of the West Midlands, Hereby Give Notice that I have made application to the Town Clerk, Metropolitan Borough of Sandwell, for a Public Entertainment License to enable me to provide Public Entertainment by way of Music and Singing at the said Licensed Premises known as the CROFT, Hydes Road, Wednesbury.

Dated this 29th day of July, 1982. Christopher Clift."

Sandwell Evening Mail 5/5/1983

"A Wednesbury landlord has imposed a 'total exclusion zone' at the rear of his pub, all because of a blackbird. Mother-to-be Beatrice has built a nest on top of 10 dozen empty pop bottles outside the CROFT pub in Hydes Road. Relief manager Bob Simmons says the bottles are staying put until Beatrice's eggs are hatched. Already Bob has turned away one drinks lorry which called to collect some of the empty bottles and pub staff have been told to find a new corner to stock the other empties.

Bob spotted Beatrice and her mate hovering around the loading deck last Thursday and has been keeping a fatherly eye on his new lodgers ever since. He said, 'She really worked hard all over the weekend filling the crates with bedding material and on Tuesday she started sitting and is obviously going to lay her eggs very soon. I don't know how long Beatrice is going to be here, but as long as I am here, I am going to make sure nobody disturbs her.' Bob keeps an eye on the makeshift maternity wing from his kitchen window."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 12/10/1983 - Advert

"Smart reliable bar staff required.

The CROFT, Hydes Road, Wednesbury."

SMART RELIABLE bar staff required.
The Croft, Hydes Road,
Wednesbury. 021 556 1674.

Sandwell Evening Mail 24/12/1984 - Advert

"A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all our Customers, Family and Friends from Keith and Ann of the CROFT, Hydes Road, Wednesbury."

Sandwell Chronicle 23/1/1987

"A Wednesbury angling club raised £200 for the children's ward at Sandwell District General Hospital by organising a beer and skittles evening. Members of the Croft Angling Club, based at the CROFT pub in Hydes Road, presented a cheque to consultant paediatrician Dr. Rosemary Shepherd."

Sandwell Evening Mail 27/4/1991

"Wildlife has returned to Wednesbury's threatened Hydes Road pool, and local people are determined to keep it that way. Dozens of geese and swans deserted the pool after it dried up during last summer's hot spell, some people blaming nearby open-cast mining operations for the drop in the water level. But Coun. Roy Handley said the water had since returned, and so too had the wildlife.

Coun. Handley's comments followed a clean-up of the pool led by members of the angling club at the CROFT public house in Hydes Road. About 30 volunteers worked to remove piles of rubbish dumped in the water and Coun. Handley said he was delighted with their efforts. He said, 'They got sticks, bits of plastic and paper and all sorts of other rubbish out of the water which could be dangerous to the wildlife and took it away. The water has come back now and seems to be staying at a reasonable level and there are now geese and swans back there too. I hope it stays that way.'"

Daily Mirror 4/6/1998

"Free Pint of Carling.

With just six days to go before the World Cup kick-off your soccer-loving Mirror is buying you a drink. We've a Free pint of Carling to get you into the mood for the great Vive Le Football pub opening parties across the nation. Our friends at Bass Leisure Retail are offering every reader over 18 a free pint of Carling to get things off to a flying start today.....

Where to get your Free pint.....

CROFT, Hydes Road, Wednesbury."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 11/11/1999 - Advert

"Bass serves up food for thought with a new Top Choice menu.

Top beer, top food, top choice – isn't that what everyone wants from their local?

Precisely why Bass Leisure Retail now offer a wide ranging and quality 'Top Choice' menu in over 300 community pubs nationwide, with all main courses, including steaks, fish and chips, and chilli for just £2.99.....

Top Choice participating outlets.....

CROFT, Hydes Road, Wednesbury."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 6/3/2003

"Bob Taylor's testimonial tour of the Black Country continues on Saturday when the Albion legend visits the CROFT pub, Hydes Road, Wednesbury. 'Super Bob' will be there from 8pm to sign autographs and chat with supporters, with the landlord of the CROFT allowing children to pop along for the evening. The event has been organised by Albion steward Keith Simcox, who hopes to swell the benefit fund by raffling off a testimonial shirt and ball signed by the striker."

Express & Star 4/9/2009

"Managers at the CROFT in Wednesbury are looking for a new landlord after the last boss left six months ago. On Tuesday they held an open day to look for potential new managers so they could learn about what is involved in running a pub and are continuing to ask for interested people to come forward. The pub in Hydes Road is currently being run by a holding company while owners Everards try to find a permanent new boss."

[2025]

SMART YOUNG Barmaid required, full time, good class trade, recent references required, Learner to trade welcome; also Barman, evenings; apply--The Croft Hotel, Hydes-road, Wednesbury, Telephone WED 1674.

1962

BARMAN and Barmaid required, evenings and weekends. Learners considered. Apply — The Croft, Hydes - road, Wednesbury.

1970

TOM AND VIV,
of
THE CROFT,
Hydes-road,
Wednesbury.

Would like to wish all their Customers and Friends a Merry
Christmas and Happy New Year.

1971

THE CROFT HOTEL
Hydes Road, WEDNESBURY
Viv and Tom Forrester
Welcome OLD & NEW Customers to the OPENING OF THEIR NEW COTTAGE LOUNGE
Friday, November 20th

1972

CLEANER required, mornings 8.30
to 11.30 approximately. Good pay and conditions. Apply — Manager,
The Croft, Hydes Road, Wednesbury. 021 556 1674.

1973

THE CROFT

Hydes Road,

Wednesbury,

requires the following staff:

FULL-TIME

BAR CELLARMAN

Learners considered. Anyone with keen interest in the licensed trade will be fully trained in all aspects of bar and cellar work.

ATTRACTIVE GIRLS

To work evenings in busy lounge bar (only reliable girls required).

Apply —

The Manager,

021 556 1674.

1974

COOK

required, 11 am to 3 pm
Monday to Friday.

Some experience necessary.

Apply —

The Croft,

Hydes Road,

Wednesbury.

Telephone 021 556 1674.

1975

MORE BAR STAFF required at The Croft, Hydes Road, Wednesbury, mornings and evenings.
He / she telephone the Manager,
021 556 1674

1979

THE WEST MIDLANDS COUNTY COUNCIL ACT — 1980

TO THE CHIEF OFFICER OF POLICE OF THE AREA IN WHICH THE LICENSED PREMISES HEREINAFTER MENTIONED ARE SITUATED, TO THE CHIEF FIRE OFFICER, WEST MIDLANDS FIRE SERVICE, AND TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.
I, Christopher Clift, of the Croft, Hydes Road, Wednesbury, in the Metropolitan County of the West Midlands, HEREBY GIVE NOTICE that I have made application to the Town Clerk, Metropolitan Borough of Sandwell, for a Public Entertainment Licence to enable me to provide Public Entertainment by way of Music and Singing at the said Licensed Premises known as the Croft, Hydes Road, Wednesbury.
Dated this 29th day of July, 1982.

CHRISTOPHER CLIFT

1982

1984

CROSS GUNS

34, (11), Bilston Road, (Old Bilston Road), (Old Road), Wednesbury Field, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Atkinsons Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. [1961], [1966]
Enterprise Inns [1990s]
Brennan Inns [2008]

LICENSEES

Richard Ashmore [1834] – [1845]
John Ashmore [1848] – [1851]
Thomas Brittain [1855] – 1874;
Henry Brittain (1874 – [])
George Peace [] – 1881;
Mrs. Phoebe Peace (1881 – [1900])
Thomas J. Richardson [1901]
John Lacey [1904] – [1921]
Thomas Price [1921]
William Henry Brookes [1927] – 1928;
Mrs. Elizabeth Pittaway (1928 – [1932])
Harold Till [1930s]
Charles Henry Macefield [1940]
Mrs. Alice (Dolan) Flaherty [1941] – 1966)
R W Harris [1983]
Bill Hill [1991]
Sue Tolley (2002 – [])
Dwayne Gordon (2014 – [])

Token

1997

NOTES

Old Road [1841], [1842], [1850]
Bilston Road [1868]
11, Bilston Road [1871], [1872], [1873], [1881], [1891], [1901], [1996]
34, Bilston Road [1939], [1990], [2002]

Richard Ashmore, retailer of beer, Wednesbury Field. [1835]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/11/1838 - Advert

“Desirable Freehold Property, Wednesbury Field.

To be Sold by Auction, by R. S. Walker, on Tuesday, the 27th day of November, 1838, at five o'clock in the afternoon, at the house of Mr. Richard Ashmore, known by the sign of the CROSS GUNS, Wednesbury Field, near Wednesbury, subject to conditions then to be produced.....”

1841 Census

Bilston Road
[1] Richard Ashmore (55), victualler, born Staffordshire;
[2] Ann Ashmore (55), born Staffordshire;
[3] Ann Chaleman (15), f.s., born Staffordshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/12/1842

“Inquisitions before T. M. Phillips, Esq.

On Saturday, at the CROSS GUNS, Wednesbury, on the body of Mary Ann Harris, an infant who was scalded by the falling of a tea kettle filled with boiling water. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Richard Ashmore was also a gunlock maker. [1845]

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/4/1847

“On Wednesday last, an inquest was held at the CROSS GUNS INN, Wednesbury, before George Hinchliffe, Esq, coroner, on the body of William Dutton, aged 35 years. It appeared that the deceased had lodged with a person of the name of Cartwright for the last six weeks; on Monday, the 19th inst, he went to his work in the morning as usual, but returned about noon, saying he was very ill. He then went to bed, and Mrs. Cartwright went down to Mr. Ladbury’s, a druggist, for him to come and see the deceased, but he said he could not come; and he gave her two pills to give the deceased, as he said ‘he knew what was the matter with him – that he had got a cold settled upon his chest.’ The deceased still continued to get worse, and Mrs. Cartwright went again to Mr. Ladbury, who said he could not go to deceased. Mr. Morgan, a surgeon, was then requested to go, which he did, and rendered every assistance; finding the deceased in a very dangerous state, he bled him, and again visited him in a few hours after, but he was then dead.

Mr. Stokes, a surgeon, stated the he had examined the body of the deceased, and there were no external marks of violence; but, upon making a post mortem examination, he found that one of the lungs was decayed, and he was of opinion that the deceased was labouring under an acute inflammation of the lungs, which was the cause of death. The bleeding by Mr. Morgan was a very proper treatment.

The jury returned a verdict according to the medical evidence, and requested the coroner to caution Mrs. Cartwright not to go for druggist’s again, for they were not bound to attend in such cases.”

Birmingham Journal 30/10/1847

“On Tuesday an inquest was held at the CROSS GUNS, Wednesbury, before George Hinchliffe, Esq, on the body of Eliza Mason, nine years of age, daughter of Thomas Mason, engineer, who died on the morning of Monday, in consequence of injuries received by her clothes taking fire on Friday last. The accident is supposed to have been occasioned by a cinder falling on the deceased from the kitchen fire. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

John Ashmore was the son of Richard and Ann Ashmore.

Birmingham Journal 15/1/1848

“On the morning of Friday last, it was discovered that no fewer than three different robberies had been perpetrated in Wednesbury, evidently by one party. From a brewhouse belonging to Mr. Richard Ashmore, junior, maltster, they stole a flitch of bacon, a ham, and a new kettle; from the premises of Mr. John Ashmore, the CROSS GUNS INN, there were stolen three couples of fowls and two couples of ducks; and from the brewhouse of Mr. Griffiths, not far from the above, they carried away a quantity of wearing apparel and some linen. A handsome reward has been offered for the apprehension of the thieves, and the police have been actively engaged in trying to apprehend them, but as yet their efforts have been unsuccessful.”

Richard Ashmore died on 5th February 1848.

1851 Census

Bilston Road

[1] John Ashmore (35), victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Elizabeth Ashmore (35), wife, born Darlaston:

John Ashmore died on 30th April 1851.

Staffordshire Advertiser 24/5/1851

“An inquest was held on the 17th instant on the body of Sarah Humphries, aged five months, at the CROSS GUNS INN, Wednesbury. The deceased was put into a small hand waggon by her elder sister, and taken out a short ride, after which she returned home, and upon taking out the child it was found to be dead.”

Birmingham Journal 3/11/1855 - Advert

“Malt Crushers.

Parties requiring Malt Crushers would do well before purchasing to inspect those made by Richard Thompson, Pot House Bridge Foundry, Bilston, Staffordshire.

They can be seen at work at the following places.....

Mr. Brittain's, CROSS GUNS, Wednesbury.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1858

“The usual meeting for the examination and passing of victuallers’ old licenses was held on Tuesday.....

These parties had been for the offences noted fined since the last annual licensing day.....

Thomas Brittain, CROSS GUNS, Darlaston Road, Wednesbury, open on a Sunday, after hours, fined 10s and costs.....

These parties were generally admonished or cautioned by the Magistrates.”

Birmingham Journal 15/10/1859

“On Friday evening last an inquest was held at Mr. Thomas Brittain's, the CROSS GUNS INN, Wednesbury, on the body of a fine young man named Thomas Hawthorn, twenty-four years of age, and who was employed by Messrs. Lloyd and Foster, proprietors of the Old Park Ironworks.

The enquiry lasted for some time, and involved the examination of several witnesses. The facts, however, may be thus stated. On the preceding day, Thursday, several men were engaged in preparing to weigh a large cast-iron girder, intended for a railway bridge. The weighing crane was 40 feet in height, and had the usual cross beam and chains. The persons engaged had succeeded in making fast one end of the girder, which weighed 9 tons 10cwt, and did the same to the other end. The next operation was to raise the ponderous mass a short space from the ground; but this had scarcely been done when the crane broke, and the 40-foot poles or supports, falling in the direction where the deceased was at work, 20 yards off, struck him and killed him on the spot.

Mr. Connell, the manager at the works, and Mr. Jones, the shipper, were examined, and stated that the crane was made at the works, of new timber and materials, about two years and a half ago. Last summer it was repainted and examined, and believed to be in an efficient state. It was made to weigh as high as thirteen tons, and three witnesses said that ten and twelve tons had repeatedly been weighed by the crane. It was considered perfectly safe with weights of that amount. Mr. Connell added that he had since the accident made a particular examination of the machine, and found that the breakage had taken place at the top of one of the supporting poles, at its junction with the cross beams. There was here at the breakage a flaw in the timber, but it was such that it could not be seen externally. The other timbers were sound.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1861 Census

Bilston Road – CROSS GUNS

[1] Thomas Brittain (53), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Mary Ann Brittain (57), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Hannah Huskinson (12), visitor, born Walsall;

[4] Mary Ann Foster (30), general servant, born Birmingham:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/12/1868

“On Monday an inquest was held by Mr. Hooper, at the CROSS GUNS, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, on the body of Harriet Williams, aged 39 years, of Lloyd Street. Patrick Roach, Mary Eagles, Ann Williams, and Ann Cook were examined. From their evidence it appeared deceased was taken ill on the 3rd inst, and died suddenly on the 17th inst. Roach left the woman about a quarter to six on Thursday morning last, and a woman named Mary Eagles found her dead in bed. The jury found an open verdict of Found Dead.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/11/1869

“The fortnightly meeting of Wednesbury Local Board was held last night.....

There was a nuisance on the premises belonging to Mr. Thomas Brittain, of the Bilston Road, situate in Darlaston Road.”

1871 Census

11, Bilston Road – CROSS GUNS INN

[1] Thomas Brittain (63), widower, licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Mary Foster (39), general servant, born Wednesbury;

[3] Ann Huskinson (22), general servant, born Walsall:

Thomas Brittain died in the 4th quarter of 1874.

Walsall Observer 31/10/1874 - Advert

“To Publicans, Brewers, & Others.

Joseph Whitehouse has been favoured with instructions to Sell by Public Auction (unless previously disposed of by private treaty), on Friday, November 6th, 1874, at Six o'clock pm, on the Premises, the Licenses, Goodwill, and immediate Possession of that important and well-established House of Business, the CROSS GUNS, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, and disposed of in consequence of the death of the Proprietor, the late Mr. Brittain, who most successfully carried it on for more than 20 years.

The House is in thorough repair, and contains Entrance Hall, Parlour, Bar, Kitchen, Taproom, Bed Chambers, large Clubroom, three Cellars, Brewhouse, Maltroom, Stabling, Coachhouse, and other Outbuildings, with enclosed Yard. The above Property is near the Patent Shaft and other large Works, which renders it a most valuable investment. For particulars, and to treat, apply to J. Whitehouse, Auctioneer and Valuer, Spring Vale House, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Post 21/11/1874 - Advert

“Unreserved and Clearing-out Sale.

Mr. Joseph Whitehouse will Sell by Public Auction, at the CROSS GUNS INN, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, on Wednesday Next, November 25.

All the neat and clean Household Furniture, Brewing Plant, Stock of Hops, Malt, Ale, Wines, and Spirits.

The Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession, and Right of Lease will be offered as the first Lot, punctually at 10.30am. Stock, &c, comprising 400 gallons of Ale, 140 gallons of Wine and Spirits, 4 pockets of Hops, 25 bushels of Malt, 25 Ale Casks, Mashtub, and Coolers, 4-pull Ale Machine and Piping, Chairs, Tables, Clocks, 24 Watches, capital 7-octave Pianoforte, and other Effects belonging to the late Mr. Thomas Brittain.

Catalogues can be had at the place of Sale, or from the Auctioneer's Office, Spring Vale House, Wednesbury.”

Midland Examiner 19/12/1874

“At Wednesbury Police Court, on Tuesday, the license of the CROSS GUNS INN, Bilston Road, was temporarily transferred from the executors of Thomas Brittain to Henry Brittain, brother of the late occupier of the house.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/3/1875

“Thomas Brittain, Deceased. Pursuant to the Statute 22nd and 23rd Victoria, chapter 35.

Notice is hereby given, that all Persons having any Claims against the Estate of Thomas Brittain, late of the CROSS GUNS INN, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, deceased (who died on the 13th day of October, 1874, and whose Will was proved in the Lichfield District Registry of her Majesty's Court of Probate on the 1st day of March, 1875), are hereby required to Send the Particulars of their Claims to the undersigned, on or before the 19th day of April, 1875, after which day the Executors will proceed to distribute the Assets of the Deceased, having regard only to the Claims of which they shall then have had notice.

Dated the 17th day of March, 1875. W. Marshall, Darlaston, near Wednesbury, Solicitor to the Executors.”

Birmingham Daily Post 9/1/1880 - Advert

“CROSS GUNS, Wednesbury.

To Let, with immediate possession, the above capital Old-licensed Free House, with excellent in and out door trade. Only changed hands twice in fifty years. Proprietor leaving in consequence of ill-health. The lease, licenses, goodwill, stock, and fixtures about £300.

Apply to Joseph Whitehouse, Auctioneer and Valuer, Spring Vale House, Wednesbury.”

Dudley and District News 28/8/1880

“George and Martha Allen, man and wife, were charged with assaulting Enoch Underwood, a greengrocer, and stealing from his person the sum of 5s, on the 21st instant. It appeared that a dispute arose between the parties at the CROSS GUNS INN, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, complainant acknowledging to have used offensive language with regard to the female prisoner, and the assault was a consequence. There being no evidence to support the charge of theft, and the Bench considering the evidence conflicting, the parties were ordered to pay their own costs.”

1881 Census

11, Bilston Road – CROSS GUNS

[1] Phoebe Peace (37), widow, publican, born Tipton;

[2] Ann Shenston (65), mother, widow, born Tipton;

[3] James Richardson (15), nephew, axle turner, born West Bromwich:

Northwich Guardian 22/6/1881 - Advert

“Old-Licensed House.

To be Let, with immediate possession, the Old-Licensed House, known as the CROSS GUNS, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, doing a good trade. Excellent premises. Satisfactory reasons for leaving.

Apply on the premises.”

Birmingham Daily Post 16/3/1887

“Yesterday Mr. E. Hooper, Coroner, resumed an enquiry, at the CROSS GUNS INN, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, into the circumstances attending the death of Sarah Ann Painter (19), who had been employed as a domestic servant at the same house.

The evidence showed that about seven o’clock on the morning of the 7th inst Mrs. Shenton, the mother of the landlady, heard the deceased moving about, and enquired what she was doing, the deceased replying that she had been to get some water. She then went back to bed, and as she did not come down at the usual time Mrs. Shenton went to her room, and found her lying dead on the bed outside the clothes. On the chair was a cup containing a small quantity of a dark liquid, and this, on being subsequently analysed by Dr. Dingley, proved to be cyanide of potassium. A post mortem examination, made by the same gentleman, showed that death had been caused by that poison, and that had deceased lived a few hours longer, at the most, she would have become a mother. No one seemed to have had a suspicion that she was pregnant, and endeavours to ascertain where she obtained the poison had been fruitless. The Coroner, in summing up, regretted that no more satisfactory evidence could be got.

The jury found that the deceased committed Suicide whilst in an Unsound State of Mind, and Superintendent Holland, who was present on behalf of the police authorities, said enquiries should be continued with regard to the poison.”

1891 Census

11, Bilston Road – CROSS GUNS INN

[1] Phoebe Peace (40), widow, publican, born Great Bridge;

[2] James Richardson (25), nephew, married, iron turner, born Great Bridge;

[3] Elizabeth Richardson (20), niece, married, born West Bromwich;

[4] George Richardson (1), grand-son, born Wednesbury;

[5] Ann Shenston (71), mother, living on her own means, born Great Bridge:

1901 Census

11, Bilston Road

[1] Thomas J. Richardson (35), brewer, born Great Bridge;

[2] Elizabeth Richardson (29), wife, born West Bromwich;

[3] George Richardson (11), son, born Wednesbury;

[4] Phoebe Richardson (9), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[5] Gertrude Richardson (6), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[6] James Richardson (3), son, born Wednesbury;

[7] Daniel Richardson (7 months), son, born Wednesbury;

[8] Phoebe Peace (55), aunt, widow, living on own means, born Great Bridge:

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury and District Air Gun League. [1909]

Walsall Observer 3/9/1910

“On Tuesday Mr. G. C. Lewis, coroner, held an inquest at the CROSS GUNS INN, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, on the body of Ephriam Lawton (56), labourer, in the employ of Messrs. J. McDougall, tube manufacturers, Newtown, and residing at the back of No.17, Old Bilston Road, Wednesbury, who died suddenly on Monday. Deceased returned from his work about seven o’clock on Monday morning, and went to bed. He asked his wife to call him at 1.30, but when she went into the bedroom about this time she found he was dead.

Dr. Crew said he had attended deceased for chronic bronchitis, but he attributed death to heart failure.

The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes.”

1911 Census

Old Bilston Road

[1] John Lacey (56), brewer and retailer of beer, born County Wexford, Ireland;

[2] Margret Lacey (45), wife, married 12 years, assisting in business, born County Carlow, Ireland;

[3] Margaret Lacey (9), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[4] Agnes Mary Lacey (8), daughter, school, born Wednesbury;

[5] Kathleen W. Lacey (4), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[6] James Lacey (25), son, assisting in business, born Bilston;

[7] Frank J. Lacey (18), son, assisting in business, born Wednesbury:

John Lacey was vice-president of the West Midland District of the Licensed Victuallers National Defence League. [1912].

John Lacey was president of the West Midland District of the Licensed Victuallers National Defence League. [1913], [1914], [1916], [1917]

John Lacey was a Wednesbury Councillor. [1913], [1914], [1916], [1917]

Birmingham Daily Post 16/7/1914

“The annual meeting of the West Midland District of the Licensed Victuallers National Defence League was held at Bewdley, Councillor John Lacey, of Wednesbury, presiding.....

Councillor Lacey (Wednesbury) was re-elected president.....”

John Lacey was a committee member of Wednesbury and District Friendly and Protection Society.

John Lacey – see also ROBIN HOOD, Portway Road, and GRAPES, High Street..

1921 Census

Bilston Road – CROSS GUNS

[1] Thomas Price (35), cylinder welder, born Kidderminster;

[2] Minnie Price (35), wife, home duties, born Darlaston;

[3] Leslie Price (1), son, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Observer 7/5/1927

“William Henry Brookes, of the CROSS GUNS, Old Bilston Road, Wednesbury, appeared on a summons for failing to notify the police of the sale of a firearm. The case had been adjourned for a month, it having been stated by defendant at the previous hearing that he sold the revolver in ignorance of the regulations. The Stipendiary observed that the case might have been one of a very serious nature. The regulations relating to firearms had been made for the protection of the public. However, defendant was a person of excellent character and the prosecution had not made out a serious case against him. He would be fined 20s with £3 3s special costs.”

William Henry Brookes – see also SAMSON AND LION.

Walsall Observer 14/2/1931

“Two licenses, those of the CROSS GUNS, Bilston Road, and the PLOUGH AND HARROW, Dudley Street, were objected to on the grounds of redundancy at the Wednesbury Brewster Sessions yesterday, and consideration was deferred to the adjourned sessions on March 13.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/5/1931

“The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1910, by the Compensation Authority for the above Area, will be held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, on Monday, the 27th day of July, 1931, at 11 o'clock am.

And Notice Is Hereby Also Given, that the Compensation Authority will at the Meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the Renewal of the Licenses of the several Premises specified in the subjoined list, all those Persons to whom under the Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard.....

CROSS GUNS INN, Wednesbury. Alehouse. Licensee, Elizabeth Pittaway.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/8/1931

“The principal meeting of the Staffordshire Compensation Authority was held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, on Monday, Mr. T. B. Adams (chairman) presiding. Ten cases had been referred to the Authority by the Licensing Justices below, and in three of these applications were successfully made for the renewal of the licenses.....

Mr. H. A. Tucker applied for the renewal of the license of the CROSS GUNS INN, Wednesbury.

PS Gilman stated that there were 27 licensed houses within a radius of 500 yards, and Mr. Gilbert Griffiths, who appeared for the Justices, informed the Court that the average trade of the Inn for the past three years worked out at 2.1 barrels per week.

Mr. Tucker informed the Justices that 100 new houses were being erected on a site in the vicinity of the CROSS GUNS, and Mr. John Foster, a representative of the brewery company, expressed the opinion that if the license were taken away the houses that remained would not be able to cope with the increased trade.

The license was renewed.”

Walsall Observer 11/6/1982

“The quest for a refreshing pint led thirsty Harold Till not only through the doors of a Walsall pub but also to the woman who was to share his life for the next 50 years. Mr. Till, then 22, lived in Checketts Street, Walsall, and was a regular visitor to the ENGINE in nearby Wolverhampton Street for an evening pint. It was there he met the landlord's daughter, 18-year-old Nellie Roden. Their bar-room chat blossomed into romance and two years later they were married at St. John's Church in the Pleck. The ENGINE is long since demolished and gone, but the marriage thrived and this week the Tills of Haskell Street, Palfrey, look back on 50 happy years as they celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. Till started his working life with Shaw's the wallpaper and glass merchants at the corner of Wolverhampton Street and Marsh Street, while his future wife helped out behind the bar of the ENGINE. Soon after their marriage they took over the CROSS GUNS in Bilston Road, Wednesbury, but that came to an end when the war broke out.....”

Walsall Observer 26/6/1937

“At Wednesbury special licensing sessions, yesterday week, approval was given to plans for alterations to..... CROSS GUNS, Old Bilston Road.”

1939 Register

34, Bilston Road

[1] Harold Till, date of birth 19/11/1906, electric welder, heavy work, married;

[2] Nelly Till, dob 14/9/1910, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 9/8/1941 - Personal

“Boyd-Langley. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Boyd, of 99, Croft Street, Walsall, on Anniversary of their Wedding, August 11th, 1940.

From sister Alice and Hugh Dolan, CROSS GUNS, Wednesbury; and from Mother and Father, Ivy, Frank, and baby Edith.”

Walsall Observer 4/10/1941 - Silver Weddings

“Dolan-Boyd. On October 8, 1916, at St. John’s Church, Pleck, Walsall, by the Rev. J. E. Gordon Cartlidge, Hugh to Alice. Present address CROSS GUNS, Bilston Road, Wednesbury.”

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League. [1948]

Walsall Observer 9/10/1959

“Hugh Dolan. Treasured memories of my dear husband Hugh, passed away October 9, 1958. God let you be with me for our 42nd wedding anniversary, October 8, 1958, and we were so happy. But next day, October 9, 1958, God came and took your hand, we had to part. He eased your pain, but broke my heart. I miss you so, no words can tell, your voice, your smile, your love as well. Loving you always, forgetting you never. Reunited with your sister Cis, passed away October 26, 1957. And I know you both are waiting in God’s beautiful garden of memory to welcome your brother Bill, passed away October 15.

All are sadly missed by Alice.”

Alice Dolan married Joseph L. Flaherty in the 3rd quarter of 1961.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 11/10/1962 - Advert

“Carpet Sale. Damaged and Perfect Sale held at CROSS GUNS, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, Friday, October 12, 11am to 4pm; 300 Carpets, including well known Axminster, all sizes only slightly damaged by water, dealers not supplied. These carpets must be sold, no reasonable offer refused. The entire stock to be sold regardless of cost. Samples: Twenty 4 x 3 Carpets to be sold as low as £12 10/- each, and 20 3 x 2½ Carpets at £7 10/- each. Carpets from £4 10/- each, special line of handmade embossed Indian Carpets in all colours, 12 x 9 and 15 x 12, 12 x 9 £14; Indian Carpets 12 x 9; 25 large Carpets 6 x 4 and 5 x 4 yards, must be sold cheaply; 20 Carpets 12 x 9, £7 10/-, 2 Carpets only each person; come early for best selection; no connection with any other firm.

Mr. L. Smith, 5, Corporation Street, Birmingham. License No.369 (Derbyshire).”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 29/7/1966 - Personal

“Mr. and Mrs. L. Flaherty would like to thank all customers and friends of the CROSS GUNS, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, for lovely gifts and flowers given to Mrs. Flaherty on her retirement of the above address, and gives special thanks to Mrs. Margaret Archer, Mrs. Moor, Mrs. Clee, also all staff connected with Group 7 of Bass and Mitchells and Butlers.”

A team from here took part in the Tipton charity domino knockout. [1967]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 11/5/1968 - Advert

“Piano Player required. Saturday and Sunday.
Apply, CROSS GUNS, Bilston Road, Wednesbury.”

PIANO PLAYER required Saturday and Sunday Apply—Cross Guns

Wolverhampton Express and Star 22/11/1969 - Advert

“Barmaid required, evenings.
CROSS GUNS, Bilston Road, Wednesbury.”

BARMAID required evenings —Cross
Guns. Bilston-road Wednesbury

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Social Cribbage League. [1970]

A team from here took part in the Express and Star-sponsored Midland darts championship. [1973]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 24/12/1975 - Advert

“Con and Jim of the CROSS GUNS, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, send Christmas Greetings to all their customers and friends.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 12/3/1980 - Advert

“Con and Jim of the CROSS GUNS, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, would like to wish the Wolves Team Good Luck at Wembley.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 7/1/1981 - Advert

“Dot and Bill of the CROSS GUNS, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, would like to wish all their customers, old and new, A Very Prosperous New Year and Best Wishes for 1981.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 19/12/1983 - Advert

“Dot and Bill of the CROSS GUNS, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, would like to wish all their customers and friends (old and new) a Happy Christmas and Prosperous New Year.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 29/3/1991 - Charity Events

“Tonight!!!!!! 24 Hour Pool Marathon.

All proceeds to Mary Stevens Hospice Wheels Appeal.

Support Glyn and Dave at the CROSS GUNS, Bilston Road, Wednesbury.

Tonight 9pm to Tomorrow 9pm.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 20/4/1991

“Regulars at a Wednesbury pub were right on cue when it came to raising money for charity. Landlord’s son Glyn Hill and Dave Rogers kept the CROSS GUNS pub in Bilston Road open all hours for their pool marathon. The 24-hour event raised £400 for the £25,000 Wheels Appeal in aid of Mary Stevens Hospice in Stourbridge. Enterprising landlord Mr. Bill Hill managed to double that total by selling raffle tickets to regulars watching the players. The money will help pay for a new bus for the hospice.”

It closed in 2001.

It was refurbished and reopened in 2002 as THE ROOST.

Sue Tolley was married to Aub.

It closed in February 2014.

It reopened after renovation in August 2014.

[2025]

2011

2014

TO PUBLICANS, BREWERS, & OTHERS.

JOSEPH WHITEHOUSE has been favoured with instructions to SELL by PUBLIC AUCTION (unless previously disposed of by private treaty), on FRIDAY, November 6th, 1874, at Six o'clock p.m., on the Premises, the LICENSES, GOODWILL, and immediate POSSESSION of that important and well-established House of Business, "THE CROSS GUNS," BILSTON ROAD, WEDNESBURY, and disposed of in consequence of the death of the Proprietor, the late Mr. Brittain, who most successfully carried it on for more than 20 years.

The House is in thorough repair, and contains Entrance Hall, Parlour, Bar, Kitchen, Taproom, Bed Chambers, large Clubroom, three Cellars, Brew-house, Maltroom, Stabling, Coachhouse, and other Outbuildings, with enclosed Yard. The above Property is near to the Patent Shaft and other large Works, which renders it a most valuable investment.

For particulars, and to treat, apply to J. Whitehouse, Auctioneer and Valuer, Spring Vale House, Wednesbury.

Unreserved and Clearing-out Sale.

MR. JOSEPH WHITEHOUSE will Sell by Public Auction, at the Cross Guns Inn, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, on WEDNESDAY NEXT, November 25—

All the neat and clean HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, BREWING PLANT, Stock of HOPS, MALT, ALE, WINES, and SPIRITS.

The LICENSES, GOODWILL, and POSSESSION, and Right of Lease will be offered as the first Lot, punctually at 10.30 a.m.

STOCK, &c., comprising 400 gallons of Ale, 140 gallons of Wine and spirits, 4 pockets of Hops, 25 bushels of Malt, 25 Ale Casks, Mashful, and Coolers, 4-pail Ale Machine and Piping, Chairs, Tables, Clocks, 24 Watches, capital 7-octave Pianoforte, and other Effects, belonging to the late Mr. Thomas Brittain.

Catalogues can be had at the place of sale, or from the Auctioneer's Office, Spring Vale House, Wednesbury.

1874

THOMAS BRITTAIN, Deceased.—Pursuant to the Statute 22nd and 23rd Victoria chapter 35. Notice is hereby given, that all Persons having any Claims against the Estate of THOMAS BRITTAIN, late of the Cross Guns Inn, Bilston Road, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, deceased (who died on the 13th day of October, 1874, and whose Will was proved in the Lichfield District Registry of her Majesty's Court of Probate on the 1st day of March, 1875), are hereby required to SEND the PARTICULARS of their Claims to the undersigned, on or before the 19th day of April, 1875, after which day the Executors will proceed to distribute the Assets of the Deceased, having regard only to the Claims of which they shall then have had notice.—Dated the 17th day of March, 1875.

W. MARSHALL, Darlington, near Wednesbury,
Solicitor to the Executors.

1875

CROSS Guns, Wednesbury.—To Let, with immediate possession, the above capital Old-licensed Free House, with excellent in and out door trade. Only changed hands twice in fifty years. Proprietor leaving in consequence of ill-health. The lease, licenses, goodwill, stock, and fixtures about £350—Apply to Joseph Whitehouse, Auctioneer and Valuer, Spring Vale House, Wednesbury.

1880

OLD-LICENSED HOUSE.—To be Let, with Immediate possession, the Old-Licensed House, known as the Cross Guns, Bilston-road, Wednesbury, doing a good trade. Excellent premises. Satisfactory reasons for leaving.—Apply on the premises.

1881

CON AND JIM

of

THE CROSS GUNS,
Bilston Road,
Wednesbury

send Christmas Greetings to all their customers and friends.

1975

CON AND JIM

of the

CROSS GUNS

Bilston Road, Wednesbury

would like to wish the Wolves Team Good Luck at Wembley

1980

DOT AND BILL

of

THE CROSS GUNS

Bilston Road

Wednesbury

would like to wish all their customers and friends (old and new) a Happy Christmas and Prosperous New Year

1983

TONIGHT !!!!! TONIGHT

24 HOUR POOL MARATHON

all proceeds to:
Mary Stevens Hospice Wheels Appeal

SUPPORT GLYN AND DAVE

at the
CROSS GUNS
Bilston Road
Wednesbury

TONIGHT 9 PM
TO TOMMOROW 9 PM

TONIGHT TONIGHT

1991

CROSS GUNS

High Bullen, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joyce Burkitt [1766]

NOTES

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 16/6/1766 - Advert

“To be Sold to the best Bidder, at the House of Martha Hawe, Widow, known by the Sign of the BLUE BALL in Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, upon Wednesday the 25th Day of June instant.....

Lot 1. A Freehold Messuage or Tenement, with a Stable, Brewhouse, and intire Yard, situate in the High Bullen, in Wednesbury aforesaid, known by the Sign of the CROSS GUNS, and in the Holding of Joyce Burkitt.”

To be Sold to the best Bidder,
At the House of Martha Hawe, Widow, known by the Sign of the Blue Ball in Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, upon Wednesday the 25th Day of June Instant; the Sale to begin at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon, and to be subject to the Conditions which will be then produced,
Lot 1. A Freehold Messuage or Tenement, with a Stable, Brewhouse, and intire Yard, situate in the High Bullen, in Wednesbury aforesaid, known by the Sign of the Cross-Guns, and in the Holding of Joyce Burkitt; and one Piece of Freehold Land, with a good Barn erected thereupon, near the aforesaid Messuage or Tenement, which Land and Barn are now in the several Occupations of George Sparrow and Daniel Smith.
—The Mines of Coal and Iron-Stone under the Land are excepted.

CROSS KEYS

5, Earps Lane, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Messrs. Johnson and Phipps Ltd.

LICENSEES

William Ray [] – 1870);
John Clark (1870 – 1871);
William Edwards (1871 – 1872);
Isaac Causer (1872 – []
George Garmston [1875] – [1896]
Thomas E Stanton [1901]
William Edward Smith [1904] – [1904]
Mrs. Mary Gorton [1911] – [1912]

NOTES

It was next door to the Public Hall.

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

1871 Census

5, Earps Lane
[1] John Clark (50), labourer, born Wednesbury;
[2] Frances M. Clark (48), wife, born Whitechurch, Staffordshire;
[3] Hannah Clark (18), daughter, born Hightfield, Staffordshire;
[4] Thomas Smith (35), lodger, puddler, born Cambridge;
[5] Matilda Smith (39), wife, born Lincoln;
[6] John Clark (40), lodger, striker, born Conton, Nottinghamshire;
[7] Mercy Clark (36), wife, born Frome, Somerset;
[8] Rose Clark (7 months), lodger, born Birmingham;
[9] Ann Thursfield (73), lodger, born Wednesbury;
[10] Job Painter (15), lodger, turner, born Wednesbury;
[11] Thomas Davis (8), lodger, born Birmingham;
[12] Mari Davis (11), lodger, born Birmingham;

Isaac Causer, beer retailer, Earps Lane. [1872]

George Garmston = George Garmstone

Midland Examiner 30/1/1875

“George Garmston, landlord of the CROSS KEYS beerhouse, Erps Lane, was summoned for allowing boys to gamble upon his premises. Mr. Williams defended.

PC John Hobbs proved the charge, and defendant was fined 20s and costs.”

To Masters, Brewers, Speculators, and Others.—Important Sale of highly-valuable FREEHOLD PUBLIC-HOUSE PROPERTY, situate at Earp's Lane, Upper High Street, Wednesbury.

W HICKMAN will SELL by AUCTION, at Mr. D. Lawrence's, George Hotel, Market Place, Wednesbury, on MONDAY NEXT, October 8, at Six for Seven o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions incorporating the common form conditions of the Birmingham Law Society—all that valuable FREEHOLD PUBLIC-HOUSE, with the Out-buildings and Appurtenances thereto belonging, and the Mines and Minerals thereunder, and known by the sign of the "Cross Keys Inn," together with the MESSUAGE, TENEMENT, or DWELLING-HOUSE adjoining, situate in and having a frontage of 11 yards to Earp's Lane aforesaid, and containing an area of 190 square yards or thereabouts, in the respective occupations of George Garmston and another, estimated to produce £40 14s per annum.

For further particulars, apply to Messrs Duignan, Lewis, Williams and Elliott, Solicitors, Walsall; or the Auctioneer, West Bromwich.

1877

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/10/1877 - Advert

“To Maltsters, Brewers, Speculator, and Others.

Important Sale of highly-valuable Freehold Public House, Property, situate at Earps Lane, Upper High Street, Wednesbury.

W. Hickman will Sell by Auction, at Mr. D. Lawrence’s, GEORGE HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury, on Monday Next, October 8, at Six for Seven o’clock in the evening.....

All that valuable Freehold Public House, with Outbuildings and Appurtenances thereto belonging, and the Mines and Minerals thereunder, and known by the sign of the CROSS KEYS INN, together with the Messuage, Tenement, or Dwelling House adjoining, situate in and having a frontage of 11 yards to Earps Lane aforesaid, and containing an area of 190 square yards or thereabouts, in the respective occupations of George Garmston and another, estimated to produce £40 14s per annum.

For further particulars, apply to Messrs. Duignan, Lewis, Williams and Elliott, Solicitors, Walsall; or the Auctioneer, West Bromwich.”

1881 Census

5, Earps Lane – CROSS KEYS

[1] George Garmston (36), unmarried, retail brewer, born Brewood, Staffordshire;

[2] Sarah Garmston (63), mother, married, housekeeper, born Brewood, Staffordshire:

George Garmstone, beerhouse keeper, 5, Earps Lane. [1888]

1891 Census

5, Earps Lane – CROSS KEYS

[1] George Garmston (46), unmarried, beerhouse keeper, born Brewood, Staffordshire;

[2] Sarah Garmston (73), mother, widow, born Brewood, Staffordshire:

George Garmston, beer retailer, 5, Earps Lane. [1896]

Birmingham Daily Post 16/4/1898 - Advert

“To Brewers, Publicans, and Others.

Three Freehold Licensed Houses, Wolverhampton, Wednesbury, and Bilston, for Sale, with Possession.

Thomas J. Barnett & Son, are instructed to offer for Sale by Auction, on Wednesday Evening, April 27, 1898, at half-past Six o’clock prompt time, at the Auction Mart, 25, Darlington Street, Wolverhampton, subject to conditions of sale, the following Licensed Houses and Properties adjoining.....

Lot 2. The Old-established Three-storey Licensed Beerhouse, known as the CROSS KEYS INN, situated amongst a dense population in Earps Lane, off High Street, in the town of Wednesbury, with the Two-storey Dwelling House adjoining, and the Yard and Out-offices belonging to both houses at the rear. The small House is occupied by a weekly tenant at a gross rental of £11 14s per annum, and possession of the Beerhouse will be given on completion of the purchase.....

NB. Purchasers of the above Houses will be required to take to, at valuation in the usual way, the Public House Fixtures, Fittings, Licenses, and Effects, as per Schedules, which may be seen on application to the Auctioneers.”

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury and District Air Gun Shooting League. [1903]

1901 Census

5, Earps Lane

[1] Thomas E. Stanton (32), tube finisher and public house keeper, born Leominster, Herefordshire;

[2] Maud M. Stanton (29), wife, born West Bromwich;

[3] James W. Stanton (2), son, born West Bromwich;

[4] Charles Stanton (1), son, born Wednesbury;

[5] Sarah James (14), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

William E. Smith, beer retailer, 5, Earps Lane. [1904]

Walsall Observer 26/3/1904

"At the Birmingham Assizes, on Monday, an action was brought in which Sarah Webster, residing with her married sister at Wednesbury, claimed damages from William Edward Smith, of the CROSS KEYS, Wednesbury, for slander, which imputed to the plaintiff that she had robbed him of £1 13s.

The defendant alleged that the accusation was true in substance and in fact, and further declared that the occasion was privileged. Mr. Vachell (instructed by Messrs. Sharpe and Darby) appeared for plaintiff, and Mr. Disturnal (instructed by Messrs. Willcock and Taylor, Wolverhampton) appeared for defendant.

The plaintiff is a first cousin of defendant, and was engaged by him as a barmaid at the TALBOT INN, Bilston, of which he was the manager. She remained there until the date of the slander, on Christman Day. On that occasion he accused her of having robbed the till of £1 13s on the previous night, and notwithstanding that charge, said Mr. Vachell, she was left in charge of the place all day. The defendant repeated the accusation in the presence of plaintiff's sister, 'She is a thief; she has robbed me of £1 13s.' Several other people was also present.

For the defence, Mr. Disturnal contended that there could not possibly be any malice on the part of the defendant, considering that the parties were relatives. The money was counted by both the previous night, and on the following morning the amount was missing. Defendant honestly believed that the plaintiff took the money.

The jury found for the plaintiff, damages £25."

1911 Census

5, Earps Lane – CROSS KEYS

[1] Thomas Gorton (53), coal miner, stall man, born Hill Top;

[2] Mary Gorton (54), wife, married 32 years, manageress public house, born Bilston:

Miss Mary Gorton, beer retailer, 5, Earps Lane. [1912]

Thomas Gorton – see PARK and MARKET HOUSE.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 8/2/1919

"Wednesbury Borough Licensing Justices, yesterday.....

The following licenses were to be served with opposition notices on the ground of redundancy.....

CROSS KEYS beerhouse, Earps Lane."

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/7/1919

"The Principal Meeting of the Licensing Compensation Authority for the county was held at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Thursday.....

In the Wednesbury division The Committee referred two ante-'69 beerhouses on in Wednesbury borough, the CROSS KEYS, Earps Lane, and the BELL AND CASTLE, Union Street."

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/11/1919

"The following amounts have been settled by the Licensing Compensation Authority for Staffordshire to be paid in respect of licenses the renewal of which was refused by them at the principal meeting on July 24 last.....

The following cases have been referred to the Inland Revenue Commissioners to decide the amount of compensation payable....

CROSS KEYS, Earps Lane, Wednesbury, an ante 1869 beerhouse 'on,' owned by Messrs. Johnson and Phipp Ltd."

Dudley Chronicle 10/1/1920

"Staffordshire Quarter Sessions on Tuesday approved the following sums as compensation for the extinction of licenses.....

The cases of CROSS KEYS, Wednesbury were referred to the Commissioners of Inland Revenue, the Licensing Committee being unable to approve the amounts submitted."

South Staffordshire Times 7/2/1920

"The CROSS KEYS beerhouse which was also referred for compensation at the Adjourned Licensing Sessions last year has yet to be finally dealt with, and is still open for business."

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/1/1921

“County Licensing Committee Annual Report.....

The committee have received the awards of the Commissioners of Inland Revenue in the following 1919 cases submitted to them.....

CROSS KEYS, Wednesbury (beerhouse ‘on’ ante-1869), £1,040.

The amounts awarded have been apportioned amongst the interested parties and will be paid on December 24 instant.”

It closed in 1920.

CROWN

90, Albert Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1921], [1935]

LICENSEES

George Sillitoe [1866] – 1867);
Mrs. Louisa Sillitoe [1867]
Henry Welch [1870] – 1871);
Frances Long (1871 – []
William Lester [1871]
George Lester [1872]
Louisa Lester [1881]
Thomas Haycock [1888] – [1891]
Charles Bassett [1896] – [1904]
David Tart [1911]
Samuel Jones [1912]
William Stafford Shorthouse [1921] – [1934]

Token

NOTES

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

OLD CROWN [1871]

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1866

“Licensing Day applications for new [spirit] licenses.....

George Sillitoe, Albert Street, Wednesbury, applied personally. House was situated 282 yards from the nearest licensed house Refused.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/1/1867 - Deaths

“On the 5th inst, aged 44, after a long and painful illness, borne with Christian fortitude, Mr. George Sillitoe, of the CROWN INN, Wednesbury; deeply lamented.”

Louisa Sillitoe = Louisa Silitoe

Birmingham Daily Post 26/9/1867

“West Bromwich special Session for hearing new applications for victuallers licenses.....

Mr. W. Shakespeare applied, on behalf of Mrs. Louisa Silitoe, for a license to a beerhouse in Albert Street, Wednesbury. The proprietress had now kept the house for four years, during which time there had not been a single complaint against her, and if the license were granted she would pledge herself to close on Sundays. Mrs. Silitoe had recently been left a widow with four children, and the reason for applying for a license was that she might be enabled to support her family. The Bench refused to grant the application.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 27/9/1867

“On Wednesday the adjourned licensing meeting for West Bromwich district was held in the Petty Sessions Room new applications [for spirit licenses].....

Louisa Sillitoe, of Albert Street, Wednesbury, applied for a license, and was supported by Mr. Shakespeare, who stated that she had kept a beerhouse for four years, during which no complaint had been made. She closed on Sundays, and if the license was granted she would pledge herself to continue to close on Sundays. Her case, he continued, was one that called for the sympathy of the Bench, as she had been left a widow with six children, and her object in making this application was to afford her additional means to support herself and her children in a creditable manner. This application was unopposed.”

Louisa Sillitoe married William Lester in the 4th quarter of 1868.

Henry Welch, beer retailer, Albert Street. [1870]

1871 Census

90, Albert Street – CROWN

- [1] William Lester (39), engineer, born Rowley;
- [2] Louisa Lester (39), wife, born South Wales;
- [3] William Lester (11), son, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Elizabeth Lester (8), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Isaiah Lester (5), son, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Enoch Sillitoe (19), step-son, engine driver, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Thomas Sillitoe (17), step-son, engine driver, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Rosanna Sillitoe (16), step-daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Mary Sillitoe (14), step-daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [10] Joshua Sillitoe (10), step-son, born Wednesbury;
- [11] Phoebe Sillitoe (7), step-daughter, born Wednesbury;

George Lester, beer retailer, 90, Albert Street. [1872]

William Lester died in the 2nd quarter of 1876.

Evening Express 12/1/1881

“An inquest was held at the CROWN INN, Wednesbury, on Monday, before Edwin Hooper, Esq, Coroner, relative to the death of Daniel, aged five years, son of Joseph Harper, nut and bolt maker, Cramp Hill, Darlaston.

It appeared that the child was sent upstairs to bed, and after standing before the fire for a while his clothes ignited, and he was severely burnt about the body. The child lingered in great agony till Thursday last, when he succumbed to the injuries received. The parents of the deceased, from the date of the accident till the child’s death, failed to call in the services of a medical man, and used no remedy to alleviate the deceased’s misery beyond pouring treacle over the parts which were burnt.

The Coroner severely censured the parents for not sending for a doctor, and told them that if another child of theirs met with a similar accident he would commit them on a charge of manslaughter.”

1881 Census

90, Albert Street

- [1] Louisa Lester (49), widow, publican, born Llanelli, Breconshire;
- [2] Joshua Sillitoe (20), son, engine tender, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Phebe J. Sillitoe (17), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Enoch Sillitoe (29), step-son, widower, hammer driver in iron works, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Mary Sillitoe (24), step-daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [6] George Sillitoe (8), grand-son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [7] John Thomas Sillitoe (6), grand-son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [8] William Lester (21), step-son, engine tender, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Isaiah Lester (16), step-son, engine cleaner, born Wednesbury;
- [10] Emma Cleaver (16), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

Louisa Lester died in the 1st quarter of 1882.

Wednesbury Herald 29/4/1882

“All Persons having any Claims or Demands against the Estate of George Sillitoe, late of the CROWN INN, Albert Street, Wednesbury, Staffordshire, Publican, Deceased (who died on the 5th January 1867) are requested, on or before, the 27th May next, to send particulars of their Claims and Demands to Mr. Thomas Sillitoe, of the STAR INN, Woodgreen, Wednesbury, aforesaid, Beerhouse Keeper, the surviving Executor of the Will of the said George Sillitoe.....”

Thomas Haycock, beer retailer, 90, Albert Street. [1888]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 7/1/1889

“On Saturday evening the members of the money club held at the CROWN INN, Albert Street, Wednesbury, had their periodical supper. There was a large attendance, and a capital repast was served by Host Haycock. After supper Mr. F. Lester presided, with Mr. J. Wilkinson vice-chairman. The secretary’s statement showed the club to be in a flourishing and improving condition. The evening was then given up to harmony, songs being contributed by Messrs. J. Roden, R. Price, Haycock, Holyhead, Hayward, Powis, and others. A very enjoyable evening terminated with the usual votes of thanks.”

1891 Census

90, Albert Street – CROWN INN

- [1] Thomas Haycock (59), publican, born Rugeley;
- [2] Hannah Haycock (23), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Hannah Haycock (2), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Amy Eagles (17), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

Thomas Haycock died on 8th August 1894.

Charles Bassett, beer retailer, 90, Albert Street. [1896], [1904]

1901 Census

90, Albert Street

- [1] Charles Bassett (35), publican, born Darlaston;
- [2] Ida Bassett (33), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Ada Bassett (8), daughter, born Darlaston;
- [4] Eva Bassett (9), daughter, born Darlaston;
- [5] Connie Bassett (4), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [6] J. Barnard Bassett (6 months), son, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Kate Bond (19), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Miriam Bassett (72), visitor, widow, born Darlaston;

Walsall Observer 17/10/1903

“The half-yearly meeting of the Greets Green and Wednesbury Forestry district took place at the CROWN INN, Albert Street, Wednesbury, on Monday. Bro. J. Onions, District Chief Ranger, presided.

The minutes of the last meeting having been confirmed, the District Auditor gave his report for the half-year ending June 30th, 1903. The funeral fund had a present capital of £2,026 19s 10d, a gain of £61 4s 9d. This after paying £245 on funeral claims for members and members’ wives. The other funds also showed a balance on the right side. The report was adopted.

The examiner of the district court book, Bro. Wyatt, gave his report, showing that the district consisted of twenty-eight courts, with 2,803 members, and had a capital of £27,000.....

Bro. J. Raybould then presented Bro. Onions, the retiring DCR, with a neck ribbon and certificate, and spoke of the good work done by him while going through the various offices. Bro. Onions having returned thanks, the meeting then came to a close.”

1911 Census

Albert Street – CROWN INN

- [1] David Tart (36), publican, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Elizabeth Tart (36), wife, married 13 years, assisting in business, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Elizabeth May Tart (10), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Percy Tart (4), son, born Wednesbury;

Samuel Jones, beer retailer, 90, Albert Street. [1912]

1921 Census

90, Albert Street – CROWN

- [1] William Stafford Shorthouse (34), license holder, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Lily Shorthouse (29), wife, license holder's assistant, born Wednesbury;
- [3] William Stafford Shorthouse (4), son, born Darlaston;
- [4] Marjorie Shorthouse (2), daughter, born Wednesbury;

W. Shorthouse issued tokens from here.

Bilston & Willenhall Times 21/2/1925

"In the first round of the Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers Billiard Handicap this week.....

Mr. W. Shorthouse, of the CROWN INN, Wednesbury (rec.120), was beaten by Mr. Reeves of Birmingham, by 440-259."

Birmingham Daily Post 31/1/1928

"The first round of the Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers Billiard Handicap was continued yesterday.....

J. W. Windridge, Hall Green (scratch) beat W. S. Shorthouse, Wednesbury (rec.170) by 400 to 377."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 18/12/1929

"Mr. Bertram Grimley, the South Staffordshire Stipendiary, gave his decision at Bilston yesterday in a case heard at Wednesbury in which William S. Shorthouse, licensee of the GRAND HOTEL, Albert Street, Wednesbury, was summoned for supplying intoxicating drink after hours, and six persons were summoned for consuming it.

The case for the prosecution was that towards midnight on 27 October the police gained entrance to the hotel and saw the landlord carrying two glasses of beer from the bar into the kitchen, and also saw the other defendants with glasses of beer and stout in front of them.

The defence was that all the persons were friends of the licensee, and were being entertained by him in a bona-fide manner.

The Stipendiary said there had not been sufficient evidence for him to say that the defendants had failed to justify their position, and he had no option but to dismiss the summonses."

Birmingham Daily Post 19/4/1960

"Mr. William Stafford Shorthouse, a former well-known licensee in Wednesbury and Darlaston for nearly 40 years, died yesterday in New Cross Hospital, Wolverhampton. He was 74. He lived in the delicensed RED LION INN, Church Street, Darlaston, of which he was licensee from 1935 until it was closed about a year ago. Before going to Darlaston he was licensee of the OLD CROWN INN, Albert Street, Wednesbury.

He was for six years president of the local Licensed Victuallers Association."

Closed

LOT 4.—The de-licensed property, the late "Crown" Inn, No. 90, Albert Street.

Dudley Chronicle 21/2/1935 - Advert

"Wednesbury. Belcher and Son will offer for Sale by Public Auction at the WHITE HORSE HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Monday Next, February 25th, at 7 o'clock in the evening precisely, subject to conditions, the following Freehold Investment Properties.....

By order of Messrs. W. Butler and Co. Ltd.....

Lot 4. The de-licensed property, the late CROWN INN, No.90, Albert Street."

Birmingham Daily Post 15/11/1966

“Mr. John Stonehouse, MP (Lab. Wednesbury), has taken up the case of a family living in an old public house, part of which was condemned as unfit more than ten years ago. Mr. James Moore, his wife and two children moved into part of the CROWN INN, Albert Street, Wednesbury, as a ‘temporary measure’ nearly 20 years ago. The Moores have been on the housing waiting list for 21 years, but until the premises are made the subject of a clearance order and this is confirmed West Bromwich Council cannot rehouse the family.

Mr. Stonehouse said he would ask the West Bromwich Borough Engineer and Surveyor for an explanation. He would also get in touch with the Minister of Housing and Local Government.

A spokesman for West Bromwich Housing Department said that the property was formerly the responsibility of the old Wednesbury Council. Moves were being made to make the area the subject of a clearance order.”

GEORGE SILLITOE, DECEASED.

ALL PERSONS having any Claims or Demands against the Estate of George Sillitoe, late of The Crown Inn, Albert Street, Wednesbury, Staffordshire, Publican, Deceased, (who died on the 5th January, 1867) are requested, on or before the 27th of May next, to send particulars of their Claims and Demands to Mr. Thomas Sillitoe, of the Star Inn, Woodgreen, Wednesbury, aforesaid, Beer House Keeper, the surviving Executor of the Will of the said George Sillitoe.

Dated this 17th day of April, 1882,

THURSFIELD & MESSITER,

Solicitors for the said Thomas Sillitoe.

CROWN AND CUSHION

36, (35+36), High Bullen, (Dudley Street), WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Thomas Russell [1891], [1921]
William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1934], [1935]

LICENSEES

Matthew Hawkins [1851] – 1865;
Mrs. Sarah Hawkins (1865 – 1866);
Benjamin Hawkins (1866 – [1873])
Joseph Fairbank [1881]
Samuel Tait [1883]
Henry Harrison [1884]
Joseph Wallett [1891];
Thomas Russell [1892]
G H Beardsmore [1892]
Thomas Griffiths (1894 – 1899)
Mrs. Sarah Ann Beardmore [1896]
Thomas Noon [1900]
Herbert Edward Kent [1901] – [1904]
Mrs. Emma Kent [1908]
Joseph Onions [1911]
Harry Ford [1912]
Alfred James Merrick [1916]
Mrs. Ellen Merrick [1921] – 1925;
Mary Elizabeth Ayre (1925 – [])
Edward Challinor [1932]

NOTES

35+36, High Bullen [1881]
36, High Bullen [1871], [1896], [1904], [1908], [1912], [1932], [1935]

Sun 1/10/1845 - Advert

“An Extraordinary Return of Health in a Few Days by the Use of Holloway’s Pills.

The patient having previously been in an ill state for six years, Mr. Benjamin Hawkins, employed in the ironworks, and well known at the CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen, Wednesbury, Staffordshire, had, to use his own phrase, been a sad afflicted creature, and that no one but God and himself knew what he suffered from aches and pains in all his joints and shins, likewise from a disordered liver and stomach, with scarcely strength sufficient to keep about! Here again have Holloway’s Pills restored to health an individual labouring under the most complicated diseases.

Sold by all Druggists, and at Professor Holloway’s Establishment, 244, Strand.”

Sale at the Crown and Cushion, High Bullen, Wednesbury.
MESSRS. HAWKINS & SON have received instructions from the Executors of the late Mr. Benjamin Hawkins to Sell by Auction, TO-MORROW (Friday), February 15--the celebrated brown MARE (driven by the late Mr. B. Hawkins), two Sets of HARNESS, Saddle and Bridle, superior Whitechapel Dogcart, Spring Trap, &c.
Sale to commence at 3 o'clock.
Auctioneers' Offices, 26, Temple Street, Birmingham.

Wednesbury, Staffordshire.—Valuable Freehold Old-licensed INN and DWELLING HOUSES.—To Brewers, Spirit Merchants, and Others.—To be Sold by Auction,

By Messrs. HAWKINS & SON, at the Great Western Hotel, Wednesbury, on TUESDAY, July 2, 1878, at 6 o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions which will incorporate the common form conditions of the Birmingham Law Society, to be then produced—the following FREEHOLD PROPERTIES, namely:—
Lot 1.—The established Old-licensed PUBLIC-HOUSE (with the Goodwill and Possession), fronting the High Bullen, in Wednesbury, and known as “THE CROWN AND CUSHION,” comprising Bar, Tap Room, Parlour, Smoke Room, Lodge Room, three Bed Rooms, three Cellars, Kitchen, Scullery, modern Brewery, Malt Room, large four-stalled Stable and Loft over, Saddle Room, Piggeries, and Garden Land. Also, the Private DWELLING HOUSE adjoining the said Public-house, and fronting the High Bullen; together with the Coachsmith’s Forging Shop, Fitting Shop over Smith’s Shop, Warehouse and Office, Turning Shop, Engine-house and Stack, Cartshed, Coach-house, Store Room, and other Out-buildings, lying at the back of the said Inn and private Dwelling-house.

The above Inn is well known to be one of the best business houses in the town, is situated in a busy and populous locality, and has been carried on for upwards of sixty years by the family of the late Mr. Benjamin Hawkins. The Property comprised in this lot is highly desirable either as an investment or for occupation. The Purchaser will be required to take to the fixtures, stock, and effects at a valuation, a schedule of which will be produced at the Sale, and the amount thereof then declared.

The Mines under this Lot will be sold with the surface.

Lot 2.—The FREEHOLD DWELLING HOUSE and PREMISES, situate and numbered 53 in Union Street, in Wednesbury, in the occupation of Mr. Hancox, with the Yard, Garden, and Out-buildings lying at the back thereof, and belonging thereto, and the right jointly with the other parties entitled thereto to use the entry lying between the Dwelling House comprised in this lot and the adjoining Property.

The Mines under this lot will be sold with the surface.

For further particulars, apply to Messrs. Thursfield and Messiter, Solicitors, Wednesbury; or the Auctioneers, 26, Temple Street, Birmingham.

By HAWKINS & SON.—To be Let, with immediate possession, THE CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen, Wednesbury, on account of the death of the proprietor. It is situated in the centre of the town, and is well known to be one of the best business houses in the district.

Valuers, 26, Temple Street, Birmingham.

1878

1851 Census

High Bullen

- [1] Matthew Hawkins (55), publican, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Sarah Hawkins (53), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Benjamin Hawkins (33), son, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Catherine Hawkins (36), daughter-in-law, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Eliza Parsons (18), house servant, born Wednesbury;

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 22/4/1855

“Thomas Peers of Bloxwich informs Basset of London that he cannot give him any start, but will walk him seven miles level, for £25 a side; or Peers will accept Thomas (the Salopian’s) challenge to receive one minute start in seven miles; or he will walk Diamond of London or White of Birmingham seven miles, for £25 a side. A match can be made by sending a deposit to Bells Life and articles to Peers, at Mr. Hawkins’s, the CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen, Wednesbury. To walk half-way between home and home.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 19/7/1857

“Daniel Lynch of Wednesbury will run Joseph Hardman of Bolton from 100 to 130 yards, or will take 30 yards start in 440, for £25 a side. A match can be made by sending articles to Mr. Hawkins, CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury, and a deposit to Bells Life.”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/7/1859

“On Monday last, the Friendly Brothers Lodge, No.11 of the Wolverhampton Reformed Order of Odd Fellows, held their anniversary at the house of Mr. Matthew Hawkins, CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury, when fifty of the members sat down to an excellent dinner. GM John Simmons was called to the chair, and NG Samuel Billingsley to the vice chair. The secretary read the report of the society for the past year, and it was found to be in flourishing condition, there being now £114 in the bank.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/7/1859

“On Monday last, the Loyal St. George Lodge, No.1980, of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, held their anniversary at the house of Mr. M. Hawkins, CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury, when upwards of forty members sat down to an excellent dinner. Dr. Lynes was called to the chair, and PGM Shillatoo officiated as vice. The report stated that the lodge had paid during the year £58 to sick members, and the balance in hand is now £400, which is invested in the Building Society.”

1861 Census

High Bullen

- [1] Mathew Hawkins (65), publican, beerhouse, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Sarah Hawkins (62), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Ellen Foden (19), niece, house servant, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Sarah Ann Griffiths (15), niece, house servant, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Benjamin Hawkins (42), coach smith employing 12 men 5 boys 3 girls, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Catherine Hawkins (42), wife, born Wednesbury;

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/10/1861

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Thursday last.....
The following is a list of applicants for wine and spirit licenses.....
M. Hawkins, High Bullen, Wednesbury, opposed Refused.”

Birmingham Journal 10/5/1862

“The Wednesbury District of the Wolverhampton Loyal Reformed Order of Odd Fellows have determined this year not to have their usual demonstration at Whitsuntide, and have instead handed to the Mayor of Wolverhampton, per their Treasurer, Mr. Matthew Hawkins, High Bullen, Wednesbury, the liberal sum of ten guineas towards the fund for the relief of the sufferers by the Millfields boiler explosion.”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/10/1862

“On Monday night, at a meeting of No.11 Friendly Brothers Lodge of the Wolverhampton Loyal Reformed Order of Odd Fellows, held at the house of Mr. Matthew Hawkins, the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury, it was unanimously resolved to grant £2 2s from the funds in aid of the distressed Lancashire operatives.”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/8/1863

“Yesterday a united demonstration of the four Wednesbury lodges comprised in the Bescot Bridge District Branch of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, M.U., took place. The members of the several lodges having first mustered at their respective lodge houses, the Good Samaritan Lodge, No.2888, proceeded from the BLUE BALL, Church Hill, to the CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen, and there joined the St. George’s Lodge, No.1980. From thence the two lodges moved on to the THREE SWANS, Holyhead Road, and took up the Widows Relief Lodge, No.1181, and the Tradesmens Refuge Lodge, No.3035. At this point the lodges, headed by the Rifle Corps Band, were arranged according to numerical order, and the members being decked out with gay-coloured scarfs, and carrying flags, banners, and the regalia of the order (the latter kindly lent by the Birmingham district), a procession of imposing length and attractive appearance was formed.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 25/9/1863

“The adjourned licensing meeting for West Bromwich, Wednesbury and Walsall, was held yesterday.....

New applications for spirit licenses.....

Mr. Slater applied on behalf of Mathew Hawkins, of High Bullen, Wednesbury, and the license was granted.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 5/3/1864

“Pedestrianism. Aston Cross Grounds.....

On Monday, should the weather prove at all propitious, there will no doubt be a large gathering to witness the undermentioned matches.....

C. Milnes and T. Tonks (both of Wednesbury) are to run six score yards, for £5 a side, at three o’clock. Mr. B. Hawkins, of the CROWN AND CUSHION, final stakeholder and referee.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 31/3/1864

“West Bromwich Hall End Boiler Explosion Relief Fund.

By this Catastrophe Six Widows and Eleven Orphans have been left totally destitute, and upwards of 20 Persons have been seriously injured. Subscriptions are earnestly solicited.

Amount previously Advertised, £385 8s 1d.....

A few Friends at CROWN AND CUSHION, Wednesbury, £2 4s 7d.”

Birmingham Daily Post 21/6/1864

“On Monday the members of the Wolverhampton Loyal Reformed Order of Odd Fellows held their annual dinner at the CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen, Wednesbury, when about sixty-five members sat down to an excellent dinner. After dinner the usual loyal toasts having been drunk, ‘The Town and Trade of Wednesbury,’ and ‘The 34th Staffordshire Volunteers,’ were duly honoured. The Secretary then read the balance sheet, which showed that the society’s funds in hand amounted to £298 10s 8½d. The proceedings were of a most agreeable character.”

Birmingham Daily Post 21/6/1864

“Yesterday afternoon, Mr. E. Hooper, District Coroner, opened an enquiry at the house of Mr. Hawkins, the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury, on the body of James M’Foy, a man about forty years of age, who lived in Oatmeal Square. The evidence went to show that the deceased had been in an unsound state of mind for several years, and that at one time he was an inmate of Stafford Lunatic Asylum. On Saturday afternoon he went up stairs to lie down, and soon afterwards his lifeless body was found on the bed. There was no suspicion that the deceased had destroyed himself, but in the absence of direct testimony as to the cause of death the Jury returned an open verdict.”

Matthew Hawkins died in the 1st quarter of 1865.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/1/1865

“On Saturday, the following licenses were temporarily transferred by the West Bromwich Magistrates.....
CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen, from Matthew Hawkins to Sarah Hawkins, his widow.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/5/1865

“On Tuesday evening a complimentary dinner was given at the CROWN AND CUSHION, Wednesbury, to Police-inspector Walter Gasson. Mr. Blakemore occupied the chair, and Mr. Park the vice-chair. Major M'Knight and Superintendent Holland were also present.

After the withdrawal of the cloth, and the usual toasts having been given, the Chairman, in the name of the ratepayers and inhabitants of Wednesbury, presented to Inspector Gasson a silver lever stop watch (made by Mr. Perks, of Wednesbury), with gold guard, and a purse containing twenty guineas. The watch bore the following inscription, ‘Presented to Inspector W. Gasson, with a purse containing twenty guineas, by a number of friends in Wednesbury, as an acknowledgement of his valuable services during his stay in the above town. May 10, 1865.’ Mr. Perks also presented him with an electro-plated sugar basin.

Inspector Gasson thanked the donors for the handsome gift, and the proceedings were afterwards kept up until an advanced hour.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/12/1865

“Yesterday afternoon, Mr. North, Deputy Coroner, held an enquiry at the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury, touching the death of William Parker, a labourer, aged twenty-one, recently living in the same locality. The deceased had for some time been in a bad state of health. On Wednesday week, while alone in the house, he was seized with a fit, and fell upon the fire, and, although he was promptly rescued from his painful position, and placed under the care of Dr. Blackwood, he had sustained such serious injuries as aggravated his previous illness, and led to his death on Wednesday last. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 6/1/1866

“Little Mills of Wednesbury and C. Hope of Darlaston (alias Deerfoot) are matched to run six score yards, Hope receiving four yards start, for £5; to come off at Aston Cross Grounds on Monday, January 22. £1 a side is down in the hands of Mr. B. Hawkins of the CROWN AND CUSHION, Wednesbury, who is final stakeholder, to whom a weekly deposit must be made. Mr. Coates of Birmingham is chosen referee.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/9/1866

“The inquest on the body of John Hammond, aged 37, who, with another man, was killed on the 20th ult, by an explosion of sulphur in a pit shaft at the Old Hall Colliery, the property of Messrs. Groucutt, was resumed on Wednesday, at the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury, before Mr. Hooper, Coroner. Mr. Baker, the inspector of mines for this district, and Mr. D. Groucutt, one of the proprietors of the colliery, were present.

The explosion took place as the skip, which contained a number of men, was descending the shaft on the morning in question. Two of the men were carrying lighted candles, and all occupants of the skip were precipitated to the bottom of the shaft. The shaft and workings had not been previously examined with a safety lamp, and, therefore, the 28th rule of the colliery had been infringed. Mr. Baker, who had examined the pit, gave evidence, and said that about 26 yards down the shaft he found a thin coal of seam unbricked, and he was of opinion that the gas which exploded had escaped from this seam. The 28th rule had evidently been infringed, and if that had not been the case the accident would not have happened.

The Coroner then summed up, and the Jury, after about twenty minutes' consideration, returned a verdict of Manslaughter, against Charles Kitson, the doggy, who was committed for trial at the Assizes, but afterwards admitted to bail.

The inquest on the body of J. Davies, the other man killed in the same accident, was resumed at the GOUGH ARMS, Hateley Heath, before Mr. E. Hooper, Coroner, on Thursday. The several witnesses were called before the Jury, and confirmed the evidence they had previously given. After about half an hour's deliberation, the Jury returned a verdict of Manslaughter against Kitson, who was committed for trial at the March Assizes, but released on bail.

A good deal of sympathy has been expressed for the prisoner, who has himself been considerably injured by a subsequent explosion.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 14/3/1867

“Staffordshire Lent Assizes.....

Charles Kitson, on bail, was charged under the Coroner’s inquisition with manslaughter at the parish of West Bromwich, on the 20th of August. The Grand Jury had ignored the bill, and now the jury, by direction of the Court, acquitted the prisoner.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/8/1866 - Deaths

“On the 19th ultimo, at Wednesbury, aged 68 years, Sarah, widow of Matthew Hawkins, CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen; deeply regretted.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 8/10/1866

“At the West Bromwich Police Court, on Saturday, the following licenses were transferred.....

CROWN AND CUSHION, Wednesbury, from the executors of the late Sarah Hawkins to Benjamin Hawkins.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/12/1866

“On Monday, Mr. E. Hooper, district coroner, held an inquiry at the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury, touching the death of Elizabeth Taylor, aged two years and ten months, the daughter of a widow living in the same neighbourhood. On the 19th instant the child was playing with other children with lighted pieces of paper, when she set her clothes on fire, and before the flames could be extinguished, sustained such severe injuries that she died on the following day. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 22/2/1868

“Royal Oak Grounds, Burnt Tree, near Dudley.

Sim Webb of Kates Hill and Tom Wareing of Wednesbury have signed articles to run 140 yards on March 30, for £15 a side (open for £25). Mr. Hawkins of the CROWN AND CUSHION, Wednesbury, who is final stakeholder and referee, has £2 a side in hand, and a further deposit is to be made to him weekly.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 26/10/1868

“Wednesbury Elections.....

On Saturday evening an enthusiastic and crowded meeting of Mr. Walker’s supporters was held at the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen. Mr. Edward Lee was voted to the chair....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 16/12/1868

“Two young Irishmen, named John Rice and Dennis Carney, were yesterday brought up in custody at Wednesbury Police Court, charged with violently assaulting a forgerman, named George Farley. Mr. L. W. Lewis, of Walsall, appeared on behalf of the prisoners.

It appeared that on the night of the 8th of December, the prisoners came out of the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen, shouting ‘Brogden forever,’ to a number of other men, and in a row that ensued, Farley received dangerous wounds on his head, and is at present in a critical condition, implements of various kinds having been used in the affray. The case was remanded until Monday, at West Bromwich.”

[At the next hearing Rice and Carney were found guilty of assaulting Farley. Rice was sentenced to seven weeks, and Carney to two months, both to hard labour.]

1871 Census

36, High Bullen

[1] Benjamin Hawkins (53), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Catherine Hawkins (55), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] Ellen Marriot (22), general servant, born Wednesbury;

[4] Mary Hill (19), general servant, born Wednesbury;

Birmingham Daily Post 22/2/1872

“Black Lake Colliery Accident.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. H. Smith) acknowledges the receipt of the following additional sums to the above fund.....
CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen, Wednesbury (per Mr. B. Hawkins), £1 16s.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 16/11/1872

“Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury.....

S. Hollihead of Princes End and S. Roberts of Wednesbury ran 120 yards, for £10 a side, on the late handicap terms, Hollihead having 5½ yards start. Hollihead was attended by J. Dudley of Wednesbury, Roberts by J. Lee of Great Bridge, both men showing in good trim. Betting opened at 5 to 4, and went to 2 to 1 on Hollihead. Just as the allotted 15 minutes had expired they got away together from their marks; Hollihead retained the lead throughout, and won by three-quarters of a yard. Mr. B. Hawkins of the CROWN AND CUSHION, Wednesbury, stakeholder and referee.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 18/1/1878 - Deaths

“On the 10th instant, aged 60 years, Benjamin Hawkins, of the CROWN AND CUSHION, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Post 14/2/1878 - Advert

“Sale at the CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen, Wednesbury.

Messrs. Hawkins & Son have received instructions from the Executors of the late Mr. Benjamin Hawkins, to Sell by Auction Tomorrow (Friday), February 15.

The celebrated brown Mare (driven by the late Mr. B. Hawkins), two Sets of Harness, Saddle and Bridle, superior Whitechapel Dogcart, Spring Trap, &c.

Sale to commence at 3 o’clock.

Auctioneer’s Offices, 26, Temple Street, Birmingham.”

Birmingham Daily Post 1/6/1878 - Advert

“Wednesbury, Staffordshire. Valuable Freehold Old-licensed Inn and Dwelling Houses.

To Brewers, Spirit Merchants, and Others.

To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Hawkins & Son, at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Tuesday, July 9, 1878, at 6 o’clock in the evening.....

Lot 1. The established Old-licensed Public House (with the Goodwill and Possession), fronting the High Bullen, in Wednesbury, and known as the CROWN AND CUSHION, comprising Bar, Tap Room, Parlour, Smoke Room, Lodge Room, three Bed Rooms, three Cellars, Kitchen, Scullery, modern Brewery, Malt Room, large four-stalled Stable and Loft over, Saddle Room, Piggeries, and Garden Land.

Also, the Private Dwelling House adjoining the said Public House, and fronting the High Bullen; together with Coachsmith’s Forging Shop, Fitting Shop over Smith’s Shop, Warehouse and Office, Turning Shop, Engine House and Stack, Cart-shed, Coach-house, Store Room, and other Out-buildings, lying at the back of the said Inn and private Dwelling House.

The above Inn is well known to be one of the best business houses in the town, is situated in a busy and populous locality, and has been carried on for upwards of sixty years by the family of the late Mr. Benjamin Hawkins. The Property comprised in this lot is highly desirable either as an investment or for occupation. The Purchaser will be required to take to the fixtures, stock, and effects at a valuation, a schedule of which will be produced at the Sale, and the amount thereof then declared.

The Mines under this Lot will be sold with the surface.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/9/1878 - Advert

“By Hawkins & Son. To be Let, with immediate possession, the CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen, Wednesbury, on account of the death of the proprietor. It is situated in the centre of the town, and is well known to be one of the best business houses in the district.

Valuers, 26, Temple Street, Birmingham.”

Birmingham Daily Post 11/12/1878 - Advert

“Benjamin Hawkins, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given, that all Creditors and other Persons having any Claims or Demands upon or against the Estate of Benjamin Hawkins, late of the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, Deceased (who died on the 10th day of January, 1878, and whose Will was proved in the District Registry, at Lichfield, of the Probate Division of her Majesty’s High Court of Justice, on the 1st day of February, 1878, by Alfred Thomas Onions Hawkins and William Bailey Wiggin, the Executors therein named), are hereby required to Send the Particulars of their respective Claims or Demands to us, the undersigned, the Solicitors to the said

Executors, on or before the 8th day of March, 1879, after which date the said Executors will proceed to Distribute the Assets of the said Deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the Claims and Demands of which they shall then have had notice, and the said Executors will not be liable for the Assets, or any part thereof, so distributed to any Person of whose Claim or Demand they shall not then have had notice.

Dated this Seventh day of December, 1878.

Thursfield and Messiter, Wednesbury, Staffordshire, Solicitors for the said Executors.”

1881 Census

35+36, High Bullen – CROWN AND CUSHION Public House

[1] Joseph Fairbank (49), innkeeper, born Derby;

[2] E. Fairbank (40), wife, born Oswestry, Shropshire;

[3] Arthur Fairbank (22), son, innkeeper’s assistant, born Ironbridge;

[4] Joseph Fairbank (12), son, scholar, born Wolverhampton;

[5] Samuel Fairbank (1), son, born Wolverhampton;

[6] Venus Fairbank (16), daughter, innkeeper’s assistant, born Llanidloes, Montgomeryshire;

[7] Catherine Pool (19), general servant, born Wednesbury:

Wednesbury Herald 26/5/1883

“Samuel Tait, landlord of the CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen, was charged with keeping open his house during prohibited hours. Mr. Sheldon appeared for the defendant.

On Sunday morning, the 13th inst, about eleven o’clock, Police-sergeant Upton and Police-constable Nolan watched the defendant’s house, and saw several people enter the house by the back door in Union Street. Among those who entered and came out of the house was a lodging house keeper, named Morley, who lived near, and under whose coat Upton found a tin bottle full of fresh drawn ale.

The defence was that the ale was purchased from a neighbouring public house on the previous (Saturday) evening. Defendant, his wife, and another witness, each swore that no ale was supplied to anyone on defendant’s premises that (Sunday) morning.

The Bench said they could not give credence to the statement for the defence, and fined defendant 10s and costs, but the license would not be endorsed.”

Magnet 8/9/1883 - Advert

“Wanted! Talent! Talent! Talent!

CROWN AND CUSHION, Wednesbury.

Proprietor, Mr. Samuel Tate. Manager, Harry Rowland. Pianist, Herr Rowlande.

Serio-Comics and Dancers please write in. Irish Comedians, Comic Vocalists and Single-handed Niggers, for Present and Future Dates.

All Communications to Manager, as above.”

The Era 15/12/1883 - Advert

“Wanted, Immediately, a First-class Lady Pianist and Vocalist. To live in preferred. A comfortable and long Engagement to a suitable person.

S. Tate, CROWN AND CUSHION, Wednesbury. Enclose photo if possible.”

Cheshire Observer 23/2/1884

“An application was made by Mr. Brassey, solicitor, in a case involving a misunderstanding about names. The plaintiff, J. Pointon, sued Henry Harrison for the recovery of a sum of money for goods supplied. He found that the debtor was at Wednesbury, and sued him for the money. It appeared, however, that the summons was served upon Henry Harrison, at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wednesbury, but it seemed that he was not the Henry Harrison referred to, but his father. The son, however, lived next door to his father, in another public house, the CROWN AND CUSHION. Mr. Brassey stated on behalf of plaintiff that a notice of the application had been sent, by registered letter, to the younger Harrison, and no heed being paid to that notice he now applied for judgement against Henry Harrison, jun. His Honour ordered that a summons, returnable for next court, should be served by registered letter.”

1891 Census

High Bullen – CROWN AND CUSHION INN

- [1] Joseph Wallett (38), widower, publican, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Samuel Wallett (17), son, barman, born Bolsover, Derbyshire;
- [3] Mary Wallett (15), daughter, barmaid, born Walsall;
- [4] Charles L. Wallett (13), son, factory labourer, born Clowne, Derbyshire;
- [5] Jane M. Wallett (4), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Sarah A. Parker (23), step-daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [7] William Cheadle (38), boarder, tube inspector, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Hannah Cheadle (41), boarder, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Elizabeth Cheadle (1), daughter, born Wednesbury;

Birmingham Mail 8/9/1891

“At Wednesbury today, Joseph Wallett, CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen, was fined 40s and costs under one summons, and ordered to pay the costs in three other cases, for having allowed his licensed premises to be used for betting.”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1891

“The adjourned licensing meeting for the Wednesbury petty sessional division was held yesterday.....

Joseph Wallett, the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Wednesbury, applied for the renewal of his license, which had been opposed on the ground that he had allowed his house to be used in contravention of ‘The Suppression of Betting Houses Act.’ Mr. W. S. Smith supported the application, and Mr. Page (Wolverhampton) appeared for the owner, Mr. T. Russell Granted, subject to transfer to Mr. Russell.”

Birmingham Daily Post 11/11/1891 - Advert

“CROWN AND CUSHION, Wednesbury, to Let.

One of the best and oldest full-licensed houses in town. In-going £200.

For particulars, apply on the premises.”

CROWN and Cushion, Wednesbury, to Let. One of the best and oldest full-licensed houses in town. In-going £200. — For particulars, apply on the premises.

Wednesbury Herald 23/1/1892

“The annual dinner of the employees of the Great Western Railway was held on Monday evening at the CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen. A capital spread was provided by the host (Mr. G. H. Beardmore). After dinner a smoking concert was held, presided over by Mr. Herring (Station Master), Mr. Yoxall being in the vice chair.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/3/1894

“A petition has been filed in the Bankruptcy Court on behalf of Sarah Ann Beardmore, late of the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury; solicitor, Mr. T. Jones, Wednesbury.”

London Gazette 29/3/1894

“Sarah Ann Beardmore, Hyde’s-lane, Wednesbury, Staffordshire, lately residing and trading at the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury aforesaid, Licensed Victualler, Widow.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/4/1894

“The undermentioned bankrupts appeared at the Bankruptcy Court on Wednesday, before Mr. Registrar Clarke, for their public examinations.....

Sarah Ann Beardmore, late of the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury, with liabilities £278 15s 1d and a deficiency of £210 12s 7d, solicitor Mr. T. Jones.”

The Stage 24/1/1895 - Advert

“Will Mr. Carew, late of Mr. C. E. Dering’s Co., Communicate with Mr. T. Griffiths, CROWN AND CUSHION HOTEL, Wednesbury, at once.”

WILL MR. CAREW, late of Mr. C. E. Dering’s Co., COMMUNICATE with Mr. T. GRIFFITHS, Crown and Cushion Hotel, Wednesbury, at once.

Wednesbury Herald 28/9/1895

“On Wednesday evening a meeting was held at the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen, for the purpose of presenting medals to the players of the Wednesbury Excelsior Football Club. Mr. E. Martin Scott occupied the chair. The Chairman expressed a wish that the club would work together and that they would get on as successfully in the future as they had in the past, and as he understood that the team would enter into some league in connection with the association next year, he hoped they would make the most of the present season, and trusted that next year he should see them connected with the Wednesbury Charity Football Association.....”

Dudley Herald 13/1/1900

“A receiving order has been granted in the Walsall Bankruptcy Court against the estate of Thomas Griffiths, lately of Wednesbury, but now living in Dudley Street, Brierley Hill. The liabilities are £315 18s 5d, the whole of which are expected to rank. His assets are estimated to produce £14 5s, thus leaving a deficiency of £301 13s 5d. The Official Receiver (Mr. Sam Wells Page) says the bankrupt commenced business as a butcher in Wednesbury in 1862, but finding it did not pay he worked as a labourer and stock-taker at various works in Wednesbury from 1864 to 1894. In 1894 he became licensee of the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, Wednesbury, taking the stock, license, and effects in satisfaction of a debt. He continued until November last when he sold the lease, license, &c, and went to live at his present address. The bankrupt states that he has paid away the whole of the money received from the purchaser of the business. He states the causes of his insolvency to be bad trade and bad debts.”

Dudley Herald 19/5/1900

“Yesterday afternoon, at Wednesbury, Samuel Robinson, Charles Patrick Maloy, and George Barnes, of no fixed abode, were charged with being on the premises of Thomas Noon, the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen, for an unlawful purpose.

Police-constable Draper deposed that about 12.20am yesterday morning he, in company with Police-constable O’Hara and Sergeant O’Leary, found the three prisoners in a loft in Mr. Noon’s closed yard. There were a lot of things stored there.

Police-constable O’Hara gave corroborative testimony.

The prisoner Robinson, on behalf of his companions, stated that last night they went to three lodging-houses in Wednesbury, but owing to the places being full they were unable to find the necessary accommodation. They were still searching for a place to sleep in the High Bullen when they came across a police officer. Having acquainted the officer of law with their desires, he went to the door of one of the lodging houses and knocked, but the proprietor would not open it. He then suggested that they might pass the night in a cab, but this they declined to do, and then the prisoners alleged that the officer took them to the loft and left them there. They remained there until the other policeman arrived. They did not know of the loft, but they thought as a policeman had guided them there could be no harm. A number of officers were in Court, but prisoners failed to identify amongst them the individual who so kindly assisted them.

The Bench declined to accept the prisoner Robinson’s statement, and sent him and Barnes to gaol for seven days each. Maloy, who had a bad record, was sentenced to fourteen days’ imprisonment.”

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury and District Quoits League. [1900]

1901 Census

High Bullen – CROWN AND CUSHION

[1] Herbert E. Kent (35), licensed victualler, born Wilmslow, Cheshire;

[2] Emma Kent (38), wife, born Shebdon, Shropshire;

[3] Kate Yarnall (21), barmaid, born Chasetown, Staffordshire;

[4] Clara Warwick (20), domestic servant, born West Bromwich;

Wednesbury Leader 12/10/1901

“At Wednesbury Police Court on Friday, before Aldermen R. Williams, I. Oldbury, and Mr. F. W. Hackwood, a man named Edwin Hudson (50), of no fixed abode, but who has been living in apartments at Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, was charged with obtaining various sums of money by false pretences, and with intent to defraud, between the 17th September and 3rd October.

The evidence showed that prisoner represented himself to be in the employ of the Midland Advertising Company, Wolverhampton, and canvassed for advertisements for the Wolverhampton Wanderers Fixture Card. He secured 2s 6d from Frank Turbot, manager of the South Staffordshire Coffee House, Market Place; 4s 6d from Benjamin E. Pewtriss, tobacconist, Market Place; 5s from Herbert E. Kent, of the CROWN AND CUSHION INN; 5s from William H. Hadley, GREEN DRAGON INN, Market Place; 2s 6d from James Faulkner, BULLS HEAD INN; 2s from William Macdonald, THREE SWANS INN; 5s from Frank Bateman, licensed victualler, High Street; 2s 6d from Edward Phillips, BRITANNIA INN, Trowse Lane; 2s 6d from John Jones, FORRESTERS ARMS, Portway Road; and 2s 6d from Albert Newbould, OLD PACK HORSE, Dudley Street.

Frederick L. Hodgetts, of the Penn Road, Wolverhampton, said he was a partner in the Midland Advertising Company. Prisoner had been in their employ, but left on the 27th April. He had not been connected with the company since, and was not authorised to canvass for advertisements.

Detective Truswell deposed to effecting the arrest of prisoner.

Alderman Oldbury (to prisoner): Didn't you consider you had a lot of 'flats' to deal with in Wednesbury? I am surprised that tradesmen should give their money away without even asking for a receipt. They must be very confiding.

Prisoner was committed to take his trial at the Sessions, which commence on Tuesday next.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/10/1901

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Edwin Hudson, 50, traveller, pleaded guilty to having obtained various sums of money by false pretences at Wednesbury, on September 17. There were previous convictions against the prisoner, who was sentenced to three years' penal servitude.”

Walsall Observer 3/1/1903

“On Wednesday afternoon a meeting of the workmen, numbering about 400, who have come out on strike in consequence of a reduction in wages of 5 per cent having been enforced in the wheel department at the Brunswick Works belonging to the Patent Shaft and Axletree Company, was held at the CROWN AND CUSHION HOTEL, High Bullen, Wednesbury. The speakers contended that the head managers at the works had in six months called upon the workmen to submit to two reductions, amounting altogether to 12½ per cent, which they contended was very unreasonable. They also considered that those responsible had dealt harshly in dispensing with the services of the manager and the foreman of the department, one having been employed at the works for 46 years and the other 36 years. After a protracted discussion it was resolved, in order to avoid the upsetting of trade in the town, to resume work on Monday next at the reduction of 5 per cent. It was also resolved to respectfully urge the directors to reinstate the manager and the foreman.”

Walsall Observer 12/8/1905

“Mr. J. Lacey presided on Wednesday night at the annual meeting of the Wednesbury Old Athletic Football Club, held at the CROWN AND CUSHION HOTEL. There was a large attendance.

The Chairman said he was pleased to see the Old Athletic had acquitted themselves during the last season in a manner that had brought distinction to the players, and credit to Wednesbury. They had won the highest honours in the Walsall League, the championship, also the Staffordshire Cup, which he considered, in Staffordshire, was equivalent to winning the national trophy. The team, too, had secured the Bilston Cup, and the Wolverhampton Cup. This was a very fine record He regretted the club did not win the Wednesbury Charity Cup, and concluded his remarks by heartily thanking the officers of the club for their services.....”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/10/1905

“Councillor Herbert Kent, vice-president of Wednesbury Licensed Victuallers Association, and an officer of Wednesbury Old Athletic Football Club, died somewhat suddenly on Saturday.”

Walsall Observer 14/10/1905

“The funeral of Mr. Herbert Edward Kent, licensee of the CROWN AND CUSHION, Wednesbury, and who a representative of the Market Ward on the borough Council, whose death occurred last week, at the early age of 39, took place on Tuesday, when deceased was interred in the Wednesbury Cemetery. Attending the funeral were a number of friends and neighbours, together with representatives from the Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers Association, Wednesbury Old Athletic Football Club, and other bodies with which deceased was associated. Floral tributes were sent by the members of the Wednesbury Council, the Corporation officials, Wednesbury Conservative and Unionist Club, Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers Association, Wednesbury and District Hearts of Oak Medical Society, members of the Crown Tube Works, players and committee of the Wednesbury Old Athletic FC, Wednesbury Early Closers FC, committee and players of the Bilston United FC, together with many others from relatives, neighbours, and friends.”

A team from here took part in the West Bromwich and Tipton Quoits League. [1909]

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury and District Air Gun League. [1909]

A team from here took part in the Walsall and District Air Rifle League. [1909], [1910]

Walsall Advertiser 26/6/1909

“Under the auspices of the Sheffield Equalised Independent Druids Friendly Society, a free social evening was held in connection with the Crown and Cushion Lodge, No.234, last night, at the CROWN AND CUSHION HOTEL, Wednesbury, when the general officers were present for the purpose of presenting £100 cash grant to Bro. J. Plant, who is incapacitated from following his employment through an accident.....”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 13/9/1909 - Advert

“Lost, September 9th, Lady's Tweed Check Tailor-made Coat, in parcel, between Wednesbury and Stone Cross. Finder rewarded on returning same to CROWN AND CUSHION INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury.”

LOST, September 9th, Lady's Tweed Check Tailor-made Coat, in parcel, between Wednesbury and Stone Cross.—Finder rewarded on returning same to Crown and Cushion Inn, High Bullen, Wednesbury.

1911 Census

High Bullen – CROWN AND CUSHION

- [1] Joseph Onions (39), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Mary Onions (36), wife, married 16 years, assisting in business, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Nellie Evans (24), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 10/9/1912 - Advert

“Horses. Two Half-legged, 16 hands, six years and seven; quiet, good workers, double and single; trot with 30cwt; suitable haulier, builder, bag waggon, scrap, breeze, or brake work; warranted sound; reasonable trial. £16, £18. CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen, Wednesbury.”

1921 Census

36, High Bullen

- [1] Alfred J. Merrick (40), out of work, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Ellen Merrick (37), wife, licensed house manageress, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Alfred Merrick (13), son, errand boy, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Annie Merrick (12), daughter, school, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Nellie Merrick (10), daughter, school, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Alice Merrick (6), daughter, school, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Mary Gorton (64), mother-in-law, retired, born Bilston:

Ellen Merrick was the daughter of Thomas and Mary Gorton.

Thomas Gorton – see PARK and MARKET HOUSE.

Mary Gorton – see CROSS KEYS.

Bilston & Willenhall Times 8/11/1924

“Wednesbury Police Court.....

Before Messrs. C. W. D. Joynson (presiding) and A. Tonks. When Mrs. Phoebe Thomas Evans applied for the transfer of the license of the CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen, from Mrs. Ellen Merrick, Inspector Adams, on behalf of Superintendent Sault, opposed the application. He said Mrs. Evans was a married woman, and it was in consequence of certain domestic matters that the objection was offered.

Mr. Joynson said in the face of the objection raised by the police the magistrates did not see how they could consent to the transfer.

Inspector Adams further stated that there were plenty of unemployed men about who would give the Brewery Company faithful service. The husband of the applicant was in business.

The application was refused.”

Alfred James Merrick – see also LEABROOK TAVERN.

Alfred James and Ellen Merrick – see also CASTLE.

Birmingham Daily Post 2/5/1925

“The first prosecution that has taken place in Wednesbury under the Public Health Act of 1893 in respect of public singing and dancing was heard at the local Police Court, yesterday, when Mary Elizabeth Ayre, licensee of the CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen, was summoned for allowing singing and music on her premises on Good Friday.

A policeman stated that he heard the singing of what he described as a jumble of ‘Yes, we have no bananas’ and ‘It aint gonno rain no more,’ and in answer to Mr. E. E. Brown, who defended, denied that the songs were sacred songs and included ‘Lead, kindly light’ and ‘The Star of Bethlehem.’

The Bench said it was an offence to sing at all, whether sacred songs or otherwise, on a Sunday or Good Friday in a public house in Wednesbury, but as this was the first case it would be met by the payment of costs.

Mrs. Ayre was subsequently summoned for supplying drink during non-permitted hours for consumption off the premises, on April 18, and a fine of £2 was imposed.

Moses Butler (60), 63, Meeting Street, Wednesbury, was fined 10s for taking the beer from the premises.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 10/3/1934

“Wednesbury Licensing Committee yesterday, after nearly four hours’ consideration, adjourned for a fortnight an application made by H. A. Tucker (barrister) on behalf of W. Butler and Co., Springfield Brewery, Wolverhampton, for a provisional order sanctioning removal of the (full) license of the CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen, Wednesbury, to premises to be erected at the corner of Park Lane and Myvood Road.

Three minsters objected to the proposal.”

Evening Despatch 23/3/1934

“Wednesbury Licensing Magistrates today heard the adjourned application of Butlers Brewery, Wolverhampton, for the removal of the license of the CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen, to premises to be built at the corner of Park Lane and Myvood Road. The company gave an undertaking to surrender three licenses, but objection was made by the Rev. A. S. Langley (Baptist), who said that the surrender of six would be a fairer proposition.

The magistrates provisionally approved the removal, which will be submitted to a meeting of the confirming authority in a month’s time.”

Walsall Observer 21/4/1934

“An interesting position arose at Wednesbury Licensing Justices sitting as a Confirming Authority, yesterday, when W. Butler and Co. Ltd., of Springfield Brewery, Wolverhampton, applied for a provisional order sanctioning removal of the license from the CROWN AND CUSHION, High Bullen, Wednesbury, to a house and premises to be erected at the corner of Park Lane and Myvood Road, Wednesbury.

The Clerk (Mr. E. E. Brown) asked the Rev. W. Christie, who, along with the Revs. A. S. Langley and E. Holt, objected to the removal of the license at the previous hearing and who were now present, if he still objected to the removal, and Mr. Christie said he did.

The Clerk: Are you prepared to pay the costs?

Mr. Christie: I had no idea this would arise.

The Clerk: You have not studied the provisions of the Act. Are you still prepared to persist in your objection knowing that you may be asked to pay the costs?

Mr. Christie: I must leave myself if the hands of the magistrates.

The Clerk: You must answer my question, 'yes' or 'no.'

Mr. Christie: I am not prepared to pay the costs. If they were a reasonable amount I would pay them, even if they fell on me personally. I will leave it to the magistrates, and you can rule me out if I can't give you an affirmative or negative answer. I have not had the opportunity of consulting with the other objectors, and I am acting on my own responsibility.

The Clerk: Their Worships hold that you must decide if you are prepared to stand the responsibility of paying the costs if they require it, or you must withdraw your objection.

Mr. Christie: The position has changed. There are no other objectors to stand beside me. If my colleagues had been here we might have shared the responsibility. I am not prepared to take the responsibility of being the only objector.

Mr. Christie accordingly withdrew his objection.

The Bench confirmed the granting of the application."

The license of the CROWN AND CUSHION was transferred to the MYVOD.

Dudley Chronicle 21/2/1935 - Advert

"Wednesbury. Belcher and Son will offer for Sale by Public Auction at the WHITE HORSE HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Monday Next, February 25th, at 7 o'clock in the evening precisely, subject to conditions, the following Freehold Investment Properties.....

By order of Messrs. W. Butler and Co. Ltd.....

Lot 3. The de-licensed premises formerly the CROWN AND CUSHION INN, No.36, High Bullen and Cottage No.35, High Bullen adjoining."

BENJAMIN HAWKINS, Deceased.—Pursuant to the Statute 22nd and 23rd Victoria, chapter 35, intituled "An Act to Further Amend the Law of Property and to Relieve Trustees." Notice is hereby given, that all Creditors and other Persons having any Claims or Demands upon or against the Estate of BENJAMIN HAWKINS, late of the Crown and Cushion Inn, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Licensed Victualler, Deceased (who died on the 10th day of January, 1878, and whose Will was proved in the District Registry, at Lichfield, of the Probate Division of her Majesty's High Court of Justice, on the 1st day of February, 1878, by ALFRED THOMAS ONIONS, Hawkins and WILLIAM BAILEY WOOD, the Executors therein named), are hereby required to SEND the PARTICULARS of their respective Claims or Demands to us, the undersigned, the Solicitors to the said Executors, on or before the 8th day of March, 1879, after which date the said Executors will proceed to Distribute the Assets of the said Deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the Claims and Demands of which they shall then have had notice, and the said Executors will not be liable for the Assets, or any part thereof, so distributed to any Person of whose Claim or Demand they shall not then have had notice.—Dated this Seventh day of December, 1878.
THURSFIELD & MESSITER, Wednesbury, Staffordshire,
Solicitors for the said Executors.

1878

HORSES.—Two Half-legged, 16 hands, six years and seven; quiet, good workers, double and single; trot with 30cwt.; suitable haulier, builder, bag waggon, scrap, brass, or brake work; warranted sound; reasonable trial. £16, £18.—Crown and Cushion, High Bullen, Wednesbury.

1912

By order of Messrs. W. Butler and Co. Ltd.

LOT 3.—The de-licensed premises formerly the "Crown and Cushion" Inn, No. 36, High Bullen and Cottage No. 35, High Bullen adjoining

1935

WANTED!
TALENT! TALENT!! TALENT!!!
CROWN AND CUSHION,
WEDNESBURY.

Proprietor, Mr SAMUEL TATE.

Manager, HARRY ROWLAND.

Pianist, HERR ROWLAND.

Serio-Comics and Dancers please write in. Irish Comedians, Comic Vocalists and Single-handed Niggers, for Present and Future Dates.

All Communications to Manager, as above.

WANTED. Immediately, a First-class Lady PIANIST and VOCALIST To live in preferred. A comfortable and long Engagement to a suitable person. S. TATE, Crown and Cushion, Wednesbury. Enclose photo if possible.

1883

CROWN TUBE WORKS

57, Dudley Street, High Bullen, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Dudley [1858] – [1861]
Mrs. Elizabeth Dudley [1866] – [1876]
George Dudley [1877] – [1891]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

LEA BROOK RECREATION GROUNDS, WEDNESBURY.—Mr. J. Harding, the Proprietor, begs to inform his friends and lovers of the sport, that he will give £10 to be run for in a 135 yards Foot Race, on Saturdays. July 31, and August, 7, 1875. First Prize. £8: Second, £1 10s.: Third, 10s. To commence at Three o'clock precisely. Admission to the Grounds 6d. each. Entrance. One Shilling each. Entries to be made to Mr. Harding, at the Grounds; Mr. J. Dudley, Crown Tube Works Inn, Wednesbury; Mr. T. Bickley, White Swan Inn, Brownhills; Mr. Turner, Sun Inn, Commercial-street, Wolverhampton; S. Conlett, White Swan Inn, Darlaston; and Mr. S. Rogers, Foresters' Arms, Bilston. Entries close on Tuesday, July the 28th, or Wednesday Morning's post will be in time.

1875

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 31/1/1858

"Pigeon Flying.....

Joseph Dudley of Wednesbury will fly his dun cock against Geo. Cobb, for £5 a side, from the Nelson Monument at Birmingham to Wednesbury, if he will allow a minute start, or will fly him from Kidderminster and Birmingham, in one day, level, for the like amount, or any fancier in Wednesbury, on the same terms. Money ready at Dudley's, CROWN TUBE WORKS INN, Wednesbury."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 24/7/1859

"R. Manks not being able to get on a match with Bishop, will run W. Jackson (the American Deer) 10 miles, for £25 a side, and give him £5 expenses to run at Birmingham; or will run or walk any man of his age (41 years) five miles or upwards, for the like sum. A match can be made any time at Mr. Dudley's, CROWN TUBE WORKS INN, Dudley Street, Wednesbury."

Birmingham Daily Post 2/5/1860

"To so great an extent is gaming of various descriptions carried on in this locality, that the Wednesbury Magistrates and Chief-constable have deemed it their duty to take steps to put a stop to it. There can be no doubt that such steps have been adopted with due care. The police, after going round in their uniform and finding that they could not thus detect publicans in allowing the offence, recourse was had to sending constables round in private clothes yesterday about twenty-three summonses were returnable. The Magistrates expressed a very strong opinion upon the subject, and marked by the severity of the fines their sense of the importance of the movement, and the determination they had come to put down practices which had so corrupt and demoralising an influence upon the community. The following cases were heard.....

Joseph Dudley, of the CROWN TOMB [sic] WORKS INN, High Bullen, was charged with allowing the game of draughts, on the 10th ult, for ale. Mr. Sheldon defended in this case. Police-constable Hollis swore that on the night in question he saw nine men and boys in the place, that one game was played, and that the defeated player paid for the ale. Police-constable Beard confirmed this testimony, and said he had been since to Dudley's house, and saw the same game being played. Mr. Sheldon, for the defence, said that the game played was merely between two private friends of defendant, and that there was not any ale or value played for. The persons playing were the nephews of defendant and the game was played in the bar, and not in the usual public room. He then called Daniel Penrice, who swore that he and one Humpage were playing draughts on the night in question, and that they did not play for anything more than the mere sport. He denied that there were nine men and boys in the room he was playing in. Richard Humpage stated that he was a nephew of the defendant, and that on the night named by the police he and last witness played a game at draughts in the bar. Fined 40s and costs, the Bench not believing the witnesses for the defence.

In the course of the hearing of these cases, Mr. Leigh made some observations condemnatory of the practice of publicans and beerhouse keepers throwing all sorts of attractions and blandishments around their houses with the view of inducing husbands and sons to go and spend their time and money, and neglect the duties of life – the maintenance of their wives and families, and the other obligations which devolved upon them. It would be absurd to inflict light fines.....”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 21/10/1860

“G. Bayliss of Wednesbury will run Ben Davis or Patsey Rice of Wednesbury 100 yards level; or will give R. Fenton of Wolverhampton 15 yards start in 300, or Breese of Wolverhampton 10 yards in 300. Either of the matches can be made at Joseph Dudley’s CROWN TUBE WORKS INN, for £10 or £15 a side.”

1861 Census

Dudley Street

- [1] Joseph Dudley (62), retail brewer, born Darlaston;
- [2] Elizabeth Dudley (62), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] John Dudley (18), son, gunlock smith, born Wednesbury;
- [4] George Dudley (15), son, labourer at gas tubes, born Wednesbury;
- [5] George Dudley (16), grand-son, labourer at gas tubes, born Wednesbury;
- [6] John Dudley (14), grand-son, gunlock smith, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Harriett Wilkes (19), general servant, born Wednesbury:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 25/11/1865

“Westley’s, HALL GREEN TAVERN, Westbromwich Hall, near Wednesbury, New Pedestrian Grounds. Wilcox of Hill Top and Dudley of Wednesbury are matched to run 100 yards, for £10 a side, Dudley receiving two yards start, to come off at the above grounds, on Tuesday, December 26. £2 10s a side is down in the hands of Mr. Shorthouse, of the BELL INN, Wednesbury, who is final stakeholder, to be made into £4 a side, this (Saturday) evening at Dudley’s, CROWN TUBE WORKS INN, Wednesbury.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 24/3/1866

“John Dudley of Wednesbury will run George Brueton of Shropshire Row 100 yards level, for £10 a side, or take two yards in the same distance of A. Wood of Daisy Bank, for the like amount. Money ready any night next week at Mrs. Dudley’s, CROWN TUBE WORKS INN, Wednesbury. The match to come off at the Britannia Grounds, Tipton.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 8/1/1868

“Yesterday, at Wednesbury Police Court, a man named Thomas Beards was brought up in custody charged with passing counterfeit coin. The prosecutrix, Elizabeth Dudley, stated that she was a beerhouse keeper, and lived in Dudley Street, Wednesbury. On the 29th December the prisoner came to her house, and having called for a pint of ale he gave her a shilling, which she afterwards found to be a bad one. On the following Saturday night he again visited her house, and in payment for another pint he tendered a second bad shilling. She recognised the prisoner immediately she saw him and after taking the money she went into the kitchen and asked her son whether it was good or not. On examining it he found the shilling was a similar one to that taken before, and charged the prisoner with passing bad money. An offer was made to the prisoner, however, that if he gave good money in return for the counterfeit coins no further notice should be taken of the matter, and he then threw the bad shillings into the fire, and gave the prosecutrix two good ones; but was afterwards taken into custody.

The prisoner was remanded for a week, in order that inquiries might be made about him.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/2/1868

“Staffordshire Adjourned Quarter Sessions.....

Thomas Beard, 54, butcher, was indicted for uttering two counterfeit shillings at Wednesbury. On the 29th of December, the prisoner went to a beershop kept by a widow named Dudley, and tendered in payment for some ale a counterfeit shilling. Mrs. Dudley suspected its genuineness, as it was rather black, but, as she thought that might have arisen from its having been in the prisoner's pocket, she made no remark, but kept it. On the 4th of January, the prisoner again called at the house, and in payment for ale tendered another counterfeit shilling. Mrs. Dudley then sent for the other base shilling, and told the prisoner about them. He snatched them up and threw them on the fire, and only a piece of the metal was saved. The prisoner was convicted, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment.”

1871 Census

57, Dudley Street

- [1] Elizabeth Dudley (69), widow, publican, born Darlaston;
- [2] John Dudley (26), son, publican, born Wednesbury;
- [3] George Dudley (23), son, iron moulder, born Wednesbury;
- [4] George Dudley (26), grand-son, iron moulder, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Jane Griffiths (18) domestic servant, born Wednesbury;
- [6] William Kendrick (21), boarder, labourer, ironworks, born
- [7] Thomas Jones (22), boarder, labourer, ironworks, born Netherton:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 10/6/1871

“G. Kendrick of Darlaston is still open to run Gauntlett of Wednesbury 100 yards, or Young Wedge of Willenhall the like distance, for £5 or £10 a side. Money ready at Dudley's, the CROWN TUBE WORKS INN, Wednesbury.”

Midland Examiner 19/8/1876 - Advert

“Wednesbury, Staffordshire.

Sale of Valuable Properties consisting of an Old-licensed Inn, a Beerhouse, and several other desirable Properties. To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. E. B. Scholefield, at the KINGS ARMS INN, in Dudley Street, Wednesbury, on Friday, the 25th day of August, 1876, at six for seven o'clock precisely.....

Lot 4. All that Messuage or Dwelling House, used as a Beerhouse, called the CROWN TUBE WORKS INN, situate in Dudley Street, in the occupation of Mrs. Elizabeth Dudley. And also the Five Cottages situate in a Court at the back thereof, with the brewhouse, yard and outbuildings belonging thereto, producing together £62 10s a year.”

Sporting Life 6/10/1877

“Lea Brook Recreation Grounds, Wednesbury.....

Mr. James Harding begs respectfully to inform his friends and lovers of the canine species that he will give £13 to be run for in a 200 yards all-England dog handicap on Saturdays, October 13 and 20, first prize, £10; second, £2; third, £1. Entrance, 1s each. Entries to close on Monday, October 8 (Tuesday morning's post in time). No acceptance. Entries to be made to Mr. Harding, at the grounds; Mr. Holding, RED LION INN, Walsall; Mr. Brindley, COCK INN, Willenhall; Mr. G. Dudley, CROWN TUBE WORKS INN, Wednesbury; Mr. Bolton, BLUE PIG INN, Bilston; and Mr. J. Dudley, TRAVELLERS REST, Pinfold Street, Darlaston.”

1881 Census

57, Dudley Street

- [1] George Dudley (33), unmarried, publican, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Jane Dudley (12), niece, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Elizabeth Beddall (15), domestic servant, born Darlaston:

Sporting Life 21/5/1881

“Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury....

Mr. James Harding will give £6 10s to be run for in a 130 yards foot handicap, on Monday, May 30, and Monday, June 6. Entrance, 6d each (no acceptance). Entrances close on Thursday, May 26 (Friday morning's post in time). First prize, £5; second, £1; third, 10s. Entries at the grounds; or to Mr. Dudley, CROWN TUBE WORKS INN, Dudley Street, Wednesbury; or Mr. J. Dudley, TRAVELLERS REST, Pinfold Alley, Darlaston; and at Mr. Davis's, BLACK HORSE INN, Great Bridge.”

Sporting Life 24/11/1883

“Dog Racing. Slip and Tippo for £20.

A match has been made between Phipp’s Tippo, of London, and Brindley’s Slip, of Willenhall, to run 200 yards; both dogs catch weight, at Rood End Grounds, on December 26, for £20. £10 a side is now in the hands of Mr. George Dudley, CROWN TUBE WORKS INN, Wednesbury, who is stakeholder and referee.”

Sporting Life 4/8/1885

“Victoria Grounds, Rough Hills.

Jones v. Evans, for £20. This match, which has been a storm in a tea cup affair, was brought to a satisfactory termination at this splendidly constructed arena on Saturday afternoon last, the peds engaged being Thomas Jones and John Evans, both hailing from the famous wheeling town of Wolverhampton, who met to run 120 yards, for £10 a side, for which sum was placed with the Editor of the Sporting Life. Both men are what may be termed novices at the business, though Evans came with an unbeaten certificate, having won several matches for small sums. Both men, however, were placed in clever hands, Jones being trained by Tom Cartwright, at the latter’s own hostelry, the CROWN INN, Sedgley, whilst Evans was prepared by George Dudley, of Wednesbury, at the latter’s own pub, the CROWN AND TUBE WORKS INN, Wednesbury, and both men were in fine condition and confident. The track, a splendid one for pedestrianism, was in first-rate fettle. Betting, after opening at evens, closed at 30 to 20 on Jones. All being in readiness the starter called ‘Get set,’ when Evans, to the chagrin of his backers, overbalanced himself, and got over, and was, according to the articles, put back one yard, which there is not the least doubt lost him the race. At the second attempt the starter, an old bird at the game, despatched them to a good start, and a brilliant and exciting struggle ensued, and, despite Evans game efforts to get up, Jones won by half a yard. The weather, though cloudy in the morning and threatened rain, turned out beautifully fine, and a fair company assembled to witness the race, including some loud-mouthed ‘uns. The Sporting Life was stakeholder, and Mr. R. Bates (appointed by the Sporting Life) was referee, and Mr. James Harding, of the Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury, was starter. We shall forward a cheque to Jones to the address given to our representative less expenses.”

1891 Census

57, Dudley Street – CROWN TUBE WORKS INN

[1] George Dudley (44), unmarried, beerhouse keeper, born Wednesbury;

[2] Sarah A. Rees (18), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

[3] Arthur Eckleston (21), boarder, iron worker, born Wednesbury;

[4] Jane Eckleston (22), niece, born Wednesbury;

[5] Arthur E. Eckleston (9 months), son of niece, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 25/8/1894

“The annual licensing session for the borough of Wednesbury took place at the Police Court yesterday.....

Since the last annual licensing session the CROWN TUBE WORKS beerhouse, Dudley Street, had been taken down, and the premises were no longer used as a beerhouse.”

Lot 4.—All that Messuage or DWELLING-HOUSE, used as a Beerhouse, called “The Crown Tube Works Inn,” situate in Dudley-street aforesaid, in the occupation of Mrs. Elizabeth Dudley. And also the Five Cottages situate in a Court at the back thereof, with the brewhouse, yard and outbuildings belonging thereto, producing together £62 10s. a year.

DARTMOUTH ARMS

172, Holyhead Road, (New Road) / Dudley Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Peter Walker and Company [1914]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. [1961]

LICENSEES

John Parton [1834] – [1848]
Charles Clarkson [1847] – 1851;
Charles Bill (1851 – 1867);
George Street (1867 – 1870);
James Birch (1870 – [1876]
Henry Deighton Millner [1876] – [1908]
Mrs. Mary Millner [1901]
Henry 'Harry' Millner [1911] – [1921]
John Littler 'Jack' Millner [1921]
Walter Edward Cholmondely [1932]
Thomas Croft [1939] – 1961)

NOTES

New Road [1835], [1841], [1842]
Dudley Street [1881]
172, Holyhead Road [1871], [1901], [1921]

DARTMOUTH COMMERCIAL HOTEL [1864], [1865]
DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL [1868], [1870]
DARTMOUTH HOTEL [1872]

'Wednesbury Revisited' by Ian M. Bott, published in 1998

"The GEORGE INN was removed from its corner position between Union Street and Upper High Street for a road widening scheme. Older residents still refer to the GEORGE as Top Wrexham, the name of a former brewery perhaps.

The DARTMOUTH ARMS INN stood at the busy Holyhead Road and Dudley Street crossroads, a notorious accident blackspot. It was demolished in March 1963 for the construction of the aptly named Dartmouth Arms traffic island. The DARTMOUTH ARMS was also known as Bottom Wrexham, being in almost exact alignment with the GEORGE INN."

Posting house [1851], [1868], [1870]

Inland Revenue Office [1860], [1865], [1868], [1870], [1873]

Auctions were frequently held here.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/7/1834 - Advert

"Valuable Mines of Coal, Clay, and Ironstone, at Ocker Hill, Tipton.

To be Sold by Auction, by Puckle and Johnson, on Monday, the 21st of July, 1834, at the DARTMOUTH INN, Wednesbury, at five o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then to be stated...."

c1960

WANTED for the principal Steam Engine Manufacturers in London, a considerable number of steady good Workmen, accustomed to Steam Engine work, who may have constant employ at the following rates of wages:—

Experienced Smiths	40s. to 42s. per week.
Ditto Vicemen and Turners	34s. to 36s.
Ditto Turners and Borers	34s. to 38s.
Ditto Sand Moulders	34s. to 36s.

Younger or less experienced hands will be engaged at proportionate rates of wages. Reasonable expenses for coming to London will be allowed. Apply immediately after Thursday next, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, Wednesbury, between the hours of one and six o'clock in the afternoon.

N.B.—The day's work is ten hours.

1836

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 25/7/1836 - Advert

"Wanted for the principal Steam Engine Manufacturers in London, a considerable number of steady good Workmen, accustomed to Steam Engine work, who may have constant employment at the following rates of wages:

Experienced Smiths, 40s to 42s per week.

Ditto Vicemen and Turners, 34s to 36s per week.

Ditto Turners and Borers, 34s to 38s per week.

Ditto Sand Moulders, 34s to 36s per week.

Younger or less experienced hands will be engaged at proportionate rates of wages. Reasonable expenses for coming to London will be allowed.

Apply immediately after Thursday next, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, Wednesbury, between the hours of one and six o'clock in the afternoon.

NB. The day's work is ten hours."

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/5/1838

"An inquisition was held on Friday, the 11th, and by adjournment on Tuesday, the 15th instant, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, Wednesbury, before Henry Smith, Esq, coroner, on the body of Benjamin Butler, aged 29 years.

Sarah Butler deposed that she was sister to the deceased, who was a married man, with a wife and four children; his wife is now pregnant. Deponent knew William Hampton, of Darlaston, then in custody on a charge of causing her brother's death. On the 7th instant she was standing at her father's door, which fronts the turnpike road leading from Wednesbury to Darlaston, and the deceased was sitting on a wall adjoining the footpath. The height of the wall next the footpath was about two feet, but the other side of the wall was deeper, being about five feet. Whilst her brother was sitting on the wall, deponent saw three men coming along the footpath, on the opposite side of the road; they were going towards Wednesbury; the prisoners, William Hampton and William Payne were two of them. Saw William Hampton go across to her brother, and without speaking a word, push or strike him violently, so that deceased fell backwards over the wall. Hampton immediately afterwards ran away towards Wednesbury, his two companions accompanying him. The deceased had given no provocation, nor said a word to the prisoners. After the deceased had fallen over the wall she screamed out, which alarmed the family, and her father, with others, immediately went to his assistance. Her brother lay upon the ground, unable to stir or speak. He was shortly afterwards carried into the house, and Mr. Dickenson, a surgeon from Darlaston, was sent for, who bled him. Deceased said he was dying. He remained in a state of insensibility until the next morning when he revived a little, but expired about two o'clock the same day.

John Stackhouse, gunlock forger, of Darlaston, corroborated the evidence of the last witness.

Frederick Butler deposed that he knew the prisoners, Hampton and Payne; also the deceased. On the day after the accident as he was accidentally walking behind Hampton and a companion (named Wilkes) he heard Hampton say to Wilkes that he (Hampton) had knocked a man off a wall on the over night, and that he did not know whether he was dead or not, and he would be d—d if he cared. Witness shortly after saw Hampton in custody of Palmer the constable.

Mr. William Dickenson, surgeon, of Darlaston, deposed that he was called to attend the deceased, and found that the pulsation had nearly abated. After bleeding him, and putting his feet into a warm bath, he made a pressure with his hands on deceased's legs and arms, but deceased said he could not feel it. Witness concluded, from deceased having lost the sense of feeling, that there was an injury upon the spine. Witness had examined the wall, and was of opinion that a fall backwards from thence would be sufficient to cause the death of any one. Deceased died the subsequent day. Witness attended (by direction of the coroner and jury), with Mr. Reynolds, surgeon, of Wednesbury, to make a post mortem examination of the body; but from the heat of the weather deceased was in such a state of decomposition, that this was impossible. The body was as black as coal, and not a feature discernible. Witness was of opinion that deceased's death was occasioned by an injury to the spine, occasioned by a violent fall.

Mr. Charles Reynolds, surgeon, of Wednesbury, corroborated the evidence of Mr. Dickenson.

The jury acquitted the prisoner Payne, and returned a verdict of Manslaughter against Hampton, who was committed to take his trial at the next assizes."

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/7/1838

“Staffordshire Summer Assizes.....

William Hampton was charged with the manslaughter of Benjamin Butler, on the 8th of May, at Wednesbury.....

Several witnesses gave the prisoner a good character, as a kind and well conducted man.

The case was laid before the jury with great clearness by the learned Judge, and they, after a few moments consideration, returned a verdict of guilty, but recommended the prisoner to mercy.

The learned Judge sentenced the prisoner, saying that this was a case in which there had been some difficulty, but the jury had come to a conclusion which must be satisfactory to every one who had heard the evidence. It was quite clear that he had intentionally pushed the deceased off the wall, and though he did not suppose that he had the slightest intention of either killing him or doing him any serious bodily harm, it was a wanton and wicked act; and he was sorry to say that this county, and the neighbourhood of Wednesbury and Darlaston in particular, were notorious for acts of a like wanton and barbarous nature. His lordship said it ought to be generally known, and he wished it to be deeply impressed upon the prisoner's mind, that if a man's death was caused by the wantonness of another, the offender was liable to be transported for life. He did not consider the prisoner's case to be one that called for so severe a punishment; but the lesser punishment he was about to inflict he hoped would have a salutary effect on him as long as he lived, and deter others from such degrading conduct. He then sentenced the prisoner to be imprisoned and kept to hard labour for one year.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 18/6/1838 - Advert

“An Excellent Freehold Investment, Wednesbury, Staffordshire.

Two Freehold Dwelling Houses, situated near the Church Hill, Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Taylor and Bills, at the house of Mr. John Partons, DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, on Friday next, the 22nd day of June, at five o'clock in the afternoon.....”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 21/9/1840 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold Buildings and about Thirty-Two Lots of Land, at Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Taylor and Bills, on Friday next, the 25th day of September, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, in Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, at the hour of five in the afternoon.....”

1841 Census

Holyhead Road – DARTMOUTH ARMS INN

[1] John Parton (70), innkeeper, born Staffordshire;

[2] Mary Parton (50), born Staffordshire;

[3] Emma Parton (15), born Staffordshire;

[4] Thomas Woodcock (15), m.s.;

[5] Elizabeth Brewer (15), f.s., born Staffordshire:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/8/1842

“Staffordshire Summer Assizes.....

William Dickenson was indicted for stealing, on the 2nd of May, at Chesterfield, in the county of Derby, one mare and gig, the property of John Scott and another. Mr. Ryder appeared for the prosecution; and Mr. Price for the prisoner.

On the 2nd of May prisoner, who had lived as servant with a Mr. Bellfield, went to the prosecutors, who were coachmen, and who let out horses and gigs to hire, and said Mr. Bellfield wanted a horse and gig to fetch a young lady from Dronfield. The horse and gig were accordingly delivered to the prisoner, who left the neighbourhood, and on the 7th of May was traced to the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, where he had put up the horse and gig, and had offered the gig to a confectioner of that town for £10. The prosecutors, having got information of the route the prisoner had taken, pursued him to Wednesbury, where they found the horse and gig, but the prisoner had left the place and gone to Walsall, where he was apprehended, having entered into the 9th Foot with a recruiting party there. Mr. Price addressed the jury at great length, and cited a great number of cases to show that the charge against the prisoner did not amount to a felony, unless it satisfactorily appeared at the time he obtained the horse and gig he intended feloniously to dispose of them, and convert the money to his own use.

The Court pointed out in what respects the present case was distinguishable from those cited, and told the jury that if they believed the evidence they must find the prisoner guilty.

On the jury returning a verdict of guilty, the Court sentenced the prisoner to be transported for ten years.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/9/1842 - Advert

“Southern Division of the County of Stafford.

We, Charles Shapland Whitmore, of the Inner Temple, and Thomas Bros, of Lincolns Inn, Esquires, Barristers at Law, having been duly nominated and appointed to Revise the Lists of Voters in the Election of Knights of the Shire for the Southern Division of the County of Stafford, hereby give notice, that we shall make a Circuit of the said Division and hold Courts for that purpose, at the several times and places underwritten.....

At Wednesbury, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS, on Tuesday, the 11th day of October next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, for the parishes of Wednesbury and Darlaston.....

London, September 12, 1842.

Memorandum. The overseers of the said several parishes, townships, and places, are desired to bring with them the several notices of claims of voters, and all notices of objections to voters transmitted or delivered to the said overseers.

And the voters who have sent in their claims, whether objected to or not, are desired to see that they have been duly registered, as regards the description of themselves and their qualification; and if there be any defect therein, to attend before the Revising Barristers at the proper court, to offer such evidence as may enable them to correct the said lists.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/4/1844

“On Wednesday last, and by adjournment on Friday, an inquest was held before G. Hinchliffe, Esq, coroner, on the body of a newborn female child, which had been found in a branch of the Birmingham canal, when the following evidence was adduced.

Samuel Walters, of Lea Brook, Wednesbury, said: On Wednesday morning last, the 17th instant, about half-past six o'clock, I was coming from work by the canal side, and at Lea Brook I saw something floating in the water of an arm of the canal called the Monway arm. I went round, and told a woman who was in a boat that I thought there was a child or a doll in the canal, but she said it was a lump of wood. Some one went and told Mr. Horton, who came and took the child out of the canal.

Walter Horton, of Lea Brook, Wednesbury, stated: On Wednesday morning last I received information that something was in the canal, and I went down and saw a child floating in the water; I got it out. It had got a piece of cord round its neck, and a piece of cotton print round its body. I had it carried into my stable; it was the body of a newborn female child. I then went and fetch Mr. Tibbitts, the constable, who took the child away. The cord was slack round the neck of the child, and did not appear to have been tied for the purpose of strangling it, but for the purpose of sinking it. There was a noose at the other end of the cord, apparently to hold some weight to sink the child.

Thomas Tebbitts, constable, deposed: From the information I received from Mr. Walter Horton, on Wednesday morning last, I went to his stable at Lea Brook, and there saw the body of a newborn female child. It had a piece of cord tied loosely round its neck, and a piece of cotton print round its body; the tongue of the child was protruding out of its mouth. I had the child conveyed in the same state to the DARTMOUTH ARMS, at Wednesbury. Mr. Lees, the surgeon, saw the child in the stable at Lea Brook, and afterwards made a post mortem examination of the body at his surgery, in my presence. The child is the same which the jury had a view of on Wednesday. The spot where the child was found was pointed out to me; it is in the parish of Wednesbury, and is a branch of the Birmingham canal.

Mr. Frederick Lees, surgeon, of Wednesbury, said: On the 17th instant I was called in to examine the body of a newborn female child. It was very much decomposed I am of opinion that the child had been in the water a fortnight or three weeks. I am of opinion that the child was a day or two old when it was drowned; and I am also of opinion that the death of the child was occasioned by drowning. The cord round the neck of the child was put there for the purpose of sinking the body, as there was a noose in the other end of the cord, as if for the purpose of inserting a weight to prevent the body floating; when such weight became detached from the cord, and the body putrid, it would float.

The jury, after having heard the observations of the coroner, and having had a brief consultation, returned a verdict of Wilful Murder, against some person or persons unknown.”

AND

Birmingham Journal 10/8/1844

“Warwick Summer Assizes.....

Jane Giles, on her own confession, was found guilty of concealing the birth of her child. Our readers will recollect that the prisoner in this case was committed a few days ago, for the wilful murder of her infant child; and that John Clarke, of Wednesbury, was committed as an accessory after the fact. The prisoner Clarke was admitted before the grand jury as evidence against the girl. The capital charge was abandoned, and she pleaded guilty to the minor, and was sentenced to twelve months’ imprisonment.”

John Parton was also a maltster. [1845]

Birmingham Journal 8/11/1845

“Birmingham, West Bromwich, Wednesbury, and Walsall Junction Railway.

We, the Undersigned, Landowners, Merchants, Coal and Ironmasters, Manufacturers, Traders, Agriculturists, and other Inhabitants residing in the boroughs of Birmingham and Walsall, and the towns of Wednesbury, West Bromwich, Handsworth, and other places in those Districts, do hereby express our opinion that the projected Birmingham, West Bromwich, Wednesbury, and Walsall Junction Railway is calculated to serve the important Mining, Manufacturing, Trading, and Agricultural Interests of the places and districts above mentioned, and we promise it our strenuous support.....

John Parton, Innkeeper, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Journal 6/12/1845

“Another of the many accidents which are of such frequent occurrence in South Staffordshire took place on Saturday last, in a pit worked by Joseph Bird. It appears that the brother of Bird, a man about forty-four years of age, was engaged as usual in one of the workings getting coal, when a portion of the mine gave way, burying the unfortunate man underneath. The poor fellow, when extricated, was found to be dreadfully injured, and died, after much suffering, in about an hour afterwards. An inquest was held on Monday, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, before George Hinchliffe, Esq, coroner, and a verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 8/4/1846 - Died

“On the 30th ult, in the 55th year of her age, Mary, wife of John Parton, of the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury. The deceased was much and deservedly respected by her family and friends.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/7/1846

“Odd Fellowship. On Monday last, the members of St. George’s Lodge, Wolverhampton District, Manchester Unity, met together to celebrate their seventh anniversary, at Host Parton’s, DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, Wednesbury, when a most excellent dinner was provided by the worthy host.....”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 20/7/1846 - Married

“On Thursday last, at the Parish Church, Wednesbury, by the Rev. Isaac Clarkson, Vicar, Mr. Charles Clarkson, of Great Barr, to Miss Sarah Parton, youngest daughter of Mr. John Parton, of the DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, in that town.”

Birmingham Journal 12/9/1846

“At Wednesbury Police Court, on Tuesday, Sarah Roach was brought before the sitting Magistrates, charged with stealing a veil, the property of Bridget Stillard, of Wolverhampton. It appeared that on Sunday last the prosecutrix went into the DARTMOUTH ARMS, at Wednesbury, in company with her husband. She had a basket with her, and in it was a veil, which was valued at 5s. Being wet, she put her basket down in one of the front rooms, and went into the kitchen to dry herself by the fire. During her absence, the prisoner came in, and took the veil from her basket. On discovering her loss, she was informed that the prisoner only had been in the room, and suspecting she had stolen it, the prosecutrix followed her, and found her in a house near the BULLS HEAD. She charged her with the robbery, when she denied it, but on her rising to leave the house, the stolen property was discovered in her bundle. Information was then given to the police, and the woman was taken into custody. She was committed for trial at the sessions.”

AND

Birmingham Journal 31/10/1846

“Staffordshire Sessions To be imprisoned for twelve months, with hard labour.....
Sarah Roach, for stealing a lace veil, at Wednesbury.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/1/1847

“Elizabeth Manion was charged by Mr. Charles Clarkson, of the DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, Wednesbury, with being disorderly and breaking his windows, to the value of 2s. On Tuesday night last, defendant, with two children, went into the DARTMOUTH ARMS and had some rum, and while there she became very disorderly, and when the complainant had her put out of the house she broke the windows and conducted herself in a most violent manner. The complainant added that when he said he would send for the police, she said, ‘They could only give her seven days.’

The defendant, addressing the complainant, said, ‘Where’s the use of saying so much about me; you only want to get me seven days;’ and, turning to Mr. Leigh, she said, ‘Your honour, I had met with a woman whom I had known in Liverpool, and we had three or four noggins of rum together; you may as well let me go, for it is not worth your while to send me and the children to Stafford gaol, and if you will let me go I will go out of town immediately.’ Mr. Leigh ordered her to pay 2s for the damage, and the costs, or one month’s hard labour. She was committed.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 10/3/1847 - Advert

“Freehold Land and Mines, Wednesbury, Staffordshire.

To be Sold by Auction, by Richard Corbett, on Friday, the 19th day of March, 1847, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, in Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, at five o’clock in the afternoon.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/5/1847

“New Church of St. James, Wednesbury. The Ceremony of Laying the Foundation Stone.

The day selected for the performance of this interesting ceremony was Wednesday last, which happily was most propitious for such an occasion, the weather being most favourable, and the sun shining forth with all the warmth and splendour of a summer’s day.....

Entertainment of the Clergy, Committee, &c, by Thomas Bagnall, Esq.

Immediately after the termination of the above-mentioned interesting ceremony, the several ladies and gentlemen who were present, amounting to about two hundred, proceeded, according to previous invitation, to St. James’s school room, to partake of what was termed a cold collation, but which might with more propriety have been termed ‘a sumptuous banquet,’ provided at Mr. Bagnall’s expense by Mr. C. Clarkson, of the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, who did ample justice to the trust reposed in him by providing everything required in abundance and to spare; and, what is of still greater moment, of a superior quality. The room was tastefully decorated with evergreens and flowers.....”

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/5/1847

“Inquests before George Hinchliffe, Esq, Coroner.....

On Monday last, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, on the body of Samuel Westwood, aged 19 years. It appeared from the evidence of Mr. Russell, surgeon, that the deceased died in a fit of an apoplectic nature, having fallen down on a cinder heap at Messrs. Davis’ iron works, West Bromwich, on Friday evening, shortly after he had left his work, where he was discovered early on the following morning; and the jury returned a verdict accordingly.”

Birmingham Journal 2/12/1848 - Died

“On the 30th ult, in the 78th year of his age, Mr. John Parton, of the DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, Wednesbury, deservedly esteemed by all who knew him.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 4/12/1848 - Died

“On Thursday last, deeply lamented by his family and a large circle of friends, in his 80th year, Mr. John Pardon [sic], for more than eighteen years landlord of the DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, Wednesbury.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 10/12/1849

"John Pettifer, Hannah, his wife, and Betsey, their daughter, lost their lives at Wednesbury on Tuesday night last under the following circumstances. The family were living in a small house on the side of the Portway Road, and situated at the top of a large mound of earth, the refuse from a pit close by, but not now being worked. The daughter was sent out about seven o'clock, and having to pass over the mound by a footway, and not coming back, the father went to look for her. About half an hour after she left, and as neither of them returned, the mother went also, leaving a boy, ten years old, and three other children, one of whom is only five months old, in the house. Soon after the mother left the house the eldest boy fell asleep, and did not wake until two o'clock next morning; but on doing so, finding that neither his father, mother, nor sister had returned, he went to the house of a neighbour, and having on his way seen a large hole in the centre of the pathway, he passed by on one side, and alarmed the neighbours, who, on going to the house, found the ground had given way immediately in the pathway, forming what is generally termed a crowning-in, and into which there was no doubt they had fallen. Assistance was procured, but the damp was so great that no one could go down. Several men were immediately set to work to dig at the loose sides, and so get down to the bottom, it being about eleven yards deep; and after working from that time till eleven o'clock on Thursday morning, they inserted pipes to draw out the foul air. A man was then let down, who found the three persons all dead, having been killed, no doubt, by the damp, if not by the fall."

AND

Birmingham Journal 15/12/1849

"In last week's Journal we detailed the melancholy circumstance under which a screw forger named John Pettifer, his wife, and daughter, came to an untimely end, by falling into a hole which had been made by a 'crowning's in,' not far from the house in which they lived, on the bank of a colliery belonging to Messrs. Adams and Richards. The inquest on their bodies was held on Friday week, at the house of Mr. Clarkson, the DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, before George Hinchliffe, Esq, Coroner, when the witnesses examined were William Pettifer (the eldest of the four orphans), Mr. James Richards, Mr. M'Crea, inspector of police, Police-constable Yerl, and David Knowles, a miner. As the evidence confirmed in every respect the account we have already published, there is no necessity for giving any further details. The Jury returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased were found dead in the hole, but by what means they came there they considered there was no evidence to show."

Birmingham Journal 9/11/1850 - Advert

"DARTMOUTH ARMS COMMERCIAL INN, and Inland Revenue Office, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.

Charles Bill, in returning thanks for the very liberal encouragement he has received during the last six years at the TURKS HEAD INN, begs respectfully to inform his numerous Friends, and Commercial Gentlemen in particular, that for their greater convenience and comfort he has taken and newly furnished the above Inn, where he trusts the great improvements he has made in its internal arrangements, combined with his usual moderate charges, will ensure for him their future patronage and support.

The above Inn is situated on the main road from Birmingham to Wolverhampton, is within three minutes' walk of the Station of the South Staffordshire Railway, and the Market Place, or business part of the town.

Trains to and from Birmingham, Dudley, Walsall, &c, twenty-four times a day, and Omnibuses to and from Wolverhampton, Bilston, &c, every hour.

Cars, &c, on reasonable terms, and at the shortest notice."

Birmingham Journal 23/11/1850 - Advert

"Wednesbury, Staffordshire. Valuable and Extensive Freehold Building Properties, in and near the Town.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Solomon Powell, on Friday, the 6th of December next, at the house of Mr. Charles Bill, the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, subject to the conditions then read....."

Birmingham Journal 14/12/1850 - Advert

"A Card and Dancing Assembly (to be continued annually) will be held at the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, on Thursday, the 9th of January, 1851. Particulars will appear in future advertisements."

A CARD and DANCING ASSEMBLY (to be continued annually,) will be held at the DARTMOUTH ARMS, WEDNESBURY, on THURSDAY, the 9th of January, 1851. Particulars will appear in future advertisements.

Birmingham Journal 21/12/1850 - Advert

“DARTMOUTH ARMS COMMERCIAL INN, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.

Charles Bill begs to inform his Patrons and Friends that a Card and Dancing Assembly will be held at the above Inn, on Thursday Evening, January 9th, 1851

Stewards. Mr. J. D. Payne, Mr. J. A. Palin, Mr. J. Wood, Mr. J. Dawes, Jun., Mr. J. P. Morgan, Mr. H. Minors.

Tickets, including Refreshments. Ladies, 5s; Gentlemen, 7s 6d; may be had of the Stewards, and at the Bar of the Inn.

A First-rate Quadrille Band is engaged. Dancing to commence at Eight o'clock.

Cars will be provided free of expense for parties residing within one mile of the Inn.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 17/2/1851 - Advert

“Staffordshire. To Capitalists, Ironmasters, Engineers, Smiths, and Others.

Sale of Moxley Iron-Foundry and Patent Rivet Works, at Moxley, near Wednesbury.

Joseph Dawes respectfully announces his instructions (by order of the Mortgagees) to Offer for Sale by Public Auction, this present Monday, February the 17th, at the DARTMOUTH INN, Wednesbury, at six o'clock in the evening.....”

1851 Census

Holyhead Road

[1] Charles Bill (40), victualler, pawnbroker employing 1 woman, born Coseley;

[2] Mary Bill (34), wife, born Southam, Warwickshire;

[3] Mary Bill (12), daughter, scholar, born Tipton;

[4] Elizabeth Bill (6), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;

[5] Frederic Bill (5), son, scholar at home, born Wednesbury;

[6] Charles H. Bill (3), son, scholar at home, born Wednesbury;

[7] Thomas Bill (1), son, born Wednesbury;

[8] Mary Massey (38), pawnbroker's assistant, born Chilmarsh, Shropshire;

[9] Harriet Bond (21), nurse, born Southam, Warwickshire;

[10] Elizabeth Edge (16), housemaid, born Wednesbury;

[11] Henry Minors (21), visitor, draper's assistant, born Nantyglo, Monmouthshire;

[12] James Young (39), visitor, provision merchant, born Abergavenny, Monmouthshire;

[13] Thomas Parker (27), visitor, provision merchant, born Abergavenny, Monmouthshire;

[14] William Bessant (32), visitor, tailor's foreman, born Bath;

[15] Eliza Bessant (26), visitor, born Albrighton, Shropshire;

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/3/1852

“Tuesday, at Wednesbury Public Office, Henry Hodgkinson, the driver of Mr. William Doughty's omnibus, was charged by Inspector Blayney with furious driving, on the 13th instant, at Wednesbury. Mr. Holland appeared for the defendant.

The complainant had summoned the ostler at the DARTMOUTH ARMS INN to prove the case, but on being put into the witness box he denied having seen furious driving at all.

The complainant then sent for Mr. Charles Bill, the landlord of the DARTMOUTH ARMS, who stated that defendant did gallop upon the day in question, to enable him to pass the Bridgnorth coach, which was before him. In answer to a question put by Mr. Holland, Mr. Bill at once admitted that he had been the means of causing the information to be laid against the defendant. It also appeared that there had been a misunderstanding for some time past between Mr. Bill and the defendant. After this explanation by Mr. Holland, the Bench suggested that the defendant should pay part of the expenses, and thus the matter ended.”

Birmingham Journal 4/12/1852 - Advert

“DARTMOUTH ARMS COMMERCIAL INN, and Inland Revenue Office, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.

To be Let, with immediate possession, the above Old-Established Inn, doing the best Commercial Trade in the Town. The other Business includes the Excise and Beer-bond Meetings, Court Leet and Rent Audits, Turnpike Road Meetings, and Friendly and other Societies, numbering nearly 500 Members.

The present Proprietor is leaving solely in consequence of having taken the Lion Hotel. Kidderminster.

For further particulars, and to treat, apply to Mr. Charles Bill, on the Premises.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/12/1852

“On Saturday last G. H. Hinchliffe, Esq, coroner, held two inquests, one at the WHITE SWAN INN, Hill Top, and the other at the DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, Wednesbury, on the bodies respectively of Samuel Walker and William Pitt, miners, who at the time of their death, on the Thursday previous, were employed in Mr. Tildesley’s pit, Golds Green, Westbromwich. The deceased Walker was the ‘doggy,’ and went under that part of the pit whence workmen were ‘cutting’ coal, a quantity of which fell upon and crushed him to death. Pitt, the other deceased, and a third person, named Green, attempted to get the coal off Walker. Whilst so engaged a second fall occurred; Pitt was killed, and Green much injured. During the process of ‘cutting’ the coal was considered to be safely propped by two ‘spurns;’ these, however, gave way before the operation was completed, and hence the catastrophe.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 10/1/1853 - Advert

“Building Materials, Lea Brook, Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by E. and C. Robins, on Monday the 24th day of January inst, at the house of Mr. Charles Bill, the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, at five o’clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then to be produced (by order of the Directors of the Birmingham, Wolverhampton, and Dudley Railway Company).

Several lots of valuable Building Materials, consisting of Houses, Workshops, and other Outbuildings, together with some useful Machinery, situated at Lea Brook, Wednesbury, on both sides of the Turnpike Road to Tipton and Dudley, required to be taken down and immediately removed for the Line and Works of the Birmingham, Wolverhampton, and Dudley Railway.....”

Birmingham Journal 26/2/1853 - Died

“On the 18th inst, Frank, youngest son of Mr. Charles Bill, of the DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Journal 12/3/1853

“Worcester Assizes Nisi Prius Court Bill v Manley.

An action to recover £200 deposit money. The plea for the defendant was that he was not indebted. Mr. Bill was an innkeeper at Wednesbury. Mr. Manley was only the nominal defendant, the real one being Mr. Brooks, of the Lion Hotel, Kidderminster.

Mr. Manley is the manager of the Stourbridge and Kidderminster Banking Company, with whom the sum in question was deposited in October last, under the following circumstances. Mr. Brooks being anxious to leave the Lion, a communication took place between him and Mr. Bill, and ultimately an agreement was entered into between them, by which Mr. Bill agreed to purchase all the household furniture, stock-in-trade, horses, carriages, brewing utensils, &c, at a valuation, each party to have a valuer; and if they should not agree, then an umpire would be chosen. Mr. Bill was to give £100 for the goodwill of the house. The valuation was not to exceed £1,500, including the £100; or if it exceeded £1,500, the stock was to be reduced to that amount by the withdrawal of some articles. The valuation was to be made by the first week of January, 1853, up to which time Mr. Brooks was to pay all rents and taxes. Both parties deposited £100 each as an earnest of the agreement, and whichever party should refuse to complete the agreement was to forfeit his £100 deposit. Lastly, the arrangement was to be null and void if Mr. Chadwick (steward of Lord Ward, the owner of the Lion) should refuse to accept Mr. Bill as tenant. After the execution of this agreement Mr. Brooks prevailed upon Mr. Bill to permit him to remove a part of the furniture, which had belonged to Mr. Brooks’s family, and was prized by him. When the time arrived for the valuation to be made, Mr. Bill and his valuer, Mr. Farrington, went to the Lion, to meet Mr. Brooks and his valuer, Mr. Saunders, and on their going over the Lion, they found to their surprise that not only the furniture above-mentioned, but about ten waggon loads of other furniture, had been removed contrary to the terms of the agreement.

Mr. Whateley (who was with Mr. Gray, for the plaintiff) contended that, after such an agreement made, the out-going proprietor had no right to select the best of the furniture, and whatever he chose, without the consent of the in-coming tenant, who might therefore be greatly damaged and impeded in his business; but that the valuation ought first to have been made, and if it exceeded £1,500, then the surplus goods might be removed by mutual consent of the contracting parties. Mr. Bill had given notice of his claim upon the £200 deposited in consequence of the agreement being broken by Mr. Brooks, but Mr. Manley declined to give up the money, and hence the present action.

A great number of witnesses were examined and cross-examined, as to the circumstances attending the valuation and the removal of goods.

Mr. Keating (with whom was Mr. Phipson) then addressed the Jury for the defence, and said that the real value of the stock, furniture, &c, at the Lion, was about £3,000; and that as the agreement was that the valuation was not to exceed £1,500, the withdrawal of the surplus was decidedly in accordance with the letter and spirit of the agreement; moreover, that everything had been withdrawn with Mr. Bill's consent. The plaintiff, however, had made a convenience of this transaction to suit his own affairs at Wednesbury; for not being able to dispose of his own business and stock, he wished to be off the agreement with Mr. Brooks; and his allegation that Mr. Brooks had broken the agreement, was merely a pretext for himself to do the same thing. A proof of this existed in the fact that when Bill complained of some of the things having been removed, Brooks offered to return whatever parts of the removed articles Bill might require, but the latter did not accept the offer, but immediately sent him a notice. The learned counsel called no witnesses.

His Lordship having summed up the evidence strongly in favour of the defendant, the jury returned a verdict for Mr. Manley."

Birmingham Journal 16/4/1853 - Advert

"To be Sold, cheap, an excellent Winding Engine, on the condensing principle, 21-inch Cylinder, 5-feet stroke, with a 12-feet round Boiler.

Apply to Mr. Charles Bill, DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury."

TO be SOLD, cheap, an excellent WINDING ENGINE, on the condensing principle, 21-inch Cylinder, 5-feet stroke, with a 12-feet round Boiler. — Apply to Mr. Charles Bill, Dartmouth Arms, Wednesbury.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 11/1/1854

"On Monday evening last a numerously attended meeting of the supporters of Lord Paget was held at the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury....."

[Lord Paget, Liberal, became MP for South Staffordshire in 1854, for three years.]

Birmingham Journal 2/6/1855

"On Tuesday last, Thomas Rowland, a man aged 35 years, employed on the Great Western Railway, as an excavator, met with his death under the following circumstances. Some waggons were being taken along a siding to the Willington Furnaces, for the purpose of being loaded with cinders, and the deceased was assisting in loading them. Having occasion to place a large cinder in one, he went between two of the waggons, and one of them moving deceased was crushed between the buffers. He was removed as soon as possible, but died shortly afterwards. The siding is upon an incline, and the waggons had been scotched. The one which moved had a cinder placed under the wheel, and no reason could be given for its starting; the loading of it had been completed, and the men had gone away from it.

The above facts were detailed in evidence, at an inquest held on Thursday last, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, before G. H. Hinchliffe, Esq, Coroner, and the Jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, but they and the Coroner pointed out to the ganger or overlooker that he ought to take some effectual means of scotching the wheels of the waggon whilst they were being loaded, and they also considered that the practice of going between the buffers to load was a highly dangerous one."

Birmingham Journal 22/9/1855

"Rejoicing at the Fall of Sebastopol. The demonstration of loyal and patriotic feeling which the news of the capture of the Russian stronghold evoked, has nowhere exceeded, if it has equalled, the popular ebullition of feeling at the town of Wednesbury on Monday last.....

The churches, railway stations, manufactories, workshops, and most of the private houses were profusely dressed with brilliantly emblazoned flags and banners. The following were among the most striking.....

Mr. C. Bill, DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, Holyhead Road."

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/9/1855 - Advert

"Staffordshire. Southern Division.

Notice is hereby given, that Henry Selfe Selfe, of Lincolns Inn, Esquire, Barrister-at-Law, having been duly nominated and appointed to Revise the Lists of Voters in the Election of Knights of the Shire for the Southern Division of the County of Stafford, will make a Circuit of the said Division and hold Courts for that purpose, at the several times and places underwritten.....

At Wednesbury, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, on Tuesday, the 9th day of October, 1855, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely, for the parish of Wednesbury....."

Staffordshire Sentinel 1/11/1856

“The bi-monthly meeting of Wednesbury Local Board of Health was held on Monday evening.....

The Chairman read a letter from Mr. Charles Bill, of the DARTMOUTH INN, offering to supply offices to the board at a rent of £20 per annum, rates and taxes free. The Clerk said that Mr. Whitehouse of the TURKS HEAD, had requested his premises adjoining the Town Hall to be inspected for the purpose. Mr. Whitehouse would find a person to keep the rooms clean, and a store-room, &c, for £25 a year; or, if the board considered the rent too high, for a less sum. Some discussion ensued respecting land that had been purchased by the board at Church Hill, with the intention of building offices, washhouses, &c; but it was eventually arranged that a committee of the whole board should meet Messrs. Bill and Whitehouse on Friday next.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/11/1856

“Wednesbury Local Board of Health.....

Applications from Mr. Bill, of the DARTMOUTH ARMS, and Mr. Whitehouse, of the TURKS HEAD, were made to let the Board offices on the termination of their present tenancy, and a committee of the whole Board was appointed to examine the rooms offered.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/2/1857

“Wednesbury Board of Health. The fortnightly meeting of this body was held on Monday evening.....

Mr. Bill, of the DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, attended to complain that Messrs. Lloyd, Foster, and Co. had placed a chain across Crankhall Lane for the purpose of connecting an engine-house with a pit. Horses passing under the chain were frightened, and he himself felt afraid to drive underneath it. It had been up a fortnight, and appeared to intended to be permanent. The Clerk, in reply to the chairman, stated that no application had been made to the Board for permission to put up this chain. The clerk was instructed to write to Messrs. Lloyds, Foster, and Co. directing them to remove the chain forthwith.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 13/5/1857 - Advert

“Valuable Building Sites, fronting to the Holyhead Turnpike Road, and near to the South Staffordshire & Great Western Railway Stations, in the town of Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Joseph Dawes, at the DARTMOUTH INN, in Wednesbury, on Wednesday, the twenty-seventh day of May, 1857, at five o'clock in the evening.....

Lots 1 to 15. Building Land.....

Lot 16. All that building, formerly occupied by Mr. William Horton, Architect, as Offices.....

Lot 17. All that Dwelling House, Outbuildings, Yard, and Shedding, lately occupied by Mr. Walter Horton, Timber Merchant.....

The last-mentioned lots are nearly opposite the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, and near to the corner of Dudley Street and the Holyhead Road.

The attention of small capitalists and others is called to the above sale, as the Land is situated in a very fast improving neighbourhood, in the best part of Wednesbury, near to numerous Iron and other Works, and on the great thoroughfare from Birmingham to Wolverhampton, Bilston, &c.”

Walsall Free Press 12/6/1858

“Peter Sullivan, an adroit and notorious Birmingham thief, who was arrested near to the pawnbroker's premises belonging to the landlord of the DARTMOUTH ARMS Public House, at about the time they were broken into, was summarily convicted for a month.”

Birmingham Daily Post 7/9/1858

“The professional gentlemen and others whose business avocations in Wednesbury and neighbourhood do not allow them to command their own time for pastime, formed themselves, in May last, into a Quoit Club. Having procured the necessary plant, they made an agreement for a piece of ground at Crankhall Farm, occupied by Mr. Charles Bill, of the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Holyhead Road; and during the evenings of the summer months the members of the club enjoyed themselves at the manly and classic game. Thursday afternoon last was selected as the wind-up of the season; there was a more than usually strong muster of the club. At the conclusion of the day's sport, the members, with their friends, returned to town and partook of a sumptuous repast, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL.....

After the cloth was drawn, the Chairman, in proposing 'Prosperity to the Wednesbury Quoit Club,' congratulated his fellow members on the very pleasant and happy evenings spent at the quoit ground. For himself, he had enjoyed the fresh breeze and the open landscape scenery as highly as any man. With their quoit ground, distant from the town scarcely two miles, they were clear of the smoke of public works, and bordered upon a purely agricultural district..... Mr. John Wood, in a neat speech, gave 'The Host and Hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Bill,' whose catering on the present occasion, and attention to the 'creature comforts' of the members at Crankhall Farm on all occasions, were worthy of every praise. Mr. Bill suitably replied. A number of other toasts were drunk; and altogether a most enjoyable evening was spent."

Birmingham Daily Post 8/12/1858

"At the fortnightly meeting of Wednesbury Board of Health, held on Monday evening last.....

Mr. Charles Bill waited on the Board, and again complained of the state of Crankhall Lane, and claimed £2 5s, the damage sustained by his car being broken through the badness of the road. A sharp personal encounter took place between him and the Chairman, and the matter was referred to the Highway Committee."

Birmingham Journal 18/12/1858 - Married

"On the 13th inst, at the District Church of St James, Wednesbury (by the Rev. R. Twigg, assisted by the Rev. W. H. Hyde), Mr. Fleetwood James Cannell, to Mary, eldest daughter of Mr. Charles Bill, DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 22/12/1858

"County Court.....

Late on Wednesday evening the running down case, Tipper Brothers against Bill, partly heard last Court, was gone into at length. The case had been adjourned from the previous Court because of an informality in one of the summonses. Mr. Claydon, barrister, instructed by Mr. Harding, of Birmingham, was for the plaintiffs; and Mr. Ebsworth, of the firm of Duignan and Ebsworth, of Walsall, was for the defendant.

The plaintiffs, William and James Tipper, reside at West Bromwich; and the defendant, Mr. Joseph [sic] Bill, is the landlord of the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury. The collision took place last Wednesbury wake Sunday, at half-past ten at night, at Holloway Bottom, near Wednesbury. Plaintiffs' vehicle was driven by themselves; defendant's trap by Richard Green, defendant's servant. There were riding in the former the two Mrs. Tipper, and two children, in addition to the plaintiffs, and in the latter there accompanied Green, James Wealdon, the beadle of Walsall, and his son. The action was brought to recover £8 14s, being £6 6s for the destruction of plaintiffs' conveyance, 15s for damage to the harness, and £1 10s for the damage which the ladies' attire sustained. The collision was very violent, the plaintiffs' vehicle being, it was alleged, 'smashed to atoms,' only the wheels and axletrees remaining serviceable. Of course the pleasure takers, who had previously ridden in this wreck, were thrown out, and also were 'the Beadle of Walsall,' his son, and Richard Green, who were travelling in the other. Defendant's trap was coming from Birmingham, while that of the plaintiffs was returning from Wednesbury. The plaintiffs' case was that Green was drunk, and driving on his wrong side; whilst for the defence the contrary in both respects was maintained. The pleadings on each side were supported by a long array of witnesses, the plaintiffs having no fewer than fourteen present. On the defendant's behalf four were examined. The opposing testimonies were of the most conflicting nature, and the hearing of the case occupied the attention of the Court a long while. His Honour having heard the evidence and the arguments on both sides, reserved judgement until the next sitting of the Court."

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/1/1859

"The following judgement has been given by Serjeant Clarke in the case of Tipper v Bill, heard at the last Court. 'The parties (as is usual in such cases), flatly contradicted each other, especially upon what appears to me to be in the present case the fact upon which the verdict must depend, that is to say, as to which of them was on his wrong side. There is, however, a fact given in evidence, and not contradicted, which, unless there is gross perjury, appears to decide the question, and that is the fact spoken to by the two Wheldons, father and son, that the father on the collision was thrown against the rails on the defendant's right side, and the son was thrown over them into a hollow on the same side. It appears to me that this could not have happened if the defendant's trap, upon which the Wheldons were riding, had been overturned on the opposite (its wrong) side, considering especially that the road was 30 feet wide at that place. I think, however, that both parties were somewhat in the wrong. I conclude from the evidence that both were driving faster than was prudent at that time of the night, and that neither had lamps. Taking all these matters into consideration, I give judgement for the defendant, without costs.' Mr. Claydon appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Ebsworth for defendant."

Birmingham Daily Post 12/1/1859 - Advert

"Wanted, a sober Man, of good character, as Ostler and Carman, and to go out with Funeral Carriages. Apply at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury."

WANTED, a sober Man, of good character, as OSTLER and CARMAN, and to go out with Funeral Carriages.—Apply at the Dartmouth Hotel, Wednesbury.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 27/4/1859 - Advert

"Sale of the Vicarage House, Garden, and Outbuildings, at Wednesbury.

Joseph Dawes and Son will Sell by Auction (by the direction of the Vicar of Wednesbury, and with the consent of the Patron and Ordinary of the Benefice, and of the Archbishop of the Province), on Thursday, the 19th of May, 1859, at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, at six o'clock in the evening....."

Birmingham Daily Post 5/7/1859 - Advert

"Notice is Hereby Given, that the Next Meeting of the Trustees for Repairing the Roads leading from Birmingham to Wednesbury and to Great Bridge, and from thence to the Portway adjoining the Bilston and Wednesbury Turnpike Road, and to Nether Trindle, near Dudley, and from Trowse Lane, in the parish of Wednesbury, to Darlaston, in the counties of Warwick, Worcester, and Stafford, will be held at the house of Charles Bill, situate at Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, known by the name of the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, on Wednesday, the 20th day of July next, at Eleven o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of appointing new Trustees and transacting other business. Clemt. Ingleby, Clerk to the said Trustees. Birmingham, June 30th, 1859."

Birmingham Daily Post 1/9/1859 - Advert

"Wanted, a respectable Person as Barmaid and to attend in a Liquor Shop.

Personal application to be made at the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury."

WANTED, a respectable Person as BAR-MAID and to attend in a Liquor Shop—Personal application to be made at the Dartmouth Arms Hotel, Wednesbury.

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/9/1859

"Robert Smith, an agricultural servant, in the employment of Mr. Charles Bill, of the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, was charged with leaving his master's service without having given the usual notice, 14 days, and in default of not having done so was sent to Stafford for 14 days."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 14/11/1859 - Advert

"Railway Surplus Lands, Third Sale. Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by E. and C. Robins, at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, Tomorrow (Tuesday), November 15, at four o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions to be then produced.

Various lots of Freehold Building Land and other Property, lying between the lines of the Great Western and South Staffordshire Railways, and the Darlaston Branch of the South Staffordshire Railway at Wednesbury, close to the Stations of each, and having frontages to Dudley Street, Portway Road, the approaches to the Great Western Station, and the new laid-out street therefrom to the town."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 20/2/1860 - Advert

"Important Sale of Live and Dead Farming Stock, at Marsh Lane Farm, West Bromwich, adjoining the New Cemetery.

To be Sold by Auction, by Fallows and Smith (by order of Mr. Charles Bill, who is giving up the Farm), on Monday the 5th day of March next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon.

The whole of the Live and Dead Farming Stock; comprising six powerful waggon Horses and their tackle, very fast young Pony, Alderney and other Cows, Sow and Pigs, five store Pigs, two 6-inch Waggons and gearing, liquid manure and other Carts (nearly new), light Spring Trap, quantity of gig and other Harness and Tackle, rick-sheet, poles, wood and iron Ploughs, land roll, winnowing machine, patent Chaff Engine, quantity of wood hurdles and fencing, about 200 tons of excellent manure, large quantity of Tools of all descriptions, and numerous other effects; particulars of which may be had in catalogues, to be obtained at the Auctioneers' office, 14, Temple Row, Birmingham; the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury; and at the place of sale."

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/6/1860

“At the weekly meeting of Wednesbury Local Board of Heath, held on Monday evening last.....

Mr. Charles Bill, waited upon the Board to ask then to re-consider their refusal to allow him to bring out his building opposite the DARTMOUTH ARMS 4ft. The proposal was decidedly objected to, as by granting Mr. Bill's request his building would be in advance of the general line of building.”

Charles Bill was also licensed to let horses. [1861]

1861 Census

Holyhead Road – DARTMOUTH ARMS

- [1] Charles Bill (50), innkeeper and pawnbroker, born Sedgley;
- [2] Mary Bill (44), wife, born Southam, Warwickshire;
- [3] Elizabeth Bill (16), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Frederic Bill (15), son, solicitor's articled clerk, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Kate Bill (8), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Ann Bill (6), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Frank Bill (5), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Alfred E. Bill (1), son, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Mary Massey (47), pawnbroker's assistant, born Chelmarsh, Shropshire;
- [10] Caroline Griffiths (22), nurse, born Lewis, Shropshire;
- [11] Mary Ann Bray (19), waitress, born Birmingham;
- [12] Sophia Lowe (20), chambermaid, born Wednesbury;
- [13] Diana Fellowes (26), cook, born Wednesbury;
- [14] Henry Moulson (35), lodger, commercial traveller, edge tools, born Sheffield:

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/12/1861 - Deaths

“On the 23rd inst, Ada, youngest daughter of Mr. Charles Bill, of the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/4/1862

“The annual vestry meeting for the election of churchwardens for Wednesbury parish was held on Monday evening, the Rev. J. Lyons, vicar, in the chair. Mr. Charles Bill, of the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, was appointed vicar's warden, and Mr. Samuel Perry was elected people's warden. There was not any opposition.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/5/1862 - Advert

“Phaeton, suitable for a Pony about 13 hands. To be Sold for £15. Has a turn-over seat, moveable child's seat in front, back-rest, lamps, rugs, and cover complete, and in excellent condition.

Apply to the Ostler at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

PHAETON, suitable for a Pony about 13 hands. To be SOLD for £15. Has a turn-over seat, moveable child's seat in front, back-rest, lamps, rugs, and cover complete, and in excellent condition.—Apply to the Ostler at the Dartmouth Hotel, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 3/7/1862

“Staffordshire Midsummer Sessions.....

James Palmer, on bail, was charged with stealing a coat and rug, the property of Thomas Jones, of Wednesbury. Mr. Vaughan conducted the prosecution, and Mr. Staveley Hill defended the prisoner.

The prosecutor is a cattle dealer at Shrewsbury. On the 8th of April he sent word that his horse and trap were to meet him at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury. The trap was accordingly sent, and was left at the door of the hotel, in charge of a lad named Richard Taylor, the coat and the rug being thrown over the horse. While Taylor was standing on one side of the horse he saw the prisoner come to the other side, draw the coat and rug off the horse's back, and run away with them down the street.

The defence set up by Mr. Hill was that the prisoner found the articles in question, and called witnesses to prove that he told several persons next morning that if they heard any enquiries they must say where the articles were.

The prisoner was found not guilty.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 20/8/1862 - Advert

“Old Police Station, Russell Street, Wednesbury.

Messrs. C. and H. Gillard will Sell by Auction, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Thursday, the fourth day of September, 1862, at three o'clock in the afternoon precisely.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/11/1862 - Advert

"Wanted a steady industrious Man as Ostler and Carman, who can undertake Blackwork. Also, a Youth, about sixteen, as Boots. Good character indispensable. Apply at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury."

WANTED a steady industrious Man as OSTLER and CARMAN, who can undertake Blackwork. Also, a Youth, about sixteen, as BOOTS. Good character indispensable. Apply at the Dartmouth Hotel, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 18/12/1862

"On Monday last, the Royal Insurance Company's Fire Brigade and engine visited Darlaston, Moxley, Gospel Oak, Toll End, Great Bridge, Dudley Port, and West Bromwich, for practice. The brigade afterwards dined together at the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury, and made a subscription of 1s each in aid of the Lancashire Relief Fund."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 25/3/1863

"Warwickshire Lent Assizes Nisi Prius Court Jervoise v Bill."

The plaintiff was Sir Jervoise Clark Jervoise, Bart; and the defendant, Mr. Charles Bill, publican, Wednesbury, was formerly one of his tenants. The plaintiff in the declaration claimed £57 2s 9d, money payable on an account stated; and in answer the defendant pleaded that a certain agreement set aside the claim, and as well pleaded the general issue. Mr. Field and the Hon. E. C. Leigh were retained for the plaintiff, Mr. Stephens appeared for the defendant. The sum sought to be recovered was for half a year's rent of two farms, known as the March Lane and Whittington Meadows, in Staffordshire, which were occupied by the defendant. The agreement which the defendant pleaded was the decision of three arbitrators who were appointed to settle disputes between the parties. The farms in question were a portion of extensive property belonging to the family of the plaintiff, and had been for many years under the management of Mr. William Oliver, a solicitor, of London, who visited them and all the property about once in every six months. The term for which the defendant occupied the farms expired on the 25th of March, 1860, at which time he had not paid his rent for the last half year. Disputes arose between Mr. Oliver and the defendant, the latter claiming deductions for a large quantity of manure, and the former denying the justice of this claim, and also alleging that the defendant had over-cropped the farms and had been guilty of a series of dilapidations thereon. Consequently Mr. Oliver submitted that the defendant was not entitled to any deductions; but as the matter could not be settled, three arbitrators, Mr. Fallows, of Birmingham (now deceased), Mr. Fowler, junior, of Birmingham, and Mr. Margetts, of Warwick, were appointed. That reference was made on the 23rd of March, which was two days before the half year's rent was due. The arbitrators met in August of the same year, and then and afterwards went into the matter, and they eventually made an award that there was a sum of £6 7s 10d due to Mr. Bill. Afterwards the plaintiff, through Mr. Oliver, applied for the half year's rent. Mr. Bill, however, asserted that the claim was included in the decision of the arbitrators, but as the plaintiff was confident that such was not the case, this action was commenced. During the examination of the plaintiff's witnesses, a number of legal objections were taken as to the action having been brought without first having the award of the arbitrators set aside, and as to the admissibility of the greater part of the evidence. Ultimately, his Lordship directed the jury to find a verdict for the defendant, and gave the plaintiff leave to move the Court above."

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/7/1863

"Edwin Smith, the lessee of the tolls on the Walsall and Wednesbury turnpike road, living at the tollgate at Woodgreen, was charged with illegally taking toll from a waggoner of Mr. Charles Bill, of the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, on a load of gas-lime. This case, it will be remembered, was partially heard before Mr. Spooner a fortnight ago, but was adjourned for production of scientific evidence, as a dispute arose whether the compound 'gas-lime' was bona fide lime or not. If it came under the head of lime, it was liable to be charged half toll; but if it was manure, no toll could be exacted.

Mr. Bayley appeared for the complainant, and called Mr. Alfred Bird, pharmaceutical chemist, Worcester Street, Birmingham, who explained the process which this lime underwent at the gas works to purify the gas. He stated that it then lost all the properties of quick-lime, and became sulphate of lime, a different substance altogether. Lime in its original state would destroy grass, but this compound, gas-lime, acted as a fertiliser on grass land. Gas-lime could not be used for any of the purposes of quick-lime; nor could it be burnt again into lime.

Mr. Bill, the complainant, proved that he used this load of gas-lime as manure. He never used it as lime; nor could it answer any of the purposes of lime. He had it from Messrs. Lloyd and Foster's gas works, and it was charged 1s per ton. Quick-lime cost 10s 6d per ton.

The learned Stipendiary ordered defendant to restore the amount of toll he had taken to Mr. Bill."

In February 1864 Charles Bill catered for the coming of age celebration of John Thomas Eades Walker, eldest son of Mr. Thomas Walker, founder of the Brunswick Works, which became the Patent Shaft and Axletree Works. 1,200 workers attended, housed in a temporary structure erected in the yard at the works, 160ft by 60ft. 2,000lbs of roast beef and 160 plum puddings, 7lbs each, were cooked.

Birmingham Daily Post 20/2/1864

“Mr. E. Hooper, the district Coroner, yesterday held an inquest at the house of Mr. Bill, the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, on the body of Edith Kesiah Abbott, aged fifteen months, who had died in a very sudden manner on the morning of the 17th instant.

Mary Ann Bissell stated that she had lived as servant with the mother of the deceased. Her master was Mr. William Abbott, a carpenter, whose wife was in ill-health. Witness had known the deceased child from her birth; she was ill a month or five weeks since, and she took her to Mr. John Garman, who gave her a bottle of medicine and a powder. The child became better, and went on improving until Wednesday morning, when, about nine o'clock, after she had been brought down stairs, and placed on a sofa, the deceased began to hold her breath. Witness ran for Mrs. Sillitoe, a neighbour, on whose lap the child died in about twenty minutes. Mr. Garman was sent for, and immediately attended. The deceased had had a teaspoonful of castor oil at eight o'clock the night before her death. The child's mother was ill in bed on Wednesday morning.

Mr. J. C. Garman, surgeon, said that the deceased had been taken to his surgery five weeks before, suffering from an ordinary cold on the chest. He prescribed for it, but there was no danger to be then apprehended. On the morning of its death witness was sent for, and when he arrived the child had been dead for a few minutes. The body presented the appearance of a well-nourished and healthy child. There was nothing to indicate that death had resulted from other than natural causes. The disease called croup had been very prevalent in the town, and in the present cold weather might have proved suddenly fatal.

The Coroner said that if it were desired by the Jury he would adjourn the enquiry to afford time for a post mortem examination to be made. The Jury said that they were thoroughly satisfied, and found a verdict of Died from Natural Causes.”

Birmingham Daily Post 15/6/1864

“Yesterday morning, Mr. E. Hooper, district coroner, opened an enquiry at the house of Mr. Charles Bill, the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, touching the death of a child about one year and eight months old, named Dora Colley, the daughter of Mr. W. Colley, wheelwright, Holyhead Road. It seemed from the evidence that on Friday afternoon last, about half past four o'clock, a man named James Hill was engaged in laying down some drain pipes upon Mr. Colley's premises, and had occasion to take one of the yard gates from its hinge. The unhinged gate he placed against the opposite gate, and was standing talking to Mr. Colley when suddenly the loose gate fell upon the deceased, who had been playing about the yard, and crushed the child against a bucket over which she had been leaning. Her stomach and face were seriously injured. Mr. Garman, surgeon, was sent for, and his assistant promptly attended, but the little sufferer expired about ten o'clock on the same night. It did not appear that there was a high wind at the time of the lamentable occurrence, or that the gate was shaken by a passing vehicle. The father of the deceased, however, did not attribute blame to any person. The Jury leant to the same opinion, and at once returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/9/1864

“An inquest was held at the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, on Saturday, before Mr. E. Hooper, the District Coroner, on the body of Margaret Roach (44). Deceased was the wife of a tinsmith, residing in Dudley Street. She has been very intemperate for months, drinking spirits to a frightful excess. On Thursday night she retired to bed the worse for drink. On the next morning her step-son, a lad of 12, who lived in the house, called the neighbours in, as deceased would not get up. She had been dead some time. The husband had been away for more than a week. The Coroner said that if the Jury were not satisfied he would adjourn the inquest to have the benefit of medical evidence. If they thought the deceased died from drinking they must return a verdict to that effect, as the Government were very particular as to the verdicts in these cases. The Jury expressed themselves perfectly satisfied, and returned a verdict of Died from Excessive Drinking.”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/1/1865 - Advert

“Wanted, a steady, sober, active Man, as Ostler and Carman, not under 30, who can be well recommended, and has been accustomed to black work. Also, a Youth, about 17, as Boots. Apply, personally, DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, a steady, sober, active MAN, as Ostler and Carman, not under 30, who can be well recommended, and has been accustomed to black work. Also, a YOUTH, about 17, as Boots.-- Apply, personally, Dartmouth Hotel, Wednesbury.

Elizabeth Bill (20), spinster, Wednesbury, father Charles Bill, hotel keeper, married John Webster Williams (27), bachelor, vocalist, Bloomsbury, London, on 6th February 1865.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/2/1865 - Marriages

“On the 6th instant, at the Parish Church, Wednesbury, by the Rev. John Lyons, vicar, John Webster Williams, of London, to Elizabeth, second daughter of Mr. Charles Bill, of Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Post 6/4/1865

“Yesterday morning, Mr. E. Hooper, Coroner, held an inquest at the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, on the body of Joseph Birch, sixty-six years old, a gardener, living in the Holyhead Road.

About eleven weeks ago the deceased was struck on the head with a poker by his son-in-law, John Stokes, and for about a week he was under the care of Mr. J. C. Garman, surgeon. He then went to work, and continued to discharge his duties until Saturday week, when he complained of being unwell. On the following Monday, Mr. Wilson Moore, surgeon, was called in, and that gentleman continued in attendance on the deceased until Friday last, when death took place, the surgeon certifying bronchitis as the cause. A rumour got abroad, however, that the old man's death was due to the son-in-law's violence, and accordingly an enquiry was ordered. It was shown to the satisfaction of the Coroner and Jury that the rumour was without foundation, and a verdict was therefore returned to the effect that the deceased died from Natural Causes. By request of the Jury, Stokes was called in, and censured by the Coroner for his treatment of the deceased.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/5/1865

“At the Walsall County Court, on Wednesday, Mr. Charles Bill, of the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, sued Messrs. Woodward and Sons, solicitors, for the sum of £9 5s 9d, being the value of wines and liquors supplied to persons who attended a sale by auction at the plaintiff's house. Mr. Bayley appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Ebsworth for the defendant.

The plaintiff's case was that early in August last Mr. Woodward, senior, engaged a large room at his house for the purpose of a sale by auction on the 31st of the same month. On the night of the sale about eighty persons assembled, and by the instructions of the auctioneer, Mr. Whitehouse, they were supplied with wines and liquors, amounting in value to the sum claimed. At the close of the sale Mr. Woodward requested the plaintiff to send the bill to his office, but on receiving it he at first objected to pay it on the ground that the charges were exorbitant, and afterwards denied the liability of his firm altogether.

The defendant's case was that they neither engaged the room, nor requested the bill for refreshments to be sent to their office; and that they merely defended the action for the purpose of protecting their client from exorbitant charges.

His Honour gave a verdict for the plaintiff for £9, taking off the residue, 5s 6d, on account of it being irrecoverable under the Tippling Act.”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/6/1865 - Advert

“To be Sold by Private Contract, owing to the present Proprietor retiring from business, the Lease, Goodwill, and Possession of that well-known Commercial Hotel and Inland Revenue Office, the DARTMOUTH ARMS, centrally situated, and in close proximity to the two railway stations, and all the extensive gas tube, railway, and other manufactories, in the very improving town of Wednesbury, to which is attached an excellent Funeral Carriage and Cab Department. In-coming from £1,000 to £1,200.

Apply, Roderick and Son, 35, Cherry Street; or to Mr. Charles Bill, on the Premises.”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/10/1865 - Advert

“By Messrs. Chesshire and Gibson, at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, This Day, at Six o'clock. Freehold Mining or Building Estate, called Mesty Croft, near Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Post 24/10/1865 - Advert

“Ostler and Carman. Wanted, a sober and industrious Man, with character.

Apply personally, at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

OSTLER and CARMAN.—WANTED, a sober and industrious MAN, with character.—Apply personally, at the Dartmouth Hotel, Wednesbury.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 11/11/1865 - Advert

“Birmingham and Wednesbury Turnpike Roads. Tolls to be Let.

Notice is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the several Toll Gates upon the Turnpike Roads leading from Birmingham to Wednesbury, and to Great Bridge, and from thence to the Portway, adjoining the Bilston and Wednesbury Turnpike Road, and to Nether Trindle, near Dudley, and from Trowse Lane, in the parish of Wednesbury, to Darlaston, in the counties of Warwick, Worcester, and Stafford, will be Let by Auction, to the best bidder, at the house of Charles Bill, situated at Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, and known by the name of the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, on Friday, the 1st day of December next, between the hours of Twelve at noon and two in the afternoon, in the manner directed by the Acts passed in the third and fourth years of the reign of his Majesty King George the Fourth, ‘For regulating Turnpike Roads;’ which Tolls produced the last year, at the Gates hereafter mentioned – namely, Soho Hill, Threemile Oak, Great Bridge, Gospel Oak and Fire Holes, Holloway Bank and Kings Hill Field, and Burnt Tree, the sum of £5,753 above the expense of collecting, and will be put up at such sum as the Trustees shall think fit.

Whoever happens to be the best bidder must at the same time pay one month’s rent in advance, and give security, with two sufficient sureties, to the satisfaction of the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads, for payment of the rent agreed for, and at such times as they shall direct.

G. P. Wragge, Wm. Evans, Clerks to the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads.

Birmingham, 31st October, 1865.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 14/6/1866

“The Rev. Chancellor Law has issued a prohibition of the making of graves or vaults within twelve feet of the wall of the parish church of Wednesbury. This action has been taken on the complaint of Mr. Edward Blakemore, one of the churchwardens, that in June last year a grave or vault was made within three feet and three inches of the north-west corner of the north aisle of the church, in such a position as to endanger the fabric. The prohibition has been served on the vicar (the Rev. John Lyons), Mr. Charles Bill (churchwarden), Mr. Thomas Parkes (parish clerk), and Mr. Abel Malborn (sexton).”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/10/1866

“On Friday, Mr. Granville Somerset, revising barrister for the southern division of the county of Stafford, held his court at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, for the revision of the lists of voters in that parish.....”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 6/7/1867 - Advert

“DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury.

Wanted, immediately, a good Plain Cook.”

DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, WEDNESBURY.—WANTED, immediately, a good Plain COOK.

George Street was also a car proprietor. [1868], [1870]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/7/1868

“The first anniversary of the Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers Friendly and Protection Society took place on Thursday evening, at the house of Mr. George Street, the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, when about seventy gentlemen sat down to an excellent dinner, under the presidency of Mr. Councillor Wadhams.....”

Dublin Medical Press 15/7/1868

“At a meeting of the medical profession of South Staffordshire and East Worcestershire, held at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, July 2nd, 1868, it was resolved, ‘That taking into consideration the introduction of medical men into portions of these districts, who are acting contrary to the unanimous resolution of the profession, we pledge ourselves neither to meet them professionally nor socially; and we further pledge ourselves not to consent to meet in consultation any physician or surgeon who recognises them. That a copy of the foregoing resolution be forwarded to the consulting physicians and surgeons of Birmingham, Wolverhampton, and to the Medical Press and Circular, Lancet and Medical Times.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/9/1868

"Yesterday, Mr. J. Kynnersley Smythies, Revising Barrister, held a court at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury. Mr. Ferne, of Stafford, Mr. Seaman, and Mr. W. A. Green, of Wolverhampton, represented the Conservatives, and Mr. L. W. Lewis, of Walsall, the Liberals. There were no party objections, and nothing transpired of any interest to the public."

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/10/1868 - Advert

"County of Stafford. Weights and Measures. District C, or South Staffordshire.....

I hereby give notice that I shall attend at the under-mentioned times and places for the purpose of comparing and examining all such Weights and Measures as shall be brought to me for that purpose, and stamping such of them as shall be found correct.....

DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, at Wednesbury, on Tuesdays, Nov 3rd, Dec 1st and 22nd, 1868, at ten o'clock am."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 24/10/1868 - Advert

"To Butchers, Dealers, and Others.

Peremptory Sale (Under an Execution), at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury (Removed for convenience of sale), on Monday Next, October 26th, at Two o'clock in the afternoon, by R. L. Courtney, comprising five Barren Cows, handsome Gray Cob, an excellent worker, good hack, and warranted sound; one Stirk, Cob and Pony Harness, Hackney Saddles, Bridles, capital Irish Jaunting Car, &c; all of which will positively be sold without reserve."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 25/6/1869

"The second anniversary of Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers Friendly and Protection Society was held yesterday evening, at Mr. George Street's DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury....."

Birmingham Daily Post 28/6/1869 - Advert

"The DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury.

By Roderick and Son. To be Sold (by direction of Mr. George Street, who has taken a Wholesale and Retail Wine and Spirit Business in Birmingham), the Lease, Goodwill, and Possession of the above compact, excellent, and well-known Hotel, now doing a profitable business.

Coming-in about £800.

Anyone in search of a compact, paying, easily-managed Hotel, will find this a good opportunity.

Apply to the Auctioneers, 2, Temple Row West, Birmingham."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 22/7/1869 - Advert

"The DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury.

By Roderick and Son. To be Sold by Auction (by direction of Mr. George Street, who has taken a Wine and Spirit Business in Birmingham), on the Premises, on Tuesday, August 10th, 1869, at Six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions, and unless an acceptable offer be previously made by Private Contract.

The Lease, Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the important Old-established Family and Commercial Hotel known as the DARTMOUTH ARMS, for many years carried on with unvaried success, and now doing an extensive, respectable, and highly remunerative trade.

The Offices of the Commissioners of Taxes, of the Inland Revenue, and of the Inspector of Weights and Measures, are upon the premises, and an important Masonic Lodge is attached. The valuation will be about £700, and the concern is one in which any attentive man of business will rapidly realise a fortune.

For further particulars, apply on the Premises, or to the Auctioneers, 2, Temple Row West, Birmingham."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 25/9/1869

"Freemasonry. The annual festival of the Lodge of St. Bartholomew (No.696), was held at the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury, on the 21st inst, at three o'clock, when Brother Benjamin Bayliss was installed as WM for the ensuing year, and the following brethren were appointed officers of the lodge.....

The ceremony of installation was performed in a most able and efficient manner by Past Master Bro. Captain Stubbs, and after the other business of the lodge was gone through, the very interesting ceremony took place of presenting Bro. Stubbs with a testimonial, consisting of two very elegant and valuable gold jewels, as Past Master of the lodge, and Past Provincial Grand Junior Deacon of Staffordshire, accompanied with an address, beautifully engrossed upon vellum, lined with white silk, and bound as a roll in violet morocco and gold. The gift was the spontaneous offering of the WM and officers of the lodge for the past year, who have felt themselves deeply indebted to Bro. Stubbs for his valuable assistance and instruction in the conduct of the business of the lodge.....

After the ceremony was concluded, and the Lodge closed, the brethren sat down to a most elegant and sumptuous banquet, provided by Brother Street, which was of a most recherche character, and called forth the marked approval and commendation of all present. The usual loyal and Masonic toasts were given, and the brethren separated at an early hour."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 7/12/1869 - Advert

"Notice. The Sale of Plough, Carts, Furniture, &c, Advertised to be Sold at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, This Day (Tuesday), is Postponed.

Edward B. Scholefield, Auctioneer."

NOTICE.
THE SALE of PLOUGH, CARTS, FURNITURE,
&c., &c., to be Sold at the Dartmouth Hotel, Wednesbury,
This Day (Tuesday), is POSTPONED.
EDWARD B. SCHOLEFIELD, Auctioneer.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/12/1869 - Advert

"Wanted, a good Plain Cook.

Apply, DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury."

WANTED, a good Plain COOK.—Apply, Dartmouth Arms
Hotel, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 19/3/1870 - Advert

"The DARTMOUTH ARMS COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Wednesbury.

An Ordinary Every Day at One o'clock.

James Birch, Proprietor."

THE DARTMOUTH ARMS COMMERCIAL HOTEL,
WEDNESBURY.
AN ORDINARY EVERY DAY AT ONE O'CLOCK.
JAMES BIRCH, Proprietor.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 26/3/1870 - Advert

"Wednesbury. The Eagle Works, Steam Engine, Machinery and Two Dwelling Houses.

Messrs. Aston, Sollom, and Barnett will Sell by Auction, on Tuesday, the 5th day of April, 1870, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, at Six o'clock in the evening....."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 1/7/1870

"The third anniversary of Wednesbury Licensed Victuallers Society was celebrated yesterday by a dinner at the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, kept by Mr. James Birch....."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 8/7/1870 - Advert

"Wanted, a steady young Man, as Boots.

Apply, DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury."

WANTED, a steady young Man as BOOTS.—Apply, Dartmouth Arms Hotel, Wednesbury.

1871 Census

172, Holyhead Road – DARTMOUTH HOTEL

[1] James Birch (33), licensed victualler, born Sutton Coldfield;

[2] Mary Ann Birch (32), wife, born Sutton Coldfield;

[3] Henry James Birch (2), son, born Wednesbury;

[4] Emma Birch (11 months), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[5] Emma Birch (25), sister, barmaid, born Sutton Coldfield;

[6] Elizabeth Eliza Tandy (24), waitress, born Walsall;

[7] Sarah Ann Lloyd (30), cook, born Wolverhampton;

[8] Mary Ann Grove (24), chambermaid, born Oldbury;

[9] Sarah Bailey (16), general servant, born Darlaston;

[10] Mary Church (15), nursemaid, born Sedgley;

[11] Francis Wiltshire (20), boarder, attorney's general clerk, born Abingdon:

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 29/4/1871 - Advert

"Sale of Freehold Dwelling Houses and Premises, Holyhead Road, and Queen Street, Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Samuel Baker, on Tuesday, the 9th of May next, at the house of Mr. Birch, DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, at Six o'clock in the Evening....."

Morning Advertiser 6/7/1871

"The fourth anniversary dinner in connection with the Wednesbury Licensed Victuallers Protection Society was held on Tuesday afternoon, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 8/7/1871 - Advert

"Royal Agricultural Society of England.

Wolverhampton Show, 1871.

The DARTMOUTH ARMS COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Wednesbury.

Only Ten Minutes from Wolverhampton by Rail.

An Ordinary Every Day at One o'clock.

A Large Stock Room.

James Birch, Proprietor."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 5/8/1871 - Advert

"Wanted, a respectable Young Person as Barmaid.

Apply at the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury."

WANTED, a respectable Young Person, as BARMAID.—
Apply at the Dartmouth Arms Hotel, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 7/8/1871 - Advert

"Wanted, a Waitress.

Apply at the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury."

WANTED, a WAITRESS.—Apply at the Dartmouth Arms
Hotel, Wednesbury.

James Birch, DARTMOUTH ARMS commercial hotel and posting house, wine and spirit merchant, car and coach proprietor, inland revenue office (2 minutes' walk from the Railway Stations), Holyhead Road. [1872]

Birmingham Daily Post 2/2/1872 - Advert

"Wanted, respectable Young Person, as Nurse.

Apply at the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury."

WANTED, respectable Young PERSON, as Nurse.—Apply at the Dartmouth Arms Hotel, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 5/2/1872

"A large meeting of colliery engineers was held on Saturday night at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury. A long discussion took place with reference to the question of selecting Wednesbury as the head-quarters of the agitation, but eventually it was agreed to leave it for decision at a delegate meeting to be held at Great Bridge this day. At the same meeting a memorial will be adopted for presentation to the employers at Birmingham on Thursday."

Birmingham Daily Post 7/3/1872 - Advert

"Wanted, an experienced Cook.

Apply, DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury."

WANTED, an experienced COOK.—Apply, Dartmouth Arms
Hotel, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 21/3/1872 - Advert

"Wanted, a thoroughly-experienced Waitress, not under 25 years of age.

Apply, personally, DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury

WANTED, a thoroughly-experienced WAITRESS, not under 25 years of age.—Apply, personally, Dartmouth Arms Hotel,
Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 22/3/1872 - Advert

"Wanted, an Under Housemaid, to Assist in Laundry.

Apply, personally, DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury

WANTED, an UNDER HOUSEMAID, to Assist in Laundry.
—Apply, personally, Dartmouth Arms Hotel, Wednes-
bury.

Birmingham Daily Post 11/9/1872

"Yesterday an important point touching the right of a landlord to entertain his relatives after the hours of closing was submitted for decision at the Wednesbury Police Court, the Magistrates present being Messrs. T. Jesson and S. Lloyd. The defendant was Mr. James Birch, of the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, who was charged with having unlawfully allowed intoxicating liquors to be consumed on his premises, at half-past ten o'clock on Sunday night.

Police-constable Johnson deposed that at half-past ten o'clock on Sunday night he saw four persons leave the defendant's house. In company with Police-constable Sanders he then visited the premises, and found two ladies standing at the bar, and in the parlour two gentlemen and one lady sitting down, with two glasses about half-full of spirits and a decanter containing wine on the table. He spoke to the landlord, who said they were all his brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law, and gave their names and addresses. Witness said he thought the landlord had done wrong in supplying anything to drink after hours, and Mr. Birch replied that after carefully reading the new Act he believed he was justified in so doing. He also said it would be the constable's duty to report the matter.

Mr. Ebsworth, who appeared for the defence, said the facts were not disputed, but it was maintained that the defendant had not violated the Act. He cited sections of the Act in support of his view, relying particularly upon the words setting forth that unless a person found in a licensed house after the hours of closing shall satisfy the Court that he was an inmate, servant, or lodger in such premises, or a bona fide traveller, or 'that otherwise his presence on such premises was not in contravention of the provisions of this act with respect to the closing of premises,' he shall be liable to a penalty.

He further cited the case of Overton v Horton, reported in the Law Journal as bearing out his contention, and said it would be monstrous to hold that the private guests of a landlord were not to be allowed to have refreshments after the hour of closing simply because he happened to be a seller of drink. If that were so, a landlord who had friends to dinner with him, say at two o'clock on a Sunday, would not by the time dinner was over be able to place wine before his visitors. In this case it was a family reunion, held in accordance with annual practice on the wake Sunday; and the defendant had committed no offence, for although the Act said a publican must close his house at ten o'clock on a Sunday (which is done in this case), there was no law which laid down such a startling proposition as that he should turn his relatives into the street at that hour, or lock-up his decanters.

Mr. Birch was then called, and he named the persons in the house, and described their relationship to him or his wife, and the circumstances under which they had met.

The Clerk, in the course of a brief conversation which took place, said that, supposing the strict and literal interpretation of the Act was to be adopted, he agreed with Mr. Ebsworth's remarks as to the hardship of the case. He and the magistrates then retired for a time, and on their return into Court the Clerk said, 'I have referred to the case Overton v Horton, quoted by Mr. Ebsworth, and, as I expected, find it was a case under which a publican was charged with actually selling spirits after the prohibited hours, there not being in the Act under which the case was framed any words corresponding with the words in this Act, 'allowing intoxicating liquors to be consumed.' However, the Magistrates are of opinion that to hold that a publican is prohibited from supplying refreshments to his own personal friends after the prohibited hours would be a matter of great hardship to him. They do not think that could have been the intention of the Legislature, and until they are corrected by authority they cannot enforce that construction of the Act against the publican. At the same time, they think the police have done quite right in bringing the case before them, and that it will be their duty to examine closely all such cases, in order that they may not be made the medium of abuses.'

The summons was then dismissed, and a large number of persons who had assembled to hear the decision dispersed."

Birmingham Daily Post 24/3/1873 - Advert

"Wanted, a good strong Girl, as Housemaid.

Apply, James Birch, DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury."

WANTED, a good strong Girl, as Housemaid. --Apply, James Birch, Dartmouth Hotel, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Mail 23/7/1873

"On Monday evening private meetings were held at the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall, and the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, for the purpose of forming committees to secure the return of Mr. Allsop; and yesterday Mr. Allsop was prosecuting his canvas in Walsall – where he went among the farmers and others in the Corn Market – and in Wednesbury."

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/8/1873

"Henry Wardle, a vendor of medicine, who described himself as a 'doctor of medicine,' was summoned at the instance of Mr. James Birch, landlord of the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Holyhead Road, for refusing to quit his house on the night of the 21st inst.

Evidence was given that on the night in question, and in the absence of Mr. Birch, the defendant was driven to the DARTMOUTH HOTEL in his usual travelling equipage, namely, a vehicle drawn by two horses, and accompanied by his footman and a man in Highland costume, who is no doubt found very useful in attracting a crowd by his performances on the bagpipes. The defendant asked for accommodation, but was told that the house was full, and that he could not be taken in. The defendant, however, expostulated, and asserted his right to be accommodated notwithstanding. During the time he was endeavouring to make the persons in the house understand who he was, his attendant with the pipes was amusing a crowd of about 200 persons in front of the hotel with a selection of Gaelic music. The defendant persisted in staying, and it was not till a policeman was sent for that he left the house. The Bench dismissed a cross-summons which had been taken out by Wardle, charging the landlord with permitting quarrelsome conduct in his house, and Wardle was fined £5 and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 8/8/1873 - Advert

“Chambermaid. Wanted, a clean, steady, young Woman, willing to make herself generally useful. Apply, DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

CHAMBERMAID.—Wanted, a clean, steady, young Woman, willing to make herself generally useful.—Apply, Dartmouth Arms Hotel, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 27/11/1873

“The sixth anniversary dinner of the Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers Friendly and Protection Society was held last evening, at Mr. James Birch’s, the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury. About 120 sat down.....”

Forest of Dean Examiner 28/11/1873

“A special meeting of the South Stafford and East Worcestershire district of the National Association of Engineers was held at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Tuesday evening, to hear the report from the delegate who attended the Leeds conference, held November 3rd.....”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 18/2/1874 - Advert

“Sale of Windmill and Building Land, Church Hill, Wednesbury, by Public Auction, by James Taylor, on Wednesday, the 25th inst, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury, at Seven o’clock in the evening.....”

South Staffordshire Examiner 7/11/1874

“The annual Court Leet dinner took place at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Wednesday evening. An excellent dinner was provided by Host Birch. Mr. John Knowles occupied the chair, and Mr. G. Whitelaw the vice-chair. Messrs. T. Cartwright and H. Spittle were appointed beer tasters. Messrs. W. Hackwood and T. Parkes were sworn in overlookers of hedges and ditches. Mr. E. Morris was appointed constable. The usual loyal and patriotic toasts followed the usual formal business. ‘The health of Lady Emily Foley,’ who holds the lordship of the manor, was drunk with enthusiasm. A number of other complimentary toasts followed, and the usual ‘colting’ added to the attractions of the gathering.”

Midland Examiner 22/5/1875

“The first anniversary dinner in connection with the Wednesbury Conservative Association was held on Wednesday night, at the Town Hall, Wednesbury The banquet was served by Mr. Birch of the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL.”

Birmingham Daily Post 25/5/1875 - Advert

“Wanted, a steady Man, as Driver; also one as Boots; of good character. Apply, DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, a steady Man, as Driver; and one as Boots; of good character.—Apply, Dartmouth Hotel, Wednesbury.

Midland Examiner 7/8/1875 - Advert

“James Birch, DARTMOUTH ARMS COMMERCIAL HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury. Proprietor of Hearses, Mourning Coaches, Funeral Equipages, Carriages, Cabs, Cars, &c, For Hire. A large and commodious Room (55ft by 21ft) is now at the disposal of Visitors, with Two Billiard Tables, handsomely fitted.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 15/12/1875

“Michael Welsh was brought up in custody charged with stealing a bottle and a quantity of brandy, the property of James Birch, on Saturday last.

The prosecutor, who is landlord of the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Holyhead Road, said that while in the vault attached to that house on Saturday night last, about 9.30, he saw the prisoner, who was on the other side of the counter, reach over the counter and take a bottle, about three parts full of brandy, with which he ran away.

Police-constable Wilding said that on being informed of the theft he apprehended the prisoner on Sunday morning, at his mother’s residence, in Dudley Street. When charged with the offence, he said the brandy was given to him. Prisoner committed to gaol for one month.”

Midland Examiner 18/12/1875

“On Thursday night the members of the Staffordshire (Wednesbury) Rifle Corps, who were successful at the recent competition, were presented, at the Town Hall, Wednesbury, with the prizes they had won, by Mrs. Harrison, wife of Colonel Harrison, of Norton Hall.....

After the presentation, Lieutenant Edward Naylor made an interesting presentation to Captain Stubbs, consisting of a silver centre-piece (manufactured by Messrs. Elkington and Co, Birmingham) and a purse of 50 guineas, to testify the respect and esteem in which the Captain is held, and also in recognition of the valuable services he has rendered to the corps during a period of fifteen years. Captain Stubbs acknowledged the presentation in appropriate and feeling terms; at the same time mentioning the difficulties which the Volunteer movement in the town of Wednesbury had surmounted.....

Afterwards a dinner, of which the officers and men partook, and which was provided by Mr. James Birch, of the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, took place in the hall.”

Midland Examiner 22/1/1876

“On Tuesday evening, the members of the Wednesbury Licensed Victuallers Friendly and Protection Society held their eighth anniversary in the Town Hall, Wednesbury. More than two hundred persons sat down to the dinner, which was well served up by Mr. James Birch, of the DARTMOUTH HOTEL.....”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 22/4/1876 - Advert

“Clear-Out Sale of Modern Liquor Shop Fittings, Furniture, Steam Engine, Bottled Wines, and Effects at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.

By Roderick and Son. To be Sold by Auction (by direction of Mr. Millner, who is refitting the premises), on Tuesday, May 2, 1876, commencing at Eleven.

The costly modern Bar Fittings of Corner Liquor Shop, including Metal-top Counter, 27 feet long; Two Seven-tap Liquor Frames and Piping, Seven large Store Casks, Two Five-pull Beer Machines by ‘Mason,’ handsome Barrel Frame with marble top shelf and Plate-glass at back, Brass window Gas Rails, Three Gas Pendants, painted Window Boards, costly stained and embossed Glass Doors, Brass Muller, Glassware and Trade Utensils, modern Street Lamp, three large Panel Signs, Front and Passage Doors, 13 spring Bells; capital modern mahogany Dining Table, 18ft 6in long; sets of Trafalgar mahogany Chairs, Smoking Room Chairs, Crystal and Bronze Gaseliers, Cutlery, Table Prongs, Washing and Wringing Machines, Cooking Utensils; 100 Dozen of Fine Brown Pale Sherry and Port Wines; 25 one-dozen Bottle Baskets, empty wine Pipes and Hogsheads; three Modern Cooking Ranges; Iron Boiler; Five-horse power Vertical Steam Engine Boiler, Steam Reservoirs, Steam Piping; Five ‘Shakleton Brown and Co.’ Double-heating Coils, Shafting, Chaff-Engine, and other Effects.

Catalogues may be had on Monday next, of the Auctioneers, 2, Temple Row West, Birmingham.”

Birmingham Weekly Post 3/5/1879 - Died

“On the 30th ult, aged 68 years, Charles Bill, late of the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 17/5/1880

“Mr. Edwin Hooper, District Coroner, held an inquest at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Saturday afternoon, as to the death of Ann Maria Shinton (24), a married woman, residing in Chapel Street, who had committed suicide.

Thomas Shinton, the husband of the deceased, said that on Tuesday morning last deceased left home without stating where she was going. In the evening he found his wife in a house in Queen Street, on a bed, screaming. He asked her what she had been doing, and she replied, ‘I have taken poison.’ She asked him to kiss her, and, having complied with her request, she immediately afterwards became convulsed and expired.

In answer to the Coroner, he said there had been some unpleasantness between them about money matters.

Police-constable Lytle said that Dr, McKenna had informed him that he found in the deceased's dress pocket a packet of vermin killer and a box containing a compound of rhubarb. Some of the poison was mixed with the compound, and it was evident deceased had made pills of the mixture, and afterwards swallowed them. The compound of rhubarb was purchased at a chemist's shop in Snow Hill, Birmingham, but he had been unable to ascertain where the poison was purchased.

The jury returned a verdict that the deceased committed Suicide while in a state of Temporary Insanity.”

Wednesbury Herald 22/5/1880

“On Saturday afternoon Mr. Edwin Hooper (District Coroner) held an inquest at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Holyhead Road, relative to the death of a married woman named Ann Bird (45), residing in Albert Street.

Phillip Bird, the husband of the deceased, said that during the past six or seven years the deceased had frequently been unwell, and on Sunday morning she was suddenly worse, but was able to attend to her household duties. On Tuesday morning she became unconscious, and he sent for Dr. Blackwood, who attended her. He was quite sure that she had not taken laudanum, neither had he ever seen any laudanum in the house.

Dr. Blackwood said he had known the deceased for several years in consequence of having to attend her at times for chronic bronchitis. She also had at times nervous fits. On Tuesday morning he attended the deceased, and she being insensible he asked the husband if she had been taking laudanum, and he said no. He endeavoured to restore consciousness by various means, but was unable to do so, and deceased expired on the following morning. He examined the eyes, and there appeared to be severe pressure on the brain, which had been caused by apoplexy. Under the whole of the circumstances he considered it his duty to refuse giving a certificate so that an inquiry might be held.

The Coroner said that Dr. Blackwood had acted quite right in the case.

The jury did not think it desirable for a post mortem examination to be made, and returned a verdict of Died from Natural Causes.”

1881 Census

Dudley Street – DARTMOUTH ARMS

[1] Henry D. Millner (29), licensed victualler, born Parish Kellet, Lancashire;

[2] Mary Millner (28), wife, born St. Helens;

[3] Ellen Millner (5), daughter, born St. Helens;

[4] William Millner (3), son, born Wednesbury;

[5] Mary Millner (1), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[6] John L. Millner (3 months), son, born Wednesbury;

[7] Richard Farnell (24), barman, born Birmingham;

[8] Samuel Goodman (20), billiard marker, born Welton, Northamptonshire;

[9] Matilda Croton (17), general servant, born Wednesbury:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 12/10/1885

“Shortly after ten o’clock on Sunday night a cab from the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, ran into the engine attached to a tramcar in Bromford Lane, West Bromwich, not far from the Oldbury Station, with the result that the cab was completely smashed. Both the horse and the man escaped uninjured. The police took the name and address of the driver of the cab.”

AND

Birmingham Mail 12/10/1885

“Last (Sunday) night about ten o’clock a serious accident occurred in Bromford Lane, West Bromwich. A cab belonging to Mr. Riley, of DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, Wednesbury, was being driven by a man named William Watson (25), of Foster Street, Wednesbury, in the direction of West Bromwich when it came into collision with a tramcar travelling towards Oldbury. The cab was completely smashed to pieces, the fragments being strewn about the road in all directions. The driver and horse had an almost miraculous escape, but fortunately both escaped unhurt.”

1891 Census

Holyhead Road – DARTMOUTH HOTEL

- [1] Henry D. Millner (39), licensed victualler, born Nether Kellet, Lancashire;
- [2] Mary Millner (38), wife, born St. Helens;
- [3] Ellen Millner (16), daughter, born St. Helens;
- [4] William Millner (13), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Mary Millner (11), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] John Millner (10), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Henry Millner (8), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Jane Millner (6), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Margaret Millner (4), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [10] Elizabeth Littler (23), sister-in-law, born St. Helens;
- [11] Alfred Purcell (21), boarder, barman, born Bushbury;
- [12] Walter Jasper (15), boarder, barman, born Walsall;

Wednesbury Herald 8/6/1895

“On Thursday afternoon, Mr. Edwin Hooper, district coroner, held an enquiry at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL into the circumstances attending the death of Gertrude, the three year old daughter of Thomas Teague, of 32, Dudley Street, who succumbed on Tuesday morning to the effects of partial suffocation which took place on Sunday night. Thomas Teague was the first witness, and having given the necessary evidence of identification, he said that he went on Whit Sunday evening at about half past seven o’clock to spend a few hours at the house of his mother-in-law at Oxford Street, New Town. His wife followed him an hour later, bringing the baby with her. She had put two children, Thomas (6), and Gertrude (3), to bed, and had left an elder daughter, Dora (9), in charge of the house. Some time afterwards Dora put in an appearance at her grandma’s, having locked the door and followed her mother. She said she had left the children all right. They had never been left by themselves in the house before, and he believed Dora was instructed by her mother not to leave the house on this occasion. At about ten o’clock someone called and told him that his house was on fire. He hurried home and found that the door had been burst open and the children taken into a neighbour’s house. There was a fire on the stairs. The little girl seemed very poorly, not being able to get her breath. She had previously suffered from bronchitis. Thomas also had difficulty in breathing. He sent for Dr. Garman, who was in attendance by half past ten o’clock. He gave them brandy. He came again on Monday. Gertrude died the following morning, and when he informed the doctor he advised him to take Thomas to the hospital. This he had done, however, on the previous night. He was now getting better. He had had six children, of whom three were now alive.

Elizabeth Teague, mother of the deceased child, said that when she had put the children to bed and was ready to follow her husband she put two matches by the side of the lamp on the table and told Dora to light the lamp when it grew dark. She had previously lit the lamp on many occasions. She told Dora she could come down to her grandma’s later in the evening if she liked, and she asked her sister-in-law, Mrs. Goode, who lives next door, to listen and see that all was right with the children. The fire on the stairs partially consumed a pair of stockings and some underclothing belonging to her husband. She asked Dora how she lit the lamp and she replied that one match went out and she threw it away. She lit the lamp with the second one. She told the doctor on Sunday night about the fire, and he said the smoke had got down the children’s throats. She was a member of a death club.

Elizabeth Goode, the neighbour referred to, said Mrs. Teague asked her to keep an eye on Dora, but said nothing about the children in bed. Just after ten o’clock she smelled smoke in Teague’s house, and, having called her husband, she burst open the door. They rushed in. She picked up the lamp, which was alight on the table, and made for the stairs, but the smoke was so thick that she could not pass through it. Her husband then went upstairs and brought the children down. Some clothes on the stairs were smouldering, but the fire was soon put out. She had never known the Teagues leave the children unattended before.

Thomas Goode, husband of the last witness, said that when he got into the bedroom Gertrude was lying on her back and Thomas had turned over on to his face, and was groaning. He at once conveyed them into the house of a neighbour named Burcott.

Dora Teague, who was not sworn, said her mamma told her to follow her to New Town. She lit the lamp at 9.30, and threw the matches into the empty grate. She did not go near the stairs and had no idea how the fire originated. Her mamma told her aunt to look after the children while she was away.

Police constable Maddock said he had not been able to ascertain the cause of the fire, and he did not think an adjournment for the purpose would have any satisfactory result. The police had no suspicion of foul play.

The Coroner said he did not see how the origin of the fire could be discovered, neither did he suspect foul play. It was wrong, however, of the parents to leave the children in charge of a girl nine years of age, with permission to go out if she liked. The only wonder was that both the children were not suffocated. He was sorry to say he could not place much reliance on that portion of the mother's evidence relating to her alleged request to Mrs. Goode. Mr. E. Grainger, Mr. A. S. Hollingsworth, and other jurymen said they knew the Teagues for a very respectable couple, and they did not think for a moment that the woman had intentionally misled them. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

Henry Deighton Millner was also of the CASTLE and GEORGE. [1896], [1900], [1904], [1908]

1901 Probate

"Henry Deighton Millner of the Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, Staffordshire, died 24 January 1901. Probate Lichfield 1 April to Mary Millner, widow, and William Millner, architect and surveyor. Effects £11,619 0s 8d."

1901 Census

172, Holyhead Road – DARTMOUTH TAVERN

- [1] Mary Milner (48), widow, licensed victualler, born St. Helens;
- [2] Ellen Milner (25), daughter, born St. Helens;
- [3] William Milner (23), son, architect and surveyor, born Wednesbury;
- [4] John L. Milner (20), son, butcher, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Henry Milner (18), son, pupil architect and surveyor, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Jane Milner (16), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Dorothy Milner (22), niece, born Halton, Lancashire;
- [8] Henry Armstrong (10), nephew, born St. Helens;
- [9] Alfred Purcell (31), public house manager, born Bushbury;
- [10] Arthur Purcell (23), barman, born Bushbury;

Alfred Purcell – see QUEENS ARMS.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 7/6/1901

"Last night Volunteers and Reservists, who have recently returned from South Africa, were entertained at dinner at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, and the WHITE LION HOTEL, Darlaston, and enthusiastically received."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/4/1904

"The Wednesbury magistrates yesterday committed Richard Adams, of Perry Street, for trial at Stafford Quarter Sessions on a charge of committing a burglary at the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury. Adams was caught in the bar after closing hours. It was supposed that he gained admission by means of the rolling-in way, the doors of which were found to be open. Adams fainted in the dock."

[At the Staffordshire Quarter Sessions on June 28th, Richard Adams pleaded guilty of stealing 5s 11d, the moneys of Mary Millner and another, and was sentenced to one month's hard labour.]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 16/3/1906

"The third round of the Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers Billiards Tournament was concluded at the Stork Hotel, Birmingham, yesterday.....

At night, W. Millner (DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, rec.70) met H. F. Machin (Mermaid Hotel, Sparkhill, rec.220). Millner won easily by 87 points. His chief breaks were 22 and 18 (twice), while the loser did not make a break of note. Scores, Millner 400; Machin 313."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 28/2/1908

"Play continued yesterday in the first round of the Birmingham and District Licensed Victualler Billiards Handicap.....

In the afternoon H. Millner (DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, rec.65) beat J. W. Jones (Marquis of Lorne, Small Heath, rec.285) by 9 points. It was rather a tedious game. Scores, Millner 400; Jones 391."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 3/9/1909

"Today (Friday) at the Wednesbury Police Court, Mary Small, of George Street, Wednesbury, was charged with stealing a pair of trousers and a vest, the property of Florence Jackson, second-hand clothes dealer, of Trowse Lane, Wednesbury, on the 23rd ult.

The goods were missed from out of the window of complainant's shop, and, it was stated, it was subsequently ascertained that the prisoner had pledged them at Messrs. Samuel's shop for 4s 6d, stating that they belonged to her son. When arrested by Police-constable Rixon, prisoner said, 'I did not steal them; I had them given to me to pledge. A woman met me in the street and asked me to pledge them, and said she would give me 3d. I don't know the woman.'

Prisoner was further charged with stealing a pint cup, the property of Henry Millner, licensee of the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, on the same date. Mr. Millner said he had cautioned the prisoner about eight times for stealing goods from his house. Police-constable Rixon said he found the cup at the prisoner's house when he was searching it. Prisoner said she had taken the cup from the DARTMOUTH ARMS, but she intended to take it back.

Prisoner was remanded to the workhouse for a week for the state of mind to be inquired into."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 10/11/1910 - Advert

"This Day (Thursday). Wednesbury.

Important Central Freehold Property, comprising the Old-Established, Fully-Licensed Public House, known as the DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, occupying a corner position at the junction of Holyhead Road and Dudley Street, Wednesbury.

By Messrs. Grimley and Son, at the Grand Hotel, Colmore Row, Birmingham, at Seven o'clock to the minute.

A purchaser will be entitled to the Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession on March 25, 1913.

Particulars and plan may be obtained from Messrs. Caddick and Yates, Solicitors, West Bromwich, or of Messrs. Grimley and Son, 39 and 40, Temple Street, Birmingham."

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 11/11/1910

"Messrs. Grimley and Son sold four properties last evening. The DARTMOUTH ARMS INN, at Wednesbury, a freehold fully-licensed property, let on lease at £150 per annum, realised £5,050."

1911 Census

Holyhead Road – DARTMOUTH ARMS

- [1] Mary Millner (58), widow, born St. Helens;
- [2] Mary Millner (31), daughter, head teacher, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Henry Millner (28), son, licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Jane Millner (26), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Margaret Millner (24), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Lilian Armstrong (24), niece, sick nurse, Board of Guardians, born St. Helens:

Newry Reporter 12/11/1912 - Marriages

"On the 5th November, at Codsall Parish Church, Staffordshire, by the Rev. Charles G. Barr, James, youngest son of Dr. Carlisle, of Cargah, Crossgar, to Jane, third surviving daughter of the late H. D. Millner, and Mrs. Millner, of DARTMOUTH HOUSE, Wednesbury."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 4/2/1913

"The first round of the Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers Billiards Handicap was resumed yesterday..... In the afternoon H. Millner, DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury (rec.145) beat Frank Stokes, Villa Tavern, Villa Street, Lozells (rec.175), by 104 points. Stokes will be better known as the ex-Birmingham back, who is now in the licensed trade. It was his initial appearance in the tourney, therefore his mark could not be quite a favourable one. Millner has been in many previous handicaps and he played well. He made several breaks of just under 20 in addition to 34 and 20. Stokes showed he can play the game, for he contributed a neat 30 break, but the handicap was too much. Scores, Millner 400; Stokes 296."

[Henry Millner was beaten in the third round.]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 20/10/1915

"Deep regret has been caused in the Wednesbury district by the death in action of Captain Will Millner, of Tettenhall, Wolverhampton, and eldest son of Mrs. H. D. Millner, of Holyhead Road, Wednesbury. He was attached to the Walsall Territorials (1/5th South Staffs), and it is stated that he was killed whilst leading his men in a bayonet charge last Wednesday.

Captain Millner was one of the finest rifle shots in the country, and was a regular competitor at Bisley, where his prowess won him a position in the English twenty. He represented England in several international matches, and was one of the twenty English shots selected to go to Australia on the trip which had to be abandoned when war broke out. He won the Barlow Cup the first year he went to Bisley, and had also been in the last hundred for the King's Prize. He was a member of the Wednesbury Company of the Volunteers, and had been connected with the Territorial movement since its inception. He leaves a widow and five children."

CAPTAIN W. MILLNER.

Walsall Observer 26/2/1916

"The marriage took place at Wednesbury on Wednesday of Second-Lieutenant Thomas Guy Percy Darby, of the 6th South Staffordshire Regiment, and Miss Margaret Millner, of DARTMOUTH HOUSE, Wednesbury. Second-Lieutenant Darby, who is the son of Mr. John Darby, solicitor, and a brother of Dr. Ernest Darby, of Wolverhampton, was formerly in the Town Clerk's Office, Wolverhampton, while Miss Millner is a daughter of Mrs. H. D. Millner, Wednesbury, and sister of the late Captain Will Millner, of the 5th South Staffordshire Regiment, who was killed in action on October 13, 1915. The wedding was solemnised at St. James's Church, the officiating clergyman being the Rev. R. T. Hall. Miss Millner was attended by Miss Madge Morris as bridesmaid, and was given away by her brother Mr. Harry Millner. Mr. Jack Millner, of Wolverhampton, brother of the bride, acted as best man. The wedding was of a quiet description. The honeymoon is being spent at Torquay."

1921 Census

172, Holyhead Road

- [1] John Millner (40), cattle dealer's assistant, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Mary Millner (68), mother, widow, home duties, born St. Helens;
- [3] Mary Millner (42), sister, head teacher, elementary school, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Lily Armstrong (40), visitor, widow, home duties, born Leeds:

South Staffordshire Times 19/4/1924

"On Tuesday evening a very pleasant function took place at the registered office of the Mutual Loan Society, the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Holyhead Road, when Mr. John Huband, who has held the position of member of the committee and trustee for twenty years, was made a presentation by the members as a mark of appreciation of his services. He was the recipient of a handsome spirit and games cabinet of clever design and workmanship. The chairman, Mr. D. Bowdler, made the presentation in felicitous terms, and his remarks were supported by several members present. Mr. Huband feelingly replied, and reviewed the history of the society, while he held office. Established in 1841, it is easily the oldest of its kind in England, and Mr. Huband wished it continued prosperity."

London Gazette 1/6/1926

"Friendly Societies Act, 1896. Advertisement of Dissolution by Instrument.

Notice is hereby given, that the Wednesbury Mutual Loan Society, Register No.2273 Staffs. S.A.L., held at DARTMOUTH ARMS, Holyhead-road, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, is dissolved by Instrument, registered at this Office, the 28th day of May 1926, unless within three months from the date of the Gazette in which this advertisement appears, proceedings be commenced by a member or other person interested in, or having any claim on, the funds of the Society, to set aside such dissolution, and the same be set aside accordingly.

G. Stuart Robertson, Chief Registrar. 17, North Audley-street, W1, (131) the 28th day of May, 1926."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 24/3/1928

"Wednesbury Harriers meet today for a road handicap race from the SWAN INN, High Street, Bilston. Members are requested to meet at the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, at 2.30pm."

Walsall Observer 1/6/1929

“The death occurred on Wednesday morning, at her home, ‘Deighton,’ Corporation Street, Wednesbury, of Mrs. Mary Millner. In her 77th year, she was the widow of Mr. H. D. Millner, at one time of the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, the license of which had been held by a member of the same family for over 50 years, and she was the mother of Miss. M. Millner, headmistress of Dorsett Road Girls School, Darlaston. She also leaves two sons and three daughters. Mrs. Millner was a prominent worshipper at St. James’s Church, Wednesbury.”

Dudley Chronicle 24/9/1931

“A meeting of the Wednesbury Football Charity Association was held at the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, on Tuesday of last week, when the following clubs were elected members for the ensuing year.....”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 22/9/1932 - Advert

“Midland Red. Eight Hours in Blackpool!

Cheap Long Day Excursions! Daily from September 24th to October 24th.....

Wednesbury (DARTMOUTH ARMS) approx. dep. 8.30am.

Return Fare 12/6. Period Return Fare 20/- (Available to return within one week. Saturdays exempted.)

Also on Special Days from Other Districts. See Separate Bills.

Coaches Return at 10.0pm Each Night from Talbot Road Bus Station, Blackpool....”

[These excursions ran for several years.]

Rugeley Times 9/9/1933

“A road race, in connection with the Wednesbury Clarion Cyclist Club, was held on Sunday, the course being from Wednesbury (DARTMOUTH ARMS) to Wolverhampton and back, a distance of approximately ten miles. After a keen race, W. Colishaw won by two seconds.....”

Walsall Observer 9/9/1939

“Wednesbury’s Raid Shelters.

Following is list of the air raid shelters which are now ready or will be available shortly, with the accommodation provided.....

DARTMOUTH ARMS, Holyhead Road (90).”

1939 Register

Holyhead Road

[1] Thomas Croft, date of birth 28/4/1893, public house manager, married;

[2] Eliza M. Croft, dob 20/11/1890, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Granville Raymond T. Croft, dob 7/3/1920, wood pattern maker, single:

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League, Division Two. [1946]

Tipton Herald 15/5/1948

“At a meeting held at the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, on Tuesday, it was decided to form a Wednesbury and District Football League.

Mr. H. J. Hawkes was appointed chairman, pro tem, and said that a wish had been expressed that such a league should be formed subject to sanction being received from Birmingham County FA. Mr. Hingley, who was acting as hon. secretary, had been in touch with Mr. E. A. Eden, of the County FA, and he had given the proposal his blessing. The next thing to be done was to submit the names of clubs who were willing to join the league, and these would be considered by the county committee.....”

Tipton Herald 29/5/1948

“At an adjourned meeting held at the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, on Tuesday, it was decided to form a Wednesbury and District Football League.....”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 25/1/1950

“Members of Wednesbury and Oldbury referees associations will take part in a quiz at the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, on Friday. The Wednesbury chairman, Mr. G. Blackhall, is home from hospital following an operation.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 13/6/1950

“Wednesbury and District Referees Association’s annual meeting will be held at the DARTMOUTH ARMS, Wednesbury, on Friday evening.”

Sports Argus 18/8/1951

“The general meeting of the Wednesbury Football league will be held at headquarters, DARTMOUTH HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Tuesday, at 7.45pm. The League will again comprise two divisions, fixtures commencing on Saturday September 1, and as there are vacancies in each of the divisions, intending secretaries or representatives will be welcomed.”

Thomas Croft was married to Eliza.

They retired in 1961.

Closed

Wolverhampton Express and Star 28/7/1962 - Notice

“Notice is Hereby Given that the Minister of Housing and Local Government, in pursuance of the powers vested in him by the Housing Act, 1957, on the 18th day of July, 1962, confirmed with modifications the ‘Borough of Wednesbury (Russell Street Clearance Areas Nos.1-4) Compulsory Purchase Order, 1961,’ submitted to him by the Wednesbury Borough Council authorising them to purchase compulsorily under Section 43 of the said Act the lands described in the Schedule to this notice, which lands are lands in areas declared to be Clearance Areas by a resolution of the Council, dated the 25th day of July, 1960, and also lands surrounded by or lands adjoining the said clearance areas.....

Lands outside the clearance areas.....

Delicensed premises formerly DARTMOUTH ARMS, Holyhead Road.”

It was demolished in March/April 1963.

DARTMOUTH ARMS COMMERCIAL INN, AND INLAND REVENUE OFFICE, HOLYHEAD ROAD, WEDNESBURY.

CHARLES BILL, in returning thanks for the very liberal encouragement he has received during the last six years at the Turk's Head Inn, begs respectfully to inform his numerous Friends, and Commercial Gentlemen in particular, that for their greater convenience and comfort he has taken and newly furnished the above Inn, where he trusts the great improvements he has made in its internal arrangements, combined with his usual moderate charges, will ensure for him their future patronage and support.

The above Inn is situated on the main road from Birmingham to Wolverhampton, is within three minutes' walk of the Station of the South Staffordshire Railway, and the Market Place, or business part of the town.

Trains to and from Birmingham, Dudley, Walsall, &c., twenty-four times a day, and Omnibuses to and from Wolverhampton, Bilston, &c., every hour.

CARS, &c., on reasonable terms, and at the shortest notice.

DARTMOUTH ARMS COMMERCIAL INN, HOLYHEAD ROAD, WEDNESBURY.

CHARLES BILL begs to inform his Patrons and Friends that a CARD and DANCING ASSEMBLY will be held at the above Inn, on THURSDAY EVENING, January 9th, 1851.

STEWARDS.

Mr. J. D. PAYNE.

Mr. J. A. PALIN.

Mr. J. WOOD.

Mr. J. DAWES, Jun.

Mr. J. P. MORGAN.

Mr. H. MINORS.

Tickets, (including Refreshments,) Ladies, 5s.; Gentlemen, 7s. 6d.; may be had of the Stewards, and at the Bar of the Inn.

A First-rate Quadrille Band is engaged.

Dancing to commence at Eight o'clock.

Cars will be provided free of expense for parties residing within one mile of the Inn.

DARTMOUTH ARMS COMMERCIAL INN, AND INLAND REVENUE OFFICE, HOLYHEAD ROAD, WEDNESBURY.

TO be LET, with immediate possession, the above OLD-ESTABLISHED INN, doing the best Commercial Trade in the Town.

The other Business includes the Excise and Beer-bond Meetings, Court Leet and Rent Audits, Turnpike Road Meetings, and Friendly and other Societies, numbering nearly 500 Members.

The present Proprietor is leaving solely in consequence of having taken the "Lion Hotel," Kidderminster.

For further particulars, and to treat, apply to Mr. Charles Bill, on the Premises.

1852

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the Next MEETING of the TRUSTEES for Repairing the Roads leading from Birmingham to Wednesbury and to Great Bridge, and from thence to the Portway adjoining the Bilston and Wednesbury Turnpike Road, and to Nether Trundle, near Dudley, and from Trowse Lane, in the parish of Wednesbury, to Darlaston, in the counties of Warwick, Worcester, and Stafford, will be held at the house of Charles Bill, situate at Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, known by the name of the Dartmouth Hotel, on WEDNESDAY, the 20th day of July next, at Eleven o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of appointing new Trustees, and transacting other business.

CLEMT. INGLEBY, Clerk to the said Trustees.

Birmingham, June 30th, 1859.

1859

IMPORTANT SALE OF LIVE AND DEAD
FARMING STOCK,
At MARSH-LANE FARM, WEST BROMWICH, adjoining the New Cemetery.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,
BY FALLOWS and SMITH (by order of Mr. Charles Bill, who is giving up the Farm), on Monday the 5th day of March next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon—the whole of the LIVE and DEAD FARMING STOCK; comprising six powerful waggon HORSES and their tackle, very fast young PONY, Alderney and other COWS, SOW and PIGS, five store PIGS, two 6-inch WAGGONS and gearing, liquid manure and other CARTS (nearly new), light SPRING TRAP, quantity of gig and other HARNESS and TACKLE, rick-sheet, poles, wood and iron PLOUGHS, land roll, winnowing machine, patent CHAFF ENGINE, quantity of wood hurdles and fencing, about 200 tons of excellent manure, large quantity of TOOLS of all descriptions, and numerous other effects; particulars of which may be had in catalogues, to be obtained at the Auctioneers' office, 14, Temple-row, Birmingham; the Dartmouth Hotel, Wednesbury; and at the place of sale.

1860

TO be SOLD by PRIVATE CONTRACT, owing to the present Proprietor retiring from business, the LEASE, GOODWILL, and POSSESSION of that well-known COMMERCIAL HOTEL and INLAND REVENUE OFFICE, "THE DARTMOUTH ARMS," centrally situated, and in close proximity to the two railway stations, and all the extensive gas tube, railway, and other manufactories, in the very improving town of Wednesbury, to which is attached an excellent Funeral Carriage and Cab Department. In-come from £1,000 to £1,200.

Apply, Roderick and Son, 35, Cherry Street; or to Mr. Charles Bill, on the Premises.

1865

THE DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, At WEDNESBURY.

BY RODERICK and SON.—To be SOLD (by direction of Mr. George Street, who has taken a Wholesale and Retail Wine and Spirit Business in Birmingham)—the LEASE, GOODWILL, and POSSESSION of the above compact, excellent, and well-known HOTEL, now doing a profitable business.

Coming-in about £800.

Anyone in search of a compact, paying, easily-managed Hotel, will find this a good opportunity.

Apply to the Auctioneers, 2, Temple Row West, Birmingham.

THE DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, WEDNESBURY.

BY RODERICK and SON.—To be SOLD by AUCTION (by direction of Mr. George Street, who has taken a Wine and Spirit Business in Birmingham), on the Premises, on TUESDAY, August 10th, 1869, at Six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions, and unless an acceptable offer be previously made by Private Contract—the LEASE, LICENSES, GOODWILL, and POSSESSION of the important Old-established Family and Commercial Hotel known as "THE DARTMOUTH ARMS," for many years carried on with unvaried success, and now doing an extensive, respectable, and highly remunerative trade. The Offices of the Commissioners of Taxes, of the Inland Revenue, and of the Inspector of Weights and Measures, are upon the premises, and an important Masonic Lodge is attached. The valuation will be about £700., and the concern is one in which any attentive man of business will rapidly realise a fortune.

For further particulars, apply on the Premises, or to the Auctioneers, 2, Temple Row West, Birmingham.

1869

ROYAL AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY OF ENGLAND.

WOLVERHAMPTON SHOW, 1871.

THE DARTMOUTH ARMS COMMERCIAL HOTEL,
WEDNESBURY,

Only Ten Minutes from Wolverhampton by Rail.

AN ORDINARY EVERY DAY AT ONE O'CLOCK.
A LARGE STOCK ROOM.

JAMES BIRCH, Proprietor.

1871

JAMES BIRCH,

DARTMOUTH ARMS COMMERCIAL HOTEL,
HOLYHEAD-ROAD, WEDNESBURY.

PROPRIETOR OF HEARSES, MOURNING COACHES, FUNERAL EQUIPAGES, CARRIAGES, CABS, CARS, &c., FOR HIRE.

A large and commodious Room (50ft. by 21ft.) is now at the disposal of Visitors, with
TWO BILLIARD TABLES, HANDSOMELY FITTED.

1875

CLEAR-OUT SALE OF MODERN LIQUOR SHOP FITTINGS, FURNITURE,

STEAM ENGINE, BOTTLED WINES, AND EFFECTS, At the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, HOLYHEAD ROAD,
Wednesbury.

BY RODERICK and SON.—To be SOLD by AUCTION (by direction of Mr. Millner, who is re-fitting the premises), on TUESDAY, May 2, 1876, commencing at Eleven—the costly modern BAR FITTINGS of Corner Liquor Shop, including Metal-top Modern Counter, 27 feet long; Two Seven-tap Liquor Frames and Piping, Seven large Store Casks, Two Five-pull Beer Machines by "Mason," handsome Barrel Frame with marble top shelf and Plate-glass at back, Brass window Gas Rails, Three Gas Pendants, painted Window Boards, costly stained and embossed Glass Doors, Brass Muller, Glassware and Trade Utensils, modern Street Lamp, three large Panel Signs, Front and Passage Doors, 13 spring Bells; capital modern mahogany Dining Table, 18ft. 6in. long; sets of Traifalgar mahogany Chairs, Smoking Room Chairs, Crystal and Bronze Gasoliers, Cutlery, Table Prongs, Washing and Wringing Machines, Cooking Utensils; 100 Dozen of Fine Brown Pale SHERRY and PORT WINES; 25 one-dozen Bottle Baskets, empty wine Pipes and Hogsheds; three Modern COOKING RANGES; Iron Boiler; Five-horse power Vertical Steam Engine BOILER, Steam Reservoirs, Steam Piping; Five "Shakleton Brown and Co." Double-heating Coils, Shuffling, Chaff-Engine, and other Effects.

Catalogues may be had on Monday next, of the Auctioneers, 2, Temple Row West, Birmingham.

1876

THIS DAY (THURSDAY).

WEDNESBURY.

IMPORTANT CENTRAL FREEHOLD PROPERTY.

Comprising the OLD-ESTABLISHED FULLY LICENSED PUBLIC-HOUSE

known as

"THE DARTMOUTH ARMS" INN.

Occupying a corner position at the junction of Holyhead-road and Dudley-street, Wednesbury.

BY Messrs. GRIMLEY and SON, at the Grand Hotel, Oakmore-row, Birmingham, at seven o'clock to the minute:—

A PURCHASER WILL BE ENTITLED TO THE LICENSES, GOODWILL, and POSSESSION ON MARCH 25, 1915.

Particulars and plan may be obtained of Messrs. Coddick and Yates, Auctioneers, West Bromwich, or of Messrs. Grimley and son, 39 and 40, Temple-street, Birmingham.

1910

DOG AND DUCK

Dudley Road, (Dudley Street), WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Henry Pitt [1818]

Henry Pitt Jnr. [1828] – [1830]

NOTES

Dudley Road [1828], [1830]

DOG AND DUCK

New Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Benjamin Hackwood [1834] – [1842]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Benjamin Hackwood, beer retailer, New Street. [1835], [1841]

Benjamin Hackwood, retailer of beer, New Street. [1842]

DOG AND PARTRIDGE

16, (15+16), (24), Ridding Lane / Addison Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

William Watson
Atkinsons Ltd. [1921], [1967]

LICENSEES

George Hackett [1868] – [1872]
Mrs. Sarah Knowles [1881] – [1892]
Alfred Barnsley/Bradley [1894]
William Blakemore [] – 1899;
Ada Blakemore (1899 – [];
Alfred Blakemore [1901] – 1912)
William Blakemore [1904]
William Harry Bailey [1911] (1912 – []
Edward Thomas Newbold [1921]
William Alfred Burrows [1939] – [1940]
Clifford Howard Horton [] – 1948;
Mrs. Lizzie Horton (1948 – [1951]
Frederick George Mitchell [1961] – [1968]

1967

NOTES

24, Ridding Lane [1871], [1881], [1884], [1891]
16, Ridding Lane [1901], [1911], [1921], [1940]
15+16 Ridding Lane [1939]

It had a beerhouse license.

George Hackett, beer retailer, Ridding Lane. [1868], [1870]
George Hackett, beer retailer, 24, Ridding Lane. [1872]

1871 Census

24, Ridding Lane – DOG AND PARTRIDGE

- [1] George Hackett (32), publican, born Kings Bromley, Staffordshire;
- [2] Ann Hackett (29), wife, born Yoxall, Staffordshire;
- [3] George Hackett (7), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Henry Hackett (5), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] William James Hackett (3), son, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Matilda Hackett (1), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Sarah Hill (15), general servant, born West Bromwich;
- [8] William Hutchison (19), boarder, striker, born Yoxall, Staffordshire;
- [9] Richard Morton (40), boarder, labourer, born Pipe Ridware, Staffordshire;

Birmingham Daily Post 23/8/1871

“At Wednesbury Police Court, before Mr. I. Spooner (Stipendiary), George Hackett, of the DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, Ridding Lane, was charged with having had his house open at a quarter past eleven o’clock, on the morning of Sunday, the 3rd of July. Police-constable Hill stated that at the time named, on looking through the front window of the defendant’s house, he saw the defendant drawing beer at the machine, and on going to the back he saw the door open, and a man leaving the premises. The defence was that the man was a neighbour, who had not been supplied with anything, and that the landlord was merely trying a barrel of beer which he had been attaching to the machine. The Stipendiary said the case was not free from suspicion, but the evidence would not justify a conviction. Accordingly the summons was dismissed. Mr. Bayley appeared for the defendant.”

1881 Census

24, Ridding Lane – DOG AND PARTRIDGE

[1] Sarah Knowles (43), married, beerhouse keeper, born Wednesbury;

[2] Kate Roome (19), domestic servant, born Derby:

Birmingham Daily Post 5/12/1881 - Advert

“Wednesbury, Staffordshire. Valuable Freehold Property, Old-Licensed Houses, Beerhouse, Posting and Livery Stables, Ale Stores, &c.

To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Leedam & Harrison, at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Thursday, the 22nd day of December, 1881, at 6 for 7 o’clock in the evening precisely (by order of the Trustee of the Estate of William Watson, Bankrupt), the following very eligible Freehold Properties.....

Lot 3. All that eligible Beerhouse, known as the DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, situate at the corner of Ridding Lane and Addison Street, Wednesbury, in the occupation of Mrs. Knowles; together with the Three Messuages or Dwelling Houses adjoining, and being Nos. 21, 22, and 23, Ridding Lane, occupied by Mr. John Weston, Mrs. Wright, and Mr. Michael Earp.”

LOT 3.—All that eligible BEERHOUSE, known as “THE DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN,” situate at the corner of Ridding Lane and Addison Street, Wednesbury, in the occupation of Mrs. Knowles; together with the Three MESSUAGES or DWELLING HOUSES adjoining, and being Nos. 21, 22, and 23, Ridding Lane, occupied by Mr. John Weston, Mrs. Wright, and Mr. Michael Earp.

Mrs. Sarah Knowles, beer retailer, 24 Riddings Lane. [1884]

1891 Census

24, Ridding Lane

[1] Sarah Knowles (53), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Wednesbury;

[2] Elizabeth Peters (72), sister, widow, born Wednesbury;

[3] Sarah Wright (14), niece, domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

[4] John Binns (28), boarder, tailor’s manager, born Leeds;

[5] William Wootton (23), visitor, wood turner, born Wednesbury:

Sarah Knowles was the sister of Eliza Danks of the GOLDEN CROSS.

Birmingham Daily Post 7/9/1892

“At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, before Mr. Neville (stipendiary), Sarah Knowles, of the DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, Ridding Lane, was summoned for selling intoxicating liquors during prohibited hours. Mr. W. S. Smith appeared for the defence.

The evidence of Detective Platt and Police-constable Barrow was to the effect that at half-past ten on the night of the 15th ult they saw a woman named Potter enter the house and hand a bottle to the landlady, who almost immediately returned it. They found that it contained ale.

The defence was that the woman, who was a regular customer, left the bottle with the landlady, with the money for beer, before ten o’clock.

The Stipendiary said it would be absolutely impossible to administer the licensing law properly if persons were allowed to pay for beer and fetch it when they chose. It seemed this was a general custom, but it would have to be put an end to. As the defendant had kept houses previously without any complaint, she would on this occasion be fined 40s only and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1892

“The adjourned general licensing meeting for Wednesbury took place at the Police Court, yesterday.....

Mr. W. S. Smith applied on behalf of Sarah Knowles, the DOG AND PARTRIDGE beerhouse, Ridding Lane, who had been objected to because of a conviction for selling during prohibited hours. Granted.”

Birmingham Daily Post 25/8/1894

“The annual licensing session for the borough of Wednesbury took place at the Police Court yesterday.....

Notices of opposition to the renewal of their licenses been served upon.....

Alfred Barnsley, the DOG AND PARTRIDGE beerhouse, Ridding Lane.....

The consideration of the licenses objected to, and also of a fresh application, would be adjourned until the adjourned licensing sessions, September 22. The magistrates had had under consideration the important question of valuation, and they had decided to enforce the Act of 1872, which required fully-licensed houses to be of the value of £30 and beerhouses £20 a year. In cases where there was a doubt they would exercise their right to appoint a valuer.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/9/1894

“Wednesbury adjourned Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

Mr. T. Jones applied for the renewal of the license of the DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, Riddings Lane, to Alfred Bradley. The applicant had been fined 5s and costs for permitting drunkenness, but he submitted it was only a technical offence and not sufficient to justify the magistrates in refusing the license.”

[The application was granted.]

William Blakemore died in 1899.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 22/9/1899

“The adjourned Licensing Sessions for the borough of Wednesbury were held today.....

The following transfers were granted.....

DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, from the executors of William Blakemore to Ada Blakemore.”

1901 Census

16, Ridding Lane

[1] Alfred Blakemore (23), iron turner and beerhouse keeper, born Darlaston;

[2] Selina Blakemore (20), wife, born Wednesbury:

A .Blakemore issued tokens from here.

William Blakemore, beer retailer, 16, Ridding Lane. [1904]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 28/4/1905

‘Rod and Line..... A new club is to be formed at Wednesbury. Particulars can be obtained at the DOG AND PARTRIDGE.’

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/6/1905

“Mr. T. Coles, by the desire of the members of the Wednesbury Angling Association, delivered a lecture on Saturday last at the club house, the DOG AND PARTRIDGE INN, Ridding Lane. The subject chosen was ‘The delights of angling with reference to fish life, their haunts, habits and tastes.’ The lecture lasted one hour and five minutes, and was warmly received.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/1/1909

“A smoking concert in connection with the Wednesbury Angling Society was held at the DOG AND PARTRIDGE on Saturday. Mr. W. J. Bostock presided.

The fourth annual report and balance sheet showed the club to be in a prosperous condition. Several new members were made during the evening, and a silver medal was presented to Mr. W. Bennett for the heaviest roach caught last year. Songs were rendered by Messrs. T. Parker, A. Henderson, J. Ratcliffe, J. Matthews (humorist), and others. Mr. J. Matthews gave a selection on the zonophone. Mr. H. Robinson accompanied.”

Walsall Advertiser 26/6/1909

"The members of the Wednesbury Angling Society fished their first bye-contest of the season in the Birmingham Canal on Saturday last The annual contest will be fished on August 2nd, at Pershore, when, in addition to the challenge cup, a silver cup, presented by Mr. Alfred Blakemore, will be competed for."

Alfred Blakemore – see also OLD BARREL, Darlaston Road, Wednesbury, SWAN, Victoria Road, Darlaston, and WOODMAN, Wood Green, Wednesbury.

1911 Census

16, Ridding Lane – DOG AND PARTRIDGE

[1] William Harry Bailey (52), manager of beerhouse, born Cannock;

[2] Elizabeth Bailey (52), wife, married 5 years, born Oldbury;

[3] William Solomon Smith (27), step-son, blacksmith's striker, born Pleck, near Walsall:

Harry Bailey, beer retailer, 16, Ridding Lane. [1912]

1921 Census

16, Ridding Lane

[1] Edward Thomas Newbold (42) public house manager, born Wednesbury;

[2] Kate Newbold (30), wife, home duties, born Wednesbury;

[3] Edward Thomas Newbold (6), son, school, born Wednesbury;

[4] Austin William Newbold (4), son, born Wednesbury;

[5] Edward Newbold (66), boarder, father, widower, labourer in tube works, born Wednesbury;

[6] Austin William Newbold (34), boarder, brother, tool forger, power hammer, born Wednesbury;

[7] Eliza Newbold boarder, (18), boarder, sister, typist in tube works, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 13/11/1930

"Pit Disaster Fund. More Contributions.

The following contributions were received yesterday for the Birmingham Gazette and Evening Despatch fund for the relief of the dependants of the victims of the Grove Pit disaster.

Previously acknowledged, £2,459 11s 11d.....

Customers, DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Wednesbury, 5s 0d."

1939 Register

15+16 Ridding Lane (3 of 4)

[1] William A. Burrows, date of birth 18/12/1899, slater and tiler, publican, married;

[2] Gladys M. Burrows, dob 19/2/1908, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[4] Mary Martin, dob 23/3/1874, national clothing club agent, single:

Rugeley Times 8/2/1941

"The monthly report of the West Bromwich and District General Hospital, just issued, shows that the patients report for the month of December was in-patients admitted, 55; out-patients admitted to the several special departments, 284; to the casualty department, 905; attendance in all departments, 3,485.

Donations acknowledged for the month of December, 1940, were.....

DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Wednesbury, £1."

Walsall Observer 28/2/1948 - Deaths

"Treasured memories of my dear husband, Clifford Howard Horton, who passed peacefully away at the DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Ridding Lane, Wednesbury, on February 20, 1948. Worthy of everlasting remembrance. Sadly missed. Lizzie."

AND

"Fond memories of our dear father, Clifford H. Horton, who died on February 20, 1948. Lovingly remembered. Stanley, Kathleen and Rene."

Walsall Observer 28/2/1948 - Acknowledgements

“The Wife and Family of the late Mr. Clifford Horton, DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Wednesbury (formerly Lime Street), thank all Relatives and Friends for flowers and sympathy in their sad loss; also Rev. Kathleen Whitfield, for officiating at the Church service and Crematorium.”

Walsall Observer 5/5/1951 - Roll of Honour

“Memories of Stan Ludlow, killed in Korea, April 13.

Always remembered by Mrs. Horton and Family, DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Wednesbury.”

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League. [1962], [1963], [1965]

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Town Darts League. [1970]

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Social Cribbage League. [1970]

[1983]

It was demolished in the late 1980s.

Housing was built on the site.

Frederick Mitchell 1962

DOLPHIN

Darlaston Road, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Frederick Spittle [1851] – [1861]

NOTES

1851 Census

Darlaston Road

[1] Frederick Spittle (36), unmarried, gun lock manufacturer and brewer, born Wednesbury;

[2] Charlotte Spittle (25), sister, housekeeper, born Wednesbury:

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/8/1851

“Frederick Spittle, beershop keeper of Wednesbury, was fined £1 and costs, for having his house open after lawful time on Saturday night last.”

1861 Census

Darlaston Road – DAULPHIN

[1] Frederick Spittle (46), publican and provision dealer, born Wednesbury;

[2] Elizabeth Spittle (30), wife, born Willenhall;

[3] Jabez Spittle (6), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;

[4] Frederick Spittle (3), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;

[5] Ann Clark (17), general servant, born Ireland:

DRUM AND MONKEY

Portway Road, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Baker [1899]

DUKE OF WELLINGTON

Bridge Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Simkin [1861]

DUKE OF WELLINGTON

High Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Joseph Rock [1822]
Rebecca Rocke [1828] – [1830]

DUKE OF YORK

69, (Lower) High Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Peter Spittle [1801]

LICENSEES

Peter Spittle [1801]

George Collier [1804]

Ann Collier [1818]

William Collier [1822] – [1835]

Joseph Dickens [1841] – 1846;

Daniel Smith (1846 – [1850])

Joseph Simpkin [1851] – [1868]

Thomas Nichols [1868] – 1871;

James George (1871 – [1880])

Amos French [1880] – [1881]

NOTES

High Street [1822], [1828], [1830]

It had a beerhouse license.

London Gazette 16/6/1801

“Whereas a Commission of Bankrupt is awarded and issued forth against Peter Spittle, of Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, Gun-Lock-Maker, Dealer and Chapman, and he being declared a Bankrupt is hereby required to surrender himself to the Commissioners in the said Commission named, or the major Part of them, on the 4th of July next, at Four o’Clock in the Afternoon, on the 7th of the same Month, and on the 1st of August following, at Eleven o’Clock in the Forenoon, at the Dwelling-House of William Rock, the GEORGE INN, in Wednesbury, in the said County, and make a full Discovery and Disclosure of his Estate and Effects; when and where the Creditors are to come prepared to prove their Debts, and at the Second Sitting to choose Assignees, and at the Last Sitting the said Bankrupt is required to finish his Examination, and the Creditors are to assent to or dissent from the Allowance of his Certificate. All Persons indebted to the said Bankrupt, or that have any of his effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to whom the Commissioners shall appoint, but give Notice to Mr. Hunt, Attorney, No.34, Castle Street, Holborn, London, or to Messrs. Crother, Attornies, in Wednesbury aforesaid.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 27/7/1801 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, by Charles Greatrex, on Thursday the 30th of July instant, and following Day (by Order of the Assignees) all the neat Household Furniture, Shop Fixtures, Brewing Utensils, and valuable Shop Tools belonging to Mr. Peter Spittle, Gun Lock Maker, at the Sign of the DUKE OF YORK in Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, a Bankrupt; the Household Furniture consists of a general Assortment of useful Articles, among which are Four-post and other Bedsteads, with different Furnitures; Blankets, Quilts, Sheets, and Table Linen; fine Feather Beds; Mahogany and Oak Cabinet Furniture; two capital Eight Day Clocks, in Mahogany and Oak Cases; a 200 Gallon Copper Furnace, a small ditto, 30 Strike Mash Tub, and other Brewing Utensils; four Iron-bound Hogsheads, and other Barrels; about 26 Hundred of Scrap Iron and Steel, 16 Bench Vices, 4 Pair of Shop Bellows, Anvils, Hammers, and other Tools.

Particulars will appear in Catalogues, which may be had Tomorrow at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury; GEORGE INN, Walsall; and at the Place of Sale.”

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by CHARLES GREATREX, on Thursday the 30th of July instant, and following Day (by Order of the Assignees) all the neat HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, SHOP FIXTURES, BREWING UTENSILS, and valuable SHOP TOOLS belonging to Mr. Peter Spittle, Gun Lock Maker, at the Sign of the Duke of York in Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, a Bankrupt; the Household Furniture consists of a general Assortment of useful Articles, among which are Four-post and other Bedsteads, with different Furnitures; Blankets, Quilts, Sheets, and Table Linen; fine Feather Beds; Mahogany and Oak Cabinet Furniture; two capital Eight Day Clocks, in Mahogany and Oak Cases; a 200 Gallon Copper Furnace, a small ditto, 30 Strike Mash Tub, and other Brewing Utensils; four Iron-bound Hogsheads, and other Barrels; about 26 Hundred of Scrap Iron and Steel, 16 Bench Vices, 4 Pair of Shop Bellows, Anvils, Hammers, and other Tools.

Particulars will appear in Catalogues, which may be had To-morrow, at the George Inn, Wednesbury; George Inn, Walsall; and at the Place of Sale.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by CHARLES GREATREX (by Order of the Assignees of Peter Spittle, a Bankrupt) at the George Inn, in Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, on Friday the 28th of August, 1801, between the Hours of Three and Five o’Clock in the Afternoon, subject to Conditions then and there to be produced.

LOT 1. A Freehold Messuage or Dwelling House (formerly two Dwelling Houses) in the Possession of the said Bankrupt, situated in Wednesbury aforesaid, fronting the principal Street leading through the Town of Wednesbury, for many Years used as a Public House, and known by the Sign of the Duke of York; together with extensive and convenient Shopping, and a good Garden at the Back of the House.

These Premises are substantially built, and in Point of Situation, are well adapted for the Public Business, for a Retail Trade, or for a Manufactory.—The Purchaser may have immediate Possession.

1801

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 10/8/1801 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction, by Charles Greatrex (by Order of the Assignees of Peter Spittle, a Bankrupt) at the GEORGE INN, in Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, on Friday the 28th of August, 1801, between the Hours of Three and Five o'Clock in the Afternoon, subject to Conditions then and there to be produced.

Lot I. A Freehold Messuage or Dwelling House (formerly two Dwelling Houses) in the Possession of the said Bankrupt, situated in Wednesbury aforesaid, fronting the principal Street leading through the Town of Wednesbury, for many Years used as a Public House, and known by the Sign of the DUKE OF YORK; together with extensive and convenient Shopping, and a good Garden at the Back of the House.

These Premises are substantially built, and in Point of Situation, are well adapted for the Public Business, for a Retail Trade, or for a Manufactory.

The Purchaser may have immediate Possession.

Lot II. Three substantial and convenient Freehold Messuages or Dwelling Houses, situated in Wednesbury....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 2/5/1803 - Advert

"Peter Spittle's Dividend.

The Creditors who proved their Debts under a Commission of Bankrupt awarded and issued against Peter Spittle, of Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, Gunlock-maker, Dealer and Chapman, and received the former Dividend of Eight Shillings in the Pound, may receive a final Dividend of One Shilling and Eight-pence in the Pound; and such of the Creditors as proved their Debts at the last Meeting of the Commissioners, may receive Nine Shillings and Eight-pence in the Pound on their respective Debts, by applying to Mr. Silvanus Earp, Baker, Wednesbury, one of the Assignees of the said Bankrupt's Estate.

E. and A. Crowther, Solicitors."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 5/3/1804 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction, at the House of Mr. Abel Round, known by the Sign of the HARE AND HOUNDS, in Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, on Friday the 16th Day of March, 1804.....

Lot I. Two Freehold Houses, substantially built and in good Repair, situated in Wednesbury aforesaid, fronting the Street leading through the Town, together with extensive and convenient Shopping, a good Garden, and other Appurtenances at the Back of the Houses; the Whole now in the Occupation of George Collier and his Undertenant. The House occupied by the said George Collier is used as a Public House, and known by the Sign of the DUKE OF YORK. The Situation of these Premises is an eligible one for the Public Business, a Retail Trade, or a Manufactory. The Purchaser of this Lot may be accommodated with Part of the Purchase Money on Mortgage."

William Collier, retailer of beer, High Street. [1835]

Joseph Dickens = Joseph Dicken = Joseph Dickins

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 7/6/1846

"John Taylor of Westbromwich will run John Thomas (the Welsh Collier), or John Rhodes (both of Wolverhampton), from three to six miles, for from £10 to £50 a side; or Enoch Lowe of Birmingham one mile for the like sum. The money will be ready at Mr. Dicken's, DUKE OF YORK, Wednesbury, tomorrow (Monday night), from seven till eight o'clock."

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/10/1846

"Joseph Dicken was charged by Major McKnight with allowing card-playing in his house, at Wednesbury, on the 17th of September last. The Bench fined the defendant 10s and expenses."

Birmingham Journal 14/11/1846

"On Tuesday, the DUKE OF YORK public house, Wednesbury, was transferred from Mr. Joseph Dickins to Mr. Daniel Smith, of West Bromwich."

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/2/1848

"Daniel Smith, of the DUKE OF YORK, Wednesbury, was fined 5s and costs, for allowing drinking in his house during service time on Sunday, the 6th inst."

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/9/1848

“On Wednesday last, the annual licensing meeting was held.....

The following persons were reprimanded for offences committed against the tenor of their licenses during the past year.....

Daniel Smith, DUKE OF YORK INN, Wednesbury.”

Joseph Simpkin = Joseph Simkin

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/1/1851

“Joseph Simkin was charged by police-constable Whittaker with allowing dominoes to be played in the house, and afterwards attempting to bribe him, by putting half-a-crown in his hand, not to report him. The Magistrates fined Simkin in the sum of £2 and costs, considering it an aggravated case, and allowed police-constable Whittaker 5s for his honorable conduct in the affair, and at the same time recommended him to the notice of his superior officers.”

Birmingham Journal 30/8/1851

“On Wednesday, the annual special sessions for renewal of licenses was held.....

The renewal of the old licenses, 219 in number, were granted, with the following exceptions, without remark.....

Joseph Simpkin, Wednesbury, license suspended.....

It will be noted that the further consideration of these suspensions will be again resumed at the adjourned special sessions, at Barr, on the 24th of September. The Court intimated that in these instances, if the delinquents brought testimonials of good and regular conduct during the intervening month, the licenses would be granted, and if otherwise, the withdrawal is extremely probable.”

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/10/1851

“On Wednesday last, according to notice, the adjourned special sessions was held at Great Barr....

The several publicans whose licenses had been suspended were called in before the Court singly, and after receiving cautions as to their future conduct in the management of their houses, and upon their promises not to offend in future, their licenses were restored.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1852

“Licensing Day for Offlow South.....

Inspector Blaney addressed a notice to the chief superintendent complaining of the conduct of the following licensed victuallers, who, having music and allowing dancing in their respective inns, were accused of letting out the company at a late hour. Some of these persons, elevated with liquor, made noises and created disturbances in the street, much to the annoyance of the peaceable and well disposed. Major M’Knight laid the paper before the Court, and the delinquents, who did not deny the music and dancing, merely said they discharged their company at the proper hour; they did not suffer drunkenness on their premises. The Bench, through the Rev. I. Clarkson, said the evil appeared especially to prevail on Monday and Saturday nights, and the defendants must be seriously admonished as to their future conduct. This referred to.....

Joseph Simpkin, DUKE OF YORK, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/12/1867

“Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Edwin Hooper, coroner for South Staffordshire, held an inquest at the DUKE OF YORK INN, Wednesbury, concerning the death of Isaac Wilkinson, aged 66, who had lived at Wednesbury, and who met with his death under the following distressing circumstances.

On Thursday last the deceased was sinking a shaft at the colliery of Mr. David Rose, and when about to get into the ‘bowk’ to descend the pit, the ‘bowk’ slipped off the chain, and fell with the deceased to the bottom, a distance of twenty-one yards. The accident was discovered by some men at the top of the pit, and the deceased was soon brought to the surface, where he was found to be badly injured. He was taken home, and received prompt medical treatment, notwithstanding which he never rallied, but died about seven o’clock the same evening. How the ‘bowk’ came to slip could not be ascertained, but it is supposed that the deceased, in getting into it, stepped on one side of it, and thereby caused it to slip off the hook attached to the chain. No blame was attached to anybody, and the jury returned an open verdict.”

Thomas Nichols = Thomas Nicholls

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/6/1868

"Yesterday, at the Wednesbury Police Court, before I. Spooner, Esq, Samuel Stokes, a beerhouse keeper of Darlaston, was summoned for permitting gambling in his house. It appeared from the evidence that at about nine o'clock on the evening of Saturday week Police-constable Heath visited the defendant's house and found several men there playing for ale.

The Stipendiary commented upon the mischief and misery created by the practice of gambling, but as this was his first offence, he fined the defendant 1s and costs; and warned him that if he came there again he should most certainly inflict the full penalty of £10 and costs.

William Foster, a licensed victualler, of the same place, was also summoned for a similar offence committed on the 18th ult, and having been previously convicted he was fined £5 and costs, Mr. Spooner remarking that the attention of the Magistrates ought to be called to those places where gambling could be proved to be permitted, and the licenses should be stopped. He had received many anonymous letters written by persons complaining – and justly so – that licenses were granted to such houses. He always himself fined persons heavily for these offences; but although he wished it to be understood that he did not wish to interfere at all with the issuing of licenses he did think that Magistrates ought to take such matters into their serious consideration. The law itself was stringent upon the point and if fully carried into effect it would be attended with the greatest possible benefit to the neighbourhood.

Thomas Nichols, landlord of the DUKE OF YORK INN, was next charged with allowing gambling in his house on the 25th ult, and was fined £2 and costs. In this case ten or twelve youths all about seventeen or eighteen years of age were playing at bagatelle and betting with checks."

Birmingham Daily Post 11/5/1870

"At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, Benjamin Round and Rebecca Cowlshaw were brought up in custody, charged with having, on the 15th October last, stolen from the DUKE OF YORK INN, High Street, a bottle of brandy, value 8s, and a box of cigars, value 7s 6d, the property of the landlord, Thomas Nicholls. The prisoners entered the prosecutor's shop on the night of the day in question, and soon after they had left the brandy was missed. The next morning the box of cigars was missed. The prisoners kept out of the way until Thursday last, when Sergeant Steele found them in a lodging house at West Bromwich. Both prisoners were committed for trial."

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 29/6/1870

"Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.

Benjamin Round (37), puddler, and Rebecca Cowlshaw (39), no occupation, were indicted for stealing, on the 15th October, 1869, one bottle of brandy and a quantity of cigars, the property of Thomas Nicholls. This was a plain case of stealing, and being convicted, Round was sentenced to two months' and Cowlshaw (previously convicted) to three months' imprisonment."

1871 Census

69, Lower High Street

- [1] Thomas Nichols (50), coal miner, born Great Bridge;
- [2] Martha Nichols (47), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Sarah Nichols (10), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Rose Annie Dainty (33), general servant, born Meham Green, Worcestershire;
- [5] William Cook (24), boarder, labourer, born Lincoln;
- [6] Jesse Day (20), boarder, labourer, born London;
- [7] George Scrivens (40), boarder, bricklayer, born Berkshire;
- [8] John Harding (45), boarder, tailor, born Bilston;

Magnet 28/8/1875 - Advert

"Wanted, a Lady Pianist, immediately, to live in the House. Must Read at Sight. Good Terms. Apply, James George, DUKE OF YORK INN, Wednesbury."

WANTED,--A LADY PIANIST, immediately, to live in the House. Must Read at Sight. Good Terms.
Apply,--JAMES GEORGE,
Duke of York Inn, Wednesbury.

Magnet 11/9/1875 - Advert

“DUKE OF YORK Music Hall! Wednesbury, Near Birmingham.

Proprietor, James George. Pianist, Miss Mason.

Miss Rose Depello, Serio-Comic and Characteristic Vocalist.

Serio-Comic and Characteristic Vocalists please write in for future dates.

All Artistes must communicate eight days prior to commencing.”

Dudley Herald 2/9/1876

“On Wednesday the Annual Licensing Sessions for the parishes of West Bromwich, Wednesbury, Tipton, &c, was held at the Public Office, West Bromwich.....

Mr. Superintendent Woollaston called the attention of the magistrates to the DUKE OF YORK public house, High Street, Wednesbury, kept by James George, which was used as a concert hall, with professional musicians and singers, and a charge made for entrance. The owner of the house had also erected a temporary building on the premises, which he used as a theatre. This alteration had been made without the sanction of the justices; and he asked the magistrates to withhold his license until the adjourned licensing day, to give an opportunity of the justices visiting the place, and ascertain if a license ought to be granted to all. He (Mr. Holland) was sure that the place would become a public nuisance if the alterations were carried out without any restriction.”

Magnet 22/5/1880 - Music Hall Directory and Register of Professional Apartments

“Wednesbury. DUKE OF YORK. J. George. Pianist Miss Lena Marshall.”

Wednesbury Herald 21/8/1880

“Ambrose Fellows, iron worker, was charged with being drunk, and also with refusing to quit the DUKE OF YORK INN, Lower High Street, when requested to do so. The landlord (Mr. French) said the defendant came to his house drunk, and created a disturbance, and upon being requested to leave he refused to do so.

Police-constable Steele proved to finding the defendant drunk in the street.

The Bench fined defendant 2s 6d and costs for refusing to quit, and 5s including costs for being drunk.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/12/1880 - Advert

“Sales by Private Contract. Public Houses.....

Eight Miles from Birmingham. Free Old-licensed House, DUKE OF YORK Music Hall, Wednesbury, with Vaults, large Music Hall, to seat 600 persons. Professionals engaged. The only Music Hall in the town. Good Stabling, Pigstyes, &c. Lease 14 years; 12 to run. Rent £40. Dwelling House and Land adjoining lets off at £15. Last tenant in 11 years. Lease, Goodwill, Stock, Furniture, &c, £500. Going abroad.”

1881 Census

69, Lower High Street – DUKE OF YORK INN

[1] Amos French (29), licensed victualler, born Lincolnshire;

[2] Eliza French (28), wife, born Nottingham;

[3] Florence French (6), daughter, scholar, born Nottingham;

[4] Gertrude French (5), daughter, scholar, born Nottingham;

[5] Mary Ann Palmer (18), general servant, born Nottingham:

The Era 28/5/1881 - Advert

“Wanted, Female Pianiste. Vocalist preferred. Must Read at Sight. To live in comfortable home.

Address, A. French, DUKE OF YORK Music Hall, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, Female PIANISTE. Vocalist preferred.
Must Read at Sight. To live in comfortable home. Address,
A. French, Duke of York Music Hall, Wednesbury.

Wednesbury Herald 2/7/1881 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. E. B. Scholefield, at the Property Mart, Church Street, Wednesbury, on Tuesday the 12th Day of July, 1881.....

Lot 2. A valuable well-known Freehold Old-Licensed House, known by the sign of the DUKE OF YORK INN, situate in High Street, Wednesbury, comprising Four Bed Rooms, Club Room, Liquor Vault, Smoke Room, Kitchen, Brewhouse, two good Cellars, Stable and Loft, Yard, with drawn gate Road, and Outbuildings.”

Closed

PETER SPITTLE's DIVIDEND.

THE Creditors who proved their Debts under a Commission of Bankrupt awarded and issued against PETER SPITTLE, of Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, Gunlock-maker, Dealer and Chapman, and received the former Dividend of Eight Shillings in the Pound, may receive a final Dividend of One Shilling and Eight-pence in the Pound; and such of the Creditors as proved their Debts at the last Meeting of the Commissioners, may receive Nine Shillings and Eight-pence in the Pound on their respective Debts, by applying to Mr. Silvanus Earp, Baker, Wednesbury, one of the Assignees of the said Bankrupt's Estate.

E. and S. CROWTHER, Solicitors.

1803

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, at the House of Mr. Abel Round, known by the Sign of the Hare and Hounds, in Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, on Friday the 16th Day of March, 1804, at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon, subject to Conditions;—

LOT I. Two Freehold Houses, substantially built and in good Repair, situated in Wednesbury aforesaid, fronting the Street leading through the Town, together with extensive and convenient Shopping, a good Garden, and other Appurtenances at the Back of the Houses; the Whole now in the Occupation of George Collier and his Undertenant. The House occupied by the said George Collier is used as a Public House, and known by the Sign of the Duke of York. The Situation of these Premises is an eligible one for the Public Business, a Retail Trade, or a Manufactory.

The Purchaser of this Lot may be accommodated with Part of the Purchase Money on Mortgage.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, at the House of Mr. Abel Round, known by the Sign of the Hare and Hounds, in Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, on Friday the 16th Day of March, 1804, at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon, subject to Conditions;—

LOT I. Two Freehold Houses, substantially built and in good Repair, situated in Wednesbury aforesaid, fronting the Street leading through the Town, together with extensive and convenient Shopping, a good Garden, and other Appurtenances at the Back of the Houses; the Whole now in the Occupation of George Collier and his Undertenant. The House occupied by the said George Collier is used as a Public House, and known by the Sign of the Duke of York. The Situation of these Premises is an eligible one for the Public Business, a Retail Trade, or a Manufactory.

The Purchaser of this Lot may be accommodated with Part of the Purchase Money on Mortgage.

LOT II. Three substantial and convenient Freehold Houses, situated in Wednesbury aforesaid, near to the said Street, with the Shops, Outbuildings, Gardens, and Appurtenances thereto belonging, and now occupied by William Whitehouse, James Baker, and the Widow Danks.

Further Particulars may be known by applying to Messrs. Crowther, Attorneys, in Wednesbury.

1804

DUKE OF YORK MUSIC HALL !

WEDNESBURY, Near BIRMINGHAM.

Proprietor,.....JAMES GEORGE.

Pianist,.....Miss MASON.

Miss Rose Depello, Serio-Comic and Characteristic Vocalist.

Serio-Comic and Characteristic Vocalists please write in for future dates.

All Artists must communicate eight days prior to commencing.

1875

EIGHT Miles from Birmingham.—Free Old-licensed HOUSE, Duke of York Music Hall, Wednesbury, with Vaults, large Music Hall, to seat 600 persons. Professionals engaged. The only Music Hall in the town. Good Stabling, Pigstyes, &c. Lease 14 years; 12 to run. Rent £40. Dwelling House and Land adjoining lets off at £15. Last tenant in 11 years. Lease, Goodwill, Stock, Furniture, &c., £500. Going abroad.

1880

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

(41), 42, High Bullen / Dudley Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Fountain Brewery Co. Ltd., Wolverhampton [1894]
Atkinsons Ltd. [1921]

LICENSEES

Samuel Marsh [1818]
John Holland [1822]
Richard Lloyd [1828] – [1834]
James McGill [1841] – 1852;
Mrs. Elizabeth McGill (1852 – 1865);
David Arthur McGill (1865 – 1873)
Edward Beesley [] – 1878)
Mary Ann Beesley [1881]
Henry Harrison, junior [1883]
Henry Harrison, senior [1884]
Austin William Winter (1886 – 1887)
Joseph Baker (1889 – 1896)
Thomas German [1900] – [1904]
Charles Meakin [1908]
Samuel James Staves [1911] – [1912]
Frank George Cox [1916]
Edward Steatham [1921] – [1921]
Arthur John Gardner [1932]
Leslie Norman Westley [1939] – [1940]
Kendrick [1941] – [1942]

Token

NOTES

Dudley Street [1822], [1828], [1830], [1849]
42, High Bullen [1871], [1881]
High Bullen [1891], [1896], [1904], [1940]
41, High Bullen [1921], [1939]

‘The Folklore of the Black Country’ by Roy Palmer (2007)

“On the morning of Wednesbury’s fairs the beadle appeared in the market place, carrying a bell and a pike. He then led a procession of worthies, with a band, through the town to the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE in High Bullen, where they all drank two tankards of ale. They then marched back to the market place for more ale, then lunch in one of the public houses. The costs were borne by parish funds.”

Samuel Marsh was also a maltster. [1818]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 26/1/1818 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction, by R. Walker, at the TURKS HEAD INN, Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, on Monday the 2nd Day of February, 1818, at Four o'clock in the Afternoon.....

Lot I. All that old established Public House, with the Brewhouse, Garden, Pigsty, and Appurtenances thereto belonging, situate and being in Wednesbury aforesaid, and now in the Occupation of Samuel Marsh.

Lot II. All that commodious Malthouse and Maltkiln adjoining Lot I, with a Right of Road at the Back thereof."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 3/3/1823 - Advert

"Excellent Opportunity to embark in the Public Line, at Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by H. Gimblett, on Friday the 14th of March inst at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wednesbury, at three o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then to be produced.

All the Licenses, Good-will, and immediate Possession of that old and well accustomed Public House, known by the name or sign of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, belonging to Mr. John Holland.

The purchaser to take to the stock, fixtures, brewing utensils, and household furniture, at a fair valuation."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 10/3/1823 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction, without reserve, on Wednesday the 18th day of March inst at the house of Mr. John Holland, the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wednesbury, at ten o'clock in the morning.

All the neat Household Furniture, Stock of Ale, capital Barrels, in excellent condition, brewing Utensils, a very large strong Copper Furnace, nearly new, 18-bushel Mash Tub, ditto, and other Effects, all in excellent order, and a great part nearly new."

1841 Census

High Bullen

[1] James McGill (35), blacksmith, born Scotland;

[2] Elizabeth McGill (30), born Staffordshire;

[3] Ann Woodings (20), f.s., born Staffordshire;

[4] William Kelso (20), labourer, born Scotland:

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 1/10/1843

"David Richards, of Wednesbury, will run Hayward, of Bilston, 140 yards, for £5 or £10 a side. If this does not suit, he will run any one within four miles of Wednesbury for the same sum. His money is ready at James McGill's, or at Joseph Danks's, GOLDEN CROSS, Wednesbury."

Birmingham Journal 8/11/1845

"Birmingham, West Bromwich, Wednesbury, and Walsall Junction Railway.

We, the Undersigned, Landowners, Merchants, Coal and Ironmasters, Manufacturers, Traders, Agriculturists, and other Inhabitants residing in the boroughs of Birmingham and Walsall, and the towns of Wednesbury, West Bromwich, Handsworth, and other places in those Districts, do hereby express our opinion that the projected Birmingham, West Bromwich, Wednesbury, and Walsall Junction Railway is calculated to serve the important Mining, Manufacturing, Trading, and Agricultural Interests of the places and districts above mentioned, and we promise it our strenuous support.....

James M'Gill, Blacksmith and Victualler, Wednesbury."

Birmingham Journal 4/4/1846

"On Tuesday last, an inquest was held at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wednesbury, before George Hinchliffe, Esq, Coroner, on the body of a fine child named Martha Ford, about nine years of age, whose death was occasioned under very singular and melancholy circumstances. From the evidence given during the inquiry, we have gathered the following particulars.

On Saturday night, about nine o'clock, the parents of the child were sitting in the front kitchen; and requiring a can from the back kitchen, in which there was no light, they desired the little girl to go and fetch it. The rooms above communicated with this part of the house by a flight of stairs; and as the child was looking for the can, she heard something coming down the steps with a heavy tread, and knowing that none of her family were in the upper apartments, she became dreadfully alarmed, and her fears amounted to uncontrollable terror, when she observed a strange animal, which the darkness prevented her from distinctly recognising, present its face close besides her. The poor little creature gave a loud and piercing scream, which was heard by the neighbours around, and rushed towards the room in which her parents were sitting, in whose arms she fell down senseless. On recovering a little she told them what she had seen, and it was then discovered that a large dog had found its way up stairs, and in endeavouring to get out of the house had frightened the poor girl in the manner described. The father and mother exerted themselves to the utmost to quiet the fears of their child, by explaining the groundless cause of her alarm; but her whole system had received so violent a shock, that she was taken dangerously ill during the night, and never again rallied, having died in the course of the following evening. The medical gentleman who was called in attributed her death to the shock which the nervous system had received; and a verdict to this effect was returned.”

1851 Census

High Bullen

- [1] James McGill (48), victualler, born Scotland;
- [2] Elizabeth McGill (40), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Catharine McGill (20), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] David McGill (17), son, blacksmith, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Ann Cherrington (14), house servant, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Betsey Green (13), house servant, born Wednesbury:

James McGill died in the 4th quarter of 1851.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 21/1/1852

“The following licenses were transferred.....

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wednesbury, to Elizabeth M. Gill, widow of the late landlord, James M. Gill.”

Birmingham Journal 29/8/1857

“Annual Licensing Day.....

List of licensed victuallers who had been fined for breaches of the law during the past year.....

Elizabeth M’Gill, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wednesbury, cautioned.”

1861 Census

High Bullen

- [1] Elizabeth McGill (53), widow, victualler, born Bilston;
- [2] Catherine McGill (30), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [3] David McGill (27), son, engine smith, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Sarah Ainsworth (20), house servant, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Hannah Bissell (13), house servant, born Halesowen:

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/3/1864 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold Property, High Bullen, Wednesbury, Staffordshire.

To be Sold by Auction, by Joseph Whitehouse, at the TURKS HEAD HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Wednesday, March 23rd, 1864, at six o’clock in the evening, subject to conditions of sale to be then produced.

Lot 1. All that excellent old-licensed House, known by the sign of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, High Bullen, in the occupation of Mrs. M’Gill, and containing by admeasurement 813 square yards, or thereabouts. The house and premises consist of bar, bar-parlour, taproom, kitchen, two cellars, large clubroom, three chambers, brewhouse, and all necessary outbuildings, with large garden thereto belonging.

Lot 2. Also, all that piece of Land adjoining lot 1, with the malthouse standing thereon, and containing 395 square yards, or thereabouts, with a frontage to the High Bullen of 51ft 3in.

The Auctioneer begs to call the attention of the public to the above truly valuable properties, being the best business situation in the town, and close to the Crown Tube Works, ensuring a first-rate trade, and within five minutes’ walk of both railway stations.

For particulars, apply to Mr. J. E. Sheldon, Solicitor; or the Auctioneer, both of Wednesbury, where plans of the same may be seen.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/1/1865

“On Saturday, the following licenses were temporarily transferred by the West Bromwich Magistrates.....
ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, High Bullen, from Elizabeth M’Gill to David M’Gill.”

1871 Census

42, High Bullen

[1] David McGill (38), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Harriet McGill (30), wife, born Handsworth;

[3] Carrie E. McGill (6), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;

[4] Hannah Griffiths (17), general servant, born Wednesbury:

David McGill issued tokens from here.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 20/9/1871

“At the Police Court, yesterday, the following cases against Wednesbury publicans were brought before the Stipendiary (Mr. I. Spooner) and adjudicated upon.....

David McGill, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, High Bullen, for refusing to admit the police.

Police-sergeant Steele said that on the morning of last Thursday, on going near the defendant’s house, he heard some people inside singing, but he was refused admittance.

The defendant said he had been in the house 34 years, and never had any complaint against it. On the night in question he had a little private party of his own, with a few respectable townspeople.

The Stipendiary remarked that there was not objection to that, but the party could not have been a very quiet one at three o’clock in the morning.

A witness having been called, who deposed that he never heard the policeman, a fine of £1 and the costs was inflicted, the license to be endorsed, the Stipendiary remarking that he only fined the defendant so low because he had received a fair character from the police. It was a very serious offence to prevent the police from entering his house.”

Birmingham Daily Post 18/6/1874 - Advert

“Unreserved Sale by Auction, at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. E. B. Scholefield, This Day (Thursday), June 18, at half-past 10 o’clock.

The Household Furniture, Brewing Vessels, Public House Fixtures and Fittings, Stock-in-Trade, &c, comprising mahogany and iron Bedsteads, Feather Beds, mahogany Chest of Drawers, painted ditto, Washstands, Dressing Tables, Toilet Glass, rich-toned Cottage Pianoforte, in rosewood case; Tables, Chairs, Glasses, Jugs, Counters, Gas Fittings, Water Fittings, Ale Casks, 18-bushel Mash Tub, 160-gallon copper Boiler, iron Boilers, Coolers, lead Piping, patent Malt Crusher, prime Hops, Cigars, stock of Liquors, Wines and numerous other Effects.”

Birmingham Daily Post 16/1/1878 - Died

“On the 11th inst, at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Wednesbury, in the 50th year of his age, Edward Beesley, late of Wood Green; deeply regretted.”

Birmingham Daily Post 9/9/1878 - Advert

“The ELEPHANT AND CASTLE Spirit Vaults, Dudley Street, Wednesbury, opposite the Crown Tube Works, and in the midst of a large manufacturing district. Long lease. In-coming £800.

Apply, Roderick and Son.”

THE Elephant and Castle Spirit Vaults, Dudley Street, Wednesbury, opposite the Crown Tube Works, and in the midst of a large manufacturing district. Long lease. In-coming £800.—Apply, Roderick and Son.

Birmingham Daily Post 18/3/1880 - Advert

“ELEPHANT AND CASTLE Spirit Vaults, High Bullen, Wednesbury.

To be Disposed of by private treaty (by order of the representatives of the late Mr. Beesley, deceased), the valuable Lease, Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the above excellent House. The premises are most complete, with spacious yard and out-buildings, small brewery, &c; capable of great extension. The trade effects to be taken at valuation.

Full particulars on application to Ashcroft and Son, Auctioneers and Valuers, 54, Ann Street, Birmingham.”

1881 Census

42, High Bullen – ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

- [1] Mary Ann Beesley (48), widow, publican, born Pelsall;
- [2] Samuel Beesley (21), son, railway clerk, born Wednesbury;
- [3] William Beesley (19), son, forgerman, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Mary Beesley (17), daughter, domestic, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Hannah Beesley (15), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Alfred Beesley (13), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Alice Beesley (10), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Emily Beesley (7), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [9] William Beesley (48), brother-in-law, plater, born Wednesbury;
- [10] Mary Wood (65), sister-in-law, former publican, born Wednesbury;

Birmingham Daily Post 15/12/1881 - Advert

“Clog Dancer Wanted, who can sing comic songs too.
ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wednesbury.”

CLOG-DANCER Wanted, who can sing comic songs too.—Elephant and Castle, Wednesbury.

Wednesbury Herald 9/12/1882

“James Cliff, a member of the Wednesbury Old Athletic Football Club, was summoned for being on the licensed premises of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, High Bullen, during prohibited hours, on the 26th ult.

PC Laytte stated that about twelve o’clock on the night in question he found the defendant and a young man named Grice secreted in a portion of the house. Mr. Superintendent Holland informed the Bench that Grice was not present in consequence of suffering from small pox.

Defendant denied that he had any way hid himself, and contended that he had a right to be upon the premises, he having received an invitation from the landlord to stay and have supper.

In reply to the magistrates the officer stated that he did not see either of the men have any thing to drink.

The Magistrates Clerk said the question for the magistrates to decide was as to whether it was right for a landlord to ask a customer to have supper?

Mr. Superintendent Holland said if it was laid down that publicans had a right to invite customers to stay and have supper all kinds of irregularities would take place. On several occasions he had received complaints of football players being on the licensed premises during prohibited hours, and he had consequently sent several officers to watch the house. On the night in question a young man named Moon was found in the house but he was not summoned as it was alleged that he assisted in the house and also courted the landlord’s daughter.

Defendant said he should not have been on the premises so late as he was had he not waited for Moon.

The magistrates decided that an offence had been committed and fined defendant 2s 6d and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 15/10/1884

“Shropshire Sessions were continued yesterday at Shrewsbury.....

The Chairman was occupied nearly the whole of the day in hearing an appeal by Mr. Henry Harrison, jun, against the decision of two of the justices of the Shiffnal Petty Sessional Division, who had declined to renew the license of the Fighting Cocks Inn, Oakengates, for which he applied at the last annual licensing meeting.....

The house in question was destroyed by fire in November last, and up to that time it was occupied by the appellant and his wife. Subsequently the defendant went to reside at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wednesbury, the license of which he also held at the time, but it has since been transferred to his father.....”

Cheshire Observer 23/2/1884

“An application was made by Mr. Brassey, solicitor, in a case involving a misunderstanding about names. The plaintiff, J. Pointon, sued Henry Harrison for the recovery of a sum of money for goods supplied. He found that the debtor was at Wednesbury, and sued him for the money. It appeared, however, that the summons was served upon Henry Harrison, at the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wednesbury, but it seemed that he was not the Henry Harrison referred to, but his father. The son, however, lived next door to his father, in another public house, the CROWN AND CUSHION. Mr. Brassey stated on behalf of plaintiff that a notice of the application had been sent, by registered letter, to the younger Harrison, and no heed being paid to that notice he now applied for judgement against Henry Harrison, jun. His Honour ordered that a summons, returnable for next court, should be served by registered letter.”

Magnet 3/5/1884 - Musical-hall Directory and Register of Apartments

“Wednesbury. ELEPHANT AND CASTLE. H. Harrison.”

The Commercial Gazette 18/12/1884

“Extracts from the Register of County Courts Judgements.....

Defendant, Henry Harrison, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE HOTEL, Wednesbury, November 6, £20 16s 6d.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 16/4/1885 - Advert

“Wanted, a good General Servant.

Apply, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE High Bullen, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, a good General Servant.--Apply, Elephant and Castle, High Bullen, Wednesbury.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 2/10/1885 - Advert

“Wanted, a Cottage, with garden, near Wednesbury or Wolverhampton.

Address, E. L. T., ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, a Cottage, with garden, near Wednesbury or Wolverhampton.—Address, E. L. T., Elephant and Castle, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 12/1/1887

“Bankruptcy Proceedings.....

Re Austin William Winter, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury.

A petition on behalf of the debtor was yesterday filed, in the Walsall Bankruptcy Court, by Messrs. Thursfield and Messiter, solicitors, Wednesbury, and the 2nd February was fixed for the public examination.”

Walsall Observer 29/1/1887 - Advert

“In Bankruptcy. Re A. W. Winter.

Important Unreserved Sale of Public House Fittings and Household Furniture.

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury.

Messrs. Watkins and Powell are instructed by E. Pritchard, Esq. (Official Receiver), to Sell by Auction, at the above address, on Thursday next, February 3rd, 1887, entirely without reserve.

The whole of the Unfixed Public House Fittings and Stock, including Mahogany Drinking Tables, Benches, Mirror, Brass Hot Water Muller, Sets of Ale and Spirit Measures, Jugs, Glasses, Spirit Bottles, 18 Gallons Scotch Whiskey, 5 Gallons Irish Whiskey, 20 Gallons Rum, Gin, St. Julien Claret, and about 130 Gallons Ale; also the useful Household Furniture, comprising Mahogany Dining-room Suite, upholstered in leather; Crown-back and other Chairs, Mahogany Telescopic Dining Table, Walnut Music Canterbury, Sets of Brass and Iron Bedsteads, Mahogany Chests of Drawers, Toilet Tables, Swing Glasses, Children's Cots, and numerous other Effects.

Sale to commence at 11 o'clock precisely.

Catalogues may be had from the Auctioneers Offices, Bridge Street, Walsall; and Market Street, Lichfield.”

Birmingham Daily Post 3/2/1887

“Bankruptcy Proceedings.....

Re Austin William Winter, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, Wednesbury, licensed victualler.

The public examination of this debtor took place at the Walsall Bankruptcy Court, before Mr. Registrar Clarke; Mr. J. G. Thursfield appearing for the debtor.

The statement of affairs showed liabilities to the amount of £473 0s 2d, £443 19s 6d of which was estimated to rank for dividend, and a deficiency of £222 0s 2d, after payment of preferential creditors to the amount of £29 0s 8d. The debtor attributed his failure to bad trade and want of capital.

His examination showed that he was employed at different times as a brewer's clerk, commercial traveller, manager for licensed victuallers, and advertisement canvasser, until August, 1886, when he took to the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN from Messrs. Downing, maltsters, agreeing to pay £280 for the possession, stock, fixtures, and license. He paid £150 on account of the purchase money, and secured the balance of £130, and all sums due to Messrs. Downing for goods supplied by them, by a charge to Messrs. Downing on the lease of the premises and the trade fixture therein, and the licenses thereof. The sum of £160 was owing to Messrs. Downing, who claimed to be entitled under the charge to the whole of the trade fixtures, which the bankrupt in his statement estimated at £200. He had no capital when he went to the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, but borrowed £160 from a friend, which was still owing. His wife was in receipt of a private income of £60 a year, and out of that she had bought all the furniture in the house, but she and he were quite willing to give it up for the benefit of his creditors.

The examination was adjourned till the 15th February, to close.”

1891 Census

High Bullen – ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

- [1] Joseph Baker (25), unmarried, licensed victualler manager, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Marie Baker (21), sister, housekeeper, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Albert Baker (18), brother, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Fred Baker (16), brother, tube department, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] John Baker (54), father, born Philadelphia, United States:

Birmingham Daily Post 25/8/1894

“The annual licensing session for the borough of Wednesbury took place at the Police Court yesterday.....

Notices of opposition to the renewal of their licenses been served upon.....

Joseph Baker, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, High Bullen.....

The consideration of the licenses objected to, and also of a fresh application, would be adjourned until the adjourned licensing sessions, September 22. The magistrates had had under consideration the important question of valuation, and they had decided to enforce the Act of 1872, which required fully-licensed houses to be of the value of £30 and beerhouses £20 a year. In cases where there was a doubt they would exercise their right to appoint a valuer.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/9/1894

“Wednesbury adjourned Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

Mr. R. A. Willcock, of Wolverhampton, applied for the renewal of the license of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, High Bullen, to Joseph Baker. He stated that the Fountains Brewery Company were the owners of the house. The company was in liquidation, and in the event of the license being renewed he should apply for it to be transferred to the Official Receiver.

Superintendent Salt questioned the applicant with respect to the requirements of the neighbourhood. Mr. Willcock said the only objection against the license was one of permitting drunkenness, and urged that Mr. Salt should confine himself to that objection. The Mayor said the magistrates did not think it was necessary for Mr. Salt to raise other objections.”

[The application was granted.]

Wednesbury Herald 5/1/1895

“Licensing Sessions.....

The license of the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, High Bullen, held by the Fountain Brewery Co., Wolverhampton, in liquidation, had to be transferred to the Receiver in Bankruptcy.”

A team from took part in the Wednesbury and District Quoits League. [1899]

Thomas German was a bandmaster, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE. [1900]

He was a professional musician. He was bandmaster to the Crown Tube Works Brass Band.

See also RED LION, Bridge Street.

Sports Argus 8/9/1900

“The matches of Saturday concluded the Wednesbury and District Quoit League for the season. The ELEPHANT AND CASTLE established a record, being undefeated throughout the tournament.”

1901 Census

High Bullen – ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

- [1] Thomas German (56), licensed victualler, born Scotland;
- [2] Priscilla German (40), wife, born Liverpool;
- [3] Thomas German (24), son, railway porter, born Salford;
- [4] Priscilla German (14), daughter, dressmaker, born Manchester;
- [5] Ada German (8), daughter, born Manchester;
- [6] Maud German (1), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Mary Smith (22), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Elizabeth Wordle (23), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

A team from here were champions in the Wednesbury and District Quoits League in 1900.

Wednesbury Leader 8/6/1901

“Wednesbury and District Quoits League.....

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE v OLD BARREL, Kings Hill.

The present champions of the League paid a visit to the Kings Hill Grounds to play off their fixture with the Barrelites. A good number of spectators were present, who witnessed a very pleasant game The Castleites won by 34. The homesters took their defeat in true sportsmanlike manner, and had a pleasant hour together with their victors at the conclusion of the game.”

[ELEPHANT AND CASTLE won by 77-43.]

A team from here were runners-up in the Wednesbury and District Quoits League in 1901.

[Coseley Coppice Star were champions.]

Sports Argus 13/9/1902

“Never before in the history of quoiting has there been such a finish to a competition as that by which the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE Club, Wednesbury, gained the championship of the Wednesbury and District League on Saturday. The Coseley Coppice Star and the Wednesbury Club being equal on points in the League tourney, scoring eighteen points on ten completed games, a deciding game was played for the championship cup and medals. The first heat went greatly in the Wednesbury pair’s favour, by 21-11. The second heat was also for them, 21-19. The Coseley team won the third heat, by 21-18, and the Wednesbury club had only to make 13 in the last heat to win the game. The task was a big one, the pitching being very accurate. Coseley drew away, making 20 to their opponents 12, but the last point was gained by the ELEPHANT AND CASTLE player, and the championship was won by a unit, 73-72.”

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury and District Air Gun Shooting League. [1903]

Birmingham Mail 25/11/1910

“Samuel James Staves, ELEPHANT AND CASTLE INN, High Bullen, was summoned at Wednesbury today for permitting drunkenness on the 11th inst. Evidence was given that Police-sergeant Harris and Police-constable Ansell, on visiting the public house, found a man named Lines there drunk. For the defence it was contended that he had been refused drink and had been told to leave. The Bench expressed the opinion that there was a doubt in the case and dismissed it.”

1911 Census

High Bullen – ELEPHANT AND CASTLE

[1] Samuel J. Staves (44), hotel keeper, born Ashby cum Fenby, Lincolnshire;

[2] Nellie Staves (32), wife, married 1 year, born Hindlip, Worcestershire;

[3] Walter Staves (17), son, barman, born Peterborough:

Walsall Observer 25/1/1913 - Advert

“Cart Horses, choice of three, 6 to 8 years, 16 hands; warranted quiet, good workers shafts, chains; suitable for haulier, builder, or furniture van, warranted sound, £15 to £25.

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, High Bullen, Wednesbury.”

CART Horses, choice of three, 6 to 8 years, 16 hands; warranted quiet, good workers shafts, chains; suitable for haulier, builder, or furniture van, warranted sound, £15 to £25. —Elephant and Castle, High Bullen, Wednesbury.

1921 Census

41, High Bullen

[1] Edward Steatham (36), manager of beerhouse, born Darlaston;

[2] Edith Steatham (30), wife, manageress, born Darlaston:

1939 Register

41, High Bullen

[1] Leslie N. Westley, date of birth 14/3/1894, commercial manager, sheet metal work, married;

[2] Alice Westley, dob 13/8/1891, unpaid domestic duties, married:

Walsall Observer 27/12/1941

“Our Christmas Card Contest Highly Commended.....

Betty Kendrick (13), ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, High Bullen, Wednesbury.”

Walsall Observer 28/2/1942

“The contest in which Brigade members were asked to form a sentence of eleven words severally commencing in order with the letters of Warship Week, was not an easy one and entries were not so numerous as usual.....

One 2s 6d stamp is awarded to each of the following six members.....

Betty Kendrick (13), ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, High Bullen, Wednesbury.”

Walsall Observer 6/6/1942

“The Madagascar map competition bought in some excellent entries. Seven of these stood out from the rest and it was a matter of some difficulty to decide which established the strongest claim for first prize.....

The other six, to each of whom a prize of two-and-sixpence is awarded are.....

Betty Kendrick (14), ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, High Bullen, Wednesbury.”

Walsall Observer 7/11/1942

“Regimental badge drawing contest Highly Commended.....

Betty Kendrick (14), ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, High Bullen, Wednesbury.”

Walsall Observer 12/12/1942

“Our Eastern Mediterranean map drawing contest Commended.....

Betty Kendrick (14), ELEPHANT AND CASTLE, High Bullen, Wednesbury.”

It was delicensed in 1960.

It became G. E. Fynn’s motor showroom. [1962]

It was relicensed as Rafael’s restaurant.

Bannons restaurant. [1985], [1986]

It was renamed Tats.

Patricks nightclub. [1992], [1999]

Closed [2006]

It was renamed J9.

It was renamed Holbys.

Closed

Demolished [2010]

1999

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by R. WALKER, at the Turk's Head Inn, Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, on Monday the 2d Day of February, 1818, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon, subject to such Conditions as will be then produced:—

LOT I. All that old established Public House, with the Brewhouse, Garden, Pigsty, and Appurtenances thereto belonging, situate and being in Wednesbury aforesaid, and now in the Occupation of Samuel Marsh.

LOT II. All that commodious Malthouse and Maltkiln adjoining Lot 1, with a Right of Road at the Back thereof.

1818

Excellent Opportunity to embark in the Public Line, at Wednesbury.

TO be SOLD by Auction, by H. GIMBLETT, on Friday the 14th of March inst. at the Elephant and Castle, Wednesbury, at three o'clock in the afternoon, subject to conditions then to be produced:—all the Licences, Good-will, and immediate Possession of that old and well accustomed Public House, known by the name or sign of the ELEPHANT & CASTLE, belonging to Mr. John Holland.

The purchaser to take to the stock, fixtures, brewing utensils, and household furniture, at a fair valuation.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, without reserve, by W. UNDERHILL, on Wednesday the 18th day of March inst. at the house of Mr. John Holland, the Elephant and Castle, Wednesbury, at ten o'clock in the morning, all the neat Household Furniture, Stock of Ale, capital Barrels, in excellent condition, brewing Utensils, a very large strong Copper Furnace, nearly new, 18-bushel Mash Tub, ditto, and other Effects, all in excellent order, and a great part nearly new.

1823

Valuable FREEHOLD PROPERTY, HIGH BULLEN, WEDNESBURY, Staffordshire.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by JOSEPH WHITEHOUSE, at the TURK'S HEAD HOTEL, WEDNESBURY, on Wednesday, March 23rd, 1864, at six o'clock in the evening, subject to conditions of sale to be then produced—

Lot 1.

All that excellent old licensed HOUSE, known by the sign of the Elephant and Castle, High Bullen, in the occupation of Mrs. McGill, and containing by admeasurement 813 square yards, or thereabouts. The house and premises consist of bar, bar-parlour, taproom, kitchen, two cellars, large clubroom, three chambers, brewhouse, and all necessary outbuildings, with large garden thereto belonging.

Lot 2.

Also, all that piece of LAND adjoining lot 1, with the malt-house standing thereon, and containing 395 square yards, or thereabouts, with a frontage to the High Bullen of 51 ft. 3 in.

The Auctioneer begs to call the attention of the public to the above truly valuable properties, being the best business situation in the town, and close to the Crown Tube Works, ensuring a first-rate trade, and within five minutes' walk of both railway stations.

For particulars, apply to Mr. J. E. SHELDON, Solicitor; or the AUCTIONEER, both of Wednesbury, where plans of the same may be seen.

1864

Unreserved Sale by Auction, at the Elephant and Castle Inn, High Bullen, Wednesbury.—To be Sold by Auction,

BY Mr. E. B. SCHOLEFIELD, THIS DAY (Thursday), June 18, at half past 10 o'clock—the HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, BREWING VESSELS, Public-house FIXTURES and FITTINGS, STOCK-IN-TRADE, &c., comprising mahogany and iron Bedsteads, Feather Beds, mahogany Chest of Drawers, painted ditto, Washstands, Dressing Tables, Toilet Glass, rich-toned Cottage Pianoforte, in rosewood case; Tables, Chairs, Glasses, Jugs, Counters, Gasfittings, Water Fittings, Ale Casks, 18-bushel Mash Tub, 10-gallon copper Boiler, iron Boilers, Coolers, Lead Piping, patent Malt Crusher, prime Hops, Cigars, stock of Liquors, Wines, and numerous other Effects.

1874

ELEPHANT and Castle Spirit Vaults, High Bullen, Wednesbury.—To be Disposed of by private treaty (by order of the representatives of the late Mr. Beesley, deceased), the valuable Lease, Licences, Goodwill, and Possession of the above excellent House. The premises are most complete, with spacious yard and out-buildings, small brewery, &c.; capable of great extension. The trade effects to be taken at valuation.—Full particulars on application to Ashcroft and Son, Auctioneers and Valuers, 54, Ann Street, Birmingham.

1880

IN BANKRUPTCY. RE A. W. WINTER

Important Unreserved Sale of Public House Fittings and Household Furniture.

ELEPHANT & CASTLE INN, HIGH BULLEN, WEDNESBURY.

MESSRS. WATKINS AND POWELL are instructed by E. Pritchard, Esq. (Official Receiver), to SELL by AUCTION, at the above address, on THURSDAY NEXT, February 3rd, 1887, entirely without reserve, the whole of the Unfixed

PUBLIC-HOUSE FITTINGS AND STOCK, Including Mahogany Drinking Tables, Benches, Mirror, Brass Hot Water Muller, Sets of Ale and Spirit Measures, Jugs, Glasses, Spirit Bottles, 18 Gallons Scotch Whiskey, 5 Gallons Irish Whiskey, 20 Gallons Rum, Gin, St. Julien Claret, and about 130 Gallons Ale; also the useful

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE,

Comprising Mahogany Dining-room Suite, upholstered in leather; Crown-back and other Chairs, Mahogany Telescopic Dining Table, Walnut Music Canterbury, Sets of Brass and Iron French Bedsteads, Mahogany Chests of Drawers, Toilet Tables, Swing Glasses, Children's Cots, and numerous other Effects.

Sale to commence at 11 o'clock precisely.

Catalogues may be had from the Auctioneers' Offices—Bridge Street, Walsall; and Market Street, Lichfield.

1887

ERIN GO BRAGH

132, Holyhead Road, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Bloxwich Brewery Co. Ltd.

LICENSEES

Luke Joyce [1871]
James Hanlon [1881]
Thomas Bowdler [1888]
Martin Dyer [1889] – [1896]
William Woodhall [1900] – [1904]
James Patrick Cunningham [1910]
Arthur Hawkins [1911] – [1912]
Joseph Bradbury [] – 1912):

NOTES

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

1871 Census

132, Holyhead Road
[1] Luke Joyce (48), publican, born Ireland;
[2] Mary Joyce (48), wife, born Ireland;
[3] Annie Joyce (15), daughter, born Bilston;
[4] Ellen Kenny (20), visitor, born Bilston;
[5] Mary Kenny (17), visitor, born Wednesbury;
[6] Thomas Welch (30), boarder, forge labourer, born Ireland;
[7] Bridget Welch (30), boarder, born Ireland;
[8] son Welch (8 days), boarder, born Wednesbury;
[9] John Murphy (35), boarder, forge labourer, born Ireland;
[10] Bartley Burk (40), boarder, forge labourer, born Ireland;

1881 Census

132, Holyhead Road – ERIN GO BRAUGH
[1] James Hanlon (46), roller and beerhouse keeper, born Ireland;
[2] Maria Hanlon (43), wife, dressmaker, born Wednesbury;
[3] Sarah Hanlon (22), daughter, dressmaker, born Wednesbury;
[4] Edward Hanlon (17), son, labourer in iron works, born Wednesbury;

Wednesbury Herald 7/4/1883

“Mary Powell, a married woman, was summoned for refusing to quit the ERIN GO BRAGH INN, Holyhead Road, and also with breaking a window.

Mr. Topham appeared for the complainant, and Mr. Sheldon for the defendant.

The offence having been proved Mr. Sheldon stated that the defendant had paid for the damage she had done, and he hoped the Stipendiary would deal leniently with her for the other offence.

The Stipendiary directed the defendant to pay the costs.”

WEDNESBURY.

SALE OF FREEHOLD BEERHOUSE & DWELLING-HOUSES SITUATE IN HOLYHEAD ROAD.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 4th, 1889.

MESSRS. BELCHER & SON are favoured with instructions to SELL by PUBLIC AUCTION, at the ANCHOR HOTEL, WEDNESBURY, on the above date, at Seven o'clock in the Evening precisely, subject to conditions which will incorporate the common form conditions of the Birmingham Law Society, the following Property, in one or two lots, as may be determined at the time of sale:—

All that old-established FREEHOLD BEER-HOUSE, known by the name “Erin go-Bragh,” comprising Tap-room, Smoke-room, Club-room, two Bedrooms, Kitchens, Cellar, Brewhouse, Malt-room, and Outbuildings, in the occupation of Mr. M. Dyer; together with SEVEN MESSUAGES or DWELLING-HOUSES adjoining, and being Nos. 129, 130, 131, and Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4, in Court 1, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury aforesaid.

The Property is fully occupied, and produces gross, £64 3s. 0d. per annum.

The whole of the houses have recently undergone painting and repair.

For further particulars apply to the Auctioneers, Bank Chambers, Bridge Street, Wednesbury, Walsall, and Darlaston; or to

MESSRS. L. W. LEWIS & SON,
Solicitors, Walsall.

1889

Wolverhampton Express and Star 2/4/1889

“At the Wednesbury Police Court, this (Tuesday) morning, Martin Dyer, landlord of the ERIN GO BRAGH, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, was charged on three summonses with selling during prohibited hours on Sunday, March 24. Mr. S. M. Slater defended.

Police-constable Jackson said he and Police-constable Owen watched the house from five o'clock in the morning till 3.40 in the afternoon. About half-past ten o'clock a woman came up the yard, knocked at the back door, and was admitted by the servant. After remaining on the premises about five minutes she left. At 11.30 another woman walked straight into the house, and stayed two or three minutes. At 12 o'clock a man knocked at the back door and was admitted by the landlord, and he did not leave the premises before 12.30. At ten minutes to three a woman named Collins came from her own house with a glass bottle partially concealed under her apron. She was admitted into the ERIN GO BRAGH by the servant, who went down the entry to watch while Collins was in. The mistress came to the door to see that the coast was clear before beckoning Collins to come out, which she did, carrying a glass bottle containing ale. At 3.40 John Collins went to the back door, knocked, and shouted, 'Polly.' When the servant came he said, 'Fill me a pint, Polly,' but she replied in an under-tone. He then went back to his house, fetched a quart bottle, and gave it to the servant, who went into the house and filled it while he went to the bottom of the entry to watch. Shortly after, the girl came out and handed the bottle to Collins. Witness went up and seized the bottle, and Collins then said, 'All right, I have not had it from here; my brother-in-law gave it me at the front.' In reply to witness the servant said, 'Please don't say anything about it; the missus told me not to fill any more.' Collins repeated the request.

By Mr. Slater: With regard to the first three visitors he saw no liquor brought away or consumed. Mr. and Mrs. Dyer left the house just before three, leaving the girl in charge. He thought he heard them tell the girl not to serve while they were away. He saw no money pass, nor did he hear the servant say there was some beer left from dinner which he could have.

The defence was that no liquor was paid for, but that all the persons who went to the house in the morning were relations and friends, and merely visited as such. The case of Mrs. Collins was admitted, and with regard to that of John Collins it was urged that the servant gave him the beer left from the dinner.

Eventually a plea of guilty was made in the case of Mrs. Collins. Defendant was fined 20s and costs in this case, and ordered to pay the costs in the other two cases.”

Walsall Observer 2/11/1889 - Advert

“Wednesbury. Sale of Freehold Beerhouse and Dwelling Houses, situate in Holyhead Road.

Monday, November 4th, 1889.

Messrs. Belcher & Son are favoured with instructions to Sell by Public Auction, at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, on the above date, at Seven o'clock in the Evening precisely, subject to conditions which will incorporate the common form conditions of the Birmingham Law Society, the following Property, in one or two lots, as may be determined at the time of sale.

All that old-established Freehold Beerhouse, known by the name ERIN GO BRAGH, comprising Tap-room, Smoke-room, Club-room, two Bedrooms, Kitchens, Cellar, Brewhouse, Malt-room, and Outbuildings, in the occupation of Mr. M. Dyer; together with Seven Messuages of Dwelling Houses adjoining and being Nos.129, 130, 131, and Nos.1, 2, 3, and 4, in Court 1, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury aforesaid.

The Property is fully occupied, and produces gross, £64 3s 0d per annum.

The whole of the houses have recently undergone painting and repair.

For further particulars apply to the Auctioneers, Bank Chambers, Bridge Street, Wednesbury, Walsall, and Darlaston; or to Messrs. L. W. Lewis & Son, Solicitors, Walsall.”

1891 Census

132, Holyhead Road – ERIN GO BRAUGH

[1] Martin Dyer (40), general labourer and publican, born Ireland;

[2] Mary Dyer (39), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] James Noon (32), boarder, gardener, born Ireland:

Martin Dyer, beer retailer, 132, Holyhead Road. [1896]

William Woodhall = William Woodall

William Woodhall, beerhouse keeper, 132, Holyhead Road. [1900], [1904]

1901 Census

132, Holyhead Road

- [1] William Woodall (41), publican, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Alice Woodall (41), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Lilian Frances Woodall (18), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Mary Pauline Woodall (16), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Edward John Woodall (14), son, born Wednesbury;

Walsall Observer 9/7/1910

“John Baugh, of no fixed abode, was charged with stealing a silver chain and two medals, value 27s, the property of William Perry, striker, of Crankhill Lane, Wednesbury.

Prosecutor stated that prisoner went to his house and pushed open the door. Witness went outside to see who it was, and noticed the prisoner, who shouted, ‘Come on!’ He closed with the prisoner, and his wife pulled him away. He then missed his watch, chain, and the medals which were attached to it. Witness searched the ground, but could not find the chain.

James Patrick Cunningham, licensee of the ERIN GO BRAGH INN, Holyhead Road, said prisoner entered his house, and said, ‘Do you want to buy something worth the money?’ Witness said it depended upon what he offered. Prisoner then produced the chain and two medals. Witness took them off prisoner and examined them, and he asked him where he got them from. Prisoner said he found them by the Monway Bridge. Witness gave prisoner 1s, and told him he knew whom the chain belonged to, and that if he got more for it he would give it to him. The Bench remanded prisoner for a week in custody.”

1911 Census

132, Holyhead Road – ERIN GO BRAGH

- [1] Arthur Hawkins (26), married, publican, born Brownhills, Staffordshire;
- [2] Florence Mary Jones (16), domestic servant, born Brownhills, Staffordshire:

Arthur Hawkins, beer retailer, 132, Holyhead Road. [1912]

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/6/1912 - Notice

“The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County Of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1910, by the Compensation Authority for the above Area, will be held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, at Eleven o’clock am, on Thursday, the 18th Day of July, 1912.

And Notice Is Hereby Also Given, that the Compensation Authority will at the Meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the Renewal of the Licenses of the several Premises specified in the subjoined list, all those Persons to whom under the Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard; that is to say, the Persons interested in any Licensed Premises in question, and, unless it appears to the Compensation Authority unnecessary, any other persons appearing to them to be interested in the question of the renewal of the license of those premises (including the Justices of the Licensing District). List of Licensed Premises.....

ERIN GO BRAGH INN, Holyhead Road. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee, Joseph Bradbury.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/7/1912

“Staffordshire Licensing Compensation Authority.....

ERIN GO BRAGH INN, Holyhead Road, had been referred from Wednesbury borough. Mr. Slater made formal application for renewal on behalf of the owner and licensee. The license was referred for compensation.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 3/8/1912 - Notice

“The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County Of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 18th day of July, 1912, to Refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below, all Persons Claiming to be Interested in the said Premises for the purpose of the Payment of Compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensee and the Registered Owner of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority Notice of their Claims before the 26th day of August, 1912, for the purpose of enabling the Compensation Authority to ascertain in manner provided by the Licensing Rules, 1910, the Persons entitled to Compensation under the said Act, in respect of the said Premises.....

ERIN GO BRAGH INN, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee, Joseph Bradbury. Registered Owner, Bloxwich Brewery Co. Ltd.”

Lichfield Mercury 3/1/1913

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

The County Licensing Committee presented the following report.....

The committee went in great detail into all the figures submitted to them upon which the persons interested claimed compensation, and heard evidence put forward by the claimants. The committee consider that the amounts of compensation agreed upon are satisfactory, both from the point of view of the parties interested and the compensation fund.

In the following twenty-five cases the committee fixed the compensation.....

ERIN GO BRAGH INN, Holyhead Road, beerhouse ante 1869, £650.....

The money has been apportioned amongst the interested parties and will be paid out on the 21st of December.”

It closed in 1912.

FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN

248, (132), Walsall Road / Cook Street, Kings Hill, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

John Lord

Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1939)

Les and Wendy Williams (acquired in 1990)

LICENSEES

William Lote [1865] – [1866]

Mrs. Maria Lote [1867] – [1872]

Thomas Guy [1880] – [1881]

Henry 'Harry' Wallbank [1889] – [1896]

Sarah Wallbank [] – 1899);

George Edward Betteridge (1899 – []

Aaron Bytheway [1900] – [1901]

George Jackson [1909]

Samuel Robinson [1911]

Charles Fisher [1921]

Arthur Moseley []

Bernard Higginson [1934] – 1958)

Stanley Ernest Lunn [1961] – 1963);

William Leslie Holmes (1963 – [1966]

Les Williams (1980 – 2005)

NOTES

132, Walsall Road [1871], [1881], [1891]

248, Walsall Road [1901], [1940]

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/4/1860

“An adjourned inquest upon the body of Jane Bottomer was held on Tuesday, before G. H. Hinchliffe, Esq, at the FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN. Mr. Partridge, surgeon, stated that he had attended deceased upon occasions when her labours were very difficult. On the last occasion he was not called to see her till after her death. He made a post mortem examination of the body, and found the various organs perfectly healthy. There was a rupture of the uterus, which had caused death; but he thought it had arisen from natural causes. He did not find that she had suffered any injury from the woman who attended her. The Jury returned a verdict in accordance with the evidence.”

Birmingham Daily Post 15/6/1865 - Advert

“Sale of Valuable Freehold Property, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. E. B. Scholefield, on Friday, June 23, 1865, at the CASTLE INN, in Darlaston, at Seven o'clock in the Evening, subject to conditions to be then produced, in the following or such lots as shall be decided at the Sale.

Lot 1. That well-accustomed Retail Tavern, known by the sign of the FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, situate on the high road leading from Darlaston to Walsall, and containing large Tap Room, Parlour, Bar, large Club Room, three Bed Rooms, three Attics, three good Cellars, Cooking Kitchen, Brewhouse, Malt Room, Stable, Pigstys, Yard, and Out-buildings belonging thereto, now in the occupation of Mr. Wm. Lote.

Lot 2. Freehold Dwelling House, containing Sitting Room, Kitchen, two Bed Rooms, Brewhouse, and Land, fronting to the road leading from Darlaston to Walsall.

For further particulars apply to Mr. Robert Lucy, Market Place, Wednesbury; or the Auctioneer, Church Street, Wednesbury.

NB. The Vendors will give every assistance to the Purchaser to procure a Victuallers License to lot 1.”

Birmingham Daily Post 28/7/1865 - Advert

“Found on Sunday last, 25th instant, between Delves Green and Walsall, a Black and Tan Terrier Dog, about 12lbs weight. If not owned in three days, will be Sold to pay expenses.

Apply to William Lote, FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1866

“Licensing Day applications for new [spirit] licenses.....

Mr. Duignan applied on behalf of William Lote, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, whose house was situated 210 yards from the nearest licensed house. Mr. Bayley opposed for the owner of FALLINGS HEATH Refused.”

1867 Probate

“The Will of William Lote, late of Fallings Heath, in the Parish of Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, Retail Brewer, deceased, who died 1 April 1867 at Fallings Heath aforesaid, was proved at Lichfield on 9 September by the oath of Maria Lote, of Fallings Heath aforesaid, Widow, the Relict, the sole Executrix. Effects under £100.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/9/1867

“West Bromwich special Session for hearing new applications for victuallers licenses.....

Mr. Dale applied for a license for the FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Fallings Heath, kept by Mrs. Maria Lote. The neighbourhood, he said, was a largely increasing one, and within the last six years upwards of 600 houses had been built; but no license had been granted during that period, and the nearest licensed house at present was the FOUNTAIN, 210 yards distant. This was the fourth application. Mr. Slater opposed, on the ground that another licensed house was not required in the neighbourhood. The Bench refused the application.”

1871 Census

132, Walsall Road

[1] Maria Lote (60), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Darlaston;

[2] John Lote (24), son, sheet iron warehouseman, born Wednesbury;

[3] Sarah Thompson (17), grand-daughter, general servant, born Wednesbury;

[4] Martha Maria Thompson (9), grand-daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;

[5] Charles Roberts (46), visitor, labourer, born Warwick;

[6] John Unitt (26), lodger, sheet iron shearer, born Dudley:

Maria Lote died in the 4th quarter of 1874.

Birmingham Daily Post 20/1/1881

“Local Liquidations. Petitions were yesterday filed in the Walsall Bankruptcy Court on behalf of.....

Thomas Guy, FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Walsall Road, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, beerhouse keeper and fitter, liabilities £265, solicitor Mr. J. Corbett, Darlaston.”

London Gazette 25/1/1881

"The Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Thomas Guy, of FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Walsall-road, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Beerhouse Keeper and Fitter.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the office of Mr. Joseph Corbett, 79, Pinfold-street, Darlaston, in the said county of Stafford, Solicitor, on the 5th day of February, 1881, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 13th day of January, 1881.

Joseph Corbett, Solicitor for the said Debtor."

1881 Census

132, Walsall Road

[1] Thomas Guy (33), publican, born Darlaston;

[2] Elizabeth Guy (31), wife, born Darlaston;

[3] Lizzie Guy (7), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[4] Maria Guy (3), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[5] Mary Ann Cooper (20), boarder, general servant, born Wednesbury:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 18/3/1885 - Advert

"To Butchers, &c. Good strong Trap for Sale, large, in good condition. Also, Wanted, good Horse, 15 or 16 hands, about 6 years; moderate price.

Apply, H. Wallbank, Walsall Road, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury."

TO Butchers, &c.—Good strong Trap for Sale, large, in good condition. Also, Wanted, good Horse, 15 or 16 hands, about 6 years: moderate price.—Apply, H. Wallbank, Walsall-rd., Fallings Heath, Wednesbury.

Darlaston Weekly Times 16/1/1886

"Early on Wednesday morning a terrific gale of wind passed over Darlaston, accompanied by rain. It was of short duration, but was attended with disastrous consequences.....

The tiles and crests of the roofs of houses in different parts of the town, were also blown off, among them the FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, the roof of which was almost completely blown off."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 18/1/1889 - Advert

"Strong Youth Wanted, used to horses, with good character.

Apply, H. Wallbank, FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Wednesbury."

STRONG Youth Wanted, used to horses, with good character.—Apply, H. Wallbank, Fallings Heath Tavern, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 8/5/1889 - Advert

"Stationary and Tobacco (old-established) for Sale. Rent free till Midsummer.

Phono., FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Wednesbury."

STATIONERY and Tobacco (old-established) for Sale. Rent free till Midsummer.—Phono., Fallings Heath Tavern, Wednesbury.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 8/10/1889

"This (Tuesday) morning, Mr. E. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest at the FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Walsall Road, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, on the body of James Bray (54), miner, of 19, Cook Street, Fallings Heath, who died suddenly at his home on Saturday morning. Evidence went to show that deceased died from natural causes, and a verdict in accordance was returned."

1891 Census

132, Walsall Road

[1] Henry Wallbank (56), carter, born Badgley, Warwickshire;

[2] Sarah Wallbank (52), wife, born Coalpit Bank, Shropshire;

[3] Sarah Jane Wallbank (23), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[4] Elijah Cleverly (16), domestic servant, born Bilston;

[5] Lizzie Blower (28), daughter, married, born Wednesbury:

Wednesbury Herald 5/1/1895

"The annual supper in connection with the weekly club held at the FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN took place on New Year's Eve, at the same place, when upwards of thirty members sat down. The host and hostess (Mr. and Mrs. Wallbank) had provided an excellent bill of fare....."

The People 25/10/1896

"Harry Wallbank, landlord of the FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Wednesbury, was on a visit to his sister at Great Heath, near Coventry. He had been in a depressed condition of mind, and on Friday visited the grave of his mother. Yesterday morning his sister, hearing some one fall heavily upon the floor, rushed into the room and saw her brother with his throat terribly cut."

AND

Coventry Evening Telegraph 26/10/1896

"An inquest was held at the Angel Inn, Foleshill, today, by the Coroner, (Dr. C. W. Iliffe) concerning the death of Henry Wallbank, of Wednesbury, who was found with his throat cut in the house of his sister at Foleshill on Saturday. Sarah Wallbank, wife of the deceased, said her husband was 62 years of age, and lived at the FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Wednesbury. He had resided at the public house for 16 years. He had a severe sickness. Only in a moderate way had he been addicted to drinking. He left his home at 1.20 on Thursday, and he did not return. A letter was sent to his sister, who lives at Foleshill, and she replied that he was not there. A few minutes afterwards, however, a telegram came stating that he was found in the chair at the sister's house, and appeared in his usual health. Subsequently another telegram was received stating that he had cut his throat and was dead.

Daniel Blower, machinist, living at Great Heath, Foleshill, said he and the deceased slept together on Friday night, and the man then appeared all right. Witness heard no more until his mother called him. When witness got out of bed he found the deceased on the floor. There was blood on the floor, and witness thought deceased had broken a blood vessel. Subsequently, however, witness found a knife in the room stained with blood.

Answering the Coroner, witness said deceased went to bed sober, but appeared very strange in his manner during the night.

Replying to the Coroner, deceased's wife said her husband appeared very strange after his illness, but never before had he been away from home. Sometimes he had threatened to do her bodily harm, and once the carving knife was taken from him.

Dr. Orton, junior, was sent for early on Saturday morning. He found the deceased lying on the floor on his right side. He was undressed, and witness noticed that his throat was cut to the spinal column. There was a clot of blood on the floor, and witness also noticed an ordinary pocket knife close by. The knife was stained with blood, and had evidently just previously been sharpened. The knife was identified as belonging to the witness Blower, and was very blunt on the previous evening. Death was due to loss of blood as the result of injury.

A juryman asked how deceased came into possession of the knife, and Police-constable Cook stated that the witness Blower left it on the table about half-past five, when he came from work, and it was most likely that the deceased took it to cut some bread and cheese which he had.

The jury returned a verdict that deceased died from syncope, due to hemorrhage, caused by the wound, he being at the time Temporarily Insane."

Walsall Observer 22/1/1898

"A case of considerable interest was heard at Darlaston Police Court on Monday, in which Mary Jane Marlow (22), a married woman, of 29, Bath Street, Walsall, was charged with (1) obtaining two pairs of boots by false pretences from Mary Chapman, 12, Whitton Street, Darlaston; (2) obtaining a gold wedding ring belonging to Samuel Edwards, jeweller, King Street, Darlaston, by false pretences; and (3) obtaining two dress pieces, the property of Edward Firman, of Walsall Road, Darlaston, by false pretences.

Prisoner appeared in the dock attired in a stylish slate-coloured dress, a neat-fitting black hat, and a fur boa. There was a large crowd of people assembled outside the Court, and the Court Room was crowded. Mr. A. J. Glover defended.

On November 29th last, prisoner visited the shop of Mr. Chapman, and informed him and his wife that she was the sister to Mrs. Lester, of the ANCHOR INN, Station Street, and had come over for the purpose of staying with her sister for a short period. She chose two pairs of boots, requested to be permitted to take them, and she would select and retain possession of the pair she wanted, and send back the other. Prisoner failed to return to the shop, and pawned the boots in Darlaston.

Mrs. Lester stated the prisoner was not her sister, neither had the prisoner ever stayed at her house. She never gave prisoner any authority to purchase boots.

Police-sergeant Williams, stationed at Darlaston, said that when he arrested prisoner at her home she stated that she did not know where Chapman's was, and knew nothing about it.

This was the charge of obtaining the boots, and prisoner was committed for trial to the next Quarter Sessions.

Prisoner was then charged with obtaining, by false pretences, a wedding ring, the property of Alfred Edwards, of King Street, Darlaston, on the 8th of January last.

Mary Edwards stated that prisoner entered her husband's shop and asked to see some wedding rings.

Mr. J. J. Thursfield (magistrates' clerk): I think it is usual for the ladies to buy the wedding ring in this district, is it not? (Laughter.)

She (prisoner) said the ring was for Miss Holt, in Cock Street. Prisoner stated that she should not be many minutes away, but she did not return.

Cross-examined by Mr. Glover: She identified the ring (produced) by its weight, the scratches on the outside, and the words 'H.A.' inside.

Harriet Holt, a single woman, Walsall Road, Darlaston, said she never instructed prisoner to obtain for her a ring from the shop of Alfred Edwards.

Other evidence having been given, the magistrates committed prisoner to the Quarter Session on this charge also.

The third case was then taken, in which prisoner was charged with obtaining, by false pretences, from Edward Firman, of Walsall Road, Darlaston, on the 8th of January, two dress pieces.

Prosecutor stated that on Saturday the 8th inst, about 8.30pm, prisoner went to his shop and said she wanted a piece of black satin for Mrs. Wallbank, of FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN. Witness showed her some other material, and she took a piece of black material, and also a piece of pea-green, saying she would be back in a quarter of an hour with the money or the material if Mrs. Wallbank approved of them. Prisoner did not return. He had known her three or four years, and had up to the present believed her to be an honest woman. Whether she had mentioned Mrs. Wallbank's name or not, he should have given her the goods.

The case was dismissed, and Mr. Glover applied for bail in the two former cases.

Sergeant Williams opposed bail being allowed, as there were other charges against prisoner at Walsall.

The magistrates ultimately allowed bail in a surety of prisoner herself £50 and two sureties of £25 each."

AND

Walsall Observer 5/3/1898

"At Staffordshire Quarter Sessions yesterday before Lord Hatherton, the following cases were tried....

Mary Jane Marlow, a well-dressed young married woman, of Walsall, pleaded guilty to obtaining by false pretences, at Darlaston, two pairs of boots from Daniel Chapman, with intent to defraud. She also pleaded guilty to obtaining by false pretences from Alfred Edwards, at Darlaston, a gold wedding ring, with intent to defraud.

Lord Hatherton said the prisoner was now undergoing imprisonment for another offence, and the present sentence would be one month's hard labour, to run concurrently with her former sentence, so that at the end of her sentence of six months' imprisonment she would be discharged.

Prisoner asked the chairman if he would kindly allow her to take her baby, aged ten weeks, with her. Lord Hatherton told her to make her application to the Visiting Justices of the prison. It was stated that the baby was at present at Walsall."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 22/9/1899

"The adjourned Licensing Sessions for the borough of Wednesbury were held today....

Mr. Slater applied for permission to make certain alterations at the FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Walsall Road. He pointed out that this was a beerhouse, and the proposed alterations were necessary in order to improve the domestic facilities of the tenant.

The application was granted."

1901 Census

248, Walsall Road

[1] Aaron Bytheway (26), machine nut maker, born Darlaston;

[2] Nancy Bytheway (26), wife, born Darlaston;

[3] Harry Bytheway (4), son, born Wednesbury;

[4] Minnie Bytheway (1), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[5] Bert Belcher (15), brother-in-law, born Wednesbury;

Walsall Advertiser 12/6/1909

"The monthly meeting of the Walsall and District Licensed Victuallers and Beer Retailers Friendly and Protection Society, was held on Thursday last at the house of Mr. S. F. Smith, PRINCE OF WALES INN, Queen Street, Walsall.....

New Members.....

George Jackson, FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Walsall Road, Kings Hill, Wednesbury."

1911 Census

Walsall Road – FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN

- [1] Samuel Robinson (51), publican, born Darlaston;
- [2] Sarah Robinson (49), wife, married 30 years, assisting in business, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Samuel Robinson (26), son, fitter, steel works, born Darlaston;
- [4] Ada Robinson (20), daughter, assisting in business, born Darlaston:

Samuel Robinson – see also ROYAL GEORGE, Station Street, Darlaston, and KINGS HILL TAVERN, Darlaston Road, Wednesbury.

Walsall Observer 30/5/1914

"Walsall Police Court.....

George Wyld (21), labourer, Round Oak, Brierley Hill, was charged on a warrant with stealing a hand-cart and four gallons of ice-cream, of the total value of £5, the property of Antonio Nardone, 6, Chapel Street, on the 16th inst.

A son of the prosecutor stated that he assisted his father in his ice-cream business. Up to Saturday, May 16th the defendant had been in his father's employ, and on that day he was sent out to sell ice-cream in the streets. He did not return, and the matter was reported to the police. The ice-cream, if sold, would have realised about £1. On May 22nd witness was taken to the FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Darlaston, where he saw the missing ice-cream cart. Detective-sergeant Burrell gave evidence that he ascertained that prisoner had left the town. His description was circulated, and on Monday he was arrested at Brierley Hill. In answer to the charge, he said, 'That's right; I abandoned the ice-cream cart at a public house at Darlaston. I only made 5s 6d out of the ice-cream, which I sold in big cups to get rid of it. I don't know what made me do it; something came over me.'

The prisoner now pleaded guilty, and said he had nothing to say. He admitted a conviction at Hanley two months ago.

A fine of 20s and costs was imposed, with the alternative of one month's hard labour."

1921 Census

248, Walsall Road

- [1] Charles Fisher (45), engine driver, born Willenhall;
- [2] Florence Fisher (42), wife, home duties, born Darlaston;
- [3] William Fisher (21), son, general turner, born Darlaston;
- [4] Annie Fisher (19), daughter, home duties, born Darlaston;
- [5] Wilfred Fisher (16), son, apprentice toolmaker, born Darlaston;
- [6] Alfred Fisher (14), son, apprentice machinist, born Darlaston;
- [7] Harold Fisher (9), son, school, born Darlaston;
- [8] Gladys Fisher (4), daughter, school, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Frederick Fisher (1), son, born Wednesbury;
- [10] Alfred Fisher (48), boarder, engine driver, crane, born Willenhall:

Evening Despatch 7/11/1934

"The seriousness of being without an insurance policy was stressed today by the Darlaston Bench in a case in which Bernard Higginson, of 248, Walsall Road, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, was fined £5 and disqualified from driving for 12 months for using his motor-cycle which was not insured on 27 September. Higginson was involved in an accident at Darlaston."

It was rebuilt in 1937.

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

John Lord’s houses.....

FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Kings Hill.”

1939 Register

Walsall Road – FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN

[1] Bernard Higginson, date of birth 21/3/1888, manager of public house and nut and bolt trade, married;

[2] Sarah J. E. Higginson, dob 15/6/1885, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Leonard Higginson, dob 11/1/1921, making parts for aeroplanes, single:

A team from here took part in the Fallings Heath Cribbage League. [1946], [1958]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 5/9/1962 - Advert

“Barmaid required, full or part-time, experienced.

Apply, Manger, FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Walsall Road, Wednesbury.”

BARMAID required, full or part-time, experienced. Apply — Manager, Fallings Heath Tavern, Walsall-road, Wednesbury.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 7/11/1962 - Advert

“Barmaid, experienced, full or part-time.

FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Walsall Road, Wednesbury. References.”

BARMAID. experienced, full or part-time. —Fallings Heath Tavern, Walsall-road, Wednesbury. References.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 6/8/1965 - Advert

“Wanted, Full-time Barmaid.

Apply, Manager, FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Walsall Road, Wednesbury.”

WANTED. Full-time Barmaid; apply — Manager, Fallings Heath Tavern, Walsall-road, Wednesbury.

A team from here took part in the Fallings Heath Cribbage League. [1965], [1966], [1967], [1968]

[They were runners-up in 1965 and 1966.]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 2/4/1966 - Advert

“A.E.U.

Future Meetings of the James Bridge 4.J.E. Branch will be held at the FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Walsall Road, Darlaston.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 22/12/1972 - Letters to the Editor

“May I through your column convey my appreciation to the licensee of FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Wednesbury, and his wife? I would thank the voluntary workers who had little difficulty in coaxing customers to buy the necessary raffle tickets resulting in a gratifying hand-out of £5 to us senior citizens. Everyone was plied with refreshments making it a memorable evening.

Mr. C. Perry, Flat 14, Great Croft House, Darlaston.”

Walsall Observer 31/5/1974

“Trophies and prize money totalling £175 were presented to successful teams in the Darlaston Dominoes League for the Blind by the Mayor of Walsall, Councillor Arthur Toon. A cheque for £353.55 was also presented to the Midland Societies for the Blind.....

The annual awards went to Ted Hyde Cup runners-up FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN A.”

Walsall Observer 28/4/1978

"The last surviving soldier from the Boer War has died. Mr. Arthur Moseley, who was 94, lived in Kent Close, Leamore. He joined up when he was 17 to fight the Boers in South Africa. Twelve years later, he was fighting the Germans in Flanders.

In his later life, Arthur ran the FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN in Darlaston and the SPREAD EAGLE in Green Lane, Leamore.

Five years ago Arthur travelled down to London with the other surviving members of the Birmingham and District South African War Veterans Association to meet the Queen Mother at a garden party."

Walsall Observer 16/7/1982

"The following planning applications have been received by the Council for determination and may be inspected at the offices of the Director of Engineering and Town Planning....."

Bass Mitchells & Butlers Ltd. Construction of car park with access from Walsall Road on land adjoining FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, at corner of Walsall Road/Cook Street, Darlaston."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 6/12/1982

"A road junction in Darlaston is to be sealed off to allow a car park to be built at a nearby pub. Highway chiefs have agreed to close Cook Street at its junction with Walsall Road to stop traffic problems from the car park at the FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 4/5/1983

"Regulars at a Walsall pub have raised £120 for cancer research. The cash was collected in a bottle on the bar of the FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, Darlaston Road. 'We think this is the first time that the pub had gone in for raising money for charity, and we are very pleased with the result,' licensee Mrs. Wendy Williams said. The cash has been presented to Walsall Heath Authority to help finance work at the town's Manor Hospital."

Birmingham Daily Post 27/10/1993

"Fourteen-stone publican Les Williams has 200 ornamental pigs hanging in the FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN in Walsall road, Darlaston, all donated by customers after they heard his wife Wendy call him Porky."

It closed for refurbishment in 2006.

It reopened as SUKI'S Bar and Indian Restaurant. [2007]

[2015]

It was converted into housing. [2017]

Ex-pub 2007

SALE OF VALUABLE FREEHOLD PROPERTY, FALLING'S HEATH, WEDNESBURY. TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION.

BY Mr. E. B. SCHOLEFIELD, on FRIDAY, June 23, 1865, at the Castle Inn, in Darlaston, at Seven o'clock in the Evening, subject to conditions to be then produced, in the following or such other lots as shall be decided at the Sale:—

Lot 1.—That well-accustomed RETAIL TAVERN, known by the sign of the "FALLING'S HEATH TAVERN," situate on the high road leading from Darlaston to Walsall, and containing large Tap Room, Parlour, Bar, large Club Room, three Bed Rooms, three Attics, three good Cellars, Cooking Kitchen, Brewhouse, Malt Room, Stable, Pigstys, Yard, and Out-buildings belonging thereto, now in the occupation of Mr. Wm. Lote.

Lot 2.—FREEHOLD DWELLING HOUSE, containing Sitting Room, Kitchen, two Bed Rooms, Brewhouse, and Land, fronting to the road leading from Darlaston to Walsall.

For further particulars apply to Mr. Robert Lacy, Market Place, Wednesbury; or the Auctioneer, Church Street, Wednesbury.

N.B.—The Vendors will give every assistance to the Purchaser to procure a Victualler's License to lot 1.

1865

A.E.U.

FUTURE MEETINGS of the JAMES BRIDGE A.J.E. BRANCH will be held at the FALLINGS HEATH TAVERN, WALSALL ROAD DARLASTON.

1966

FITTERS ARMS

(Lower) High Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Robinson [1864]
George Challinor [1868] – 1870;
James George (1870 – []

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Birmingham Journal 20/12/1856 - Advert

“To be Sold, a First-rate Bright Engine, One-horse power.
Apply at the FITTERS ARMS, High Street, Wednesbury.”

TO be SOLD, a First-rate BRIGHT ENGINE,
One-horse power.—Apply at the Fitters' Arms, High Street,
Wednesbury.

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 5/3/1864

“Pedestrianism. Aston Cross Grounds.....

On Monday, should the weather prove at all propitious, there will no doubt be a large gathering to witness the undermentioned matches.....

J. Jinks and J. Douglas (both of Wednesbury) at two o'clock toe the mark to run six score yards, for £5 a side, the final deposit for which must be made this evening at Mr. Robinson's, FITTERS ARMS, Wednesbury, who is final stakeholder and referee.”

George Challinor, beer retailer, High Street. [1868], [1870]

Birmingham Daily Post 17/12/1868 - Advert

“To be Let, the FITTERS ARMS INN, High Street, Wednesbury. Proprietor about to retire. Coming-in low.
Apply on the Premises.”

TO be LET, THE FITTERS' ARMS INN, High Street, Wednesbury. Proprietor about to retire. Coming-in low.—Apply on the Premises.

Birmingham Daily Post 4/5/1869 - Advert

“To be Let, FITTERS ARMS INN, High Street, Wednesbury.
Apply on the premises.”

TO be LET, FITTERS' ARMS INN, High Street, Wednesbury.
Apply on the premises.

FORESTERS ARMS

50, Oxford Street, (New Town), Mesty Croft, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

James Scott
William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

James Scott [] – 1870)
Mrs. Pamela (Scott) Read [1871] – [1872]
David Read [1881]
John Charles Blower [1888]
John Powell [1891]
Edwin F Latham [1901]
William James Fryer [1911] – [1914]
Alfred Rowley [1919] – [1921]
John Southan [1930]
Benjamin Pugh [1939] – [1940]
Mrs. Emma Jane Pugh [1959] – [1974]

1965

NOTES

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/11/1868

“Wednesbury Election.

On Friday last Mr. Walker attended meetings in Wednesbury at the ROYAL OAK, King Street, at half-past one; at the KINGS HILL TAVERN, Kings Hill, at seven; at the FORESTERS ARMS, Oxford Street, at eight; and at the MUSEUM TAVERN, Elwell Street, at nine. At each he was most enthusiastically received, and his addresses and replies to questions gave the greatest satisfaction. At the FORESTERS ARMS the harmony of the proceedings were somewhat interrupted by an attack by Mr. Benjamin Danks and a few other Brogdenites on the chairman, Mr. Cullis, an ex-member of the late Liberal Committee, who now supports Mr. Walker, and by an attempt afterwards by the same party to pass a vote in favour of Mr. Brogden, but which was most vociferously negatived, Mr. Walker securing the support of his audience at each meeting.”

[Alexander Brogden was Liberal MP for Wednesbury from 1868 to 1885.]

Birmingham Daily Post 30/9/1869

“The annual Sessions for the hearing of applications for new licenses to sell spirits, was held at West Bromwich Police Court, yesterday Mr. Sharpe intimated to the solicitors that the houses of all the applicants had been visited by some of the Magistrates, who had reported to the Bench on them, and it would, therefore, be advisable for all speeches to be as brief as possible. The following applications were then made.....

James Scott, Mesty Croft, Wednesbury, applied through Mr. Travis. House own property, rated at £23; 270 yards from nearest licensed house. No opposition. Application refused.”

James Scott was from Walsall.

He was a plate layer.

He married Pamela Stiles (nee Rogers)

He died in 1870.

Pamela Scott = Pamila Scott

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/9/1870

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions at West Bromwich....

Applications for new spirit licenses.....

Mr. Travis applied on behalf of Pamela Scott, FORESTERS ARMS, Oxford Street, Wednesbury, distance from nearest licensed house 200 yards. It appeared that the applicant’s husband had recently died. The magistrates refused to grant her a license on the ground that she could not apply in her husband’s name. She was told that she must have the license transferred.”

Pamila Scott, beer retailer, Oxford Street, Mesty Croft. [1872]

Pamela Scott was born in Dixons Green, Dudley on 14th November 1830, and was christened Pamela Rogers.

She worked as a servant until 24th January 1855.

She married, firstly, Moses Stiles at St. Thomas’ Church, Dudley, on 24th January 1855.

Moses Stiles was a platelayer on the railway until he died c.1863.

They lived at Palfrey, Walsall.

She married, secondly, James Scott, originally from Walsall, on 16th October 1866.

She married, thirdly, David Read, a widowed miner, on 5th May 1873.

He died in 1887.

She died on 4th January 1914.

1871 Census

Oxford Street

- [1] Pamela Scott (41), widow, publican, born Dudley;
- [2] John Scott (15), son, pupil teacher, born Dudley;
- [3] Richard Scott (12), son, coach spring maker, born Walsall;
- [4] Ann Rebecca Scott (1), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Jane E. Brown (12), boarder, domestic servant, born Birmingham;

Birmingham Daily Post 15/3/1877 - Advert

“Lost, a dark-brown Pony, about 13 hands 2 inches high.

Anyone returning it to the FORESTERS ARMS, New Town, Wednesbury, will be rewarded.”

LOST, a dark-brown Pony, about 13 hands 2 inches high.—Anyone returning it to the Forester’s Arms, New Town, Wednesbury, will be rewarded.

1881 Census

50, Oxford Street – FORRESTERS ARMS

- [1] David Read (62), miner and publican, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Pamela Read (50), wife, born Dudley;
- [3] Richard Styles (23), son, brewer, born Walsall;
- [4] Pamela Styles (20), daughter, born Dudley;
- [5] Ann Rebecca Scott (11), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Maria Cross (17), general servant, born Dudley;

Birmingham Daily Post 4/7/1884 - Advert

“FORESTERS ARMS INN, Oxford Street, Wednesbury.

This large convenient Inn to Let, on lease. In-coming at valuation. Adjoining large works. Modern brewing plant. Rent about £35. Satisfactory reasons for leaving.”

FORESTERS’ Arms Inn, Oxford Street, Wednesbury. — This large convenient Inn to Let, on lease. In-coming at valuation. Adjoining large works. Modern brewing plant. Rent about £35. Satisfactory reasons for leaving.

Birmingham Daily Post 5/12/1888

“John Charles Blower, landlord of the FORESTERS ARMS, Oxford Street, New Town, Wednesbury, was summoned for permitting gaming on his premises on the 23rd and 24th November. Mr. W. S. Smith defended.

The evidence of Police-constables Heapy and Hadland was to the effect that they went to defendant’s house in plain clothes on the night of the 23rd, and heard defendant invite the company to make up a sweep for the Manchester Cup Handicap. Some tickets were produced bearing the words ‘Trip to Manchester,’ and these were disposed of at 1s each, each purchaser receiving three-penny worth of refreshments. Books of tickets were handed to the men present to sell, and the next day there was a meeting for the draw, the defendant superintending. Some of the unsold tickets were raffled at 1d or 2d per number, Haldane winning one of these, and the prizes were £1 10s, £1 10s, and 17s to be divided amongst those members drawing starters; and £2 9s went to the landlord, 10s being for the printing of the tickets, and £1 19s for refreshments.

The defence was that the house was not the habitual resort of betting men, and that what took place was simply the drawing of an ordinary lottery such as took place without hindrance at many places.

The Stipendiary said he regarded it as a very bad case, and if the summons had been taken out under the Betting Act instead of under the Licensing Act the penalty might have been £100. He imposed a fine of £10 and costs in the one case, and ordered the costs to be paid in the other, making a total of £10 16s.”

1891 Census

50, Oxford Street

- [1] John Powell (35), beer retailer, born Tipton;
- [2] Sarah A. Powell (50), wife, born Tipton;
- [3] James E. Wicks (14), step-son, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Ethel M. Wicks (8), step-daughter, born Wednesbury;

Walsall Observer 28/11/1891

“John Powell, FORESTERS ARMS, New Town, Wednesbury, was summoned for riding on his cart without having proper control of his horse, and also for causing an obstruction in Goodall Street.

Police-constable Smith, No.38, deposed that defendant was riding on the shaft of his cart with the reins tied onto the hame. Witness took defendant to the station to get his name and address, and after that defendant would not take his horse and cart away from the station.

Defendant said that he had control over his horse, and that as to the obstruction, the policeman put the horse and cart where it stood, and he left it.

Fined 20s and costs for the first offence.”

1901 Census

50, Oxford Street

- [1] Edwin F. Latham (37), publican, beerhouse, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Mary Latham (36), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Edwin Latham (14), son, tube fitting maker, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Herbert Latham (13), son, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Beatrice L. Latham (10), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Harry Latham (7), son, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Leonard Latham (6), son, born Wednesbury;
- [8] James Latham (3), son, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Henry Cartwright (25), brother-in-law, tube fitting maker, born Wednesbury;
- [10] Martha Cherrington (15), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

1911 Census

Oxford Street – FORESTERS ARMS

- [1] William Fryer (42), publican, born Bloxwich;
- [2] Emmie Fryer (35), wife, married 10 years, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Lillie Heywood (25), sister-in-law, single, assists in bar, born Wednesbury;

Walsall Observer 26/12/1914 - Deaths

“Mrs. W. J. Fryer, of the FORRESTERS ARMS, Wednesbury (late of Bloxwich), wishes to thank all friends for kind inquiries and sympathy in her sad bereavement; also for flowers.”

William James Fryer – see also WHEATSHEAF, Pinfold, Bloxwich, Walsall, and BULLS HEAD, Park Road, Bloxwich, Walsall.

Walsall Observer 24/5/1919 - Advert

"For Sale, Brake, with lamps; carry 16; or Exchange Good Cob.
Rowley, FORESTERS ARMS, New Town, Wednesbury."

FOR Sale, Brake, with lamps; carry 16; or Exchange Good Cob.—Rowley, Foresters Arms,
New Town, Wednesbury.

1921 Census

50, Oxford Street

[1] Alfred Rowley (40), carpenter, out of work, born Walsall;

[2] Emma Rowley (44), wife, home duties, born Wednesbury;

[3] Albert Edward Rowley (44), boarder, carpenter for builder, born Walsall:

Dudley Chronicle 6/3/1930 - Thanks

"Mr. John Southan (grand-father of the late Dorothy Cheadle), FORESTERS ARMS, Oxford Street, Wednesbury, wishes to thank customers and friends for sympathy shown and floral tributes generously bestowed."

Walsall Observer 14/2/1931

"Wednesbury Brewster Sessions yesterday.....

Plans had been approved and alterations carried out at the.....

FORESTERS ARMS, Oxford Street."

1939 Register

50, Oxford Street – Public House

[1] Benjamin Pugh, date of birth 23/3/1889, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Emma Jane Pugh, dob 10/9/1890, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] John Samuel Pugh, dob 9/12/1914, toolroom worker, shell factory, single;

[4] Dennis B. Pugh, dob 28/10/1926, school, single:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 29/2/1940

"Latest donations to the West Midlands and Express and Star Comforts Fund.....

Wednesbury. Previously acknowledged, £344 1s 3½d.

Proceeds of Boxes.....

FORRESTERS ARMS, New Town, 7s 1d."

Rugeley Times 8/2/1941

"The monthly report of the West Bromwich and District General Hospital, just issued, shows that the patients report for the month of December was in-patients admitted, 55; out-patients admitted to the several special departments, 284; to the casualty department, 905; attendance in all departments, 3,485.

Donations acknowledged for the month of December, 1940, were.....

FORESTERS ARMS, Wednesbury, £5 0s 9d."

Benjamin Pugh died in the 3rd quarter of 1945.

Walsall Observer 7/8/1959

"The night a Wednesbury darts team won an away match proved an expensive one, for when police burst into the FORRESTERS ARMS, in Oxford Street, three quarters of an hour after closing time, the celebrations were still going on. Wednesbury magistrates imposed fines totalling £20 on some of the revellers on Friday.

Neville Charles Garner (25), of 26, Kilvert Road; James Tonks (51), of 54, Warner Road; and Albert John Monk (22), of 51, Friar Park Road, all of Wednesbury, pleaded guilty to charges of drinking intoxicating liquor after licensing hours and were each fined £2. Donald Smith (28), of 39, Moor Street, Wednesbury, who pleaded not guilty, was also fined £2. On a charge of aiding and abetting the four, Dennis Benjamin Pugh (32), the landlady's son, was fined £12 and ordered to pay £10 10s special costs. The magistrates dismissed charges of selling intoxicating liquor after hours against both Pugh and his mother, Mrs. Emma Jane Pugh.

Prosecuting, Mr. F. Cooper said that when the police entered the bar of the FORRESTERS ARMS, about 16 people were there. Most of them were sitting down at tables on which were glasses containing beer. 'All were seen actually to consume beer,' he said.

Police-constable N. Walton told the court that Smith was seen by him to drink from a half-pint glass containing beer, but, in evidence, Smith denied the allegation. 'My regular drink is a pint,' he said.

Defending, Mr. P. Woolley said that it was a popular misconception that if a drink was bought before closing time a customer had all night to drink it in, and, although the three men admitted that they had drunk intoxicating liquor after 10pm, there was no direct evidence to prove that they had been sold any beer after licensing hours."

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League. [1962], [1963]

Walsall Observer 24/8/1962 - Advert

"Attention! all Mild drinkers.

Highgate Mild is now available in the following Butlers and Atkinsons houses.....

FORESTERS ARMS, Oxford Street, Wednesbury."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 16/3/1974 - Deaths

"Emma Jane Pugh, FORRESTERS ARMS, Oxford Street, Wednesbury, passed peacefully away March 13, in her 84th year. The beloved mother of Jack, Dennis and Doris. Dear gran of Jackie and Norman. Funeral on Thursday, March 21. Service at St. Bartholomew's Church, Wednesbury, at 2pm."

1974 Probate

"Emma Jane Pugh of the FORESTERS ARMS, 50 Oxford Street, Wednesbury, West Midlands, died 13 March 1974. Probate Birmingham 17 May. Effects £7,317."

Closed

Demolished

ATTENTION! all MILD drinkers

HIGHGATE MILD is now available in the following BUTLERS and ATKINSONS houses:—

BRIDGE HOUSE, Sixwold Road, Walsall.	RAILWAY TAVERN, James Bridge,
NEW NAVIGATION, Sirohills, Walsall.	Darlaston.
WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, Walsall.	RISING SUN, Piercy Street, Newtown,
FALCON, Lichfield Street, Walsall.	Wednesbury.
FITTERS ARMS, Heatherly St., Walsall.	FORESTERS ARMS, Oxford Street,
FORGE HAMMER, Rolling Mill Street,	Wednesbury.
Pleck, Walsall.	OLD BLUE BALL, Hall End, Wednesbury.
FOUNTAIN, Lower Forster Street, Walsall.	PRINCE REGENT, Victoria Street,
NEW INN, Green Lane, Walsall.	Wednesbury.
PRINCE OF WALES, Queen St., Walsall.	COTTAGE, Wood Green, Wednesbury.
BEAR & RAGGED STAFF, High Street,	SPRING COTTAGE, The Paddock,
Walsall.	Walsall.
COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridgeman St.,	HARDEN, Coalpool Lane, Walsall.
Walsall.	NEWPORT ARMS, Pleck Road, Walsall.
TANNERS ARMS, Day Street, Walsall.	VINE, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall.
DUKE OF YORK, Moxley Rd., Darlaston.	KINGS ARMS, High Street, Bloxwich.
BLACK HORSE, Pinfold St., Darlaston.	FOUNTAIN, Portland Street, Walsall.
NELSON, Catherine's Cross, Darlaston.	STAFFORDSHIRE KNOT, Catherine's
WHITE LION, King Street, Darlaston.	Cross, Darlaston.
KINGS HILL TAVERN, Darlaston Road,	BIRD IN HAND, Pinfold Street, Darlaston.
Wednesbury.	HORSE & JOCKEY, High Bullen,
DARTMOUTH INN, High St., Darlaston.	Wednesbury.
HASS HEAD, The Green, Darlaston.	GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place, Wed-
OLD BUSH, The Green, Darlaston.	nesbury.
STAR MUSIC HALL, James Bridge,
Darlaston.

Pride of the Midlands

1962

FORESTERS ARMS

4, Portway Road, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Mr. Shannon, Walsall (acquired in 1875 for £630)
Millward Bros. [1913]

LICENSEES

Mary Yates [] - 1870);
Mrs. Elizabeth Guest (1870 - 1872);
Emma Brown (1872)
Elizabeth Brown (1872);
Edward Brown (1872 - [1891])
Mrs. Mary Ferrer [1896]
John Jones [1901] - [1904]
Edward Willetts [1911] - [1912]
Joseph William Slater [] - 1913);

NOTES

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

1871 Census

4, Portway Road

- [1] Elizabeth Guest (56), widow, publican, born Tipton;
- [2] Albert Aspin (33), boarder, engine smith, born Chelsea;
- [3] Sarah Tomlinson (20), general servant, born Wednesbury;

Mrs. Elizabeth Guest, beer retailer, Portway Road. [1872]

Midland Examiner 27/2/1875 - Advert

"Important Sale of a Freehold Public House and Dwelling Houses, in Wednesbury.

Mr. Edward Ellis will Sell by Auction at the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Wednesday, the 17th day of March, 1875, at Six o'clock in the evening.....

Lot. 1. A Freehold Public House, known as the FORESTERS ARMS, situate in the Portway Road, Wednesbury, and now in the occupation of Mr. Edward Brown, comprising 4 rooms and a passage on the ground floor; large club room, and 2 bed rooms on the second floor; and 2 attics with a large brewhouse, and malt room over the same; piggery and other necessary outbuildings; 2 cellars, and a private and separate entrance to the yard.

The Property comprised in this Lot has a frontage of 10 yards 1 foot 6 inches to the Portway Road, and contains a superficial area of 341 square yards, or thereabouts; and from its proximity to the principal Ironworks in Wednesbury, it affords a valuable and desirable investment. It is let to the present occupier at the low annual rental of £25."

AND

Midland Examiner 20/3/1875

"On Wednesday, Mr. Edward Ellis submitted a quantity of freehold property for public competition, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury. There was a large company present, and the competition was spirited. Lot 1, being the FORESTERS ARMS, Portway Road, was purchased by Mr. Shannon, of Walsall, for £630....."

Important Sale of a Freehold PUBLIC-HOUSE and DWELLING-HOUSES, in Wednesbury.

MR. EDWARD ELLIS, will SELL BY AUCTION, at the Dartmouth Arms Hotel, Wednesbury, on Wednesday, the 17th day of March, 1875, at Six o'clock in the evening (subject to Conditions then to be produced and read), the undermentioned Properties, in the following or such other Lots as may be declared at the time of Sale :—

Lot 1.—A FREEHOLD PUBLIC - HOUSE, known as the "Forester's Arms," situate in the Portway Road, Wednesbury, and now in the occupation of Mr. Edward Brown, comprising 4 rooms and a passage on the ground floor; large club room, and 2 bed rooms, on the second floor; and 2 attics with a large brewhouse, and malt room over the same; piggery and other necessary outbuildings; 2 cellars, and a private and separate entrance to the yard.

The Property comprised in this Lot has a frontage of 10 yards, 1 foot 6 inches to the Portway Road, and contains a superficial area of 341 square yards, or thereabouts; and from its proximity to the principal Ironworks in Wednesbury, it affords a valuable and desirable investment. It is let to the present occupier at the low annual rental of £25.

1881 Census

4, Portway Road – FORESTERS ARMS

- [1] Edward Brown (55), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Brown (67), wife, born Brierley Hill;
- [3] Arthur Brown (17), son, forgerman, born Wednesbury;
- [4] John Latham (20), grand-son, forgerman, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Margrette Hounson (19), general servant, born Shropshire:

It was void in August 1887.

Edward Brown, FORESTERS ARMS, Portway Road, is mentioned in an article, covered nationally, in June 1888, about the miraculous properties of the medicine Warner's Safe Cure.

[See BOROUGH ARMS, Dudley Street.]

Shepton Mallet Journal 15/6/1888 - Advert

“(From the Wednesbury Herald.) We have recently noticed in the columns of our exchanges an article from a well-known citizen of this place which was so unusual in its nature, and so remarkable withal, that a reporter of this paper was commissioned to investigate its details and verify its facts. The article referred to was a statement made by Mr. Isaac Whick, of the BOROUGH ARMS, secretary of the Retail Brewers Protection Association I consider that I owe my life to Warner's Safe Cure.....

Mr. Edward Brown, of the FORESTERS ARMS, Portway Road, is an old citizen, whose reputation for veracity has never been questioned. In answer to our inquiry about Mr. Whick's case, he said, ‘It is simply wonderful, sir. Not one of his friends expected him to recover, and even the doctors whom he consulted not only gave him no hopes, but prophesied his speedy demise.’”

1891 Census

4, Portway Road – FORESTERS ARMS

- [1] Edward Brown (66), publican, born Walsall;
- [2] Elizabeth Brown (77), wife, born Ocker Hill;
- [3] Emma Jones (18), grand-daughter, domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Edward Brown died on 1st June 1892.

Elizabeth Brown died on 4th October 1893.

Birmingham Daily Post 28/9/1893 - Advert

“Wednesbury. Important Sale of Freehold Old-Established Beerhouse. Tuesday Next, October 3.

Belcher & Som have received instructions to Sell by Public Auction, upon the above date, at the WHITE HORSE HOTEL, Wednesbury, at Half-past Seven o'clock precisely.

The Old-established Licensed Beerhouse, known as the FORESTERS ARMS INN, situate in Portway Road, Wednesbury aforesaid, and let to Messrs. Millward Brothers at an annual rental of £28.

The Property is situate in close proximity to several large and important Works, in a thickly-populated district, and is in fair condition of repair.

For further particulars, apply to the Auctioneers, Bank Chambers, Wednesbury and Darlaston; or to George Rose, Esq, Solicitor, Wednesbury.”

Mrs. Mary Ferrer, beer retailer, 4, Portway Road. [1896]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 1/2/1901

“At the Wednesbury Police Court this afternoon Patrick Murphy, of no fixed abode, was charged with being drunk on the licensed premises of the FORESTERS ARMS, Portway Road, Wednesbury, on Saturday night. Defendant was found by Police-constable O'Hara and Sergeant O'Leary in a helpless state of intoxication in the taproom of the FORESTERS ARMS. The landlord's attention was drawn to the man's condition, and he ordered him out. He was fined 5s and costs.”

AND

Wednesbury Leader 16/2/1901

"John Jones, licensee of the FORESTERS ARMS beerhouse, Portway Road, Wednesbury, was charged with allowing drunkenness on his premises on the 26th January. Mr. J. S. Sharpe prosecuted on behalf of the police, and Mr. R. A. Willcock defended.

Mr. Sharpe, in his opening statement, said the evidence would go to show that on the 26th January at 10-25pm PS O'Leary visited the tap-room of the FORESTERS ARMS and saw there a man named Patrick Murphy, apparently very drunk. He was sitting at a table, leaning over it as if asleep. In front of him he had a jug with beer in it. The landlord and five or six men were present. The sergeant waited a little time to see if anything was said, and then spoke to the man, who was very incoherent in his answers. Sergeant O'Leary then asked the landlord how he accounted for having the man in that condition in the house. The landlord said, 'Yes, I know he has had too much, but he has had nothing to drink here.' When asked why he allowed him to remain, he said, 'He has not been here above 10 or 15 minutes.' The sergeant asked the landlord if he (Murphy) had been out of the house from the first time he came in, till then. In answer, Jones said, 'No; when he came in he sat down on that bench, and has been sitting there since.' Before the man Murphy went out he said, 'Let me drink my beer first.' The sergeant said, 'Is that your beer?' and he replied in the affirmative, and said, 'I will drink it before I go.' The landlord said, 'You won't.' Murphy had been fined for his drunkenness on this occasion.

Sergeant O'Leary gave evidence supporting these statements and supplemented them by telling the Court that a man in the house claimed Murphy's ale to be his. This man, however, had a cup of ale in front of him, and Murphy was at a table by himself. Cross examined by Mr. Willcock, the landlord did not tell him he had been trying to get the man out of the house. PC O'Hara said on oath that he visited the house at 9-40 (three quarters of an hour before the sergeant's visit), and noticed Murphy was drunk. He visited the house afterwards with the sergeant.

Mr. Willcock urged for the defence that the man Murphy came into the house at about 9-15 in an intoxicated condition, and refused to leave. He was at last coaxed out, but returned again. The landlord's attention was called to the matter, but before he came into the room the officers arrived. He had not adopted the tactics of some barmen, and pitched the man out neck and crop, and thus the man was on the premises when the police came.

Thomas Costello, a striker, of Portway Road, stated that the ale mentioned by the police, which Murphy claimed, was his (witness), and that Murphy did go out for half an hour and return.

Numerous other witnesses were called for the defence, and after a lengthy hearing a fine of £1 and costs, amounting to £3 15s 6d, was inflicted."

1901 Census

4, Portway Road

- [1] John Jones (53), blacksmith, born Tipton;
- [2] Betsey Jones (47), wife, born Tipton;
- [3] Florence Jones (23), daughter, dressmaker, born Tipton;
- [4] Annie Jones (22), daughter, shop assistant, born Tipton;
- [5] John Jones (20), son, bricklayer's apprentice, born Tipton;
- [6] Mary Jones (13), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Sydney Jones (10), son, born Tipton;
- [8] Beatrice Jones (8), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Dorothy Jones (2), daughter, born Wednesbury;

Wednesbury Leader 21/9/1901

"Wednesbury Adjourned Licensing Sessions.....

Mr. A. J. Glover applied for the renewal of the license of the FORESTERS ARMS, Portway Road. John Jones is the present holder of the license.

The police objections to the license were a conviction for drunkenness, and that the landlord did not produce satisfactory evidence of good character License renewed."

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/9/1901

"Wednesbury Adjourned Licensing Sessions.....

Superintendent Salt objected to the renewal of the licenses, in consequence of convictions, of the following houses..... FORESTERS ARMS INN, Portway Road.....

The magistrates renewed all the licenses but Mr. Joynson pointed out that if any of the applicants were again convicted they would in all probability lose the licenses."

Wednesbury Leader 12/10/1901

“At Wednesbury Police Court on Friday, before Aldermen R. Williams, I. Oldbury, and Mr. F. W. Hackwood, a man named Edwin Hudson (50), of no fixed abode, but who has been living in apartments at Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, was charged with obtaining various sums of money by false pretences, and with intent to defraud, between the 17th September and 3rd October.

The evidence showed that prisoner represented himself to be in the employ of the Midland Advertising Company, Wolverhampton, and canvassed for advertisements for the Wolverhampton Wanderers Fixture Card. He secured 2s 6d from Frank Turbot, manager of the South Staffordshire Coffee House, Market Place; 4s 6d from Benjamin E. Pewtriss, tobacconist, Market Place; 5s from Herbert E. Kent, of the CROWN AND CUSHION INN; 5s from William H. Hadley, GREEN DRAGON INN, Market Place; 2s 6d from James Faulkner, BULLS HEAD INN; 2s from William Macdonald, THREE SWANS INN; 5s from Frank Bateman, licensed victualler, High Street; 2s 6d from Edward Phillips, BRITANNIA INN, Trowse Lane; 2s 6d from John Jones, FORRESTERS ARMS, Portway Road; and 2s 6d from Albert Newbould, OLD PACK HORSE, Dudley Street.

Frederick L. Hodgetts, of the Penn Road, Wolverhampton, said he was a partner in the Midland Advertising Company. Prisoner had been in their employ, but left on the 27th April. He had not been connected with the company since, and was not authorised to canvass for advertisements.

Detective Truswell deposed to effecting the arrest of prisoner.

Alderman Oldbury (to prisoner): Didn't you consider you had a lot of 'flats' to deal with in Wednesbury? I am surprised that tradesmen should give their money away without even asking for a receipt. They must be very confiding.

Prisoner was committed to take his trial at the Sessions, which commence on Tuesday next.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/10/1901

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Edwin Hudson, 50, traveller, pleaded guilty to having obtained various sums of money by false pretences at Wednesbury, on September 17. There were previous convictions against the prisoner, who was sentenced to three years' penal servitude.”

John Jones, beer retailer, 4, Portway Road. [1904]

1911 Census

4, Portway Road – FORRESTERS ARMS

[1] Edward Willetts (23), tube patcher, acetylene gas, born Wednesbury;

[2] Clara Jane Willetts (23), wife, married 1 year, born Wednesbury:

Edward Willetts, beer retailer, 4, Portway Road. [1912]

Walsall Observer 15/2/1913

“Wednesbury Licensing Sessions.....

The whole of the licenses would be renewed except the FORESTERS ARMS, Portway Road, and the PRINCE OF WALES, King Street, and notice had given to the superintendent to oppose them on the ground of redundancy.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/3/1913

“Wednesbury. Thursday.....

Mr. A. J. Glover applied for the renewal of the license of the FORESTERS ARMS beerhouse, Portway Road, which was opposed on the ground of redundancy, as representing the tenant and the owners, Millward Brothers, of Wednesbury. The license was referred to the Compensation Authority.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/6/1913 - Notice

"The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County Of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1910, by the Compensation Authority for the above Area, will be held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, at 10.45 o'clock am, on Thursday, the 24th day of July, 1913.

And Notice Is Hereby Also Given, that the Compensation Authority will at the Meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the Renewal of the Licenses of the several Premises specified in the subjoined list, all those Persons to whom under the Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard.....

List of Licensed Premises.....

FORESTERS ARMS, Portway Road, Wednesbury. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee Joseph William Slater."

Staffordshire Advertiser 16/8/1913 - Notice

"The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County Of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 24th day of July, 1913, to Refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below, all Persons Claiming to be Interested in the said Premises for the purpose of the Payment of Compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensee and the Registered Owner of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority Notice of their Claims before the 7th day of September, 1913, for the purpose of enabling the Compensation Authority to ascertain in manner provided by the Licensing Rules, 1910, the Persons entitled to Compensation under the said Act, in respect of the said Premises.....

FORESTERS ARMS, Portway Road, Wednesbury. Beerhouse ante 1869. Licensee, Joseph William Slater. Registered Owner, Millward Brothers."

Birmingham Daily Post 7/1/1914

"The annual report of the County Licensing Committee.....

At the principal meeting of the compensation authority the committee refused to renew 31 licenses. At the supplemental meeting the committee went in great detail into all the figures submitted to them upon which the persons interested claimed compensation, and heard evidence put forward by the claimants. The committee consider that the amounts of compensation agreed upon were satisfactory, both from the point of view of the parties interested and the Compensation Fund. In the following 27 cases the committee fixed the compensation.....

FORESTERS ARMS, Portway Road, Wednesbury, £500."

It closed in 1913.

Wednesbury.—Important Sale of FREEHOLD OLD-ESTABLISHED BEERHOUSE.—TUESDAY NEXT, October 5.
BELCHER & SON have received instructions to Sell by Public Auction, upon the above date, at the White Horse Hotel, Wednesbury, at Half-past Seven o'clock precisely—the Old-established LICENSED BEERHOUSE, known as the "FORESTER'S ARMS INN," situate in Portway Road, Wednesbury aforesaid, and let to Messrs. Millward Brothers at an annual rental of £28.
The Property is situate in close proximity to several large and important Works, in a thickly-populated district, and is in fair condition of repair.
For further particulars, apply to the Auctioneers, Bank Chambers, Wednesbury and Darlaston; or to George Rose, Esq., Solicitor, Wednesbury.

FORGE

Franchise Street / 47, Beebee Road, (58+59, Cobden Street), Fallings Heath, Kings Hill, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Highgate (Walsall) Brewery Co. Ltd. [1934]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1939) [1984]
Highgate and Walsall Brewery Ltd. [1997]

LICENSEES

William Moreton [1881]
Robert Hodson [1883] manager
James Cox Hodson [1891] – [1893]
Ellen Greenhouse [1895] – [1901]
Ellen Cope [1911]
Charles Hotchkiss [1926] – [1929]
Ernest Turley (1935 – 1960)
Clarence P Thomas [1939] – [1942]
Arthur George Roberts []
Norman Alfred Sydney King [1961] – 1963;
James William Yeomans (1963 – [1966]
Geoff Gaulton (1972 – [1983]
Noel Sadlier [1993]
Paul Pugh (1996 – [1997]
Anthony Edward Mellia [2007]

c1920s

NOTES

47, Beebee Road [1940]

It was a home brew house.

1881 Census

58+59, Cobden Street – FORGE TAVERN

- [1] William Moreton (49), publican and grocer, born Darlaston;
- [2] Mary Moreton (52), wife, born Snedshill, Shropshire;
- [3] Martha Moreton (21), daughter, born Wednesbury;

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/5/1883

“George Greenhouse and Joseph Lunn, ironworkers, Wood Green, were charged with refusing to quit the FORGE TAVERN, Fallings Heath, and also with assaulting the manager, Robert Hodson. On the 16th inst the defendants went to the public house when in a drunken state, and upon the manager refusing to supply them with ale they assaulted him in a most brutal manner. The magistrates fined each of the defendants 30s, or in default a month’s imprisonment with hard labour.”

1891 Census

58+59 Cobden Street

- [1] James C. Hodson (40), grocer, born Bilston;
- [2] Ellen Hodson (36), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Martha Hodson (12), niece, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Charles Hodgkiss (6), nephew, born Darlaston;
- [5] Elizabeth Peters (19), domestic servant, born Wolverhampton:

Birmingham Daily Post 30/9/1893

“The adjourned licensing session for Wednesbury borough took place yesterday.....

There were seventeen transfers applied for, and all were allowed except one, an application for a transfer of the FORGE TAVERN beerhouse, Kings Hill, from James Cox Hodson to Ellen Hotchkiss. Mr. Willcock opposed on behalf of relatives of the former on the ground that the man and woman were living together as man and wife, Hodson having been living apart from his lawful wife for seventeen years. Hotchkiss did not appear, and Mr. Foster (Wolverhampton) applied for the license to be re-transferred to Hodson. On the suggestion of Mr. Willcock, Hodson was put in the box, and he admitted the allegation with regard to himself and Hotchkiss. He consented to turn the woman out and take back his wife if the license were renewed, and on those conditions the license was renewed to him.”

Worcester Journal 31/8/1895

“On Friday last Mrs. Greenhouse, a widow, of the FORGE TAVERN, Wednesbury, who had been visiting at Rock, was driving into Bewdley with another lady, when in Welshgate the horse was frightened by two dogs which were fighting. The animal was a little restive, and Mrs. Greenhouse jumped out of the trap. Her feet caught in the reins, and she was thrown with great force against some stone steps, sustaining serious injuries to her head. The other lady retained her seat, and the horse went through the town safely and not very rapidly, being stopped upon the bridge. Drs. T. and G. Webster and Pennington attended to Mrs. Greenhouse, who was afterwards removed to the Kidderminster Infirmary, where she was detained.”

1901 Census

Cobden Street – FORGE TAVERN

- [1] Ellen Greenhouse (45), unmarried, publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Charles Hotchkiss (16), nephew, helper in public house, born Darlaston;
- [3] Alice Hotchkiss (13), niece, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Harry Cope (39), unmarried, brewer, born Bilston:

1911 Census

Cobden Street – FORGE TAVERN

- [1] Ellen Cope (54), innkeeper, married 8 years, born Bilston;
- [2] Harry Cope (43), husband, born Bilston:

Charles Hotchkiss = Charles Hodgkiss

Black Country Bugle 22/1/2004

‘Pulling Pints with the Tavern Keeping Phippses of Darlaston Green’

“.....Charles and Mary Hotchkiss moved to the OLD FORGE TAVERN. The pub belonged to Joe Phipps’ Aunt Nell and she sold it to the Highgate Brewery. The brewery demolished the old inn and built a new pub on the same site, which immediately earned the soubriquet the NEW FORGE TAVERN and they asked Charlie and Mary to run the place. The official opening of the new pub was a real affair, with the Mayor and local councillors in attendance.”

[Mary and her previous husband, Joseph Phipps, ran the FREEMASONS ARMS, Darlaston.]

Dudley Chronicle 16/9/1926

"A case was heard at Wednesbury Police Court on September 7, before the Deputy Stipendiary (Mr. J. E. Mitchell) in which three persons were involved. Frederick James Richardson, 130, Holloway Bank, Hill Top, was summoned for selling a motor car to Charles Hotchkiss, FORGE TAVERN, Cobden Street, Wednesbury, and failing to hand him the registration book; while Hotchkiss, who sold the car to George Perkins, 68, Cook Street, Wednesbury, was summoned for a similar offence. Perkins then sold it to Linneaus Cutler, and failed to hand over the registration, and he was further summoned for failing to deliver it to the local taxation authority after inserting his name and address in it. Mr. E. E. Brown prosecuted and Mr. G. W. Smith defended Hotchkiss and Perkins.

Mr. Brown, in outlining the case, said that Richardson was the original owner of the car, and on August 29th, 1925, sold it to Hotchkiss. The latter had the car until July 24th of this year, when he sold it to Perkins, and the latter only had it two days, for he sold it to Cutler for £4 on July 25th. Richardson failed to hand over the registration book to Hotchkiss, and failed to notify the transfer to the authority. Richardson, said, however, that the book was handed over, and that Hotchkiss must have lost it. Hotchkiss said that was all bluff, however, as he never had it, but it should have been his duty to seek it out, added Mr. Brown, when he sold it to Perkins. There had been wholesale violation of the regulations, which was discovered as the result of an accident occurring.

PC House said that at 4pm on July 25th he was called to the scene of an accident in Hardwicke Road, Streetly. He noticed there was no excise license for the car, and in response to an enquiry Perkins stated that he was the owner of it. He subsequently sold it to Mr. Cutler, of the Hardwicke Garage, Streetly, and promised to send him the registration book but failed to do so, and Cutler notified the authority that the car was now out of use.

PC Wedge stated that he saw Hotchkiss on August 20th and told him he had come about the change of ownership of the car he had bought from Richardson and sold to Perkins. Hotchkiss said he had never had the registration book, and did not know such a thing existed until the man who bought the car from Perkins asked for it. The next day witness saw Richardson, who said his brother sold the car for him, and handed the book to Hotchkiss. Richardson gave evidence of seeing his brother hand the book to Hotchkiss.

At this point Mr. Mitchell said the case against Richardson would have to be dismissed, as the proceedings were taken after the time allowed.

The Stipendiary considered there had been neglect on the part of the other two defendants, and they were each fined £5 and £2 0s 6d special costs, while Perkins was also fined 20s on the second summons."

Walsall Observer 25/5/1929

"Members of the FORGE TAVERN Social Club, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, had their annual outing on Monday, when they left the din and bustle of the factory and workshop for the brighter scenes of Blackpool. The party of about sixty members started in the early hours of the morning, and Blackpool being reached, some thirteen hours were at disposal to visit the various attractions that abound at the popular pleasure resort. The arrangements were ably carried out by Mr. C. Hodgkiss. Home was reached early on Tuesday."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 10/3/1934

"Wednesbury Licensing Committee yesterday.....

An application was made by Mr. A. J. Long (barrister) on behalf of the Highgate Walsall Brewery Co., for removal of the license from FORGE INN, Cobden Street, Wednesbury, to a house and premises to be erected about 50 yards away, at the corner of Franchise Street and Beebee Road.

Objecting, the Rev. W. Christie said that Franchise Street was adequately provided for. He was afraid that women would be attracted from their homes to a 'modern gin palace.'

The Mayor (Councillor P. Griffiths) announced that the Bench had no objection to the removal, but they would be prepared to consider something in keeping with the present house so far as the drinking area was concerned. This was adjourned for 14 days."

Evening Despatch 23/3/1934

"Wednesbury Licensing Magistrates today heard the adjourned application of Highgate Brewery Co., of Walsall, for the removal of the license of the FORGE TAVERN, Cobden Street, to premises to be built at the corner of Franchise Street and Beebee Road.

The magistrates provisionally approved the removal, which will be submitted to a meeting of the confirming authority in a month's time."

Walsall Observer 21/4/1934

“Wednesbury Licensing Justices sitting as a Confirming Authority, yesterday.....

The Bench confirmed the granting of the application of Highgate (Walsall) Brewery Co. Ltd, for the removal of the license of the FORGE TAVERN (beerhouse ‘on’) Cobden Street, Wednesbury, to a house and premises to be erected at the corner of Franchise Street and Beebee Road, Wednesbury.”

Walsall Observer 24/4/1937

“Wednesbury Licensing Justices yesterday confirmed the granting of wine licenses to.....

FORGE TAVERN, corner of Franchise Street and Beebee Road, Wednesbury.”

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....

Highgate houses.....

FORGE TAVERN, Wednesbury.”

1939 Register

Beebee Road – FORGE TAVERN

[1] Clarence Thomas, date of birth 5/12/1897, publican, ARP warden, married;

[2] Beatrice Thomas, dob 1/4/1902, domestic duties, married;

[3] Constance (Thomas) Wistance, dob 5/6/1921, fancy leather worker, single;

[4] Eric Thomas, dob 1/11/1926, school, single:

Walsall Observer 6/6/1942 - Advert

“Heartiest Congratulations to Constance Mary, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Thomas, FORGE TAVERN, Wednesbury, on attaining her Majority, June 5th. Love and best wishes. From Mom, Dad, and Eric.”

Ernest Turley was president of Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers Association 1955-1968.

Ernest Turley – see also WODEN, Church Hill, Wednesbury, KINGS HILL TAVERN, Mill Street, Wednesbury, BUSH, Leabrook Road, Tipton, and WHEATSHEAF, Wordsley, Stourbridge.

Tipton Herald 7/7/1956

“A verdict in accordance with the medical evidence was recorded at the inquest at Wednesbury on Wednesday on Arthur George Roberts (63), of 58, Alexandra Road, Kings Hill, who was formerly engaged in the licensing trade at the STAR, Wood Green, and later at the FORGE TAVERN, Franchise Street.

Mrs. Frances Ellen Roberts, widow, said her husband had once been a steel presser but had retired because of ill health.

Mr. Frank Cooper, Coroner, said he would return a formal verdict in accordance with the evidence that death was from niyocordia degeneration due to chronic bronchitis, materially accelerated by pneumoconiosis.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 25/5/1967 - Advert

“Barmaid required, part-time, evenings and weekends, learners considered.

Apply, FORGE TAVERN, FRANCHISE Street, Wednesbury. James Bridge 2777.”

A team from here took part in the Bloxwich Combination Football League. [1971/72]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 19/9/1975 - Advert

“Bar Staff required, evenings and weekends.

Apply, The Manager, The FORGE, Franchise Street, Wednesbury.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 27/8/1983

“Black Country landlord Geoff Gaulton is forging a new link in Wednesbury’s chain of pubs with a £85,000 facelift for one of the town’s most popular public house. The FORGE in Franchise Street re-opened fully this week after six months of work designed to give the pub a new lease of life. Landlord Geoff, who with his wife Millicent, has run the pub for 11 years said, ‘It’s like starting over again, it is very exciting. The pub has retained many of its old characteristics, but at the same time it has a new look about it. We are delighted with the result.’ The lounge and bar at the FORGE have been renovated and redecorated with the lounge boasting a modern long bar and discreet disco lighting. Mr. Gaulton said, ‘We never completely closed the pub, and the regulars have been very patient, drinking while work has gone on around them. I am sure they will be happy with the final outcome.’”

Birmingham Mail 13/2/1984 - Advert

“Look What’s on at Your Local.

St. Valentine’s Night Party. Tuesday February 14th.

There’s fun and games at your M&B local tomorrow night.

Super St. Valentine’s Night Prizes to be won. A great atmosphere. Surprises galore.

Don’t miss out on a great St. Valentine’s Night out at the your M&B local. See you tomorrow.....

FORGE TAVERN, Franchise Street, Wednesbury.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 11/6/1993

“A Wednesbury licensee permitted late drinking at his pub and allowed another to be run without a license, a court heard. Police found several late night drinkers at Noel Sadlier’s pub on two successive days, Mr. John Charnock, prosecuting, told magistrates at West Bromwich.

Sadlier (43), of the FORGE TAVERN, Franchise Street, pleaded guilty to nine charges of aiding and abetting the consumption of alcohol outside permitted hours and three offences under the 1964 Licensing Act. He was fined a total of £604 with £30 costs.

Michael Duffy (40), of the GREEN DRAGON, Church Street, Darlaston, who was employed by Sadlier to run the KINGS HILL TAVERN in Darlaston Road, admitted three charges under the 1964 Licensing Act. He was fined a total of £200 with £20 costs.

Mr. Charnock said police investigating a burglary found the KINGS HILL TAVERN was being managed by another person instead of Duffy, who held the license. Duffy had put him in charge after being told by Sadlier to manage the BLACK HORSE HOTEL, in Old Park Road, Wednesbury, for which he did not have a license.

The officers visited the FORGE TAVERN where, on two days running, they found Sadlier blatantly allowing the consumption of alcohol after hours.

Sadlier told the court there was a total mix-up over the license transfers and that late drinking at the FORGE occurred during St. Valentine celebrations when the pub was packed.

Dorothy Thomas, defending Duffy, said he was out of work when Sadlier came into his wife’s pub and offered him the job at the KINGS HILL TAVERN. He was granted the license, but was then moved by Sadlier to the BLACK HORSE.”

Birmingham Mail 28/6/1995 - Advert

“FORGE TAVERN, Franchise Street, Wednesbury, WS10.

T-Bone Steaks, £4.95. 8oz Rump Steaks, £2.99. Childrens meals, 75p. Sunday Lunches.

Beer garden with childrens play area.

Homecooked food available Mon-Sat 12noon-2pm, 6pm-8pm.

Ring for details of evening entertainment. 0121 526 2777.”

Walsall Observer 24/1/1997

“Highgate Brewery will be bringing a taste of Burns Night to Walsall this weekend. The local brewery plans to pipe in its very own brand of haggis to four of their pubs. They intend to marinade the haggis in their own whisky beer which is brewed at their Walsall headquarters in Sandymount Road. Similar activities will be taking place at other Highgate hostelrys including.....

FORGE, Franchise Street, in Wednesbury.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 10/9/1997

“A Black Country pub is drumming up support after bursting back on to the live music scene. Paul Pugh, licensee at the FORGE TAVERN, in Franchise Street, Wednesbury, took over a year ago and one of his first aims was to restore regular entertainment. Live acts are now being featured at the pub every Friday and this week Stars in Your Eyes entrant Peter Elliot will be doing his impression of singing super-star Stevie Wonder. Paul said, ‘The FORGE has always been a well-known and popular venue for live music and it was a shame that it stopped in 1995. I believe good music is part of a Friday night out, so when we refurbished the pub we built a stage area.’

The pub is owned by Walsall-based brewers Highgate and Walsall Brewing Company who went independent two years ago after many years as part of the Bass empire.”

[2015]

Closed [2018]

Express & Star 23/11/2023

“An attempt to convert the former FORGE TAVERN pub in Wednesbury into a community centre was turned down by Sandwell Council earlier this year over concerns about the lack of car parking provided. But now the charity behind the plan, New Hope Global, has turned to the government’s planning inspectors, who have the power to overrule the council, in a bid to get the decision overturned.....

The efforts to breathe new life into the boarded-up pub, which closed in 2016, have included two separate applications to convert the building into an Islamic tuition centre. Sandwell Council rejected those plans in 2018 and again in 2021 over concerns that poor public transport links and its out-of-town-centre location could cause severe parking problems in the surrounding residential streets. More plans to convert the pub into a community centre then came forward but were rejected in 2022 and in May this year. An earlier plan to convert the former watering hole into a house of multiple occupation was approved by the council in 2017, but the work was never carried out.”

Express & Star 23/2/2024

“An attempt to convert the former FORGE TAVERN pub in Franchise Street, Wednesbury, into a community centre was turned down by Sandwell Council last year over concerns about the lack of car parking spaces. An appeal was then launched in a bid to get the decision overturned, but the government’s planning inspectors sided with the council.....”

Express & Star 8/4/2025

“A plan to convert an empty pub into an HMO has been given the green light by councillors. Nearly decade-old plans to turn the former FORGE TAVERN in Wednesbury into an eight-bed house of multiple occupation (HMO) were revived at the start of the year after moves to turn the old watering hole into an Islamic tuition centre were rejected by Sandwell Council. The local authority’s planners have turned down several moves to bring the old pub back to life in the last eight years including two moves to open the tuition centre and two separate bids for a new community centre. Sandwell Council’s planning committee approved the conversion for a second time in eight years at a meeting in Oldbury on April 2.”

2007

2014

HEARTIEST Congratulations to Constance Mary, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Thomas, "Forge Tavern," Wednesbury, on attaining her Majority, June 5th. Love and best wishes.—From Mom, Dad and Eric.

1942

BARMAID required, part-time, evenings and weekends, learners considered.
Apply Forge Tavern, Franchise- street, Wednesbury. James Bridge 2777.

1967

BAR STAFF required, evenings and weekends.
Apply:
The Manager,
THE FORGE,
Franchise Street,
Wednesbury.

1975

LOOK WHAT'S ON AT YOUR LOCAL'S

St. Valentine's Night Party

Tuesday February 14th

There's fun and games at your M&B local tomorrow night.
★ Super St. Valentine's Night Prizes to be won.
★ A great atmosphere.
★ Surprises galore.
Don't miss out on a great St. Valentine's Night out at your M&B local.
See you tomorrow

Toby Jug, Chester Road, Castle Bromwich.	Gaiety, Crocketts Lane, Smethwick.
Engins, High Street, Hampton in Arden.	Swan, Oldbury Road, Smethwick.
Happy Trooper, Greenlands Road, Chesham Wood.	Sacks of Potatoes, 10 Gosta Green, Birmingham 4.
Capers Wine Bar, High Street, West Bromwich.	Royal George, 350 Summer Lane, Hockley.
Forge Tavern, Franchise Street, Wednesbury.	Pig & Whistle, Bissell Street, Birmingham B12.
Mitfielda, Rydding Lane, Wednesbury.	Castle & Falcon, Moseley Road, Birmingham B12.
Four In Hand, Tenscore Street, West Bromwich.	Crown, Henley Road, Claverdon.
Fourways, 2 Portway Hill, Rowley Regis, Warley.	Hardwicke Arms, Chester Road, Streeley.
The Monica, Somerville Road, Small Heath.	Robin Hood, Stratford Road, Hall Green.
Village Arms, Yardley.	Pickwick, Tanworth Lane, Shirley.
Brookhill, Alum Rock Road, Alum Rock.	Ben Johnson, Corporation Street, Birmingham.
Crown, Monkspath, Shirley.	Queens Head, Steelhouse Lane, Birmingham.
Stirrup Cup, 208 Hornell Road, Sheldon.	Woodpecker, Turves Green, Northfield.
Dolphin, Warwick Road, Acoccs Green.	Cock, Rubery.
Buccaneer, Chester Road, Streetly.	Covered Waggon, Yardley Wood Road, Moseley.
Yards Court, Walsall Road, Perry Barr.	Brighton Hotel, Sparkhill.
Shades, Sainsbury Centre, Sutton Coldfield.	Court Oak, Court Oak Road, Harborne.
Hunters Moon, Coleshill Road, Castle Bromwich.	Full Moon, Hurst Green Road, Halesowen.
Bagot, Eachelhurst Road, Pye Hayes.	New Talbot, Hagley Road.
Red Lion, Station Road, Erdington.	George, George Road, Warley.
	King Edward VII, Lichfield Road, Aston.
	St. Vincent, St. Vincent Street, Ladywood.

1984

FORGE TAVERN

Franchise Street,
Wednesbury, WS10

T-Bone Steaks . . . £4.95
8oz Rump Steaks . £2.99
Childrens meals 75p

SUNDAY LUNCHES
Beer garden with childrens play area
Homecooked food available
Mon-Sat 12noon-2pm, 6pm-8pm
Ring for details of evening entertainment
0121 526 2777

1995

FORTUNE OF WAR

36, (35), (32), Trowse Lane / Wellcroft Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Samuel Sansom

Edgar Evans, Wellhead Brewery, Perry Barr [1892]

Mrs. S. E. Williamson [1921]

Atkinsons Ltd. [1940], [1955]

LICENSEES

Samuel Sansom [1834] – 1870);

Mrs. Elizabeth Sansom (1870 – []

Miss Rhoda Sansom [1871]

Miss Elizabeth Sansom [1881]

Moses Perry [1891] – [1892]

Charles William Horton [] – 1892);

Edgar Evans (1892 – [1904]

Thomas Partridge [1892] manager

Mrs. Elizabeth Amos [1901]

William Richards [1908]

Thomas William Nicholls [1911] – [1915]

James Lines [1916] – [1921]

Harry Day (1924 – 1925);

Albert Follows (1925 – []

Harry Pitcock (1929 – [1946]

NOTES

32, Trowse Lane [1872]

35, Trowse Lane [1896], [1904], [1908], [1912], [1916], [1921]

36, Trowse Lane [1881], [1892], [1899], [1901], [1911], [1932], [1938], [1939], [1940]

It had a beerhouse license.

Tokens were issued from here.

Samuel Sansom, beer retailer, Trowse Lane. [1835], [1841]

1841 Census

Trowse Lane

[1] Samuel Sansom (30), gun lock maker, born Staffordshire;

[2] Elizabeth Sansom (30), born Staffordshire;

[3] Dinah Sansom (5), born Staffordshire;

[4] Elizabeth Sansom (3), born Staffordshire;

[5] Rohda Sansom (2), born Staffordshire;

[6] Caroline Hartill (25), f.s. born Staffordshire:

Samuel Sansom, retailer of beer, Trowse Lane. [1842]

Samuel Sansom, beer retailer and gun lock maker, Trowse Lane. [1849], [1850]

1851 Census

Trouse Lane

- [1] Samuel Sansom (41), proprietor of houses, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Elizabeth Sansom (41), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Dinah Sansom (14), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Elizabeth Sansom (13), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Rhoda Sansom (12), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/4/1855

“The election of Guardians for the different parishes comprised in the West Bromwich Union have just taken place, with the following results.....

Wednesbury, successful candidates Samuel Sansom.”

Birmingham Journal 29/9/1855

“A Special Sessions was held at the Scott Arms, Great Barr, on Wednesday last, to determine with reference to sixty-three new applications for spirit licenses made in the division.....

Samuel Sansom, Trouse Lane, Wednesbury, supported by Mr. Bailey (Wednesbury), not opposed Granted.”

Birmingham Daily Post 11/3/1859

“Election of Guardians and Local Board of Health.

On Wednesday evening a public meeting, called by the Wednesbury Ratepayers Protection Association, was held at Mr. Sansom's, FORTUNE OF WAR, Trouse Lane. Mr. John Danks was called to the chair, and Mr. William Perry, the active secretary to the association, read the report of the committee for the past year, and from the balance sheet appended thereto it appeared that there was, after paying the expenses up to the present time, a balance left in the treasurer's hands.....”

[Samuel Sansom was the treasurer of the association.]

1861 Census

Trouse Lane

- [1] Samuel Sansom (51), innkeeper, born Wednesbury;
 - [2] Elizabeth Sansom (51), wife, born Wednesbury;
- AND (5 entries further on)

Trouse Lane

- [1] Elizabeth Sansom (23), barmaid, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Rhoda Sansom (22), barmaid, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Ann Hales (26), domestic servant, born Leamington;

Birmingham Daily Gazette 14/1/1864

“Yesterday an inquest was held at the house of Mr. Sansom, the FORTUNE OF WAR INN, on the body of John Ryan, a labourer who died from injuries received at the Willingsworth Furnaces, Tipton, on the 30th ult.

The combined evidence of Edward Trow, a furnace keeper, and John Lloyd, the furnace manager, went to show that on the day named, after the iron had been drawn from the furnace and the blast put, on an explosion took place, and the deceased, who was working about thirty feet away, was very severely injured. Five other persons were also hurt, and the injuries of one of these was expected to terminate fatally. Most of the workmen near the furnace at the time jumped into the canal and dragged the deceased and the others, whose clothes were on fire, after them. Subsequently, the deceased was conveyed home, where he received every needful attention at the cost of Messrs. Haines, the proprietors of the works, but death terminated his sufferings on Sunday.

The explosion was ascribed to a leakage in one of the tuyeres, which was proved to have been in good condition, both when put into the furnace on the preceding Sunday and also shortly before the accident.

Mary Reading spoke to the death of the deceased, and also to the regular visits of Mr. Male, surgeon. She added, also, that the deceased never complained, that the occurrence was not due to the negligence of any person.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 18/5/1864

“Yesterday Mr. E. Hooper, District Coroner, held and inquest at the FORTUNE OF WAR INN, Wednesbury, on the body of Samuel Henley, eleven months old, who had died on Sunday last.

It appeared that the infant had been ailing more or less during the last eight months, and on Saturday night last he became seriously indisposed. At six o'clock on the ensuing morning the mother was awoken by the crying of her child. The father, Henry Henley, a labourer, was from home on night work, and his wife called in Mrs. Parkes, a neighbour, to her assistance, but the child expired in a few minutes. Mr. Howett, surgeon, was sent for, and instantly attended. He said the child had died of convulsions, and a similar opinion as to the previous ailments of the child was pronounced by Mr. Duce, the medical gentleman who had attended on the former occasions. The parents were in sick societies, from which they would receive the sum of £3 10s. There were no less than five of their children who had died of apoplexy and convulsions. The Coroner said the reason he had held the inquiry was in consequence of Police-Superintendent Holland having received a note from Mr. Howett which did not assign any cause of death. The jury thought that medical evidence was unnecessary, and returned a verdict of Died from Natural Causes.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 11/1/1865

“A few evenings ago, a numerously-attended meeting of operative carpenters and joiners of Wednesbury and district, took place at the FORTUNE OF WAR INN, when it was unanimously resolved not to accept the discharge note on any consideration. It was further resolved to form a society at once in connection with the general union, the men being desirous, as they themselves phrase it, of being ‘in a position to protect themselves on any future occasion against the inroads of unprincipled employers.’”

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/9/1866

“A meeting to inaugurate the Wednesbury Reform Association was held in the Public Hall, Earps Lane, on Thursday evening. Mr. W. Perry presided, and about 400 persons were present. Mr. Perry, the chairman, was appointed president of the association for the year, Mr. Samuel Sansom treasurer, and the Rev. J. Turner secretary. A committee was also appointed. The Rev. Mr. Turner said the association was not pledged to any specific measure of reform, but they would support none that did not receive the approval of the Liberal party, and any future bill must be more comprehensive than the last, and must give direct representation to Wednesbury.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/10/1868

“The Contest for the Borough of Wednesbury.....

On Wednesday evening Mr. Brogden delivered an address at the FORTUNE OF WAR INN, Wednesbury. Mr. J. Danks presided. A vote of confidence in Mr. Brogden was heartily carried.”

[Alexander Brogden was Liberal MP for Wednesbury from 1868 to 1885.]

Samuel Sansom died in the 4th quarter of 1869.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sansom = Mrs. Elizabeth Sansome

Rhoda Sansom – Rhoda Sansome

1871 Census

Trouse Lane – FORTUNE OF WAR INN

[1] Rhoda Sansome (31), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Ann Hales (40), general servant, born Leamington:

AND (next entry)

1, Hall End

[1] Elizabeth Sansome (62), retired farmer's widow, born Wednesbury;

[2] Elizabeth Sansome (32), daughter, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1871

"Elizabeth Sansome, of the FORTUNE OF WAR, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury, was charged in the Police Court, yesterday, with permitting drunkenness in her house. The offence was committed during the recent wake. Mr. Bailey, solicitor, appeared for the defence, and called upon the police, who testified to the usually excellent manner in which his client conducted a house that had been equally well kept by her husband between thirty and forty years. The Stipendiary ordered a fine of £1 and costs."

Birmingham Daily Post 17/10/1871

"Staffordshire Quarter Sessions....."

Ann Hewitt (30), Phoebe Cotterill (24), and Job Cotterill (24), were charged with stealing from the person of Job Haynes, on the 12th September, 1871, at Wednesbury, the sum of £96 10s, and three five pound notes. Mr. Young was for the prosecution. On the day named, the prosecutor having been to a fair, went into a public house at Wednesbury, called the FORTUNE OF WAR, and there he saw the prisoner Hewitt, and he treated her with some sherry, and afterwards 'took her a walk' down the road. The other prisoners then came up, and ultimately he was knocked down, and Hewitt took the money from his breast pocket, and it was afterwards found at her home. The prisoners were found guilty, and sentenced, Phoebe Cotterill to seven years' penal servitude (previous conviction), Job Cotterill to one year's imprisonment, and Hewitt to three months' imprisonment."

Mrs. Elizabeth Sansom died in the 3rd quarter of 1876.

Midland Examiner 24/1/1877

"Wednesbury Liberal Association. On Tuesday evening, a further meeting was held at the FORTUNE OF WAR INN, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury, for the purpose of electing representatives for the Church Hill district....."

Rhoda Sansom married Austin Clews in the 1st quarter of 1880.

Miss Elizabeth Sansom = Miss Elizabeth Sansome

1881 Census

36, Trowse Lane – FORTUNE OF WAR INN

[1] Elizabeth Sansom (43), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Anne Hales (45), domestic servant, born Leamington:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 2/12/1885

"On Tuesday afternoon, Mr. E. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest at the FORTUNE OF WAR INN, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury, touching the death of Elizabeth Lloyd (69), wife of the late John Lloyd, furnace manager, Bilston Road, Wednesbury. The evidence showed that deceased had been in ill-health for some years, and was subject to fits. On Sunday, the 8th ultimo, she fell downstairs, and died on Sunday last from the injuries sustained. Medical aid had been rendered. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

Birmingham Daily Post 20/1/1886

"Yesterday Mr. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest at the FORTUNE OF WAR INN, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury, on the body of Emma Lydia Newland (17), a domestic servant in the employ of Mr. T. H. Gorle, The Beeches, who lost her life on Saturday night owing to a part of an old and disused chapel in Dudley Street being blown down upon her. Mr. J. Slater, appeared on behalf of Messrs. James Russell and Sons, and Mr. Johnson, company's manager, was also present; as was Mr. Gorle, the deceased's employer

It seemed that at about eight o'clock she was walking along the footpath with Thomas William Newland, a cousin. He left her just opposite the building to cross the road, and had not reached the other side when he heard a crash and a cry, and on going to ascertain the cause found that she had been injured. He assisted to carry her to an adjoining public house, and a scar being seen on her head, and a bruise on her hand, Dr. McKenna was fetched. He expressed an opinion that she was not seriously hurt, and she was removed to her uncle's house in Hall Lane, where she died at about a quarter past eleven o'clock from the effect of the injuries she had received, being again seen by Dr. McKenna before she died.

The part of the building which had fallen upon her was the parapet, which had been blown down by the gale. The deceased's cousin said he had often remarked that the building was dangerous, and ought to come down. The building stood a few feet back from the road, but he could not say whether the materials— but for the wind — would have fallen within the boundary of the property.

A juror also said he had remarked the dangerous condition of the property, and the Coroner said that in that case he ought to have reported the matter to the Local Board.

Mr. Johnson said he saw the property daily, and had no reason to suppose it was unsafe, but since Saturday he had had a strong fence of boards put up.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, coupled with a request to the company to have this particular property inspected immediately, and in the event of its being found unsafe to have it taken down. The Coroner added that information had reached him that other properties belonging to the company were old and possibly unsafe, and he should be glad if the company would have them inspected also. Mr. Slater said the company had already decided upon the course recommended by the jury, and the Coroner's wishes would also be complied with."

1891 Census

Trouse Lane – FORTUNE OF WAR

[1] Moses Perry (51), widower, licensed victualler, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Emily Perry (25), daughter, barmaid, born Birmingham;

[3] Mary Bolland (67), aunt, widow, blind, born Tarporley, Cheshire;

[4] Emma Jane Hill (25), general servant, born West Bromwich:

Birmingham Daily Post 1/6/1891

"On Saturday, Dr. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest at the FORTUNE OF WAR, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury, on the body of Margaret Hobson, aged four years, an illegitimate child, whose mother died seven weeks ago, and who had since been living with her father, John McGuire. She had been unwell since her mother's death, but became worse at the beginning of last week, and died on Thursday. Her father said he did not send for a doctor, because he had no money to pay the fees, and he did not go to the relieving-officer for a medical note when he found how ill the child was, because he thought the parish surgeon would not have attend till the next day, which would have been too late. Verdict, Death from Natural Causes."

Birmingham Daily Post 13/7/1892

"At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, Charles William Horton, of the FORTUNE OF WAR INN, Trowse Croft, was, on the evidence of Police-constables Parton and Platt and Police-sergeant Rowbottom, fined 20s and costs for permitting drunkenness on his premises, on the 18th ult."

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1892

"The adjourned general licensing meeting for Wednesbury took place at the Police Court, yesterday.....

Mr. W. S. Smith applied for the renewal of the license of the FORTUNE OF WAR beerhouse, Trowse Lane, from a former tenant, who had been convicted for permitting drunkenness, to Edgar Evans. Granted."

Birmingham Daily Post 16/11/1892

"Yesterday, at the Police Court, Edgar Evans, of the Wellhead Brewery, Perry Barr, owner of the FORTUNE OF WAR INN, Trowse Lane, was summoned for selling during prohibited hours. Mr. R. A. Willcock defended.

Police-sergeant Maguire stated that at half-past eleven on the 26th of September he saw four men enter the FORTUNE OF WAR INN, which is managed for the defendant by a man named Thomas Partridge. He knocked at the door, and he heard a noise like the rattling of jugs and glasses inside the house. When he was admitted he saw four men with jugs and glasses before them, and the manager said he was celebrating his birthday with his friends, who had been customers in the early part of the evening.

The Stipendiary imposed a fine of 10s and costs."

Birmingham Daily Post 26/8/1893

“The first sitting of the Borough Bench for licensing purposes for the parish of Wednesbury took place yesterday.... Notice of opposition to renewal had been served upon the occupier of each of the premises where there had been a conviction for offence against license, except in the case of William Bird, of the BLUE BALL, Earps Lane, who was fined at the last court day for permitting gaming.

The renewals to be opposed were....

Edgar Evans, the FORTUNE OF WAR, Trowse Lane.

The Mayor commented with regret upon the increase in the numbers of offences and convictions shown by the returns; and the contentious business was adjourned till the adjourned licensing day, the 29th inst.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 30/9/1893

“The adjourned licensing session for Wednesbury borough took place yesterday....

There were ten adjourned cases, the police objecting to the renewals on the grounds of convictions; but all the licenses were renewed, with suitable admonitions and cautions.”

Edgar Evans was also a maltster. [1893]

Edgar Evans was also licensee of SHIP. [1896], [1904]

Edgar Evans was listed at 36, Trowse Lane on a polling list of 1899.

Edgar Evans served as a Councillor for Birchfield Ward of Handsworth District Council from 1900 for several years.

1901 Census

36, Trowse Lane

- [1] Elizabeth Amos (48), widow, publican, born Wednesbury;
- [2] W. Amos (23), son, barman, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Lizzie Amos (23), daughter, dressmaker, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Ada Amos (18), daughter, barmaid, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Florrie Amos (9), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [6] A. Grove (32), son-in-law, axle turner, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Emma Grove (27), daughter, married, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Patty Grove (4), grand-daughter, born Wednesbury;

Tipton Herald 17/4/1909

“Mr. G. C. Lewis held an inquest on Tuesday at the FORTUNE OF WAR INN, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury, on the body of Lizzie Archer, aged three weeks, whose parents reside in Wellcroft Street, Wednesbury, and who was found dead in bed on Sunday morning. It was supposed that the child, which slept with its parents, was thus suffocated. The Coroner alluded to the new Children’s Act, and called attention to the responsibilities of parents under the Act. He hoped the greatest care would be exercised by those who had charge of infants. However, in the present case he felt the parents were exonerated from any blame.

The Jury returned a verdict of Accidentally Suffocated, agreeing with the view of the Coroner in regard to the parents.”

1911 Census

Trowse Lane – FORTUNE OF WAR

- [1] Thomas W. Nicholls (50), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Mrs. Nicholls (48), wife, married 8 years, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Lilly Nicholls (16), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Thomas W. Nicholls (6), son, born Wednesbury;

Birmingham Daily Post 2/9/1915 - Advert

“The Estate of Samuel Sansom, Deceased.

Important to Brewers, Licensed Victuallers, and Investors.

Sale of Old-Established Free Freehold Fully-Licensed Home-Brewing Inn and Dwelling Houses, situate at Wednesbury. Monday, September 27, 1915.

Belcher and Son, FAI, have received instructions from the Trustees under a Settlement, re Samuel Sansom, deceased, to submit for Sale by Public Auction, at the WHITE HORSE HOTEL, Wednesbury, upon the above date, at Half-past Seven o'clock in the Evening precisely, subject to conditions to be then produced, the following Valuable Freehold Properties.

Lot 1. Two Freehold Dwelling Houses and Premises, situate and being Nos.34 and 35, in Trowse Lane, Wednesbury, producing gross £31 17s per annum.

Lot 2. The Very Valuable Old-Established Free Freehold Fully-Licensed Home-Brewing Public House and Premises, known as the FORTUNE OF WAR INN, situate at the junction of Trowse Lane and Wellcroft Street, Wednesbury, in the occupation of Mr. Thomas William Nicholls, upon an annual tenancy determinable on the 24th day of June in any year.

The purchaser may take to at a valuation in the usual way the whole of the Fixtures, Fittings, Brewing Plant, and Effects, together with the consumable Stock-in-Trade, apportionments of current Licenses, Rates, Taxes, and other usual Outgoings on the date fixed for completion.

Further particulars as to accommodation, &c, may be obtained from the Offices of the Auctioneers, Bank Chambers, Wednesbury, and Darlaston, or from Jno. H. Stockdale, Esq, Solicitor, Wednesbury and Tipton.”

[In 1922 the Trustees of Samuel Sansom, deceased, put up for auction a further nine dwelling houses.]

[In 1926 the Trustees of Rhoda Clews, deceased, and Samuel Sansom, deceased, put up for auction 16 lots of properties and building land.]

1921 Census

Trowse Lane – FORTUNE OF WAR INN

[1] James Lines (58), manager, born Oldbury;

[2] Annie Lines (47), wife, home duties, born Oldbury;

[3] Marjorie Lines (16), daughter, barmaid, born Oldbury:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 26/11/1921

“At Wednesbury Police Court yesterday, Arthur Handley, aged 29, an ex-soldier, of Old Union Street, Wednesbury, was sentenced to imprisonment for one month for stealing a gent's watch, value £4, and a lady's sports coat, value £3, the property of James Lines, FORTUNE OF WAR INN, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury. Prisoner pleaded guilty, and asked for leniency, stating that he was suffering from shell shock.”

James Lines – see also NAGS HEAD, Oldbury.

South Staffordshire Times 16/8/1924

“Wednesbury Police Court.....

When ex-PC Harry Day, of Wednesbury, applied for a temporary transfer of the FORTUNE OF WAR, Trowse Lane, the chairman jocularly asked the Police Supt., ‘Have you any evidence of character?’

Supt. Salt: I think so, considering he has had 26 years in the police force.

The application was granted.”

Walsall Observer 19/2/1938

“For riding a cycle on the Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, on February 2 without a front light, or red rear light or reflector, Frank William Pitcock, 36, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury, was fined 10s.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 22/2/1939

“The traditional Shrove Tuesday custom of tossing the pancake was observed at Wednesbury yesterday afternoon, when a crowd of more than 500 local schoolchildren scrambled in the Market Place for the largest portion of each of four pink-coloured pancakes, tossed by the Mayor (Councillor G. W. Price), Councillor F. A. Wadsworth, Mr. Charles Hollingsworth, and Mr. Harry Hollingsworth.

Prizes worth 10s each were presented to Ronald Pitcock (13), FORTUNE OF WAR, Trowse Lane.”

1939 Register

36, Trowse Lane – FORTUNE OF WAR (4 of 6)

[1] Harry Pitcock, date of birth 11/7/1896, public house keeper, moulder, iron and steel, ARP first aider, married;

[2] Annie M. Pitcock, dob 5/12/1896, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Frank W. Pitcock, dob 13/7/1920, fitter and toolroom improver, single;

[4] Joyce M. M. (Pitcock) Smith, dob 8/1/1923, electrical press assembler, single;

Birmingham Daily Post 9/3/1940

“An application at Wednesbury adjourned Licensing Sessions yesterday by Atkinson’s Brewery Company Limited, for the removal of the full license, FORTUNE OF WAR, Trowse Lane, to new premises proposed to be built on the golf course estate in Hydes Road, was refused.”

Walsall Observer 22/3/1947 - Wedding Anniversaries

“Pitcock-Morgan. On March 23, 1946, at Bloxwich Wesleyan Chapel, by the Rev. R. E. Brown, Frank, FORTUNES OF WAR, Wednesbury, to Joan, 144, Field Road, Bloxwich.”

Evening Despatch 11/3/1955

“Because they had found that the smaller type of public house was more popular today than the pre-war trend to build ‘gin palaces,’ Mr. A. W. D. Stackhouse, for Atkinsons Brewery Co. Ltd., applied to Wednesbury magistrates today for a provisional order to remove the license of the FORTUNE OF WAR, Trowse Lane, to premise proposed to be built on the Golf Course estate, at the junction of Hydes Road and Chestnut Road. The application was granted.”

[The new premises were built and the pub was named CROFT.]

Closed

Birmingham Daily Post 13/4/1957 - Advert

“Important Sale by Auction of Freehold Retail Shop Property.

Nos.18, 20 and 22, St. Michael Street, West Bromwich (With Vacant Possession of No.20).

Free Freehold Beer Off License. No.71, Bromford Road, Oldbury (With Vacant Possession).

Freehold De-Licensed Premises, FORTUNE OF WAR, Trowse Lane, Wednesbury (With Vacant Possession).

Together with the Adjoining Property in Wellcroft Street, forming a most Valuable Freehold Site for future Re-development.

Harford, Kingham & Co., FAI, have received instructions to offer the above for Sale by Auction at the SANDWELL HOTEL, West Bromwich, on Tuesday, April 30th (subject to prior Sale and Conditions).”

THE ESTATE OF SAMUEL SANSON, DECEASED.
—
IMPORTANT TO BREWERS, LICENSED VICTUALLERS, AND INVESTORS.

—
SALE OF OLD-ESTABLISHED
FREE FREEHOLD FULLY-LICENSED HOME-
BREWING INN & DWELLING HOUSES,
SITUATE AT WEDNESBURY.

—
MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1915.

—
BELCHER & SON, F.A.I., have received instructions from the Trustees under a Settlement, re Samuel Sanson, deceased, to submit for Sale by Public Auction, at the WHITE HORSE HOTEL, WEDNESBURY.

upon the above date, at Half-past Seven o'clock in the Evening precisely, subject to conditions to be then produced—the following Valuable FREEHOLD PROPERTIES:—

Lot 1.

TWO FREEHOLD DWELLING HOUSES AND PREMISES, situate and being Nos. 34 and 35, in TROUSE LANE, WEDNESBURY, producing gross £31 17s. per annum.

Lot 2.

THE VERY VALUABLE OLD-ESTABLISHED FREE FREEHOLD FULLY-LICENSED

HOME-BREWING PUBLIC-HOUSE

AND PREMISES, known as the

"FORTUNE OF WAR INN,"

situate at the junction of TROUSE LANE and WELLCROFT STREET, WEDNESBURY, in the occupation of Mr. Thomas William Nicholls, upon an annual tenancy determinable on the 24th day of June in any year.

The purchaser may take to at a valuation in the usual way the whole of the FIXTURES, FITTINGS, BREWING PLANT, and Effects, together with the consumable STOCK-IN-TRADE, apportionments of current Licences, Rates, Taxes, and other usual Outgoings on the date fixed for completion.

Further particulars as to accommodation, &c., may be obtained from the Offices of the Auctioneers, Bank Chambers, Wednesbury, and Darlaston, or from JNO. H. STOCKDALE, Esq., Solicitor, Wednesbury and Tipton.

1915

Important Sale by Auction of
FREEHOLD RETAIL SHOP PROPERTY.
Nos. 18, 20 & 22, ST. MICHAEL
STREET, WEST BROMWICH
(With Vacant Possession of No. 20).

FREE FREEHOLD BEER OFF LICENCE,
No. 71, BROMFORD ROAD,
OLDBURY

(With Vacant Possession).

FREEHOLD DE-LICENSED PREMISES.

"FORTUNE OF WAR."

TROUSE LANE, WEDNESBURY

(With Vacant Possession).

Together with the ADJOINING PROPERTY in Welcroft Street, forming a most Valuable Freehold Site for future Redevelopment.

HARFORD, KINGHAM & Co.,

F.A.I., have received instructions to offer the above for Sale by Auction at the "SANDWELL HOTEL," WEST BROMWICH, on TUESDAY, April 30th (subject to prior Sale and Conditions).

Auctioneers' Offices, 319, High Street,
West Bromwich (Tel. Wes. 0417-8 and 0140, three lines), and 104 106, Colmore Row,
Birmingham (Tel. Central 1631).

1957

FOUR HOPES

38, (Sparrows) Forge Lane, Fallings Heath, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Horton [1871] – 1872)

Enoch Horton (1872);

Edward Horton (1872 – []

Mrs. Edna Horton [1881]

NOTES

1871 Census

38, Forge Lane

[1] William Horton (66), beerhouse keeper, born Darlaston;

[2] Edna Horton (49), wife, born Darlaston;

[3] Reuben Horton (22), son, mechanic, born Darlaston;

[4] Emma Horton (19), daughter, born Darlaston;

[5] Edna Horton (17), daughter, born Darlaston;

[6] Nathan Horton (13), son, scholar, born Darlaston;

[7] David Horton (11), son, scholar, born Darlaston;

[8] Lydia Foreman (11), visitor, scholar, born Darlaston;

[9] Jane Lloyd (18), visitor, housekeeper, born Darlaston:

1872 Probate

“Administration of the effects of William Horton, late of Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, Beerhouse Keeper, who died 2 January 1872 at Fallings Heath, was granted 27 March at Lichfield to Enoch Horton of Darlaston, in the said County, Screw Manufacturer, the Son and one of the Next of Kin. Effects under £800.”

1881 Census

38, Sparrows Forge Lane – FOUR HOPES INN

[1] Edna Horton (58), widow, publican, born Darlaston;

[2] Nathan Horton (23), son, clerk, works, born Darlaston;

[3] David Horton (21), son, clerk, warehouse, born Darlaston;

[4] Mary Lunn (84), mother, widow, annuitant, born Walsall;

[5] Lydia Foreman (21), niece, born Darlaston;

[6] Emma Horton (9), grand-daughter, born Darlaston:

FOX

Vicarage, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Josiah Foster [1834] – [1835]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Isaiah Foster, beer retailer, Vicarage. [1835]

FOX AND DOGS

111, (110+111), Albert Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

J. Rolinson Ltd.

Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. [1921], [1929]

LICENSEES

William Leek [] - 1870);

John Smith (1870 - 1871);

Sarah Bamford (1871 - []

Mrs. Ann Bamford [1872] - [1875]

John Hill [1881] - [1882]

Edward Phillips [1891] - [1896]

Stephen J Walton [1901]

Nicholas Edmund Lacey [1904]

Susan May Millard [1911]

Edward Timmins [1912]

Thomas Arthur Hill [1921] - [1921]

John Thomas Rowe [] - 1926);

William Randall (1926 - []

Albert Astbury [] - 1929):

NOTES

110+111, Albert Street [1871], [1901], [1921]

111, Albert Street [1872], [1881], [1891], [1896], [1904], [1911], [1912]

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

1871 Census

110+111, Albert Street - FOX AND DOGS

[1] John Smith (28), beerhouse keeper, born Tong, Shropshire;

[2] Agnes Smith (29), sister, born Tong, Shropshire:

Mrs. Ann Bamford, beer retailer, 111, Albert Street. [1872]

Midland Examiner 27/3/1875

"Ann Bamford, landlady of the FOX AND DOG, Albert Street, Wednesbury, was summoned for having her house open during illegal hours. Mr. Sheldon defended.

Police-constable William Bakewell deposed to visiting the defendant's premises on the night of the 13th inst, at 11.25. He found two men, and the defendant's son and daughter together in one room. Some beer was upon the table. Defendant's son pointed out that he had some water in a jug, and said the ale was for supper. He did not say it was for his wife's supper. One of the men's name was Evans, a lodger, the other was Waring.

Mr. Sheldon said that the witness had proved the case for the defence. The beer was on the table, drawn for defendant's daughter's use. Waring was a brother-in-law, and had called for his top coat. They were expecting the arrival of another brother and sister from America the next day, and Waring stayed a minute to read a telegram that announced their arrival at Queenstown, and to inquire where they were going to live when they arrived.

Summons dismissed."

In the High Court of Justice, Chancery Division, Mr. Justice Parker.

RE IND COOPE & CO LTD.,

FISHER }
KNOX } v. THE COMPANY { 1908 I 2267
ARNOLD } 1909 I 9
1909 I 5

NOTICE OF SALE BY AUCTION OF VALUABLE
FREEHOLD LICENSED PROPERTY,
AT WEDNESBURY, IN THE COUNTY OF STAFFORD,

Comprising a
SEVEN DAYS' ON-LICENSED BEERHOUSE,
Known as

"THE FOX AND DOGS," ALBERT STREET,
WEDNESBURY.

Close to Station and Electric Trams, together with FOUR DWELLING HOUSES adjoining, Nos. 106, 107, 108, and 109,
Albert Street.

The Beerhouse is let on a monthly tenancy at a rental of £20 per annum, and the Dwelling Houses produce £52 per annum gross, the property containing an area of about 618 square yards, which will be Sold by Auction.

BY Mr. ARTHUR DAVID BELCHER, of the Firm of BELCHER & SON, F.A.I. with the approbation of Mr. Justice Parker, at the Anchor Hotel, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, on MONDAY NEXT, the 14th day of October, at Seven o'clock in the Evening precisely.

MAY BE VIEWED BY APPOINTMENT.

Particulars, plan and order to view may be obtained from Messrs. Belcher and Son, F.A.I. Auctioneers and Surreyors, Bank Chambers, Wednesbury, Staffordshire, or the following Solicitors: Messrs. Nash Field and Co., 12, Queen Street, London, E.C.; Messrs. Davidson and Morris, 40-42, Queen Victoria Street, London, E.C.; Messrs. Burn and Bertridge, 11, Old Broad Street, London, E.C.; Messrs. Bircham and Co., 50, Old Broad Street, London, E.C.; Messrs.
Batchelor and Cousins, 3, Patern Lane, London, E.C.; Messrs.
Dawe and Sons, 2, Birchin Lane, London, E.C.; Messrs.
Birbeck, Moreton, Thompson, and Co., 20, Copthall Avenue,
London, E.C.; and Messrs. Skewes-Cox and Co., 8, Lancaster
Place, Strand, London W.C., 61, and 63, George Street,
Richmond, Surrey, and the Council Offices, Weybridge, Surrey
Solicitors for the Vendors.

1912

1881 Census

111, Albert Street

- [1] John Hill (56), publican, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Ann Hill (52), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Richard Hill (26), son smith's striker, born Hill Top;
- [4] Sarah Hill (32), daughter, born Hill Top;
- [5] Eliza A. Hill (18), daughter, assistant schoolmistress, born Hill Top:

Darlaston Weekly Times 1/4/1882

"John Hill, landlord of the FOX AND DOG INN, Albert Street, Wednesbury, was charged with a breach of the Licensing Act by keeping open and selling ale during prohibited hours.

PS Curtis stated that on Sunday morning, the 19th inst, at 8-45, he visited the defendant's house, found the back door open, and upon walking in found four persons with a pint jug with some ale in, and two quart bottles full of ale freshly drawn. Fined 10s and costs in each case.

Ann Crutchley, Ann Poston, Henry Bayliss, and Patrick Gulley, for being on the premises were each fined 1s and costs."

Birmingham Daily Post 13/10/1890 - Advert

"Wheelwright-Smith (good) Wanted; must be a good shoer; constant employment to a steady and suitable man.

Edward Phillips, Albert Street, Wednesbury."

WHEELWRIGHT-SMITH (good) Wanted; must be a good shoer; constant employment to a steady and suitable man.—
Edward Phillips, Albert Street, Wednesbury.

1891 Census

111, Albert Street – FOX AND DOGS INN

- [1] Edward Phillips (35), coach builder, born Builth, Breconshire;
- [2] Annie Phillips (31), wife, dressmaker, born West Bromwich;
- [3] William Phillips (12), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Ernest Phillips (10), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Frederick Phillips (8), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Bertie Phillips (6), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Sybil Phillips (4), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Bernard Phillips (2), son, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Edith Phillips (9 months), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [10] John Hill (68), boarder, widower, blind, born Wednesbury:

Edward Phillips, beer retailer and wheelwright, 111, Albert Street. [1896]

1901 Census

110+111 Albert Street

- [1] Stephen J. Walton (43), publican, born Perry Barr
- [2] Annie Walton (39), wife, born Codnor Cave, Derbyshire;
- [3] Albert J. Walton (16), son, engine cleaner, born Sutton Coldfield;
- [4] Thomas Bute (63), boarder, widower, engine smith, born Bristol:

Nicholas E. Lacey, beer retailer, 111, Albert Street. [1904]

Nicholas Edmund Lacey – see also ROYAL EXCHANGE, Chapel Street.

1911 Census

111, Albert Street – FOX AND DOGS

- [1] Susan May Millard (31), married, manageress licensed house, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Aubrey John Millard (10), son, school, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Edith May Millard (9), daughter, school, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Raymond George Millard (4), son, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Albert William Millard (3), son, born Wednesbury:

Edward Timmins, beer retailer, 111, Albert Street. [1912]

Birmingham Daily Post 10/10/1912 - Advert

"In the High Court of Justice, Chancery Division.....

Sale by Auction of Valuable Freehold Licensed Property, at Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford.

A seven days on-licensed Beerhouse, known as the FOX AND DOGS, Albert Street, Wednesbury, close to Station and Electric Trams, together with four Dwelling Houses adjoining, Nos.106, 107, 108, and 109, Albert Street.

The Beerhouse is let on a monthly tenancy at a rental of £20 per annum, and the Dwelling Houses produce £52 per annum gross, the property containing an area of about 618 square yards."

1921 Census

110+111 Albert Street – FOX AND DOGS

[1] Thomas Arthur Hill (29), publican, born Wednesbury;

[2] Dorothy May Hill (23), wife, born Oldbury;

[3] Marjorie Eileen Hill (3), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[4] Joseph Hill (56), father, widower, gas worker, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Observer 2/3/1929

"Two licensed houses, the FOX AND DOGS, Albert Street, and the ODDFELLOWS ARMS, Kings Hill, objected to on the ground of redundancy were referred for compensation at the adjourned Brewster Sessions at Wednesbury yesterday.....

Regarding the FOX AND DOGS, Police-sergeant Gillman said the structure was fairly good and the place clean and tidy. The premises would be suitable for a dwelling house and shops. There were 53 licensed premises within 500 yards.

Mr. P. J. Slater, representing the Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries, the owners, formally applied for renewal."

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/6/1929

"The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County of Stafford.

Notice is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1901, by the Compensation Authority for the above Area, will be held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, on Tuesday, the 30th day of July, 1929, at 11 o'clock am.

And Notice is Hereby also Given, that the Compensation Authority will at the Meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the Renewal of the Licenses of the several Premises specified in the subjoined list, all those Persons to whom under the Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard.....

FOX AND DOGS INN, Wednesbury. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee, Albert Astbury."

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/8/1929

"The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County of Stafford.

Notice as to sending in Claims to be treated as Persons interested in Licensed Premises.

Notice is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 30th day of July, 1929, to Refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below.....

FOX AND DOGS INN, Wednesbury. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee, Albert Astbury. Owners, Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd."

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/1/1930

"The Epiphany Quarter Sessions for the county began at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Tuesday.....

Report of the County Licensing Committee for the year 1929.....

Compensation was awarded as follows.....

FOX AND DOGS, Wednesbury, beerhouse, ante 1869, £1,500.

The money had been apportioned amongst the interested parties and paid."

It closed in 1929.

FOX AND DOGS

Wellcroft Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

S Brown [1866] – [1867]
Mrs. Lowe [1868]

NOTES

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 31/12/1848

“Enoch Aston (alias Motto) of Wednesbury is prepared to make a match to fight Noah Butler of Darlaston for £10 or £20 a side. The money is ready at the FOX AND DOGS, Wednesbury.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 5/5/1866

“Ben Spooner and Shingler (both of Wednesbury) have staked £1 a side to run 100 yards, for £5 a side, at Mr. Westley’s, Hall Green, Wednesbury, on Monday, May 21. To start by mutual consent. S. Brown, HARE AND DOGS, Welcroft Street, Wednesbury, is appointed stakeholder and referee.”

Illustrated Sporting News and Theatrical and Musical Review 26/5/1866

“Hall Green Running Grounds, Wednesbury.....

Wm. Kelly and Benjamin Spooner, both of Wednesbury, were matched to run 120 yards for £5 a side. Kelly had the advantage of the start, but was caught at half distance by Spooner, who won by a yard and a half. Betting, 5 to 4 on Spooner. Mr. Brown, FOX AND DOGS, Wednesbury, stakeholder and referee.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 23/2/1867

S. Horton of Pelsall and W. Howels of Oldbury run 100 yards, for £5 a side, at the Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury, on Saturday, March 2; they are to be on the mark at four o’clock. £1 each is now down in the hands of Mr. Brown, FOX INN, Wednesbury; to be made into £3 a side on Saturday next, the remainder to be made up on the day of running by twelve o’clock. Mr. J. Harding to be referee.”

Birmingham Daily Post 5/2/1868 - Advert

“Wellcroft Street, Wednesbury.

The FOX AND DOGS INN to be Let.

Apply on the Premises; or to R. L. Courtney, High Street, West Bromwich.”

WELLCROFT Street, Wednesbury.—“THE FOX and DOGS INN” to be LET.—Apply on the Premises, or to R. L.
Courtney High Street, West Bromwich.

Birmingham Daily Post 1/8/1868 - Advert

“By R. L. Courtney, on Monday Next, at the FOX AND DOGS INN, Wellcroft Street, Wednesbury.

All the Brewing Plant, Public House Fixtures, portion of the Household Furniture, belonging to Mrs. Richard Lowe, who is declining the Public business to commence at Eleven o’clock.”

BY R. L. COURTNEY, on MONDAY NEXT, at the Fox and Dogs Inn, Wellcroft Street, Wednesbury—all the BREWING PLANT, Public house Fixtures, portion of the HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE and Effects, belonging to Mrs.
Richard Lowe, who is declining the Public business. To commence at Eleven o’clock.

FREEMASONS ARMS

Dudley Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Frederick Rowlinson [1834] – [1840]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Frederick Rowlinson, beer retailer, Dudley Street. [1835]

LOT II.—Also all that Messuage or Dwelling House, now used as a Retail Public House, with the Brewhouse, Pump of water, and necessary Erections and Buildings for carrying on the public business, adjoining the last premises, and in the occupation of Frederick Rowlinson, at the low rental of 17*l.* per annum.

Also five other adjoining Messuages or Dwelling Houses, with the necessary Outbuildings and Appurtenances to the same belonging, and now in the respective occupations of Edward Haddock, — Partridge, Peter McCormick, John Jones, and Samuel Spittle. The premises produce at low rents the sum of 24*l.* 5*s.* 4*d.* per annum.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 19/10/1840 - Advert

“Valuable Freehold Messuages, Land and Premises, situate at Wednesbury, Tipton, and West Bromwich, in the county of Stafford.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Richard Adams, at the DARTMOUTH HOTEL, West Bromwich, in the county of Stafford, on Monday the 23rd day of November next, at four o'clock in the afternoon (by order of the first Mortgagee of Thomas Taylor, a bankrupt), under a power of sale, and also with the consent and approbation of his Assignees, subject to such conditions as shall be then and there produced, and in the following or such other lots as may be agreed upon at the time of sale.

Lot I. All that newly erected Messuage or Dwelling House with an extensive frontage to Dudley Street.....

Lot II. Also all that Messuage or Dwelling House, now used as a Retail Public House, with the Brewhouse, Pump of water, and necessary Erections and Buildings for carrying on the public business, adjoining the last premises, and now in the occupation of Frederick Rowlinson, at the low rental of £17 per annum.

Also five other adjoining Messuages or Dwelling Houses, with the necessary Outbuildings and Appurtenances to the same belonging.....”

Wednesbury Herald 12/7/1879

“Joseph Dangerfield, labourer, was charged with being drunk on the premises of the FREE MASONS ARMS INN. Police-constable Clark proved to finding the defendant drunk in the tap room.

The Bench fined defendant 5*s.* and costs, or in default 7 days imprisonment.”

FRIAR PARK

103, (1), Crankhall Lane, (Crank Lane), WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Joseph Spittle, Kings Hill
Thomas Bruerton, Darlaston
William Bruerton, Darlaston
Edwin Bruerton, Darlaston
Elihu Butler
Mary Ann Butler
Frank Archer
Darby's Brewery Ltd. [1919], [1931]
Enterprise Inns [1990s]
Admiral Taverns (acquired in 2010)

LICENSEES

Thomas Poulton [] - 1876);
Samuel Poulton (1876 - 1879);
David Davis (1879 - 1881);
Jacob Chilton (1881 - 1882);
Charles Rolfe (1882 - 1885);
Elihu Butler (1885 - 1911);
Mary Ann Butler (1911 - 1912);
Frank Archer (1912 - 1919);
Richard Joseph Thursfield (1919 - 1933);
Thomas 'Tommy' Hodgkiss (1933 - 1947);
Samuel Hadley (1947 - 1952);
Charles Howard Blizzard (1952 - 1955);
Joseph Henry 'Joe' Bailey (1955 - 1961)
Samuel Gaynham [1964]
Mrs. Susan Hewitt [2008]

1961

NOTES

[This pub was listed in the West Bromwich licensing register, but is included here because it is generally referred to as being in Wednesbury.]

The building was originally Crank Hall.

It had a beerhouse license.

It was originally an unnamed beerhouse.
It was later called the CANAL TAVERN.

It was known locally as "The Cabin."

1851 Census

Crankhall Lane – Public House and Farm

- [1] Thomas Poulton (46), farmer of 13 acres and victualler, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Sophia Poulton (48), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Sophia Rogers (74), mother-in-law, widow, born Walsall;
- [4] Louisa Watson (29), servant, born Walsall;
- [5] Benjamin Breakworth (32), farm servant, born Wednesbury;
- [6] George Rogers (17), farm servant, born Walsall;
- [7] William Hancox (28), lodger, miller, born Hanbury, Worcestershire:

1861 Census

Crankhall Lane – Public House and Farm

- [1] Thomas Poulton (56), farmer of 11 acres employing 1 man, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Sophia Poulton (58), wife, born Walsall;
- [3] Sophia Rodgers (83), mother-in-law, widow, formerly laundress, blind, born Walsall;
- [4] Henry Pepeh (40), carter, born Buckinghamshire;
- [5] Eliza Hancox (13), house servant, born Stoke on Trent:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 29/2/1864

“On Saturday Mr. E. Hooper, district Coroner, held an inquest at the house of Mr. Thomas Poulton, the CANAL TAVERN, Crankhall Lane, West Bromwich, on the body of John Kent, aged 55 years, who met his death on Tuesday last, while at work in an ironstone pit, belonging to Messrs. W. H. Dawes and Son, at Frear Park.

Thomas Evens said he was foreman for Mr. Williams, a contractor for Messrs. Dawes and Son, at the Frear Park Ironstone Pit. Deceased was in the same employment, and about five o'clock on Tuesday afternoon he and witness were in the open work at the bottom. Deceased was using a shovel, and witness putting in a road, and was about seven yards off him when he heard some stuff fall, and turning round saw deceased on his knees, and some of the stuff on his head. About seven cwt of earth and clay had fallen. Witness picked up deceased, but he never spoke, and died in a few minutes. Mr. Proctor, the field surgeon, was in immediate attendance. The back of deceased's head was badly injured, and his left thigh was fractured. The work at which he was engaged was thirteen or fourteen feet in height, and twenty yards in width. The work had not been timbered, and it was not usual to do so. Witness discovered that the fall of earth was occasioned by a vein in the face of the work.

Mr. Job said he was a contractor in the employment of Messrs. Dawes and Son. Witness had examined the face of the work a short time previous to the accident, and it appeared to be perfectly secure. He was of opinion that the accident might be attributed to some water having got into the work.

Deceased had left a widow and five children.

The Coroner having summed up, left it to the jury whether they would have the inquest adjourned for further evidence; but they expressed themselves perfectly satisfied, and returned a verdict of Accidental Death.

A juror named Joseph Smith, farmer, was fined 20s by the Coroner for not having attended the inquest at the hour appointed.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 22/10/1864

“At the CANAL TAVERN Crank Lane, Wednesbury, the match between Messrs. J. Dickens of Hill Top, Westbromwich, and J. Haddock of Wednesbury to shoot at 11 pigeons each, Dickens staking £10 to £8, came off on Monday, October 17, in the presence of a large assembly of the sporting fraternity of the district. The conditions were 11 birds each, 1½oz of shot, 21 yards rise, the field the boundary, Mr. Evans of Wednesbury referee. At two o'clock Mr. Haddock led off, killing his first eight birds, and ultimately winning by killing 10 to Mr. Dickens's 8.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 10/12/1864

“The match between Messrs. T. Green and J. Elden (both of Bilston) came off on Monday, December 5, for £10 a side, at Mr. T. Poulton's, Crankhall Lane, near Wednesbury, at 11 pigeons each, on the usual conditions, which ended in Mr. Green winning by one bird. Score, Green 8, Elden 7.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 7/6/1869

“On Friday, four men called at the CANAL TAVERN, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury, kept by Mr. Poulton, and had some refreshment, and one of them managed to get upstairs. He was met coming down by Mrs. Poulton, but he and the others succeeded in making their escape with the cash-box, which contained about £10, and two silver watches which were in the bed room.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 14/6/1869

“At West Bromwich Police Court, on Saturday, Henry Lowe, alias Henry Jackson, alias Henry Critchlow, alias Henry Chidlow, was charged with stealing £11 and two silver watches, the property of Thomas Poulton.

The wife of the prosecutor stated that her husband kept the CANAL TAVERN, Crank Hall Lane. About half-past eleven o'clock, on the morning of the 4th of June, prisoner and two other men came into the house and called for some bread and cheese. This was supplied to them in the kitchen. About an hour afterwards she missed prisoner from the room, and went to see where he was. She found the door leading up-stairs opened, and on ascending she met prisoner coming down the stairs. She asked him what brought him there, when he pushed her down the stairs and ran out of the house. She went into the yard for assistance, and on hearing her call, the two other men ran past her into the street. On going into her bed room, she missed £11 and a silver watch from a drawer, the lock of which had been picked. A silver watch had also been taken from the dressing table.

A man who saw prisoner in the house was taken to Birmingham by Police-sergeant Hackney, and he recognised the prisoner in a public house. Afterwards prosecutor's wife picked him out of a number of men at the police station. Mr. Travis appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Francis (Birmingham) for the prisoner, on whose behalf an alibi was attempted to be proved.

The prisoner was committed for trial at the Sessions.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 30/6/1869

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Henry Lowe (41), bedstead maker, was indicted for stealing on the 4th of June, at West Bromwich, £11 and two silver watches, the property of Thomas Poulton. The Hon. E. Ashley prosecuted, and Mr. Young defended.

The prosecutor is the landlord of the CANAL TAVERN, West Bromwich. On the 4th of June three men came into the house and had some refreshment. They were left by prosecutor's wife for some time in a room by themselves. On her return one of the men had gone, but she shortly afterwards saw the prisoner, whom she recognised as the third man, coming downstairs. £11 and two watches were afterwards missed from a room upstairs.

For the defence a witness was called to prove an alibi, but the Jury, after retiring, gave a verdict of guilty. The prisoner, who had been previously convicted, was sentenced to seven years' penal servitude.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/10/1870

“On Saturday morning, the body of a boy was found in the Tame Valley Canal, Crankhall, near West Bromwich, by some boatmen. The body was removed to the CANAL TAVERN, Crankhall Lane, and up to last night it had not been identified. Deceased is about nine years of age, has on a dark pair of trousers, a dark jacket, cloth cap, and red worsted stockings. An inquest will be held in due course.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 6/10/1870

“An inquest was held on Tuesday, at the CANAL TAVERN, Crank Hall Lane, West Bromwich, by Mr. E. Hooper, Coroner, touching the death of James Ward (9), who lived with his parents at Trowse Lane, Wednesbury. Deceased was found by some boatmen in the canal, near Crank Hall Lane, on Saturday morning, as sated in Monday's Gazette. He had been out for a walk with three other boys, but was left by them, as he refused to go home. Verdict, Found Drowned.”

1871 Census

Crankhall Lane

[1] Thomas Poulton (66), farmer of 16 acres employing 2 men, born West Bromwich;

[2] Sophia Poulton (68), wife, born Walsall;

[3] Maria Carter (17) general servant, born West Bromwich;

[4] Edward Rogers (64) employed on farm, born Aldridge;

[5] Joseph Griffiths (50), employed on farm, born Shatterford, Staffordshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/11/1873

"Thomas Poulton, landlord of the CANAL TAVERN, Crank Hill Lane, West Bromwich, was summoned for keeping open during prohibited hours. A policeman had found 15 men drinking ale in the defendant's brewhouse on the previous Sunday morning, when the landlord said the men came from Darlaston. Evidence was given for the defence which induced the belief that the defendant had been deceived by the men, and the case was dismissed."

Birmingham Daily Post 20/2/1875 - Advert

"Pigeon Shooting.

To be Shot For, on Monday, March 22, at Mr. Thomas Poulton's, the CANAL TAVERN, near Wednesbury, the largest Pig in the world. Forty tickets at £1 each. The Pig to be seen at Mr. C. Stamp's, Sheepwash Lane, Great Bridge. Tickets to be had at Mr. W. T. Siddons, BRITISH OAK INN, Hill Top; and Mr. J. Dickens, Witton Lane, Hill Top."

Thomas Poulton died in the 2nd quarter of 1876.

PIGEON SHOOTING.—To be SHOT FOR, on MONDAY, March 22, at Mr. Thos. Poulton's, the Canal Tavern, near Wednesbury, the largest PIG in the world. Forty tickets at £1. each. The Pig to be seen at Mr. C. Stamp's, Sheepwash Lane, Great Bridge. Tickets to be had at Mr. W. T. Siddons, British Oak Inn, Hill Top; and Mr. J. Dickens, Witton Lane, Hill Top.

Dudley Herald 2/9/1876

"On Wednesday the Annual Licensing Sessions for the parishes of West Bromwich, Wednesbury, Tipton, &c, was held at the Public Office, West Bromwich.....

Mr. Superintendent Woollaston presented the following 'black' list of offences against publicans and beersellers which had been committed during the year ending 30th August last.....

Samuel Poulton, beerseller, CANAL TAVERN, prohibited hours, 20s and costs The offending publicans were ordered to appear at the adjourned licensing meeting before their licenses could be renewed."

AND

Dudley Herald 30/9/1876

"West Bromwich Adjourned Licensing Sessions.....

The magistrates granted the renewal of the licenses of ten public houses and twenty beerhouses that had been adjourned from the general licensing day in consequence of the non-appearance of the applicants, or from convictions."

1881 Census

Crankhall Lane

[1] Jacob Chilton (43), colliery proprietor, born Madeley, Shropshire;

[2] Harriot Chilton (42), wife, born Nuneaton;

[3] William Chilton (21), son, engine tender, born Walsall;

[4] Mary Ann Chilton (17), daughter, born Walsall;

[5] John Chilton (15), son, tube welder, iron, born Walsall;

[6] Elizabeth Chilton (13), daughter, scholar, born Walsall;

[7] Jacob Chilton (10), son, scholar, born Walsall:

Smethwick Telephone 3/1/1885

"West Bromwich Police Court.....

Charles Rolfe, landlord of the CANAL TAVERN, Crankhall Lane, was charged with having his house open during prohibited hours on the night of the 30th ult, and also with refusing to admit Police-constable Durrie on the same night.

On the night named the officer, whilst on duty near the defendant's house, heard the landlord say, 'The bobby, you —; clear out.' Hearing this, the officer hastened to the house, but the defendant met him at the door, and took hold of him by the shoulders and refused to allow him admittance. Seeing some men mounting the wall, he left the defendant and ran and caught the last man, who was under the influence of drink.

Mr. Jackson, who was for the defendant, urged that there was only one man in the house after eleven o'clock, and he had been admitted upon a false representation that he had come from Tipton. Defendant and his wife were called, and gave evidence in support of this statement.

Defendant was fined £2 and costs for keeping his house open during prohibited hours, the other charge being dismissed."

Walsall Observer 14/12/1889 - Advert

“Freehold House and Land for Sale, situated in Bescot Lane, near Steam Laundry.
Apply, E. Butler, CANAL TAVERN, Crank Hall Lane, near Wednesbury.”

FREEHOLD House and Land for Sale, situated in Bescot Lane, near Steam Laundry.—Apply, E. Butler, Canal Tavern, Crank Hall Lane, near Wednesbury.

1891 Census

Crankhall Lane – CANAL TAVERN

- [1] Elihu Butler (44), moulder, born Darlaston;
- [2] Mary A. Butler (44), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Elihu S. Butler (18), son, moulder, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Beatrice Butler (15), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Albert Butler (8), son, scholar, born Tipton;
- [6] Gertrude F. Butler (6), daughter, scholar, born Tipton:

Wednesbury Herald 9/3/1895

“Licensed Victuallers Meeting. At a meeting held on Tuesday night at the CANAL TAVERN, Crankhall Lane, Mr. E. Birch presiding, it was decided to support a bill which had been introduced in the House of Lords, in favour of securing uniformity in the granting, by way of removal or transfer, of licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors. It was contended that in accordance with a recent decision licensed victuallers only held their licenses from year to year, whereas beerhouse keepers who held licenses prior to 1869 were exempt from magisterial interference, excepting under special circumstances, and it was very important that the bill should be passed. Mr. Sheldon said he considered the bill was one of the best yet introduced to do justice to those engaged in the trade.”

Wednesbury Herald 3/8/1895 - Advert

“West Bromwich and Wednesbury.

Valuable Freehold Properties with the Mines and Minerals, situate in Crankhall Lane, near to the towns of Wednesbury and West Bromwich, comprising Meadow and Pasture Land, of a total area of 23a 1r 38½p.

Farm House, Labourers Cottage, Excellent Farm Buildings, and Old-established Beerhouse known as the CANAL TAVERN.

To be Sold by Auction, by Belcher and Son (by direction of the Trustees of the late Edwin Bruerton, Esq), at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Monday, 12th August 1895.....

Lot 1. The Freehold well-established Beerhouse, called the CANAL TAVERN, situate in Crankhall Lane, about one mile from the town of Wednesbury, but in the Parish of West Bromwich, with capital Barn, Stable, Cow Sheds, Piggeries, and the usual Outbuildings, and having an extensive Garden.

This Lot contains a total area of 2 roods 9 perches, and is let to Elihu Butler, on an annual tenancy, at a rent of £31 per annum.”

1901 Census

Crankhall Lane – Tavern

- [1] Elihu Butler (54), beerhouse keeper, born Darlaston;
- [2] Mary Ann Butler (54), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Albert Edward Butler (18), son, butcher, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Florence Gertrude Butler (16), daughter, draper's assistant, born Wednesbury:

Wednesbury Herald 13/4/1901

“The members of the Kings Hill Unity Cycling Club opened their fixture list on Saturday with a circular run. The wretched state of the roads rendered cycling a matter of difficulty, and with ‘mud plugging’ and side slips, several members came to grief. Through this cause the run was curtailed. On arriving at vice-president E. Butler's, CRANKHALL TAVERN, a game of football was played, the sides being married v single. The journey was resumed through Wood Green, Pleck, and James Bridge. Returning to headquarters, tea was taken, and the remainder of the evening given up to the charms of music. Glees and songs were given by the Unity Glee Party, under the leadership of Mr. J. Jacobs.”

Elihu Butler died in the 4th quarter of 1910.

Wednesbury Herald 21/1/1911

“Elihu Butler, Deceased.

All persons having Claims or Demands against the estate of Elihu Butler, late of the CANAL TAVERN, Crankhall Lane, West Bromwich, Beerhouse keeper, deceased, who have not already done so, are required to Send Particulars of such Claims or Demands forthwith to the undersigned.

Thomas Jones, Solicitor to the Executrix, 7, Walsall Street, Wednesbury.”

1911 Census

Crankhall Lane – CANAL TAVERN

- [1] Mary Ann Butler (64), widow, beer seller, born | Wednesbury;
- [2] Gertrude Florence Butler (26), daughter, assisting in the business, born Dudley Port;
- [3] Mary Ann Hughes (40), daughter, married, housekeeper, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Alice Hughes (19), grand-daughter, electrical fitting worker, born Wednesbury:

Walsall Observer 12/7/1919 - Deaths

“In loving memory of Frank Archer, the beloved husband of Ada, late of the CANAL TAVERN, Wednesbury, who passed away on July 9, 1919; aged 55 years. Ever remembered by his Wife and Children.”

1921 Census

1, Crankhall Lane

- [1] Richard J. Thursfield (42), fitter and turner, cast iron holloware, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Harriet Thursfield (45), wife, home duties, licensed premises, born Darlaston;
- [3] Richard J. Thursfield (13), son, school, born West Bromwich;
- [4] Norman Thursfield (9), son, school, born West Bromwich;
- [5] May Thursfield (6), daughter, school, born West Bromwich:

It was renamed FRIAR PARK INN on 13th February 1930.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 11/3/1932

““It is invariably found when tenants get into arears with their rent and neglect their homes that it is because their money is being spent in the public house,’ said the Rev. J. W. G. Dew, who, on behalf of the British Women’s Total Abstinence Union, at West Bromwich Licensing Sessions, yesterday, opposed an application for the removal of the full license of the BLACK BOY INN, Lyndon, to the FRIAR PARK INN, Crankhall Lane. Mr. Dew also contended that surrounding property tended to depreciate in value when a public house was opened.

The application was granted after an undertaking had been given that the premises of the BLACK BOY INN would not be used as a club within a period of five years.

It was explained that the FRIAR PARK INN was at present licensed only for the sale of beer, and since the development of the Corporation housing estate at Friar Park there had been an increasing demand for the supply of wines and spirits.”

An Ordinary Removal of the Publican’s license from the BLACK BOY, Lyndon Street, West Bromwich, was granted to here on 10th March 1932, and confirmed on 21st April 1932.

It commenced business with a full license on 2nd May 1932.

Black Country Bugle (September 1998)

‘Pawn Shop Days on Friar’s Park’ - letter from Bill Melia

“.....Every Monday morning some of the ladies, when they had their few shillings, would go over to my gran’s shop to purchase whatever vegetables and other items they required for the meals they would be preparing for their husbands and families. Then some of them would then go over the road to the local pub, the FRIAR PARK INN, but more commonly known as the Cabin. They would go into a little snug on the right hand side of the bar and buy a half pint and peel their potatoes and shell the peas etc, whilst they drank their beer; it was a good place to listen to all the local gossip The room was called the Pawnshop Room and it still goes under that name today.....”

Black Country Bugle 8/10/1998

'When the Pawnshop Ladies received free beer rations at the Cabin' - letter from Mrs. Connie Riley

".....My mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Hodgkiss, kept the FRIAR PARK INN (Cabin). The women came right out of the pawn shop into the Cabin for their little get together and also for the arrival of Mr. Charles Darby of Darby's Brewery, who would call round to collect the previous week's takings. The pawn shop ladies would be waiting for him because he walked round the pub wishing everyone 'Good morning' and treat them all to a free drink. My mother would sit and talk with these pawn shop ladies, offering help to the ladies who had nothing to pawn. She would lend them money they needed, they would pay back Friday nights then borrow again on Monday morning. She used to do this unknown to my father, she was a golden friend to them all.

My mother, myself and two sisters ran the pub. My father used to look after the cellar and the beer. Before we opened on a Monday morning I always made a roaring fire in the pawnshop room and would always leave two piled up buckets of coal by the fireplace, which always finished up in the ladies' bags. I did not mind or say anything to my father, after all the brewery paid for it....."

Black Country Bugle 29/10/1998

'Friar Park Memories' - letter from Mr. C. T. Richards

".....I also remember Mr. Hodgkiss, who kept the 'Cabin' pub. Mr. Hodgkiss was always smartly dressed, with collar and tie and waistcoat whenever he came into Morgan's pawn shop....."

'Friar Park Memories' - letter from Mr. Les Gallimore

".....I remember when Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hodgkiss and their three lovely daughters kept the FRIAR PARK INN, more commonly known as the Cabin. When the war was on they let people go down the cellar to shelter when the sirens went....."

1939 Register

103, Crankhall Lane (7 of 8)

[1] Thomas Hodgkiss, date of birth 12/10/1890, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Elsie M. Hodgkiss, dob 5/1/1893, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Iris A. Allen, dob 29/6/1914, bar general, married;

[4] Kenneth H. Allen, dob 13/1/1914, brewer's labourer, married;

[5] Sarah J. (Nock) Nelson, dob 18/10/1922, paid domestic, single;

[6] Constance M. (Hodgkiss) Riley, dob 10/2/1923, paid domestic, single;

[7] Joan (Hodgkiss) Garner, dob 14/2/1926, school, single;

Wolverhampton Express and Star 15/2/1940

"Comforts Fund for men at the front.....

Wednesbury. Previously acknowledged, £297 11s 4½d.

Proceeds of boxes.....

Mr. Hodgkiss, The Cabin, 15s 1d."

Rugeley Times 8/2/1941

"The monthly report of the West Bromwich and District General Hospital, just issued, shows that the patients report for the month of December was in-patients admitted, 55; out-patients admitted to the several special departments, 284; to the casualty department, 905; attendance in all departments, 3,485.

Donations acknowledged for the month of December, 1940, were.....

FRIAR PARK INN, Friar Park, £1 13s 6d."

Evening Despatch 15/10/1946

"Mr. Thomas Hodgkiss, licensee of the FRIAR PARK INN, West Bromwich, collapsed and died at his home last night."

Friar Park Rangers FC were based here. [1948]

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League. [1962]

Birmingham Mail 26/6/1963 - Advert

"Full Time Barmaid Wanted, also Barmen, nights and weekends.
Apply, Manager, FRIAR PARK INN, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury."

FULL TIME BARMAID Wanted, also Barmen, nights and weekends.—Apply The Manager, Friar Park Inn, Crankhall
Lane, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Mail 8/6/1964 - Advert

"Bar Staff Wanted, nights and weekends, experience essential.
Apply, Manager, FRIAR PARK INN, Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury."

BAR STAFF Wanted, nights and weekends, experience essential. — Apply
Manager, Friar Park Inn, Crankhall Lane,
Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 13/11/1964

"The night after being refused drinks because it was past closing time two customers returned to a West Bromwich public house and intimidated the licensee and his wife on their private premises, Mr. Challinor, prosecuting, said yesterday. William Lawley (34) a moulder, of Johnson Road, Friar Park, Wednesbury, was fined £10, with £6 6s costs, for an assault causing actual bodily harm to Mrs. Mabel Gaynham, wife of the licensee of the FRIAR PARK INN, Crankhall Lane, West Bromwich, on the night of August 31. He pleaded guilty. David A. Littleton (26), a crane driver, of Warner Road, Wednesbury, who admitted a common assault on Mr. Samuel Gaynham, the licensee, on the night of Sunday, August 30, and was fined £5, with £2 2s costs.

Mr. Challinor said that when the licensee refused to sell more drinks at 10.50 on the Sunday night Littleton slammed his beer glass down on the counter, caught hold of the licensee by his tie, threatened him and struck his nose. The next day Mr. Gaynham refused to serve some customers because of their behaviour the previous night. Lawley and Littleton, who were in the public house again that evening, forced their way into the licensee's living quarters where Lawley twisted Mrs. Gaynham's arm. Lawley was said to have previous convictions for disorderly behaviour on a bus and for common assault."

A football team from here took part in the Black Country Alliance League. [1996]

Birmingham Mail 30/10/1996

"Black Country Alliance.....

In the Premier Division, FRIAR PARK INN moved to top spot after their visit to PARK INN, Wednesbury."

Sandwell Evening Mail 6/11/1996

"Junior Soccer Spotlight.....

Alliance Premier League leaders FRIAR PARK INN lost their unbeaten record at West Bromwich Anchor."

FRIAR PARK TAVERN [1996]

[2021]

Closed [2022]

In 2022 it was bought for £495,600 by SEP Properties Limited.

An application by SEP Properties Limited to demolish the building was granted in December 2022.

Express & Star 21/2/2025

"A plan to demolish a pub for new flats and a shop has been approved. Under plans by developer SEP Properties, the former FRIAR PARK INN in Crankhall Lane, Wednesbury, would be demolished and replaced with 14 new flats and a shop. Neighbours objected, saying the work would lead to a loss of privacy and affect the price of their properties. The application was backed unanimously by Sandwell Council's planning committee at a meeting on Wednesday (February 19). Sandwell Council approved plans to demolish the former FRIAR PARK INN in Wednesbury more than two years ago, and after several complaints over the site's state, a planning application was put forward last summer."

WEST BROMWICH AND WEDNESBURY.

VALUABLE FREEHOLD PROPERTIES

WITH THE

MINES AND MINERALS,

Situate in Crankhall Lane, near to the towns of Wednesbury and West Bromwich, comprising

MEADOW AND PASTURE LAND

of a total area of 23a. 1r. 38½p.,

Farm House, Labourer's Cottage, Excellent Farm Buildings, and Old established Beerhouse known as
"THE CANAL TAVERN."

To be Sold by Auction, by

BELCHER AND SON (by direction of the Trustees of the late Edwin Bruerton, Esq.), at the "ANCHOR HOTEL," WEDNESBURY, on MONDAY, 12th AUGUST, 1895, at 4.30 for 5 o'clock in the evening, subject to Conditions incorporating the Common Form Conditions of the Birmingham Law Society.

LOT 1.

The FREEHOLD well-established BEERHOUSE, called "The Canal Tavern," situate in Crankhall
Lane, about one mile from the town of Wednesbury, but in the Parish of West Bromwich, with capital
Barn, Stable, Cow Sheds, Piggeries, and the usual
Outbuildings, and having an extensive Garden.

This Lot contains a total area of 2 roods 9 perches, and is let to Elihu Butler, on an annual tenancy, at a rent of £31 per annum.

1895

Public Notices.

ELIHU BUTLER, DECEASED.

ALL PERSONS having CLAIMS or DEMANDS against the Estate of ELIHU
BUTLER, late of the Canal Tavern, Crankhall
Lane, West Bromwich, Beerhouse-keeper, deceased, who have not already done so, are required to SEND PARTICULARS of such Claims or Demands forthwith to the undersigned.

THOMAS JONES,

Solicitor to the Executrix,

7, Walsall Street,

Wednesbury.

1911

c1986

2008

2013

GAS FITTERS ARMS

Holyhead Road, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

NOTES

Birmingham Daily Post 1/7/1863

“At Wednesbury Police Court, two labouring men, named Francis Brown and James Brannon, were charged with stealing a pocket book containing property to the value of £1, belonging to James Fearney, and also with assaulting him. From the prosecutor’s statement it seemed that on Saturday night he was at the GAS FITTERS ARMS, Holyhead Road, and while there he placed a coat upon a bench in the room, and upon going away he found that the pocket book referred to had been abstracted from one of the pockets. One of the defendants afterwards admitted that he had got the book. The prosecutor had no witnesses present, and the case was, therefore, adjourned for a week.”

GATE

Bridge Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

T Cox [1822]

GEORGE

1, (Upper) High Street, (1, Market Place) / Union Street, Five Ways, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Daniel Lawrence
Ansells Ltd. [1921], [1966]
Sycamore Taverns (acquired in 1992)
Punch Taverns [2008], [2009]
Amber Taverns (acquired in 2018) [2022]

LICENSEES

James Silvester [1779] – [1783]
Thomas Russell [1790]
Thomas Parkes [1791] – [1798]
Thomas Dean [1799] – [1800]
William Rock [1801] – [1805]
John Wilkes [1807]
John Rock (1810 – [1813]
Thomas Stone [1817] – [1822]
Joseph Taylor [1828] – [1830]
John Jevon [1833] – [1835]
Simeon Constable [1845] – [1851]
B D Wood [1853]
George Allin and Sarah Marshall [1855] – 1857);
John Marshall (1857 – 1859);
Mrs. Amelia Marshall (1859 – [1861]
Thomas Stringer [1861] – 1864);
John Leonard Weston (1864 – [1870]
Elizabeth Weston [] – 1870);
Charles Cotterill (1870 – [1871]
Daniel Lawrence [1872] – [1886]
Michael J Higo [1891]
Henry Deighton Millner [1891] – [1908]
Thomas Hanks [1901] manager
Robert Perry [1906] – 1909
Charles Meakin [1911] – [1916] manager
Charles R Holyhead [1921] – [1932]
Thomas Henry Benton [1939] – [1951] manager
Thomas Baxter [] – 1961);
Frank Dominic McDonnell (1961 – 1964);
Lawson Trevor Jones (1964);
Cyril Bernard Jones (1964 – 1965);
John Vincent Hawker (1965 – 1966);
Alan Croxton Markham (1966 – []
Ken and Maureen Grew (1978 – 1980);
Keith Thomas (1980 – []
P B Cunnington [1983] – [1990]
Mrs. Carol Field [1996] – [1997]
Joel Wilson [2008] – [2009]
Claire Livesey (2018 – []

1959

1996

2014

NOTES

Market Place [1849], [1850], [1865], [1879], [1891]

High Street [1822], [1828], [1830], [1850]

Five Ways [1860], [1861]

1, Upper High Street [1871], [1901], [1911], [1921]

1, High Street [1872], [1896], [1904], [1908], [1912], [1932]

1, Market Place [1881]

KINGS HEAD. [1818], [1822], [1828], [1830], [1834], [1835]

‘Wednesbury Revisited’ by Ian M. Bott, published in 1998

“The GEORGE INN was removed from its corner position between Union Street and Upper High Street for a road widening scheme. Older residents still refer to the GEORGE as Top Wrexham, the name of a former brewery perhaps.

The DARTMOUTH ARMS INN stood at the busy Holyhead Road and Dudley Street crossroads, a notorious accident blackspot. It was demolished in March 1963 for the construction of the aptly named Dartmouth Arms traffic island. The DARTMOUTH ARMS was also known as Bottom Wrexham, being in almost exact alignment with the GEORGE INN.”

Auctions were frequently held here.

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 14/12/1767 - Advert

“To be Sold to the best Bidder, at the WHITE LION in Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, on Saturday the 26th day of December Inst at Two of the Clock in the Afternoon.....

Lot 10. One Copyhold House, Shop, and Garden, adjoining the GEORGE INN, in Wednesbury aforesaid, in the Tenure of Thomas Bartram.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 11/10/1779 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, at the House of Mr. James Silvester, known by the Sign of the GEORGE in Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, on Monday the 25th Day of October, Instant, between the Hours of Three and Six o’Clock in the Afternoon of the same Day, All those Three Freehold Dwelling Houses or Tenements, with Three Gardens thereto adjoining and belonging, situate and being at the Vicarage, near Wednesbury aforesaid.....”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 3/2/1783 - Advert

“To be Sold by Private Contract, on Friday next, the 7th Day of February, 1783, between the Hours of Two and Four o’Clock in the Afternoon, at the Dwelling House of Mr. James Silvester, known by the Name of the GEORGE INN, in Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, All those Two Copyhold Messuages, Dwelling Houses, or Tenements, with the Gardens and Appurtenances thereto belonging, situate in Wednesbury aforesaid, in a certain Street or Place there, called High Bullen.....”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 14/6/1790 - Advert

“GEORGE INN, Wednesbury.

To be Let, that well accustomed House, Stable, Granary, Out-Houses, Garden, &c, now in the Holding of Mr. Thomas Russell, who will shew the Premises, and further Particulars. The Stock, Fixtures, &c (at a fair Valuation) may be taken or rejected. The Premises may be entered upon immediately, or at a short distant Period, and may be made agreeable to the present and future Tenant.”

Thomas Parkes, GEORGE INN, and carrier, Wednesbury. [1791]

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 25/7/1796 - Advert

“Whereas Marshal Webster left at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, in April last, one great Coat, one Waistcoat, one Shirt, one black Stock, and one Pocket Handkerchief. This is to require Marshal Webster to redeem the same within seven Days from the Date hereof, or otherwise the above Articles shall be sold to defray the Expenses.

Thomas Parkes, Wednesbury, July 23, 1796.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 6/8/1798 - Died

"On Wednesday, in her fifty-fourth year, Mrs. Ann Parkes, the wife of Mr. Thomas Parkes, of the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, after a severe illness of six months, which she supported with the greatest fortitude and resignation; she was universally esteemed by all to whom she was known."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 22/10/1798 - Died

"Tuesday, after a short illness, Mr. Parkes, master of the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 29/10/1798 - Advert

"Thomas Parkes's Creditors.

All Persons who have any Claim or Demand upon the Estate and Effects of the late Mr. Thomas Parkes, of the GEORGE INN, at Wednesbury, deceased, are desired to send in an Account of their Claims in twenty Days from the Date hereof, unto Mr. William Rock, at the Sign of the GREEN DRAGON, in Wednesbury aforesaid (one of the Executors named in the last Will of the said Mr. Parkes) in order that the same may be settled; and all Persons who are any Ways indebted to the said Mr. Parkes, are desired to pay the same immediately into the Hands of the said Mr. Rock.

Wednesbury, October 29, 1798."

AND

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 17/12/1798 - Advert

"Thomas Parkes's Creditors.

All Persons who have any Claim or Demand upon the Estate and Effects of the late deceased Mr. Thomas Parkes, of the GEORGE INN, in Wednesbury, are desired to send the Particulars thereof in fourteen Days from the Date hereof to Mr. William Rock, at the Sign of the GREEN DRAGON, in Wednesbury aforesaid, one of the Executors named in the Will of the said Mr. Parkes, in Order that the same may be immediately settled; and all Persons who are any Ways indebted to the Estate of the said Mr. Parkes, are desired to pay the same into the Hands of the said Mr. Rock, in Twenty Days from the Date hereof, otherwise they will be sued for the same without further Notice.

NB. All those who do not deliver the Particulars of their Demands by the Time above-mentioned, will be too late to have the same discharged, as the whole of the Property of the said Mr. Parkes will be disposed of immediately after that Time according to the Directions in his Will.

Wednesbury, December 17, 1798."

AND

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 29/7/1799 - Advert

"Thomas Parkes's Creditors.

The Executors of the late deceased Mr. Thomas Parkes, of the GEORGE INN, in Wednesbury, hereby inform his Creditors, that on Thursday the first Day of August next they intend to make a final Dividend of all his Effects, at the Sign of the GREEN DRAGON, in Wednesbury aforesaid, equally amongst all his Creditors who have delivered in a just Account of their Demands.

Wednesbury, July 18, 1799."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 18/3/1799 - Advert

"GEORGE INN, Wednesbury.

Thomas Dean, late of the Castle and Falcon, Snow Hill, Birmingham, respectfully informs his Friends and the Public, that he has taken and entered upon the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, a well know spacious and commodious Inn, which he had fitted up in a genteel and comfortable stile, and has laid in a very choice Stock of genuine old Wines and Foreign Spirits.

He flatters himself that the Accommodation will meet the Approbation of Gentlemen Travellers, and others, who may please to honour him with their Patronage and Support, which will be his constant Study to merit, by the most assiduous Attention. There is excellent Stabling for upwards of twenty Horses.

The Situation of the House is central, and particularly well adapted for the Convenience of Gentlemen Travellers.

NB. Neat Gigs and Post Horses, at the shortest Notice."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 15/4/1799 - Notice

"Hair Powder Certificates. Stamp Office, Lichfield. April 1, 1799.

Hair Powder Certificates for the Year commencing the 6th of April, 1799, and ending the 5th Day of April, 1800, are now ready for Delivery at this Office, and the respective Offices of the following Persons, who are duly authorised to issue the same....

Mr. William Mitton will attend at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, on Thursday the 18th and Thursday the 25th of April inst, at which respective Times, Persons resident at those Places, intending to take out Certificates, are to apply."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 6/10/1800 - Advert

"GEORGE INN, Wednesbury.

To be Let, and entered upon immediately, the aforesaid old and well-established Inn, now in the Occupation of Mr. Thomas Dean, who is declining the Public Business on Account of other Engagements.

The Premises are convenient and well adapted for the Entertainment of Travellers, and consist of twelve Lodging Rooms, a large Dining Room, Parlour, Bar, good Kitchen, excellent Cellars, Brewhouse, Workshop, Stabling for about twenty Horses, and a large entire Yard; the whole held at a very moderate Rent.

The Brewing Vessels, Fixtures, Stock of Ale, Wines, Liquors, &c (with or without the Household Furniture) to be taken by Valuation.

For other Particulars apply to the said Mr. Dean, or to T. Warren, Auctioneer, in Dale End, Birmingham."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 20/10/1800 - Advert

"GEORGE INN, Wednesbury.

To be Let, and entered upon immediately, the aforesaid Inn, being the principal one of that Place, and for many Years well established in reputable Line of Business, at present in the Occupation of Mr. Thomas Dean, who wishes to quit it on Account of his Engagements in another Branch of Trade, and for no other Reason.

The Premises consist of 12 Lodging Rooms, a Dining Room, and front Parlour, fitted up in a comfortable and genteel Stile, for the Entertainment of Travellers; also a good front Kitchen, Bar, excellent Cellars, Brewhouse, Stabling for about 20 Horses, a Workshop and a large back Yard, all entire, and held at a very moderate Rent.

The Brewing Vessels, Fixtures, Stock of Ale, Wines, and Liquors (with or without the Household Furniture) to be taken at a fair Appraisalment, and a Part of the Purchase Money may remain on Security, if required.

For other Particulars apply to the said Mr. Dean, or to T. Warren, Auctioneer, in Dale End, Birmingham."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 15/12/1800 - Advert

"GEORGE INN, Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, on the Premises, by Thomas Warren, on Monday next, the 22nd Instant, and the following Day, all the neat Household Furniture and Effects belonging to the aforesaid Inn; consisting of several very handsome Four-post Bedsteads, with various Kinds of printed Cotton Hangings, nearly as good as new; superfine Goose and other Feather Beds, Mattresses, and Counterpanes; Bedside and Floor Carpets; Pier and Dressing Glasses; good Mahogany and Oak Cabinet Furniture; sundry Plate, China, and Glass Ware; a complete Assortment of useful Kitchen Requisites and Utensils for the Business; a capital Collection of Brewing Vessels of all Sizes, and various other Articles.

Catalogues may be had on Thursday next, and the Premises, or of the Auctioneer, in Dale End, Birmingham.

The Sale to begin each Day at Ten o'Clock."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 22/12/1800 - Advert

"GEORGE INN, Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, on the Premises, by Thomas Warren, this present Monday, the 22nd of December instant, a considerable Part of the neat Household Furniture and Effects at the GEORGE INN aforesaid; comprizing Four-post and Tent Bedsteads, with printed Cotton, Dimothy, and other Hangings; fine seasoned Feather Beds and Bedding; Variety of good Mahogany and Oak Cabinet Furniture; sundry Kitchen Requisites; a capital Iron-bound 200 Gallon Ale Cask; some Hogsheads and Half Hogsheads; a strong useful Hackney Mare, six Years old; a light tilted Cart, a Quantity of Manure, &c.

Catalogues may be had on the Premises.

The Sale will begin precisely at Half-past Ten o'Clock."

Kentish Weekly Post 23/6/1801

“From the London Gazette, June 20. Bankrupts.....

Peter Spittle, of Wednesbury, Stafford, gun-lock-maker. To appear July 4, 7, August 1, at the dwelling house of William Rock, the GEORGE, in Wednesbury. Attornies, Messrs. Crother, in Wednesbury.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 3/1/1803 - Advert

“GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, Staffordshire, situated on the great Post Road leading from Wolverhampton to Birmingham.

To be Let, and entered upon immediately, the above long and well established Inn, with every suitable Convenience of Brewhouse, Stables, &c, &c, now in the Occupation of Mr. William Rock, who will shew the Premises; and for further Particulars apply to Mr. Joseph Adams, Draper, Wednesbury.

The Tenant may be accommodated with any Quantity of good and well inclosed Land, not exceeding 37 Acres, nearly adjoining the House, and may have a Term in the Inn for 7 or 14 Years.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 21/11/1803 - Advert

“GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, situated on the great Post Road leading from Wolverhampton to Birmingham.

To be Let, and entered on immediately, the above long and well established Inn, with every suitable Convenience of Brewhouse, Stables, &c.

The Tenant may be accommodated, at Christmas next, with any Quantity of good and well inclosed Land, not exceeding 37 Acres, nearly adjoining the House, together with Barn, Stables &c and may have a Term of the Inn for 7 or 14 Years.

For further Particulars apply to Mr. Joseph Adams, Mercer, of the said Place.”

[This advert appeared for several months.]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 27/5/1805 - Married

“Tuesday, Mr. Isaiah Horton, boiler manufacturer, of West Bromwich, and Member of the Loyal Dudley Light Horse Volunteers, to Miss Mary Rock, daughter of Mr. William Rock, of the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 30/12/1805 - Married

“At Sedgley, Mr. John Bradbury, to Miss Rock, eldest daughter of Mr. William Rock, both of Wednesbury.”

William Rock – see also GREEN DRAGON.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 20/4/1807 - Advert

“Timber. To be Sold by Auction, by Josiah Robins, at the TALBOT INN, Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, this Day (Monday) the 27th of April, at Half-past Three in the Afternoon, on Lands occupied by Mr. John Wilkes, of the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury aforesaid.

Lot 1. 237 fine Larch Firs and other Trees.

Lot 2. 161 fine Larch Firs and other Trees.

Lot 3. 54 fine Larch Firs and other Trees.

Lot 4. 155 fine Larch Firs and other Trees.

Lot 5. 101 fine Larch Firs and other Trees.

Lot 6. 65 fine Elms, of large Dimensions.

Mr. Hateley, at the TALBOT, will shew the Lots, which are all marked and numbered.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 21/5/1810 - Advert

“Convenient House and Premises, Church Hill, Wednesbury.

To be Let and may be entered upon immediately after Midsummer next, the above eligible Premises, known by the Name of the KINGS HEAD, situate on the Church Hill, Wednesbury as aforesaid, and now in the Occupation of Mr. John Rock, who is removing to his new House on the great Road from Birmingham to Shrewsbury.

The Premises consist of four Sleeping Rooms, two Parlours, Sitting Room, Kitchen, China Pantry, spacious Hall, and three roomy Cellars, with the particular Advantage of excellent Water. The Tenant may be accommodated with a capital Garden, opposite the House, and a Lease if required.

For Treaty apply on the Premises, or of W. Chapman, Appraiser and Auctioneer, 105, Snow Hill, Birmingham.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 4/6/1810 - Advert

"A Lodge of Respectability of the ancient and venerable Order of Druids will be opened at Mr. John Rock's new House, KINGS HEAD INN, High Street, Wednesbury, of which timely Notice will be given in a future Paper."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 24/9/1810 - Advert

"Druids.

The Brothers of the Order are respectfully informed, that Lodge 52 will be opened in due Form at Brother John Rock's, KINGS HEAD INN, High Street, Wednesbury, this present Monday the 24th Inst by Lodge 17, respectfully supported by Lodges 22, 31, 32, and 46, &c, in the Insignia of the Order.

NB. An Ordinary will be provided. Dinner on the Table at Two o'Clock.

The Visit of any Brother will be deemed an Addition to the Festival."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 8/10/1810 - Advert

"Jubilee. A Dinner will be provided at John Rock's, KINGS HEAD INN AND TAVERN, Wednesbury, on Thursday the 25th of October inst, being the Anniversary of his Majesty's Accession to the Throne and the Completion of the fiftieth Year of his Reign.

NB. Tickets to be had at the Bar.

Dinner precisely at Two o'Clock."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 1/6/1812 - Advert

"Notice is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the several Toll Gates upon the Turnpike Roads leading from Birmingham to High Bullen, in the Parish of Wednesbury, and to Great Bridge, and to the End of Darlaston Lane, and from Great Bridge to the Nether Trindle, near Dudley, and from Trowse Lane, in the Parish of Wednesbury, to Darlaston, in the Counties of Warwick and Stafford, will be Let by Auction, to the best Bidder, at the House of John Rock, situate at Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, and known by the Sign of the KINGS HEAD, on the 3rd Day of July next....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 9/8/1813 - Advert

"Valuable Buildings and Building Land, at Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford.

To be Sold by Auction, by Isaac Farror, at the KINGS HEAD INN, High Street, Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, on Monday the 30th Day of August inst, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon, by Direction of the Assignees of Mr. John Rock, Bayonet-maker and Innkeeper, a Bankrupt.....

Lot I. All those capital Premises, called the KINGS HEAD INN, most desirably situated at the Junction of three Turnpike Roads, in the Centre and principal Part of the Town of Wednesbury aforesaid, fronting twenty-four Yards to the High Street, and seventeen Yards, or thereabouts, to the Market Place therein, comprising eight good sized Sleeping Rooms, a Club Room, fifty-two Feet long, three Parlours, a Bar, two large Kitchens, with convenient Pantries, very extensive Cellaring and Vaults, a capital Brewhouse, Stabling, and Out-buildings, a Range of Shopping and large Yard.

NB. A numerous and respectable Society of Druids have a Lodge at the House.

The above Premises are recently built in the most substantial Manner, purposely for an Inn, for which, from Situation and Convenience for conducting the Business, they are very desirable, but are so arranged that at a moderate Expense they may be converted into private Dwellings, suitable for retail Shopkeepers and others."

[There were fourteen lots in the sale.]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 9/8/1813 - Advert

"Shop Tools, Household Furniture, Beer Machine, Brewing Vessels, large Casks, Furnaces, &, &c, at Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, on the Premises, by Isaac Farror, on Tuesday the 31st of August, and following Day (by Order of the Assignees of Mr. John Rock, Bayonet-maker and Innkeeper, High Street, Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford) all the valuable Shop Tools, together with the genteel and useful Household Furniture, Stock of Spirits and Ale, Beer Machine, large capital store Casks, containing from 400 to 700 Gallons each, excellent Hogshead and Half-hogshead Barrels, stout Mashing Tubs and Coolers, Copper and Iron Furnaces and Effects belonging to the KINGS HEAD INN, at Wednesbury aforesaid; Particulars of which will be ready in Catalogues, to be had one Week previous to the Sale, at the Premises, and of Isaac Farror, 28, New Street, Birmingham."

John Rock – see also KINGS HEAD, Church Hill.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 19/2/1816 - Advert,

“Superior Travelling between Wolverhampton and Birmingham, by a new Coach, carrying four Insides only, called The Waterloo, will commence running on Thursday next, and will continue to go every Morning, at Eight o’Clock, from the LION INN, Wolverhampton, to the Castle Inn, Birmingham; calls at the NEW BULLS HEAD, Bilston, and the KINGS HEAD, Wednesbury; returns every Evening from the Castle Inn, Birmingham, at Six o’Clock, and will arrive at Wolverhampton by Eight o’Clock.

This will be found a preferable Conveyance to any of the Day Coaches now on that Road.

Performed by Wm. Lamb and Co. Birmingham, February 19, 1816.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 14/4/1817 - Advert

“Lost from Wednesbury, about three Weeks ago, a young Greyhound Dog, black and white, with small Tick Marks. Any Person who has found him, and will bring him to Mr. Thomas Stone, KINGS HEAD INN, shall be handsomely rewarded for their Trouble; if stolen, any Person detaining him after this Notice will be prosecuted according to Law. Wednesbury, April 4, 1817.”

Thomas Stone was also a manufacturer of guns of all kinds. [1818]

Parson and Bradshaw General & Commercial Directory 1818

“Coaches from the KINGS HEAD, Wednesbury.

The Waterloo (day coach) to Birmingham every morning at half-past eight, returns at half-past six in the evening.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 18/5/1818 - Advert

“Notice is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the several Toll Gates upon the Turnpike Roads leading from Birmingham to High Bullen, in the Parish of Wednesbury, and to Great Bridge, and to the End of Darlaston Lane, and from Great Bridge to the Nether Trindle, near Dudley, and from Trowse Lane, in the Parish of Wednesbury, to Darlaston, in the Counties of Warwick and Stafford, will be Let by Auction to the best Bidder, at the House of Thomas Stone, situate at Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, and known by the Sign of the KINGS HEAD, on the 19th Day of June next, between the Hours of Two and Five, in the Manner directed by the Act passed in the thirteenth Year of the Reign of his Majesty King George the Third, ‘for regulating the Turnpike Roads;’ which Tolls produced the last Year, at the respective Gates hereafter mentioned, the following Sums above the Expenses of collecting them.

Soho Hill, £541 0s 0d

Great Bridge and Hill Top, £347 3s 7½d

Gospel Oak and Fire Holes, £157 18s 0d

Three Mile and Weighing Machine, £364 11s 2d

Holloway Bank and Kings Hill Field, £384 0s 0d

Burnt Tree, £235 0s 0d

and will be put up at those respective Sums. Whoever happens to be the best Bidder, must at the same Time give Security, with sufficient Sureties, to the Satisfaction of the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads, for Payment of the Rent agreed for, and at such Times as they shall direct.

E. and S. Crowther, Clerk to the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads.

Wednesbury, May 14, 1818.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 9/4/1821 - Advert

“Two Excellent Steam Engines, near Wednesbury, Staffordshire.

To be Sold by Auction, by R. Corbett, at the House of Mr. Thomas Stone, the KINGS HEAD INN, Wednesbury aforesaid, Tomorrow, April 10, at Three o’Clock in the Afternoon....”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 26/1/1824 - Advert

“Notice is hereby given, that the next Meeting of the Trustees for repairing the Roads leading from Birmingham to High Bullen, in the parish of Wednesbury, and to Great Bridge, and to the end of Darlaston Lane, and from Great Bridge to the Nether Trindle, near Dudley, and from Trowse Lane, in the parish of Wednesbury, to Darlaston, will be held at the KINGS HEAD INN, Wednesbury, on Monday the second day of February next, at eleven o’clock in the forenoon.

S. F. Crowther, Clerk to the Trustees. Wednesday, January 23, 1824.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 12/12/1825 - Advert

"KINGS HEAD INN, Wednesbury.

To be Let, the above Inn, in the month of February next, situate in the centre of the town; it is a house of very great business, both of in and out-door custom, and has a very good parlour company; with an entire yard, good stabling, &c, &c.

Apply to S. Constable, Wednesbury."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 9/1/1826 - Advert

"KINGS HEAD, Wednesbury.

To be Let, the above Inn, situate in the best part of the town for public business. There is a good draught of ale both in-door and out, a good parlour company, and a great market-house, with an entire yard and good stabling.

The coming-in will be low.

Enquire of S. Constable."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 20/12/1830 - Advert

"Freeholds At Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Henry Jacob, at the house of Mr. Taylor, the KINGS HEAD INN, Wednesbury, on Friday the 7th of January, 1831, at four o'clock in the afternoon....."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 15/5/1833 - Advert

"To Innkeepers, &c.

To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, all those capital and extensive Premises situate in the High Street, Wednesbury, in the centre of the Market Place, known by the sign of the KINGS HEAD, and comprising, in addition to a most excellent house, good brewhouse and cellaring, a large yard, a five-stall stable, and roomy coach houses. The above premises may be had with or without a large malthouse situated in the High Bullen.

The rent and further particulars may be known by application to Mr. Hunt, Solicitor, Wednesbury."

John Jevon = John Jevons

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 7/10/1833 - Advert

"To Maltsters.

To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, a large and commodious Malthouse, situate in the town of Wednesbury.

The above has an excellent supply of water, with every other requisite convenience, and is in all respects suitable for the purpose of carrying on an extensive business.

Particulars may be obtained by application to Mr. Jevons, KINGS HEAD INN, Wednesbury."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 12/2/1838 - Advert

"KINGS HEAD INN, Market Place, Wednesbury.

To be disposed of by private Treaty, the Good-will, Licenses, &c, with immediate possession of the above desirable and well-accustomed Inn, with Spirit Shop in front, extensive Stabling, Gig-house, Piggeries, and other conveniences thereunto attached.

The above is a good market house, in full business, with rent and payments moderate.

The Stock, Fixtures, Brewing Vessels, Casks, &c, with part of the Furniture, to be taken at a fair valuation.

Satisfactory reasons can be given for disposing of the above if required, and for further particulars apply on the premises, or to Daniel Taylor, Auctioneer, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury (if by letter, post paid)."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 18/3/1844

"About ten o'clock on Saturday morning last, a most barbarous murder was committed at the residence of Mr. John Crowther, in Wednesbury, on the person of his female servant, Ann Griffiths.

It appears that the servant-man left home about nine o'clock in the morning, with the horse and cart; Mr. Crowther also left in about half an hour afterwards, as is customary with both of them on the Saturday morning. The female servant was then alone in the house. In about three-quarters of an hour afterwards the butcher called and rang the bell, but was not answered; he called again in about two hours, but with no better result. About two o'clock Mr.

Crowther returned home, and discovered the unfortunate woman lying on the floor in the washhouse, covered in blood, and quite dead, her throat having been cut in the most frightful manner, and on her head there were several distinct wounds, which alone were sufficient to cause death.

The most unremitting exertions have since been made by the police, under the direction of the Chief Constable, Mr. Hatton, and the Deputy Chief Constable, Colonel Hogg, who yesterday morning caused a man to be apprehended who was formerly a servant in Mr. Crowther's employment, and against whom there are very strong grounds of suspicion.

A few articles were stolen from the premises, and there is no doubt that plunder was the object of the murderer or murderers."

AND

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 25/3/1844

"A Coroner's inquest was commenced before G. Hinchliffe, Esq, at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, on Tuesday last, on the body of Ann Griffiths, housekeeper to Mr. Crowther, of Wednesbury, whose murder we announced in our last publication. A man named William Beard, who was formerly in Mr. Crowther's employ, was present in custody, on suspicion of having committed the murder.

The first witness called was Thomas Witton, servant to Mr. Crowther, who proved that he left the house on the Saturday previous, about half past nine o'clock, to go to his master's stone pits. He had seen on the Friday a purse containing silver in the possession of the deceased.

Mr. Crowther stated that he left his house soon after Witton on the Saturday morning; and on his return at two o'clock, he found Ann Griffiths dead in the brewhouse, and immediately went to fetch the police. The deceased's purse was missing, and some wearing apparel.

The inquest was adjourned until Wednesday evening, when evidence was brough forward for the purpose of tracing the prisoner to the neighbourhood of Mr. Crowther's house immediately previous to the time at which the murder is supposed to have been perpetrated, and again from the scene of the crime to Wednesbury, where he was seen shortly after the murder had been discovered. The principal witness against the prisoner was Mr. J. H. Hatton, chief constable of the Staffordshire police, who deposed that he apprehended the prisoner, and caused his clothes and boots to be taken from him. There were marks of blood upon the shirt, and upon the breast and skirts of the coat. Witness examined the boots and found marks of blood upon them; he then went to the lawn at the back of Mr. Crowther's house, where he saw some footmarks; he compared the boots with the impressions, and found they corresponded exactly; the left boot was peculiarly marked, having a piece of leather nailed at the bottom after it was made, and with a different sort of nails to those on the right boot. The footmarks were traced from the lawn, across several grass and ploughed fields, and finally to the aqueduct over the canal leading from Wednesbury Bridge to Barr. When the prisoner was brought to the station his hands were examined, and on the back of the left hand there were marks as of finger nails made in a struggle. The prisoner accounted for the blood by saying that his nose had bled freely. The inquest was again adjourned, and resumed on Saturday, when the clothes stolen from Mr. Crowther's premises were produced and identified, and were so connected with the prisoner as to the place where they were found, that there appeared no doubt but that they were placed there by him.

The prisoner showed great ingenuity in attempting to evade the charge, and to establish an alibi, but the jury returned a verdict of Wilful Murder, and he was immediately committed on the Coroner's warrant to take his trial at the ensuing Stafford Assizes."

AND

Liverpool Mail 10/8/1844

"At the Staffordshire assizes, William Beards, 35 years of age, was indicted for the wilful murder of Ann Griffiths, at the parish of Wednesbury on the 16th of March, 1844. The trial lasted two days, and the jury, after several hours' deliberation on the evidence, which was purely circumstantial, found him guilty. He protested his innocence, but on Monday his brother, accompanied by the chaplain and the governor of the gaol, visited the criminal, and in the course of the conversation Beards confessed that he was the murderer. The execution will take place on Saturday, the 17th inst."

AND

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 19/8/1844

"The execution of William Beards, for the murder of Anne Griffiths, at Wednesbury, took place at Stafford gaol, on Saturday morning last. During Friday night bodies of men began to arrive in the town, and long before the hour appointed for the execution, large numbers of the mining population, including a considerable proportion of females, had posted themselves in what they considered the best situations for obtaining a full view of the melancholy spectacle.

Beards slept soundly through the night, and at six o'clock in the morning entered into devotional exercises with the Rev. Chaplain, and maintained his usual composure. Shortly before eight o'clock the executioner entered the condemned cell, and pinioned the arms of the miserable culprit, the mournful procession was formed, and slowly moved towards the fatal spot; the prison bell tolling, and the Chaplain impressively reading the burial service. The culprit walked steadily, and appeared to be earnestly engaged in prayer. On arriving at the foot of the drop, Beards looked upwards, and ascended with a firm and unfaltering step; the rope having been adjusted, the drop fell and the unfortunate malefactor ceased to live.

In the early part of the week Beards confessed to having committed the murder. He stated that he went to Mr. Crowther's house with the sole intention of seeking work; that Anne Griffiths told him that Mr. Crowther was not at home, and that if he did not leave, she would throw a saucepan of boiling water (which she took from the kitchen fire) over him; that he then flew into a passion, and whilst Griffiths was stooping to put down the saucepan, he struck her on the head with a coal-hammer, and the blow rendered her insensible. He then locked the door of the yard and went up stairs to Mr. Crowther's bed-room, and took some wearing apparel from the drawers, and a handkerchief from Griffiths's room. On coming down he took up a small black-handled knife, with which he cut her throat, and emptied her pockets, in which he found a purse containing two crown pieces. He then ate some fruit pie that was in the pantry, and was proceeding to ransack the house, when he was disturbed by the butcher ringing at the hall-door, and he immediately afterwards made his escape. The remainder of the confession corresponded with the evidence produced on the trial as to the proceedings of the murderer up to the period of his apprehension."

[It was estimated that 5,000 people attended the execution.]

Birmingham Journal 8/11/1845

"Birmingham, West Bromwich, Wednesbury, and Walsall Junction Railway.

We, the Undersigned, Landowners, Merchants, Coal and Ironmasters, Manufacturers, Traders, Agriculturists, and other Inhabitants residing in the boroughs of Birmingham and Walsall, and the towns of Wednesbury, West Bromwich, Handsworth, and other places in those Districts, do hereby express our opinion that the projected Birmingham, West Bromwich, Wednesbury, and Walsall Junction Railway is calculated to serve the important Mining, Manufacturing, Trading, and Agricultural Interests of the places and districts above mentioned, and we promise it our strenuous support.....

Simeon Constable, Innkeeper, Wednesbury."

Birmingham Journal 24/1/1846

"On Tuesday week a fatal accident occurred to a man named John Hackwood, who lost his life by falling from his cart, the wheels of which passed over his body.

It appeared that about two o'clock on the afternoon of the above day, as Hackwood, who was fifty-four years of age, was driving a cart laden with timber along the High Street, he found some of the load giving way behind him, and in his effort to keep it up, the horse going fast at the time, his foot slipped off the footboard, and he fell under the vehicle, the wheels of which passed over him, breaking several of his ribs. Several persons who witnessed the unfortunate occurrence immediately came to his assistance, and the poor fellow was removed to his house the same evening, where he died from the injuries he had received.

An inquest was held at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, on Wednesday, and a verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 2/11/1846 - Advert

"To Grocers.

Wanted immediately, an experienced Assistant; also a Junior one of good character.

Apply personally at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury."

TO GROCERS.
WANTED immediately, an experienced Assistant; also a Junior one of good character.—Apply personally at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury.

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/2/1847

"On Tuesday last, an inquest was held at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, before George Hinchliffe, Esq, coroner, on the body of Joseph Jones, a bricklayer, who met with his death under the following circumstances. On Saturday last, about ten o'clock, the deceased and Edward Roberts, his employer, went down the shaft of Mr. Davis's pit, at West Bromwich, to do some repairs. Between four and five o'clock they ascended the shaft, having finished their work. When they got to the top, John Harris, the engineer, reversed the engine before the banksman had time to run the waggon over the mouth of the pit. Edward Roberts, who was in the skip with the deceased, seeing the danger, immediately jumped out, and was saved; but the skip coming in contact with the edge of the waggon, it turned over, and the deceased was precipitated to the bottom of the shaft, a depth of eighty yards, and was killed on the spot. Both his arms were broken, his head and side were dreadfully fractured, and he was bruised all over the body. The jury returned a verdict of Manslaughter against Harris, the engineer, who was consequently committed for trial.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/3/1847

“Staffordshire Lent Assizes.....

John Harris was indicted for the manslaughter of Joseph Jones, at West Bromwich, on the 6th of February last.....

It was urged on behalf of the accused, that the accident was partially occasioned by the deceased having neglected to give the proper signal when entering the skip, as he was almost at the top of the shaft before the prisoner was aware that there was any one in the skip; and the ‘whimsey’ being somewhat out of order, he had not sufficient power to control it at the time when the accident occurred.

Not Guilty.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/2/1847

“Inquests before George Hinchliffe, Esq, Coroner.....

On Monday, at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, on the body of Ralph Longmore, aged 44, who was killed by a fall of coal. Verdict, Accidental Death. He has left a wife and seven children.”

Birmingham Journal 22/5/1847 - Advert

“Land and Mines. Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. J. Dawes, on Friday Next, the 28th day of May, 1847, at Six o’clock in the Evening, at the house of Mr. Simeon Constable, known by the sign of the GEORGE INN, at Wednesbury.....”

Birmingham Journal 1/1/1848

“On Tuesday evening an inquest was held before George Hinchliffe, Esq, at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, on the body of Joseph Peters, aged three years. It appeared that on Monday afternoon the mother and father of the deceased were both out of the house, and had left deceased and the other children in the charge of an elder sister; while she was engaged with the others, the deceased was playing with the fire, and his clothes got ignited. Before the flames could be extinguished he was so dreadfully burned that he died in a few hours. The usual verdict in such cases was returned.”

[Accidental Death.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 10/2/1849

“Representation of South Staffordshire.

On Wednesday evening last, the 7th instant, a numerous and highly respectable meeting was held at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, to receive Lord Lewisham, who had kindly consented to pay a visit to the electors of the town. His Lordship was introduced to the assembly by the Rev. Isaac Clarkson, who took the chair, and opened the proceedings with an able speech, in which he commended Lord Lewisham to the favour of the electors.....”

1851 Census

Market Place

- [1] Simeon Constable (58), victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Sydonia Constable (38), wife, born Westborough, Wiltshire;
- [3] Martha Constable (27), daughter, born Westborough, Wiltshire;
- [4] Elizabeth Constable (12), daughter, scholar, born Westborough, Wiltshire;
- [5] Mary Lees (19), visitor, born Westborough, Wiltshire;
- [6] Mary Potts (17), barmaid, born Coseley;
- [7] Jane Holloway (19), house servant, born Oldbury;
- [8] Lucy Noakes (24), cook, born Birmingham;
- [9] William Davis (22), house servant, born Acton, Herefordshire:

Birmingham Journal 23/8/1851 - Advert

“To Ironmongers, Grocers and Others.

To be Let, with immediate possession, one of the best situated Shops in the Market Place of Wednesbury.....
For particulars, apply to Mr. H. Wright, Great Bridge; or to Mr. S. Constable, GEORGE INN, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Journal 30/8/1851

“On Monday last, an inquest was held at Mr. Simeon Constable’s, the GEORGE INN, on the body of Ann Foley, a young woman who had been for about three months servant at the house of Mr. Wrenford, bookseller and printer, Market Place. The Jury having viewed the body, Mr. Hinchliffe adjourned the inquiry until Monday next, without taking any evidence, for the purpose of enabling Mr. Hobbins, surgeon, to make a post mortem examination. We learn, however, that on Sunday evening the deceased retired to rest, apparently in her usual state of health, which was generally pretty good, as far as her master and mistress were aware. A younger fellow-servant, and one of the children, slept in the same bed; and betwixt two and three o’clock on Monday morning the former was awakened by a peculiar noise, proceeding from the deceased, but on attempting to rouse her she found she was unable to do so. Fancying it was a nightmare, or something of that nature, she paid no more attention to the circumstance, and soon fell asleep. On getting up in the morning, however, she found that her bedfellow ‘slept the sleep that knows no waking.’ Mr. Hobbins was immediately sent for, but only to express an opinion that he had been dead for several hours.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/9/1851

“The inquest on the body of Ann Foley was resumed on Monday last at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, before G. Hinchliffe, Esq. Mr. Hobbins, surgeon, having made a post mortem examination, stated that he found extensive disease of the heart, and was of opinion that that was the cause of death. Verdict accordingly.”

Simeon Constable – see also COMMERCIAL.

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/8/1853

“John and Thomas Shorthouse, carpenters, were on Monday last charged before the Wednesbury magistrates with assaulting John Stephens, at the GEORGE INN, on the previous Saturday evening; on the same occasion Thomas Shorthouse was charged with assaulting Mr. B. D. Wood, the landlord of the GEORGE, also on Saturday evening; and John Shorthouse charged three persons with assaulting him. The charges preferred by the Shorthouses were dismissed, and they were fined altogether about £7. Mr. Wood withdrew his charges upon Thomas Shorthouse agreeing to pay the expenses of the wilful damage and give 5s to the Wednesbury poor box.”

Birmingham Journal 1/7/1854 - Advert

“George Allin, Auctioneer, Land Agent, and Surveyor, Walsall, begs respectfully to inform his Friends and the Public generally, that having taken and Removed to the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, he has made arrangements with Mr. Flanagan, Auctioneer and Surveyor, of Walsall, whereby the Business will be carried on as usual, at the Offices in Bridge Street, Walsall, under the Style or Title of Allin and Flanagan.
Walsall, June 30th, 1854.”

County Courts Chronicle 1/1/1855

“Smith v Griffiths.”

This was an action brought by the plaintiff, Joseph Smith, a miner, of Wednesbury, against the defendant, Josiah Griffiths, a publican of the same place, to recover the sum of £5 for damages sustained by the plaintiff by an assault which the defendant had committed upon him, in the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, on the morning of the 2nd November.

The evidence on behalf of the plaintiff was to the effect that he was drinking in the public house aforementioned, on the evening mentioned, when the defendant, who was tipsy, after challenging him to fight, struck him several times on the side of the head. The plaintiff had been suffering from illness for some months, and the assault tended to extend the time of that illness. After evidence was adduced on the part of the defendant to show that all he did to the plaintiff was to push his hat further down upon his head.

His Honour gave judgement for the plaintiff; but, taking into consideration the fact of the defendant being drunk at the time, said he should give the plaintiff a verdict for two guineas.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/6/1855 - Advert

"Notice is hereby given, that the Partnership heretofore subsisting between us, the undersigned, George Allin and William Henry Flanagan, as Auctioneers, Appraisers, and Land Surveyors, at Walsall and Wednesbury, both in the county of Staffordshire, was this day Dissolved by mutual consent; and that the business will in future be carried on by the said William Henry Flanagan alone, by whom all moneys due to or from the said Partnership will be received and paid.

Dated this 22nd day of June, 1855. George Allin, William Henry Flanagan.

Witness to the respective signatures, Henry Jackson, Solicitor, Westbromwich."

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/9/1855

"It had been intended to celebrate the capture of Sebastopol in Wednesbury yesterday week, but the Market Place being occupied on account of the wakes, the committee appointed to get up a demonstration deemed it advisable to defer it until Monday last. On that day Wednesbury certainly made a grand show. The streets were lined with the colours of our native land and her allies, and from the railway the town assumed a most gay aspect. The sight on entering the town was most striking. At the lowest computation not less than five hundred colours were displayed, and there was scarcely an inn or a shop, however small, that did not exhibit this mark of rejoicing.....

Barrels of ale were given away by Mr. George Allin of the GEORGE INN."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 11/2/1856- Advert

"Notice is hereby given, that the Partnership heretofore subsisting between us, the undersigned George Allin and Sarah Marshall, of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Victuallers, Wine and Spirit Dealers, trading under the style or firm of Allin and Marshall, was dissolved on the 31st day of December last, and that the said trades will in future be carried on by the said George Allin alone, who will receive and pay all debts owing to and from the said Copartnership.

Dated this 30th day of January, 1856.

George Allin. Sarah Marshall.

Witness, E. Marklew, Walsall, Solicitor."

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/2/1856 - Advert

"I hereby give notice, that Stephen Stokes, lately in my employ as a Traveller and Agent in the Wine and Spirit Trade, has no power or authority to Buy or Sell, or Pay or Receive Moneys on my behalf; and that any person paying money to the said Stephen Stokes as such traveller and agent, after notice hereof, will do so at his or her own risk.

George Allin, Wine and Spirit Merchant, Wednesbury. Dated 21st day of February, 1856."

Birmingham Journal 4/10/1856 - Died

"On the 1st inst, at Wednesbury, Frances Helen, the beloved wife of Mr. George Allin, wine and spirit merchant."

Staffordshire Sentinel 19/3/1859

"Staffordshire Spring Assizes.....

George Ross, 24, wrench-maker, was indicted for feloniously assaulting Noah Timmins on the 5th of February, at Westbromwich, and stealing from his person the sum of £101 6s 6d, the moneys of William Henry Dawes. Mr. Scotland and Mr. Hill conducted the prosecution, and Mr. Cook Evans defended the prisoner.

Noah Timmins, time-keeper in the employ of the prosecutor at the Friar Park lime pits, deposed that it was a part of his duty to go from that place to Bromford Lane on the Saturday, for money to pay the workmen's wages. On Saturday, the 5th of February, he went as usual, and received £101 6s 6d, which he put into a kid bag, and put it into his left hand trowsers pocket. On his return, when he got to Crankhall Lane, he saw three men about on hundred yards distance coming towards him. It was then about twenty-five minutes past four o'clock. The men were in the middle of the road, and he took the road side. As they were passing him, the prisoner, who was nearest to him, took hold of his left arm, and the others rushed upon him and threw him down. He kept his left hand in the pocket where the money was and cried 'Murder,' when he received a blow on the left temple and two cuts on the back of the head. Two of the men knelt on him and held him down while Ross pulled his hand out of his pocket and took the bag containing the money. When Ross took the bag, he said, 'I've got it,' and then ran away, and the other two men got up and followed him. Witness then got up and followed them, and saw Ross running with the bag in his right hand. When the men got to the canal they ran along the side in the direction of Hill Top. Witness followed them for about three quarters of a mile shouting 'stop thief' all the time until he got to farmer Jones's, who was ploughing in a field, and who he induced to lend him one of his horses, upon which he mounted and went again in pursuit of the men, and got sight of them on the other side of the wooden bridge. He followed then to the brick bridge where the men separated, two of them going towards Hill Top, and the other towards Wednesbury, when he lost sight of them. He then returned to his master's, and afterwards went to the doctor's. He had seen the prisoner Ross twice before and knew him well. On the Thursday following he went to the GEORGE INN, at Wednesbury, to look for the prisoner as he had seen him there before, and found him in the house, when he gave him into custody of a police officer, who was with him.

Thomas Perry, miner, living at Hill Top, saw three men running along the canal side on the 5th of February, and the witness Timmins running after them crying 'stop thief.' As the men passed him about thirty yards distance he recognised the prisoner Ross as one of them, and that he had in his hand something which appeared to be a dark bag. John Jones, farmer, deposed to hearing cries of 'murder' and 'stop thief' on the day named as he was ploughing in his field; to seeing three men running along the canal side, and to his lending the first witness one of his horses. Thomas Filcher, boat builder, also saw the prisoner and two other men running along the canal side, followed by Timmins.

George Wicketts, surgeon, deposed that on the evening of the day referred to, Timmins came to him and he found a contused wound on the forehead, and two lacerated wounds on the back of the head.

Police-constable Vincent stated that he took the prisoner into custody on the 10th of February, at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury. After he had taken him to the station he charged him with robbing the witness Timmins, to which he said, 'Very well.'

The learned counsel for the defence, in his address to the jury, contended that the evidence of identity was not sufficiently clear to fix the prisoner as one of the authors of the robbery, and called several witnesses to prove an alibi, who deposed to his being at the NAGS HEAD, the GEORGE INN, and the ROYAL EXCHANGE INN, Wednesbury, about the time of the robbery was committed, and also several witnesses who spoke to his previous good character.

Mr. Scotland then called Elizabeth Lowe, barmaid at the GEORGE INN public house, and the landlord of the ROYAL EXCHANGE, both of whom swore that the prisoner was not at those houses on the day in question at all. His Lordship having summed up at great length the jury returned a verdict of guilty. Sentence deferred."

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 18/3/1859

"The West Bromwich Highway Robbery.

The prisoner George Ross, who, it will be recollected, was found guilty of this offence, was sentenced to five years' penal servitude."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 8/6/1859 - Deaths

"On the 1st instant, very suddenly, Mr. John Marshall, of the GEORGE INN, Five Ways, Wednesbury."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 6/7/1859

"At the Public Office, on Saturday last, the following licenses were transferred.....

GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, transferred to Mrs. Amelia Marshall, widow and executrix of the late landlord, Mr. John Marshall."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 28/9/1859

"Two respectable looking men, named Samuel Collins and Thomas Evans, were brought before the Magistrates at Wolverhampton Police Court, on Wednesday last, upon four separate charges. The first two charges were for stealing wine and brandy from the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, the third was for doing wilful damage at the same hostelry, and the next for assaulting Police-sergeant Walter Gasson while in the execution of his duty.

Mrs. Amelia Marshall, the landlady of the GEORGE, said that on the previous evening the two defendants came into her house and called for something to drink, but seeing the state they were in she refused to supply them. They then became rather riotous, and helped themselves to half a pint of brandy, and some sherry, and broke a door, thereby doing damage to the extent of three and sixpence.

Police-sergeant Gasson, who was called in to take the defendants into custody, said that as he was removing Evans from the house he was very violent, struck him in the face, and broke a door down.

The Magistrates dismissed the first two charges of stealing the spirits, and for the damage ordered the defendants to pay 5s each, and the expenses. For the assault upon the police-officer Evans was fined 20s and costs."

1861 Census

Market Place – GEORGE INN

- [1] Thomas Stringer (35), innkeeper, born Lichfield;
- [2] Amelia Stringer (30), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] Jane Rose (16), barmaid, born Hallfields;
- [4] Ann Davis (20), housemaid, born Sedgley;
- [5] William Hughes (17), man servant, born Walsall;

Birmingham Journal 1/3/1862 - Died

“On the 17th ult, at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, aged 32 years, Amelia, the beloved wife of Thomas Stringer, of the same place.”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/4/1862 - Advert

“Wanted, a good Pianist, and a good Serio-comic Male or Female Vocalist.

Apply to Mr. Thomas Stringer, GEORGE INN, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, a good PIANIST, and a good Serio-comic Male or Female VOCALIST.--Apply to Mr. Thomas Stringer, George Inn, Wednesbury.

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/8/1862

“On Tuesday evening at the GEORGE INN, High Street, Wednesbury, Mr. Hooper held an inquest on the body of David Deeley, aged 44, coach-smith, who had resided with his father in High Street. Deceased retired to bed about half-past nine o'clock on Saturday night, and about two hours after he was found by one of his brothers in the brewhouse, bleeding from an extensive wound he had inflicted on his throat with a razor, from the effects of which, despite the medical aid of Mr. Proctor, the unhappy man died shortly after. Deceased had suffered from delirium tremens, and there having been reason to believe he must have been of unsound mind when he thus put an end to his existence, the jury returned a verdict accordingly.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/9/1862

“A young woman, named Mary Garratt, a servant to Mr. Stringer, the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, was, on Saturday, brought before the magistrates at West Bromwich on the charge of stealing several articles of wearing apparel, the property of Miss Catherine Wright, Mr. Stringer's housekeeper. The accused had been in her service for about seven weeks, and was taken without a character. Day by day the prosecutrix missed something or another, which, on making a search, she discovered in the prisoner's room. On Thursday Police-sergeant Gasson was called in, and in the box of the accused and a drawer in her room he found a number of articles of dress, &c, which Miss Wright identified as her property. The prisoner, who contended that she had not stolen the property because she had not removed it from the house, was committed for trial at the next Stafford Sessions.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/10/1862

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Mary Garratt, 19, servant, was convicted of having, on the 11th of September, stolen three handkerchiefs, four collars, one pair of stockings, and other articles, the property of Catherine Wright, at Wednesbury, and was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment with hard labour.”

Birmingham Daily Post 21/1/1863

“At the Police Court, yesterday, Daniel Humpage and John Danks were charged with having been drunk and riotous on Wednesday last, also with having refused to leave the GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury, when requested. A further charge was that they assaulted Parish-constable Hackwood. Miss Catherine Wright, housekeeper to Mr. Stringer, landlord of the GEORGE INN, gave evidence to the effect that on the afternoon in question the defendants came to the GEORGE INN, and after calling for drink, they used most disgusting language and refused to go when requested. Hackwood was then sent for, and on his remonstrating with them they committed the assault complained of. Both defendants expressed their sorrow for what they had done, but the Bench considered the offence a most serious one, and ordered them to pay £2 11s 6s each, including costs, or in default one month's imprisonment with hard labour.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/2/1863

“At Wednesbury Petty Sessions, on Thursday, a lad named Samuel Bennington was charged with stealing five quarts of water, the property of the South Staffordshire Waterworks Company, from a brewhouse, in the possession of Mr. Stringer, the GEORGE INN, High Street. The offence was proved by Sergeant Gasson, and the defence set up was that the can which the defendant filled would only hold four quarts. Fined 2s 6d and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 21/3/1863 - Advert

“Wanted, a Strong Lad, of about sixteen, to make himself generally useful.
Apply to Mr. T. Stringer, GEORGE INN, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, a Strong LAD, of about sixteen, to make himself generally useful.—Apply to Mr. T. Stringer, George Inn, Wednesbury.

Staffordshire Advertiser 11/4/1863 - Advert

“The GEORGE INN, and other Valuable Copyhold Premises, situate at Wednesbury in the County of Stafford. To be Sold by Private Contract, all that Messuage, or Tenement, called or known as the GEORGE INN, situate and being in the Market Place, Wednesbury aforesaid, together with the Stables, Coach-houses, Piggeries, and other Outbuildings thereto belonging; as the same are now in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Stringer. And also that Messuage, or Tenement, now used as a Draper’s Shop, adjoining the above, together with the Outbuildings thereto belonging; as the same are now in the occupation of John Borrall. The above premises are Copyhold of the Manor of Wednesbury, and each have an old-established trade attached thereto, and are supplied with every convenience for carrying on an extensive business. For further particulars, apply to Mr. S. P. Smith, Solicitor, Walsall.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/7/1863 - Advert

“Wanted, a respectable young Person, as Barmaid, and to make herself generally useful. Good references required. Also, a General Servant, who understands Cooking.
Apply to Mr. Thomas Stringer, GEORGE INN, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, a respectable young Person, as BARMAID, and to make herself generally useful. Good references required. Also, a GENERAL SERVANT, who understands Cooking.—Apply to Mr. Thomas Stringer, George Inn, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 30/7/1863 - Advert

“Wanted, a General Servant, who understands Plain Cooking. Wages £8.
Apply to Mr. Thomas Stringer, GEORGE INN, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, a General SERVANT, who understands Plain Cooking. Wages, £8.—Apply to Mr. THOMAS STRINGER, George Inn, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/2/1864 - Advert

“Wanted, a good General Servant. Wages according to ability.
Apply, Thomas Stringer, GEORGE INN, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, a good GENERAL SERVANT. Wages according to ability.—Apply, Thomas Stringer, George Inn, Wednesbury.

Staffordshire Advertiser 26/3/1864 - Deaths

“On the 21st instant, aged 38 years, Mr. Thomas Stringer, of the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/6/1864 - Marriages

“On the 22nd ultimo, at St. Philips Church, Birmingham, by the Rev. J. Ray, Mr. John Leonard Weston, of Wednesbury, to Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. Isaac Morley, of Church Aston, Shropshire.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 27/7/1864 - Advert

“Wanted, a Barmaid, accustomed to a brisk Counter Trade. First-class references required.
Apply, Mr. Weston, the GEORGE Wine and Spirit Vaults, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/8/1864 - Advert

“As Barmaid.
Wanted, immediately, by an experienced young person used to a brisk Counter Trade, a Situation as above. First-class references.
Address, M., GEORGE HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, a BARMAID, accustomed to a brisk Counter Trade. First-class references required.—Apply, Mr. Weston, the George Wine and Spirit Vaults, Market Place, Wednesbury.

AS BARMAID.—WANTED, immediately, by an experienced young person used to a brisk Counter Trade, a Situation as above. First-class references.—Address, M., George Hotel, Market Place, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 20/3/1865

“On Friday last, Mr. E. Hooper, District Coroner, held an inquest at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, touching the death of Barnett Lowe, aged 50, who was found by a man named Marigold, in the cabin of a boat in a dying state on Monday last. Mr. William Lowe, a brother of the deceased, stated that the deceased was in the habit of drinking for weeks together. The Jury returned a verdict of Death from Excessive Drinking.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/5/1865 - Advert

“Wanted, a Second-hand Street Gas Lamp, suitable for a Liquor Vaults.
Apply, the GEORGE, Market Place, Wednesbury, stating shape, size, price, and where to be seen.”

WANTED, a Second-hand Street Gas LAMP, suitable for a Liquor Vaults.—Apply, The George, Market Place, Wednesbury, stating shape, size, price, and where to be seen.

Birmingham Daily Post 16/6/1865 - Advert

“Billiards. Wanted, an experienced Youth, as Marker. A good character indispensable.
Apply, the GEORGE, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

BILLIARDS.—WANTED, an experienced Youth, as MARKER. A good character indispensable.—Apply, “The George,” Market Place, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 4/10/1865 - Advert

“Brewer, &c. Wanted, a single Man, as Brewer and Man-of-all-Work.
Apply, the GEORGE, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

BREWER, &c.—WANTED, a Single MAN, as Brewer and Man-of-all-Work.—Apply, “The George,” Market Place, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/11/1865

“At Wednesbury Petty Sessions yesterday, Samuel Attwood was summoned on a charge of fraudulently removing a horse and cab from the premises of Mr. Weston, of the GEORGE HOTEL.
The defendant, who had hired stabling of the complainant, had notice to quit on the 14th of October, and he then removed his horse and cab. The complainant summoned him for fraudulently removing the horse and cab as he owed him (the complainant) a quarter’s rent.
The magistrates considered there was no case, and dismissed it.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/12/1865 - Advert

“Nurse. Wanted, an experienced, middle-aged Woman, to take charge of an Infant. Good character required.
Apply, Mrs. Weston, the GEORGE, Wednesbury.”

NURSE.—WANTED, an experienced, middle-aged Woman, to take charge of an Infant. Good character required.—Apply, Mrs. WESTON. The George, Wednesbury.

Walsall Advertiser 7/12/1867 - Advert

“Wednesbury. Valuable Hotel, and Capital Liquor Vaults, known as the GEORGE HOTEL, situated in the very best part of the Market Place, Wednesbury; also the Retail Shop, Dwelling-house and Premises adjoining.
Messrs. Farrington and Son, are instructed to Offer by Auction, at the house of Mr. Whitehouse, the TURKS HEAD HOTEL, Wednesbury aforesaid, on Friday, the 13th day of December, 1867, at Six for Seven o’clock in the Evening, in one or more lots as may be agreed upon at the time of Sale, and subject to conditions then to be produced.
All that very desirable and highly important Property comprising the GEORGE HOTEL, and capital Liquor Vaults, situated in the principal thoroughfare of the Market Place, Wednesbury aforesaid, standing at the junction of the Dudley, Wolverhampton, and Walsall Turnpike Roads there, with the Stables, Coach-houses, enclosed Yard, and premises thereto belonging, now in the occupation of Mr. J. L. Weston.
And also all that capital Retail Shop, Dwelling-house and Premises adjoining, in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Hitchen.
NB. The above Property is Copyhold of Inheritance, held of the Manor of Wednesbury aforesaid, is substantially built, and presents an opportunity for investment rarely to be met with.
For further particulars apply to Mr. S. P. Smith, Solicitor, Walsall; or the Auctioneers of the same place.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 22/8/1868 - Advert

“Billiards. For Sale, a first-class Billiard Table, almost new; also, a Chess Board and Chess Men.
To be seen at the GEORGE, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

BILLIARDS.—For Sale, a first-class BILLIARD TABLE, almost new; also, a Chess Board and Chess Men.—To be seen at the George, Market Place, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 8/2/1869 - Advert

“Wanted, a trustworthy Man, to make himself generally useful; also, a good General Servant.
The GEORGE, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, a trustworthy MAN, to make himself generally useful; also, a good General Servant.—The George, Market Place, Wednesbury.

John Leonard Weston died in the 1st quarter of 1869.

Birmingham Daily Post 1/3/1869 - Advert

“The GEORGE INN, Market Place, High Street, Wednesbury.

By Gilbert and Son. To be Sold, the Lease, Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the above well-known Corner Liquor Vaults, which has been successfully carried on for many years, and is now being disposed of in consequence of the death of the late Proprietor. This House occupies one of the principal positions in Wednesbury, and is now doing a first-class counter and out-door trade. The Premises are well fitted up, convenient, well arranged, and low rented. In-coming about £400.

Apply, Gilbert and Son, Auctioneers, 17, Colmore Row, Birmingham.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/12/1869 - Advert

“Sale of Household Furniture and Public House Effects, at the GEORGE INN, High Street, Wednesbury.

Including Metallic and other Bedsteads, five excellent goose-feather Beds, Palliasses, Chest of Drawers, Easy Chair, large Chimney Glass, plate 50in by 40in; single-barrel Gun, Perry’s Fire-proof Safe, Drinking Tables, Beer Machine, eight-day Clock, in mahogany case; patent Corking Machine, seventy dozens of Porter and Wine Bottles, 100 large stone Spirit Jars, Bottle Baskets, capital Malt Crusher, two Fat Pigs, Pig Trough, Wort Coolers, Mash Tub, Gathering Tub, round and oval Tubs, twenty small Casks, twelve Liquor Casks, ten Hogsheads and Half-hogsheads, new 400-gallon Store Casks, together with the large Stock of Wines and Spirits, including nine dozens of British Wines, fifty dozens of Claret, eighty-five dozens of excellent Sherry, thirty-one dozens of Port, eight dozens of Port, eight dozens of Champagne, Irish and Scotch Whisky, Hennessy’s and other best French Brandy.

Which will be Sold by Auction, by Gilbert and Son, on Monday Next, December 6.

Sale to commence at Eleven o’clock precisely.

Catalogues may be had on the Premises; or at the Auctioneers Offices, 17, Colmore Row, Birmingham,

The Stock of Wines and Spirits will be sold at Two o’clock.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/2/1870

“At the Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, before Mr. Spooner, Stipendiary, John Doolan, a groom and porter, in the employ of Mr. Charles Nicholson, organ builder, Walsall, was charged with stealing a horse, a bridle, and a saddle, the property of his employers.

Arthur Thurstants, an apprentice, in the employ of the prosecutor; Owen Jennings, greengrocer, High Bullen, Wednesbury; and Sergeant Steele, were examined. The evidence showed that on the previous day the apprentice was on the premises, and saw the horse and other articles there. On returning, about an hour afterwards, he found them gone. The prisoner was met on the road, near Bescot Hall, by Jennings, who bought the horse and other things for £2 5s. The prisoner was afterwards found at the GEORGE INN, Market Place, Wednesbury, by Sergeant Steele. Prisoner was spending his money freely, and he afterwards followed him down High Street. He charged the prisoner with stealing the horse, upon which he ran away, but he succeeded in capturing him.

The prisoner was committed for trial.”

[At Stafford in March 1870, John Doolan was sentenced to six months’ imprisonment.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/10/1870

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Thomas Baker, 26, was charged with putting off a counterfeit florin at Wednesbury.

The prosecutor, James Whitehouse, occupant of the UNION TAVERN, Wednesbury, deposed that the prisoner came to his house on the 20th of August, and called for a glass of ale, for which he paid with a bad florin. The prosecutor immediately told him that the coin was counterfeit, upon which the prisoner stated that he must have received it in wages from his master to whom he should return it. The prisoner then left, and was followed to the GEORGE INN by the prosecutor, who saw him order some refreshment there and receive some change, upon which he communicated with the police, by whom he was apprehended. Mr. Motteram, for the prosecution, called witnesses to prove that the prisoner had uttered more than one counterfeit coin.

Eliza Nicholls, occupying a public house in Victoria Road, Wednesbury, said that the prisoner came to her house a few days previous to his apprehension and demanded a glass of beer, to pay for which he offered a false florin. Witness’s husband inquired whether he was aware that the florin was a bad one, and the prisoner replied, ‘Oh, is it?’ and produced another, which was also found to be a bad one; and he then stated that he had received them from his master, at the same time paying for the beer with a good half-crown.

He was found guilty, and having been several times previously convicted, was sentenced to six months’ imprisonment.”

1871 Census

1, Upper High Street

[1] Stewart J. Robinson (20), barman, born Tamworth;

[2] Emma Page (24), barmaid, born Worcestershire;

[3] Mary Ann Page (20), barmaid, born Worcestershire;

[4] Margaret Leveridge (21), domestic servant, born Dublin:

Birmingham Daily Post 19/9/1871 - Advert

“Clear-Out Sale, at the GEORGE INN, High Street, Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Gilbert and Son, on Friday Next, September 22, by order of Messrs. Wickham and Pickmere, in consequence of the expiration of the Lease.

The Public House Effects, Fixtures, and Fittings, including two capital Ale Machines, two Liquor Fountains, Counter, 25 feet long; Gaseliers, Pendants, and Brackets, Drinking Tables, Gas Stove, Windsor and other Chairs, Liquor Bottles, various Glasses, Benches, Partitioning and half-glazed Doors, capital Pier Glass, in gilt frame, plate 50 by 40; Kitchen Boiler, two large Copper Boilers, quantity of Wine and other Bottles; together with a large Stock of Wines, including quarter-cask of Sherry, quarter-cask of Port, hogshead of Sherry, hogshead of Port, twenty-nine dozen of Claret, one dozen of Sherry, nine dozen of Champagne, &c, &c.

Sale commencing at Eleven o'clock.

Catalogues at the Auctioneers Offices, 17, Colmore Row.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 20/9/1871

“At the Police Court, yesterday, the following cases against Wednesbury publicans were brought before the Stipendiary (Mr. I. Spooner) and adjudicated upon.....

Charles Cotterill, the GEORGE, Market Place, for allowing gaming.

Police-constable William Bayley stated that at about twelve o'clock on the 15th inst, he looked through the defendant's window, when he saw the manager and another person tossing penny pieces. He went in and told the manager he should report him. He asked witness to take no notice of the matter, and followed him into the street and said he would 'square' him all right if he would take no notice. He added that he considered himself a 'fly bloke,' and said he had won 6d off the man with whom he had been tossing.

Defendant pleaded his absence as a palliation of the offence.

The Stipendiary remarked that the defendant himself was answerable for what occurred in his house. It was stated that defendant had to pay costs for refusing to admit the police in December last. The Stipendiary said that the difficulty in that case was that it seemed so harmless in itself tossing for one pint of beer, and he admitted it; but it was, however, the first step toward a hundred tossings for beer. He should fine the defendant £1 and costs, and his license would be endorsed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 21/8/1872

“At the Dudley County Court, yesterday, before Mr. Rupert Kettle, Judge, Henry Beesley, landlord of the GRIFFIN INN, Great Bridge, sued Daniel Lawrence, landlord of the GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury, for £50, as damages for an assault committed in the previous month. Mr. Lewis (Messrs. Duignan, Lewis, and Co.) was for the plaintiff, and Mr. Godson (instructed by Messrs. Caddick) was for the defendant.

The plaintiff's case was that he visited the Dudley Cricket Ground on the occasion of the All-England match, and there met Mr. Erwin, landlord of the LIMERICK INN, Great Bridge. After the match he called at the latter's house with the landlord, and found the defendant in the passage. Without a word of provocation, defendant struck Mr. Erwin, with whom he had been at litigation, and when the latter passed on defendant seized plaintiff round the neck, and administered several blows on his mouth, loosening two or three teeth, which ultimately came out. Plaintiff had suffered considerably by the loss of the teeth.

In cross-examination plaintiff admitted that he had been drinking during the afternoon, and that after the assault he was in a private room in the LIMERICK with the defendant, and several bottles of champagne were drunk in this room by the company generally. In that room there was a great deal of 'chaffing' going on, and in reply to a statement of Lawrence's, about the latter's capability to fight all the Beesleys in the family, the plaintiff said he had often given the defendant's father a basin of broth.

In defence Mr. Godson argued that Mr. Beesley was intoxicated, and that he did not remember the circumstances, and that the supply of champagne was called for in order to make the matter up. The defendant was then called, and he in his evidence bore out this theory.

After several ineffectual attempts to settle the case, his Honour said he was sorry to see three respectable men in a case like that, and called the solicitors and counsel engaged into his private room. Upon their return Mr. Godson said the parties had agreed upon the terms suggested by his Honour, and Mr. Lawrence was willing to apologise to Mr. Beesley for the blows, which were without ill-feeling. Mr. Lewis said his client was willing to accept the terms, and be good friends with Mr. Lawrence. His Honour then stated the terms, £5 5s to be paid by the defendant to the West Bromwich Hospital, and the costs as between solicitors and clients; so that Mr. Beesley should not be a shilling out of pocket. The plaintiff and defendant shook hands and left the court.”

Dudley Guardian 17/1/1874

“At the Walsall County Court, on Thursday, before Mr. A. Martineau, Judge, an action was heard which has caused no little amount of discussion in the Wednesbury betting circle within the past few months. It has been before the Court on several occasions, but had been adjourned by consent. The plaintiff was Daniel Lawrence, the proprietor and occupier of the GEORGE HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury, and the defendant, Joseph Harrison, is a barber and tobacconist, also residing in the Market Place; and the action was brought to recover the sum of £5, money had and received by the defendant, of and for the use of the plaintiff, on the 23rd April last.

Plaintiff, in his evidence, stated that on the day named he was at the STORK HOTEL, in Walsall. Mr. Batteson, a newspaper agent, of Wednesbury the defendant, and several others, were present. In a conversation which took place, Batteson said he would countermand plaintiff’s order for ‘tissues’ – referring to certain betting circulars issued every day with the results of races and the latest betting. Plaintiff replied that if Batteson was not careful he should countermand the order instead. Batteson put down £1, and bet that he could not, and afterwards increased the challenge to £5. Plaintiff accepted the last bet, and placed a £5 note on the table, which defendant picked up. Plaintiff asked him to put it down again, but he refused to do so, and went away with Batteson. Plaintiff went to defendant’s shop the same night for the money, but as he was not in, he requested the person in the shop to inform him why he had called. He went again the next morning and asked defendant to return him the money. Defendant at first denied that he had got it, but afterwards said it was a bet, and that plaintiff had given it him to hold. He refused to deliver it up.

Several witnesses were called to prove that plaintiff repudiated the bet and demanded the money back the day after it had been taken.

Mr. Dale, in defence, based his arguments upon the 8th and 9th Vic. cap.109, sec.18, which prohibits gaming, and contended that a bet was not recoverable.

His Honour, in giving judgement for the plaintiff for the full amount claimed and costs, said that, although it was a bet, the plaintiff had repudiated it before the following Saturday, and therefore he was entitled to have the money returned.”

Dudley Guardian 1/8/1874

“On Saturday last, Mr. E. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, into the cause of the death of George Edward Daniells, aged seven years, son of Isaac Daniells, machinist, Union Street.

The father of deceased stated that on the evening of Wednesday week he returned home from play, and complained that his head, chest, and bowels pained him. A powder was given him, and afterwards he was taken to Mr. Garman, surgeon. On the Friday night he stated that whilst playing with some boys they had knocked him down, kicked him on the chest, and caused him to spit blood. There were no marks of violence upon him, and when the mother spoke to the boys they denied having beaten him. Witness did not think they had caused his death, though he believed they had beaten him.

Mr. W. C. Garman, surgeon, deposed that deceased was suffering from extensive inflammation of the right lung and its covering, when he first examined him after he was taken ill. He attended him up to his death, and had since made a post mortem examination. There were no external marks of violence. The vessels of the brain were highly congested, and the right lung, liver, kidneys, and intestines were inflamed. He considered death to have resulted from pleurisy and inflammation of the lungs of a violent character. He could not connect the injuries he was said to have received with the conditions he had found, though, had deceased been suffering from the malady of which he died, any violence or excitement would have accelerated his death. He believed he had caught a severe cold, and it had passed unnoticed. At the request of the jury two little boys, named Walker and Wenlock, who were with deceased at the time he was playing, were called, and their evidence went to show that deceased had been struck on the back with a stone, that he had fought with one of the boys, and that another had hit him. They had not seen anyone kick or kneel on deceased.

The jury returned a verdict that deceased had died from Natural Causes.”

Midland Counties Evening Express 8/4/1875

"On Monday, Mr. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest at the GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury, on the body of Elizabeth Marshall, aged nearly 70, of Church Street. On Saturday afternoon, at about two o'clock, she was crossing Union Street, when she was startled by a passing vehicle, and fell down. She was raised up and taken home, where she died about half-past five o'clock. Verdict, Death from Natural Causes."

Birmingham Daily Post 15/2/1876 - Advert

"Young Man Wanted, to Attend to a Horse and Gig, and make himself generally useful.

Apply to Mr. D. Lawrence, GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury."

YOUNG Man Wanted, to Attend to a Horse and Gig, and make himself generally useful.—Apply to Mr. D. Lawrence, George Hotel, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 27/3/1877 - Advert

"The GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury.

Consternation. A limited number of Mares. Fee £3 3s. Groom 5s.

Apply at the above address."

[This is about horse breeding.]

THE GEORGE HOTEL, WEDNESBURY.—
CONSTERNATION. A limited number of Mares. Fee £3.
Groom 5s.—Apply at the above address.

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/1/1878

"John Page, miner, was charged with assaulting Daniel Lawrence, landlord of the GEORGE HOTEL, High Street, Wednesbury, on the night of the 5th inst, and with refusing to quit. The evidence of the complainant, represented by Mr. Sheldon, was to the effect that the defendant, for whom Mr. Wilcox appeared, came to his house, and after creating a disturbance assaulted him by striking him in the face. The Bench fined the defendant 40s and costs, or in default one month's imprisonment. The defendant was also fined 20s and costs for refusing to quit the house when requested to do so by the landlord."

Birmingham Daily Post 11/2/1878 - Advert

"Youth Wanted, to Look After Horse and Trap and make himself generally useful.

Mr. Lawrence, GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury."

YOUTH Wanted, to Look After Horse and Trap and make himself generally useful.—Mr. Lawrence, George Hotel, Wednesbury.

Wednesbury Herald 18/1/1879

"Yesterday an inquest was held by Mr. E. Hooper, at the GEORGE HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury, on view of the body of Maria Coley, wife of Joseph Coley, 56, Church Street. Deceased, who was 70 years of age, had been ailing for two or three years, she suffering from shortness of breath, and pains in the stomach, died very suddenly on Wednesday morning. On the previous evening, her husband seeing that she was getting worse, sent for the doctor, who forwarded a bottle of medicine. He and his daughter rose early on Wednesday morning, and he procured his wife some warm tea. About seven o'clock the daughter, who had returned from her work, called his attention to the condition of his wife, and on going into the room where she was lying, he saw that she was dead.

The jury returned a verdict that death resulted from Natural Causes."

Dudley Herald 30/8/1879

"At the GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Wednesday, the Methodist New Connexion Chapel, situated in the Holyhead Road, was offered for sale, but, as the highest bid only amounted to £325, the building was not sold."

Wednesbury Herald 27/9/1879

"On Thursday an inquest was held at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, before Mr. Hooper, district coroner, touching the death of John Foster, aged 64 years, carpenter, of 29, Union Street, Wednesbury, who was employed at the works of Messrs. Lloyd, Forster, and Co, Old Park Works, Darlaston Road.

The evidence showed that deceased had been in a declining state of health for some time past, and more especially during the past twelve months; that he had been attended by Dr. Garman and also by Dr. Collins. He was still, however, able to follow his employment and on the morning of Wednesday left his home in his usual state of health at about half-past five o'clock. Deborah Foster stated that she did not see her husband but heard him call her grandson up at about that time. He took his dinner with him, and at about three o'clock intelligence was brought that something had happened to her husband. At four o'clock the fact of her husband's death became known to her. She remembered nothing particularly since.

Herbert Riley, boiler maker, said on the afternoon in question he had occasion to go to the closet at the Old Park Works. He saw Foster there, and talked with him a few minutes from an adjoining closet. While witness was there he heard deceased leave the closet, and immediately afterwards he heard something come into contact with the wall. The closet was quite open at the back and the deceased had fallen in. As his own endeavours to get the deceased out were ineffectual he got assistance, and ultimately the deceased was got out and laid upon the grass. The Police and Dr. Blackwood were sent for, but the deceased was quite dead when Dr. Blackwood arrived shortly afterwards. After a brief consultation the jury returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased died from Natural Causes, and added that they thought the attention of the manager of the Old Park Works should be drawn to the unsafe state of the closets upon their works. The coroner said he should certainly make it a part of his duty to point out to the manager of the works the unsatisfactory state of the closets in question, and also as he understood there were similar conveniences at the Patent Shaft works he should also draw the attention of the manager to their unsafe condition."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 11/2/1880 - Advert

"Wanted, a Youth, about 18 or 20, to make himself generally useful. One used to Horses preferred.

Apply, GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury."

WANTED, a YOUTH, about 18 or 20, to make himself generally useful. One used to Horses preferred.—Apply, George Hotel, Wednesbury.

Wednesbury Herald 31/7/1880

"Two respectably dressed young men named Joseph and Samuel Williams, both residing at Dudley Port, were charged with violently assaulting Daniel Lawrence, landlord of the GEORGE HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury, at Great Bridge on the 19th inst. Mr. Sheldon appeared for the complainant, and Mr. Sharpe, of West Bromwich, for the defendants.

Mr. Sheldon said the facts of the case were that on Monday night complainant drove over with a friend from Wednesbury to the STORK HOTEL, Great Bridge, and upon going into one of the rooms he was met by the two defendants, who without the slightest provocation struck and kicked him in a most violent manner. If he proved his case to the satisfaction of the Court, he trusted that his worship would severely punish the defendants.

The complainant said that upon going into the hotel the defendant Samuel mocked his voice and Williams afterwards struck him on the head which caused him to fall on the ground. Whilst on the ground both defendants kicked him in a most brutal manner.

A large number of witnesses having given evidence in support of the complainant, Mr. Sharpe said he was in a position to call evidence to the effect that Mr. Lawrence used insulting language towards the defendants, after which a free fight took place. Therefore he contended that if Mr. Lawrence was assaulted it was through his own seeking, inasmuch as he struck the first blow.

Witnesses having been called in support of the defence, defendants were afterwards charged with assaulting Abraham Cooper, a waiter at the STORK HOTEL. The complainant stated that whilst the defendants were assaulting Lawrence they kicked him, and inflicted serious injuries.

The Stipendiary said he believed the evidence given for the complainants in both cases. For the first offence defendants would each have to pay 20s and costs, and for the second 5s and costs.

The hearing of the cases created a great deal of interest."

Dudley and District News 6/11/1880

"On Tuesday evening, as Mr. Joseph Guttridge, landlord of the GOLDEN CUP, Toll End, Tipton, was driving home, and while endeavouring to get out of the way of a vehicle containing a large boiler, his trap collided with that of Mr. Lawrence, of the GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury, the shock from which precipitated him to the ground. Mr. Guttridge, when picked up, was found to be insensible, and he was at once taken to the BOAT INN, where he soon resuscitated under the care of Dr. Garmon, who was sent for after the accident occurred. Mr. Guttridge was subsequently taken home, and is progressing favourably."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 12/11/1880

"An inquest was held on Wednesday, at GEORGE HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury, by Mr. Edwin Hooper, on the body of the illegitimate child of Phoebe Hill, of 35, Churchill. The jury returned a verdict of Accidentally Suffocated."

1881 Census

1, Market Place – GEORGE HOTEL

[1] Daniel Lawrence (47), widower, licensed victualler, born Donnington Wood, Shropshire;

[2] William Lawrence (18), son, assistant waiter, born Great Bridge;

[3] A. M. Lawrence (14), daughter, assistant waiter, born Great Bridge;

[4] Letitia Edge (29), assistant waiter, born Great Bridge:

Wednesbury Herald 19/11/1881

“On Saturday, Mr. Edwin Hooper held an inquest at the GEORGE HOTEL, Market Place, as to the death of Thomas Wright (35), ironworker, Ridding Lane, who died suddenly on the 10th.

It was proved that deceased’s death was caused by pleurisy, and not through taking a dose of jalap, and a verdict of Died from Natural Causes was returned.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/2/1882

“William Young and Thomas Willetts, employed by the London and North-Western Railway Company at Wednesbury, were charged with stealing six bottles of champagne, the property of the company. Mr. Hilton, of London, appeared on behalf of the company to prosecute, and Mr. Williams (Duignan and Co.) appeared for Willetts, and Mr. Sheldon for Young.

The evidence showed that Willetts had been in the employ of the company for about five years and Young about three years. Both of them were engaged shunting in and out of Wednesbury Station. On the 4th inst the Trent Valley Brewery Company at Lichfield forwarded to Mr. Daniel Lawrence, of the GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury, four cases of champagne, each containing two dozen pint bottles. The cases were loaded in due course that day and sent to the consignee. Consequent upon very numerous reports of robberies taking place from the company’s waggons in this district, the waggon in which the wine was loaded was watched at the instance of the detective department. When the wine was transferred from one waggon to another on its arrival at Walsall, two detectives named George Ross and Eddolls, and a foreman checker named Fieldhouse, were placed in a box waggon next to the waggon containing the wine, and five holes having been bored at the end of the waggon for the purpose of observation, they proceeded with the train to its destination. It was late on Saturday night when the train left Walsall, and it arrived at Wednesbury about half-past one o’clock on Sunday morning, at which time the train was shunted into what was known as the ‘Tobacco Box’ siding. In a short time after the arrival of the train the prisoners came across the line to the waggon containing the wine, unfastened the sheet, and examined the contents of the waggon with their lamps. The prisoners went away, and returned again in about a quarter of an hour, and having lifted up the sheet Willetts got upon the waggon, and with some instrument was seen by the detectives to open one of the cases containing champagne and take therefrom six bottles, and they were handed to Young, who was standing by the side of the waggon. The detectives seemed to have moved in the waggon, which frightened the prisoners, who ran away. They were pursued by the detectives, and Willetts was seen to throw away one of the bottles shortly before his apprehension. At about three o’clock Young was apprehended in the shunter’s waggon, and when charged with the offence he replied, ‘It is all right.’ The detectives then went with Young to his house, and on searching it they found a quantity of articles – knives, forks, thread, and other things – and Young said, ‘I stole those at various times from the company, and they all belong to the company.’

The case was adjourned to Wednesday next. There are two other charges against Young instituted by the Midland and London and North-Western Railway Companies for stealing knives, forks, cheeses, and other goods belonging to the respective companies. The prisoners were admitted to bail, themselves in £50 and one surety in £25 each.”

[In April 1882, at the Staffordshire Quarter Sessions, William Young pleaded guilty to stealing knives, forks, and a cheese, and was sentenced to four months’ imprisonment with hard labour.]

Wednesbury Herald 16/9/1882

“Edward Bishton, iron worker, was charged on a warrant with refusing to quit the licensed premises of Mr. Daniel Lawrence, licensed victualler, Market Place.

The complainant stated that on the 4th ult, the defendant came into his house and insulted him, and upon complainant requesting him to leave he refused to do so.

The Bench fined prisoner 15s 6d, including costs.”

Wednesbury Herald 30/12/1882

"Mr. E. Hooper, Coroner, held an inquest at the GEORGE HOTEL, on Wednesday, respecting the death of Benjamin Smallman (20), a carter, in the employ of Mr. Edward Smith, of the Brunswick Tube Works, Wednesbury, who was found dead on Christmas Day.

The evidence showed that the deceased was seized with a fit when in a water closet, and died before medical aid could be procured.

The Coroner said there were no suspicious circumstances connected with the case and the jury would not have much difficulty in finding a verdict.

The Foreman of the jury said he was convinced that there had not been any foul play and the jury returned a verdict of Died from Natural Causes.

Yesterday afternoon the deceased was buried with military honours at Wood Green Cemetery. He was a member of the Rifle Volunteers, and over 50 of the Volunteers followed his remains to the grave, the band playing the 'Dead March In Saul.' The service was a most impressive one."

Wednesbury Herald 14/4/1883

"Mr. Edwin Hooper, District Coroner, held an inquest on Wednesday, at the GEORGE HOTEL, High Street, Wednesbury, respecting the death of Elizabeth Butler (74), of 27, Union Street.

The deceased had been ill for some time, and on Saturday she was considerably worse, and died, before medical aid could be obtained.

The Coroner said that if the friends of the deceased had obtained medical aid earlier an inquest would not have been necessary.

A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned."

Daniel Lawrence, widower, of Wednesbury, married Hannah Pugh, widow, of Tipton, on 24th May, 1883.

Hannah Pugh's father's name was George Onions.

Hannah Pugh – see CROWN, Dudley Port, Tipton.

Darlaston Weekly Times 1/9/1883 - Advert

"Great Western Railway Company.

The Committee of the Wolverhampton and District Licensed Victuallers Incorporated Society have made arrangements with the above Company to run a Special Express Train to London (International Fisheries Exhibition).....

Tickets may be had from any of the undermentioned.....

D. Lawrence, GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury."

Annie Matilda Lawrence (18) married John Partridge (22) on 2nd September 1883.

John Partridge – see ROBIN HOOD.

Birmingham Daily Post 19/11/1883 - Advert

"Shop (first-class) to Let, Market Place, Wednesbury.

For further particulars, apply, GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury."

SHOP (first-class) to Let, Market Place, Wednesbury.—For further particulars, apply, George Hotel, Wednesbury.

Dudley and District News 30/8/1884

"Hannah Lawrence, wife of Daniel Lawrence, licensed victualler, Wednesbury, sued as administratrix of the estate of George Onions, late of Tipton, deceased, for the recovery of a boat, or £50, the value thereof, from Thomas Hobson, of Lower Gornal, boatowner. Mr. B. B. Hackney, barrister-at-law, Birmingham, instructed by Mr. Travis, appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Hooper, Dudley, for the defendant.

Plaintiff swore that she was entitled to the boat, and that the wife of the intestate had sold it without authority to the defendant.

The defence was that Mrs. Onions had paid since the death of her husband more than £30 on account of the boat, which had been obtained by her husband from the Midland Boat Company on the hiring system, and it became his property when the whole of the money was paid.

The Court held that Mrs. Onions had paid the balance due on the boat on the death of her husband out of her own monies, and was entitled to sell the boat. A verdict was accordingly given for the defendant. Notice of appeal was given."

Gloucester Citizen 13/12/1884

"On Friday Mr. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest at the GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury, on the body of Frederick William Seaman (73), Spring Hill House, solicitor. It appeared that on the 30th ult, as the deceased was preparing for church, he slipped and fell down stairs, sustaining a fracture of the thigh and internal injuries, from the effects of which he died on Monday. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

Birmingham Mail 25/2/1885

"Lawrence v Lawrence: Debt.

This was an action between husband and wife, and had reference to the husband's disposal of the wife's separate property. Mr. Bosanquet, QC, with whom was Mr. Lloyd (instructed by Messrs. Rowlands and Co.) appeared for the plaintiff, Mrs. Hannah Lawrence, formerly an innkeeper at Tipton; and Mr. Matthews, QC, with him Mr. Pierson (instructed by Mr. E. Caddick) was for the defendant, Daniel Lawrence, a publican, carrying on business at Wednesbury.

The action was brought to recover £209 15s 9d, received by the defendant for the plaintiff's use; and the defence was that, though the money had been received, it had been expended in payment of debts contracted by the plaintiff before her marriage.

The defence was that part of the amount claimed was applied to the payment of the plaintiff's debts incurred before marriage, and that the remainder by consent was put into the common fund and used for common purposes.

The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff, and judgement was given for the amount claimed, with costs."

Birmingham Daily Post 25/3/1885 - Advert

"Person (respectable) Wanted, to Attend to House and assist in Bar; age about 30.

Apply, GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury."

PERSON (respectable) Wanted, to Attend to House and assist in Bar; age about 30.—Apply, George Hotel, Wednesbury.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 4/9/1885

"This (Friday) morning Mr. E. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest at the GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury, touching the death of Arthur Ernest Bentley, aged five weeks, son of Mary Jane Bentley, a single woman, of 57, Church Street, Wednesbury.

The evidence showed that the mother of the child was keeping house for her married sister, who resides at No.5, Groves Yard, Market Place, Wednesbury, and about eleven o'clock she lay down on the sofa and put the child to her breast. About two o'clock on Tuesday morning her brother-in-law came home and awoke her, when she found the child was dead, and took it to Dr. Garman. It had suffered from convulsions since birth. In reply to the Coroner the mother said she had not been to Oldbury Wake, neither had she been in a public house or drunk.

Police-constable Parton said he had inquired into the case, as certain rumours had been circulated, but had not found anything of a suspicious character. A verdict of Found Dead was returned."

Birmingham Daily Post 12/5/1886

"Daniel Lawrence, of the GEORGE INN and Concert Hall, Market Place, Wednesbury, was summoned for having assaulted Emily Freece, a professional vocalist in his employ, and for having damaged her dress to the extent of 10s. Her statement was that on the night of the 24th April she went to the counter to be paid her wages, and whilst 'having words' with Mrs. Lawrence about a day engagement for which she claimed to be paid extra, the defendant took hold of her, pushed her into the street violently, and tore her dress.

James Marsden, a waiter in the defendant's employ, deposed that the complainant was not pushed or struck.

The learned Stipendiary said the cases broke down, and dismissed them."

Birmingham Daily Mail 16/9/1886

"Mr. Philip Howard Smith sat today at the Public Offices, High Street, West Bromwich, for the purpose of revising the lists of voters for the Parliamentary borough of West Bromwich, the polling districts within the Handsworth division of Staffordshire, and the lists of burgesses for the municipal borough of West Bromwich.....

Mr. Shaw applied for the name of Daniel Lawrence, of the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, to be struck off the Greets Green list, on the ground that he was also on the register at Wednesbury. He (Mr. Shaw) explained that Lawrence boasted that he voted twice at the last election and three times at the election previous. The Revising Barrister said he would bear the application in mind when he came to revise the Wednesbury lists. Mr. Shaw pointed out that it would be more convenient for Lawrence to remain on the Wednesbury register. Ultimately the matter was deferred until the court sits at Wednesbury."

Birmingham Daily Post 27/4/1887

“At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, Daniel Lawrence, formerly licensed victualler and colliery proprietor, Wednesbury, and now brickmaker, West Bromwich, appeared before the Stipendiary magistrate, by adjournment, charged with an aggravated assault upon his wife Hannah.

Mr. J. G. Thursfield, who appeared for the complainant, reminded his worship that when the case was last before him, he declined to allow the summons to be withdrawn until assured that divorce proceedings, which were in contemplation, had actually commenced. That assurance could now be given, and he asked his worship to consent to the withdrawal of the summons. The required permission was given.”

Daniel Lawrence – see also BEEHIVE, Brickhouse Lane, West Bromwich.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 14/3/1889

“At the GEORGE HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury, this morning, before Mr. E. Hooper, the coroner for the district, an inquest was held upon the body of a boy named Henry Wilson (11), of Union Street, Wednesbury, who was drowned on Saturday.

The evidence showed that the deceased was fishing in a brook leading from Crankhall Lane to Elwell’s pool, and was in company with three smaller boys. The evidence of the eldest of these three, a little boy named John Moseley (8), who lives in Camp Street, showed that the deceased had two cans, and was lading water out of the brook to put some fish in, when he slipped in head first, and floated down the brook. They went away for help, but on their return the boy could not be found.

Sergeant Betts, Police-constable Parton, and others, dragged the brook, but could not find the body, and on Tuesday it was recovered in the River Tame, near to Bescot Station, by a man named Kendrick. It had been washed this far by the force of the current.

A verdict of Accidental Drowning was returned, and the witness Kendrick was remunerated by a subscription from the jury on account of his services.

During the evidence of Police-constable Parton it transpired that no appliances were provided for recovering bodies, and the Coroner promised to write to the Corporation with reference to the matter. Had it not have been for some made by Mr. Elwell the searchers would have had no appliances with which to recover the body.”

Birmingham Daily Post 3/2/1891 - Advert

“Youth (smart), to look after Horse, for Travelling Bazaar; must be good rider. Wages 18s.

Apply, personally or by letter, to GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

YOUTH (smart), to look after Horse, for Travelling Bazaar; must be good rider. Wages 18s.—Apply, personally or by letter, to George Hotel, Wednesbury.

1891 Census

Market Place – GEORGE HOTEL

- [1] Michael J. Higo (27), licensed victualler, manager, born Birmingham;
- [2] Matilda Higo (25), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Thomas Higo (5), son, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Mary Higo (3 months), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Henry Beesley (26), boarder, barman, born Bearley, Warwickshire;
- [6] Annie Heseltine (13), domestic servant, born Bilston:

Birmingham Daily Post 8/7/1891

“Yesterday Mr. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest at the GEORGE INN, Union Street, Wednesbury, on the body of Annie Louise Ward, four years and eleven months, daughter of John Robert Ward, baker, Union Street, and Annie Alma Ward, his wife.

It seemed that on Saturday, at about mid-day, the deceased and a younger child, a baby, were in a perambulator in the street in front of their parents’ house in the charge of Fanny Whittingham, a girl eleven years of age. The latter released her hold of the handle to reseal the baby, and almost at the same moment a third child of the family, Bertie, some three years of age or thereabouts, pushed the perambulator, causing it to move across the footpath and fall into the roadway between the hinder parts of a horse and cart belonging to Mr. Garratt, egg dealer, West Bromwich, which were standing in front of a neighbouring shop. The horse became restive and started off, drawing one wheel of the cart over the perambulator and apparently over the abdomen of the deceased. A woman, who was near, picked up the child and took her to her mother, who did what she could to relieve the little sufferer, and sent for Dr. W. Garman, who attended promptly, but death had taken place before his arrival. The baby was not harmed.

Henry Wilkinson, the man in charge of the horse and cart, was at the back of the cart at the moment when the perambulator fell, and he at once ran to the horse's head, but was unable to do anything to rescue the children, the wheel passing over the perambulator as he got down from the back of the cart. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1891

"The adjourned licensing meeting for the Wednesbury petty sessional division was held yesterday.....

Mr. A. Young mentioned two cases in which he was concerned, one of which was that of Henry Milner, of the GEORGE alehouse, High Street, Wednesbury, the renewal of whose license had been objected to on the ground that the licensee was non-resident. He pointed out that under the Acts of Parliament residence was not necessary in the case of holders of alehouse licenses, though necessary in the case of beerhouse licenses. Mr. Elwell said the magistrates had given every consideration to this question, and had decided to renew all licenses where the holders were bona-fide owners or tenants. This decision affected the following cases, in addition to Mr. Milner's....."

Midland Advertiser 29/2/1896

"On Tuesday afternoon an inquest was held at the GEORGE HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury, touching the death of Margaret Berry (48), the wife of William Berry, iron worker of Little Hill, who committed suicide in a most determined manner.

The husband stated that on Friday night he went to a Public House to have a pint of ale, when he was followed by a neighbour named Bennett, who told him that his wife had poisoned herself. He immediately went home and found his wife sitting on the stairs very ill. He asked her what she had taken and she made no reply. A neighbour however told him that she had taken carbolic acid. The deceased had no trouble, except that she had lost a child three years ago. He could not assign any reason for the deceased taking her life.

Sarah Ann Davies, a neighbour of the deceased, stated that on Friday night the deceased went to her house and asked if she would give her some carbolic acid to put down the sink and having found some, she told her it was poison and she was careful not to burn her fingers.

Maria Bennett stated that she had known the deceased three years. On Friday night shortly after eight o'clock deceased came to her home and said, 'Mrs. Bennett, I have done it this time,' and at the same time put a little jug on the table, which had contained carbolic acid. She afterwards said, 'Take care of my little girl and see that no one knocks her about.' Deceased said, 'It's too late, I am done.' When Dr. Garman arrived he attempted to make the deceased vomit, but failed to do so and she immediately afterwards expired.

A juryman said he thought the surgeon ought to have attended earlier. The Coroner said it must be borne in the mind that the surgeon was engaged in a Surgery with patients at the time the message was delivered.

The jury returned a verdict of Suicide but there was no evidence to show the state of mind at the time."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 26/11/1898 - Advert

"Valuable Old-Licensed Hotel and Beerhouses, Dwelling Houses, Wharf, and Building Land.

Edward Cox will offer for Sale by Auction, on Tuesday Next, the 29th day of November, at the SANDWELL HOTEL, High Street, West Bromwich, at Seven o'clock in the evening, prompt.....

Lot 8. The Valuable and Commanding Corner Premises known as the GEORGE HOTEL, having a frontage in High Street, Union Street, and the Public Market Place, in Wednesbury, with the Spirit Vaults, having a frontage of 64 feet, and four entrances; large Smoke Room, Commercial Room, and Parlour on second floor; Kitchens, Club Room, 36 feet by 14 feet 6 inches; five large Bed Rooms.

The Premises are held by Mr. H. D. Millner on lease, which expires at Christmas, 1907.

Adjoining and fronting to High Street is a valuable Shop, let to Mr. Dollman, as an annual tenant, at a rental of £40, and an eligible Piece of Building Land, available for the erection of Offices."

Henry Deighton Millner was also of the CASTLE and DARTMOUTH. [1896], [1900], [1904], [1908]

1901 Census

1, Upper High Street

[1] Thomas Hanks (46), licensed victualler's manager, born Birmingham;

[2] Ellen R. Hanks (44), wife, born Birmingham;

[3] Oliver T. Hanks (19), son, printer, born Birmingham;

[4] Nellie J. Hanks (10), daughter, born Smethwick;

[5] Charles H. Hanks (8), son, born Smethwick:

Thomas Hanks – see also STAR, Smethwick.

Wednesbury Leader 13/7/1901

“At a special Court at Wednesbury on Monday, before Colonel Smith and Mr. J. Handley, James McLean (20), no fixed abode, was charged with stealing a pair of trousers, value 8s 11d, from the shop of Hiam Cohen, clothier, Market Place, on June 21st.

Evidence was given that the trousers were missed from the doorway of the shop.

On Saturday, PC Trusswell and Bowler went to the TURKS HEAD INN, Lower High Street, where prisoner had been living, and in a bedroom which prisoner was said to have occupied, they found the trousers, while in the cellar there was property relating to another charge. They met prisoner in the street a short time afterwards and arrested him. They took him into the GEORGE INN to explain matters, and when told he had to go to the station prisoner became extremely violent, knocking Trusswell's head against a partition, and whilst being handcuffed took one of Trusswell's fingers between his teeth, and the constable afterwards found it to be broken at the end. PC Bowler had to strike him on the jaw to make him loose. Prisoner continued to struggle desperately, and knocked Trusswell through a plate glass window. He was not secured for 25 minutes. On the way to the police station he kicked Bowler on the legs, Trusswell in the ribs, and also bunted PC Wallis in the mouth. Trusswell was so badly injured that he had since been under treatment by Dr. Garman.

A remand until Friday was granted, and again yesterday for a further seven days.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 10/4/1902

“Billiards. Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers League.

Fourth Annual Banquet.

This event took place last night in the Temple Room at the Acorn Hotel, Temple Street, Birmingham, when about 100 members of the League and friends sat down to an excellent repast.....

Then came the presentation of prizes by the Chairman, who handed over the 18 prizes with a suitable word to each recipient. The prize list was as follows.....

First prize, Mr. W. A. Walton, GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury, silver challenge trophy (clock, medal, and pair of opera glasses for second highest break).”

Walsall Observer 3/1/1903

“On Monday Mr. H. A. Pearson, coroner, held an inquest at the GEORGE HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury, respecting the death of David McGill (70), formerly residing in Hitchens Croft, Wednesbury, who died on Boxing Day.

It appeared that on November 1st the deceased was walking in the Market Place, Wednesbury, when he either slipped or was pushed down. Anyhow, he fell heavily, and sustained a fracture of the thigh. Deceased was attended from the time he met with his accident until his death by Dr. Crew. Death was due to old age and general weakness, accelerated by the accident.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Walsall Observer 19/3/1904

“A general meeting of the Wednesbury and District Canine and Fanciers Society was held at the GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Thursday. There was a fairly good attendance.....”

Walsall Advertiser 12/8/1905

“On Tuesday, at the Wednesbury Police Court, before the Stipendiary (Mr. N. C. A. Neville), David Hinks, of Bank Street, Walsall, was charged with being drunk on the licensed premises of the GEORGE INN, Five Ways, Wednesbury, on the 5th inst. Police-constable Wheatley deposed to being called to the GEORGE INN, and to finding defendant very drunk in the yard. The Stipendiary said defendant had been convicted over thirty times, and he would be fined £1 and costs, in default one month’s imprisonment.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 24/8/1910

“The inquest on the body of Dorothy Lort, aged eighteen, of 11, Union Street, Wednesbury, who was found shot on Sunday night, with a revolver in her hand, was held by Mr. G. C. Lewis, County Coroner, at the GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury, yesterday. No evidence was given to account for the tragedy, except that the girl was given to reading ‘silly novels.’ The jury returned a verdict of Suicide whilst Temporarily Insane.

Ada Lort, wife of Thomas Lort, steel tester, stated that the girl was her daughter, and on Sunday she noticed nothing unusual about her, although another daughter said that deceased had complained of a pain in the head. Her daughter seemed in her usual good spirits all day, and the only thing witness had to complain of was the amount of reading she did.

The Coroner: What sort of reading? – These silly novels.

In reply to a further question, Mrs. Lort said that her daughter was an assistant to Mr. Powell, of the Market Place, Wednesbury, and that she never allowed reading to interfere with her work. Her daughter went to bed between nine and ten o’clock on Sunday night. In another room was the girl’s grandmother and two little boys. Witness and her elder daughter were downstairs when they heard a noise which was like the bursting of a bottle. Witness did not think there was anything serious until her grandmother screamed ‘Murder.’ When she went upstairs she found her daughter on the bed, partly dressed, but wearing also her nightdress. The mother said she caught hold of a revolver and took it out of her daughter’s hand. She did not notice any wound.

The Coroner: Had she any troubles? – None whatever; not a possible trouble at home or at business.

Did you know she had a revolver? – I did not, sir.

Do you know whose it is? – It is kept in Mr. Hyatt’s bedroom.

Have you ever seen her playing with it or using it? – No.

Mrs. Helen Cartwright, the girl’s grandmother, said the deceased asked her for a clean nightdress when she went upstairs. Afterwards she heard a noise, and ran into the girl’s room. Dorothy was then lying on the bed with her face towards the door. One of her fingers and her nightdress appeared to be burned.

Dora Horton, of Kendrick Street, Wednesbury, said she and the deceased had been friends since they were little girls. On Saturday night witness’s mother and brothers were not at home, and Dorothy stayed with her all night. They slept together, but deceased did not sleep very well, being restless. Witness suggested she should light the gas, but Miss Lort said she would be all right without it. At breakfast time she said she did not feel very well, and witness noticed that she seemed to have a cold.

In reply to the Coroner Miss Horton said that if Miss Lort had any secrets she would have told her what they were.

The Coroner: Did you tell her your secrets? – Witness: I have no secrets to tell.

Do you know if she had ever been playing with revolvers or anything of the sort? – No.

Mr. Price (foreman of the jury): Have you ever heard her say where there was a revolver? – No, she has not said anything to me about it.

Arthur Hyatt said he lived with the Lorts. The revolver was his property, and he kept it in a drawer of the dressing-table in his bedroom. That room was not near the girl’s bedroom; it was on another landing.

The Coroner: The girl has used your revolver before?

Witness answered that that was so, because about three or four months ago he was trying it in the garden, and he allowed the girl and her sister to fire it.

Did she ever talk about it afterwards? – No, sir.

Did you know she took it out of the drawer? – No.

Did you give it her? – No.

When did you miss it?

Witness, in reply, explained that he had been on his holidays, and when he returned on Friday the girl’s sister said she had seen it in the drawer.

The Coroner: What was she doing at your drawer? – While I was away the deceased’s sister slept in my room, and I understood her to say she had seen the revolver safe in the drawer.

The Coroner: Was it a revolver which went off easily? – Witness: No. It has a hard pull, and there is a fault in one of the chambers. You have to pull the trigger up before it goes off.

Sergeant Robinson: It does not revolve properly.

Hyatt, in reply to further questions, said he knew the girl very well, and she always seemed to him to be the last person he should expect to commit suicide

The Coroner in summing up said it was plain that the wound the girl had died from was self-inflicted. It was for the jury to find if there was any motive which would bear out the theory of suicide. So far as he could see it appeared to be a case in which there was no motive. It was rather singular that the girl should just before the shooting took place ask for a clean nightdress. One could not help but regard this as somewhat significant, because they knew in cases of this sort it sometimes happened that people before their death liked to make themselves tidy. Under the circumstances he thought they could not help but find that the girl had taken her own life, because the revolver was not one which easily went off. Moreover, the fact that the wound was in the left side, and that the nightdress was scorched, showed that the revolver must have been held close to the side when discharged.”

Wednesbury Herald 11/3/1911

“The monthly show of the Wednesbury Canine Society, which was held at the GEORGE HOTEL, on Monday night, attracted a good attendance of fanciers.....”

1911 Census

1, Upper High Street

[1] Charles Meakin (45), married, public house manager, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Alice Meakin (37), sister, born Wolverhampton:

Wednesbury Herald 9/9/1911

“A show under the auspices of the Wednesbury Canine Society was held on Monday night at the GEORGE HOTEL, when the non-sporting and sporting classes were very well filled. Under the directions of Mr. E. Foster (the hon. secretary) and Mr. F. H. Foster (the assistant hon. secretary) the arrangements were of the very first order.....”

Walsall Advertiser 17/2/1912

“At Cannock Petty Sessions on Monday Robert Perry, licensee of the Robin Hood, Church Bridge, Great Wyrley, was charged with permitting drunkenness on his licensed premises on January 20th, 1912 The defendant Perry, on oath, said he had kept the house for something like two-and-a-half to three years. Prior to that he had kept the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, for three-and-a-half years, and there had been no complaint against him.....”

[Perry was fined £1 and costs.]

Walsall Observer 9/11/1912

“An inquest was held at the GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Tuesday, by Mr. G. C. Lewis, touching the death of Florence Elizabeth Ray, two years and five months old, who died on Saturday last.

Evidence was given that on October 17th the child pulled half a cupful of boiling water from the table and scalded herself on the chest and neck.

Dr. Dingley stated that the child was taken to him on October 21st, and he saw it several times. The scalds were very deep, and death, which ensued last Saturday, was due to exhaustion.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

1921 Census

1, Upper High Street – GEORGE INN

[1] Charles R. Holyhead (47), publican, born Wednesbury;

[2] Sarah Holyhead (47), wife, home duties, born Darlaston;

[3] Mary Holyhead (19), daughter, barmaid, born Wednesbury;

[4] Samuel Carter (72), father-in-law, nut and bolt maker, out of work, born Darlaston;

[5] Mary Carter (72), mother-in-law, home duties, born Darlaston:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/3/1937

“Monthly meeting of Wednesbury Town Council yesterday.....

A recommendation that the GEORGE INN, Union Street, and other properties belonging to the brewery company should be acquired, and for the re-sale to the brewery company of a similar area of land in connection with the Central Area Improvement scheme, at a price of £3,000 plus £400 costs, was confirmed.”

Walsall Observer 24/4/1937

“Wednesbury Licensing Justices yesterday confirmed, subject to modification, a provisional order for the removal of the license the GEORGE INN, Upper High Street, Wednesbury, to premises proposed to be erected at the rear of the present house. Making the application on behalf of Ansells Brewery Ltd., Birmingham, Mr. F. Cooper, solicitor, explained that the local authority was carrying out a central area scheme at this part of town, and it was necessary that the house should be demolished. The company considered that the new building would be a credit to the centre of Wednesbury.”

Evening Despatch 28/2/1939 - Advert

“Permanent Salaried Position Open to keen, ambitious Man (25 to 50) for Sales Work in Wednesbury and Bilston area. Only men of smart appearance and good character considered for these positions. Interviews will be given at the GEORGE HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Wednesday, between 2.0 and 3.30pm, or the same day at the PIPE HALL HOTEL, Bilston, between 4.0 and 5.30pm.”

1939 Register

High Street – GEORGE INN

[1] Thomas H. Benton, date of birth 12/5/1902, licensed victualler, manager, married;

[2] Alice Benton, dob 3/3/1909, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Ronald T. Benton, dob 11/5/1930, school, single;

[4] Dora Reardon, dob 21/4/1920, bar general, single:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 7/3/1940

“Penny-A-Week way to put Comforts Fund on a permanent basis.

Nearly £500 has been added to the lists of the funds in the West Midland and Express and Star federation since the last list, indicating the enthusiasm of people is still on the increase.....

Wednesbury. Previously acknowledged £380 18s 9½d.

Proceeds of boxes.....

GEORGE INN, Market Place, 2s 1d.”

Rugeley Times 8/2/1941

“The monthly report of the West Bromwich and District General Hospital, just issued, shows that the patients report for the month of December was in-patients admitted, 55; out-patients admitted to the several special departments, 284; to the casualty department, 905; attendance in all departments, 3,485.

Donations acknowledged for the month of December, 1940, were.....

GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, £2 9s 6d.”

Evening Despatch 22/1/1951

“Few people live in Wednesbury’s narrow, main shopping street. Therefore it is a rare occasion to see a funeral there. They are all business premises. Today, however, the police closed the street for the burial of the town’s oldest publican, 74-year-old Mr. Richard Henry Collett, who had been a resident for 38 years as tenant of the THREE TUNS INN. Traffic was diverted while the funeral passed along on its journey to the parish church. Bearers were members of the Licenced Victuallers Association, of which Mr. Dick Collett was the oldest and honorary member. When Union Street was re-opened to traffic today there was a sudden crash. More than 100 bottles of expensive liqueur spirits and wine in the window of the GEORGE INN wine and spirit stores came crashing down when the glass shelves cracked through the vibration of the heavy traffic. Crowds gathered to see the damage. The manageress, Mrs. T. H. Benton, said afterwards, ‘I heard such a crash while I was in the bar that I thought a lorry had come through the window.’ All the bottles were piled up in the window and several bottles of brandy were smashed. Mr. T. H. Benton, the licensee, rushed back from his neighbour’s funeral, at which he was a bearer, to see the damage to his stock.”

It was demolished in 1959.

The replacement pub had already been built, further back, on the corner site of Upper High Street and Union Street.

Birmingham Daily Post 22/1/1966

“Wednesbury and District Trades Council faces an unusual year; in May it celebrates its 50th anniversary and in December it will disband. Mr. J. F. Postins, secretary for over 25 years, said last night that members were sceptical about the merger with the West Bromwich branch, brought about by the boundary reorganisation. The council first met in the GEORGE INN, Market Place, Wednesbury, in 1916, and the financial record shows a balance of 4s. Membership has increased to 3,450.”

Birmingham Weekly Mercury 20/8/1978 - Advert

“GEORGE INN, High Street, Wednesbury.

Hot and Cold Luncheons and Bar Snacks.

Monday-Friday Lunchtimes 12 noon-2.0pm.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 6/10/1978

“Ken and Maureen Grew travelled a long way to become licensees of their own pub. It took them several thousand miles and three years to find themselves installed in the GEORGE pub, Upper High Street, Wednesbury, but, says Ken, ‘It was well worth it.’ They came all the way from the island of Antigua in the sunny Caribbean, arriving in the Midlands on a cold December morning in 1975, settling in Maureen’s home town of Sutton Coldfield to start the hunt for a pub of their own.

Ken, who hails from Stirling in Scotland, was surprised of the length of time it takes to be accepted by a brewery, but, he says, ‘The breweries go to a great deal of trouble to make sure they’re placing the right people in the right pub. As far as we’re concerned, they couldn’t have made a better choice than giving us the GEORGE. We’ve never been happier than we are here. It’s the people in Wednesbury who make it such a pleasant place to live in. They’re so friendly and helpful. They made us feel at home as soon as we moved in. And there’s always somebody on the other side of the bar who’s ready to help us sort our problems out, whether it’s a blocked sink or engine trouble.”

The GEORGE is a modern pub, built about 15 years ago on the site of a inn of yesteryear. Ken and Maureen have recently introduced one of the more traditional beers in the form of Aston Ale.....

In Antigua Ken and Maureen ran a 40-bedroom hotel. When they moved into the GEORGE in February, they found themselves not only with a public house but a cafe as well, although the cafe wasn’t open for business at the time. ‘We used the catering equipment to provide meals for the pub,’ says Maureen, ‘but we’ve now re-opened the cafe as a separate business, from 9am until 5pm, and it’s doing remarkably well.....”

Sandwell Evening Mail 6/10/1978 - Advert

“GEORGE INN – the Pub that offers so much.

Ken and Maureen, tenants at the GEORGE INN, take great pride in what the GEORGE INN has to offer. Excellent beer, notably the new Aston Ale which is brewed in Birmingham, Quick Service at all times coupled with a very helpful staff, ensures you a good atmosphere at all times. There are meals and snacks at Lunchtime which Maureen cooks and supervises herself. Nothing is too much trouble for Ken and Maureen, so why not pop in, they will only be too pleased to see you. Cheers.

Upper High Street, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/11/1979 - Advert

“Entertainment Guide Pubs and Wine Bars.....

GEORGE INN, Upper High Street, Wednesbury.

Bar snacks, hot and cold meals.”

THE GEORGE INN, Upper High Street, Wednesbury. Tel. 556 0655.
bar snacks, hot and cold meals.

Sandwell Evening Mail 24/12/1979 - Advert

“Ken and Maureen of the GEORGE INN, High Street, Wednesbury, would like to wish all their customers Christmas Greetings and all the best for a Happy and Prosperous 1980.”

Birmingham Weekly Mercury 30/3/1980

“A warm welcome awaits Willenhall dog folk at the GEORGE INN, Union Street, Wednesbury, tomorrow. It’s a 7.30 k.o. for a darts, domino and crib night arranged by Terry Price on behalf of the Retired Greyhound Trust (Midland) Fund.”

[This was in conjunction with the closure of Willenhall’s greyhound racing track.]

Sandwell Evening Mail 13/9/1980

“Two Sandwell pub landlords have called time on their regulars for the last time.....

At the GEORGE INN in Upper High Street, Wednesbury, Mrs. Maureen Grew has said goodbye to customers. Mrs. Grew has moved to the Bell Inn at Brewood, Wolverhampton. The GEORGE INN has been taken over by new landlord Mr. Keith Thomas.”

Birmingham Weekly Mercury 12/11/1995 - Advert

“The GEORGE INN. Now open Sunday evenings.

Eg 14oz T Bone steak £5. Sunday lunch available all day.

For bookings Tel. 0121 556 0655.

1 Upper High Street, Wednesbury, West Midlands.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/10/1996

“The chairman of a Birmingham Children’s Hospital charity died when his broken-down car was involved in an accident with a lorry. Keen golfer Mr. Robert Field, aged 52, from Wednesbury, chaired Radio Lollipop which provides programmes at Birmingham Children’s Hospital. He died from his injuries following a crash on the A452 Collector Road in Chelmsley Wood just before 11am on Thursday. Mr. Field lived at the GEORGE INN, Wednesbury, with his wife, Carol, the licensee. Mr. Field had been on the way to play golf with a friend, Mr. Leslie Evans, aged 55, of Hagley Road, Halesowen, who was a passenger in the Ford Sierra and suffered severe shock. The driver of the Ford Cargo lorry, Mr. Stephen Robert Skelding, aged 31, of Ivyfield Road, Erdington, and his two passengers suffered severe shock. Police appealed for witnesses.”

Birmingham Daily Post 19/12/1997

“A Midland pub manager was killed when a lorry ploughed into him as he sat stranded in his broken-down car, an inquest heard City Coroner, Dr. Richard Whittington, yesterday recorded a verdict of Accidental Death. After the hearing, Mrs. Carol Field, who runs the GEORGE pub in Upper High Street, Wednesbury, where her husband also worked, said, ‘I will fight any action I can. If it means a private prosecution I will do it.’ Her solicitor, Mr. Christopher Rudd, asked Dr. Whittington to enter a verdict of unlawful killing. He claimed that Mr. Skelding had a completely clear view of Mr. Field’s Ford Sierra parked on the inside lane of the dual carriageway. Mr. Field had his warning lights flashing, said Mr. Rudd. But Dr. Whittington said there was insufficient evidence that it was a case of unlawful killing.”

Its opening hours were reduced at the Sandwell Licensing Panel meeting on 8th August 2008. The police had complained about violent behaviour in and around the pub.

Renamed WILLIAM ARCHER in 2018.

[William Archer was a Conservative councillor in Wednesbury for 36 years, retiring in 2010. He died in 2018.]

[2025]

GEORGE INN, WEDNESBURY.

TO be LET, that well accustomed House, Stable, Granary, Out-Houses, Garden, &c. now in the Holding of Mr. Thomas Russell, who will shew the Premises, and further Particulars. The Stock, Fixtures, &c. (at a fair Valuation) may be taken or rejected. The Premises may be entered upon immediately, or at a short distant Period, as may be made agreeable to the present and future Tenant.

1790

WHEREAS Marshal Webster left at the George Inn, Wednesbury, in April last, one great Coat, one Waistcoat, one Shirt, one black Stock, and one Pocket Handkerchief. This is to require Marshal Webster to redeem the same within seven Days from the Date hereof, or otherwise the above Articles shall be sold to defray the Expences.

THOMAS PARKES.

Wednesbury, July 23, 1796.

1796

Thomas Parkes's Creditors.

ALL Persons who have any Claim or Demand upon the Estate and Effects of the late Mr. THOMAS PARKES, of the George Inn, at Wednesbury, deceased, are desired to send in an Account of their Claims in twenty Days from the Date hereof, unto Mr. William Rock, at the Sign of the Green Dragon, in Wednesbury aforesaid (one of the Executors named in the last Will of the said Mr. Parkes) in order that the same may be settled; and all Persons who are any Ways indebted to the said Mr. Parkes, are desired to pay the same immediately into the Hands of the said Mr. Rock.

Wednesbury, October 29, 1798.

Thomas Parkes's Creditors.

ALL Persons who have any Claim or Demand upon the Estate and Effects of the late deceased Mr. Thomas Parkes, of the George Inn, in Wednesbury, are desired to send the Particulars thereof in fourteen Days from the Date hereof to Mr. William Rock, at the Sign of the Green Dragon, in Wednesbury aforesaid, one of the Executors named in the Will of the said Mr. Parkes, in Order that the same may be immediately settled; and all Persons who are any Ways indebted to the Estate of the said Mr. Parkes, are desired to pay the same into the Hands of the said Mr. Rock, in Twenty Days from the Date hereof, otherwise they will be sued for the same without further Notice.

N. B. All those who do not deliver the Particulars of their Demands by the Time above-mentioned, will be too late to have the same discharged, as the whole of the Property of the said Mr. Parkes will be disposed of immediately after that Time according to the Directions in his Will.

Wednesbury, Dec. 17, 1798.

1798

Thomas Parkes's Creditors.

THE Executors of the late deceased Mr. Thomas Parkes, of the George Inn, in Wednesbury, hereby inform his Creditors, that on Thursday the first Day of August next they intend to make a final Dividend of all his Effects, at the Sign of the Green Dragon, in Wednesbury aforesaid, equally amongst all his Creditors who have delivered in a just Account of their Demands.

Wednesbury, July 18, 1799.

GEORGE INN, WEDNESBURY.

THOMAS DEAN, late of the Castle and Falcon, Snow Hill, Birmingham, respectfully informs his Friends and the Public, that he has taken and entered upon the GEORGE INN, WEDNESBURY, a well known spacious and commodious Inn, which he has fitted up in a genteel and comfortable Style, and has laid in a very choice Stock of genuine old Wines and Foreign Spirits.

He flatters himself that the Accommodations will meet the Approbation of Gentlemen Travellers, and others, who may please to honour him with their Patronage and Support, which will be his constant Study to merit, by the most assiduous Attention. There is excellent Stabling for upwards of twenty Horses.

The Situation of the House is central, and particularly well adapted for the Convenience of Gentlemen Travellers.

N. B. Neat Gigs and Post Horses, at the shortest Notice.

HAIR POWDER CERTIFICATES.

STAMP-OFFICE, LICHFIELD.

April 1, 1799.

HAIR POWDER CERTIFICATES for the Year commencing the 6th of April, 1799, and ending the 5th Day of April, 1800, are now ready for Delivery at this Office, and at the respective Offices of the following Persons, who are duly authorized to issue the same, by

FRANCIS COBB,

Head Distributor.

Mr. WILLIAM MITTON,	—	Wolverhampton
Miss BAYLIES,	—	Walsall
Mr. CHARLES DODSWORTH	—	Burton-on-Trent
Mr. JOHN MOXON,	—	Rugeley

Mr. JOHN LOWE, Stamp-Office, Birmingham, to Persons resident in Handsworth, Harborne, Smethwick, West Bromwich, and other Places in Staffordshire, near Birmingham.

And Notice is hereby given, that Mr. William Mitton will attend at the George Inn, Wednesbury, on Thursday the 18th and Thursday the 25th of April inst. and at the Green Dragon, in Kinver, on Monday the 22d and Monday the 29th inst. and Mr. John Moxon will also attend at the Littleton's Arms, in Penkridge, on Tuesday the 16th and Tuesday the 23d inst. at which respective Times, Persons resident at those Places, intending to take out Certificates, are to apply.

1799

GEORGE INN, WEDNESBURY.

TO be LET, and entered upon immediately, the aforefaid old and well-eftablifhed INN, now in the Occupation of Mr. Thomas Dean, who is declining the Public Buſineſs on Account of other Engagements.—The Premifes are convenient and well adapted for the Entertainment of Travellers, and conſiſt of twelve Lodging Rooms, a large Dining Room, Parlour, Bar, good Kitchen, excellent Cellars, Brewhouſe, Workſhop, Stabling for about twenty Horſes, and a large entire Yard; the whole held at a very moderate Rent.

The Brewing Veſſels, Fixtures, Stock of Ale, Wines, Liquors &c. (with or without the Houſehold Furniture) to be taken by Valuation.

For other Particulars apply to the ſaid Mr. Dean, or to T. Warren, Auctioneer, in Dale End, Birmingham.

George Inn, Wedneſbury.

TO be LET, and entered upon immediately, the aforefaid Inn, being the principal one of that Place, and for many Years well eſtablifhed in a reputable Line of Buſineſs, at preſent in the Occupation of Mr. Thomas Dean, who wiſhes to quit it on Account of his Engagements in another Branch of Trade, and for no other Reaſon. The Premifes conſiſt of 12 Lodging Rooms, a Dining Room, and front Parlour, fitted up in a comfortable and genteel Style, for the Entertainment of Travellers; alſo a good front Kitchen, Bar, excellent Cellars, Brewhouſe, Stabling for about 20 Horſes, a Workſhop and a large back Yard, all cuture, and held at a very moderate Rent.

The Brewing Veſſels, Fixtures, Stock of Ale, Wines and Liquors (with or without the Houſehold Furniture) to be taken at a fair Appraiſement, and a Part of the Purchase Money may remain on Security, if required.

For other Particulars apply to the ſaid Mr. Dean, or to T. Warren, Auctioneer, in Dale End, Birmingham.

GEORGE INN, WEDNESBURY.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, on the Premifes, by THOMAS WARREN, on Monday next, the 22d Inſtant, and following Day, all the neat HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE and EFFECTS belonging to the aforefaid Inn; conſiſting of ſeveral very handſome Four-poſt Bedſteads, with various Kinds of printed Cotton Hangings, nearly as good as new; ſuperfine Goſe and other Feather Beds, Mattraſſes, and Counterpanes; Bedſide and Floor Carpets; Pier and Dreſſing Glaſſes; good Mahogany and Oak Cabinet Furniture; ſundry Plate, China, and Glaſs Ware; a compleat Aſſortment of uſeful Kitchen Requiſites and Utenſils for the Buſineſs; a capital Collection of Brewing Veſſels of all Sizes, and various other Articles.

Catalogues may be had on Thursday next, on the Premifes, or of the Auctioneer, in Dale End, Birmingham.

The Sale to begin each Day at Ten o'Clock.

GEORGE INN, WEDNESBURY.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, on the Premifes, by THOMAS WARREN, this preſent Monday, the 22d of December inſtant, a conſiderable Part of the neat HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE and EFFECTS at the George Inn aforeſaid; comprizing Four-poſt and Tent Bedſteads, with printed Cotton, Dimothey, and other Hangings; fine ſeaſoned Feather Beds and Bedding; Variety of good Mahogany and Oak Cabinet Furniture; ſundry Kitchen Requiſites; a capital Iron-bound 200 Gallon Ale Caſk; ſome Hogſheads and Half Hogſheads; a ſtrong uſeful Hackney Mare, ſix Years old; a light tilted Cart, a Quantity of Manure, &c.

Catalogues may be had on the Premifes.

The Sale will begin preciſely at Half paſt Ten o'Clock.

1800

GEORGE INN, WEDNESBURY, STAFFORDSHIRE, Situated on the great Poſt Road leading from Wolverhampton to Birmingham.

TO be LET, and entered upon immediately, the above long and well eſtablifhed Inn, with every ſuitable Convenience of Brewhouſe, Stables, &c. &c. now in the Occupation of Mr. William Rock, who will ſhew the Premifes; and for further Particulars apply to Mr. Joſeph Adams, Draper, Wedneſbury.

The Tenant may be accommodated with any Quantity of good and well incloſed Land, not exceeding 37 Acres, nearly adjoining the Houſe, and may have a Term in the Inn for 7 or 14 Years.

GEORGE INN, WEDNESBURY,

Situated on the great Poſt Road leading from Wolverhampton to Birmingham.

TO be LET, and entered on immediately, the above long and well eſtablifhed Inn, with every ſuitable Convenience of Brewhouſe, Stables, &c.

The Tenant may be accommodated, at Chriſtmas next, with any Quantity of good and well incloſed Land, not exceeding 37 Acres, nearly adjoining the Houſe, together with Barn, Stables &c. and may have a Term of the Inn for 7 or 14 Years.

For further Particulars apply to Mr. Joſeph Adams.

1803

TIMBER.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by JOSIAH ROBINS, at the Talbot Inn, Wedneſbury, in the County of Stafford, on Monday the 27th of April, at Half paſt Three in the Afternoon, on Lands occupied by Mr. John Wilkes, of the George Inn, Wedneſbury aforeſaid.

LOT 1.—237 fine Larch Firs and other Trees.

2.—101 ditto ditto.

3.—54 ditto ditto.

4.—155 ditto ditto.

5.—101 ditto ditto.

6.—65 fine Elms, of large Dimensions.

Mr. Hateley, at the Talbot, will ſhew the Lots, which are all marked and numbered.

1807

Convenient House and Premises, Church Hill, Wednesbury.

TO be LET, and may be entered upon immediately after Midsummer next, the above eligible Premises, known by the Name of the KING'S HEAD, situate on the Church Hill, Wednesbury as aforesaid, and now in the Occupation of Mr. John Rock, who is removing to his new House on the great Road from Birmingham to Shrewsbury.

The Premises consist of four Sleeping Rooms, two Parlours, Sitting Room, Kitchen, China Pantry, spacious Hall, and three roomy Cellars, with the particular Advantage of excellent Water. The Tenant may be accommodated with a capital Garden, opposite the House, and a Lease if required.

For Treaty apply on the Premises, or of W. Chapman, Appraiser and Auctioneer, 105, Snow Hill, Birmingham.

DRUIDS.

A LODGE of Respectability of the ancient and venerable Order of Druids will be opened at Mr. John Rock's new House, King's Head Inn, High-street, Wednesbury, of which timely Notice will be given in a future Paper.

DRUIDS.

THE Brothers of the Order are respectfully informed, that Lodge 52 will be opened in due Form at Brother John Rock's, King's Head Inn, High-street, Wednesbury, this present Monday the 24th inst. by Lodge 17, respectfully supported by Lodges 22, 31, 32, and 46, &c. in the Insignia of the Order.

N. B. An Ordinary will be provided. Dinner on the Table at Two o'Clock.

The Visit of any Brother will be deemed an Addition to the Festival.

JUBILEE.

A DINNER will be provided at John Rock's, King's Head Inn and Tavern, Wednesbury, on Thursday the 25th of October inst. being the Anniversary of his Majesty's Accession to the Throne and the Completion of the fiftieth Year of his Reign.

N. B. Tickets to be had at the Bar.—Dinner precisely at Two o'Clock.

1810

Valuable Buildings and Building Land, at Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford.

TO be SOLD by Auction, by ISAAC FARROR, at the King's Head Inn, High Street, Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, on Monday the 50th Day of August inst. at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon, by Direction of the Assignees of Mr. John Rock, Bayonet-maker and Inn-keeper a Bankrupt, the under-mentioned valuable Freehold, and Copyhold Buildings and Building Land, in the following Lots, subject to Conditions:—

COPYHOLD.

LOT I. All those capital Premises, called the KING'S HEAD INN, most desirably situated at the Junction of three Turnpike Roads, in the Centre and principal Part of the Town of Wednesbury aforesaid, fronting twenty-four Yards to the High Street, and seventeen Yards, or thereabouts, to the Market Place therein, comprising eight good sized Sleeping Rooms, a Club Room, fifty-two Feet long, three Parlours, a Bar, two large Kitchens, with convenient Pantries, very extensive Cellaring and Vaults, a capital Brewhouse, Stabling, and Out-buildings, a Range of Shopping and large Yard.

N. B. A numerous and respectable Society of Druids have a Lodge at the House.

The above Premises are recently built in the most substantial Manner, purposely for an Inn, for which, from Situation and Convenience for conducting the Business, they are very desirable, but are so arranged that at a moderate Expence they may be converted into private Dwellings, suitable for retail Shopkeepers and others.

Shop Tools, Household Furniture, Beer Machine, Brewing Vessels, large Casks, Furnaces, &c. &c. at Wednesbury.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, on the Premises, by ISAAC FARROR, on Tuesday the 31st of August, and following Day (by Order of the Assignees of Mr. John Rock, Bayonet-maker and Innkeeper, High Street, Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford) all the valuable Shop Tools, together with the gentled and useful Household Furniture, Stock of Spirits and Ale, Beer Machine, large capital store Casks, containing from 400 to 700 Gallons each, excellent Hogshead and Half-hogshead Barrels, stout Mashing Tubs and Coolers, Copper and Iron Furnaces and Effects belonging to the King's Head Inn, at Wednesbury aforesaid; Particulars of which will be ready in Catalogues, to be had one Week previous to the Sale, at the Premises, and of Isaac Farror, 28, New Street, Birmingham.

1813

SUPERIOR TRAVELLING

Between Wolverhampton and Birmingham, by a new Coach, carrying four Insides only, called

THE WATERLOO.

WILL commence running on Thursday next, and will continue to go every Morning, at Eight o'Clock, from the Lion Inn, Wolverhampton, to the Castle Inn, Birmingham; calls at the New Bull's Head, Bilston, and the King's Head, Wednesbury; returns every Evening from the Castle Inn, Birmingham, at Six o'Clock, and will arrive at Wolverhampton by Eight o'Clock.

This will be found a preferable Conveyance to any of the Day Coaches now on that Road.—Performed by

WM. LAMB and Co.

Birmingham, Feb. 19, 1816.

1816

LOST from Wednesbury, about three Weeks ago, a young GREYHOUND DOG, black and white, with small Tick Marks. Any Person who has found him, and will bring him to Mr. Thomas Stone, King's Head Inn, shall be handsomely rewarded for their Trouble; if stolen, any Person detaining him after this Notice will be prosecuted according to Law.

Wednesbury, April 4, 1817.

1817

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Tolls arising at the several Toll Gates upon the Turnpike Roads leading from Birmingham to High Bullen, in the Parish of Wednesbury, and to Great Bridge, and to the End of Darlaston Lane, and from Great Bridge to the Nether Trindle, near Dudley, and from Trowse Lane, in the Parish of Wednesbury, to Darlaston, in the Counties of Warwick and Stafford, will be LET by AUCTION to the best Bidder, at the House of Thomas Stone, situate at Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, and known by the Sign of the King's Head, on the 19th Day of June next, between the Hours of Two and Five, in the Manner directed by the Act passed in the thirteenth Year of the Reign of his Majesty King George the Third, "for regulating the Turnpike Roads;" which Tolls produced the last Year, at the respective Gates hereafter-mentioned, the following Sums above the Expences of collecting them, viz.

	£.	s.	d.
Soho Hill	541	0	0
Great Bridge and Hill Top	347	3	7½
Gospel Oak and Fire Holes	157	18	0
Three Mile and Weighing Machine	364	11	2
Holloway Bank and King's Hill Field	384	0	0
Burnt Tree	235	0	0

And will be put up at those respective Sums. Whoever happens to be the best Bidder, must at the same Time give Security, with sufficient Sureties, to the Satisfaction of the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads, for Payment of the Rent agreed for, and at such Times as they shall direct.

B. and S. CROWTHER,

Clerk to the Trustees of the said Turnpike Roads.
Wednesbury, May 14, 1818.

1818

NOTICE is hereby given, that the next Meeting of the Trustees for repairing the Road leading from Birmingham to High Bullen, in the parish of Wednesbury, and to Great Bridge, and to the end of Darlaston-lane, and from Great Bridge to the Nether Trindle, near Dudley, and from Trowse-lane, in the parish of Wednesbury, to Darlaston, will be held at the King's Head Inn, Wednesbury, on Monday the second day of February next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon.

S. F. CROWTHER,

Clerk to the Trustees.

Wednesbury, January 23, 1824.

1824

KING'S HEAD INN, WEDNESBURY.

TO be LET, the above Inn, in the month of February next, situate in the centre of the town; it is a house of very great business, both of in and out-door custom, and has a very good parlour company; with an entire yard, good stabling, &c. &c.

Apply to S. Constable, Wednesbury.

1825

KING'S HEAD, WEDNESBURY.

TO be LET, the above Inn, situate in the best part of the town for public business. There is a good draught of ale both in-door and out, a good parlour company, and a great market-house, with an entire yard and good stabling.—The coming-in will be low.

Enquire of S. Constable.

1826

TO INNKEEPERS, &c.

TO BE LET,

And may be entered upon immediately,

ALL those capital and extensive PREMISES situate in the High-street, WEDNESBURY, in the centre of the Market-place, known by the sign of the KING'S HEAD, and comprising, in addition to a most excellent house, good brewhouse and cellaring, a large yard, a five-stall stable, and roomy coach houses.

The above premises may be had with or without a large malthouse situated in the High Bullen.

The rent and further particulars may be known by application to Mr. HUNT, Solicitor, Wednesbury.

TO MALTSTERS.

TO be LET, and may be entered upon immediately, a large and commodious Malthouse, situate in the town of Wednesbury.

The above has an excellent supply of water, with every other requisite convenience, and is in all respects suitable for the purpose of carrying on an extensive business.

Particulars may be obtained by application to Mr. Jevons, King's Head Inn, Wednesbury.

1833

KING'S HEAD INN,

MARKET PLACE, WEDNESBURY.

TO be disposed of by private Treaty, the Good-will, Licences, &c. with immediate possession, of the above desirable and well-accustomed Inn, with Spirit Shop in front, extensive Stabling, Gig-house, Piggeries, and other conveniences thereunto attached.

The above is a good market house, in full business, with rent and payments moderate.

The Stock, Fixtures, Brewing Vessels, Casks, &c. with part of the Furniture, to be taken to at a fair valuation.

Satisfactory reasons can be given for disposing of the above if required, and for further particulars apply on the premises, or to Daniel Taylor, Auctioneer, Holyhead-road, Wednesbury (if by letter, post paid).

1838

GEORGE ALLIN, AUCTIONEER, LAND AGENT, and SURVEYOR, Walsall, begs respectfully to inform his Friends and the Public generally, that having taken and Removed to the George Inn, Wednesbury, he has made arrangements with Mr. FLANAGAN, AUCTIONEER and SURVEYOR, of Walsall, whereby the Business will be carried on as usual, at the Offices in Bridge Street, Walsall, under the Style or Title of "ALLIN and FLANAGAN."

Walsall, June 30th, 1854.

1854

NOTICE is hereby given, that the PARTNERSHIP heretofore subsisting between us, the undersigned, GEORGE ALLIN and WILLIAM HENRY FLANAGAN, as Auctioneers, Appraisers, and Land Surveyors, at Walsall and Wednesbury, both in the county of Stafford, was this day DISSOLVED by mutual consent; and that the businesses will in future be carried on by the said WILLIAM HENRY FLANAGAN alone, by whom all moneys due to or from the said Partnership will be received and paid.

Dated this 22nd day of June, 1855.

GEORGE ALLIN,
WM. HY. FLANAGAN.

Witness to the respective signatures,
HENRY JACKSON, Solicitor, Westbromwich.

1855

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Partnership heretofore subsisting between us, the undersigned George Allin and Sarah Marshall, of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Victuallers, Wine and Spirit Dealers, trading under the style or firm of "Allin and Marshall," was dissolved on the 31st day of December last, and that the said trades will in future be carried on by the said George Allin alone, who will receive and pay all debts owing to and from the said Copartnership.—Dated this 30th day of January, 1856.

GEORGE ALLIN,
SARAH MARSHALL.

Witness—E. MARKLEW, Walsall, }
Solicitor.

I hereby give notice, that STEPHEN STOKES, lately in my employ as a Traveller and Agent in the Wine and Spirit Trade, has no power or authority to BUY or SELL, or to PAY or RECEIVE MONEYS on my behalf; and that any person paying money to the said Stephen Stokes as such traveller and agent, after notice hereof, will do so at his or her own risk.

GEORGE ALLIN, Wine and Spirit Merchant, Wednesbury.

Dated 21st day of February, 1856.

1856

THE GEORGE INN, AND OTHER VALUABLE COPYHOLD PREMISES, SITUATE AT WEDNESBURY, IN THE COUNTY OF STAFFORD.

TO BE SOLD BY PRIVATE CONTRACT, all that MESSUAGE, or TENEMENT, called or known as the GEORGE INN, situate and being in the Market-place, WEDNESBURY aforesaid, together with the Stables, Coachhouses, Piggeries, and other Outbuildings thereto belonging; as the same are now in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Stringer.

And also all that MESSUAGE, or TENEMENT, now used as a Draper's Shop, adjoining the above, together with the Outbuildings thereto belonging; as the same are now in the occupation of John Borral.

The above premises are Copyhold of the Manor of Wednesbury, and each have an old-established trade attached thereto, and are supplied with every convenience for carrying on an extensive business.

For further particulars, apply to Mr. S. P. SMITH, Solicitor, Walsall.

1863

GEORGE ALLIN, AUCTIONEER, LAND AGENT, and Surveyor, Walsall, begs respectfully to inform his Friends and the Public generally, that having taken and Removed to the George Inn, Wednesbury, he has made arrangements with Mr. FLANAGAN, Auctioneer and Surveyor, of Walsall, whereby the Business will be carried on as usual, at the Offices in Bridge Street, Walsall, under the Style or Title of "ALLIN and FLANAGAN."

Walsall, June 30th, 1854.

1864

WEDNESBURY.

Valuable HOTEL, and Capital LIQUOR VAULTS, known as the 'George Hotel,' situated in the very best part of the Market Place Wednesbury; also the RETAIL SHOP, Dwelling-house and Premises adjoining.

MESSRS. FARRINGTON & SON, are instructed to Offer by Auction, at the house of Mr. Whitehouse, the Turk's Head Hotel, Wednesbury aforesaid, on Friday, the 13th day of December, 1867, at Six for Seven o'clock in the Evening, in one or more lots as may be agreed upon at the time of Sale, and subject to conditions then to be produced.

All that very desirable and highly important PROPERTY comprising THE GEORGE HOTEL, and capital Liquor Vaults, situated in the principal thoroughfare of the Market Place, Wednesbury aforesaid, standing at the junction of the Dudley, Wolverhampton, and Walsall Turnpike Roads there, with the Stables, Coach-houses, enclosed Yard, and premises thereto belonging, now in the occupation of Mr. J. L. Weston.

And also all that capital Retail Shop, Dwelling-house and Premises adjoining, in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Hitchen.

N.B.—The above Property is Copyhold of Inheritance, held of the Manor of Wednesbury aforesaid, is substantially built, and presents an opportunity for investment rarely to be met with.

For further particulars apply to Mr. S. P. SMITH, Solicitor, Walsall; or the Auctioneers of the same place.

1867

THE GEORGE INN.

MARKET PLACE, HIGH STREET, WEDNESBURY.
BY GILBERT and SON.—To be SOLD, the LEASE, LICENSES, GOODWILL, and POSSESSION of the above well-known Corner LIQUOR VAULTS, which has been successfully carried on for many years, and is now being disposed of in consequence of the death of the late Proprietor. This House occupies one of the principal positions in Wednesbury, and is now doing a first-class counter and out-door trade. The Premises are well fitted up, convenient, well arranged, and low rented.

In coming about £400.
Apply, Gilbert and Son, Auctioneers, 17, Colmore Row, Birmingham.

SALE OF HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE AND PUBLIC-HOUSE EFFECTS,

AT THE
GEORGE INN, HIGH STREET, WEDNESBURY.
Including Metallic and other Bedsteads, five excellent goose-feather Beds, caliasses, Chest of Drawers, Easy Chair, large Chimney Glass, plate 50in. by 40in.; single-barrel Gun, Perry's Fire-proof SAFE, Drinking Tables, Beer Machine, eight-day Clock, in mahogany case; patent Corking Machine, seventy dozens of Porter and Wine Bottles, 100 large stone Spirit Jars, Bottle Baskets, capital Malt Crusher, two Fat PIGS, Pig Trough, Wort Coolers, Mash Tub, Gathering Tub, round and oval Tubs, twenty small Casks, twelve Liquor Casks, ten Hogsheads and Half-hogsheads, new 400-gallon Store Casks, together with the large STOCK OF WINES AND SPIRITS, Including nine dozens of British Wines, fifty dozens of Claret, eighty-five dozens of excellent Sherry, thirty-one dozens of Port, eight dozens of Port, eight dozens of Champagne, Irish and Scotch Whisky, Hennessy's and other best French Brandy.

WHICH WILL BE SOLD BY AUCTION,
BY GILBERT and SON, on MONDAY NEXT,

December 6.
Sale to commence at Eleven o'clock precisely.
Catalogues may be had on the Premises; or at the Auctioneers' Offices, 17, Colmore Row, Birmingham.
The Stock of Wines and Spirits will be sold at Two o'clock.

1869

CLEAR - OUT SALE, AT THE GEORGE INN,
HIGH STREET, WEDNESBURY.
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,

BY GILBERT and SON, on FRIDAY NEXT, Sept. 22, by order of Messrs. Wickham and Pickmere, in consequence of the expiration of the Lease—the PUBLIC-HOUSE EFFECTS, FIXTURES, and FITTINGS, including two capital Ale Machines, two Liquor Fountains, Counter, 25 feet long; Gaseliers, Pendants, and Brackets, Drinking Tables, Gas Stove, Windsor and other Chairs, Liquor Bottles, various Glasses, Benches, Partitioning and half-glazed Doors, capital Pier Glass, in gilt frame, plate 50 by 40; Kitchen Boiler, two large Copper Boilers, quantity of Wine and other Bottles; together with a large stock of WINEs, including quarter-cask of Sherry, quarter-cask of Port, hoghead of Sherry, nine dozen of Champagne, &c., &c.

Sale commencing at Eleven o'clock
Catalogues at the Auctioneer's Offices, 17, Colmore Row.

1871

GEORGE INN, WEDNESBURY, STAFFORDSHIRE,
Situated on the great Post Road leading from Wolverhampton to Birmingham.

TO be LET, and entered upon immediately,
the above long and well established Inn, with every suitable Convenience of Brewhouse, Stables, &c.
&c. now in the Occupation of Mr. William Rock, who will shew the Premises; and for further Particulars apply to Mr. Joseph Adams, Draper, Wednesbury.

The Tenant may be accommodated with any Quantity of good and well inclosed Land, not exceeding 37
Acres, nearly adjoining the House, and may have a Term in the Inn for 7 or 14 Years.

1893

GEORGE INN, WEDNESBURY.

TO be LET, and entered upon immediately,
the aforefaid old and well-established INN, now in the Occupation of Mr. Thomas Dean, who is declining the Public Business on Account of other Engagements.—
The Premises are convenient and well adapted for the Entertainment of Travellers, and consist of twelve Lodging Rooms, a large Dining Room, Parlour, Bar, good Kitchen, excellent Cellars, Brewhouse, Workshop, Stabling for about twenty Horses, and a large entire Yard;
the whole held at a very moderate Rent.

The Brewing Vessels, Fixtures, Stock of Ale, Wines, Liquors, &c. (with or without the Household Furniture)
to be taken by Valuation.

For other Particulars apply to the said Mr. Dean, or to T. Warren, Auctioneer, in Dale End, Birmingham.

1900

GEORGE INN
HIGH STREET,
WEDNESBURY
HOT & COLD
LUNCHEONS & BAR SNACKS
Monday-Friday Lunchtimes
12 noon-2.0p.m.
Tel. 021-556 0655

GEORGE INN
— the PUB that offers so much

Ken and Maureen, tenants at the GEORGE INN take great pride in what the George Inn has to offer.
Excellent beer, notably the new
ASTON ALE which is brewed in Birmingham, Quick Service at all times coupled with a very helpful staff, ensures you a good atmosphere at all times. There are meals and snacks at Lunchtime which Maureen cooks and supervises herself. Nothing is too much trouble for Ken and Maureen, so why not pop in, they will only be too pleased to see you. Cheers.

UPPER HIGH STREET,
WEDNESBURY.
Tel. 556 0655.

1978

KEN AND MAUREEN
of the
GEORGE INN,
HIGH STREET,
WEDNESBURY,

would like to wish all their customers Christmas Greetings and all the best for a Happy and Prosperous 1980.

1979

GEORGE AND DRAGON

40, Lower High Street, (Market Place), WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Mrs. Shepherd [1921]
John Davenport and Sons Brewery Ltd.

LICENSEES

George Loxton []
John Boot [] - 1870);
John Whittington (1870 - []
James Hatsell Walton [1871] - [1891]
William Archibald 'Archie' Walton [1900] - [1907]
Mrs. Alice Shepherd [1908]
James 'Jimmy' Mills (1910 - 1914)
Henry Millner [1912]
Mrs. Alice Shepherd [1915]
Edward Elcock Jones [1915] manager
Herbert M Berry [1916]
Mrs. Emily Selfe [1921] - 1922);
Mrs. Alice Lawn Shepherd (1922 - 1924);
William Samuel McGill (1924 - [1928]
William Sheldon McGill [1932]
Isaac William Sharman [1939] - [1940]
Frederick Henry Sherlock [1961] - 1963);
Maurice Roy Lane (1963);
Stanley Leslie Hill (1963 - 1964);

Token

NOTES

Black Country Pubs in Old Photographs

“Wednesbury’s historic GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL was licensed from 1814. Apart from the handy location for market traders, many famous members of the acting profession stayed there during the days of local live theatre. The building may have been older than its license as 1777 was on a beam found during demolition. The hostelry was called ‘Loxtons’ after the first licensee. A prosecution under the then newly introduced Weights and Measures Act against George Loxton was dismissed. He had been accused of selling beer in too large measures. During the demolition the workers found a large round cellar which may have been used for services before greater religious tolerance allowed Methodists to build the nearby Spring Head chapel. A more sinister use of the cellar may have been for dog fights and ratting contests. As well as the cellar, a large catchpit to hold rainwater was discovered.”

Birmingham Journal 30/7/1859

“At Staffordshire Assizes Patrick Fitzpatrick, 24, was charged with feloniously cutting and wounding John Poole, at Wednesbury, on the 29th of May. It seemed that the prosecutor went into the GEORGE AND DRAGON, at Wednesbury, on the day in question, and seeing the prisoner there with a long black beard, intimated that a shave was requisite to improve his (prisoner’s) personal appearance. Prisoner, who is an Irishman, was in liquor, and took offence at the hint given him. He showed his resentment by stating that he would shave the prosecutor; and, drawing a knife from his pocket, cut him (prosecutor) across the upper lip. A struggle ensued, and in the course of it the prisoner stabbed the prosecutor in the side. The prisoner was found guilty of unlawfully wounding without any felonious intent, and was sentenced to nine months’ imprisonment.”

1871 Census

40, Lower High Street

- [1] James Hatsell Walton (41), manager of wine vaults, born London;
- [2] Mary Ann Walton (35), wife, born Leamington;
- [3] James Edward Walton (4), son, born Wednesbury;
- [4] William Archibald Walton (1), son, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Emily Beard (31), barmaid, born Tipton;
- [6] Maria Stokes (47), nurse, born Beach Lane, Warwickshire;
- [7] Jemima Cooper (19), general servant, born Wednesbury;

Birmingham Daily Post 30/3/1877

“The list of nominations of Guardians for the several parishes of the union of West Bromwich for the ensuing year is as follows Wednesbury James Hatsell Walton, 40, Lower High Street, wine and spirit merchant.”

[He was a guardian for some years.]

Birmingham Daily Post 17/4/1877 - Advert

“Wanted, a respectable, strong, active Person, as Nurse. Good character indispensable. Apply, personally, to Mrs. James H. Walton, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

NURSE.—Wanted, a respectable, strong, active Person, as Nurse. Good character indispensable.—Apply, personally, to Mrs. James H. Walton, Market Place, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 16/3/1878 - Advert

“General Servant (respectable). Good character indispensable. Apply, Mrs. James H. Walton, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

GENERAL Servant (respectable). Good character indispensable.—Apply, Mrs. James H. Walton, Market Place, Wednesbury.

1881 Census

40, Lower High Street – GEORGE AND DRAGON

- [1] James Walton (51), wine and spirit merchant, born London;
- [2] Mary A. Walton (45), wife, born Leamington;
- [3] William A. Walton (11), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Frank M. Walton (9), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Elizabeth Hampson (35), barmaid, born Wednesbury;
- [6] James Spooner (19), general servant, born Wednesbury;

1891 Census

40, Lower High Street

- [1] James H. Walton (61), wine and spirit merchant, born London;
- [2] Mary A. Walton (55), wife, born Leamington;
- [3] James E. Walton (25), son, bank clerk, born Wednesbury;
- [4] William A. Walton (21), son, assistant to wine and spirit merchant, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Frank H. Walton (19), son, chemist's apprentice, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Frederick F. Lovegrove (11), visitor, born Oxford;
- [7] Alice M. Lovegrove (9), visitor, born Oxford;
- [8] Jane Yeoman (23), barmaid, born Oldbury;
- [9] Diana Knight (24), domestic servant, born Darlaston;

Mary Ann Walton died in Leamington in 1912. In the death notice it says she was the widow of Alderman James Hatsell Walton, late of Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 5/10/1897

“Wednesbury Town Council.....

Alderman Walton announced that he was leaving the town to live at Oxford, and he desired to tender his thanks to his colleagues and to the officials for the uniform kindness and courtesy with which he had been treated. It was a great sorrow to him to have to say farewell. The Mayor and others gave expression to their regret at losing their colleague; their appreciation of the admirable work he had done for the town during a period of nearly twenty years, first as a member of the Local Board, and afterwards of the Town Council; and their sincere wishes for his future welfare. A resolution embodying these sentiments was ordered to be prepared and engrossed on vellum.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 25/8/1899

“This afternoon the remains of the late ex-Alderman Walton, of Wednesbury, were interred in the Borough Cemetery at Wood Green, amid every manifestation of sorrow and respect. The remains of the deceased gentleman were brought from Oxford, where he passed away, this morning, and were placed in St. John’s Church, awaiting interment. The funeral was of a very quiet nature, and was attended by representatives from the Wednesbury Town Council and West Bromwich Board of Guardians, two public bodies in which the late Alderman was, prior to his retirement, associated; whilst a number of his former colleagues in Wednesbury and the surrounding district followed. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. F. R. Harpham, rector of St. John’s, Wednesbury, and there were no flowers.”

Sporting Life 13/1/1900

“Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers Billiard League.

The following are the entries and starts for the third billiard tournament, open to the beer and wine trade, promoted by Messrs. Burroughes and Watts.....

W. A. Walton, GEORGE AND DRAGON, Wednesbury, 40.”

1901 Census

GEORGE AND DRAGON

- [1] William A. Walton (31), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Bessie M. Walton (26), wife, born Smethwick;
- [3] Winifred A. Walton (2), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Thomas A. Walton (1), son, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Leslie P. Walton (3 months), son, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Margaret A. Mason (23), barmaid, born Bloxwich;
- [7] Martha Laird (56), widow, cook, born Hereford;
- [8] Florence Gipton (26), nurse, born Small Heath, Warwickshire;
- [9] Emily Chaloner (21), housemaid, born Bloxwich:

William Archibald Walton issued tokens from here.

Evening Despatch 27/3/1902

“The Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers Handicap Billiards Tournament ended yesterday at Messrs. Burroughes and Watts’ Show Rooms, New Street, Birmingham.

The semi-finals were played in the afternoon. G. Bevan, Crown Stores, Camden Street, received 115, and beat A. Mason, Shakespeare Hotel, Stratford Road, received 20, by 250 to 242. The other semi-final was between Mr. Walton, of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Wednesbury, received 50, and Mr. Sanworth, Warwick Arms, Bradford Street, received 55. Mr. Walton won after an exciting game by 250 to 244.

The final took place at night, and the play was interesting from first to last. Mr. Beavan started at 230, and Mr. Walton at 100. Ultimately the latter caught his opponent up, and though stuck to well by Mr. Beavan, he won by 500 points to 473.”

William Archibald Walton, wine and spirit merchant and GEORGE AND DRAGON, established 1816, 40, Lower High Street. [1904]

Birmingham Mail 18/7/1905 - Advert

“Housemaid-Waitress Required, at once.

Apply, personally or by letter, to W. A. Walton, GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

HOUSEMAID-WAITRESS Required, at once.—Apply, personally or by letter, to W. A. Walton, George and Dragon Hotel, Market Place, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 13/3/1907

“The second round of the Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers Handicap Billiards Tournament was continued yesterday. In the afternoon, R. Jones, Black Horse, Cannock, rec.190, gained a surprisingly easy victory over W. A. Walton, GEORGE AND DRAGON, Wednesbury, rec.55, by 400 to 222.”

1911 Census

Lower High Street – GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL

- [1] James Mills (67), licensed victualler, born Tipton;
- [2] Annie Wright Mills (59), wife, married 36 years, born Handsworth;
- [3] Percy James Mills (32), son, barman, born Handsworth;
- [4] Alice Mabel Mills (29), daughter, barmaid, born Handsworth;
- [5] Victoria Elizabeth Mills (23), daughter, barmaid, born Birmingham;
- [6] George Lawson (29), boarder, electrical engineer, born Edinburgh;
- [7] Clara Latham (57), cook, born Sheffield;
- [8] Hannah Maria Yardley (18), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Lily Giles (25), table maid, born Walsall;

Walsall Observer 20/5/1911

“The formal opening of the Wednesbury Town club’s bowling green, situated at the rear of the club’s headquarters, the GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury, took place on Saturday, before a large attendance of members and friends. The president, Mr. T. A. Shephard, who has held this office since the club’s inception, a considerable number of years ago, performed the opening ceremony. A cordial vote of thanks was accorded the president for his presence, on the motion of Mr. J. Whistance (captain), and seconded by Mr. Holland (vice-captain). Subsequently the president participated in a friendly game.”

Evening Despatch 17/3/1914

“Much regret has been occasioned in Wednesbury by the death, which occurred on Saturday last, of Mr. Jimmy Mills, landlord of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Market Place. Mr. Mills was a well-known and highly respected host, and previous to taking over the GEORGE four years ago he was for ten years at the WHITE HORSE. He was immensely popular among the travelling fraternity.”

James Mills – see also WHITE HORSE.

Edward Elcock Jones = Edward Alcock Jones

Birmingham Daily Gazette 6/2/1915

“The sequel to a police raid on a Wednesbury public house was heard by the borough magistrates yesterday. The defendant was Alice Shepherd, the licensee of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Wednesbury Market Place, and she was summoned for opening licensed premises for the sale of intoxicating liquor during closing hours.

Mr. F. Cooper, who prosecuted on behalf of the police, explained that Mrs. Shepherd was to some extent only a nominal defendant, as full supervision and control of the house was entrusted to a manager, Mr. Edward Elcock Jones. The facts of the case were that on 11 January Police-sergeant Harris, when passing the house, noticed that the billiard room was lighted, and after keeping observation until one o’clock, he and three constables made a raid on the premises. They saw Jones, the manager, who said, ‘These are my friends.’ Proceeding to the billiard room they saw a large number of people, who had apparently been served intoxicating and other drinks. The party numbered forty-three, of whom twenty-six were females and seventeen males, and among the former were sixteen girls under the age of 19.

In the course of the evidence the police called three witnesses and the defence called thirteen.

For the defence, Mr. O. J. Glover submitted that all the party were bona fide guests of Mr. Firth, a pantomime promoter, who was staying a week in the town.

A fine of £5 and costs was imposed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 13/2/1915

“The annual licensing sessions for the borough of Wednesbury were held yesterday, the Mayor (Mr. N. Bishop) presiding, when Superintendent Salt reported there were 135 licenses in the borough, being at the rate of one to each of 208.20 of the population. There was a reduction of two licenses compared with the previous year. Two license-holders had been proceeded against, and one convicted, and in that case – the GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Market Place – he had given notice of opposition to the renewal of the license.....

The whole of the licenses were renewed except that of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, which will be considered at the adjourned sessions.”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/7/1915

"At Dudley, yesterday, Mr. F. W. Green, in supporting, the application of Edward Alcock Jones, for the transfer to him of the license of the ANGEL INN, Castle Street, stated that in January last, while his client was manager of the GEORGE AND DRAGON Wednesbury, a pantomime company stayed at the hotel. A former proprietor of the company who had joined his Majesty's Forces visited Mr. Harry Firth, the then proprietor of the company. Mr. Firth invited a few friends, and the party took place without any attempt at concealment. The police visited the premises, and the licensee was convicted for opening licensed premises for sale of intoxicating liquors during closing hours. Applicant said he had held a license for twenty years.

Chief Superintendent Speke: Did the police find 43 people of the premises, 26 females and 17 males? – Witness: Yes.

Among the 26 females were there 16 under the age of 19, and among the males seven persons who resided in Birmingham and could not be termed lodgers? – Yes, sir.

There was a sort of raid made on the house by the police? – That is so.

And it was made at about one o'clock in the morning? – Yes.

And the magistrates inflicted a fine of £5? – Yes.

Applicant added that among the guests were three Excise officers, who told him he would be quite in order in allowing the party if no drink was paid for.

The Bench granted the application."

Blackcountryman (Autumn 1972)

'The Brewers Swan Sung' by G. Stevens

".....Mrs. Pardoe moved with her parents to the GEORGE AND DRAGON in the Market Place at Wednesbury. Here, fifty lunches were catered for daily; seven courses for two shillings – second helpings at no extra cost. The next move was to the ANGEL, in Dudley....."

[Mrs. Doris Clara Pardoe, nee Jones – see OLD SWAN, Netherton.]

Edward Elcock Jones was born in Penkridge.

He was married to Erena Mary.

See also BRITANNIA, Leabrook Road, Tipton, ANGEL, Castle Street, Dudley, BUSH, Buffery Road, Dudley, and STATION HOTEL, Dudley.

Birmingham Daily Post 28/9/1915 - Advert

"Barmaid (Working) for Commercial Hotel; abstainer preferred; age 25-30; highest references; no Sunday work. GEORGE AND DRAGON, Wednesbury."

BARMAID (Working), for Commercial Hotel; abstainer preferred; age 25-30; highest references; no Sunday work.—George and Dragon, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 15/10/1915 - Advert

"Housemaid Wanted; one who can wait at table preferred; good home; liberal outings.

Apply, stating wages, GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury."

HOUSEMAID Wanted; one who can wait at table preferred; good home; liberal outings.—Apply, stating wages, George and Dragon Hotel, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 1/12/1915 - Advert

"General Wanted, two more kept; good wages; comfortable home; good outings.

GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury."

GENERAL Wanted, two more kept; good wages; comfortable home; good outings.—George and Dragon Hotel, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Gazette 8/5/1916

"The munition workers and sports lovers in the Midlands continue to do splendid work for the soldiers and sailors fund.....

Collected at flying billiard handicap, at the GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury, per Mr. H. M. Berry, £1 11s."

Lichfield Mercury 12/5/1916 - Advert

"Housemaid-Waitress Wanted for Coffee Room in Hotel; experience in waiting not necessary; would teach intelligent maid; good home; liberal outings; easy situation.

Apply, GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury."

HOUSEMAID-Waitress Wanted for Coffee Room in Hotel; experience in waiting not necessary; would teach intelligent maid; good home liberal outings; easy situation.—Apply, George and Dragon Hotel, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 24/3/1919 - Advert

"Owing scarcity labour, fodder troubles, six useful Cart-horses and strong Half-legged, 16 hands, 5-7 years; suitable boaters, carters, contactors, farmers; can be seen at work; vet invited; £25 upwards; 60 Tip Carts, Tackle, cheap clear. Stables, GEORGE DRAGON HOTEL, Addison Terrace, Wednesbury."

South Staffordshire Times 5/3/1921

"Wednesbury Licensing Sessions.....

GEORGE AND DRAGON, Market Place. Mr. A. J. Glover made application for approval of plans as proposed. Mrs. Emily Selfe was the present licensee. The plan put in would carry the desired alteration. The application was granted."

1921 Census

Market Place – GEORGE AND DRAGON

- [1] Emily Selfe (49), widow, hotel manageress, born Gloucester;
- [2] Thomas Shewen Selfe (22), son, mechanic, tube works, born Harborne;
- [3] Winifred Charlesworth (31), barmaid, born Hednesford, Staffordshire;
- [4] Henry Pococke (62), boarder, picture house manager, born London;
- [5] Annie Milner Blackhall (24), housemaid, born Leytonstone, Essex;
- [6] Marie Fuller (38), boarder, actress, born Widnes, Lancashire;
- [7] Thomas Fisher Moss (19), actor, born Methel, Fifehire:

Emily Selfe – see also BELLWETHER.

Trotting World and Horse Review 15/4/1922 - Advert

"At Stud. Govair, the Magnificently Bred Trotting Stallion.

Sire of Lord Harry; Fred G, and other notable winners.

His pedigree includes Barongale, Baron Wilkes, George Wilkes and Electioneer.

Stud Fee 3 Guineas. Grooms Fee 5s. Grass keep at 7s 6d per week.

For particulars and pedigree card apply J. Morgan, GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury."

South Staffordshire Times 27/7/1922

"On Thursday last week, the Duke of York Lodge at the GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL enrolled three new members, including the vicar of Wednesbury, the Rev. D. H. Crick, who afterwards addressed a few words to the brethren present. He assured them that after what he had learnt that evening he should make it his business to attend the lodge when opportunities arose, because he now knew that the carrying out of the principles of Buffaloism helped make men good and loyal citizens....."

Birmingham Daily Post 5/6/1924

"Deeds of Arrangement.....

Alice Lawn Shepherd, GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury, publican. Assignment upon trust, &c, except household furniture, &c. Trustee, C. E. Cowney, 55, Temple Row, Birmingham.

Dated May 24, filed May 27. Unsecured liabilities, £350; estimated net assets, £150."

Lichfield Mercury 20/3/1925 - Advert

"Wanted, Experienced Cook-General; good wages; good outings. Apply, GEORGE AND DRAGON, Market Place, Wednesbury."

WANTED, Experienced Cook-General; good wages; good outings.—App'y, George and Dragon, Market Place, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 9/6/1925 - Advert

"Experienced Barmaid Wanted, at once. Good wages.

Apply, McGill, GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury."

EXPERIENCED Barmaid Wanted, at once. Good wages.—App'y, McGill, George and Dragon Hotel, Market Place, Wednesbury.

Lichfield Mercury 23/4/1926

"Wanted, Housemaid-Waitress; also Bar-General; wages 10s; liberal outings; no family; no washing; Sunday closing.

Apply, GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury."

Dudley Chronicle 14/10/1926

“A monthly meeting of the Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers Association was held at Mr. W. S. McGill’s, GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury, on Tuesday afternoon.....”

William Samuel McGill – see also THREE FURNACES, Brierley Hill; BELL, High Street, Brierley Hill; STAR, Brierley Hill; OLD LEATHERN BOTTLE, Wednesbury; and BLUE BALL, Wednesbury.

Bilston and Willenhall Times 12/5/1928

“The green of the Wednesbury Town Bowling Club was formally opened on Monday evening at the GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury. The club is one of the oldest in the town, and the green is now in fine condition.....”

Midland Advertiser 14/1/1933

“A representative gathering of the members of the Wednesbury Tradesmen’s Association was held at the GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL on Monday evening. Councillor F. H. Davies (chairman of the association) occupying the chair. Among the many matters discussed was one dealing with the question of outsiders coming into town with barrows on Sunday morning and Thursday afternoon, and selling goods while the trades members were closed. This practice was much deprecated and it was decided that steps should be taken to put a stop to that nuisance and also other unfair methods of trading.....”

Walsall Observer 17/8/1935

“An elderly man, William Henry Clarke (61), of 31, Church Hill, Wednesbury, who was said to have terrified the locality in which he lives, had a string of cases against him when he appeared at Wednesbury Police Court yesterday.....

The constable detailed various convictions against Clarke and said he had been to jail for assaulting the police and drunkenness, etc. Clarke admitted stealing a set of dominoes from the GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury and wished that this should be taken into account.....”

[The aggregated sentences of charges that were proved resulted in imprisonment for 9 months.]

Birmingham Mail 2/3/1939 - Advert

“Owing to promotions there are Vacancies on our sales staff in the Bilston, and Wednesbury areas. Applications are invited for these positions from, smart, adaptable Men between 25 and 55 years with or without experience.

Call and see Mr. Cross at the PIPE HALL HOTEL, Bilston, on Friday, 3rd inst, between 10am and 11am, or at the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Wednesbury, the same day between 11.30am and 12.30pm.”

Walsall Observer 6/5/1939

“At a meeting of the Wednesbury Trademen’s Association at the GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Wednesday night, when Mr. L. S. Mincher presided, it was decided to organise an outing to Broadway on July 6. The Secretary (Mr. D. F. Starr) said he had written to the Walsall Postmaster regarding complaints of delay in the delivery of letters, and the Postmaster had promised to go into the matter.”

Walsall Observer 2/9/1939

“Scores of men were busy yesterday sand-bagging the Wednesbury Town Hall, police station, and other public buildings, and people who had not previously claimed their respirators filed into the Council House.....

Wardens posts arranged to date are as follows.....

GEORGE AND DRAGON, Market Place.”

1939 Register

40, Lower High Street

[1] Isaac W. Sharman, date of birth 9/2/1888, public house manager, married;

[2] Annie B. Sharman, dob 7/1/1890, public house manageress, married;

[3] Maria (Baddeley) Hughes, dob 24/1/1913, bar general, single;

[4] Jennie (Bott) (Bartlett) Humphries, dob 5/1/1921, bar general, single;

[5] Cyril M. Barton, dob 7/4/1908, draughtsman, single;

[6] Fred George Collins, dob 21/4/1900, travelling clerk, married:

Rugeley Times 8/2/1941

"The monthly report of the West Bromwich and District General Hospital, just issued, shows that the patients report for the month of December was in-patients admitted, 55; out-patients admitted to the several special departments, 284; to the casualty department, 905; attendance in all departments, 3,485.

Donations acknowledged for the month of December, 1940, were.....

GEORGE AND DRAGON, Wednesbury, 2s 6d."

Evening Despatch 1/7/1941 - Advert

"Bar-General, no Sunday trade; good home,
GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury."

BAR-GENERAL, no Sunday trade; good home.—George and Dragon
Hotel, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1941 - Advert

"By Direction of the Trustees of Martha Powell, Deceased.

The Freehold Hippodrome with Lock-Up Shops adjoining, Upper High Street, Wednesbury.

Licensed for Stage Plays and Full Variety. Seating Accommodation for 700 (upholstered tip-ups). Three fully-licensed Bars. Large Car Park at rear.

Also Freehold Properties and Freehold Building Site, area 2,661 square yards or thereabouts, adjoining Car Park.

Collins and Son will Sell by Auction at the GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury, on Tuesday, October 7 at 7pm prompt, subject to Conditions of Sale."

Birmingham Mail 11/10/1941 - Advert

"Bed Rm. Suite mahogany bedstead 3-piece Suite and sundry other items for Sale viewed in Bm. no dealers.

App. Cook GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury."

BED Rm. Suite mahogany bedstead 3-piece
Suite & sundry other items for Sale viewed in Bm. no dealers—App. Cook George & Dragon Hotel Wednesbury

"Birmingham Daily Post 23/3/1942 - Advert

"Reliable Woman assist in bar occasionally exper. not necessary good wages child no objection.

GREEN DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury."

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League. [1962]

Birmingham Daily Post 18/2/1963

"Wednesbury licensees want local youths to carry their birth certificates to show as proof that they are old enough to drink. The tenants section of Wednesbury, Darlaston and District Licensed Victuallers Association is discussing the idea and it may be suggested to Wednesbury Borough Council that a by-law should be framed. Wednesbury justices have expressed concern at the increase in offences by young people of drinking under age. Last year there were five convictions; there were none the previous year. The justices have appealed to licensees for support in preventing similar offences this year.

The birth certificate suggestion has been put forward by Mr. A. A. Griffiths, licensee of the ROSE HILL TAVERN, Church Hill, Wednesbury, who is chairman of the tenants section. He thinks it unfair that licensees should be penalised when they are doing their best to see that no one under age commits drinking offences in their houses. He said, 'When a licensee challenges young people he is told lies; but if a police officer walks into the house they become frightened and immediately admit their correct ages. This makes the publican out to be a liar.'

Mr. Maurice Lane, of the GEORGE AND DRAGON HOTEL, said, 'I think this is an excellent idea. I will support any move by local licensees to get a by-law through the council.'"

Birmingham Daily Post 8/2/1964

"The GEORGE AND DRAGON public house at Wednesbury is to close for good when 'time' is called tomorrow night. The premises, which are 150 years old, are to be converted for use by a dry cleaning firm."

It closed on 9th February 1964.

It was demolished in January 1965.

GEORGE AND DRAGON

9, Walsall Road, (9, Oakeswell End), (Walsall Street) / Pritchard Street, Oakeswell, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Thomas Palmer [1834]
Thomas Watson [1860] – [1868]
Joseph Whittingham [1871] – [1872]
Enoch Kendrick [1877]

NOTES

Walsall Street [1861]
9, Oakeswell End [1871]
9, Walsall Road [1872]

It had a beerhouse license.

1861 Census

Walsall Street
[1] Thomas Watson (36), retail brewer, born Stokes Mill, Derbyshire;
[2] Ruth Watson (31), wife, born Ashby de la Zouch;
[3] William Watson (12), son, born Wednesbury;
[4] Hannah Watson (8), daughter, born Wednesbury;
[5] Elizabeth Watson (6), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
[6] Samuel Watson (2), son, born Wednesbury;
[7] Ellen Watson (5 months), daughter, born Wednesbury;
[8] Ruth Cannha (67), mother, widow, born Ashby de la Zouch;
[9] William Pugh (46), lodger, labourer, born Kates Hill;
[10] Mary Ann Tyler (16), house servant, born Radcliff, Lancashire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 28/5/1864

“Thomas Watson, the landlord of the GEORGE AND DRAGON, Oakswell End, was summoned for selling ale at quarter to twelve on Saturday night, the 7th instant. Sergeant Gasson met three women coming from the house with ale in jugs, which he tasted. The defence was that the ale was given to some poor women after they had been laying out a neighbour, as the relatives were too poor to make the usual acknowledgement of their services. The bench dismissed the case.”

Thomas Watson, beer retailer, Oakeswell. [1868]

Thomas Watson – see also OLD BLUE BALL.

1871 Census

9, Oakeswell End – GEORGE AND DRAGON

[1] Joseph Whittingham (32), publican, born Tipton;

[2] Harriet Whittingham (29), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] Harriet Whittingham (7), daughter, born Hill Top;

[4] Martha Whittingham (5), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[5] John Whittingham (3), son, born Birmingham;

[6] Amelia Stanton (18), general servant, born Birmingham:

Joseph Whittingham, beer retailer, 9, Walsall Road. [1872]

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/6/1873

“The adjourned case of Whittingham v Oakley came on for hearing. The plaintiff, Joseph Whittingham, landlord of the GEORGE AND DRAGON INN, Oakeswell End, sought to recover from Thomas Oakley, roller, Hill Top, the sum of £50 as compensation for the breaking of the plaintiff’s leg. Mr. Dale (from the offices of Messrs. Duignan, Lewis, and Lewis) appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Young (instructed by Mr. Ebsworth) for the defence.

The case occupied the greater part of the day, in addition to several hours on the day on which it was originally called on. The common ground was that on the 7th of October the defendant and some friends drove up to the plaintiff’s house, in a cab, and after being supplied with ale at the door, entered the house and went into the kitchen; and that while they were there the plaintiff’s leg was broken. As to the cause of the mishap the parties differed considerably, the plaintiff’s contention being that the defendant laid hold of him, twisted him round, and threw him down, breaking his leg; and the defendant’s being that he and the plaintiff shook hands, and the latter, being the worse for drink, immediately afterwards fell down and broke his leg, no one being within a yard or two of him at the time.

The plaintiff represented that as a result of the breakage, he had been laid up for 24 weeks, and he claimed the sum named as compensation for his sufferings, and to cover expenses which he had incurred in procuring surgical and other assistance. The bill of his surgeon, Mr. Garman, amounted to £3.

His Honour reserved his decision for the purpose of making a personal inspection of the premises where the occurrence took place.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/8/1873

“Whittingham v Oakley.....

His Honour reserved judgement until he had seen the room in which plaintiff fell, with a view to ascertain whether a witness who was called for him could see what happened, it being alleged on behalf of the defendant that it was impossible for her to have seen it. His Honour now stated that having inspected the locus in quo, he was satisfied the witness had spoken the truth, and gave a verdict for the plaintiff for £30.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/8/1877 - Advert

“Sale of Valuable Freehold Residential and other Properties; Eligible Building Land and Beerhouse, at Wednesbury and Darlaston.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. F. B. Scholefield, at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, on Tuesday and Wednesday, the 21st and 22nd days of August, 1877.....

Lot 5. All that desirable Freehold Beerhouse, known by the sign of the GEORGE AND DRAGON INN, situate at the corner of Pritchard Street and the main road leading to Walsall. The House contains three Bed Rooms, Bar, Smoke Room, Tap Room, Brewhouse, two Cellars, Yard, and Out-buildings belonging thereto, now occupied by Mr. Enoch Kendrick. The area of this lot is 683 square yards.”

LOT 5.—All that desirable FREEHOLD BEERHOUSE, known by the sign of the “GEORGE AND DRAGON INN,” situate at the corner of Pritchard Street and the main road leading to Walsall. The House contains three Bed Rooms, Bar, Smoke Room, Tap Room, Brewhouse, two Cellars, Yard, and Out-buildings belonging thereto, now occupied by Mr. Enoch Kendrick. The area of this lot is 683 square yards.

GLADSTONE

1, Portway Road, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd. [1921], [1999]

LICENSEES

William Shinton [1861] – [1881]
Joseph Dicken [1886] – [1887]
Martha Harvey [1890]
Nathaniel Longmore [1891] – [1896]
Joseph Hartshorne [1901] – [1904]
Wilfred Woodhouse [1911]
Samuel Griffiths [1921]
Albert Ridgway [1931] – [1940]
Albert Emms [1939]
Joseph Wheeler [1961] – [1966]
Kate and Keith Elson [1978]
M Carter [1983]
John Henry Barlow []

NOTES

It was known locally as the “Painted Lady”.

It had a beerhouse license.

William Shinton = William Shenston

William Shinton, beer retailer, Portway Road. [1861], [1864], [1865], [1868], [1870]

1861 Census

Portway Road

- [1] William Shinton (42), publican and butcher, born Madeley, Shropshire;
- [2] Louisa Shinton (40), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Rebecca Shinton (16), daughter, born Horsehay, Shropshire;
- [4] Aaron James (10), step-son, scholar, born West Bromwich;
- [5] Thomas Shinton (6), son, scholar, born West Bromwich;
- [6] James Shinton (2), son, born Wednesbury;

William Shinton, retailer of beer, Portway Road. [1862]

Birmingham Journal 14/11/1868

“East Staffordshire Election.....

Mr. Brogden addressed a crowded and enthusiastic meeting at the GLADSTONE ARMS INN, Portway Road, Wednesbury; Mr. T. S. Hatton presiding. The candidate spoke at some length, and his remarks were received with great heartiness. At the close a vote of confidence in him was carried with three ringing cheers, followed by a call for three groans for Mr. Walker.”

[Alexander Brogden was Liberal MP for Wednesbury from 1868 to 1885.]

2005

1871 Census

1, Portway Road

- [1] William Shinton (53), publican, born Madeley, Shropshire;
- [2] Louisa Shinton (48), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Thomas Shinton (16), son, labourer, born West Bromwich;
- [4] James Shinton (12), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] John Shinton (8), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Kate Laffe (16), general servant, born Wednesbury;

William Shinton, beer retailer, 1, Portway Road. [1872]

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 31/8/1872

“Poxton of Wednesbury and H. Houldsworth of Derby are matched to run one mile level at the Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury, for £25 a side, on Monday, September 9; £10 a side is down in the hands of Mr. Shenston, GLADSTONE INN, Wednesbury, the stakeholder. Mr. B. Hawkins of Wednesbury referee.”

Dudley Herald 30/10/1880

“James Lyons was charged on a warrant with being drunk on licensed premises on the 28th August last. PC Steel said on the day in question he saw the defendant turned out of the GRAPES INN, Portway Road. He went into the GLADSTONE INN. Witness went in and saw defendant there with a quart of ale before him. He was drunk. He was also charged with being drunk on Saturday night last, in Meeting Street, Wednesbury, and his wife, Mary Lyons, with obstructing the police. PC Steel said when he was about apprehending the male defendant his wife obstructed him, and would not let him take him into custody. Mary Lyons was discharged with a caution, and the male defendant was fined for the first case 19s 6d including costs, or in default seven days, and for the second 9s 6d or in default seven days.”

1881 Census

1, Portway Road – GLADSTONE INN

- [1] William Shinton (64), beerseller, born Shropshire;
- [2] Louisa Shinton (56), wife, born Staffordshire;
- [3] Thomas Shinton (26), son, forgeman, born Wednesbury;
- [4] James Shinton (22), son, forgeman, born Staffordshire;
- [5] John Shinton (19), son, forgeman, born Staffordshire;
- [6] Aaron J. Shinton (6), grand-son, scholar, born Staffordshire;
- [7] William Savage (54), lodger, blacksmith, born Shropshire;
- [8] Alexander (50), lodger, labourer, born Liverpool;

William Shinton died in the 2nd quarter of 1885.

WEDNESBURY.—Desirable Beerhouse, Gladstone Inn, Portway Road, near Dudley Street; occupying good business position; well-arranged premises. Illness cause of leaving. In-coming about £50.—Apply, E. B. Scholefield, Valuer and Auctioneer, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 20/5/1886 - Advert

“Wednesbury. Desirable Beerhouse, GLADSTONE INN, Portway Road, near Dudley Street; occupying good business position; well-arranged premises. Illness cause of leaving. In-coming about £50. Apply, E. B. Scholefield, Valuer and Auctioneer, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Post 14/7/1886

“At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, Thomas Roberts, keeper of the PORTWAY INN, was convicted of creating a disturbance in the house of Joseph Dicken, the GLADSTONE INN, in the same locality, and was fined 10s and costs, or fourteen days’ imprisonment.

It seemed that whilst in the house on the 6th instant he used offensive language, and on being told to leave he gave another customer three smacks in the face, broke a jug, and threatened the landlord.”

Birmingham Daily Post 1/6/1887

“At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, William Gorton (66), alias ‘Jeremy Diddler’ of Hill Top, miner, no fixed abode, was brought up, on remand, charged with having, by false pretences obtained 2d from John Cuxson, keeper of the ROSE HILL TAVERN, Church Hill, and 2s from Joseph Dicken, keeper of the GLADSTONE INN, Portway Road.

It seemed that the prisoner went to the house of the former prosecutor and represented that he was Lord Calthorpe’s keeper, and had been out since two o’clock in the morning looking for poachers, five of whom he had secured and handed over to Superintendent Holland, who had got them locked up at the station. He accounted for his dilapidated appearance by saying that it was necessary to put on old clothes to disguise himself, so that the poachers might not recognise him, and he added that he had left his horse and trap at the BELL INN, Walsall Road. Upon these representations he obtained a loan of 2s, but the prosecutor, having some misgivings, sent a messenger after him, with the result that he was traced to a lodging house in High Bullen, where he was regaling himself with a beef steak. No horse and trap could be found at the BELL INN. The prosecutor went to him at the lodging house and asked for the return of the 2s, and the prisoner handed over 1s 7d, telling him he would have to be satisfied with that. He was then handed over to Sergeant Lightfoot, who had already had information of the other fraud. In that case the prisoner went to Mr. Dicken’s house, and said he was the manager at Messrs. Addenbrooke’s colliery, and having fallen out with the publican who had been in the habit of supplying the pit beer, was about to transfer the custom – which he said amounted to about £80 a quarter – to the prosecutor. He then obtained 2s and said he would give the prosecutor half-a-crown the next day.

Superintendent Holland said he had known the prisoner as ‘Jeremy Diddler, of Hill Top,’ for thirty-five years, and knew that he had been convicted eight times previously, and sent to penal servitude three times for similar offences to those now charged against him. He had also once attempted suicide.

The prisoner was committed for trial at the Quarter Sessions.”

AND

Staffordshire Chronicle 2/7/1887

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

The following prisoners who had pleaded guilty were sentenced as follows.....

William Gorton (69), no occupation, for false pretences, at Wednesbury, on May 21, to 12 months’ hard labour and three years’ police supervision.”

Birmingham Daily Post 28/9/1887

“At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday Michael Joyce, Portway Road, a young man, against whom there were previous convictions, was charged with unlawfully wounding Rose Dicken, daughter of the keeper of the GLADSTONE INN, Portway Road.

It seemed that at about eight of o’clock on Monday night the accused went into the inn and began to use obscene language. He was ordered to leave, but he refused, and the landlord went to turn him out, his daughter, the complainant, going to his assistance, he being a cripple. Whilst she was so engaged the prisoner seized her right hand, and severely bit the forefinger. The police were then sent for, and he was removed to the police station.

The prisoner said he was very sorry, but he had had ‘a drop of beer.’

The Stipendiary sentenced him to four months’ imprisonment, with hard labour, remarking that he had committed a very brutal and cowardly assault.”

Birmingham 4/3/25 15/10/1890

“At Wednesbury Police court, yesterday, Arthur Waldron applied for the transfer of the GLADSTONE INN, Portway Road, to him from Martha Harvey. Mr. W. S. Smith appeared in support of the application, and Superintendent Holland opposed.

The applicant, in answer to questions, said he had kept the BRITANNIA INN, Wednesbury, for some time without complaint, and that afterwards he became manager of the TALBOT INN, Queen Street, West Bromwich. Whilst there, about two months ago, he was proceeded against for allowing gaming on the premises, and was fined in two cases. Since then he had faithfully carried out the promise which he made to the Bench that he would not have anything more to do with betting. He was fined £5 in one case and 40s in the other.

Inspector Ainsworth deposed to the convictions, and to the defendant having previously been warned with respect to card playing on his premises.

The Bench refused the application.”

1891 Census

1, Portway Road – GLADSTONE INN

- [1] Nathaniel Longmore (37), publican, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Annie Longmore (29), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] William R. Longmore (8), son, scholar, born Smethwick;
- [4] Sarah L. Longmore (6), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Beatrice Longmore (4), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;

Nathaniel Longmore, beer retailer, 1, Portway Road. [1896]

1901 Census

1, Portway Road

- [1] Joseph Hartshorne (55), coach axle worker, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Zillah Hartshorne (46), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Florence Hartshorne (19), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Albert T. Hartshorne (16), son, labourer, iron works, born Wednesbury;
- [5] John Hartshorne (81), father, widower, retired miner, born Tipton;
- [6] Joseph Washburn (14), grand-son, labourer, iron works, born Northwich, Cheshire;

Joseph Hartshorne, beer retailer, 1, Portway Road. [1904]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 22/6/1907

“Before the Wednesbury magistrates yesterday, Thomas Connor, of Portway Road, was charged with refusing to quit the GLADSTONE INN, and with breaking a window, doing damage to the amount of £4 10s. He had to be ejected from the public house, and afterwards threw a brick through the window. A fine of 10s and costs was imposed, and he was also ordered to pay the damage.”

1911 Census

1, Portway Road

- [1] Wilfred Woodhouse (27), coal tub emptier, above ground, and beerhouse keeper, born Dudley;
- [2] Edith Woodhouse (27), wife, married 7 years, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Doris Woodhouse (4), daughter, born England;
- [4] Wilfred Woodhouse (11 months), son, born Darlaston;
- [5] Leonard Sault (23), brother, groom, born Wednesbury;

1921 Census

1, Portway Road – GLADSTONE INN

- [1] Samuel Griffiths (70), license holder, born Tipton;
- [2] Mary Griffiths (69), wife, home duties, born Sedgley;
- [3] John Thomas Randall (53), son-in-law, bricklayer, born Tipton;
- [4] Eliza Randall (50), daughter, tailoress, born Sedgley;

Samuel Griffiths – see also BELL AND CASTLE.

Albert Ridgway worked as a striker at Jon Edwards' Junction Works.
See also GLOBE, Holloway Bank, West Bromwich.

Albert Emms was married to Esther.

1939 Register

1, Portway Road (4 of 6)

- [1] Esther Emms, date of birth 6/2/1897, unpaid domestic duties and attending the bar, married;
- [2] Fanny (Hadley) Abbott, dob 19/9/1916, domestic duties and attending the bar, single;
- [3] Francis Abbott, dob 5/6/1916, slanger, constructional engineering, single;
- [4] Edgar Ablett, dob 2/8/1913, machine worker, constructional engineering, single;

Evening Despatch 15/3/1940

“Sentence of one month’s imprisonment was passed at Wednesbury today on Harry Hooper, aged 19, of 32, Great Western Street, Wednesbury, charged with stealing a cigarette case, door key, and wristlet watch, belonging to persons at the GLADSTONE INN, Portway Road, Wednesbury, where he had been lodging since the beginning of this year.

Hooper expressed regret to the Bench, and asked for a chance to join the Army. Supt. J. H. Hall said Hooper had quite a bad record and was at present on license from Borstal.”

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League, Division One. [1946]

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Darts League, Second Division. [1946]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 23/2/1978 – Thank You

“The GLADSTONE, Portway Road, Wednesbury.

Kate and Keith Elson, champion hosts. Thanks for everything. Ladies Darts Team.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 16/11/1979 - Advert

“Nobby from the GLADSTONE INN, Portway Road, Wednesbury, wishes all Nobby’s Loonies the very best of luck in the Darts Tournament. All the best for the day.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 7/1/1981 - Advert

“Nobby from the GLADSTONE INN, Portway Road, Wednesbury, would like to wish all his customers and friends A Very Merry and Prosperous New Year. See you all in 1981.”

Walsall Observer 13/2/1981

“The darts and dominoes players of Bloxwich Mencap turned their skills to good account for charity, raising just over £60 last week. They lost the darts match at the GLADSTONE pub, Portway Road, Wednesbury, by the slim margin of 5-4. But the match realised £28.70.

At the FOUR CROSSES, Leamore, the dominoes game finished 10-3 in the host side’s favour. But the Mencap were happy with the £32.78 return.”

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Motor Services Crib League. [1986]

Birmingham Daily Post 10/8/1994 - Advert

“The Insolvency Act 1986. In Bankruptcy in the Walsall County Court.

Re: John Henry Barlow, of the ROYAL OAK, Walker Road, Blakenhall Heath, Walsall, West Midlands, and lately at the GLADSTONE, Portway Road, Wednesbury, West Midlands, and lately carrying on business as a Newsagent. On 20 July 1994 the above-named Court made a Bankruptcy Order against the above-named debtor.

Note: All debts due to the estate should be paid to me.

4 August 1994.

R. W. Gardener, Official Receiver, Commercial Union House, 22, Martineau Square, Birmingham.”

It was refurbished in December 1998.

Black Country Bugle 27/5/1999 - Advert

“Fully Refurbished. The NEW GLADSTONE, Portway Road, Wednesbury.

Karaoke every Thursday and Saturday evening.

Thursday night Foster Promotion night.

Early doors special Monday-Friday 4-7 Fosters first pint £1.80, second pint 99p.

Banks’s and Banks’s Bitter 99p a pint.

Bank Holiday Monday – Family Funday. Bouncy Castle and Karaoke.

Coming soon live entertainment with Janny Lee Stone. Friday 25th June 8.45pm.

Phone Colin or Mandy for details on 0121-502 3257.”

Express and Star 9/8/1999 - Advert

“Town Centre Public House. Single trading area community pub. Fully fitted catering kitchen. Car park and garden with outside drinking area. Benefits from an exceptional refurbishment in December 1998. 3 bedroom private accommodation. Last 12 months wet trade 150 Barrels. Tenancy. Approximate in-goings from £10,000 (purchase plan available for fixtures and fittings).”

[2006]

Closed [2007]

Demolished [2008]

THE INSOLVENCY ACT 1986

IN BANKRUPTCY IN THE WALSALL
COUNTY COURT

No. 59 of 1994

RE: JOHN HENRY BAR-
LOW of 'The Royal Oak',
Walker Road, Blakenhall
Heath, Walsall, West
Midlands and lately at
'The Gladstone', Portway
Road, Wednesbury, West
Midlands and lately carrying on business as a NEWSAGENT.

On 20 July 1994 the above-named Court made a Bankruptcy Order against the above-named debtor.

NOTE: All debts due to the estate should be paid to me.

4 August 1994

R.W. GARDNER
Official Receiver
Commercial Union House
22, Martineau Square
Birmingham B2 4UP

1994

FULLY REFURBISHED THE NEW GLADSTONE Portway Road, Wednesbury Karaoke every Thursday & Saturday evening Thursday night Foster Promotion night Early doors special Monday-Friday 4-7 Fosters - First pint £1.80 Second pint 99p Banks's & Banks's Bitter 99p a pint BANK HOLIDAY MONDAY - FAMILY FUNDAY Bouncy castle & Karaoke COMING SOON LIVE ENTERTAINMENT WITH JANNY LEE STONE Friday 25th June 8.45pm Phone Colin or Mandy for details on 0121-502 3257

1999

GOLDEN CROSS

24, Market Place, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Atkinson's Brewery Limited [1915], [1938]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. [1961], [1987]
Enterprise Inns [1998]
Stonegate Group [2024]

LICENSEES

Joseph Danks [1834] – [1846]
William Danks [1860] – [1861]
Eliza Danks [1868] – [1881]
Frank George Cox [1891] – [1901]
Benjamin Chambers [1904]
Albert Henry Ashwood [1911] – [1912]
Samuel Roberts [1913] – [1943]
Ronald Wilson [1961] – 1965;
Alan Simcox (1965 – [1966])
Blake [1970]
Les Smith (1984 – 1988)
David Ingles (1987 – [1988])
Tom Norton [1997]
John Nicholls (2005 – [2010])

NOTES

It was originally the GOLDEN CROSS.

OLD GOLDEN CROSS [1901], [1915], [1921], [1943]
NEW GOLDEN CROSS [1961]

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

John Wesley preached opposite here in 1743.

Joseph Danks, beer retailer, Market Place. [1835], [1841]

1841 Census

Market Place

- [1] Elizabeth Danks (50), born Staffordshire;
- [2] Martha Danks (20), born Staffordshire;
- [3] Eliza Danks (15), born Staffordshire;
- [4] Sarah Danks (5), born Staffordshire;
- [5] William Danks (25), butcher, born Staffordshire;
- [6] Charles Danks (20), whitesmith, born Staffordshire;
- [7] Mark Danks (15), whitesmith, born Staffordshire:

Joseph Danks, retailer of beer, Market Place. [1842]

2008

2025

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 1/10/1843

“David Richards, of Wednesbury, will run Hayward, of Bilston, 140 yards, for £5 or £10 a side. If this does not suit, he will run any one within four miles of Wednesbury for the same sum. His money is ready at James McGill’s, or at Joseph Danks’s, GOLDEN CROSS, Wednesbury.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 4/7/1846

“Joseph Danks was fined 10s and costs for having his house open after eleven o’clock, at Wednesbury, on the 16th of June.”

Birmingham Journal 1/7/1848

“On Sunday afternoon, as a labourer named Samuel Lee was walking by the side of the new canal, near Wednesbury, he observed the body of a man in the water, and on giving an alarm he obtained the assistance of Police-constable William Thorneloe, who recognised the deceased to be Charles Noakes, cabinet maker, of the town, whom he had known for six or eight months. On enquiry it was ascertained that the deceased had been at the house of William Danks, butcher, of Wednesbury, on the previous Wednesday, when they had a walk together, and afterwards adjourned to the NAVIGATION INN, on the Walsall Road, where they had some ale and porter, and in the course of conversation Noakes told Danks that his circumstances were much straightened, and if they did not mend he would ‘make a hole in the water.’ It was eleven o’clock at night when they set out for home, but they had not proceeded far when the deceased left him, saying ‘he had a job to do,’ and he never afterwards saw him alive. The jury returned a verdict of Found Drowned, but little doubt exists that the unfortunate man put a period to his own existence, a letter having been found in his possession from a brother who resides in London to whom he had applied for assistance. The unfortunate man has left a wife and a large family to deplore his loss.”

1851 Census

Market Place

- [1] William Danks (36), butcher, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Charles Danks (32), brother, whitesmith, fire irons, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Mark Danks (26), brother, whitesmith, fire irons, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Eliza Danks (25), sister, housekeeper, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Sarah Danks (14), sister, house servant, born Wednesbury:

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/6/1852

“At Wednesbury Town Hall, on Tuesday.....

William Danks, Charles Danks, and Mark Danks, brothers, were fined 10s each and costs, for obstructing police constable Clarke in the execution of his duty on the night of the 22nd ult.”

1861 Census

Market Place

- [1] Charles Danks (43), whitesmith, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Mark Danks (36), brother, whitesmith, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Eliza Danks (34), sister, housekeeper, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Emma J. Peters (15), niece, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 6/8/1866

“A very distressing case of suicide occurred on Thursday at Wednesbury.

The GOLDEN CROSS INN, Market Place, was kept by two brothers and a sister, named Danks; and another kept a butcher’s shop close to. On Thursday morning, Mark Danks, one of the brothers who lived at the GOLDEN CROSS, and who followed the business of a screw-maker in a shop at the back of the inn, arose about six o’clock, and went into his brother’s butcher’s shop. He remained talking to his brother for a few minutes, and then, saying he would commence his work, went to his own shop, which could be seen from the butcher’s shop. After he had been there some five or ten minutes, his brother, thinking it strange he did not pursue his usual course of first opening the shutters, sent a man to see what was the matter, and the man found Mark suspended by a rope from the ceiling of an upper room, his feet hanging down the ladders which led to the shop below. An alarm was at once given, deceased was cut down, and medical assistance was immediately obtained, but life was found to be extinct.

Deceased was 40 years of age, and a widower, and for some time has been addicted to intemperance. For the last week he had been drinking heavily, and on the night before his death he slept very little, and appeared very much excited and restless. The rope by which he was suspended was a new sash-cord, so that it is probable it had been obtained on purpose, leading to the supposition that the rash act was premeditated.

At the inquest held on the body, before Mr. E. Hooper, Coroner, at the TALBOT INN, on Saturday, the Jury returned a verdict of Suicide whilst in a state of Temporary Insanity, the result of excessive drinking."

Eliza Danks = Elizabeth Danks

Wolverhampton Chronicle 23/9/1868

"Eliza Danks, landlady of the GOLDEN CROSS INN, Market Place, Wednesbury, was summoned by Superintendent Holland to the Police Court, for unlawfully and knowingly permitting gambling in her house.

Richard Ready, pork butcher, stated that on the evening of the 8th instant he was at the defendant's house. There were seven or eight other men there at the time and they played cards for money, and witness lost about twelve or fourteen pounds. The game they played was 'Blind Hookey.'

Mr. Sheldon, who appeared on behalf of the defendant, contended that his client knew nothing of the gambling, and that therefore she could not be guilty of 'knowingly and wilfully' permitting it.

Mr. Spooner, however, decided that she was cognizant of the fact that gambling was going on in her house, and imposed the full penalty of £5 and costs."

South London Press 13/11/1869

"A young married woman named Emma Ordidge, aged 23, on Friday committed suicide under the most distressing circumstances, at the GOLDEN CROSS beerhouse, Wednesbury, where she lived with her aunt Mrs. Danks, who, with a sister conducts the house. The poor creature, it seems, was married about 18 months ago to John Ordidge, who at that time was not 20 years of age, and who, since the marriage, has lived with his parents in Trowse Lane, and failed, so it is said, to provide for his wife's maintenance. Her anomalous and painful position naturally produced great depression of spirits, which, within the past few weeks, increased greatly. On Thursday she threatened to drown herself; and on Friday morning her aunt discovered that she was very ill, and called in a neighbour. The infatuated young woman then admitted that she had eaten a two-penny packet of vermin powder, adding, when asked the reason for the rash act, 'You know I'm in trouble.' Mr. Tucker and Mr. Morris, chemists attended, and administered emetics; and they were followed by Mr. Iliffe and Mr. Collins, surgeons, who applied the stomach pump, and other remedies, but without avail, the unfortunate sufferer expiring about two hours later, and to the last entreating those who were exerting themselves on her behalf to let her die. The poison, Barber's vermin killer, she had procured at the shop of Mr. Morris, chemist, where she had previously been a customer for the article."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 11/1/1871

"At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, before Mr. I. Spooner (Stipendiary), Eliza Danks, landlady of the GOLDEN CROSS beerhouse, Market Street, was summoned for permitting gambling in her house on the 2nd inst.

Police-constable Farnell was on duty in Market Street on the night in question, when he heard a noise proceeding from defendant's house, which led him to suspect that something improper was going on. He went up an entry leading to the back of the premises, and on looking through the window of a room adjoining the kitchen (the blind being a little on one side), he saw two men playing at cards. From the conversation which was taking place in the room, the officer could tell that there were other persons present, and that the men were playing for ale. In a few minutes after he went into the room, but he could see nothing of the cards, they having evidently been cleverly 'shuffled' out of sight on his approach.

Mr. James Smith, who appeared for the defendant, was instructed to deny the charge. He called several witnesses, who stated that it was true the occupants of the room were 'talking about cards' at the time mentioned by the officer, but it was untrue that they were playing.

The officer was recalled, and in reply to Mr. Spooner, he said that soon after he had visited the defendant's house, one of the men whom he saw there came to him in the High Bullen and said, 'You didn't see me play at cards did you? It was two others who were playing.'

Mr. Spooner said he did not hesitate to say that, unless the policeman had committed gross perjury, the case was as clear as it could be. He did not doubt the evidence of the officer in the least. Defendant was fined £5 and costs, amounting to 14s 6d."

1871 Census

24, Market Place

- [1] Eliza Danks (42), beerhouse keeper, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Elizabeth Peters (51), sister, married, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Sarah Knowles (34), sister, married, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Prudence Lort (15), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;
- [5] William Lyndon (35), lodger, furnace man, born Glasgow:

Sarah Knowles – see DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Ridding Lane.

Birmingham Daily Post 28/9/1871

“West Bromwich Adjourned Licensing Sessions.....

The Magistrates also granted the renewed applications of....

Elizabeth Danks, beerhouse keeper, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

Mrs. Eliza Danks, beer retailer, 24, Market Place. [1872]

Midland Examiner 19/8/1876

“Eliza Danks was summoned for keeping her house open – the QUEENS [sic] CROSS, INN, Wednesbury – during prohibited hours. Police-constable Trimm said on Sunday morning, after midnight, he saw a woman come out of the defendant’s house with some ale.

Mr. Sheldon appeared for the defendant, and pleaded that the ale was paid for before closing time, and the Stipendiary dismissed the case with costs.”

Dudley Herald 2/9/1876

“On Wednesday the Annual Licensing Sessions for the parishes of West Bromwich, Wednesbury, Tipton, &c, was held at the Public Office, West Bromwich.....

Mr. Superintendent Woollaston presented the following ‘black’ list of offences against publicans and beersellers which had been committed during the year ending 30th August last.....

Eliza Danks, GOLDEN CROSS INN, beerhouse, Market Place, Wednesbury, prohibited hours, to pay costs The offending publicans were ordered to appear at the adjourned licensing meeting before their licenses could be renewed.”

AND

Dudley Herald 30/9/1876

“West Bromwich Adjourned Licensing Sessions.....

The magistrates granted the renewal of the licenses of ten public houses and twenty beerhouses that had been adjourned from the general licensing day in consequence of the non-appearance of the applicants, or from convictions.”

1881 Census

24, Market Place – GOLDEN CROSS

- [1] Eliza Danks (50), publican, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Elizabeth Peters (60), sister, married, born Wednesbury;
- [3] William Wright (58), boarder, widower, labourer in iron works, born Wednesbury:

Magnet 22/11/1884 - Advert.

“Wanted, Twelve Nights, Monday next, Nov 24, by Lottie Marsh, Character Vocalist, and Male Impersonator.

Wire or write to GOLDEN CROSS INN, Wednesbury, Staffs.”

WANTED,—Twelve nights, Monday next, Nov 24, by LOTTIE MARSH, Character Vocalist, and Male Impersonator.—Wire or write to Golden Cross, Inn, Wednesbury, Staffs.

1891 Census

24, Market Place – GOLDEN CROSS

- [1] Frank G. Cox (30), joiner and beerhouse keeper, born Andover, Hampshire;
- [2] Emily Cox (30), wife, born London;
- [3] Bertha D. Cox (5), daughter, born Dudley;
- [4] Lois Silk (15), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Wednesbury Herald 12/1/1895

“Wednesbury Town Council.....

The Building Committee asked the council to approve four improvement plans and recommended that a sum of £80 be paid to the owners of the GOLDEN CROSS INN, Market Place, for the piece of land in front of the house for the purpose of street improvement.”

Frank G. Cox, beer retailer, 24, Market Place. [1896]

Walsall Advertiser 22/5/1897

“Frank Cox, of Market Place, Wednesbury, was charged at Rushall on Monday with having allowed a dog to be at large without collar or muzzle. Police-constable 309 (Parsons) said that on the 2nd inst he saw a dog at Great Barr without collar or muzzle. No one would claim the dog, and he therefore impounded it. Subsequently the defendant claimed the animal. Defendant said that the dog wore a collar with a name-plate on. It was decoyed away from his premises, but had the collar on when he recovered it. The officer denied this, and defendant was ordered to pay 5s 6d and costs.”

Sporting Life 14/8/1897

“We have received articles and £2 (£1 a side) for a match between G. Conway, of Wednesbury, and Frank Cox, of the GOLDEN CROSS, Wednesbury, wherein they agree to shoot at five pigeons each, 24 yards rise, 60 yards fall, from three traps five yards apart.....

The match to take place at Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury, on Thursday, August 26.”

1901 Census

Market Place – GOLDEN CROSS

[1] Frank George Cox (40), beer retailer and joiner, born Andover, Hampshire;

[2] Emily Cox (40), wife, born London;

[3] Bertha D. Cox (15), daughter, born Dudley;

[4] Dorothy Cox (7), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[5] Amelia Kendrick (19), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Frank George Cox – see also PRINCE OF WALES, King Street, Wednesbury.

Walsall Observer 24/8/1901

“Wednesbury Licensing Sessions.....

Superintendent Salt reported that at the licensing sessions last year the renewal of the licenses of one licensed victualler and one beerhouse keeper were opposed, mainly on the ground that they had been convicted of drunkenness, and at the adjourned meeting the justices renewed the licenses conditionally upon the licenses being transferred to other persons as early as possible. The licensed victualler had transferred his license, but the beerhouse keeper had not done so as yet.

The license of the OLD GOLDEN CROSS not having been transferred as arranged at the last meeting, the Bench wished the Superintendent of Police to serve notice of opposition on the license holder, and the renewal would be postponed until the adjourned meeting.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/9/1901

“Wednesbury Adjourned Licensing Sessions.....

Superintendent Salt objected to the renewal of the licenses, in consequence of convictions, of the following houses.....
OLD GOLDEN CROSS INN, Market Place.

It was explained that there was no conviction against the licensee of the OLD GOLDEN CROSS, but against a former tenant.

The magistrates renewed all the licenses but Mr. Joynson pointed out that if any of the applicants were again convicted they would in all probability lose the licenses.”

Benjamin Chambers, beer retailer, 24, Market Place. [1904]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 5/3/1904

“Wednesbury adjourned licensing sessions.....

Eight licenses were objected to by the police.....

OLD GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place.

In each instance a conviction was recorded against the house. License renewed.”

Walsall Advertiser 30/10/1909

“Yesterday, Walter Foster, alias Walter Francis, recently living in Station Street, Walsall, was charged at Wednesbury Police Court with stealing a box containing a quantity of corn cure, a lamp, and a number of picture postcards, value 30s, the property of Amos Chandler, market salesman, also of Station Street, on the 22nd inst.

It was alleged that whilst the prosecutor was in the GOLDEN CROSS INN, Market Place, Wednesbury, extracting a corn, the prisoner picked up his box and went off with it. Subsequently Police-constable Pinxton arrested the prisoner in the GEORGE HOTEL, and found the box in his possession. Replying to the charge, prisoner said, ‘I am not guilty I know that.’ Prisoner pleaded that the prosecutor lent him the box. Prisoner was discharged.”

1911 Census

Market Place – GOLDEN CROSS

[1] Albert Henry Ashwood (36), publican, born Broseley, Shropshire;

[2] Ellen Ashwood (28), wife, married 8 years, born Hednesford, Staffordshire;

[3] Frederick Ashwood (7), son, born Wednesbury:

Sporting Life 25/10/1911

“William Gillespie v George Brown. These two Walsall lads have signed Sporting Life articles to box 15 3-min. rounds with 4oz gloves at 7st 12lb (give or take 2lb) for £5 (open to £10) a side and the best inducement offered, the promoter of the contest to provide the gloves. Both lads weigh in at 2 o’clock pm on the day of the contest; the date to be fixed when making the second deposit. Sporting Life to be stakeholder and appoint referee. We hold £1 a side, the second deposit of £2 a side is to be made on October 29 at the GOLDEN CROSS HOTEL, Wednesbury, and final £2 or £7 a side on the day of the contest before weighing in.”

Albert H. Ashwood, beer retailer, 24, Market Place. [1912]

Birmingham Mail 26/3/1913

“A well-dressed young woman named Lucy Roberts (30), of the GOLDEN CROSS HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury, was charged at the Birmingham Police Court this morning with stealing a lady’s raincoat, of the value of 21s, and a silk dress, of the value of £2 5s 6d, the property of Messrs. Lewis, Corporation Street, Birmingham.

Evidence was given by Miss Gertrude Cox, head saleswoman in the mantle department of Messrs. Lewis’s establishment, who said that about six o’clock on Thursday she saw the prisoner act in a suspicious manner. The witness watched her, and saw her place something in a bag which she was carrying. She thereupon covered it up with her muff. Miss Cox went up to the prisoner and asked her if there was anything she could get for her. The witness showed her some coats, with the object of finding out what she had under her muff. When the matter was mentioned to the prisoner she stated she had her own coat under her muff, but the witness saw the ticket, and pulled the article out of the bag. Roberts then begged the witness not to say anything about it.

It was stated by Detective-inspector Harris that the silk dress was found in the lock-up after the prisoner had been searched.

Miss Cox, replying to Mr. Povey Harper, who appeared for the prisoner, said there was another lady with the prisoner. They were walking round the department.

Addressing the Bench, Mr. Harper explained that the prisoner’s husband was a licensed victualler in Wednesbury, and until the commission of this offence she had borne an unblemished character. The prisoner and her sister came to Birmingham to do some shopping, and the latter had an intention of buying a raincoat. When in the shop the prisoner was overcome by a sudden impulse to steal the coat. She had no intention when she entered the shop of stealing anything. He asked the Bench to deal with her leniently.

The Chairman described the case as a painful one. They would deal with the prisoner as they would deal with a poor woman who had succumbed to sudden temptation. She would be placed on probation for twelve months, and would have to pay 10s for damage done to the goods and 5s witness’s expenses.

The prisoner, who appeared to feel her position keenly, wept bitterly in the dock.”

Birmingham Daily Post 17/7/1915

“Mortgages and Charges.....

Atkinson's Brewery Limited. Mortgage dated June 25, 1915, to secure £700, charged on beerhouse known as the OLD GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place, Wednesbury. Holder, Mrs. E. J. Cunliffe, Harrogate.”

South Staffordshire Times 5/3/1921

“Wednesbury Licensing Sessions.....

OLD GOLDEN CROSS. Mr. A. J. Glover made an application in respect of this house, and submitted plans for desired alterations. It was a beerhouse, and the oldest, perhaps, in the town. Mr. Samuel Roberts was the licensee. The proposed elevation of the building would be in conformity with the surrounding houses and shops. The interior accommodation would be much improved and also the comfort of visitors.

The architect (Mr. Clements) put in plans. There would be an increase of bedroom accommodation etc, and also a great improvement for the bar and smoke room. On market day the place was very congested.

The Mayor said the Bench could not give them another public house, which it practically meant, unless the parties were prepared to surrender a license first.

Mr. Glover asked for an adjournment, but subsequently asked leave to withdraw the application for the moment. This course was agreed to by the Bench.”

1921 Census

Market Place – GOLDEN CROSS

[1] Samuel Roberts (44), beerhouse manager, born Willenhall;

[2] Lucy Roberts (41), wife, help in above business, born West Bromwich;

[3] Doris Roberts (12), daughter, school, born Willenhall;

[4] Alan Roberts (6), son, school, born Wednesbury:

Lucy Roberts died in the 3rd quarter of 1937.

Evening Despatch 4/2/1938

“Annual Licensing Sessions at Wednesbury.....

The justices granted a provisional order to Mr. J. L. Kimberley, of Atkinson's Brewery Company Limited, in respect of the removal of the full license of the RAILWAY INN, Holyhead Road, to premises to be erected on the adjoining and existing site of the GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place. No objection was raised.”

AND

Walsall Observer 5/2/1938

“Wednesbury Licensing Sessions yesterday.....

Police Superintendent J. H. Hall said he had received a notice from Mr. John Leslie Kimberley, of 30, Little Moor Hill, Smethwick, of his intention to apply for a provisional order sanctioning the removal of the license of the RAILWAY INN, Holyhead Road, an alehouse, to a house and premises proposed to be erected, partly upon land at present forming the site of the licensed premises known of the GOLDEN CROSS (beerhouse ‘on’), Market Place, Wednesbury, and partly on land adjoining.....

Applying for the removal of the license of the RAILWAY INN to the proposed reconstructed GOLDEN CROSS, Mr. Frank Cooper, solicitor, remarked on the absence of any opposition to the application, and said it would be surprising thing to him, and to everyone in the court, if there had been any opposition to the application. Mr. Cooper went on to say that the existing premises of the GOLDEN CROSS, which belonged to Messrs. Atkins, were no credit to the owners, who realised that. The house had always done a substantial trade under very great difficulties. Mr. Cooper explained that difficulties that had prevented the improvement of the premises had now been overcome and the company was in a position to make the premises adequate.

The application was granted, the Mayor remarking that the new premises would be a fine improvement.”

1939 Register

9, Knowles Street

- [1] Samuel Roberts, date of birth 27/3/1877, licensed victualler, married;
 - [2] Maude Roberts, dob 12/12/1878, unpaid domestic duties, married;
 - [3] Doris Florence (Roberts) Swinbourne, dob 19/11/1908, barmaid, single;
 - [4] Barbara Paintin, dob 2/9/1918, shop assistant, single;
 - [5] Joan Paintin, dob 2/9/1918, shop assistant, single;
 - [6] Ralph G. Allman, dob 19/12/1917, newspaper reporter, single:
- [This might be during the rebuilding of the pub.]

Walsall Observer 2/12/1939

“The inquest on another black-out victim, Amelia Hattersley (82) of 52, Gladstone Street, Walsall, was held by the Borough Coroner (Mr. J. F. Addison) at the Manor Hospital on Saturday. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Doris Evelyn Hattersley, with whom she lived, said she used to take a walk ‘round the building’ every night, regardless of the weather. She had good health, but poor eyesight and hearing.

On November 13, the old lady went for her usual walk at about 5.30, just before it was dark and she was involved in an accident with a car near St. Peter’s church, in Stafford Street. She died on November 22 in the Manor Hospital, from heart failure due to senility, accelerated by her injuries. Dr. E. S. Clayton of the Manor Hospital said that on admission the woman was suffering from shock and extensive laceration of the right arm and breast.

Alfred Bradley, L.M.S. cartage inspector, of 48, Webster Road, Walsall, said that he was walking in the direction of Bloxwich at about 6.45, when he saw an old lady lying between a car and the gutter. She was injured and after rendering what first aid he could, he went with her in the ambulance to the hospital, but she did not tell him how the accident had occurred. She kept worrying about a little bag.

Police-constable Hewlett said that Samuel Allan Roberts (24), GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place, Wednesbury, the driver of the car, made a statement in which he said that he was driving towards Bloxwich at about 20 miles per hour when he felt a bump and pulled up. When he got out, someone shouted, ‘There’s someone by the car,’ and he saw a woman hanging by her coat on the near-side door handle. He assisted her to the footpath and waited for the ambulance.

The Coroner in recording a verdict of Accidental Death said he was convinced that it was a pure accident. ‘I must emphasise again,’ he said, ‘the folly of elderly people, especially with bad eyesight and bad hearing, going out in the darkness. There was no necessity for the old lady to leave the house and it was asking for trouble for anyone to go out in the streets.’”

Maud A. Roberts died in the 1st quarter of 1940.

Rugeley Times 17/2/1940

“Wednesbury Licensing Sessions An application for the final order of the removal of the license of the RAILWAY INN, Holyhead Road, to the new GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place, was granted.”

Doris Florence Roberts married Arthur E. Swinbourne in the 2nd quarter of 1943.

Walsall Observer 21/8/1943

“After mentioning various other explanations of a woman’s irregular attendance for fire-watching duty, Mr. S. Smith, as defending solicitor in a case at Wednesbury Police Court on Tuesday added, ‘To be frank, the reason for her bad attendance during this period is the fact that she was married on June 1, and I think there is some excuse.’ The defendant was Doris Swinbourne (33), of OLD GOLDEN CROSS INN, Market Square, Wednesbury, and she was summoned for failing to perform fire prevention duties.

Mr. S. L. Brunt, deputy town clerk, who prosecuted, told the Stipendiary, Mr. B. G. Grimley, that defendant was being summoned in respect of six occasions on which she did not appear at all, and four occasions when she signed on but then went away. There had been an improvement since the summonses were issued.

Mr. Smith said that Mrs. Swinbourne was the only child left at home with her father, who was a widower, a son being in the Forces. She had to do the housework and shopping and also to help her father in the business. Mr. Smith added that he had explained to his client her duties, and she was now prepared to undertake them fully.

In announcing the fines and costs amounting to £5 10s, the Stipendiary said that he was being lenient on account of the shortage of labour, which made it difficult in these times.”

Walsall Observer 24/8/1962 - Advert

“Attention! all Mild drinkers.

Highgate Mild is now available in the following Butlers and Atkinsons houses.....

GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

Wolverhampton Express & Star 20/2/1965 - Advert

“Cleaner required; apply GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

CLEANER required; apply — Golden Cross, Market-place, Wednesbury.

Wolverhampton Express & Star 9/7/1965 - Advert

“Morning Barmaid required.

Apply GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

MORNING Barmaid required Apply—Golden Cross, Market-place, Wednesbury.

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League. [1962] , [1963], [1965]

Wolverhampton Express & Star 3/5/1966 - Advert

“Folk Singing by Candlelight.

Every Tuesday at 8.0pm. This week John Swift plus residents.

GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

FOLK SINGING by CANDLELIGHT
Every Tuesday at 8.0 p.m. This week,
JOHN SWIFT plus residents, Golden Cross, Market Place, Wednesbury.

Wolverhampton Express & Star 14/6/1967 - Advert

“Evening Barmaid required, experience not essential.

GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place, Wednesbury 0004”

EVENING BARMAID required, experience not essential. — Golden Cross, Market-place, Wednesbury 0004.

Wolverhampton Express & Star 5/3/1968 - Advert

“Lady required, 20-35, as kitchen assistant, 11-3.

GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

LADY required, 20-35 as kitchen assistant, 11-0-3.0. — Golden Cross, Market-place, Wednesbury. WED 0004.

Wolverhampton Express & Star 27/2/1970 - Advert

“Barman or Barmaid wanted, evenings and weekends.

Blake, GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

BARMAN or Barmaid wanted, evenings and weekends.—Blake, Golden Cross, Market Place, Wednesbury 021 556 0004.

News Telephone 3/9/1970 - Advert

“Pub Alterations that are Popular with the Public.

Rayham (Contract Furnishers) Ltd. 7, Washington Street, Birmingham 1. Telephone 021 643 8691.

Sale Contractors for Furnishing for The Fairing Room, the GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place, Wednesbury.

The latest M&B ‘New Look’ Room.”

Wolverhampton Express & Star 4/11/1975 - Advert

“GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place, Wednesbury.

Smart lounge Barmaids required for new lounge, evenings only.

Apply Manager.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 29/9/1983

“From one sporting champ to another — West Bromwich Albion soccer star Dereck Statham stepped in to present a host of glittering prizes to Black Country pool ace Alan Trinder. Amateur player Alan ended the West Bromwich and District Pool League season in style by scooping no less than six trophies. Alan, who plays for the GOLDEN CROSS at Wednesbury, won the individual championship of the league, individual trophy for return to the league, the divisional aggregate championship, the knockout cup championships of the league, the runners-up cup for doubles, and the runners-up trophy for the league championship.....”

Sandwell Evening Mail 22/11/1983

“Wednesbury’s Alan Trinder reached the quarter-final of the Silk Cut Pool Trophy at Blackpool. The 25-year-old GOLDEN CROSS player disposed of Bradford’s Derek Pollard in the opening round, but made his exit at the hands of Alan Allen from Hampshire.

The competition started with over 80,000 players, and Trinder was one of 35 who fought their way to Blackpool.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 12/7/1984

“There was nothing fishy about the competition staged by new licensee Les Smith for regulars at Wednesbury’s GOLDEN CROSS public house, although angling skills were a help.

Mr. Smith got off ‘on a tight line’ by staging an angling contest with a difference, and with pool cues used to fish for prizes. It was certainly no small-scale event as half-a-dozen drinking pals and staff stood on the pub balcony and tried to hook buckets full of water on lines fixed to the cues, and there were certainly no cast-offs among the prizes. Bottles of wine and sherry, cigarettes, chocolates and vouchers were all up for grabs at the pub where Albion stars Tony Godden and Derek Statham joined in the fun.

Lucky contestants who managed to haul up buckets had the added chance of soaking those below with water before collecting their winnings.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 30/1/1986

“With only a few weeks of the season left some of the promotion and relegation issues in the Wednesbury and District Pool League are being settled. The GOLDEN CROSS look to have sewn up the Premier Division once again, leaving the runners-up spot to be fought out between several contenders.....”

Sandwell Evening Mail 23/10/1987

“Mitchells & Butlers is shortly to reopen the GOLDEN CROSS in Market Square, Wednesbury, which had been closed for several months for renovations.”

Birmingham Mail 6/8/1988

“Three licensees from the Midlands are each hoping to win the title Innkeeper of the Year in the fourth annual national competition. All three are first-time entrants in the contest run by the British Institute of Innkeeping, which will announce the winner next February at a gala lunch in London.....

Mr. David Ingles took over the GOLDEN CROSS in Market Place, Wednesbury, last November after a £330,000 refit made the pub a ‘vintage’ tavern.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 14/7/1989

“Gig Guide.....

Thursday Speed Kings, GOLDEN CROSS, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Mail 4/2/1994

“Gig Guide.....

Sunday Assassin, GOLDEN CROSS, Wednesbury.”

It was renamed PIG AND TRUMPET. [1996]

Sandwell Evening Mail 22/12/1997

“A pub licensee discovered an arson attack in a building 50 yards away from his Black Country inn, because his smoke alarm went off. Licensee Tom Norton, 49, and his wife Linda were sitting down eating a takeaway meal yesterday when the smoke detector in his upstairs flat at the PIG AND TRUMPET, Market Place, Wednesbury, went off. He said, ‘I don’t mind saying that for a couple of minutes it was panic stations. We shot upstairs to investigate and, when I looked out of the window, I could see this building well alight about 50 yards away.. I had let the dog out into the yard a short time before and an upstairs window was partly open. The smoke must have drifted in and set the alarm off.....”

John Nicholls was born c.1947.

[2015]

It was renamed GOLDEN CROSS. [2016]

Express & Star 14/8/2019

“Two men were injured after a fight broke out at a Wednesbury pub. Trouble flared at the GOLDEN CROSS pub, in the town’s Market Place, on Saturday night. The pub, once known as the PIG AND TRUMPET, remained cordoned off today as a police investigation continued. Officers were called at around 10.50pm to the brawl at the well-known pub. Police arrived to find two men with facial injuries. One of the men – understood to be aged 42 – was more seriously hurt and suffered a head injury. He remains in hospital today, say West Midlands Police. A force spokesman said an investigation was under way and CCTV in the area is being examined. Police are urging the people involved to get in touch so officers can understand exactly what happened.”

Express & Star 1/8/2022

“Town centre drinkers in Wednesbury are saying ‘Cheers’ after a popular pub reopened following a makeover. The GOLDEN CROSS, in Market Place, is ready to welcome customers back after bosses at parent company Craft Union spent £145,000 on the venue. The layout has been re-arranged to accommodate 60 additional seats to view 12 screens of TV sport and new carpets have been fitted throughout, as well as the pub being given a fresh coat of paint. Outside, an overhaul of the colour scheme of the pub sees a new cream and blue look to the entrance and a revamp of the beer garden, which has been given a new lease of life with a pagoda area, heat lamps fitted and two additional TVs added. Additional beers such as Carlsberg and Birra Moretti have also been added to the range of drinks available.

Adrian McKeever, who has run the GOLDEN CROSS for two years, said, ‘I’m excited to reopen the pub and welcome back guests following the refurb. It looks amazing inside and out, with the new colour scheme and outdoor improvements just in time for summer. We have a good bunch of loyal customers here in Wednesbury and I’m sure they will appreciate the work that has been done.’

The pub is open until 2am on Fridays and Saturdays with karaoke and live music at the weekend.”

[2025]

HIGHGATE MILD is now available in the following BUTLERS and ATKINSONS houses:—

BRIDGE HOUSE, Blaxwich Road, Walsall.	RAILWAY TAVERN, James Bridge, Darlaston.
NEW NAVIGATION, Birchills, Walsall.	RISING SUN, Piercy Street, Newtown, Wednesbury.
WALSALL ARMS, Bank Street, Walsall.	FORESTERS ARMS, Oxford Street, Wednesbury.
FALCON, Lichfield Street, Walsall.	OLD BLUE BALL, Hall End, Wednesbury.
FITTERS ARMS, Matherton St., Walsall.	PRINCE REGENT, Victoria Street, Wednesbury.
FORGE HAMMER, Rolling Mill Street, Pkch, Walsall.	COTTAGE, Wood Green, Wednesbury.
FOUNTAIN, Lower Forster Street, Walsall.	SPRING COTTAGE, The Paddock, Walsall.
NEW INN, Green Lane, Walsall.	HARDEN, Coalpool Lane, Walsall.
PRINCE OF WALES, Queen St., Walsall.	NEWPORT ARMS, Pkch Road, Walsall.
BEAR & RAGGED STAFF, High Street, Walsall.	VINE, Lower Hall Lane, Walsall.
COACHMAKERS ARMS, Bridgeman St., Walsall.	KINGS ARMS, High Street, Blaxwich.
TANNERS ARMS, Day Street, Walsall.	FOUNTAIN, Portland Street, Walsall.
DUKE OF YORK, Mexley Rd., Darlaston.	STAFFORDSHIRE KNOT, Catherine's Cross, Darlaston.
BLACK HORSE, Pinfold St., Darlaston.	BIRD IN HAND, Pinfold Street, Darlaston.
NELSON, Catherine's Cross, Darlaston.	HORSE & JOCKEY, High Bullen, Wednesbury.
WHITE LION, King Street, Darlaston.	GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place, Wednesbury.
KINGS HILL TAVERN, Darlaston Road, Wednesbury.
DARTMOUTH INN, High St., Darlaston.
RAGS HEAD, The Green, Darlaston.
OLD BUSH, The Green, Darlaston.
STAR MUSIC HALL, James Bridge, Darlaston.

Pride of the Midlands

1962

PUB ALTERATIONS THAT ARE POPULAR WITH THE PUBLIC

RAYHAM
(CONTRACT FURNISHERS) LTD.

7, WASHINGTON STREET, BIRMINGHAM, 1
Telephone 021-643 8691

Sole contractors for Furnishing for
THE FARMING ROOM

THE GOLDEN CROSS
MARKET PLACE, WEDNESBURY
The latest M. & B. "New Look" Room

1970

GOLDEN CROSS, Market Place,
Wednesbury. Smart lounge Bar-maids required for new lounge, evenings only. Apply Manager.

1975

GOLDEN CUP

High Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Hackwood [1834] – [1842]

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

John Hackwood, beer retailer, High Street. [1835], [1841]

1841 Census

High Street

- [1] John Hackwood (45), publican, born Staffordshire;
- [2] Maryann Hackwood (50), born Staffordshire;
- [3] William Hackwood (20), cooper, born Staffordshire;
- [4] Samuel Hackwood (15), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Edward Hackwood (10), born Staffordshire;
- [6] Jane Hackwood (5), born Staffordshire;
- [7] Mary Cowden (17), f.s., born Staffordshire;
- [8] Charles Wootton (25), cooper;
- [9] John Pountney (48), cooper;
- [10] Hyman Schild (30), hawker;
- [11] Joseph Schild (25), hawker;
- [12] William Cross (30), tailor;
- [13] Jonah Marks (25), hawker;
- [14] David Williams (20), tailor;
- [15] William Hackwood (18), puddler, born Staffordshire:

John Hackwood, retailer of beer, High Street. [1842]

GOLDEN LETTERS

High Bullen, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Michael Toney [1818]

NOTES

ALL Persons having any claim or demand against MICHAEL TONEY, late of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, victualler and engineer, deceased, are requested forthwith to send the particulars thereof to Mr. William Bayley, of Wednesbury aforesaid, butcher, one of the Executors; and all persons indebted to the said Michael Toney are desired to pay the amount of their respective debts to the said Executor.
Wednesbury, Feb. 8, 1823.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 10/3/1823 - Advert

"All Persons having any claim or demand against Michael Toney, late of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, victualler and engineer, deceased, are requested forthwith to send the particulars thereof to Mr. William Bayley, of Wednesbury aforesaid, butcher, one of the Executors; and all person indebted to the said Michael Toney are desired to pay the amount of their respective debts to the said Executor.
Wednesbury, February 8, 1823."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 14/7/1823 - Advert

"All persons who have any claims or demands on the Estate of Michael Toney, deceased, are desired to send accounts thereof to Mr. W. Bailey, that they may be examined and discharged; and all persons indebted to the said estate are requested to pay the same immediately to Mr. W. Bailey aforesaid, of Wednesbury, or proceedings to recover the same will be immediately commenced."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 17/11/1823 - Advert

"To Iron-masters, Millwrights, &c.

To be Sold by Auction by W. Underhill, on Monday the 24th day of November inst subject to conditions then to be read, a part of the Effects of Mr. Michael Toney, of Wednesbury, deceased; consisting of a superior strong 13 feet driving wheel, and a 4 feet spur wheel to ditto, with a cast iron engine beam and spear-rod, all new, a steam cylinder, about 16 tons of new and old useful castings, eight pair of merchant bar rolls, complete set of engine gears, 10 feet wrought iron hogshead boiler, in very good condition, large strong turning lathe, a quantity of wood patterns, about two tons of best scrap merchant iron, in useful sizes, with a variety of valuable articles used in the iron trade, as will appear in catalogues previous to the sale, which may be had at the principal Inns in the neighbourhood, or at the Auctioneer's, Wednesbury.

A great variety of the articles for sale were intended to be used in an Iron-work began to be erected near to the Limekilns at Lea Brook, Wednesbury, where a part now remain, and the other part are in a warehouse and yard near the High Bullen, Wednesbury.

The sale to commence at the latter place precisely at ten in the morning.

An early attendance is particularly requested."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 10/12/1827 - Advert

"Unless the Person who left a quantity of Iron in the hands of the late Michael Toney, of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, will pay what he owes for work done, together with the expenses incurred by the said Iron, within fourteen days from the date hereof, the same will be sold without further notice.
Wednesbury, December 10, 1827."

UNLESS the Person who left a quantity of Iron in the hands of the late Michael Toney, of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, will pay what he owes for work done, together with the expences incurred by the said Iron, within fourteen days from the date hereof, the same will be sold without further notice.
Wednesbury, Dec. 10, 1827.

NOTICE.

ALL persons who have any claims or demands on the Estate of the late MICHAEL TONEY, deceased, are desired to send accounts thereof to Mr. W. Bailey, that they may be examined and discharged; and all persons indebted to the said estate are requested to pay the same immediately to Mr. W. Bailey aforesaid, of Wednesbury, or proceedings to recover the same will be immediately commenced.

To Iron-masters, Millwrights, &c.

TO be SOLD by Auction by W. UNDERHILL, on Monday the 24th day of November inst. subject to conditions then to be read, a part of the Effects of Mr. Michael Toney, of Wednesbury, deceased; consisting of a superior strong 13 feet driving wheel, and a 4 feet spur wheel to ditto, with a cast iron engine beam and spear-rod, all new, a steam cylinder, about 16 tons of new and old useful castings, eight pair of merchant bar rolls, complete set of engine gears, 10 feet wrought iron hogshead boiler, in very good condition, large strong turning lathe, a quantity of wood patterns, about two tons of best scrap merchant iron, in useful sizes, with a variety of valuable articles used in the iron trade, as will appear in catalogues previous to the sale, which may be had at the principal Inns in the neighbourhood, or at the Auctioneer's, Wednesbury.

A great variety of the articles for sale were intended to be used in an Iron-work began to be erected near to the Lime-kilns at Lea Brook, Wednesbury, where a part now remain, and the other part are in a warehouse and yard near the High Bullen, Wednesbury.

The sale to commence at the latter place precisely at ten in the morning.—An early attendance is particularly requested.

GRAPES

38, (44), (42), (Upper) High Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

James Rowley [1864] – [1865]
Joseph Taylor [1868] – [1872]
George Perry [] – 1872;
Daniel Griffiths (1872 – [])
William Smith Morris [1873]
Richard T Taylor [1880] – [1881]
Jacob Chilton (1882 – [])
Jesse Newman [1891] – [1901]
Frank Bateman [1901] – [1904]
Walter Iliff [1908] – [1911]
Joseph Stackhouse Jr. [1912]
John Lacey [1921] – 1922;
F J Whitehouse (1922 – [])
Frank Wilkinson [] – 1924)
Francis George Lockley [1925] – [1940]

1967

NOTES

44, Upper High Street [1871], [1881], [1891], [1901]
42, Upper High Street [1911]
44, High Street [1896], [1908], [1912], [1932]
38, High Street [1939]

Birmingham Daily Post 25/2/1864

“At Wednesbury Police Court, on Tuesday, a forgerman, named James Horseman, was brought up in custody, charged with assaulting Parish-constable Hackwood, and wilfully damaging the officer’s wearing apparel. The evidence went to show that on the preceding evening Hackwood was called into the house of Mr. Rowley, the GRAPES INN, High Street, and the defendant was given into his custody on a charge of indecently assaulting the landlady. He attempted to remove his prisoner to the police station, but on the way Horseman turned upon and severely maltreated him, tore his coat, and ultimately escaped, but was pursued and captured by Sergeant Gasson.

The defendant was ordered to pay 20s, the estimated amount of damage done to the coat, and was also fined 20s and costs, or in default one month’s imprisonment.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/5/1864

“Walsall County Court Bourne v Rowley.

In this case the plaintiff, William Bourne, a professional runner, sought to recover the sum of £5 from George Rowley, licensed victualler, Wednesbury. It was alleged that the money had been deposited with defendant to abide the result of a foot-race between the plaintiff and a man named William Morriss. Plaintiff won the race, and on the evening of the day on which the race came off he called upon defendant for the money, which defendant refused to pay, upon the ground that plaintiff’s backers had not paid the second deposit of 25s.

Mr. Slatter, who appeared for the plaintiff, after stating the case, called William Wright and John Timmins, who swore positively to paying the deposit money to defendant’s barmaid, in presence of defendant, who said when the money was deposited it was all right: let the race go on.

Mr. Ebsworth, who appeared for the defendant, stated the case for his client, and called the defendant and his barmaid, Sarah Ryding, both of whom denied receiving the money. Several other witnesses were called, who had been in the house on the evening in question, and who said they had not seen the money paid. His Honour summed up very carefully, after which the jury retired, and were at last discharged, being unable to agree."

[This case was again in court in July when the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for the full amount.]

Birmingham Daily Post 30/6/1864

"Serious Disturbances at a Public House. The Rowleys Again.

At Wednesbury Police Court, Tuesday, George Rowley, manager of the GRAPES INN, High Street, appeared to answer three charges of having permitted drunkenness and disorderly conduct, and with having neglected to maintain order at his house on the morning of the 17th of June, and Selina Rowley, his wife, was charged with disorderly conduct, and with refusing to leave the house when called upon to do so, and also with assaulting Sarah Ryding, the barmaid at the GRAPES. Thomas Horseman, a mill furnaceman, was charged with having incited Mrs. Rowley to commit the assault on Sarah Ryding. Mr. Ebsworth appeared for George Rowley, and to save time it was agreed to take all the cases together.

The evidence, which was very voluminous, went to show that some two or three years ago Mr. and Mrs. Rowley agreed to and signed a deed of separation, and that since that time the husband had become manager or proprietor of the GRAPES INN, which ostensibly belonged to James Rowley, his nephew, and the wife had taken the SHAKESPEARE beerhouse, Dudley Street, which she carried on under the name of Ann Harvey.

Early on the morning of the 17th instant Mrs. Rowley went to the house of her husband, and having obtained admission she ordered Sarah Ryding to leave the premises, alleging that she had just returned from London, where she had been to stop a fight between her son and a man named Collett, and had there left her husband, who had empowered her to take possession of his home. Ryding refused to resign her post, and thereupon, according to the evidence of witnesses, Mrs. Rowley knocked her down and knelt upon her chest, and struck her with considerable violence. They were separated, but subsequently the struggle was renewed, to the great damage of the dress and persons of the combatants, and eventually Parish-constable Ellis and some of the neighbours were called in, and the women were again and again separated, and the fight was again and again renewed, Mrs. Rowley endeavouring to gain possession of the tap, and Sarah Ryding striving to retain her hold of it. During the affray bad language was freely used on both sides, and a larger crowd assembled, including several drunken persons, who were proved, however, not to have been supplied with drink in the house. Horseman, who was also present, incited Mrs. Rowley to fight, and urged her to turn Ryding into the street. After a time the police were called in, and each of the women endeavoured to give the other into custody. The police, however, declined to take either of the charges, but remained in the house for several hours, vainly endeavouring to make peace between the excited women, and taxed to the utmost to prevent jugs and glasses being used as missiles. Several hundred people congregated around the house, and the excitement was kept up until about ten o'clock at night, when, at the request of the police, the house was closed.

Mr. Ebsworth contended that his client had taken all needful precautions for preserving good order in his house, but at the close of the case the Magistrates retired, and after about a quarter of an hour's absence they returned into Court, and announced that George Rowley would be fined 40s and costs for not maintaining good order in his house, but the other two summonses against him would be dismissed. For the assault of Sarah Ryding Mrs. Rowley was fined 20s and costs, but the other summons against her was dismissed; and Thomas Horseman was fined 5s and costs."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 20/10/1864

"Staffordshire Quarter Sessions Appeal against a Public House Conviction at Wednesbury.

This was an appeal by James Rowley, proprietor of the GRAPES INN, Wednesbury, against Messrs. James Solly and J. Marshall, justices of the peace, and John James Holland, superintendent of police, against a conviction by the said magistrates for disorderly conduct at the above named place. Mr. Kenealy (instructed by Mr. Ebsworth) appeared for the appellant; the Hon. Mr. Ryder appeared for the respondents.

The circumstances under which the conviction was made were as follows. It appears that in 1861 George Rowley, the uncle of the appellant, and a gentleman well-known in pugilistic circles, separated from his wife, Selina Rowley, and to avoid future contact both took public houses under other persons' names. On the 28th of June last, George Rowley, being absent from home in London in a case affecting the interest of his son Robert, who was also affected with pugilistic proclivities, left his house under the control of Sarah Ryding, his housekeeper. Mrs. George Rowley 'put in an appearance' at the GRAPES INN, and an affray ensuing Mrs. Rowley took possession of the tap; in the course of the assault Sarah Ryding being assaulted, if not in a very serious manner. The information for disorderly conduct was taken out by the police, who were censured at the time by the solicitor for the defence for not interfering in the matter. Mrs. Rowley was fined by the justices, and James Rowley was also convicted for permitting disorderly conduct in his house against the tenure of his license, and it was against the latter conviction that the appeal was made. The conviction was quashed.”

George Rowley – see also HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullen, Wednesbury.

Selina Rowley – see HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullen, Wednesbury, and SHAKESPEARE, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 27/1/1865 - Advert

“Wanted, a sharp, active Boy, about 14 of unexceptionable character, to Assist in a Vault, and make himself generally useful.

Apply, GRAPES INN, High Street, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, a sharp, active BOY, about 14, of unexceptionable character, to Assist in a Vault, and make himself generally useful.—Apply, Grapes Inn, High Street, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 16/8/1866 - Advert

“Two Pounds Reward.

Lost, on Saturday last, between Birmingham and Stourbridge, a Gentleman’s Diamond Ring.

The above Reward will be paid to any one restoring the same to J. Taylor, GRAPES INN, Wednesbury.”

Joseph Taylor, GRAPES and SPREAD EAGLE, High Street and Portway Road. [1868]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 8/9/1869

“Thirty-Fourth Staffordshire Rifle Volunteers, Wednesbury.

The annual meeting of the Wednesbury Rifle Volunteers took place at the Tame Valley range, yesterday. The prizes competed for were valuable challenge cups and a handsome clock, presented by Mr. Benjamin Whitehouse, Harvells Hawthorn, with money prizes varying from £3 10s to 5s contributed by friends of the corps.....

The next was a cup, value £10, given by Mr. Taylor, of the GRAPES INN, High Street, Wednesbury.....’

[The cup was won by Sergeant Hampson.]

1871 Census

44, Upper High Street

[1] Joseph Taylor (42), wine and spirit merchant, born Stockport, Cheshire;

[2] Catharine Taylor (32), wife, born Felling, Durham;

[3] Joseph Taylor (6), son, born Wednesbury;

[4] Thomas Taylor (1), son, born Wednesbury;

[5] not christened (10 days), son, born Wednesbury;

[6] Austin M. Winter (9), nephew, born Manchester;

[7] Henry Johnson (25), waiter, born Macclesfield, Cheshire;

[8] Mary Johnson (23), waitress, born Whitefield, Lancashire;

[9] Levi Johnson (20), waiter, born Macclesfield, Cheshire;

[10] Henry Johnson (6 months), born Wednesbury;

[11] John J. Jones (17), waiter, born Birmingham;

[12] Sarah Allander (40), domestic servant, born Brierley Hill;

[13] Julia Spittal (17), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

[14] Elizabeth Cheshire (78), widow, nurse, born Shropshire:

Joseph Taylor – see also GREEN DRAGON, Market Place.

Birmingham Daily Post 25/9/1872 - Advert

“Found, a black Bull-and-mastiff Dog, with white star on the breast. If not claimed in 3 days, will be sold to pay expenses.

Apply, GRAPE INN, High Street, Wednesbury.”

FOUND, a black Bull-and-mastiff Dog, with white star on the breast. If not claimed in 3 days, will be sold to pay expenses — Apply, Grape Inn, High Street, Wednesbury.

Wednesbury Herald 7/8/1880 - Births

“On the 5th inst, at the GRAPES, Upper High Street, Wednesbury, Mrs. R. T. Taylor, of a son.”

1881 Census

44, Upper High Street – GRAPES INN

- [1] Richard T. Taylor (33), blind manufacturer, born Cheshire;
 - [2] Catharine Taylor (30), wife, born Wednesbury;
 - [3] Joseph B. Taylor (6), son, scholar, born Barrow-in-Furness;
 - [4] Richard H. L. Taylor (4), son, scholar, born Barrow-in-Furness;
 - [5] Harry Taylor (1), son, born Wednesbury;
 - [6] Thomas Riley (24), barman, born Bilston;
 - [7] Rhoda Oldbury (19), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;
 - [8] Sarah Constable (15), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;
- [Richard T. Taylor is crossed out and noted absent.]

Birmingham Daily Post 29/3/1882

“At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, Thomas C. Mason, butcher, High Street, was summoned for having assaulted Charles Hall, a hawker; and Hall was summoned for using obscene language. Mr. J. Smith appeared for the defendant Mason, and also in support of the charge of using obscene language.

Hall’s statement was to the effect that at about eight o’clock on Thursday night he and his brother-in-law left the GRAPES INN, High Street, and went into an entry, where Mason threw a bucketful of blood and water over him, ‘smothering’ him from head to foot.

Mason’s case was that he was washing the utensils used in his trade, when he heard someone in his entry, and, on looking, saw the defendant, who was committing a nuisance. He quietly remonstrated, and Hall replied in very gross language. He then said that if Hall did not go away he would throw over him the contents of a pail which he held in his hand, and Hall, still refusing to go, and continuing to use bad language, he carried out his threat. After that Hall went into the street, repeated his gross language, and threatened to break the windows of the shop, and it was found necessary to send for Police-constable Noble.

Mason was fined 1s and costs, the Bench taking into account the great provocation he had received. Hall was fined 5s and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Post 14/7/1886

“At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, William Matthews, barman at the GRAPES INN, High Street, was summoned for assaulting Enoch Grice, senior, and Enoch Grice, junior, and under cross-summonses the Grices were charged with assaulting Matthews. Mr. Rose (Messrs. Joseph Smith and Co) appeared for the latter.

Evidence showed that as Matthews was swilling the front of his house, using a piece of elastic piping for the purpose, young Grice wantonly trod upon the piping. He pushed the boy away with the brush he had in his hand, and then the father and son abused him and stoned him, cutting his lip, and doing some damage to the front of the premises. The Bench held that Matthews had committed a technical rather than an actual assault, and they fined him 1s and costs. The elder Grice was fined 10s and costs, or fourteen days’ imprisonment.”

Huddersfield Daily Chronicle 5/3/1888

“James Adams, blacksmith, Bilston, was charged at Wednesbury on Saturday with unlawfully wounding Mary Ann Edwards. The prisoner and a number of other persons met on the previous night at the GRAPES HOTEL, Wednesbury, and, in consequence of some practical joking being resorted to, a disturbance occurred, during which the prisoner became greatly exasperated, and, seizing a knife, he stabbed the prosecutrix in the shoulder, inflicting some very serious wounds. Great loss of blood ensued, and prompt medical aid had to be obtained. The prosecutrix was unable to appear, and the prisoner, who expressed regret for having committed such a rash act, was remanded.”

AND

Birmingham Mail 5/3/1888

“At the Wednesbury Police Court on Saturday, Joseph Adams (21), blacksmith, Walsall Street, Bilston, was charged with cutting and wounding Sarah Ann Edwards, a young woman living at Darlaston. Police-constable Mayer said that on the previous evening he went into the GRAPES INN, High Street, and found the complainant and the prisoner there. The former was bleeding from a wound on the shoulder, and after hearing statements from those present he apprehended Adams, and charged him with wounding Edwards with a knife. The prisoner said, 'I did it freely. I am willing to suffer death. My old master has died and was buried today, and I meant to die the same day as he was buried.' The accused was remanded till Tuesday."

AND

Lichfield Mercury 23/3/1888

"At Wednesbury Police Court, on Tuesday, Joseph Adams (22), Walsall Street, Bilston was brought up on remand with having, on the 2nd inst, stabbed Sarah Ann Edwards, a young woman living at Catherines Cross, Darlaston. The prosecutrix stated that on the night named she was in the smoke room at the GRAPES INN, High Street, with a young man whose name she did not know, when the prisoner entered and sat on the other side of the room. In about twenty minutes he got up from his seat, rushed across the room to where she sat, and struck her two violent blows on the shoulder. She screamed out, not knowing at the time that she had been stabbed, but on putting her hand up she found that blood was springing up from the shoulder. The prisoner tried to strike her again, but a young man named Withers prevented him. She was then assisted upstairs to a bedroom, where she was seen by Dr. Craig, who dressed her wounds, and she remained there from that day (Friday) until the following Monday, when she was removed to the West Bromwich Hospital, where she had been ever since. Before the night of the attack she had never seen the prisoner, and she knew no reason why he should have injured her. Neither she nor the young man she was with had spoken to him or taken any notice of him.

After further evidence was given the prisoner was sent for trial at the assizes, the Bench consenting to accepting bail, himself in £50, and two sureties in £25 each."

1891 Census

44, Upper High Street – GRAPES

- [1] Jesse Newman (45), public house manager, born Evesham;
- [2] Maria Newman (47), wife, born Stanway, Gloucestershire;
- [3] Annie Agg (14), niece, born Childs Wickham, Gloucestershire;
- [4] Florence Delany (11), visitor, scholar, born Dalston, Staffordshire:

Birmingham Daily Gazette 27/8/1898

"The Licensing Sessions for Wednesbury borough were held yesterday.....

The magistrates sanctioned plans for the restoration of the GRAPES INN, High Street."

1901 Census

44, Upper High Street

- [1] Jesse Newman (57), manager public house, full licensed, born Evesham;
- [2] Maria Newman (59), wife, manageress public house, born Stanton, Gloucestershire;
- [3] Myra Agg (20), niece, barmaid, born Childwicke, Gloucestershire;
- [4] John Agg (13), nephew, born Childwicke, Gloucestershire:

Wednesbury Leader 12/10/1901

"At Wednesbury Police Court on Friday, before Aldermen R. Williams, I. Oldbury, and Mr. F. W. Hackwood, a man named Edwin Hudson (50), of no fixed abode, but who has been living in apartments at Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, was charged with obtaining various sums of money by false pretences, and with intent to defraud, between the 17th September and 3rd October.

The evidence showed that prisoner represented himself to be in the employ of the Midland Advertising Company, Wolverhampton, and canvassed for advertisements for the Wolverhampton Wanderers Fixture Card. He secured 2s 6d from Frank Turbot, manager of the South Staffordshire Coffee House, Market Place; 4s 6d from Benjamin E. Pewtriss, tobacconist, Market Place; 5s from Herbert E. Kent, of the CROWN AND CUSHION INN; 5s from William H. Hadley, GREEN DRAGON INN, Market Place; 2s 6d from James Faulkner, BULLS HEAD INN; 2s from William Macdonald, THREE SWANS INN; 5s from Frank Bateman, licensed victualler, High Street; 2s 6d from Edward Phillips, BRITANNIA INN, Trowse Lane; 2s 6d from John Jones, FORRESTERS ARMS, Portway Road; and 2s 6d from Albert Newbould, OLD PACK HORSE, Dudley Street.

Frederick L. Hodgetts, of the Penn Road, Wolverhampton, said he was a partner in the Midland Advertising Company. Prisoner had been in their employ, but left on the 27th April. He had not been connected with the company since, and was not authorised to canvass for advertisements.

Detective Truswell deposed to effecting the arrest of prisoner.

Alderman Oldbury (to prisoner): Didn't you consider you had a lot of 'flats' to deal with in Wednesbury? I am surprised that tradesmen should give their money away without even asking for a receipt. They must be very confiding.

Prisoner was committed to take his trial at the Sessions, which commence on Tuesday next."

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/10/1901

"Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Edwin Hudson, 50, traveller, pleaded guilty to having obtained various sums of money by false pretences at Wednesbury, on September 17. There were previous convictions against the prisoner, who was sentenced to three years' penal servitude."

1911 Census

42, Upper High Street – GRAPES INN

- [1] Walter Iliff (40), hotel manager, born Burton on Trent;
- [2] Jane Iliff (40), wife, married 12 years, assisting in the business, born Harbury, Warwickshire;
- [3] Annie Jane Iliff (10), daughter, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Walter Charles Iliff (9), son, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] James William Iliff (7), son, born Wolverhampton;
- [6] William Iliff (77), father, born Burton-on-Trent;
- [7] Agnes Iliff (41), sister, milliner, born Burton on Trent;
- [8] Sarah Bradshaw (20), bar general, born Wednesbury:

Walter Iliff – see also SPREAD EAGLE, Victoria Street, Wolverhampton; WAGGON AND HORSES, Darlaston; and BRITANNIA, Stafford Street, Wolverhampton.

1921 Census

High Street – GRAPES INN

- [1] John Lacey (67), licensed victualler, born Wexford, Ireland;
- [2] Margaret Lacey (54), wife, licensed victualler's assistant, born Carlow, Ireland;
- [3] John Lacey (38), son, licensed victualler's assistant, born Bilston;
- [4] James Lacey (36), son, licensed victualler's assistant, born Bilston;
- [5] Ellen Lacey (30), daughter, clerk, Ministry of Labour, born Cannock;
- [6] Francis Lacey (28), son, foundry work, out of work, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Agnes Lacey (18), daughter, clerk, out of work, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Matilda Wylde (53), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Eliza Spittle (43), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

John Lacey – see also ROBIN HOOD, Portway Road, and CROSS GUNS, Bilston Road.

John Lacey – see SMITHS ARMS, Cross Street.

South Staffordshire Times 2/8/1924

"A pleasing function took place on Wednesday evening at the GRAPES HOTEL, Upper High Street, Wednesbury, when presentations were made to Mr. Frank Wilkinson, the licensee, and Mrs. Wilkinson. Mr. Wilkinson, who is well-known in Wednesbury, leaves England next Friday to take up a position with the Tata Iron and Steel Co. Ltd., Jamshedpur, India. Mr. W. S. McGill presided over a large gathering and a happy time was spent. The chairman presented Mrs. Wilkinson with a bottle of scent and a bottle of smelling salts, while Mr. Wilkinson received a pipe in a case from the Wednesbury Town Football Club, of which he was a late president, and a pipe and razor from Mr. Geo. Bytheway. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson returned thanks for the gifts. Four years ago when Mr. Wilkinson was president of the Town Club they won a challenge cup outright, and in recognition of his services they presented him with the trophy. Mr. Wilkinson said that as he now leaving the country he was desirous of presenting the cup back to the club, so that it could be kept by them as a souvenir. All good wishes were expressed to Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson for their future success in India. During the evening an enjoyable musical programme was gone through, the artistes including Messrs. J. Sullivan, W. Staves, W. Shorthouse, W. Pincher, and W. Langley, while Mr. Herbert Whitehouse was the accompanist."

South Staffordshire Times 9/8/1924

"A series of presentations have taken place during the week to Mr. Frank Wilkinson, a former Wednesbury licensee who, with Mrs. Wilkinson and family, sailed on Friday for India.

On Saturday last the members of Lodge 128, of the Loyal Caledonian Corks, met at the GRAPES INN, under the chairmanship of Bro. Fred Rotton, and made a presentation of a pipe in a case, the gift being handed to Mr. Wilkinson by Bro. Bolton, who expressed on behalf of the lodge every good wish for Mr. Wilkinson's future success in his new sphere. Mr. Albert Wassall also made a presentation of a shaving outfit.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson's friends arranged a farewell concert at the CROWN INN, Albert Street, when Mr. Martin Tracey, who presided, expressed the regret of the company at severing such a long connection with Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson. They all hoped, however, that in India they would find happiness and prosperity. Mrs. Shorthouse made a presentation to Mrs. Wilkinson and during the evening a musical programme was provided by Messrs. J. Davies, T. Sullivan, G. Sullivan and A. Gainham.

On Wednesday evening a gathering was held in the GRAPES INN, Upper High Street, when several of the sportsmen of the town and customers of the house made presentations, Mr. W. Shorthouse presided, and expressions of regret at losing Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson were again made. Mr. Tom Rose, on behalf of the subscribers, asked Mrs. Wilkinson's acceptance of a leather hand bag, while Mr. Wilkinson was the recipient of a gold tie pin and tobacco pouch. In acknowledging the gifts Mr. Wilkinson thanked them all for their gifts and also for the feelings of goodwill which had been expressed."

Bilston & Willenhall Times 12/9/1925

"Charged with being drunk and refusing to quit licensed premises the previous night, Tom ___ (50), 20, Middle Row, Stafford Street, Wolverhampton, was charged, after being locked up all night. He pleaded guilty.

The evidence of PC Cox was to the effect that he received a complaint from the landlord of the GRAPES INN, Upper High Street, and upon getting there he saw ___ who was in a drunken condition, the landlord asked him to go out and he absolutely refused.

Francis George Lockley, licensee of the GRAPES INN, said the man went into the house with about five others at 9.15pm and asked for beer, and he refused to serve him. They then became quarrelsome, then becoming violent.

The Chairman: What about the other men, did you have any trouble with them?

Witness: Yes, all of them were troublesome.

PC Cox said the other men had cleared out of the house when he arrived.

___ told the court that he came to Wednesbury to look for a job, and when going to an ironworks, he met three of four 'old soldier pals,' who paid for beer for him. He had had nothing to eat all day and in consequence the beer 'got over' him.

Superintendent Sault said the landlord did very well in this case, and he wished more publicans would be more careful.

The Chairman: He may have got into trouble himself if he hadn't.

The Superintendent (handing up a list of convictions): This man seems to be a quarrelsome sort.

When imposing a fine of 20s, or 14 days' imprisonment, the Chairman said landlords of licensed premises had to be protected."

Bilston and Willenhall Times 11/2/1928

"A meeting of the Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers Association was held on Tuesday at the GRAPES INN, Upper High Street. Wednesbury, when Mr. Alfred Blake presided over a good attendance....."

Dudley Chronicle 27/6/1929

"Serious charges were preferred at Wednesbury Police Court on Friday against George Anderson, 67, Well Lane, North Walsall. They were (1) being in possession of counterfeit coin with intent to utter the same, (2) uttering a counterfeit two shilling piece, and (3) having in custody and possession moulds for the manufacture of counterfeit coins.

Mr. B. G. Saywell (of London) appeared for the Director of Public Prosecutions, and outlined the facts of the cases. On June 4th, at 1.30pm, accused went to the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, and tendered half-a-crown for half a pint of ale. In consequence of something said by the customers, the landlord spoke to prisoner, who made some excuse, and asked for the coin back, then leaving the bar. The next heard of him was on June 11th, when he went to the WHITE HORSE and tendered a two shilling piece, receiving change. Something was said to the daughter of the licensee. She looked at the coin again, and subsequently handed it to the police. Prisoner the same day went to the BELL INN and the MIDLAND VAULTS, where he tendered two shilling pieces, and afterwards went to the GRAPES INN, where he was spoken to by PC Taylor. He asked him to go to the Police Station, and this the prisoner willingly did. When there he handed PS Nixon four counterfeit coins, also giving him a key, and telling him he would find all he wanted in a drawer at his home. A search was made and moulds and other articles necessary for the making of counterfeit coins were found.....

Joseph Glaze, jeweller and silversmith, High Bullen, Wednesbury, said he was shown the coins produced by PS Nixon and tested them with aqua fortis. He also weighted them and found them deficient. The whole of the coins were counterfeit.

Miss Edna King, daughter of the licensee of the WHITE HORSE HOTEL, said that on June 11th, she served a man with half a pint of mild and bitter, for which he tendered a two shilling piece (produced). She could not recognise the man. After he left something was said to her by another customer, and she looked in the till. She took out the two shilling piece, and testing it with another coin found that the edge rubbed soft.

Mrs. Higgins, wife of the licensee of the MIDLAND VAULTS, said she remembered prisoner calling for half a pint of ale on June 11th, for which he tendered a two shilling piece. She picked accused out the following day at an identification parade at the Police Station.

Archibald Cross, licensee of the BELL INN, Walsall Street, also stated that he served prisoner with beer and cigarettes, which he paid for with a two shilling piece. Subsequently, from something which was said to him, he took it out of the till, and upon testing it found it to be a bad one.

Douglas George Young, licensee of the ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, identified two half-crowns (produced), one dated 1923, and the other 1924, which were found in his takings on May 20th and June 4th respectively. He knew prisoner and saw him in the bar on both the dates mentioned Joseph Glaze said that the two half-crowns which Mr. Young found in his takings were counterfeit and light in weight.....

Prisoner was committed to take his trial at the Staffordshire Assizes. He intimated that it was his intention to plead guilty."

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 6/7/1929

"Pleading guilty to uttering counterfeit coins at Wednesbury, and to having in his possession moulds for making counterfeit coins, George Anderson, aged 38, a french polisher, committed from Wednesbury, was sentenced to three years penal servitude at the Staffordshire Assizes yesterday.

It was stated for the prosecution that prisoner also admitted charges relating to embezzlement and the uttering of counterfeit coins five years ago."

Midland Advertiser 1/3/1930

"An inaugural meeting was held at the GRAPES INN, Upper High Street, Wednesbury, on Wednesday afternoon, for the purpose of forming a women's branch of the Wednesbury and Darlaston Licensed Victuallers Association, and in conjunction with the Birmingham Women's Auxiliary. Mr. E. Lawrence Levy gave an address, after which it was decided that a branch should be formed, and the following officials were elected: President, Mrs. King; Vice President, Mrs. A. Small; hon. treasurer, Mrs. F. H. Cook; and hon. secretary, Mrs. F. Lockley."

Walsall Observer 9/1/1937

"The Wednesbury Town Clerk has submitted to the General Purposes Committee a report of an interview with Mr. Lowe, of W. Butler and Company Ltd., brewers, of Wolverhampton, at which the latter suggested the sale of a strip of land near the GREEN DRAGON in the Shambles for the improvement of the hotel; also that the Corporation should acquire, in exchange, a piece of land owned by the brewery company in Church Street, that the Corporation should then close the right of way belonging to the brewery company and grant a right of way to the GRAPES INN into Church Street in a more convenient situation.

The question raised involved the car park scheme upon which the Borough Surveyor submitted a report as to the properties necessary for acquisition containing an estimate of £5,300 for the total scheme. It was resolved that the suggestion regarding the sale of land in the Shambles be not approved. The question as to the right of way has been left in abeyance until the position regarding the future of Church Street is clearer."

Walsall Observer 26/6/1937

"At Wednesbury special licensing sessions, yesterday week, approval was given to plans for alterations to..... GRAPES INN, Upper High Street."

1939 Register

High Street – GRAPES INN

- [1] Francis G. Lockley, date of birth 23/11/1873, licensed victualler, married;
- [2] Rebecca Lockley, dob 14/3/1888, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] Phyllis M. (Lockley) Ginster, dob 14/10/1917, unpaid domestic duties, single;
- [4] Robert J. Sansum, dob 27/6/1914, ammunition machinist, single;
- [5] Ernest J. Jones, dob 7/9/1873, engineer's pattern maker, married;
- [6] Sarah Jones, dob 18/2/1874, unpaid domestic duties, married:

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Victory Darts League in 1948.

Closed

Birmingham Daily Post 27/5/1961 - Advert

“By direction of W. Butler & Co. Ltd. in the Counties of Stafford and Worcester.

Sale by Auction of the Important and Valuable Freehold De-licensed Properties.

Prominently situated in and adjacent to Shopping Centres and ripe for early conversion or re-development.....

Lot 1. The GRAPES, High Street, Wednesbury.

Situate in a very busy Retail position close to Multiples.

Frontage of 49ft and Site Area of 600 square yards or thereabouts.

Vacant Possession on Completion.”

It was demolished in March 1967.

By direction of W. Butler & Co. Ltd.

IN THE COUNTIES OF STAFFORD AND WORCESTER

SALE BY AUCTION

of the

IMPORTANT AND VALUABLE

FREEHOLD DE-LICENSED PROPERTIES

Prominently situated in and adjacent to Shopping Centres and ripe for early conversion or re-development.

LOT 1.

“ THE GRAPES ”

HIGH STREET, WEDNESBURY.

Situate in a very busy Retail position close to Multiples.

FRONTAGE of 49ft. and SITE AREA of 600 square yards or thereabouts.

VACANT POSSESSION ON COMPLETION.

1961

GRAPES

21, Portway Road, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

J. Hanson and Son Limited [1925]

LICENSEES

George Perry [1871] – [1879]
Thomas Jones [1881]
Elon Adams [1886] – [1893]
Benjamin J E Adams [1891]
William Jones [1896]
Mrs. Susannah Jones [1901] – [1911]
John Thomas Jones [1921]
Mrs. Florence Winyard [1924] – 1925;
John O'Brien (1925 – []

NOTES

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

1871 Census

21, Portway Road
[1] George Perry (51), puddler, born Tipton;
[2] Jane Perry (48), wife, born Tipton;
[3] Amy Perry (20), daughter, born Wednesbury;
[4] Joseph Perry (16), son, labourer, born Wednesbury;
[5] Arthur Perry (13), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
[6] Jane Perry (11), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
[7] Samuel Perry (7), son, scholar, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 19/3/1879

“The undermentioned have filed petitions in the Walsall Bankruptcy Court.....

George Perry, Portway Road, Wednesbury, beer-seller and scrap dealer; liabilities £1,500, assets not ascertained.”

Wednesbury Herald 5/4/1879

“A meeting of the creditors of George Perry, beer seller and scrap dealer, Portway Road, Wednesbury, was held on Tuesday at the office of Mr. Joseph Smith, solicitor, Wednesbury. The liabilities were expected to amount to £450. It was decided to wind up the estate in liquidation, and Mr. T. S. Hatton, accountant, of Wolverhampton, was appointed trustee.”

Dudley Herald 30/10/1880

“James Lyons was charged on a warrant with being drunk on licensed premises on the 28th August last. PC Steel said on the day in question he saw the defendant turned out of the GRAPES INN, Portway Road. He went into the GLADSTONE INN. Witness went in and saw defendant there with a quart of ale before him. He was drunk. He was also charged with being drunk on Saturday night last, in Meeting Street, Wednesbury, and his wife, Mary Lyons, with obstructing the police. PC Steel said when he was about apprehending the male defendant his wife obstructed him, and would not let him take him into custody. Mary Lyons was discharged with a caution, and the male defendant was fined for the first case 19s 6d including costs, or in default seven days, and for the second 9s 6d or in default seven days.”

Thomas Jones was a beer retailer and coalminer. [1881]

1881 Census

21, Portway Road – GRAPES INN

- [1] Thomas Jones (48), coal miner, born Monmore Green;
- [2] Elenor Jones (43), wife, born Moseley Hole;
- [3] Charles Thomas Jones (20), son, coal miner, born Moseley Hole;
- [4] George Jones (17), son, coal miner, born Moseley Hole;
- [5] Eliza Jones (15), daughter, scholar, born Moseley Hole;
- [6] Harry Jones (12), son, scholar, born Moseley Hole;
- [7] James Jones (10), son, scholar, born Moseley Hole;
- [8] Elenor Jones (8), daughter, scholar, born Moseley Hole;
- [9] Frank Jones (5), son, scholar, born Moseley Hole;
- [10] Tilly Jones (2), daughter, scholar, born West Bromwich:

Elon Adams = Elow Adams = Eton Adams

Birmingham Daily Post 6/10/1886

At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, John Batchelor (35), Portway Road, Wednesbury, stock-taker, and Richard Holden (34), labourer, of the same address, were charged with being on the premises of Elow Adams, the GRAPES beerhouse, Portway Road, for an unlawful purpose; with breaking into a lock-up shop, and stealing ham, soap, sugar, and other things; and with stealing a door key and meat-saw.

At about half-past two o'clock on the night of the 2nd inst Police-constables Beech and Sutton were watching in a brewhouse at the rear of the prosecutor's premises, when the two defendants walked up and attempted to enter, but finding that there was some one there they ran away. The officers went in pursuit, and having captured the prisoners made a search and found that the cellar window had been broken open and a casting which covered it taken away. Subsequently a quantity of grocery, a key, and a meat-saw were found in Holden's house, all of which the prosecutor identified as his property.

The prisoners were sentenced to three months' imprisonment each, with hard labour; the other charges not being gone into.”

Birmingham Daily Post 9/11/1888

“At the Walsall County Court, yesterday, before his Honour Judge Griffiths, Elon Adams, publican, Portway Road, Wednesbury, sued Thomas Nicholls, Kings Hill, publican and cowkeeper, for the sum of £10 13s, made up of £1 for illegal impounding cows belonging to the plaintiff, £6 for injuries caused to one of the cows by such impounding, £2 for loss of milk during the time the cow was ill and under treatment by a veterinary surgeon, £1 fee to a veterinary surgeon, and 8s 9d for release of the cows from pound. Mr. W. S. Smith appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. H. H. Jackson for the defendant.

The plaintiff's case was that on the 14th June, as his son was driving two of his cows along the road to his field, the defendant and a man in the employment of the defendant appeared, took possession of the cows, and drove them off and impounded them, remarking that the plaintiff had ‘had’ him, and he would retaliate. Whilst in the pound the cows were not allowed to be milked, and in consequence one of them suffered from inflammation, and had to be attended to by a veterinary surgeon.

The defence was that the cows were not taken from off the road, but from off the defendant's field, and that they were properly attended to and fed; and a counter-claim for £11 19s was made, arising out of the alleged illegal impounding by the plaintiff of some of defendant's cows on the 25th April.

His Honour, after a protracted hearing, found for the plaintiff on the claim and the counter-claim.”

Elon Adams – see also QUEENS ARMS, Holyhead Road.

1891 Census

21, Portway Road – GRAPES Public House

- [1] Benjamin J. E. Adams (43), fitter, born Colley Gate;
- [2] Martha Adams (42), wife, born Brierley Hill;
- [3] John E. Adams (19), son, fitter, born Walsall;
- [4] Minnie Adams (17), daughter, barmaid, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Walter Adams (15), son labourer, born Amblecote;
- [6] Henrietta Adams (13), daughter, scholar, born Amblecote;
- [7] Joseph J. Adams (11), son, scholar, born Stourbridge;
- [8] Lillis M. Adams (8), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Enoch Adams (5), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [10] Beatrice Adams (4), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [11] Florence A. Adams (2), daughter, born Wednesbury;

Commercial Gazette 8/11/1893

“Extract from the Registry of County Courts Judgements.....

Elon Adams, GRAPES INN, Wednesbury, innkeeper, September 27, £21 11s 0d.”

W. Jones issued tokens from here.

William Jones, beer retailer, 21, Portway Road. [1896]

1901 Census

21, Portway Road

- [1] Susannah Jones (65), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Lichfield;
- [2] William Jones (27), son, engine fitter, born Wednesbury;
- [3] John T. Jones (25), son, tube fitter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Elizabeth Cartwright (17), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

Mrs. Susannah Jones, beer retailer, 21, Portway Road. [1904]

1911 Census

Portway Road – GRAPES INN

- [1] Susannah Jones (75), widow, beerhouse keeper, born Lichfield;
- [2] John Thomas Jones (32), son, barman, born Wednesbury;

1921 Census

21, Portway Road

- [1] John Thomas Jones (46), beerhouse keeper, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Leah Jones (46), wife, household duties, born Hill Top, West Bromwich;
- [3] Ethel Agnes Bingham (23), boarder, household duties, born Tewkesbury;
- [4] George A. Bingham (24), boarder, millwright, out of work, born Smethwick;
- [5] Albert Pratt (36), boarder, stableman, out of work, born Banbury;

South Staffordshire Times 24/5/1924

“Maria Pincher (44), Foster Street, Wednesbury, was summoned by Florence Winyard, licensee of the GRAPES INN, Portway Road, for abusive language on May 18th, threats and abusive language on May 19th, and threats on May 20th. There was a cross-summons for threats and abusive language on May 18th.

The magistrates fined Mrs. Pincher 20/- in each of the first two cases, and on the threats summons she was bound over for six months in the sum of £5. The case against Mrs. Winyard was dismissed.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 14/10/1924

“The Stipendiary at West Bromwich yesterday delivered a reserved judgement in the case in which Mrs. Florence Winyard, licensee of the GRAPES INN, Portway Road, Wednesbury, was summoned for supplying intoxicating liquor during non-permitted hours.

Four customers, John Clines, John Clark, and Annie Clark, all of Wednesbury, and William Aubin, of 109, Bright Street, Wolverhampton were summoned for consuming.

The Stipendiary said he found that the Clarks and Clines were bona fide friends within the terms of the section, but the case of Aublin was different, as he was a regular customer at the house, and was asked by the landlady to remain behind when the others left.

Mrs. Winyard was bound over for twelve months and ordered to pay costs (£4 9s 6d). Aubin was bound over for a similar period, and ordered to pay £2 7s costs.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/6/1925

“The Principal Meeting of the County Compensation Authority, under the Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910, was held at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Thursday.....

In the case of the GRAPES INN, Portway Road, Wednesbury, Sergt. Thorpe stated that within 500 yards there were no fewer than 40 licensed houses. He added that the trade done was small, which Mr. Thompson, who applied for renewal, said was due to trade generally being bad in Wednesbury. He stated that four years ago over £400 was spent on the property. The license was refused.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/6/1925 - Notice

“The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County of Stafford.

Notice as to sending in Claims to be treated as Persons Interested in Licensed Premises.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on 18th day of June, 1925, to Refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below.....

GRAPES Beerhouse, Portway Road, Wednesbury. Beerhouse, Ante 1869. Licensee, John O'Brien. Registered Owner, J. Hanson and Son Limited.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/1/1926

“The County Licensing Committee, in their report for the past year compensation was fixed as follows.....

GRAPES INN, Wednesbury, beerhouse, ante 1869, £1,068.”

Closed

GREAT WESTERN HOTEL

1, Great Western Street (Victoria Street) / Potters Lane, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Jane Handley, Holyhead House, 72, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. [1920s]

LICENSEES

William Sheldon [1861] – [1882]
Mrs. Betsy Sheldon [1891] – [1898]
John Hinkinson Sheldon [1891] – 1923;
George Westall (1923 – [1924]
Fred Bates [1939] – [1940]
Bessie Bates [1944]
William Edward Burrows [1961] – 1965;
Yvonne Zena Wordsworth (1965 – [1966]
William Wilkinson Hill [1976]

c1920s

NOTES

Victoria Street [1864], [1865]

It had a large clubroom upstairs which was used by the Ancient Order of Foresters.

Auctions were regularly held here.

William Sheldon issued tokens from here.

1861 Census

Potters Lane

- [1] William Sheldon (44), beerhouse keeper, born Tipton;
- [2] Betsy Sheldon (42), wife, born West Bromwich;
- [3] Sarah Reeves (22), general servant, born Bilston:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/10/1861

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Thursday last.....

The following is a list of applicants for wine and spirit licenses.....

W. Sheldon, Potters Lane, Wednesbury. The authorities of the Great Western Railway, near to whose station Mr. Sheldon's building has been recently been erected, through their solicitor, Mr. George Whateley, supported the application by stating that a house of the description named was much required. The application was consequently granted.”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/12/1862

“At a meeting of the members of Court White Lion, Ancient Order of Foresters, held at Mr. Sheldon's, GREAT WESTERN INN, Wednesbury, it was unanimously agreed to subscribe £5 from the funds, for the relief of the distressed Foresters in the cotton districts.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 7/1/1863

“Stafford County Sessions.....

Martin Faahan, Martin Maley, and Patrick O’Connell were charged with maliciously wounding John Tierney, at Wednesbury, and inflicting grievous bodily harm. Mr. Hill conducted the prosecution, and Mr. Kenealy defended the prisoners.

The prosecutor stated that he went to the GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY INN, Wednesbury, on the 19th of November last. O’Connell came in and asked what brought him there. Witness replied, ‘My legs.’ O’Connell said, ‘You’ve come to spy somebody,’ and used threatening language. Prosecutor left the house, followed by O’Connell and the other two prisoners, who commenced a most brutal attack, knocking him down and seriously injuring him. Money had been offered by Maley’s friends to compromise the matter.

The evidence of the prosecutor having been confirmed by the police, Mr. Kenealy addressed the jury for the prisoners Maley and O’Connell, and called several witnesses on their behalf.

Mr. Hill replied upon the whole case, and after a careful summing up all the prisoners were found guilty, and sentenced each to twelve calendar months’ imprisonment with hard labour.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/2/1863

“On Tuesday, at Wednesbury Petty Sessions, Charles Price was charged with fraudulently removing his goods from a house at Willens Lane, Crook Hay, with intent to defraud his landlord, William Sheldon, of the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury. The case was before the Court a short time previously, and was then settled on the understanding that of the £3 7s 6d due, £1 should be paid within a week, and 8s a month afterwards. Mr. Bayley, on the part of the defendant, alleged that the defendant’s mother had been to Mr. Sheldon with the £1, but that gentleman would not take the money, unless she would be answerable for the payment of the remainder within a limited period. This she declined to do; and then it was asserted, Mr. Sheldon refused to accept the money. An order was eventually made for payment of £1 within a week, 8s a month afterwards.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/3/1863

“Rejoicings in honour of the Royal marriage.....

Wednesbury Rifle Corps, with the band, dined together on Tuesday evening at the house of Mr. Sheldon, the GREAT WESTERN INN.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 14/3/1863

“The Royal Marriage. Local Rejoicings.....

The spontaneous burst of loyalty which animated every English breast and spread to every English home, was nowhere more conspicuous than in Wednesbury. At an early hour ‘the din of preparation’ sounded in the streets, as the transparencies, flags, festoons, &c, were being displayed.....

As soon as dusk set in, and the illuminations commenced, thousands of people poured out to see them Mr. Sheldon, GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, and others were distinguished by the size and brilliance of their illuminations.”

[This was the marriage of Prince Albert Edward, Prince of Wales (later King Edward VII) to Princess Alexandra of Denmark.]

Birmingham Daily Post 14/8/1863

“On Wednesday evening, to commemorate the completion of the new London and North-Western Railway stations, Messrs. Branson and Murray, the contractors, gave a dinner at the house of Mr. Sheldon, the GREAT WESTERN INN, when about fifty railway employees and others sat down. Dinner over and the tables cleared, Mr. Rate was called to the chair, and Mr. J. D. Frazer to the vice-chair. The usual loyal toasts having been duly honoured, the Chairman gave ‘The Town and Trade of Wednesbury,’ which was very heartily received. The Vice-Chairman followed with ‘The Contractors,’ and took occasion to refer in eulogistic terms to the very handsome and commodious stations erected by the firm in the town.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/10/1863

“Staffordshire General Quarter Sessions.....

Isaac Caddick, on bail, was indicted for stealing from the person of Isaiah Gill, the sum of 19s 9d, at Wednesbury, on the 26th September. Mr. Vaughan conducted the prosecution, and Mr. Kenealy defended the prisoner.

It appeared that on the day preceding the robbery the prosecutor was at the GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY INN, Wednesbury. On that day he had ten sovereigns in his possession, which he left in the hands of Mrs. Sheldon, the landlady. The next morning he returned to the Inn, and received the money he had left in the hands of Mrs. Sheldon. He then ordered three glasses of gin, and tendered a sovereign in payment, out of which he received in change 19s 9d. After drinking the gin the prosecutor fell asleep. Upon awaking the prosecutor found the prisoner standing over him, with his hand in his inside waistcoat pocket, where he had placed the remaining nine sovereigns. Upon feeling in his trousers pocket for the 19s 9d he found it gone. The prisoner had a quantity of silver in his possession, one shilling of which the prosecutor identified as his property.

The Jury found the prisoner guilty, and he was sentenced to nine months' imprisonment."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 5/11/1863

"An inquest was held yesterday, by Mr. E. Hooper, the coroner, at Mr. Sheldon's, the GREAT WESTERN INN, Wednesbury, on the body of a man named Henry Wright, about fifty-six years of age, by trade a miner, who has left a widow and several children.

A witness named Paulina Wright stated that she was the wife of the deceased. Her husband had not enjoyed the best of health for the last twelve months. Some three years ago deceased had the misfortune to break his leg, at the colliery of Messrs. Horton and Willington, Riddings Lane, and since that time he had been obliged to accept a situation as watchman, as he was unable to resume his former employment. Last Sunday night, after being confined to his bed all day, he became suddenly worse. Witness made his bed, but at about twelve o'clock she heard him groan. David Lawton, a son-in-law of the witness, went for Mr. Horton, surgeon, who told him he was ill, and could not attend; deceased died before Lawton returned. Deceased had never been well since the accident. She considered it unnecessary to call in medical advice during the Sunday. The witness stated, in reply to Mr. Baker, the Government Inspector, that the deceased's leg had been fearfully crushed on the occurrence of the accident three years ago, and since that time he had suffered from asthma.

David Lawton, son-in-law of the deceased, was the next witness called, and stated that he went for Mr. Horton about twenty minutes after one o'clock. He did not go for any other surgeon, as he was not aware that the deceased was so seriously ill. Previous to the accident deceased was a strong and vigorous man, but since then he was only able to act as watchmen. He had been employed in that capacity on the new railway, and since then at the colliery of Mr. Hoskins, Potters Lane.

The Coroner summed up briefly, and the Jury returned a verdict of Died by the Visitation of God."

Birmingham Daily Post 5/12/1863

"The Gale in the District....

During the gale a house belonging to Mr. William Sheldon, the landlord of the GREAT WESTERN INN, Wednesbury, situated between Hill Top and Crookhay, was struck by a blast of wind which knocked down a chimney on the roof, and occasioned damage to the amount of £20. The inmates, fortunately for themselves, were absent from the house at the time."

Birmingham Daily Post 4/2/1864

"Rifle Movement. Thirty-Fourth Staffordshire (Wednesbury) Company.

On Monday evening a dinner, given by the non-commissioned officers of this corps to the commissioned officers, took place at the house of Mr. Sheldon, the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL. Sergeant Blakemore (in the unavoidable absence of Quartermaster-sergeant Frost) presided over a numerous company, and Sergeant Smith occupied the vice-chair. The dinner, which was of good quality, and well served, having been disposed of, the usual loyal toasts were given from the chair, and duly honoured....

The members afterwards marched to St. John's school-room, where a large number of ladies and gentlemen had assembled to witness the distribution of a number of prizes, won by members of the corps during the past year....."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/5/1864

"In answer to an invitation from the Wednesbury branch of the Association of United Puddlers, a deputation from the Birmingham Working Men's Committee, consisting of Mr. Josh. Jones, the Chairman; Mr. Christie, Secretary; and Messrs. Dalzell, Everard, and Dyers, committee men, last Saturday evening attended a numerous meeting at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, for the purpose of assisting this important association to mature a plan of action by which they could unite in the noble effort to raise a testimonial to Garibaldi....

Mr. Millard, secretary to the association, then rose to propose that voluntary contributions should be given by the members of that society to do honour to the great Italian liberator The deputation, with the chief officers and committee men of the association, adjourned to partake of a very plentiful repast provided for them."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 17/8/1864

“At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, William Jackson was charged with having assaulted William Sheldon, landlord of the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL. Mr. Sheldon, solicitor, appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Dicken for the defence.

It appeared that on the night of the 3rd inst a quarrel ensued between defendant and a man named Hammond, whom he struck. The landlord interfered, and defendant struck him a violent blow on the mouth, knocking out one of his teeth.

For the defence it was contended that Jackson had not struck complainant at all, and that the present proceedings had been taken because the accused was about applying for a license for a public house in the neighbourhood of the GREAT WESTERN INN.

The Bench held the offence proved, and imposed a fine on the accused of £3 and the expenses, or the alternative of two months' imprisonment.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/9/1864

“An inquest was held at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Saturday, before Mr. E. Hooper, touching the death of Phoebe Mills, fourteen, domestic servant.

Joseph Thornton, twelve, said deceased was a domestic servant in the house of his father, who lived in Stafford Street. The deceased was very playful and romping on Friday, and ate heartily at supper time of toasted eels. Witness slept in the same room as deceased, but in another bed. At bed time they arranged that whoever woke first in the morning should wake the other. Witness woke about five o'clock, and called out to deceased several times. Receiving no answer he got up and shook her, when she put her arm up, but did not speak. She looked very strange, and witness went to fetch his father. When they returned the deceased was purple in the face, and quite dead. The evidence was corroborated by witness's father and mother. Deceased has never been subject to fits, and had no illness since coming to Mr. Thornton's house.

The Coroner asked the Jury if they were satisfied, or wished for medical evidence. The Jury returned a verdict of Found Dead.”

Birmingham Daily Post 1/10/1864

“Yesterday afternoon Mr. E. Hooper, district coroner, held an enquiry, at the house of Mr. Sheldon, the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, into the circumstances attending the death of Noah Corser, a boy six and a half years of age, who was killed on the Great Western Railway, on the morning of Wednesday last. The enquiry was attended by Mr. Andrews, district superintendent of the line, and Mr. George Harris, station master at Wednesbury. The evidence went to show that on the morning named as Nicholas Simpson, one of the Company's engine drivers, was driving an engine, tender, and two carriages from Wolverhampton towards Wednesbury, the train having left the former town at 6.55, he saw a boy on the line near Mr. Hunt's chemical works, at Lea Brook. He sounded his whistle and the boy got out of the way. He passed on to Birmingham; and on returning to Wednesbury, about two hours later, he ascertained that the dead body of a boy had been found by John Varlow, one of the company's constables, near to Mr. Hunt's works. When found, another boy, the brother of the deceased, was standing near the corpse. The wheels and ash pan of Simpson's engine were examined, but no traces of blood were found on them. It was subsequently found that the boy had left the home of his parents, who live at Catherine's Cross, Darlaston, on the preceding night, and had followed his elder brother to the Willingsworth Furnaces, where the latter works. They were making a short cut across the line when the deceased met with his death.

The jury entirely exonerated the driver from blame, and returned a verdict of Accidental Death. The general feeling seemed to be that Mr. Hunt should put up a foot bridge at the point in question, for the use of his men, who frequently cross the line at that place. Mr. Andrews promised to facilitate the putting up of the bridge if Mr. Hunt was disposed to adopt the suggestion.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/10/1865

“An extraordinary meeting of delegates connected with the Ironworkers Association of Great Britain has been held at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury. The delegates represented the following eighteen districts: Liverpool, Manchester, Warrington, Derby, North Staffordshire, Wolverhampton, Brierley Hill, Wednesbury, Westbromwich, Golds Hill, Tividale, Tipton, Moxley, Bilston, Smethwick, Pelsall, Pleck, and New Birchills. Mr. Carlisle, the paid president of the association, whose head offices are at Brierley Hill, presided; and Mr. Hobson, the paid secretary, was also present.

The most important business before the meeting was the question of the future regulation of wages of puddlers and others persons engaged in ironworks. On the termination of the recent lock-out in South Staffordshire, representatives of the puddlers in the neighbourhood of Wolverhampton obtained an interview with the ironmasters there, their object being to agree on a scale of wages which might be assented to both by masters and men, and so avoid the necessity for strikes and lock-outs for the future. The result of conferences was, that the masters adhered to the principle of the sliding scale The following not very courteous resolution terminated the discussion, 'That the master's proposition be swept from the board as being preposterous.'

It was stated that about a dozen men who were prominent in the late strike in North Staffordshire had been kept out of employment, and that one of them who had obtained work at a distance was discharged on account of his late master having discovered where he was and having written respecting him. It was agreed to allow these 'victims' 20s per week whilst out of employment. It was also resolved to pay the North Staffordshire men the balance of pay being the amount they were paid short in the late strike after they had been taken back into the association....."

Birmingham Daily Post 16/11/1865

"On Monday evening the members of the Wednesbury Rifle Corps assembled in St. John's School Room to witness the pleasing ceremony of the distribution of the prizes recently competed for at the annual prize contest of the company.....

Hearty cheers were given for the Queen and the commanding officer, and the company, headed by the band, then proceeded to the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, where the annual supper took place."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 20/6/1866

"Mr. Edwin Hooper held an inquest yesterday afternoon, at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, to inquire into the circumstances connected with the death of William Hayer, a stock-taker, 60 years of age, who resided in Albert Street.

On Saturday afternoon last, between one and two o'clock, the deceased was carrying some sticks along High Street, when he suddenly reeled and fell to the ground. A young man named John Hackwood went to the assistance of the deceased, and he was afterwards placed in a vehicle, and conveyed to his home, where he died shortly afterwards. Mr. Blackwood, surgeon, was called to the deceased, and was of opinion that he died from a paralytic stroke and a fit of apoplexy. The deceased had been in a poor state of health for the last twelve months.

The jury returned a verdict of Died from Natural Causes."

Birmingham Journal 30/6/1866

"On Tuesday, Mr. Hooper, district coroner, opened an enquiry at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, touching the death of David Jones, aged 32, a puddler, who lived with his parents in Stafford Street, and who died on Friday night under circumstances which gave rise to a belief that he had taken an overdose of nux vomica [strychnine]. Mr. Ebsworth appeared for Mr. Tucker, chemist, at whose shop the prescription was made up which contained the drug in question, and Mr. Superintendent Holland was also present.

The first witness called was Samuel Jones, a brother of the deceased, but he fainted on presenting himself to be sworn, and consequently, as soon as he had recovered, he was removed, and his evidence was not taken.

The next witness was Margaret Madeley, a married woman, living near to the parents of the deceased. She said she had known the deceased for about twelve months, and to the best of her knowledge he had during that time enjoyed good health, until a week before his death, when he complained of being low and poorly, but he still continued to work. He went to his club doctor, Mr. Underhill, of Toll End, and on Wednesday last after working half a day, he also went to Mr. Palmer, surgeon, of Birmingham. On his return he got some medicine made up and took one dose before he went to work on Thursday morning. Witness was told he also took one dose with him to the works, and he took another on his return home. He then went to sleep, and soon after his father knocked the wall for witness to go in. She did so, and found the deceased black in the face and frothing at the mouth. Dr. Blackwood, who was at once sent for, immediately attended. The fit lasted about a quarter of an hour, and was followed by others at short intervals all that night and Friday, the deceased's limbs twitching violently. Deceased died at a few minutes after eleven o'clock on Friday night. Had never known the deceased or any of his family have fits before.

In cross-examination by Mr. Ebsworth, the witness stated that each dose of the medicine consisted of a meat-spoonful in a glass of water. She only saw one taken herself. Did not know that deceased suffered from heart disease.

Mary Sixsmith, another married woman, living near the deceased's parents, gave corroborative evidence, and stated that on Sunday week the deceased had a bottle of medicine from Mr. Underhill's assistant; but this doing him no good he was advised to go to Mr. Palmer. She described the deceased's fits as being of a very violent character. Dr. Thomas Blackwood said he was called in to see the deceased about five o'clock on Thursday night, and found him lying on the sofa just recovering from a fit. He was frothing at the mouth, and his muscles were twitching. Witness said he hoped it would turn out to be a case of epilepsy, and directed the friends to apply cold water to the deceased's head, and to loosen his clothes and give him plenty of air. Witness then went home, after giving some further directions, but was soon sent for again, when he found the deceased recovering from another fit. On looking at the deceased, witness said it looked as if the case would turn out a serious one. The deceased's brain was much congested, and he feared the result of the fits as much as the cause, whatever that might be. By witness's direction leeches were at once got and applied to deceased's head, and subsequently a bottle of medicine, bearing the label of Mr. Tucker, chemist, was produced, and it was stated that the deceased had got the prescription from which the medicine was made up, from Mr. Palmer, surgeon. Learning that the deceased was in Mr. Underhill's club, and had taken medicine obtained from that gentleman's surgery, witness told the friends that they had better apply to the club surgeon at once. Witness examined the prescription, and found one of the ingredients of the medicine to be tincture of nux vomica one grain and a half. He told the friends not to let the deceased have any more of the medicine, believing that a repetition of the doses would be fatal, but hoping that, by stopping it at once, the young man would recover. Witness thought the grain and a half might have been mistaken for an ounce and a half, and that consequently the medicine contained more of the drug than was intended, or else that by an idiosyncrasy of constitution, the deceased was peculiarly susceptible to its effects. It was likely, too, that from the manner in which the prescription was written, the tincture of nux vomica might have been mistaken for the powder, but in that case the drug would have been in a less powerful form than the tincture. Mr. Underhill's assistant subsequently saw the deceased, and Mr. Underhill himself also came over, but on learning that the deceased had taken medicine from Mr. Palmer, he left witness to attend to the case.

The witness then detailed the results of a post mortem examination of the body he had made under the Coroner's precept, and gave it as his opinion that the nux vomica had had somewhat to do with the death of the deceased, but he added that the quantity prescribed was in medicinal doses, and in ordinary cases would not have had a bad effect. He considered, however, that such a powerful drug should not be administered in cases where, as in this instance, the patient lived so far away from the practitioner, and could not be seen at very frequent intervals.

The witness was cross-examined by Mr. Ebsworth, at some length. At this point the Coroner expressed an opinion that it would be far more satisfactory to have an analysis made of the medicine, and also of the contents of the deceased's stomach. The Jury concurred, and Mr. Holland was instructed to convey both the medicine and the stomach (which had been deposited in a sealed jar by Dr. Blackwood) to Dr. Hill, of Birmingham.

The enquiry was then adjourned until Monday, the 26th July, and the Coroner was desired to request Mr. Palmer to attend."

[At the resumed enquiry, the analysis of Dr. Hill showed there was no strychnine in the stomach, and none in the medicine. The jury returned a verdict of Died from Convulsions, but what was the cause of the convulsions there is no evidence to show.]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 24/10/1866

"On Saturday night a meeting of ironworkers connected with the National Ironworkers Association, whose headquarters are at Brierley Hill, was held at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, to discuss matters affecting the great strike at the works in the North....."

London Evening Standard 1/10/1868

"Mr. Walker, the Conservative candidate for the new borough of Wednesbury, was loudly applauded by a large audience who had assembled at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Tuesday night, on hearing from him a statement of his political views. At the close of his address it was unanimously resolved that Mr. Walker was the fittest person to represent that borough in the forthcoming parliament."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/9/1869 - Advert

"Freehold Public House and Four Dwelling Houses, in Portway Road, in the borough of Wednesbury. To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Powell and Son, at Mr. William Sheldon's, the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Wednesday, the 6th day of October next....."

Sheffield Independent 4/11/1870

“On Saturday and Monday last, two large meetings of ironworkers employed in the Wednesbury district were held at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, for the purpose of listening to two delegates from the North of England Board of Arbitration. The delegates explained their mode of working, and the benefits to both employers and operatives by settling their disputes by arbitration and conciliation, instead of by the old method of strikes and lock-outs, and tried to induce the men to organize themselves and endeavour to establish a Board of Arbitration and Conciliation for this district. The meetings were well attended and the following resolution was unanimously passed. ‘That this meeting pledges itself to use its influence to prevail on the men of this district to organize themselves to become members of the National Association, and to do all in its power to induce the employers to form a Board of Arbitration and Conciliation for the South Staffordshire iron trade.’”

1871 Census

Great Western Street – GREAT WESTERN HOTEL

[1] William Sheldon (54), hotel proprietor, born Tipton;

[2] Betsey Sheldon (52), wife, born West Bromwich;

[3] William Sheldon (25), son, student of medicine, born West Bromwich;

[4] John Sheldon (13), son, scholar, born West Bromwich:

Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers Association met here. [1871]

Token

Birmingham Mail 19/9/1873

“Yesterday, at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, an enquiry was held by Mr. Hooper, coroner, into the circumstances attending the death of Martin Berry (34), labourer, Portway Road. The deceased was killed whilst passing a level crossing on the London and North-Western Railway at Wednesbury on Tuesday evening. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, and strongly recommended the company to take instant measures to render crossing more safe for the passengers using it.”

Birmingham Daily Post 16/1/1874

“The annual meeting and conference of the Licensed Victuallers National Defence League was held yesterday, at the Royal Hotel, Temple Row the following delegates were present.....

William Sheldon, Wednesbury.....”

Monmouthshire Merlin 18/12/1874

“On Saturday night a representative meeting of South Staffordshire ironworkers was held at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, to consider the propriety of joining the National Association of Miners, in sending a deputation to Belgium to inquire and report on the nature and character of the stone, coal, and other mineral products that are required in making coke, and smelting and manufacturing the product into pig, and then into finished iron; and the cost of shipping, &c, the whole to be arranged in a tabulated form, with a view to seeing whether the coal and iron trades of this country are endangered by Belgian competition.....”

[A representative was chosen to be recommended for the deputation to Belgium.]

Cannock Chase Examiner 16/1/1875

“The annual dinner of the past and present district officers in connection with the Greets Green district of the Ancient Order of Foresters took place on Wednesday evening, at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury. There was a good attendance of brethren present, including a number of the prominent members of the order from Walsall and adjacent districts. An excellent dinner was provided and well served up by Brother Sheldon, to which full justice was accorded.....”

Cannock Chase Examiner 10/4/1875

“A district meeting of the various lodges of ironworkers connected with the Wednesbury district was held on Monday morning at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury. The lodges were well represented. The object to the meeting was the appointment of two representatives for the district on the South Staffordshire Conciliation Board.....

The desirability of joining the newly-formed Wednesbury Trade Council was next discussed, and it was resolved that each lodge should be recommended to join the Council, and at once proceed to elect its delegates to sit thereon.”

West Bromwich Weekly News 22/5/1875

“The annual general meeting of the shareholders of Messrs. John Bagnall and Sons Limited was held on Thursday at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL. Mr. John Richardson (chairman) presided.....”

County Advertiser 26/7/1879

“A conference of ironworkers took place at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Monday. About 70 delegates assembled The following resolutions were passed.

- (1) That this meeting is of opinion that the time has scarcely yet arrived to instruct the operative representatives on the Wages Board to make a claim for an advance in ironworkers wages.
- (2) That this meeting takes the present opportunity to express its unqualified disapproval of the conduct of certain employer members, and also of the conduct of certain operative members of the Wages Board; the former for claiming the right to make and the latter for being foolish enough to accept reductions in wages in a manner which is, to say the least, contrary to the letter and spirit of the Board rules.
- (3) That the ironworkers of Staffordshire, Worcestershire, and Shropshire, form a new association upon principles to be laid down by a sub-committee, consisting of one representative from each of the twelve districts comprising North and South Staffordshire, East Worcestershire, and Shropshire, such committee to meet for the object named during the coming month.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 18/3/1880

“Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Edwin Hooper, District Coroner, held an inquiry at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, relative to the death of Elizabeth Holland (85), who had died from the effects of injuries sustained about six weeks ago. The deceased fell downstairs, and sustained such injuries as to cause her death. After a lengthy inquiry, the jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Wednesbury Herald 27/3/1880

“On Saturday night a railway guard named William Bliss (38), residing at Wolverhampton, was killed on the Great Western Railway near Wednesbury Railway Station. The deceased was the guard in charge of the train leaving Wednesbury at 9.40pm for Wolverhampton, and on the train arriving at Bilston station deceased was missing. Search was made on the line, and his dead body was found near to Moxley station, the skull being smashed. It is supposed that deceased fell through the carriage window when the train was in motion. The body was removed to the railway station.

An inquest was held on the body on Tuesday morning at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL by Edwin Hooper, Esq, District Coroner. Mr. Ledbrooke represented the railway company.

Jessie Bath, signalman, identified the body of the deceased, and said he was a man of sober habits.

John Perry, a postman stationed at Bilston, said that on Saturday night he went to the Bilston Railway Station to meet the 9.10 train from Birmingham, for the purpose of sending mail bags to Wolverhampton. On the train arriving he went to the bag van and found the door fastened and found no guard inside. There was a lighted lamp on the floor, and at the side lay some mail bags. The window was down. Witness informed the booking clerk that there was no guard, and the engineer of the train said the guard left Wednesbury Station all right. On Sunday morning he heard that the guard had been found dead on the line at Bradley and Moxley.

Alfred Edges, a porter stationed at the Wednesbury Great Western Railway Station, said he saw the deceased get into the van at the station all right. He appeared to be perfectly sober. The deceased was brought to the Wednesbury station by the 11.16 train. He was quite dead, his head being completely smashed.

Richard Price, signalman, said he left Bilston station shortly after eleven o'clock, and he received instructions to look for the deceased as he was supposed to be killed. On arriving at the bridge near Moxley station he saw the deceased lying near the outside line under the bridge. The man was stretched out full length and he was dead. The train was stopped, and deceased was placed in the van. On the following morning he visited the spot and found a quantity of blood and hair on the buttress of the bridge.

John Ledbrooke, the Inspector of the Birmingham Division of the Great Western Railway, said the deceased had been in the employ of the Company about 14 years, during which period he had acted in the capacity of signalman and guard. He was a steady and industrious man, and he was under the impression that he had met with his death in consequence of walking on the footboard of the train when travelling at the rate of 30 miles an hour, and his head coming in contact with the buttress of the Moxley bridge.

In reply to the Coroner witness said that guards were not allowed to walk along the footboards when the trains were in motion, and only a month ago a guard was discharged for walking on a footboard when a train was in motion.

The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, to which they appended that the Company be specially requested to inform the guards that they must not walk on the footboards. Mr. Ledbrooke promised that the recommendation should be carried out.”

Wednesbury Herald 5/6/1880

“On Wednesday, Mr. Edwin Hooper, District Coroner, held an inquiry at the GREAT WESTERN INN, Wednesbury, relative to the death of William Chamberlain Smith, aged four years, the son of William Smith, labourer, Potters Lane.

The father of the deceased said that on Sunday he saw his son playing near to the house at about one o’clock. He afterwards missed him for about an hour and half, and at half past two o’clock a little boy came and informed him that ‘Willie was in the water.’

The Coroner: Do you mean to say that your little boy was missing an hour and a half, and you did not make any inquiries after him. – Witness: Yes sir.

The Coroner: All that I can say is that you are greatly to blame, and I don’t wonder at your child being drowned. What do you know about his death?

Witness said that the little boy took him to a catch pit, adjoining the London and North Western Railway, and said ‘that he was in the sewerage water.’ He obtained a hook, and the body was dragged out of the water. Dr. Blackwood was sent for, and upon his arriving he said that life had been extinct some time.

The Coroner said he considered the parent greatly to blame, and he would take the opportunity of warning him that if another child of his died under similar circumstances, he should deem it his duty to advise the jury to return a verdict of manslaughter against him, and he had no doubt he would be sentenced to a long term of imprisonment.

The witness said could not be always looking after the children.

The Coroner said it was the duty of parents to protect their children, and in the present case it was evident that they had not.

Michael Sherdon proved to finding the body in a catch pit, which contained 10ft of filthy water.

In reply to the jury, witness stated that the children must have trespassed to have got near the pool. A large portion of the pit was boarded over, but a small portion was left open in order to let the sewage matter flow in.

A juryman said he considered that the Commissioners’ attention ought to be called to the matter with a view of the place being made more safe.

The Coroner said he would see the Surveyor to the Board with reference to the matter.

The jury afterwards returned a verdict of Accidentally Drowned.”

1881 Census

1, Great Western Street – GREAT WESTERN HOTEL

[1] William Sheldon (64), victualler, born Tipton;

[2] Betsey Sheldon (62), wife, born Golds Green;

[3] John Hinkinson Sheldon (23), son, barman, born Golds Green;

[4] Mary Elizabeth Sheldon (28), daughter-in-law, doctor’s wife, born Goole, Yorkshire;

[5] Mary Wells (19), general servant, born Hill Top;

Evening Express 16/5/1881

“An adjourned conference of the representatives of the ironworkers of Staffordshire, East Worcestershire, and Shropshire was held at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, this (Monday) morning, to consider the proposals of the members in lieu of the Employers Liability Act. Mr. Piggott was voted to the chair, and there was a very meagre attendance.

The Chairman said it appeared to him, from the small attendance of representatives at the present and previous meetings, that the men had lost all interest in the proposals put forth by the masters. It was desirable that a respectful reply should be sent to the masters, and that was the reason why meetings had been called from time to time. Every man in the district in which he was now located had received a circular to attend that meeting, but he thought if they were to pass a resolution that morning the majority would not abide by it.

Mr. Willascroft said he did not think it would be wise for the meeting to take any further steps in the matter than they already done, seeing they had so few representatives present. That was the fifth meeting held for the consideration of the masters’ proposals, which had not yet come to anything definite. From the intervening meetings he had held with the workmen he represented, he found that they were entirely against the insurance scheme and in favour of adopting the Act.....”

Evening Express 23/6/1881

"On Wednesday evening, a meeting of delegates representing the various friendly societies of the district was held at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury. Mr. Cuxson presided....."

Birmingham Mail 11/1/1882 - Died

"On the 11th inst, at Wednesbury, in her 39th year, Hannah, the beloved wife of Samuel Burghope, and eldest daughter of William Sheldon, GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury."

[Samuel Burghope and family were at 2, Great Western Street in 1871, 1881 and 1891.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 6/5/1882

"Report of the Chief Registrar of Friendly Societies, &c.....

The following are amongst the societies which made returns.....

Untied Brothers branch, No.2, of the National Federation of Engineers Protection Association of Great Britain, GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury. Established 1875; funds, £34; annual income, £16; number of members, 13."

Evening Star 6/6/1882

"On Monday, E. Harper Esq, coroner, held an inquest at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, touching the death of Caroline Taylor (31), the wife of Richard Taylor, patent window blind manufacturer, Wednesbury, who was found dead in bed on Friday evening last, about 11.20. The evidence showed that the deceased's husband went home after journeying from Wolverhampton, and found his wife's bedroom door locked, and burst it open, upon which he found her dead in bed. Information was given to the police by Dr. Garman, who upon arriving found a vessel containing the dregs of vermin killer in close proximity to the bed. The husband stated that at the request of the deceased he procured some vermin killer to kill some mice. In reply to a question asked he stated that she had been in a desponding state for some time, in consequence of being in reduced circumstances.

A verdict of committed Suicide whilst in a state of Temporary Insanity was returned."

Birmingham Daily Post 20/11/1882 - Died

"On the 17th inst, in his 67th year, William Sheldon, GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury; deeply regretted."

Dudley and District News 25/8/1883

"A meeting of the operative section of the South Staffordshire Mill and Forge Wages Board was held at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Monday, when Mr. W. Ellis proposed, Mr. S. Gittings seconded, and it was unanimously resolved, 'That the Secretary be instructed to give the requisite notice at the end of the present month to discontinue the operation of the existing sliding scale, with a view of claiming a revision in the wages basis that shall include all classes of iron, and also of shortening the period during which the new sliding scale shall operate.' It was also resolved to hold a number of mass meetings in the various districts, commencing at Great Bridge, on Monday, the 3rd September."

Dudley Mercury 24/12/1887

"On Saturday night a five hours conference between the operatives section of the South Staffordshire and East Worcestershire Wages Board and the executive council of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers of Great Britain took place at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury. In the end the following resolution was carried, 'That, in view of the present favourable conditions of the trade, this meeting affirms that the time has arrived when all the members of the trade should rally round the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers of Great Britain, and that the necessary steps be taken to secure a more effective support of the Wages Board by better organisation of the trade and the formation of lodges throughout the district affected by the Board.'"

Walsall Observer 7/3/1891

"John Hinkinson Sheldon, of Wednesbury, was summoned for having a house belonging to him, the ROSE AND CROWN, Birchills, open during prohibited hours on the 25th February. Mr. G. J. Thursfield defended.

Police-constable Lycett deposed that at 11.20 he visited the house, seeing a light in the bar. Mr. and Mrs. Perry were there, and the former drank out of a jug which was before him. Mrs. McGill, the wife of the manager of the house, told him that Mr. and Mrs. Perry were friends of hers, and had paid for nothing to drink. He told them that he should report the case, and Mrs. McGill told him to take a drink and not do so.

Mr. Thursfield stated that Mrs. Perry had gone there about ten o'clock for the purpose of rubbing Mrs. McGill's chest, she having bronchitis. She stayed a little while, and her husband coming to fetch her, he stayed a short time. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Perry had anything to drink.

Mrs. McGill, Mrs. Perry, Mr. Perry, and Mr. McGill were called in support of the defence, but after they had been subjected to a severe cross-examination by the Chief Constable, the Bench inflicted a fine of 20s and costs.

John Perry and Mary Ann Perry were summoned for being found on the licensed premises, but the case was withdrawn on payment of 1s and costs."

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/3/1891

"John Hinkinson Sheldon, of the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, was charged with keeping the ROSE AND CROWN, the Birchills, open during prohibited hours. Mr. G. J. Thursfield, of Wednesbury, defended.

The evidence was to the effect that at 11.40 on the night of the 25th ult he found the front door open, and in addition to the manager (a man named McGill) and Mrs. McGill, a Mr. and Mrs. Perry, of Green Lane, were in the house. The defence was that Mrs. McGill was suffering from a cold, and that Mrs. Perry went to rub her chest with goose oil. It was denied that either Mr. or Mrs. Perry had anything to drink, and stated that they sat conversing as friends the house has been kept by Mr. McGill for 14 years without complaint. Fined 20s and costs. Mr. Sheldon said he and his father had been engaged in the trade for over 50 years, and that was the first time he had had the misfortune to appear in court. Alderman Holden regretted the misfortune, and said that but for the very contradictory evidence of the witnesses who were called for the defence they would have dealt more leniently with him. Mr. and Mrs. Perry were fined 1s and costs each."

1891 Census

1, Great Western Street

[1] Betsy Sheldon (73), hotel proprietor, born West Bromwich;

[2] Ann Mills (29), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

AND

58, Potters Lane

[1] John H. Sheldon (34), hotel manager, born West Bromwich;

[2] Sarah Eleanor Sheldon (31), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] Ernest Lloyd Sheldon (5), son, scholar, born Wednesbury;

[4] Annie Carter (16), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 24/8/1891

"A meeting of the operative member of the Sheet Committee, the members of the Council of the Associated Iron and Steel Workers, and various other delegates was held at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Saturday, for the purpose of receiving reports as to the adoption of the general wage list at the various works in South Staffordshire The reports showed that with a few exceptions the schedule had been adopted....."

Gloucester Citizen 2/1/1893

"Our Stroud readers will regret to learn that on Saturday Mr. Samuel Burghope, the secretary of the Licensed Victuallers National Defence League, died at his residence, Wood Green, Wednesbury, after a very painful illness. The deceased gentleman was well-known throughout the Midlands, having been for the last 30 years prominently identified with licensed victuallers associations, but during recent years he has devoted the major portion of his time to transacting business for the league at the head offices in London. About three months ago Mr. Burghope was seized with illness when engaged in London, and was removed to his town residence, where he remained in a very precarious state for several weeks. An improvement afterwards set in, and three weeks ago the surgeons who were attending him gave their sanction for his removal to Wednesbury. Since his arrival there he has gradually become weaker and died as stated. The deceased gentleman was born at Stroud, Gloucestershire, in January, 1840, and had he lived until today he would have been 53 years of age. He was originally intended for the law, for which profession he successfully studied. He, however, relinquished it in 1860, and accepted a position under the Great Western Railway Company. This he only held for three years, transferring his services to the London and North Western Railway Company, with whom he remained until 1879. In 1865 he married the eldest daughter of the late Mr. William Sheldon, of the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury. About that period he took a great interest in the licensing trade and rendered valuable services in organising the members. He aided the formation of a Licensed Victuallers Association for Wednesbury and District. He was subsequently elected a member of the committee of the Licensed Victuallers National Defence League, and a few years later, upon the Defence League being amalgamated with the London and Provincial League, he was appointed secretary, which office he held until his death. For many years the deceased took an active interest in friendly societies, and obtained the highest honours in the Ancient Order of Foresters, being elected High Chief Ranger in 1867. He has also prominently identified with the Freemasons, and was PM of the Athol Lodge. Birmingham. He leaves two daughters."

Birmingham Daily Post 2/10/1893

"Wednesbury Municipal Elections.

Since the announcement a few days since of the selection of Mr. J. Sheldon, of the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, to oppose Mr. Hackwood, the retiring representative of the Town Hall Ward, the latter has expressed his intention not to seek re-election....."

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 9/10/1893

"Wednesbury Municipal Election.

.....The only other contest actually decided upon so far is the representation of the Town Hall Ward, vacated by Mr. Hackwood, Mr. J. Sheldon, of the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, being before the burgesses with the support of the Conservatives and licensed victuallers, whilst his opponent, Dr. Dingley, will no doubt rally the Liberal and temperance forces."

[Sheldon was elected by 627 votes to 537.]

AND

Evening Despatch 24/4/1943

"One of Wednesbury's old public servants, ex-Alderman John Hinkinson Sheldon, has died at his home, Dudley Walk, Goldthorpe Park, Wolverhampton, aged 85. He served on Wednesbury borough council for 36 years, and was made an alderman in 1921. He was a member of the Ancient Order of Foresters since 1877, and was one of the principal advocates and keenest supporters of friendly society work in South Staffordshire. Licensee of the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL for many years, he was president of Wednesbury and Darlaston Licensed Victuallers Association for over 30 years."

Walsall Observer 4/11/1893 - Advert

"To Coal and Iron Masters, Speculators, and others.

Important Sale of a Valuable Plot of Freehold Land, with the ungotten Mines and Minerals, lately forming the site of the Moorcroft Iron Works, Moxley, near Wednesbury.

By E. Cox, on Tuesday, November 14th, 1893, at Seven o'clock in the Evening, at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL. Wednesbury....."

Sarah Eleanor Sheldon died in the 4th quarter of 1894.

Wednesbury Herald 18/5/1895

"On Tuesday night a meeting of the Licensed Victuallers Protection Association was held at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Mr. E. Birch presiding.

The delegates who attended the recent conference held in connection with the Licensed Victuallers Defence League, at Plymouth, submitted reports, which on the whole were not deemed to be satisfactory, the delegates stating that the Executive Committee controlled business and practically prohibited the representatives of private societies from making propositions.

Mr. Plant said the secretary's salary was increased £50 per annum without the delegation being consulted.

It was decided to forward petitions to the House of Commons in opposition to the Direct Veto Bill."

Wednesbury Herald 19/10/1895

"On Monday evening, Mr. Edwin Hooper (Coroner) held an inquest at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, concerning the death of Thomas Garratt (33), stock-taker, Great Western Street. The deceased was described as a healthy man, never having had a day's illness. On Saturday night whilst smoking a pipe, he suddenly fell back in his chair and died before medical aid could be obtained. It was stated that the deceased had been working very hard during the week in lifting heavy weights, and it was probable through his exertions he had strained himself.

The jury did not think a post mortem examination necessary, and a verdict of Died from Natural Causes was returned."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 10/8/1898

"The funeral took place yesterday of Mrs. Betsy Sheldon, landlady of the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, who died somewhat suddenly a few days ago. Mrs. Sheldon was the oldest licensed victualler in the town."

Birmingham Weekly Post 17/2/1900

"On Monday Mr. H. A. Pearson held an inquest at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, respecting the death of Amy Florence Jacques (7), whose parents reside at Potters Lane. On Thursday the child returned from school while her mother was away from home, and in reaching her dinner from the hob set fire to her clothing. She ran into the street in flames, which a man named Johnson extinguished. Dr. Garman, who was called in, found deceased extensively burned about the body, chest and arms, and death ensued on Saturday night. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

Sporting Life 22/9/1900

"Wednesbury Swimming Club Sports.

The seventh annual sports were held at Wednesbury on Thursday evening, Councillor J. H. Sheldon presiding over a large attendance....."

1901 Census

1, Great Western Street

[1] John Sheldon (43), licensed victualler, born West Bromwich;

[2] Maud M. Sheldon (27), wife, born Bilston;

[3] Catherine Delaney (27), domestic servant, born Sutton, Staffordshire;

[4] Florence Fones (22), domestic servant, born Sedgley;

[5] Joseph Mason (16), man servant, born Sutton, Staffordshire:

Wellington Journal 26/7/1902

"A conference of ironworkers connected with the National Ironworkers Association and the Midland Iron and Steel Wages Board was held at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Saturday, under the presidency of Mr. W. Aucott (president of the association and operative secretary of the Wages Board). Mr. James Cox (association secretary) and Mr. S. Harris (vice-chairman of the Wages Board) were also present, with 60 delegates representing 50 branches in South Staffordshire, East Worcestershire, and Shropshire. The conference was convened to consider a difficulty which has arisen in connection with wages through the operation of the sliding scale under the Wages Board....."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 3/6/1904

"Mr. A. A. Betham held an inquiry at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, yesterday, into the death of Josiah Wall, aged 58, widower, of Potters Lane, Wednesbury. The deceased was working at some shears at the Monway Ironworks, belonging to the Patent Shaft and Axletree Company, on April 22, when he dropped a piece of iron on his foot, fracturing two of his toes. On May 8 blood poisoning set in, and he died on Tuesday last. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death."

London Gazette 3/1/1905

"Advertisement of Cancelling.

Notice is hereby given, that the Chief Registrar of Friendly Societies has, pursuant to s.77 of the Friendly Societies Act, 1896, by writing under his hand, dated the 30th day of December, 1904, cancelled the Registry of the Wednesbury, Darlaston, And District Friendly Societies Medical Association (Register No.2332), held at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, on the ground that the Society has wilfully, and after notice from a Registrar, violated the provisions of the above mentioned Act, in having failed to furnish the Annual Return of the said Society for the year ending 31st December, 1902. The Society (subject to the right of appeal given by the said Act) ceases to enjoy the privileges of a registered Society, but without prejudice to any liability incurred by the Society, which may be enforced against it as if such cancelling had not taken place.

J. D. Stuart Sim, Chief Registrar."

Birmingham Daily Post 30/8/1907

"A large gathering assembled yesterday at a garden party and horse turnout competition in the Myvod House grounds, under the auspices of the Wednesbury Cricket and Lawn Tennis Club.

The horse competition resulted Best mare or gelding third, Coucillor J. H. Sheldon."

Birmingham Daily Mail 15/3/1906

"Today the following nominations were received for the Wednesbury and Oldbury parishes for seats upon the West Bromwich Board of Guardians Wednesbury No.1 district.....

J. H. Sheldon, licensed victualler, GREAT WESTERN HOTEL.

Contests have been avoided in each district."

AND

Evening Despatch 26/4/1926

"After 13 years chairmanship of West Bromwich Guardians Finance Committee, Mr. E. J. Fisher, of Oldbury, has resigned owing to advancing years and Mr. J. H. Sheldon, of Wednesbury, has been appointed to the position."

1911 Census

1, Great Western Street – GREAT WESTERN HOTEL

[1] John Hinkinson Sheldon (53), hotel keeper, born West Bromwich;

[2] Maud Sheldon (38), wife, married 12 years, born Bilston;

[3] Ernest Lloyd Sheldon (25), son, clerk, born Wednesbury;

[4] Kathleen Blud (21), waitress, born Wolverhampton;

[5] Mary Roberts (25), servant, born Wednesbury;

Dudley Chronicle 27/5/1911

"The members of the Greets Green and Wednesbury district Foresters held a special meeting at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Saturday afternoon, the whole of the Courts, with one exception, being represented. Bros. W. Dyer Drakeford, DCR, presided, with B. Groves in the vice-chair. There was a long and exhaustive discussion of the State Insurance Bill, and a resolution was passed requesting the Chancellor to appoint a committee to enquire into the probable effect of its working, and to give friendly societies a fair representation on the committee. There was a string feeling that ample time should be allowed to friendly societies to discuss the provisions of the Bill before it becomes law....."

London Gazette 22/8/1913

"Friendly Societies Act, 1896. Advertisement of Dissolution by Instrument.

Notice is hereby given, that the Wednesbury And District Juvenile Foresters Friendly Society, Register No.2403, held at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, in the county of" Stafford, is dissolved by Instrument, registered at this office, the 14th day of August, 1913, unless within three months from the date of the Gazette in which this advertisement appears proceedings be commenced by a member or other person interested in, or having any claim on, the funds of the Society, to set aside such dissolution, and the same be set aside accordingly.

G. Stuart Robertson, Chief Registrar, 28, Abingdon-street, Westminster, the 14th day of August, 1913."

South Staffordshire Times 24/1/1920

"The annual meeting of the Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers Association was held on Tuesday evening at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL. Councillor F. H. Bridgewater, the auditor, stated that the income was £338 15s 9d which included the balance brought forward from last year of £223 18s 9d. The expenditure was £110 17s, including a donation of £21 to the Mayor of Wednesbury Peace Fund, leaving a credit balance of £227 18s 9d. In moving adoption of the balance sheet the Chairman said that the figures spoke well for the success of the society. Councillor J. H. Sheldon was re-elected president on the proposition of Councillor J. Lacey.

Mr. E Birch was re-elected vice-president, and Mr. G. Lloyd and Mr. E. Birch were re-elected trustees. For the position of secretary, Mr. Lacy, jun. was elected.

Mr. George Lloyd, who was re-elected trustee, stated that he was not a chicken as he was 87. He was one of the founders of the Association in 1867; in fact, was the only one living who helped form it."

South Staffordshire Times 25/9/1920

“A presentation was made at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, last Saturday night, at a smoking concert by the employees of the Brunswick Wheel and Steel Departments of the Patent Shaft and Axletree Company, to Mr. F. Johnson, for the valuable services he had rendered for a number of years in first aid. Mr. L. S. Smart presided, and the presentation, which consisted of a gold watch, suitably inscribed, was made by Councillor H. A. Davies, general manager at the Patent Shaft Company.....”

South Staffordshire Times 8/1/1921

“The annual meeting of the Wednesbury and District Beer Retailers Association was held on Tuesday evening at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, Mr. J. H. Sheldon presiding.

The balance-sheet showed that the income during the year was £109 1s 2d, and the expenditure £134 9s 8d, a deficiency on the year's working of £25 8s 6d. The balance in the bank now stood at £204 10s 3d. Mr. A. Akers, the secretary, in his report, stated that the loss was due to the large number of deaths, which had occurred among the members during the year, and to other heavy expenses. The report and balance-sheet were adopted, and the Chairman said it was time some of the war restrictions were taken away, and the trade dealt with in a more generous manner and placed on a fair and proper basis.....”

South Staffordshire Times 9/4/1921

“A monthly meeting of the Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers and Beer Retailers Association was held on Tuesday afternoon at the ROSE HILL TAVERN, Church Hill, Wednesbury. Alderman J. H. Sheldon, who presided was congratulated upon being elected to the Aldermanic Bench of the Council, the members considering that it was an honour for their chairman, which was well merited.....”

1921 Census

1, Great Western Street – GREAT WESTERN HOTEL

[1] John Sheldon (63), hotel keeper, born West Bromwich;

[2] Maude Sheldon (44), wife, home duties, born Bilston;

[3] Alice Powell (24), barmaid, born Wednesbury:

South Staffordshire Times 28/1/1922

“The annual meeting of the Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers Association was held Tuesday evening, at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, when Ald. J. H. Sheldon presided.....”

South Staffordshire Times 15/12/1923

“Alderman J. H. Sheldon, the president, took the chair at the annual meeting of the Wednesbury and Darlaston Licensed Victuallers Friendly Society, on Tuesday evening, at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Victoria Street, when there was a good company present Alderman Sheldon was re-elected president for the year, though he stated that he was leaving the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, where he had been resident for 63 years, and would rather someone else took over the office. That was his 29th year as president of the association.....”

South Staffordshire Times 15/12/1923

“Mr. J. H. Sheldon (Alderman) applied for the transfer of the license of the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Victoria Street to Mr. Westall. In granting the application the chairman commented upon the long period of Alderman Sheldon as licensee, 63 years, and wished him long life in his retirement. Supt. Salt associated himself with the remarks.

Mr. Sheldon: Thank you, sir.”

Dudley Chronicle 3/1/1924

“Events in Wednesbury during the past twelve months.....

Alderman J. H. Sheldon, licensee of the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, notified, after 63 years in the trade at that house, that he was retiring into private life.”

South Staffordshire Times 12/7/1924

"A monthly meeting of the Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers Society was held on Tuesday afternoon at the ROSE HILL TAVERN, Church Hill, Wednesbury, when Alderman J. H. Sheldon presided.....

Two new members were made, Mr. G. Westall, GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, and Mr. G. Cartwright, OAKESWELL TAVERN, Wednesbury.

Bilston & Willenhall Times 4/4/1925

"Not keeping to the footpath is said to have been the cause of death of James Davies (82), 38 Potters Lane, Wednesbury, who died from shock after being knocked down by a motor car on Camphill Lane, on March 26th. An inquest was held by the District Coroner (Mr. W. C. Checkley), at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Wednesday, when Mr. J. F. Bourke (instructed by Haynes and Duffel, Birmingham) appeared for Messrs. Baldwin Ltd., owners of the car.

The first witness was Grace Davies (34), single daughter of the deceased, and residing at 39, Potters Lane. She said her father, who was an old age pensioner, was formerly a pattern maker at Messrs. John Russell's, but he had done no work for the last three years. He enjoyed fairly good health, with the exception that he was slightly deaf. About 11 o'clock on Tuesday, March 26th, he went on an errand, and subsequently she heard he had been knocked down by a motor car and taken to the hospital at West Bromwich. She went to that institution, but her father, after treatment, was allowed to return home. He died on Tuesday, March 30th. She asked him if he remembered anything about the accident and he told her he did not.

Superintendent Gilman (on behalf of Superintendent Sault): Was he in the habit of walking about with his head very low, and taking no notice of what was going by? – His head was not as upright as it should be, but that was on account of his age.

Phillip Horace Crump, a horse lorry driver, residing at 25, Albert Street, Wednesbury, said about 11.30 on March 26th, he was going from the works of Messrs. Russell and Sons, in Upper Dudley Street, and as he crossed the road in Union Street, he saw a motor car catch the deceased with a mud-guard. The car was travelling along Camphill Lane on its proper side, and at a very slow pace. It seemed to strike the man in the side, and when he fell into the road he rolled away from the car into the gutter.

The Coroner: And so far as you saw, the motor car was being driven carefully? – Yes, sir.

Questioned by Mr. Bourke, witness said the car stopped almost immediately after it hit the deceased.

Harold Benjamin Jacks, of Selly Park Road, Birmingham, commercial traveller, stated he was being driven in a touring car by Henry Alfred Foley, along Camphill Lane. They were going at a slow speed, because they were approaching cross roads, and the driver had blown his horn. He saw deceased walking slowly on the edge of the footpath in the same direction as the car was going, and looking in the ground. Just as the car got abreast of him, without the slightest warning, he stepped into the road. He took two steps, was caught by the near mud-guard, staggered and fell into the gutter. The car was travelling slowly and stopped about four or five feet after it hit the deceased.

The Coroner: Was there any possibility of avoiding him? – Witness: None whatever.

No possibility of stopping the car? – He walked into it, and had the blow before one realised he had got into the carriage way.

Mr. Bourke: How far were the near wheels to the gutter? – Very close, a matter of a couple of feet.

Henry Alfred Foley, the driver of the car, residing at 4 back of 28, Tennant Street, Ladywood, chauffeur to the last witness and employed by Messrs. Baldwins Ltd., said he sounded his horn several times before he got to the corner, because he knew the cross roads well. Apart from that, he had to slow up a short distance from the corner, because of workmen in the road. He noticed the deceased on the footpath, and when he stepped suddenly off the footpath the car was going very slowly. After deceased fell, he rolled into the gutter, and, witness thought, caught his head against the kerb-stone. It was impossible to avoid the accident, but had he been going faster he would doubtless have missed the man altogether.

Answering Mr. Bourke, witness said deceased never looked round.

Superintendent Sault: Had he been to the left of the footpath, he would have a better chance of seeing you? – Oh, Yes.

Witness added, in answer to the other questions from the Superintendent, that the accident was caused by the deceased being on the extreme edge of the footpath with his back to the on-coming traffic. It was always safer to walk on the left of the footpath, and to cross the road facing on-coming traffic.

PC Tudor spoke of making enquiries regarding the accident, in the course of which he saw Dr. Lionel Dingley, who told him that deceased died from shock, caused by the accident. The doctor also said the injuries he received were not severe, and if they had happened to a younger man he would have recovered.

The Coroner said the occurrence was a sad one, but, after all, deceased had no one but himself to blame for the accident. It seemed he stepped off the footpath without looking round or taking the slightest regard of what might be coming along the highway. He was satisfied that the accident was inevitable, and that the driver was in no way to blame. He returned a verdict of Accidental Death.

Mr. Jacks expressed his regret at the unfortunate occurrence, and added he would be willing to contribute towards the funeral expenses."

Bilston and Willenhall Times 11/2/1928

"Mr. A. Hughes who recently retired from the position of G.W.R. goods agent at Wednesbury, which position he had held for 13 years, was the recipient of a wallet containing £43 at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, on Wednesday night. Making the presentation on behalf of Wednesbury and Darlaston traders, the Mayor (Councillor W. H. Wesson) spoke of the tact and ability of Mr. Hughes and his fair dealing with the traders whilst not forgetting his duty to the company. Supporting the Mayor's remarks Mr. D. Tonks paid a tribute to the capabilities of Mr. Hughes. In expressing his thanks to the traders for the gift, Mr. Hughes voiced his appreciation of the efforts of Mr. T. Dexter (treasurer) and Mr. A. E. Pitt (secretary) of the fund on his behalf."

1939 Register

1, Great Western Street – Public House

[1] Fred Bates, date of birth 12/2/1884, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Bessie Bates, dob 1/6/1888, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Winifred M. (Bates) Simmonite, dob 26/4/1907, domestic servant, single;

[4] Doris H. (Bates) Fisher, dob 31/7/1915, unemployed, single:

Fred Bates died in the 1st quarter of 1940.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 29/2/1940

"Latest donations to the West Midlands and Express and Star Comforts Fund.....

Wednesbury. Previously acknowledged, £344 1s 3½d.....

GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, darts and dominoes tournament, £1 3s 9d."

Rugeley Times 8/2/1941

"The monthly report of the West Bromwich and District General Hospital, just issued, shows that the patients report for the month of December was in-patients admitted, 55; out-patients admitted to the several special departments, 284; to the casualty department, 905; attendance in all departments, 3,485.

Donations acknowledged for the month of December, 1940, were.....

GREAT WESTERN INN, Wednesbury £2 1s."

Walsall Observer 4/3/1944

"Two Wednesbury vicars and a Roman Catholic priest were among a number of Wednesbury people who were ordered by the Stipendiary (Mr. B. G. Grimley) at Wednesbury on Tuesday to pay fines for obtaining more coal than they were entitled to. Defending Mr. Walter Randle, trading as F. C. Randle and Co., coal merchants, of Wednesbury, summoned for supplying the coal, Mr. O. L. Bergendorf said their stocks of coal were so plentiful that they requested the colliery company not to send any more supplies for the time being; but the colliery company replied that they could not suspend the supplies and that his clients must have the coal. Those summoned for unlawfully obtaining coal they were not entitled to were.....

Bessie Bates, G. W. HOTEL.....

Randle was fined £5 for each of the twelve offence, 4s costs on two delivery note offences, and £16 5s 6d costs, making a total of £76 9s 6d....."

[Bessie Bates was fined 30s.]

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Darts League, Second Division. [1946]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 6/10/1970 - Advert

“Carpet Sale of misfit and reject Carpets at the GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Great Western Street, Wednesbury, October 7, from 5.30pm to 7.30pm. This is a private sale, not by auction, these carpets are in beautiful colours and designs, not in correct patterns but the quality is there.....”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 11/7/1973 - Advert

“Pifco Electric Paint Stripper, £3.

Apply, GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, 1 Great Western Street, Wednesbury after 6pm.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 11/5/1976 - Notice

“The Licensing Act, 1964. West Midlands Metropolitan County.

Notice is Hereby Given that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1910, by the Compensation Authority for the above area, will be held at the Council Chambers, Council House, Smethwick, Warley, on the 25th day of June, 1976, at 3.30pm.

And Notice is Hereby Also Given that the Compensation Authority will at the meeting be prepared to hear with reference to the renewal of the licenses of the several premises specified in the subjoined list, all those persons to whom under the Licensing Act, 1964, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard.....

GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Great Western Street, Wednesbury. License, Intoxicating liquor of all descriptions. Licensee, William Wilkinson Hill.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 8/7/1976 - Notice

“The Licensing Act, 1964. West Midlands Metropolitan County.

Notice as to sending in Claims to be treated as Persons interested in Licensed Premises.

Notice is Hereby Given that, the compensation authority for the above area having decided at their principal meeting held on the 25th day of June, 1976, to refuse the renewal of the licenses specified below, all persons claiming to be interested in the said premises for the purpose of compensation under the said Act (other than the licensee and the registered owners of the said premises) are required to send to the compensation authority notice of their claims before the 2nd day of August, 1976.....

GREAT WESTERN HOTEL, Great Western Street, Wednesbury. License, Intoxicating liquor of all descriptions. Licensee, William Wilkinson Hill.”

c1960s

GREEN DRAGON

9, Market Place, (Wednesbury Fruit Market), (High Street) / The Shambles, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd. [1921], [1937]

LICENSEES

William Rock [1791] – [1810]
Mrs. Martha Rock [1815] – 1816);
Richard Woolrich (1816 – [1820]
Thomas Keay [1818]
Mrs. Martha Woolrich [1822]
Joseph Hobbins [1827] – [1837]`
Joshua Thompson [1839] – [1842]
Obadiah Howl [1845]
Thomas Hughes (1846 – 1860);
Josiah Griffiths (1860 – 1864)
Sarah Griffiths [1862]
Josiah Cornforth [] – 1864);
Thomas Maunders (1864 – 1870);
Joseph Taylor (1870 – [1881]
Thomas Taylor [1873]
Frederick Lynden [1885] manager
Edwin Butler [1888] – [1893]
Thomas Rigby [1893]
James Rigby [1896]
Edward James Wood [1900]
William H. Hadley [1901]
Leo Thomas Beighton [1903] – [1904]
Francis Henry 'Frank' Cook [1908] – 1936);
John Underwood (1936 – [1944]
Hawkswood [1950]
Holman [1953]
Wilfred Sanson Meir [] – 1961);
George William Sawle (1961 – 1963);

NOTES

High Street [1822], [1828], [1830]
Market Place [1850], [1860], [1861], [1896], [1908], [1911]
9, Market Place [1911], [1912], [1932], [1939], [1940]
8½, Market Place [1921]

3d Tokens were issued from here "GREEN DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury. W. Butler & Co. Ltd."

Auctions were frequently held here.

Ex-pub 2025

Token

William Rock, whitesmith and DRAGON INN, Wednesbury. [1791]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 29/10/1798 - Advert

"Thomas Parkes's Creditors.

All Persons who have any Claim or Demand upon the Estate and Effects of the late Mr. Thomas Parkes, of the GEORGE INN, at Wednesbury, deceased, are desired to send in an Account of their Claims in twenty Days from the Date hereof, unto Mr. William Rock, at the Sign of the GREEN DRAGON, in Wednesbury aforesaid (one of the Executors named in the last Will of the said Mr. Parkes) in order that the same may be settled; and all Persons who are any Ways indebted to the said Mr. Parkes, are desired to pay the same immediately into the Hands of the said Mr. Rock.

Wednesbury, October 29, 1798."

Staffordshire Advertiser 21/9/1799

"On Monday se'nnight, the GREEN DRAGON public house, in the centre of Wednesbury, gradually sunk into the earth, occasioned, it is supposed, by the coals having been got from beneath the foundation, and the props left giving way; as the cellar and lower part were some time descending, the furniture was taken out, and the family had left the house in time to prevent any accident happening to them. Another house, and some shops adjoining, have also since given way."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 17/2/1800 - Advert

"Ironstone.

To be Sold by Auction, by Francis Pool, on Friday the 21st day of February, 1800, at the House of Mr. William Rock, the Sign of the GREEN DRAGON, in Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, at Four o'clock in the Afternoon, subject to such Conditions as will be then produced, a Quantity of Ironstone now lying upon a Piece of Land nearly adjoining the Market Place, in the Town of Wednesbury aforesaid.

The Stone may be viewed, and Particulars known by applying to Mr. William Rock aforesaid."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 31/12/1804 - Advert

"To be Sold by private Contract, those Pieces of Land, lying and being in Monway Field, near Wednesbury, containing, by Estimation, two Acres and a Half, be the same more or less, together with all those rich and valuable Mines of Coal, Ironstone, and Clay contained therein, late the Property of Mr. Robert Spittle, deceased.

For Particulars enquire of the Executors, Mr. William Blagborne, at Mr. Richard Moore's, Wednesbury, or of Mr. Thomas Horton, West Bromwich.

NB. If the above Lands and Mines are not sold by private Contract before Monday the 7th of January next, they will be sold by public Auction, at the House of Mr. Rock, the Sign of the GREEN DRAGON. The Sale to begin at Four o'clock in the Afternoon."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 7/5/1810 - Advert

"To File-Makers.

Wanted, by the Gun Lock Committee, a steady Person capable of undertaking the Management of a File Manufactory. For Particulars apply to Mr. William Rock, DRAGON INN, Wednesbury."

William Rock died in November 1810.

William Rock – see also GEORGE.

TO FILE-MAKERS.
WANTED, by the Gun Lock Committee, a steady Person capable of undertaking the Management of a File Manufactory.—For Particulars apply to Mr. WILLIAM ROCK, Dragon Inn, Wednesbury.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 16/10/1815 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction, on the Premises, by Isaac Farror, on Tuesday the 24th Day of October instant (by Direction of the Assignees) the Stock in Trade, Tools, useful Household Furniture, Carts, and other Effects belonging to Mr. Thomas Bulluss, of High Bullen, in Wednesbury, Gun Barrel Maker, Grocer, Dealer in Earthenware, &c; Catalogues of which will be distributed in due Time, and may he had at Mrs. Rock's, the GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury, and of the Auctioneer, 28, New Street, Birmingham.

The Sale to commence at Ten in the Morning."

William Rock's widow, Martha (30), married Richard Woolrich (26), bachelor, on 6th January 1816.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 15/7/1816 - Advert

"To be Let, and entered upon immediately, all that well accustomed Inn and Premises, called and known by the Sign of the GREEN DRAGON, situate in the Market Place, in, Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, with a good Stable for five Horses, three Shops, a Warehouse, and an excellent Garden and Croft of Land behind the same, lately occupied by the Widow Rock, but now of Mr. Richard Woolrich, who is going to a Farm.

The Stock and Furniture to be taken at fair Valuation.

For Particulars apply to Mr. Jesson, Attorney, Walsall."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 2/6/1817 - Advert

"I Do hereby give Notice, that I will not pay or be accountable for any Debts which my Wife Martha, late Martha Rock, Widow of the late William Rock, of Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, shall or may contract, she having a sperate Maintenance.

Given under my Hand this 20th Day of May, 1817. Richard Woolrich."

Thomas Keay was also a plumber, glazier and painter. [1818]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 25/9/1820 - Advert

"Whereas a capital Tilted Cart, with Iron Arms, belonging to Wm. Joy, has been left at Mr. Woolrich's, the GREEN DRAGON INN, Wednesbury; this is to give Notice, that unless the said Cart is redeemed before Friday, October 20, 1820, it will be sold by Auction, by John Taylor, at Two o'clock on that Day, to defray the Expenses."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 1/12/1823

"The Creditors who have proved their debts under a Commission of Bankrupt awarded and issued forth against Richard Woolrich, late of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Innholder, dealer and chapman, deceased, are desired to meet the Assignees of the estate and effects of the said bankrupt on the sixth day of December, 1823, at twelve o'clock at noon, at the GEORGE HOTEL, in Walsall, in the county of Stafford, in order to assent to or dissent from the said Assignees selling and disposing of, by private contract or otherwise, certain real Estate of the said bankrupt, situate in the parish of Wednesbury aforesaid; and on other special affairs."

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/10/1827

"Timor Fairbanks, of Birmingham, an itinerant dealer in haberdashery and hardware, preferred a charge of assault against Mr. Hobbins, landlord of the THREE DRAGONS [sic], Wednesbury, and also against Mr. Lees and Mr. Dawes; and a very serious affair indeed, Timor was for making it. For, on the 17th of August, he said he happened to call at the THREE DRAGONS, and, as a honest and clever tradesman should, offered his goods for sale to the landlord; whereupon, without any provocation whatever, the landlord and the two gentlemen with him began to abuse him, charged him with having a forged license, took his knives and forks and four silk handkerchiefs from him, tore his license, and so maltreated his precious person, that he almost thought he should never be able to do any more business in the haberdashery and hardware line; and after all, and it was 'the unkindest cut of all,' Mr. Hobbins assailed him with one of his own knives and forks and turned him out of the house.

Mr. Whateley cross-examined Timor; but he stuck to his position that he had behaved in the quietest and most lamb-like manner, and by no means had done or said any thing to provoke so serious an attack; that he had called none of them thieves, nor highwaymen, neither had he lifted up a finger against any one of them. He explained that when he said he had been so injured that he thought he could not have it in his power to have transacted any more business, he meant that he should have 'his eyes blocked up, and not be in a condition to go to any respectable house.' Timor was very loath to acknowledge that he had brought a charge of felony against the defendants; but, after repeated questions from the learned Counsel, he said that 'he had laid a bill before the Grand Jury against them, for taking away his goods, not for stealing them;' and that it had been thrown out.

Mr. Whateley, for the defendants, put it to the Jury whether it was at all likely that the three respectable gentlemen who were his clients, could have been guilty of the conduct imputed to them by this man, and that without provocation? He would, however, call a person who was present, who would give a very different statement of the affair.

Thomas Bate, who was at the GREEN DRAGON at the time in question, then was sworn; and he stated that Timor was behaving in a very rude manner in the house; that he called Mr. Dawes and Mr. Lees highway robbers; and said that Mr. Hobbins was no better for harbouring them. He struck Mr. Dawes, and knocked his hat off, before he was touched by any one; and that no force was used towards him more than was necessary to turn him out of the house. After some observations from the Chairman, the Jury immediately acquitted the defendants.”

The Tally-ho coach to Birmingham left from here every morning at 8 and afternoon at half past 1. [1828]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 19/3/1832 - Advert

“A most eligible opportunity for an industrious Person.

Public House to be Let, with immediate possession, the KING AND CONSTITUTION INN, Wednesbury, fitted up in the most complete manner, with large tap-room, two parlours, bar, &c, six lodging-rooms, detached cooking kitchen, brewhouse, stable, piggeries, large garden, and abundant supply of water, late in the occupation of Mr. T. Stone, deceased.

Apply to Mr. Hobbins, GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury.

NB. No Good-will, Stock, or Fixtures to be taken to.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 22/12/1834

“Russel v Cowley and Co. The friends and neighbours of Messrs. James Russel and Son, with a laudable anxiety to demonstrate their gratitude for the great personal sacrifices made by those gentlemen in their unwearied prosecution of their Chancery suit, entertained them on Wednesday the 10th inst, at a most sumptuous banquet provided by Mr. Hobbins, of the GREEN DRAGON INN, Wednesbury, congratulatory of the successful termination of the case, and consequent establishment of their well-merited patent right. Sixty-two gentlemen sat down to dinner under the able presidency of E. Hinchliffe, Esq, of West Bromwich, and the conviviality and sterling old English feeling which predominated throughout the evening, furnished the surest test of the conviction of all present of the justice of the cause which all were met to commemorate.

The public at large, and more particularly all patentees in the kingdom, ought to feel grateful to Mr. J. Russel for the determination and perseverance with which he has not only defended his own right, but established a legal precedent by which persons who have displayed and exercised their talents and time, and spent their money in bringing to perfection any useful invention, will not in future, upon frivolous grounds or legal technicalities, have their rights destroyed or infringed upon by other parties wishing to reap the benefit of their ingenuity.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 15/5/1837 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, by E. and C. Robins, on Friday the 26th of May inst, at four o'clock in the afternoon, at the GREEN DRAGON INN, in Wednesbury, either in the following or such other lots as may be agreed upon.....

Lot I. All that substantial and respectable Inn or Public House, known by the sign of the GREEN DRAGON, with Liquor Shop and Vaults attached, situate in the Market Place, now occupied by Mr. Joseph Hobbins, with complete out-offices, front and back carriage entrances, yard, and part of the present garden.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/1/1838

“An inquest was held on Saturday last, before H. Smith, Esq, coroner, at the GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury, on the body of a new born male infant, the illegitimate offspring of Ann Thirsfield, a woman about thirty years of age, and whom the result of the inquiry has most seriously affected.

According to the evidence of Sarah Thirsfield, who is sister-in-law to the mother of the child, and in the habit of attending poor neighbouring women when confined, she was present when the child was born, which was about four o'clock on Saturday morning, the 23rd of December, and after doing everything requisite on such occasions, she left about five o'clock. The child was perfectly healthy, and free from some marks on its face and lips which had since been pointed out to her. A little after eight o'clock Ann Thirsfield's sister came for her, and said the child was dead. On hastening to the mother she found her in bed, as she had left her, and the child lying dead by her side; it was cold and stiff, and appeared to have been dead several hours. She laid out the body, and dressed it in the clothes in which it was buried; and she was sure that the body of the child she had seen since the present inquiry had been instituted was the same. When she first looked at the child after its death, she said to the mother, ‘Good God, Nance, what have you done at this child?’ The mother replied she had done nothing at it, and witness rejoined, ‘I would not have had it happen for all the world.’ Witness asked if the child had been bad, and when the mother perceived it to alter, and the reply was that it had not been bad, and that she first perceived it change about five o'clock, when, it appeared, a little boy of Ann Thirsfield had been sent to fetch the witness, but he had only named that his mother was bad, in consequence of which the witness did not think it necessary to go then, as Ann Thirsfield had her sister with her, and she was busily engaged. In consequence of the discolouration of the child's face, witness asked if it had had fits, to which the mother replied she did not know what had been the matter with it. Mr. Lees, surgeon, had, pointed out some marks on the child's face which appeared to witness to have been caused by some violence. The marks were upon the upper and lower lip, and upon the right cheek, the inside of the lips were black when she laid out the child, and its face was of a purple colour.

Mary Thirsfield, sister to Ann Thirsfield, said that she was present at the birth of the child, and corroborated the evidence of the preceding witness in most particulars; adding, that she attended her sister, and that no person except herself, the midwife, and her sister's son, a boy about six years old, was in the chamber between the time of the birth of the child in the morning, and when she saw it lying dead in Sarah Thirsfield's lap at night. Her sister had sent her son for Sarah Thirsfield about four o'clock, and again about eight, but as he loitered by the way, witness herself went and fetched her. She was sure the body she had seen pending the present inquiry was the body of the child which she took to the sexton for interment, but she did not observe the marks it now had on its face when it lay dead in the house.

Henry Marlborough, the sexton, proved the body on which the inquest was held was the same that he had received for interment from Mary Thirsfield on the evening of Christmas-day, and that it had been taken up by order of Mr. Taylor, the constable.

Mr. Frederick Lees, surgeon, said he had examined the body of the child, and that it was full grown, and at maturity in every respect. On examining the body externally he found that the face, head, neck and extremities bore a livid appearance; the nails of the hands and of the great toes were of a dark purple colour, and there was an excessive discolouration of the upper and lower lip on the left side, with corresponding marks on the inside of the lips. There was also a bruise on the end of the nose encircling the whole of the mouth, and the tongue was protruded and very much bruised. On the middle of the right cheek there was another circular bruise, and a little above that a slight indentation, which he thought might have been produced by the pressure of a finger nail. There could be no doubt that these appearances were produced by some violence, and it was very likely the pressure of a hand and fingers placed over the mouth would have caused them. It was impossible they could have been caused after death. On opening the body he found the brain and the chest very much gorged with blood, which, with the external appearances above described, he had no doubt was produced by suffocation from external violence.

After an able summing up of the evidence by the coroner, the jury returned a verdict of Wilful Murder against Ann Thirsfield, the mother of the child, and the coroner issued his warrant for her commitment for trial at the next Stafford Assizes. The prisoner remains at present in the workhouse, at Wednesbury, whither she had been removed, and will stay there until sufficiently recovered to be taken to Stafford."

AND

Suffolk Chronicle 24/3/1838

"At the Assizes, at Stafford, on the 15th instant, Ann Thursfield was indicted for the wilful murder of her illegitimate child by suffocating it, but Mr. Baron Gurney observed, as the evidence of the surgeon, the first witness, proved that the marks on the face might be caused by the child being overlaid, it was unnecessary to go further. Not Guilty!"

Wolverhampton Chronicle 3/4/1839 - Advert

"A New Day Coach to Lichfield, called the Dart.

The Inhabitants of Wolverhampton, Bilston, Wednesbury, Walsall, and their vicinities, are respectfully informed that the above Coach has commenced running every Day (Sundays excepted), at Half-past Seven o'clock in the Morning, from the NEW HOTEL, Wolverhampton, and takes its route through Bilston, Wednesbury, and Walsall, to Lichfield, in time for the Telegraph to Burton, Derby, and Leeds; it calls at the KINGS ARMS INN, Bilston, at a quarter before Eight in the morning; the GREEN DRAGON INN, Wednesbury, at Eight o'clock; and at the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall, at half-past Eight. It returns from the George Hotel, Lichfield at half-past Two o'clock the same afternoon, arriving in Wolverhampton in time for the first and second class trains to Liverpool and Manchester, for coaches to Dudley, Stourbridge, and Kidderminster, for Wonder to Shrewsbury, and the Shropshire Hero to Bridgnorth."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 6/5/1839 - Advert

"GREEN DRAGON INN, Market Place, Wednesbury.

To be Sold by private Contract, all that old-established Inn or Public House known by the sign of the GREEN DRAGON, with Liquor Shop and Vaults attached, situate in the Market Place, Wednesbury, now occupied by Mr. Joshua Thompson, with complete Out-offices, Stables front and back Carriage entrances, Yard, and Garden thereto belonging.

For further particulars and to treat for the same apply to Mr. Hunt, Solicitor, Wednesbury."

1841 Census

High Street and Market Place

[1] Joshua Thompson (45), innkeeper, born Staffordshire;

[2] Ann Thompson (44), born Staffordshire;

[3] Caroline Thompson (20), born Staffordshire;

[4] Henry Thompson (15), born Staffordshire;

[5] Emma Fletcher (20), f.s., born Staffordshire;

[6] Phoebe Kendrick (18), f.s., born Staffordshire:

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/3/1842

“Stanway v Rock.

This was an action of ejectment to recover possession of a piece of land adjacent to the Market Place, in Wednesbury. The trial of the cause occupied seven hours, about a dozen witnesses being called in support of the plaintiff's case. It appeared the Mr. Stanway had purchased the land in question of the Lords of the Manor, Sir John Scott and Mr. Foley, and that a conveyance of the property had been made to him. The defendant, William Rock, who is in possession, refused to surrender the land.

It seemed that some years ago, a person of the name of Rock (a relation to the defendant) occupied the GREEN DRAGON public house adjoining the ground in question; and that after his death his widow married Richard Woolrych, who about the year 1815 entered into an agreement with the Lords of the Manor to purchase the ground adjoining the GREEN DRAGON for £30, and subsequently enclosed the land by causing to be placed round it a fence composed of thorns, posts, and rails. Mr. Woolrych, however, never paid the £30 to the Lords of the Manor, and as he was unable to raise that sum he had no conveyance of the land executed to him; but notwithstanding, he took possession, and in 1816 built thereon some shambles. In consequence of not paying the purchase money, Woolrych stood in the situation of tenant at will to the Lords of the Manor, until such time as he might pay the purchase money, and the land be transferred to him, which was never done. In January, 1822, Woolrych died, which terminated the relation of landlord and tenant between him and the Lords of the Manor; and without evidence of a subsequent tenancy, Mr. Stanway would have no right to recover the premises in question, as this action of ejectment would not under the circumstances have been brought within 20 years of the right of the Lords of the Manor accruing, as required by the Act of Parliament.

In order to prove subsequent tenancy, a witness was called with the view of shewing that after the death of Mr. Woolrych, his widow, Mrs. Woolrych, became the tenant to the Lords of the Manor. This witness did not prove that any rent was ever paid by Mrs. Woolrych (and it appeared from previous evidence that no rent was ever paid by her husband during the six or seven years he occupied), but the witness stated that he remembered having been sent by the agent of the Lords of the Manor to Mrs. Woolrych several months after the death of her husband, and that he told her he wanted the rent for the land where the shambles stood, to which she replied that she would come over to the rent house in half-an-hour. No further evidence was adduced to prove that Mrs. Woolrych did go to the rent house and pay the rent; but it appeared that subsequent to that time she received rent for the shambles which had been erected by her husband, and therefore it was contended on the part of Mr. Stanway that Mrs. Woolrych had contracted the relation of landlord and tenant between the Lords of the Manor and herself.

The learned Judge, in summing up, told the jury that if they were satisfied that Mrs. Woolrych did ever become tenant to the Lords of the Manor, then the plaintiff was entitled to recover possession of the ground on which the shambles stood, inasmuch as he had then brought his action within 20 years of his right accruing; but if they were not satisfied that such tenancy had ever existed, then they would find a verdict for the defendant, as the plaintiff was bound to prove his own right to the property. The defendant being in possession, was not called on to prove his right. The jury returned a verdict for the defendant.”

[Another action was subsequently brought and Mr. Stanway was put in possession.]

[The land was later tenanted from Mr. Stanway's widow by Thomas Butler. In 1854 he sued Thomas Hughes for damages for trespass and won. In the evidence Thomas Hughes stated that he had occupied the GREEN DRAGON for eight years.]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 31/5/1843

“Children’s Employment Commission. Wednesbury. From Mr. Horne’s Report.

.....In the brief description I have always given in my evidence of each child or young person I examined, you will be pleased to observe that the great majority are described as being healthy, clean, and well clothed. They are also very well fed. The boys are not generally subject to any severe corporal chastisement; but a few had instances occasionally occur, in which boys are beaten with a thick stick, or a piece of iron. A few months ago an adult workman broke a boy’s arm by a blow with a piece of iron. The boy went to school till his arm got well; his father and mother thought it a good opportunity to give him some schooling.....

I regret to be obliged to give very much the same account of the drunkenness of the adults here as in the other towns of the district. Saturday and Monday are the favourite days for getting drunk. Those who work all night at the ironworks commonly devote the next day to drinking.

The following memorandum is copied verbatim from my note book.

Wednesbury, April 2, 1841. Went into the GREEN DRAGON; conversation with the landlord Mr. Joshua Thompson, and others in the coffee-room. Went into the tap-room; saw a collier dancing; nobody else in the room except a boy and a blind fiddler, who was engaged by the collier to play as long as he danced. He had placed a large jug of ale beside his fiddler. Had been dancing long before I arrived. People now came in, and stood in a circle round the dancing man The floor was all kicked up in the centre; planks all ragged and torn by the hob-nailed shoes of these dancers. Landlord told me there were scores of them in almost every room on Saturday and Monday nights. Should be obliged to lay down a new floor soon.....”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 29/11/1843 - Advert

“GREEN DRAGON INN, Wednesbury.

To Publicans and persons in want of an old established Public House and Liquor Shop, in the centre of the Market Place.

To be Sold by Auction, by Septimus Davis, on Monday next, the 4th day of December, 1843, on the premises.

The valuable Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the above excellent house and premises, with good Stabling, Coach-houses, and large Yard.

The premises are in good repair, in the centre of the Market Place, and in one for the best situations in Wednesbury. The household goods, brewing vessels, fixtures, and stock, to be taken to at a fair valuation by the purchaser.

The licenses will be put up at twelve o’clock in the forenoon, and if not sold, the whole of the furniture, fixtures, stock in trade, and other effects, will be Sold by Auction immediately after, and continue on that and the following day.

Full particulars will appear in catalogues, to be had at the place of sale, and of the Auctioneer, West Bromwich; or to treat by private contract apply to Mr. J. B. Hebbert, Solicitor, Temple Street, Birmingham.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 2/1/1847

“Whereas a Petition of Obadiah Howl, late of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, licensed victualler, at the same time in partnership with Thomas Howl, of Darlaston, in the county of Stafford, omnibus proprietor, trading under the style or firm of Howl and Company, omnibus proprietors; and now of Darlaston aforesaid, licensed to brew and sell ale and beer by retail, and driver of an omnibus to and from Birmingham to Darlaston, an Insolvent Debtor, having been filed in the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy, and the interim order for Protection from process having been given to the said Obadiah Howl, under the provision of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said Obadiah Howl is hereby required to appear in Court before John Balguy, Esq, QC, the Commissioner acting in the matter of the said Petition on the 19th day of January next, at half-past 11 o’clock in the forenoon precisely, at the District Court of Bankruptcy, at Birmingham, in the county of Warwick, for his first examination, touching his Debts, Estate and Effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes, and the choice of the Creditors’ Assignees is to take place at the time so appointed.

All Person indebted to the said Obadiah Howl, or that have any of his Effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. Richard Valpy, Waterloo Street, Birmingham, the Official Assignee nominated in that behalf by the Commissioner acting in the matter of the said Petition.”

A coach to Birmingham left from here every Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, at 9 in the morning. [1849]

1851 Census

Market Place West

- [1] Thomas Hughes (39), victualler, born Darlaston;
- [2] Sarah Hughes (40), wife, born Darlaston;
- [3] Hannah Hughes (18), daughter, house servant, born Darlaston;
- [4] Miriam Hughes (16), daughter, house servant, born Darlaston;
- [5] John Balairs (50), stable servant, born Peterborough;
- [6] John Blakemore (18), apprentice, born Darlaston:

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1852

"On Wednesday, the annual petty sessions for the Hundred of Offlow South was held.....

The following publicans were cautioned only.....

Thomas Hughes, GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury, open on Sunday."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 6/10/1852

"Adjourned licensing sessions.....

The suspended cases were brought forward for decision.....

Thomas Hughes, of Wednesbury, was cautioned, and his license given to him again."

The Era 4/2/1855

"A Tradesman's ball was held on Monday last at Mr. Hughes's, GREEN DRAGON INN, Market Place, Wednesbury, where upwards of fifty couples kept up the dancing until a late hour. A most excellent band was in attendance, under the direction of Mr. Joseph Budd. Mr. H. Moreton, R.A.M., was the M.C."

Birmingham Journal 22/9/1855

"Rejoicing at the Fall of Sebastopol. The demonstration of loyal and patriotic feeling which the news of the capture of the Russian stronghold evoked, has nowhere exceeded, if it has equalled, the popular ebullition of feeling at the town of Wednesbury on Monday last.....

Barrels of ale were given by Mr. Hughes, GREEN DRAGON.

The churches, railway stations, manufactories, workshops, and most of the private houses were profusely dressed with brilliantly emblazoned flags and banners. The following were among the most striking.....

Mr. Hughes, GREEN DRAGON, Market Place."

Birmingham Journal 12/3/1856

"During Wednesday last a man about thirty years of age, who said he was a blacksmith, from Macclesfield, was in Wednesbury, it was inferred, in search of work. As night came on he had applied at several public houses in the town for a night's lodging, but not succeeding, it is supposed that during the night he went into the hay loft at Mr. Thomas Hughes's, GREEN DRAGON INN. This is but conjecture, but on the following morning the fact presented itself of the poor tramp lying lifeless at the foot of the wood ladder or steps leading up to the loft. There is little question in such a state of things; that awaking, and desirous to leave the place, he either missed or forgot the loft steps, and falling to the earth dislocated his neck."

Birmingham Journal 12/3/1859 - Advert

"Valuable Freehold Property, Market Place, Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Joseph Dawes, at the GREEN DRAGON INN, Wednesbury, on the 18th of March, 1859, at Three pm precisely, by direction of the Assignees of William Rock, late of West Bromwich, in the county of Stafford, Commission Agent, an Insolvent Debtor.

All that One Undivided Fifth Part or Share and all other the Interest of the said William Rock of and in certain Freehold Hereditaments, at the Market Place, Wednesbury aforesaid, consisting of a Public House, known by the sign of the GREEN DRAGON INN, together with Shops, Yards, Gardens, Stabling, Out-buildings, and Appurtenances thereto belonging, now in the occupation of Thomas Hughes. And also of and in a Piece of Land lying at the back of the said Premises, occupied by the said Thomas Hughes, and containing with the site of the said Messuages and Buildings 4,562 square yards or thereabouts.

For further particulars apply to the Auctioneer; or to Messrs. Duignan and Ebsworth, Solicitors, Wednesbury."

Birmingham Daily Post 3/4/1860 - Advert

"Thomas Hughes begs most respectfully to inform his Friends and the Public generally, that he has Removed from the GREEN DRAGON INN, Wednesbury, to the Talbot Inn, Stafford, about three minutes' walk from the Railway Station, where he has spared no expense in preparing the Bowling Green and Pleasure Grounds for the amusement and recreation of the Public, whom he trusts, by supplying the best Articles at the lowest possible prices, to gain a continuance of the favours hitherto conferred upon him.

The Green, &c, will be Opened on Easter Monday, the 9th day of April, 1860.

Ales, Wines and Spirits of the best quality.

Sandwiches, Chops, or Steaks, always ready. Dinners, on the shortest notice.

Best Foreign Cigars, of every description.

Beds, &c, moderate charges.

T. H. being no friend to monopoly, is determined that the Public shall reap the benefit of the New Tariff in the reduction of Wines and Spirits."

Josiah Griffiths = Isaiah Griffiths

Sporting Life 16/2/1861

"Ned Humpage of Wednesbury, and Burton of Dudley Port, are matched to fight at catch weight, for £10 a-side, within twenty miles of Wednesbury, on the 11th of March. Mr. Griffiths, of the GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury, has now £3 a-side in hand."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 17/3/1861

"J. Wright of Wednesbury will shoot a match with W. Nurse of Princes End, for £50 a side, or as much more as he thinks proper, at as many birds as pounds; he can have the choice of his own weight of shot, so that it does not exceed 1¾oz. Wright will be at Mr. Griffiths's, GREEN DRAGON, Market Place, Wednesbury tomorrow (Monday) night, between six and ten o'clock, prepared to make the match."

1861 Census

Market Place

- [1] Josiah Griffiths (42), roll turner and innkeeper, born Darlaston;
- [2] Sarah Griffiths (41), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Samuel Griffiths (21), son, brewer, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Caroline Griffiths (19), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Josiah Griffiths (15), son, apprentice, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Merander Griffiths (13), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Eliza Griffiths (11), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Sophia Griffiths (7), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Sarah Griffiths (5), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [10] Louisaa Griffiths (2), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [11] May Whitehouse (11), nurse, born Wednesbury;
- [12] David Coleman (26), lodger, professional musician, born London;
- [13] Emma Coleman (21), lodger, professional musician, born Derby;
- [14] Henry Churchyard (22), ostler, born Suffolk;

Birmingham Daily Post 31/8/1861

"District Annual Licensing Day.....

The list of parties fined for various breaches of the law it appeared was rather less than that of preceding years, and comprised of the following persons.....

Josiah Griffiths, GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury, fined 20s for keeping open on a Sunday; decision on renewal of the license adjourned to the 26th September."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/10/1861

“Adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Thursday last.....

The following licensed victuallers, fined for various infringements of the law, and whose cases had been ordered to stand over from the former licensing meeting in August last, were called before the Magistrates, and after their respective cases had been referred to they were admonished and warned that a second offence would be of serious consequence.....

Mr. Isaiah Griffiths, GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 7/1/1863

“Stafford County Sessions.....

Richard Banks, labourer, was indicted for unlawfully and maliciously wounding Joseph Guy, a gas-fitter, at Wednesbury. Mr. Brown appeared on behalf of the prosecution, and Mr. Motteram on behalf of the defence.

It appeared that a quarrel took place between the prisoner and Guy at the GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury, in December last. Both parties were more or less intoxicated. Two fights had taken place between them. After one fight the prosecutor went away home to wash his mouth; he returned and afterwards commenced another fight. A piece of gas-piping was taken from the prosecutor (which he had had in his trousers pocket all day). It was with that instrument that the blows were alleged to have been inflicted. During the fighting murder was called by Banks, the prosecutor having knocked him down, and was then on top of him.

George Thacker spoke to the fighting and the cry of murder, and to seeing prisoner strike Guy with the gas-piping, a piece of iron piping similar to that produced. Guy had pressed the fighting, and put down 2s to fight Banks, who at first refused, but afterwards consented. Witness saw a piece of iron gas-piping in the hands of Guy whilst they were fighting, and some persons called, ‘Look out, he’s got something.’ Banks fell,, and a person named Dimmack took the piping from Guy, the prosecutor. Afterwards Banks struck Guy with the piping (though no one saw Banks take it after it had been taken from Guy) so violently that the prosecutor was laid prostrate, and remained insensible for a long period.

Mr. Motteram, for the defence, contended that Guy’s conduct on that night was shameful.

The learned counsel for the prosecution had said no very great credence could be given to Guy, but three respectable witnesses would be called who they (the jury) would believe. Guy had been admitted by the same learned gentleman to be in fault, but Banks, he stated, to be more so. Banks’s cry of murder arose from Guy first assaulting Banks, who fortunately succeeded in getting the pipe from the hand of the prosecutor, and in the heat of the moment struck him with it as stated. The same weapon which Guy intended using upon Banks had been turned against himself.

The jury found the prisoner guilty of striking the blow, but strongly recommended him to mercy on account of the aggravation. The Chairman questioned the jury as to their view of any justification for the blow – was he obliged to do so in self-defence or not? They said they found him guilty of the charge, but strongly recommended him to mercy. His Lordship said the Court concurred in the verdict, and sentenced the prisoner to two calendar months’ imprisonment, hoping that the sentence, although light, would be a warning to him to keep out of such quarrels for the future.”

Birmingham Daily Post 14/5/1863

“At Wednesbury Police Court, John Betts and Henry Westley were brought up on remand, charged with uttering various counterfeit coins. Inspector Holland deposed to having being called into the house of Mr. Armshaw, the TALBOT INN, Market Place, on Friday last, and to having there found the prisoner Westley, whom he charged with having passed two counterfeit florins to Mr. Armshaw’s barmaid, who had placed one coin in the till but had retained the other in her hand. Witness took the prisoner into an adjoining room and there searched him, but failed to discover any other spurious money upon him. The prisoner was then removed to the police station. Witness also produced a third counterfeit florin, which he had received from Parish-constable Ellis, and which it was alleged Westley had uttered on the same evening. The prisoner Betts, who had been in Westley’s company during the evening, absconded while Inspector Holland was engaged with Westley, but was subsequently apprehended by Sergeant Gasson, who produced a portion of galvanic battery found in Betts’s house. The prisoners were remanded till Monday at West Bromwich, but the learned Stipendiary consented to accept bail for Betts, himself in £40, and two sureties in £20 each. Mr. Sheldon appeared for Betts, and Mr. Ebsworth for Westley.”

[Josiah Griffiths of the GREEN DRAGON gave the third counterfeit florin to Parish-constable Ellis.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 30/5/1863

“Henry Westley, on bail, appeared to answer a charge of uttering counterfeit coin at the house of Mr. Armshaw, the TALBOT INN, Market Place, Wednesbury. The defendant was brought up at Westbromwich on the charge a short time ago, with another man, and was then remanded, to allow the authorities of the Mint to be communicated with. The stipendiary now announced that he had received a communication from the Mint authorities, who were willing to allow the charge to drop, as they believed that Westley might have been misled. The defendant was consequently discharged.”

[At the intermediate hearing Betts was discharged, there being no further evidence against him.]

Birmingham Daily Post 5/8/1863

“Ann Jackson, a domestic servant, recently in the service of Mr. Josiah Griffiths, of the GREEN DRAGON INN, Market Place, Wednesbury, was brought up in custody, charged with stealing 13s, the property of her employer. It appeared that the prisoner entered the service of the prosecutor on the 22nd of July, and on the 27th of the same month he missed a half-sovereign, which he had left in the pocket of his waistcoat in his room on the preceding day. He accordingly marked a quantity of silver money, and gave it to his son, who placed it in the pocket of his trousers, and left the garment in his room when he went out in the morning. On his return in the evening, he found that 3s had been taken from the pocket, and a police-constable was therefore sent for. Upon the arrival of Sergeant Gasson, a person named Eliza Danks was called in, and instructed to search the prisoner. She repaired to the prisoner’s bed room for that purpose, and Jackson at once took off one of her stockings, and produced the half-sovereign, and also stated that she had spent some of the marked money. Sergeant Gasson subsequently searched the prisoner’s box, but failed to find any of the marked silver. Inspector Phair having proved a former conviction against the prisoner, she was committed to take her trail at the next Quarter Sessions.”

[At Staffordshire Quarter Sessions Ann Jackson pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three years’ penal servitude.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 15/8/1863

“Wednesbury Local Board.....

A letter was read from Thomas Stephens, the lessee of the market tolls, complaining that the field at the back of the GREEN DRAGON INN, Market Place, had been used during fair-day (Monday) for the sale of articles, and for the exhibition of shows, &c. The clerk was desired by the Board to consider the legal aspect of such a practice by the next meeting, as it was important to the Board.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/8/1863

“Wednesbury Local Board.....

A complaint of the lessee of the market tolls, Mr. Stephens, respecting tolls being taken at the fair, in a field near the GREEN DRAGON INN, by Mr. Josiah Griffiths, was again brought forward. The Clerk was instructed at the last meeting to consider the Acts of Parliament bearing upon the subject. He reported that he had complied with the wish of the Board, and said there was no doubt that if any person could be proved guilty of selling articles on a stall on private ground, he would be liable to a penalty not exceeding 40s and costs. The Board, after some discussion, instructed the Clerk to write to Mr. Josiah Griffiths, cautioning him not to allow any stalls, &c, on his ground; and also to issue placards announcing that any person selling goods on stalls which were placed out of the jurisdiction of the Board would be summoned.”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/9/1863

“Wednesbury Local Board.....

The Clerk said he had remonstrated with the landlord of the GREEN DRAGON, Market Place, respecting his allowing shows on his premises.”

Josiah Griffiths – see also SPREAD EAGLE, Portway Road.

Thomas Maunders = Thomas Maunder = Thomas Manders = Thomas Mander

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/3/1864

“Patrick Boyle was charged with vagrancy and with having assaulted police-constable Birch. On Saturday night prisoner was begging in the GREEN DRAGON Music Hall, Wednesbury, and when the officer took him into custody he became very violent, kicked his legs most severely, and pushed him through a window. Fined 40s and costs.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 26/8/1864

“Renewal of Licenses.....

A memorial, signed by a large number of inhabitants of High Street, Wednesbury, complained of the nuisance arising from the congregation of people in front of the GREEN DRAGON INN. The petition was presented by the Revds. J. Winter and J. Roberts. The rev. gentlemen complained that persons of a tender age – boys and girls, in fact – were admitted to the concert hall; a modern structure, which had been erected by Mr. Manders, and that that practice deserved reprehension as it had an immoral tendency, and was damaging to the interests and virtue of the young. The petition prayed for suspension of license.

Mr. Manders was called in and said his building was capable of seating a little over 600, although the place would contain about eleven hundred persons. He denied that boys and girls were admitted under any circumstances whatever under the age of twenty-one, unless with their parents. His concert room closed at 12 o'clock. After some conversation, in the course of which Mr. Hebbert, the Magistrates' Clerk, observed that the concert halls in Birmingham, which were upon a very large scale, were compelled to close at 11 o'clock, and he saw no reason why a comparatively small place like the one in Wednesbury should keep open until twelve. The subject then dropped..... Licenses suspended until 29th September Mr. Manders, of the GREEN DRAGON INN, Wednesbury.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 26/8/1864

“The annual Petty Session for the renewal of publican's licenses in the Walsall, Wednesbury, and West Bromwich district was held yesterday, at the Scott Arms, Great Barr.....

The proceedings commenced at eleven o'clock, when the Revds. J. Winter and J. Roberts presented a petition from the inhabitants of Wednesbury, complaining of the manner in which the GREEN DRAGON Music Hall, High Street, Wednesbury, was conducted by Mr. Mander, the proprietor. The grounds of the complaint were that young girls and youths were induced to drink there, and that the Hall was kept open until a very late hour, when 1,200 or 1,400 people poured out of the Hall, in the middle of the night, to the annoyance of the neighbours.

Mr. Mander stated that he conducted his Hall as well as any other person in the town, and referred the Magistrates to the police.

The Bench suggested that he should close his hall at eleven o'clock. It was ultimately arranged that Mr. Mander should think over the matter, and that its consideration be adjourned till the Special Sessions on the 29th September.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 31/10/1864

“On Saturday, at the Petty Sessions, before the sitting magistrates, Messrs. R. Bagnall and W. Sharp, a woman named Mary Murphy was convicted of having stolen several articles of wearing apparel from the house of Thomas Manders, the GREEN DRAGON INN, High Street. The prisoner had a previous conviction cited against her, and was sentenced to three months' imprisonment with hard labour.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 10/11/1864 - Advert

“The Bankruptcy Act, 1861. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall.

Josiah Griffiths, for one week now last past residing in lodgings at No.81, Bilston Street, Wolverhampton, in the county of Stafford, previously and for eleven months of Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, in the said county of Stafford, Provision Dealer, Licensed Dealer in Tea and Tobacco, and also a Commission Agent, and previously thereto of the GREEN DRAGON INN, Wednesbury aforesaid, Licensed Victualler, Retail Brewer, and Dealer in Tobacco, having been adjudged Bankrupt on the 21st day of October, 1864, a Public Sitting for the said Bankrupt to pass his Last Examination and make Application for his Discharge, will be held at the said Court, on the 23rd day of November, 1864 at the Court House, Goodall Street, Walsall, at Ten o'clock in the Forenoon precisely, the day last aforesaid being the day limited for the said Bankrupt to surrender. Frederic. F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. Henry Langman, of Wolverhampton, is the Solicitor in the Bankruptcy.

H. Langman Esq, Solicitor, Wolverhampton.

C. G. Megevan, High Bailiff.”

The Era 13/11/1864 - Advert

“Mr. and Mrs. Pietro Carle finish a Successful Engagement of Six Weeks on Saturday, the 12th, this being their Fifth Engagement with Mr. Challingsworth. Open at the GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury, on the 28th November, for Twelve Nights; and then to the Theatre Royal, North Shields, where P. Carle plays Clown. P. C. wishes to thank the Professionals for their kind services on his Benefit Night – Tamborino, Voy and Son, Mr. and Mrs. Denmeade, Mons, and Madame Lubriol.”

Birmingham Daily Post 26/4/1865

"At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, before I. Spooner (Stipendiary), a well-dressed and respectably-connected young man, named Thomas Augustus Frederick Brown, clerk, was charged with having unlawfully and maliciously caused to be taken by Eliza Griffiths, a certain noxious drug, to wit, calomel, with intent to injure, aggrieve, and annoy her. Mr. Dale (from the office of Messrs. Duigman, Lewis, and Lewis) conducted the prosecution and the prisoner was defended by Mr. J. E. Sheldon. Mr. Dale briefly opened the case, and then proceeded to call the following witnesses:

Eliza Griffiths, barmaid at the GREEN DRAGON INN, Market Place, said she was attending to her duties on Wednesday last, between twelve and one o'clock, when the prisoner, who was in the house, offered her a lemon-coloured lozenge. She took it, and ate it, whereupon Brown began to laugh at her. He then gave her two other lozenges for her fellow-barmaids, but they refused to take them. About twenty minutes afterwards witness became very ill, and suffered severely from acute and burning pains in the bowels and stomach, accompanied with violent purgings and vomitings. The defendant, who remained in the house, laughed at her, and told her he would not give her another lozenge for £5, nor take one himself for 10s. At the same time he went to a hot water kettle on the counter, and, taking off the lid, asked if he should put a lozenge into the water. Witness told him to let the kettle alone, and if he had 'jalaped' her not to 'jalap' the people. She took the lid from him, and he then went away from the counter. Subsequently she became worse, and went to bed, and between nine and ten o'clock Mr. Proctor, surgeon, was called in to attend her. She still remained under his care, and had not returned to her situation.

In cross-examination by Mr. Sheldon, witness denied that the defendant told her it was a worm cake, and cautioned her not to eat it.

Jane George, complainant's fellow-barmaid, gave corroborative evidence.

Sergeant Steele deposed to taking the prisoner into custody on Thursday, and found in his possession a lozenge similar to the one given to the complainant. The defendant said it was like the one he gave Miss Griffiths, and that both were part of a pennyworth which he had bought at the shop of Mr. Andrew Dawes, chemist. On Saturday witness took the lozenge to Dr. A. Hill, Birmingham, for the purpose of analysis.

Dr A. Hill deposed to having made an analysis of the lozenge referred to, which was marked 'Calomel 2grs,' and to having found it composed of sugar, flour, and about 2 grains of calomel. A lozenge of this nature would not affect some persons, but others would be made seriously ill by taking one.

Mr. H. E. Proctor spoke to having, on Wednesday night, been called in to attend the complainant, whom he found in a very exhausted state. He learnt that from midday on Wednesday until the time he was called in she had been purged from thirty to forty times. She vomited everything she took until Saturday night.

This completed the case, and the defence being reserved, the prisoner was committed for trial at the next Assizes for the county, but was admitted to bail."

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 29/7/1865

"Staffordshire Summer Assizes.....

The Grand Jury threw out the bills in the following cases.....

Thomas Augustus Frederick Brown, on bail, charged with unlawfully and maliciously administering a certain drug to Eliza Griffiths, with intent to injure and annoy her, at a public house at Wednesbury, on the 19th of April."

Birmingham Daily Post 20/6/1865 - Advert

"Lost, on Wednesday last, near the CROSS GUNS, West Bromwich, a very large Black Dog, white breast, hair smooth, long nose.

Any one returning the same to Thomas Maunders, GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury, will be handsomely Rewarded for their trouble."

LOST, on Wednesday last, near the Cross Guns, West Bromwich, a very large Black DOG, white breast, hair smooth, long nose.—Any one returning the same to Thomas Maunders, Green Dragon, Wednesbury, will be handsomely Rewarded for their trouble.

The Era 27/8/1865 - Advert

"Maunders' Monstre Concert Hall, GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury, Staffordshire.

Wanted, First-class Talent in all Branches, to Open on Monday, September 11th and future dates. No stamp. Silence a negative.

Address, B. Nash, Manager."

Maunders' Monstre Concert Hall, Green Dragon, Wednesbury, Staffordshire.

WANTED, First-class 'TALENT' in all Branches, to Open on Monday, September 11th, and future dates. No stamp.
Silence a negative. Address, B. NASH, Manager.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 13/3/1866

“Staffordshire Lent Assizes.....

Henry Crane, 56, barber, was indicted for having stolen, on the 2nd of March, a woolen shirt and a pocket-handkerchief, the property of Thomas Dowler. Prosecutor said he met the prisoner, whom he knew, in the GREEN DRAGON INN, Wednesbury, and being destitute took him home and sheltered him for the night. The next morning before the household got up the prisoner decamped, taking with him the shirt and handkerchief. He was met by Dowler a short time after wearing the shirt and with the handkerchief in his possession, and was handed over to Police-sergeant Langdon. Prisoner's defence was that prosecutor had lent him the articles, which was denied. The jury found prisoner guilty, but recommended him to mercy, on the ground that he may have intended to return the property. He was sentenced to imprisonment with hard labour for two calendar months.”

The Era 25/11/1866 - Advert

“Wednesbury. GREEN DRAGON, Music Hall. Proprietor, Thomas Maunder.

Glorious success of the present Company, viz, Jim Pymmer (Characteristic Comic Vocalist), Harry Whitfield (Shakespearian Comic), Signor Ethardo (Contortionist), Mr. St. George (a first-class Dancer), Yankee Henri (Negro Comedian, &c), Tom Benson (Negro Vocalist, Instrumentalist, and Dancer), Harry Reeves (Sensation Comic). Open on Monday, November 26th. The Three Sisters Alexander (Characteristic Vocalists, Dancers, and Duettists), together with Messrs. Newman and Francis (Comic Duettists). Vacancies for first-class Talent for December 3rd, and future dates. No stamp. Three days' silence a respectful negative. Good Niggers Wanted immediately. Mr. B. Nash, Manager.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 19/7/1867 - Advert

“Counter for Sale. To be Sold, a bargain, a splendid Counter and Fittings, not to be equalled for workmanship and material. Dimensions of Counter, 36ft long, 4ft 3in high. Spanish mahogany top; large Trusses to match. The Shelves and Fittings contain a large centre Mirror, 6ft 4in high by 4ft 2in; together with eight plate-glass panels, 5ft 4in high by 8in wide; beautifully stained, gilded, and marbled, with the whole of the Spirit and Cordial Casks. Application to be made to Mr. Thomas Maunder, GREEN DRAGON INN, High Street, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Journal 27/7/1867 - Advert

“To be Sold by Auction, by Joseph Whitehouse, at the TURKS HEAD HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Friday, August 9, 1867, at Six o'clock pm precisely, in the following, or such other lots as may be agreed upon at the time of Sale, the following very valuable Freehold Property, in and near the Market Place, Wednesbury.....

Lot 10. The well-accustomed Old-licensed Public House, fronting the Market Place, Wednesbury, known as the GREEN DRAGON, and in the occupation of the Proprietor, Mr. Thomas Maunder, with the Outbuildings and Land thereto, coloured pink on the Plans, and containing 1,158 square yards or thereabouts.

The House comprises two roomy Liquor Shops, spacious Concert Hall, snug Parlour, Kitchen, and seven Chambers, with all convenient Out-buildings and Appurtenances.

The purchaser of this lot will not be entitled to any lights looking out upon lot 9 and he will be required to pull down and remove the two chimney shafts standing upon the land forming part of the same lot. The Vendor reserves the right to pull down and remove the materials of the large Concert Hall, built mainly of timber, now standing on the back part of this lot.”

Thomas Maunders was also a wholesale wines and spirits merchant. [1868], [1870]

Wolverhampton Chronicle 19/2/1868

“Thomas Mander, landlord of the GREEN DRAGON, Market Place, Wednesbury, was charged at the Police Court, on Saturday, with furiously driving a horse and cart along the Birmingham and Wednesbury turnpike road. The case was proved, and the defendant, for whom Mr. T Bayley appeared, was fined 5s and costs, or the alternative of fourteen days' imprisonment.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 11/11/1868

“On Monday afternoon Mr. Walker attended a public meeting at Maunder’s Concert Hall, back of the GREEN DRAGON, Market Place, Wednesbury. The reception was of the most intensely enthusiastic character, the large room, calculated to hold 1,000 persons, being densely filled. Mr. Walker addressed the meeting at considerable length A vote of confidence in Mr. Walker, as the candidate for the borough was proposed by Mr. Burghope, and seconded by Mr. Frewer, and carried by an overwhelming majority.”

[Thomas Eades Walker stood, unsuccessfully, as the Conservative candidate in the 1868 general election.]

The Era 22/11/1868 - Advert

“GREEN DRAGON Music Hall, Wednesbury, Staffordshire. Proprietor, T. Maunder.

Wanted, a Pianist, for November 30th, must be good; also, for December 7th, a Lady Serio and Characteristic Vocalist, Gentlemen Comic, and a good Single Nigger. No stamp. Three days’ silence a negative. Address, B. Nash.”

Staffordshire Sentinel 6/3/1869

“One of the most inhuman outages that have been perpetrated in this country for many years took place early on Sunday morning, when a woman named Eliza Bowen, aged fifty, of The Green, Darlaston, was murdered near Wednesbury, under circumstances of the most fiendish and horrible barbarity. The deceased has for several years lived at Darlaston with her husband, William Bowen, a miner, who is at present undergoing a term of nine months’ imprisonment at Stafford, for fowl stealing. The unfortunate woman was of most intemperate habits, and one of her children, a son, was in September last sent to a reformatory. The last known of the unfortunate woman while in life, is that towards midnight on Saturday night she was ejected from the DRAGON INN, Wednesbury, for violent and disorderly conduct, being then the worse for drink. An ostler, named Turner, in the employ of the Patent Shaft and Axle Tree Company, while on his way to his stables next morning between seven and eight o’clock, saw the body of a woman lying in a field by the side of a road known as Mud Lane. Without waiting to ascertain whether or not it was a corpse he saw, he called out to Henry Clay, a lamplighter, who entered the lane at the moment, and telling him there was a woman lying dead in the field, advised him to fetch the police. Clay suggested that they should first ascertain whether the woman was alive, and accordingly they entered the field and found she was dead and cold, and covered with dirt, and that he few ragged garments were disordered and torn.....

A post mortem of the body has been made, and an inquest held and adjourned until the 22nd inst. On Thursday the police arrested William Hall, a striker, aged forty-two, on the charge of being concerned in the murder. Hall was seen in the company of the deceased on Saturday night, and part of a muffler which has been found at his house corresponds with a piece of fabric picked up by the police on the scene of the murder. Hall, who is a married man, bears an exceedingly bad character.”

[For more on this see under VICTORIA, Darlaston.]

Ulverston Mirror 18/9/1869

“On Monday evening over 700 working men sat down to dinner in the large Concert Hall of the DRAGON INN, Wednesbury, to celebrate the Liberal triumph at the last election, by the return of Mr. Brogden, MP.....”

[Alexander Brogden was Liberal MP for Wednesbury from 1868 to 1885.]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 4/5/1870

“At the Wednesbury Police Court yesterday, before Mr. Spooner, Stipendiary.....

Thomas Maunders, landlord of the GREEN DRAGON, Market Place, was charged with allowing drunkenness on his premises.

Police-constable John Stanton said that at a quarter to twelve on the night of the 25th ult, he heard a noise in the defendant’s house, and a woman shouting ‘murder.’ He saw the landlord and a man named Farrall struggling together. They were both drunk, and Farrall was trying to get away from the landlord. Maunder had hold of Farrall by the collar and was pushing him in a corner and knocking his head against the wall. He (witness) tried to part the men, when Maunders took hold of him and said he would have no policemen in his house. Two other officers then entered the house, and he told Maunders that if he did not keep his hands off him he would lock him up because that was not the first time he had served a policeman like that. He parted the landlord and Farrall, and on the latter again making a noise and striking Police-constable Jackson, he was taken into custody for drunkenness.

Police-constable Hill gave corroborative evidence.

Mr. Ebsworth appeared for the defence, and was about to call several witnesses, when Mr. Spooner said that he might call them, but if he did so he should not treat it as a first offence, which was his custom to do under such circumstances. Mr. Ebsworth said that under such circumstances he would not call any witnesses. Mr. Spooner said he would fine defendant 1s and costs (total 11s), and if he came before him again he would put the highest possible fine upon him."

Birmingham Daily Post 16/8/1870

"A meeting was held yesterday, at the GREEN DRAGON INN, Wednesbury, at which the various delegates from the ironworkers gave in their reports, which were in favour of advance in wages of one shilling per ton. It was resolved to appoint a committee to confer with the masters, and to report the result to a future meeting."

The Era 28/8/1870 - Advert

"GREEN DRAGON Music Hall, Wednesbury. Proprietor, Mr. Joseph Taylor.

Wanted, First-class Talent in all Branches of Concert Hall Business, to open on Saturday Night, September 3rd, and Monday, September 5th. No stamp required. Silence a respectful negative. Address, Mr. B. Nash."

Birmingham Daily Post 16/1/1873 - Advert

"Young Man, about 16, to assist in Spirit Vaults, and make himself generally useful. Good character indispensable. Apply to J. Taylor, DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury."

YOUNG Man, about 16, to assist in Spirit Vaults, and make himself generally useful. Good character indispensable.—Apply to J. Taylor, Dragon Hotel, Wednesbury.

Walsall Observer 27/6/1874 - Advert

"Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford.

To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Farrington & Son, at the GREEN DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Friday, the 3rd Day of July, 1874, at Five o'clock pm, either altogether or in such lots as may be announced at the time of sale, and subject to conditions to be then produced, an Extensive Freehold Site of Building Land, with the Buildings thereon, called The Shambles, containing 659 square yards, in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Butler, situate in front of the Market Place, and adjoining the GREEN DRAGON HOTEL in Wednesbury.

Further information and particulars and plan may be obtained on application to the Auctioneers, at Walsall; or to Mr. T. M. How, Solicitor, Shrewsbury."

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/2/1875 - Advert

"'Defensio, Non Provocatio.' Caution.

The Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association, Southwark Street, Borough, London.

This association, having prosecuted and convicted a Grocer, at Bradford, at the Leeds Assizes, under the 'Merchandise Marks Act, 1862,' and also prosecuted a man at Chester Assizes, who was sentenced to six months' imprisonment for fraudulently counterfeiting and imitating their Trade Mark, and having obtained a decree for a perpetual injunction against a Tea Company (Limited), restricting the said Company from selling or exposing for sale Tea packed in covers or wrappers made in imitation of those used by the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association, or not materially differing therefrom, or in any cover or wrappers which by their shape, size, colour, labels, writings, figures, inscriptions, trade mark, or general character should make it appear that the packets sold or exposed for sale were those of the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association, and which decree on appeal was confirmed by the Lord Chancellor, notice is hereby given that all persons Counterfeiting or Imitating the Trade Mark of the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association will be forthwith Proceeded Against; and Licensed Victuallers, Grocers, Bakers, Confectioners and others are hereby warned from selling or exposing for sale Tea packed in covers or wrappers made in imitation of those used by said Association.

Thompson and Son, 60, Cornhill, Solicitors for the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association.

Agents For Staffordshire.....

Wednesbury: C. McGuigan, PLOUGH AND HARROW; J. Jones, HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, High Bullen; J. Taylor, GREEN DRAGON INN."

Midland Examiner 30/12/1876

"At a meeting of the members of Wednesbury Conservative Association, at the GREEN DRAGON INN, on Friday evening, Mr. Wilson Lloyd presiding, it was decided to give up the rooms at present occupied by the association, and to take others in Russell Street, and ask the Earl of Dartmouth to attend and take part in the inaugural ceremony, which was fixed to take place at the end of next month."

Birmingham Daily Post 13/9/1878 - Advert

“Vaultman. Good character indispensable.
Apply, GREEN DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

VAULTMAN. Good character indispensable.—Apply, Green Dragon Hotel, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 31/7/1879 - Advert

“Man (young) Wanted, for Wine and Spirit Vault, whose character will bear the strictest investigation.
Apply, GREEN DRAGON HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

MAN (young) Wanted, for Wine and Spirit Vault, whose character will bear the strictest investigation.—Apply, Green Dragon Hotel, Market Place, Wednesbury.

Dudley Herald 6/3/1880 - Advert

“To be Let or Sold, the WINDMILL INN, Stafford Street, Dudley, centrally situated in the midst of numerous good manufactories now in full work. The house is now doing a good business, principally counter trade, and possesses, besides a large Vault beautifully fitted up, a Smoke Room, large Bar, Parlour, good Kitchen, very good Yard, large Club Room, and eight Bedrooms. Present tenant going out of the business.
For further particulars, apply to Josh. Taylor, GREEN DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

Dudley and District News 11/9/1880

“Although Wednesbury Wake has been abolished by the Home Secretary, in compliance with a memorial from the Local Board, an attempt has been made to revive it. On Monday there were two assemblages of shows, stalls, swings, &c, all located on private ground, belonging to or hired by publicans and others. One of the places used was the ground known as the Shambles, and situate at the back of the GREEN DRAGON INN, Market Place, and the other at the bottom of Addison Street at the back of the Board Schools, Lower High Street, the latter being the larger of the two. Both were crowded with visitors, especially in the evening. Several of the local friendly societies had their annual parades and dinners, and the streets wore an animated, holiday appearance, although large numbers of those who kept holiday wisely took train to distant places.

Birmingham Daily Post 10/12/1880 - Advert

“Barman (Under). A young Man, about 18. Good character indispensable.
J. Taylor, DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

BARMAN (Under).—A young Man, about 18. Good character indispensable.—J. Taylor, Dragon Hotel, Wednesbury.

1881 Census

Market Place (west side) – GREEN DRAGON INN

- [1] Joseph Taylor (52), licensed victualler, born Breabury, Staffordshire;
- [2] Catherine Taylor (42), wife, born Felling, Durham;
- [3] Frederick John Taylor (6), son, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Harriet Scott (34), general servant, born Staffordshire;
- [5] Emily Addis (19), general servant, born Staffordshire;
- [6] Timothy Dudley (21), barman, born Staffordshire;
- [7] Arthur George Roberts (28), barman, born Birmingham:

Joseph Taylor – see also GRAPES, High Street, and SPREAD EAGLE, Portway Road.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 23/9/1885

“On Tuesday afternoon Mr. E. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest at the Town Hall, Wednesbury, touching the death of Charles Gandey (38), of Oxford Street, Bilston, who was found dead on Sunday morning in a closet at the back of the KINGS ARMS INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury, with a violin by his side.

When the names of the jurymen were called, Frederick Lynden, manager of the DRAGON INN, Wednesbury, was absent, and the coroner fined him 20s.....”

Worcester Journal 1/5/1886

“On Tuesday afternoon a young man named Patrick O’Hare went into the GREEN DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury, and ordered a pint of stout. When in the act of drinking it he fell down, vomited a large quantity of blood, and died. It is supposed that deceased broke a blood vessel through hurriedly drinking the stout.”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/8/1887

“At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, John Nicks (22), hawker, Holland Street, Parade, Birmingham, was charged with causing the death of William Gallagher, Portway Road, Wednesbury.

Harry Bridgewater, spring-fitter, Bridge Street, Wednesbury, deposed that on Monday night, at about twenty minutes past ten o'clock, he was in the 'back field,' behind the GREEN DRAGON INN, Market Place, and saw the deceased and another youth in one of several swing-boats, which were under the care of the accused. The boat was swinging at a great rate, and the accused being desirous of stopping it, and being unable to do so immediately by the application of the lever, took a long pole, which he raised with the intention of aiding him. He missed the boat, however, and the pole caught the deceased under the right arm and pitched him 14ft out of the boat on to his back. Gallagher was then carried away in an unconscious state to a neighbouring house. The unfortunate youth was afterwards attended by Dr. Dingley, but his injuries resulted in death early in the morning.

The accused was remanded for a week on bail, himself in £40, and two sureties in £20 each.”

Burton Chronicle 18/8/1887

“An inquest was held on Wednesday at Wednesbury on the body of William Gallagher (17), who, through the incautious use of a pole by John Nicks (22) stopping a swing-boat, was thrown out of the boat on Monday night, and so injured that he died a few hours later.

The jury, after briefly deliberating in private, returned a verdict of Accidental Death. The Coroner said they did not consider that Nicks was entirely free from blame, and hoped that what had occurred would be a warning to him.”

Birmingham Daily Post 15/7/1890

“Yesterday, Mr. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest at the GREEN DRAGON INN, Market Place, Wednesbury, on the body of Ann Rose (57), widow, Ridding Lane.

On the 3rd inst she was assisting in removing furniture, and whilst carrying a mattress down stairs she slipped and fell, her head striking some projecting part of the building, and sustaining serious injuries. She was attended by Dr. Crewe, but the injuries resulted in her death on the 11th inst.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.

The Coroner observed that the name of Councillor E. Butler had first been entered on the precept as foreman, but had afterwards been struck out and the name of another person entered. The sergeant on duty said, in answer to the coroner, that the alterations had been made on the authority of Superintendent Holland, and a juror said that Councillor Butler believed he was exempt from service on a coroner's jury by reason of his being a councillor. The Coroner said a town councillor was not exempt from service, and as regarded the alteration of name he should have to make enquiries.”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1891

“The adjourned licensing meeting for the Wednesbury petty sessional division was held yesterday.....

Edwin Butler, the GREEN DRAGON, Market Place, applied through Mr. W. S. Smith for the renewal of his license, and, to meet the objections that the licensee was non-resident and that no one lived on the premises at night, he undertook that someone should live on the premises, not as caretaker, but as manager, who would be always on the premises to attend to bona-fide travellers Renewed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 27/9/1892

“The adjourned general licensing meeting for Wednesbury took place at the Police Court, yesterday.....

Mr. W. S. Smith applied for the renewal of the license of Edwin Butler, the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Wood Green, and the GREEN DRAGON, Market Place, against whom objections had been taken on the ground that he had failed to obey the order of the Court, requiring the putting up of sign-boards. Superintendent Walters reported that the sign-boards had since the licensing session being put up. Granted.”

Birmingham Daily Post 22/2/1893

“At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, Edwin Butler, GREEN DRAGON, Market Place, was summoned for permitting drunkenness on his premises on the 2nd February. Mr. W. S. Smith appeared for the defence.

Police-constable Carter deposed that his attention was directed to the house, and on going there he found John Silvester, a haberdasher in the Market Place, drunk and asleep. Silvester was aroused, and witness took him home. In cross-examination he admitted that Silvester was well known for his habit of wandering about from public house to public house when 'on the spree.'

The defence was that Silvester was not supplied with drink in the house, and that he was ordered out; but was treated with some consideration, being a neighbour. He was in and out several times. The defendant said he would himself summon Silvester. A fine of 20s and costs was imposed.

George Holden, MARKET TAVERN, Russell Street, was, on the evidence of Police-sergeant McGuire and Police-constable Carter, fined 40s and costs for having, on the same day, supplied ale to John Silvester named above whilst the latter was drunk. The landlord said Silvester was not drunk, but merely 'fresh.'

The Stipendiary said Silvester seemed to be a nuisance to the people in the neighbourhood. (The defendant, 'When drunk.') But the publicans could turn him out, or if he refused to go, prosecute him. Then they would not only punish him but protect themselves. Had there been a previous conviction he would have imposed the full penalty of £10. As it was the defendant would be fined £2 and costs."

Edwin Butler – see also HORSE AND JOCKEY, Wood Green.

Birmingham Daily Post 26/8/1893

"The first sitting of the Borough Bench for licensing purposes for the parish of Wednesbury took place yesterday.... Notice of opposition to renewal had been served upon the occupier of each of the premises where there had been a conviction for offence against license, except in the case of William Bird, of the BLUE BALL, Earps Lane, who was fined at the last court day for permitting gaming.

The renewals to be opposed were....

Thomas Rigby, the GREEN DRAGON, Market Place.

The Mayor commented with regret upon the increase in the numbers of offences and convictions shown by the returns; and the contentious business was adjourned till the adjourned licensing day, the 29th inst."

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 30/9/1893

"The adjourned licensing session for Wednesbury borough took place yesterday....

There were ten adjourned cases, the police objecting to the renewals on the grounds of convictions; but all the licenses were renewed, with suitable admonitions and cautions."

Dudley Herald 17/9/1898

"On Tuesday night, at a meeting of the Wednesbury Licensed Victuallers Association, at the GREEN DRAGON HOTEL, Market Place, Wednesbury, Mr. H. J. Jones presiding, Councillor Edwin Butler announced that as he had retired from business he had decided not to seek re-election as a representative of Wood Green Ward in November next. A hearty vote of thanks was given to Mr. Butler, and regret was expressed that he had decided to retire from the public life of the town. It was contended that as the licensed victuallers and others engaged in the brewing trade paid a large proportion of the rates that they should have increased representation on the Town Council, and a committee was appointed to deal with the question...."

1901 Census

Market Place – GREEN DRAGON

[1] William H. Hadley (32), licensed victualler's manager, born Wolverhampton;

[2] Ada Hadley (33), wife, born Aston, Staffordshire;

[3] Alice C. Hadley (10), adopted daughter, born Wolverhampton;

[4] Julia McTight, (19), domestic servant, born Tipton:

Wednesbury Leader 12/10/1901

"At Wednesbury Police Court on Friday, before Aldermen R. Williams, I. Oldbury, and Mr. F. W. Hackwood, a man named Edwin Hudson (50), of no fixed abode, but who has been living in apartments at Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, was charged with obtaining various sums of money by false pretences, and with intent to defraud, between the 17th September and 3rd October.

The evidence showed that prisoner represented himself to be in the employ of the Midland Advertising Company, Wolverhampton, and canvassed for advertisements for the Wolverhampton Wanderers Fixture Card. He secured 2s 6d from Frank Turbot, manager of the South Staffordshire Coffee House, Market Place; 4s 6d from Benjamin E. Pewtriss, tobacconist, Market Place; 5s from Herbert E. Kent, of the CROWN AND CUSHION INN; 5s from William H. Hadley, GREEN DRAGON INN, Market Place; 2s 6d from James Faulkner, BULLS HEAD INN; 2s from William Macdonald, THREE SWANS INN; 5s from Frank Bateman, licensed victualler, High Street; 2s 6d from Edward Phillips, BRITANNIA INN, Trowse Lane; 2s 6d from John Jones, FORRESTER'S ARMS, Portway Road; and 2s 6d from Albert Newbould, OLD PACK HORSE, Dudley Street.

Frederick L. Hodgetts, of the Penn Road, Wolverhampton, said he was a partner in the Midland Advertising Company. Prisoner had been in their employ, but left on the 27th April. He had not been connected with the company since, and was not authorised to canvass for advertisements.

Detective Truswell deposed to effecting the arrest of prisoner.

Alderman Oldbury (to prisoner): Didn't you consider you had a lot of 'flats' to deal with in Wednesbury? I am surprised that tradesmen should give their money away without even asking for a receipt. They must be very confiding.

Prisoner was committed to take his trial at the Sessions, which commence on Tuesday next."

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 19/10/1901

"Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Edwin Hudson, 50, traveller, pleaded guilty to having obtained various sums of money by false pretences at Wednesbury, on September 17. There were previous convictions against the prisoner, who was sentenced to three years' penal servitude."

Walsall Observer 5/12/1903

"At Wednesbury Police Court, on Tuesday, Thomas Kelly (58), of no fixed abode, was charged with assaulting Leo Thomas Beighton, landlord of the GREEN DRAGON INN, Market Place, on Monday afternoon.

On Monday prisoner visited the prosecutor's house selling laces. He became very abusive, and the landlord ordered him to leave. The landlord went to find a constable, but whilst he was looking for one in the street the prisoner, it was alleged, rushed at him and struck him twice in the chest.

Prisoner admitted the assault, but said the prosecutor attempted to kick him first.

Superintendent Salt said prisoner was a stranger to Wednesbury, and he refused to give any account of himself.

The Stipendiary sent prisoner to gaol for 21 days with hard labour."

Birmingham Mail 17/5/1905 - Advert

"Barman (smart), age about 18; good references required; live in. GREEN DRAGON, Market Place. Wednesbury."

BARMAN (smart), age about 18; good references required; live in.—Green Dragon, Market Place, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 16/3/1910

"The third round of the Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers Handicap Billiards Tournament was continued yesterday. In the afternoon, F. Cook, GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury, easily beat A. Woodward, SPREAD EAGLE, Wednesbury, by 104 points."

1911 Census

9, Market Place – GREEN DRAGON

[1] Frank Cook (45), licensed victualler, born Walsall;

[2] Jane Cook (40), wife, married 15 years, assists, born Chalvey, Buckinghamshire;

[3] May Cook (13), daughter, born Lichfield Barracks;

[4] Minnie Cook (11), daughter, born Lichfield Barracks;

[5] Leah Wallett (16), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

[6] Agnes Cook (2), daughter, born Wednesbury;

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/1/1913

"The Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers billiards tournament will be commenced on Monday next. Entries.....

F. Cook, GREEN DRAGON, Market Place, Wednesbury."

Birmingham Daily Post 31/3/1915

“The eighteenth Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers Handicap Billiards Tournament was concluded yesterday. In the final F. Cook, GREEN DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury, rec.160, met W. Turner, FOX AND DOGS, West Bromwich, rec.440. Turner, who had displayed sound generalship in his previous games, had the better of the play at the afternoon session, taking few risks. Cook improved his position towards the close of the session, but at the interval the scores stood Turner 621, Cook 416. Play again favoured Turner in the early stages of the evening session, and the scores were called, Turner 746, Cook 601. The back-marker, however, playing well, collected points rapidly, putting on capital breaks. Turner failed when he required only 13 for game, and Cook, who needed 30, obtained these with an unfinished run. During the latter part of the game Cook scored 199 while Turner contributed 43. Final scores, Cook 800, Turner 787.”

[Frank Cook also won in 1923 and 1926.]

1921 Census

8½, Market Place – GREEN DRAGON

- [1] Francis Henry Cook (56), licensed victualler, born Walsall;
- [2] Jane Cook (50), wife, assistant to above, born Chalvey, Buckinghamshire;
- [3] Frederick Harry Cook (24), son, soldier on leave, born Whittington Barracks, Staffordshire;
- [4] Minnie Cook (21), daughter, shorthand typist, born Whittington Barracks, Staffordshire;
- [5] Agnes Cook (12), daughter, school, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Florence Proverbs (18), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

Birmingham Daily Gazette 27/7/1921

“At Tipton, yesterday, John William Houlston, aged 23, Richard Street South, West Bromwich, who wore the uniform of a private in the Yorkshire and Lancashire regiment, pleaded guilty to two charges of theft, and also to being on enclosed premises with intent to commit a felony.

It was stated that on the 13th inst he was found by the landlady of the PRINCE REGENT INN, Horseley Heath, in a bed room, and detained until the arrival of the police.

Subsequently in a written confession Houlston admitted having taken £32 from a bedroom at the TURKS HEAD, Lower High Street, Wednesbury, and a silver brooch from the GREEN DRAGON, Market Place, Wednesbury, remarking to an officer that he had spent the money in drink.

Prisoner was committed for six months on the charge of stealing £32, the magistrates intimating there would be no adjudication in the two other charges, and that charges from Dudley and Smethwick, the latter relating to the theft of articles to the value of £20, from the SWAN INN, Oldbury Road, Smethwick, had also been taken into consideration.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 7/10/1922

“Old Comrades of the South Staffordshire Regiment.....

The following are the representatives of the Association at the towns in which they reside, who will give full information about the Association to all applicants ex-Cr.-Sergt. Cook, GREEN DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

South Staffordshire Times 10/2/1923

“The monthly meeting of the Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers Association was held on Tuesday at the GREEN DRAGON, Market Place, Wednesbury. Mr. Alf Blakemore occupied the chair.....”

South Staffordshire Times 15/3/1924

“A monthly meeting of the Wednesbury Licensed Victuallers and Beer Retailers Friendly and Protection Society was held on Tuesday afternoon, at the GREEN DRAGON, Market Place, Wednesbury. Mr. Frank Cook presided in the absence of Alderman Sheldon (president).....”

South Staffordshire Times 29/3/1924

“Mr. F. H. Cook of the GREEN DRAGON, Market Place, Wednesbury, last year’s winner of the Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers Billiard Handicap, who last week established a record break for the handicap, received a ‘knock-out’ in the third round on Monday at the hands of Mr. E. A. Webb, of West Bromwich.”

Bilston and Willenhall Times 21/1/1928

“In the first round of the Birmingham and District Licensed Victuallers Billiards Handicap, on Wednesday, Mr. Frank Cook of the GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury defeated Mr. A. W. Porter of Birmingham.”

Bilston and Willenhall Times 25/8/1928

“The half yearly meeting of the Wednesbury and Darlaston Licensed Victuallers Association was held on Tuesday evening at the ROSE HILL TAVERN, Wednesbury, when Mr. A. Blakemore presided.

Reference was made to the new Shop Hours Act, whereby publicans can now sell cigarettes, tobacco and matches during all the hours they are permitted to be opened. The secretary said he had been instructed that license holders could also sell these articles outdoor after 8pm, as well as on the premises.

A letter was read from Mr. Frank Cook resigning his position as vice-president, and stating his reasons. The president said he was at a loss to know why Mr. Cook had resigned, despite what he said in his letter, and he very much regretted his decision. It was decided to let the letter lie on the table, and discuss it at the annual meeting.....”

Frank Cook was vice-chairman of Wednesbury and District Licensed Victuallers and Beer Retailers Friendly and Protection Society. [1928], [1934]

He was also a councillor. [1934]

Lichfield Mercury 4/7/1930

“The annual dinner of the Old Comrades Association of the South Staffordshire Regiment was held at the Town Hall, Walsall, on Saturday evening, and was a greater success than ever, there being an attendance of well over 400.....

Representatives – Cannot speak too highly of the good work done by these gentlemen. The Association again take the opportunity to thanking them most cordially for their good work. They will at all times be pleased to give full information to all applicants and collect subscriptions.....

Mr. F. Cook, GREEN DRAGON HOTEL, Market Square, Wednesbury.”

Dudley Chronicle 1/3/1934

“A quarterly meeting of the Wednesbury Friendly Societies Council was held at the GREEN DRAGON HOTEL, Market Place, on Thursday evening recently when Bro. G. H. Lawrence presided, being supported by Bro. T. Davies (vice-president) and G. Willetts (secretary). There was a good muster of delegates and after the ordinary business of the council had been dealt with the president read the following paper on ‘National Health Insurance additional benefits’.....”

Walsall Observer 4/7/1936

“Mr. F. H. Cook, who for 30 years has held the license of the GREEN DRAGON, Market Place, Wednesbury, retired yesterday from the licensed trade in which he has been engaged for 33 years. Mr. Cook, who is 70 years of age, is a former member of Wednesbury Town Council, and for a number of years was chairman of the Wednesbury branch of the British Legion, being also secretary of the South Staffs Old Comrades Association. He is Chairman of the Wednesbury Cricket Club, Vice-president and trustee of the Wednesbury and Darlaston and District Licensed Victuallers Association. At Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, a temporary transfer of the license in respect of the GREEN DRAGON was granted to John Underwood.”

Walsall Observer 9/1/1937

“The Wednesbury Town Clerk has submitted to the General Purposes Committee a report of an interview with Mr. Lowe, of W. Butler and Company Ltd., brewers, of Wolverhampton, at which the latter suggested the sale of a strip of land near the GREEN DRAGON in the Shambles for the improvement of the hotel; also that the Corporation should acquire, in exchange, a piece of land owned by the brewery company in Church Street, that the Corporation should then close the right of way belonging to the brewery company and grant a right of way to the GRAPES INN into Church Street in a more convenient situation.

The question raised involved the car park scheme upon which the Borough Surveyor submitted a report as to the properties necessary for acquisition containing an estimate of £5,300 for the total scheme. It was resolved that the suggestion regarding the sale of land in the Shambles be not approved. The question as to the right of way has been left in abeyance until the position regarding the future of Church Street is clearer.”

Walsall Observer 26/6/1937

“At Wednesbury special licensing sessions, yesterday week, approval was given to plans for alterations to..... GREEN DRAGON, Market Place.”

1939 Register

9, Market Place

- [1] John Underwood, date of birth 28/5/1892, hotel manager, married;
- [2] Pamela Underwood, dob 9/3/1888, unpaid domestic duties, married;
- [3] John Underwood, dob 16/2/1924, school, single:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 7/3/1940

“Penny-A-Week way to put Comforts Fund on a permanent basis.

Nearly £500 has been added to the lists of the funds in the West Midland and Express and Star federation since the last list, indicating the enthusiasm of people is still on the increase.....

Wednesbury. Previously acknowledged £380 18s 9½d.

Proceeds of boxes.....

J. Underwood, GREEN DRAGON, 15s.”

Rugeley Times 8/2/1941

“The monthly report of the West Bromwich and District General Hospital, just issued, shows that the patients report for the month of December was in-patients admitted, 55; out-patients admitted to the several special departments, 284; to the casualty department, 905; attendance in all departments, 3,485.

Donations acknowledged for the month of December, 1940, were.....

GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury, £5 5s.”

Birmingham Mail 23/3/1942 - Advert

“Reliable Woman assist in Bar occasionally exper. not neces. good wages child no objection.

GREEN DRAGON HOTEL, Wednesbury.”

RELIABLE Woman assist in Bar occasionally exper. not neces. good wages child no objection—Green Dragon Hotel Wednesbury

Birmingham Mail 22/6/1944 - Advert

“Bechstein ebony case upright iron Grand overstrung beautiful tone new cond. offers over £80.

Underwood, GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury. Tel.0473.”

BECHSTEIN ebony case upright iron Grand overstrung beautiful tone new cond. offers over £80—Underwood Green Dragon Wednesbury Tel. 0473

John Underwood – see also DOG AND PARTRIDGE, Willenhall.

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Victory Darts League in 1948.

Daily Mirror 16/1/1950

“Joy Hawkswood was four when, in a green georgette frock trimmed with flowers, she danced on to the stage to make her first public appearance. The next day Joy received a gilt-edge card. Carefully printed capital letters said it was from Admirer. When Christmas came round Admirer sent her another card – and a present. Another present and another card arrived at Easter. Some time later she began getting presents and greetings on her birthday too. If she passed an exam, along came another gift. So it went on, for thirteen years. But now, with Joy seventeen, it is over. Delicately, and in verse Admirer has told her he would send her no more presents. ‘I must fade into the background,’ he wrote. She was now growing up, he pointed out, and had boy friends. So he did not want her to be embarrassed by gifts from someone she did not know. Joy said last night in her home, the GREEN DRAGON, Wednesbury, Staffs, she still does not know who he is, but, she said, he must be a nature lover because many of the presents have been books by Romany, with bunches of violets or primroses packed in cotton wool. ‘My one regret is I can’t thank him.’”

Evening Despatch 29/1/1953 - Advert

“Interviewers – Canvassers – Salesman.

Midlands finest Selling line again available. Interviews Saturday January 31st, 11am to 3pm.

Holman, GREEN DRAGON, Market Place, Wednesbury.”

Wilfred Sanson Meir – see also HORSE AND JOCKEY, Wood Green and COURT HOUSE, Sedgley.

Brother of Wilfred Sanson Meir, Walter Frederick Meir – see WAGGON AND HORSES, Darlaston.

George William Sawle – see also LONDON AND NORTH WESTERN HOTEL.

The house closed on the evening of 10th August 1963.

The license was suspended and was subsequently transferred to Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. on 2nd April 1965, but remained suspended.

Thomas Parkes's Creditors.

ALL Persons who have any Claim or Demand upon the Estate and Effects of the late Mr. THOMAS PARKES, of the George Inn, at Wednesbury, deceased, are desired to send in an Account of their Claims in twenty Days from the Date hereof, unto Mr. William Rock, at the Sign of the Green Dragon, in Wednesbury aforesaid (one of the Executors named in the last Will of the said Mr. Parkes) in order that the same may be settled; and all Persons who are any Ways indebted to the said Mr. Parkes, are desired to pay the same immediately into the Hands of the said Mr. Rock.

Wednesbury, October 29, 1798.

1798

IRONSTONE.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by FRANCIS POOL, on Friday the 21st Day of February, 1800, at the House of Mr. William Rock, the Sign of the Green Dragon, in Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, at Four o'Clock in the Afternoon, subject to such Conditions as will be then produced, a Quantity of Ironstone now lying upon a Piece of Land nearly adjoining the Market Place, in the Town of Wednesbury aforesaid.

The Stone may be viewed, and Particulars known by applying to Mr. William Rock aforesaid.

1800

TO be LET, and entered upon immediately, all that well accustomed Inn and Public House, called and known by the Sign of the GREEN DRAGON, situate in the Market Place, in Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, with a good Stable for five Horses, three Shops, a Warehouse, and an excellent Garden and Croft of Land behind the same, lately occupied by the Willow Rock, but now by Mr. Richard Woolrich, who is going to a Farm.

The Stock and Furniture to be taken at a fair Valuation.—For Particulars apply to Mr. Jesson, Attorney, Walsall.

1816

I Do hereby give Notice, that I will not pay or be accountable for any Debts which my Wife MARTHA, late Martha Rock, Widow of the late William Rock, of Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, shall or may contract, she having a separate Maintenance. Given under my Hand this 20th Day of May, 1817,

RICHARD WOOLRICH.

1817

NOTICE.

WHEREAS a capital TILTED CART, with Iron Arms, belonging to Wm. Joy, has been left at Mr. Woolrich's, the Green Dragon Inn, Wednesbury;—this is to give Notice, that unless the said Cart is redeemed before Friday, October 20, 1820, it will be sold by Auction, by John Taylor, at Two o'Clock on that Day, to defray the Expences.

1820

THE Creditors who have proved their debts under a Commission of Bankrupt awarded and issued forth against RICHARD WOOLRICH, late of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Innholder, dealer and chapman, deceased, are desired to meet the Assignees of the estate and effects of the said bankrupt on the sixth day of December, 1823, at twelve o'clock at noon, at the George Hotel, in Walsall, in the county of Stafford, in order to assent to or dissent from the said Assignees selling and disposing of, by private contract or otherwise, certain real Estate of the said bankrupt, situate in the parish of Wednesbury aforesaid; and on other special affairs.

1823

WEDNESBURY.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by E. and C. ROBINS, on Friday the 26th day of May inst. at four o'clock in the afternoon, at the Green Dragon Inn, in Wednesbury, either in the following or such other lots as may be agreed upon, and subject to conditions then and there to be produced:—

LOT I. All that substantial and respectable Inn or Public House, known by the sign of the GREEN DRAGON, with Liquor Shop and Vaults attached, situate in the Market-place, Wednesbury, now occupied by Mr. Joseph Hobbins, with complete out-offices, front and back carriage entrances, yard, and part of the present garden.

1837

A NEW DAY COACH TO LICHFIELD, CALLED THE DART.

THE Inhabitants of Wolverhampton, Bilston, Wednesbury, Walsall, and their vicinities, are respectfully informed that the above COACH has commenced running every Day (Sundays excepted), at Half-past Seven o'clock in the Morning, from the NEW HOTEL, Wolverhampton, and takes its route through Bilston, Wednesbury, and Walsall, to Lichfield, in time for the Telegraph to Burton, Derby, Sheffield, and Leeds: it calls at the KING'S ARMS INN, Bilston, at a quarter before Eight in the morning; the GREEN DRAGON INN, Wednesbury, at Eight o'clock; and at the GEORGE HOTEL, Walsall, at half-past Eight. It returns from the GEORGE HOTEL, Lichfield, at half-past Two o'clock the same afternoon, arriving in Wolverhampton in time for the first and second class trains to Liverpool and Manchester, for coaches to Dudley, Stourbridge, and Kidderminster, for the Wander to Shrewsbury, and the Shropshire Herald to Bridgnorth.

GREEN DRAGON INN, MARKET PLACE, WEDNESBURY.

TO be SOLD by private Contract, all that old-established Inn or Public House known by the sign of the GREEN DRAGON, with Liquor Shop and Vaults attached, situate in the Market-place, Wednesbury, now occupied by Mr. Joshua Thompson, with complete Out-offices, Stables, front and back Carriage entrances, Yard, and Garden thereto belonging.

1839

GREEN DRAGON INN, WEDNESBURY.

To Publicans and persons in want of an old established Public House and Liquor Shop, in the centre of the Market-place.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION, BY SEPTIMUS DAVIS,

On Monday next, the 4th day of December, 1843, on the premises,

THE valuable LICENSES, GOODWILL, and POSSESSION of the above excellent house and premises, with good Stabling, Coach-houses, and large Yard.

The premises are in good repair, in the centre of the Market-place, and in one of the best situations in Wednesbury.

The household goods, brewing vessels, fixtures, and stock, to be taken to at a fair valuation by the purchaser.

The licenses will be put up at twelve o'clock in the forenoon, and if not sold, the whole of the furniture, fixtures, stock in trade, and other effects, will be Sold by Auction immediately after, and continue on that and the following day.

Full particulars will appear in catalogues, to be had at the place of sale, and of the AUCTIONEER, West Bromwich; or to treat by private contract, apply to Mr. J. B. HEBBERT, solicitor, Temple-street, Birmingham.

1843

WHEREAS a Petition of OBADIAH HOWL, late of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, licensed victualler; at the same time in partnership with Thomas Howl, of Darlaston, in the county of Stafford, omnibus proprietor, trading under the style or firm of Howl and Company, omnibus proprietors; and now of Darlaston aforesaid, licensed to brew and sell ale and beer by retail, and driver of an omnibus to and from Birmingham to Darlaston, an Insolvent Debtor, having been filed in the Birmingham District Court of Bankruptcy, and the interim order for Protection from process having been given to the said Obadiah Howl, under the provisions of the Statutes in that case made and provided, the said Obadiah Howl is hereby required to appear in Court before JOHN BALGUY, Esq., Q.C., the Commissioner acting in the matter of the said Petition, on the 19th day of January next, at half-past 11 o'clock in the forenoon precisely, at the District Court of Bankruptcy, at Birmingham, in the county of Warwick, for his first examination, touching his Debts, Estate and Effects, and to be further dealt with according to the provisions of the said Statutes, and the choice of the Creditors' Assignees is to take place at the time so appointed.

All persons indebted to the said Obadiah Howl, or that have any of his Effects, are not to pay or deliver the same but to Mr. RICHARD WALPY, Waterloo-street, Birmingham, the Official Assignee nominated in that behalf by the Commissioner acting in the matter of the said Petition.

1847

VALUABLE FREEHOLD PROPERTY, MARKET PLACE, WEDNESBURY.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,

BY Mr. JOSEPH DAWES, at the Green Dragon Inn, Wednesbury, on the 18th of March, 1859, at Three p.m. precisely, by direction of the Assignees of William Rock, late of West Bromwich, in the county of Stafford, Commission Agent, an Insolvent Debtor—all that One UNDIVIDED FIFTH PART or SHARE and all other the INTEREST of the said William Rock of and in certain FREEHOLD HEREDITAMENTS, at the Market Place, Wednesbury aforesaid, consisting of a PUBLIC HOUSE, known by the sign of the GREEN DRAGON INN, together with Shops, Yards, Gardens, Stabling, Out-buildings, and Appurtenances thereto belonging, now in the occupation of Thomas Hughes. And also of and in a Piece of LAND lying at the back of the said Premises, occupied by the said Thomas Hughes, and containing with the site of the said Messuages and Buildings 4,562 square yards or thereabouts.

For further particulars, apply to the Auctioneer; or to Messrs. Duignan and Elsworth, Solicitors, Wednesbury.

1859

THE BANKRUPTCY ACT, 1861. IN THE COUNTY COURT OF STAFFORDSHIRE HOLDEN AT WALSHALL.

JOSIAH GRIFFITHS, for one week now last past residing in lodgings at No. 81, Bilston Street, Wolverhampton, in the county of Stafford, previously and for eleven months of Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, in the said county of Stafford, Provision Dealer, Licensed Dealer in Tea and Tobacco, and also a Commission Agent, and previously thereto of the Green Dragon Inn, Wednesbury aforesaid, Licensed Victualler, Retail Brewer, and Dealer in Tobacco, having been adjudged Bankrupt on the 21st day of October, 1864, a Public Sitting for the said Bankrupt to pass his LAST EXAMINATION and make Application for his Discharge, will be held at the said Court, on the 23rd day of November, 1864, at the Court House, Goodall Street, Walsall, at Ten o'clock in the Forenoon precisely, the day last aforesaid being the day limited for the said Bankrupt to surrender. Frederic F. Clarke, of Walsall, is the Official Assignee, and Mr. Henry Langman, of Wolverhampton, is the Solicitor in the Bankruptcy.

H. LANGMAN, Esq., Solicitor, Wolverhampton.
C. G. MEEHAN, High Bailiff.

1864

WEDNESBURY.—GREEN DRAGON MUSIC HALL.—(Proprietor, THOMAS MAUNDER.)—Glorious success of the present Company, viz., Jim Pymmer (Characteristic Comic Vocalist), Harry Whitfield (Shakespearian Comic), Signor Ethardo (Contortionist), Mr. St. George (a first-class Dancer), Yankee Henri (Negro Comedian, &c.), Tom Benson (Negro Vocalist, Instrumentalist, and Dancer), Harry Reeves (Sensation Comic). Open on Monday, November 26th. The Three Sisters Alexander (Characteristic Vocalists, Dancers, and Duetists), together with Messrs. Newman and Francis (Comic Duetists). Vacancies for first-class Talent for December 3d, and future dates. No stamp. Three days' silence a respectful negative. GOOD NIGGERS WANTED immediately. Mr. B. Nash, Manager.

1866

COUNTER for SALE.—To be SOLD, a bargain, a splendid COUNTER and FITTINGS, not to be equalled for workmanship and material. Dimensions of Counter, 36 ft. long, 4 ft. 3 in. high. Spanish mahogany top; large Trusses to match. The Shelves and Fittings contain a large centre Mirror, 6 ft. 4 in. high, by 4 ft. 2 in.; together with eight plate-glass panels, 5 ft. 4 in. high by 8 in. wide; beautifully stained, gilded, and marbled, with the whole of the Spirit and Cordial Casks.—Application to be made to Mr. Thomas Maunder, Green Dragon Inn, High Street, Wednesbury.

LOT 10—The well-accustomed Old-licensed PUBLIC-HOUSE, fronting the Market Place, Wednesbury, known as "THE GREEN DRAGON," and in the occupation of the Proprietor, Mr. Thomas Maunder, with the Outbuildings and Land thereto, coloured pink on the Plans, and containing 1,158 square yards or thereabouts.

The House comprises two roomy Liquor Shops, spacious Concert Hall, snug Parlour, Kitchen, and seven Chambers, with all convenient Outbuildings and Appurtenances.

The purchaser of this lot will not be entitled to any lights looking out upon lot 9, and he will be required to pull down and remove the two chimney shafts standing upon the land forming part of the same lot. The Vendor reserves the right to pull down and remove the materials of the large Concert Hall, built mainly of timber, now standing on the back part of this lot.

1867

GREEN DRAGON MUSIC HALL, WEDNESBURY, STAFFORDSHIRE.—(Proprietor, T. MAUNDER.)

WANTED, a PIANIST, for November 30th, must be good; also, for December 7th, a Lady Solo and Characteristic Vocalist, Gentleman Comic, and a good Single Nigger. No stamp. Three days' silence a negative. Address, B. NASH.

1868

GREEN DRAGON MUSIC HALL, WEDNESBURY.
(Proprietor, Mr JOSEPH TAYLOR.)

WANTED, First-class TALENT in all Branches of Concert Hall Business, to open on Saturday Night, September 3d, and Monday, September 5th. No stamp required. Silence a respectful negative. Address, Mr B. NASH.

1870

WEDNESBURY,
IN THE COUNTY OF STAFFORD.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,

BY MESSRS. FARRINGTON & SON, at the GREEN DRAGON HOTEL, WEDNESBURY, on FRIDAY, the 3rd Day of JULY, 1874, at Five o'clock p.m., either altogether or in such lots as may be announced at the time of sale, and subject to conditions to be then produced, an EXTENSIVE FREEHOLD SITE OF

BUILDING LAND,
With the Buildings thereon, called The Shambles, containing 659 square yards, in the occupation of Mr. Thomas Butler, situate in front of the Market Place and adjoining the Green Dragon Hotel in Wednesbury.

Further information and particulars and plan may be obtained on application to the AUCTIONEERS, at Walsall; or to

MR. T. M. HOW,
Solicitor, SHREWSBURY.

1874

TO be LET or SOLD, the WINDMILL INN, Stafford Street, Dudley, centrally situated in the midst of numerous good manufactories now in full work. The house is now doing a good business, principally counter trade, and possesses, besides a large Vault beautifully fitted up, a Smoke Room, large Bar Parlour, good Kitchen, very good Yard, large Club Room, and eight Bedrooms. Present tenant going out of the business.—For farther particulars, apply to Josh. Taylor, Green Dragon Hotel, Wednesbury.

1880

GREEN MAN

High Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

James Oldacre [1822]
William Cash [1830]
James Taylor [1834]
Thomas Taylor [1835]

NOTES

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 20/12/1830 - Advert

"Freeholds at Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Henry Jacob, at the house of Mr. Taylor, the KINGS HEAD INN, Wednesbury, on Friday the 7th of January, 1831, at four o'clock in the afternoon (by order of the Trustees of Mr. James Brown) the under-mentioned desirable Freehold Property.....

Lot 1. All that old established and well accustomed Public House in the High Street, Wednesbury, known as the GREEN MAN INN, in the occupation of Mr. Cash, with Brewhouse, Outbuildings, and Land behind the same; together with the adjoining House and Pork Shop, fronting the High Street aforesaid.

N.B. This lot is under the lease to Mr. William Cash at £28 per annum, of which seven years will be unexpired on the 12th of February, 1831."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 20/8/1832 - Advert

"GREEN MAN Public House, Wednesbury.

To be disposed of, the Lease, Licences, Good-will, and immediate Possession of the above desirable and well accustomed Public House, with a Pork Butcher's Shop attached, extensive outbuildings, &c, situate near the Market Place, Wednesbury aforesaid.

The stock, vessels, &c, to be taken to at a fair valuation.

For particulars apply (if by letter, post paid) to Daniel Taylor, Auctioneer, &c, Wednesbury."

GREEN MAN PUBLIC HOUSE, WEDNESBURY.

TO be disposed of, the Lease, Licences, Good-will, and immediate Possession of the above desirable and well accustomed Public House, with a Pork Butcher's Shop attached, extensive outbuildings, &c. situate near the Market-place, Wednesbury aforesaid.

The stock, vessels, &c. to be taken to at a fair valuation.

For particulars apply (if by letter, post paid) to Daniel Taylor, Auctioneer, &c. Wednesbury.

FREEHOLDS AT WEDNESBURY.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by HENRY JACOB, at the house of Mr. Taylor, the King's Head Inn, Wednesbury, on Friday the 7th of January, 1831, at four o'clock in the afternoon (by order of the Trustees of Mr. James Brown) the under-mentioned desirable FREEHOLD PROPERTY in the town of Wednesbury aforesaid, and in the following, or such other lots as shall be agreed upon, viz.—

LOT 1. All that old established and well accustomed Public House in the High-street, Wednesbury, known as the GREEN MAN INN, in the occupation of Mr. Cash, with Brewhouse, Outbuildings, and Land behind the same; together with the adjoining House and Pork Shop, fronting the High-street aforesaid.

N. B. This lot is under lease to Mr. William Cash at £28 per annum, of which seven years will be unexpired on the 12th of February, 1831.

GREYHOUND

23, (Lower) Dudley Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Atkinsons Ltd. [1936]

LICENSEES

Mrs. Mary Ann Fellows [1866] – [1872]
Edmund Louis Hammonds [1876] – [1891]
John Craven [1896]
Edward Wilkes [] – 1900
William Harding [1901] – [1904]
George Peters [1911] – [1912]
Henry William Davies [] – 1925;
Cyril Vernon Sleight (1925 – [])
William Hancox [1939]
William Bowers [1940]
Samuel Joseph Harry Beddow (1944 – 1953)

Edmund Louis Hammonds

NOTES

It had a beerhouse license.

Mary Ann Fellows = Mary Ann Fellowes

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 3/11/1866

“L. Wallett of Church Street, Wednesbury, will fly his black and white wing cock pigeon Lord Lyon against any other pigeon in Wednesbury, Walsall, Darlaston, Westbromwich, Bilston, or the surrounding district that will fly eight miles from the Nelson Monument, Birmingham, and he will give or take the fly of any of the district named, for £5 or £10 a side. Money ready at Mrs. Fellows’s, GREYHOUND INN, Dudley Street, Wednesbury.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 24/8/1867

“W. Lee (the Boatman) of Great Bridge will run Sim Webb of Kates Hill 120 yards, for £10 or £25 a side; or take one yard of York, or will throw £10 in with Wareing and Wilcox, the winner to take the £30. Money ready at Fellows’s, the GREYHOUND INN, Wednesbury.”

Mrs. Mary Ann Fellows, beer retailer, Dudley Street. [1868], [1870]

1871 Census

23, Dudley Street

- [1] Mary Ann Fellows (61), widow, publican, born Darlaston;
- [2] John Fellows (29), son, scrap dealer, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Julia Fellows (23), daughter-in-law, born Tipton;
- [4] William Fellows (1), son, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Sarah Yates (17), general servant, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Samuel Wilkes (74), uncle, widower, not able to work, born Wednesbury;

Mrs. Mary Ann Fellowes, beer retailer, 23, Dudley Street. [1872]

Edmund Louis Hammonds = Edmund Louis Hammond = Edmund Lewis Hammond = Edward Hammond = Edward Hammonds

Wolverhampton Express and Star 26/7/1876

“Edmund Lewis Hammond, landlord of the GREYHOUND public house, Dudley Street, Wednesbury, was charged with permitting drunkenness on Saturday last. Mr. J. Sheldon defended.

Evidence in support of the charge having been given by Police-constables Hodgetts and Steele, witnesses were called for the defence, and after hearing their statements the magistrates, believing that there had been no wilful permission on the part of the defendant, dismissed the case.”

Midland Examiner 30/12/1876

“John Gallagher was charged with cutting and wounding Richard Williams, an engineer, and under a warrant of old date he was also charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

The evidence in support of the first-named charge was to the effect that on Saturday night the prosecutor went into the GREYHOUND INN, Dudley Street, Wednesbury, and having been served with a jug of ale he left it on the table while he went to the fire to light his pipe. On turning round he found that the prisoner had drunk nearly all his liquor. He remonstrated, and the prisoner struck at him, at the same time using offensive language, and subsequently, on his defending himself, stabbed him three times with a pocket-knife, once in the middle of the abdomen, and twice about the upper part of the legs, but owing to the thickness of his trousers the wounds were not serious.

The prisoner was sentenced to one month’s imprisonment for the assault, and was fined 10s for being drunk and disorderly.”

London Gazette 20/12/1878

“Bankruptcy Act, 1869. In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall.

In the Matter of Proceedings for Liquidation by Arrangement or Composition with Creditors, instituted by Edmund Louis Hammonds, of the GREYHOUND INN, Dudley-street, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Publican.

Notice is hereby given, that a First General Meeting of the creditors of the above-named person has been summoned to be held at the offices of Joseph Edward Sheldon, 51, High-street, Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, on the 3rd day of January, 1879, at eleven o’clock in the forenoon precisely.

Dated this 18th day of December, 1878.

Joseph E. Sheldon, 51, High-street, Wednesbury, Solicitor for the said Debtor.”

1881 Census

23, Dudley Street – GREY HOUND INN

[1] Edward Hammond (30), beerhouse keeper, born France, British subject;

[2] Mary A. Hammond (30), wife, born Wednesbury;

[3] Florance Hammond (10), daughter, scholar, born Wednesbury;

[4] Mary A. Pugh (23), general servant, born Wednesbury:

Evening Express 27/9/1881

“William Goode (13), of Dudley Street, Wednesbury, was brought up in custody on the charge of breaking into the premises of Mr. Edmund Hammond, publican, Dudley Street.

The evidence of the prosecutor showed that prisoner had gained admittance into the house on the 19th inst by getting through a window. The prisoner had previously broken into the premises and stolen money.

Mr. Superintendent Holland said the prisoner’s mother had been thirty times convicted for being drunk, and was now undergoing a term of imprisonment.

The Bench sentenced the accused to 14 days imprisonment, and three years in a reformatory.”

Evening Star 25/1/1882

"Elizabeth Goode, of Dudley Street, Wednesbury, was brought up on three charges; first with doing wilful damage, second with being drunk, and third, assaulting the police.

Mr. Hammond, proprietor of the GREYHOUND INN, Dudley Street, Wednesbury, stated that on the 14th inst the prisoner came into his house and broke a pane of glass.

Police-constable Quimby said he was called yesterday to a disturbance in Dudley Street, Wednesbury. When he got there he saw the prisoner creating a disturbance, and who, on seeing him, went into a house and procured a glass of water and threw it in his face.

The Stipendiary said that soon after he came into the district the prisoner was introduced to him, and on many previous occasions he had occasion to see her features. She was sentenced for assaulting the police to 14 days imprisonment, and for being drunk and disorderly 14 days, and at the end of the four weeks she would have to pay for wilful damage 10s and costs, and 5s, the value of the pane of glass; or in default of payment, one month with hard labour."

Sporting Life 6/3/1883

"Birch v 'Time.' Mr. S. Middlebrook, publican of the Pleck, Walsall, has matched Thomas Birch, of Walsall, to run ten miles in one hour. The backer of 'Time' being Mr. E. Hammond, of the GREYHOUND INN, Wednesbury, the latter staking £10 to £8. The match to come off on Easter Monday, March 26, at the Robin Hood Grounds, Willenhall. Mr. D. Pike, who is appointed referee, timekeeper, and stakeholder, has received £9. The final deposit of £9 to be made at the grounds the day of running, by three o'clock. To be on the mark at four o'clock sharp."

AND

Sporting Life 28/3/1883

".....The weather was against the pedestrian, as a strong cold wind, accompanied with snow and hail at intervals, made the track, which had been well rolled, rather heavy The ped completed the full distance in 58 minutes 13-5 seconds, a brilliant performance considering the weather."

Sporting Life 29/12/1883

"Lea Brook Grounds, Wednesbury.

The 440 yards match between Frank Lloyd and Thomas Jones, both of Wednesbury, is going on all right. J. Harding holds £10 and articles, and they run on Monday, January 21, 1884, for £30. The next deposit of £5 a side is to be made at Mr. Hammond's, GREYHOUND INN, Dudley Street, Wednesbury, on January 5, 1884, between eight and ten o'clock. Lloyd receives 10 yard start. James Harding, stakeholder, pistol firer, and referee."

Wednesbury Herald 16/2/1884

"Edmund Louis Hammond, publican, Dudley Street, Wednesbury, was, at the instance of the West Bromwich Board of Guardians, directed to pay 20s and costs for neglecting to support his wife."

1891 Census

23, Dudley Street – GREY HOUND INN

[1] Edmund Hammond (40), married, beerhouse keeper, born France, British subject;

[2] Florence Hammond (20), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[3] Alice Riley (22), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 29/9/1891

"The adjourned licensing meeting for the Wednesbury petty sessional division was held yesterday.....

Mr. W. S. Smith applied for the renewal of the license of Edward Hammonds, the GREYHOUND beerhouse, Dudley Street, Wednesbury. Objected to on ground of selling drink during prohibited hours Renewed."

Edmund Louis Hammonds (1850–1903), played cornet in the Wednesbury Rifle Volunteers Band, The Crown Works Band and The Royal Birmingham Orchestra.

He was married to Mary Ann.

He married, secondly, Alice Riley on 30th July 1892.

See also ROYAL EXCHANGE, High Street, Wednesbury, and BRITANNIA, Leabrook Road, Tipton.

John Craven, beer retailer, 23, Dudley Street. [1896]

Edward Wilkes was married to Ann, daughter of William Parker of the LITTLE SWAN, Bilston.
He died on 6th January 1900.

1901 Census

23, Dudley Street

- [1] William Harding (35), beerhouse keeper, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Sarah J. Harding (34), wife, born Oldbury;
- [3] Nellie Harding (11), daughter, born West Bromwich;
- [4] Florence Harding (9), daughter, born West Bromwich;
- [5] William V. Harding (4), son, born West Bromwich;
- [6] Thomas H. Harding (2), son, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Alice Lally (26), domestic servant, born West Bromwich:

Wednesbury Leader 21/9/1901

“Wednesbury Adjourned Licensing Sessions.....

William Harding applied for the granting of the license to him of the GREYHOUND, Dudley Street. Mr. S. M. Slater appeared for the applicant.

Mr. Salt reported a conviction against the house of permitting drunkenness License renewed.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/9/1901

“Wednesbury Adjourned Licensing Sessions.....

Superintendent Salt objected to the renewal of the licenses, in consequence of convictions, of the following houses.....
GREYHOUND INN, Dudley Street.....

The magistrates renewed all the licenses but Mr. Joynson pointed out that if any of the applicants were again convicted they would in all probability lose the licenses.”

William Harding, beer retailer, 23, Dudley Street. [1904]

Pure home-brewed ales from malt and hops only. [1911]

1911 Census

Dudley Street – GREYHOUND INN

- [1] George Peters (49), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Sylvia Peters (50), wife, married 22 years, born Wednesbury;
- [3] George Joseph Peters (21), son, brewer, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Ethel Page (18), niece, born Wednesbury;
- [5] James Buckley (7), grand-son, born Wednesbury:

George Peters, beer retailer and brewer, 23, Dudley Street. [1912]

George Peters – see also OCEAN HOUSE, Wednesbury.

Cyril Vernon Sleigh – see also OLD STILL, Digbeth, Walsall, TANNERS ARMS, Day Street, Walsall, RISING SUN, Green Lane, Walsall, BUILDERS ARMS, Wisemore, Walsall, CRITERION, Stafford Street, Walsall, and RED LION, Blue Lane, Walsall.

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury and District Table Tennis League. [1932]

Birmingham Daily Gazette 6/3/1936

“A suggestion that an area at Wednesbury was being too drastically combed of public houses and swept up as a clearance area, was made by Mr. Frank Cooper, solicitor, at the adjourned Wednesbury Licensing Sessions yesterday. The remarks were prompted in a case concerning the renewal of the license of the GREYHOUND INN, Dudley Street, Wednesbury, Mr. Cooper representing the owners, Messrs. Atkinsons Brewery Company, Aston, Birmingham. An objection to the renewal was made by the police on grounds of redundancy, Police-sergeant Martin stating that there were 25 public houses within a radius of 500 yards, the nearest being only 13 yards away.

Mr. Cooper remarked that during the last 10 or 12 years 13 licenses had been either taken away on grounds of redundancy, or surrendered, within a radius of 250 yards. 'I question if you looked all over England whether you would find an area of that size where so many licenses have been taken away,' observed Mr. Cooper.

Alderman C. W. D. Joyson, presiding, 'This is our clearance area.'

Mr. Cooper, 'And it has been very drastically cleared, too, sir.' He hoped the Justices would not brush away the license in view of the money spent on the property. 'The little man has his usage as much as the public man and, therefore, a small house structurally well built has just as much right to exist in the interests of the community as has the bigger places where large numbers of people congregate,' he added.

The license of the GREYHOUND was subsequently renewed."

1939 Register

23, Lower Dudley Street

[1] William Hancox, date of birth 10/4/1874, licensed victualler, married;

[2] Rose H. Hancox, dob 29/6/1877, unpaid domestic duties and helping above, married:

Rugeley Times 8/2/1941

"The monthly report of the West Bromwich and District General Hospital, just issued, shows that the patients report for the month of December was in-patients admitted, 55; out-patients admitted to the several special departments, 284; to the casualty department, 905; attendance in all departments, 3,485.

Donations acknowledged for the month of December, 1940, were.....

GREYHOUND INN, Wednesbury, 8s."

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League, Division One. [1946]

Evening Despatch 8/9/1953

"A well-known Wednesbury publican, Mr. Samuel Joseph Harry Beddow, licensee of the GREYHOUND, INN, Dudley Street, for nine years, has died at Burton Road Hospital, Dudley.

Mr. Beddow was 60. He leaves a widow and two daughters."

A team from here took part in the Fallings Heath Cribbage League. [1958]

It closed c.1960.

It became the premises of Brittoll Radiator Services Ltd.

It was demolished in the early 1970s.

HARE AND HOUNDS

85, Bridge Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Abel Round [1783] – [1813]
Joseph Round [1818] – [1835]
Daniel Partridge [1841] – [1842]
Henry Partridge [1845] – [1845]
John Cartwright [1849]–1853)
Richard Davis Jnr. [] – 1857);
Joseph Palmer (1857 – [1872]

PUBLIC HOUSE, WEDNESBURY.
TO be LET, and may be entered upon immediately, that old established and well accustomed Public House, the HARE and HOUNDS, in Wednesbury, which has been carried on very advantageously by the present Occupier upwards of thirty Years, and is such a Situation as seldom offers. The Stock and Utensils to be taken to by the coming-in Tenant.
For further Particulars, and to treat for the same, apply to Mr. Abel Round, on the Premises.

1812

NOTES

Abel Round, maltster and victualler, Wednesbury. [1791]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 1/12/1783 - Advert

"To be Sold to the best Bidder, at the House of Mr. Abel Rounds, near Wednesbury Bridge, on Monday the 15th Day of December Inst, between the Hours of Ten and Three o'Clock.....

Three Acres of Land, and Building thereto belonging, situate near Wednesbury Bridge....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 23/3/1807 - Advert

"Notice to Debtors and Creditors.

Whereas Peter Grocutt, of West Bromwich, in the County of Stafford, Woodscrew-maker, hath, by Deed dated the 9th Day of March instant, assigned all his Estate and Effects to Mr. Joseph Morris, of West Bromwich, Mealman, and Mr. Abel Round, of Wednesbury, Victualler, in Trust for the Benefit of the Creditors of the said Peter Grocutt....."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 22/6/1812 - Advert

"Public House, Wednesbury.

To be Let, and may be entered upon immediately, that old established and well accustomed Public House, the HARE AND HOUNDS, in Wednesbury, which has been carried on very advantageously by the present Occupier upwards of thirty Years, and is such a Situation as seldom offers. The Stock and Utensils to be taken to by the coming-in Tenant.

For further Particulars, and to treat for the same, apply to Mr. Abel Round, on the Premises."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 3/5/1813 - Advert

"Public House, Wednesbury.

To be Let, that old established and well known House, the HARE AND HOUNDS, situate near Wednesbury Bridge. The Licences, Stock, and Utensils to be taken by the coming-in Tenant, who may enter immediately or at Michaelmas next.

For further Particulars, or to treat for the same, apply to Mr. Abel Round, on the Premises."

PUBLIC HOUSE, WEDNESBURY.
TO LET, that old established and well known House, the HARE and HOUNDS, situate near Wednesbury Bridge. The Licences, Stock, and Utensils to be taken by the coming-in Tenant, who may enter immediately or at Michaelmas next.
For further Particulars, or to treat for the same, apply to Mr. Abel Round, on the Premises.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 3/3/1817 - Advert

"Notice to Debtors and Creditors.

All Persons who stand indebted to the Estate of the late Abel Round, of Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, deceased, are requested to pay the Amount to Mr. Joseph Round, of Wednesbury aforesaid; and all Persons to whom the said Abel Round stood indebted at the Time of his Decease, are desired to send in their Accounts to the said Joseph Round, that the same may be examined and discharged.

Wednesbury, February 24, 1817."

Joseph Round was also a maltster, gun lock and barrel manufacturer. [1818]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 14/4/1823 - Advert

"To Cover this Season, at the HARE AND HOUNDS, Wednesbury, half-way between Wolverhampton and Birmingham, Nimrod, by Pierrepont, dam by George; Pierrepont was by Sir Peter, Sir Peter by Highflyer, Highflyer by Eclipse; George was by Dungannon, Dungannon by Eclipse. He is a rich brown colt, without white, 4 years old, with remarkably good temper, high action, and excellent constitution.

Two Guineas each Mare and 2s 6d the Groom."

1841 Census

Bridge Street

[1] Daniel Partridge (60), farmer, born Staffordshire;

[2] Joseph Partridge (20), farmer, born Staffordshire;

[3] Maria Partridge (55), born Staffordshire;

[4] Sarah Partridge (20), born Staffordshire;

[5] Hannah Hartill (20), born Staffordshire:

Birmingham Journal 17/5/1845 - Advert

"To be Sold by Auction, by Septimus Davis, on Wednesday, May the 28th.

Four Freehold Dwelling Houses and Gardens, with the Mines and Minerals, situated at the Crab Mill, Hill Top, West Bromwich, at the house of Mr. Partridge, the HARE AND HOUNDS, Holloway, Wednesbury, at Six o'clock in the evening. Particulars will appear in catalogues."

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/3/1850

"Staffordshire Lent Assizes.....

John Ingram and Thomas Holmes were charged with assaulting Walter William Cobb, and stealing from his person £1 10s in gold. Mr. Huddleston appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Kettle defended the prisoners.

Mr. Cobb, upon being sworn, stated that he was a traveller. On the night of the 29th of August he was at the door of the HARE AND HOUNDS, Wednesbury, when the prisoners came out of the house. He inquired for a conveyance to Birmingham, and they offered their services to get him one. They walked with him towards Birmingham, and directed him to a certain place to get a conveyance. When he got there he found it an uninhabited house. They then came to the high road, when he told the prisoners he did not require their services, and wished them to break off. They continued to follow him, and asked him to give them a shilling to accompany him to Lord Dartmouth's wall. This he declined to do, and they then began to beg for the poor colliers out of work. After talking some time, he wishing them to leave him, he was then knocked down by Ingram; he struggled with him on the ground, and caught hold of him by the hair. Ingram took out of his pocket £1 10s in gold. He (witness) shouted 'Murder;' Ingram called 'Tom, Tom,' and Holmes came up, and Ingram gave him the money. Holmes gave him (prosecutor) a tremendous kick on the side as he was rising, and sent him over. They then ran off towards Wednesbury.

The prosecutor, upon cross-examination, denied that he was drunk. He said his coat was torn in getting off an omnibus.

Edward Bayley, police-constable, deposed that on the night in question he saw the prosecutor at Hill Top, calling out for assistance. From a description given by the prosecutor, he afterwards apprehended the prisoners. The prosecutor was sober at the time. He walked with him to the HARE AND HOUNDS.

Mr. Kettle, after addressing the jury on behalf of the prisoners, called Mrs. Cartwright, landlady of the HARE AND HOUNDS, who said she found the prosecutor sitting upon her step, drunk, with his coat torn and dirty, as though he had been down, and that he said his money had been taken from him between that place and Bilston.

Joseph Harthill, son-in-law to Mrs. Cartwright, gave confirmatory evidence, declaring, however, that the prisoners went from the house a quarter of an hour before the prosecutor, while they in their declaration before the magistrates said they went away with him. He said he went with the prosecutor to the bridge, where they overtook the prisoners; he bade them good night, and called them by name. They went off towards their homes.

John Cartwright, the landlord of the HARE AND HOUNDS, and William Potts, blacksmith, at Wednesbury, gave the prisoners a good character.

The jury found the prisoner guilty. Sentence deferred.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 23/3/1850

“Staffordshire Lent Assizes Sentences.....

Thomas Holmes and John Ingram, for assaulting and robbing Walter William Cobb, at Westbromwich, to be transported for seven years each.”

Birmingham Journal 31/8/1850

“The annual licensing day for the hundred of Offlow South was held on Wednesday last.....

The old applications for renewal of licenses, numbering two hundred and twenty, were granted, but the following publicans having been fined during the current year for Sunday trading, were respectively admonished, and cautioned as to a repetition of this offence, and a notice to this effect was by order of the Court endorsed on the licenses.....

John Cartwright, Wednesbury.”

John Cartwright was also a mining agent. [1851]

1851 Census

Bridge Street

[1] John Cartwright (49), victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Nancy Cartwright (49), wife, born Darlaston;

[3] John Cartwright (13), son, born West Bromwich;

[4] Thomas Cartwright (9), son, born Oldbury;

[5] Rachael Cartwright (11), daughter, born Oldbury;

[6] Hannah Cartwright (6), daughter, born Oldbury;

[7] Eliza Henley (18), house servant, born West Bromwich:

Birmingham Journal 30/8/1851

“On Wednesday, the annual special sessions for renewal of licenses was held.....

The renewal of the old licenses, 219 in number, were granted, with the following exceptions, without remark.....

John Cartwright, Wednesbury, cautioned.....

Those cautioned had that remark written on the back of their license.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/9/1852

“On Wednesday, the annual petty sessions for the Hundred of Offlow South was held.....

Licenses suspended until September 29.....

John Cartwright, HARE AND HOUNDS, Wednesbury, open on Sunday.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 6/10/1852

“Adjourned licensing sessions.....

The suspended cases were brought forward for decision.....

John Cartwright, of Wednesbury, was cautioned, and his license given to him again.”

Birmingham Journal 27/8/1853

“Annual Licensing Day.....

The whole of the renewals were duly granted, with the following exceptions of parties convicted and fined.

The following had their licenses suspended until the adjournment day, the 28th of September, when the decision of the Magistrates on their cases will be given.....

John Cartwright, HARE AND HOUNDS, Wednesbury.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 5/10/1853

"In accordance with recent regulations, a Special Petty Sessions was held at the Scott Arms, Barr, on Wednesday last.....

Cases, in which the re-granting of old licenses in this district had been suspended, were gone into, with the following results.....

John Cartwright, HARE AND HOUNDS INN, Wednesbury, reported and fined three years successively, had his license refused. He now said he hoped the Court would give him a little time; he was about to dispose of the house and business, and should have £50. The Bench said that could not at all influence their determination, he should have kept the house properly."

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 6/10/1856 - Advert

"Wednesbury. Old-Licensed Public House to be Let.

The HARE AND HOUNDS INN, Bridge Street.

The above old-established House, in consequence of the present tenant engaging in other business. It is very advantageously situated in one of the most public thoroughfares of the town, near to several Works, and may be entered upon immediately.

The House contains excellent club-room, large kitchen, and every convenience for carrying on a good business. Coming-in about £250.

For further particulars and to treat apply to Mr. Davies, Auctioneer, Wednesbury."

Birmingham Journal 7/4/1860 - Advert

"To Cover This Season, 1860, that Celebrated Horse Magician (late the property of Lord Strathmore, in whose hands he was regularly hunted, carrying upwards of twelve stone, and proved himself one of the stoutest horses of his day), now the property of Mr. John Cook, Little Sutton, at Five Guineas for thorough-bred mares, and Two Guineas for half-bred mares, and Five Shillings the groom. The groom's fee to be paid at the time of covering, and the remainder the last time round.....

Magician will attend the following places.....

Monday HARE AND HOUNDS INN, Wednesbury, at night."

Staffordshire Advertiser 27/10/1860 - Advert

"Whereas, on Monday, October 22, 1860, a brown Cart Colt, two years old, with three white feet, a star in forehead, long tail, and standing about 14 hands 2 or 3 inches high; and a thick, strong, brown Welsh Pony, about 12 hands 2 inches high, star in forehead, and long tail; did Stray from the field at the back of the HARE AND HOUNDS, Bridge Street, Wednesbury. This is to give notice, that whoever will give such information as will lead to the recovery of the same, shall be handsomely rewarded, on application to Mr. Palmer, HARE AND HOUNDS, Bridge Street, Wednesbury."

1861 Census

Bridge Street

[1] Joseph Palmer (34), victualler, born Wednesbury;

[2] Margaret Palmer (34), wife, born Willenhall;

[3] Maryann Thomas (19), house servant, born Oldbury:

Birmingham Journal 26/10/1861 - Advert

"House and Malthouse.

To be Let, a large Malthouse, with Two Kilns and a Dwelling House, situated near Wednesbury Bridge, in the parish of West Bromwich.

Apply to Joseph Palmer, HARE AND HOUNDS, Bridge Street, Wednesbury."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 26/11/1862 - Advert

"Malthouse to be Let.

To be Let, a Malthouse, near Wednesbury Bridge; also a Dwelling House.

Apply to Joseph Palmer, HARE AND HOUNDS, Wednesbury."

HOUSE AND MALTHOUSE.
TO be LET, a large MALTHOUSE, with Two KILNS and a DWELLING HOUSE situated near Wednesbury Bridge, in the parish of West Bromwich.—Apply to Joseph Palmer, Hare and Hounds, Bridge Street, Wednesbury. 3132

MALTHOUSE TO BE LET.
TO BE LET, a MALTHOUSE, near Wednesbury Bridge; also a DWELLING HOUSE.—Apply to JOSEPH PALMER, Hare and Hounds, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 9/2/1864

“West Bromwich. Meeting of the Guardians.....

The minutes of the last meeting having been read and confirmed, Mr. Whitehouse said his attention had been drawn to the case of a man named Thomas Hawkins, now an inmate of the Workhouse, who had been earning in the employment of a person named Palmer, of the HARE AND HOUNDS INN, Wednesbury, not less than 6s per week, besides being allowed his board. The man, although sixty years of age, was strong and vigorous, and he did not consider it necessary that he should become an inmate of the workhouse and a burden on the parish. Mr. Dee, the governor of the workhouse, Mr. Gittoes, the relieving officer, and the man were called into the presence of the Board, and Hawkins admitted having worked at the place mentioned by Mr. Whitehouse, which he left because he wanted clothes and shoes. The man was severely reprehended for quitting his employment, and was commanded to go to stone-breaking so long as he remained an inmate of the Union.”

Birmingham Journal 23/4/1864 - Advert

“Wednesbury Oak, Tipton. Freehold Public House and Dwelling Houses and Premises.

To be Sold by Private Treaty, all that Old-established Licensed Public House, situate near the Gospel Oak Turnpike Gate and Wednesbury Oak Works, in the parish of Tipton, called the SAMPSON AND LION, with the two Dwelling Houses adjoining.....

For further particulars, apply to Mr. Palmer, HARE AND HOUNDS, Wednesbury; to Mr. Thomas Cooksey, Auctioneer, or Mr. Thomas Bolton, Solicitor, both of Wolverhampton.”

An inquest was held here in September 1864 concerning the death of George Davis, landlord of the WHITE SWAN, Bridge Street.

[The report can be found under that pub.]

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/12/1866

“Birmingham Poultry Show.....

Mr. Joseph Palmer, HARE AND HOUNDS, Wednesbury, was awarded a third prize for golden-spangled pullets, and a fourth for a cockerel.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/9/1868

“Yesterday morning an inquest was held at the HARE AND HOUNDS INN, Bridge Street, Wednesbury, before E. Hooper, Esq, coroner, on the body of a child named John Simcox, sixteen months old. On the previous day, at about twenty minutes to one o'clock, the deceased child was playing with others at its mother's door. A loaded waggon drawn by three horses was passing at the time, and a child was hanging at the tail-board. The deceased child endeavoured to get across the road to join in the sport, but unfortunately ran between the front and hind wheels of the waggon, and was knocked down. One wheel passed over the arm and top part of the body, and the child was so severely bruised that it died about two hours afterwards. The mother was censured for not taking greater care of her child; but it was shown that the driver of the waggon was driving slowly at the time of the accident, and that he could not see the child in time to have avoided it. A verdict of Accidental Death was returned.”

Birmingham Daily Post 2/2/1870 - Advert

“A Four-wheel Phaeton, nearly new; scarcely been used; in excellent condition. Price £35; cost £60.

Apply at J. Palmer's, HARE AND HOUNDS INN, Bridge Street, Wednesbury.”

A Four-wheel PHAETON, nearly new; scarcely been used; in excellent condition. Price £35; cost £60.—Apply at J. Palmer's, Hare and Hounds Inn, Bridge Street, Wednesbury.

1871 Census

85, Bridge Street

- [1] Joseph Palmer (44), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Margaret Palmer (44), wife, born Willenhall;
- [3] Harriet Ward (21), domestic servant, born Oaken Bridge, Shropshire;
- [4] Elizabeth Martin (14), domestic servant, born London:

Joseph Palmer was also a coal merchant. [1872]

"The adjourned licensing sessions for the new district of Wednesbury took place yesterday....

Mr. Disturnal applied on behalf of Joseph Hockley, junior, for a license for 85, Bridge Street, Wednesbury. He said a license was attached to the house until 1876, when the then owner of the premises allowed it to lapse. It was structurally in every way suited for a licensed house, there being no less than thirteen rooms in it. Mr. J. S. Sharpe opposed on behalf of adjoining occupiers, and Mr. W. S. Smith opposed on behalf of the Licensed Victuallers Association and Mr. Edward Smith. The Bench refused the application."

Notice to Debtors and Creditors.

ALL Persons who stand indebted to the Estate of the late ABEL, ROUND, of Wednesbury, in the County of Stafford, deceased, are requested to pay the Amount to Mr. Joseph Round, of Wednesbury aforesaid; and all Persons to whom the said Abel Round stood indebted at the Time of his Decease, are desired to send in their Accounts to the said Joseph Round, that the same may be examined and discharged.

Wednesbury, Feb. 24, 1817.

1817

TO COVER this SEASON, at the Hare and Hounds, Wednesbury, half-way between Wolverhampton and Birmingham, NIMROD, by Pierrepont, dam by George; Pierrepont was by Sir Peter, Sir Peter by Highflyer, Highflyer by Eclipse; George was by Dungannon, Dungannon by Eclipse. He is a rich brown colt, without white, 4 years old, with remarkably good temper, high action, and excellent constitution.

£3. Two Guineas each Mare and 2s. 6d. the Groom.

1823

WEDNESBURY.

OLD-LICENCED PUBLIC HOUSE TO BE LET.

"THE HARE AND HOUNDS INN,"

BRIDGE-STREET.

THE above old-established HOUSE, in consequence of the present tenant engaging in other business. It is very advantageously situated in one of the most public thoroughfares of the town, near to several Works, and may be entered upon immediately.

The House contains excellent club-room, large kitchen, and every convenience for carrying on a good business. Coming-in about 250*l*.

For further particulars and to treat apply to Mr. Davies, Auctioneer, Wednesbury.

1856

WHEREAS, on Monday, October 22, 1860, a brown CART COLT, two years old, with three white feet, a star in forehead, long tail, and standing about 14 hands 2 or 3 inches high; and a thick, strong, brown WELSH PONY, about 12 hands 2 inches high, star in forehead, and long tail; did STRAY from the field at the back of the Hare and Hounds, Bridge-street, Wednesbury. This is to give notice, that whoever will give such information as will lead to the recovery of the same, shall be handsomely rewarded, on application to Mr. PALMER, Hare and Hounds, Bridge-street, Wednesbury.

1860

HEN AND CHICKENS

47, Foster Street, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Ltd.

LICENSEES

James Whitehouse [1864]
Sarah (Careless) Dixon [] – 1870;
John Dixon (1870 – [1872]
Alfred Onions [1881]
Edmund Lea [1883]
J A Allen [1886]
Emma Chamberlain [1888]
Celia Emma Chamberlain [1891]
William Chamberlain [1893]
William Chew [1901]
John Ricketts [1911]
William Winsper [] – 1914);

NOTES

It had an ante 1869 beerhouse license.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 6/2/1864 - Advert

“Freehold Property, at Wednesbury.

Charles Bayley will offer for Sale by Auction, on Wednesday, the 17th of February, 1864, at the DARTMOUTH ARMS HOTEL, Wednesbury, at Seven o'clock in the Evening, subject to conditions then to be read.

A newly-erected and convenient Public House, called the HEN AND CHICKENS HOTEL, in the occupation of Mr. James Whitehouse, situate in Foster Street, Wednesbury, and near to the Turnpike Road from Wolverhampton to Birmingham, having a frontage of eleven yards to Foster Street, and containing an area of 291 square yards or thereabouts.

Further particulars may be obtained on application to Mr. J. H. Thursfield, Solicitor; Mr. William Rock; or at the Auctioneer's Office, Bridge Street, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 17/8/1870

“At the Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, before Mr. Walter Williams, Mr. Marshall, and Mr. Jesson, John Dixon, keeper of the HENS AND CHICKENS beerhouse, Foster Street, was charged with being duly licensed to sell beer, and not causing to be painted in letters at least three inches in length, on the board placed over the house and premises in which he was licensed, his name and surname, together with the words ‘licensed to be drunk on the premises.’

Superintendent Holland said the name on the sign was Sarah Careless, and Dixon was now her husband, so that the sign ought to have been altered. Police-constable Walters said he visited the house on Friday last, and the sign stated that Sarah Careless kept it.

The defendant's wife appeared for him, and said her husband worked at Messrs. James Bagnall's, the Imperial Works, Wednesbury. Mr. Williams said he believed it was a rule that none of the men employed at the works of Messrs. Bagnall, should keep any beerhouse. Superintendent Holland said he was not sure whether this was so or

FREEHOLD PROPERTY,
At WEDNESBURY.
CHARLES BAYLEY will offer for SALE by
AUCTION, on WEDNESDAY, the 17th of February 1864, at the Dartmouth Arms Hotel, Wednesbury, at Seven o'clock in the Evening, subject to conditions then to be read—
A newly-erected and convenient PUBLIC-HOUSE, called the “HEN AND CHICKENS HOTEL,” in the occupation of Mr. James Whitehouse, situate in Foster Street, Wednesbury, and near to the Turnpike Road from Wolverhampton to Birmingham, having a frontage of eleven yards to Foster Street, and containing an area of 291 square yards or thereabouts.
Further particulars may be obtained on application to Mr. J.
H. Thursfield, Solicitor; Mr. William Rock; or at the Auctioneer's Office, Bridge Street, Wednesbury.

not. He further stated that at the latter end of last month he served a notice to renew the license of the house at the next licensing day at West Bromwich, and he referred the defendant's wife to the sign, telling her at the same time that it must be altered.

Mr. Williams said the defendant would have to pay for being 'careless' (laughter).

Mr. Thursfield (magistrates' clerk) said the Bench could not mitigate the penalty beyond 20s and costs. Defendant was accordingly fined 20s and costs (about 12s)."

1871 Census

47, Foster Street – HEN AND CHICKENS

- [1] Alfred Onions (44), axle forger, born Bilston;
- [2] Frances Onions (42), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] James Onions (20), son, iron worker, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Cornelius Onions (12) son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Theresa Onions (14), scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [6] William Jackson (30), lodger, labourer, iron works, born Yoxall, Staffordshire;
- [7] William Salisbury (20), lodger, ironworker, born Shropshire;
- [8] Jane Davis (16) domestic servant, born Wednesbury;
- [9] Robert Lewis (31), visitor, ironworker, born Wrockwardine, Shropshire;
- [10] Samuel Lewis (39), visitor, labourer, iron works, born Wrockwardine, Shropshire;
- [11] John Dixon (29), puddler, iron works, born Pelsall;
- [12] Sarah Dixon (22), wife, born Wednesbury;

John Dixon, beer retailer, 47, Foster Street. [1872]

1881 Census

47, Foster Street – ORPHAN BOY INN

- [1] Alfred Onions (55), publican, born Bilston;
- [2] Frances Onions (52), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Theresa Onions (26), daughter, dressmaker, out of employ, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Cornelius Onions (22), son, axle turner, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Clara Eavis (20), general servant, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Robert Lewis (41), lodger, shingler in iron work, born Shropshire;
- [7] William Salisbury (32), lodger, striker in iron work, born Shropshire;
- [8] Richard Longmore (32), roller in iron work, born Tipton;

Wednesbury Herald 27/1/1883

"On Monday evening last a portion of the leading employees of Messrs. John Bagnall and Sons Limited, Imperial Iron Works, Portway Lane, Wednesbury, met at the HEN AND CHICKENS, Foster Street, to present Edmund Lea, the proprietor, with a valuable time piece. After partaking of a substantial dinner Mr. Richard Edwards, manager of the Cyclops Iron Works, Walsall, was called to the chair, and made a very suitable speech. After the good wishes expressed by several of the party the chairman made the presentation and read the following address, 'To Mr. Edmund Lea, of the HEN AND CHICKENS, Foster Street, Wednesbury, late mill and forge manager at Messrs. Bagnall's Imperial Iron Works, under the past and present firms. It having been resolved by the workmen of the Imperial Iron Works, to present a testimonial to Mr. Edmund Lea, after the period of service of upwards of 22 years, as mill and forge manager, under the Messrs. Bagnall, in recognition of his long and faithful service, and the general esteem to which he has been held, by the whole of the employees, and beg his acceptance of the accompanying time piece, subscribed for by the workmen, and in presenting it beg to tender him our warmest esteem and best wishes for his future welfare. We further hope that his separation from us will be to his temporal advantage, and that he may have many years before him of health and prosperity.'

Mr. Lea then responded, which brought down several rounds of applause.

The evening was afterwards spent in harmony, singing, and music."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 24/8/1885 - Correspondence

“The Conservative Meeting at Toll End.

To the Editor of the Express and Star.

Sir, I did not think of troubling you again on the above subject, as I think enough has been said. The truth of the matter is the bargain was made on the ground, before Mr. Lloyd's carriage arrived, that neither Mr. Lloyd nor any of his supporters should address this meeting.

Yours truly, Edmund Lea, Foster Street, Wednesbury.

(Enough has now been written on the subject. Ed. E.&S.)

Wolverhampton Express and Star 16/9/1885 - Correspondence

“Questions for Alderman Blades.

Sir, Will you kindly allow me to ask Mr. Blades two questions for public information? Mr. Blades has told the electors of West Bromwich that if the Church were disestablished, and it managed its own affairs and it did not compel him and others Dissenters to support it, it would go on and thrive much better. I ask Mr. Blades to kindly show (1) in what way he or other Dissenters is compelled to support the Church; and (2) I ask, suppose some person were to die, and will over to Mr. Blades a large estate to him and his heirs for ever, and the Government were to step in and say, ‘Your neighbours want a share, therefore we will be equally divide it so that you may all be equal,’ would Mr. Blades go on and thrive much better?

Yours, &c, Edmund Lea, Foster Street, Wednesbury.

Commercial Gazette 2/2/1887

“Extracts from the Register of County Courts Judgements.....

J. A. Allen, HEN AND CHICKENS, Foster Road, Wednesbury, publican, 16th December 1886, £10 3s 4d.”

West Bromwich Weekly News 20/8/1887

“Mr. J. G. Thursfield applied on behalf of Mr. Edward Bennett for the transfer of the license of the HEN AND CHICKENS beerhouse at Wednesbury. He explained that a similar application had been made at Wednesbury, but refused on account of some previous conviction against his client, but he contended that they were not of a serious nature.

The Bench considered that no one with a list of convictions against him, such as the applicant had, was a proper person to hold a license, and saw no reason to overrule the decision of the Wednesbury Justices.

The application was therefore refused.”

Emma Chamberlain, beerhouse keeper, 47, Foster Street. [1888]

1891 Census

47, Foster Street

[1] William Chamberlain (56), agent, born Nottingham;

[2] Celia Chamberlain (55), wife, beerhouse keeper, born Willenhall;

[3] Emma Chamberlain (24), daughter, born West Bromwich;

[4] Arthur Chamberlain (19), son, baker, born West Bromwich:

Commercial Gazette 8/3/1893

“Extracts from the Registry of County Courts Judgements.....

William Chamberlain, publican, and Celia Emma Chamberlain, HEN AND CHICKENS, Foster Street, Wednesbury, 8th February 1893, £40 4s 2d.”

Wednesbury Herald 30/3/1895

“Mary Kenny, of Brickkiln Street, was summoned for assaulting Michael Sheridan, a lamp oil hawker, living in the same neighbourhood. Prosecutor stated that at 11.10pm on March 9th he was in Foster Street on his way home, when she met him, and tried to push his oil tank over. He told her she ought to have more sense. Thereupon she spat in his face and struck him on the head with a brick. He had to get her on the floor to take the brick from her. She was drunk, and had just come from the HEN AND CHICKENS INN, where she had broken four windows.

Defendant said Sheridan attempted to commit an indecent assault upon her, and she struck him in self defence. The Chairman said she would be fined 5s and costs, or seven days.”

1901 Census

47, Foster Street

- [1] William Chew (34), furnaceman, born Stroud, Gloucestershire;
- [2] Martha Chew (31), wife, born Bilston;
- [3] William Chew (10), son, born Bilston;
- [4] Samuel Chew (8), son, born Bilston;
- [5] Florence Chew (5), daughter, born Bilston;
- [6] Arthur Chew (3 months), son, born Bilston;
- [7] Edward Roberts (66), boarder, widower, lawyer, born Wem, Shropshire:

William Chew – see also SHAMROCK, Bilston.

1911 Census

47, Foster Street – HEN AND CHICKENS

- [1] John Ricketts (50), married, beerhouse keeper, born Wolverhampton;
- [2] Ellen Ricketts (28), daughter, milliner, born Wolverhampton:

Birmingham Daily Post 14/2/1914

“The Wednesbury Licensing Sessions were held yesterday.....

Superintendent Salt reported Since the last annual sessions three licensees had been proceeded against, and one convicted. Opposition was taken to the renewal of the license of the BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge.....

The Bench renewed all the licenses with the exception of the BULLS HEAD INN, Tame Bridge; the SHAKESPEARE INN, Dudley Street; and the HEN AND CHICKENS INN, Foster Street. The two latter were opposed on the ground of redundancy. Consideration of these objections were deferred until the adjourned meeting.”

Birmingham Daily Post 14/3/1914

“At Wednesbury adjourned licensing sessions yesterday.....

The renewal of the licenses of the HEN AND CHICKENS, Foster Street, and the SHAKESPEARE INN, Dudley Street, were opposed on the ground of redundancy, and both were referred to the County Compensation Authority.”

Birmingham Daily Post 6/6/1914 - Notice

“The Licensing (Consolidation) Act 1910. County Of Stafford.

Notice Is Hereby Given, that the Principal Meeting to be held pursuant to the Licensing Rules, 1910, by the Compensation Authority for the above Area, will be held at the Shire Hall, Stafford, at 11.15 o'clock am, on Wednesday, the 29th day of July, 1914.

And Notice Is Hereby Also Given, that the Compensation Authority will at the Meeting be prepared to hear, with reference to the Renewal of the Licenses of the several Premises specified in the subjoined list, all those Persons to whom under the Licensing (Consolidation) Act 1910, they are bound to give an opportunity of being heard; that is to say, the Persons interested in any Licensed Premises in question, and, unless it appears to the Compensation Authority unnecessary, any other persons appearing to them to be interested in the question of the renewal of the license of those premises (including the Justices of the Licensing District).

List of Licensed Premises.....

HEN AND CHICKENS, Foster Street, Wednesbury. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee, William Winsper.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 1/8/1914

“At the Principal Meeting of the Staffordshire Licensing Compensation Authority, held at the Shirehall, Stafford, on Wednesday, 25 licenses which had been referred by justices from petty sessional divisions and boroughs came under review. Of these, no opposition to the refusal of the license was offered by the parties interested in 15 cases, eight which were opposed were refused renewal, and the remaining two were adjourned for evidence of the trade done at each house.....

Seven licenses had been referred from Wednesbury Division and two from Wednesbury borough. The latter, both ante-1869 beerhouses – the SHAKESPEARE, Dudley Street, and the HEN AND CHICKENS, Foster Street – were unopposed, and the renewal was refused.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/8/1914

“The Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910. County of Stafford.

Notice is Hereby Given that the Compensation Authority for the above area, having decided at their Principal Meeting, held on the 29th day of July, 1914, to Refuse the Renewal of the Licenses of the Premises specified below, all Persons Claiming to be Interested in the said Premises for the purpose of the Payment of Compensation under the said Act (other than the Licensee and the Registered Owner of the said Premises) are required to send to the Compensation Authority Notice of their Claims before the 7th day of September, 1914, for the purpose of enabling the Compensation Authority to ascertain in manner provided by the Licensing Rules, 1910, the Persons entitled to Compensation under the said Act, in respect of the said Premises.....

HEN AND CHICKENS, Foster Street, Wednesbury. Beerhouse, ante 1869. Licensee, William Winsper. Registered Owner, Wolverhampton and Dudley Breweries Limited.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 9/1/1915

“Report of the County Licensing Committee for the year 1914.....

The committee of the Compensation Authority went in great detail into all the figures submitted to them upon which the persons interested claimed compensation, and heard evidence put forward by the claimants. The committee consider that the amounts of compensation agreed upon are satisfactory, both from the point of view of the parties interested and the Compensation Fund.

In the following 18 cases the committee fixed the compensation.....

HEN AND CHICKENS, Foster Street, Wednesbury, beerhouse, ante-1869, £675.

The money has been apportioned amongst the interested parties, and will be paid on the 28th instant.”

HIGHGATE ARMS

Rowley View, Holyhead Road, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

Highgate (Walsall) Brewery Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. (acquired in 1939)
Enterprise Inns [1990s]

LICENSEES

Albert Henry Boswell [1939]
Emily Elizabeth Boswell [1961] – [1966]
Don Woodward [1974]
John Brian Coleclough [1976] – [1990]
Derrick Howard Wood [1995]
Val Healy (1995 – [1996]
Elaine Turner (1997 – [1999]

NOTES

Walsall Observer 29/7/1939

“More than fifty licensed premises in Walsall and neighbouring place become Mitchells and Butlers houses this week as a result of the well-known Cape Hill brewery company’s acquisition of the whole of the undertakings of the Highgate-Walsall Brewery Co. Ltd., and the Walsall Breweries Proprietary Ltd., and of all the licensed and certain un-licensed properties of Messrs. John Lord, brewers, of Short Acre.....

A list of the licensed premises that form part of the properties acquired by Mitchells and Butlers is as follows.....
Highgate houses.....

HIGHGATE ARMS, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.”

1939 Register

Holyhead Road – HIGHGATE ARMS (2 of 4)

- [1] Albert H. Boswell, date of birth 30/1/1905, licensed victualler, manager, previous occupation bolt forger, married;
[2] Emily E. Boswell, dob 3/4/1905, unpaid domestic duties, married;

Albert Henry Boswell died in the 2nd quarter of 1958.

Sports Argus 18/11/1961

“Practice makes Perfect is the slogan Alan Boswell, the 18-year-old goalkeeper who made his debut for Walsall against Norwich today, has seized on, and he certainly sticks to it. ‘He’s tremendously keen,’ says Walsall trainer Vic Potts. ‘He often comes back for a spot of extra training.’ But Wednesbury-born Alan doesn’t stop there. He is so keen to make a name for himself in soccer that he trains indoors with a full-size football. He stands at the foot of a flight of stairs at the HIGHGATE ARMS, the Wednesbury public house which is kept by his mother, and throws the ball up, catching it as it rebounds. Then, when it’s light enough, he takes the ball out on to the car park in front of the HIGHGATE ARMS, and again polishes up his goalkeeping.....”

[The score was Walsall 5, Norwich 0.]

A team from here took part in the Wednesbury Central Darts League. [1963]

Walsall Observer 13/12/1974

“A small pub with a big heart, that’s what you might put on the sign of the HIGHGATE ARMS in Darlaston. The pub has just held a Christmas dinner for 48 old people. Since February £600 has been raised to pay for the event. Licensee Mr. Don Woodward said, ‘It’s good for a small pub.’ Local group, Skin Deep, played for the old folk at the dinner arranged by the pub’s senior citizens committee. Mr. Reg Cooper, of Cooper Transport Ltd, donated £20.”

Walsall Observer 12/11/1976

“The firework fun of Darlaston youngsters helped raise money for local old folk on Friday. A bonfire at the HIGHGATE ARMS pub, Holyhead Road, raised £70 for the members of the pub’s senior citizens club. The bonfire and firework display was well attended, and £40 was raised through admission charges alone, even though children were let in free. The fire was lit by Mr. Reg Cooper, chairman of Darlaston Football Club. And the added attraction of a disco helped raise more money than last year’s bonfire, explained licensee Mr. John Coleclough.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 16/12/1978 - Advert

“The HIGHGATE ARMS offers you an excellent menu every lunch time including weekends. Enjoy anything from a tasty beefburger to a succulent steak in our relaxed and sociable atmosphere. Evening meals by order. Call in soon. Holyhead Road, Wednesbury.”

Sandwell Evening Mail 30/12/1978 - Advert

“John and Freda of the HIGHGATE ARMS, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury, extend Heartiest Greetings for the New Year to all their customers, old and new.”

Superslim Slimming Club was held here. [1981]

Sandwell Evening Mail 2/7/1981

“A refurbished lounge will be opened tomorrow at the HIGHGATE ARMS, Holyhead Road, Wednesbury. It has taken just 10 weeks to change the old room into the new Victoriana-style lounge bar at an estimated cost of £30,000. The HIGHGATE ARMS, or, as it is known locally, the ‘New Un,’ used to belong to the Walsall (Highgate) Brewery until they became part of Mitchells and Butlers some years ago.

John Coleclough, his wife Freda, and their daughter, Wendy, can now cater for parties of between two and 82, and would be pleased to answer any inquiries you may have regarding bookings. The HIGHGATE ARMS is John’s third house. He has lifelong experience in the trade, firstly working with his father at his pub in Checkley, near Uttoxeter, and since then with two other M&B houses after joining the brewery in 1967. John and Freda, who have been married twenty-eight years, were both born in Bilston, just along the road from their present home. With eleven years catering experience behind them, you can be sure that the food served in the new lounge, food which is all cooked and prepared on the premises by John and his daughter Wendy, will be of the highest standard.

John has been a member of the National Union of Licensed Victuallers since its formation. Obviously well thought of by his fellow victuallers, John was elected vice-president of the Wednesbury District Licensed Victuallers Association in 1979, and president in 1980 and 1981. He also represents over 150 public house tenants as the Mitchells and Butlers tenant group representative.

On a musical note, John is a Frank Sinatra fanatic. He has a fine selection of ‘Old Blue Eyes’ favourites on the juke box.”

Derrick Howard Wood and Julia Pamela Wood were bankrupts in 1995.

Wolverhampton Express and Star 14/9/1995 - Advert

"Pub Tenancy Opportunities. Enterprise Inns.

Fancy running your own local in the Black Country.

As one of the country's leading independent pub companies, we are currently looking for business partners to join us in the following business opportunities. Comprehensive training will be provided along with full ongoing support.....

HIGHGATE ARMS, Hollyhead Road, Wednesbury.

This prominent site offers an experienced operator the opportunity to build an extensive food operation attracting business, local and family trade.

All the above houses are due external decoration, to include new signs and lighting.

If you have between £6,000 and £15,000 to invest and are interested in these or other exciting business opportunities, telephone....."

Sandwell Evening Mail 2/7/1996

"Pint-pulling sisters help keep the beer flowing at a busy Black Country pub. Val Healy, aged 56, is licensee of the HIGHGATE ARMS, in Holyhead Road, Moxley. But when things get busy her sisters Mary Benton, aged 60, Dot Cambell, 54, and Kate Ratcliffe, 58, give her a hand. Val said, 'I have been here for eight months, it is my first pub and I love it. But it's nice to have my sisters to help if I need it.'"

Sandwell Evening Mail 23/2/1999

"Five Black Country pubs which between them have raised thousands of pounds for worthy causes are in the running for the Community Pub of the Year title. The COTTAGE in Wolverhampton Road, Walsall; the MOXLEY ARMS in High Street, Moxley; the HIGHGATE ARMS in Rowley View, Wednesbury; the ROYAL OAK in Blakenall; and the FOUNTAIN INN at Victoria Road, Quarry Bank, have all been nominated for the award.

The competition is organised by the Brewers and Licensed Retailers Association and £21,000 in prize money is on offer, which goes to charities and good causes.....

Elaine Turner has raised £1,000 for the West Midlands Air Ambulance and Birmingham Children's Hospital in the 18 months she has been at the HIGHGATE ARMS.

Regional judging panels will select 11 winners across the country, each of which will receive £1,000 to go to a charity or worthy cause of their choice. Regional winners will go on to a national final."

1978

1981

HIGHLAND LADDIE

Oakeswell Road / Crowther Street, Oakeswell End, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

Barnett [1869]

NOTES

Birmingham Daily Gazette 14/4/1869 - Advert

"HIELAND LADDIE INN, Oakeswell End, Wednesbury.

To Let, this excellent Business House, in a commanding situation. Contains Bar, Smoke Room, Tap Room, Kitchen, Club Room, three Bed Chambers, large Cellars, &c, &c. Satisfactory reasons given why these premises are to let. Apply, E. B. Scholefield, Valuer, 28, Church Street, Wednesbury."

HIELAND LADDIE INN, Oakeswell End, Wednesbury.—To Let, this excellent Business House, in a commanding situation. Contains Bar, Smoke Room, Tap Room, Kitchen, Club Room, three Bed Chambers, large Cellars, &c., &c. Satisfactory reasons given why these premises are to let.—Apply, E. B. SCHOLEFIELD, Valuer, 28, Church Street, Wednesbury.

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 18/9/1869 - Advert

"Peremptory Sale Of Freehold Properties, at Wednesbury, including the NORTH-WESTERN HOTEL, and Seventeen Other Dwelling Houses.

To be Sold by Auction, by Fallows and Smith (by order of the Mortgagees), at the TURKS HEAD INN, at Wednesbury, on Friday, the 3rd day of October next, at Six o'clock in the Evening....

Lot 1. A neat and compact newly-erected Public House, called the HIGHLAND LADDIE, occupied by Mr. Barnett, at the low rent of £18 a year; well situated in the Oakswell Road, forming the corner of Crowther Street.

This Lot is Copyhold of the Manor of Wednesbury."

PEREMPTORY SALE OF FREEHOLD PROPERTIES,
AT WEDNESBURY,
INCLUDING THE NORTH-WESTERN HOTEL,
AND
SEVENTEEN OTHER DWELLING HOUSES.
TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION,

BY FALLOWS and SMITH (by order of the Mortgagees), at the Turk's Head Inn, at Wednesbury, on FRIDAY, the 3rd day of October next, at Six o'clock in the Evening, subject to conditions then to be produced—

FREEHOLD AND COPYHOLD,
AT OAKSWELL ROAD.

Lot 1.—A neat and compact newly-erected PUBLIC-HOUSE, called "The HIGHLAND LADDIE," occupied by Mr. Barnett, at the low rent of £18 a year; well situated in the Oakswell Road, forming the corner of Crowther Street.

This Lot is Copyhold of the Manor of Wednesbury.

HOLLY BUSH

Dudley Road, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

John Gibbons [1818]

HOPE AND ANCHOR

136, Darlaston Road, Kings Hill, WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

William Watson

LICENSEES

Frederick Harrison [1871]
William Watson [1871] – [1881]
Thomas Watson [1872]
Thomas Staley [1882]

LOT 2.—All that very desirable FULL-LICENSED PUBLIC-HOUSE, known as the "HOPE AND ANCHOR," at Kingshill, situate at the corner of Darlington Street and Darlington Road, Wednesbury, with the Stabling, Yard, and Out-offices thereto, as late in the occupation of the said William Watson.
The House contains large Spirit Vaults, Smoke Room and Kitchen, with Club Room and two Bed Rooms over, and there is an excellent Cellar.
The House, which is situate in the vicinity of some important works, occupies a good position, and a capital business has been carried on for some time.
The whole of the Trade Fixtures and Fittings will be sold with this lot.

1881

NOTES

1871 Census

136, Darlaston Road – HOPE AND ANCHOR

- [1] Frederick Harrison (39), labourer and innkeeper, born Nottingham;
- [2] Sarah Harrison (45), wife, born Tilstock, Shropshire;
- [3] Charles Edward Harrison (13), son, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [4] Sarah Ann Harrison (11), daughter, scholar, born Wolverhampton;
- [5] Mary Harrison (8), daughter, scholar, born Wolverhampton:

Birmingham Daily Post 8/7/1871 - Advert

"Freehold Property, situate at Kings Hill, in the Parish of Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. James Taylor, on Wednesday, the 19th day of July inst, at the house of Mr. William Watson, HOPE AND ANCHOR INN, Kings Hill, Wednesbury....."

Thomas Watson was also the proprietor of the London and North Western Railway station refreshment rooms, Stafford Street, and also a wholesale and retail ale and porter merchant, 26 Holyhead Road. [1872]

William Watson was also a wine and spirit merchant of the ANCHOR HOTEL, 26 Holyhead Road. [1873]

Midland Examiner 8/5/1875

"A meeting of Wednesbury Protection Society as held at the HOPE AND ANCHOR INN, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, on Tuesday evening....."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 4/1/1877

"Yesterday, Mr. E. Hooper, Coroner, held an inquest at the HOPE AND ANCHOR INN, Darlaston Road, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, on the body of Thomas Causer, aged 38, a striker in the employ of the Patent Shaft and Axletree Company, who met his death on Saturday night by falling down the ventilation shaft of No.8 Pit, belonging to the company named.

Harriett Causer, the widow of deceased, stated that she saw him last on Saturday night, about six o'clock, when he went home to tea. He was then sober. She heard that he afterwards called at a public house, and that he then went to the pit, where he had been sent for. She did not blame anyone unless it was the watchman, who ought to have kept him back.

Samuel Perry, the watchman at the pit, said deceased went to the pit about a quarter-past seven with a bracket, and as he was in drink witness advised him to go home. He went as if he was going away by the 'lazy bank,' but returned to the bank, opened the fence around the pit mouth, and leaned against the tank. The engineman was at work in the tank repairing it, and the stoker told deceased to stand back or he would fall in. Deceased said, 'All right.' Witness also told him that he was not safe. Deceased then said he would go, and made an effort to push himself away from the tank, when it moved, his hands slipped, and he fell down the shaft....

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned. Perry was then called into the room again, and the Coroner addressing him said the deceased had to a great extent lost his life through his (Perry) not having done his duty as the watchman, and ordered him off the ground. If such a case ever came before him again in which Perry was concerned, the jury would be instructed to take a different view of the matter."

Birmingham Daily Post 5/1/1877

"Mr. Hooper, Coroner, lately held an inquest at the HOPE AND ANCHOR INN, Wednesbury, on the body of Samuel Severn (56), master iron founder, Bright Street, Kings Hill, who, early on Monday morning, was seized with a fit, and died about an hour and a half afterwards, before a medical man arrived. His widow stated that he had been in ill-health for some months, and had been of intemperate habits. He was not sober when he went to bed on Sunday night. He could get drunk at any hour on Sundays from the THREE CROWNS INN, near his home.

A verdict of Death from Natural Causes was returned, and the Coroner ordered information to be given to Superintendent Holland of Mrs. Severn's statement with reference to the public house."

Bee-Hive 7/7/1877

"Trades Union Directory. Meeting Houses Boiler Makers Society.....
Wednesbury branch, HOPE AND ANCHOR, Kings Hill."

Wednesbury Herald 9/8/1879

"HOPE AND ANCHOR INN, Kings Hill, Wednesbury.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. E. B. Scholefield, at the above named premises on Tuesday, August 12th, 1879 at Six for Seven o'clock in the evening, the Licenses, Goodwill, and Possession of the above Well-known Old-Licensed Inn, containing Three Bedrooms, Club Room, Modern set up Liquor Vault, Smoke Room, Kitchen, good Cellars, Brewhouse, Workshop, large Yard, Stable, Shed, Pigstyes, and every convenience for retail business purposes.

The premises occupy an excellent position, being on the main road from Wednesbury to Darlaston, and in the centre of the thickly populated part of Kings Hill."

Wednesbury Herald 3/1/1880

"Mr. Edwin Hooper, District Coroner, held an inquiry on Wednesday at the HOPE AND ANCHOR INN, Darlaston Street, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, relative to the death of an ironworker, named Richard Lloyd, aged 56 years, who was found dead in bed on the evening of the 27th ult.

Hannah Lloyd, wife of the deceased, said that on Saturday evening she heard her husband groan, and before she could obtain assistance he expired.

Dr. Partridge, of Darlaston, subsequently saw the deceased, and gave it as his opinion that death had been caused by apoplexy. The deceased had always good health, and in fact, had never been ill.

The jury returned a verdict of Death from Natural Causes."

Wednesbury Herald 14/5/1881

"On Monday afternoon, Mr. Edwin Hooper, District Coroner, held an inquest at the HOPE AND ANCHOR INN, Kings Hill, as to the death of Richard Rowley (16), of Kings Hill, who committed suicide under somewhat painful circumstances on the 6th inst.

The father of the deceased stated that until recently the deceased had been accustomed to read novels, and within the past two months had read the 'Pilgrim's Progress,' and the latter work had made him at times to be very excited. The deceased had also during the past few weeks been attending the Salvation Army Chapel, and upon witness seeing deceased on the street on Friday afternoon he requested the deceased not to stay out until a late hour at the Salvation Army Chapel. In the evening he was informed that the deceased had committed suicide by hanging.

Louisa Harvey, a neighbour, stated that she found the deceased hanging by means of a strap suspended from a nail in the wall, and was quite dead.

The jury returned a verdict of committed Suicide whilst in a state of Temporary Insanity."

Birmingham Daily Post 28/10/1881

“A meeting of the creditors of William Watson, hotel keeper Wednesbury, was held yesterday, and all the creditors present or represented voted for liquidation by arrangement, but the resolution was vetoed by the principal creditor (Mr. Evershed), and consequently no resolution was passed. In the course of the day a petition in bankruptcy was filed in the Walsall Bankruptcy Court.”

AND

“A meeting of the creditors of William Watson, ANCHOR HOTEL, Holyhead Road, and HOPE AND ANCHOR INN, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, licensed victualler, was held at the first-named house yesterday, when there was large attendance of creditors. Mr. Drewry was voted to the chair as the representative of the largest creditor, Mr. Evershed, brewer, Burton-on-Trent. Mr. Williams read the statement of affairs. This showed that there were creditors to the amount of £7,912 10s 5d entitled to rank for dividend The assets were £1,581 17s 3d.

Mr. Evershed had a mortgage of £3,500 upon the premises in which they were assembled, which the debtor estimated had cost him £7,000, but which Messrs. Roderick in July valued at £3,000, the premises in their opinion being too large for the place; and Mr. Evershed also had a mortgage for £1,000 upon the HOPE AND ANCHOR premises, which were valued at £900.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 5/12/1881 - Advert

“Wednesbury, Staffordshire. Valuable Freehold Property, Old-Licensed Houses, Beerhouse, Posting and Livery Stables, Ale Stores, &c.

To be Sold by Auction, by Messrs. Leedam & Harrison, at the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, on Thursday, the 22nd day of December, 1881, at 6 for 7 o'clock in the evening precisely (by order of the Trustee of the Estate of William Watson, Bankrupt), the following very eligible Freehold Properties.....

Lot 2. All that very desirable Full-Licensed Public House, known as the HOPE AND ANCHOR, at Kingshill, situate at the corner of Darlington Street and Darlington Road, Wednesbury, with the Stabling, Yard, and Out-offices thereto, as late in the occupation of the said William Watson.

The House, which is situate in the vicinity of some important works, occupies a good position, and a capital business has been carried on for some time.

The whole of the Trade Fixtures and Fittings will be sold with this lot.”

Birmingham Daily Post 19/1/1882

“At the Walsall County Court yesterday William Watson, licensed victualler and car and carriage proprietor, the ANCHOR HOTEL, Wednesbury, applied for his public examination, supported by Mr. J. E. Sheldon, and passed unopposed.”

Birmingham Daily Post 10/2/1882 - Advert

“HOPE AND ANCHOR SPIRIT VAULTS AND TAVERN, Kings Hill, Darlaston Road, Wednesbury; a most commanding position, close to Patent Shaft Axle Tree and other important works. In-coming £250.

Apply, Roderick and Son.”

H OPE and Anchor Spirit Vaults and Tavern, King's Hill, Darlaston Road, Wednesbury; a most commanding position, close to Patent Shaft Axle Tree and other important works. In-coming £250.—Apply, Roderick and Son.

Thomas Staley = Thomas Staylor

Wednesbury Herald 14/10/1882

“On Wednesday night, Mr. Thomas Staylor, late director of the Imperial Gardens, of the Shah of Persia, and who has lately taken to the ANCHOR HOTEL, and the HOPE AND ANCHOR INN, Kings Hill, entertained at dinner a number of friends, at the HOPE AND ANCHOR INN. The chair was occupied by Mr. William Dawes, and upwards of 60 persons sat down to dinner. The toast of Mr. Staylor was received with musical cheers. A most convivial time was spent.”

Wednesbury Herald 30/12/1882

“On Tuesday Mr. T. Staley, the landlord of the ANCHOR HOTEL, and also of the HOPE AND ANCHOR INN, Kings Hill, entertained about 200 persons to a substantial dinner consisting of roast beef, suckling pigs, cheese and salad, and ale. The recipients were highly pleased with Mr. Staley, and in response to a vote of thanks Mr. Staley said it was customary at many of the hotels in Persia, and he might say Burton on Trent, for the landlord of the hotels to entertain a number of persons at Christmas time. It was an old custom and he was pleased to revive it at Wednesbury.”

Darlaston Weekly Times 20/1/1883

“On Saturday afternoon, an inquest was held at the HOPE AND ANCHOR INN, Kings Hill, on the body of Israel Clifford, aged one year and ten months, the child of Samuel Clifford, 2 Court, Kings Hill, who was found dead in bed on the morning of the 11th inst. Evidence was given showing that the child had no mother, and was looked after by its father. It had been unwell for some time, but no medical aid had been obtained. On the morning in question, the father left it in bed about five o’clock, but at seven it was found dead. The witnesses called said the house where the deceased had lived was in a most wretched and filthy condition, and the child appeared as though it had not been looked after at all. The jury returned a verdict of Found Dead, and at the request of the jury, the father of deceased was called in and strongly censured by the Coroner for neglecting to take better care of the child, and failing to obtain medical assistance.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 24/12/1885 - Advert

“Wanted, a Pianoforte Player, at once, for Saturday nights. Apply, HOPE AND ANCHOR, Kings Hill, Wednesbury.”

WANTED, a Pianoforte Player, at once, for Saturday nights.— Apply, Hope and Anchor, King's-hill, Wednesbury.

Lichfield Mercury 25/2/1887

“On Friday afternoon, as two wagons coupled together, the one behind the other, were being drawn along Darlaston Road, Kings Hill, Wednesbury, Walter Pickstone (9), son of parents living in Darlington Street, got upon the hinder wagon, but after riding a short distance he fell off, and one of the fore wheels passed over the lower part of his body, causing injuries which resulted in his death the following morning.

An inquest was held on Monday at the HOPE AND ANCHOR INN, Kings Hill, before Mr. Edwin Hooper, District Coroner, on the body of deceased, when the jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death, stating there was no blame to be attached to the driver, Thomas Davis.”

Check OLD BARREL, Darlaston Road.

HORSE AND JOCKEY

Church Hill, (Church Street), (Church Lane), WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

LICENSEES

William Holden [1822]

John Teasdale [1828] – [1830]

NOTES

Church Lane [1822]

Church Street [1828], [1830]

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 23/8/1830 - Advert

“Valuable Public House, Wednesbury.

To be disposed of by private Treaty, the Licences, Possession, Brewing Vessels, Iron-bound Barrels, Fixtures, Furniture, and Effects of the well-accustomed Public House, known by the sign of the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Church Hill, Wednesbury aforesaid.

The present occupier is leaving on account of other engagements.

The whole or part of the Furniture and Stock, together with the Brewing Vessels, Barrels, &c, to be taken at valuation.

For further particulars apply on the premises, or to Mr. Daniel Taylor, Auctioneer, Wednesbury, if by letter, post paid.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 28/3/1831 - Advert

“An old established Public House.

To be Let, and entered upon immediately, the HORSE AND JOCKEY, on Church Hill, Wednesbury. Coming-in very low.

For further particulars apply on the premises.”

An old established Public House.
TO be LET, and entered upon immediately, the HORSE and JOCKEY, on Church-hill, Wednesbury. Coming-in very low.
For further particulars apply on the premises.

VALUABLE PUBLIC HOUSE, WEDNESBURY.
To be disposed of by private Treaty, the Licences,
Possession, Brewing Vessels, Iron-bound Barrels,
Fixtures, Furniture, and Effects of the well-accustomed
Public House, known by the sign of the HORSE and JOCKEY, Church-hill, Wednesbury aforesaid.

The present occupier is leaving on account of other engagements.

The whole or part of the Furniture and Stock, together with the Brewing Vessels, Barrels, &c. to be taken at valuation.

For further particulars apply on the premises, or to Mr.
Daniel Taylor, Auctioneer, Wednesbury, if by letter, post paid.

HORSE AND JOCKEY

63, (68), Franchise Street, Fallings Heath, (Kings Hill), WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

William Butler and Co. Ltd.
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd.

LICENSEES

John Corns [1862] – [1864]
Ann Corns [] – 1866);
James Latham (1866 – []
Thomas Hitchen [] – 1867);
Mary Ann Rushton (1867 – []
Joseph Gilbert [1868] – 1871);
William Holback Rogers (1871 – [1873]
Joseph Oldback [1877]
Francis Lloyd [1881] – [1884]
William Clapp [1885] – 1894)
James Cox [1896]
Frederick Aaron Stokes [1901] – [1904]
James Albert Chalker [1908] – [1921]
Mrs. Mary Chalker [1921]
Arthur Bishop [1923]
John L Fellows [1932] – [1940]
Thomas Lloyd [1961] – [1966]

NOTES

Fallings Heath [1877]
68, Franchise Street [1871], [1881], [1891]
63, Franchise Street [1911], [1921]

A lodge of the R.A.O.B. met here.

John Corns = John Cornes

Birmingham Daily Post 29/8/1862

“Annual Licensing Day The following is a list of the applicants for spirit licenses.....

John Corns, Fallings Heath.

These will be taken into consideration by the Magistrates on the 28th of September at a special Sessions.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 1/10/1862

“On Thursday the following applications for spirit licenses were heard.....

John Cornes, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, granted.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 12/11/1864

“An enquiry into the circumstances attending the death of Sarah Newton, a widow, aged 60, living at Franchise Street, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, was held on Tuesday, at Mr. Corns’, HORSE AND JOCKEY INN. Deceased kept house for her two sons, who supported her, and on Sunday morning about eight o’clock, as she did not rise, one of her sons went into the room, and found her dead in bed. Mr. Partridge, surgeon, having given an opinion that deceased suffered from disease of the heart, the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the evidence.”

John Corns died in the 4th quarter of 1865.

Staffordshire Advertiser 13/1/1866 - Advert

“Fallings Heath, Wednesbury. Valuable Public House and Land.

To be Sold by Auction, by Mr. Richard Heseltine (by direction of the Mortgagee), at the house of Mr. George Perry, the CASTLE INN, in Darlaston, on Wednesday, the 17th day of January, 1866, at six o’clock in the evening, subject to such conditions as will be then read, and in the following or such other lots as may be agreed upon at the time.

Lot 1. All that old-licensed Freehold Public House, situate at Fallings Heath, near Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, known by the sign of the HORSE AND JOCKEY, together with a good Yard, Maltroom, Brewhouse, Carriage-house, Stable, Pigstyes, and other Outbuilding thereto belonging, late in the occupation of John Corns, deceased, but now of his widow, Ann Corns.

The land including the site of the buildings constituting this lot, contains by admeasurement 515 square yards, or thereabouts.

Lot 2. And also, all that Freehold plot of Land, with the four Dwelling Houses or Tenements recently erected, and standing thereon, situate at Fallings Heath aforesaid, in the occupation of Thomas Phillips and others, and contains by admeasurement 637 square yards or thereabouts.

The inn is well located for extensive business purposes, properly licensed, replete with every convenience, and presents a favourable opportunity for a good investment, and particularly to an active man desirous of entering upon the general public house business.

To view the property, apply to the Tenants; and for all further particulars, and to inspect a plan thereof, apply to the Auctioneer, or at the Offices of Mr. J. E. Sheldon, Solicitor, both of Wednesbury.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 25/8/1866 - Notice

“John Corns, Deceased.

Pursuant to a Decree of the High Court of Chancery made in a cause Aaron Millington (on behalf of himself and all other the unsatisfied creditors of John Corns, deceased) against Ann Corns and another, the creditors of John Corns, late of Fallings Heath, in the parish of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Innkeeper, who died in or about the month of November, 1865, are, on or before the first day of October, 1866, to send by post, prepaid, to Mr. Thomas Brevitt, of Darlaston, in the county of Stafford, solicitor for the plaintiff (one of the Executors of the deceased), their Christian and surnames, addresses, and descriptions, the full particulars of their claims, a statement of their accounts, and the nature of the security (if any) held by them, or in default thereof they will be peremptorily excluded from the benefit of the said decree. Every creditor holding any security is to produce the same before the Master of the Rolls, at his Chambers, situate in the Rolls Yard, Chancery Lane, Middlesex, on Thursday, the first day of November, 1866, at twelve o’clock at noon, being the time appointed for adjudicating on the claims.

Dated the 6th day of August, 1866.

John Wm. Hawkins, Chief Clerk.

G. W. Greenwood, Solicitor, 8, Serjeants Inn, London, Agent for Thomas Brevitt, of Darlaston, Plaintiff’s Solicitor.”

John Corns – see also HORSE AND JOCKEY, Butcroft, Darlaston.

Birmingham Daily Gazette 15/2/1866

“Mr. E. Hooper, coroner, held an inquest yesterday, at the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, on the body of a child of 2 years and 7 months old, named Sarah Jane Foulkes, who died in a sudden manner at an early hour on Monday morning. Deceased had been suffering from whooping cough, and had tried various remedies suggested by neighbours, and obtained from a chemist’s shop, instead of taking the child to a surgeon. At two o’clock on Monday morning the child was discovered dead in bed. The father of the deceased was examined, and informed by the Coroner that he should have taken the child to a properly qualified medical man. It was the second case of the kind he had investigated that morning, and he wished it to be known that in all cases children should be taken to a medical man; for if people were too poor to pay for medical advice there was the parish surgeon, who could always be consulted. The jury found a verdict of Death from Natural Causes, accelerated by want of medical aid.”

Birmingham Journal 8/6/1867 - Advert

“Clearing-Out Sale, at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Franchise Street, Darlaston.

By E. Cox, on Tuesday Next, June 11.

The Public House Effects; a 9ft Slate-bottom Bagatelle Table, Ale Machine, Counters, Barrels, Tubs, Furniture and other Effects, at Eleven o’clock.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 23/3/1868 - Advert

“I, Joseph Gilbert, of the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Fallings Heath, near Wednesbury, Publican, do hereby express my deep regret at having made statements reflecting upon the character of Mrs. Mary Mills, the Wife of Mr. Wm. Mills of the BRITANNIA INN, Black Lake, West Bromwich, as there is not the least foundation for them, and I hereby Apologise to her for having done so, and express my thanks to her Husband for discontinuing the legal proceedings against me on my making this apology and paying the costs incurred.

Dated this 20th day of March, 1868. Josh. Gilbert.”

Aris’s Birmingham Gazette 24/4/1869

“Yesterday an inquest was held by Mr. Hooper, Coroner, at the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, on the body of Richard Whitehouse, aged 55 years, a miner. The evidence showed that deceased was employed at the Essington Wood Colliery, belonging to Messrs. E. Hemmings, and on Thursday he was at work, when a large quantity of coal fell upon him. He was got out in a very short time, and was found dead, with his face downwards, but, strange to say, there were no bruises on the body. It is supposed he must have died from suffocation. The jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

1871 Census

68, Franchise Street – HORSE AND JOCKEY

- [1] Joseph Gilbert (37), licensed victualler, born Kingswinford;
- [2] Ann Maria Gilbert (38), wife, born Wolverhampton;
- [3] Lauraella Rhoda Gilbert (14), daughter, scholar, born Kingswinford;
- [4] Joseph Henry Gilbert (11), son, scholar, born Kingswinford;
- [5] Ann Banner (18), domestic servant, born West Bromwich;
- [6] Charles Monk (41), lodger, engine cleaner, born Warwick:

Joseph Gilbert – see also MAZEPPA, Church Street.

William Holback Rogers = William Holdback Rogers

Birmingham Daily Post 15/10/1873

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

Joseph Platt (on bail) was charged with unlawfully wounding William Rowe, on the 21st July, at Darlaston. Mr. Bosanquet was for the prosecution; and Mr. Motteram defended the accused.

Rowe, the prosecutor, said that about eleven o’clock at night he and several others, after playing bagatelle at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Franchise Street, Kings Hill, were assembled outside the house, when a quarrel took place between two men named Hodgkiss and Durham, about a pipe. The defendant was one who had been engaged in the play in the house, and while the altercation was going on he ran towards him and, with a clasp knife, stabbed the prosecutor under the stump of his left arm, which had been amputated some time before.

Benjamin Jones, examined, said he was at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, on the occasion referred to. After coming out just before eleven he saw Platt with his jacket off, and heard him say he would fight Hodgkiss, but he went towards Rowe, having at the time something 'glistening' in his hand. He saw him 'fling' round Rowe, and directly after Rowe said he was stabbed. Witness went up to prosecutor and saw he had been cut. After running up to Rowe, the defendant went off.

Further confirmatory evidence was given.

The police evidence went to prove that on the apprehension of the defendant he was confronted with the prosecutor, who was in bed, and who at once identified him as the man who had stabbed him.

Mr. William Wells and Mr. F. Sidney Winkworth, the medical witnesses who should have appeared on behalf of the prosecution, not having put in an appearance, the former forfeited his recognisances, and the latter his subpoena. The prosecutor was accordingly recalled, and said he was under treatment for a week. The wound bled profusely.

For the defence Mr. Motteram addressed the Jury, and submitted that the blow was struck, not by Platt, but by another person who was set upon by Rowe's party. He then called John King, who said he was present during the disturbance. After several blows had been struck by Hodgkiss and others, Durham pulled out a knife, and in about five minutes he heard Rowe say he had been stabbed. Hodgkiss was going to strike witness when Platt came up, and as they were overpowered by numbers, Platt and himself ran away to 'White's.' In about five Durham came in.

There was great excitement in the road, and Platt said he had not 'done' it, on which Durham said he himself had, and produced a knife which he asked White to make away with. In cross-examination, witness denied that Platt struck a blow, although he had pulled his coat off. Witness and Platt ran away because Hodgkiss was bringing up five or six to help him. Durham had gone away. Re-examined: He had made the statement about Durham when before the magistrates, and Durham was ordered into custody, but the matter against him was not proceeded with.

Mr. White, a grocer, living in Franchise Street, said that on the night of the affray, being out of his house, he heard that Joseph Platt had stabbed a man. On going into his house he found Platt and Durham. Platt denied, and Durham owned, that he had done it, and said he was no going to be killed and do nothing to defend himself.

Miss White, daughter of the last witness, corroborated this statement.

John Platt, iron-founder, uncle to the accused, said Durham was working for him up to Saturday night, when he took his tools away.

The defendant's attorney had attempted, through witness, to serve Durham with a subpoena, but he could not be found.

Witnesses who spoke to the peaceable disposition of the defendant were also called.

The Jury acquitted the defendant."

Joseph Oldback = Joseph Holdback

Midland Examiner 31/1/1877

"On Thursday evening last, a large and influential meeting was held at the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Fallings Heath, for the purpose of electing representatives to serve on the general committee of the Wednesbury Liberal Association....."

Midland Examiner 23/6/1877

"Joseph Oldback, landlord of the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Franchise Street, Fallings Heath, was summoned for having permitted drunkenness in his house on the 15th inst. Mr. G. Corbet, of Darlaston, appeared for the defendant. A police-officer proved to having visited the defendant's house and found a drunken man sitting in the tap-room, who upon his removal was found to be so helplessly drunk that it was necessary to take him to the police station in a handcart. For the defence it was contended that the defendant was not aware of a drunken man being in the house. As defendant bore a very good character the Stipendiary merely ordered him to pay the costs."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 30/8/1877

"West Bromwich Annual Licensing Sessions....."

The following reports as to the convictions of publicans during last year was made by Superintendents Woollaston and Holland, for the police divisions of West Bromwich and Wednesbury.....

Joseph Holdback, HORSE AND JOCKEY, Fallings Heath, permitting drunkenness, to pay costs.....

All the old licenses were then renewed with the exception of those whose holders had been convicted in a penalty of 20s and upwards. The latter were adjourned until the 26th September."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 28/11/1877

“An inquest was held yesterday afternoon, at the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, before Mr. Edwin Hooper, District Coroner, touching the death of William Dumbleton (64), farmer, who formerly resided at 95, Cobden Street.

William Dumbleton, nephew of the deceased, said that previous to the last seven weeks the deceased had resided in the Lozells, Birmingham, and had since lived with him. During the past two years the deceased had had two paralytic strokes, and on the night of the 23rd inst he heard him shout, and immediately went into the room and found him perspiring. Shortly afterwards he again went into the room and found that he was dead.

The jury returned a verdict of Died from Natural Causes.

The Coroner said the inquiry had been held in consequence of the surgeon refusing to give a certificate.”

1881 Census

68, Franchise Street – HORSE AND JOCKEY

[1] Francis Lloyd (52), publican, born Madeley, Shropshire;

[2] Harriet Lloyd (54), wife, born Broseley, Shropshire;

[3] Alice Lloyd (24), daughter, born Madeley, Shropshire:

Wolverhampton Express and Star 7/12/1885 - Advert

“Bagatelle Board, slate bed, in capital condition; a bargain.

W. Clapp, HORSE AND JOCKEY, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury.”

BAGATELLE Board, slate bed, in capital condition ; a bargain.—W. Clapp, Horse and Jockey, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury.

William Clapp, licensed victualler, Franchise Street. [1888]

1891 Census

68, Franchise Street

[1] William Clapp (54), licensed victualler, born Summerhill, Derbyshire;

[2] Sarah Clapp (47), wife, born Darlaston;

[3] Martha Clapp (26), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[4] Annie Clapp (21), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[5] Ruth Clapp (2), daughter, born Wednesbury;

[6] Thomas Clapp (18), son, greengrocer, born Wednesbury;

[7] Samuel Clapp (13), son, greengrocer's assistant, born Wednesbury;

[8] Herbert Clapp (9), son, born Wednesbury;

[9] Fred Clapp (6), son, born Wednesbury:

Birmingham Daily Post 3/10/1893

“Yesterday afternoon, Mr. E. Hooper held an adjourned inquest at the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Franchise Street, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, on the bodies of Eliza and Mary Maria Baird, the one aged one year and seven months and the other four years, both of whom died last month from acute diarrhoea, the older one after only two or three hours illness. It was supposed at the time that their decease was due to their having partaken of polluted water, the well from which the water was drawn being near to a couple of closets. This supposition was confirmed yesterday, Dr. Garman stating that the water was very impure, and that an analysis made by himself, and another by Mr. Jones, county analyst, Wolverhampton, showed that it was extensively contaminated with sewage. The protracted drought, they considered, had conduced to the contamination.

Mr. Yoxall, the owner of the property, put some questions as to the percentage of sewage matter in the water, and Dr. Garman said the presence of pollution was so obvious that he did not take the trouble to ascertain the exact percentage.

Mr. Yoxall said the wells had been closed, and he had ordered the South Staffordshire waterworks Company's water to be laid on.

The jury found that the deaths has resulted from drinking impure water.”

Birmingham Daily Post 4/1/1894

“Early yesterday morning, Mr. W. Clapp, landlord of the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Franchise Street, was taken ill soon after he had retired to rest, and before medical aid could be procured he expired.”

Birmingham Daily Post 12/1/1894 - Died

“On the 3rd inst, aged 56 years, at Franchise Street, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, William, the beloved husband of Sarah Clapp; deeply lamented by all who knew him.”

Birmingham Daily Post 30/12/1897

“Yesterday, Mr. A. A. Betham (acting coroner) held an inquest at the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Franchise Street, Wednesbury, on the body of William Holden (49), 78, Franchise Street.

On Christmas Day deceased went to bed, the worse for drink, shortly after seven o’clock, and soon after ten was heard to fall from the top to the bottom of the stairs. When picked up he was unconscious and bleeding from the nose, and it was found that the base of the skull was fractured. He received prompt surgical assistance, and everything possible was done for him until the following day, when he expired. There was no hand-rail to the staircase, and the Coroner and Jury commented on the necessity for such a protection in every house, especially where the stairs were as steep, as in this case.

Verdict, Accidental Death.”

1901 Census

Franchise Street – HORSE AND JOCKEY

- [1] Frederick Aaron Stokes (43), bricklayer, born Walsall;
- [2] Ellen Stokes (41), wife, born Colerne, Wiltshire;
- [3] Jessie Louisa Stokes (19), daughter, born Darlaston;
- [4] Sidney Howdle Stokes (9), son, born Darlaston’
- [5] Fred John Henry Stokes (7), son, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Amelia Ellen Snell (14), visitor, born Bathampton, Somerset:

Worcestershire Chronicle 18/1/1902 - Advert

“General. Wanted, clean honest Girl, about 20; reference required.

Stokes, HORSE AND JOCKEY, Franchise Street, Kings Hill, Wednesbury.”

GENERAL.—Wanted, clean honest Girl, about 20; reference required.—Stokes, Horse and Jockey, Franchise St., King’s Hill, Wednesbury.

1911 Census

63, Franchise Street – HORSE AND JOCKEY

- [1] James Albert Chalker (48), licensed victualler, born Wednesbury;
- [2] Mary Chalker (41), wife, married 22 years, born Darlaston;
- [3] Elsie Chalker (20), daughter, born Wednesbury;
- [4] Arthur Chalker (15), son, template maker, bridge and roofing, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Jane Millard (22), domestic servant, born West Bromwich:

Walsall Observer 18/4/1914

“Bowling Prospects.....

One of the clubs elected at the annual meeting of the Walsall League is the Fallings Heath Club, whose headquarters are at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Kings Hill, Wednesbury. Although new aspirants to League honours, this club is well known to many Walsall bowlers, amongst whom it will be better recognised under the name of Chalker’s. This club was founded some two or three years ago by Mr. J. A. Chalker, who, realising the desirability of fostering an interest in the game of bowls, was instrumental in laying down a green which, though on the small side, has been a source of much enjoyment to the knights of the wood. The game has developed so much in the Kings Hill district during the last twelve months or so that the old green is now altogether inadequate for the requirements of the club. Thanks to a commendable spirit of enterprise on the part of Mr. Chalker, an entirely new green has been laid down. The size of the new pitch is 50 yards by 19 yards and is in splendid condition. From this it will be seen that visitors to the green will have no cause to complain of their inability to get a good length on the jack. In fact, many of them may find themselves very often in difficulties, especially those who are used to much shorter greens. A first-class pavilion is in course of erection and will be ready for the opening match of the season.....”

Walsall Observer 5/12/1914

"The members of the HORSE AND JOCKEY Bowling Club, Fallings Heath, which is affiliated to the Walsall and District Bowling League, spent a very pleasant evening on Thursday of last week, the occasion being the annual dinner and prize distribution.....

The Secretary, in his report, referred to Mr. Chalker's services to the club in getting their new ground, which was opened on April 25. The club had a membership of 54. He considered that the club had done well in their league games, finishing fifth in the table....."

Walsall Observer 10/7/1915

"Bowling. Walsall and District League.....

HORSE AND JOCKEY v Pleck Liberal. Played at Fallings Heath on Saturday.

The home team won by 23 points. After the match both sides, including friends from Moxley and The Pleck, sat down to tea provided by the host, Mr. Chalker....."

Walsall Observer 22/1/1916

"Walsall and District Bowling League.

The annual meeting in connection with the above league was held at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Franchise Street, Wednesbury last week. Mr. C. Ross (president) presided, and large number of delegates were also present....."

James Albert Chalker died in the 2nd quarter of 1920.

1921 Census

63, Franchise Street

[1] Mary Chalker (51), widow, license holder, born Darlaston;

[2] Elsie Chalker (30), daughter, household duties, born Wednesbury;

[3] Arthur Chalker (25), son, template maker in wood, born Wednesbury;

[4] Alice Giles (40), domestic servant, born Darlaston:

Walsall Observer 7/10/1922

"At a meeting of the combined Conservative and Unionist committees in the Kings Hill Ward of Wednesbury, held on Tuesday evening at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Franchise Street, Councillor H. Dean, who presided, proposed the adoption of Mr. W. H. Wesson as prospective candidate for the election on November 1, paying a high tribute to his business ability and shrewd commonsense, which he was willing to place at the service of the town and its inhabitants....."

[Wesson stood in the election and won.]

Dudley Chronicle 29/11/1923

"The annual supper in connection with the Earl Kitchener Lodge of the R.A.O.B. was held at the HORSE AND JOCKEY HOTEL, Franchise Street, Wednesbury. A good number sat down. The host and hostess (Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bishop) served an excellent meal. The musical programme, arranged by Mr. Archibald Constable, included several well-known items. Mr. George Mason opened with a pianoforte solo; Mr. R. Chaddock contributed two solos, 'Take a pair of sparkling eyes' and 'Oh, vision entrancing'; Mr. G. Robinson (baritone) sang 'A Prologue.' A novel feature of the evening was a couple of concertina solos by Mr. Brettell. Mr. C. F. Jones (tenor) sang 'If I can live.' The duet, 'The moon hath raised' was rendered by Messrs. Constable and Robinson. Mr. E. Bliss, ARCO, was at the piano. A vote of thanks to the host and hostess and artistes concluded a very pleasant evening."

Walsall Observer 24/1/1925

"There were over 130 present at a whist drive organised by the Earl Kitchener Lodge of the R.A.O.B. in aid of the lodge funds, and held at Messrs. F. H. Lloyd & Co's canteen, Darlaston. The lodge meets at the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Franchise Street, and is some 200 strong....."

Walsall Observer 6/3/1926

"A new bowling league, the Darlaston Central, has been formed in the Darlaston and Wednesbury district, and the following ten clubs have affiliated HORSE AND JOCKEY, Franchise Street."

Walsall Observer 4/8/1928

“At a joint meeting of the Conservatives of Kings Hill ward, at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Franchise Street, on Tuesday evening, the Mayor of Wednesbury (Councillor W. H. Wesson) was unanimously adopted candidate for the next Council elections in November....”

[He was elected.]

Walsall Observer 30/1/1932

“A verdict of death from of congenital weakness due to prematurity, was returned by the South Staffordshire Coroner’s Deputy (Mr. J. H. F. Addison) at an inquest at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Franchise Street, Fallings Heath, on Thursday morning, regarding the infant son of Charles Flowers, a grinder of 174, Franchise Street. Nurse Dixon, certified midwife, of Hall End Place, Wednesbury, said the child was premature when born on Sunday, and had little chance. Clara Dunn (a neighbour) said the baby was taken ill on Tuesday morning, and, at the request of the mother, she carried it in a shawl to the surgery of Dr. Barratt, of Walsall Road, Kings Hill, where it died before the doctor could examine it. Dr. Alan Wilson, of Wednesbury, who called at the home, gave his opinion as to the cause of death.”

1939 Register

Franchise Street – HORSE AND JOCKEY

[1] John L. Fellows, date of birth 24/3/1892, licensed victualler, previously steel chassis builder, married;

[2] Harriet Fellows, dob 20/1/1891, unpaid domestic duties, married;

[3] Mary E. (Pugh) Read, dob 18/2/1927, domestic servant, single:

A team from here took part in the Fallings Heath Cribbage League. [1946]

Wolverhampton Express and Star 10/2/1965 - Letters

“The Government has a gift horse looking it in its face. By all means have a national sweepstakes on the Derby, the St. Leger, and all the big races. Let it be nationalised and run by the Government for the benefit of the country and instead of having a big prize of £300,000, zone the country into areas. Each zone would have prizes of smaller amounts. There would be more winning numbers, more share-outs and a lot more interest for the punters. Employment would be found for a lot of disabled people. More funds would be available for education, hospitals, medical research. Post offices all over the country could be used for the sale of tickets.

T. Lloyd, HORSE AND JOCKEY, Franchise Street, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Post 3/6/1970

“Settlement of an action by Bass, Mitchells and Butlers Ltd, against the Steel Nut and Joseph Hampton Ltd, should be completed within three weeks, counsel said in the High Court yesterday. The brewery, which alleges that the defendants permitted oil on their premises to percolate into the cellars of the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Franchise Street, Fallings Heath, Wednesbury, was granted a three week adjournment of its application for an interim injunction. Mr. Jack Hames, for the brewery, told Mr. Justice Megarry that the parties had been negotiating to settle the whole action. New terms had now been agreed.”

Wolverhampton Express and Star 16/7/1970 - Advert

“Continental frame tent, all extensions, 2 camp beds, 2 sleeping bags, cost £85, accept £30.

HORSE AND JOCKEY, Franchise Street, Wednesbury.”

Closed

CONTINENTAL frame tent, all extensions, 2 camp beds. 2 sleeping bags, cost £85, accept £30. — Horse and Jockey, Franchise - street Wednesbury.

FALLING'S HEATH, WEDNESBURY.—Valuable PUBLIC HOUSE and LAND.

TO be SOLD by AUCTION, by Mr. RICHARD HESELTINE (by direction of the Mortgagee), at the house of Mr. George Perry, the CASTLE INN, in DARLASTON, on Wednesday, the 17th day of January, 1866, at six o'clock in the evening, subject to such conditions as will be then read, and in the following or such other lots as may be agreed upon at the time of sale:—

Lot 1.

All that old-licensed FREEHOLD PUBLIC-HOUSE, situate at Falling's Heath, near Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, known by the sign of the Horse and Jockey, together with a good Yard, Maltroom, Brewhouse, Carriage-house, Stable, Pig-styes, and other Outbuildings thereto belonging, late in the occupation of John Corns, deceased, but now of his widow, Ann Corns.

The land, including the site of the buildings constituting this lot, contains by admeasurement 515 square yards, or thereabouts.

Lot 2.

And also, all that FREEHOLD plot of LAND, with the four DWELLING-HOUSES or TENEMENTS recently erected, and standing thereon, situate at Falling's Heath aforesaid, in the occupation of Thomas Phillips and others, and contains by admeasurement 637 square yards or thereabouts.

The inn is well located for extensive business purposes, properly licensed, replete with every convenience, and presents a favourable opportunity for a good investment, and particularly to an active man desirous of entering upon the general public-house business.

To view the property, apply to the Tenants; and for all further particulars, and to inspect a plan thereof, apply to the AUCTIONEER, or at the Offices of Mr. J. E. SHELDON, Solicitor, both of Wednesbury.

JOHN CORNS, DECEASED.—Pursuant to a Decree of the High Court of Chancery made in a cause Aaron Millington (on behalf of himself and all other the unsatisfied creditors of John Corns, deceased) against Ann Corns and another, the creditors of JOHN CORNS, late of Fallings Heath, in the parish of Wednesbury, in the county of Stafford, Innkeeper, who died in or about the month of November, 1865, are, on or before the first day of October, 1866, to send by post, prepaid, to Mr. THOMAS BREVITT, of Darlaston, in the county of Stafford, solicitor for the plaintiff (one of the Executors of the deceased), their Christian and surnames, addresses, and descriptions, the full particulars of their claims, a statement of their accounts, and the nature of the security (if any) held by them, or in default thereof they will be peremptorily excluded from the benefit of the said decree. Every creditor holding any security is to produce the same before the MASTER of the Rolls, at his Chambers, situate in the Rolls-yard, Chancery-lane, Middlesex, on Thursday, the first day of November, 1866, at twelve o'clock at noon, being the time appointed for adjudicating on the claims.

Dated the 6th day of August, 1866.

JOHN WM. HAWKINS, Chief Clerk.
G. W. GREENWOOD, Solicitor, 8, Serjeants' Inn,
London, Agent for
THOMAS BREVITT, of Darlaston, Plaintiff's Solicitor.

1866

CLEARING-OUT SALE,
AT "THE HORSE AND JOCKEY,"
FRANCHISE STREET, DARLASTON.
BY E. COX, on TUESDAY NEXT, June 11—the PUBLIC-HOUSE EFFECTS: a 9ft. Slate-bottom BAG-
GELLE TABLE, ALE MACHINE, Counters, Barrels, Tubs,
FURNITURE, and other Effects, at Eleven o'clock.

1867

I, JOSEPH GILBERT, of the Horse and Jockey Inn, Falling's Heath, near Wednesbury, Publican, do hereby express my deep regret at having made statements reflecting upon the character of Mrs. MARY MILLS, the Wife of Mr. Wm. Mills, of the Britannia Inn, Black Lake, West Bromwich, as there is not the least foundation for them, and I hereby APOLOGISE to her for having done so, and express my thanks to her Husband for discontinuing the legal proceedings against me on my making this apology and paying the costs incurred.—Dated this 20th day of March, 1866.

JOSH. GILBERT.

1868

HORSE AND JOCKEY

29, High Bullen, (Trowse Lane), WEDNESBURY

OWNERS

William John McLean [1913]
Atkinsons Ltd. [1921]
Mitchells and Butlers Ltd. [1961]

LICENSEES

James Parish [1841]
Henry Parish [1849] – [1851]
William Parrish [1853]
Birchnall [] – 1854);
George Rowley (1854 – 1861);
Joseph Gwilt (1861)
Elizabeth Gwilt [1861] – [1862]
Mrs. Selina Rowley [1861] – [1862]
Guest [] – 1863);
William Smith (1863 – [1865])
John Cookson [1864] – 1866);
Thomas Birch (1866)
James Birch (1866 – 1870);
Joseph Poyner (1870 – 1871);
Sarah Poyner (1871);
Edward Adams (1871);
James Jones (1871 – [1882])
Mrs. Rebecca Jones [1888] – [1896]
William Henry James Jones [1892] – [1901]
John Stanley [1904]
William John McLean [1908] – [1916]
John Ernest Shaw [1921]
Thomas Jones [1921] – [1948]
William Edwin Jones [1961] – [1966]
E. J. Whiting [1967]

NOTES

Wolverhampton Chronicle 4/1/1837 - Died

“On the 18th ult, aged 22, Elizabeth Lloyd, wife of Mr. James Parish, of the High Bullen, Wednesbury.”

1841 Census

High Bullen

- [1] James Parish (25), publican, born Staffordshire;
- [2] William Bailey (50), butcher, born Staffordshire;
- [3] Michael Wiggin (25), butcher, born Staffordshire;
- [4] Catharine Wiggin (20), born Staffordshire;
- [5] Mary Hughes (20), f.s., born Staffordshire:

Birmingham Journal 16/3/1850 - Died

“On the 1st inst, aged four years, Emma Parish, only daughter of Mr. Henry Parish, of the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Wednesbury.”

Birmingham Journal 24/8/1850

“At Wednesbury Petty Sessions on Tuesday, before John Leigh, Esq, Emily Rogers, a girl fifteen years of age, was charged with stealing a pair of gloves, the property of Mrs. Henry Parish, wife of a licensed victualler, residing in the High Bullen. The prisoner hawks tobacco pipes for a Birmingham maker, and the gloves being missed immediately after a visit she paid to the house on the previous day, Mrs. Parish followed her, and found the missing property concealed in her bonnet. Upon Mr. Leigh offering her the alternative of being convicted summarily or being tried by a Jury (in the terms of an act recently passed for the punishment of juvenile offenders), she chose the former, but in order that her master might be bound for her good conduct, Mr. Leigh, instead of sending her to gaol, directed him to be sent for, and remanded the prisoner to be brought up at Wolverhampton.”

1851 Census

High Bullen

- [1] Henry Parish (28), victualler, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Ellen Parish (29), wife, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Joseph Parish (3), son, born Wednesbury;
- [4] James Parish (2), son, born Wednesbury;
- [5] George Parish (1 month), son, born Wednesbury;
- [6] Emma Davis (15), house servant, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Clara Kendrick (10), house servant, born Wednesbury;
- [8] Martin Manyan (22), servant, labourer, born Ireland;
- [9] John Donald (40), servant, labourer, born Ireland:

Birmingham Journal 17/7/1852

“On Saturday morning last an accident occurred in a limestone pit belonging to Messrs. Lloyd, Foster, and Co., Old Park Fields, whereby three persons lost their lives, in consequence of a large quantity of rock and earth, which had become loosened from the roof, falling upon them. On Monday morning an inquiry was commenced before G. H. Hinchliffe, Esq, deputy coroner, at the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, High Bullen, on the bodies of John Brown, 25, and Joseph Williams, 15; also at the SCOTTS ARMS, Kings Hill, on the body of James Clansey. The inquiries were adjourned until Friday, to allow time to communicate with the Secretary of State. Yesterday afternoon, Thomas Wynn, Esq, one of the Government Inspectors, was in attendance.

The first witness called was Thomas Hampson, who stated that he was a limestone miner, and worked in a pit belonging to Messrs. Lloyd, Foster, and Co., situated at Hobbs Hole, in the parish of Wednesbury. On Saturday morning last, the three deceased, with the rest of the men, went down the pit to work. After being at work a short time, a large quantity of rock from the roof suddenly fell upon the three deceased, and buried them. Williams was employed in making a hole to blow some stone with powder. Brown was breaking the stone into smaller pieces for the loading, and Clansey was loading stone. Williams and Adams examined the roof during the week to see if it was safe. The rock fell without giving any warning to the men who were at work; the quantity was from fifteen to twenty tons. The pit is properly worked, and the pillars left to support the roof are quite sufficient, and the workings are not so wide as in pits in the neighbourhood of Walsall and Dudley.

Mr. Wynn stated from an inspection of the pit, that no blame could be attached to any person, for he found the working to be much narrower where the accident occurred than in any other part of the pit. The roof was a good one, and the giving way of this part was one of those occurrences which did accidentally occur in following dangerous callings.

The Jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death.”

Birmingham Journal 27/8/1853

“Annual Licensing Day....

The whole of the renewals were duly granted, with the following exceptions of parties convicted and fined. The following were cautioned, and the same entered on the back of their respective licenses.....

William Parrish, HORSE AND JOCKEY, Wednesbury.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/6/1854

“At the last Wednesbury Petty Sessions an application was made by George Rowley, to have the license of the HORSE AND JOCKEY transferred from Henry Birchnall to himself, but the application was opposed by Mr. Blayney, the superintendent of police, who alleged that gambling to a considerable extent was practised in the house, and the magistrates in consequence refused to grant the application.”

AND

Birmingham Journal 17/6/1854

“An application was made at Wednesbury Magistrates meeting, on Tuesday last, to transfer the license of the HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullen from John Birchnall and William Berridge, to George Rowley. Inspector Blayney said he appeared to oppose the application, as he was well aware that gambling to a great extent (although not then prepared to prove it) was being carried on at the house. The Magistrates at once refused the application.”

AND

Birmingham Journal 15/7/1854

“On Tuesday last, at the Wednesbury Petty Sessions, the license of the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, High Bullen, was transferred by the Magistrates from the assignees of Mr. Birchnall to Mr. George Rowley, without opposition. The proprietor assures his friends and the public that no gambling has or ever will be permitted there by him, and he has to inform them that his constant study will be their comfort and accommodation when they favour him with a call.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 8/7/1855

“William Rowley, who has just returned from Australia, will jump one running jump, hop 20 hops, run 100 yards, or fight any man in England of his own age and weight (56 years, 8st), for £50 or £100 a side. Money ready at G. Rowley's, HORSE AND JOCKEY, Wednesbury.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 22/9/1855

“It had been intended to celebrate the capture of Sebastopol in Wednesbury yesterday week, but the Market Place being occupied on account of the wakes, the committee appointed to get up a demonstration deemed it advisable to defer it until Monday last. On that day Wednesbury certainly made a grand show. The streets were lined with the colours of our native land and her allies, and from the railway the town assumed a most gay aspect. The sight on entering the town was most striking. At the lowest computation not less than five hundred colours were displayed, and there was scarcely an inn or a shop, however small, that did not exhibit this mark of rejoicing.....

In the Market Place two sheep were roasted whole by the committee for gratuitous distribution. A sheep was also roasted whole by Mr. George Rowley, of the HORSE AND JOCKEY; two by Mr. John Wells, of the ROYAL OAK, King Street; two by Mr. Rowley, of the ROYAL OAK, High Bullin.”

AND

Birmingham Journal 22/9/1855

“Rejoicing at the Fall of Sebastopol. The demonstration of loyal and patriotic feeling which the news of the capture of the Russian stronghold evoked, has nowhere exceeded, if it has equalled, the popular ebullition of feeling at the town of Wednesbury on Monday last.....

The churches, railway stations, manufactories, workshops, and most of the private houses were profusely dressed with brilliantly emblazoned flags and banners. The following were among the most striking.....

Mr. George Rowley, HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullin.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 11/11/1855

“George Rowley of the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Wednesbury, held a levee last Wednesday evening, which was extremely well attended by sporting men. Chief among these was Mr. Rowley, an Australian gentleman, no relation of the host, but a friend who had patronised him when in Australia, and who has come to this country to see something of its sporting customs. A capital spread was given, and Mr. Rowley's health and prosperity was toasted in sparkling champagne.”

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/12/1856

"George Rowley, landlord of the HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullen, Wednesbury, appeared to answer the charge of assaulting Edward Adams, whose eyes exhibited evident proofs of the violence inflicted upon him. Mr. Burbury was for the complainant, and Mr. W. H. Duignan for the defendant.

It appeared that the former went to the defendant's house on the previous Friday night in company with a disreputable woman, and on being required to leave by the wife of the defendant (he being from home) addressed Mrs. Rowley in the presence of several persons in terms which conveyed a charge of infidelity to her husband. On the following night the complainant again went to the house, and the defendant, after asking for an explanation, beat him severely, according to the complainant's statement, knocking him down and kicking him while on the floor.

Mr. Duignan, for the defendant, admitted the assault, denying the kicking, but pleaded great provocation.

Mr. Leigh said the provocation was not an excuse for the assault, and fined the defendant £5, the highest penalty, but refused the complainant any costs on account of the provocation he had given."

AND

Wolverhampton Chronicle 7/1/1857

"Mr. George Rowley, the landlord of the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Wednesbury, having resented a gross and unprovoked insult offered to his wife, was heavily fined by the Magistrates for an assault. His townsmen, thinking he had been hardy dealt with, have subscribed (unsought for) the amount, and presented it to him."

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 12/9/1858

"Jemmy Shaw of London, now in Staffordshire, will give several prizes to be ratted for next Tuesday, at Mr. Rowley's, the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury, for all dogs, to be fairly handicapped. A good supply of fresh barn rats for public sport next Tuesday evening. The show of spaniels, terriers, bulldogs, half-breed dogs, &c, tomorrow (Monday) evening, Jemmy Shaw will preside, faced by Mr. Careless, who will produce his beautiful stud of spaniels, &c. Entrance free.

The great 100 rat match with Jemmy Shaw's noted little dog, Jacko, fixed to come off last Wednesday evening, at Mr. Rowley's did not come off, through neglect of the railway delivery, until the following evening, when plenty of good sport took place in the presence of a numerous and respectable company, there being above 200 rats destroyed. Several matches of interest were made to come off at George Rowley's, next Tuesday evening, at eight o'clock."

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/7/1859

"Mary Tolley was placed in the dock charged with stealing a quantity of spirits, the property of George Rowley, of the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Wednesbury. The prisoner had been given into custody on Sunday morning on the above charge, but Mr. Rowley did not appear to sustain it, and she was consequently discharged, with an intimation, on asserting her innocence, that she had a right of action against Mr. Rowley for false imprisonment."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 25/7/1860

"Staffordshire Summer Assizes.....

John Collins, 29, miner, was indicted for feloniously wounding Henry Hathaway, police constable, on the 22nd of May, at Wednesbury, with intent to do him grievous bodily harm. Mr. Hill prosecuted.

From the evidence it appeared that police-constables Henry Hathaway and Samuel Woolley were, on the day named, sent to the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Wednesbury, to arrest the prisoner for an assault. They went in plain clothes, and found the prisoner upstairs. When the prisoner saw them coming he called out that he would murder the first man who entered the room. When they entered he seized a chamber utensil, and broke it over Woolley's head. He next struck Hathaway with his fist on the forehead, seized him by the hair, and both kicked and beat him. A severe scuffle ensued, but the prisoner was finally arrested. The prisoner was intoxicated at the time.

Mr. Proctor, surgeon, Wednesbury, described the nature of the injuries inflicted; after which the prisoner called two witnesses to prove that the constables used great violence.

The Jury returned a verdict of guilty, accompanied by an expression of opinion that it was very reprehensible in the officers to go in plain clothes.

The prisoner was sentenced to two months' imprisonment."

Sporting Life 4/8/1860

“Young Shaw, the champion of the light weights, will be at Mr. Rowley’s, HORSE AND JOCKEY, Wednesbury, on Monday and Tuesday, and will be glad to see all his Staffordshire friends. He is prepared to make a match with any man in the world for not less than £100 or £200 a side, at stone or 8st 2lbs, of course Lynch the American always preferred first. Shaw will be obliged to Lynch if he will come to some terms. Lynch can have the match on whatever terms or conditions he likes to ask for; but, Shaw says, he will not go to Lynch again unless Lynch stakes some money to show he means match making and not bouncing.”

Birmingham Daily Post 3/12/1860 - Advert

“The Great ‘Picture’ of the International Fight between Sayers and Heenan.
Sole Agent for Birmingham and Staffordshire, Mr. George Rowley, Wednesbury.
Specimens to be seen, and Orders taken at the Swan Inn, Upper Priory.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 13/1/1861

“Mrs. Rowley returns her sincere thanks to her numerous friends and the public generally for their liberal patronage during the absence of her husband, Mr. George Rowley. Copies of the beautiful engraving of the International Fight can now be had with key, &c, per order to the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury, Staffordshire. Harmony, good fellowship, &c, will reign predominant at this favourite resort this (Saturday) evening, also tomorrow (Monday) and during the week, the worthy and enterprising hostess sparing no expense for talent, vocal and instrumental.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 7/4/1861

“G. Rowley’s, the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Wednesbury, is the favourite resort of the right sort, from the surrounding towns, to discuss the Fancy generally, as well as the earliest and latest news from the States of America. Those beautiful American sporting and other engravings, lately sent over, can now be seen at the bar, as well as that of Newbold’s great international fight. The harmonic meetings are carried on as usual. This evening, and during the week, a galaxy of amusement.”

1861 Census

Trouse Lane – HORSE AND JOCKEY

- [1] George Rowley (40), innkeeper, born Sedgley;
- [2] Selina Rowley (34), wife, born Coventry;
- [3] James Rowley (21), nephew, gentleman, born America;
- [4] Ann Gilmore (23), maid servant, born Ireland;

Staffordshire Advertiser 8/6/1861

“John Collins, one of the worst characters in Wednesbury, who has been convicted of assaults very many times, and has once been convicted at the assizes for an assault upon a policeman, was charged with assaulting Mary Lenskey, on Sunday night, at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Wednesbury. The assault was very violent, and he bit the woman’s fingers. He got off with a fine of 10s, or fourteen days, imprisonment.”

Wolverhampton Chronicle 17/7/1861

“At Wednesbury Petty Sessions, yesterday, Mrs. Selina Rowley was charged with having assaulted Catherine Orgill. Mr. Slater appeared for complainant, and Mr. Bailey defended.

The complainant’s statement was to the effect that on Monday week she sent her daughter to the house of defendant, the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, High Bullen, to get change for a sovereign, and the child returned with only eighteen shillings. Complainant then went to defendant, and stated that there were two shillings short, whereupon Mrs. Rowley commenced using a series of abusive epithets, and after handing over the two shillings, and remarking that she should always consider herself robbed of it, she committed the assault complained of, and inflicted a wound on complainant’s finger with her teeth.

For the defence it was urged that the complainant called Mrs. Rowley some very foul names, refused to leave the house, and challenged her to fight. Mrs. Rowley then turned her out of the house. A number of witnesses were called, after which the Bench intimated that they would like to see Mr. Howitt, surgeon, who had attended complainant, and dressed the finger, which it was alleged had been bitten. Mr. Howitt, on being sworn, said that the wounds he saw on complainant's finger might have been produced by a bite, but he could not swear that they were produced by teeth. They might have been produced by a pinch, or crushing between hard substances. The Magistrates, after deliberating in private, which lasted about ten minutes, decided to dismiss the charge."

George Rowley – see also GRAPES, High Street, Wednesbury.

Staffordshire Advertiser 17/8/1861

"James Lewis, said to have been formerly a publican at Toll End, was charged with stealing 5lbs of copper, the property of Elizabeth Quilt [sic], of the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Wednesbury. He was seen to enter the brewhouse on the previous Saturday, and re-appear with the copper in his possession. He pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to three months' hard labour."

Wolverhampton Chronicle 2/10/1861

"Adjourned Licensing Sessions were held on Thursday last.....

The following licensed victuallers, fined for various infringements of the law, and whose cases had been ordered to stand over from the former licensing meeting in August last, were called before the Magistrates, and after their respective cases had been referred to they were admonished and warned that a second offence would be of serious consequence.....

Mrs. Elizabeth Gwilt, Wednesbury."

Staffordshire Advertiser 5/10/1861 - Advert

"Public Notice.

I, George Rowley, late of the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Wednesbury, Staffordshire, do hereby give notice, that by an Indenture dated the twentieth day of April, 1861, I Assigned and Transferred the Business of the said Inn, and my Property and Interest therein, to Joseph Gwilt, of Westbromwich, Staffordshire, Innkeeper (since deceased), in consideration of the said Joseph Gwilt paying my creditors therein named in manner therein mentioned the amount of the debts owing by me to them respectively, and of his indemnifying me against the payment of the same debts, and from all damages consequent upon non-payment thereof.

And I hereby further give notice, that I am not liable to, nor will I pay, any debts my wife, Selina Rowley, may have contracted since the date of the said Indenture, or to any debts she may hereafter contract in my name, I having been legally separated from her by deed of contemporaneous date with the said Indenture, and she has since been carrying on the said business on account of the said Joseph Gwilt and his widow respectively.

George Rowley.

NB. The estate of the late Joseph Gwilt is amply sufficient to pay all just debts and demands.

Wednesbury, 30th September, 1861."

Joseph and Elizabeth Gwilt – see also EIGHT LOCKS, West Bromwich.

Birmingham Daily Post 18/4/1862 - Advert

"Wanted, a General Servant, who understands Plain Cooking. One used to public business preferred.

Apply at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Street, Wednesbury."

WANTED, a GENERAL SERVANT, who understands Plain Cooking. One used to public business preferred. - Apply at the Horse and Jockey, High Street, Wednesbury.

Illustrated Sporting News and Theatrical and Musical Review 22/3/1862 - Advert

"HORSE AND JOCKEY Music Hall, Wednesbury.

Great Success of the New Company – which includes Madame Cohere, Miss Jenny and Annie Cohere, Mr. Jack Barnett (Comedian), and Miss Louise Yorke (Vocalist and Pianist).

Mr. Tom Linney, the unrivalled Skate and Operatic Dancer, will shortly appear."

HORSE and JOCKEY MUSIC HALL, WEDNESBURY.

Great Success of the New Company—which includes Madame COHERE, Miss JENNY and ANNIE COHERE, Mr. JACK BARNETT (Comedian), and Miss LOUISE YORKE (Vocalist and Pianist).

Mr. TOM LINNEY, the unrivalled Skate and Operatic Dancer, will shortly appear.

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/10/1862

“Staffordshire Quarter Sessions.....

John Murphy, 22, and Emma Hodgkiss, 20, no occupation, were charged with having, on the 5th of August last, at Wednesbury, inflicted grievous bodily harm on Thomas Smith. Mr. Vaughan conducted the prosecution.

It appeared that, early on the morning of the 5th of August, the prosecutor was leaving the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Wednesbury, when he was attacked in the passage by the two prisoners. Murphy struck him a severe blow on the face with his fist, which knocked him down and made his nose bleed freely. While he was on the ground the female prisoner threw a quart jug at him. Murphy then pulled a gutta percha life-preserver out of his pocket and struck him a violent blow on the back of the head. The female prisoner took up another jug to throw at the prosecutor, but was prevented. From the evidence of Mr. Proctor, surgeon, who dressed the wounds, it appeared that they were of a very dangerous nature.

The prisoners were convicted and sentenced, the male prisoner to twelve and the female prisoner to three months' imprisonment.”

Birmingham Daily Post 20/11/1862

“At Wednesbury Petty Sessions, on Friday, Ann Knockton was charged with stealing a jug and a glass, the property of Mrs. Rowley, of the HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullen. Sergeant Gasson saw the woman leaving the house with the articles in her possession, and took her back to Mrs. Rowley, who at once identified her property. Sentenced of one month's imprisonment with hard labour.”

Selina Rowley – see also SHAKESPEARE, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Journal 29/11/1862

“From Friday night's London Gazette Bankrupts.....

E. Gwilt, West Bromwich and Wednesbury, innkeeper.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 13/12/1862

“Birmingham Bankruptcy Court.....

In re E. Gwilt, West Bromwich and Wednesbury, victualler.

First sitting, at which Mr. John Titley, of Wednesbury, innkeeper, and Mr. Henry Smith, Garlick Hill, London, wine merchant, were appointed assignees. The proceedings were removed to the County Court at Walsall.”

Walsall Free Press 17/1/1863

“In the case of Mrs. Elizabeth Gwilt, innkeeper, West Bromwich and Wednesbury, Mr. Duignan applied for leave to sell certain articles in the order and possession of the bankrupt at the time of her bankruptcy. It appeared that Mrs. Gwilt got her landlord to distrain on the Saturday for £100, alleged to be due for rent, and on the Monday she went with her solicitor to Birmingham, and was made bankrupt. Subsequently it transpired that there were only £40 due for rent, and that the goods distrained upon were worth £200, and Mr. Duignan now applied for leave to sell the goods for the benefit of the creditors, and stated that the landlord had consented to this course upon the understanding that he should be paid the amount of rent due, £40. The order was granted.”

Birmingham Daily Post 21/1/1863

“At the Wednesbury Police Court, yesterday, before W. Partridge, Esq, Stipendiary, Samuel Hackwood, parish constable, Selina Rowley, and Robert Rowley, her son, were charged with having on Saturday last, induced a great number of people to riot, and to eject from possession of the HORSE AND JOCKEY public house, High Bullen, certain County Court bailiffs who were then in possession under an order from the Judge of the Walsall County Court. Mr. W. H. Duignan represented the assignees, who claimed possession, Mr. Bartlett, of Wolverhampton, appeared on behalf of Mr. Megevan, High Bailiff of the Court; and Mr. Bayley defended the Rowleys.

The defendant Hackwood applied for an adjournment. He said he was only served with the summons on Monday night, and had not had sufficient time to summon his witnesses. He had twenty witnesses to summon, whose testimony would fully exonerate him.

Mr. Duignan said that an adjournment would be very inconvenient, and would result very seriously to his clients. He stated the facts of the case briefly, remarking that a person named Elizabeth Gwilt, of West Bromwich, petitioned the Birmingham Bankruptcy Court in November last, that Messrs. Titley and Smith were then appointed assignees, and by an agreement amongst the creditors the proceedings were transferred to the Walsall County Court. The house, known well as the HORSE AND JOCKEY, in the High Bullen, Wednesbury, had been for a long time in the bankrupt's name, her name being over the door and on the licenses, but the defendant, Mrs. Rowley, had lived there, and managed the business. Under the bankruptcy the bailiffs entered the house, and had possession for two or three weeks, until the assignees could get a customer for the stock and goodwill, and Mrs. Rowley was allowed to remain there until her conduct was so bad that she was ordered to leave the premises. This she refused to do, and was backed up by some of her friends. Mr. Megevan, the High Bailiff, at length obtained sufficient force, and she and her friends were ejected. On Saturday last, however, the defendant Hackwood got together between 300 and 400 people, and between three and four o'clock on that afternoon they broke into the house and forcibly ejected the bailiffs, injuring one of them so seriously that he had kept his bed ever since. The defendants and their friends at the present time remained in triumphant possession of the place, and were very much depreciating the value of the stock. The assignees had succeeded in getting a customer for the goodwill and effects for £220, and that sum would enable the creditors to obtain a dividend of about 10s in the pound, but if the defendants were allowed to run riot in the house for a week the value of the stock would probably be much decreased.

Mr. Bayley said that on behalf of his clients he disputed the right of the assignees to take possession or to issue any order.

Mr. Duignan produced the bankruptcy proceedings, and referred to the Judge's order. He afterwards made some remarks respecting the fact that the police had not interfered on Saturday to stop the illegal proceedings of defendants. Mr. Partridge said he was glad Major McKnight, Deputy Chief-constable of the County, was present to hear Mr. Duignan's remarks. For his own part he did not see that he could give any instructions to the police, and he was sure Major McKnight knew his duty and would perform it.

Mr. Bartlett suggested that if the case were adjourned the defendants should be called upon to give a guarantee that possession of the house should be immediately given up to the assignees.

Mr. Bayley intimated that his clients would not consent to any such course.

After some discussion it was agreed to adjourn the hearing until Tuesday next.

Mr. Megevan then said he must charge Hackwood with having assaulted one of his bailiffs whilst in the execution of his duty. The man was seriously hurt, and he thought Hackwood ought to be called upon to put in bail for his appearance.

Hackwood denied having committed any assault, and said he could produce five or six witnesses. He would take care to be present to answer the charge. As for the possession of the house, he held a warrant on behalf of the landlord for rent.

Mr. Duignan said he quite understood that the landlord's claim had been compromised.

Major McKnight having explained that the police had no authority to interfere in such matters, this terminated the proceedings in Court.

A consultation between Major McKnight, Mr. Megevan, Mr. Inspector Holland, and Mr. Bartlett, subsequently took place, the result of which was that in the course of the afternoon the High Bailiff, and four or five bailiffs of the County Court, went up together to the HORSE AND JOCKEY to re-obtain possession. Major McKnight, Mr. Inspector Holland, and the majority of the division of the police were at hand to prevent a breach of the peace. A crowd of people, numbering 150 or 200, assembled in front of the house. After the bailiffs had knocked at the doors and requested admittance, and were refused, one of the bailiffs attempted to force a door with a crowbar. This door being too firmly barricaded to yield to such force the window was attempted, and after some difficulty the shutters were forced, and the sashes were shattered. Mrs. Rowley and the besieged then appeared armed with formidable weapons, which they threatened to use upon the head of the first bailiff who should dare to enter, and thus the keepers were held at bay for some time.

At length Major McKnight held a parley with Mrs. Rowley, which resulted in the bailiffs entering through the window. They remained in the house for a considerable time, and in the meanwhile the mob outside shouted encouragement to Mrs. Rowley and her friends who had so gallantly defended the fortress. A row at the door called general attention to it, and when it was opened Robert Rowley, the son, was forcibly ejected. He resisted boldly, and assaulted two of the bailiffs in the street, which was the signal for the interference of the police, who, amongst the yelling of the mob, took him into custody. Benjamin Rowley, uncle to the young man, was afterwards ejected, and as he was violent he was also taken to the station.

After the siege had lasted nearly an hour, Mrs. Rowley, considering perhaps that discretion was in such a case the better part of valour, and especially as she had given unmistakable proof of valour during the conflict, escaped by a side window, and so the bailiffs were left in possession. They immediately commenced removing the goods, an operation which would occupy a long time, and in which they were engaged when our reporter left. It was anticipated that in the course of the night some disturbance might take place, but the police were on the spot to suppress anything of the kind should it be attempted. The affair has excited much interest in the town.”

[At the adjourned hearing, which lasted several hours, after hearing the prosecution case and a long discussion, eventually it was decided that the charges would not be proceeded with and that justice would be met by the defendants being bound over, themselves in £30, and two sureties in £30 each, to keep the peace for six months.]

Birmingham Daily Post 28/1/1863 - Advert

“HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Wednesbury.

By Joseph Whitehouse, This Day on the Premises, High Bullen, the Licenses, Brewing Plant, &c, and Tomorrow, at the Auction Rooms, near the Market Place, Wednesbury, the Household Furniture, &c.”

Birmingham Daily Post 29/1/1863 - Advert

“Re Elizabeth Gwilt, Bankrupt. To Publicans, Brokers, and Others.

Joseph Whitehouse will Offer for Sale, This Day, commencing at half-past Ten, at the Midland Counties Auction Rooms, near the Market Place, Wednesbury (removed from the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, for convenience of sale).

The whole of the Household Furniture, Public House Requisites, Stock of Ales and Spirits, Public House Fixtures, Sporting Prints, and other Effects, according to catalogue.....”

Birmingham Daily Post 2/2/1863

“The license of that much disputed tenement, the HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullen, Wednesbury, was transferred to James Severn from the assignees of the estate of Mrs. Elizabeth Gwilt, at the Petty Sessions, West Bromwich, on Saturday last.”

AND

Birmingham Daily Gazette 2/2/1863

“On Saturday the license of the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury, was transferred from the assignees of the estate of Mrs. Elizabeth Gwilt, by the West Bromwich Bench to Mr. James Severn. It will be remembered that the above house was the scene of the very riotous proceedings which have recently engaged so much of the time of the Wednesbury justices.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 7/3/1863 - Notice

“In the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Walsall.

In the Matter of Elizabeth Gwilt, of West Bromwich, in the County of Stafford, and of Wednesbury in the same County, Innkeeper, a Bankrupt. Whereas, at a Public Sitting of the Court, held this day, the Court granted an Order of Discharge to the said Bankrupt. Notice is hereby given, that an Order of Discharge will be drawn up and delivered to the Bankrupt after the expiration of thirty days from this date, unless, in the meantime, an appeal be duly entered against the Judgement of the said Court.

Dated this 18th day of February, 1863.

C. G. Megevan, High Bailiff.”

Bells Life in London and Sporting Chronicle 20/2/1864

“G. Holden of Walsall will fight Jem Fox of Birmingham, at 8st 2lb, for £25 or £30 a side. Articles sent to the HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bolling, Wednesbury, and a deposit to Bells Life, will ensure a match.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 26/7/1864

“Staffordshire Summer Assizes.....

John Bagley, 30, labourer, was charged with feloniously wounding Thomas Connell, on the 6th of June, 1864, at the parish of Wednesbury, with intent to do him grievous bodily harm. Mr. Griffiths appeared to prosecute.

Thomas Connell, the prosecutor, said he was at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, Wednesbury, on the evening of the 6th of June, and left shortly after twelve. He met prisoner, who asked him where he was going, and prosecutor said, ‘That is my business.’ The prisoner then knocked him down, and kicked him in the private parts. Prosecutor followed prisoner across the street, when prisoner struck at him with a knife which he had in his left hand; the blow struck him on the temple. He then struck him again on the face, and prosecutor fell to the ground. The prisoner went to his lodging house and knocked at the door. Prosecutor was taken to the HORSE AND JOCKEY public house, where he gave information to the police. He was afterwards taken to a surgeon.

James Roden saw the prisoner kick at prosecutor. He afterwards struck Connell and knocked him down.

Mr. Morgan, assistant to Mr. Proctor, surgeon, of Wednesbury, said prosecutor was brought to the surgery on the morning of the 7th of June. He had three wounds on the right side of the face, two incised wounds and one lacerated. One of the incised wounds was at the corner of the temple, and about one inch in length. The other was two and a half inches in length, and was about half an inch in depth; it extended down to the bone. The wounds were slightly dangerous, and very severe. The wounds must have been inflicted by some sharp instrument.

Sergeant Steele, of the County Constabulary, apprehended the prisoner at about two o'clock on the morning of the 7th. There were marks of blood on his shirt and clothes. On being charged with the offence, the prisoner said, 'I am not the man.'

The prisoner, who was undefended, said he was not the man. He had no witnesses, as he had no money. If he had money, he could have plenty of them.

The learned Judge went carefully through the evidence, and the jury found him guilty of feloniously wounding with intent to do grievous bodily harm.

The learned Judge said the prisoner had been found guilty on satisfactory evidence, and it was necessary to put a stop to such proceedings. He therefore sentenced him to penal servitude for four years."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 20/10/1864

"Staffordshire Quarter Sessions Appeal against a Public House Conviction at Wednesbury.

This was an appeal by James Rowley, proprietor of the GRAPES INN, Wednesbury, against Messrs. James Solly and J. Marshall, justices of the peace, and John James Holland, superintendent of police, against a conviction by the said magistrates for disorderly conduct at the above named place. Mr. Kenealy (instructed by Mr. Ebsworth) appeared for the appellant; the Hon. Mr. Ryder appeared for the respondents.

The circumstances under which the conviction was made were as follows. It appears that in 1861 George Rowley, the uncle of the appellant, and a gentleman well-known in pugilistic circles, separated from his wife, Selina Rowley, and to avoid future contact both took public houses under other persons' names. On the 28th of June last, George Rowley, being absent from home in London in a case affecting the interest of his son Robert, who was also affected with pugilistic proclivities, left his house under the control of Sarah Ryding, his housekeeper. Mrs. George Rowley 'put in an appearance' at the GRAPES INN, and an affray ensuing Mrs. Rowley took possession of the tap; in the course of the assault Sarah Ryding being assaulted, if not in a very serious manner. The information for disorderly conduct was taken out by the police, who were censured at the time by the solicitor for the defence for not interfering in the matter. Mrs. Rowley was fined by the justices, and James Rowley was also convicted for permitting disorderly conduct in his house against the tenure of his license, and it was against the latter conviction that the appeal was made. The conviction was squashed."

Birmingham Daily Post 13/12/1864 - Advert

BREWER WANTED.—A good BREWER, to live in the house; good wages given.—Apply to Mr. Cookson, Horse and Jockey, High Street, Wednesbury.

"Brewer Wanted. A good Brewer, to live in the house; good wages given.

Apply to Mr. Cookson, HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Street, Wednesbury."

Birmingham Daily Gazette 17/10/1866

"Sarah Dean was charged yesterday at Wednesbury Petty Sessions with stealing several shillings, the moneys of her master, Mr. James Birch, HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, High Bullen. The prisoner was in the service of Mr. Birch, and in consequence of his having missed money he marked several shillings on the 6th of October, and left them in the cash drawer. On the following day he missed them, and afterwards found several of them, with other money, in the possession of the prisoner.

The accused was sentenced to prison for one calendar month."

Warwick and Warwickshire Advertiser 13/3/1869

"A shocking case of murder was investigated last week by a coroner's jury at Wednesbury.

A woman named Eliza Bowen, who was known to be addicted to habits of intemperance, was on Saturday night week turned out of a public house for being disorderly. On Sunday she was found dead in a lane between Wednesbury and Darlaston. Her clothes were torn, and the marks and wounds upon the body showed that a horrible murder had been committed. At half-past 1 am a woman who lives near the scene of the outrage heard some men urging a woman to go with them, and using some very filthy language. At seven o'clock the body of a woman was found in a lane, bearing evidence of her having been subjected to the most revolting treatment. As many as sixteen pieces of cinder were removed from the body by the police. The condition of the ground showed that she had been dragged no fewer than twenty-six yards from the road over an embankment into a field, and apparently had also struggled fiercely in a ditch which lies across the distance traversed, and is near a coal-pit bank. The shocking character of the crime has caused a great sensation in the district.

On Friday William Hall, striker, of Bull Piece, Butcroft, Darlaston, was brought up at the Wednesbury Police Court, charged with having committed the murder.

Superintendent Holland, having been sworn, said: I am Superintendent of Police for this county. On hearing of the murder of this woman on Sunday morning, I sent Sergeant Steele and Police-constable Evans in search of this particular man, and they have been engaged in the necessary investigations for three days. On Thursday afternoon they brought the prisoner to the police station, at which time he was not charged with the offence. I shall be able to identify him as the man who was with the deceased Eliza Bowen, at a beershop called the VICTORIA, Walsall Road, Darlaston, at 9.30 on the night of the murder; at the DRAGON INN at about 11.30; and at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullen, in this town, at 11.40. I have also a witness who can prove that she saw the prisoner with a woman at ten minutes past one o'clock on the morning of the murder; and I may say that I have such evidence to offer in the case as leads me to have no doubt as to his being the man who committed the crime. After the prisoner was brought to the police station, I and Sergeant Steele went to his house, searched it, and found the scarf I now produce. (The scarf was then handed to the magistrates who examined it.) The Bench will see that there is an exact correspondence between the part of the scarf I now produce and that which was found upon the ground where the crime was committed on the morning after the murder. If you compare one part of the black side of the scarf with the other part of the black side, and the red with the red, you will see that the threads exactly correspond. (At this stage of the proceedings the eyes of the prisoner rolled about in a wild fashion.) You will perceive, if you have got the two parts adjusted that every fibre is drawn to its fellow.

The prisoner was then remanded until Wednesday last, when the formal identification of the body of the deceased was proved by her son, William Bowen, who had not seen her for three months until he saw her lying dead at the public house.

Mr. Kerr, surgeon, said he saw the body in the field shortly before eight in the morning, and it was then cold. She was on her back, with her arms drawn upwards and slightly crossed. The legs were drawn up. She was then removed to the public house and he there made a further examination of the body. The shawl had been twisted round the neck. The underclothing of the deceased was much torn and soiled. The cause of death was the insertion of stones in the deceased's body. He then minutely described the state of the injured parts of the deceased, but the particulars are altogether unfit for publication.

Other witnesses were called, who proved that the large part of the scarf, which exactly corresponded and fitted in with the piece found near the deceased, was found at prisoner's house, and that he was with the deceased on the night of the murder. The surgeon's evidence created great excitement and horror, and the prisoner was further remanded."

[William Hall was subsequently committed to trial at Stafford Assizes for murder.]

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 22/7/1869

"Staffordshire Summer Assizes

The Grand Jury ignored the bill charging William Hall (42), striker, with the wilful murder of Eliza Bowen, on the 28th February, at the parish of Wednesbury."

AND

Birmingham Daily Post 4/4/1870

"William Hall, of Bull Street, Darlaston, who was suspected of being concerned in the atrocious murder of Eliza Bowen, about a year ago, has been a 'marked man' by the populace ever since. Crowds have assembled from time to time outside his dwelling, uttering yells and anathemas, and he has been almost afraid to appear in the public streets. Wearied at last with these unpleasant results of a lingering popular suspicion, Hall has left Darlaston in great disgust, and taken up his abode somewhere in Walsall."

Birmingham Daily Post 21/7/1869 - Advert

"Wanted, an honest industrious Young Man, to assist in Brewing, and make himself generally useful.

Apply, HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullen Wednesbury."

WANTED, an honest industrious Young MAN, to assist in Brewing, and make himself generally useful.—Apply, Horse and Jockey, High Bullen, Wednesbury.

Illustrated Midland News 22/1/1870

“On Tuesday an enquiry was held at the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Wednesbury, before the coroner, touching the death of Ann Horan, aged 70 years, who, it was alleged, had received ill-treatment at the hands of the relieving officer of Wednesbury (Mr. Johnson), which had accelerated her death.

Mary Ann Tolley said the deceased had received relief from the parish (2s-a-week) up to Thursday fortnight; that was a cold day, and many persons could not attend the pay-room. Mr. Johnson told deceased's daughter her mother must come herself or she would say she had not had it; but that if her mother was too ill he would go and see her. Mr. Johnson said believing Horan's daughter was telling an untruth, he refused to give her the money, but told her he would call and see her mother. The old woman subsequently came; if she had not attended he would have visited her in half-an-hour's time.

The verdict was that deceased had died from Apoplexy, caused by cold and exposure, to which they added that they thought Mr. Johnson was culpable in compelling the attendance of Ann Horan, knowing her age and her decrepit and diseased state of health. The jury wished their verdict to be laid before the Board of Guardians, and the coroner said he would comply with their request.”

Birmingham Daily Gazette 8/6/1870

“On Monday Mr. Hooper, held an inquest at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullen, Wednesbury, on the body of a woman named Smith, thirty-eight years of age, the wife of a scrap dealer of that name, at Ladburys Lane, who died somewhat suddenly on the 3rd inst. Rumours have been in circulation that the deceased has been ill-treated, and as she has a black eye and there are some marks about the body, the request of the jury that the inquiry should be adjourned until Friday was granted, so that a proper examination may be made.”

AND

Staffordshire Advertiser 18/6/1870

“Mr. Hooper, coroner, held an adjourned inquest on Friday, touching the death of Keziah Smith, wife of a scrap dealer, living in Ladburys Lane. Considerable interest was manifested in the inquiry, owing to a report that the death of the deceased was caused by foul play, but according to the evidence of Dr. Kerr, there were no marks of violence on the body with the exception of a black eye. He said the deceased had been subject to a failing of the heart's action for several years. She had been examined by Dr. Bell Fletcher, of Birmingham, who advised her to take brandy as a stimulant, and it was his opinion that she had died from delirium tremens through drinking. The evidence of the witnesses was very conflicting as regarded the conduct of the husband, but the jury ultimately returned a verdict of Died from Natural Causes.”

Joseph Poyner = Joseph Poynor = Joseph Paynon = Joseph Pagnon

Birmingham Daily Gazette 20/9/1870 - Birth

“On the 17th inst, at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Street, Wednesbury, the wife of Joseph Pagnon, of a son.”

Aris's Birmingham Gazette 10/12/1870

“An inquest was held yesterday, at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullen, Wednesbury, by Mr. E. Hooper, coroner, touching the death of Edward Cook, aged two years and three months, who had lived with his parents in the High Bullen. On Saturday last the deceased upset a teapot which was standing on the table full of hot tea, and the greater part of the contents went over his chest and arms, scalding him very badly. Mr. J Garman, surgeon, was called in to attend him; but despite all the efforts made to restore him, deceased died on Wednesday. Verdict, Accidental Death.”

Birmingham Daily Post 23/2/1871 - Died

“On the 21st inst, aged 44 years, Mr. Joseph Paynon, HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury; deeply regretted.”

Birmingham Daily Post 3/4/1871

“Transfer of Licenses.....

HORSE AND JOCKEY, Wednesbury, from Joseph Poyner to Sarah Poyner (widow).”

1871 Census

29, High Bullen

- [1] Sarah Poynor (42), widow, victualler, born West Bromwich;
- [2] Kate Hadley (29), friend, widow, dressmaker, born West Bromwich;
- [3] J. Beebee (35), barmaid, born Bilston;
- [4] Amy Preston (21), general servant, born Princes End:

Birmingham Daily Post 7/6/1871 - Died

"On the 3rd inst, aged 7 months, Joseph, only and beloved child of the late Joseph Poynor, HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullen, Wednesbury."

The license renewal to Sarah Poyner was refused in June 1871.

Birmingham Daily Post 21/6/1871

"At the Police Court, yesterday.....

An application for the transfer of the HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullen, from Sarah Poyner to Edward Adams was refused."

James Jones was also a wine and spirit merchant. [1872]

Staffordshire Advertiser 20/2/1875 - Advert

"'Defensio, Non Provocatio.' Caution.

The Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association, Southwark Street, Borough, London.

This association, having prosecuted and convicted a Grocer, at Bradford, at the Leeds Assizes, under the 'Merchandise Marks Act, 1862,' and also prosecuted a man at Chester Assizes, who was sentenced to six months' imprisonment for fraudulently counterfeiting and imitating their Trade Mark, and having obtained a decree for a perpetual injunction against a Tea Company (Limited), restricting the said Company from selling or exposing for sale Tea packed in covers or wrappers made in imitation of those used by the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association, or not materially differing therefrom, or in any cover or wrappers which by their shape, size, colour, labels, writings, figures, inscriptions, trade mark, or general character should make it appear that the packets sold or exposed for sale were those of the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association, and which decree on appeal was confirmed by the Lord Chancellor, notice is hereby given that all persons Counterfeiting or Imitating the Trade Mark of the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association will be forthwith Proceeded Against; and Licensed Victuallers, Grocers, Bakers, Confectioners and others are hereby warned from selling or exposing for sale Tea packed in covers or wrappers made in imitation of those used by said Association.

Thompson and Son, 60, Cornhill, Solicitors for the Licensed Victuallers' Tea Association.

Agents For Staffordshire.....

Wednesbury: C. McGuigan, PLOUGH AND HARROW; J. Jones, HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, High Bullen; J. Taylor, GREEN DRAGON INN."

Birmingham Daily Post 23/9/1875 - Advert

"Brewer Wanted, to live in the house, and make himself useful.
Apply, James Jones, HORSE AND JOCKEY, Wednesbury."

BREWER Wanted, to live in the house, and make himself useful.
Apply, James Jones, Horse and Jockey, Wednesbury.

Midland Examiner 24/1/1877

"William Preedy, carter, was charged with leaving a waggon and pair of horses without anyone in charge thereof, outside the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury, for upwards of half-an-hour, on the 18th inst, between five and six o'clock pm. Police-constable 101, William Noble, proved the case.

Defendant said that on the evening in question he had to deliver at the HORSE AND JOCKEY 30 bags of malt, that he had used all expedition in doing so, and after the malt was inside the house he was requested to help store it in its proper place. He did not stay a single minute longer than he could help. He called Mr. John Thompson, who said he was defendant's employer. He was quite sure the defendant had not lost any time. Defendant had worked for him for some time, and he was trustworthy.

The Bench said there was a doubt in their minds, and the defendant, in consequence of the good character received, should have the benefit thereof. Summons dismissed."

Wednesbury Herald 27/12/1879

"On Saturday, an inquest was held at the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury, by Mr. Edwin Hooper (District Coroner), relative to the death of Thomas Proverbs, aged two years, who resided with his parents in Ladburys Lane.

It was showed that on the 16th inst a kettle containing boiling water fell upon him, which so injured him as to cause him to expire on the 17th inst.

There was no blame attached to the parents, and the jury returned a verdict of Accidental Death."

1881 Census

29, High Bullen – HORSE AND JOCKEY

[1] James Jones (66), publican, born Elmley Lovett, Worcestershire;

[2] Rebecca Jones (61), wife, born Droitwich;

[3] Henry W. J. Jones (22), son, brewer, born West Bromwich;

[4] Mary Jones (61), sister, assistant, born Elmley Lovett, Worcestershire;

[5] Ann Oliver (69), sister, assistant, born Elmley Lovett, Worcestershire;

[6] Harriet J. Holder (5), niece, scholar, born Ireland;

[7] Ann Tilley (20), domestic servant, born Wednesbury:

Wednesbury Herald 18/2/1882

"On Saturday afternoon Mr. E. Hooper, district coroner, held an inquest at the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, Wednesbury, on the body of John Burke, alias 'Teapot,' a labourer, residing at Pitts Square, High Bullen, Wednesbury, who died on Thursday morning last. At the time of death it was alleged that he died from the results of violence.

Bridget Joyce, at whose house deceased lived, stated that the deceased left home for work on Tuesday morning, and did not return till Wednesday morning, and when asked where he had been, replied, 'At the Welshman's house.' He said his cheek was bad, and his jaw bone broken, and he thought it had been done by the Welshman. After being in bed for a short time he went to the WREXHAM [either the DARTMOUTH ARMS or GEORGE], returned about 3.30, and went to bed. About 7.30 he got up and asked for some drink, and about an hour after, as he was upstairs, she heard him rattling in the throat. Dr. Blackwood was sent for but was not at home. Deceased died a little after 12 o'clock. Witness did not see him die as she was getting some drink ready for him.

Edward Rowland, alias 'Ned the Welshman,' a labourer, of Portway Road, stated that he and deceased were drinking together on Tuesday morning, and about 12.30 were in witness's house together. Burke was then quite drunk and misconducted himself. Witness changed his (Burke's) clothes for him and left the house, when he returned about 5.15 and found Burke there still, and who remained all night. During the night witness heard him making a noise, got up to him, and in accordance with his request, gave him something to drink. Deceased was near the fireplace, and the 'raker' was close to him, and witness believed that Burke would have been burnt, had he not got up to him. Witness went to his work, and on returning for breakfast Burke said, 'Ned, look up here under my jaw, and see how it is swelling; it is welly all over with me.' Witness looked and found a swelling, but did not ask him how it was done. Witness's wife thought it was the draft of the doors. Deceased left about 7.30, went to a public house, and had some more drink. There had not been any quarrel. Witness did not hear till after deceased had died that deceased had said he (witness) had ill-used him. Deceased was a man that was given to drink very much.

Police-constable Lytle gave the information he had obtained relative to the deceased's death, but there was nothing to show definitely that deceased had been ill-used. He had not heard of any quarrelling at all.

A juryman said he had known deceased for 40 years, during which period he had been addicted to drink.

The coroner said that his own impression was that the deceased had not been ill-used by anyone, but that his death was simply the result of drink.

The verdict of the jury was that deceased had died from excessive drinking."

Birmingham Daily Post 2/3/1882 - Advert

"Brewer. Wanted, a steady young Man to Brew and make himself useful.

Apply, J. Jones, HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullen, Wednesbury."

BREWER.—Wanted, a steady young Man, to Brew and make himself useful.—Apply, J. Jones, Horse and Jockey, High Bullen, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Daily Post 28/12/1882

"Mr. E. Hooper held an inquest at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullen, Wednesbury, yesterday, touching the death of Frederick Henry Edwards (16), who was employed as an assistant to Mr. H. Haines, grocer, Upper High Street, and with whom he resided. The family retired to rest about eleven o'clock on Sunday evening, Edwards sleeping in a separate room. He was heard to strike a match, with the intention, it is supposed, of lighting the gas. As he did not make his appearance at the breakfast table next morning, Mr. Haines went upstairs, and on entering his room found that Edwards was dead in bed. The room was full of gas, which was escaping from the burner, the tap being turned on. Dr. Moore was called in, and expressed the opinion that the deceased died from suffocation, through inhaling the gas. It is believed that, after extinguishing the light to get into bed, Edwards must have caught his hand against the tap. The Coroner pointed out that the gas bracket was defective; but Mr. Haines stated that he had examined it, and found that the gas did not escape in that way. The jury were of opinion that deceased came by his death through inhaling the gas, and a verdict to that effect was accordingly returned."

Dudley and District News 12/1/1884

"Mary Knight, of no fixed abode, was charged with stealing 2lbs of beef, 2½lbs of pork, and a pocket handkerchief, the property of a labourer named John Darby.

On Saturday night last, the prosecutor was at the HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullen, Wednesbury, and had the meat mentioned tied up in a pocket handkerchief, with him. Prisoner was also there, and she, during the temporary absence of the prosecutor, left the house and took the bundle with her. She was subsequently arrested at a lodging-house in the High Bullen by PS Lightfoot, and pleaded guilty to the charge. She was committed to 14 days' imprisonment, with hard labour."

Wednesbury Herald 1/3/1884

"On Saturday afternoon, Mr. Edwin Hooper (South Staffordshire Coroner), held an inquest at the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, High Bullen, touching the death of Benjamin W. Ethell, aged 12 years, who died suddenly on Thursday. He went to school as usual on Thursday morning, and on leaving at twelve o'clock complained of a violent pain in his stomach, and died at a quarter past twelve.

The Coroner remarked that there was no doubt that death had been caused by a severe attack of inflammation.

The jury did not consider a post mortem examination necessary, and returned a verdict of Died from Natural Causes."

Birmingham Daily Post 28/3/1885

"An inquest was held at the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, High Bullen, Wednesbury, on Thursday evening, on the body of John Groves (57), carter, Ladburys Lane.

On Tuesday the deceased was with his horse and cart in Oxford Street, Tipton, when the horse shied at a passing tram car, and caused the cart to jerk. The deceased fell from the cart on to the road, and one of the wheels of the cart passing over his chest, he sustained severe injuries, which resulted in his death on the following day.

A verdict of Accidental Death was returned."

Wolverhampton Express and Star 29/5/1889 - Advert

"Wanted, respectable Servant Girl.

Apply, Jones, HORSE AND JOCKEY, High Bullen, Wednesbury."

WANTED, respectable Servant Girl.—Apply, Jones, Horse and Jockey, High Bullen, Wednesbury.

Birmingham Mail 20/1/1891

"In the Queen's Bench Division, yesterday, Mr. Justice Lawrance gave judgement in the case of Merrick and others v Jones and another, which was tried before his lordship at Birmingham, in August last. This was an action brought to recover possession of a licensed house and premises, known as the HORSE AND JOCKEY, at Wednesbury.

By an indenture, dated September, 1835, Elizabeth Lloyd Sutton, upon her marriage with James Parish, settled the house and premises upon herself and her husband and the survivor of them for life, with remainder to herself. On December 16, 1836, Elizabeth Lloyd Parish died intestate, leaving her husband surviving. Subject to the life interest of James Parish the estate descended to John Sutton, as the heir-at-law. On the death of John Sutton, intestate, on December 30, 1839, the estate descended to his three daughters as co-heiresses in thirds, to shares they now claimed that they were entitled. James Parish died on April 16, 1886, and the defendants, it was alleged, then wrongfully took possession of the premises. The plaintiffs also claimed mesne profits.

The defence was that George H. Parish was in possession by himself or by Rebecca Jones, his tenant. If the indenture of September 2, 1835, ever existed as a valid indenture, which the defendants did not admit, and if it affected the premises in question, which was not admitted, the premises were never affected by the indenture in that part which purported to be covenant to surrender certain copyholds. The copyholds were never surrendered by Elizabeth Lloyd Sutton or her heirs, and the covenant became barred by the lapse of time and the statute of limitations. If the premises were affected by the indenture, John Sutton was not the heir of Elizabeth Lloyd Parish according to the custom of the manor of Wednesbury, neither would the plaintiffs take by descent from John Sutton according to the custom of the manor.

His Lordship, having taken time to consider the evidence, now gave judgement for the plaintiffs with costs, and directed that the rent now due from the tenant should be paid to plaintiffs.”

Wednesbury Herald 31/1/1891

“Yesterday (Friday) afternoon, Mr. Edwin Hooper, coroner, held an inquest at the HORSE AND JOCKEY INN, High Bullen, touching the death of John Turner (58), moulder, of 81, Ladburys Lane, who committed suicide by hanging himself on Wednesday.

His widow gave evidence that for some time past her husband had been strange in his manner, brought about, in her opinion, by violent pains in his head which had prevented him from following his employment. On Wednesday morning he thought himself sufficiently recovered to be able to resume his work at the Crown Tube Works, and he went thither accordingly. Before long, however, he returned and complained to witness that his head was bad again and he could not work. He went upstairs to rest. After an interval of more than three hours she called him, and receiving no response went into the bedroom and found him suspended by means of a rope attached to a hook in the bed post. He was apparently quite dead. She raised an alarm and a neighbour named Timmins came in and cut him down. Deceased had only been in receipt of 5s a week lately, and this had preyed on his mind very much. He had told her that he could not live through it, and she had several times been afraid of him.

The jury returned a verdict of Suicide whilst Temporarily Insane.”

1891 Census

29, High Bullen – HORSE AND JOCKEY

- [1] Rebecca Jones (71), widow, publican, born West Bromwich;
- [2] William H. J. Jones (32), son, brewer, born Wednesbury;
- [3] Sarah Jones (32), daughter-in-law, born Wednesbury;
- [4] George Jones (7), grand-son, scholar, born Wednesbury;
- [5] Harry Jones (2), grand-son, born Wednesbury;
- [6] James Jones (4 months), grand-son, born Wednesbury;
- [7] Ann Oliver (79), sister-in-law, born Elm Lovatt, Worcestershire;
- [8] Harriet J. Holder (15), niece, assistant in pawnshop, born Dublin;
- [9] Florence Brockhouse (18), domestic servant, born Wednesbury;

Birmingham Daily Gazette 21/5/1892 - Advert

“Wednesbury, Staffordshire. Important Sale of Old-established Full-Licensed Inn, known as the HORSE AND JOCKEY, situate at the High Bullen, Wednesbury, on Monday Next, May 23rd.

